Home insurance rates to rise

AUSTIN (AP) - Many Texas homeowners could face up to double-digit increases to the cost of their insurance policies.

Texas Insurance Commissioner Elton Bomer on Wednesday heard arguments from insurer and consumer groups on the setting of residential property benchmark rates. Regulated insurance companies, covering about one-third of Texas' residential property, set their rates from 30 percent above to 30 percent below the benchmark rate set in each of the state's 23 rating territories.

Unregulated companies cover the majority of Texas homes. Regulated rates within the territories vary widely, based on insurance companies' policies, the location of the insured properties and other factors. The Insurance Department encourages Texans to shop around.

Two state administrative judges have urged Bomer to approve an overall 13.5 percent increase to the statewide average benchmark rate. That includes a 14.8 percent increase to the benchmark for homeowners' policies and no change to the renters' benchmark.

Rick Gentry, regional vice president of the Texas Insurance Organization, a trade group, said the increase is overdue.

"It's unfortunate our recent loss experience - the majority of which is weather-related - has put upward pressure on rates," Gentry said, adding that the average statewide benchmark rate has not been increased for several years.

TIO had sought a 14.3 percent overall increase to the rate.

Public Insurance Counsel Rod Bordelon said future weather patterns and insurance payments for property damages are hard to predict and shouldn't be based solely on previous experience.

"You can't just blindly input that data," Bordelon said.

Driver cited in school bus accident which injures 9

By JACK STEIN
Brand Editor

A veteran Hereford Independent School District bus driver, who allegedly fell asleep at the wheel, has been suspended following an accident which caused injuries to eight students and the driver late Wednesday afternoon.

Trinidad Salazar, who was issued a traffic citation, will remain on suspension with pay pending outcome of a school district investigation into the accident, according to David Morris, transportation director.

The driver and eight of the 19 students on board were injured in the accident. They were transported to Hereford Regional Medical Center where all were treated and released according to hospital officials.

The accident occurred before 4 p.m. approximately a mile east of Dawn on Hwy. 60 when the westbound bus left the roadway, ran into the north bar ditch, coming to a stop in the ditch after traveling through tall grass for a lengthy distance.

Records of the Texas Highway patrol showed Salazar was issued a citation for failure to drive in a single marked lane. Officers at the scene said students reported that the bus driver complained of being sleepy just before the bus left the roadway.

"We're concerned (about the accident)," Morris said, "and glad nobody got hurt any worse than they were."

He said the driver, who has been driving for HISD seven years, had undergone testing to determine if alcohol or drugs were present as required by law. Results of those tests should be available Monday.

Morris said the bus was returning to Hereford from a daily run which carries the students to Amarillo College for prep classes. These classes continue for approximately two months during the summer.

Another bus carrying 11 students made the trip to Amarillo again Thursday morning with another driver.

The bus involved in Wednesday's accident is a 1994 Blue Bird which cost $48,000 when purchased new.

It sustained damage to the front and rear when it crossed a low spot in the ditch.

Morris did not have a dollar estimate on how much damage the bus sustained but said the vehicle would have to be taken elsewhere for repairs.

The front door was jammed closed by the damage and students had to use the rear and left side emergency doors to exit the vehicle.

Hereford Emergency Medical Services personnel were assisted by Hereford and Dawn volunteer firefighters in placing the injured into three ambulances which were

36 deaths predicted

AUSTIN (AP) - As many as 36 people could die on Texas highways over the long Fourth of July weekend, the Department of Public Safety said today.

Sixteen people died last year during the 30-hour holiday period. But with July 4 falling on a Friday this year, the holiday period stretches to 78 hours - from 6 p.m. Thursday through midnight Sunday.

"We're asking drivers to do everything within their power to have a safe, enjoyable July Fourth holiday," said Lt. Col. Thomas Davis Jr., acting DPS director.

Davis said all available troopers would be patrolling the highways over the holiday weekend.

At least five of last year's 16 deaths were attributed to drinking and driving. July 3, 1994, remains the deadliest day in Texas traffic history, with 46 people killed in accidents that day.

Bush asks disaster designation for 12 counties flooded by rains

WASHINGTON (AP) - Texas Gov. George W. Bush is asking President Clinton for a major disaster declaration to trigger federal help for 12 Central Texas counties waterlogged by recent severe flooding.

"These storms and high water have resulted in five deaths, widespread damage and have caused many citizens to be displaced from their homes," Bush wrote Clinton on Wednesday.

The flooding, which began June 21, "is of such severity and magnitude that effective response is beyond the capabilities of the state and the affected local governments," Bush added.

To date, damage from the flooding has been estimated at just over $15 million. But because the flood waters haven't receded completely in hard-hit Travis County, a final damage tally can't be made, Bush spokeswoman Karen Hughes said Wednesday.

Sen. Kay Bailey Hutchison, in a letter signed by fellow Texas GOP Sen. Phil Gramm, also wrote the president Wednesday to ask for Washington's help. "We appreciate your review of this matter and hope you will issue a disaster declaration as quickly as possible," they said.

The initial damage survey showed flood damage to more than 500 homes and businesses, Lake Travis was the primary source of the flooding, which damaged some 200 homes along the lake's shorelines. Floods and driving rains damaged more than 200 other dwellings from Hondo, just west of San Antonio, to Lakeway, just west of Austin.

The counties for which the governor is seeking federal relief are: Bandera, Bexar, Burnet, Guadalupe, Kendall, Kimble, Llano, Mason, Medina, Real, Travis and Uvalde.

Bush said initial estimates by state and federal emergency management officials suggest the feds could be responsible for picking up $4.6 million of the total damage reported to date.

Just last month, the Clinton administration rejected a presidential disaster declaration Bush had sought to deal with the aftermath of killer tornadoes in Central Texas.

The Federal Emergency Management Agency ruled that damage from the tornadoes, which killed 28 people, didn't meet the threshold to trigger federal help.

Some 239 homes and businesses were destroyed or damaged when the twisters hit May 27, striking the small town of Jarrell with the greatest violence. Total damages were estimated at $20 million.

"This has been a very difficult year for Texas with natural disasters," said Ms. Hughes.

"Obviously because of the Jarrell tornadoes our state resources were really stretched," she added. "The flooding on top of that has really necessitated the federal government's help and we hope that this will qualify."

Under federal law, a major disaster declaration is given only when the scope of the damage exceeds a state's ability to handle. Federal officials also examine whether there is adequate private insurance coverage.

Fireworks in park will be climax of July 4th celebration

Free watermelon served at 6 p.m.

Sampling the melon

Watermelon and fireworks will be the order of the day when Hereford and Deaf Smith County citizens gather to celebrate the Nation's birthday Friday evening.

With most businesses in the area closing in honor of the Fourth of July holiday, citizens will be able to honor their country with another birthday by visiting Veterans Park where many of the day's major activities are planned.

The Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring an old fashioned picnic type event featuring free watermelon for all and the fireworks display.

It's been two years since area residents have seen this display of the aerial fireworks because the 1996 show was canceled due to extremely dry weather.

This year is different, however, and fire officials have given the okay to go ahead with the show.

With the fireworks display authorities hope private fireworks will be minimized. Although no ban has been imposed this year, citizens are reminded by city officials that use of fireworks within the city limits is banned by city ordinance and subject to fine.

Fire Marshal Jay Spain also has called attention to fire danger throughout the city and county. He urges extreme care in use of fireworks.

The aerial display of fireworks will begin at approximately 10 p.m. when daylight gives way to darkness and the fireworks can be seen in all their brilliance.

This will be preceded by the 5 p.m. opening of the park festivities, to be highlighted by the free watermelon. Officials said members of the Rotary Club of Hereford will begin cutting and serving watermelon at 6 p.m.

Chamber officials have ordered approximately 600 of the juicy red fruit and a preliminary "testing" promises to bring a sweet taste to the mouths of those attending the festivities.

Earlier in the day the weekend celebration kicks off with the annual Hereford Open Coor's Partnership Golf Tournament at Pittman Municipal Golf Course.

This tournament benefits the Make-A-Wish Foundation as each team pays a $180 entry fee.

Tournament play will continue Saturday and Sunday. An auction will also be held Friday in conjunction with the tournament. This will be at the KC Hall featuring five special items, including:

- free use of a golf cart for a year courtesy of the city of Hereford.
- a brisquet a month for a year courtesy of Bob's Hickory Pit.
- car wash a month for a year by Collier's 66.
- 12 golf lessons from Cal Garrett.
- "Golf Texas Style," print by Tom Greenwood from the 19th Hole Package Store.

Most businesses will be closed for the day but will reopen Saturday. City, county, state and federal offices will take off Friday.

The Brand will be closed Friday so employees may enjoy the Fourth of July with their families and will reopen Monday.

'Old-fashioned hero' dies at age 89

James Stewart's image was not Hollywood concoction

By JOHN HORN
AP Entertainment Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) - Another angel got his wings.

James Stewart's image as an old-fashioned hero was not some Hollywood concoction. The lanky, slow-talking actor left behind not only an unrivaled body of work but also a legacy of dignity and generosity.

From his courageous war service to his steadfast devotion to his wife, the "Mr. Smith Goes to Washington" star exemplified the values of decency and moral courage that he created on screen.

"He is the last of the great leading men," said actor Robert Wagner, a longtime friend who was co-host of Stewart's charity road race. "He was a very kind, very generous person. Everybody who knew Jimmy is better off."

Stewart died Wednesday at his Beverly Hills home from a blood clot in his lung. He was 89.

Fighting illness and mourning the 1994 death of his wife, Gloria, Stewart had become something of a recluse in recent years. His image as a beloved symbol of American integrity, however, never dulled.

"Jimmy Stewart had a wonderful life, and there was no one more dear or more fun than he was," Doris Day, his co-star in "The Man Who Knew Too Much," said in a statement.

"America lost a national treasure today," President Clinton said, describing Stewart as "a great actor, a gentleman and a patriot."

Stewart played the hero even when the cameras stopped rolling. From his noble film characters to his offscreen role as devoted husband, dutiful son and genuine war hero, the Academy Award-winning actor championed simple values, giving decency and courage a face - and a slow, stammering voice.

Not so much the suave matinee idol as the guy-next-door type, Stewart mostly played devoted, sometimes bashful heroes, slow to anger but possessed of extraordinary valor and endless perseverance.

Decades after Stewart's films came out, they remain among the most beloved in the American movie canon.

He played an idealistic young senator in 1939's "Mr. Smith Goes to Washington" and a suicidal businessman in 1946's "It's a Wonderful Life," his personal favorite.

Stewart won a best actor Academy Award for 1940's "The Philadelphia Story" and was nominated four other times.

In his more than 75 films, Stewart built a body of cinematic work with few equals: movies suffused with nobility and humanity.

Stewart's other movie credits included "The Man Who Shot Liberty Valance," "Destry Rides Again" and "Harvey."

An aw-shucks sort of guy in real life, Stewart was more likely to credit his directors than himself for his screen performances. "I won't let it get me, but too much praise can turn a fellow's head if he doesn't watch his step," he once said.

His wife often reinforced his humility. At a party one night, he started telling a story in his trademark faltering style. "Now, dear," she chided, "don't talk like Jimmy Stewart."

Former President Ronald Reagan and wife, Nancy, Stewart's close friends who presented him with the Presidential Medal of Freedom in 1985, said in a statement that Stewart's modesty meant he "never really understood the greatness that others saw in him."

Kim Novak, his "Vertigo" co-star, said Stewart was "one-of-a-kind."

"Others would merely be copies. He was my friend, my role model. He taught me that it was possible to remain who you are and not be tainted by your environment," she said.

Born James Maitland Stewart in Indiana, Pa., on May 20, 1908, Stewart's life reflected a small-town, religious upbringing and sense of responsibility. He was politically conservative, married only once, for 45 years, and served in World War II. Sent to Europe as a bomber squadron commander, he flew 20 combat missions and earned the Distinguished Flying Cross. In 1959, he was promoted to brigadier general in the Air Force Reserve by President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Stewart often returned to help the family hardware store in Pennsylvania, where his Oscar was displayed in the window for 20 years.

"It's a Wonderful Life" cast Stewart as George Bailey, a good and ambitious man who grows despondent after it seems life is passing him by.

Bailey learns life's important lessons from his guardian angel Clarence Odbody: "Each man's life touches so many other lives, and when he isn't around he leaves an awful hole, doesn't he? ... You see, George, you really had a wonderful life."

One of Stewart's two stepsons, Ron McLean, died while fighting in Vietnam in 1969. Survivors include stepson Michael McLean and daughters Judy Merrill and Kelly Harcourt.

Shuttle crew begins experiments, again

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) - Columbia astronaut Janice Voss to ground control: "We're ready to start burning things."

Voss and the rest of the space shuttle crew aren't pyromaniacs, but in an effort to understand better how flames spread in weightlessness, the crew on Wednesday began igniting fires in sealed containers.

The message from Voss came she lit a small amount of hydrocarbon fuel to watch the production of soot, a dangerous component of forest fires.

Voss said scientists slightly tinkered with the experiment after the crew's aborted mission three months ago. The first test this time went more smoothly than two runs on the earlier flight, she said.

The seven-member shuttle crew will conduct a total of 144 combustion tests over their 16-day mission - research that scientists predict will reduce air pollution on Earth and help improve safety in space.

A blaze in February on the Russian space station Mir drew attention to the need for such studies. The fire, which started when a solid-fuel oxygen generator ignited, burned for 14 minutes and filled the outpost with smoke, said NASA astronaut Jerry Linenger, who was on board at the time.

On the April shuttle mission - cut short by 12 days because of a malfunctioning power generator - Columbia's astronauts only had a chance to set 14 fires. The same crew returned to orbit Tuesday to start over with the fire experiments and an assortment of others involving plants, metals and crystals.

"All of us are marveling at how much it feels like we just left here yesterday," Voss said. "It's been much easier to get back into the swing of things."

In West Texas the showers and thunderstorms will begin in eastern areas tonight and spread westward on Friday.

It will be partly cloudy and warm to hot through Friday.

It will be partly cloudy across North Texas tonight with a slight chance of thunderstorms in northwestern sections early Friday. The slight chance of thunderstorms continues Friday over the entire area.

Lows tonight will be in the 60s and 70s except in South Texas where readings will be in the 70s and 80s.

Hospital Notes

Report from Hereford Regional Medical Center on July 3:
Admitted: Frances Saiz.
Discharged: None.

Ann Landers

Dear Ann Landers: We in the Red River Valley of northern Minnesota and North Dakota want to say a belated thank-you to the kind people all over the country who were our support and lifeline at a very difficult time.

As most of you know, the Valley experienced a horrific winter of ice and snow, far beyond what is normal. Fargo, N.D., received 116 inches of snow. Our last blizzard, also the worst, came on April 6, as many in our community were sandbagging to prevent overflowing rivers from flooding the area. Grand Forks not only flooded, but the entire downtown burned to the ground. During the month of April, we fought flood waters the likes of which have never been seen. While recovery will take months, I know we will band together and help one another get through this.

I want to express my heartfelt thanks to the rest of America. The response has been incredible. People came from hundreds of miles to throw sandbags in our communities, and there have been incredibly generous donations from around the country. We know, too, that all the prayers helped. The caring and concern expressed by thousands of people meant so much to us.

The Red Cross and Salvation Army deserve special thanks for the enormous assistance they've provided. They arrived as soon as help was needed and will continue to remain here for several months, providing shelter, food, clothing, supplies and other necessities.

Thank you, America. I am so proud to be part of this great country. You should be, too. -- Sherry in Fargo, N.D.

Dear Fargo: Once again, America has proven to be the most generous and philanthropic country in the world. The spirit of volunteerism is only one example. Not only do we take care of our own, but we reach out in all directions and help people way beyond our borders, irrespective of race, color or creed.

I am indeed proud to be an American and have often wondered if my patriotism has something to do with being born on the Fourth of July. P.S. Happy Birthday, Sis.

Dear Readers: In 1995, I printed this interesting piece of information on our national holiday, and I thought it was time to repeat the history lesson:

Dear Ann Landers: Though not widely known, it was on July 2, not July 4, that the Continental Congress passed a resolution initially declaring the independence of the colonies. Introduced on June 7, 1776, by Richard Henry Lee of Virginia, the resolution stated:

"Resolved: That these United Colonies are, and of right ought to be, free and independent States, that they are absolved from all allegiance to the British Crown, and that all political connection between them and the State of Great Britain is, and ought to be, totally dissolved. That it is expedient forthwith to take the most effectual measures for forming foreign Alliances. That a plan of confederation be prepared and transmitted to the respective Colonies for their consideration and approbation."

This resolution prepared the way for the Congress to adopt the final draft of the Declaration of Independence two days later, on July 4.

July 4, 1995, we celebrate the 219th anniversary of Independence Day. It was also on this date 99 years ago that the poem "America the Beautiful" by Katherine Lee Bates, a Wellesley College professor, made its debut in a church publication titled "The Congregationalist."

Please accept my very best wishes for a happy birthday. -- Serphin R. Maltese, senator, New York state

McGwire first player to hit 30 home runs

Rangers blast Rockies 9-1; Astros overcome Indians 6-2

By The Associated Press
Talk about power ... Mark McGwire has it even when he doesn't think he has it.

McGwire became the first player to reach 30 home runs this season when he "shanked" a low outside pitch from Kirk Rueter into the right-field stands in Oakland's 8-1 victory over the San Francisco Giants on Wednesday.

Backed by a 10 mph wind at 3Com Park, the ball shot into the seats as McGwire became only the 10th major league player to reach 30 homers by the All-Star break - and just the second to do it twice. Willie Stargell was the other.

"He's as strong as Paul Bunyan," Giants manager Dusty Baker said after the teams who met in the earthquake-interrupted 1989 World Series played their first regular-season game. "Only he and Paul Bunyan could do that."

McGwire's three-run shot highlighted a six-run fifth inning and was his 359th homer, moving him into a tie with Johnny Mize for 43rd place on the career list.

"It was a golf swing that would have been a shank," said McGwire, who in 1987 had 33 homers by the All-Star break and finished the season with 49.

Braves 2, Yankees 0

Greg Maddux (11-3) pitched a three-hitter as Atlanta won its second straight against New York after a loss in the opener of the three-game series at Yankee Stadium.

Maddux, the loser in Game 6 of the World Series at Yankee Stadium last season, faced only 28 batters - one over the minimum - and threw 88 pitches - 65 of them for strikes.

Chipper Jones had an RBI single off Dwight Gooden (3-1), and Ryan Klesko homered in the sixth.

Cubs 3, Royals 2

At Wrigley Field, Sammy Sosa drove in two runs with his 17th homer and an RBI groundout and Kevin Foster (10-5) pitched 6 1-3 strong innings as Chicago won its first three-game series of the season.

Kevin Appier (6-6) was the loser. Orioles 10, Phillies 6
President Clinton showed, but left before Jeff Reboulet snapped a tie with a three-run double in the seventh that carried Baltimore to its sweep of Philadelphia at Camden Yards.

Scott Rolen hit two homers and Ruben Amaro and Mike Leiberthal also homered for the Phillies, who have lost a season-high nine straight and 17 of 18.

Tigers 9, Mets 7

Detroit pounded three more homers against New York, giving the Tigers a total of 14 in their three-game sweep of the Mets.

Tony Clark hit a homer - his 21st - off the Tiger Stadium roof, while Damion Easley and Melvin Nieves added homers. The 14 homers were two shy of the record for home runs over three consecutive games.

Marlins 3, Red Sox 2

Felix Heredia struck out Reggie Jefferson with the bases loaded in the seventh to preserve Florida's second win in the three-game series at Fenway Park.

Blue Jays 7, Expos 6

At Skydome, Joe Carter ended an 0-for-16 slump with a three-run homer in the fifth and then gave Toronto the win with a two-out single in the 13th.

Carter's 115th career homer at Skydome was his first to right field. Mike Timlin (2-0) allowed one hit in 3 1-3 innings for the win. Anthony Telford (2-2) was the loser.

The Expos won the opening two games of the first series between Canada's major league teams by identical 2-1 scores.

Pirates 3, White Sox 1

Dale Sveum homered and drove in two runs and Jason Schmidt (4-4) pitched a five-hitter as Pittsburgh completed its first three-game sweep of the season.

Frank Thomas and Albert Belle, named to the AL All-Star team earlier in the day, were a combined 1-for-8 and went 4-for-20 with six strikeouts and two RBIs in the series.

Jaime Navarro (6-7) was the loser. Rangers 9, Rockies 1

At Arlington, John Burkett (6-7) pitched a four-hitter and Damon Buford's bases-loaded double highlighted a five-run fourth for Texas.

Buford was hitless in his last 21 at-bats before his liner to center sailed over the head of Quinton McCracken and gave the Rangers a 5-1 lead.

NL batting leader Larry Walker went 0-for-4, dropping his average to .397, the lowest it's been since May 26. Cardinals 2, Twins 1

At St. Louis, Willie McGee's homer with one out in the 10th inning gave St. Louis the win and completed a sweep of the Twins.

St. Louis, which has won 10 of its last 12 games, reached the .500 mark for the first time after starting the season 0-6.

McGee hit his homer off Eddie Guardado (0-3). Mark Petkovsek (4-4) retired all six batters he faced for the win.

Astros 6, Indians 2

At Houston, Mike Hampton (4-7) hit a two-run triple in a five-run fifth to help his own cause, and the Astros avoided a three-game sweep by Cleveland.

Sandy Alomar went 3-for-4, extending his hitting streak to 28 games, longest in the major leagues this season and second longest for a catcher behind Benito Santiago's 34-game streak in 1987.

Padres 8, Mariners 5

Tony Gwynn - 2-for-4 with an RBI double - got his average back to .400 and Rickey Henderson had four RBIs as the Padres finally beat Jeff Fassero (8-4) in a game played in San Diego.

Fassero was 5-0 with a save and a 1.30 ERA in 10 games at San Diego, all with the Montreal Expos. He was traded to Seattle in the offseason.

Joey Hamilton (6-3) was the winner. Dodgers 5, Angels 4

At Anaheim, Eric Karros' one-out homer off Troy Percival (2-4) in the ninth lifted Los Angeles. Karros has four homers in his last four games and 19 for the season.

Scott Radinsky (3-1) retired the only batter he faced in the eighth to

The winning foursome shot a 28 on the front nine to claim the prizes, which had built up after tie scores the previous two weeks.

Two teams shot 30s to tie for the runnerup positions. One team included Craig Nieman, Bub Sparks, Marin Rivas and Larry Carver, while the other team was composed of John Sherrod, Todd Vernon, Doc Weaver and Dwayne Robbins.

Five teams came in with a score of 31 and four teams had 32s. The scramble is open to all interested golfers who sign up at the pro shop prior to next Wednesday.

The game was delayed five minutes in the fourth after Dodgers starter Chan Ho Park threw a pitch

Comets fall to New York

Liberty only unbeaten team in WNBA

NEW YORK (AP) - Sophia Witherspoon scored 14 points Wednesday night and the New York Liberty remained the only unbeaten team in the WNBA with a 70-67 victory over the Houston Comets, the 100th straight game Rebecca Lobo has played in without losing.

Lobo, who had nine points and five rebounds, has not played on a losing team since March 26, 1994, when Connecticut was beaten by North Carolina in the NCAA tournament in her junior year. The next season the Huskies went 35-0 in winning the national championship.

Lobo was a member of the U.S. national team that won 52 straight games and then won eight more on the way to the Olympic gold medal in Atlanta. Wednesday night's victory was the fifth in as many games for the Liberty in the league's inaugural season.

"To be honest, I don't see it as that big a deal," Lobo said of the streak. "You could say it happened two games ago with the two exhibition games we played. This was a big game for us. Houston is crawling up our back for the lead in the conference."

Theresa Weatherspoon added 12 points and six assists for the Liberty, who drew a women's professional record crowd of almost 18,000 in their home opener last Sunday. The crowd Wednesday night at Madison Square Garden was 8,792.

Cynthia Cooper led the Comets (4-2) with 19 points, while Tina Thompson had 15.

Down 47-40 with 11:13 to play, New York went on a 13-0 run with Witherspoon scoring six points. Thompson's layup made it 53-49 with 6:12 left, snapping Houston's five-minute scoring drought.

Weatherspoon made two free throws to put New York ahead 66-63 with 17 seconds left, but the Comets were called for a five-second violation while trying to inbound the ball. Weatherspoon added two more free throws with 10 seconds left.

New York had a season-low nine turnovers, while Houston had 15, and the Liberty finished with a 31-28 rebound advantage.

Tyson will testify at commission hearing

LAS VEGAS (AP) - Mike Tyson will plead for leniency to the boxing regulators who will decide his boxing fate.

Sources close to Tyson say he's planning to appear before the Nevada State Athletic Commission when it meets next Wednesday to determine his fate for biting a chunk out of Evander Holyfield's ear.

Tyson's presence before the commission is not required, but commission chairman Dr. Elias Ghanem suggested that the former heavyweight champion is the only one who can truly explain what happened in the ring during the third round of the WBA heavyweight title fight.

"I really think there's only one guy who has to justify his actions in the ring, and that's Mike Tyson," Ghanem said. "I don't want to press anything and tell him he has to show up, but we are really talking about Mike Tyson here."

Tyson is expected to ask the commission, which could revoke his boxing license, for leniency so that he can someday resume his boxing career.

Tyson signed papers Wednesday allowing the commission to go ahead with a hearing where he could face a lifetime ban from boxing along with a $3 million fine.

Tyson has said he will not fight the sanctions, but pleaded earlier this week to be allowed to box again when the commission meets at 9:15 a.m. PDT July 9 at the Las Vegas City Hall.

"I only ask that I not be penalized for life for this mistake," Tyson said.

The state attorney general's office asked for the revocation of Tyson's boxing license in its formal complaint, a legal move that allows the commission to impose its stiffest fine, 10 percent of Tyson's $30 million purse.

If Tyson's license were revoked, he would have to wait at least a year before reapplying, but the commission has the authority to make that even longer. A suspension could be up to five years with a maximum fine of $250,000.

Ghanem said that any speculation about possible penalties is just that. He said he hasn't discussed Tyson's fate with any of the other four commissioners, and won't until the hearing, which is tentatively set for Wednesday.

Ryan decides against race for political office in Texas

FORT WORTH, Texas (AP) - Former pitching legend Nolan Ryan says he won't put his name on the lineup card for the 1998 election.

The major league's all-time strikeout leader said he decided not to run for state agriculture commissioner in the Republican primary after learning that his endorsements and sports broadcasting commitments would conflict with his campaign and election.

"I've been giving a lot of consideration to my deep interest in agriculture, and it has come down to the conflict I'd have with the endorsement commercials and running a campaign and holding office," Ryan told the Fort Worth Star-Telegram Wednesday. "I have an interest in agriculture and I think it would have been rewarding to serve the state of Texas. But I had to come to a decision if I could justify running and if I had the time to commit to this."

The Federal Communications Commission ruled last week that TV stations would have to give his opponents equal time if his commercials continued to air during the campaign. Ryan is featured in commercials for Advil and Dairy Queen and does broadcast work for Fox Sports Southwest Cable network.

Ryan, 50, said he also wants to continue spending more time with his family and other business interests, including his ranches. But he added that he is not ruling out a running a future election.

"I'm not ruling out that at some point... if the timing is right," he told the Star-Telegram in a telephone interview from his hometown, Alvin.

The Texas Farm Bureau was courting Ryan for a run in the GOP primary for Texas Agriculture Commissioner Rick Perry's post. Perry is running for the Republican nomination for lieutenant governor.

"Obviously, Nolan has given this matter a considerable amount of thought. I think the idea intrigued him and I'm convinced he would have done the job well," Texas Farm Bureau President Bob Stallman said in a prepared statement. "However, we respect his decision that the race cannot be made in 1998."

YOU! WHY DO YOU NOT BOW DOWN? IT IS THE LAW!

I AM A JEW! AND THE JEWS DO NOT BOW NOR GIVE REVERENCE TO ANY MAN—ONLY TO GOD!

Writing Want Ads that really sell!

Unsure how to write a Classified Ad that will get results? Follow these pointers and you'll soon have an empty space in your storage room and cash in your pocket.

For starters, look at ads which offer the same item/products. Get a sense of going rates and ideas for how to make your ad stand out. Once you're ready to write, begin with exactly what you're selling: "Dining room set, maple, six chairs." Then, remember these hints:

--Give the price. A newspaper consultant says 70 percent of classified readers won't respond to an ad with no price.

--Use key words to describe what you're selling. The key words for a car are make, model, year, body style, color, mileage and price. If it's a house, key words are location, type of construction, number of bedrooms and baths, and condition.

--Don't use abbreviations. It's tempting to abbreviate and save money if ads are billed by the line. Brand ads are billed by the words, so spell them out so readers won't be confused trying to figure out abbreviations.

--Don't be misleading. Think accurate and factual when you write. Be sure to include a phone number and the best times to reach you.

Mississippi to collect $3 billion

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) - The tobacco industry has agreed to pay Mississippi more than $3 billion to resolve its pioneering lawsuit against cigarette makers, state Attorney General Mike Moore said today.

"It's going to be a big chunk up front and then paid every year," Moore told The Associated Press in a telephone interview from his Washington motel. "I'm leaving Washington shortly to bring home some mighty good news."

The settlement comes only five days before Moore, who led national negotiations between states and the tobacco industry that ended with a $368.5 billion out-of-court settlement proposal involving 40 state lawsuits, was to take cigarette makers to court in Mississippi.

Moore filed the state lawsuit in 1994 seeking $940 million in compensation for Mississippi tax money spent on smoking-related illnesses. That lawsuit set the stage for talks between attorneys general and tobacco companies.

Earlier, Moore had set a deadline of this afternoon, saying a settlement had to be reached by then or the trial would begin Monday. He said he figured Mississippi's share of the national settlement should be about 1 percent.

"HEDC's job incentive program is the type of program that puts our tax dollars right back into our community. It gave me the encouragement I needed to increase my work force."

John Strubling, CEO Valley Farm Services, Inc.

"Last year I read about the HEDC's job incentives program, and decided to see if my company qualified. I learned that I could receive a grant if I added a full-time employee to my work force. The application process was easy. Now, a year later, our company has increased production with the added worker. I encourage other businesses who qualify to take advantage of this program to promote steady growth in Hereford's economy. I know I'm glad I did."

If your company derives more than 75% of your gross income from outside Deaf Smith County you may qualify for a Jobs Incentives Grant.

Eight known to be dead as storms rake Midwest

DETROIT (AP) - A string of storms thundered across the Midwest, uprooting trees, turning freeways into ponds and killing at least eight people. Among the dead were three children and two adults who had sought shelter in a gazebo that was blown into Lake St. Clair.

The gazebo was lifted from the water's edge of Pier Park in the affluent Detroit suburb of Grosse Pointe Farms. The Detroit News reported today that at least four of the five victims were related, including an infant girl and boys age 2 and 8. The fifth victim was not identified, the report said.

Eight people were rescued from the swirling water.

The storms tore through Michigan, Indiana and Ohio on Wednesday, lifting houses off foundations and flooding roads. Detroit Mayor Dennis Archer declared a state of emergency, and at least 220,000 people were without power early this morning in Michigan's Lower Peninsula.

More than 10 mobile homes were destroyed, 50 were damaged and at least two people were killed when high wind and heavy rain pummeled a trailer park near Holly, about midway between Detroit and Flint, sheriff's Capt. Barnett Jones said. One person was missing and several people reported minor injuries.

Jay Welch saw the funnel cloud approach the store he owns next to the pummeled mobile home parks.

The National Weather Service received unconfirmed reports of at least 12 tornado touchdowns throughout Michigan, forecaster David Koehler said.

On the east side of Detroit, witnesses said what appeared to be a tornado lifted a house off its foundation and tossed it several feet into an alley.

Timothy Petty said he and another man helped a woman out of the entrance of what used to be her basement stairs.

Detroit suburbs reported numerous buildings damaged. Water levels rose as high as car windshields along one section of Interstate 75. At Tiger Stadium, the storm blew large sections of tar paper from the left-field roof out onto the field less than an hour after the Tigers beat the New York Mets 9-7.

The storms hit northwestern Ohio in the late afternoon and moved southeast across the state, meteorologist Jim Lott said.

About 15 mobile homes near the Ohio River in southern Clermont County were destroyed. About 25 nearby homes were also damaged and one minor injury was reported.

In Indiana, tornadoes touched down in several east-central counties although no injuries were reported.

Jeff Bryan saw a small tornado hit TRE Paper Co. in Anderson, Ind.

"It was the wildest thing I ever saw in my life," Bryan said. "I saw the roof come off. I saw the poles snap. ... It was like you see on TV - only louder."
