Letters to Santa

The Hereford Brand will publish its annual "Christmas Greeting Edition" on Sunday, Dec. 21.

To help Santa Claus, who has a busy schedule, The Brand will include "Letters to Santa" in the special edition.

School classes may submit letters as a project, or children may send individual letters of their own. Some may want to add a hand-drawn picture of Santa.

If you're a little old to be asking Santa for gifts, we invite youngsters (of all ages) to submit an essay about their most memorable Christmas, what Christmas means to them, or another holiday topic.

Essays should be no more than 200 words. They should be neatly printed or typed. The best of the essays will be published in the special "Greeter" edition of the newspaper along with the Santa Letters.

Letters and essays may be delivered to The Brand, 313 N. Lee, or mailed to P.O. Box 673, Hereford 79045.

The deadline for submitting letters is Dec. 10.

UW's campaign achieves 89 percent of its 1997 goal

With pledges still coming in, the Deaf Smith County United Way is at 89 percent of its 1997 goal, which puts it ahead of last year's pace. As of Nov. 14, the campaign has raised $117,780.75 toward its goal of $132,000.

The agriculture industry has achieved the highest percentage above its goal, hitting 120 percent with pledges of $2,390.

Commerce has brought in 118 percent of its goal with $7,075.61 and the seniors met their goals plus 16 percent with $8,135.50.

The PACE organization and the feedlots have met their goals with 101 and 100 percent contributions, respectively. PACE has contributed $61,483.37; feedlots have kicked in $8,035.

Other contributors include corporate, $1,688 (84 percent); business and industry, $17,964.42 (75 percent); non-profit, $2,880.17 (74 percent); F.I.R.E., $3,640 (73 percent);

Also, public and federal organizations, $1,908.68 (35 percent); and professional organizations, $2,580 (32 percent).

At the same point last year, the agency had raised $100,653, or 76 percent of its $132,000 goal.

UW executive director Karen Sherrod expressed gratitude to the volunteers and contributors who care enough about the community to reach these extra challenges.

Preparing for preview

Christmas trees in varying stages of decoration fill the dining hall at Hereford Senior Citizens Center as time approaches for Preview Night from 5 p.m. to 8 p.m. Wednesday during the Festival of Trees. Anyone who would like to bid on one of the decorated trees or wreaths but will be unable to attend the auction Friday is invited to place their bid at the Senior Center during Preview Night.

Inflation rate shows slight increase

WASHINGTON (AP) - Consumer prices edged up a modest 0.2 percent in October, matching the inflation rate of the previous three months as energy prices posted the smallest gain since July.

The slight advance in today's Labor Department Consumer Price Index, which had been expected, continued a yearlong benign trend.

For the first 10 months of 1997, the Consumer Price Index has risen at an annual rate of just 1.8 percent, compared to a 3.3 percent increase during 1996.

Economist Stuart G. Hoffman of the PNC Band Corp. in Pittsburgh, said the report shows price increases for goods are "pretty close to zero, pretty close to price stability. We've done a very good job getting to price stability for goods and very good job bringing service prices lower."

While the inflation numbers were in line with expectations, a separate report on business inventories was a bit stronger than anticipated, pushing bond market yields higher from nearly a two-year low. Yields on 30-year Treasury bonds rose to 6.07 percent this morning from late Monday's level of 6.06 percent.

The stock market was mixed. The Dow Jones industrial average, which shot up 126 points Monday, added another 13.26 shortly after today's opening, rising to 7711.48. Other indexes lost ground.

Last week the government reported that wholesale prices had edged up just 0.1 percent in October, suggesting little price pressures in the pipeline.

CITY Local auto dealers win bids

By DONALD M. COOPER
Brand Editor

Two local automobile dealerships were big winners when bids were awarded Monday night for city vehicles.

Western Ford's bids for two police patrol units and a cab/chassis for the fire department, and Stevens Chevrolet's bid for two pickup trucks were accepted unanimously by the Hereford City commissioners.

In adopting the 1997-98 city budget, the commissioners allocated $52,370 for the purchase of two new units for the Hereford Police Department. The budgeted amount also included radios and lights bars.

Western Ford of Hereford submitted a bid of $47,646.84 for the two units, which will be delivered within 60-90 days. Western Ford was the only company to submit a bid.

The city also had budgeted $32,000 for a replacement vehicle for Hereford Volunteer Fire Department Booster No. 1.

McCombs Fleet Sales of Austin submitted the lower of two bids, offering a GMC vehicle for $25,949. However, the Austin company did not meet the bid specifications for warranty work to be completed locally. McCombs also had a 90-day delivery time.

Western Ford's bid was $28,162; however, the Hereford company met all specifications for the warranty and pledged to deliver the vehicle with five days after receipt of the order.

In the other vehicle purchase, Stevens Chevrolet of Hereford bid $39,642.60 for two 4x4 pickup trucks,

U.S. RESUMES SURVEILLANCE FLIGHTS; ALLIES WEIGH PROFERRING "CARROT"

WASHINGTON (AP) - The United States resumed U-2 surveillance flights over Iraq today while the Clinton administration and its allies were weighing increased humanitarian aid to Iraq if Saddam Hussein allows U.S. weapons inspectors to return.

A U.S. pilot flew a high-altitude surveillance mission over Iraq today without incident, said a Pentagon official who spoke on condition of anonymity.

The flight was the second U.N.-sponsored U-2 mission by the United States on behalf of international weapons inspections since Saddam threatened to expel U.S. inspectors, but the first since he actually kicked the inspectors out of the country last week.

President Clinton called off a trip to the Camp David presidential retreat to consult with his national security advisers today on the standoff with Iraq.

"Iraq first has to let these inspectors back in to do their job. But we're not ruling any options out, including the military one," William Richardson, U.S. Ambassador to the United Nations, said today on ABC's "Good Morning America."

A U.S. proposal to increase aid to Iraq in exchange for a return of the inspectors was described by an official accompanying Secretary of State Madeleine Albright in Pakistan as "a little carrot" for Saddam, providing an incentive for him to end the standoff and help his people at the same time.

The British and French have been consulted, said the official, who briefed reporters on condition he not be identified.

LABOR, MANAGEMENT JOINING FORCES IN OPPOSITION TO GLOBAL WARMING PACT

ROANOKE, Va. (AP) - The United Mine Workers and leaders of the coal, electric and railroad industries have reached a rare consensus to oppose ratification of the proposed global climate treaty.

"I'm reminded of what (former UMW president) John L. Lewis once said - that you sometimes have to hold hands with the devil to get across the bridge," UMW President Cecil Roberts said Monday at a Virginia Coal Council conference.

The union and a group of industry executives agreed Monday to lobby against the proposed treaty. Both sides said the treaty could have a disastrous effect on workers.

Representatives from 160 nations will meet in Kyoto, Japan, next month to work out an agreement among industrial nations on binding reductions in "greenhouse" gases, primarily carbon dioxide. Many scientists think the gases are causing global warming.

Carbon dioxide comes mainly from burning coal and oil, and experts say using less energy and alternative fuels are the keys to reducing emissions.

EGYPTIAN ISLAMIC MILITANT GROUP CLAIMS RESPONSIBILITY FOR TOURIST MASSACRE

LUXOR, Egypt (AP) - Egypt's most powerful Islamic militant group today claimed responsibility for a tourist massacre at an ancient temple, saying it wanted to force the United States to free the imprisoned spiritual leader of the World Trade Center bombers.

Also today, a coroner's report disclosed that some of the 58 tourists killed Monday as they were entering the Hatshepsut Temple were stabbed after they had been shot.

In a statement faxed to The Associated Press, al-Gamaa al-Islamiyya, or the Islamic Group, said its gunmen had not set out to kill the tourists. Rather, the statement said, the attackers were trying to take hostages to use as a bargaining chip with the United States.

Witnesses have not described any such attempt, saying instead that the six gunmen, disguised as police, climbed from their car and immediately fired their automatic rifles at four groups outside the Pharaonic monument.

NEW RULES TO ALLOW SOME MOTORISTS TO DEACTIVATE AUTO AIR BAGS

WASHINGTON (AP) - Nearly a year after President Clinton said any motorist who wished to would be able to deactivate an air bag, federal regulators are allowing only people in higher-risk categories to disable the safety device.

The new government regulation will allow on-off switches for the driver- or passenger-side air bag in vehicles already on the road.

The rule is being issued in response to a public outcry over air bag deaths. High-speed deployments of the safety devices have been blamed for killing 49 children and 38 adults since 1990.

Barry Felrice of the American Automobile Manufacturers Association said the new rule "isn't a recommendation to go out and turn off your air bag."

NEW TECHNOLOGY MAKES INTERNET ACCESSIBLE WITHOUT A COMPUTER

LAS VEGAS (AP) - Who needs a home computer to hook up to the Internet? Suddenly it seems cooler to go online using technology built into a home telephone, television set or even the family car.

Just ask the makers of the latest gizmos angling to take a piece of the Web from the desktop PC. While the technology is still evolving, making Internet access simpler and more portable could help convert the remaining people who have yet to get wired - which is most of us.

The flurry of products, some still in the experimental stage, fought for attention with more than 10,000 new items displayed at the weeklong Comdex show that opened here Monday.

There were plenty of tiny hand-held computers that enable people to go online from remote locations, using wireless modems.

Samsung Electronics has another idea. Its Web Video Phone looks like a fancy home telephone, except it lets people make calls over the Internet while transmitting a live video of themselves.

TEAMSTER PRESIDENT TO FIGHT BAN ON PARTICIPATION IN ELECTION

WASHINGTON (AP) - As his opponent called for him to quit the union, Teamsters President Ron Carey pledged to fight a federal official's ruling barring him from a rerun election.

"I have done nothing wrong and I will fight this decision until it is overturned," Carey said Monday.

Kenneth Conboy, a special adjudicator in the federal cleanup of the union, disqualified Carey on grounds he participated in an illegal scheme to divert union funds into his re-election campaign last year.

MAN JAILED AFTER SON DIES IN WRECK

ELGIN (AP) - A man twice convicted of drunken driving is jailed again after a car wreck that killed his 8-year-old son and injured his daughter. Rosaleo Christie Arevalo, 35, of Elgin, was jailed on an intoxication assault charge after the Sunday night accident that killed R.C. Arevalo. The 8-year-old boy died Monday at Brackenridge Hospital. Authorities said they might consider upgrading the charge. Arevalo's 7-year-old daughter, Chelsea, was in fair condition at Children's Hospital of Austin, said spokeswoman Jennifer Howard. A third child, 6-year-old Santos Arevalo, was not injured in the wreck.

Mauro promises tax cuts

AUSTIN (AP) - Convinced that George W. Bush is vulnerable, Democrat Garry Mauro kicked off his campaign for governor Monday with a pledge to cut taxes and give Texans more control over their health care.

Mauro said he would push a family-oriented agenda that would be "my first and only priority." "I owe all that I am to my immediate family and the family of Texas," Mauro told supporters in Bryan. "Texas families should keep more of the money they earn, and be able to spend it the way they want."

Mauro proposed eliminating the state's motor vehicle sales tax; adding a "patient's bill of rights" to the Texas Constitution to guarantee Texans the right to pick their own doctors; spending $2 billion for new school buildings and technology; and putting more police officers on the streets.

Mauro, the four-term state land commissioner, sought to draw distinctions between himself and the Republican governor with his campaign promises. Mauro said that while his plan to eliminate the motor vehicle sales tax would save a family $1,375 on a new minivan, Bush wanted to raise the tax as part of a property tax relief measure. He said Bush vetoed a bill to allow health maintenance organization members to choose their own doctors and specialists.

"Why do I seek this office? It's not because George Bush is not a nice man. He is. It's simply because he and I have a different vision for what's important for this great state," Mauro said.

Amarillo approved for prison

AUSTIN (AP) - State leaders Monday approved funding for two new high-security prisons to be built in Amarillo and the East Texas town of Woodville.

They also agreed to add onto 20 lesser-security dormitories - each with 107 beds - at facilities around the state.

Final approval for the building program, which would total 4,120 new beds at a cost of $107.4 million, must come from the Texas Department of Criminal Justice Board. The panel meets in Arlington on Thursday and Friday.

TDCJ Executive Director Wayne Scott had asked for enough funding for three new high-security units.

But staff members from the offices of Gov. George W. Bush, Lt. Gov. Bob Bullock, House Speaker Pete Laney and the chairmen from House and Senate criminal justice committees met Monday and agreed to money for only two more units.

The money for the two new 990-bed units as well as the add-on beds would be allocated from $2 billion in prison construction bonds approved by voters in 1991 and 1993.

"Just looking at the forecasts, it looks like we will probably need that third unit," said Sen. John Whitmire, chairman of the Senate Criminal Justice Committee. "But we are just trying to allow some flexibility."

Although Texas has almost tripled its prison capacity since 1992, the 145,000-bed system is expected to reach capacity by April.

"We were originally told we would run out of beds by April, but now it looks like January," Whitmire said.

Whitmire said the state is aggressively looking to contract with counties to lease jail space.

"The question has been do we build more prisons or do we contract with counties to lease surplus jail space from them," said Tony Fabelo, executive director of the Texas Criminal Justice Policy Council, which advises state leaders on prison needs. "The answer is we have to do both."

State leaders said the added prison space is needed because parole rates are lower than in years past.

"The governor recognizes that since prison terms are longer and parole rates are at record lows that we need to address the issue of additional prison space," said Bush spokesman Ray Sullivan.

gladiolus, burgundy carnations, ivory astrometer, misty blue and doulbonett. The bride-elect's chosen colors of burgundy and hunter green were used throughout.

A roaster and set of stoneware were gifts from hostesses Pat Confer, Lynn Carille, Terry Morton, Mary Bartlett, Janice Brownlow, Barbara King, Peggy Maxwell and Merrick.

Ann Landers

Dear Ann Landers: I must respond to "C.L. in Utah" and all other housewives who complain that they don't get paid for all the jobs they do. These women have the pleasure of staying home with their children, and you say they don't get paid? These women get their mortgages paid, utilities, phone, auto and auto insurance, food, clothing, life and health insurance, credit cards, entertainment and on and on.

Most working women cannot possibly make enough to pay for all these things. Working women must deal with outside pressures as well as take care of the duties of a housewife. No piece of cake, I can assure you.

I'm sick of listening to these women complain when they have it so easy. I have been a housewife as well as a working mother. What a joy it was to stay home during the first five years of my child's life and not have to turn her over to some stranger. Staying home was the easiest thing I ever did in my life, and while I was at it, I reaped the benefits of my husband's salary.

It would be nice if every woman had the choice to make, and I respect both sides. But, please, not getting paid? Get real. -- Housewife and Working Secretary in Fresno, Calif.

Dear Fresno: Your letter is going to make some women angry, but you have made several valid points, and I thank you for your candor.

I should point out that not all women want to stay at home with their young children. Some prefer to hire help to take care of the kids and work at jobs that pay barely enough to break even. To each his own.

Dear Ann Landers: This is about the woman whose husband is being sexually harassed by his lady boss. I think that husband has a terrible ego problem and believes no woman can resist him. He is also a liar. No woman can hold a man's inner thigh unless he allows it -- boss or no boss.

I suspect if he changes jobs, he will tell his wife the same lies about his new female boss. -- Elmer in Elmwood, Neb.

Dear Elmer: Thanks for your opinion. Several readers wrote to voice similar views and those who wrote ranged from mildly upset to livid.

Some men manage well with a female boss, but many would prefer not to be in that position. Also, a lot of wives would be more comfortable if their husband's boss was male.

Dear Ann Landers: I'm writing about discrimination against people who have disabilities that are not visible. I am a 36-year-old woman with an autoimmune liver disease. If you were to look at me, I would appear to be perfectly healthy.

My disease causes extreme fatigue. Some days, I cannot get out of bed, and most days, I have to go back to sleep until noon to have enough energy to get through the afternoon. I take strong medicines that wipe me out both physically and mentally. One day, I will probably need a liver transplant.

I can't tell you how often I have gotten nasty looks and mean comments from people who assume I am abusing the system or taking a much-needed parking space from someone who "really needs it." Well, I REALLY need it, too.

Please remind your readers that just because a person looks fine doesn't mean he or she is. Not all disabilities can be seen. We are not all blind, have a limb missing or get around in wheelchairs. -- Looking Fine But Far From It in N.Y.

Dear Looking: I'm glad you wrote. So are hundreds of others who voiced the same feelings of unjust persecution. P.S. Readers with heart ailments complained the loudest.

Roberts feted with shower

A lingerie shower honoring Betty Roberts, bride-elect of Mac McCracken, was held Sunday in the home of Barbara Kerr.

This was a "sit-down" shower at which the bride-elect opened her gifts, and modeled some, in front of the guests.

Refreshments served were decorated cake squares, mixed nuts, mints, mock champagne punch and hazelnut cream coffee.

Hostesses were Mary Dziuk, Gladys Cavness, Idie Gearn, Lynn Kriegshauser, Mary Williamson, Elizabeth Holt and Kerr.

Bippus FCE Club elects officers

Officers for 1998-1999 were elected during the recent Bippus Family Community Education Club meeting.

They were Alta Mae Higgins, president and reporter; Sue Thweatt, vice president; Mariellen Homfeld, secretary and TFCE chairman; and Kate Bradley, treasurer and Council delegate.

Beverly Harder, County Extension Agent/FCS, gave the program titled "In the Nick of Time." Harder demonstrated creative, yet inexpensive, ways to use recycled material to decorate for the holidays.

She also gave holiday recipes which are easy to prepare.

Following the opening exercise, members answered roll call by telling what they did "Just in the nick of time."

Bradley reported a successful fund-raiser stating all the pecans were sold. She also gave the Council report, reminding members that the Council Christmas party will be Dec. 8. Each person who attends is asked to bring a "goodie" for refreshment and a gift for a disadvantaged elderly person.

Mattie Lou Lewis was a guest at the meeting which was held in Thweatt's home with Homfeld as hostess for a Mexican food luncheon.

The next Bippus FCE Club meeting will be Dec. 10 with Bradley and Higgins as hostesses. Secret pals will be revealed at that time. Members are asked to bring a baked good for a gift exchange and also to bring a gift for a "shut in."

Breakfast set for families of mentally ill

Hereford Alliance for the Mentally Ill will host a get-acquainted breakfast at 8:30 a.m. Saturday in the Hereford Community Center. The meal will be furnished by Juanita's Burritos.

The alliance is sponsored by the Texas Panhandle Mental Health Authority in an attempt to reach the residents of Hereford and the surrounding area and provide an insight into mental illness.

Mental illnesses are disorders of the brain that disrupt a person's thinking, feeling, moods, and ability to relate to others.

Mental illnesses can affect persons of any age, race, religion, or income. These disorders greatly affect family members and society in general. Mental illnesses are not the result of personal weakness, lack of character or poor upbringing.

Most importantly, these brain disorders are treatable.

The Alliance for the Mentally Ill hopes to help provide this support and assistance, and most importantly, education, for local families.

Any member of a family affected by mental illness is welcome to attend the breakfast.

Pauline Landers, class teacher, closed the meeting with a prayer.

World War II veteran is speaker for Los Ciboleros Chapter DAR meeting

World War II veteran

Miles Caudle, who was attached to the 490th Bomber Group in England during World War II, presented the program Thursday for Los Ciboleros Chapter NSDAR. Caudle was introduced by national defense chairman Charlotte Clark.

World War II veteran, Miles Caudle, was guest speaker for Los Ciboleros Chapter DAR Thursday in the home of Ruth Newsom with Mary Williamson as co-hostess.

Chapter national defense chairman Charlotte Clark introduced Caudle, who was attached to the 490th Bomber Group in England during World War II. He was a Technical Sergeant and served as an engineer in B17 bombers that made raids over Germany. Caudle included in his presentation some experiences of his son, Mike, who flew an F-15 E in bombing missions over Iraq during Operation Desert Storm.

He also gave information about some of his Revolutionary ancestors.

Chapter regent Newsom opened the meeting and Williamson led in the singing of "The Star Spangled Banner."

Patricia Robinson, chapter vice chairman, gave a review of the President General Dorla Eaton Kemper's message for November.

Clark presented excerpts from the November National Defender in an article entitled "Observe Veterans Day."

Helen Rose, Constitution Week chairman, presented a "Constitution Sidelight."

Regent Newsom, in the absence of commemorative events chairman Argen Draper, announced that DAR member Williamson, former WAVE, had been featured in The Hereford Brand on Veterans Day in an article by Jean Beene, chapter public relations chairman. Mrs. Williamson was applauded by members and guests for her service to her country.

Robinson, as chairman of the veterans-patients committee, thanked members for bringing money and gifts for the VA Gift Shop to be Dec. 7, 8 and 9 at the Veterans Hospital in Amarillo. Members were also thanked for bringing canceled commemorative stamps for veterans' projects.

Refreshments were served to guests Miles and Ella Caudle, LeRoy Williamson and Carroll Newsom and members Ruth Knox, Patsy Smart, Donna Smith, Jo Solomon, Clark, Robinson, Newsom and Williamson.

The next meeting will be Dec. 11 in the home of Marlene Watson with Joe D. Rogers, Hereford High School history teacher, bringing a program on "Historical Preservation through Reenactment."

IN BRIEF

Morris charged
OWINGS MILLS, Md. (AP)-- Baltimore Ravens running back Bam Morris was charged Monday with choking a woman at a birthday party, adding to his list of legal troubles.

The assault charge could be used to bolster Texas prosecutors' attempts to revoke Morris' probation for a 1996 drug conviction.

April Dawn Brittain, 27, of Dallas, claimed she was talking to Morris when the player's wife, Stephanie, accused her of having an affair with him. The three argued, and Morris grabbed Brittain by the arm and then put his hands around her throat "and began choking her until she could not breathe," the report said.

On advice from his lawyers, Morris declined to comment Monday at the team's practice facility. But his wife, Stephanie Morris, claims Brittain had been stalking her husband, and that Brittain swung first.

Kansas shucks Rice

LAWRENCE, Kan. (AP)-- Raef LaFrentz had 26 points and 10 rebounds and fueled two second-half runs Monday night that carried No. 2 Kansas to an 88-61 victory over Rice.

Paul Pierce and Eric Chenoweth also had a double-doubles, with Pierce getting 16 points and 10 rebounds and Chenoweth getting 15 points and 12 rebounds for the Jayhawks (2-0).

Kansas' pressure defense forced Rice into shooting just 38 percent from the field.

Hoop dreams begin tonight for Hereford

Herd looks to improve in time for district play

By BOB VARMETTE
 Sports Writer

Improvement will be the focus of the Hereford Whitefaces as they head into their non-district basketball schedule.

Hereford will tip off their 1997-98 season 7 p.m. tonight in Tulia. The junior varsity game will get under way at 6 p.m.

"We're real inexperienced," Hereford head coach Randy Dean said. "In non-district, we have to improve in every game."

Hereford was 16-16 last year, and finished third in District 1-4A. The Whitefaces made the Class 4A playoffs, but lost in the bi-district round to Plainview.

Tulia is just the beginning of an arduous non-district schedule. The Hornets were the state runner-up in Class 3A last year.

Also on the non-district schedule will be San Angelo Central, Lubbock Estacado, Monterey and Lubbock High.

"We have a real tough non-district schedule this year. We need to use that to improve so that we're competitive when we get to district," Dean said.

Because of their lack of experience -- Hereford has only one returning

Girls short on height, players to start season

The difficulty of preparing a basketball team for a season opener is not an easy task for any coach.

Compound that with the absence of a majority of team members still playing in another sport and you have a problem.

That's the task facing Hereford head girls basketball coach Eddie Fortenberry. Eight letter winners from last year's playoffs are going to Austin to defend their Class 4A volleyball title and will miss the opening game tonight with Petersburg at Whiteface Gymnasium and the Dumas Tournament starting this Thursday.

Misty Davis, a senior 5-8 guard, is the other returning letter winner. Davis will be joined by two sophomore guards, Toni Eicke at 5-6 and Valerie Guzman at 5-7 as the only non-volleyball players.

The eight volleyball players that will join the team next week are senior Briar Baker, a 5-7 post; senior Kendra Wright, a 5-5 guard; senior Katie Betzen a 5-9 guard; and senior Julie Rampley, a 5-10 guard.

Junior Kristin Fangman, a 5-11 post, Makesha Rives, a 5-7 guard, and Lyndi Carlie, a 5-11 post will join the team at the end of volleyball

Yosten finishes 4th at state meet

By BOB VARMETTE
 Sports Writer

She's a little girl, but she just did a big thing.

Brionne Yosten, a 5-3, 98-pound Hereford freshman, took fourth place in the Class 4A girls cross country meet Saturday at Old Settler's Park in Round Rock with a time of 12:24.

The 14-year-old Yosten had hoped before the state meet just to be able to keep pace with the top runners. Little did she know she would be one of them.

"Yeah, I impressed myself," Yosten said Monday. "Well, I thought I could be one of the top runners, but I was surprised. . . . It really feels good; I'm still excited."

Jennifer Marable of Canyon won the meet with a time of 12:06. Yosten and Marable were the only District 1-4A runners to finish in the Top 10. Hereford's only other runner to qualify for the state meet, Meredith McGowan, finished in 26th place.

Canyon was second to Highland Park in the team event. Pampa finished third.

Yosten said she really wasn't aware of how well she was doing until she crossed the finish line.

What makes her accomplishment even more impressive is she did not compete in cross country the full season. Yosten played volleyball until she ran competitively for the first time this season in the District 1-4A meet in Amarillo Oct. 31.

She said she still hasn't decided whether she'll concentrate fulltime on cross country next year or split the two as she did the year.

"I haven't thought much about it yet," Yosten said. "But I'm planning to run cross country for sure." Yosten said the course layout at Old Settler's Park wasn't too difficult, but it did have its challenges.

"It was real muddy," she said. "It was pretty hilly, but there weren't any real big hills. They were mostly gradual inclines."

Now that Yosten has gotten those freshman jitters out of the way, she hopes for better times ahead. She said making the trip to Austin was a valuable lesson.

"I think I still could do better with more experience," Yosten said. "I need to know how to pace myself better, how fast to go at certain times on the course."

For Yosten, running is still something she enjoys.

"It's really fun," she said. "I like being outdoors, and I like running against other people, seeing if I can run faster than them."

Drive keeps Cowboys hopes alive

IRVING (AP)-- The Dallas Cowboys had a difficult time Monday getting ready for Green Bay, because they were still replaying "The Drive."

With the season hanging in balance, Troy Aikman took the Cowboys 97 yards in the final five minutes to tie Washington with a touchdown pass and a 2-point conversion. Then Richie Cunningham hit a 42-yard field goal for the 17-14 game-winner.

"It was a test of character and a test of a champion," said running back Emmitt Smith, who caught the 2-point conversion pass. "It was a test of our innermost competitive edge. We did what we had been trying to do all year and that was to make plays."

None was bigger than Aikman's 31-yard pass to Michael Irvin on 4th and 2 from the 50. Irvin was Aikman's fourth receiver on the play.

"The fullback and the tight end got jammed at the line of scrimmage," Aikman said Monday. "I looked at Emmitt on a drag route and he was covered. Then I saw Michael over the middle late. The offensive line did a great job of giving me the time to make those reads."

Irvin, who caught a 6-yard touchdown pass to set up the conversion pass to Smith, credited Aikman for the drive.

"Troy was just incredible," he said. "It was a drive for the season. Troy put it together. He held the season together for us."

It was the Cowboys longest touchdown drive of the season.

Dolphins pull away from Buffalo, 30-13

MIAMI (AP)-- The Buffalo Bills stayed close to the Miami Dolphins until Troy Drayton went out for a pass.

The wide-open tight end's 30-yard touchdown reception with 5:11 remaining Monday night gave the Dolphins some breathing room in a 30-13 victory.

Miami led only 16-13 when Dan Marino found Drayton open at the 10-yard line, some 15 yards from the nearest defender. Following the score, the Dolphins stopped Buffalo on downs and added an insurance touchdown on Karim Abdul-Jabbar's 1-yard run.

A halftime ceremony honored Miami's 17-0 season 25 years ago, and the Dolphins were so inspired by the tribute that they nearly blew a 13-0 lead.

But Miami (7-4) held on despite two second-half turnovers and moved into a first-place tie with the New York Jets in the AFC East. The Dolphins hold the tiebreaker advantage over New York by virtue of sweeping their two-game series.

The Bills (5-6) dropped two games back. Buffalo's punchless offense has scored more than one touchdown only once in six games. Quarterback Todd Collins, who returned to the lineup after being benched for two games in favor of Alex Van Pelt, completed 19 of 37 passes for 152 yards.

To be offensive is to be entertaining

Think about this for a minute.

Why do you watch sports? This applies to events you attend in person or watch on television. I guess it could also apply to listening to the radio. Got your answer?

I'll bet a lot of you are thinking you do because it's entertaining. That's fine, nothing wrong with that. In fact, you're in the majority.

Here's something else to think about. Does a game have to be entertaining to be good?

Now, if you're the guys who run the NFL, NHL, NBA, MLB and whatever other leagues there are out there, the answer is simple. We don't care if the game is good;

The Toy Department

By Bob Varmette

we want it to be entertaining. I call it the NBAization of sports. Remember when hardly anybody watched the NBA? Then along came Larry and Magic and all was right with the world. Well, not quite.

The NBA decided people wanted not just to see Larry and Magic; they wanted to see more points. They decided fans didn't want to see 84-75 games. They wanted 133-125 games.

NBA attendance went through the roof, and professional basketball arose from the television grave of tape-delayed games to richer and richer TV contracts.

Scoring has tapered off over the years, mostly because there are a lot of people in the NBA who don't do very well at what the whole point of the game is -- put the ball in the basket.

Point is, the NBA realized it was in trouble and they made some "adjustments" to the rules to make the game more entertaining.

Once the genie was loosed from the bottle, other professional sports began to follow suit. The result is a degradation in quality.

Other leagues, feeling the pressure of declining TV numbers, also made "adjustments" to their respective games in an attempt to make the games more palatable to personal attendance as well as TV viewing.

The NFL has probably been the most egregious offender or spectacular innovator, depending upon your point of view.

Here are just a few examples of changes made in the NFL in the past 20 or so years.

-- We got overtime for regular season games. Fans don't want to invest three hours of their lives for neither team to come out a winner.

-- Back in the days of my youth, the goal posts were actually at the goal line. Guess that's why they got their name.

The NFL moved the goal posts to the back of the end zone to make field goals more difficult. The NFL figured it would force more teams to instead go for it on fourth down, and that would lead to more touchdowns.

-- Here's my favorite. Kickoffs

You'd think our line crews would have enough to do with storms and lightning strikes, downed powerlines, equipment repair, and delivering service to new customers. Line crews have been the kind of people who let their job description describe all of what they do. That's why they've been known to report crimes in progress, repair tires for senior citizens, direct traffic around accidents, even guide visitors to hotels and local attractions. You see, our line crews are committed to bringing you the best electric service possible, but they're also committed to this community and to doing whatever it takes to make life here just a little better. The result is often someone we can all look up to.

Borger upsets Mats in bi-district

By BOB VARMETTE
Sports Writer
Borger head coach Marty McClintock had hoped for a sloppy field.

He got it. Playing on a field muddied by melting snow at Whiteface Stadium, the Borger Bulldogs blanked the Lubbock Estacado Matadors 16-0 Saturday afternoon in a Class 4A bi-district game in front of 1,000.

In doing so, the Bulldogs relied less upon quarterback Victor Escobar's arm and more upon tailback Kevin Massey's legs. But mostly, they relied on their defense.

Estacado brought a pair of 1,000-yard rushers into the game -- seniors Warren Boyd and Calvin Grant. Borger didn't stop the duo, but they kept them contained.

"The big key was the field conditions," McClintock said. "It slowed them down. It was the equalizer. On a fast track with these guys, it's not the same game."

Boyd picked up 127 yards on 26 attempts and Grant rushed 11 times for 68 yards.

Estacado head coach Louis Kelley alluded to the poor field conditions, but said the Matadors weren't looking to place negative scrutiny on the sod.

"(Borger) played a great game," Kelley said. "They did a great job. . . We're not looking for excuses. They had to play on the same field we did. It hurts to lose, but win, lose or draw, we had a great year."

Borger, the runner up in District 1-4A, will now meet District 4-4A champion Sweetwater 7:30 p.m. Friday night at Lowrey Field in Lubbock in the area round.

Kelley said what really did in the Matadors was their inability to move the ball through the air.

"We couldn't throw the ball, and that really hurt us," Kelley said. "They had a great scheme, (but) we had our chances."

Granted, the Matadors haven't been much of a passing team in 1997, but they were averaging 26 yards per pass play entering the playoff game. Estacado quarterback Zarrius Patterson completed just one pass in five attempts for six yards. He was intercepted once.

"Our defense, our whole team, put forth a great effort this afternoon," McClintock said. "I just can't describe what they've accomplished . . ."

It looked like it was going to be a long afternoon for the Matador defense judging by Borger's initial drive. Estacado's defense, which had yielded an average of 187.3 yards per game, let the Borger offense march 78 yards in 12 plays. Escobar capped the drive with a one-yard sneak at 6:09 of the first quarter.

The teams traded punts for the rest of the first quarter, but it looked like Borger got a break when the Bulldogs' Russell King recovered a Matador fumble at the Estacado 49-yard-line. The fumble was one of six on the afternoon for Estacado. They lost two.

"We had some disappointing things happen to us," Kelley said. "Losing the ball like we did was certainly one of them."

Borger went into the playoffs on something of a down note, having lost to Dumas 28-22 in their final district game.

"We really hadn't been playing that well the last two weeks," McClintock said. "This really wasn't easy at all. In this kind of game, you want to be playing your best."

"We've set high expectations," McClintock said. "Our expectations are always high. . . We know what we're playing for."

player with varsity experience, 6-3 senior post Bryant McNutt -- Dean said he plans to use the early games to see which player combinations provide the best team to put on the court.

"We expect to be a playoff-contending team," Dean, who is in his fifth year at the helm of the Whitefaces, said. "But with our lack of experience, it's hard to say if we're one of those teams right now. We want to be playing at that kind of level when we get to district."

For tonight's matchup with Tulia, Dean will start McNutt, 6-0 junior forward Mitch Wagner, 6-0 senior forward Matt Cosby, 5-10 senior off-guard Anthony Lopez and 5-10 senior point guard Freddie Escobar.

Because of the Whitefaces' lack of experience, Dean is looking to rely upon a team concept for success.

"It looks like we're going to have an athletic team. We have guys who can run, jump and have a lot of quickness," Dean said.

In addition to lacking experience, the Whitefaces will also be short on height, Dean said that's nothing new in Hereford.

"It's something we've had to get used to around here," he said. "We're going to have to make up for it by playing hard, and putting pressure on the offensive team. We've been fairly successful with that for the last few years."

Defensively, Hereford will rely upon a man-to-man defense.

"We're going to be a defensive oriented team," Dean said. "We're going to rely a lot on defense, (but) we still have a lot of things to learn. We need to make daily improvement."

On offense, Dean looks to run the ball when possible, but believes the Whitefaces can be patient if need be.

"We'll do both," he said. "We'll try to run with the ball, but if they (opponents) get back, we'll move into a motion offense."

As for Tulia, Dean looks for the Hornets to provide Hereford with a tough test. He added that Tulia has four lettermen back from last year's state finalist squad.

"They'll play with a lot of confidence coming back from last year," Dean said.

The Hornets will have two players who will bear particular watching -- Mike and Phillip Marshall. Both are 6-3.

"They're both good players," Dean said.

Girls

along with sophomore Tori Walker, a 5-8 guard.

Coach Fortenberry is confident that this year's team could be in the title hunt.

"We've got a chance to be pretty good," said Fortenberry. "Most of our team's back, and the nucleus of the team is back."

Last year's team, defeated in the regional round by Levelland, lost two players to graduation and one player by relocation.

"Our top three scorers are back, Misty Davis, Julie Rampley and Catic Betzen and we've got some good young kids to go around them," added Fortenberry, which is evidenced by the fact that in the previous two years, the junior varsity teams have won 20 or more games each year.

Like the Lady Whiteface volleyballers, Fortenberry has to contend with a tough District 1-4A.

"Right now, in most polls, Hereford, Randall and Canyon are in the top ten," stated Fortenberry. But Fortenberry will tell his kids, "If you can just get in the playoffs, anything can happen then."

Until the team can be united, several other players will be utilized. Amy Perrin, Nicole Bailey, Ashley Fangman, Brionne Yosten, Amanda Hill and Janet Blakely will be asked to boost their level of play from JV to varsity level. They will then return to JV coach Carmen Brockman and freshman coach Pam Dean.

With no six-footers on the team, Fortenberry acknowledges that lack of height is a problem.

"Obviously, from looking at our roster you can tell we're not real big," said Fortenberry. "And that causes problems for us. It probably spelled the end for us last year. The key this year will be how well can we handle the big people that Canyon and Randall will throw at us."

Drive

"I don't think anybody outside the 11 players on the field felt we could do it," Irvin said. "In fact, if I was a betting man I would have kept my money in my pocket."

Aikman said the 6-5 Cowboys needed something positive like the win over the Redskins to carry them through the finish of what has proved to be a roller-coaster season.

"It was an important game for this team," Aikman said. "It's something we can all build on. There were a lot of young guys on the field for this team for the first time when a drive was needed with the game on the line."

Aikman specifically credited offensive linemen George Hegamin, Tony Hutson and Clay Shiver and tight end David LaFleur for giving him the protection he needed on the drive.

Aikman said the Cowboys needed to put the win behind them.

"It's as emotional a win as the team has had in a couple of years," he said. "But we have to forget it soon because Green Bay will be waiting for us. We've had some success against them in recent years."

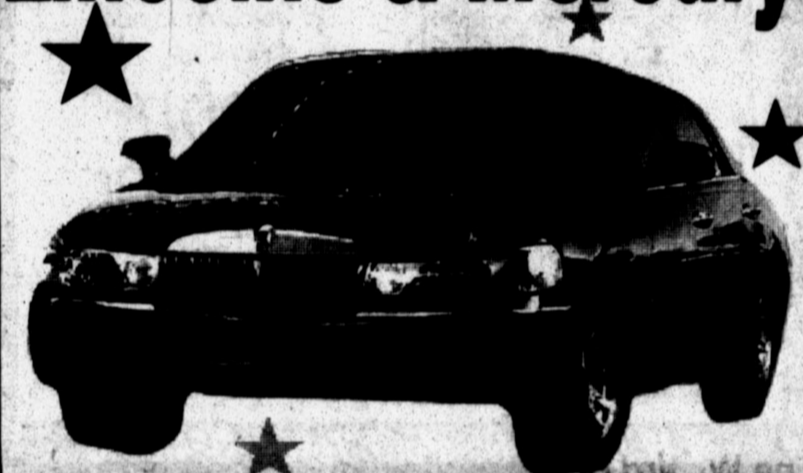

Dallas has won its last eight games against Green Bay.

long ago were once from the 40-yard-line. Really, they were. But kickers kept kicking the ball out of the end zone.

So they moved the kickoff back to the 35-yard-line. But still, enough kickoffs weren't being returned. So they moved the kickoffs back to the 30-yard-line.

And they made a bunch of other rules that severely hampers the defenses' players to play, well, defense.

It's getting to the point that Canadian football almost has more in common with the NFL football of long ago than NFL football today has.

These things were done to make you more likely to watch football games.

But whether the game is entertaining has very little to do with whether the game is good.

The NFL and TV head honchos think you think the same way. A lot of you do.

I'd rather see the game they say most of you hate, the 10-7 defensive battle in football, the 2-1 pitchers' duel in baseball.

And I won't even watch the NBA. I'd much rather watch college basketball. They have a thing in college basketball unknown to the NBA. It's called defense.

Whenever I see a 38-35 football score, or a 10-8 baseball score, I shake my head and roll my eyes. An offensive shootout is usually made possible only because of sloppy defense. I hate sloppy defense.

To me that not only is not quality, it's a game I don't want to watch. I want to see good defensive games, whether it's football, baseball, hockey or whatever.

I've actually stopped watching games on TV because they turned into scorefests. Even a one-sided blowout is in some ways better. At least someone is playing defense.

I guess you can't argue with all those visionaries who have given us the high-scoring games we usually have. In some ways, I am thankful.

It really, truly makes me appreciate what great games we once had.

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) -- Arvydas Sabonis scored 22 of his 24 points in an overpowering first-half performance against Shawn Bradley Monday night as the Portland Trail

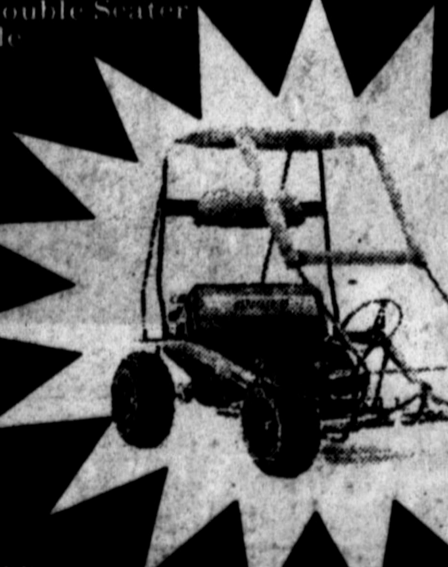

Blazers routed Dallas 120-75, the Mavericks' sixth straight loss.

Sabonis, who also had 12 rebounds, was 10-for-10 from the field in the first half.

McDOUGAL APPEALS WHITEWATER CONVICTION

ST. LOUIS (AP) - James McDougal, the former Whitewater partner of the Clintons sent to prison for fraud, appealed his conviction on the grounds that his own health may have cost him a fair trial.

Attorney Sam Heuer told a three-judge panel of the 8th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals on Monday that he was prevented from interviewing a key witness against McDougal. But he also said his client's health may have prevented him from getting a fair trial.

McDougal is a manic-depressive with reduced blood flow to the right side of his brain. He suffered a stroke in 1986.

"Mr. McDougal was an unreliable client, not because he chose to be but because he had no choice because of his medical conditions," Heuer said.

McDougal is serving a three-year prison term on fraud charges stemming from fraudulent federal loans at his now defunct Madison Guaranty Savings and Loan. He could have been sentenced to 84 years but began cooperating with special prosecutor Kenneth Starr and was given a break.

CHINESE DISSIDENT HOSPITALIZED IN DETROIT

DETROIT (AP) - A prominent Chinese dissident who spent most of the past 18 years in prison said he will delay meeting with supporters while he is treated for a heart problem, arthritis and exhaustion.

Wei Jingsheng, who was released on medical parole from a Chinese prison, was in fair condition at the Henry Ford Hospital early today, hospital officials said. He was being treated for hypertension, among other problems.

"For health reasons, I need to undergo medical tests and treatment and rest for a few days before I can meet with everyone," Wei, 47, said in a statement Monday.

Wei's doctors are focusing on two areas of care - cardiac and arthritis, said Dr. Thomas Royer, the hospital's chief medical officer. Wei, who lost some teeth in prison, suffers from extreme exhaustion and has difficulty eating large portions of food, he said.

RENO SEEKS CHINESE HELP IN INVESTIGATION

WASHINGTON (AP) - In her first meeting with Chinese Justice Minister Xiao Yang, Attorney General Janet Reno sought help for her campaign finance investigation, which is looking into whether there were illegal contributions from China.

Xiao's response to this appeal was not disclosed by Justice Department officials. They also refused to characterize his replies on any of the wide range of law enforcement issues raised during Monday's meetings at the Justice Department.

"Today's meeting was a productive first step that we expect to lead to improved mutual cooperation in the pursuit of justice," Reno said in a statement. They agreed their departments should meet again at a time and place to be determined.

Reno raised the campaign finance investigation in her first face-to-face session with Xiao in her office. She was accompanied by deputy assistant attorneys general Mark Richard, who is supervising that inquiry, and Frances Fragos-Townsend, who supervises international criminal division work.

CLINTON CONTINUES FUND-RAISING SCHEDULE

ST. LOUIS (AP) - Continuing a hectic schedule of raising money for Democrats, President Clinton was the star attraction at a $400,000 fund-raiser here, the sixth time in four days that he met with donors.

The money was to be split between Missouri senatorial candidate Jay Nixon - one of several Democrats running for a GOP-held seat viewed as ripe for the picking in 1998 - and the party's national senate campaign committee.

Clinton will squeeze in two more fund-raisers tonight in Washington, one with wealthy patrons and another with business leaders who'll pay at least $10,000 to see the president.

The president canceled plans to spend the day at the Camp David presidential retreat in Maryland and instead returned to the White House following Monday night's fund-raiser.

At that event, the president praised Nixon, Missouri's attorney general, for starting his campaign a year before the election.

"I think it's a pretty gutsy thing for a guy to give a year to run a campaign when we know historically our party has been badly outspent in these kinds of races," Clinton told 200 donors who paid $1,000 each to stand in the immense lobby of a 68-year-old Fox Theater to see the president.

REPORT: DIANA TO STAR IN COSTNER MOVIE

NEW YORK (AP) - Princess Diana was negotiating before her death to star opposite Kevin Costner in a sequel to the movie "The Bodyguard," the New York Post reported today.

Diana would have played a role loosely based on her life, with Costner as the bodyguard she fell in love with, Costner told Premiere magazine. The Post obtained a copy of the story, which it said was to appear in the magazine's January issue.

The actor told Premiere he had begun negotiating with the recently divorced princess more than a year ago, the Post said.

"She said, 'Look, my life is maybe going to become my own at some point. Go ahead and do this script and when it's ready I'll be in a really good spot,'" said Costner, who played Whitney Houston's bodyguard in the first film.

Costner said he received a second draft of the movie script just three days before Diana's Aug. 31 death in a Paris car crash.

PULITZERS TO HONOR ONLINE JOURNALISM

NEW YORK (AP) - Newspapers seeking the 1999 Pulitzer Prize for public service will be able to include online journalism in their entries.

The unanimous decision to allow online work in the public service competition was made last Friday at the annual fall meeting of the Pulitzer Prize Board at Columbia University, Pulitzer Prize administrator Seymour Topping said Monday.

Newspapers seeking the public service prize based on work published in 1998 will be allowed to submit a single CD-ROM whose content was staff-produced and made available on the paper's World Wide Web site, Topping said.

"If a paper has a story of some importance and it decides to elaborate on or illustrate the story further, or make some arrangement for interactive responses of readers to that story" through the paper's Web site, that material could be included on the CD-ROM, Topping said.

FDA REJECTS BREAST CANCER DIAGNOSTIC DEVICE

ROCKVILLE, Md. (AP) - TranScan Inc. predicts using electricity to map out possible breast cancer could cut 200,000 unnecessary biopsies every year, but government scientists say the company's machine needs more study before U.S. doctors try it.

Advisers to the Food and Drug Administration called the T-scan system a promising technology, but unanimously agreed Monday that there's not enough proof about how well it works - and in which women.

"I read 25,000 mammograms a year and ... I'm not sure I'd know who to use this on," said Dr. Judy Destouet of Advanced Radiology in Baltimore.

Still, "It is a technology that needs to be pursued," said Dr. Patricia Romilly-Harper of the Breast Cancer Center in Indianapolis.

TranScan says the nonsurgical test, already used in Israel, is valuable in helping doctors pick which women need a biopsy when their mammograms alone don't give enough information to decide.

"Who's going to get the T-scan are the ones you're on the fence about. Those to me happen every day," said Dr. Michele Rossman of Sinai Women's Health Center in Detroit, who helped study the device.

BURGER KING FIRES NEW FRY SALVO

MIAMI (AP) - Burger King is hoping to burn archival McDonald's with a crispier french fry.

In a corporate version of the medieval hot oil battle, Miami-based Burger King confirmed Monday that it will launch another salvo in the french fry wars. The new fries will be introduced nationally next month.

"Burger King is in the process of rolling out new, better-tasting, hotter and crispier french fries," a company statement said.

Burger King spent nearly two years testing and recreating its fries, the Chicago Tribune reported Monday, citing unidentified sources.

SCHOOL'S MOCK WEDDING DRAWS PROTESTS

DOVER, Del. (AP) - A mock marriage ceremony that paired second-grade pupils of the same sex has drawn protests from some parents, including one family who now plans to home-school their son.

Many others supported the teacher who developed the "wedding of friends," and a school curriculum panel recommended 9-2 Monday that the district not change the class at Star Hill Elementary outside Dover.

Teacher Ede Outten told the panel that the ceremony a few weeks ago was a creative way to get pupils to promise to care for each other as friends. The lesson went along with readings from "Carry, Go, Bring and Come" - a story about a West Indian wedding.

Writing Want Ads that really sell!

Unsure how to write a Classified Ad that will get results? Follow these pointers and you'll soon have an empty space in your storage room and cash in your pocket.
For starters, look at ads which offer the same item/products. Get a sense of going rates and ideas for how to make your ad stand out. Once you're ready to write, begin with exactly what you're selling: "Dining room set, maple, six chairs." Then, remember these hints:
--Give the price. A newspaper consultant says 70 percent of classified readers won't respond to an ad with no price.
--Use key words to describe what you're selling. The key words for a car are make, model, year, body style, color, mileage and price. If it's a house, key words are location, type of construction, number of bedrooms and baths, and condition.
--Don't use abbreviations. It's tempting to abbreviate and save money if ads are billed by the line. Brand ads are billed by the words, so spell them out so readers won't be confused trying to figure out abbreviations.
-- Don't be misleading. Think accurate and factual when you write. Be sure to include a phone number and the best times to reach you.
