

Wire Tapping Probe May Be Sensational

Evidences Of Political Espionage Are Reported At Hand

WASHINGTON, Mar. 16 (AP)—A projected congressional investigation of wire tapping, interested senators hinted today, may unfold a sensational story of political espionage reaching into a half dozen or more states.

Inquiry In Progress

Proponents predicted that the senate audit and control committee would approve next Wednesday a resolution by Senator Green (D-RI) to provide $25,000 for an inquiry by the interstate commerce committee. They said speedy senate action then would be urged.

It was disclosed that tentative plans have been made to summon numerous state and federal officials, as well as officers and employees of some private detective agencies. They would be questioned about what some senators described as an apparent "network" of political espionage in several state capitals.

States mentioned by committee members as likely to figure in the inquiry included Rhode Island, New York, Colorado, Pennsylvania, Massachusetts and California.

The committee has received reports, it was learned, of the surreptitious hanging of a microphone in a governor's office, the tapping of the telephone lines of a state attorney general and the use of recording discs to reproduce the conversations of public officials.

If it is given the "go ahead" signal, the committee also is expected to inquire into the use of listening devices by government agencies, particularly the federal bureau of investigation and the alcohol tax unit, in obtaining leads on criminal cases.

Some members said the recent denial of J. Edgar Hoover that the G-men ever had used wire tapping in violation of existing laws would not deter the committee from looking into the instances where the FBI admittedly has employed this method to obtain "leads."

Aviation Engineer Is Suicide Victim

SEATTLE, Mar. 16 (AP)—Threatened with blindness, Charles N. Monteith, 48, one of the nation's leading aeronautics engineers, shot and killed himself in bed, coroner Otto H. Mittelstadt said today.

Mrs. Monteith found the body when she went to awaken him at their Queen Anne Hill home today. Monteith retired as executive vice president and chief engineer of the Boeing Airplane company two years ago, after being instrumental in developing the Boeing 247 transport (which pioneered twin-engine airplane service), the first Boeing Clippers used by Pan American Airways, the Boeing "Stratoliner" and the Boeing 317 bombers used by the United States army.

AIRLINE HEARING IS DELAYED TO APRIL 14

Rep. George Mahon advised from Washington Saturday that the Civil Aeronautics Authority hearing set for April 8 on a group of applications affecting Texas had been postponed until April 15.

Applications which would give Big Spring north and south airline service are included in the docket for the hearing. No reason for the one week postponement of the hearing was given by the congressman in his wire to the chamber of commerce.

Thompson, Sadler Disagree On April Crude Allowables

Texas Oil Situation Due For Airing At Wednesday's Proration Hearing

AUSTIN, Mar. 16 (AP)—One member of the Texas railroad commission, oil regulatory body, today flatly advocated reducing production in April while another said he would vote for a cutback only upon a showing of evidence that too much crude was being produced.

Commissioner Jerry Sadler said he would recommend less flow from Texas fields on grounds current allowables were far in excess of demand while Ernest O. Thompson, asserting there seemed to be a strong demand, declared that if any fields wanted schedules reduced operators should inform the commission at once.

Their statements came as the statewide allowable climbed to 1,556,932 barrels daily, relatively a few barrels below the record high permissive of August, 1937, and somewhat more than that of the high gasoline consuming period last summer.

The Texas situation, subject of much pro and con discussion lately, was due for a complete airing Wednesday at a statewide proration hearing for evidence upon which to base an April schedule.

Texas began March with a scheduled daily flow of about 1,490,000 barrels, some 150,000 above the bureau of mines recommendation. Numerous fields since have been increased, putting the schedule above the 1,500,000-barrel mark for the first time in almost three years.

"As best I can ascertain from commission reports and conversations with oil men," Sadler commented, "all available gasoline storage in Texas has been taken up and they are cleaning out old tanks for additional storage."

"Further crude stocks have been misrepresented to the commission by many oil men. A check with the commission reveals many have more on hand than reported."

"From a careful survey I find that many of the raises in allowables granted by the commission are far above the ability of wells to produce. This is physical waste."

He added the time had come for the commission to "stay out of politics" on all official duties and deliberate in issuing an April order.

Thompson, who previously had voiced an opinion 10,000,000 additional barrels of crude would not be harmful, said he knew of no Texas wells without connections and there seemed to be a strong demand for crude all around.

Sharp increases in income tax figures by the Associated Press. Reports of sharp increases in income tax collections in many key cities indicated Saturday that the treasury may be pleasantly surprised when it totals the annual big March yield.

Up until midnight Friday, when the deadline for making returns was reached, the unofficial guess was that a 30 per cent, or $100,000,000 increase over the tax take a year ago might be attained.

But tallies from several important collection districts showed increases well in excess of that figure, although in others the percentage of increase was comparatively moderate.

PENKNIFE OPERATION IS FUTILE ATTEMPT

SPOKANE, Wash., Mar. 16 (AP)—An emergency operation performed with a penknife in a desperate attempt to save the life of Danny Novich, 7, proved futile today when the weakened youth died of a severe throat infection.

Dr. R. E. Stuard, city health officer, performed the operation at the Novich home, opening the boy's throat and inserting a metal tube to restore the child's breathing. Danny lived for eight hours.

SEVEN-YEAR TERM ON MURDER CHARGE

BELTON, Mar. 16 (AP)—C. J. Duncan, charged with murder in connection with the shooting of George Watters, former Southern Methodist university football player, was given a 7-year penitentiary sentence tonight by a jury which convicted him after four hours' deliberation.

Watters was shot down on a Temple street.

EIGHT IN FAMILY BURNED TO DEATH

SHIRLEY, Ark., Mar. 16 (AP)—Eight members of a family were burned to death and two others injured seriously when fire destroyed a four-room farm home five miles west of here today.

Three other 'teen-age boys in the family escaped injury.

Mrs. Sallie Allen, 39, and six of her ten children were trapped in a bedroom and died together.

NOBEL PRIZE WINNER CLAIMED BY DEATH

STOCKHOLM, Mar. 16 (AP)—Dr. Selma Lagerlof, 81, first woman to win the Nobel prize for literature, died at her home in northern Sweden today after an illness blamed partly upon worry over the future of Sweden and Scandinavia in today's war-torn world.

SHIPS SEIZED

LISBON, Portugal, Mar. 17 (Sunday)—(AP)—A ministry of marine communications today said French gunboats had seized the 4,751-ton Portuguese freighter Cascaquel and 8,800-ton liner Colonial.

Britain Loses More Ships In Mine Warfare

Sea Casualties Are Listed As RAF Planes Fly Over Poland

LONDON, Mar. 16 (AP)—A new uprising in German mine warfare today claimed two British naval trawlers and several merchant ships while Britain wrote its own warlike postscript to a week of siege by announcing flights by her bombers over both German-occupied Poland and Heligoland Bight.

Greek Ships Lost

The trawlers sunk were the Peridot and the Maida, both by mines. The commander and five crewmen of the Maida were believed lost. The crew of the Peridot was saved.

The 1,589-ton British steamer Melrose sank in the North sea after an explosion, with 18 of her crew of 23 missing, and two Greek ships, the Panachrandos, 4,661 tons and the Flora, 2,980 tons, were sunk mysteriously.

Late tonight it was reported the 4,513-ton Yugoslavian steamer Slava had gone down off the Welsh coast today from an explosion. One man of the crew was lost.

British officials said they could not confirm German claims that one British patrol vessel had been sunk and another damaged by German air-raiders.

Shortly after the sinkings of the British vessels were disclosed, Netherlands naval officials advised ships flying that nation's flag to remain in harbor because of the discovery of new danger zones. Subsequently shipowners were instructed concerning a new route across the North sea.

The British flight over former Polish territory, which the air ministry said had taken place in the last 24 hours, was the second of the war officially reported.

The planes which reconnoitered Heligoland Bight met some "opposition" from German fighters and anti-aircraft guns but suffered no casualties, the communique reported.

RADIO REPORT OF GERMAN BOMBINGS

NEW YORK, Mar. 16 (AP)—The Columbia Broadcasting System tonight reported picking up a short-wave broadcast from Berlin which asserted that German warplanes had bombed British warships and airfields.

CBS engineers said the Berlin station, D.Z., declared that a general headquarters communique stated: "Powerful detachments of the German airforce proceeded to the northwest and attacked units of the British fleet stationed at Scapa Flow in the evening of March 16."

"A number of heavy battleships and cruisers were hit by the bombs and were severely damaged. In addition, a number of airports were bombed."

Music Group's Dinner Mon.

Having elected officers for another year, the Civic Music association will take action at a dinner affair Monday at 6 p. m. in the Settles toward developing plans for the annual membership drive March 25-30.

J. H. Greene, who headed the organization in its first year of operation here, was re-elected president of the association. Vice-presidents named were Mrs. Herbert Keaton, Cliff Wiley, Dr. P. W. Malone, Mrs. Harry Hurt, William R. Dawes and Mrs. Carl Strom. Nell Brown was elected secretary and Mrs. Reba Baker treasurer.

The initial invitation last year netted a total of 328 members and made possible the presentation of three artists—Douglas Beattie, basso, Margaret Speaks, pianist, and Hortense Month, pianist.

This year the association has hopes of substantially increasing its membership, which in turn will enable it to offer artists who have established national reputations and possibly extend the number of concerts.

Fear Death For 44 Miners, Entombed After An Explosion; 113 Others Saved

Public Invited To View Displays At Museum's 'Open House' Today

Open house will be observed today between the hours of 3 p. m. and 7 p. m. by the West Texas Memorial association, in the museum at the city park.

Hundreds of people are expected to pass through the institution during the four hour period and view the many relics of by-gone days—relics that range from bones of prehistoric monsters, Indian artifacts and evidences of life in this area before the white man came to trophies of war, gadgets used by pioneers, paintings, old photographs and hundreds of other equally interesting items.

Members of the 1930 Hyperion club will serve as hostesses for the afternoon and among those to greet visitors will be Mrs. Omar Pittman, chairman, Mrs. Harry Hurt, Mrs. M. H. Bennett, Mrs. J. C. Loper, Mrs. R. V. Middleton, Mrs. J. Y. Robb, Mrs. Preston Sanders, Mrs. E. V. Spence, Mrs. H. C. Stipp and Mrs. D. P. Watt.

A special attraction will be an old German music box loaned to the museum by H. D. Williams, whose father, Dr. Charles Williams, secured it during the Franco-Prussian war. Operating from metal discs the size of the modern record and perforated like a player piano roll, the instrument plays a varied selection of tunes. Mary Ann Dudley and Jean McDowell will play it today.

Mrs. L. S. McDowell Saturday donated a collection of interesting early-day Big Spring photographs to the museum and they will be seen for the first time today. Included are ranch scenes, cowboys in action, cattle feeding, a picture of the first oil well in the county—the General Oil Co. No. 1 McDowell (drilled by S. E. J. Cox on land donated by Mr. McDowell) and a group of early day Big Spring cowmen including Dave Ervett, Andy Long, A. S. McDowell, Andy Jones, Jesse Evans, Bud Brown, John Birdwell, John Roberts, Jack Rogers, John Monday and Jim Williams.

Refreshments will be served those visiting the museum today and there will be music.

Finns Define New Borders, Prepare To Rebuild Defenses

Service This Morning For Mrs. Dan Hudson, Auto Mishap Victim

Death on the highway struck with stunning swiftness Saturday, to claim a member of one of the city's most popular couples. She was Mrs. Dan Hudson, wife of the manager of the Settles hotel, killed instantly when the car in which she and her husband were riding overturned as she swerved the machine to avoid hitting a steer which had darted onto the highway.

The mishap occurred some 15 miles east of Ranger, on the near end of the new Weatherford cutoff south of Strawn, about 7:15 a. m. Mrs. Hudson was rushed to Ranger, where word of the tragedy was telephoned to friends in Big Spring.

As the car hurtled off the pavement and overturned, Mrs. Hudson was thrown clear of the machine, and was crushed under it. She was 42 years old. Mr. Hudson escaped with arm lacerations and body bruises.

News of the tragedy cast a pall of sorrow over this community, which had welcomed Mrs. Hudson into close friendships. Admired as a young woman of quiet charm and gracious manner, she had established a wide circle of friends in the 16 months she had made her home here with her husband. They came to the Settles on November 16, 1938.

Previously, they had been at hotels in Dallas, San Antonio and Fort Worth, and Mr. Hudson is prominently known in hotel circles over the state.

The body was returned here in an Eberley coach Saturday, and brief funeral services will be conducted at 9:30 this morning at the Eberley chapel, by Dr. D. F. McConnell, pastor of the First Presbyterian church. Named as honorary pallbearers are R. R. McEwen, Dave Eastbourne, B. L. LeFevre, Sam Goldman, Roy Townsend, Harry Williamson, Bob Whiskey, Burke Summers, E. V. Spence and Grover Dunham.

The body will be taken overland today for burial, after rites at 10 a. m. Monday, in the Wheatland cemetery, near Lancaster, Dallas county, under direction of Conner funeral home. The rites will be held at the home of Mrs. Hudson's mother, Mrs. Rosa T. Stuart, at De Soto, Dallas county. In the nearby Wheatland

Will Negotiate Commercial Pact With Russia

HELSINKI, Mar. 16 (AP)—A Finnish commission will fly to Moscow Monday to iron out details of the new borders imposed on Finland under last Tuesday's peace treaty while at home the nation tackles rehabilitation and the building of new defenses.

Dr. Juho K. Paasikivi, minister without portfolio, will head the commission.

As he disclosed these plans and the fact that negotiations for a commercial treaty would begin soon, Dr. Paasikivi lifted slightly the curtain which has hidden the peace negotiations in which he participated.

He said the Finnish delegation left Helsinki shortly by automobile a week ago last Wednesday and flew from Stockholm to Moscow.

There were five sessions in all, he explained, and the Finnish delegates were treated well and dined on the best of Russian food in an atmosphere "cold but correct."

Joseph Stalin did not attend the meetings but Premier - Foreign Commissar Vyacheslav Molotov was present throughout.

Dr. Paasikivi declared the Russians made no political demands on Finland and when Finnish delegates asked Molotov of the reaction to offers of allied aid to Finland he replied merely: "We're not afraid of them."

The former premier said he did not believe the proposed Finnish-Swedish-Norwegian defense alliance could be interpreted as a violation of article three of the Russian-Finnish peace pact, which refers to an alliance directed against Russia. He said, "The northern alliance would be for defense and would be directed against the entire world."

Stockholm advices said exploratory diplomatic exchanges among the three northern countries of the projected alliance were believed well under way and editorial comment in Sweden indicated steadily growing favor both for the proposal and increased defense measures.

Miller said members of the group "like and respect" Mr. Garner but feel that 80 per cent of the people of Texas are for reelection of President Roosevelt "and we want to give them a chance to demonstrate that in the precinct, county and state conventions in May."

FD Lists His Peace Ideals

WASHINGTON, Mar. 16 (AP)—President Roosevelt, speaking on a world-wide broadcast, set forth today a list of ideals of international organization without which, he said, no peace can be made on a lasting basis.

Queen Wilhelmina of Holland also took part in the program which was held in connection with the Christian foreign service convocation in New York.

"Today we seek a moral basis for peace," Mr. Roosevelt said. "It cannot be a real peace if it fails to recognize brotherhood. It cannot be a lasting peace if the fruit of it is oppression, or starvation, or cruelty, or human life dominated by armed camps. It cannot be a sound peace if small nations must live in fear of powerful neighbors. It cannot be a moral peace if freedom from invasion is sold for tribute. It cannot be an intelligent peace if it denies free passage to that knowledge of those ideals which permit men to find common ground. It cannot be a righteous peace if worship of God is denied."

The president's statement suggested to some observers here that it might form the basis of administration thinking should the opportunity occur for an attempt to bring about peace.

Efforts Made To Force Air Down Shaft

Desperate Attempts To Contact Imprisoned Men Fail

ST. CLAIRSVILLE, O., Mar. 16 (AP)—Forty-four men entombed in the explosion-torn Willow Creek coal mine were feared dead tonight.

Two men were killed trying to rescue them. Rescue crews saved 113 other miners, most of them were affected by the death-dealing "black damp" which followed a Monday blast.

Cut Off From Fresh Air
Officials of the Hanna Coal Co., owners of the mine three miles south of here, declined to speculate on the miners' fate. The 44 were cut-off from fresh air and entombed behind a rock barrier.

"But they're all dead—they could live through that blast," said Frank Ostrzygu, one of the rescued men. This view was shared by his fellow workers.

Desperate attempts to contact the imprisoned men failed. While rescue crews battered at the rock wall—some thought it would take all night to break through—efforts were made to force fresh air to the men down a 90-foot shaft.

A revised check by R. L. Ireland, company president, showed that 157 men were in the huge mine when the accident occurred. Many gained safety through the air shaft located at the end of the three-mile long "drift," or horizontal mine.

"On the way we saw men scattered all over the lot," said John Howerdick, 38, of Neff. Harry Stanley declared "it looks bad." George Strain asserted that the length of time the men lived depended on the amount of air available in the area where they were trapped.

Strain, state director of industrial relations, was in charge of Ohio mine rescue crews.

John Richards, mine superintendent, and Howard Sanders, tipple boss, lost their lives in a daring rescue effort. They were killed by the treacherous "black damp," a gas which forms in mines after an explosion.

Nearly all of the men were affected by the gas to some extent. Scores were treated at an emergency hospital set up in the mine office basement.

Nick Polacy, George Griffith, Peter Taylor and Charles Kluskey were hospitalized. Polacy was burned about the face and arms and the others were gassed, Griffith seriously.

Polacy and Griffith were with Richards and Sanders in the first rescue effort.

The mine was termed by officials as the Hanna company's "safest." It was one of the most modern in Ohio—equipped with the latest air-conditioning safeguards.

Fire broke out after the blast which presumably was caused by gas or coal dust. It was later brought under control.

Rescue crews wearing gas masks and carrying cages of canaries to test air conditions hoped to break through the wall of "black damp" before midnight to where the 44 were believed entombed behind a rock barrier.

Buying Rush Due For Easter Week

NEW YORK, Mar. 16 (AP)—Business hatched its sales chart to the Easter shopping parade today as merchants prepared for the biggest buying rush at retail counters since Christmas.

Taking the trade spotlight away from the world's roaring business in war machines, America's sellers of jaunty Easter hats, spring coats and the latest fashions in women's dresses stepped to the front.

The swirl of Easter shopping gave business a needed stimulus. Liquidation of the short-lived autumn war boom of industry continued the past week and manufacturing activity generally showed less expansion than usual for the season.

Weather Forecast

WEST TEXAS—Increasing cloudiness Sunday; Monday partly cloudy in south portion and cloudy with intermittent rain over north portion; colder in north portion Monday.

EAST TEXAS—Fair in interior, partly cloudy to cloudy on the coast Sunday and Monday; slightly cooler in north and west portions Monday.

Georgia Governor Faces Fight To Stay Out Of Jail On U. S. Charge

ATLANTA, Mar. 16 (AP)—Governor E. D. Rivers, whose office makes him immune to state laws, today pondered the possibility that he may have to run Georgia from a federal jail cell.

Unsmiling and frankly non-plus-ed at his arrest in Macon last night for contempt of federal court—an offshoot of a complex state highway chairmanship conflict—he drafted a grim fight to avert execution of the jail sentence he expects District Judge Bascom Deaver to impose.

The dramatic arrest at the close of a night session of several thousand school teachers in a convention plopped a crisis abruptly in the stocky governor's lap. He won his technical freedom for a week by promising to return to Macon next Friday to show cause why he should not be punished for contempt.

Twice before he had avoided appearing before Deaver as state counsel asked the jurist to dismiss contempt citations against the governor and Adjutant General John E. Stoddard. These citations came after Rivers and his troop chief defied Deaver's injunction against the military lockout of ousted Road Chairman W. L. Miller. Guardsmen still bar Miller from the highway building.

Rivers charged today the state's sovereignty was jeopardized by federal court invasion. He vowed to meet "squarely and fearlessly" an issue he defined as federal judiciary regulation of internal political affairs of Georgia.

Caylor Paintings Called 'Important, Significant, And Genuine' By Noted Texas Writer, Frank Dobie

The merit of paintings by the late H. W. Caylor of Big Spring is emphasized in an evaluation of the "cowboy painter" by J. Frank Dobie, outstanding Texas historian and writer, who recently made a visit to this city. His article appeared in a recent issue of the Dallas News, and is reprinted here by the kind permission of that newspaper and the author.

Of course a man can carry his pride in and love for his land to an excess—as illustrated by General Sherman. He is credited with having remarked that if he owned Hell and Texas, he'd rent out the latter and live in the former, where upon a Texan commented, "That's right. Every man stand up for his own country."

For a long time I have been wanting to know more about the artist H. W. Caylor, not because of any passion for abstract art, but because of an interest—so intense that it mounts to a passion—in art that depicts the land and life to which I belong. March 2 found me in Big Lake, west of San Angelo. Caylor used to live in Big Spring, about a hundred miles north of Big Lake. There is no water in the lake and the spring has dried up. I drove seventy-five miles before I saw an acre of land in cultivation and met only three cars in that distance. "That's the kin' of country I like to travel in."

In Big Spring I went to see Mrs. Caylor. We talked through the afternoon and across the upper table. Thus learning about the artist while looking at his pictures, which hang in the home, was delightful. The outline facts of his life are that he was born in Indiana in 1867, the ninth in a family of twelve children fathered by a shoemaker. As a child he drew pictures of dogs and other animals on his mother's starched pillow shams. He wanted to be a cowboy and for a few months was one in Kansas. Meanwhile, however, he had been studying art and boring his eyes into the Western country. He made something of a living painting portraits. Once he sent Frederick Remington some of his sketches, along with the suggestion that he would like to study under him. Remington wrote back: "You paint a better horse than I do. Go to nature for your study."

In Love at First Sight
In 1889 he fell in love, at first sight, with a Louisiana girl named Florence Nephler visiting at Parsons, Kan. He wanted her to marry him instantly, but the wedding was postponed for five weeks. Four years later the couple came to Texas, locating at Big Spring, then a cow town. They acquired two sections of land, and Caylor got a few Longhorn cattle to serve for models. Sometimes he and Mrs. Caylor would follow roundups and cattle drives in a hack, with complete camping equipment. He was always looking for ranch subjects to paint. If necessary he would hire a cowboy to make a horse pitch. He became well known to big cowmen like C. C. Slaughter, the Scharbauers (at Midland) and George West, of San Antonio and Live Oak county. They bought his pictures, "The Lead Steer, Disputing the Trail, Bed Ground, The Old Hunter's Story, The Texas Sheriff, The Outlaw (steer), Dry Waterhole, The Fence Rider, The Rim Rock, The Chuck Wagon, The Stampedo, Trail Herd, Prayer of Rain (cowman, not Indian, prayer), The Drift Fence."

I have no apologies to make for expressing opinions on art and sculpture, even though I know next to nothing about art technique. I know when a painting says something to me; I know when it is based on common sense and can detect in it the presence or absence of such qualities as humor, nobleness, beauty. It requires no more expertness to pass a kind of judgment on art than on a book. When a fiddler makes that fiddle talk to me, he's a good fiddler so far as I am concerned.

Going by negative evidence, the arty artists and the sophisticated connoisseurs never had much to say to or about H. Wallace Caylor's work. On the other hand, his deep appeal to men who drove up the trail, faced blizzards, loved horses and regarded Longhorns as a symbol for Texas itself—his deep appeal through his art for these men marks him as important, significant and genuine.

Caylor died in 1932. Many of his paintings are in banks and homes at Big Spring. The little museum there owns one showing a herd of Longhorns on the trail. Altogether, however, Caylor's work is widely scattered. This is natural, but there should be somewhere in Texas a representative collection of his work preserved for the delight of common people who take pleasure in and are edified by simple, sincere and beautiful pictures interpretative of their own land.

I saw in a newspaper recently that saints had been found stuffed away in mission vaults in San Antonio and are probably the first examples of art brought to Texas. This may be. Other examples exactly like them came out of Italy and were scattered throughout Patagonia and Guatemala, Mexico, Peru, etc. They were manufactured by the thousand, and the fact that they were finally discarded by church fathers is no reflection on either the piety or the taste of those fathers. Furthermore, the fact that they may have been the first examples of art to reach Texas is not historically important. History is not made out of firsts, though a great deal of intolerably dull compilation called history is printed on that theory. History is a revelation and significance, irrespective of dates. I would not give half of a lye soap coupon for knowing who imported the first picture, either sacred or profane, into Texas. The only pictures worth considering at all are those that say something, express nature—which includes humanity—light up life.

The University of Texas is not only at the head of the educational system of Texas; it is the custodian of the Texas Museum. Some day there is going to be a kind of Texas Center at Austin, a place in which all kinds of interpretations of Texas—especially in art and in printing—may be seen, enjoyed and studied. H. Wallace Caylor belongs in that Texas collection right now. His work will never rank with the masterpieces of Charles M. Russell and Frederick Remington, but it will never have to bow its head from feelings of inferiority when associated with those great artists of the West.

O. Henry's Story
O. Henry wrote a story about art in Texas. I can't recall the name of it and probably memory has garbled the details, but it has sense to it and a point respecting patriotism has applied to art. It seems that the legislature or the governor or some other official representative of the state had offered a reward for the most masterly masterpiece to be painted by a native son. One of the sons of the plains spread paint over a canvas big enough to serve as a wagon sheet. His people had influence, and when the day of judgment came this son's work was given the palm. Now while the judges were making up their minds, the painter had a chance to see some other art, and suddenly he came to a realization of how un-speakably rotten his own production was. It was so large, however, that it had to be stretched out in a place open enough for a man to ride in on horseback. The artist to be crowned came on his horse, as befits a proud man. He got a good look, spurred his horse straight into the canvas, and that was the end of the masterpiece.

Talking about art on a wagon sheet reminds me of what is perhaps the best known picture concerned with American history. What is the best known scene in American history? Is it Washington Crossing the Delaware? That may be. If it is, the next best known scene is Custer's Last Stand. Years ago a beer company made it familiar all over the land, out of as well as in saloons. Since the repeal of prohibition it has been revived. Painted on Wagon Sheet
Who painted Custer's Last Stand? The Seventh Cavalry— which Custer commanded—is stationed at Fort Bliss, near El Paso. Hanging in the officers' club building at Fort Bliss is the original painting of this picture familiar to millions of Americans. For years it was in possession of the beer company, and was then turned over to the Seventh Cavalry. It is painted on a great wagon sheet, which is today appropriately stretched with ropes. The painter's name does not show on the canvas. He probably did his work shortly after the Battle of the Little Big Horn, where Custer's men were wiped out in 1876.

Considering the enormous appeal that the picture has had, it is to Americans certainly one of the most important pictures in the world. If Gainsborough's The Blue Boy, hanging in the Huntington Art Museum in California, is worth a half million dollars, this picture of Custer's Last Stand, painted on a wagon sheet, is worth maybe five million dollars. Gainsborough was a far better artist; his picture is a loveliness that will live forever, but Custer's Last Stand has made a certain episode out of the history of the West a part of the inheritance of almost every American. Looking at it there—even with the light glittering on varnish meant to preserve the paint—I seemed to be witnessing something stupendous—not just a battle but a depiction for which the battle might have been fought.

The original of perhaps the most familiar picture in American history deserves some homage. For my part, I would not trade it off for all the pictures of Italian saints that have ever been hauled out of Italy. Somehow I kind of associate Caylor's highheaded Longhorns with Custer's charge.

Horse Show Planned Here On April 21 As A Charity Affair

Plans to bring a super deluxe edition of the horse show, which is making phenomenal gains in popularity, to Big Spring next month were mapped in a meeting here Friday night, when members of the Rotary club met with horse fanciers of this area who will assist in staging the show.

The event, tentatively scheduled for Sunday, April 21, will be a charity affair, with the crippled children's fund of the local Rotary club the beneficiary. C. T. McLaughlin of Midland and Frank Kelly of Colorado City, both breeders, trainers and exhibitors of fine horses, met with W. H. Bennett, J. Y. Robb and M. W. Inkman of the Rotary club and others in charting plans for the affair.

An impressive prize list will be compiled, and it is considered a certainty that blue ribbon show horses will be exhibited here from stables at Dallas, Fort Worth, Amarillo, Plainview and possibly San Antonio. McLaughlin and Kelly will have their stables represented, too.

There will be professional and amateur events, and special classes for the show, scheduled to be presented both afternoon and night. Events are planned for Plantation horses, walk-and-trot combinations, three and five-gaited open classes, a five-gaited stake, a special exhibit of Hackney ponies and junior classes.

Sponsors of the show are making plans for an elaborate event, and are expecting wide interest and attendance from over the entire West Texas area. Entry blanks will be mailed out probably this week.

TO RELEASE SURVEY ON DRUNKEN DRIVING ON APRIL 2ND

AUSTIN, Mar. 16. (AP)—Predicting the public would be startled out of its "complacent attitude" toward drunken driving as the result of a partly completed survey, Tom Follard of Tyler said today a full report would be made here April 2.

Pollard, chairman of a committee of the Texas Safety Association asserted the survey would reveal why more drunken drivers were not being indicted and convicted and that there have been considerably more accidents involving drunken driving than have been charged against automobile operators.

MRS. A. H. SHROYER

Sales corporation has announced Mrs. Shroyer winner of the yearly award of the son's Oldsmobile Business Management club.

The award is made for the highest percentage obtained during the year in promptness and accuracy in matters pertaining to the business management, and to the attention given to the vast amount of detail connected with the operation of a dealership.

Similar honors have come to Mrs. Shroyer before, as a credit to the thoroughness with which she has applied herself to her job. A Fitch of bacon was annually awarded to couples in Dumow, Essex, England, who had no differences for a year and a day.

Gerald Anderson Writes Column In College Paper

Gerald "Dopey" Anderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Anderson, has turned columnist for the weekly paper at McMurry college where he is a student.

In a recent issue, Gerald had a feature article extolling the virtues and fine points of the art of loafing. He directed most of the article to football players among the ablest exponents of the "hobby."

Speaking of the "art," he said "It calls for deep and profound concentration because of the disconcerting localities and noises. The amount of will power it takes to be a true loafer is staggering. Now, the art of true loafing is as fine as painting, acting and music—perhaps just a bit finer." He closed his story by explaining he had to stop to devote the rest of the afternoon to the art.

HERE'S NEW KIND OF TRAFFIC TICKET

A new kind of ticket is being issued by traffic officers in addition to the traditional red one which means trouble at headquarters. The new tag, on yellow paper, is given for failure to park within designated lines. ## Why lug the Drum when you can twirl the Baton?

Above is the Buick SPECIAL 4-door touring sedan $996*

YOU never yet saw a band come down the street without someone out in front setting the tempo, while someone back in the crowd obediently thumped in time. So you'll get what we mean when we ask, right out, why drive a car that's along just for the march—when you can pilot a Buick and show the others the way? Maybe someday the others will have engines like velvet because they're electrically balanced after assembly; but Buick has them now. Maybe tomorrow they will have coil springs all around that never need greasing—but Buick has them today.

Maybe sometime you'll get the five-foot front seat room and Foamtex cushions of the SUPRA—maybe you'll get direction signals with automatic cut-off as standard equipment—but you can get those things and a lot besides on Buick this year. Maybe someday you'll get a car as long as Buick for the money, or with a frame as heavy without paying more; maybe sometime there'll be another eight as big and roomy and powerful that's priced like a six. But why take a chance on those maybes when this honey's here, ready for you to take over right now? Fact is, when you step into this Buick you take over a car others will be trying to equal for years to come. So drop in on your Buick dealer. Drop in to talk facts and figures, or drop in to see what next year's cars will try to look like. But drop in! Soon!

Coahoma and Garner will tangle in the first round game of the playground ball playoff Tuesday afternoon, 4 p. m., March 26, at the Big Spring city park, the winner to oppose Forsan Thursday afternoon on the same field.

Nix said that regular 12-inch innum ball would be used in all the softball games.

OKLAHOMA AGGIE SOPH NEARS WORLD'S HIGH JUMP RECORD

DON BOYDSON JUMPS 6 FEET, 8 1/2 INCHES AT FORT WORTH

By FELIX R. MCKNIGHT
FORT WORTH, Mar. 16 (AP)—School-legged Don Boydson, a honey Oklahoma A. & M. sophomore, drifted shockingly close to a world high jump record in an unheralded performance of the Southwestern Exposition track and field meet here today.

Top team honors in the university division of a meet that attracted 1,210 athletes went to University of Texas, but Boydson slipped in the big thrill with a leap of six feet, 8 1/2 inches.

The bar was hoisted to six feet, ten inches to give the skinny Sooner a chance at smashing the six feet, 9 3/4 inch mark held jointly by Dave Albritton and Melvin Walker, both formerly of Ohio State University. On the third try, with only a short jog of about ten feet, Boydson barely tipped the bar and it tumbled into the pit, after trembling on the standards.

Stout winds wrecked many chances at track records and made the featured 100-meter special event, won by big Lonnie Hill, University of Texas sophomore, seem like a slow motion event in 10.9 seconds.

Hill drove hard in the closing yards to edge out by inches Welby Williams, little North Texas State Teachers college sophomore sensation.

Deep in fifth position, still obviously off his old sprinting form, was Freddie Wolcott of Rice Institute, primarily one of the world's greatest hurdlers but also Southwest conference dash champion.

One of the day's big upsets occurred in the publicized football shuttle relay, Little Texas Arts and Industries of Kingsville, Texas, beating out favored big brothers of the Southwest conference with a sparkling 44.4 seconds performance in the 400-yard shuttle race with footballs.

North Texas Teachers finished second, East Texas Teachers, third and University of Texas, powered on the last lap by Cowboy Jack Crain, saved the Southwest conference from a shutout by finishing fourth.

Fourteen records tumbled in the various divisions, but only three, Boydson's high jump; Boyce Gatewood's streaking 23.8 second performance in the 200-yard low hurdles over a straightaway course, and North Texas Teachers college mile relay run of 3:21.4 were new all-time marks—all divisions considered.

Final winners of the divisions: University—Texas, College—North Texas State Teachers, Junior College—Schreiner Institute, Prep and freshman—North Texas State Teachers, High school—Central Oklahoma City; Highland Park, Dallas, and Waurika, Okla., tied for second.

Wolcott Wins
Wolcott, off to a lazy start in the 120-yard high hurdles, pulled out in front going over the fifth hurdle and finished a comfortable two feet ahead of his perennial rival, Boyce Gatewood of Texas. His time of 14.5 was comparatively slow, but the race was run into a breeze over a slow track.

The choppy wind wrecked the university 100-yard dash event, Lonnie Hill, running a slow 10.1 race to win.

Diminutive Welby Williams, who burst into the nation's track headlines a week ago by winning his first college 100-yard race at Laredo's Border Olympics, breezed the 100 on 9.6 seconds in a preliminary heat to tie the meet record set by Cy Leland, Texas Christian's old star; Glass of

Nations Leads Steer Thinly Clads To Win

Cops Four Events, Is Member Of Victorious Relay Team

By HANK HART
STANTON, Mar. 16—With lanky Lem Nations surprisingly setting the pattern, Howard Schwarzenbach's Big Spring high school track and field team scored 68 1-4 points to win the Stanton invitational meeting here Friday afternoon.

Nations, counted upon by Coach Swatzy to place in two events, proved supreme in every thing he tried, coming away from the field with blue ribbons in the century dash, the 220-yard sprint, the broad jump and the high jump. In addition he led off the victorious mile relay team, upping his point total to 21 1-4 for the afternoon.

H. A. Peol's Stanton representative, showing power in both hurdles, finished next to the Big Springers with 37 points, followed by Forsan, which had 23 1-4, Coahoma 19 1-4 and Courtney, 6 1-4.

Records in all events remained intact but most of the performances were good, considering the condition of the track and the stage of the season. Sprint entries were bucking a strong south wind most of the afternoon.

Nations, easily winning his preliminary in the 100-yard dash, negotiated the final gallop in 10.8 seconds, outrunning Johnny Miller and Harold "Lefty" Bethell, both of Big Spring, who had finished in a dead heat in the first prelim.

His winning dash was the first of eight blue ribbons the local boys gained on the 13-event program.

Jeffrey Equals World's Record

LONG BEACH, Mar. 16 (AP)—Clyde Jeffrey of Stanford university claimed a world record equality performance today when he ran the 100-yard dash in 9.4 seconds in the Long Beach relays.

Jeffrey broke the tape four-yards in front of Mickey Anderson of Southern California, with Jim Ruffin, unattached, third. Meet officials said the wind guaged recorded wind pressure of less than the required two miles per hour.

Jeese Owens and Frank Wykoff are co-owners of the world record.

DATES SET FOR FORSAN GOLF CLUB'S FIRST 1940 TOURNEY

FORSAN, Mar. 16—Members of the Forsan golf club, in formal meeting Friday evening, set Sunday, April 14, as the date for the year's first tournament for members only.

Dates for the club's annual invitational meeting were not definitely set but Blacky Hines, one of the unit's directors, said that it would probably be conducted sometime during May.

The club members, who now total more than 60, will meet in session again Thursday evening, March 28, to elect new officers for the year.

Guy Rainey has been serving as president. Members of the board of directors are Dan Yarbrow, Hern Noe, Julian Galt, L. B. Barber and Hines.

American Leaguers Are Tampa Favorites Today

CROWD OF MORE THAN 15,000 TO ATTEND

By WHITNEY MARTIN
TAMPA, Fla., Mar. 16 (AP)—The Finnish relief fund will be helped and baseball's pre-season publicity will be helped, but there was a general feeling tonight that what may happen to the National league in its all-star game with the American league tomorrow just can't be helped.

The expected 15,000 spectators who will contribute close to $20,000 to the fund will see an American league starting lineup which for sheer power probably has never been matched in an all-star game, with the power topped by a superb mound staff.

The two league squads of 25 men each were chosen through a poll of sports writers from the teams training in Florida, thus eliminating participation by the Cubs and Pirates of the National league and the Browns, White Sox and Athletics of the American.

Morris Aronovitch From a National league standpoint it was very unfortunate that the Yankees were not training in California, or better yet, Siberia. Joe McCarthy, Yankee manager who will pilot the American league team tomorrow, has named five of his siege guns as starters, with a possible Yankee pitcher making a sixth.

Ruffing Alling
Adding to the National league's distress, the American league squad is extremely healthy, and only Red Ruffing, Dominic DiMaggio and Charley Geminer are not in a position to take part in the game.

The Nationals, on the other hand, are afflicted with an epidemic of holdouts, injuries and ailments which have necessitated numerous changes. Only today Ernie Lombardi suffered a split finger which will keep him out of action.

However, the National league fans are taking the philosophical attitude that the game is purely an exhibition and at this stage of the season, with pitchers throwing loose balls and batting eyes out of focus, it actually is, even more so than the annual mid season encounter.

There is enough rivalry between the two leagues, however, to make each player give his best, and a victory will give the winning league a talking point in future arguments, with the National league, if the loser, bringing up the old defense that it wasn't the American league which won but the Yanks.

Aronovitch To Play
Bill McKechnie, Cincinnati manager who is in charge of the National squad, said that each of the men will get into the game, and just to be sure Morris Aronovitch, the "forgotten man" last year, is very much in evidence, he will lead the batting order. McCarthy also is expected to give every man his chance.

Considering the power of the American league batting order it appeared tonight that it was strictly up to the National league pitchers to make it a contest, and there is enough class there to do it. Walters, Derringer, Clyde Shoun, Harry Gumbert, Luke Hamlin, Kirby Higbe and Morton Cooper all have what it takes when they are right.

The crowd, with favorable weather, is expected to be one of the largest to see a game in the south. It was announced tonight that the 7,000 reserved seats were sold, and that well over $10,000 already was in the till.

The game is scheduled to start at 12:15 p. m. (Central Standard Time). It will be broadcast over the Mutual network.

Nations Looms As Best Steer Trackster In Several Years

Before he gets out of school, Lem Nations may prove to be the best trackster Big Spring high school has produced in a half dozen years.

Lem, a football end who wants to play in Pat Murphy's backfield next fall, has come along fast since reporting to the track mentor, Howard Swatzy, three weeks ago, and showed surprising form at the Stanton invitational meet Friday where he won four first places and was a part of the winning mile relay team.

A junior who came out for track for the first time this spring, Lem looms as a possible winner in the district meet, especially the century dash and the 220-yard dash.

His time of 10.8 turned in in the 100 was considered good for the track.

The coaches who had teams entered in the Stanton shows may cooperate in staging more games of that kind, assured that such competition is very helpful in developing their youngsters.

Marlin Hayhurst, McCamey high school grid tutor who is an applicant for the Colorado City coaching post, vacated recently by Jack Christian, spent Friday night here with an old friend, Mileaway Baker, enroute to a conference with Colorado City school officials.

Hayhurst has been in the McCamey system for the past seven years and for five years before that was at Brownfield.

Hayhurst and Baker played high school football together at Rush Springs, Okla.

Woody Coons, Big Spring youth, will pop up as a center for the Hardin-Simmons university football team next fall.

Woody was a back while playing here but performed at end as a sophomore at the Abilene Institution last season.

Milton "Speedy" Moffett, former Steer coach, has been visiting here.

Sale Of Fence Signs For Park Is Progressing

Sale of fence signs for the Big Spring baseball plant is progressing at a rapid rate, according to Harold P. Steck, who is helping Jack Cook in the campaign. Steck indicated Saturday that 25 signs had already been disposed of and space for 11 others is all that is available inside the park. The committee expected to sell the remainder this week.

A few choice box seats remain and may be reserved either with Virgil Smith at the Crawford Barber shop or with Mileaway Baker. The carpenters have been delayed in starting actual construction of the new fifth and San Antonio street's grandstand but will go to work as soon as the charred remains of the old stand, destroyed by fire last year, are cleared away. Tony Rego, the local manager, announced Saturday that Curdele Loyd, first sacker, and Van Marshall, outfielder, both of last year's club, had been released. Elton Carroll, catcher of San Francisco, has been placed under contract and will report here next month. The signing of Carroll brings to ten the number under contract here.

Chuck Fenske In Record Run

CHICAGO, Mar. 16 (AP)—Charles (Chuck) Fenske, bespectacled Wisconsin star, set a new world's indoor record for the three-quarters mile paced run at the 12th annual Armour Tech Relays tonight, stepping the distance in 2:06.7 on the Chicago Field House dirt track. His performance bettered the 2:01.2 time turned in Thursday night by John Borican at Dartmouth.

HOLLYWOOD, Mar. 16 (AP)—With Ed Heusser, Herman Beese and George Caster pitching five hit ball and Benny McCoy driving in two runs on a double, the Philadelphia Athletics shutout Hollywood of the Pacific Coast league, 3 to 0, today. It was the A's 10th win in 13 starts.

OPEN HOUSE AT BUFF STADIUM

HOUSTON, Mar. 16 (AP)—It will be open house at Buff stadium tomorrow and Manager Eddie Dyer will stage a full nine inning intra-squad game. Howard Pollet, Hank Nowak and Howard Rist were named to pitch for the regulars with Ed Wissman, Ted Wilks and Severi working for the yannigans. In a five inning tilt today Charles Marshall, rookie catcher, came through with a last inning single to produce two runs and give the regulars a 2-1 decision.

Fast Field Is Assured For Texas Relays

AUSTIN, Mar. 16 (AP)—Official entry blanks have gone out to potential Texas relays entrants, and the Memorial Stadium track next week will start getting its face lit-up in preparation for the Southwest's annual big track and field spurge April 26. Coach Clyde Littlefield, relays director, said he had nibbles from several faraway teams last week, including the University of Pittsburgh and Butler university, and that two Loyola teams, Chicago and New Orleans, has assured him they were coming. With most teams of the Southwest and middle west already committed, a full, fast field already is assured.

SNIVELY FAVORED
HOUSTON, Mar. 16 (AP)—Paul Snively, of Houston, will be a top-heavy favorite to retain his singles title at the Texas state table tennis tournament starting here March 30. Snively's chief competition in the singles is expected from Curtis Clark of Corpus Christi, who battled the champion almost to a standstill last year.

YOUNG IS ARRESTED
WINTER HAVEN, Fla., Mar. 16 (AP)—Norman K. (Babe) Young, first baseman for the New York Giants, was arrested here today on a fugitive warrant in which his wife charged desertion and non-support. He posted $500 bond and announced he would fight extradition to Richmond, Va.

Nations

ly Womack and the Steer mile relay team contributed first places. Martin ripped off the quarter mile jaunt in 59.8 seconds, outdistancing C. B. South, who had quite a time besting Warren Qualls, Forsan, and Owen Brummett, Big Spring, for the second slot. Brummett, fooled by a false finish, cut loose with his sprint too early, bumped into Qualls and both almost fell.

Martin was near the lead at the start and gained sole possession after the first turn.

No Trouble
Bostick had no trouble in the 880. He crossed the finish line eight or nine yards in front of Osburne Newton, Big Spring, and could have produced better time had he been pushed.

The Steer mile relay quartet of Nations, South, Brummett and Martin outran the Stanton entries, by fully a hundred yards. Womack had no trouble in the mile. Newton and James Crow, a Stanton boy, trailed all the way. Newton churned wildly at the finish of the third lap, mistaking it for the fourth, and spent his wind but he managed to finish.

Tommy McDonald, Forsan ace, had two first places, winning the shot put and the javelin while Beryl Dean Clinton, rugged Stanton youth, proved best in both the low and high hurdles.

Complete results:
120-yard high hurdles — Beryl Dean Clinton, Stanton, first; James Crow, Stanton, second; E. Blalock, Coahoma, third; Hal White, Stanton, fourth. Time, 19.8.

220-yard low hurdles — Clinton, Stanton, first; McDonald, Forsan, second; D. R. Gartman, Big Spring, third; Ross Hay, Stanton, fourth. Time, 28.5.

880-yard run — Horace Bostick, Big Spring, first; Osburne Newton, Big Spring, second; Qualls, Forsan, third; Houston Woody, Stanton, fourth. Time, 2:25.

TEN LITTLE BOOTS AND HOW THEY GREW—Boots, a Cocker spaniel, was proud of the ten pups she bore, but the bountiful litter posed quite a crowding problem at lunch time. Boots' patient Baltimore owner had to teach the pups to eat out of plates, but rather than starve they learned quickly.

THUMB FUN—Painter Thomas Hart Benton's baby daughter Jessie was a little perplexed by that haircut, too: for when Painter John Stuart Curry (right) visited the Bentons at their Kansas City home, Jessie popped thumb into mouth, sat on her mother's lap and just stared. Curry tried the thumb business, but shifted back to his pipe.

FINLAND'S 'OLD CART'—Pressed into service for a peace mission to Berlin, Gen. Per Evind Svinhufvud, 78-year-old former president who's known as Finland's "Hindenberg," left the retirement of his farm home (above) saying, "When the road becomes rough, the old cart is pulled out of the barn."

NOW YOU CHASE ME!—This follow-the-leader among the garbage cans is part of the severe workout given New York applicants for jobs as garbage collectors and street sweepers, with speed and dexterity as essentials. In other tests, the would-be "white wings" scale a seven-foot fence, leap over a 4 1/2-foot barrier, twirl dumbbells.

HIGH PRICED BEEF—Beef that brought more on the hoof than the choicest of cuts at the most expensive meat stores is pictured above with the men who bid the Grand Champion of the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show in Fort Worth to the year's highest show price of $3 a pound and the Reserve Grand Champion to 89 cents. Left to right are Harry W. Chesley, Jr., Chicago, sales manager of the Fabel Brewing company, holding the Grand Reserve Champion, "Red Prince II," Amon G. Carter, Fort Worth publisher, who conducted the auction, and Henry Love, manager of the Hotel Texas of Fort Worth, holding the Grand Champion, "Sweetwater's Best." The bidding between Love and Chesley was nip and tuck until Love raised Chesley's bid of $1.95 to $3, buying the prize beef for his hotel patrons. Chesley then purchased the Grand Reserve Champion and announced that only the palates of the city's poorest will taste the beef of the Fabel Brewing company's steer as it is to be donated to the Fort Worth Community Chest for distribution among the destitute. The Grand Champion was raised and exhibited by Kenneth Lewis, Nolan County 4-H Club boy, and the Grand Reserve Champion by Oliver Grote, Mason county youth who owned the Grand Champion steer of the Fort Worth show last year, purchased by the Fabel Brewing company.

AN ANALYSIS OF THE WAR DEVELOPMENTS

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

With the end of the war in Finland, the veil of censorship lifts and reveals circumstances of that struggle that cannot fail to influence the strategy and tactics of allied and German military leaders.

While the Russo-Finnish war failed, as did German swift crushing of Polish resistance, to supply any answer to the riddle of sea versus air power, it did re-emphasize factors that still are holding the German-allies conflict mainly to a war of economics.

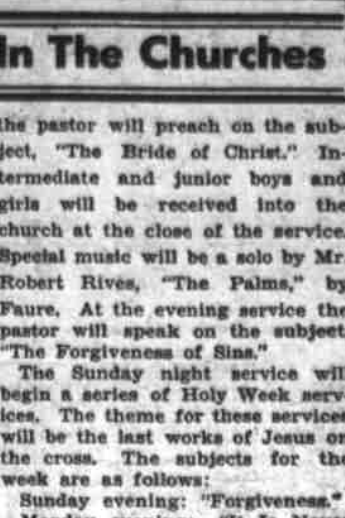

"Now-it-can-be-told" eye witness accounts by neutrals of what happened in Finland reveal two circumstances of prime interest in relation to their effect on the greatest war.

Russian complete mastery of the air from the start was a contributing, not a direct cause of the crumbling of the Finns' Mannerheim line.

Russian heavy guns undetermined Finnish gun emplacements, twisting them askew and thereby making their fire power ineffective.

Red air power did crush Finland from the start was a contributing, not a direct cause of the crumbling of the Finns' Mannerheim line.

Uncertainty over that still unknown quantity of war in the air is a factor that thus far has saved

Adventure Novel, 'Northwest Passage,' Is Told In Technicolor; Tracy Star Of Cast

Young And Brennan Also Featured In Ritz Offering

Bringing to the screen Kenneth Roberts' adventure novel which was the largest selling book in the nation month after month, "Northwest Passage," headlines the Ritz theatre's program today and Monday with Spencer Tracy starred and Robert Young and Walter Brennan in leading featured roles.

Following the novel which first ran in the Saturday Evening Post before becoming a best-seller, the picture tells the story of a courageous, hardy band of Rogers' Rangers who in 1781 set forth on a secret mission to wipe out a village of marauding Indians. Among the Rangers are Robert Young as Langdon Towne, a young artist, and Walter Brennan as Hank Mariner, a seasoned woodsman.

Facing a battle against unbelievable odds, the Rangers lug heavy boats over mountains, trek for days through treacherous swamps, cross a river torrent by forming a human chain, attack and wipe out the Indians and then start a starvation forced march home. Their ranks depleted by Indian attacks and forced to eat lizards and owls, they fight their way back to safety.

The picture is believed to afford Tracy, Academy Award winner for the past two years, his greatest screen role. It is reported it will skyrocket Young to stardom and give Brennan a role comparable to those which have twice won him awards for best supporting roles of the year. Also featured in the cast are Ruth Hussey and Nat Pendleton. The picture was directed by King Vidor of "The Citadel" fame.

North Woods Film Offered At The Queen

Richard Arlen, Andy Devine In 'Man From Montreal'

Reckless adventure in the rich fur country of the Canadian northwoods is offered in Universal's "Man From Montreal," which is showing today and Monday at the Queen theatre.

Richard Arlen is seen as the young trapper who is unjustly arrested and charged with fur thefts and murder. Andy Devine, his co-star, has the role of a good-natured Mountie who comes to Arlen's aid. Kay Sutton provides effective menace in winning Arlen's love, then using his loyalty to conceal the lawless activities of her husband, Reed Hadley, who poses as her brother. The manner in which Arlen manages to elude both outlaws and mounted police until he can secure evidence against the real criminals, keeps the story moving at top speed. Anne Gwynne has the romantic lead opposite Arlen, and helps Devine prove the young trapper's innocence.

Also doing a capable job with their assignments are Addison Richards, Joseph Sawyer, Jerry Marlowe, Tommy Whitten, who looks like a miniature Devine, Eddy C. Walker, Eddy Conrad, William Royle and Lane Chandler.

Chasety Cabanne's direction has blended all elements of the plot together smoothly, and Milton Kraemer's photography lends to the beauty of the film. Ben Pivar was the associate producer.

Youthful Duet Holds Sway At Lyric Theatre

Rooney And Garland Head Cast Of Musical, 'Babes In Arms'

America's boy and girl stars, present and future, have their day on the screen in "Babes In Arms," elaborate screen version of the Broadway musical success, which makes a second-run appearance today and Monday at the Lyric.

Headed by the incomparable Mickey Rooney and Judy Garland, who are starred, more than two hundred of Hollywood's most talented youngsters combine to present what is said to be one of the most exciting and entertaining music-films of the year.

"Babes In Arms" is set in the period that saw the passing of vaudeville, and concerns those happy-go-lucky headliners and their children who saw that world totter and crumble about them when motion pictures showed their two-day into the discard. But mostly it deals with the kids of these performers, who save the day when they crash Broadway on their own steam by the very talent that made the names of their fathers and mothers household words.

Director Busby Berkeley auditioned 450 kid acts to select fifty young entertainers to appear in the show sequences of the picture. They range in age from three to fourteen years. Two hundred others also appear in choruses of the big numbers.

Besides Mickey Rooney and Judy Garland, important roles are filled by June Preisler, Betty Jaynes, Douglas McPhail, Leni Lynn and John Sheffield of "Tarzan Finds a Son" fame. The adult members of the cast are Charles Winninger, Guy Kibbee, Grace Hayes, Rand Brooks and a host of old-time vaudevillians, including such names as Irene Franklin, Harry Fox, Margaret Young and George McKay.

Mickey plays the son of a famous vaudeville team who, born backstage at the Palace Theatre, inherits all his father's talent plus a modern viewpoint. He is the guiding light of the go-getting youngsters, while Judy is given her finest opportunity to date to display her talents as one of America's most accomplished juvenile entertainers.

KBST NOTES

Hoagland Band Is Featured In 'Show Of Week'

Everett Hoagland and his orchestra will be in the spotlight on the weekly "Show of the Week" broadcast over Station KBST and the Texas State Network, through Mutual, from 5:30 to 6 p. m. Sunday. Hoagland was heard over TSN last year, playing from the Den of Ft. Worth's Hotel Texas.

Now playing in New York's Waldorf-Astoria hotel, this west coast aggregation has won many followers because of their emphasis on "music for dancing." Hoagland was formerly musical director at RKO.

On March 24, "Show of the Week" honors go to Jan Savitt, who formerly played in the Philadelphia Symphony orchestra under direction of Leopold Stokowski.

To the growing ranks of American foreign newscasters is added the name of Joseph Sagmaster, noted analyst of the Cincinnati Times-Star, who broadcasts each Saturday from 5:45 to 6 p. m. over KBST and the Mutual network.

Sagmaster is a graduate of the University of Cincinnati and was a Rhodes scholar at Oxford university in England. He lived in Great Britain for three years and has traveled extensively in England, France, Germany, Italy, Spain and Austria. Sagmaster has been a member of the Times-Star since 1928. His column on foreign affairs entitled "This Week Abroad," is a Friday feature of the paper.

STREET MADE BUMPY FOR SAFETY'S SAKE

NATICK, Mass., Mar. 16. (AP)—The town of Natick has appropriated $50 to make one of its streets bumpy.

Such roadwork, proponents claimed, would force automobiles to proceed at a slow rate of speed, thus insuring the safety of children in the neighborhood. The appropriation was passed at last night's town meeting only after long and heated debate, during which opponents raised the legal question of liability for damage to automobiles hitting the artificial bumps.

The street—West street—leads to the town bathing beach at Dug Pond.

TAMPA, Fla., Mar. 16. (AP)—W. R. Walsh of Washington, known as one of the best pistol shots in the Federal Bureau of Investigation, was crowned national police pistol champion here today as the mid-winter shooting tournament ended.

Dale Carnegie 'Wins Friends' In Audience

Holding an audience of some 350 people at undivided attention for an hour and forty minutes at the Municipal auditorium Saturday evening Dale Carnegie, nationally known author, lecturer, radio personality and newspaper columnist, spoke on the topic which has brought inspiration to millions, "How to Win Friends and Influence People."

The lecturer was brought here under auspices of Radio Station KBST, the Herald station. The speaker was introduced by Cliff D. Wiley, local business man. In the audience were a large number of salespeople.

With easy flow of words, Carnegie told how to win friends by being appreciative and encouraging to every one and to deviate from a policy of criticism. "Using the philosophy of appreciation as you go along in life will certainly attain influence with people," he said.

In the course of his lecture, Carnegie complimented the City of Big Spring on having such a splendid municipal auditorium, saying he had lectured in various parts of the United States and Canada and Europe, and never before had he seen such a magnificent and well equipped auditorium in a city the size of Big Spring. Carnegie will appear in San Angelo Tuesday evening.

PRELIMINARIES ARE ARRANGED FOR OLD SETTLERS REUNION

Although the 16th annual Howard County Old Settlers Reunion is four months away, first steps for staging the event were taken this week.

B. F. McKinney, president, and T. J. McKinney, vice-president, said before they left to spend a month or more at Hot Springs, N. M., that arranging committees had been named.

W. R. Purser will be in charge of the program and Lee Castleman, Charlie Bayes, Hardy Morgan, John Orey and Ed Brown will attend to other details. Mrs. Sally Coats is secretary.

Old settlers from Glasscock, Martin, Dawson and Borden counties will be invited to attend as well as those from this county. The only requirement is that there be a direct connection with a family that was here by 1910.

Feeding Tests Give Valuable Information

The science of feeding cattle for profit has advanced rapidly in this area during the past decade, and without proving costly to pioneering ranchmen and farmers.

Fortunately, the state and federal governments have cooperated in answering many questions about feeding and have made more readily available the many, many things they already knew.

A fine example of the work being done is the annual feeding tests at the U. S. Experiment Farm here. Over a period of years the relative value of feeding ground Milo, ground threshed Milo, ground heads and whole heads of Milo have been proven in tests. Then came a series of experiments to determine the value of feeding a full ration (all the animals can eat) and a limited ration (80 per cent of the full ration), also the value of feeding as individuals against group feeding.

This year a new cycle or series has been started with the tests designed to demonstrate the importance of certain vitamins, but more than that the proper balance of minerals to prevent stock ailments. The latter phase is to see if a correct balance of phosphorus and calcium will prevent development of urinary calculi—the precipitous form of calcium in the bladder.

First tests showed that feeding of ground heads was practical, but that greater returns on grain was gained through feeding threshed or ground threshed Milo. For average purposes, the ground heads proved most satisfactory.

The second series showed no practical advantage of feeding as individuals, but did demonstrate the advisability of a full ration. The government learned these things and gave them to the stockmen and farmers.

Death Claims John H. Kemp

John Holland Kemp, 67, partner in a dairy concern here for nearly a decade, died suddenly of a heart attack at his home, 706 Nolan street, here Saturday at 8 a. m.

Coming here from Milan county 13 years ago, Kemp was engaged in the Kemp and Bird dairy concern from 1927 to 1936. Since then he had been retired.

Mr. Kemp was the last and youngest of a family of 11 children to succumb.

Services were set for 3 p. m. Sunday in the East Fourth Baptist church with Rev. Elmer Dunham, in charge, assisted by Rev. W. S. Garnett. The church male quartet will be in charge of music.

His wife preceded him in death, having succumbed in 1901. He leaves two daughters, Mrs. C. R. Bird and Bernice Kemp of Big Spring, and one son, M. E. Kemp of Childress. Surviving grandchildren who reside in Big Spring are Mrs. Jack Dearing, Berl W. Martin, Claude, Hollie, Randolph and Billie Bird. One great-grandchild, Carlton Dearing, survives.

Burial will be in the city cemetery. Nalley Funeral Home is in charge of arrangements.

Pallbearers will be Dr. C. E. Richardson, Otto E. Couch, W. W. Bennett, R. F. Davis, V. W. Davis and Dick Davis. Honorary pallbearers will be S. H. Morrison, M. H. Morrison, V. A. Masters, Doug Thompson, W. R. Puckett, H. C. Burnett, W. J. Sneed, F. E. Barnett, J. S. Cathey, E. L. Patton, John Wolcott, H. W. Dearing, Sr., and Walter Smith.

Reich Closer To Mussolini?

BERLIN, Mar. 16. (AP)—Five-fold dividends have accrued to Nazi Germany through the recent visit to Rome of Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop, the best informed German observers said tonight.

They are:

1. Italy and Germany drew closer together than ever.
2. All-around appeasement of the Balkans seems assured.
3. Foundations have been laid for Italian-Soviet rapprochement.
4. Von Ribbentrop's talk with Pope Pius XII evoked the most favorable reaction in neutral Spain.
5. The German foreign minister was able to give Benito Mussolini some last-minute German messages for Sumner Welles, President Roosevelt's super-reporter.

Any Wilhelmstrasse official these days will tell you mysteriously that next week will see the world startled by an event that will show that Italy is on Germany's side in every way save actually going to war.

Just what this event may be is anybody's guess. Even those who obviously know say they are sworn to secrecy.

As regards Balkan appeasement, both ends of the axis had been working on it before von Ribbentrop's arrival in Rome, informed sources say.

The Saturday mishap was the tragic termination of a trip that had been planned as a combination civic and pleasure jaunt. The Hudsons were to have joined a group of Big Spring people at the Fort Worth Fat Stock show Saturday, to assist in advertising this city's stock show and the forthcoming West Texas chamber of commerce convention. They were at a dinner party Friday night, when word from the hotel headquarters in Galveston authorized the trip, and the couple decided to start for Fort Worth at once. They drove to Cisco to spend the night, then had resumed the journey early Saturday morning. Close friends of the two, Mr. and Mrs. R. R. McEwen, went to Ranger on receiving word of the tragedy to accompany Mr. Hudson home.

GOODWILL DINNERS TO BE RESUMED

After a mid-winter lull, the good will dinners sponsored by the chamber of commerce trade extension committee will be revived soon, it was indicated Saturday.

Garner has issued an invitation and Garden City has put in a bid for one of the meetings. No dates have been set, but Garner leaders suggested April 12 for their meeting.

HAD A 'SHORTAGE'

KANSAS CITY, Kan., Mar. 16. (AP)—"I had a shortage," Preston Wyatt, negro, said in explaining why he had no headlights on his automobile.

"You mean a short?" continued the police judge.

"No—a shortage. I didn't have any bulbs in the headlights."

The judge added a fine of $3.50 to the shortage.

Hip Pocket Oxygen Flask, Face Mask, Designed To Save Lives Of Fliers, Put On Exhibition

By STEPHEN J. McDONOUGH Associated Press Science Writer

NEW ORLEANS, La., Mar. 16. (AP)—A new hip-pocket oxygen flask and a new face mask designed to save the lives of America's fighting fliers were exhibited today before the meeting of the Federated Biological Societies.

Dr. Walter M. Boothby of the Mayo clinic, Rochester, Minn., who developed the new devices in cooperation with Capt. Harry Armstrong of the Army Air Corps' material division at Wright field, declared that the new equipment, now under test by the army, is designed to prevent a pilot from inadvertently committing suicide if he accidentally opens his mouth at high altitudes.

If a pilot flying an airplane at present "ceilings" of around 35,000 feet does not have oxygen he will die a quick but violent death. This is prevented in the newer types of fighting ships by either sealed pressure cabins or oxygen masks.

With the old type mask a member of the ship's crew could breathe through his mouth and one gasp would be his last.

The new type of mask, which resembles a hog's snout equipped with a sponge rubber valve, keeps both the nose and mouth covered, with oxygen fed in from a pressure tank.

The hip-pocket bottle of oxygen was developed to insure pilots of the necessary supply of gas if they are forced to bail out from high altitudes. It fits into the pocket, is connected by a rubber tube to the mask, and provides enough oxygen to drift by parachute from a height of five or more miles down to a safe altitude for normal breathing.

All passengers could be picked up or discharged at these points, thus curbing a hazard existing now to both motor and pedestrian traffic due to impromptu stops.

Another man points out that the traffic record around schools is perfect this year, and that an appeal should be made to keep it that way. Parents and schools could do more about that than motorists, for stop signs near schools now accomplish little of their purpose with children jay-walking all over the streets.

Announcement of more candidates last week brought the total to eight seeking three places on the city commission. When that many men can be induced to run for a post that offers virtually no pay but the satisfaction of service it must be regarded generally as a wholesome condition.

The gas explosion which blew walls off a residence here last week calls to mind the story of the intelligent woman, who, thinking she could smell gas, said she "struck a match very cautiously."

L. P. McCasland, Big Spring, and Jess Woody, Stanton competing in the Tampa, Fla. mid-winter pistol matches, last week won high honors with their marksmanship and much good publicity for this town and section.

A good way to invest a spare dollar or so is to purchase Easter Seals. Proceeds go to helping deaf and rehabilitate crippled children, and what could return more happiness than knowing that you helped make life worth living for some unfortunate youngster.

The warehouse within itself cost $5,645, an adjoining caretakers' cottage $1,585 and cyclone fencing $1,326. This does not figure in costs of beautification operations, already underway on the five-acre tract which the county purchased especially for the plant.

Built as a semi-circular galvanized iron tunnel, the huge warehouse resembles a dirigible hangar from the exterior and the inverted hull of a large ocean liner from the interior. It is 50 feet in width and 200 feet long. The radial height, of course, is 25 feet.

It is equipped with washracks which are readily used by club boys in preparing their calves, lambs and pigs for shows. Electric power is available to light the structure and to operate clippers needed in dressing the animals.

Its great length will permit allotment of an average of four feet space to each calf and spacious pens for sheep and pigs in the center section. Thus, there will be no crowding during the current show.

If weather is fair, judging likely will be done on the outside, which is enclosed by 850 linear feet of cyclone fencing.

MANY ANIMALS TO BE TAKEN TO ODESSA SHOW

Many of the calves shown in the district livestock show here will be taken to Odessa for entrance in the Sand Hills Hereford show, March 21-23.

In addition, at least one breeder in this area will participate in that event. He is I. B. "Doc" Cauble, breeder of one of the nation's finest Hereford herds.

Mr. Cauble plans to enter eight junior yearlings and will enter a young bull—Gwynn's Mischief—in the sale. The animal, like all Cauble calves, is Anxiety 4th Hereford of straight Gudgeff and Simpson breeding. It is out of Gwendolyn 70th and from President Mischief, a great Cauble bull. Incidentally, Cauble is a director in the Sand Hills show.

Here is a glimpse at a few examples of feeding such as will be exhibited in the third annual Big Spring 4-H Club and FFA Livestock Show here Monday and Tuesday. In the top row, left to right, are: Gene McClendon of the Hancock community in Dawson county with his John Dean calf, Ralph II; Herschell Matthies, Knott community 4-H club boy with his brood sow and litter of pigs; D. L. Adcock, Jr., of the Woody community in Dawson county with his Lazy S ranch calf, Pretty Boy; W. D. Coates, 4-H club boy from the Luther community and with one of the calves that may have to be reckoned with in the heavy drylot division since the animal now tops 1,000 pounds.

Shown in the second row, left to right, are: Bert Matthies, who with his brother, Herschell, belongs to the Knott 4-H club. The brothers are sons of Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Matthies; Fred Turner, Welch community in Dawson county, with his drylot calf bred by the Mrs. W. J. Burkett ranch; Wendell Lawrence, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Lawrence of the Luther community in northern Howard county, with one of five fat wool lambs he fed out as a 4-H club project this year; and C. H. Hyden, Jr., Vealmoor 4-H club boy with a well finished drylot heavy calf bred by the D. H. "Pop" Snyder ranch in southeastern Howard county.

Grouped in the left hand panel from top to bottom are: Buster Cox, Glasscock county 4-H club boy with his calf which won the drylot lightweight class in the third annual Glasscock County Livestock Show held last month and which may furnish some serious competition, thanks to the additional feeding time; E. V. Dunn, Jr., who hails from near Lamesa and who is shown with his drylot calf, Dumpty, bred by the Lazy S ranch; and Arlan Youngblood, a 4-H club lad from Bartlett community of Dawson county with his milkfed calf, Dumpty, a product of the F. A. Youngblood ranch.

The right hand panel includes these boys and their calves: Russell Sadler, son of Mr. and Mrs. V. B. Sadler of the Tarasac community in Martin county, who had the grand champion calf of the Martin county show and who exhibited the reserve champion calf at the Big Spring district show last year when his brother Billy won the grand championship; A. M. Simpson, 4-H club youngster who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Simpson of the Vealmoor community, shown with the two calves he will exhibit in the drylot classes of the current district show; and Carroll Coates, Lomax 4-H club member, exhibiting his heavy drylot calf which probably has the greatest record daily gain of any Howard county calf this year. A heavy steer, the animal is estimated at this time to top the beam at more than 1,050 pounds and barring any heavy discount for "leginess" may be among the top bracket in its class.

Beeves, Lambs Displayed In New Quarters

160 Animals Due To Be Displayed Monday And Tuesday

Assuredly much larger and promising to be much better, the third annual Big Spring District 4-H Club and Future Farmers of America Livestock Show will be staged here Monday and Tuesday in the new $6,000 county warehouse at the northwest edge of town.

Approximately 160 well fattened baby beeves, wool lambs, barrows and brood sows have been entered by club and FFA boys from seven surrounding counties.

They will be competing for cash awards aggregating $222.50 in addition to $40 which will be posted as part of trip expenses to be given to Howard county boys as a prize in a special Howard county showing preceding the opening of the district show.

For the first time, the show will be adequately housed this year with virtually the entire 10,000 square feet of the massive warehouse being given over to the livestock exhibits.

Judge of the affair will be George W. Barnes, Texas A. & M. extension service animal husbandman and a shrewd appraiser of livestock. This will be the first time for Barnes, who participated in the organization plans of the district exposition in 1937, to serve as the judge.

The entry lists appear to stack up like this: Nurse cow steers over 875 pounds, 15; nurse cow steers under 875 pounds, 34; drylot calves over 875 pounds, 45; fat wool lambs, 41; fat pigs, 10; brood sows and litters, three.

As in former years, the district event is being sponsored as an activity of the Big Spring chamber of commerce to encourage feeding of locally produced livestock among boys and indirectly to stimulate interest in the activity among adults.

Special emphasis is being placed on attendance by local people. Fred Keating and Tom Ashley, chairman of the agriculture and livestock committee of the chamber, believes that the show, if well attended, will do much to educate the public in possibilities of quality meat production in this area.

There will be no auction in connection with the show since it would be impossible for Big Spring meat dealers to handle the volume of fine beef that will come here for the two-day exhibition. Some Howard county lads may sell their calves individually, it was reported.

35 BOYS MAY SHARE IN THE PRIZE MONEY

Cash awards for the Big Spring district club boy livestock show this year total $222.50 and reaches at least 35 boys.

In each of the heavy and lightweight classes of nurse cows under 875 pounds, prices of $10, $8, $6, $4 and $2 will be given. The champion steer will bring an additional $10.

In the best group of five calves from one county, the prizes will be $7.50, $5 and $2.50. The best carload of 15 calves from one county will command $10 and $5.

Individual fat lambs draw $7.50, $6, $4.50, $3 and $1.50. Best group of five from one county bring $5, $3 and $2.

Sow and litters are set up at $5, $3 and $2. Fat pigs bring $2, $2 and $1. The herdman award is $10.

Previous Winners On Hand For 1940 Show

Six boys who won first place with their calves and lambs in the first two runnings of the Big Spring district club boy livestock show will be back this year to exhibit their animals in hopes of again landing in the championship bracket.

They are Billy Sadler, Martin county 4-H club boy, his brother, Russell Sadler, also a 4-H club boy, Lester Ratliff, Glasscock county lad who feeds as a 4-H and FFA boy, Waddell Strain, Mitchell county FFA youngster, John Appleton, Vincent 4-H clubber, and Belton Cox, Glasscock county 4-H boy.

Billy Sadler had the grand champion calf last year and Russell, with his top lightweight milkfed calf, had the reserve champion. Lester Ratliff showed the champion lamb in 1938. Waddell Strain had the best heavy drylot calf and reserve champion in the same year. John Appleton topped the heavy drylot class last year and Belton Cox was first in the light drylot division in the same show.

Winners in the first two shows were: 1938—Grand champion and heavyweight milkfed, Kenneth Holway (Martin); Reserve champion and heavyweight drylot, Waddell Strain (Mitchell); Hoyt Springer, milkfed lightweight (Martin); Jack Long, lightweight drylot (Mitchell); Lester Ratliff, fat lamb (Glasscock). 1939—Billy Sadler, grand champion and heavyweight milkfed (Martin); Russell Sadler, light-

Milkfeds Have Triumphed In Past Shows

In two previous years the winning milkfed heavyweight steer has been declared the grand champion of the Big Spring district club boy livestock show.

All things being normal, this might be the history of the show this year—but the lateness of the date may make in favor of the drylot division.

There is a very good reason why the milkfed calf ordinarily has the best chance to end up as grand champion. They are started on feed several months in advance of the dry lot classes and had the added benefit of nursing during the feeding period to add flesh. Naturally they stand a better chance to show fine finish by usual club boy show dates.

But the Big Spring show is nearly a month later this year than in former seasons, and this will give dry lot calves a better chance to round out into finished animals and possibly to vie for the supreme honor.

Many an animal which would have placed far down the line a month ago has since filled out and added bloom. During the same period, milkfed steers which won county shows because of their perfection have been shown elsewhere and in many instances sold.

Lord Rothmores, the British publisher, is said to have once made about $50,000,000 in American investments.

Special Committees Direct Show Activities

Special committees have been set up by the chamber of commerce agriculture and livestock committee to handle the operation of the third annual district club boy livestock show here Monday and Tuesday.

Serving as a steering committee will be Tom Ashley, George White, O. P. Griffin, W. L. Wilson and W. S. Satterwhite. Theirs will be the responsibility of seeing that the entire show runs off smoothly and that arrangements are handled in advance.

Ashley will direct the concessions business to be operated in connection with the show, carrying out a duty he has handled in former years. Profits from the venture will be put into a trip fund with $40 given by the chamber of commerce as prizes for Howard county boys in a judging of local animals.

Advertising—the granting of permits to hang signs in the show building—will be in charge of John Davis and W. S. Satterwhite. Satterwhite, who has clerked for the two preceding shows, again will have that responsibility. R. V. Middleton and Arthur Woodall will see that washracks are provided and O. P. Griffin will be supervisor of the stalls.

WOUND SEVERE IN BED FALL STILLWATER, Okla. (UP)—Wanda Lou Orr, 10, suffered a deep cut on the foot when she fell from bed and struck and broke a window pane. Physicians took 14 stitches to close the wound.

COOPERATION Is Necessary For Success,

The splendid success of Big Spring's 4-H Club and FFA LIVESTOCK SHOWS, now in their third year, is the direct result of cooperation of the citizenship in the counties represented, a spirit without which nothing could exist.

Members of the Bugg Packing company are grateful, too, to the people of this city and surrounding territory for their support of a locally owned plant offering a market for this area's choice livestock.

Stability Assured Success!

Because each year the Big Spring livestock show is bigger and better than the preceding year its success is assured, and it is never questioned that this annual exhibit won't be a tremendous success.

Since 1937 Bugg Packing company has been a stable institution, rendering a service to retail markets that can be depended upon. We feel the success of this organization has been the result of unvarying quality in our line, the sameness of relations with those we serve and the unflinching confidence in the future of West Texas!

Borden Show Next Saturday

Housed in a new building, the Borden county livestock show will be staged at Gall on Saturday, Frank W. Medley county agent, said today.

Although some breeder stock, saddle horses and colts will be exhibited, the show will center around 4-H club steers, lambs and hogs. George K. Barnes, extension service beef cattle specialist, will serve as judge.

An added attraction will be a free barbecue with all the trimings. Entertainment will be furnished by schools of Borden county.

The Land Use Planning committee of Borden county worked in conjunction with 4-H club boys in sponsoring a movement which resulted in construction of the barn and a rodeo arena. Aided by a generous contribution by the Borden county commissioners court, the clubbers raised most of the remaining money. To the boy who is adjudged winner of a fund raising campaign, a free trip to the A. & M. short course will be given. One lad has raised $121. Contributions came in from people of Borden, Dawson, Howard and Scurry counties.

Plans for the barn were approved by the land use committee and many who could not make cash gifts gave labor in erecting the 30x100 structure. The adjoining rodeo arena—180-284 feet—is enclosed by a seven-foot fence and will be used for calf and goat roping contests when judging is not in progress. Future shows will be financed by rodeos sponsored by club boys.

CO-CAPTAINS ARE TWINS

PRINCETON, N. J. (UP)—Identical twins have co-captained Princeton university's freshman ice hockey team to a successful season. They are William M. and Phillips Academy at Exeter before entering Princeton.

Odessa Stock Show To Open On Thursday

ODESSA, Mar. 16.—The Sand Hills Hereford association will open its seventh annual Hereford, sheep, poultry and range type saddle horse show in Odessa Thursday, Mar. 21; and will continue throughout Friday and Saturday, March 22 and 23. More entries are actually in hand a week before the opening of this event than have ever been received previously—and shown during any preceding show.

Despite heavy and unprecedented entry lists, the management announces that they are in position to take care of a 100 per cent increase in the number of entries for 1940. This is due to the fact that the annual stock show in Odessa will occupy its new $75,000 show grounds, which include modern and sanitary stock show barns of structural steel and the most commodious brick auditorium showing west of Fort Worth in Texas. Size of the show barns are 70 feet by 200 feet in length; and the brick structure that houses the sales arena and show ring is 90 feet by 150 feet—with the show ring itself 60 feet by 90 feet. The arena is surrounded upon all sides by elevated and permanent seats of a very comfortable type capable of seating 1,750 spectators.

Thursday, March 21 will be devoted to entries, classification and a range type saddle horse show. Friday, promptly at 10 o'clock a. m. a big parade will be staged. Judging of beef cattle will begin at 11 a. m.; judging of poultry and dairy cattle at 1:30 p. m.; and the judging of sheep will begin at 3 p. m. Friday evening will be gala dance night with three big dances occurring; as well as dinners to visiting stockmen at 7 p. m. and stockmen's wives at 7:30 p. m.

Saturday, the closing day of the seventh annual Sand Hills Hereford show will see the auction of club calves begin at 10:30 a. m.; the auction of Hereford bulls at 1:30 p. m. and the final awards and premiums for all events will be presented in the new and spacious brick arena-show ring at 4 p. m.

CECIL WESTERMAN MAKES HONOR ROLL

Cecil Westerman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Westerman of this city, is making an excellent record at John Tarleton college. He started the second semester by being on the honor roll the first time the grades were issued. No student who makes below 80 in any subject is accorded this honor. About ten per cent of the student body of 1,800 attain this goal.

Cecil is now eligible to receive an award as being a "distinguished student" in scholarship. These awards cannot be made, however, until all the grades have been computed at the end of the semester.

LOOKING AHEAD!

Although we're not as old in Big Spring as the 4-H CLUB and F.F.A. LIVESTOCK SHOW, we know that among other things its purpose is to better an industry that has been the strength of West Texas since its first settler... Add to this the fact that it has been instrumental in teaching the youth of this region to be self-supporting, progressive and independent and you'll find a profitable future assured for all concerned with this work.

Your McCrory Store hopes that this year's show will surpass all others in completeness and success.

Animals Shown By Club Boys Are Accustomed To Life Of Pampering

Few pets get as much pampering as do the baby beeves, fat lambs and pigs of 4-H club and FFA boys who show their animals in county and area exhibits.

The operation starts from the day the boy gains possession of his charge. Filled with pride of ownership, the lad does everything he knows how to encourage the animal to drink and start eating amid strange surroundings.

Soon, if he intends to show the animal, he starts leading him about. This is essential, since most calves had rather drag their master than be hauled around like a pony. Discipline of the animal in the ring at judging time may have a bearing on how it shall place at hands of the judges.

Before the show, boys began the currying and clipping operations to add to the sleekness of appearance. On calves the head is clipped closely and blended in neatly where the white and red hair converge. Dirt is brushed from the coat and mud and burrs are combed out. On long haired animals, curlers are put to work. Come the morning of the show, the calves are given a first class bath with plenty of scrubbing and water.

Lambs, not having to be led around, are not hard to handle and do not require extensive gentling. However, they must be trimmed to mitigate the neck fold, to level the wool on the back line, and by use of carders and clippers to smooth the wool coat.

In the ring, boys try to pose their steers to best advantage, keeping fore and hind feet in position to maintain a block appearance. The head is kept up, but not high enough to bow the back. Sheep are padded with wood paddles vigorously by boys just before the judge comes around. They are posed to show symmetrical bodies and straight legs.

Pigs—well, pigs being pigs, they are just given a good scrubbing at the show opening and provided with good bedding. There's no leading or holding a pig.

Club Institute At Lamesa

LAMESA, Mar. 16.—According to Lamesa Rotary President W. E. Collins, plans for an Institute of International Understanding to be held here are nearing completion this week with members of the club visiting eleven neighbor cities of Lamesa inviting other Rotarians to hear the lectures to be given in a series in the high school auditorium, beginning Monday evening, March 18, with an address on "Developments in Soviet Russia," by Dr. John A. Morrison, Chicago, and extending through April 5, during which period four such lectures, including the above-mentioned, will be given.

Only four other Rotary clubs of the 127th District of Rotary International, of which Hiram R. Arrant of Abilene is governor, are at this time scheduling the institute. They are Graham, Pampa, Stamford, and Borger.

John Alexander Morrison, Monday's speaker, was educated at Dartmouth college, University of Breslau, Germany, Osteuropa Institute in Breslau, and at the University of Chicago from which institution he received his doctor's degree. He was a member of the department of geography at the University of Chicago from 1928 to 1938, having as his special field the geography of the Soviet Union and of the Near East. He had the distinction of conducting the first course in the geography of the Soviet Union ever given in the U. S. A.

In connection with his special preparation in the field of geography, he has done considerable traveling both independently and as a member of expeditions. He spent a month each in geographical observations in Dalmatia, Finland, and Sweden. He traveled north through Finland to the Arctic region and then south through Swedish Lapland. He was a member of the Anatolian Expedition of the Oriental Institute engaged in excavation at Alisar, central Anatolia, serving with this expedition during the seasons of 1930 and 1932.

In June, 1937, he attended the Seventeenth International Geological Congress held in Moscow, Russia. He was a member of the Siberian excursion at that congress. Following his return to Moscow from Siberia, he spent six weeks studying the territorial-administrative structure of the U. S. S. R. and the various aspects of its economic geography. At the outbreak of the war, September 1, 1938, Dr. Morrison was in Moscow and left several days later by airplane after the Red Army began the occupation of eastern Poland.

Better Calves Mean Better Boys

Better calves mean a better and more profitable livestock industry in West Texas. This is the reason we are interested in the encouragement of the 4-H Club activities and Future Farmers of America livestock shows here. It is this work that keeps this the greatest cattle and sheep section of the nation.

One resource which this generation is passing on to the next is better trained livestock raisers and a better grade of livestock throughout West Texas... and we congratulate all those taking part in this work for their accomplishments in the past three years.

Calves Put In Classes For Fair Competition

Competition in the Big Spring district club boy livestock show is broken down into classes to equalize competition since the lighter calves do not normally stand to win against heavier animals.

Two divisions are made in each of two classes of calves—nurse cow steers and drylot steers. By explanation, it may be said that nurse-cow and milkfed steers are one and the same since they are so named because they are with nurse cow during the feeding period. Drylot calves are fed out entirely on dry feeds.

Heavy steers in each class are those weighing over 875 pounds and the light ones are those under that weight.

All fat wool lambs compete in an open class with the only restriction being that the animals shall be in full fleece and shall have been placed on feed prior to Dec. 1, 1939.

Similarly fat pigs compete in an open class as do sows and litters.

GLASSCOCK LAMBS—Glasscock county goes in for sheep ranching, thus it is natural that Glasscock county 4-H club boys vocational agriculture students lean to lamb feeding in their projects. A part of the group who fed lambs this year are shown preparing their woolled animals for the judging at the third annual Glasscock county livestock show staged last month.

LITTLE BOY AND BIG CALF—This might describe W. M. Hyden, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Hyden of the Vealmoor community. His calf will be entered in the drylot heavy class along with that of his brother, C. H. Hyden, Jr. Both are 4-H club boys.

FOR MEN ONLY

By Pollard Runnels

First off, we'd say it's a great day for Irish and clover blossoms. . . Like too many other special events, St. Patrick's Day comes but once a year. . . so it's only natural that all the McCARTYS and O'MALLEYS in your neighborhood do a bit of celebrating and back slapping today. . . It definitely is not a day to cross one of 'em up in any way, or you might have a scrap on your hands for practically nothing at all. . . and with-or without—the permission of BOYCE HOUSE we're going to lift a recent Irish squib of his—just to give you an idea how serious the above warning really is: Two who had kissed the Blarney stone discussing conditions. . . "I can't see for the life of me why some people are so selfish," the first one said, "why I'd be happy to give half of anything I have to one in need."

"You mean," said the second, "that if you had two cars you'd give me one?" "That I would," came the reply. "And if you had two cows you'd give me one." "That I would," echoed. "And if you had two pigs would one of them be mine?" "That was too much! "Blasht ye," stormed the first Irishman, "you knew I had two pigs"—and the fight was on. . . A check of the city directory shows Big Spring to have within its bounds 188 Mc's, with the McDONALDS, numbering nine, leading the list. . . Tying four ways for second place are the McDANIELS, McCORMICKS, McCRRAYS and McNEWS. . . The McMURRAYS take third place without a struggle with a total of six. . . A three-way tie includes the McDOWELLS, McGEES, and McINTOSH with five each. . . Fourth position takes in three family names with four each: McCLENDONS, McCLURES and McCULLOUGH. . . Of the O' clan, only 11 are shown and, as you might guess, the O'BRIENS steal the show with nine of that number. . . The two left in this group are the O'BARRS.

Personal nomination for straightest and most sincere opinions on any subject you might present goes to TOM JORDAN—the easiest-to-know man we have encountered in years. . . We like to hear his tales of early Big Spring. . . and the time he finished one you fell like you know everybody he's mentioned, because he not only told you about John Doe, but he told you about John's wife, the children in the family, how much land they had and whether their dogs were registered. He knows right where their place was and in what year good roads neared their premises. . . TOM JORDAN is the type of man for whom the word "grand" was intended.

Found GILBERT GIBBS and HARRY LEES discussing an old subject: How steaks are best cooked. . . GIBBS, you know, has quite a reputation as a broiler of beef and chickens—he even cooks up for BILL EDWARDS when he feeds his Wacker bunch each year. . . And in case you ever invite either of them out, GIBBS likes his beef slices well done and not too thick; Harry is happy with a thicker cut a bit on the rare side. . . and if you're going to serve popcorn, call CARL BLOMSHIELD—caught him perched on the Ritz theatre's exit steps a while back munching from a sack of Jolly Time. . . Would like to get word to our pappy and other fans of "UNCLE DAVE" MACON that the popular Saturday nighter of radio fame is scheduled to take his Grand Old Opera crew to Hollywood shortly for their first movie. . . D. D. DOUGLASS is beginning to wonder where he's going to put all the new furniture now rolling in at Barrow's, purchased on his recent trip to Grand Rapids in at Barrow's, purchased on his recent trip to Grand Rapids markets. . . Now that DALE CARNEGIE has had time to clear the city, we'll post our "How Not to Make Friends and Set Your Husbands Wild": ask him before breakfast what he'd like for lunch! . . . It's a ringer every time.

Have you ever wondered what T. S. CURRIE means when he mentions "super-safety" checks in State National bank advertising? It got FMO's curiosity to such a pitch one day a showdown was requested and in about two minutes it was learned that to attempt to alter one of these checks made out in ink is just about as possible as thinking you can mention FRANKLIN ROOSEVELT to a republican without having something half wild on your hands for the next 90 minutes. . . The safety check is a government guarded process and the instant acid or any ink removing substance strikes the paper, the word "void" pops up all around. . . If you'd like to try the trick and don't have acid handy, a burning match held an inch or so from the check will produce the same results.

Saw a cotton buyer trying to grade the soil he happened to catch between his uppers and lowers during one of the dust blows the other day; said it graded "Oklahoma flat" and placed its market value at about $1.25 an acre. . . Spawning of dust blows, a few natives have been found who will admit they like the things.

CHILDREN BURNED AS COOKER EXPLODES

Pauline, 15, and Patty Anne, 10, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Wade, 210 Northwest Third street, sustained severe burns about the back and shoulders Saturday morning at their home when a pressure cooker exploded, throwing hot water on them. They were taken to the Big Spring hospital for treatment and later returned to their home, where they were getting along as well as could be expected. Mrs. Wade had the pressure cooker on a stove heating some water and the children were standing with their backs to the stove when the explosion occurred. Mr. Wade is employed by WEDA.

EXPERT FEEDERS SEE QUALITY IN DRYLOT CALVES

Those who look at feeding projects for a pure practical standpoint will admit that milkfed animals make the prettiest show calves, but their hearts belong to the drylot steers.

The very fact that milkfed (nurse cow) stuff finishes so perfectly means that it is carrying an over-abundance of surplus fat, they assert.

Drylot calves have a tendency to carry a better balance between muscle and fat, hence their dealers claim that more practical feeding experience is gained in handling calves of this type. Too, commercial feeding is on dry lot basis.

From Bad To Worse

Although gasoline consumption in the five months ended January 31 was up four per cent, stocks of the fuel have risen sharply, 19 million barrels being added to inventory since last October 1.

But while the gasoline situation goes from bad to worse, greater attention is being given to developments in the crude oil division. That an inter-state struggle for markets has been developing, is well known.

If Texas and Louisiana were to "open up" on crude production, it may be seen that the price structure in coming months will be severely strained. Crude stocks currently are said to be a shade on the low side, but two months of the indicated rate of output could render them excessive.

Since the results of any widespread crude price war are bound to be ruinous, it is reasonable that industry leaders hope that Texas will soon return to compliance with the Bureau's market demand recommendations.

The entire situation is a by-product of proration and is typical of what occurs when half the industry operates under governmental regulation and the other half remains uncontrolled.

The Thrill That Comes Once In A Lifetime

Leap Before You Look

Chapter 11 PIERRE PRUDHOMME Tom slipped the last of her coffee thoughtfully. "Abe, how many marketable frogs will we have this summer?"

"Around ten thousand," he figured. "Of course there may be more. They been crowdin' up so I haven't had time to look 'em over since they went down last fall."

"Tom envied ten thousand mouths—and what mouths! They seemed to occupy the major portion of a frog's head—clamoring for food. And a million additional mouths of lesser size joining in the plea."

"We'll have to do something," she said. "Abe, what shall we do? Have you any ideas to offer?"

"Abe tapped tobacco in an ancient pipe. "Yep," he answered. "If it was me doin' it, and I had the money, I'd hire me a man; one of them fellows who went to college down in Louisiana and knows the ins and outs of rana-culture."

Tom debated this idea while dressing for town. Bartell still had eight thousand dollars to be used for the upkeep of herself and the farm. Her actual living expenses would not run more than two hundred a month, if that, and she had more than a thousand a month available, prorated through the six months. She could afford to pay a good salary.

As soon as the protesting Abe had been delivered to Dr. Smith, Tom hurried to the telegraph office to wire a want-ad to a New Orleans paper. It was brief and concise.

WANTED—Technically expert rana-culturist. Salary twenty-five per month. Write T. Toland, Bay Farm Island, Box 53, Alameda, California. She went from the telegraph office to Allen Bartell's office, to learn he had been called out of town unexpectedly, then returned to pick up the silent suffering Abe.

For three days Abe nursed a swollen jaw and a grouch, while Tom hovered between sympathetic tears and laughter. Then Saturday dawned with sunshine, instead of fog, and with Abe admitting it "hadn't been so bad."

Tom felt, later, that this Saturday held too much for one person to assimilate. First came her winning of Abe's Little Sweetheart. The frogs, discouraged by the fog-laden sky, had returned to their beds, but now they were up again.

When the two men went down to look over the farm, Tom went up to her mirror, then hearing the horns of approaching cars, hurried to the window.

Three carloads of young people in sports clothes and laden with hampers of food were unloading at Bartell's cottage. Tom picked Bartell's long, active figure from the crowd. So Allen was home. How long had he been home? And why hadn't he let her know?

Ah, there was Lily, looking like a stick of peppermint candy in a pink and white striped sailor suit. Willing and Unwilling Tom changed to sheer white linen, knotted a scarlet polka-dotted kerchief about her throat, and buckled a slim red belt in place. She picked up a broad red linen hat, knickered a fleck of dust from white slippers and started downstairs.

Bartell stood in the open front door. "Oh, there you are," he greeted, "all ready for the party. I brought the gang over to meet you."

Tom had to smile at him. He did look especially fine in white slacks and shirt, a friendly smile on his lips. And then she remembered. This Pierre Prudhomme hadn't waited to write. Suppose Allen should decide she didn't need him, how could she explain to Prudhomme?

"So nice of you to let me know," she murmured and continued her descent. "How could I?" he countered. "I only got in town this morning and you have no telephone."

"And it didn't occur to you that I might have a previous engagement?" "You know you haven't. You don't know a single soul within two thousand miles of here."

At that moment Pierre Prudhomme appeared behind Allen in the open door. "May I present Mr. Prudhomme, from New Orleans. My attorney, Mr. Bartell."

There are in all 72 statues from 38 states. Statuary Hall reached its population peak in 1933. Guess that 1864 congress never figured there would be anything like 48 states, so the boys in '33 had to straighten them out, to keep from chipping the elbows of the crowding greats.

What I wanted to know and couldn't find out is what's the matter with those other 30 states? Haven't they any famous sons? Or can't the folks get together on who deserves such an honor? Or are they broke?

Idaho, Arizona, Minnesota and South Dakota have only taken one spot each. The states that haven't scratched the surface yet are Colorado, Montana, Nevada, New Mexico, North Dakota, Oregon, Utah, Washington and Wyoming. If any of them has made a recent gesture toward putting a Capitol hall over the memory of one of their heroes, David Lynn, Capitol architect, hasn't heard of it.

Robbin Coons Hollywood Sights And Sounds HOLLYWOOD—The Nazis are out again—but what a difference this time!

You can see them on the sound stage where "The Mortal Storm" is being filmed. You can see them in the studio streets at Metro, in the studio commissary lunching, quite often, with English Tommies from the set of "Waterloo Bridge."

They're there, these Nazis, with no folderol, no claptrap, no hocus-pocus such as marked their first film work last year in "Confessions of a Nazi Spy." The "Confessions" were filmed in secrecy. There was hushed-up talk about threatening letters, about strange accidents and near-accidents on the set.

There was abundant evidence either that Nazi sympathizers in this country didn't like the idea of a picture about themselves, or that secrecy in this instance was considered the better part of publicity. From Metro's "Mortal Storm," so far, have come no rumors of Nazi agitation. Outwardly, at least, this looks like any other picture as it goes on its day to day production schedule.

It's odd, of course, to see those swastika-banded arms on the extras' uniforms in this free country, but after a while the strangeness seems no greater than that of Zulu warriors of Civil War battles or the cavemen of D. W. Griffith's "1,000,000 B. C."

Frank Borzage is directing "The Mortal Storm" which is based on Phyllis Bottome's novel of a family in Nazi Germany at the beginning of Hitler's regime. Borzage is the man who two years ago filmed Erich Maria Remarque's "Three Comrades"—or those parts of it which the studio deemed it prudent to film. Then it was a question of "protecting" Metro's foreign market. Today— "Well," says Borzage, "we're filming a human interest story of a family's disintegration. It just happens to have Nazi Germany as its background. Our picture won't have any 'heavies' and it's not an attack on Germany. It's just a picture of what happens when a force like that arises. There are no heavies because the storm troopers are shown believing in what they do."

"But the fans can draw their own conclusions, Mr. B." "Well—yes. We don't condone the brutality, naturally. We try to show the fanatic fervor that motivates it, but we don't excuse it."

Jack Stinnett Washington Daybook

WASHINGTON—The Long machine in Louisiana has met the fate of the one-hoss shay but visitors to Washington's Statuary Hall in years to come may find Louisiana's most honored son in the late Huey Long.

Whether they do or don't is up to Governor Short Long, Huey's brother and the man who was at the wheel when the machine went into the ditch.

Back in 1884, when the Civil war was grinding out heroes at a dizzy pace, congress decided to take the matter in hand. It passed a law. The law said each state could have two nice pedestals in Statuary Hall, to support the statues of the deceased heroes that state considered worthy of such honor.

When Louisiana got back in the union fold, it paid no attention to the law. But in 1938, the state legislature found a hero to their liking and put up $15,000 for a statue of the assassinated "Kingfish." After that gesture, they did nothing about withdrawing the money from the treasury and the appropriation will go back to the state for something else if it isn't withdrawn before July, 1941.

Governor Long hasn't that much time. His official sun sets May 14, when he goes out of office. If he acts before then, the name and figure of Huey Long will be perpetuated along with such heroes as Samuel Adams, Henry Clay, Jeff Davis, Daniel Webster, Sam Houston, Robert Fulton and John C. Calhoun, in one of the nation's most distinguished halls of fame.

Both in Washington and Louisiana, the state officials asked about it, wouldn't say yea and wouldn't say nay, and the new administration hasn't even hinted what they'll do if Governor Long doesn't choose to put brother Huey in the Capitol. It would hardly seem right, though, to expect the new anti-Long administration to honor the man who sowed up Louisiana politics in his own little sack and for so many years refused them even one little peek.

There is, by the by, hardly any better way for a state to memorialize one of its distinguished sons than by putting him up in marble or bronze in Statuary Hall. Even when he deeds of the dead hero are forgotten and his name stirs only a vague recollection, there are the Capitol guides who jog the memory of older visitors to Washington and tell new generations how these men reached their pedestals in this hall of the mighty.

They have to do little explaining, of course, about Washington or Garfield or Andrew Jackson or Ethan Allen or Robert E. Lee or Roger Williams. They're all well remembered in the history books. But here Georgia has wisely written a permanent record for Dr. Crawford William Long, whose pioneering with ether anaesthesia in 1842 gave him a high place in the nation's medical history. And Kentucky has honored Ephraim McDowell, another distinguished physician, who performed the first ovariectomy—the operation that annually saves thousands of women's lives—in 1809 and almost lost his life at the hands of a mob because of it.

There are in all 72 statues from 38 states. Statuary Hall reached its population peak in 1933. Guess that 1864 congress never figured there would be anything like 48 states, so the boys in '33 had to straighten them out, to keep from chipping the elbows of the crowding greats.

to confront Pierre. Tomi thought it must be the dusky hall which made it appear the two men were fencing rather than shaking hands.

Then Allen turned to Tomi, a peculiar expression on his face. "Why don't you both join us?" he asked, and told the guest about the party.

Tomi wondered if Old Abe had told the gentleman from Louisiana what part Allen played in her business life, for he became suddenly affable.

"If Miss Toland is willing?" Tomi was both willing and unwilling. She wanted to belong to a group that looked as gay as Allen's, but she wasn't sure that she wanted to introduce Mr. Prudhomme into that group before she had settled her business with him. Unable to refuse without an ungraciousness neither man deserved, she consented.

At first Tomi thought Allen's guests were legion, then she discovered that this was due to their ability to be in more than one place at a time. Those she met hovering over the barbecue pit were suddenly in the house. Those in the house were on the deck by the time she reached there.

The house, of which Allen was proud, was really a one-room apartment. Bunks were built into the walls. A compact kitchen appeared by merely opening two doors. A push-button released table and chairs.

There was a huge fireplace for driftwood and, grouped around it were a divan and deep, mannish-looking chairs. Tomi had never seen so many windows. Two opened onto the deck where glass windbreaks gave them view to the bay and the long line of the coast range.

Tomi found herself enthroned in a deck chair, an eddy in that swirl of laughing chattering people. For a little while she was content to sit there, warmed by the sun, her eyes lazily scanning miles of blue water.

Prudhomme had disappeared. Tomi was reminded of him when she saw an air transport leveling off from Mill's Field on the south shore and gradually growing larger as it neared the island. Continued Monday.

Miss Dawes To Give Concert

Program To Be Friday At Auditorium

First formal concert in her home town will be presented this week by Nancy Dawes, a Big Spring girl of widely-acclaimed musical ability who has consistently won laurels from critics and public alike in piano concert appearances elsewhere.

Miss Dawes will be assisted by her brother, William R. Dawes, vocalist, in the program, to be given at the Municipal auditorium Friday evening, beginning at 8:15. The presentation is by the Music Study club, which each year, as a part of its activity, sponsors a Texas artist in concert. A happy choice this year has been Miss Dawes as a Big Spring product.

Miss Dawes started her musical studies here, under tutelage of her father, the late W. R. Dawes. Later, she studied under Elizabeth Leake at Texas State College for Women, then at the University of Michigan under Josef Brinker-mann. She has presented programs at Denton, Dallas, Lubbock, San Angelo and Houston, but although she has taken a part in programs in Big Spring, has yet to appear in a full formal concert before home folk. She achieved a high point in her career only last season, when she appeared as a great artist with the Kansas City symphony, conducted by Kari Krueger, and won high acclaim.

Miss Dawes is a teacher of public school music in Dallas, and will make a trip here for the concert.

Mr. Dawes, director of public school music in Big Spring, has appeared in numerous programs in the city, and has done considerable radio work. He majored in voice at the University of Michigan, receiving his master's degree in music there, with training under Arthur Hackett.

Hats affect masculine hearts, proposals and the marriage rate, says one of America's leading hat designers.

So give special thought to your Leap Year Easter bonnet, for it may help you get your man.

"A young man matrimonially inclined can be attracted by a pretty hat," says Howard Hodge, whose hats are worn from Maine to California. "But he can be frightened away by a flighty, crazy one that veers off at a dizzy angle. Reason: He is apt to think the girl is as dizzy as her hats and not the one to found the best home and hapwith him. In New York, where fashions are made, the year after the crazy-hat epidemic the marriage rate fell several percent. So did it the year after the Empress Eugenie episode—though a few other things, like the depression, may have had something to do with it, too.

For your further information these are the things, I have learned, men like in hats: Brims (both large and small), color (not too loud), flowers, simplicity and designs that make a becoming frame for the face.

To complete your education, these are the things designers have done in Leap Year's Easter bonnets:

Biggest news is in brims. Those that have made the latter splash and are most talked of right now stand off the face, but there are still a number that pitch forward over the eye. Among the new off-face hats are Flemish sailors inspired by old Flemish painting whose brims (posed on a close cap) tilt skyward and are edged by a wide flange. There are also a lot of bonnets inspired by nun's coifs.

Another important piece of spring hat news concerns big roll-brimmed felt chapeaux with wide sides and fairly shallow backs and fronts. Some of these roll back from the face, others up on each side.

All the old brimmed favorites are here, too. There are narrow and wide-brimmed sailiors, rolling brimmed, betrons (sometimes posed so far back on the head they have a halo effect), postillions and show-mel brims which pitch forward over the face. Felts, straws and braids are all used to make them. Color in the next news note in the 1940 Easter chapeaux. Navy blue and black hats are splashed with scarlet or apple green, white hats (numerous) are touched with navy blue. There are also a number of colored hats—dusty pink, misty blues, soft yellows and greens—and some plaid taffeta sailiors.

Flowers, fruit and bird wings, liberally used, add to the vogue for color. Toques are covered with pastel flowers, white blossoms or red currants and misted with a colorful veil film. Wings trim sailiors or nest in flower toques.

All in all, the new Easter bonnets are chapeaux to which men might well propose.

Phillips 66 Station On Third Street Opened To Public Monday

Newest unit in Big Spring's auto service and supply industry makes its bid to the public Monday, with the formal opening of an additional Phillips 66 station at East Third and Goliad streets.

Completely new throughout, the station—12th retail outlet for Phillips in this immediate vicinity—was constructed and equipped at a cost of more than $10,000. It contains many refinements, and is equipped with the most modern devices for servicing.

Manager of the new station is W. O. Low, resident of Big Spring for many years, and an experienced man in the auto servicing field. He has been assisted in details for the opening by K. H. McGibbon, Phillips 66 distributor for the Big Spring area, who recently moved here from Perryton. Also to be here for the opening is R. J. Parrish of San Angelo, district supervisor. McGibbon and Low issued an invitation for the public to call at the new station and inspect its facilities.

The station, No. 28,447 for Phillips, will handle the complete line of Phillips 66 gasolines and oils, in addition to all Phillips auto accessories and Lee tires. A complete servicing department also has been installed, with a modern hydraulic lift to facilitate lubrication. All equipment is of the latest type.

The station itself is attractively designed along modern lines, and is handsomely finished. It is equipped with a combination heating and cooling unit; and the rest-rooms, tile-finished and fully equipped, represent the last word in filling station lounge-room comfort.

Among firms which participated in the construction of the station are the S. P. Jones Lumber company, Sanitary Plumbing and Sheet Metal Works, McGinnis Tin Shop, Taylor Electric company, Underwood Roofing company, Jno. R. Chaney, Painter; J. S. Yancey of Wichita Falls, general contractor; R. L. Wilson, cement contractor, and the West Texas Sand and Gravel company.

Assisting Mr. Low will be two station attendants and a porter.

SHARP REDUCTION IN WPA ROLLS SLATED ON FIRST OF JUNE

KANSAS CITY, Mar. 16. (UP)—Howard O. Hunter, deputy WPA commissioner, said today almost a third of the nation's WPA workers would be dismissed by June 1.

The sharp reduction in WPA rolls will start next month. Approximately 700,000 persons will be cut from total of 2,300,000 by June 30, beginning with 200,000 in April, he explained.

TOUGH COMPETITION—It has been the history of things around this territory that any boy who wants to win in the milk-fed calf competition has one of the Sadler boys of Martin county to reckon with. Russell Sadler, who with his brother, Billy, does some prize feeding, is shown here with his grand champion calf of the recent Martin county show. Shown with the calf, left to right, are H. G. Bedford, manager of the C-Ranch, breeders of the calf, Henry Kothmann, county agent at Big Lake and judge of the show, and Russell. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. V. R. Sadler of Tarzan community.

GOOD GLASSCOCK COUNTY calf is the animal fed out by Horace Underwood and bred by the K. S. Brown ranch. This baby beef was declared grand champion of the third annual Glasscock County Livestock Show last month after having won the drylot heavy-weight class. At the San Angelo show, however, the calf went on a hunger strike and dropped off to place 17th in its class. Back in shape, it may figure heavily in competition here Monday and Tuesday.

Higher Octane Aviation Gas Is Perfected

A fifty per cent increase in power output of present day airplane engines, without a comparable increase in weight, may be possible through the use of a new 115 octane gasoline announced by Phillips Petroleum company. With an anti-knock rating higher than any aviation fuel ever before manufactured, this new fuel opens the way for higher compression engines with increased power but without increase in size. Engineers estimate that higher compression, made possible by the new gasoline, will add approximately fifty per cent to the power output of the present airplane engines designed to use 87 octane gasoline. This is equivalent to adding a third engine to the modern two-motored transports. The additional power may be utilized to increase speed, rate of climb, pay load, or cruising range.

Not only will this fuel improve commercial air transportation but it will also increase the efficiency of military aircraft where power and speed are of the greatest importance. Superiority in military aviation, according to airplane experts, does not necessarily depend upon the number of planes but upon the efficiency of the individual aircraft.

This new higher anti-knock fuel is the latest scientific achievement of the company's research staff in the development of the polymerization process. It has been accomplished by the commercial production of "Neohexane" which is not a trade name for gasoline but a chemical term indicating the nature of the product itself. "Neohexane" means: "A hydrocarbon fuel composed of molecules containing six carbon atoms in a new and more compact form."

A table, 200 feet in diameter, was erected in Windsor Castle, England at which the Knights of the Garter were entertained at the king's expense in the thirteenth century.

Barnes Expert On Feeding

George W. Barnes, known to extension service workers and thousands of Texas farmers and ranchers as "Stud" Barnes, carries the title of animal husbandman and beef cattle specialist. He will be judge of the club boys' stock show opening here Monday.

While he knows his animals as few other Texans do, he nevertheless is an outstanding authority on feeding of livestock. Recent trends in agriculture have made Barnes much in demand on this point, for as farmers curbed their cotton allotments, they turned to new sources of revenue. Marketing of feed through livestock appeared to be the most practical and immediate alternative.

In an informal talk to farmers, ranchers, 4-H club boys and vocational agriculture students here last summer, Barnes gave a wealth of information on feeding. In a nutshell, he recognized the value of good feeder types, but pointed out that correct feeding is the secret of success. His formula, briefly, is to start the range calf slowly, feeding fodder in abundance. As the animal gets on to his feed, then gradually increase the amount of grain. Cottonseed meal is added to the diet also. In the end, the total ration poundage will be about the same per day, but the scales will tip steadily from bulk feed to grains as the steer's system is adjusted to the change. When the calf reaches the peak of average daily gain, normally this is the time to go to market.

Barnes warned against feeding grain too rapidly. The calf will show big gains at first, then burn out.

MORONS FOUND GAINING

PHILADELPHIA. (UP)—The United States is going to the morons, according to fears expressed by Albert Edward Wiggan, psychologist. "Half of America—the educated half—is dying out."
