Texas motorists to get a break on insurance

AUSTIN (AP) - Texans who make monthly installment payments on car insurance will get lower down payments and more time to pay balances under a rule approved Thursday by Insurance Commissioner Elton Bomer.

Bomer said expensive down payments and sizable monthly payments contribute to the problem of too many uninsured drivers.

"Working people who live from paycheck to paycheck often must spread their car insurance premiums to fit their budgets," Bomer said. The rule means that for a $600, six-month policy, the maximum initial down payment would drop to $200 from $240.

"We're thinking for some families this has been a major hurdle and we're making it easier for them," said David Durden, deputy insurance director for property and casualty liens. The insurance department could not provide figures showing how many people chose monthly payments over single payment options.

Consumer advocates and insurance company representatives criticized the rule as ineffective because it could allow for abuse by drivers who buy short-term policies with no intention of paying the balance.

Under the rule that takes effect Jan. 1, insurers may require down payments of up to 16.67 percent of the annual premium for a 12-month policy, and 33.33 percent for a six-month policy. They currently can set the down payments at up to 40 percent on a six-month policy and 25 percent on 12-month policies.

The new rule also requires insurers to spread balances over at least four months for six-month plans and 10 months for yearlong policies. That does not include an additional payment in the last month for renewal.

Balances currently can be collected in three months for six-month policies and eight months for 12-month policies.

Insurance companies will not have to adjust their billing if their installment plans were a better deal than the department's new plan.

D.J. Powers, head of The Center for Economic Justice, said the rule still ignores people who are denied access to insurance. The center has accused major insurance companies of refusing to offer insurance in certain parts of the state, a practice called "redlining."

"Redlining should be the highest priority for the insurance commission," said Powers. "While in theory (the rule) is a good thing, it is not even a Band-Aid for consumers who can't get insurance.'

Durden said the new rule was not meant to cure the problem of accessibility to insurance, but address one aspect of it.

"It is really a multifaceted problem," Durden said. "There is no one thing they can do to put insurance in every home."

The Southwestern Insurance Information Service, an industry group, also criticized the rule, contending that it could actually put more uninsured

"Many people purchase insurance on a short-term basis to comply with the law requiring them to have coverage when renewing their driver's license and getting their car inspected," said Jerry Johns, president of the coalition of insurance companies. "Under the proposed rule it would be possible for drivers to obtain a proof of insurance card good only for six months by paying only six

Kids get early start on holiday

School kids got an early start on the Labor Day holiday, as classes let out at noon today to allow the students and teachers to travel to Lovington, N.M., for the Hereford High School Whitefaces' first game of the 1997 football season. Classes will not resume until Tuesday morning.

All city, county and federal offices will be closed Monday for the holiday. The Deaf Smith County Public Library will be closed, but the Deaf Smith County Museum will observe its regular hours.

The U.S. Postal Service will not make residential or business mail deliveries. Mail will not be distributed for postal box patrons.

The deadlines for advertising copy for Tuesday's issue of The Hereford Brand also have been changed to accommodate the holiday schedule. Deadlines for Tuesday classified advertising is 3 p.m. today, while the display advertising deadline is 5 p.m. today.

Also, drivers, beware! As you cruise the streets of Hereford over the Labor Day weekend, be sure to buckle up. And, put your children in child safety seats.

The Hereford Police Department will once again implement the STEP program for the coming holiday weekend.

STEP is a zero-tolerance policy on seat belts, child safety seats and unrestrained children.

The program will begin Saturday and will run through Tuesday, according to Hereford Police Lt. Bennie Barrick.

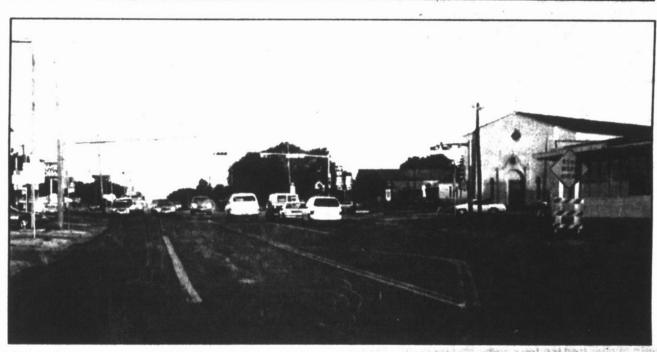

'We are running at 83 percent compliance with seat belt usage, which is above the state level. But the use of child safety seats is still a little below the state level," Barrick said.

As in the past, extra officers will be on patrol specifically to check for the use of seat belts and safety seats.

Barrick said the STEP program is endorsed by the Deaf Smith County District Attorney's Office, the Deaf Smith County Hospital District and the Hereford Independent School District.

The purpose of the STEP program is not to raise revenue, but to help prevent accidents with injuries related to the proper use of seat belts and child safety seats, Barrick said.

In other holiday developments, the Texas Department of Public Safety will begin monitoring holiday traffic conditions at 6 p.m. today and continue through midnight Monday. All available troopers will be on the state's highways in an effort to reduce the traffic death toll during the 78-hour period, said Senior Trooper Wayne Beighle, public information officer for the Texas Department of Public Safety.

Traffic headaches ahead

Motorists traveling east and west on Park Avenue will find their drive to be a bit more difficult next week. The two lanes on the northside of the street will be closed beginning Tuesday so that Texas Department of Transportation crews can begin doing concrete work and paving at the intersection of Park Avenue and U.S. Hwy. 385 (25 Mile Avenue). All eastbound and westbound traffic will be rerouted to the south lanes, limiting Park Avenue to one lane in each direction, according to Daniel McSaul of the TxDOT Canyon Area Engineer's Office. The work, which is part of the U.S. 385 reconditioning project, should last about two weeks,

Anderson's waiting on ashes offer

David Anderson is still waiting to find out if his offer to scatter a man's ashes on his farm between Hereford and Vega will be accepted.

Anderson, owmer-manager of Parkside Chapel in Hereford, said this morning that he is waiting on the family of Clarence Anderson to sign a release that will allow him to carry out the wishes of the man, whose remains were found Monday in a dumpster at an Interstate 40 rest stop in Carson County.

Clarence Anderson's family lives in California.

According to news reports, Carson County Sheriff Loren Brand said the man's aunt refuses to take the ashes back, while his uncle insists that he wants them back.

The uncle, Norman Buchere of Pittsburg, Calif., reportedly said the cremated remains were given to a man who said he would scatter the ashes in Texas, which Clarence Anderson had indicated he wanted.

Meanwhile, David Anderson read of the situation and offered to help - weeks of premiums."

Americans are highly suspicious of the proposed tobacco deal, saying it won't even achieve a prime objective of lowering teen-age smoking unless cigarette prices rise much more than expected, according to an Associated Press poll.

More than half of those surveyed say the deal is not worth giving up the key concession that cigarette makers demand - banning class-action lawsuits. And two-thirds expect tobacco companies to sell as many cigarettes as ever.

Seventy percent say the price of a pack of cigarettes would have to rise by more than $1 - much more than expected under the deal - to have much effect on teen smokers. Congress and President Clinton begin grappling with the proposed deal next month, and such poll findings are bound to figure in the "This reflects a huge amount of 'The American people have it right: They're not against a settlement, they're against a bad settlement," Sen. Frank Lautenberg, D-N.J., said in a statement. "It's exactly this kind of public opposition to the deal that's going to force Congress to make significant changes.'

The proposed deal would settle state lawsuits against tobacco companies by setting new national policy. Companies would pay $368.5 billion over 25 years, curb advertising and marketing and pay fines if teen smoking doesn't fall significantly. In return, they won the class-action ban and other legal protections, plus restrictions on pending government control over nicotine.

again, and tobacco wins."

Clinton has said he will stiffen the deal, including a demand for full government nicotine regulation. The AP's telephone poll of 1,003 adults, percent of Americans support such regulation, including 54 percent of

An additional 54 percent said a deal isn't worth the class-action lawsuit ban. But the smokers who would file such suits were split evenly: 39.5 percent said a deal was worth that concession vs. 41 percent going so far that tobacco companies who said it wasn't.

The poll was done by ICR Survey Research Group of Media, Pa. The margin of error is plus or minus 3 percentage points.

The deal is expected to force cigarette companies to raise prices by 62 cents a pack. Currently, the cost of a pack averages $1.74, including tax. A key question is whether that increase would cut teen smoking.

Eight in 10 Americans said a jump of even 75 cents is insufficient to do that. Seventy percent said prices would have to rise more than $1 a pack to curb teen smokers significantly - including 61 percent of the smokers whose wallets would be hit. "The poll appears to be in accordance with the best evidence," said Massachusetts Institute of Technology economist Jeffrey Harris.

His calculations indicate prices would have to rise between $1.15 and $1.50 a pack to reduce teen smoking by the amounts the deal requires roughly 30 percent over five years.

But Harris cautioned that public perceptions are a little too cynical cigarette sales would drop some under the deal. Every 10 percent increase in price would lower the number of cigarettes sold by 4 percent, his calculations indicate. Half of that drop comes from people who kick the habit, the rest from people who just smoke less.

In other words, raising prices the expected 62 cents would lower U.S. cigarette consumption from 24 billion packs a year to about 20.8 billion packs - and cut the overall number of smokers by 3.5 million to 4 million, Harris said

The American Medical Association, a chief lobbying force behind the deal, has called for a $1 a pack increase. The AP's poll found 10.4 percent of Americans, and 14 percent of smokers, think that would be enough.

Americans traditionally consume 57.5 million pounds per day, or nearly a quarter-pound for every person in the country, over the Labor Day weekend. That's 20 percent more beef than the average daily consumption of 46 million pounds.

Beef sales in stores across the country have remained strong in spite of the E. coli outbreak that sickened more than a dozen people this month in Colorado, said Timothy Hammonds, president of Food Marketing Institute, an association of 15,000 supermarkets.

Retailers are not cutting prices on beef any more than a usual holiday weekend, Hammonds said. Prices for beef products have remained about the same as last year, according to the National Cattlemen's Beef Associaan electrical contractor from Edgewood, N.M., who was having lunch Thursday at a Blake's Lota Burger in Albuquerque. "I would be more concerned about being struck by lightning. I think more people die from lightning and bumble-bee stings than from eating a bad hamburger," said DeBuck, chomping into his burger.

In New Orleans, Ira Hayes stocked up for the weekend at a local grocery.

"I've given some thought to it but I've got to eat meat," Hayes said. "I've got to have it. I'll just make sure it's well done and hope for the Hammonds said the recall has made consumers more aware about how to safely cook meat.

"I think people do understand that ground beef needs to be properly cooked and if it is properly cooked it kills the E. coli bacteria," he said. Food safety experts recommend cooking ground beef to 160 degrees to kill the bacteria. Burger King, which saw sales drop after the scare, is heading into the Labor Day weekend hoping meat lovers will go for the new Big King sandwich it introduced Thursday. It has 75 percent more beef than the Big

Last week, Burger King pulled all the hamburger meat supplied by Hudson Foods from its stores and said it would no longer buy beef from the Arkansas-based company. Spokesman David Nixon said sales still trail pre-recall levels.

But for many, beef will definitely be on the grill this weekend.

"They're going to look at the meat, poke it, smell it, and they're going to buy it," said Renold Jackson, who works in the meat department at a Schwegmann supermarket in New Orleans. "And they're going to hope to God that it don't kill them."

MISSING VICTIM ID'D

SAN ANTONIO (AP) - Human bones unearthed behind a San Antonio house have been identified by DNA testing as those of the missing woman who lived there and three other people, police said.

Among the bone pieces found in the home's backyard over a period of several weeks are some that belonged to Monika Rizzo, 44, who has been missing since May, said Deputy Police Chief Albert Ortiz.

Identities of the other three people have not been determined. Police have steered clear of saying the human remains are the work of a serial killer. But Ortiz spoke Thursday of a possible scenario. "I don't think that it was just someone that showed up at the house and somehow or another got into a rage. I think this is calculated," Ortiz said.

CANCER RESEARCHERS TO TEST GREEN TEA HOUSTON (AP) - Cancer experts at the Texas Medical Center hope a new study proves green tea helps to fight and prevent the disease.

Tests on laboratory animals and studies of people in Japan and China, where green tea is popular, support the idea that it can postpone or even prevent cancer development, said Dr. Waun Ki Hong of the University of Texas M.D. Anderson Cancer Center.

The epidemiologic studies are interesting," said Hong, chairman of the thoracic and head/neck cancer medical oncology department and a pioneer in the use of chemicals to prevent cancer.

"In Japan, people who drink green tea have a delayed occurrence of cancer compared to those who don't drink it."

A study in Shanghai, China, cited in a recent issue of the Nutrition Research Newsletter, showed green tea drinkers statistically had significant reductions in the risk of developing rectal and pancreatic cancers.

MEXICO DENOUNCES U.S. BORDER CRACKDOWN SAN ANTONIO (AP) - The Operation Rio Grande crackdown on illegal immigration along the border could lead to human rights abuses, Mexican consuls from throughout South Texas are warning.

"That's our main concern. ... We are worried about what kind of effects measures such as these might have and the general atmosphere at the border," said Enrique Loacza Tovar, Mexico's coordinator of consular affairs.

Loaeza began presiding Thursday over a meeting of Mexican consuls called by his country's foreign ministry as Operation Rio Grande got under way this week in Brownsville. The consuls' closed-door meeting continues today.

More Border Patrol agents are now on duty in downtown Brownsville and along a 21/2-mile section of the Rio Grande south of downtown. Although the 10 consuls meeting in San Antonio are not calling for an end to Operation Rio Grande, they said they hope to continue talks with U.S. officials about the impact of the policy.

Voting rights act outdated for Texas

AUSTIN (AP) - Secretary of State Tony Garza, arguing that Texas is a leader in making it easy for people to vote, says the time has come for the state to be freed from some provisions of the federal Voting Rights

TWA flight 800 malfunction still unexplained

NEW YORK (AP) - Ten days of Associated Press on condition of flight tests have bolstered the theory that it was a mechanical malfunction that brought down TWA Flight 800, though what triggered it still remains a mystery to investigators.

Many more tests aimed at pinpointing the cause of the blast were scheduled for the next six months, Bernard Loeb, director of aviation safety for the National Transportation Safety Board, said Thursday.

on Long Island last month, along with tests in England in which explosives were set off, supported the theory that a mechanical malfunction doomed the plane, investigators said. However, authorities have not

Tests conducted on a Boeing 747 ruled out a missile or a bomb as possible causes of the July 17, 1996 explosion, which killed all 230 people

Loeb also said tests done at Kennedy Airport "helped us far more than we ever imagined possible. It was a key step toward finding out the probable cause of this accident."

An investigator who spoke to The anonymity said wreckage left behind from the England tests did not resemble debris from Flight 800, further weakening a theory that a small explosive might have blown up the plane's center fuel tank.

In the Long Island tests, the plane was outfitted with monitors to track temperature, pressure and vibration of different parts of the center fuel tank. Some tests were designed to simulate what happened to TWA Flight 800 before it exploded in the air shortly after takeoff, shattering just above 13,000 feet and falling in a fiery mess to the Atlantic Ocean. In one instance, air conditioning units under the center fuel tank were operated while the plane sat on a hot tarmac, as Flight 800 had when it was delayed before takeoff.

At another point, the test plane duplicated the takeoff of Flight 800. Loeb said the tests "gave us tremendous insight into the volatility of vapors."

Overheated vapors are considered a prime suspect because there were only about 50 gallons of fuel in the tank when the plane took off.

Investigators have worked for a year trying to figure out how the center fuel tank could have exploded.

They have developed several s identifying ignition sources including the possibility that overheated vapors may have been susceptible to faulty wiring, static electricity, a faulty scavenge pump or fuel measuring rods.

raiser for a senator determined to undo the Wright Amendment.

Southwest chief executive Herb Kelleher this week attended a Dallas fund raiser organized by Sen. Richard Shelby, who is chairman of the Senate transportation appropriations subcommittee.

Shelby issued a statement on the day of the fund raiser promising he'd work to repeal the Wright Amendment. The Alabama Republican termed the flight restrictions "obscure, oppressive and outdated."

Kelleher's attendance wasn't linked to Shelby's effort to eliminate the flight restrictions, Southwest spokeswoman Linda Rutherford said Thursday.

"It was coincidental," she said. 'We remain passionately neutral about the Wright Amendment."

A check of campaign finance records shows Kelleher has given more than $85,000 in contributions to congressional candidates and Democratic and Republican party committees since 1993, including $1,000 to Shelby last year.

The Wright Amendment, perennially under attack from out-of-state politicians, is likely to be altered at some future date, Sen. Phil. Gramm, R-Texas, conceded this week. Gramm favors leaving the flight restrictions in place.

'The tempo of the attacks on the Wright Amendment are increasing," Gramm spokesman Larry Neal said Thursday. "That's just a fact of life."

The federal restrictions bar nonstop commercial flights from Love Field beyond Texas and its four adjoining states. Critics contend the measure inhibits competition and deprives travelers outside the five-state area from full access to Love Field, home to low-fare Southwest.

of the nation's busiest airports,

Shelby and other amendment foes argue the need for the law has long passed. Travelers are penalized by higher fares into Dallas, they say. Nearly 65 percent of 605 registered voters in Dallas and Tarrant counties believe the Wright Amendment should be repealed, according to a poll released Thursday by the Association for Sensible Aviation Policy, formerly The Friends of Love Field. The study's margin of error is less than 3.5 percentage points. Hereford team delivers message of hope

A Hereford team delivered medicines and supplies along with a message of hope to Romania this summer. The group of five from the Hereford Church of the Nazarene worked as an evangelistic team for two weeks.

The team consisted of Priscilla Power, fifth grade teacher from facilities was very run down and the people looked malnourished and neglected. They were thrilled to receive the orange juice," Pastor Taylor said.

As a part of their mission, the team worked in a nursing home, delivering case of antibiotics which were badly needed and are completely cost prohibitive in a country where the month's salary is under $70, according to Taylor.

The medicine will be distributed by a Christian pharmacist to people who have prescriptions but cannot afford to have them filled.

The team flew to Budapest,

Hungary via London, and then traveled by train to Arad, Romania. "Romania is one of the poorest countries in Europe. It is a lot like stepping back in time to the 1930's,"

Taylor said. Whitfill led a revival and youth revival in the town of Pecica (about the population of Hereford).

Davis worked in the mountain village of Baile Herculane showing the "Jesus" film, preaching and working construction on a church building there.

The Taylors and Power shared in various churches and youth meetings in and around Arad.

"The Romanian evangelical churches are alive and growing, Taylor said. Arad is a city the size of Lubbock and 15 percent of the residents are in Sunday school on Sunday mornings.

That is a better percentage than in Hereford, he said. The people are very poor but are hungry to know about Jesus.

Pastor T.T. Bulzan, coordinator of the efforts in Romania, has worked as a translator for Billy Graham and is the General Secretary of the Evangelical Alliance of Romania.

According to Taylor, Bulzan is planning a trip to the United States in November and will visit Hereford at that time. He will speak at the Church of the Nazarene on Nov. 9 in

Ann Landers

Dear Ann Landers: Last year, you printed a column about the importance of the PSA test in diagnosing prostate cancer. Would you please run it again? It may come in handy for men of a certain age. --Faithful Reader in Kansas City

Dear Faithful Reader: Thank you for asking. Here it is: Dear Ann Landers: I've been a ongtime reader of your column and now find I have something that may be of interest to you and your readers. It may save lives.

About five years ago, I was having urinary problems. I went to the family doctor, who gave me the routine digital rectal exam and said there was nothing wrong -- it was merely my

After several months, the problem was getting worse, so I went to see the doctor again. He gave me another rectal exam and said nothing was wrong. I asked if I should see a urologist, but the doctor said it would be a waste of time and money. I insisted that he recommend one anyway and made an appointment. The urologist gave me a PSA test along with a digital exam. The PSA showed that there might be a problem, so the urologist gave me an ultrasound and biopsied the five suspicious areas. All were malignant, and the following week, I had a complete prostate removal. When I asked the urologist why the digital exam showed nothing, he said it was accurate only 50 percent of the time.

A college friend of mine contacted me after learning of my surgery, and I told him what had happened. He had gone to his doctor some years before with the same complaint and received the same answer -- old age. After I told him about my experience, he went to a urologist and found that he, too, had malignancies. Unfortunately, he had waited too long, and the removal of his prostate and surrounding lymph glands did not stop the cancer. I just learned that he is terminal, cannot walk and is in severe

How many thousands of men die each year from prostate cancer because they trust an ordinary doctor's reliance on the conventional digital exam, not realizing that it is only 50 percent accurate? Please, Ann, tell your readers if a man is having urinary problems, particularly if he is over 60, he should go immediately to a urologist and find out for certain. -- No Name, No State

Dear N.N.: I have dealt with this problem in the column before and received an astonishing number of letters from men (and their wives) relating similar experiences. While a competent general practitioner should be able to diagnose the problem, I agree that one who specializes in urology is a safer bet.

Dear Ann Landers: Can you stand one more letter on the ignorance of people who know nothing about other countries? Such gnorance is not restricted to citizens of the United States.

I lived in Buenos Aires, Argentina, in the early 1970s. A local woman complained to me about the ignorance of North Americans when it came to her country and about South America in general. She said U.S. citizens thought Buenos Aires was in Brazil and Rio de Janeiro was in Argentina and had no idea which country spoke Portuguese and which spoke Spanish.

She then said that in spite of all this, she looked forward to visiting the United States, particularly our beautiful capital city of Boston. I could not resist pointing out that our capital was Washington, D.C. "Oh," she said in Spanish, with a perfectly straight face. "When did they move it?" -- Been There, Heard That, in

Dear Been There: In fact, the capital of the United States was Philadelphia until 1800, when it was moved to Washington, D.C. It seems to me that the capitals of other countries have been moved as well. Educate me, please.

Your kids will love our Missionettes and Royal Rangers programs (scouting programs for girls and boys). They meet each Tuesday from 7-8:15 p.m. They have campouts, sleepovers, earn badges, do crafts, and much more, yet are distinctly Christ-centered.

On Wednesday night is our dynamic prayer and Bible service characterized by praise and worship, followed by indepth teaching from the word of God. Since all Christians are to represent Christ daily, a midweek service is beneficial to "recharge" for the remainder of the week. The service starts at 7 p.m.

While the adults enjoy the Wednesday night service in the sanctuary, the youth gather in the Fellowship Hall for their own Youth Service (at 7 p.m.) where they study the Word, praise, have sports and refreshments. Your youth will enjoy the company of this on-fire group.

FELLOWSHIP OF BELIEVERS

On Sunday, in a sermon entitled, "The Mystery of Evil" (Ephesians 6:10-20), Pastor Nathan L. Stone asks a number of questions. How visible is evil and where does one go to watch it? Is there such a thing as group or institutional evil? Was Flip Wilson's "Geraldine" correct in her conclusion that the devil made her do it? And what is this business about the devil? If one of the marks of evil is its subtle selfdeception how can one even begin to "see" while "blind"?

The Fellowship of Believers is an interdenominational church, inclusive and seeking to understand and value all human beings in their journey of faith and search for truth. This is a thinking, feeling and healing community. An honest sense of one's brokenness is a prerequisite to feeling comfortable in this community. Laughter and humor are two important medicines at FOB. Sunday worship begins at 10:30 a.m. and concludes before 11:30 a.m. Our guest pianist in Mary Thomas

An informal, open-discussion group (of all ages) called "Forum" meets at 9:30 a.m. to dialogue about a variety of subjects relevant to being a Christian on the eve of the 21st century.

A supervised nursery is available for both services.

Fellowship of Believers is located at 245 North Kingwood (at Moreman). For transportation to the services phone

Cowboys remain 'America's Team' among nation's gamblers

By DAVE GOLDBERG AP Football Writer

America loves the Dallas Cowboys. America hates the Dallas Cowboys.

But America always bets on them. How else to explain the Cowboys going from 11/2-point favorites to 3-point favorites for their opener at Pittsburgh Sunday. Maybe Kordell Stewart's sore knee is raising questions, although it doesn't appear to be a problem. Bill Cowher cut Jim Miller last week, a demonstration that Stewart's set at quarterback.

This is a replay of the Super Bowl from 19 months ago, but the cast of characters is different. Ten of the 22 Steelers who started that game are gone, and so is the Cowboys' Larry Brown, the MVP, who now is a $12.5 million backup in Oakland.

Despite Barry Switzer's arrest with a loaded pistol at Dallas-Fort Worth Airport and the trashing of the dorms at their training camp, the Cowboys feel they had a good preseason. "Believe it or not, there are good NACOGDOCHES (AP) - Mikheal Ricks hauled in touchdown passes of 77 and 50 yards to lead Stephen F. Austin to a 35-17 victory over West Texas A&M.

Quarterback Peyton Jones threw a 77-yard scoring pass to Ricks in the first quarter and quarterback Travis Fallon hit Ricks on a 50-yard scoring toss in the second quarter Thursday night. Fallon also connected with Richard Daniels on a 34-yard scoring pass in the closing seconds of the second quarter to give SFA a 21-7 halftime lead.

Fallon completed 7-13 passes for 156 and Jones hit 8-11 for 92 yards for the Lumberjacks.

Running back KaRon Coleman threw a 38-yard scoring pass to to Zack Woods in the third quarter and scored on a 17-yard run for the Lumberjacks in the fourth quarter.

West Texas quarterback Gary Thomas, who hit 8-10 passes for 114 yards, connected with Kory Jones on a 39-yard scoring play in the fourth quarter.

More important than the Cowboys' decorum is Emmitt Smith's ankle is healthy, and the team as a whole appears more dedicated than it was in last year's lackluster season.

Most important on Sunday? Perhaps the fact that the Steelers are breaking in three new cornerbacks and Aikman is likely to be picking regularly on Chad Scott, the No. 1 draft pick, who will start in Rod Woodson's spot at cornerback.

BENEFIT GOLF TOURNAMENT SET

Area golfers can enjoy tournament competition and help out a dying oungster at the same time by participating in the 1997 Heifer and Bull ournament at John Pitman Municipal Golf Course next week.

The tournament, which benefits the Make-a-Wish Foundation, will feature couples scramble with shotgun starts at 8:30 a.m. and 2 p.m. Sept. 6-7. The tournament will wind up with a meal and auction, open to golfers and the public alike. The meal and auction will begin about 7 p.m. at the Knights of Columbus Hall, located on Country Club Road. The meal costs $7 per person. The auction will feature many donated items, including 1,000 free minutes - 16.67 hours - of long-distance telephone calling time.

The entry fee is $160 per team, which includes a cart, drawings for door prizes and goodie bags. The field is limited to the first 80 paid teams.

The tournament also will give prizes for the longest drive, closest to the pin, and straightest drive.

There will be eight flights of 10 teams competing for a $400 first-place prize. Other prizes are $250 per team, second place, and $170, third place.

Steak-on-a-stick, prepared by the Hereford Cattlewomen, will be available both days - for a donation to Make-a-Wish.

A putting contest will begin at 6 p.m. Sept. 5. Golfers also can get in a free practice round during the afternoon of Sept. 5.

Entries may be made at the golf course or mailed to John Pitman Municipal Golf Course, P.O. Box 2277, Hereford 79045. Checks for entry fee should be made payable to the John Pitman Golf Course Association. HEREFORD COWBOY TOP MONEY WINNER

First NL win is garnered against AL team

By The Associated Press
This interleague stuff is still causing some confusion, it seems.
Shortly after Paul Menhart pitched the San Diego Padres past the Anaheim Angels 9-2 Thursday, he had a serious question.
"This doesn't count as a National League win does it?" he asked

It did, meaning Menhart got credit

- The largest crowd in Coors Field history, a total of 50,269, saw Colorado beat Seattle 9-5. Andres Galarraga of the Rockies hit a 487-foot homer, the longest in the ballpark's three seasons.

- A rare catcher's interference call arted a seven-rally in the ninth inning against Rod Beck that led Texas over San Francisco 11-5.

 Los Angeles stole seven bases, all of them in the first five innings, in a 7-1 victory over Oakland.

By the end of the evening, this year's AL-NL series stood even at 67-67. All 28 teams were scheduled for interleague action tonight.

Rangers 11, Giants 5 San Francisco closer Rod Beck took a 5-4 lead into the ninth, and appeared to retire Jim Leyritz on a routine grounder to start the inning. But Leyritz was awarded first base because his bat hit the glove of catcher Brian Johnson, keying Texas' comeback at San Francisco.

Juan Gonzalez drew a bases-loaded walk with one out that made it 5-all, and pinch-hitter Mike Simms followed with a three-run wasn't good enough for his 21st win.

"I kept the game close, and guys did some late damage and got us a win. That's what counts," Clemens said after the Toronto Blue Jays beat the Chicago White Sox 3-2 in 11 innings Thursday.

The only 20-game winner in the majors allowed two runs - both unearned - and seven hits in nine nings, struck out seven and lowered his league-leading ERA to 1.73.

A first-inning error by third seman Ed Sprague led to both Chicago runs, and caused the game to go extras,

"I was down and away and up and in when I needed to," Clemens said.

TORONTO (AP) - Roger Clemens pitched another shutout - at least when it came to earned runs. And that "A number of times I got myself into trouble, but was able to pitch my way through it."

In Thursday's only other AL game, Kansas City beat Baltimore 5-1, sending the Orioles to just their second loss in eight games.

Clemens retired 18 consecutive batters before Dave Martinez singled with one out in the eighth. With runners at the corners and one out, Clemens retired Albert Belle on a comebacker, intentionally walked Robin Ventura and struck out Mike Clemens fanned Frank Thomas in the ninth after Chicago loaded the bases with two outs.

Toronto got the winning run in the 11th on a wild pitch.

Klesko finds ways to win

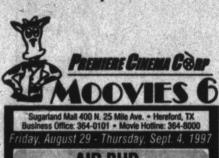

ATLANTA (AP) - Ryan Klesko rediscovered the art of hitting home runs - and he didn't forget an old trick.

Klesko homered for the first time in more than a month Thursday night and once again showed his knack for drawing the catcher's interference call. Both plays were critical as the Atlanta Braves defeated Houston 4-2 to make Denny Neagle the NL's first 18-game winner.

In the fourth, Klesko hit his first homer since July 17, cutting the Astros' lead to 2-1. He had gone 33 games and 102 at-bats without hitting a ball into the seats before driving a 3-1 pitch for his 19th home run.

"I've been in the game long enough to know not to go up there and try to hit a home run," he said. "It's a big park. You have to drive in runs when you can."

In other NL games, St. Louis beat Montreal 11-5 and Chicago defeated Florida 4-3 in 10 innings.

Albright plans Middle East peace mission

WASHINGTON (AP) - With the going to Syria, for instance, to U.S.-backed peace process in tatters, Secretary of State Madeleine Albright is going to the Middle East next month to make sure Arab and Israeli leaders know the Clinton administration remains engaged.

It will be Albright's first trip to the troubled area after seven months on the job, although Albright has noted that she has worked the issues intensively from her State Department desk.

But her predecessors for nearly a quarter-century were avid shuttlers. and Mideast leaders became accustomed to having a secretary of state on the scene regularly, giving Albright little alternative but to make the trip - even though prospects of another Arab-Israeli accord are extremely limited.

U.S. diplomatic efforts this year have focused on trying to reopen talks between Israel and the Palestinian Authority.

Albright intends to sweep wider,

The stop in Damascus was urged by Israel, and talking to President Hafez Assad is crucial if the United States is to deter terrorism and curb violence in Lebanon, said a senior official, who declined to be identi-

The trip, likely to be announced today, would begin in Israel on Sept. 9 and take her to Egypt, Jordan, Syria and Saudi Arabia, U.S. and diplomatic sources, insisting on anonymity, said Thursday. Albright also will meet with Yasser Arafat in Palestinian-controlled territory and may go to Lebanon as well.

There is no indication Albright would conduct shuttle diplomacy between Israeli Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu and Arafat. Her senior adviser, Dennis B. Ross, has done shuttling in the area and found the two sides so deeply at odds that Albright's intervention is unlikely to resolve their differences.

Still, Albright is likely to sound her now-familiar theme that peace talks should be resumed, and on an accelerated schedule. The issues on the table would include Palestinian demands for a state with its capital in Jerusalem and the future of Jewish settlements on land the Arabs claim is theirs.

She also has promised direct U.S.

participation in any negotiations. Israel has made peace with Egypt and Jordan, but Albright wants to confirm by her presence the U.S. view that agreements should not only be documents, but also a prescription for a warm peace.

Syria, meanwhile, remains hotly at odds with Israel, whose U.S. ambassador, Eliahu Ben-Elissar, recently said was making war preparations.

Warren Christopher, Albright's immediate predecessor, made 24 trips to Damascus but was unable to set up Syrian negotiations with Israel - despite there being a Labor govern-ment in Jerusalem inclined to yield to Assad's insistence that Israel turn over the Golan Heights, a security belt on the border that Syria lost in the 1967 Mideast war.

Netanyahu and his tough-minded Cabinet are determined to hold on to at least some of the land. And they also have ruled out sharing Jerusalem with the Palestinians or blocking Jews from living on the West Bank or in Albright said last month she intended to go the region, but insisted that the security situation must be improved.

Ross arranged on his trip two weeks ago for Israel and the Palestinian Authority to step up their cooperation to deter terrorism, with U.S. intelligence officials participating in their meetings. And on Wednesday, in a concession, Netanyahu ended a siege of Arab-dominated Bethlehem on the West Bank.

MARLA GIBBS LOS ANGELES (AP) - Maria Gibbs says her vision for a theater didn't pan out, and the venture cost her about $2.5 million.

"I had a vision and I just wasn't able to complete it," a dejected Gibbs said Wednesday.

Gibbs, who co-starred on the television sitcoms "The Jeffersons" and "227," lost her Vision Theater Complex in June, after a fund-raising effort failed to raise enough money to retire about $250,000 in bank debt. She estimated she lost about $2.5 million on the complex.

Since 1990, the 1,000-seat theater has played host to a variety of people, including Hillary Rodham Clinton, Nation of Islam Minister Louis Farrakhan, poet Maya Angelou and singer Nancy Wilson.

NASA astronaut Michael Foale needs to be thoroughly prepared he trained in a Russian spacesuit back on Earth, Manshilina said.

NASA has not yet given formal permission for Foale to accompany Mir commander Anatoly Solovyov on the walkout, but Russian space officials are proceeding as if Foale will take part.

A training session in spacesuits for Solovyov and Foale also was postponed from Monday until Tuesday, Manshilina said.

"Michael needs to have one more training session, and the crew must finish many other things," said Valery Ryumin, the Russian coordinator of the Mir-NASA program.

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) The government today invited the IRA-allied Sinn Fein party to join talks on the future of Northern Ireland, saying the IRA's five-week-old cease-fire is proof of Sinn Fein's commitment to peace.

"I am satisfied there has been a cessation of IRA attacks," Northern Ireland Secretary Mo Mowlam said, adding that she had written to invite the Sinn Fein party to enter the negotiations. The party will formally enter the talks on Sept. 9, she said.

In a June letter to Sinn Fein, Mowlam said it could take part in talks within eight weeks of a renewed Irish Republican Army cease-fire. The IRA began observing a truce in its campaign against British rule of Northern Ireland on July 20, and since then no bombings or shootings have been attributed to the outlawed

"I have reached this decision after careful consideration of all the circumstances," Mowlam said. "I have considered carefully all of the evidence available to me about the because it has been a long time since restoration of the IRA cease-fire and about Sinn Fein's commitment to exclusively peaceful methods and their wish to abide by the democratic process."

The IRA's previous cease-fire lasted from Sept. 1, 1994, until Feb. 9, 1996.

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif (AP) -Fred Goldman's lawyer gave up his legal fight to seize O.J. Simpson's $4 million pension, admitting it is protected by law, and a judge washed his hands of considering the issue further.

"I don't need another motion," Superior Court Judge Irving Shimer told lawyers Thursday. "As far as I'm concerned, I have nothing more with you people."

Shimer told Goldman's lawyer, Gary Caris, not to expect reconsideration if he comes up with new facts about the pension situation. 'What do you think this is salami," Shimer barked, "that you can slice it as suits your purposes and come back here again and again?"

The judge also issued an injunction preventing dispersal of Simpson's assets to creditors until it's decided who has first claim on the proceeds.

Lawyers said this effectively stops plans for an auction of possessions taken from Simpson's house.

ED KOCH

NEW YORK (AP) Ed Koch, the mayor-turned-TV judge, awarded $1,500 to the owner of Babette _ the California Chihuahua that became a snack for a runaway boa constrictor.

The decision, reached Thursday during a taping of "The People's Court," was a partial victory for Flossie Torgerson, whose tiny pet pooch was eaten Aug. 9 by Angus Johnson's 71/2-foot snake. Mrs. Torgerson had sought $5,000 for Babette's value and emotional

"I awarded her the value of the dog," explained Koch, who has replaced Judge Joseph Wapner on a new version of the syndicated show. "Under California law, there is no compensation for bereavement over a dead dog."

Johnson had countersued for defamation of character. Both sides agreed to let Koch, the former New York mayor, settle the dispute and were flown to Manhattan by the show.

Koch concluded that Johnson was negligent in letting his snake _ Alissss _ slither out the door of his home. Johnson was given until Saturday to find the boa a new home outside Los Angeles.

The new "People's Court," makes Thursday. Stern was on vacation and

MORTON DOWNEY JR.
CLEVELAND (AP) _ Morton
Downey Jr., once a chain-smoking talk show host, is fuming over claims that he has started smoking again.

He even quit his call-in radio talk show to work full-time on suing the subject of his wrath: shock-jock Howard Stern. In a recent letter to WTAM, Downey said Stern had falsely accused him of smoking.

"He hasn't picked up a cigarette," Downey's publicist, Les Schecter, said Thursday. "He very much fears this will iconserdize his credibility." this will jeopardize his credibility."

As host of television's syndicated The Morton Downey Jr. Show" in the late 1980s, Downey, 64, usually had a cigarette in his hand. Sometimes he blew smoke at guests.

He quit the habit and became an outspoken critic of smoking after he had a cancerous tumor and part of his right lung removed in July 1996.

Schecter said a newspaper columnist_who later ran a correction had reported that Downey had started smoking again. Schecter said Stern referred to the original column and criticized Downey.

Downey declined comment

GARTH STORE

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) _ The Garth Store is soon to be no more. The downtown retail shop devoted to singer Garth Brooks will close Sunday rather than pay a rent increase. Until then, shoppers can pick up Garth T-shirts, key chains, mugs, jackets and the like for 25 percent off the original prices.

Brooks himself is not closely involved with the store, said owner Elaina Gustat.

Gustat, who obtained exclusive licensing rights to produce the Garth goods for retail sales, said lagging winter sales made it unfeasible to pay a rent increase.

STEVEN SEAGAL

BOZEMAN, Mont. (AP)_Steven Seagal is looking for a few good men to get roughed up in his new movie.

Casting agents are scouting talent for "The Patriot," to be filmed in September near Ennis. About 40 men ages 18 to 60 are needed.

"Most of them will be in scenes with him," casting agent Tina Buckingham said in Thursday's Bozeman Daily Chronicle.

There are no speaking roles for women, other than an "old, lean, weathered, ranch woman," she said.

Today in History

By The Associated Press
Today is Friday, Aug. 29, the 241st day of 1997. There are 124 days left in the year.

Today's Highlight in History:
On Aug. 29, 1944, 15,000
American troops marched down the Champs Elysees in Paris as the French capital continued to celebrate its liberation from the Nazis.

On this date: In 1533, the last Incan King of Peru, Atahualpa, was murdered on orders from Spanish conqueror Francisco Pizarro.

In 1632, English philosopher John Locke was born in Somerset.

In 1877, the second president of the Mormon Church, Brigham

Young, died in Salt Lake City, Utah. In 1896, the Chinese-American dish chop suey was invented in New York City by the chef to visiting Chinese Ambassador Li Hung-chang.

In 1965, Gemini 5, carrying astronauts Gordon Cooper and Charles ("Pete") Conrad, splashed down in the Atlantic after eight days

In 1966, the Beatles concluded their fourth American tour with their last public concert, at Candlestick Park in San Francisco.

In 1975, Irish statesman Eamon de Valera died near Dublin at age 92.

This is a dramatized version of facts taken from the Book of Esther, intending to show some of the customs of these ancient and traditional times.

EVIL HAMAN

HAMAN'S DELIGHT KNOWS NO BOUNDS WHEN HE IS INVITED TO A PRIVATE BANQUET, WITH THE KING, BY QUEEN ESTHER-NOW AS HE LEAVES THE PALACE...

ALL THESE GREAT THINGS THAT ARE HAPPENING TO ME!

NOW HAMAN TELLS THEM OF ALL
THE GLORY AND THE RICHES BESTOWED ON HIM BY THE
KING—HOW QUEEN ESTHER HAS INVITED ONLY HAMAN AND
THE KING TO A BANQUET—BUT HIS GREAT JOY IS DIMMED
WHENEVER UP SEES MODDECAL WHENEVER HE SEES MORDECAL THE JEW, REFUSE TO BOW DOWN AND DO REVERENCE TO HIM, WHICH IS CERTAINLY DUE A MAN OF HIS GREAT POSITION!

Writing Want Ads that really sell!

Unsure how to write a Classified Ad that will get results? Follow these pointers and you'll soon have an empty space in your storage room and cash in your pocket.

For starters, look at ads which offer the same item/ products. Get a sense of going rates and ideas for how to make your ad stand out. Once you're ready to write, begin with exactly what you're selling: "Dining room set, maple, six chairs." Then, remember these hints:

-Give the price. A newspaper consultant says 70 percent of classified readers won't respond to an ad with no

-- Use key words to describe what you're selling. The key words for a car are make, model, year, body style, color, mileage and price. If it's a house, key words are location, type of construction, number of bedrooms and baths, and condi-

-- Don't use abbreviations. It's tempting to abbreviate and save money if ads are billed by the line. Brand ads are billed by the words, so spell them out so readers won't be confused trying to figure out abbreviations.

- Don't be misleading. Think accurate and factual when you write. Be sure to include a phone number and the best times to reach you.

The Silicon Valley segment details the pros and cons of part-time workers who have the freedom to jump from job to job and the burden of going without benefits or security in case of an economic slump. "The Excellence Files" presents an alluring work world, one of enlightened employers and empow-ered workers. Many of the companies featured were on Fortune magazine's "most admired" list, voted by managers nationwide, says executive producer Sam Tyler.

These leading-edge companies share a fresh perspective, he says.

"Employers in America are realizing that after this era of downsizing and after this era of reduced budgets, the worker represents a whole new way to differentiate and define a company,
