BURNS ADVISES FARMERS TO FEED CALVES NATIVE GRAINS, BALANCED RATION

(By R. O. Dunkle, County Agent)

In a letter written to John C. Burns, secretary of the Texas Hereford Association and formerly head of the animal husbandry at A. & M. College, Mr. Burns was asked about the practicability of feeding calves in the Panhandle when the local price of milo maize and kafir corn is around $15 per ton. In reply Mr. Burns says, "I think with milo maize and kafir corn selling at $15 per ton in the heads it would be profitable for farmers to put these feeds into calves. They would need to buy only enough cotton seed meal to balance the ration. A good balanced ration would be one part of cotton seed meal to six parts by weight of ground milo or kafir heads, allowing the calves, when on full feed, about as much as they will clean up, and supply the additional roughage needed in the form of cane or sudan hay. Where a silage cutter is owned this roughage can be chopped and mixed with grain, and meal in other cases it can be fed in racks without chopping."

"Calves should be started on about two pounds of the meal and grain per head daily with as much roughage as they will eat. The meal and grain mixture should be gradually increased until the full feed is reached, which should be in thirty to forty days, when around 13-4 to 2 pounds of the mixture will be consumed per 100 pounds of live weight per day. Gradually less roughage will be consumed as the meal and grain mixture is increased. It is important to feed calves long enough to finish them, which usually takes from six to seven months. The best market for baby calves is generally in April and May; however, early calves, in good flesh from the start, should be finished in a shorter period and strike a good market in March.

"Farmers should not lose sight of the advisability in using hogs to clean up the waste after the cattle and also the value of the manure in their feeding operations, especially where it can be used on irrigated land."

The following is a feeding experiment that was supervised by Mr. Burns: It requires 11-4 pounds of cotton seed meal, 51-2 pounds of milo chops, and approximately 10 pounds of roughage to produce a pound of flesh. Considering the local price of feed we are able to figure, approximately, the cost of feeding calves under local conditions. The local price of milo heads is $15 per ton and cotton seed meal $43.50. Considering the average daily consumption over a period of 150 days we find that calves will consume about 71-2 pounds of milo chops, 13-4 pounds of cotton seed meal and

Poultry Show is Set for December 10-11-12, 1925

Dates for the Deaf Smith County Poultry Show have been decided upon, December 10-11-12. This will place the local show just between the Tri-State Poultry Show at Amarillo and the one at Clovis, thus giving exhibitors a chance to bring their birds from here, and then ship them to Clovis for the poultry show there. Lee Biggs, N. C. Vogle, and H. H. Hawkins have been placed in charge of the Deaf Smith Poultry Show with instructions from the local Chamber of Commerce to make this the best one in the history of the organization. Mr. Biggs has already been receiving inquiries from exhibitors from other sections, and says that great deal of interest is being manifested. The local show is open to the world, and exhibitors from far and wide will be given a cordial invitation to show their birds here.

Cash prizes will be offered in the various departments. The poultry show will be held in the Sales Pavilion. It will be handy for exhibitors who ship their chickens here, and will be comfortable in almost any kind of weather.

10 to 12 pounds of cane or sudan grass as roughage. Considering these local prices we find that one pound of gain can be produced for $12 cents.

Placing calves on the market in March, feeders should be able to realize this price of 81-2 cents, increasing the value per pound of the original weight being our chief source of net profit. Heifer calves on the market Friday of last week were quoted at 51-2 to 6 cents per pound. Considering the above statements it would seem advisable for farmers to practice feeding on a small scale, especially if they have an abundance of feed supply, and live quite a distance from the market.

Club Members Make Report at Weekly Luncheon

If there are still any doubting Thomases in Deaf Smith county concerning the value of the work of a County Agent, they should have been present last Monday at the weekly luncheon of the Chamber of Commerce when three boys and one girl, winners of prizes in different divisions of the boys and girls club work in this county, told of their experiences at the Dallas Fair, where they were recently sent at the expense of the Chamber of Commerce. These four youngsters had an experience that they will carry with them through life and their reports were a credit to their training, their mentality, and their enthusiasm. They were introduced by County Agent Dunkle, who had chaperoned them on the trip.

Earl Blair of Dawn, pig club winner, started his audience at Dawn, took them to Dallas, and brought them back home with him. He carefully explained his experiences and impressions, and injected some native humor throughout that brought laughs from his audience. He wound up by thanking the organization for the trip and telling how he won it, stating that his pig had doubled its weight in three months under a system of balanced ration feeding.

Miss Ruth Wolfe, winner of the poultry prize, said she was the only girl from this county and was very lonesome at first until she was discovered by the Home Demonstration Agent in charge of the girls encampment at the fair. She described her trip clearly and intelligently, and a Home Demonstrator in this county, wound up by making an appeal for Little Robert Sanders, champion calf raiser, and William, Thompson, field crop leader, also spoke of the wonderful trip they had had, and all were profuse in their thanks to the organization for the opportunity given them. The reports were intently listened to by the audience and left a thought for them to mull over as to the value of this great work Mr. Dunkle is doing among the youngsters of the county.

S. P. Rosson of the International Harvester Company, circulated a petition at the tables, asking that concern to hold its Agricultural Short Course here soon. A. L. Biggs made a plea for the annual Poultry Show this winter. Following his talk President Black appointed Mr. Biggs, H. H. Hawkins and N. C. Vogle as a committee to work out the show. Henry Ansley, the "Ina Cowhand" of the Amarillo Globe, made a brief talk, expressing his appreciation of the reports of the club boys and girls.

There was so large a crowd present at the Hereford Hotel that two tables had to be served. Next Monday the luncheon will be held at the City Cafe.

OBERTHIER BUILDING WORK STARTS, DIRT DROPS

Foundation work for the new F. H. Oberthier business building on West Third street, between the Harry Rice and Service-U-Like buildings, began this week. Mr. Oberthier states that his material has not yet arrived but he expects it now any day and the contractors, Buckner, Lambert and Carter, wanted to get started.

Hereford Hi's Galloping Pony Backfield Romps Through and Around Tulia Eleven to the Tune of 39 to 6

Notre Dame had its Four Horsemen—and Hereford has its four Galloping Ponies in the backfield. Jess Russell, Barrett, Sharp and Witherspoon, ably aided and abetted by Captain Artis Russell at end, galloped through, around and over the good-looking Tulia eleven here last Friday afternoon, before the largest crowd of the season, and sent the visitors home with the short end of a 39 to 6 score. The Tulia outfit seemed to have a stronger line, taken as a whole, and a wonderful pass heaver in Captain Crow. Time after time he whistled the ball across the chalk lines straight into the hands of his ends behind the Hereford line, but the receivers nearly always dropped, the ball or else the throws and runners were timed wrong—they could not make the passes work consistently.

Meanwhile Coach Riggs flashed a quietude of ball-toters before the dazzled eyes of the local fans who simply scintillated in their work. It has been many a day since Hereford boasted such a uniform set of good backs and ends as they have this year. The Russell brothers, Sharp, Barnett and Witherspoon are all fast, shifty, aggressive and hard to stop. They plunged the Tulia line, circled the ends and passed their way to a victory over ancient foes that was impressive. In the line the work of Thompson stood out.

The Tulia team looked good but seemed to lack field generalship more than anything else. They had a good line and their backfield was no slouch, but after a straight march down the field, when near the goal they invariably tried a pass instead of keeping up the march. Then—1-0-0-1-Hereford would grab the ball.

The Hereford eleven showed the skillful coaching they have been receiving in the way of their improved blocking and especially in their interference. There was always from two to four men in front of the man with the ball.

The Hereford stores closed for the occasion and there was a big crowd at the grounds, following a parade down town. The pep squads of both schools put on stunts and sang songs while the warriors were battling. It was a good game and thoroughly enjoyed. A detailed account of the game, play by play, is shown on page seven of this issue of The Brand.

Hereford-Claude Game Friday

Local fans are promised a real treat Friday of this week when the heavy Claude high school football aggregation comes for a game with the Hereford Whitefaces. Dope shows the two teams to be an even grounds. Claude won three games and lost one to Canyon high school, and the Whitefaces won three and lost one to Canyon also. There was only one point difference in the scores that Canyon made against the two teams.

The locals should have a little edge, according to local fans, since they will be on their home grounds and with a decisive victory fresh on their minds, while Claude remembers the defeat handed them a week ago by Canyon. Reports from Canyon show that Claude has two line plungers who will be hard to stop, but the local crew will do everything possible to stop them at the line.

Coach Riggs has been working his men early and late for the game and reports that most of them will be in good shape. He says that the boys will have plenty of confidence, but none will be overconfident. Claude has always been a dangerous rival and the fact she defeated the fast Clarendon high school eleven, will show that her team is not very weak. A large crowd is expected to see this game and root for the locals who are out to win every game between now and Thanksgiving.

Honor Rolls for Hereford's Schools Issued by Supt. Dillehay; Senior English Classes Prints Own Paper

High Honor Roll—High School
Ninth Grade—Lorene Wherry.
High Honor Roll—Central School
Seventh Grade—Gladys Hopper.
Sixth Grade—Ruth Houston.

Honor Roll—High School
Eleventh Grade—Donald Hawkins, Oliver Rudd, Lucille Hughes, Mildred Ricketts, Gwendolyn Spradley, Margaret Thompson, Wanda Wilkinson.
Tenth Grade—Marguerite Bowman, EBA—Broadwell, Louise Jacobsen, Ida Mae Knox, W. C. Morgan, Anna Belle Sawyer.

Ninth Grade—Edgar Traylor.
Eighth Grade—Lida Ash, Frances Gilliam, Vera Mae Gilliam, Erle Marie Foster, Vera Hamilton, Loraine Mollenkamp, Pearl Runtun, Lillian Mae Smith.

Honor Roll—Central School
Seventh Grade—Paul Bowsher, Allen Hughes, Woodrow Gilbreath, Benjie Haney, Estelle Burleson, Marjorie Golden, Ralph Hastings, Merle Barber, Mary Broadwell, Dorothy McDonald, Mattie B. Richards, Mary Christine Bruner.

Sixth Grade—Elsie Ashlock, Beth Eileen Cochell, Maurine Spradley.
Fifth Grade—Katherine Poff, Lueta Borden, Dorothy Fullwood, Imogene Higgins.

Fourth Grade—Naplie Joe Haymes, Francis Elliston, Billie Ross Phillips, Fred Bailey, Virginia Cox, Patricia Wederbrook, Susy May Daniels.

The number on the honor rolls for the first report this year is probably a little smaller than that of last year. However, the distribution of the grades in the high school is much better. There were fewer A's given, but at the same time there were fewer failures. The percentage of B's was about the same; that of C's was higher. To be exact, there were a little less than 16 per cent of failing grades given by the high school teachers this year. That is less than 16 per cent of the total number of grades given, not counting Bible and music, were failures. On the same report last year the failures numbered 17.7 per cent and the year before the first report showed a total number of 25.8 per cent on the same subjects.

These percentages indicate a steady improvement in the number of failures. The present report is not all that could be desired though it is more satisfactory than the first report of either of the past two years. It is more satisfactory in that the distribution of the grades by departments and by teachers is some better. It is very difficult for teachers even in our larger cities where supervision is close to grade with uniform standards. The teacher who gives too many A's is an administrative and supervisory problem just as is the teacher who gives too many failures. The grades this year are fairly close to scientific standards as to distribution of the different grade letters.

Information on the Central school grades is not at hand.

Will Publish Paper

At the assembly period Tuesday morning Miss Glenn and members of the senior English classes presented a new enterprise to the student body. They propose to issue one or more numbers of a school paper, with possibly a weekly column in The Brand between issues of the school paper. This is being done in order to stimulate work in all of the English classes and to make that phase of the work as practical as possible. Students as well as older people write their best and speak their best when they have something that interests them, and their readers and hearers as well. Such work will make English work more real and will have many additional values.

A feature of this paper is that an effort will be made to finance it without any advertising. Since an

TEXAS UTILITIES OFFICIALS AND INVESTMENT BANKERS IN BANQUET HERE MONDAY

At one of the nicest banquets ever attempted in Hereford, staged in the new offices of the company, the Texas Utilities Company's officers Monday night introduced members of their official family in St. Louis and elsewhere, together with several investment bankers of the north and east, to a limited number of Hereford ladies and business men, the invited guests of Judge I. H. Kelso, head of the Utilities combinations.

First of Lyceum Numbers Billed Friday, Oct. 30th

The committee for the Community Lyceum Course again announces its opening date, Friday, October 30, the program to be given by the Music Study Club at the First Presbyterian church. In its initial number, the committee feels that it is presenting an exceptionally high class entertainment that in cultural value will not be surpassed by any number of the course and which, furthermore, will be thoroughly enjoyable.

An error was made in last week's announcement of the price of children single admission tickets. The price is thirty-five cents instead of twenty-five as stated. The adult single admission is fifty cents. An exception to these prices is made, however, for the two plays to be given later. For these, children's admission tickets will be fifty cents, adults seventy-five cents. The committee advises that there will be positively no reduction made for the closing numbers of the course. The prices quoted above will be strictly adhered to throughout the season. Purchase of a child's season ticket will thus mean a saving of $1.05 and of an adult ticket $1.00. The importance of purchasing the season ticket is urged as it means not only a substantial saving but also assures the purchaser of a season of wholesome entertainment besides manifesting his loyalty as a community builder in supporting a worthy community enterprise.

Elliston Returns from Fair Loaded With the Ribbons

J. B. Elliston, secretary of the Deaf Smith county fair association, has just returned from Dallas where he has been in charge of the exhibit from this place, for the past two weeks, and reports that the county made an excellent showing there.

Mr. Elliston was highly pleased when the Deaf Smith county exhibit was selected among the four winners to be shown at Shreveport, Louisiana State Fair, by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce as a combined exhibit from this section. The entire exhibit from this county was sent on to Shreveport from Dallas, and will probably be shipped from there to Fort Worth to be shown at the Fat Stock Exposition in early spring.

More interest was shown by the visitors at the State Fair towards West Texas than ever before, according to Mr. Elliston. Everyone wanted to know about the developments in this section, and were asking hundreds of questions about the Panhandle, the kinds of crops that can be raised, etc. He said it was difficult to tell them all about the various crops raised here, since one of Deaf Smith county farmers, at the county fair, exhibited 133 varieties of field crops raised on his half section. The interest is probably due to the fact that West Texas counties carried because the stream of migrants is flowing westward.

Deaf Smith county won eight ribbons with eleven entries at Dallas in addition to winning tenth place in the county division. A large number of the products, including all the canned stuff, left the Texas-Oklahoma fair at Wichita Falls too late to be entered at Dallas. This county won

The visitors, arriving late on a special train, had but a short time here and the attendance was necessarily limited. Two long tables had been constructed in the brilliantly lighted new offices of the company, and the ladies of the Christian church served a delicious meal in the usual snappy and efficient manner for which they are famous. The affair began shortly after nine o'clock, was very interesting and happy throughout, and wound up about midnight. D. M. Warren, managing editor of the Amarillo News, and Ina Cowhand of the Globe were present, and invited the visiting bankers to eat lunch with the Amarillo people upon their return home this week, the invitation being accepted.

The guests were received by the local manager, F. H. Oberthier, Jr., and Mrs. Oberthier, assisted by F. H. Oberthier, Sr., and Judge Kelso.

The party consisted of sixteen officials and stockholders of the Community Power & Light Company of St. Louis, who are behind the Texas Utilities Company, and investment bankers from different points who handle the securities for the concern. Judge Kelso, who presided, explained that the trip had been planned by D. A. Belden, chairman of his board of directors in order that these bankers, who floated the paper for the company, might acquaint themselves with actual conditions in this country and had been taken over all the properties of the company in Texas on this trip. The theme of practically all the talks made was that the bankers were astonished at the development shown in the Panhandle of Texas and were more firmly convinced than ever of the soundness of their investments and of the future possibilities of this section.

G. A. F. Parker, Hereford banker, made the sole talk for the local business men, outlining the history of the Panhandle and of Hereford development in a speech which was evidently well received and of interest to the visitors. Other speakers were Col. Geo. H. Carter of Marlin, Texas, prominent attorney and a director in the company, Wiley F. Cort of St. Louis, president of the company, D. A. Belden of St. Louis, chairman of the board of directors, and Lawrence White, representative of Spencer, Trask & Company of Boston, investment bankers. Messrs. Kelso, Carter, Cort and Belden explained the objects of the trip, stating that they desired their officers and bankers to get a first-hand inspection of the company's properties and to ascertain for themselves the attitude of the people toward the company, etc. Mr. White, who had never been in the southwest before, said frankly that he was absolutely "sold" on the Panhandle, and would recommend to his concern that they redouble their investment activities here. He made special comment upon the fine class of all-white cotton raised in this section here as distinguished from the heavy foreign elements now flooding the north and east.

The seating arrangement provided that the guests and Hereford men were alternated and prior to serving the meal a half hour was given to

3 New Families Improving Farms Out at West-Way

Three more families have discovered West-Way school community in Deaf Smith county, sold their farms in Crosby and Lubbock counties, and bought here. They are now here and are opening up three new farms and building three new homes. Mr. Burk from Crosby county is building two miles northeast of West-Way school. C. W. Evitt and U. E. Evitt from Lubbock county are now fencing and building two homes on the open section adjoining West-Way school on the east. It is reported that two more half sections adjoining West-Way school have been contracted to two Collin county fam-

THE FIGHT AGAINST STRONG DRINK

(World's Temperance Sunday)

(T. Morgan, Pastor, Christian Church)

Lesson Material—Ephesians 6:1-20.

Golden Text—"To be Strong in the Lord, and in the Strength of His Might."—Ephesians 6:10.

The Lesson Scripture—Ephesians 6:10-20

10. Finally, to be strong in the Lord and in the strength of his might.

11. Put on the whole armor of God, that ye may be able to stand against the wiles of the devil.

12. For our wrestling is not against flesh and blood, but against principalities, against the powers, against the world. Rulers of his darkness, against the spiritual hosts of wickedness in the heavenly places.

13. Wherefore take up the whole armor of God, that ye may be able to withstand the evil day, and having done all, to stand.

14. Stand therefore, having girded your loins with truth, and having put on the breastplate of righteousness.

15. And having shod your feet with the preparation of the gospel of peace.

16. Withal taking up the shield of faith, wherewith ye shall be able to quench all the fiery darts of the evil one.

17. And take the helmet of salvation and the sword of the spirit, which is the word of God.

18. With all prayer and supplication praying at all seasons in the spirit, and watching thereunto in all perseverance and supplication for all the saints.

19. And on myself, that utterance may be given unto me in opening my month, to make known with boldness the mystery of the Gospel.

20. For which I am an ambassador in chains; that in it I may speak boldly, as I ought to speak.

God has delivered yourself to your care, and says: "I had no one fitter to trust than you." Preserve this person for me such as he is by nature; modest, beautiful, faithful, noble; tranquil—Epictetus.

A Christian must possess elements of worth in his personnel character and also to be worthy of the title Christian he must take correct attitude toward the flagrant organized wrong of his day. Those wrongs which seduce and corrupt our fellowman and cause a great curse on society. We do not want a Christianity that is just correct as to personal virtues and silts pacific in the presence of organized wrong, and never lifts its finger to battle wrong back to its "bottomless pit."

We need Christian men and women today who have the "strength of his Might," and who, like Luther, Zwingle, and other Fathers of the Reformation, dare to stand against wrongs, regardless of persecution. For it was through the "strength of his might" that men "through faith subdued kingdoms, wrought righteousness, obtained promises, stopped the mouths of lions, quenched the power of fire, escaped the edge of the sword, from weaknesses were made strong, waxed mighty in war and turned to light armies of aliens."—Heb. 11:33-34.

Every duty we omit, obscures some truth we should have known.—Ruskin.

In the attempt to change things which are wrong in society, truth is the beginning place. The one thing that error and wrong can not stand is truth. Error may ride rampant and rough-shod over truth in the short run, but God has away of bringing truth out victor in the end.

More than five years ago the people of the United States by constitutional amendment outlawed the liquor traffic in America. The fight that has been carried on by a defeated foe over these five years has not been waged in behalf of truth that was violated by that amendment. No, the truth that impelled the people to that measure still stands, viz: The manufacturer and sale of alcoholic liquor is a curse to humanity and should be prohibited. That truth is more securely fixed in the consciousness of the nation today than it was five years ago, for we are not only aware today of the curse of drink, but we are now aware of the undemocratic nature of the liquor traffic, the inherent nature of wrong to rebel against proper limitations.

The advocate of truth and righteousness needs the consciousness that he is God's ambassador. This will sustain him in the hour of temporary defeat and humble him in the presence of triumph and constantly give him a persistency that will cause him to endure hardship as a good soldier.

Despite all the efforts to make it appear otherwise, the outlook for prohibition is decidedly encouraging. Too many good men and women are working and praying for its success to allow it to be otherwise. The churches; the government; the schools; big business; very largely; and hundreds of societies are working to establish full observance of the Volstead Act.

Temperance and labor are the two best physicians of man.—Rousseau.

SUMMERFIELD

Lots of work has been done the last week and if the good weather continues it won't be long until the farmers in this part of the country will not be in danger of loss. Some are trying to combine. And some are heading.

Mr. B. C. Roberson received word last Wednesday that his brother, Mr. B. Roberson of Lorenzo, Texas, had passed to the great beyond. This was a great shock to relatives here, as well as friends.

Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Roberson and son attended the funeral services at Lorenzo Thursday.

The work on the new store and post office is just about completed. It will probably be occupied this week.

Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Caldwell and family of Progressive spent Sunday in the Lee Kendall home.

Miss Dorothy Harris had as her guest last Sunday Misses Virginia Hufstедler, Gertrude Atchley, Leatrus Walser, Annie Lance and Ashby Burton.

FREEDOM OF WOMEN DUE TO ELECTRICITY

"Electricity in the home gives the modern woman more freedom than a half dozen housemaids or servants, asserts Frances Richmond, a Kansas woman, whose experience in directing public welfare work in New York, Boston and other cities of the East gives weight to her convictions.

"Electricity," she says, "has revolutionized housekeeping and done away with the drudgery in the modest home of the family of ordinary circumstances.

"Electrical appliances have done more to elevate living standards and to bring about better home conditions than any other single agency. The woman of today has shown her gratitude by her increasing use of electricity and the labor saving appliances which it has made possible."

ROY GOUGH RETURNS TO TRY FARMING AT SULPHUR PARK

Roy Gough, son of Judge L. Gough, who has been a student at A. & M. College for several years, reached Hereford Tuesday and will again make this place his home. Roy plans to farm Sulphur Park, his father's old place, and will begin operations at once. Mrs. Gough is now in Amarillo and will join her husband as soon as he can get located.

Roy entered A. & M. prior to the war; then went to training camp. After the war he farmed a while in Cherokee county and then went back to A. & M. where he has been taking special work in preparation for specialized farming. He intends to put Sulphur Park in shape to accommodate two renters besides himself, and will try to make it a model farm in every particular. Those who know Roy best have confidence in his ability to put over the proposition big.

HEREFORD KAFFIR FIRST ON KANSAS CITY'S MARKET

Hereford was the first town on the Kansas City grain market with a car of kaffir, according to the Grain Market Review just received by E. W. Harrison. The report, dated October 27, reads:

"Kaffir, Etc.—Receipts, none. The first car from the new crop featured the market. The grain was No. 3, yellow milo, from Hereford, Texas, 563 pounds, 16 per cent moisture and 7 per cent broken. The grain was discolored but drew a bid of $1.75. It was held for more. General quotations were unchanged. Inquiry was fair, especially for kaffir, which was scarce.

NEIGHBORS

BY ROBERT STEAD

AUTHOR OF "THE COW PUNCHER," "THE HOMESTEADERS"

SYNOPSIS

CHAPTER I—Lured by his four-year-old playmate, Jean Lane, Frank Hall, aged six, ventures into the forbidden wall of a dam, in a small Ontario town. He falls into the water, and is saved from possible death by clinging to Jean's outstretched arms. Next day he has a vision of romance when Jean informs him that because of their adventure of the day before, he is to be betrothed to her. He is the only proviso being that they are to wait until they are "grownups."

CHAPTER II—With Jean's brother John, also aged six, Frank begins school. Two years later they are joined by Jean and Frank's sister Marjorie. A little later Jean confides to Frank, in verse, her hope of some day becoming "Mrs. Hall." He accepts the "proposal." Frank is fourteen when his mother dies. He takes a job in the mill where his father works. The boys are eighteen when John's father is killed in an accident. Two years later Frank's father and John's mother are married. Dissatisfied with conditions and ambitious, the two boys make plans to go to Manitoba and "homestead," the girls agreeing to go with them. They set out.

CHAPTER III—At Regina they meet "Jake," who for a monetary consideration agrees to find them a satisfactory homestead. He does so, and the two friends file claims on Sections Fourteen and Twenty-two.

CHAPTER IV—Jake sagely advises the adventurers in the purchase of supplies, and in a wagon drawn by a yoke of oxen, and with cow, the four set out for their future homes.

CHAPTER V—Construction of "shacks" and the making of a garden are their first occupations. There is a pond of good water on Frank's farm, which serves them until they dig a well. A young Englishman of the name of "Spooft" is a neighbor of theirs. They call on Spooft, typical Englishman of breeding and education, who is living in a tent.

CHAPTER VI

Spooft was as good as his word. The following Sunday we saw his ox team as a slowly-growing speck on section Eleven, and a mile away we heard remarks to the "bally bullocks" which, presumably, were intended to be confidential.

"I just brought the bullocks for exercise," he explained, when he drew up before our shack. "I could have walked much easier, and much quicker, but they keep my arms and voice in form."

The girls were waiting in the shade at the eastern side of the shack; in their Sunday dresses of flimsy stuff appropriate to the hot weather they looked very sweet and charming.

"Ah, here are the ladies," said Spooft, and in his manner there was a touch of gallantry that in some way seemed foreign to either Jack or me. "Real prairie roses, and no mistake," as he took their hands in his. "It's jolly decent to ask a stranger over. All this out-of-doors; dawns, sunsets, sky, distance—all very fine, but it isn't good to be too much alone with it. Rather overwhelms one, don't you think?"

"I have felt that," said Jean, while Marjorie was fumbling for words. "It's too grand; it oppresses one. It's—all 'at soul; no body."

"That's it—that's it!" Spooft agreed. "All soul—no body. I shall write that to the governor. The governor, dear old chap, thinks this country is rather a bit off the map. I have promised to shoot him a polar bear for Christmas, and he's quite looking forward to it. He writes to know if I find the native labor satisfactory, and can my man mix a decent whisky and soda. I must set his mind at rest. I let him think I run quite an establishment, you understand; he sends a check now and again, which, of course, bears a relationship to the position I am supposed to occupy in local society."

"Doesn't your conscience trouble you?" Marjorie queried, the conversation having swung into her orbit.

"Not at all. I am doing the governor a kindness. He spends rather too much money on whisky and soda—particularly the former—so I am merely getting him interested in another kind of extravagance. A Younger Son is a very successful form of extravagance, don't you think? What is it Kipling says—'By the bitter road the Younger Son must tread,' or something like that? So why shouldn't the governor sweeten the bitter road a little, and drink less whisky to his soda?"

While we were busy thinking of some appropriate remark Spooft remembered his bundle of papers.

"I ventured to bring these over," he said, tendering them to Jean. "Just some old copies of the Illustrated London News and the Graphic. There are some sketches by an artist showing his conception of homestead life. I rather suspect the governor has let him read 'ay letters."

Presently the conversation turned to agricultural topics, and we were more at ease.

"My plowing," Spooft explained, "has gone better since I discarded my compass. The bullocks never took kindly to the compass. No doubt it was a foolish notion of mine that a furrow should run either east and west or north and south, seeing that the whole farm has to be plowed anyway. I now let them veer and tack as they please, and we are making considerable headway."

"Any crop in?"

"Not this year. A chap in Regina advised me to plant a sack of rolled oats and raise my own porridge, but, thank Heaven, I'm not Scotch. No reflection on the Scotch," he added hurriedly, noting a warming flash in Marjorie's eyes. "They are a very wonderful people. They eat oatmeal, and thrive on it. A very wonderful people, eh, I say! Can't we have some tea? Beasty dry business, homesteading; no afternoon tea. I must speak to my man about that. He's the same man as mixes my whisky and sodas, according to the governor's idea of it." Spooft explained.

The girls went inside, and in a short while brought out tea and sandwiches.

"Do you know," said Spooft, when the girls had cleared up the tea things and were out of hearing, "the thing of which I stand most in need at the present moment—that thing which is so essentially English, and from which I have been divorced for more days than I care to number—that thing for which I would gladly give half of my kingdom, meaning the northwest quarter of section Two? No? Observe the blushes beneath my sunburned cucule as I admit that for weeks I have not had a bath. For weeks, literally. If my poor governor could know that, not even the hide of a polar bear would reconcile him to leaving me to live the life of a savage."

"We can soon fix that—I mean, we can furnish the wherewithal," said I, "and I will expect the deed of eighty acres in return." So we led Spooft down to the pond.

"My word, my word!" said Spooft. "Why didn't Jake tell me about this? I will have that land guide's gizzard for this omission! My word, if only I had a bathing suit! I say, do you think there would be any great danger—any danger at all, that is—of an interruption?"

"Not a bit. We have that all organized," and I showed him a red handkerchief tied to a stick. "When the pony is in use we fly this banner on the bank of the gully, and we're as safe as Sunday. The girls usually have their plunge in the middle of the afternoon, for that matter, and leave us undivided possession in the evening."

Spooft was already half undressed. "My word, and do the young ladies swim?"

"Jean is the best swimmer I ever knew." I confessed, modestly. "We lived beside a river at home, and she had a way of bagging all the prizes at our swimming races."

"She bagged bigger game than that," Jack put in. "She stored up a lot of trouble for herself and the rest of us by pulling our worthy Frank out of the millpond one day, after the bubbles had begun to come." So then I had to tell Spooft about that incident. But I avoided reference to the pledge that had followed it.

When we had had our swim and dried ourselves on the sand we went back up to the house. The shadows were now falling, long and narrow, to the eastward, and the prairie lay hushed and silent in that deep and peaceful calm which marks the summer evening an hour or two before sundown.

After supper Spooft sat and chatted until it was time to light the lamp. Jean set it on the table, and as its yellow glow fell across his face I realized for the first time that Spooft was not a boy, as were Jack and I. There were lines in the cheeks and about the eyes which, magnified by the shadows under the lamplight, bore evidence that Spooft had known more of this world's cares than was hinted by his usual light-hearted conversation.

Presently he was talking of England; casing, perhaps, the homesteadness in his heart by calling up scenes of leafy lanes and misty sun-shot landscapes linking deeply into his life. He had tales of London as well; tales of art treasures and music and theaters all alight with life and beauty; tales of gravestones marking the great of a nation with a history reaching back into the early obscurity of western civilization. Something about the pride he showed in the great deeds of the past seemed to strike us strangely—we of a country whose history was still so much in the future and whose greatest deeds were still to be done.

"Do you sing, Mr. Spooft?" Marjorie

"Only at great distances from civilization—my bullocks could say a word or two about my musical voice if they were so disposed. But surely you or Miss Hall—"

"Jean sings and plays, if we had anything to play on," Marjorie declared. "But we haven't added a piano yet to our equipment. I suppose we shall have to buy a binder and horses and perhaps a thrashing mill before we have any money for musical instruments."

"And a house," I added. "I'd like to see you keep a piano in tune in a cage like this."

"You should have a banjo," said Spooft. "By Jove, just the thing! I've a banjo tucked away somewhere in my belongings. Something I forgot to pawn at Regina. I'll bring it over and give you lessons, if you'll let me."

"I should be delighted," said Jean, and her voice was quite unnecessarily low and sweet.

There was a late twilight glow in the northern sky and the smell of dew on the prairie grass filled the air when Spooft decided it was time to go home. We helped him hitch the "bally bullocks" to the wagon and watched him disappear into the darkness. Long after he was lost to sight the rumble of his wagon and the voice of his exhortation could be heard wailing up out of the distance.

"A fine chap," said Jack, as we parted for the night. "I am glad we are to have him for a neighbor."

"Yes," said I. But my voice had no ring of enthusiasm.

CHAPTER VII

Affairs began to move with some rapidity in our little settlement. Until now we had had the world, as far as the eye could carry, to ourselves, but Spooft proved only the advance guard of a stream of neighbors which, from its source in a dozen different springs of humanity, was to pour in upon us during the next few months. Wednesday night we came back from Spooft's, as we had a little shyness about being overtaken in our good works, and the next morning, while I was gulping great draughts of ozone in front of the shack before breakfast, Marjorie called over my shoulder:

"What's that, away to the east, Frank?"

Sure enough, there was a little white pyramid outlined against the horizon; another tent pitched against front trenches of civilization.

"Neighbors, Marjorie; neighbors," I said. "We're getting to be quite a community. Do you ever think of the day when all this wilderness of prairie will be plowed, every foot of it: all bearing something for the world's needs, with prosperous farmhouses at every corner, schools, churches—"

"I smell the porridge!" Marjorie exclaimed, rushing into the shack. She had a way of cutting off my rhapsodies like that.

Jack had seen the tent, too, and he and Jean came over at noon to discuss it. We decided to knock off work early that evening and all drive over to make the acquaintance of the newcomers.

We found that the tent was pitched on Eighteen, in the next township to the east. As we came up we were greeted by a fine collie dog, who seemed to be suffering from the conflicting emotions of his natural good humor and a sense that we had no business on Eighteen. His rush upon us with great barking and show of ferocity ended in much amiable tail-wagging. Evidently we measured up to his requirements, which we took to be no mean compliment.

A team of ponies were tethered on the prairie not far away, and a democat stood beside the tent, with some of its burden still to be unloaded. A woman of slender build and rather striking beauty stood at the door. There was surprise, and, as I thought, a suggestion of fear in her eyes. More remarkable was the sudden and unmistakable relief which sprang into her expression when she had seen us clearly.

I am not a detective, even of the amateur kind, but I found myself instantly gripped by a conclusion. "The woman is afraid," I said to myself, "and yet she is no coward, she has no fear of strangers, but she is afraid of someone—afraid of someone she knows. She was relieved when she saw we were strangers." The thought was one which was to recur to me from many angles during the next few months.

She seemed to hesitate about greeting us, and Jean, always the quick-witted one of our quartette, was the first to break a rather stupid silence. She sprang lightly from the wagon and went forward with arms outstretched.

"We are your neighbors, from Fourteen and Twenty-two," she explained. "We saw your tent, and thought we would welcome you to prairie land."

"That is good of you," said a well-modulated English voice, but some way the voice seemed to break just there, and the lips of the newcomer went all a-tremble. The next we knew she and Jean had their arms about each other.

MRS. AND MRS. A. H. OWEN

CELEBRATE GOLDEN WEDDING

Sunday, October 18. Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Owen of Chickasha, Oklahoma, celebrated their golden anniversary, and a number of local relatives attended. Eleven children were there with their families, making forty-three in all present, with four generations. They began arriving at six o'clock Friday and the last one came at three Sunday morning.

After a wedding dinner which was served from a large table with rose buds as a center, Hose Owen, the preacher of the family, presented his parents with two gold wedding bands from all the children. A short program was presented in which Mrs. A. L. Manjeot read a story which she had written about the courtship of Mr. and Mrs. Owen.

Those present from Hereford were:

Mrs. A. L. Manjeot, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Roberson and family, Gleeves Owen and daughter, Mrs. J. B. Harlan and children.

MRS. AND MRS. JOHN ESTES

CELEBRATE 33RD ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. John Estes celebrated their fifty-third wedding anniversary at their home Friday, October 23, with a surprise planned by their children.

The morning started off as usual, until about ten o'clock, when the children, the children-in-law, and the grand children came rolling in, from Lubbock, Abernathy, Frio, Tulsa, Oklahoma, and other places until the house and yard were full to overflowing.

The scheme was gradually unfolded to them, when they were ushered into the dining room at one o'clock and found a wedding dinner such as was served in '72. A pig, the gift of W. I. Valentine, was roasted whole. A stacked wedding cake (with miniature bride and groom) and everything to go with them.

The decorations were of yellow chrysanthemums, yellow candles, and crepe paper. There were place cards for thirty-seven.

The family, for only the family was present, filed in and Judge Klett returned thanks, and when the first course was served, Mrs. Cliff Estes sang "When you and I were young Maggie (Mollie), Carl Gibbons, postmaster, called on Uncle John for a toast. He arose and quoted to Mollie "John Anderson My Joe John" and made a heart talk to his children that filled every eye, but he saved the day just in time when he said "Oh, children, I'm just a darned (deleted) old fool to let my emotions overcome me so."

After the applause he came back with a quotation from Byron's "Song of Corinth," which ran "But those birdy days flow chertily. And when they now fall drearily, My thoughts, like swallows skim the main."

And he sang my spirit back again. Over the earth and thro' the air, A wild bird and a wanderer, 'Tis this that ever wakes my strain, And oft' too oft' implores again, The few who may endure my day, To follow me so far away."

Mother Estes then told about how John quoted poetry to her when their courtship began at the age of five years.

After the second course, Mrs. Cliff Estes and Judge Klett sang "Loves old Sweet Song." Short toasts were given by different members of the family.

This was planned as a surprise to Uncle John and Mother Estes by their children, but a number of Hereford friends joined in and helped them. There were twenty-seven present and fourteen of the members of the family could not be present.

MR. AND MRS. JESS STANFORD

IN HALLOWEEN PARTY

Halloween was celebrated early at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jess Stanford, at Black, with all the spoofs, goblins and fairies out. A number of young people from Hereford attended and brought back with them baskets full of souvenirs.

They were greeted at the door by a ballet girl who had them register in their halloween names, which she had at the entrance to the crowd of the spoofs. Each boy was given a number and after every one had gazed upon "The Dead" had their fortunes told by the woman at the camp fire, passed through the number of surprises, and tried their best to guess who their next door neighbors were. Then each girl was given a little gold or black slipper and was told to place this with just the toe protruding from underneath the sheet. The boys placed small numbers, matching the "numbers" they wore in the points of the slippers and partners were matched for the evening.

Masks were removed and partners introduced partners to the other guests present. Small paper baskets were given each couple and pumpkin seeds were hunted through out the evening with prizes awarded to the winner at the close. Stunts were in order, and each one had to read and parrotize what their apples read. Apples and tooth picks were given each couple and animals were made with prizes going to the winners. Sides were chosen and each one had a throw at the dolls made from bottles with a big round apple for bill and little ladies made from tin-lid washers were given to each one in the side that won.

The home was decorated by painting with yellow and all of hallowe'en tricks.

Mrs. Hunt acted as hostess to the fifty-five guests present and delicious refreshments of pumpkin pie, and whip cream, with coffee, was served, with favors of hallowe'en toys.

McDONALD AT SWEETWATER

WITH FINE HEREFORDS

John McDonald, son of D. L. McDonald, is in Sweetwater this week, looking after the fine registered Hereford cattle consigned to the Sweetwater Sale by his father. Mr. McDonald has entered two splendid animals at this state sale, and published a neat little pedigree pamphlet concerning them.

POULTRY EXPERT, A. & M. COLLEGE, HERE NOV. 9TH

Poultry breeders of Deaf Smith county are getting their plants in top shape for the visit of U. R. Glazener, poultry expert of the A. & M. college on November 9. He will spend one or two days in this county looking over the future possibilities for the poultry business in this section.

Among the places that will be visited during Mr. Glazener's visit will be the Slagle poultry farm, Jim Robinson White, Leghorn farm, J. F. Ward place, H. H. Hawkins' 12,000 egg battery and many other breeders of the county. Mr. Glazener will address the local business men at the weekly luncheon of the Hereford Chamber of Commerce, Nov. 9.

COMMUNITY NEWS FROM THE NEIGHBORING TOWNS

NORTH EAST CORNER (Fairview-Union Schools)

The farmers of this community have been enjoying some pretty feed cutting weather for the past week but some of the fields are pretty muddy yet, and most people have put logs on their machines in order to work. It will be at least two weeks yet before the crops are cut in case there is perfect weather.

Cecil Oglesby, five year old son of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Oglesby happened to an accident last week when he fell off a wagon and broke his arm between the wrist and elbow. He was taken to Amarillo and it was sad and he was doing fine when we last heard.

Miss Frances Campbell visited last Thursday evening in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Womble. She was visiting her teacher Miss Edna Bonds. Mr. John Davis and family went to Amarillo one day last week on business.

Mr. Lemuel Shugart had the misfortune of losing one of his work horses which ate too much green feed.

The Paloduro church is doing fine under the leadership of Rev. A. M. Dowell. There was preaching Saturday night, also Sunday morning and night and a good crowd was present at all services. Our Sunday School and B. Y. P. U. is coming fine but there are a number of folks in the community that we would like to enlist in the work with us.

As the cold weather comes on let us keep coming with a determination to work through the winter as well as summer.

About twenty of the folks took dinner in the home of Coy Phillips and wife last Sunday and a good time was had by all and there was a real feed if the writer knows what one was.

Everybody stood it fine but J. C. Allred and he was not able to sit down and be comfortable, therefore, he just walked around for a while, he says he is not used to being turned loose with plenty on the table and was not hardly responsible for what he did do.

A few of our citizens attended the singing convention at Bushland last Sunday.

Mr. Cook and family of Bushland attended church at Paloduro Sunday night. They are the parents of one of our teachers at Fairview. Miss Lucile Cook.

Mr. J. C. Allred sold all of the cattle that belonged to Grand Pa Allred last week and it was the first time cattle had been off the Allred ranch in 25 years.

There has been a good bit of trading in cattle lately and it seems they get fewer all the time.

Mr. Steve West is gone for about a month moving a herd of cattle to the South Plains country.

Play-by-Play Story of the Hereford-Tulia Football Game Friday, Oct. 23

First Quarter

Sharp for Hereford kicked off to Tullia's 20 yard line; Stallings returned 2; pass, Crow to Ward, put ball on Tullia's 35 yard line; Harris was stopped by Posey without gain; long pass by Crow intercepted by J. Russell and it was Hereford's ball on Tullia's 48 yard line.

Pass incomplete; J. Russell hit right tackle for 3; then bored the same hole for 5; Sharp made first down thru center; J. Russell dodged around right end 25 yards to Tullia's 10 yard line; Barrett plunged thru the line to Tullia's 1 yard line; after a fumble, J. Russell dived across the line for the first score. Goal was missed; score, Hereford 6, Tullia 0.

Sharp kicked to Tullia's 18 yard line and it was returned 18 yards; they fumbled a pass; Posey threw Crow for no gain on a second attempt; another pass failed and Harris punted to Hereford's 15 yard line. Jess Russell returned it 40 yards, but on the first play Hereford fumbled and Tullia recovered the ball on Hereford's 25 yard line.

Stallings hit right tackle for 8; Tullia fumbled the second for no gain; Stallings hit left guard for 4 and first down on Hereford's 13 yard line; Baker got 3 around right end and Stallings took 5 thru left tackle; a pass, Crow to Baker, put the ball on Hereford's 2 yard line and a score seemed certain; but Harris was spilled thru center for no gain and on the next play a bad heave from the Tullia center was grabbed by the alert Barrett who thrilled the big crowd with an 88 yard run to a touchdown, practically the length of the field. Jess Russell kicked goal. Score, Hereford 13, Tullia 0.

Hereford kicked off to Tullia's 1 yard line and it was returned to the 35 yard line where Tullia fumbled and Hereford recovered. J. Russell squirmed thru right tackle for 15 but a long pass was intercepted by Tullia on her 5 yard line. Tullia substituted Wilkins for Dinwiddie; Harris punted to Hereford's 42 yard line where Jess Russell signaled for a fair catch. Quarter up. Score, Hereford 13, Tullia 0.

Second Quarter

Hereford's ball, 42 yard line, first down; Barrett over left tackle for 2; pass incomplete; J. Russell thru left guard 7; Sharp smashed a first down thru left guard. Barrett circled left end for 10, putting ball on Tullia's 20 yard line. (Tullia substitutes Johnson for Starnes). J. Russell carried the ball around right end to the 9 yard line. A pass failed, J. Russell failed to gain and Hereford was penalized 5 yards for holding. But Jess Russell made it all up by planting the ball on Tullia's one yard line around right end, and Barrett carried it over on the next plunge. J. Russell kicked goal. Score, Hereford 20, Tullia 0.

Hereford kicked off to Tullia's 20 yard line; they brought it back 22 yards; a beautiful pass, Crow to Ward, made 28 yards, putting the ball on Hereford's 20 yard line (substitution, Hereford, Layne for Gilbreath, Wilson for Posey); Baker was stopped around left end and fumbled, Hereford recovering. Barrett cracked right tackle for 8 and J. Russell left tackle for 8 and first down. (Substitution, Hereford, Murphy for Barrett); Murphy plunged left tackle for 15 and then took 11 thru the same spot, but Tullia intercepted a pass on the next play on her 28 yard line.

Tullia pass failed; on the next play Artis Russell smeared Harris for an 8 yard loss; Tullia punted and it was Hereford's ball on the 45 yard line. J. Russell around right end for 7, Murphy failed to gain at left end and J. Russell made it first down through center. A pass, Jess Russell to Artis Russell, put the ball on Tullia's 20 yard line. J. Russell smashed center for 10, Sharp made 2 through the same place and J. Russell dodging a dozen gripping hands, stepped across the goal line, but dropped the ball when tackled and a Tullia man feil on it. It was ruled a touch back, without score. The ball was given to Tullia on her 20 yard line.

Pass gained 10; after three passes had failed Tullia punted to the 48 yard line where Hereford fumbled and Tullia recovered. Pass incomplete; Harris went through left guard for 12 first down, Baker through left tackle for 7, and Harris made first down through center. Baker was thrown by Thompson for no gain, just as the whistle blew for the end of the half. Score, Hereford 20, Tullia 0.

Third Quarter

Tullia kicked off to Hereford's 15

yard line; A Russell carried it back to the 39 yard line; Barrett, left guard 5, J. Russell, left tackle, 4; Sharp, left guard 3 and first down. A pass failed; Artis Russell made a yard through right tackle; another pass grounded; A Russell punted out of bounds and Tullia took the ball on her 20 yard line. On the first play Witherspoon intercepted a Tullia pass and Hereford took the ball. J. Russell failed at right end but Barrett gained 7 at left tackle and Sharp again made first down through right guard. A pass, J. Russell to Witherspoon, put the ball on Tullia's 10 yard line. Barrett was spilled by Harris for a 9 yard loss; J. Russell through right tackle for 5; J. Russell circled right end for touchdown. A Russell kicked goal. Score, Hereford 27, Tullia 0.

Hereford kicked off to Tullia's 10 yard line and they returned it to 34 yard line. Two passes failed and then Ward carried the ball to the 50 yard line around right end; pass grounded; Harris made 12 over left end; a beautiful pass, Crow to Ward, crossed the line for Tullia's lone score of the game. They missed goal. Score, Hereford 27, Tullia 6.

Hereford kicked to Tullia's 5 yard line and they brought it back 25; Witherspoon, grabbed a Tullia pass, but it was not allowed because a Hereford man was off side and the team drew a 5-yard penalty. After failing with two passes Tullia punted out of bounds and Hereford took the ball on 45 yard line.

Barrett tore off 20 around left end; and then took 4 through right guard; pass, J. Russell to A Russell, put the ball on the 11 yard line; Sharp plunged right guard for 3 and then carried the ball to within six inches of the goal line as the whistle blew for the quarter. Score, Hereford 33, Tullia 6.

Fourth Quarter

On the first play Sharp went across the delayed touch down, but a pass for the extra point failed. Score,

P. T. A. Meeting Very Successful

The Hereford Parent Teachers' Association had an unusually successful meeting Friday evening October 23 in the basement of the court house with Mrs. A. M. Jones, president, presiding.

More than one hundred and fifty guests responded to the call and enjoyed the pleasant social hours. The guests began to arrive at 7:30 o'clock and were at once attracted by the profusion of flowers and color decorations.

An exceptionally pleasing program was rendered by the high school orchestra, which is indeed a credit to our town and school. With Ralph Smith as their director, they are doing some excellent work.

Miss Nell Parmer, then, delighted her audience with one of those fine readings that always call for more.

The Rev. J. O. Haymes spoke at length on "Co-operation" and about the work connected with this organization, stressing the importance of a stronger membership among the men.

Prof. C. H. Dillehay, superintendent of our schools, closed the program with a few timely remarks, commenting the orchestra and the program in general.

The rest of the evening was spent in visiting and games. At a late hour delicious refreshments of permuto sandwiches, cakes, coffee and cocoa were served.

The P. T. A. is working toward an active season this winter, a membership drive has just been completed adding 75 new members to the roll.

SURPRISE BIRTHDAY DINNER

Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Robinson and family of near Arney were honor guests at the hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Phillips, Sunday, Oct. 25. The occasion being Mrs. Robinson's birthday.

Entertaining with Mr. and Mrs. Phillips were Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Hammer, and Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Thompson, old friends of Mr. and Mrs. Robinson.

About thirty guests enjoyed a fine turkey dinner, complete with all the "fixins" and a great array of most delectable dishes.

Other friends helping celebrate were: Mr. and Mrs. O. O. Curtis and Graham Curtis, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Kibbe, Mrs. Hattie Rutherford, Mrs. Hutton, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Mountz and family, and Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Turrentine and family.

METHODIST CHURCH J. O. Haymes, Pastor

The Sunday School attendance was a little off last Sunday from the Sunday before. But we had good crowds at all the services. Forty-eight at league. Received four new members into the church, two by baptism and two by letter. The experiment in congregational singing at the evening service seemed to be enjoyed by all.

Communion service next Sunday morning. The Junior church will remain in the auditorium for the Communion. The choir will sing an anthem. The pastor will bring a brief message. There will be an opportunity for the baptism of children. Evangelistic services in the evening at 7:30 with congregational singing, and sermon by the pastor. Come, and bring a group of friends.

Mrs. Slatop has been duly initiated as teacher of the Slatop Bible class. The class made a fine start last Sunday with fourteen present, but there should be at least forty or fifty. All the younger wives and husbands should be in this class.

Mrs. G. A. F. Parker, who has been the church's faithful and efficient pianist for a number of years, has asked for a rest, in the form of a change of work. Miss Lennis Anthony has been unanimously elected by the choir as pianist. She has been thoroughly tried and we know she will be a good one. On last Thursday night the choir presented to Mrs. Parker a little gift, as a slight expression of their appreciation of her service.

Remember Sunday School begins at 9:45 a. m.

EPWORTH LEAGUE

Sunday, Nov. 1, 8:30 p. m.
Topic—Jesus Teaching on the use of Money.

Leader—Mrs. Albert Ross.
Scripture—2 Corinthians 8:1-9.
Special music.

The League is starting a new mission study book in connection with the regular Era programs.

"Jesus Teachings on the use of Money," the book—if you have money come and learn how to use it, if you are poor, come and learn how to be rich. Mrs. Ross will have charge of the study.

Hereford Merchants will save you money on their Saturday Specials!

summon A. A. Burck, B. Burck, and M. Schnell, and the unknown heirs and legal representatives of A. A. Burck deceased, S. B. Burck deceased, and M. Schnell deceased, by making publication of this Citation once each week for four successive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your County, if there be a newspaper published therein, but if not, then in the nearest County, where a newspaper is published, to appear at the next regular term of the District Court of Castro County, to be holden at the Court House thereof, in the town of Dimmitt, on the 2nd Monday in November A. D. 1925, the same being the 9th day of November A. D. 1925; then and there to answer a petition filed in said Court on the 6th day of October A. D. 1925, in a suit numbered on the docket of said Court No. 1418, wherein Claude Percy Hamilton is Plaintiff, and A. A. Burck, S. B. Burck, and M. Schnell, and the unknown heirs and legal representatives of A. A. Burck, deceased, and the unknown heirs and legal representatives of S. B. Burck deceased, and the unknown heirs and legal representatives of M. Schnell deceased, are Defendants, and said petition alleging in substance that, Plaintiff is the owner in fee simple of the following described lands situated in Castro county, Texas, and that he is now in possession and is entitled to possession thereof, to wit: Being a part of Capitol League No. 490, patented to Abner Taylor by Pat. No. 492, described by metes and bounds as follows:

Beginning at an iron pipe set in the N. line of said league No. 490 for Emil Bowsler's N. E. corner; which is according to corrected field notes 400 vrs W. from the W. line of Gregg County School land League No. 3;

Thence E. 400 vrs. to an iron pipe set in ground in W. line of said Gregg County School land League No. 3.

Thence S. with the W. line of said Gregg County School land League 654.5 vrs. to S. W. corner of said Gregg County School land League; to an iron pipe;

Thence E. with the S. line of said Gregg County School land League 1906 vrs. for the N. E. corner of Capitol League No. 490 an iron pipe.

Thence S. 1966.5 vrs. to an iron pipe for L. B. Wood's N. E. corner;

Thence W. 2298.5 vrs. to an iron pipe for said Bowsler's N. E. corner;

Thence N. 2504 vrs. to the place of beginning, containing 850.1 acres of land.

That plaintiff acquired his title to said land through a deed of conveyance from D. Jane Virden, joined by her husband A. J. Virden, and that the said D. Jane Virden acquired her title through a regular chain of title, from the State of Texas.

That the plaintiff does not know what rights, titles, or claims in and to said lands, that defendants or either of them have or are making, but that they are making and asserting claims of some rights, titles, interests, and estates to said lands, adversely to plaintiff, but plaintiff charges that his title to said lands, is superior to any right, claim, title or estate of either of said defendants, to said lands, and that said claims of said defendants, and each of them constitutes a cloud on plaintiff's title thereto.

Plaintiff prays for a judgment against each and all of the defendants for the title to said lands, and that he be quieted in his title thereto, and that all rights, titles, estates and claims of the defendants and each of them in and to said lands be cancelled, annulled and removed as clouds on plaintiff's title.

Herein Fall Not but have before said Court, at its aforesaid regular term, this writ with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Given under my hand and the seal of said Court, at office in the town of Dimmitt, on this the 6th day of October A. D. 1925.

CAMERON, N. M.

Halla Leach is sowing wheat for Dr. Hale two miles west of Grady. He is pulling the drill with his tractor. Mrs. Lee Hutchinson is suffering with erysipelas. Mrs. Maud Johnston is quite sick this week.

Roy, the little son of Mr. and Mrs. Reid Isler narrowly escaped an accident last week when he caught the toe of his shoe in a cog of the wheat drill. The cog broke and he was unhurt; but Reid had to make a trip to Clovis for repairs before he could sow more with the drill.

Mrs. Carrie Price was shopping at the store at the "Bend" Saturday.

Vernon Cogdill was a guest of Lester Davis Sunday evening.

J. D. Cameron and family spent Sunday afternoon with Mrs. Duck and children.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. Dallas Johnston Sunday, October 25, an eight pound girl.

Miss Della Bolding and Mrs. M. F. Morrison were shopping in Clovis last Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Z. Isler and Phil Mote and family spent Thursday night with the Clyde Isler family.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Meredith of Roswell spent the week-end with the Henry Stovall family.

The pie supper at Wheatland last Thursday night was well attended. The proceeds amounted to about $40.

Mrs. E. D. Rice and Mrs. Floyce Burnett made a trip to Bellevue last Saturday.

Mrs. Mae Fryer spent the week-end at the home of her father, C. S. Moss.

Lester Davis brought out from Clovis Saturday a load of coal and a new stove for Miss Della Bolding.

J. C. Meredith left Sunday afternoon with his son Roy and wife for a visit with his son, Morrison at Plainview, after which he expects to spend some time with his son Ruel at Canyon, Texas.

Joe Bunch and family attended church at New Hope Sunday.

Mrs. Lee Watkins and Mrs. Vick were Sunday visitors of the Misses Lizzie and Alice Crecelius.

Wood Simms and family attended church at New Hope Sunday.

An election was held at the New Hope Sunday School Sunday morning in which Gabriel King was elected superintendent to complete the unexpired term of J. C. Meredith. We regret for Mr. Meredith to leave our community, but we know he will live a Christian wherever he lives. The Misses Althea and Velma Lowe, Opal Cogdill and Grastel Hutchinson took supper Sunday evening with Miss Ella Davis.

The Rev. Mr. Patrick closed a successful two weeks meeting at New Hope Sunday night. There was dinner on the ground and a large crowd all day Sunday.

Watch the Saturday Specials!

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Gooch and son, Horace, of Amarillo, spent Saturday night, Sunday and Sunday night with Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Price. Sunday they all had dinner at the Holman home. The party returned to Amarillo Monday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Kimmons of Amarillo were here Monday on a combined business and pleasure trip.

Why don't you go to Church?

A STEADY SALARY, Yet—

Some men hold steady positions with good salaries for years. Yet they are always broke—always borrowing from their friends to tide them over until next pay day.

Don't be like these spenders. Organize your affairs! A little checking up on your spending will locate the leaks in your pockets.

Plug them up! Cut the corners on your spending. Make it a rule to put a certain amount away each week. Not at the end of this week, but on pay day, before you spend it.
