HOME TOWN TALK

By Beddy

Importance of the things included in the Community Chest, for which fund soon is to be raised in Big Spring, cannot be underestimated.

Work of the Salvation Army, the Boy Scouts of America and the Red Cross in this community has been increasingly efficient and useful.

The Salvation Army, as is well known, employs men and women who are expert in the administration of public charity. They do not waste money. They know thoroughly the needs and the worthiness of people before they help them.

Boy Scouting here is filling a great place in community life than ever before. More boys are being taught principles of good citizenship, self-reliance, honesty and loyalty. Big Spring needs many more scout troops.

The Red Cross work is too well known to be reviewed in detail here.

There is a very real need for the things the Community Chest fund will provide.

Beginning now the people of Big Spring will be given detailed information on every angle of the Community Chest program so that when the time comes they may know exactly what their money will be used for when they subscribe.

Your columnist just returned from a short vacation that took him into an interesting and picturesque section of Texas—the Big Bend country. Space will not permit expatiating today upon the sights seen but in an early issue we want to tell the folks some things that will make them again reflect in awe and pride upon the magnificence of our state.

Whiskey Raid In West Big Spring Causes An Arrest

A raid conducted by Deputies Andrew J. Murrick and Denver D. Dunn, of the Sheriff's Department, resulted in the seizure of a quantity of whiskey and a quantity of paraphernalia Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. L. Moore was arrested and charged with possession for sale of intoxicating liquor. He was held in the justice of the peace court. A $1,000 bond was set at $1,000. He made bond immediately.

According to officials of the department, 51 one-half gallon jars of whiskey were seized in the raid. In addition to the whiskey, seven ten-gallon empty charred kegs were taken.

The latest in preparing whiskey for aging also was taken. It included several boxes of imported oak leaves, and an electric appliance used in the aging process.

County Ginnings Amount To $13,487

Season's ginnings in eleven Howard county gins total 13,487, according to reports received by The Herald today.

Big Spring, with six gins, had the county with 8,255 square bales. Coahoma had gained 2,609 bales, and Knott 2,613 bales up to Wednesday night. Three gins are located at Coahoma, and two at Knott.

According to officials of the El Paso Compress, North Green street, since June 1, 22,778 bales have been handled. This includes 3,139 round bales, which, in reality, are half of a square bale in weight.

Since the Texas Cotton Cooperative Association opened an office here several weeks ago, 850 bales have been handled by the organization on the 90 per cent advance system.

Fifty per cent of the cotton handled by the compress was local cotton.

Liner Steams Prairie Stops Into Port With Buying Crude Ship Survivors In Panhandle

But Three of 537 Passenger Lost Off Highland Hope

NEW YORK, Nov. 20 (AP)—The liner Mauretania was steaming toward New York today with an extra complement of 27 men, a woman and a ship's cat—wreathed from an angry sea off Cape Race, N. E. yesterday.

Captain S. J. S. McNeil sent word that he would arrive at quarantine about 11 a. m. (E. S. T.) tomorrow and disembark his passengers, including Captain Carlsson, and his wife and crew of 25 who abandoned the Swedish freighter Ovidia after she sprung a leak and foundered.

The Mauretania outdistanced the liner America and the freighter Endicott in answer to an S. O. S. The America, in command of Captain George Friel, hero of two previous rescues, stood by ready to aid the lifeboats on their half-mile port to the Mauretania.

When the Mauretania after a 26-mile run reached the scene, about 400 miles off the cape, the freighter's decks were awash.

Hundreds of passengers lining the rails of the Mauretania saw two lifeboats put out across the mountainous waves with their human cargoes bobbing high on the crest of the cascades and then sinking from sight in the troughs.

As the Mauretania pulled away for New York, the Ovidia could be seen sinking slowly toward her watery grave.

LONDON, Nov. 20 (AP)—It is said that the liner Mauretania was alone protruding from the swelling waters of the Atlantic, the Nelson Steam Navigation company's new liner, Highland Hope, lay beneath the waves of the Farinholis Islands, Portugal, today.

Of the 537 passengers and crew aboard the boat, which was en route from London for Buenos Aires, all but three were safe in lifeboats at Peniche, Portugal.

Manuel Perez, a Spanish emigrant, died during the night from injuries received in getting away from the steamer after she went aground on the rocks near Peniche at dawn yesterday. Two others, a Spanish woman emigrant and her child, were believed lost.

The saddest of all the survivors was Capt. T. J. Jones, 75-year-old commander of the vessel. Although survivors regarded his saving of passengers and crew in lifeboats as a personal triumph he was overcome with grief at the disaster. Upon landing at Peniche, he had to be supported by two of his officers. He had an enviable reputation for navigation which made younger officers contest for places in his ships.

Authorities learned today that a lighthouse situated on the Farinholis islands had not worked since an explosion destroyed the light several nights ago, but mariners said the light probably could not have averted the ship's loss in any case. They said the fog was so thick that no light could penetrate it more than a few feet.

The loss of the Highland Hope is the worst casualty report of the disaster.

Differences In Rail Board Smoothed Out

Moody Now Free To Make Appointment To Control Board

AUSTIN, Nov. 20 (AP)—The Austin American said today that differences within the state railroad commission had been settled by the intervention of Governor Dan Moody with the result that there would be no shifts in appointive positions to make room for R. E. Walthall, retiring member of the board of control.

Walthall, former secretary to former Governor Pat Neff, now chairman of the railroad commission, had, according to report, been slated for one of the division heads within the railroad commission, presumably that held by H. E. Parker, supervisor of the Oil and Gas division.

The paper said settlement of the differences left the governor free to make his board of control appointment, the inference being that one of Governor Moody's appointees on the railroad commission would not be dismissed, as reported.

It was known that Governor Moody had taken cognizance of the differences, which were culminated when Chairman Neff protested against extension of time to oil well operators in which to install equipment to prevent waste in the Big Lake field.

The article did not state what position, if any, Walthall would get after his retirement.

Commissioners Lon A. Smith and C. V. Terrell and Walthall declined to comment on the article.

Meanwhile, an order extending the time thirty days in which Big Lake operators might take steps to prevent gas waste was expected from the commission as soon as Neff returns from San Antonio. Smith said he would vote with Terrell on the extension.

The suit for $10,000 damages and an injunction requiring E. V. McCright, of the E. V. McCright and Co., Dallas, and H. E. Spafford, sub-trustee, to remove from public places notices that the Settles Hotel would be sold at public auction Dec. 5, was filed in District Court Wednesday afternoon.

The suit was filed by the Settles Hotel Corporation against McCright and Spafford. The temporary injunction was allowed by Judge Fritz R. Smith Wednesday afternoon. It requires McCright and Spafford to remove notices of a trustee's sale, which have been posted in this county.

It is alleged in the petition that a deed of trust for $170,500 was given the McCright Co. following a loan of that amount of the Settles Hotel building.

It is alleged that arrangements were made to borrow $200,000 from the American National Insurance Co., and retire the note which is held by McCright, and which is alleged to be past due since November 9.

According to the petition, approximately $173,782.09 is due McCright. It is alleged that arrangements were made to borrow $200,000 from the American National Insurance Co., and retire the note which is held by McCright, and which is alleged to be past due since November 9.

Later, however, the petition states, the notices of the public sale were posted. The plaintiffs alleged they were damaged to the extent of $10,000.

RUINS OF OKLAHOMA TOWN FOLLOWING TORNADO

A tornado's fury wrecked the main street (above) and a wide adjacent area, killing more than a score persons, injuring approximately one hundred and causing great property damage on the morning of November 19.

Damage Suit Filed By Settles Hotel; Court Issues Order

Suit for $10,000 damages and an injunction requiring E. V. McCright, of the E. V. McCright and Co., Dallas, and H. E. Spafford, sub-trustee, to remove from public places notices that the Settles Hotel would be sold at public auction Dec. 5, was filed in District Court Wednesday afternoon.

The suit was filed by the Settles Hotel Corporation against McCright and Spafford. The temporary injunction was allowed by Judge Fritz R. Smith Wednesday afternoon. It requires McCright and Spafford to remove notices of a trustee's sale, which have been posted in this county.

It is alleged in the petition that a deed of trust for $170,500 was given the McCright Co. following a loan of that amount of the Settles Hotel building.

It is alleged that arrangements were made to borrow $200,000 from the American National Insurance Co., and retire the note which is held by McCright, and which is alleged to be past due since November 9.

According to the petition, approximately $173,782.09 is due McCright. It is alleged that arrangements were made to borrow $200,000 from the American National Insurance Co., and retire the note which is held by McCright, and which is alleged to be past due since November 9.

Later, however, the petition states, the notices of the public sale were posted. The plaintiffs alleged they were damaged to the extent of $10,000.

It is also alleged that McCright is asking for $17,500 attorney's fees, and is demanding that $192,165.61, approximately, be paid.

The suit for damages is based on a purported agreement between the Settles officials and McCright, that the public sale of the new hotel would not be held, but that the new loan was being made and approved at the time they alleged notices of notices regarding the auction sale injured the credit and reputation of the concern.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Luellen of Tonka, Kansas, visited in Big Spring for a few hours Wednesday while en route to Los Angeles, California, where they will spend the winter.

Mrs. Luellen lived in Big Spring thirty-three years ago. She is the daughter of Albert W. Hallenbeck, a pioneer settler in the Big Spring area.

She was married to W. H. Luellen, who was a prominent citizen of Big Spring. They had several children, including the late Mrs. Luellen.

Annual Tuberculosis Seal Drive to Open Here Monday

The annual national Tuberculosis Seal Drive will open in Big Spring Monday, according to Mrs. J. C. Douglas, acting chairman.

Sixty percent of the money made from the sale of these one cent seals will be retained for relief work in this city.

Forty percent of the money will be sent to the national headquarters to be used for national relief.

Last year in this city approximately 150 undernourished children were fed milk daily for four months in the city schools. A number of tubercular patients in Big Spring also were aided with the funds.

The children who were given the milk gained from one to seven pounds in weight, according to Mrs. Douglas's record.

This year C. S. Holmes is chairman of the drive, but as he is out of town on account of the illness of his brother, Mrs. J. C. Douglas is acting chairman. Serving with her on the committee are Mrs. C. K. Hines, Mrs. J. B. Delbridge and Miss Ada E. Lingo.

The sales campaign will be put over through the schools, with the sales and by the Boy Scouts.

Every school child and every organization selling over $5 worth of the seals will be given ten percent of the amount of his or her sales from then on. Any organization may enter the sales drive, such as P-T-A's, clubs or social groups.

Every merchant or individual buying $5 worth of seals will be given credit for such an act through the press.

The tuberculosis death rate in the United States for 1928 was 79.2 per 100,000 population. This is a decrease of two percent over the rate for 1927, which was 80.5. Tuberculosis death rates for males in general exceed those for females.

It is a very prominent cause of death between the ages of 15 and 45. In other words nearly two thirds of all deaths from tuberculosis occur during that period of life when a person is of greatest economic value.

Children have been the greatest gainers from the anti-tuberculosis campaign. For the ten year period, 1917 to 1927, the tuberculosis death rate for the country as a whole declined 45 percent, while the rate for children under five declined 63 per cent.

It has come to be very generally recognized that the amount of adult tuberculosis can be considerably reduced by concentrating effort on the child.

19 Lives Toll Of Tornadoes Million Loss

Oklahoma, Arkansas, Kansas Communities Are Stricken

(By the Associated Press) Tornadoes which swept through Oklahoma, Arkansas and Kansas communities yesterday exacted a toll of nineteen lives, injured scores, left many homeless and did property damage estimated at nearly $1,000,000.

At least fourteen persons were killed and 47 injured seriously by the tornado which demolished more than 100 houses at Bethany, a Nazarene settlement seven miles west of Oklahoma City.

Four were killed at the Camel Creek school about four miles south of Bethany where the tornado first struck. The teacher and ten pupils were injured, and the school house demolished.

D. D. Powell, city recorder of Ola, Ark., was killed and his wife seriously injured in a tornado which razed half the business buildings in that town of nearly 1,000 inhabitants.

Sixteen children and a teacher were injured by a tornado which demolished a rural school building near Victoria, Kas. Twenty buildings were demolished and a man seriously injured at Neal, Kas.

BETHANY, Okla., Nov. 20 (AP)—Storm stricken citizens of this Nazarene church colony of 2000 today assumed quietly the task of burying their 19 dead and rebuilding the some 200 homes laid waste yesterday by a tornado that ravaged the eastern section of the town.

"There was little demonstration as the populace drew together the disrupted thread of its quiet existence. The simple faith that met the town's greatest disaster with resignation buoyed its citizenry in the work of rehabilitation.

"It was God's will," said W. T. Armstrong, a divinity student at Bethany Peniel college, the town's central organization, and probably expressed the composite attitude of the populace. The student lost a hand worked for home in the storm and will have to leave school.

Material aid came quickly from a sympathetic public, canvassed for subscriptions through newspapers and radio station WKY. Donations poured in so rapidly it

Railway Heads Seek To Employ Maximum Forces

NEW YORK, Nov. 20 (AP)—The Association of Railway Executives voted unanimously today that it is their policy "to carry on as far as is practicable work which may provide employment to the greatest possible number of men during the coming winter."

The association, representing more than 90 per cent of the mileage of the country, announced that the railroads "have practically carried out" a program of construction and equipment building undertaken at the request of President Hoover late last year to offset the threat of a substantial suspension of business activities.

There are also new ball-bearing swings, boys and girls new basketball courts, new saws, and a flag pole on the school grounds. A petograph, modeling clay, numeral chart, colored sticks and various kinds of seat work have been added in the primary room. The school is a subscriber for the "Grade Teacher," "Normal Instructor," "Geographical Magazine," "Current Events" and several other papers.

The remains of the old building has been torn away. The ground is being leveled, trees are going to be set out and a fence will be built across the front of the ground. Teachers as well as patrons appreciate the interest taken by the trustees in aiding toward the progressiveness of the school.

Don't Let Finances Keep You From A County Girls Club

Dear girls: Since my last letter I have seen many of you. As you know, I did not get to Elbow and Center Point because of the mud, I visited the girls of club age at the following schools, Lomax had two mothers present, and all of the girls seemed to want a club. There were a lot of girls at Moore, but they were not so sure about the work. There were no parents present, and I think if there had been, and they learned what the work really means, there would be a good organization there.

Hiway has a lot of new girls of club age, as it has been lowered from 12 to 10. These younger girls are anxious to start the work. Midway, also, has a lot of new girls. Hiway and Midway, like Moore, had no parents present, nor did Soash, girls of other communities, beware of Soash! I think they are going to give you a run for your money. The main reason for their interest, as I see it, is all mothers of girls present with the exception of two belong to the women's club.

Their mothers understand something about the work, therefore, want them to have the advantage of it. Girls, wait in the reason I want you to insist on your mothers being present the next time I visit your school. For a successful club, we must have co-operation of girls, parents, and agent. For parents to co-operate, they must understand what the girls are expected to do.

That is what I want to tell you at the next meeting. I will give you my program for next week. And do not forget you must be ready before you come to the club supper. It is being given as an achievement program for girls who completed their work this year.

New girls will have this, or perhaps something better, to look forward to next year after you have completed your work.

Monday, 24th, at 3 p. m., Elbow girls.

Tuesday, 25th, 9 a. m., Hiway girls.

Tuesday, 25th, 3 p. m., Moore girls.

Wednesday, 26th, 9 a. m., Center Point.

Wednesday, 26th, 3 p. m., Midway.

Friday, 28th, 7:30 p. m., Chili Supper at Settles hotel. Girls meet in my office at 6:30.

Mr. Bush will visit Elbow, Hiway, Moore, and Midway the same time. Parents who have both boys and girls can learn about both clubs.

Poultry girls will raise and keep records on pure bred chickens, the number depending on the club year. First year girls starting with at least 50 baby chicks they have hatched under hens, or in an incubator, or that they have bought.

The aim is to raise ten good pullets. Second year girls will take charge of a flock of at least ten hens, and raise at least 20 pullets. That will mean that the girl should start off with at least 100 baby chicks. Third year girls will take charge of at least 25 hens. To keep records on hens will require the girl to have the entire flock as Wilma Ford at Elbow does, or keep her own hens pointed.

Garden club girls will raise foods for their birds. Girls who can irrigate a garden will raise tomatoes, carrots, beets and collards in addition to any other vegetables they might want. Girls will do one of the above demonstrations. Poultry girls will do the canning the same as the garden girls.

All of the girls will make boiled salad dressing, mayonnaise, and French dressing, and use them on salads. You will also make light bread and rolls in faculty work home improvement work consists of improving your bedroom, by cleaning the woodwork, making curtains, having a writing desk making a pair of pillow slips, and cleaning your yard. Girls who cannot afford to buy curtains or material for a writing desk will make some other improvement.

First year girls will make a cap and apron to wear when they cook. This will require not more than two yards of domestic. Second year girls will make a gown, braiser, and bloomers or shorts. Third year girls will make a slip, cotton chool dress and a patch.

I hope none of you will stay out of the club because of finances. The club will enable you to make money to do with, as well as make good clothes which will wear longer than ready made ones which cost more. If you will let me know you cannot afford to buy material some provision will be made. Let's get into the club and do our very best to be the winner of some of the trips offered next year.

Yours sincerely,
Louella Allgood.

Signature At Issue In Will Of Cobb

DALLAS, Nov. 20. (AP)—After hearing testimony that the document bore a signature that did not genuine, County Judge F. H. Alexander yesterday refused to probate a will disposing of property valued at $800,000, the estate of the late Charles C. Cobb.

Under the will, bulk of the estate would have gone to an heir named Robert Lee Charles Cobb. After Cobb's death, in April, a court named his widow administratrix, deciding he left no will. Subsequently, a will was produced. The widow contested its probate.

year by Lloyd's. The ship's hull insurance amounts to 647,000 pounds (about $3,235,000) while the entire insurance, including freight and passage money probably will amount to a million pounds. The ship was making its fourth voyage. Wreck of the Highland Hope was not the only maritime disaster reported yesterday. Five seamen were drowned in a collision of the British steamers Continental Freighter and Hebbie during a storm in Antwerp Roads. The Continental Freighter sank. The victims were members of her crew, five others, including Captain Scott, being saved.

Caused by a swell as it was trying to make the harbor at Boulogne-Sur-Mer, France, the packet Engadine from Folkstone was driven on a sand bank and stuck there until it floated off at high tide three hours later. Its 176 passengers, including the Duke of Westminster, were landed meanwhile, none the worse for their experience.

The Oklahoma Contractors' association volunteered its services in the rebuilding of homes, waiving thoughts of profit.

Like a mammoth steam roller, the tornado crushed a path quarter mile wide through the eastern section of Bethany, flattening homes as though they were card boards, and injuring scores. It dropped first at Canal Creek school house, four miles south of Bethany, killing four pupils and injuring the teacher and ten other pupils. After passing northeastward through Bethany and wrecking a few farm houses, it lifted three miles north of the town.

CHIANTUE, Kas., Nov. 20. (AP)—A tornado struck at Leanna, ten miles northeast of here late yesterday afternoon, demolished buildings and uprooted trees, but injured no one. The storm's path was two miles long and about 100 feet wide.

A dozen women attending a meeting of the Ladies' Aid Society in a church which was wrecked, escaped uninjured.

HAYS, Kas., Nov. 20. (AP)—A tornado demolished a rural school house fourteen miles northeast of here yesterday, but spared the lives of sixteen children and their instructor, Herman Pfeiffer, 24, who directed successful rescue efforts. None was injured seriously.

The twister descended upon the small frame structure in the Victoria community and left a mass of wreckage in which several of the pupils were imprisoned.

Pfeiffer and several pupils who sacrificed themselves worked frantically and finally liberated all of the boys and girls, frightened but unhurt except for cuts and bruises.

Dr. B. Anderson of Victoria said all were treated at their homes and only two needed additional medical attention. The school house was moved from its foundation and collapsed. Broken communication lines delayed reports of the visitation.

The grounds spent most of its fury at the school house, but did minor damage to farm buildings nearby.

School Children Are Offered Immunization By Health Authority

There have been five diphtheria immunization conferences offered to the school children of Big Spring. Out of 2,744 school children, only 129 or six percent have taken advantage of these clinics.

Yesterday afternoon and this morning, Mrs. M. R. Showalter, county health nurse, held two clinics in Coahoma. Out of 358 school children of this community 128 or 35 percent were immunized against the disease.

At the last conference all of the rural communities were invited to attend and take advantage of the immunization for $1.30. Forsan, only, was represented. Mrs. Showalter sent out 125 notices to teachers and parents all over the county before this conference, she states.

She wishes to warn the parents of school age children that cases of diphtheria have been reported all over the county, and that immunization alone will render them safe.

Wounds Fatal Covey Thomas, Former Judge

Several Persons See Cotulla Man Take Own Life

COTULLA, TEXAS, Nov. 15 (AP)—Former Judge Covey C. Thomas, 60, unsuccessful candidate for Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Texas last summer and one of the best known attorneys and ranchmen in Southwest Texas, shot and killed himself here this afternoon.

Several persons saw Mr. Thomas park his automobile in the business section, walk to the post-office block away, return to his automobile and fire a bullet from a .45 caliber revolver into his head. He fell to the sidewalk in front of a fire station, and was dead before assistance could reach him.

Mr. Thomas had had many minor political offices, and four years ago was a candidate for judge of the court of civil appeals, but was defeated. He likewise was unsuccessful in a subsequent race for the supreme court.

Several years ago an accident caused amputation of his left leg, but he continued his legal practice. About a month ago, he suffered a nervous breakdown, and since then he had been despondent over ill health.

A brother, Woodie Thomas, well known ranchman, was in a hospital at Rosenberg suffering with a broken hip at the time of the death. Several other brothers and sisters, in addition to the widow, survived.

Justice of the Peace W. A. Kerr, who happened to be first to arrive on the scene of the shooting, took a revolver from Thomas' left hand. He returned a verdict of death caused by a self-inflicted wound.

Close friends said Thomas had sustained considerable losses in his cattle business during the past year on account of a drastic decline in prices.

Thomas was born in Denton county, Texas, reared in Lasalle county. He was a graduate of the University of Texas, finishing with the 1896 law class. He served four years as county attorney and 16 years as county judge of Lasalle county. Under an appointment of Governor James E. Ferguson, he served two terms as district judge of the 81st district, comprising the counties of Atascosa, Frio, Karnes, Lasalle and Will.

The funeral was set for Sunday afternoon here.

Over 600 See Newest Types Of Chevrolets

General Motors Product Moves Out of Little Car Class

The Chevrolet six has become a full-fledged "big car" and is definitely out of the small car lot. But still in the new issue of the bigger and roomier Chevrolet, General Motors has produced a product that represents a cut of from $20 to $40 in each model except the deluxe photon, which is up $15.

"The miracle of the new Chevrolet is the fact that the car has been improved vastly in both body and engine and yet new lower prices are posted," W. R. King, president of the King Chevrolet Co., agents here, said last night in presenting the new models, which go on display today.

He pointed to the 46 per cent increase in the strength of the engine block at an advance of about 1 per cent in weight, and to the 50 per cent heavier frame as concrete examples of radical changes in the car just out. The new Chevrolets are wider, roomier, handsoomer, taking on the non-racer, partitioned and actual size, and through their increased width have lost the hankiness heretofore occasioned in the six by a suddenly lengthened wheel base itself has been increased two inches to 106 inches in the new car. The radiator is higher and more imposing. Numerous small improvements in the car are apparent, the non-racer wind shield, foot controlled headlights, floor chromium-plated feature work and more "elbow room" in the back seat.

A new car has been added to the Chevrolet list, a five-window coupe, price, f. o. b. Detroit, $545. Other cut prices and the respective price cut for each model in the new car are: Roadster, $475; 230 sport roadster, $495; 230 sedan, $635; 490 special sedan, $655; 435; coach, $595; coupe, $535; 435; and sports coupe, $575; 490.

Over 600 persons saw the new Chevrolet creations when they were displayed at the show rooms of the Big Spring agents Saturday.

Supreme Court Ruling Will Free Nagle From Missouri Penitentiary

JEFFERSON CITY, Nov. 15 (AP)—Maurice W. Nagle, serving a life term in the Missouri penitentiary for participation in the Home Trust bank robbery in Kansas City, June 14, 1928, and the subsequent killing of James H. "Happy" Smith, traffic officer, is to be given his freedom immediately under an opinion handed down late today by division 2 of the Missouri supreme court.

Berry Henwood, commissioner of the Missouri penitentiary, wrote the opinion, which was concurred in unanimously by the judges of the division. Nagle's conviction and sentence was reversed because the state obtained an involuntary confession from Nagle and refused to admit evidence as to the manner in which it was procured.

Death sentences were affirmed by the supreme court last June 10 for John Messin, Carl Nasseo and Tony Mangiarotini. Italians found guilty of the killing of Officer Smith. They were hanged in the Jackson county jail last July 25.

A fifth member of the gang that staged the robbery during the last Republican national convention, Joe Bonello, is serving a life sentence for his participation in the crime.

The sensational robbery and killing of the traffic officer occurred about noon during one of the days in which the national Republican convention was in progress in Kansas City. It caused an uproar in the business district, as the banding of the street with the spitting machine guns. Besides killing Smith, the bandits wounded another officer and one person died from shock.

The hanging of the three Italians last July aroused feeling to a high pitch. Extra police guards were placed in strategic parts of the city, and precautions were taken several days before the execution to prevent any possible outbreak or attempted jail delivery for the three condemned men.

Parents Should Keep Out Of Their Children's Way As Much As Possible Says This Expert

Mothers, To Save Time, Deprive Children Of Valuable Experience Gained In "Doing Things For Themselves" Says Dr. Mary D. Davis

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The duty of the wise parent is to keep out of the way as much as possible. In the average home, parents often help the child in his ordinary activities to such an extent that he is unable to learn to take care of himself.

At the Washington Child Research Center of which Dr. Davis is a member, each child is responsible on certain days for the proper setting of the table and must play butler and see that all children at the table are served. This definitely stimulates and interests him and helps especially in training the child whose energy and intelligence make him a trifle difficult.

A practical list of nursery equipment which makes it possible for a child to experience the benefits of taking care of himself includes: books hung low enough to be reached; wash cloths six by six inches and small enough for most of the water to be squeezed from them by a small child's hand; pitchers and glasses that stand firmly—the pitcher with a handle which the child can easily grip—so that the child can pour his own milk; silver, of child's size, which should include a rounded spoon and a straight-sided wide fork with rounded tines.

Other parts of the ideal luncheon service equipment include a self-help bib with adjustable pulleys around the necks which the child can manipulate himself; water proof dolly and silver; a miniature china service, of tea plate, a cereal bowl, and sauce dish; paper mache tray; vase for table flowers and small basket for fetching and carrying the silver from the kitchen.

With a mat of colorful waterproof material and a small table with chairs of the right size, the child of three or four can set his own table and wait on himself.

Given equipment of a proper size and easily accessible, a child of this age can make his own toilet, not only learning as he washes his teeth and combs his hair but saving "mother time" and having fun into the bargain. Besides a comb, miniature nail brush, wash cloth and small towels, a chair tall enough to reach the wash stand must be provided.

Thus, one of the child's most fundamental needs, the desire to imitate life about him, is gratified and he is made happier.

This is the belief of Dr. Mary Davis of the office of education in the United States department of the interior, one of the experts who will contribute to the findings to be discussed at the White House conference on child health and protection he it meets in Washington, November 10-12.

Learning is not so much a matter of achievement as of teaching children how to think, Dr. Davis points out, adding that for the smallest children experience is the best teacher. The mother who makes anxious care of her children may even be a bad mother.

Research and experiment have supplemented Shakespeare's seven ages of man by the addition of three important ages of childhood. Physical coordination is the problem to be solved during the first age; social adjustment must be learned during the second age; and next comes intellectual development, also achieved through problems solved.

Dr. Davis emphasizes that it is the parents' duty to offer the right type of problem for their child's age level. "Children learn best from experience, but it is quicker for a mother to do things for her child and as a result the child is not allowed the proper exercise of his activities."

The most important traits the child must learn are independence and social adaptability—that is, to rely upon himself and at the same time, the difference between "mine and thine."

All Schools Will Observe Visitors Week

Picher Liquor Hearing Rests

MIAMI, Okla., Nov. 15. (AP)—Judge Franklin E. Kennamer adjourned the Picher liquor conspiracy trial here today after informing attorneys "the case would be finished Monday if it takes until midnight."

Floyd Goddard, alleged bootlegger, entered a plea of nolle prosequi, in effect, a plea of guilty, at the afternoon session, reducing the number of defendants on trial to eight. Pleas of guilty and dismissal already had reduced the original 19 on trial to nine.

Character witnesses for M. I. Woolsey, constable, and William Schumbach, merchant policeman, also under a charge of murder, took the stand on behalf of the two officers.

Woolsey, the first witness of the day, said he had arrested, at various times, all the confessed bootleggers who testified against him. Schumbach, who followed Woolsey on the stand, testified Joe Nolan, Picher chief of police, who pleaded guilty to the charges of conspiracy, had told him not to "make so many arrests."

Charles Weaver, attorney, conducting his own defense, put on testimony to show bootlegging cases he was alleged to have accepted money for bribes to have thrown out still were in court.

U. S. Jennings, constable, denied he had received $10 from Weaver to be sick on a certain day when he was called as a witness in a bootlegging case.

Several character witnesses took the stand on behalf of William Harrington, aged city councilman, who, his attorneys said, was too ill to testify himself.

Confession Of Youthful Arkansas Tailor Clears Crimes In Four States

Ten Page Document Tells of Robberies Here, Crane, Miles, McCamey and Many Other West Texas Cities

A career of crime, which has taken him to Arkansas, Oklahoma, Nebraska, Kansas and Texas, was woven into a ten-page closely typed confession signed by J. K. Burns, a 24-year-old tailor of Texarkana, Ark., who is held in the Crosby county jail, charged with several robberies in West Texas.

Burns is charged in this county with the robbery of Collins Bros. Drug Store, Scurry Street, robbery of the local high school, and theft of an automobile. Frank Shelton, who is being held in the Howard county jail, also is charged with the robbery of the drug store.

In the lengthy confession received here by Sheriff Jess Slaughter, Burns tells of the three crimes here, robbery of an ice plant at Crane, hijacking of a night watchman at Miles, and robbery of the McCamey high school.

The confession was given to Sheriff Elmer J. Reed of Crosbytown, after Burns had been shot in the neck and arrested. The arrest was made several weeks ago, and the confession cleared up numerous robberies in this section and other states. Three other men implicated in the robberies have not been captured. In the confession of the different crimes since April 10 of this year, Burns goes into detail, naming his companions and telling other things about the robberies.

On April 10, according to his signed confession, he and a companion entered an Arkadelphia, Ark. wholesale house and were trapped by deputy sheriffs and night watchmen. In a gunfight, Burns was shot in the leg. They threw their guns out of the window and surrendered.

He declared they were transferred to Little Rock where their bonds were set at $1,000. "We were released," Burns stated, "and we went into Oklahoma and have not heard anything from the bond since that time."

In the early part of July, Burns declares in his statement, he and his companion, accompanied by two youths, left Oklahoma City with the intention of robbing the Steffens Ice Cream Co. of Arkansas, Kansas. Arriving at the ice cream company's office with safe cracking tools, the men found three men laying on the grass nearby. They were taken into the boiler room and guarded. Approximately $400 in cash was obtained when two safes were broken. The men were tied, and the quartet reached Oklahoma City Saturday. Burns and his regular companion were captured, however, and lodged in jail at Columbus, Nebraska. The two men, with two others, broke jail Sept. 7, and worked their way to Duncan, Nebraska, where a car was stolen. The car was abandoned at McPheerson, the men going on to Duncan, Oklahoma.

The four men went to Temple, Oklahoma, Sept. 13. Burns declares a night watchman was overpowered, a hardware store robbed of pistols, guns and ammunition, a car stolen, and a night baker taken. The baker and two night watchmen were removed from the town and bound. The men then left for Texas.

Car Stolen Their trail led from Burkholder to Holliday, where a Buick coupe was stolen. From Holliday the four men came to Big Spring, by way of Abilene. The robbery of the Collins Bros. Scurry Street drug store was the first robbery of a store offense committed.

According to the statement, Burns, three of his companions, who escaped from the Nebraska jail with him, and Shelton robbed the store. He declares the store was robbed at 1:30 a. m. the morning of Sept. 21. An effort to break open the safe was futile, as "sufficient tools were not present." Burns tells of taking the merchandise, approximately $2,000, to Crane, where it was sold for $265, divided five ways. He declares they returned to Big Spring the night of Sept. 21.

On the night of Sept. 28, Burns relates, he, with two others, went to Crane where an effort was made to dispose of some morphine stolen from the depot at Odessa. Failing to get rid of the morphine, an ice plant at Crane City was entered.

While two men slept in the rear room of the ice plant, the safe was taken from the office, loaded in the car, and "punched one-half of a mile from Crane City. It weighed $150 in cash, which was divided between the three men.

Visit Miles Leaving Big Spring, Burns and his usual companion on the trip, accompanied by a youth who is alleged to be working in a San Angelo drug store, went to Miles. A filling station was to be entered that night, Burns declares.

However, W. H. Brewster, who lives at Big Spring now, but at the time was night watchman at Miles, discovered the men. Ordering Brewster to throw up his hands, the men blindfolded him and took him a mile out of town in place of his pistol. Brewster was given a 38 Spanish gun which had been stolen at Temple. They left Miles and returned to San Angelo without entering the station. The gun was recovered Thursday at Crane by Sheriff Slaughter and Reed.

On Oct. 4, Burns and his companion went to McCamey. Hiding until night, they entered a McCamey grade school building, thinking it was the high school. Discovering their error, they entered the high school building, broke the safe and obtained $58. They left for Rankin, but took a train into San Angelo when the car was stuck in the mud.

Petrified Formations Discovered Near Here Have People Guessing

Teeth, tongues or fins? That question has yet to be settled by Chamber of Commerce officials, as identification of a peculiar petrified formation excavated from a Howard county gravel pit had not been made Saturday afternoon.

The petrified pieces resemble the flat fin of a huge fish, the tongue or teeth of a large animal. They are almost identical in appearance.

They were found by Roy Bates on his place, six and one-half miles west of Big Spring on the Bankhead highway.

They are on display at the Chamber of Commerce for anyone knowing the difference between the fins of a dinelithys, and the parts of a dinosaur.

Three Hurt As East Texas Is In Storm Path

HOUSTON, Nov. 15. (AP)—Three persons were injured when a small tornado ripped its way through western Harris county this afternoon leaving a trail of wreckage.

The victims were Mr. and Mrs. George Hoffman, who live on a farm three miles from the village of Addicks and Joe Segavia, 35, owner of an adjoining farm.

All were brought to a hospital here. Physicians said Mrs. Hoffman was the worst hurt. She had sustained severe scalp lacerations and possibly a fractured skull, they said. Her husband's right leg was broken at the knee and his face was deeply gashed. Segavia was bruised about the body and his face was a mass of cuts and contusions.

The tornado first dipped to the ground in the vicinity of Alief about 20 miles west of Houston and cut its swath along the ground in a northwesterly direction. No reliable estimates on the damage could be made tonight.

Although suffering from shock Mr. Hoffman described the tornado from his bed in the hospital. He and his wife were in their home, he said, when they heard a rumbling roar. The couple started to get up, but the door, the woman walking on the crutches she has been using while convalescing from the effects of a broken ankle. "The next thing I knew," he said "I was lying in the garden a long distance from the wreckage of our home. I heard the cries of my wife and tried to get up to go to her, but discovered that my leg was broken. I dragged myself over the ground to the spot where she lay in a pool of water."

The injured man was unable to explain how he and his wife were swept clear of the wreckage of their home. A torrential rain followed directly in the path of the whirlwind adding to their pain and discomfort as they lay helpless upon the ground.

Eastern Texas Damage Heavy

BEAUMONT, Texas, Nov. 15. (AP)—A tornado ripped through Eastern Texas today, inflicting damage totaling nearly $50,000 at Cokesburg, Tyler county and Rockdale, Jasper county, about 360 miles north of Beaumont. Six persons were hurt by flying debris.

Four persons were injured when a two-story filling station on the Kirbyville highway was demolished. Many houses were unroofed and moved from their blocks. A small twister cracked the windows from the Hotel Edison roof at 11:30 tonight in Beaumont during a dance on the 22-story structure. A number of guests were cut by flying glass. A sign was hurled through a plate glass window in the business district.

GOSSIP Dorothy Gordon, whose new book is called "Around the World in Song," has just returned from a concert tour of Europe. While in England she visited her old friend, Christopher Robin Milne, and H. Fraser Simon who made the music for the Milne songs; played the Very Young and Pooh songs for her at some of her concerts. Miss Gordon says she is now writing some music especially for her. While abroad this charming singer received an excellent press. We quote from the London Times: "Miss Dorothy Gordon, the attractive young American, came in costume, another of her programs. Miss Gordon makes natural use of a light soprano of considerable charm. Her enunciation is of praiseworthy clarity and she has an unquestionable gift of impersonative gesture. Her songs literally bristled with little dramatic points which by the 'audible snigles' of even the adult section of her audience left no doubt of her success."

J. A. Kemp Dies After Illness, Rites Pending

Heart Attack Fatal to Capitalist of Wichita Falls

AUSTIN, Texas, Nov. 17 (AP)—Joseph A. Kemp of Wichita Falls, one of the best known business men of the southwest, died of heart failure in a hospital here last night. He had been in the hospital 30 days since stricken while on a trip to Southeast Texas. It was planned to take the body to Wichita Falls today.

Kemp, in recent years associated with Frank Kell in many development enterprises in Wichita Falls, North and Northwest Texas, was born at Clifton, DeWitt county, July 31, 1861, the son of William T. and Emma F. (Stinnett) Kemp. He was educated in public schools and the high school at Clifton.

Besides his widow, a son, Joseph Anderson Kemp, Jr., and three daughters, Mrs. W. Newton Maer and Mrs. W. Smith Langford, Wichita Falls, and Mrs. Al Booth, Chicago, survive. Another daughter died several years ago.

The body is to arrive here early Tuesday and it was tentatively planned to hold the services Wednesday. Hundreds of messages of condolence were received here. Members of the family who were at the bedside at the time of death made the trip overland from Austin and were expected Monday afternoon.

Bobby Jones Will Retire From Sports

To Make Series of Motion Pictures For Warner

NEW YORK, Nov. 17 (AP)—Bobby Jones, champion golfer, has announced his retirement from competitive golf and his intention to make a series of motion pictures for Warner Bros. Pictures.

Jones, having no more worlds to conquer in the royal and ancient sport, made known his decision in a statement issued on his behalf through Herbert H. Ramsay, executive vice president of the United States Golf Association.

Jones, in his statement, announced that he signed a contract on November 13 with Warner Brothers, motion picture firm, to make a series of twelve one-reel films purely educational in character.

Jones declared flatly he had no intention whatever of turning professional, explaining that he was prompted to retire from the competitive field because he was convinced his motion picture contract conflicted with the spirit, if not the actual letter of the amateur rule.

He did not specifically refer to whether he would continue at any time, in open golf play, but indicated he was through altogether with championships.

Retirement by Bobby Jones brings to a climax not only the most sensational record of victory in sports achievement in all golf history, but comes at a time when the Georgian stands astride the golf world like the Colossus of Rhodes.

At the comparatively youthful age of 28, when most champions of sports are just swanning into their stride, Jones has conquered all tournaments at home and abroad, won every championship trophy of major national importance, from one to five times and crowned his achievements by making a clean sweep of all four British and American title tournaments in 1930.

No other king of sport ever decided to leave the competitive arena at so youthful an age, and when at the very height of his powers. He was about 35 years old, weighed 165 pounds, with blue eyes, brown hair, and a white mustache. The heavyweight champion duplicated the sport in which he had won the top "Golf" still is known to Jones' heart and soul.

Abilene Crash Fatal To Man Struck By Automobile as He Alighted From Truck

Surviving Area, His Widow, to Whom He Had Been Married More Than 48 Years

ABILENE, Texas, Nov. 17 (AP)—A man, about 50, died in a local sanitarium last night one hour after he was struck by an automobile, driven by L. P. Davis of Abilene. The accident occurred August 8, 1929, at which time he had the headlights of a Dodge automobile, highway number 1-461-196 tested.

Davis carried Austin to the hospital, where he died an hour later without regaining consciousness.

Lindbergh To Put New Type Wing On Ship

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 17 (AP)—Carl Squier, general manager of the Lockheed Aircraft Company here, revealed today Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh would come to Los Angeles soon to have his low-wing monoplane fitted with a new type of wing, a larger motor and a disappearing landing gear.

The improvement, Squier said, will increase the speed of Colonel Lindbergh's plane approximately 50 miles an hour, making its top speed 225 miles an hour.

Squier said he spoke to Colonel Lindbergh by telephone to Princeton, N. J., and that the flier said he would arrive within three weeks.

Dispatches from the East recently stated Colonel Lindbergh was planning a South American flight. Squier was not informed whether the improvements on the plane were in preparation for the flight or whether the flight would be started from here or the east coast.

Secret development and successful testing of the new wing—constructed on Colonel Lindbergh's orders—have been completed at Burbank, Cal., after nine months work. No description of the wing was given, excepting that it will permit the landing wheels to be folded into the wing.

A 605-horsepower motor will replace the present 425-horsepower engine, it was understood.

Squier said Colonel Lindbergh told him "our desire to increase the speed of our airplane does not mean that we are going out after any transcontinental or other long distance speed records."

"Any device that can speed up air transportation should be developed and it is with this object that we wish to equip our plane with the most efficient discovery."

Liquor Supply Is Dealt Blow By Dry Agents

NEW YORK, Nov. 17 (AP)—The axe of the prohibition department and the cannon of the coast guard struck simultaneous blows today at the source of some of New York's liquor supply.

Two boats, the "High Strung" and the "Patricia," were snared by coast guardsmen, upsetting plans of the two boats' skippers to land liquor under cover of the dense fog. A shell from the gun of a coast guard boat cut a tiller rope and stopped the High Strung off Block Island. Three men aboard the coast guard boat were arrested and 400 cases of liquor were seized.

The Patricia was heading for the Brooklyn shore in Gravesend bay when the coastguard, whose approach was concealed by fog, came alongside. The craft had 500 cases of liquor aboard. Three persons were arrested.

As shore prohibition agents found liquor valued at $120,000 in two places raided, sixteen persons were arrested and a hunt for half a hundred more was intensified. The persons sought, federal agents said, are members of a new "rum syndicate" operating on a large scale and using radio to direct their liquor laden craft.

The sudden attack on the organized traffic is the result of secret "John Doe" indictments returned by a federal grand jury.

Among syndicate members still at large are several radio operators, officers said. They were employed by syndicate-owned shore stations for the transmission of instructions to syndicate boats.

"As I got up he threw a pistol on me. I happened to be near a corner in which a loaded shotgun, which had been left there from a hunting trip, was leaning against the wall."

"I grabbed it and let him have it," Adams said.

Marrs Replies To Criticisms

Tells W. T. C. U. Officials About Text Book Protests

AUSTIN, Nov. 17 (AP)—S. M. N. Marrs, state superintendent of public instruction, wrote officials of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce today that he had done everything possible to present their protests on geographical and social conditions in the state board of education.

His letter, addressed to D. A. Sanderson and Max Bentley, was in reply to a letter of criticism in which Marrs was censured for failure to answer their written protests.

"The chamber was particularly concerned with the alleged inaccuracies in social geography concerning West Texas and with the use of school districts in the south areas for social liberal appropriations."

Marrs wrote that these matters had been submitted to him, not in a state supplement, but to be submitted to the board of education.

"You admit," he said, "that the board is taking such steps as are necessary to make the geographic acceptable, and since the statute does not confer any authority on the superintendent except to distribute the books under contract, I have felt that the interests of West Texas would be amply protected by the two very able and conscientious gentlemen who are members of the board from that section."

Marrs said the only communication he had concerning doubt conditions were not from the chamber, but from a group of school officials, who had asked that their information be treated confidentially. He acknowledged this communication, he said, and the chamber asked the president of the board permission to furnish the board identical information.

"The only objection in the power of the board was allowed, Marrs said, 'I told you in a letter that were sent to West Texas first, that rural and urban conditions be distributed early in the year. The state inspectors were requested to investigate conditions thoroughly and report to the board in November. This was done. There is an implication that because these inspectors did not consult your committee that they were disinterested. There was no thought of disinterestedness. The state inspectors consulted in their official capacity. There should be no fault, but the information furnished the board was wholly correct.'"
