Friendly neighbors

A group of area farmers led by Kenneth Frye, right, helped Don Tindal harvest his sugar beets on Wednesday, despite freezing temperatures and frigid north winds. Tindal fell ill before he could harvest his beet and cotton crops, so his neighbors pitched in to get the work done.

Neighbors pitch in to help sick farmer

It was a cold, dreary day with an icy wind whipping across the fields from the north.

There were any number of places the men could be instead of where they were -- tucked into mechanized farm equipment, trundling up and down the rows of sugar beets, trying to get them in before the snow started.

The men could have been anywhere else on a freezing day before Thanksgiving, but chose to harvest beets because Don Tindal needed help and they were there to lend a hand.

Tindal, who grows sugar beets and cotton south of Summerfield, is in the Intensive Care Unit at High Plains Baptist Hospital in Amarillo.

"He's having a heck of a time getting better" from a ruptured esophagus and pneumonia, said Kenneth Frye.

Because Tindal fell ill in the middle of harvesting his 140 acres of cotton and before he could begin bringing in his 90 acres of sugar beets, his neighbors leaped to the rescue.

"He needs 'em out and he'd do them for us," said Frye, who organized Wednesday's all-volunteer harvest brigade. "The guys were willing and able."

Frye also had high praise for Holly Sugar, which allowed the men to dig Tindal's beets on a day when other growers were not harvesting.

"They didn't even have a problem letting us get Don's beets on an off day," Frye said proudly.

Trucks rumbled through the fields at regular intervals throughout the afternoon, driving in empty, then lumbering back across the cold dirt, hundreds of beets peeking out from behind the cabs.

Frye said he hoped the volunteers would have all the beets out of the ground Wednesday, but acknowledged there were some mechanical difficulties cropping up with the equipment.

Throughout the afternoon, there were seven diggers and six toppers operating.

Volunteers bringing themselves and their equipment were: Earl and Russell Harkin, Joe and Gary Shumacher, Dee and Kenny Taylor and Kenneth and George Frye. In addition, Tindal's equipment was in use.

Frye said the volunteers did not give their time for any public recognition, expressing surprise at the presence of news media representatives at the farm.

Instead, it was because of the attitude among the beet growers that says you help a neighbor in distress. "People is what makes this thing work," he said. "He's the kind of neighbor that'd help anybody else."

Frye said having the cotton stripped and the beets dug will be one less thing for Tindal and his wife, Ilene -- who Frye said has been "a big support" to her husband in his illness -- to worry about during his recuperation.

"This is just going to lighten his worries," he said.

Tindal is not expected to be released from the hospital before Christmas, Frye said, and even a Dec. 25 release date is uncertain at this point.

As Frye talked about the project, another example of the neighborliness among the workers appeared, as a friend dropped by the worksite to bring Frye a bite of lunch.

Then it was off to the fields again to continue the harvest.

Trees offer chance to help others

For most people, Christmas is a time to decorate trees and buy gifts for loved ones.

The Deaf Smith County Volunteer Board hopes it is the season for residents to undecorate two trees and buy gifts for total strangers.

Beginning Monday, Hereford State Bank and First National Bank will have on display two Sharing Trees that have cards with the names of county foster children and elderly and disabled people, all of whom need something special for Christmas.

Judy Baker, a member of the volunteer board and assistant director of social services for Deaf Smith County, said the project is in its sixth year.

At First National, next to the Sharing Tree will be a basket of paper gingerbread men, each one with a first name and clothing sizes that corresponds to one of the 65 elderly and disabled clients served in Deaf Smith County by the Texas Department of Human Services.

At Hereford State, paper bells will hang on the tree, each one bearing the first name of one of the more than 50 children who are served by the department.

The way the Sharing Trees work is simple -- anyone wanting to give a gift to someone just has to take one of the decorations, purchase an appropriate gift and return it to the bank by Dec. 17.

For the senior citizens and disabled gift recipients, the department is asking gift givers to purchase a simple sweat shirt, sweat pants and sweat sox.

The foster children served by the department -- which includes those remaining in their own homes and those who are living with foster parents -- have written on their cards one gift they especially want this Christmas.

That gift is all that needs to be purchased.

Baker asked that all gifts be returned to the bank wrapped, with the original tag on the outside to identify which clients gets the present.

"If they prefer to make a donation rather than actually purchasing a (gift), it can be handled at the bank," she said.

Contact at First National is Rita Bell, while the person to talk to at Hereford State is Charlene Sanders.

Baker cautioned potential donors that taking a card from the Sharing Tree is a commitment to purchase a (See TREES, Page 2)

Christmas shopping begins on a cold note

By The Associated Press
Texans fighting their way to the mall today for the busiest shopping day of the year may have to slog through some cold, wet weather. Of course, indoors is the place to be under such conditions.

Roads across the central and eastern portions of the state remained ice-covered and hazardous this morning. Temperatures were in the teens and 20s at 5 a.m. with some wind chill factors in the single digits. Temperatures ranged from 9 degrees at Dalhart to 40 degrees at McAllen.

Statewide, the cold snap will be one for the record books. Low temperature records were broken Thursday at the Dallas-Fort Worth International Airport, Corpus Christi and Amarillo, the National Weather Service reports.

At Midland, the temperature dropped to 15 degrees this morning, establishing a new record low, according to the NWS.

A winter storm warning was issued for the northeast and east-central portions of North Texas. Freezing rain and sleet was expected today in parts of the region.

Highs are expected in the lower 40s in the west to the middle 30s in the southeast. Lows tonight will be from the lower to middle 20s.

Light rain and drizzle was falling generally east of a line from Laredo to Austin to College Station this morning.

The forecast for South Texas calls for the clouds along with the freezing rain and drizzle to decrease from the west during the day. Skies should be clear to partly cloudy across much of the area tonight.

Highs today will range from the upper 30s to the middle 40s. Lows tonight will range from the teens across the Hill Country to the mid-30s over the lower valley.

Skies generally were clear this morning across West Texas, where temperatures were in the teens and 20s.

The forecast calls for sunny skies today and clear skies tonight. The highs will range from the 30s in the Panhandle to the 50s in the far west and along the Rio Grande. Lows will be in the teens and 20s.

The weather definitely took its toll Thursday on North Texas. Dallas police reported more than 60 accidents by early evening. In Fort Worth, about 100 accidents were reported within three hours of the wintry weather hitting.

A five-vehicle wreck in Mesquite hospitalized an off-duty Dallas police officer. No traffic fatalities were reported.

Texas Department of Transportation officials dispatched crews to sand bridges and overpasses, which freeze faster than roadways. Officials also warned travelers to stay indoors, if possible.

"If you don't have to go anywhere, don't. If you have to go out, the best thing to do would be just to slow it down," said James Black, of the Dallas office of the Department of Transportation.

Black offered a few tips for those who were braving the rough conditions: allow plenty of space between cars, don't slam on the brakes, and "use plenty of caution and plenty of good sense."

In one of the more unusual weather-related incidents, a trucker driving on a highway outside Texas Stadium -- which hosted a snow-marred game between the Dallas Cowboys and Miami Dolphins -- lost a load of Christmas trees.

The inclement weather was also causing problems at airports, where many flights were either delayed or canceled.

At Dallas-Fort Worth International Airport, weather caused several slowdowns and many cancellations. The runways were open and everything was running slowly but smoothly by 9 p.m.

American Airlines canceled all flights scheduled to depart after 6 p.m. Thursday and before 10:30 a.m. today, spokeswoman Marion DeSisto said this morning.

"Anybody planning on taking a flight out should really check with reservations for the status of their flight," Ms. DeSisto said.

At least three Texans were killed Thursday in weather-related accidents outside the state.

Oklahoma highway patrol officials said 42-year-old Audrey F. Shires of Denton was killed on Interstate 35 near Ardmore. Ms. Shires lost control of her vehicle on the icy road and slid into the path of a tractor-trailer.

Christmas Lighting ceremony to feature visit by Santa Claus

The annual Christmas Lighting ceremony, featuring the arrival of Santa Claus, a drawing for $100 in Hereford, and special displays by local merchants, will be held at 6 p.m. Wednesday at Hereford Community Center.

Hosting the gala event, which also includes a "preview night" for displays at Thursday's Chamber Fun Breakfast, will be the retail merchants committee and the Women's Division of Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce.

The community center will be decorated and full of booths and displays provided by local merchants. Refreshments will be served and Santa will hand out candy for all the children.

Special entertainment is scheduled from 6 to 9 p.m. Those attending can register and have an opportunity to win the $100 door prize.

The displays can also be seen Thursday morning, when the annual "Eat-Your-Heart-Out-Neiman-Marcus" breakfast begins at 6:30 a.m. The breakfast features the usual fun, games, prizes and announcements, and presentation of a Bull Chip Award. Cost of the breakfast is $5 a plate. Reservations should be made with the chamber, 364-3333.

We can do that here!

Just see if you can match this Hereford service in another area town or city -- Wayne Henderson of WH TV and Appliance, 136 W. Third St., is preparing to deliver a new clothes dryer. He offers same-day free delivery, something that nobody outside Hereford can offer. It is one of many holiday services that are available here that will save Christmas buyers a trip out of town -- and will keep valuable retail dollars in the local economy.

Coming in Sunday's Brand

Half a century has passed since one of the bloodiest battles of World War II took place on the Pacific atoll of Tarawa. U.S. Marine Corps troops stormed the beach on Nov. 20, 1943, setting off a three-day battle for control of the small piece of land.

Cecil Bell was a 19-year-old Coleman, Texas, native who quit college to join the Marine Corps. He was also among the first Marines on Tarawa that first day of fighting.

On Sunday, meet Bell, who now lives in Hereford, and travel with him back through the years to those horrific days of fighting.

Chicken pox vaccine licensing coming closer in United States

By LAURAN NEERGAARD
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) - Dr. Jo White sent her son to play with a friend who had chicken pox, testing whether an experimental vaccine would protect him from the itchy rite of childhood. It did.

By next spring, all U.S. children may be so lucky, as the government gets set to approve the nation's first vaccine against a disease considered more a nuisance than a killer even though it claims more than 90 lives a year.

"Some people have wondered if the gain is worth the cost of a vaccine for chicken pox," said Dr. Samuel Katz, a pediatrician at Duke University Medical Center. "But parents are knocking on the door saying they want this vaccine."

About 3.9 million Americans, mostly children, get chicken pox every year. Caused by the highly contagious varicella virus, it typically just causes severe itching and rash.

But about 9,000 people develop complications ranging from blood infections to brain damage. An average of 92 died each year from 1987 to 1991. Children with weak immune systems and adults are most at risk.

Christopher Chinnes, 12, was one of those victims. The steroids the North Carolina boy was taking for a severe asthma attack suppressed his immune system, allowing chicken pox to shut down his organs one by one.

"It would have been kinder to shoot him in the head than the way he died," said his mother, Rebecca Cole, who has lobbied for vaccine approval since Christopher's death in 1988. "If he had had a vaccine, he would be here today."

Mrs. Cole's wait may be almost over. The Food and Drug Administration is in the final stages of investigating Varivax, a chicken pox vaccine developed by Merck & Co. Approval is expected by spring.

Doctors predict Varivax will cut chicken pox to 240,000 cases a year with only four deaths. And a study sponsored by the federal Centers for Disease Control and Prevention found Varivax would cost $157 million a year but would save almost $700 million a year in medical bills and work lost by parents of sick children.

Japan and Europe have used a version of the vaccine successfully since the mid-1980s.

But its development here has been very slow. Doctors disliked giving healthy children a live vaccine for a usually mild illness. Others questioned whether it was needed when less than half the nation's preschoolers are inoculated, against more serious diseases like measles.

Varivax is made from a weakened varicella virus that essentially exposes someone to very mild chicken pox, just enough to build antibodies to fight it.

Merck has test vaccinated 11,000 people since 1981. Almost every child showed immediate immunity; adults needed two doses.

In anticipation of FDA approval, a CDC panel has already drafted proposed guidelines for Varivax that recommend inoculation at age 1.

Scientists don't know if Varivax will protect for life - it hasn't been around long enough.

Occupied Gaza riots injure 34 Palestinians

By SAID GHAZALI
Associated Press Writer

GAZA CITY, Occupied Gaza Strip (AP) - In the most violent protests since the signing of the Israel-PLO accord, Palestinians stoned soldiers from behind burning barricades in riots over the army's killing of a Muslim militant.

Arab reports said 34 Palestinians, including a 10-year-old boy and two 12-year-old boys, were injured.

Thursday's unrest in the Gaza Strip came a day after the army killed Imad Aqal in an ambush. Aqal, 23, was commander of Izzedine el Qassem, the military wing of the Muslim group Hamas that is waging a violent campaign to derail the Israel-PLO peace talks. He topped Israel's most-wanted list.

Carr elected HGT director

Michael Carr, executive vice president of the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce, has been elected to the board of directors of the High Ground of Texas coalition.

The High Ground is a cooperative effort of more than three dozen communities and businesses in the Texas Panhandle and South Plains to recruit new industry and business to the region.

Carr was one of 10 board members elected at the coalition's annual meeting in Amarillo. Re-elected as president of the group was Rick Osburn, assistant city manager for the City of Levelland.

Southwestern Public Service Co. provides support staff for the coalition. SPS's Thompson Mayberry reported at the meeting that information handed out at a recent trade show has generated eight leads for the High Ground. SPS has worked up proposals for four of the leads developed at the show.

In Gaza City, mosques played Koranic verses over loudspeakers and church bells were sounded in mourning over Aqal's death. Cries of "Slaughter the Jews" emanated from one of the mosques, Israel radio said.

Muslim militants of Hamas vowed to kill Israeli soldiers in revenge.

Hundreds of Palestinians marched through a Gaza City district carrying black flags and chanting "Hamas is our way to paradise." Others threw stones, blocked roads and burned tires.

In a show of solidarity, Yasser Arafat's Fatah faction of the PLO joined rival Islamic fundamentalists in calling a three-day strike in the Gaza Strip to honor Aqal.

The protests were the most widespread and violent since the Sept. 13 signing of the peace accord. Some residents compared the unrest to the early days of the intifadeh, or Palestinian uprising, which began in December 1987.

Israel put Aqal on the top of the list of wanted Palestinians and held him responsible for the killings of 11 soldiers, an Israeli civilian and four suspected Palestinian informers.

Aqal, fabled for his ability to elude capture, often disguised himself as a Jewish settler, wearing a skullcap and driving cars with yellow Israeli plates.

A book published by Hamas this week quoted him as saying: "I hope to go to paradise by being killed by Israeli soldiers."

On Thursday, a Palestinian suspected of collaborating with Israel was found dead in Gaza's Jebeliyah refugee camp, an Arab report said. Khamis Hasan Hanoun, 30, was kidnapped two days ago and shot by Palestinians, it said.

The 2,250-member unit comes in response to recent Jewish violence against Palestinians in the occupied territories in revenge for attacks on Jews.

gift for that person. Monetary donations will be used to purchase gifts for those whose names are not removed from the Sharing Trees before the Dec. 17 deadline.

Any surplus funds will be used to fund volunteer board activities through the next year.

Gifts to the foster children will be delivered to their homes in time to open on Christmas day, while the senior citizens and disabled clients will receive their sweat suits at a special party on Dec. 18.

The volunteer board, said the Rev. Larry Cothrin, chairman of the panel, is "a group of local citizens working with the Texas Department of Human Services. We help with the needs that the Department of Human Services cannot provide."

Cothrin said the support extends

Baker said the board works with low income, single parent families on a year-round basis, helping with rent, utilities, prescriptions, minor home repairs and other minor emergencies there might not be money to pay for.

The volunteer board is one of three such groups actively working in the Panhandle. The Hereford and Borger boards have been operating for several years, while Dumas just created one.

"We work very closely with the state agencies that deal with the clients in both programs," she said.

Mystery solved: 18-day old lottery ticket is redeemed

AUSTIN (AP) - A trust established for two Midland men on Wednesday received the first installment of a $15.8 million Lotto Texas jackpot that had gone unclaimed for 18 days.

The Welmor Trust, whose beneficiaries are Clyde W. Turner and Morris E. Hays, received a payment of $794,611. The trust will receive $790,000 payments each Nov. 15 for the next 19 years.

Leon Jeffcoat, an accountant who claimed the prize on behalf of the trust, said Turner and Hays waited to establish the trust before claiming their winnings from the Nov. 6 drawing, lottery officials reported.

Jeffcoat said the two men, who requested minimal publicity, selected the winning numbers - 6, 27, 31, 41, 45 and 46 - at random.

Turner and Hays purchased their ticket at a Midland grocery store, which will receive a $158,046 bonus - 1 percent of the jackpot.

Latest drawing has no winners

By The Associated Press. No tickets correctly matched all six numbers drawn Wednesday night for the twice-weekly Lotto Texas game, state lottery officials said. The jackpot was worth $3 million.

The numbers drawn Wednesday night from a field of 50 were: 9, 10, 15, 18, 22, 46.

There were 105 tickets sold with five of the six numbers, with each ticket worth $1,488. There were 5,824 tickets with four of six numbers, with each winning $97. And there were 108,102 tickets sold with three of six numbers, with each worth an automatic $3.

Retailers seek ways to entice shoppers into store

By JOYCE M. ROSENBERG
AP Business Writer

The nation's retailers have weathered a long, tough year. And now comes the really hard part: the Christmas shopping season.

As stores open today for the traditional start of the season, they'll be trying to lure choosy, budget-minded shoppers with bargains, special services and bonuses. Retailers know they may have to struggle to bring in sales.

But the economy has strengthened and consumers are signaling their willingness to relax and spend a little. Chances are the season will turn out better for many stores than it appeared a few months ago.

Most of the gifts are likely to be bought in the last 10 days before Christmas, but shoppers will still pack the stores this weekend. Some got a jump on the season on Thanksgiving, as Kmart opened its stores.

Many retailers were also opening earlier than usual today with special deals for early shoppers. Some department stores offered plush toys at reduced prices for shoppers spending a specific amount, and others supplied gift wrap and other services.

But what consumers really want are discounts, and they'll get them. The recession made markdowns a way of life for stores, and price cuts are built into their holiday budgets.

Predictions for how the season will turn out have become a Christmas fixture, partly because the holidays are no longer the guaranteed money-maker they once were. Christmas 1992 was the first good holiday season for the retail industry in four years.

But the accounting and consulting firm Arthur Andersen said after surveying consumers that Americans are very confident and three-quarters will spend the same or more than they did last year on gifts, giving retailers a robust season.

Andersen competitor Deloitte & Touche found that consumers, for the most part, were not worried about higher taxes.

But America's Research Group, a consumer research firm, says 40 percent of Americans are uneasy about the economy and will spend less on gifts this year.

Regardless, consumers will be playing a cat-and-mouse game with retailers, delaying their spending and forcing nervous storeowners to cut prices even further.

Retail analysts who were pessimistic about the season during the summer, following months of disappointing sales, now are more upbeat. Salomon Brothers Inc. analyst Jeffrey Feiner said the so-so business that has prevailed until now should strengthen late in the season.

Edward Johnson, whose Johnson Redbook Service is a closely-watched barometer of retail sales, predicts sales will be up 10 percent overall, maybe even more.

FIRST UNITED METHODIST CHURCH

Church members and their guests will be observing the first Sunday in Advent, Nov. 28. Activities scheduled for Sunday morning include the youth breakfast at McDonald's beginning at 8:45 a.m.; Sunday school, 9:30 a.m.; and the morning worship, 10:45.

The Terry Langehennig family will light the first Advent candle and do a reading for the first Sunday in Advent as part of the morning worship service and as an introduction to the Advent season.

Pastor Joe Wood's sermon is entitled "Come, Save Us," accompanied by the scripture from Psalm 80, verses 1-7. Ron Rives will serve as lay liturgist and special music will be presented by the sanctuary choir and Jubilate Ringers when they perform "Alleluia" for the choral introit and "A Child Is Born Today" as the anthem.

The Jubilate Ringers and organist, Elaine Calkins, will add to the advent music theme when they play "Angels From the Realms of Glory" for the offertory. The prelude, "Wake, Awake, For Night is Flying" and the postlude, "Come, Thou Long Expected Jesus," will be performed by Calkins on organ and Dee Anne Trotter on piano.

The First UMC family and friends are invited to come participate in the "Hanging of the Greens" at 3 p.m. in the sanctuary and narthex of the church. Garlands, wreaths, candles, poinsettias, banners, manger scene and Chrismon Tree will fill both areas. Added this year to the chancel area will be a tree entitled "Angels We Have Heard of High," whose decorations were made by the church's Wednesday night craft group under the direction of Ron Rives.

The Wesleyan Chanter Youth Choir will meet from 5-5:30 p.m. when a covered dish will be held for the choir and the decorators of the church. At 6:30 p.m., a devotional with hymns and special music will be held in the sanctuary. The Carol Choir, composed of fourth through sixth graders, will perform "Were You There on That Christmas Night?" The United Methodist Youth Fellowship will meet following the devotional.

ST. ANTHONY'S CATHOLIC CHURCH

Anyone interested in sharing their music talents for Christmas are asked to call Edna Marnell (364-0932), Sharon Cramer (364-0164) or Roger Albracht (364-2242).

A family and youth conference is planned Dec. 3-4 at Amarillo's St. Joseph Church. Cost is $5 for youth; $10 for adults; and free for children under 12 years of age. Lunch is an additional $5. For more information, call Melani Banner.

The West Texas A&M Catholic Student Center invites the entire Catholic community of West Texas to join in evening prayer services each Monday of Advent beginning Nov. 29 at 8 p.m.

Members of the CYO and JOY will be making themselves available to you at a rental cost to help with gift wrapping, decorating, shopping, babysitting, cleaning, etc. in time of the holidays. This "rent-a-kid" project will take place at the parish holiday meal Dec. 11. Funds will go to help with community projects and outreach to others.

Westgate Nursing Home's activity department is having a Christmas bake and gift sale Dec. 2-3. If anyone would like to donate items, bring them to the Westgate Social Service Office by Dec. 1. All are welcome to come and shop for Christmas gifts.

ST. THOMAS EPISCOPAL CHURCH

"Watching and..." is the title of the sermon by the Rev. Charles A. Wilson on the First Sunday of Advent and is based on the gospel reading from Mark 13:24-27. We begin Year B of the three-year lectionary and light the first candle on the Advent Wreath. The Holy Eucharist is celebrated at 11 a.m. and there is a coffee hour in the parish hall after the service.

Christian education for all ages is at 9:30 a.m. each Sunday with children and youth meeting with Melissa Davis for "Living the Good News." The adult class continues with its series on the faith and practice of the Episcopal Church with the final session on Christian Marriage and the beginning of a unit on Christian Spirituality. This class is led by Father Wilson.

The Wednesday evening service will be evening prayer with the Litany of Healing led by St. Thomas' lay readers. The Feast of St. Andrew the Apostle will be the theme of the readings.

CHURCH OF THE NAZARENE

Sunday school for all ages begins at 9:30 a.m. and the Sunday worship services are held at 10:30 a.m. and 6 p.m. Meeting each Wednesday at 7 p.m. are the Adult Bible Study classes, Teen "Club Paradise" and Kids Kare Groups.

This Sunday, Pastor Ted Taylor's sermon will be "Worship, True & False" for this first Sunday of Advent. Worship is a big part of Christmas and must be a big part of our Christian lives.

During the 6 p.m. Sunday service, there will be a Bible study in the sanctuary and all care groups will begin. If you would like to be a part of these groups please call the church office.

"Walk Thru Bethlehem" is scheduled Dec. 9-12. Those planning to assist are asked to meet at 5:30 p.m. Nov. 28.

The NCA seventh grade basketball team will be playing Nov. 30 in the gym. Come out and support the kids.

A special Christmas dinner for all senior adults is scheduled at 7 p.m. Thursday, Dec. 2.

Susie Merrick and the Heaven Bound Choir Celebration will be leading the service at 10:30 a.m. Sunday, Dec. 5. The public is invited.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

The regular Sunday morning services begin with Sunday school for all ages at 9:30 a.m. Fellowship time is from 10:10-10:30 a.m. in the large fellowship hall with refreshments being served. The regular Sunday worship service begins at 10:30 a.m. in the sanctuary.

There will be no youth group meetings Sunday, Nov. 28.

The annual congregational dinner/meeting will be held at 6:30 p.m. Wednesday. Those with names beginning with A-L are asked to bring desserts and those from M-Z are asked to bring salads. The children's Christmas program will be in the sanctuary at 7:30 p.m.

The youth groups will be delivering Christmas gifts to the Children's Home in Amarillo Dec. 12. There are 21 high school aged children, eight middle school aged and eight elementary aged children living at the home. They need fresh fruit, twin sheets, gloves and children's coats and sweaters. Please wrap your gifts, put the size or age on the gift card on top and place them under the Christmas tree in the sanctuary. Anyone wishing more information, please call Mary Dziuk.

COMMUNITY CHURCH

The congregation and Pastor Dorman Duggan would like to invite everyone to come and worship with them Sunday.

Dennis Latham of El Reno, Okla., will be the special guest speaker. He was the former associate pastor at Community Church in 1988.

Aggies top Horns; in Cotton, again

By MICHAEL A. LUTZ
AP Sports Writer

COLLEGE STATION, Texas (AP) — The eighth-ranked Texas A&M Aggies taught Texas something about returns in their 100th meeting.

Freshman Leeland McElroy tied an NCAA record with his third kickoff return for a touchdown of the season, a game-breaking 100-yarder, and the Aggies rode several other big plays for an 18-9 Thanksgiving night victory.

The victory, A&M's record 23rd straight against Southwest Conference foes, means the Aggies will return to the Cotton Bowl for the third straight year as the league's champion.

The Aggies (10-1, 7-0 SWC) beat the Longhorns (5-5-1, 5-2) for the ninth time in 10 games. A&M won its 19th consecutive home game before 74,748 freezing fans at Kyle Field, where the Aggies are 50-3-1 since 1985.

Texas kicked two early field goals to lead 6-0, but upset hopes were tarnished midway through the second quarter when McElroy became the fifth NCAA player to return three kickoffs for TDs in a season.

McElroy took the ball 2 yards deep in his end zone, broke between blocks by Wilbert Biggens and Detron Smith to get into the clear, then sidestepped and outran Texas kicker Scott Szerezy to the end zone.

But the Longhorns, 21-point underdogs, were within striking distance until the 5:55 mark of the fourth quarter.

Facing fourth-and-1 at the Aggie 2-yard line, backup defensive back Dennis Allen intercepted Shea Morenz's pass.

The Aggies then zoomed downhill on Rodney Thomas' 54-yard run and hit a 20-yard field goal by Terry Venetoulis with 53 seconds to play to end the Longhorns' disappointing season.

"We had them fourth-and-1 and that's it, game over. One yard and we had them. That's kind of the way the whole season has been," said Texas tackle Blake Brockermeyer.

Texas coach John Mackovic said the play was his call.

"It was an option play where the quarterback could run, pass or pitch the ball," Mackovic said. "The quarterback decided not to toss it but passed instead and it just didn't happen. I call the plays and I accept the responsibility."

That wasn't the first time the Texas offense stalled in a key spot. But Mackovic can't take all the blame — the Aggies' "Wrecking Crew" defense deserves plenty of the credit.

The Longhorns had first-and-goal at the A&M 10 midway through the second quarter when they settled for Szerezy's 42-yarder. The drive stalled behind two penalties and Steve Kenney's excellent coverage on Longhorns receiver Lovell Pinkney in the end zone.

Texas got to A&M's 20 on its next series, but third-down pressure by Aggies nose guard Lance Teichelman preceded a 37-yard missed field goal by Szerezy.

After McElroy's electrifying kickoff return following Szerezy's second field goal, Morenz completed a 40-yard pass to Jimmy Hakes to the A&M 36. That play set up Szerezy's 48-yard field goal and gave Texas a 9-7 lead with 1:36 left in the half.

But the Aggies came right back before halftime.

Corey Pullig completed passes of 30 yards to Hill and 31 yards to Tony Harrison and completed the drive with a 14-yard TD pass to Harrison.

The Longhorns were penalized before the extra-point try and Hill ran in the 2-point conversion for a 15-9 halftime lead with 12 seconds left.

Herd to host Littlefield

The Hereford Whiteface boys' basketball team will try to even their record at 2-2 Saturday afternoon when they host the Littlefield Wildcats.

The junior varsity contest starts at 3:30 p.m. in Hereford Junior High gym, and the varsity clash follows at about 5 p.m.

The Herd hopes to even its record at 2-2 after chalking up the first win of the season Tuesday night at Tulia.

The Lady Whitefaces play again Tuesday, when they host Levelland. The varsity tipoff is set for p.m. and the junior varsity games follows at about 7:30 p.m.

Morris among 8 finalists for Doak Walker award

DALLAS (AP) — Byron "Bam" Morris, who eclipsed Earl Campbell's single-season Southwest Conference rushing record last week, is among eight finalists for the 1993 Doak Walker award.

The winner of the award presented annually to the outstanding running back in major college football will be announced at halftime of the Monday Night Football matchup between the Philadelphia Eagles and Dallas Cowboys on Dec. 6.

Morris, whose 1,752 rushing yards bested Campbell's 1977 mark of 1,744, is among six finalists who are juniors. The others are: Notre Dame's Lee Becton; San Diego State's Marshall Faulk; Nebraska's Calvin Jones; Washington's Napoleon Kaufman; and Wisconsin's Brent Moss.

Seniors Errict Rhett of Florida and LaShon Johnson of Northern Illinois are the others.

With Texas loss, SWC has to give up berth in Alamo Bowl

DALLAS (AP) — Alamo Bowl officials, expecting an automatic matchup in their Dec. 31 game based on contracts with the Southwest Conference and Pacific-10, will get to choose one team for its inaugural game.

The SWC was forced to give up the spot reserved for its third-place finisher Thursday night when No. 8 Texas A&M beat Texas 18-9, giving the league only two teams with enough victories to qualify for the postseason.

There was no immediate word on which would be the replacement team.

The SWC's No. 3 team was to play the No. 4 team from the Pacific-10 in the New Year's Eve game in San Antonio's new Alamodome.

But because only A&M and Texas Tech reached the mandatory six victories over Division I-A teams, SWC commissioner Steven Hatchell announced Thursday night his league was relinquishing its contractual berth.

"The Southwest Conference gives its official blessing for the Builders Square Alamo Bowl to seek another team," Hatchell said. "... We will look forward to being there next year."

Derrick Fox, the bowl's executive director, said officials will hold a spot for the SWC's third-place finisher in the 1994 game.

On May 17, the Pac-10 and SWC signed a two-year contract linking them to the game. The Pac-10 will fill its spot with either California, Arizona State or Arizona.

As the SWC champs, A&M (10-1) will be the host team in the Cotton Bowl on New Year's Day. Second-place finisher Texas Tech (6-5) likely is headed to the Hancock Bowl in El Paso on Dec. 24.

LUBBOCK, Texas (AP) — All-America wide receiver Lloyd Hill of Texas Tech underwent arthroscopic surgery Wednesday to repair torn cartilage in his right knee, school officials said.

Hill, who led the Southwest Conference with 57 catches for 794 yards and six touchdowns, is expected to be back in time for Tech's bowl game next month.

Seminoles will know what it takes after today's games

By The Associated Press

By the end of the day, Florida State should know exactly what it needs to do in order to stay No. 1.

The Seminoles have the unique advantage this weekend of playing one day after the two undefeated teams pursuing them in the college football polls. No. 2 Nebraska played No. 16 Oklahoma and No. 5 West Virginia played No. 11 Boston College this afternoon.

Florida State plays Saturday afternoon at No. 7 Florida.

If Nebraska wins by 21 points, Florida State will know that it, too, needs to win by a big margin. If Nebraska loses and West Virginia wins, the Seminoles can probably hang onto the No. 1 ranking with a victory — whether it's by 1 point or 50.

If Nebraska and West Virginia both post shutouts, the Seminoles may need to blank the Gators (9-1) as well.

A convincing victory by the Cornhuskers (10-0), combined with a less-than-spectacular victory by Florida State, could elevate Nebraska to No. 1 in the AP poll. But a lackluster performance or a 1-point victory could actually cost them their No. 2 ranking.

The Mountaineers (10-0) could vault past No. 3 Auburn and No. 4 Notre Dame with a strong performance at Boston against the Eagles (8-2), who shocked the country last weekend by beating then-No. 1 Notre Dame.

"We're going to be absolutely judged by what happens this Friday, like it or not," Boston College coach Tom Coughlin said. "In athletics, you're as good as the last time you lined up."

No. 8 Texas A&M locked up its third straight Southwest Conference title and Cotton Bowl berth with an 18-9 victory over Texas on Thursday.

Several other automatic bowl berths are also at stake this weekend.

The champion of the Western Athletic Conference and a berth in the Holiday Bowl will be decided Saturday. Brigham Young can get the nod if it beats Texas El-Paso and Wyoming beats San Diego State. If BYU wins and Wyoming loses, Fresno State will get the bid based on a complicated tiebreaker formula.

Fresno State, which has finished its regular season, also gets the bid if BYU and Wyoming lose. Wyoming gets the berth if it wins and BYU loses or ties.

North Carolina (9-2) can lock up second place in the Atlantic Coast Conference and a New Year's Day bowl by beating Duke (3-7) today.

Other games of interest are No. 19 Arizona vs. Arizona State today, and No. 6 Tennessee vs. Vanderbilt, No. 9 Miami vs. Memphis State and No. 14 Penn State at No. 25 Michigan State on Saturday.

Miami shocks Cowboys on Lett's lapse

By ARNIE STAPLETON
AP Sports Writer
IRVING, Texas (AP) - The Dallas Cowboys had this one wrapped up. All they had to do was stand back and watch the football as it spun like a top in the sleet and snow.

But a sliding Leon Lett touched the ball and gave Miami another chance with three seconds to play. The Dolphins cashed in.

The wild ending began when Pete Stoyanovich's 41-yard field goal attempt was blocked by Jimmie Jones. Lett touched the ball after it had passed the line of scrimmage and Miami's Jeff Dellenbach recovered at the Dallas 1.

Stoyanovich nailed the winner through the snowy mist from 19 yards out, giving the Dolphins a wild 16-14 victory and the NFL one of its weirdest finishes ever.

Lett's lapse ranks among the biggest gaffes in the history of professional football, among them his own Super Bowl blunder in January when his hotdog play allowed Buffalo's Don Beebe to catch him from behind and stop a sure touchdown.

Most of the Cowboys were yelling for everybody to stay away from the ball when Lett came charging after it.

"My eyes just got as big as saucers when I saw the live ball," Dellenbach said. "I thought the game was over. That play was definitely a coaching mistake on their part."

"When I saw the ball rolling around, I thought that someone from Dallas had to touch it, so my first thought was to look around for someone to shove into it," Dellenbach said. "But then that guy came charging into the damn thing."

"I've been around a lot of football games but I've never seen one end like that before," said Dolphins coach Don Shula, who has coached 486 NFL games.

"It's a mistake. We all make them," said Dallas coach Jimmy Johnson, who called this the most disappointing defeat of his life. "That's part of this game. There were hundreds of mistakes made in this particular game. It's hard to feel good about anything right now."

"We don't assume anything. We go over these things," said Dallas special teams coach Joe Avezzano. "But there's no way we can go over it every day. I can't do them every day, but we do talk about them."

The frozen crowd at Texas Stadium sat in shocked amazement and the Cowboys went from celebration to confusion. As for the Dolphins, they piled on each other as if they had just won the AFC championship.

"I thought it was all over when Pete got blocked, but at least our people had the knowledge to get down there and recover it," Shula said. "You don't ever give Stoyanovich a second chance."

Lett hid from his shame afterward as teammates feigned his clothes from the dressing room and he slipped away without a word.

Michael Irvin said the Cowboys were already celebrating victory, sure that the blocked kick had snuffed the Dolphins' final drive that began at the Miami 30 with 2:16 remaining.

"I thought we had won the game. I grabbed Troy (Aikman) and we were hugging. Then they said they had the ball," Irvin said.

Dallas defensive end Jim Jeffcoat said the team was devastated.

"Every one you lose is tough, but I've never lost one like that," he said. "We're still not totally sure what happened."

Jeffcoat said the Cowboys tried to console a distraught Lett.

"I told Leon things happen and you can't let that affect you,"

Jeffcoat said. "You're going to have a great career, and things like this are just going to happen."

"Whatever happened, I hope he's got his head up because we lost as a team," said guard Nate Newton said. "There are no individual losers."

Rookie Kevin Williams caught a touchdown pass and returned a punt 64 yards for a touchdown as Dallas apparently had the game in hand.

But fate reached out again to Lett as Miami raised its record to 9-2 while Dallas dropped to 7-4.

The game was played in the harsh conditions of a 5-degree wind-chill factor. It was the first time it had ever snowed during a Cowboys' regular-season home game in Texas Stadium.

Williams gave Dallas a 14-7 halftime lead when he skated across the frozen turf 64 yards for a touchdown on a punt return with 27 seconds left. Williams cluded four tacklers and celebrated the touchdown with a one-knee slide into the snow-covered end zone.

The Dolphins received second-half field goals of 20 and 31 yards from Stoyanovich before the wacky ending.

Miami struck first when Keith Byars broke two tackles at the line and outsprung cornerback Kevin Smith 77 yards for a first-period touchdown. Byars dove into the end zone with Smith hanging on.

It tied the club record set by Leroy Harris against Baltimore in 1977 for the longest run from scrimmage and was the longest of Byars' career.

Dallas tied it 7-7 in the second period after Bill Bates' interception ended a Miami drive at the Cowboys 26.

"We'll be back," Johnson promised. "We lost two to start the season. We've lost two now. There's no reason we can't put together another streak like we did."

Bears' defense shuts down Lions

By HARRY ATKINS
AP Sports Writer
PONTIAC, Mich. (AP) - Just call the Chicago Bears road warriors.

The Bears shut down Barry Sanders and the Detroit Lions to win their third straight road game and hand Detroit its second consecutive loss by a 10-6 count.

"We had to win these three road games, and we did," Chicago defensive tackle Richard Dent said. "Now we have to beat Green Bay. Our goal has always been to get our destiny into our own hands, and now we've done that."

Before Detroit, the Bears' road show had been victories at San Diego and Kansas City. In all three games, Chicago (6-5) came from behind.

The Lions (7-4) have lost their last two games and will fall into a tie for the NFC Central lead with Green Bay if the Packers defeat the Tampa Bay Buccaneers on Sunday.

Sanders, the NFL's leading rusher, suffered a partial tear of the medial collateral ligament midway through the third quarter and will miss 3-5 weeks. The sprain will not require surgery, said Dr. David Collon, a Lions' team physician.

It was the Chicago defense that won this game. The Lions finished with 230 yards, five more than the Bears. But the Bears defense, led by Dent and Trace Armstrong, had five sacks, two interceptions and recovered two fumbles.

"We did our job, the special teams made some plays, and the offense moved the ball a little for us," Dent said. "That's how you win."

Even before he was injured, Sanders was never much of a factor, gaining 63 yards on 16 carries. Neal Anderson led Chicago with 68 yards on 15 carries.

Obviously, the turnovers were the difference.

"You always want to win the turnover battle," Lions linebacker Chris Spielman said. "The Bears created turnovers and they won the ballgame. You can count on that every time."

Jim Harbaugh, who has experienced some of his worst nightmares in the Silverdome, completed 9 of 16 passes for 123 yards, including the game's only touchdown on a 42-yard strike to Terry Obee. He had one interception.

Kevin Butler added a 27-yard field goal for the Bears. Jason Hanson kicked two field goals for mistake-prone Detroit.

U-Mass faces Kansas in preseason NIT tilt

By JIM O'CONNELL
AP Basketball Writer
NEW YORK (AP) - University of Massachusetts coach John Calipari greeted his team for practice about 12 hours after the biggest victory in school history and quickly lectured them on the real world.

The upset of No. 1 North Carolina on Wednesday night was ancient history by early Thursday afternoon, and Calipari had to bring up the next opponent, No. 6 Kansas for the Preseason NIT title tonight.

"We're double-digit underdogs again," Calipari told the team. He also had to tell the 19th-ranked Minutemen they would be without 6-foot-11 freshman center Marcus Camby, who injured his right knee early in the overtime against the defending national champions and is expected to be out at least two weeks.

Camby's loss hurts even more because the Minutemen will again be at a size disadvantage against the Jayhawks. Kansas' front line may not be as tall and deep as North Carolina's, but it is as strong and experienced.

"The win over North Carolina showed we can play against guys that size, and they were strong too," said forward Lou Roe, who had 28 points and 14 rebounds in leading the relentless Minutemen to a 54-52 rebound advantage. "We have to put it behind us, though, and get ready to get it on Friday night."

Roe won't have Camby to help him against Kansas as the heralded freshman was to have an MRI today.

"They have so many guys and they just kept coming in and beating me up," said Roe, who had flu-like symptoms at Thursday's practice. "I really thought about giving up, but I couldn't and I didn't."

When Kansas beat No. 9 Minnesota in the other semifinal, almost everybody expected another Kansas-North Carolina showdown, something we have seen in two of the last three NCAA Final Fours.

"A lot of people thought we had no chance, and we heard them all," Calipari said. "People told us to hang in there and try to keep it close. This team has an attitude of refuse to lose."

Kansas took over its game in the final minutes behind the play of veterans Richard Scott, Steve Woodberry and Greg Ostertag.

"A lot of the young guys on this team look up to us and we have to set an example," said Scott, who finished with 20 points. "We'll take that role, but it has to be everybody contributing every night, not just two or three people. Hey, it's just the third game of the season and we're all still learning our roles."

After both semifinal games all coaches stressed the time of year because this is still late November and conference games don't start in earnest for another month.

ARLINGTON, Texas (AP) - Will Clark, who on Monday signed a five-year, $30 million contract with the Texas Rangers, will donate $250,000 to the Texas Rangers Charity Foundation.

Wool sweaters back

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I would like to relate a story that gave me a real lift. A little boy about 9 years of age went to town to buy his mother a gift for her birthday. He walked into a lingerie store and decided to buy her a slip. The saleslady asked him what size his mother wore. He picked out one, and she wrapped it for him.

When the boy gave the gift to his mother, she opened it and saw that the slip was a size 12, not the ample size 22 that she really wore. She told her son it was the most beautiful slip she had ever seen and did not let on that it was the incorrect size.

The child beamed with pride and was very pleased to see his mother so happy. The next day, the mother went to the store to exchange the slip. The saleslady remembered her son vividly. She told the mother that when she had asked him what size his mother was, the little boy replied, "She's just perfect."

I, too, have a mother who is a size 22, and I think she is just perfect. These days, everyone is calorie-conscious and "thin is in," but I love my mother just the way she is. As far as I'm concerned, she doesn't have to lose an ounce. I see beauty in her eyes, and they are truly the windows of the soul.--A Grateful Child

DEAR GRATEFUL CHILD:

Be careful near overhead power lines

Even though electricity is one of our safest forms of energy, there are certain situations in which electricity can be deadly. High voltage power lines are designed to carry large amounts of electricity, at exceptionally high voltages, from the generating source to the end consumer. Because it would be prohibitively expensive to insulate these lines or bury them underground, they are carried 18 ft. or more above the ground on wooden poles or metal towers to reduce the risk of equipment or people coming in contact with the bare wires.

But even with these precautions, individuals working on top of buildings, using metal ladders or operating tall machinery must be particularly cautious not to come in contact with overhead lines. As you work outdoors this season, please keep these safety tips in mind:

-Know the clearance height of all farm machinery or other tall equipment you are about to operate. To be safe, keep all equipment 10 ft. away from overhead lines.

-NEVER attempt to raise or move a power line. If you're operating a tractor or other tall equipment that touches a line, stay where you are and have someone call the utility.

-If you must leave the equipment, jump as far as you can so that no part of your body touches the equipment and the ground at the same time.

-If you are carrying a tall metal ladder, irrigation pipe, TV antenna, or other tall object, always look first to see whether overhead power lines are nearby.

-Always remember, utility lines are uninsulated.

-Never let your body become a direct link to ground, or the result could be fatal.

NEW YORK (AP) - Bob or Bobby? Inquiring Hoosiers want to know.

David Letterman asked Mr. Knight, the University of Indiana's basketball coach, which he preferred.

"Anything goes. It doesn't make any difference to me," Knight said on Wednesday's "Late Show."

Knight urged Letterman, an Indianapolis native, to get out of New York every once in a while.

"You know, you've been in New York too long. You need to come back to Indiana once in a while," Knight said. "It would really be good for you."

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) - A Jason Priestly wannabe may wind up with a prison address.

Max Mayerhofer, 20, obtained a driver's license and credit cards in the actor's name and pleaded guilty Monday to a federal charge, the Secret Service said.

Mayerhofer, from Albuquerque, was issued a New Mexico driver's license in December in the name of the "Beverly Hills, 90210" star. In April, Mayerhofer added a post office box and began acquiring credit cards - and debt.

Among Mayerhofer's purchases? A $1,745 diamond engagement ring for his girlfriend, after haggling over the price with a salesperson, and tires for the woman's pickup truck, prosecutors said.

What a warm and loving letter! Although you let me know what city you live in, I am not going to identify it. I want every overweight mother to think perhaps her child wrote this letter. Thank you for lifting so many hearts today.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: No need for advice, just a suggestion: Instead of our adult children giving us presents for Christmas, we'd prefer their time.

Our needs for material things are few. We spent years amassing clothes, tools, appliances and what-have-you. We are getting up in age, and although we can do our regular chores, certain jobs are often difficult.

This Christmas, we would like to have someone clean out the garage or attic. We would like to have the pantry straightened and organized. We would like to have our trees pruned. Instead of another sweater, repaint the living room or go through the mass of boxes in the attic and discard the junk.

In lieu of spending some ill-afforded money on unneeded gifts, give up an afternoon of golf or a day at the mall. Doing some of these chores would be the best gift our kids could give us.--Palestine, Texas

DEAR TEX.: What a great idea! I hope the kids are listening.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: "Mad in Chicago" said in the very first sentence of her letter, "A great many people treat dogs like humans--they teach them to sit up, speak, play ball, fetch slippers, guard stores, lead the blind, play dead, beg for their supper and do any number of tricks."

Oh, really? Just how many people do you know who fetch slippers, play dead and beg for their supper? A lot of Midwestern housewives still stuck in the 1950s maybe, but even that's a-changin'. It wasn't changing fast enough for me, so I moved to California, where not even women do all of the above. Some of them don't sit up--we STAND up and yell for what we want. These are the '90s, Ann. Get with the program. But thanks for a great, if unintentional, laugh.--Santa Rosa, Calif.

Here's news you may want to slip on for comfort. Sweaters are replacing the jacket. In fact, knits are experiencing a sizable increase in popularity at all levels from sweatshirts to hand-knit sweaters. Even better news is that more of these great knits are made of 100% American wool or wool-rich blends.

One reason for this growth in knits is that consumers today have come to rely on knits for comfort. As "sweats" became a weekend staple, most Americans found themselves less willing to put on restrictive clothing for the rest of the week.

Designers are responding to this desire for easy-to-wear pieces. They've turned more and more to great looking knits that blend comfort with real style - the kind of clothes you can wear for business or pleasure, season after season.

These facts from fashion experts may help shape your new wardrobe.

-Sweaters of 100% American wool and wool blends come in a variety of weights and styles. Choose lofty textured knits for the rugged outdoors, lightweight fine-gauge knits for the newest layered looks, or something in between. NO matter what your lifestyle and wardrobe demands, you'll find a knit to fit in wool.

-When it comes to knits, wool has always been a favorite. Wool has tremendous resilience. Pull it, stretch it, and it will spring back into shape. No wonder wool jersey is considered the ultimate traveler, whether styled in fashionable dresses or casual separates.

-Wool sweaters are classics, too. For many, the appeal goes back to childhood. A favorite wool sweater can truly last for decades, bringing with each wearing not only warmth but pleasant memories. Because wool takes dye so well, colors stay vibrant. That's one of the reasons wool sweaters make such great gifts for the holidays.

-Wool/cotton blends bring together two great natural fibers. In combination, wool and cotton give you an entirely new feeling in a sweater.

Football, food, helping needy occupy Thanksgiving day

By The Associated Press
While football and feasting were the order of the day for most Texans, some volunteers spent a freezing Thanksgiving holiday bringing warmth to needy people.

In San Antonio, a hardy staff of Little Church of La Villita volunteers braved a wind chill into the teens Thursday to deliver turkey and all the trimmings to about 100 San Antonio families.

"Doing this makes it easy to be thankful, that's for sure," Jenny Schubert said after dropping off a box of canned goods and bread to a family on the city's west side.

"It makes you almost cry to see the conditions they live in," Ms. Schubert said. "But we were able to do something. We can't do everything, but by the grace of God, we'll do something."

Raul Jimenez, founder of the Jimenez food chain, expected to feed about 20,000 senior citizens at his 14th annual dinner at the San Antonio Convention Center, organizers said.

In Houston, volunteers outnumbered hungry people at the Thanksgiving Houston Superfeast in Jones Plaza downtown as a steady stream of people showed up with blankets, coats and clothes for the homeless.

By 1 p.m., organizers were turning away volunteers. More than 2,600 area residents worked half hour shifts serving food to the hungry, according to David Hallinan. Organizers raised $30,000 to feed about 20,000 people.

"We ask no questions (of the people we feed)," he said. "If you're hungry, you can eat, period."

This was the Superfeast's third year, and sponsors were stunned and delighted by community response. They said they only hoped people would remember the homeless and be as generous the rest of the year.

In Kerrville volunteers put on a different kind of feast: turkey dinners for truckers at the Interstate 10 rest stops five miles east of town.

"Truck drivers keep our country going. They supply us with everything we need. This is just our way of showing our appreciation to them," said Tara Hernandez, organizer of the "Thanks for Truckers" activity.

This was the fourth year Ms. Hernandez, 34, has organized the effort, working with donations from area church members and local businesses but accepting no donations from the truckers receiving the meals.

"A lot of our volunteers might be alone themselves on Thanksgiving, and this gives them a way of being with someone on the holiday. Others plan their Thanksgiving celebration at another time so they can do this for the truckers," she said.

Working with volunteers, Ms. Hernandez spends about three weeks preparing and gathering the food, which is heated up in microwaves at the rest stops.

Other dinners were served around the state for needy and poor at churches and organizations such as the Salvation Army.

Thanksgiving morning, more than 500,000 people braved unseasonably chilly temperatures in Houston to see the 44th annual Foley's Thanksgiving Day Parade, the state's largest. The theme for this year's gala was "Animals on Parade" and it featured marching bands, floats, towering balloons and celebrities.

Thanksgiving afternoon in Dallas, hard-core fans braved freezing rain and light snow to watch the Cowboys lose to the Miami Dolphins, 16-14.

The game played in the harsh conditions of a 5-degree wind chill factor. It was the first time it had ever snowed during a Cowboys' regular-season home game in Texas Stadium.

Some fans took advantage of others' misfortune on their way to the game. A trucker lost a load of Christmas trees on a highway outside the stadium and several people stopped - not to help him gather them up, but to stuff them in their trunks and speed off.

And in College Station, Texas A&M's 18-9 victory over Texas gave the Aggies their third consecutive Southwest Conference Title and a trip to the Cotton Bowl.

More than 200 farm workers and Central American refugees gathered in McAllen for a traditional holiday meal at the Holy Spirit Catholic Church.

"It's something we always do, or else a lot of them would be forgotten," said the Rev. Jerry Frank. "It's good to remember the farm workers. They're the ones who work so hard providing for us. It's little compensation."

A&M researchers claim cloned trees are future for Christmas tree growers

COLLEGE STATION, Texas (AP) - The latest in holiday gift items, brought to you by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station: a cloned Christmas tree.

The agency says the fake fir allows growers to save time by breeding a couple of good trees, then multiplying them.

"The cloned tree is the future for Christmas trees in the South," said grower Don Kachtik. "We only have one type of tree that grows well in Southeast Texas, the Virginia pine, so we need a good one."

Kachtik, who's among the first to begin growing the Virginia pines in Texas soil, says he has several hundred of the perfect pines ready to be cut for the holidays.

According to Kachtik, a "good"

Christmas tree to the consumer is two things: its straight trunk easily slips into a stand, and it can hold lots of ornaments on the sets of limbs that fan out from the trunk.

Growers also say their trees must grow rapidly and be immune to disease and insects.

"When we find a tree with good genetic material, we can capture improvements faster than going through the usual propagation," said Dr. Craig McKinley, who along with Dr. Ron Newton selected good "parent" trees for the experiment and developed the cloning technique.

The cloning process took about 15 months. This year's crop was potted in April 1990, then placed in a greenhouse for 6-9 months. In all, about 450 cloned trees are growing commercially in Texas, but not all are ready for trimming this year.

WASHINGTON (AP) - An estimated 1 million jobless Americans will get an extension of their unemployment benefits under legislation providing $1.1 billion for long-term unemployed workers.

The bill, signed into law Wednesday by President Clinton, provides up to 13 weeks of extra jobless benefits for workers who have used up the basic six months of coverage. People from states with unemployment rates above 9 percent could get 13 extra weeks; all others could qualify for seven more weeks. Eligible are workers who used up the standard half-year of coverage between last Oct. 2 and next Feb. 5.

The emergency benefits program was established in November 1991. It had been renewed several times, but lapsed last month amid fighting among lawmakers over how the benefits should be financed. Since then, about 260,000 people have used up the standard half-year of benefits every week and had no extra coverage to turn to.

The Newspaper BIBLE

NOT GUILTY, YOUR HONOR!

Festus returned to Caesarea and the following day opened Paul's trial.

On Paul's arrival in court the Jews from Jerusalem gathered around, hurling many serious accusations which they couldn't prove. Paul denied the charges: "I am not guilty," he said. "I have not opposed the Jewish laws or desecrated the Temple or rebelled against the Roman government."

Then Festus, anxious to please the Jews, asked him, "Are you willing to go to Jerusalem and stand trial before me?"

But Paul replied, "No! I demand my privilege of a hearing before the Emperor himself. You know very well I am not guilty. If I have done something worthy of death, I don't refuse to die! But if I am innocent, neither you nor anyone else has a right to turn me over to these men to kill me. I appeal to Caesar." Festus conferred with his advisors and then replied, "Very well! You have appealed to Caesar, and to Caesar you shall go!"

A few days later King Agrippa arrived with Bernice for a visit with Festus. During their stay of several days Festus discussed Paul's case with the king. "There is a prisoner here," he told him, "whose case was left for me by Felix. When I was in Jerusalem, the chief priests and other Jewish leaders gave me their side of the story and asked me to have him killed. Of course I quickly pointed out to them that Roman law does not convict a man before he is tried. He was given an opportunity to defend himself face to face with his accusers."

Newton said consumers can expect more cloned Christmas trees to be available in coming years as growers opt to pay the price to get a more marketable tree.

The traditional Virginia pine seedling costs less than 7 cents compared to the current cost of 75 cents to $1.50 for a cloned tree ready to plant.

But the researcher expects the cost of cloned tree plantlets to decrease when the trees are mass produced.

However, it's not likely that the cloned trees will cost consumers more, said Dr. Mike Walterscheid, forest specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"Growers hope that with cloning, they will be able to sell 95 percent of the trees they plant," Walterscheid said. "Right now, only 60-70 percent are sold because the others are ugly or they die from disease or something."

The first basketball game was played, under supervision of the game's inventor Dr. James Naismith, in 1892.

Mauritius' million people make the tiny Indian Ocean island nation almost as densely populated as the southern Asian country of Bangladesh, which has a population of 112 million, according to National Geographic.

Braves trade Pete Smith to Mets, lose Cabrera to Japan

By RONALD BLUM
AP Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) - The Atlanta Braves on Wednesday said goodbye to Pete Smith and Francisco Cabrera. Smith, their fifth starter at the beginning of last season, was traded to the New York Mets for outfielder Dave Gallagher.

Cabrera, a catcher whose hit won the 1992 NL pennant for Atlanta, was designated for assignment and is signing with the Orix Blue Wave of Japan's Pacific League.

"He will be a good ambassador," Braves general manager John Schuerholz said. "I would like to see Frankie get a chance to make more money. Nobody is begrudging him."

The Minnesota Twins gave up on Willie Banks, the No. 3 pick in the 1987 draft, and dealt him to the Chicago Cubs for catcher Matt Walbeck and pitcher Dave Stevens. The Twins also signed outfielder Shane Mack to a one-year deal worth $3.25 million, a raise of $200,000.

The Philadelphia Phillies re-signed outfielder Jim Eisenreich, who had become a free agent, to a one-year deal with an option for $1.4 million guaranteed. He gets $1.2 million in 1994 and the Phillies have a $1.2 million option for 1995 with a $200,000 buyout.

The World Series champion Toronto Blue Jays lost Turner Ward when the outfielder was claimed off waivers by the Milwaukee Brewers.

The Chicago Bears set a record for a title game by defeating Washington, 73-0, in the 1940 NFL championship contest.

The roof of the Georgia Dome is 275 feet at midfield, the equivalent of a 27-story building.

Outfielder Glenallen Hill agreed to a one-year contract with the Cubs, and infielder Jeff Huson agreed to a one-year contract with the Texas Rangers.

Pitcher Kyle Abbott was placed on unconditional release waivers by the Phillies and agreed to a deal with the Kintetsu Buffaloes of the Pacific League.

The Cincinnati Reds agreed to contracts with five free agents: reliever Ken Patterson and infielder Lenny Harris got major-league deals, and infielder Kurt Stillwell, utility pitcher Casey Candaele and catcher Steve Lake agreed to contracts with the Reds' Class AAA Indianapolis farm club.

Patterson will make $425,000, with up to $225,000 in performance bonuses; Harris, $450,000, with $100,000 in bonuses; Candaele, $375,000, with $225,000 in bonuses; and Lake, $290,000. Stillwell's contract is for $375,000 with $200,000 in bonuses.

Smith, a 27-year-old right-hander, made just 14 starts and was 4-8 with a 4.37 ERA in 20 games. He has twice had arthroscopic surgery on his pitching shoulder, and was disabled from July 25 to Sept. 1 this season because of tendinitis in the shoulder.

"We have been assured by the doctors that the physical condition of Smith is good," said Joe McIlvaine, the Mets' top baseball executive. "I think he has a chance to be a serviceable major league pitcher. He's not a star by any means."

Gallagher, 33, hit .274 in 99 games with six homers and 29 RBIs in 201 at-bats.

"We expect him to play an important role next year," Scheurholz said. "He gives us additional depth."

Atlanta also apparently agreed to a $1.1 million, two-year deal with catcher Charlie O'Brien, a free agent who had been with the Mets since September 1990. O'Brien, who hit .255 this season with four homers and 23 RBIs, made $500,000 in 1993. The deal probably will be announced Friday.

Rangers sign Rick Honeycutt

ARLINGTON, Texas (AP) - The Texas Rangers have signed left-handed pitcher Rick Honeycutt to a one-year contract for the 1994 season.

There were no further terms disclosed in the deal with the 39-year-old Honeycutt. The left-hander was 1-4 with a 2.81 era and one save in 32 appearances with Oakland in 1993. He pitched in more than 50 games for the fifth time in the last six years despite being sidelined from June 15-July 24 with a broken left wrist.

Honeycutt moved to free agent status after completing his seventh season with the A's. He has a 101-139 record with 32 saves in 640 career games with Seattle, Texas, Los Angeles and Oakland. Honeycutt won the American League earned run average title at 2.42 with the Rangers in 1983, when he was 14-8 in 25 starts.

The Rangers' major league roster now has 36 players.

Facts About The BIBLE BY JOHN LEHTI

BIBLICAL JUSTICE FOR THE FALSELY ACCUSED

PUNISHMENTS FOR THE SINNERS AND THE CRIMINALS WERE VERY SEVERE IN BIBLICAL TIMES. THE EXECUTION OF A MURDERER CERTAINLY DID NOT AIM AT THE MURDERER'S REFORMATION! AND PUNISHMENT BY PUBLIC WHIPPING ALSO WAS NOT INTENDED TO REFORM THE OFFENDER! BUT THE LAW WAS UPHELD TO THE LETTER. HOWEVER, WHEN A MAN WAS FALSELY ACCUSED AND THIS FACT REVEALED, THE FALSE WITNESS INCURRED THE PENALTY OF THE CRIME FOR WHICH THE ACCUSED MAN WAS ON TRIAL. (DEUT. 19:16,19) THE BIBLICAL PEOPLE, THEMSELVES, FELT A SENSE OF TRIUMPH WHEN ONE OF THESE WAS FINALLY VICTORIOUS OVER THEIR TRIALS AND TRIBULATIONS! SUCH AS THE FALSELY ACCUSED JOSEPH WHEN HE WAS JAILED AFTER THE ACCUSATIONS MADE BY POTIPHAR'S WIFE, TO FINALLY TRIUMPHANTLY RISE TO THE SECOND HIGHEST POWER IN THE KINGDOM OF EGYPT. (GEN. 39:4-11) AND HOW THE YOUNG HEARTS OF BIBLICAL YOUTH MUST HAVE SWELLED ON HEARING THE STORY OF THE MUCH MALIGNED MORDECAI WHO BY THE KING'S ORDER WAS LED THROUGH THE STREETS ON THE KING'S OWN HORSE AS AN ACT OF HONOR BY THE VILLANOUS HAMAN WHO HAD TO PUBLICLY PROCLAIM THROUGHOUT THE CITY'S STREETS THE FACT THAT HIS BITTER ENEMY HAD FOUND FAVOR WITH THE KING! (ESTHER 6)

CLASSIFIED ADS

Classified advertising rates are based on 15 cents a word for first insertion ($3.00 minimum), and 11 cents for second publication and thereafter. Rates below are based on consecutive issues, no copy change, straight word ads.

TIMES	RATE	MIN
1 day per word	15	3.00
2 days per word	26	5.20
3 days per word	37	7.40
4 days per word	48	9.60
5 days per word	59	11.80

CLASSIFIED DISPLAY

Classified display rates apply to all other ads not set in solid word lines—those with captions, bold or larger type, special paragraphing, all capital letters. Rates are 4.35 per column inch; 3.65 an inch for consecutive additional insertions.

LEGALS

Ad rates for legal notices are same as for classified display.

ERRORS

Every effort is made to avoid errors in word ads and legal notices. Advertisers should call attention to any errors immediately after the first insertion. We will not be responsible for more than one incorrect insertion. In case of errors by the publishers an additional insertion will be published.

LEGAL NOTICES

The Deaf Smith County Commissioners will open bids for a new pickup for Precinct 2 at 9AM on December 13, 1993 in the Courthouse. Specifications may be obtained at 242 E. 3rd Street, Hereford, Texas. The Commissioners reserve the right to reject any and all bids.

Comprehensive coverage of local news, social events, sports and happenings in Deaf Smith County is yours ONLY in The Hereford Brand. Good news and good advertising go together. Large ads or small ads pay off in The Brand!

WANTED TO LEASE

The U.S. Department of Agriculture: Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation Service's (ASCS) Deaf Smith County Office presently occupies 3500 net usable square feet of office space, Farmers Home Administration (FmHA) presently occupies 1130 net usable square feet of office space, and the Soil Conservation Service (SCS) presently occupies 1220 net usable square feet of office space. These offices are located at 317 W. 3rd Street in Hereford, Texas. ASCS, FmHA and SCS are interested in signing a succeeding lease for this space, but they will consider relocating if economically advantageous to ASCS, FmHA and SCS. Occupancy is required by March 1, 1994.

Anyone interested should call Ted Peabody, Jr., at (806)364-0530 for more information: no later than November 30, 1993.

HELP YOUR HEART RECIPES

This recipe is intended to be part of an overall healthful eating plan. Total fat intake should be less than 30 percent of your total calories for a day — not for each food or recipe.

Christmas Tree Relish Tray

- | | |
|--|---------------------|
| 1 Styrofoam cone, about 10 to 12 inches high | Cherry tomatoes |
| Mustard greens, chicory or curly endive | Zucchini slices |
| Toothpicks | Cauliflower florets |
| | Carrot sticks |
| | Radish roses |

Apply floral clay or a few strips of two-sided tape to the bottom of a Styrofoam cone. Set cone firmly on a tall compote or footed cake stand.

Begin at the base and encircle cone with a layer of greens, attaching them with wire staples or upholstery pins. Add a second layer overlapping the first. Working upward, continue adding layers until entire cone is covered.

Decorate over greens with vegetables speared with toothpicks. Position extra vegetables around the base. Serve accompanied by dip.

This Help Your Heart Recipe is from the American Heart Association Cookbook, Fifth Edition, American Heart Association. Published by Times Books, A Division of Random House, Inc. 1973, 1975, 1979, 1984, 1991.

Hints from Heloise

Dear Heloise: When sending flowers out of town for any occasion, always ask the receiver to take a picture of the arrangement and send it to you.

I once ordered a flower spray for a funeral and was appalled at what they sent. I wrote a letter to the florist and demanded an explanation of the ugly arrangement sent in the place of the one I ordered. The only reply I ever received was a refund!

To be sure you get what you order, have a picture sent so that you will know what the arrangement looked like. — Jennie, Albuquerque, N. M.

I always try to take a photo and send it with the thank-you note as a nice gesture, and the sender can see what was sent. — Heloise

SEND A GREAT HINT TO:

PO Box 795000
San Antonio TX 78279-5000
or fax it to 210-HELOISE

FAST FACTS

- Five handy uses for plastic lids:
- Place bottles of oils on them to keep shelves from getting sticky.
 - Use as a spoon rest.
 - Some lids fit over pet-food cans.
 - Use as craft patterns.
 - Use as an emergency coaster.

AXYDLBAAXR is LONGFELLOW

One letter stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Let us show you a Texas you've never seen before.

THE ROADS OF TEXAS is the culmination of a mammoth project that has involved many individuals for over two years. When you get your copy of THE ROADS OF TEXAS you'll wonder how you ever traveled the state without it.

This 172 page atlas contains maps that show the complete Texas road system (all 284,000 miles) plus just about every city and community! Texas A&M University Cartographics Laboratory staff members produced the maps, based on county maps from the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation. The details shown are amazing—county and local roads, lakes, reservoirs, streams, dams, historic sites, pumping stations, golf courses, cemeteries, mines and many other features too numerous to list.
