Trial Ballooning

Mayor C. K. Quinn of San Antonio is reported to have "warned" Governor Allred that public opinion would not stand for the state's attempt to lend a local government to its will.

This was in reply to the governor's promise to send state police to San Antonio, as he did to Dallas, to prevent repetition of such things as tarring and feathering in the north Texas metropolis and wrecking of a Worker's Alliance headquarters in the shadow of the Alamo.

The mayor must have meant San Antonio public opinion, for certainly public opinion of the state of Texas, of which Mr. Allred is the governor, is squarely behind his actions in enforcing a law that has not been enforced by local authority.

The San Antonio mayor may be a big man in his own town but he will find that in the state he is not so big as the governor, no matter who that governor may be.

It may be that the mayor made his statement in furtherance of his candidacy for the office of governor, a sort of trial balloon, so to speak.

Man About Manhattan

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—With George M. Cohan in a barber shop: He shakes hands with the boy who takes his hat and tells him a funny story...

The barber lucky enough to be assigned to Cohan immediately becomes the envy of all the other barbers.

The manicurist and the shoeshine boy make a dive for the chair, and Cohan starts talking of his favorite subject.

He would rather be a great second baseman, or maybe it's a great shortstop, than the star he is, and he thinks John McGraw was the greatest manager that ever lived.

He likes to tell about the old days when McGraw was leading the Giants and Terry was a fresh kid from Dixie.

Cohan always threatens to go to sleep in barber chairs. But he never does.

The shoeshine boy says, "Mistah Cohan, doan look in no mirror when de barbin' git thru wif you—look in de toes of dees shoes."

The proprietor wants to hand him the latest Esquire. He next suggests Colliers, the New Yorker.

He is pink and glowing by the time the barber powders his face.

Anything except the weather.

GANGWAY FOR PIRACY AND PEACE!

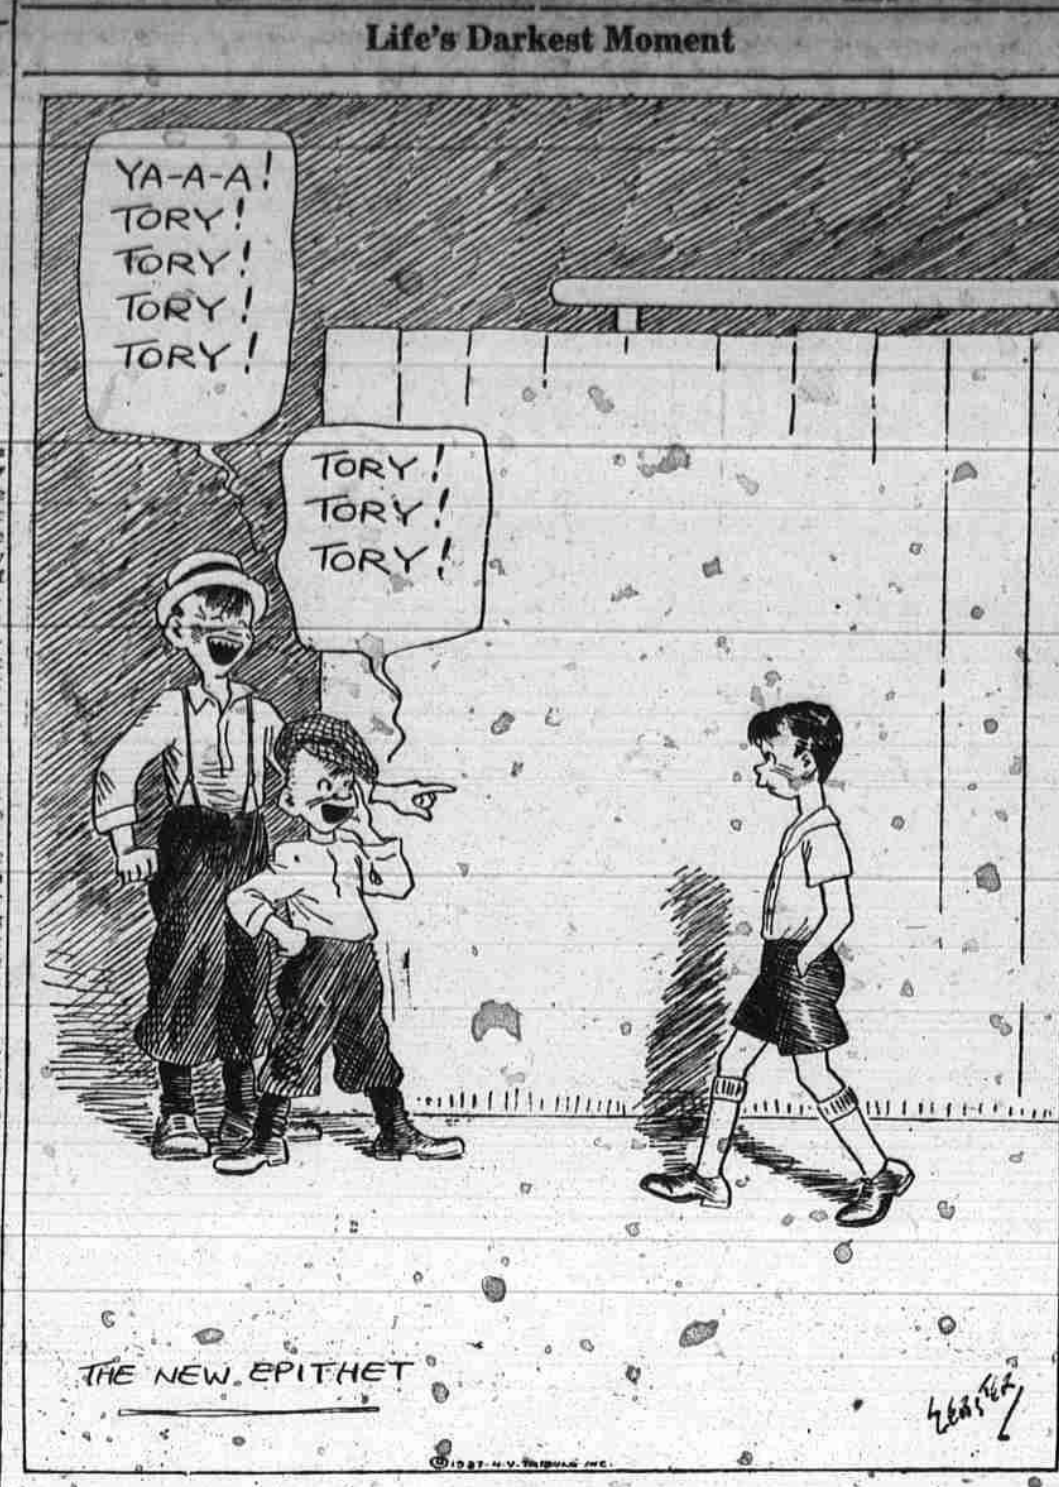

Last week American shipping was warned by the Navy Department of piracy in the Mediterranean. The ships carrying our commerce were urged to be cautious.

During July and August alone there were twenty-five attacks on British ships in the Mediterranean. Greek and Russian ships were sunk. Turkey was aroused by a strange submarine bobbing up in the Dardanelles.

American vessels must be left in considerable confusion as to what to do. They are advised to observe caution. What does that mean?

Nothing can bring you peace," said Emerson, "but the triumph of principle." A world without law is a world at war.

By the established law of nations for centuries, piracy, which is a crime not against any particular state but against all mankind, may be punished by wiping out the pirate wherever he is encountered.

Sights and Sounds By Robbin Coons

By ROBBIN COONS HOLLYWOOD—Operatic Helen Jepson's introduction to movie work was typically filled with annoyances.

More than that, it seems certain that the destroyers that have been sent out and may be sent out, are the submarines that will be instructed by their governments to be careful not to ascertain their nationality.

The implications of what is happening cannot be dodged. While nations talk of avoiding war, war is going on, in ways which have been out of use for generations.

How does he do it? The answer is simple. He spends most of his time out of doors, he gets plenty of exercise, he uses some degree of judgment about what he eats, he always manages to get plenty of sleep and he never drinks any...

CHAPTER XVII—Waldo looked at Felice and said earnestly, "I guess that's that." Felice was pretty, blonde and practical.

Felice had always thought of Waldo Beaver as a nice little guy—a sort of intelligent Casper Milquetoast—but at lunch that day he had been full of spirit.

She now took the arm of the shattered Mr. Beaver and led him into the drawing room, where a fire was still burning in the hearth.

"I don't know," he said down in the chair facing the divan which Felice had claimed. "These things frighten me."

Felice shrugged one shoulder and smiled. "They shouldn't, Waldo. For a whole year I've been thinking that you were a pretty swell guy."

Waldo drew a quivering breath. "I don't know," he said down in the chair facing the divan which Felice had claimed. "These things frighten me."

"I said—sit over here." She made her words emphatic.

"Oh," Waldo was accustomed to commands—but he sat down beside Felice with definite reluctance.

Waldo sat up straight and looked at her. She imagined that he was going to seize her and kiss her—because an expression of sudden determination had come into his eyes.

"I will!" She leaned toward him. "Fine!" She leaned toward him. "Fine!" She leaned toward him. "Fine!"

"I'll do—anything—to help you, Waldo." "Excellent!" He stood for a moment silently arming himself with more and yet more rage.

Waldo reached the astute way in which she had managed him. In another moment he would take her in his arms. From that point it would be easy to suggest that they get married right away.

She moved him up to Westchester—a charming little house, pleasant people to play bridge with—cocktails every evening—a dash of suburban intrigue when Waldo got boring—everything cozy and rosy.

Plan Affair For Mahon

Service Clubs Will Honor Congressman Here Tuesday

The four service clubs of Big Spring—Rotary, Lions, Kiwanis and American Business—will honor Rep. George Mahon, congressman from the 19th congressional district, at a luncheon here next Tuesday.

Announcement of the meeting was made by J. H. Greene, chamber of commerce manager, after a conference with Rotary leaders. Since the Rotary meetings falls on Tuesday, that club has extended an invitation to other clubs to join in the luncheon.

Mahon advised that he would accept the invitation to address the combined group, thus making his first appearance here since he returned from Washington.

Details of the program have not been completed. However, it was made plain that the meeting will not be restricted to club members but any interested citizen will be invited to attend the affair in the Settles ballroom.

Texas Crops In Fine Condition

AUSTIN, Sept. 14 (AP)—The excellent condition of Texas' major crops was reflected today in the monthly report of the United States department of agriculture.

The department estimated cotton production at 4,222,000 bales, compared to 2,933,000 bales last year and an average of 4,880,000 bales from 1928 to 1932 inclusive. It said the corn crop would be 76,551,000 bushels, as against 68,925,000 in 1936 and the 1928-32 average of 81,992,000.

The indicated rice crop was given at 12,200,000 bushels 2,000,000 above the 1936 output and more than 3,000,000 bushels greater than the 1928-32 average.

"Conditions continued favorable for the most part to crops in Texas during August," the department said, "and on Sept. 1 prospects for most crops either remained unchanged from that of a month ago or showed some improvement. Rice with two per cent decline and hay with a five per cent decline were exceptions. Pastures showed a seasonal decline in condition while range conditions dropped slightly more than average."

Founder Of Czech Republic Dead

PRAHA, Czechoslovakia, Sept. 14 (AP)—Dr. Thomas G. Masaryk, grand old man of Czechoslovakia and founder of the republic, today lost his long fight against death which he regarded as the "common enemy of mankind." He was 87 years old.

The "little father of Czechoslovakia" had been critically ill since Sept. 2. Last week he rallied slightly but on Sunday night his condition took a sudden turn and he lapsed into unconsciousness.

Jan Masaryk, son of the first president of the republic which was born out of the World war, personally announced the death.

"My father died at 3:29 this morning."

Flags in Praha and at the Chateau de Lany, the residence given Dr. Masaryk by the people, were half-staffed. The country fell among whom he had lived his last years uncovered their heads and bent their knees in silent prayer.

In addition to his son and daughter, President Edouard Benes, Premier Milan Hodza and Chancellor P. Samal were at the bedside when death came. Madame Masaryk, the former Charlotte Garrique of Brooklyn, died in 1923.

IS INJURED IN GUN MISHAP

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 14 (AP)—Wallace Beery, screen star, lay in the Cedars of Lebanon hospital today, victim of a shooting that was not in the script.

Beery shot himself in the leg, with a blank cartridge. He was dashing into a nest of bandits, six-shooters ready for action. Then he tripped and one of the guns went off.

The blank cartridge was imbedded itself just above the knee. Blood flowed profusely and fellow-players, including Virginia Bruce and Dennis O'Keefe, rushed to his aid when he crumpled to the floor.

The accident occurred yesterday during work on the picture "Bad Man of Brimstone," at M-G-M.

Rushed to the hospital in an ambulance, Beery was weak from loss of blood. His physician, Dr. E. Clarence Moore, said:

"The wound is extensive, but not necessarily serious. However, Beery will be unable to work for several weeks."

Little Dog Plays Role Of A Hero

CAMDEN, N. J., Sept. 14 (AP)—A little white poodle dog stunk disconsolately about a lonely house on the outskirts of Lucaston, N. J., today with death waiting to rob him of a hero's laurels.

The aid he had brought to Mrs. Christine Toth, 70, ill of food poisoning, probably came too late. Physicians said her condition was critical.

Mrs. Toth became ill yesterday after eating what she thought were mushrooms. She lost consciousness. When she rallied she was without means of summoning help. She had no telephone, and her nearest neighbor a mile away.

But her poodle dog, a constant companion for four years, gave her an idea. She sent him for help. Scrawling a message on the back of an old envelope she tied it to the dog's collar with a bit of string.

The Rev. Harry B. Stockton, pastor of the Lucaston Methodist Episcopal church was awakened by the dog's barking.

He called Dr. Harold Paul Coxson of Stratford, who described Mrs. Toth's condition as critical.
