'Saw you at the pole'

A large crowd of local students enjoyed some Christian fellowship during the Hereford Ministerial Alliance's 'Saw You At The Pole' youth prayer rally Wednesday night at the H.I.S.D. administration building. The evening rally capped a three-day stretch of activities which included a parent, and another student prayer event. Kendra Wright, at right, was one of several students who spoke at the gathering Wednesday. Students also saw audio-visual presentations and listened to music provided by a live band.

New Jersey is tops in nation in per-student school funding

WASHINGTON (AP) - Public schools in New Jersey, New York, Alaska and Connecticut spent more money per student than schools anywhere else in the country, the Census Bureau said today.

New Jersey spent an average of $8,902 on each kindergarten through 12th-grade student in 1994, according to the survey. New York shelled out $8,162 per student, Alaska paid $7,890, and Connecticut spent

Utah sat at the bottom of the list, spending an average of $3,280 per student. Mississippi spent slightly more -$3,423 - just behind Idaho, $3,602, and Alabama,

The national average spent per student in 1994 was $5,363, according to the survey, which was compiled by the Commerce Department using Census Bureau data from the most recent year available. (Texas spent $4,520 annually per student, while New Mexico spent $4,097.)

Public schools are financed primarily with local money, usually property taxes.

The figures listed in the survey take into account everything from teacher salaries to wages for cafeteria workers and costs to run after-school and special education programs. They do not include capital outlays, or money used to build classrooms or make repairs.

Some education officials cautioned parents against using a school's per-pupil expenditure as the sole barometer of a child's educational success.

"You can't draw a direct correlation of expenditures to achievement," said Chris Pipho, who tracks education trends and legislation for the Denver-based group. The Education Commission of the States.

Pipho said other factors include the level of education completed by a student's parents, a family's income level and whether the student comes from a household with one or two parents.

"Those variables probably will impact achievement nearly as much as what a school would do," he said.

New vehicles top city list for capital expenditures

By DONALD M. COOPER Brand Editor

Hereford Mayor Bob Josserand said the capital items included in the 1997-98 city budget are "minimal" as the City Commission decided this year to hold down the capital expenditures.

The capital items in the budget, which will be adopted during a special commission scheduled for noon Sept. 22, total $207,796, with the bulk of the requests -$158,246 - included in the general fund. The water and sewer fund capital expenditures total $49,550. Vehicle purchases are the most expensive items on department heads' wish lists. The Hereford Police Department has indicated it wants to spend $52,370 to purchase two new patrol

The Hereford Volunteer Fire Department has asked for $31,000 to purchase a 1-ton 4x4 chassis for Booster No. 1, while the city Parks Department is expected to spend $17,500 for a half-ton pickup truck. The water and sewer department wants to spend $23,000 for a 4x4 extended cab pickup truck for its maintenance unit, and the wastewater treatment division is looking for $18,000 for a 4x4 long wheelbase pickup.

Pay raise

Leadership of U.S. House manages to whisk through plan to boost salaries of lawmakers

WASHINGTON (AP) - Momentum is building for a pay raise for members of Congress, but opponents vow the struggle is far from over.

"This is an outrageous maneuver by House leadership to allow Congress to give itself a pay increase without letting the public know how they would vote on the issue," Rep. Linda Smith, R-Wash. complained after the House had signaled its determination to win a cost-of-living increase of slightly over $3,000.

An aide said Smith and others would attempt to derail the raise during work on future legislation, possibly beginning with a measure due on the floor this week.

Even so, supporters of the increase clearly outmaneuvered foes Wednesday on the House floor.

With virtually no notice to the rank-and-file, they whisked through a routine spending bill in less than an hour that omitted the type of provision that has blocked cost-of-living increases in recent years in the lawmakers' $133,600 salary. As an extra precaution, the measure was considered under procedures designed to prevent a direct vote on the proposed increase.

The vote was 231-192 in favor of the measure, a regular spending bill for the Treasury Department and other agencies. It won the support of 129 Democrats and 102 Republicans. Opposed were 119 Republicans. 72 Democrats and Rep. Bernard Sanders, of Vermont, the House's lone independent.

The Senate version of the legislation contains an explicit prohibition against a cost-of-living increase, meaning the issue will be thrashed out later this fall in negotiations between the two houses.

'No one was trying to pull a fast one on anybody," Rep. Jim Kolbe, R-Ariz., told reporters after he successfully steered the multibillion-dollar bill to passage in scarcely an hour.

Rep. Steny Hoyer, D-Md., principal Democratic supporter for the measure, added, "Some people did say and will say this was a vote on the pay raise. It Mrs. Smith, a second-termer seeking a Senate seat next year, was one of them. "The American people deserve better," she said in a statement issued after

Still, any member of the House could have blocked consideration of the legislation - and none did.

And any member could have sought recognition during the brief debate to propose an amendment to deny the pay raise - and none did.

And any member could have spoken during debate about the issue - and none did.

Mrs. Smith, for example, was on the floor for part of the time the bill was under debate. But to the evident relief of supporters of the measure, she left for a previously scheduled meeting in the Senate with Sen. Mitch McConnell, R-Ky., while the legislation was pending. An aide said the two had discussed campaign finance reform.

In fact, the spending bill makes no mention of an increase in pay for lawmakers.

By custom, though, it has been used in recent years to block such increases.

Under a law passed in 1989, lawmakers are entitled to an annual cost-of-living salary increase linked to what the president recommends for federal workers. Officials said that for the year beginning Jan. 1, 1998, that would amount to a raise of 2.3 percent for lawmakers, or $3,072 annually. The last cost-of-living increase took effect on Jan. 1, 1993.

The same 2.3 percent increase would go to federal judges. Congressional sources, speaking on condition of anonymity, said Chief Justice William Rehnquist recently contacted Speaker Newt Gingrich on the subject.

United Way using rainbow to symbolize its campaign

By DIANNA F. DANDRIDGE Staff Writer

A world of rainbows, where dreams really do come true, is the hope of the companies and employees participating in the annual United Way campaign kickoff

Guest speaker Larry Barnes, development director of Golden Spread-Boy Scouts of America, offered personal, first-hand knowledge of the assistance provided by United Way Agencies.

Along with guest speaker, the United Way presented a short video, which is completely local, to show local support for the drive and emphasize that 99 percent of the funds stay within the community. "The United Way neutralizes the biases in our lives," said Barnes. "The community sacrifices make a safety net which affects us all. Through the United Way agencies, the helpless and the hopeless find a way for a better life, he said.

"United Way helps with basic needs, just because people are human and need the help," said Barnes. Barnes depicted this year's symbol, the rainbow, with colored projector sheets, each with a different

Blue symbolizes hope and comfort. Red stands for sacrifice and dates back to middle ages when knights were willling to die for one another. Green is a neutralizer and yellow stands for values.

Each of the colors describes a characteristic of the agencies and the people helped by the United Way,

The agencies provide hope and comfort in times of trouble. Participants, businesses and volunteers willing sacrifice time, energy and money. The agencies help the community without seeing race, religion and, finally, the organizations pass on necessary values and ideas to the the young people who make use of their service.

The United Way collects funds only through workplace contributions, without any door-to-door

Employers wishing to give their employees an opportunity to participate in this year's contributions should call the United Way at 364-5220 to schedule a video presentation and help a dream come true.

Larry Barnes, Development Director of the Golden Spread Council Boy Scouts of America, knows first hand the help that is available through the United Way Agencies. Barnes spoke at the annual kickoff luncheon Wednesday, and spoke on values, hope, and sacrifice.

Grants awarded

AMARILLO - The directors of the Amarillo Area Foundation and the Don & Sybil Harrington Foundation have awarded $131,313 in grants to Hereford and Deaf Smith County agencies.

The county received $27,217 to expand the Deaf Smith County Youth Home, which was opened in 1994 to provide residential rehabilitative care for non-violent juvenile offenders. The home allows juveniles to remain close to home, where they are allowed to work with the community and their families at making needed changes. The current 1,400-square-foot facility needs to be exapnded to accommodate an educational center and office space for counseling and other support services.

San Jose Community Center will receive a $23,421 grant for its Family Support Services. The grant funds will be used to develop programs to address teen pregnancy, gang and drug activity, and other neighborhood concerns.

King's Manor Methodist Retirement Center was awarded an $80,675 grant to replace and repair its roof.

Steak-eating contest

AMARILLO - Rick McCracken of Deaf Smith County finished second in Wednesday's steak-eating contest at the Tri-State Fair.

McCracken ate almost 10 pounds of steak, 2 ounces less than the winning eater. McCracken reportedly will donate his $500 second-place prize money to the family of Kerry Cooley, who died recently of cancer. Cooley was survived by his wife and two children.

Fight over tobacco now in limbo

WASHINGTON (AP) - President but had one big demand: that annual endorse the landmark tobacco deal replacement leaves the fight over tobacco in limbo for now.

Congress is certain not to pass any tobacco settlement this year and who for grabs. By January, tobacco companies, angry at Clinton's stance, could be so deep into two lawsuits that they lose their desire to compromise.

What happens next? As Senate Majority Whip Don Nickles of Oklahoma put it: "I don't feel compelled that we have to pass this in two months. I don't feel compelled that we have to pass this in 12 months.'

Clinton called the summertime tobacco deal a good starting point Wednesday, but urged tobacco companies to make deeper concessions aimed at reducing teen smoking. He was short on specifics, Clinton's decision neither to fully settlement payments by industry and fines if teen smoking does not drop nor to offer his own specific significantly be steep enough that cigarette prices could rise by $1.50 a pack in 10 years.

He said he hoped his proposal would "give new life and new will jump-start the issue in 1998 is up impetus" to getting a national tobacco deal.

Clinton was repositioning the debate so that "if you care about reducing the number of kids who smoke, you have to be in favor of the president's proposal," said former Food and Drug Commissioner David Kessler. He said that stance had united feuding public health groups.

But Republican leaders attacked Clinton's recommendations as too vague. His stance "makes it far more difficult for us to do it at all, regardless of the terms," said Rep. Thomas Bliley, R-Va. He plans informational hearings this winter.

Sen. Connie Mack, R-Fla., a cancer survivor and harsh tobacco enough.

"Rhetoric makes poor legislation," Mack said. By focusing on teens, he added, Clinton "offered little hope to those Americans who are addicted to tobacco."

Some otherwise happy public health groups, including the American Academy of Family Physicians, agreed, calling on Congress not to forget adult smokers in attempting to carry out Clinton's

But the original deal's lead negotiator, Mississippi Attorney General Michael Moore, challenged Congress to act fast. He said lawmakers should not leave for their recess, scheduled for early November, unless a tobacco deal is done.

"Every day we delay, 3,000 more kids start smoking, and a thousand of them are going to die," said Moore. who praised Clinton's stance even though it significantly changed the deal he co-wrote. "If this really is a national public-health crisis, then frankly, let's stay in town, and let's get this job done.

The original deal was reached in June between tobacco companies and state attorneys general as a way to settle dozens of anti-tobacco lawsuits. Companies would pay $368 billion over 25 years, curb their advertising and pay fines of up to $2 billion if teen smoking didn't drop 30 percent in five years. In return, they would gain legal protections and limits on government control of nicotine.

That deal is as much as tobacco companies can give, the industry insisted Wednesday.

"Given the major concessions already made, we cannot support significant changes to that agreement," said Brown & Williamson Tobacco Corp.

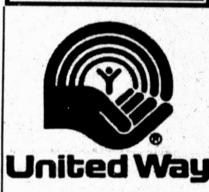

"It would certainly be unacceptable to try to raise the financial terms of this agreement," added chief tobacco negotiator J. Phil Carlton.

Tobacco companies already had recognized they were unlikely to get a national deal this year, and so had decided to fight Texas' lawsuit, set to begin later this fall, instead of settling it. They have high hopes of winning.

But the industry most fears a lawsuit that begins in late January in Minnesota, and Clinton's move sets up Congress to be deliberating a tobacco deal amid headlines from that "This will give us a chance to hear from the Minnesota case, which I think will be an education for the country. There will be day after day of witnesses and document disclosure' as Congress works, said Sen. Kent Conrad of North Dakota, the Democrats' tobacco point man.

Goodge not short on Heroics

PITTSBURGH (AP) - It was her neighbors's lack of heroics that inspired Dana Loraine Goodge to become a hero herself.

Goodge ran out of her house in a bathrobe to save a screaming 9-year-old girl who was being mauled by two dogs at a school bus stop in Tucson, Ariz. Goodge said she was driven to act when she saw several neighbors standing idly by.

"I never thought I was brave," she said Wednesday from her new home in Tempe, Ariz. "I was angry with everybody in my neighborhood for not helping.

Goodge, 34, was among 19 people in the United States and Canada being honored today for heroism by the Carnegie Hero Fund Commission of Pittsburgh. Six of the honorees died, among them a 50-year-old man who lost his life while helping save a from drowning in the Gulf of Mexico in July 1996.

Including the new honorees, the foundation has named 70 people as heroes this year.

That August day in 1996 began ordinarily enough: Goodge had taken a shower after her 9-year-old daughter left for the bus stop. She stepped out of the shower and heard her daughter screaming that dogs were mauling a girl. Goodge raced outside and began punching the dogs - a Rottweiler-sharpei mix and a yellow Labrador-German shepherd mix - in the face as she tried to drive them off Selina Stevens.

"Every time I would try to pick her up, they would rip her out of my arms," said Goodge, who tried covering Selina with her own body.

Goodge finally managed to carry Selina into her apartment. The child needed six hours of surgery and Goodge still gets choked up when she recounts Selina's gratitude as she visited her in the hospital later that "The first thing out of her mouth was thank you, thank you. You saved my life. I love you," she said.

Selina still has scars all over her body. The dogs were caught and destroyed.

Goodge, an unemployed licensed practical nurse at the time, won a scholarship to go back to school to renew her credentials. She wants to become a trauma nurse.

"I guess people have been saying that I'm being humble, but I think it was God's way of putting me back into nursing," said Goodge.

IN BRIEF NCAA to stay out

EL PASO (AP) -- The NCAA has no reason to get involved in an IRS investigation into allegations that current and former Texas-El Paso football players illegally received inflated tax refunds, an official says.

A situation such as this has nothing to do with NCAA legislation, unless the investigation revealed a player received a benefit because he was an athlete, said Bob Oliver, NCAA director of membership services.

NBA nixes deal

CHICAGO (AP) -- Basketball bad boy Dennis Rodman made the Chicago Bulls an offer that sounded too good to be true: They could pay him nothing for any games he might miss for kicking a cameraman, head-butting a referee or any other inappropriate

But Rodman's agent said the NBA won't allow the deal.

Cowboys ponder offensive breakdown

Cowboys won't rest easy even with a week off.

They know something is wrong with their offense which has taken a two-game vacation after an opening 37-7 whipping of the Pittsburgh Steelers in which Troy Aikman threw four touchdown passes.

PITTSBURGH (AP) -- The Houston Astros came to Pittsburgh with everything to lose -- most of all, their grip on first place. They may leave town all but assured of winning the NL Central championship.

The Astros moved a giant step closer toward clinching their first division title since 1986, backing Shane Reynolds' eight-hit pitching with three homers to beat Pittsburgh 8-4 Wednesday night in the biggest game of the season for both teams.

The Astros have won their last two games by a combined score of 23-7 to open a 4 1/2-game lead over the upstart Pirates, who had edged back into the race by winning two in a row. Houston's magic number is seven -and falling.

By losing Wednesday, the Pirates who had an opportunity to cut the deficit to 2 1/2 games -- could win their final 10 games and still not win the division as long as Houston finished 6-5.

"I would have been very depressed if we'd lost this," said Jeff Bagwell, who homered among his three hits. "There would have been a lot of pressure on us. Now there's a lot of pressure on them. They've pretty much got to sweep us the last spring.

ARLINGTON (AP) -- Lee Stevens hit Norm Charlton's first pitch off the wall for a two-out, two-run double that capped a three-run ninth inning rally, lifting Texas to a 5-4 victory over Seattle on Wednesday night.

But fall is where you lay the groundwork for success in the spring, according to Hereford head golf coach Stacy Bixler.

"Fall is not do or die," Bixler said. "Fall is for getting in lots of practice, working on all parts of your game, getting some competition.'

Bixler said having fall golf affords the Whitefaces the opportunity to have more planned practices during the week, practices that aren't typically interrupted by the all-too fickle West Texas weather.

"In the fall, you can plan a workout," Bixler said, "and do what you plan to do. In the spring, it could be snowing, raining . . . it could be cold. The wind could be blowing.'

Twenty-two golfers are working on just that, working now for the potential rewards in the spring.

"I want to go state," said senior Amy Killingsworth. "To do that, we need to practice and play.'

Killingsworth shot an 89 at the last tournament in Pampa to snare top honors. She wasn't all-too happy with that score, though.

'My putting and my short game are pretty sound," Killingsworth, a three-year letter winner, said. "I need to work on my second shots.... I'd like to improve my consistency."

On the boys' side, senior Cody Sargent took top honors at Pampa, firing a 77. Sargent said he was pleased with his play. Since last season, he improved his scoring from the mid-80s on average to the high

"I think my strengths are my chipping and my short irons," Sargent said. As with most golfers, putting is where he feels needs to improve.

"I've been putting everyday," he said. "Coach Bixler has been putting up strings on the putting green and trying to help us with technique."

Sargent said he believes it's realistic for him to be shooting in the low 70s by the time spring rolls

"My goal is to go to state as an individual," he said. "That would be Bixler said he also expects seniors Jacque Betzen and Heath Henderson to make significant contributions.

"Jacque was just three strokes off Amy at Pampa," he said. "They've been right there together.

things ironed out." Dallas has converted only 32 per cent of its third down chances.

Running back Emmitt Smith, who is averaging 4.1 yards per game, said he's puzzled.

You look at our Philadelphia game and say this can't possibly be the same team that went to Pittsburgh in week one and did what they did," Smith said. "That's what everybody is saying: from Pittsburgh to Arizona, what happened? Everybody is asking the question what happened? We're trying to figure it out, too."

Bjornson said he has to step it up a notch. He played with two sprained ankles last year but is healthy this season.

Coach Barry Switzer said the Cowboys haven't done a good job of protecting Aikman except in the opener against the Steelers in which he had a "rocking chair" no sack

Bixler expects Henderson to be up there on the boys' side with Sargent. "He's been real close (to Sargent) in practice and in Pampa," Bixler said. The Whitefaces have only four seniors, and Bixler said the fact they are inexperienced on the boys' side is a concern, as well as numbers on the girls side. But he feels the Whitefaces can't be counted out to compete for a district title in the

"Our district is probably as tough as any in the state," he said. "One of the teams usually goes on to state. It's still too early to know. Hopefully, we're not playing our best golf yet."

To that end, the Whitefaces practice. But fall is not just endless hours on the driving range and the putting green. Hereford will be one of 30 teams competing Friday and Saturday at the Lubbock Invitational Tournament. Bixler said the Whitefaces will be playing Meadowbrook Golf Course along with teams from Amarillo, Lubbock, Midland, Odessa and El Paso, among others.

"The more we can play different courses, it'll help us," Bixler said, "It'll have more sand arond the greens than we have here, and quite a bit of water. Those are things we don't get much around here."

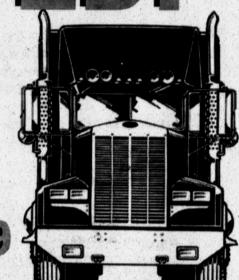

As part of the preparation for the upcoming tournament, the Whitefaces will be in Friona today to practice.

"(The tournament) will be an early measuring stick," he said. "You'll get to see where you are region-wide."

Comic Red Skelton dies at 84

LOS ANGELES (AP) - Red Skelton was just 7 years old when he met his destiny as a bumbling, affable comic. For six decades, he delighted millions with a repertoire of helter-skelter pantomime and skits about simple ordinary lives seen through a clown's extraordinary prism.

Already a leading film comic when his buffoonish characters began entrancing TV audiences in 1951, Skelton made household names of Clem Kadiddlehopper, Freddie the Freeloader and the Mean Widdle Kid, whose favorite expression was "I dood it!"

The auburn-haired comedian died Wednesday at Eisenhower Medical Center in Rancho Mirage, 90 miles east of Los Angeles, after a long, undisclosed illness. He was 84.

The son of a grocer who had worked as a circus clown, Skelton always signed off from his TV shows with his standard line: "Good night, and may God

"Red ended his shows with a sincere 'God bless,' but, in truth, we were the ones blessed by this extraordinary talented man. He created an unforgettable cast of characters, particularly during the quarter-century when he was a genuine TV superstar," said actress Carol Channing.

Unlike some of today's comics, Skelton was never

"Today's comics use four-letter words as a shortcut to thinking," Skelton told The Associated Press in 1987. "They're shooting for that big laugh and it becomes a panic thing, using four-letter words to shock

FORMBY-

Church, Formby served two years as president of the Women's Missionary Union. She also served on the pulpit committee, taught a Sunday school class for senior citizens, served as church youth director and taught a women's Bible study class.

Mrs. Formby served as the first president of the Friends of the Library and Southwest Collection at Texas Tech in 1986-87. She has been active in the development of the annual Cowboy Symposium in Lubbock sponsored by the Ranching Heritage Center. She now served on the Texas Tech and Health Sciences Foundation Board.

In 1983, Formby was named Woman of the Year for Deaf Smith County and in 1984 she received the Bull Chip Award for Outstanding Leadership.

In 1977, she was chosen by Speaker of the House, Bill Clayton, to serve on the Select Committee on Child Pornography, its abuses and studies. In 1982, she was chosen to serve on the State Select Committee on Teenage Pregnancy.

Additionally, Formby has served as president of the Women's Division of the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce, president and vicepresident of La Plata Study Club. coordinator of the Hereford School Volunteer program, Red Cross youth director, King's Manor volunteer, American Heart Association volunteer, organizer of the Women's Panhellenic Chapter of Hereford, and organizer of Hereford's Animal Action committee.

For much of the past 21 years, Formby has spent her time developing the National Cowgirl Hall of Fame and Western Heritage Center which she founded. Along with directing the National Cowgirl Hall of Fame for the past 18 years, she has been an active supporter of Women in rodeo as a member of the Hall of Fame Rodeo Association. In 1993, she was inducted into the Texas Tech Rodeo Hall of Fame.

Mrs. Formby is a Golden Nail recipient and she was named as one of a thousand fearless women in a June 1994 issue of the nationally recognized "Mirabella" magazine.

Her exemplary service to civic, religious and volunteer endeavors annual Fall Luncheon at noon exhibit her caring and concern for all age groups in her community and the Formby has contributed greatly to the Hereford community. She is married to Clint Formby and has four children and three grandchildren.

Everyone is invited to attend the Nov. 13 dinner to help honor her for her achievements. The cost for the banquet is $20 per person, and anyone interested in attending the Women of Distinction Banquet may call the Texas Plains Girl Scout Council and make a reservation at 1-806-356-0996 or 1-800-687-4475.

Dear Ann Landers: I know lots casual acquaintances, simply RSVP of teens read your column for advice and they really do take it. Many of them, like me, are members of the Class of 2000. I would like to remind them that as a class, we are receiving a lot of attention. I'd like to warn those who are lucky enough to be on TV or quoted in the newspaper to please stop and think before you speak. You are representing not only yourself but thousands of other teens who don't want to be remembered as the screwed-up, crazy and stupid Class of 2000.

Ann, I have seen talk shows, read articles and heard reports of some of the antics of the Class of 2000, and instead of feeling proud, I feel ashamed. Thanks to the few teenage exhibitionists who go on trashy TV talk shows that shamelessly exploit ignorant people, we are being remembered not as the future of the millennium, but as the screw-ups who will some day govern our world. Please, adults, don't lose faith in us. -- M.R., Albany, N.Y.

Dear Albany: I receive a lot of mail from teenagers, and in my opinion, they are more intelligent, more committed and a lot more principled than we were when we were their age. I am confident that they will do at least as well as we did, if not a whole lot better.

Dear Ann Landers: This is for 'No Name, No State," who complained about how broke she is because of what it cost her to be a bridesmaid in several weddings. You have said in your column, "No one can take advantage of you without your permission." People need to stop complaining about how out-of-control weddings have become and just start saying "no."

If you can't afford to be a bridesmaid, be up-front and admit it. There is nothing wrong with saying, Congratulations. I am happy for you and wish you all the best. I'm sure your wedding will be beautiful, but will have to limit my involvement to being just a guest. I can't take on any more." Real friends will understand. And when you're invited to a wedding or a shower for people you barely know or the children of

Fall luncheon set for Monday

The Family Community Education Council and clubs will hold their Monday in the Heritage Room of the Deaf Smith County Library.

Recent State Convention delegates, Jo Lee who serves as County FCE chairman, Mariellen Homfeld, County FCE chairman-elect and Maudette Smith, county FCE Council chairman, will present the delegate report beginning at 12:30 p.m.

The Deaf Smith County FCE Council will convene at 1:30 p.m. for its regular September meeting.

Each person attending the luncheon is asked to bring a covered dish. Prospective members are invited to attend the Fall Luncheon.

your regrets. Weddings have become a crowning example of consumerism, greed and the sense of entitlement that has become like a plague in this country. I cringe every time I hear a TV commercial for a national department store chain advertising its bridal registry. It encourages couples to participate with the outrageously shameless closing line, "Dare to get the things you want."

Couples in love and committed to life together don't need to shake down friends, relatives and casual acquaintances to celebrate their love. They should not put their parents or themselves in debt for horse-drawn carriages, an outrageously expensive dinner, fancy dresses, a photographer and two videographers, flowers, fountains and all the other trappings.

I'm not anti-wedding, Ann, but I do believe weddings should be small, intimate affairs for close friends and family. They should not be events at which you repay your social obligations or a chance to get everyone you've ever met to furnish your new apartment and help you set up housekeeping. -- Practical in Minnesota

Dear Minnesota: You have written a letter that expresses some lofty views. I agree wholeheartedly with what you have said, and I hope some brides-to-be will pay attention. but I'm not optimistic. Old traditions die hard. People are going to continue to go into hock to carry them out, come hell, high water and the bill collectors.

Notice of Public Hearing on Tax Increase

WALCOTT I.S.D. will hold a public hearing on a proposal to increase total tax revenues from properties on the tax roll in _ 1996 _ by 7.1% percent. Your individual taxes may increase at a greater or lesser rate, or even decrease, depending on the change in the taxable value of your property in relation to the change in taxable value of all other property.

The public hearing will be held on SEPT. 25, 1997 at WALCOTT SCH. BD. RM. FOR the proposal: Albert Meyer, Kent Jack & Ted Eicke AGAINST the proposal:

PRESENT and not voting:

ABSENT:

The statement above shows the percentage increase the proposed rate represents over the ____. 9062 tax rate that the unit published on ____. 7, 1997. The following table compares taxes on an average home in this taxing unit last year to taxes proposed on the average home this year. Again, your individual taxes may be higher or lower, depending on the taxable value of your property

Writing Want Ads that really sell!

Unsure how to write a Classified Ad that will get results? Follow these pointers and you'll soon have an empty space in your storage room and cash in your pocket.

For starters, look at ads which offer the same item/ products. Get a sense of going rates and ideas for how to make your ad stand out. Once you're ready to write, begin with exactly what you're selling: "Dining room set, maple, six chairs." Then, remember these hints:

--Give the price. A newspaper consultant says 70 percent of classified readers won't respond to an ad with no

-- Use key words to describe what you're selling. The key words for a car are make, model, year, body style, color, mileage and price. If it's a house, key words are location, type of construction, number of bedrooms and baths, and condition.

-- Don't use abbreviations. It's tempting to abbreviate and save money if ads are billed by the line. Brand ads are billed by the words, so spell them out so readers won't be confused trying to figure out abbreviations.

-- Don't be misleading. Think accurate and factual when you write. Be sure to include a phone number and the best times to reach you.

HEDC's budget approved

Hereford City Commissioners gave unanimous approval Monday night to the Hereford Economic Development Corp.'s 1997-98 budget, which projects little change in revenue and spending.

The HEDC operates on a one-third share of the city's 1.5-cent sales tax.

According to its budget, the HEDC anticipates sales tax revenue in the fiscal year beginning Oct. 1 of $311,555 and $9,000 in interest income for a total of $320,555.19. This year's budget projects the HEDC revenue will fall about 5.8 percent below the estimated revenue of $340,186.14 for the year ending Sept. 30. In expenditures, the largest item is for salaries, $47,045, up $2,045 from this year. HEDC Executive Director Mike Hatley anticipates spending $76,848 for business recruitment next year, nearly double the $38,000 projected for this year.

000 In his report to the City Commission, which preceded the panel's action on his budget, Hatley reviewed some of the corporation's efforts this year.

Unfortunately, Hatley noted, the effort to bring a $100 million recycled paper mill, which would mean 100 local jobs, to Hereford failed. The HEDC was notified last week by the Fluor Daniel consultants that Hereford was not selected for the mill's site, although the enthusiasm of the community was praised.

Hatley said the city is being considered by a food processing firm, but he described the project as "still in the works." He said there is no time line on the $45 million project, which he said would mean about 500

He also reported HEDC is launching a direct-mail operation to the dairy industry and he hopes to attract some interest in Hereford as a potential site.

Also, Hatley said renovation of the facility in Sugarland Mall for a bowling alley is progressing, with an opening expected sometime in October.

The HEDC's current fund balance, Hatley said, is about $350,000, with liquid assets of about $540,000.

NEA escapes demise

WASHINGTON (AP) - In a drama worthy of some Conservatives, particularly in the House, have for of the programs it funds, the National Endowment for the Arts appears to have escaped, for the moment, yet another close encounter with its own demise.

The Senate, long a champion of the federal arts agency, on Wednesday rejected three attempts to kill the NEA. Left for today was another amendment that would reduce NEA control over its budget by requiring it to give more money directly to states.

And ahead is a battle with the House, which by a one-vote margin voted to strip the NEA of its proposed $100 million budget.

That budget is part of a $13.7 billion bill to fund Interior Department and Indian programs in fiscal 1998. The administration has threatened a presidential veto of the entire bill if the NEA budget is eliminated.

years tried to kill the NEA, citing objectionable art it funded and complaining of bureaucratic waste and political correctness in choosing programs.

'They have made very, very poor funding decisions, they have funded programs that are arcane, bureaucratic, bizarre and often just plain silly," said Sen. Jeff Sessions, R-Ala., who joined Sen. Tim Hutchinson, R-Ark., in pushing for an amendment that would have killed the NEA and turned the $100 million over to states in the form of block grants.

The NEA's defenders, including moderate Republicans, said tighter controls have weeded out problematic funding and that the NEA is crucial to attracting the corporate sponsorship needed to bringing music, theater and exhibits to millions of Americans not ordinarily exposed to art.

NRA SNIPING AT U.N. PROPOSAL

UNITED NATIONS (AP) - In a cautious first foray into gun control, a U.N. experts' panel recommends that the world organization help destroy leftover guns once conflicts have ended, and convene a global conference to fight small-arms trafficking worldwide.

The report, not yet published but obtained by The Associated Press, also calls for high-tech "marking" to make guns more traceable.

"This report recommends a set of practical measures to reduce the weapons already in circulation and to prevent future accumulations," U.N. Secretary-General Kofi Annan says in a foreword urging endorsement by the General Assembly, which opened its 1997-98 session Tuesday.

The National Rifle Association, on the other hand, believes the world organization has gone too far.

The report "starts the U.N. on a path I'm not sure it really wants to go down," said Tom Mason, a representative of the U.S. anti-gun control lobby. "The U.N. shouldn't get involved in what we consider local issues properly left in the purview of sovereign states."

LAND MINE TALKS ENTER FINAL STAGE

OSLO, Norway (AP) - An international conference on land mines adopted a treaty text today that calls for an immediate and total ban on anti-personnel mines, a day after the United States refused to sign such a document. Adoption of the text by the 89 other countries at the talks had been expected

Land mines are estimated to kill or maim some 26,000 people a year, about 80 percent of them civilians.

after the United States dropped its efforts to force changes in the treaty

The treaty, expected to be signed in December, calls for a total ban on production, export and use of anti-personnel mines. The United States had sought a nine-year delay in implementing the treaty, an exception for mines placed to protect anti-tank mines and a provision allowing countries to withdraw from the treaty if they came under attack.

Ban proponents said such provisions would weaken the treaty beyond usefulness.

7 KILLED IN CAIRO ATTACK

CAIRO, Egypt (AP) - Gunmen opened fire on a tourist bus outside Cairo's Egyptian Museum today, killing nine tourists, including seven Germans, and wounding 19 others, police said.

Witnesses said the attackers threw fire bombs, badly burning the bus, and that police shot three attackers.

The Interior Ministry statement said police had detained three "terrorists," the word usually used for Muslim militants who have waged a five-year campaign of violence in hopes of overthrowing the government of Hosni Mubarak and installing strict Islamic rule.

Museum director Mohammed Salah told The Associated Press that "three persons came and began to throw some Molotov cocktails" at the buses parked outside the museum.

SETTLEMENT COMPROMISE REJECTED

JERUSALEM (AP) - Jewish settlers backed by a U.S. millionaire today reached a tentative agreement with the government to leave an Arab neighborhood of east Jerusalem as long as the government ultimately recognizes their right to live there.

Palestinian leader Yasser Arafat immediately rejected the compromise, signaling that the latest Mideast crisis was far from being defused.

New clashes erupted today outside the settler compound in the Ras al-Amud neighborhood of 11,000 Palestinians in east Jerusalem, which Palestinians want to be the capital of an independent state.

Several Israeli peace activists and Palestinian residents climbed onto a rooftop and chanted, "No compromise on Ras al-Amud" before being dragged away by police. A young Palestinian boy was carried off, screaming, by an Israeli border policeman.

VIRGINIA EXECUTES MEXICAN HITMAN

JARRATT, Va. (AP) - Laughing even as lethal drugs began flowing into his veins, a Mexican hitman who clubbed a sleeping man to death was executed after the governor rejected a clemency plea from Mexico's government.

Today is a good day to die," Mario Benjamin Murphy said Wednesday night and then laughed as the deadly fluids began flowing into his body. Murphy, 25, grinned and chortled as he told guards: "I forgive all of you. I hope God does, too." Moments later, he closed his eyes and stopped The State Department, the Mexican government and even Southern Baptist missionaries had pressured Gov. George Allen to spare Murphy. But late Wednesday, the governor refused to intervene.

Murphy was part of a hit squad hired to kill James Radcliff, a Virginia Beach man beaten to death with a steel pipe in July 1991. Murphy was hired by the victim's wife and boyfriend.

PROM BIRTH MOTHER INDICTED

FREEHOLD, N.J. (AP) - A 19-year-old woman who hid her pregnancy, then secretly gave birth in a bathroom during her senior prom was charged with murder and released on bond.

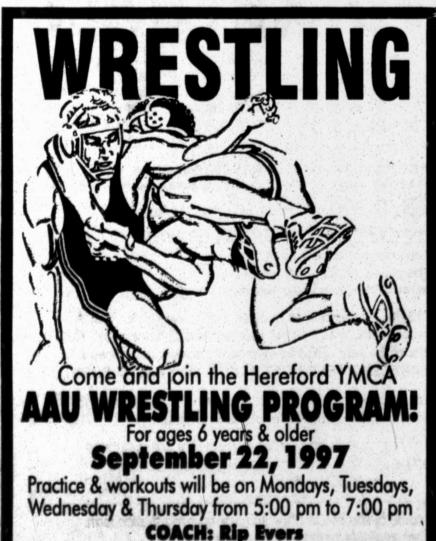

Melissa Drexler was to be arraigned Oct. 27 on the indictment handed up Wednesday.

Monmouth County Prosecutor John Kaye reiterated at a hearing that he will not seek the death penalty, in consideration of Drexler's age, emotional distress and lack of a prior criminal record.

She was freed on $50,000 bond. If convicted of murder, she would be sentenced to a mandatory minimum of 30 years in prison without parole. Drexler, of Forked River, was charged with murder June 24 and pleaded Authorities say Drexler gave birth to a boy June 6 in a bathroom stall at a catering hall in Aberdeen Township during the Lacey Township High School prom, then went back to the party, leaving the bathroom stall and floor spattered with blood.

A janitor found the baby's body in a trash bag. An autopsy determined the baby breathed on his own before he was strangled and suffocated.

House Joint Resolution 104 proposes an amendment to update the Texas Constitution by deleting duplicate numbering in its provisions and removing certain of its obsolete portions.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows: "The constitutional amendment eliminating duplicate numbering in and certain obsolete provisions of the Texas Constitution.

PROPOSITION NO. 5 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 19 proposes an amendment to allow the Supreme Court of Texas to hold sessions at any location in this state. Currently, the court is limited to holding sessions only at Austin, the seat of state government.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment authorizing the supreme court to sit to transact business at any location in

PROPOSITION NO. 6 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 39 proposes a constitutional amendment to repeal the current provision which provides that the board of the Texas Growth Fund may not invest money in a business unless the business has disclosed to the board whether it has any direct financial investment in or with South Africa or Namibia.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment allowing the Texas growth fund to continue to invest in businesses without requiring those businesses to disclose investments in South Africa or Namibia."

PROPOSITION NO. 7 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 17 proposes a constitutional amendment to create the Texas Water Development Fund II as a fund separate and distinct from the Texas Water Development Fund. The amendment would authorize the Texas Water Development Board to administer the fund and issue general obligation bonds for purposes of the fund under guidelines set forth in the amendment

The amendment would also allow the Board to use loan repayments coming into the fund after the end of the fiscal year to make bond debt service payments, and would provide certain conditions for the flow of funds for repayment of Texas agricultural water conservation bonds.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment relating to the authorization to the Texas Water Development Board to transfer existing bond authorizations for water state participation from one category of use to another category to maximize the use of existing funds and relating to more efficient operation of the bond programs."

PROPOSITION NO. 8 ON THE BALLOT

, House Joint Resolution 31 proposes a constitutional amendment which would authorize home equity lending, in which a loan could be secured by a lien against the borrower's homestead. The amendment would also establish several provisions providing for consumer protection in the home equity lending process.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The amendment to the Texas Constitution expanding the types of liens for home equity loans that a lender, with the homeowner's consent, may place against a homestead."

PROPOSITION NO. 9 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 96 proposes a constitutional amendment that would authorize the legislature to authorize a property tax of five cents for each $100 valuation in rural fire prevention districts which are located in Harris County. The constitution currently authorizes a property tax of three cents for each $100 valuation in rural fire prevention districts regardless of what county they are in.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment to authorize the legislature to authorize an ad valorem tax rate in rural fire prevention districts located in Harris County of five cents on each $100 of taxable value of property."

PROPOSITION NO. 10 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 33 proposes a constitutional amendment to permanently dedicate monies from the Texas Crime Victims' Compensation Fund (and its auxiliary fund) so that they are used only for assisting victims of crime and not for any other purpose. If an episode of mass violence occurred, however, money from the funds could be used to assist victims of the mass violence if all other sources of authorized emergency assistance were depleted first.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment designating the purposes for which money in the compensation to victims of crime fund and the compensation to victims of crime auxiliary fund may

PROPOSITION NO. 11 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 59 proposes a constitutional amendment to prohibit the Legislature from authorizing additional state debt payable from the general revenue fund if the resulting annual debt service (the amount needed each year to make payments) would exceed five percent of the annual general revenue availcluding revenues constitutionally dedicated for purposes other than payment of state debt.

The term "additional state debt" does not include bonds that, although backed by the full faith and credit of the state, are reasonably expected to be paid from revenue sources other than the general revenue fund. The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment limiting the amount of state debt payable from the general revenue fund.

PROPOSITION NO. 12 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 55 proposes a constitutional amendment to provide that if the Texas Supreme Court does not act on a motion for a rehearing within 180 days of the motion's filing, the motion is The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment to establish a deadline for supreme court action on a motion for rehearing."

PROPOSITION NO. 13 ON THE BALLOT House Joint Resolution 8 proposes a constitutional amendment to establish the Texas Tomorrow trust fund dedicated exclusively to the prepayment of tuition and fees for higher education. The amendment would guarantee that if there is not enough money during any fiscal year to pay the appropriate tuition and required fees, the needed money will be appropriated out of the first available money coming into the state treasury each fiscal year. The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment to encourage persons to plan and save for young Texans' college education, to extend the full faith and credit of the state to protect the Texas tomorrow fund of the prepaid higher education tuition program, and to establish the Texas tomorrow fund as a constitutionally protected trust fund."
