Editor-Publisher The first Chamber Fun Breakfast of 1997, with A.G. Edwards & Son as sponsor, was held Thursday morning and included these highlights:

--Don T. Martin, a longtime school administrator, was presented the Bull Chip Award for his work with students over the years and for helping make Hereford a better place to live, work and play;

--Don Cumpton, new C of C executive, said he was "having the most fun since we played in Texas Stadium," and reported 69 new members have joined the chamber since Jan. 1;

--The audience sang "Happy Birthday" to Charlie Bell, longtime Fun Breakfast emcee who was unable to attend because of illness;

--And everyone knew that Carroll Newsom was not at the breakfast when his name was drawn for $100 and he was not there to claim it!

The quarterly event, with John Stagner and Judge Tom Simons as coemcees, also featured a game between two teams, drawings for various prizes, and community announcements made by representatives of local agencies and organizations.

A "visitor from the East, Clerknac, the all-knowing seer, also made an appearance at the breakfast. She "divined" the answers to questions contained in sealed envelopes.

For example, one answer was "a new county judge." The question from the sealed envelope was, "What would please Clerknac more than anything?" (This was a dead giveaway that District Clerk Lola Faye Veazey was posing as Clerknac).

More than 400 Hereford High School students and Stanton Learning Center S.O.A. R. students were presented awards at the Annual "H" Awards Assembly Wednesday morning in the HHS auditorium.

The students received awards for their achievements in academics, sports, UIL competition and perfect attendance.

'You're the people that the high school is all about. You're what makes Hereford High School work.

"You've made this a good year," HHS Interim Principal Ken Cole said.

The Top Five Percent of each class were announced at the assembly. The top freshman, sophomores and juniors received maroon letter jackets with the "H" emblem. The top seniors received monogrammed blankets. The students accepted their awards from Cole, Stanton Learning Center Principal Susan Robbins and HHS Coach Bill Bridges.

Patricia Robinson of the Los Cibolores Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution recognized Carey Lyles for his Christopher Columbus essay.

Jess Robinson, Commander of American Legion Post #192, presented a $600 scholarship to Jeffrey Higgins.

Dean Crofford spent most of the night defending himself from plain jokes - err .. make that plane jokes - as the Deaf Smith County Hospital Board met Tuesday night to canvass the votes from the recent May 3 election.

Crofford, a pilot, was one of several DSCHB members on hand to hear the final results of the election. Those results, which gave Chip Guseman, Chris Leonard and incumbent Mal Manchee two-year terms on the board, were accepted.

In other business at the meeting, Hereford Regional Medical Center Jim Robinson updated the board on the search for a medical director for the hospital's David Back Clinic - a treatment center for persons with chronic back and neck pain. Robinson said several persons were being considered for the position, including Dr. Bruce Clark and Dr. Steve Lawlis.

Robinson also updated the board on the hospital's pending purchase of land adjoining its property. He said the final approval of the sale was imminent, and that the transaction could be completed as soon as the board received the proper paperwork from a New Mexico-based company.

Vendors sought for Farmer's market here

Vendors are currently being sought for Hereford's annual Farmer's Market, according to an announcement this week by the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce.

The market, which is sponsored each year by the chamber, has been set to begin early in July. The site of this year's market has not been determined, however.

The market is limited to produce grown within Deaf Smith County, but s open to both farming and residential produce operations.

All vendors are required to obtain a one-time $15 membership fee, and a $5 stall fee for each appearance at the market.

Those who are interested may call Denise Andrews, market chairman, at 276-5240.

FORT DAVIS - Around here, empathy for jailed Texas separatist leader Richard McLaren runs about as deep as the dry creeks that snake across the rocky landscape. When the self-styled ambassador of the Republic of Texas surrendered Saturday, "A lot of us cried," said Natasha Arzola, who moved with her husband and seven children from the Texas coast last year to escape gang problems and other pressures.

AUSTIN - Texans could see their local school taxes cut by about 17 cents per $100 in property value under a bill headed to the full Senate. A Senate committee voted 10-1 in favor of the plan Wednesday. It could be before the full House on Friday. The cuts would mean that a person with a $100,000 home, taxed for schools at the average rate of $1.40 per $100 in value, would see school tax bills drop from $1,400 a year to $1,230. That's a cut of $170, or 12 percent. The bill is vastly different from an already-approved House plan.

DALLAS - Frightened victims-rights advocates tried desperately last year to find a way to fulfill convicted child molester Larry Don McQuay's request to be castrated. McQuay swore he'd molested more than 200 children. He declared he was "doomed to eventually rape then murder my poor little victims to keep them from telling on me." Today, a bill awaiting Gov. George W. Bush's signature would make voluntary surgical castration an option for child molesters, even though some medical and legal experts say it's ill-advised.

DALLAS - For a handful of Texas prom-goers, the fun dried up when the state liquor agents arrived. Spot checks have resulted in dozens of citations, including 16 at a Southfork Ranch prom where a limousine driver also was arrested, the Texas Alcoholic Beverage Commission said Wednesday.

AUSTIN - It took a little more than six hours of contentious debate, but the state House gave preliminary approval early today to a stadium-financing bill after its sponsor surrendered on an optional hotel occupancy tax.

The bill by Rep. Kim Brimer, R-Kennedale, passed 71-65 shortly before 1 a.m. today. Another vote later today was required before it moved to the Senate.

year, you are correct.

After President Clinton was elected in 1992, his first order of business was a "deficit reduction" plan. What the President and the Democrats who controlled Congress then did not explain was the fact that the deficit was to be "reduced" by increasing your taxes.

Higher income tax rates went into effect, the tax on gasoline was increased and a number of other federal taxes, fees and other charges rose. The net result was that it now takes the average American about a week longer to pay the taxes due than it did four years ago.

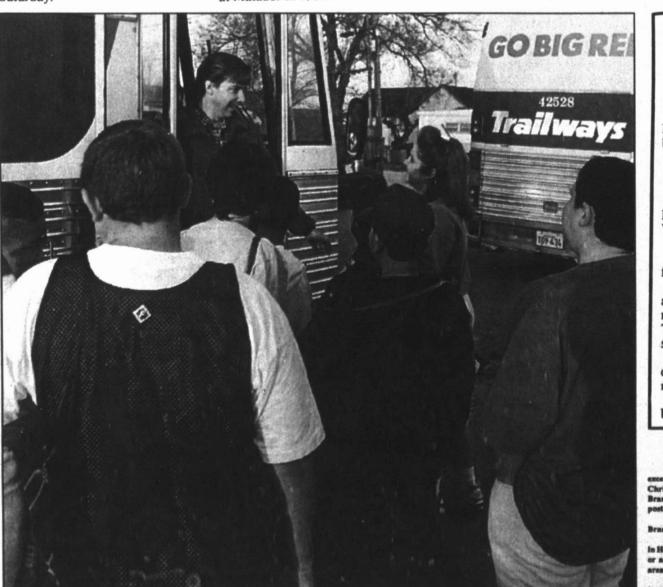

It's not just the federal government

There are a whole host of taxsupported entities which have their eyes on your money.

The Tax Foundation calculates that you work 44 days to pay state and federal income taxes; 38 days to earn enough money to cover payroll taxes, and 18 days are spent slaving to pay for sales and excise taxes.

You are not through yet. A total of 12 days of labor are needed to meet the expenses of property taxes and 13 days can be added to pay for corporate tax bites that are passed on to the consumer.

So take a deep breath Friday and be filled with the quiet knowledge that your have finally done your part to support all levels of government.

Happy ending to lost dog story is proof that advertising does pay

By BECKY CAMP Lifestyles Editor

It pays to advertise.

At least, that's what Zelma Thorn believes after advertising for her lost dog and getting the dog back. But this wasn't just the usual story of a missing dog that was found a few blocks from home. It's more a Panhandle version of an "Incredible Journey" with a happy ending

The Thorns, who live west of Dimmitt, were extremely proud of their recently acquired 8-month-old, long-haired German shepherd female named Lady.

But apparently Lady is afraid of The severe weather began, with were not able to get out and search for Lady or place ads to see if anyone had found her.

Meanwhile, a farmer southwest of Dimmitt called the local veterinarian because he had some sick cattle.

As the vet was leaving the farm, he noticed an unusual long-haired German shepherd loitering close by. When he asked the farmer about the dog, the farmer replied it was a stray that had appeared a few days before and he was going to "shoot it" so it wouldn't get into his cattle.

The veterinarian had a better idea and took the dog with him to his office since he remembered his secretary talking about some neighbors of hers that wanted a good dog. The secretary, who lives east of Nazareth, called her neighbors, Dorothy and Leroy Pohlmeier, and they drove to Dimmitt and picked up the dog. Since it was a female, they asked the vet to neuter her before they took her home, but he wasn't able to do it right then.

A few days later, the Pohlmeier's daughter who lives in Houston, was visiting and picked up a copy of the Castro County News and glanced over the want ads.

In the lost and found column was shepherd female.

Being good neighbors, like Panhandle residents are, even though it is 12 miles from Nazareth to Dimmitt, the Pohlmeiers called the number and told the Thorns they thought they had found their lost dog. It took some time and some piecing together of the facts, but eventually the story all came together as Lady was reunited with her rightful owners.

According to Mrs. Thorn, Lady was a little thin and ragged and had one toenail missing, but obviously had been well cared for by the Pohlmeiers and was in good shape for all she had been through in 10 days.

You may have seen an ad for a lost long-haired German shepherd in the Brand just a few days ago. Yes, it was for this dog. And the Thorns ran ads in several other papers as well. "And because of one of those ads we got our dog back, which just proves that it does pay to advertise," Mrs. Thorn said.

I had a new mole on my wrist for about a year. It didn't bother me, so I just ignored it. I did not suspect melanoma until the mole caught on a jacket zipper and began to bleed. It never occurred to me that a new mole could be a major problem, but I decided to see my doctor anyway. No one had told me what to look for, and I didn't have a clue. The dermatologist who removed it said it didn't look like melanoma, but he sent it to a lab as a precaution. I was shocked when I was told it was nearly a Stage 4.

The NCI and others need to provide a more complete description of what to look for and include NEW moles. It is inexcusable that they have never done so. I hope you will publish this letter, Ann, and that your influence will force them to make that change. -- Melanoma-Free in Miami

Now the SuperSonics are going home for Game 3 on Friday night having accomplished their mission of getting at least one victory in The Summit

"Going 0-2 would have made it tough to come back. We didn't want to be in that position," Kemp said. Perkins, who started only four games at center during the regular season had 18 points, hit all four of his free throws and was 4-for-9 from 3-point range. Olajuwon, a perennial All-Star, finished with 19 points and 12 rebounds.

We put pressure on them and tried to get good shots on every possession," Perkins said. "The game was decided by our aggressiveness on defense.

Seattle coach George Karl decided to give Perkins a rare start.

'Sam is just a guy that I believe and tougher than we expected. They

The spurt featured a three-point play by Olajuwon, a 3-pointer by Clyde Drexler, a tip by Olajuwon and a free throw by Mario Elie.

But Perkins, who started only four games in the regular season, then hit 3-pointer to put the Sonics up 93-88, and they held on behind the scoring of Kemp and Detlef Schrempf. Kemp scored seven points and Schrempf made four free throws down the stretch for Seattle, which was 31-of-33 from the line.

"We used the double-team a lot and we got aggressive," Karl said. "This series is just beginning. Hopefully we can hold the serve this weekend. Mentally, I didn't think we were ready to play the first game. In the second quarter tonight, we started playing basketball and in the second half, it became a men's game."

Olajuwon said the game wasn't decided by his matchup with Perkins. "We play against Seattle, we don't play against one person," Olajuwon said. "They just played much harder

Two teams shot a 29 on the front nine at John Pitman Municipal Golf Course in the Weekly Scramble Wednesday. The prize fund will carryover to next week and be valued at more than $500.

Tying for top spot Wednesday was a team composed of Jim Sandoval, Connie Martin, Sam Metcalf and Speedy Nieman, and the team of Jerry Stevens, Carlos Mendez, Wendell Burdine and Lillie Shipman. Two teams carded a score of 30. One team included John Robinson, Cliff Arnold, Ed Sanders and Don Davison, while the other team was composed of Roy Riley, Steve Sanders, Marin Rivas and Johnny Alaniz.

rangman begins state hurdling quest Friday

By TOMMY WELLS Managing Editor AUSTIN - For Kristin Fangman,

the waiting is over. The Hereford High School standout will finally get to take to the track at the University of Texas' Memorial Stadium tomorrow when she helps open the 1997 University Interscholastic League state track finals. Fangman, the lone HHS athlete making the trip to the state capitol this year, is scheduled to begin competing in the 110-Meter Hurdles event on Friday afternoon.

And she appears to have a good chance at finishing well. Fangman posted the sixth fastest time of the

Toronto inks Ware to deal

TORONTO (AP) - The Toronto Argonauts have signed their second Heisman Trophy quarterback, reaching agreement with Andre Ware to join Doug Flutie in the Canadian Football League.

Ware, who won the Heisman as the University of Houston's QB in 1989, will act as backup to Flutie, who won the Heisman at Boston College in 1984.

"Next year, if Flutie goes south (to the NFL), he'll be the guy," Argos head coach Don Matthews said of Ware on Monday.

Ware, 28, had been hoping to earn the starter's job with Montreal, but the Alouettes re-signed Tracy Ham, who ended a brief retirement.

event's qualifiers when she turned in a time of 15.2 seconds two weeks ago at the Region I-4A Meet in San Angelo.

The top contender for the 1997 hurdles crown would have to be Schertz' Dahlia Ragel, who won the Region IV-4A title with a blistering time of 14.49. Mount Pleasant's Laniedra Moore and Austin Anderson's Cheryl Faubion could also figure into the title picture. Both turned in sub 14.8 runs at their respective regional meets.

Fangman won't be the only District 1-4A representative. She will be joined by a large Pampa group that includes 800-meter power Jenny Fatharee and shot putter Barbara White, and Canyon's 1,600-meter specialist Jennifer Marable.

The UIL State Track and Field Championships will run through Saturday evening.

Mike Mason, athletic director and coach at Rockwall Christian Academy in Rowlett, took the school's baseball team to the region private school playoffs in Abilene this week.

Mason is a 1982 Hereford High School graduate and the son of Paul and Reni Mason of Hereford. Rowlett is located northeast of Dallas.

topping 100 mph. "They were extremely concerned about the number of people who wouldn't get out of the way of police cars."

The high-speed race across town capped a more than six-hour search for Stillfried.

"We weren't expecting this," Stillfried's wife, Ada, said Wednesday as her husband recuperated from a nearly nine-hour operation. "We were out shopping. ... We thought he had to wait months."

Stillfried had come to Miami from his native Caracas, Venezuela, for a checkup and to find out where he stood on the organ transplant list at Jackson Memorial.

The news wasn't good.

During a morning meeting, the 33-year-old father of three was told his wait would be at least a few months longer. Stillfried thought he might die before the organs were found.

"He was depressed," said his cousin, Manuel Gonzalez. "He gets dialysis and he wasn't doing well. His kidneys were failing quickly."

Stillfried and his wife left to go shopping. Fifteen minutes later, the hospital called, using the pager that transplant patients are supposed to carry with them.

Stillfried had forgotten his. Relatives took to the roads, combing store parking lots and restaurants the couple frequented. Gonzalez called rental car companies, eventually finding the agency that had

A neighbor drove to stores and asked workers to page the Stillfrieds. She also called a radio station and asked them to broadcast an emergency message.

At about 3 p.m., Gonzalez drove to the Metro-Dade police station near his relatives' home and got them to issue an alert asking officers to search for the white Mazda.

Distressed family members watched time pass. "We just had to pray and pray and hope that they were found," said Maria Luisa Silva, Stillfried's cousin. Police, who had been combing the at a discount wholesale store in Kendall, a suburb southwest of Miami.

They hustled them to the station, where officers tried in vain to get a helicopter. It was about 7:30 p.m. and only about 30 minutes remained before the organs were to go to someone else.

Hernandez put Stillfried into a squad car and sped for the hospital across the city, usually about 45 minutes away. Mrs. Stillfried, too upset to accompany her husband, followed in another car.

Luckily, traffic wasn't as heavy as expected. Stillfried arrived about four minutes before doctors would have got there on time."

finally caught up with the Stillfrieds given the organs to another patient. Dr. Gaetano Ciancio, one of the transplant surgeons, said the man was lucky to get matched with donated organs in the first place.

"It's very rare to match the kidney and pancreas," he said. "The organs were here. He wasn't."

Stillfried was listed in serious condition this morning, said a hospital operator who had no details. Wednesday night, he had been listed in good condition, both transplanted organs working. No details about the donor were released.

His near miss was nothing short of miraculous to Hernandez.

"It was a gift from God that we

The American Cancer Society is sponsoring a Look Good...Feel Better program which can help cancer victims cope with the unpleasant side effects of cancer treatment.

The program will be held from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. May 19 in the American Cancer Society Office, 3915 Bell Street, Amarillo.

With the help of cosmetology professionals, program participants will learn quick and easy makeup tricks. They will learn how to compensate for hair loss, including how to use scarves and turbans to their best advantage.

For more information or to register, call the American Cancer Society at 806-353-4306.

In commemoration of the 100th anniversary of Brahms' death, the Amarillo Symphony presents an evening of his most beloved works in the concert on May 10 at 8 p.m. at the Amarillo Civic Center.

The symphony will play three Brahms pieces, including "Hungarian Dances, No. 5,6 and 7," "Concerto for Plains Historical Museum is planned Violin and Cello and Orchestra," and Brahms most popular composition, "Symphony No. 2 in D-Major."

Area Events

Featured during the concert will be two members of the renowned Orion String Quartet, Daniel Phillips on violin and Timothy Eddy on cello. This is the final concert of the 1996-1997 season for the Amarillo Symphony.

Museum Day is an annual event observed worldwide as museums around the world celebrate their roles in preserving the cultural and natural heritage of their communities.

Living history programs will be presented by the Amarillo Gunfighters, Fourth Cavalry Memorial reenactment group, members of the Texas Intertribal Indian Organization and Indigo Gunfighters.

History interpreter and re-enactor, Hody Porterfield will interpret the life of early Texas plainsmen. The Kwahadi Dancers of Amarillo will also perform during the day.

Demonstrations and interpretive programs will include woodworking by Joe D. Rogers of Hereford, flintknapping, whittling, ropemaking, spinning and weaving, branding, black-smithing and a small onecylinder engine exhibit from the Paul Martin collection.

Wagon rides, provided by the Creekwood Ranch, will begin at 11:15 a.m. Tickets for the wagon ride will be sold the day of the program. Adult tickets are $2 and children's tickets are $1.25. Children 3 years old and under may ride free with an accompanying ticket-holding adult.

PLAINVIEW

The 69th Pioneer Round-Up will be held in Plainview on May 17. Theme for this year's round-up is "Patchwork of Memories."

Activities begin at 10 a.m. with a reception honoring all pioneers. A parade begins at 2:30 p.m. originating at the Santa Fe Depot.

"Pioneer Woman of the Plains" awards will be presented. The traditional square dance, starting at 8:30 p.m. will conclude the activities. Caller will be Jimmy Gouge of Amarillo.

SAGERTON

The Sagerton Homecoming has been set for May 24 and 25 at the Sagerton Community Center. Registration will begin at 1 p.m.

Saturday Activities planned by the homecoming committee include announcing a homecoming queen, bus tours to see the "old" and the "new," refreshments Saturday at 6 p.m., and lunch on Sunday followed by a short program

The original programs provide elementary and secondary teachers with non-traditional studies focused on developing their classroom skills.

"We developed the instructional material from a needs survey that was conducted by area personnel," said Dr. Hoyt Bowers, director of the program and chair of Wayland's division of mathematics and science. "We have built courses to meet the needs determined by the survey."

The course for secondary teachers is "Bio-Analytical Investigations of Cell Life," and the elementary

"The course of study has been written entirely by the instructor and consultants," said Joanne Bowers, Plainview High School's science department coordinator.

Since the ASSET and ASSIST programs began in 1986, more than 230 High Plains region teachers have spent their summers developing new skills to take to their classrooms. Mrs. Bowers will lead the program's course for elementary teachers.

The class is designed to help prepare teachers to understand and apply calculations needed in the teaching of science, and to use the same science techniques and skills in teaching mathematical equations.

The secondary students will be instructed by Dr. Vaughn Ross, Wayland associate professor, and Ms. Caylene Caddell, a vertical alignment more information on the programs.

dozens of citations, including 16 at a Southfork Ranch prom where a limousine driver also was arrested, the Texas Alcoholic Beverage Commission said Wednesday.

The TABC announced "Operation Safe Prom-Safe Graduation" last month, saying it intends to have an enforcement presence at 60 percent to 70 percent of the state's high school celebrations this spring. Agents perform minor sting operations in and around the area of prom and graduation celebrations, monitor parking lots and talk with event chaperones.

Operation Safe Prom is a milder version of the Arlington Independent School District's program, which required students to pass breath or saliva tests for alcohol intoxication before they were admitted to prom. The idea was so abhorrent to some students that they staged their an alternative celebration.

Most high school proms monitored so far have been without incident. The state credits good publicity and the schools' cooperation.

However, 13 youths at Richardson J.J. Pearce High School's prom the other schools come down here received citations for minors in after their proms," he said.

warrant for outstanding traffic tickets and was jailed in Collin County.

A dozen other Dallas County. school proms monitored over the weekend found no violations.

Liquor agents found violations at a beach party after the Port Lavaca Calhoun High School prom Saturday night, said Sam Smelser, TABC assistant chief of enforcement in Austin.

"We have always done things like this in the past, but what we haven't done is to publicize it and make a program out of it and get the cities and schools on board," he said.

Smelser said citations were issued for minors in possession of alcohol, making alcohol available to minors, and prohibited hours consumption in a public place.

A minor in possession of alcohol charge is a Class C misdemeanor punishable with a fine ranging from $25 to $200.

'We had an excellent prom. Most of the kids stayed the whole time probably 300 students in a school of 1,100," said school Principal Horace Jennings.

"But we are on the beach and students from Victoria and some of possession of alcohol, with another citation for making alcohol available to a minor, said Sgt. Brent Roberts at TABC's Dallas office.

A limousine that carried up to 10 students Saturday also contained a large quantity of liquor, said TABC Sgt. David Alexander in Greenville.

'Students are aware that we will be out there. We would rather go to proms and find they are totally in compliance than go to one like this and find numerous violations," he said. "At nearly all the proms, with one or two exceptions, nearly everything is very well in order."

He said the limo driver was charged with transporting alcoholic beverages in a dry area - the ranch where television's "Dallas" was

At the Arlington Martin High School party, where breath tests were performed on students who appeared intoxicated, six received in-school suspensions pending the outcome of hearings.

However, coach Terry King suspended three senior baseball players from the team.

"Our laws are only as strong as enforcement. And it takes a multitiered approach to enforce under-21 drinking laws. We have to involve young people now to prevent death and injury tomorrow," said Tresa Coe of Irving, Texas-based Mothers Against Drunk Driving. "In many ways, parents can send a mixed message: it is OK if you drink as long as it's just a prom."
