20TH YEAR, NO. 13

HEREFORD, DEAF SMITH COUNTY, TEXAS, THURSDAY, APRIL 15, 1926

TREMENDOUS RAINS-SNOW INSURE CROP

If the Plains county ever had a drier season in the ground in April or better prospects for wheat, grass and general farming than right now it was so long ago that the present generations has forgotten it.

The already fine season of 1926 was augmented and nailed down to a finish the past week end when an all-day, soaking rain fell throughout Friday, amounting to about three fourths of an inch, which turned to snow during the night. Saturday morning the ground was covered several inches deep with a glistening, wet snowfall. The snow continued lightly during the day Saturday.

All told the precipitation is figured locally at about three inches, counting one and three tenths inches straight rain and some eight or ten inches of wet snow.

Tuesday was a beautiful, sunshiny day, but Wednesday clouded up again and it looked like more moisture, but Thursday was another burst of sunshine and apparently the clouds have gone for good.

There's a simply grand season in the ground, the wheat is assured, the farmers are fighting to get to work in the fields, the business men are smiling at the outlook for the future.

Looks like a grand and glorious '26.

"CLUB PAL" PROJECT OF COUNTY AGENT STARTED

The "Club Pal" project which is being fostered for Club members of Deaf Smith county and the business men of Hereford, by County Agent R. O. Dunkle, will be definitely started next Monday, April 19, at the Hereford Chamber of Commerce luncheon.

The plan is for each business man and his wife to select at least one boy and girl in some community in the county, and be a pal to this Club boy or girl. The business folks will visit these young farmers at various times through the coming year, in an effort to create more interest in the projects that will be selected by the youngsters.

County Agent R. O. Dunkle will be in charge of this feature next Monday.

SCHOOL CENSUS SHOWS TEN PER CENT GAIN OVER 1925

The school census conducted by Al Miller has been completed and shows 700 scholastics in the district, an increase of over ten percent as compared with the previous year.

If any children were overlooked, or were out of town, while Mr. Miller was doing the work that fact should be reported to him at once, at the sheriff's office.

DISTINGUISHED MASONIC VISITORS BEFORE LODGE

Four distinguished visitors were present at the regular Masonic lodge meeting Monday night. They were President J. A. Hill, Dr. D. H. Munson, head of the English department, and Dr. C. A. Pierle, all of the West Texas State Teachers College at Canyon. W. J. Fleisher, prominent attorney of Canyon.

The four presented the aims and purposes of the Masonic Students Fund at the Normal. A most interesting meeting of the lodge resulted.

GOLF TOURNAMENT DELAYED BY WEATHER OF PAST WEEK

The local golf tournament scheduled to start last Sunday has been crippled by the wet weather. But the tournament will last through next Sunday, and it is believed that the "Fats and the Leans" will be able to complete their eighteen hole matches by next Sunday night. If not, the tournament committee has the option of extending the time limit, if they consider it advisable.

Jensen Wrestles Montana Here on Thursday Night

The Hereford Fire Department announced Tuesday that a big wrestling match would be pulled off under the auspices of that organization, at the Sales Pavilion, Thursday night, April 15, the contestants being Thor Jensen and Toney "Bull" Montana of Birmingham, Ala. A good list of preliminaries had also been arranged. Montana is said to be "oversize" for Jensen, and has been unable to get a match at Amarillo on that account, but Jensen says the bigger they are the harder they fall, and he expects to throw the large invader as he has all the rest of them. A good attendance at the match is expected on account of the many visitors here for the E. B. Black sale.

Jensen wrestled Jack Ryan at the Armory Tuesday night and won the match two falls out of three. Ryan took the second fall after Jensen had tossed him in the first. The third was for blood and Ryan was defeated when Jensen drew him into a body-scissors. Paul Jowel refereed.

FAIRBANKS BREAKS HIS OWN STUNT RECORDS

In his current picture, "Don Q. Son of Zorro," at the Star Theatre, Douglas Fairbanks "out-stunts" himself. In other words, he performs more spectacular feats in this production than in any other feature he has ever made. Among the tricks he accomplished are the following:

Capture of an enraged bull in the streets of a Spanish city, by means of a red cape and his trusty whip.

Other acts with this whip include breaking bottles and cutting the tassel off another villain's cap; using the whip as a swing to mount high walls; tripping and binding a soldier; cutting the letter "Q" on the villain's face; disarming a soldier; catching an officer of high rank and low morals around the neck and pulling him down; finally, cutting the arch villain to ribbons with the lash.

Add a dash of spectacular riding, astounding leaps, a death-tempting slide of fifty feet in a ruined castle, swordsmanship of unbelievable skill and you have some idea of the amount of action crammed into "Don Q. Son of Zorro," the latest Fairbanks United Artists Corporation release.

Glee Clubs Took First Prizes at Music Festival

Hereford's musical talent, both adult and juvenile, made an excellent showing at the annual Music Festival at Amarillo last week, and the youngsters brought home a number of first honors and prizes. There was a good attendance of the members of the Music Study Club and others from Hereford, who staid in Amarillo all during the week's performances, while others drove up for individual numbers on the program. Prof. Myers' annual offering was highly praised by the Hereford music lovers.

Both the Hereford High school Glee Clubs, the Senior and Junior, as well as the High School band, took first honors in stiff competition. The Orchestra took third place, being pitted against several veteran organizations.

In the piano contests the pupils of Mrs. G. A. F. Parker made a most excellent showing. In the group of twenty contestants, each playing the "Dragon Fly" by Grant-Schaefer, Ruth Honston won first and Mary Luellen Parker second. In the group of fifteen contestants, each playing "The Ballet" by Cedric Lemont, Ruth Houston won third. In the group of sixteen contestants, each playing "The Flatterer" by Chaminade, Lucile Finley won first.

Arthur Thompson, Jr., a pupil of Miss Dessie Mae Steele, won first in the contest for boys under ten.

Strengthening of Community Ties Is Object of Group Movement Here. Programs Announced For Meetings

It will no doubt be of great interest to the entire citizenship of Deaf Smith county to learn that a group of Hereford citizens are now at work on a series of programs for the communities lying within the social radius of Hereford, the general purpose of which is the strengthening of neighborhood life.

The idea owes its origin purely to the desire on the part of the participating individuals to see a happier community life accomplished throughout our country, and is not sponsored by any organization whatever. It is hoped that these programs may be of assistance to each community in deriving the largest satisfactions from the neighborhood life.

Two aims are clearly in the minds of the individuals who are promoting these programs. The first of these is the strengthening of the community spirit without reference to any special form of organization which may be suggested, just in order that each community's structural life may be purely expressive of the community will. The second aim is, the laying at each community door of all the resources of the larger community of which each neighborhood is a part, in order that the community's life shall be enriched to the largest possible degree.

Below will be found the programs for the coming week. In next week's issue of The Brand will be published the programs for Askren, Dawn, Wyche, Ward and Fairview, but it may be stated here that those programs will be of the same general nature as those which are to be put on next week.

RUSSELL DANIEL HANDLING HARDWARE AT VARIETY STORE

Russell Daniel, proprietor of the Daniel Variety and Second Hand Store, announces this week that he has purchased the shelf and retail hardware stock of the Garrison Brothers Hardware and has moved it to his location on Sampson Avenue, where he will merge it with his variety stock. He has an announcement of this change in this issue of The Brand. Mr. Daniel is an energetic and enterprising young merchant who is rapidly developing a lucrative and increasing business.

Geo. P. Garrison states that: "You may tell them that they will find me at the same old location, doing business with the John Deere line of implements and heavy hardware." The detailed plans for Mr. Garrison's new enterprise are not yet ready for public announcement.

RURAL INTERSCHOLASTIC MEET HERE ON SATURDAY

The rural schools interscholastic meet, scheduled for last week and postponed until Saturday of this week, will consist of declamation and spelling contests only. A number of the rural schools have entered contestants and keen competition is expected. The spelling contest will take place at 10:00 a. m. Saturday and the declamation at 7:30 p. m., both in the High School auditorium.

SILLS HERE MONDAY AND TUESDAY IN NEW DRAMA

Milton Silis, film hero, steps again out of the camera's eye onto the screen at the Star Theatre next Monday and Tuesday, when his first National drama, "I Want My Man," opens for a two days' run.

In this appearance Silis is co-featured with Doris Kenyon and supported by a cast which includes Phyllis Haver, May Allison, Paul Nicholson, Kate Bruce and others.

Film fans will find an interesting contrast between Silis' notable role in "The Sea Hawk" and his characterization in "I Want My Man." The latter is that of a war-torn soldier who returns cured after eight years in France to find this country steeped in a mania of pleasure chasing.

"I Want My Man" was adapted from the novel, "The Interpreter's House," by Struthers Burt. It was produced for First National under the supervision of Earl Hudson and was directed by Lambert Hillyer.

E. B. BLACK'S HUGE REGISTERED HEREFORD SALE ATTRACTS SHREWD BUYERS

Promptly at 1:00 o'clock Thursday afternoon Auctioneer Fred Reppert and his corps of assistants opened the big E. B. Black Registered Sale, including over sixty head of fine Anxiety 4th cattle, in the Hereford Sales Pavilion. A capacity audience packed the display ring seats to the very roof. Numbered in the audience were scores of out-of-town buyers, who arrived in large numbers Wednesday afternoon and night and Thursday morning. Among the visitors were Secretary Jno. C. Burns of the Texas Hereford Cattle Association, Prof. Stangl, head of the animal husbandry department of Texas Tech; Haze Walker and son, Alton, of the American Hereford Journal; Ralph Dawson of the Drovers Telegram of Kansas City; R. J. Kenzer, secretary of the American Hereford Association. There were many breeders from all points in Texas, and a number from Kansas, Oklahoma and New Mexico.

The Sale began briskly and the first two cows sold indicated a successful effort. The first lot, Donna Mischief 2nd, brought $650; the second, Donna Mischief, $710. The third animal was being offered in the ring as

The visiting organization will consist of four artists, including a violinist, accompanist, etc., and the program will be a balanced arrangement of vocal and instrumental music. It is said to be very fine and a good crowd is hoped for.

OTTO MASSIE INSTALLS A CREAM AND EGG BUSINESS

Otto Massie, well known local farmer and business man, has opened a cream and egg station in the building just south of the City Cafe on Main street and is doing a good business already. Mr. Massie carries an advertisement in this issue of The Brand.

ANNA LOUISE RICE

Little Anna Louise Rice, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Rice, died April 14 at the County Hospital, after a two weeks illness of pneumonia. She was thought to be doing well Tuesday, when an abscess formed on the right lung.

Funeral services were held at the home on the Gordon Ranch, thirty miles west of Hereford, near Ende, N. M., Thursday afternoon, burial in the Allen cemetery.

WILLIAM SHIRLEY DAMERON—NEW ATTORNEY, BORN FRIDAY

Jackrabbit Campaign For County Is Being Planned

A county wide jackrabbit campaign is planned for this county in the near future. Deaf Smith county is co-operating with Randall county in a jackrabbit campaign. Two thousand pounds of poison are being mixed in Randall county and one thousand pounds will be distributed to farmers in Deaf Smith county who are interested in this rabbit poisoning. By mixing this poison grain in large quantities it can be sold to framers much cheaper than when mixed in small quantities.

Rabbit poisoning demonstrations have been held in several communities with good results and as many as one hundred rabbits have been poisoned on a hundred acre wheat field with ten pounds of poison grain. Rabbits poisoned at this time of year will eliminate a larger number later in the season. Those who are interested in a rabbit eradication should secure a few pounds of the poison grain. Much benefit can be accomplished if everyone will put out at least a little poison.

Those wishing this poison should see the county agent as soon as possible.

NEGRO MINSTREL AT HIGH SCHOOL—LAST NUMBER OF HEREFORD LYCEUM COURSE

A big Negro Minstrel, a three act comedy consisting of twenty two characters and a chorus of eighteen voices, several pickaninnies, will be staged by the Parent-Teacher's Association, in the High School Auditorium, Friday night, April 16, at 8:15 o'clock.

This promises to be one of the most ribbon will be awarded to first, second season, and will be the closing number of the local Lyceum Course. Every lover of entertainment will "relish" to his heart's content these quaint songs and humorous dialogues of this peculiar folk darlings "freshly blown in from the south."

It is expected a large crowd will avail themselves of this rare opportunity for amusement.

The admission will be 50c and 25c.

Development Here Seems Certain to Materialize Now

The year 1926 is expected to be a banner year for Hereford and Deaf Smith county, both from a farm development standpoint and the buildings and developments in Hereford.

Judging from the program that has already been outlined for Hereford 1926 is expected, in many ways, to rival the great boom days back in 1908 and 1909. Only it is being done on a much more substantial basis at this time. Expenditures here during the present year for business houses, new homes, and improvements will far surpass that of any since 1910.

The Kemp Lumber Company has just purchased a site for a new yard just across from the Santa Fe freight depot, and work will begin immediately on this new yard. The Moore Lumber Company of Amarillo purchased a site on West Third Street some weeks ago, and reports indicate that a yard for this company will be placed here at once. E. W. Harrison has just let a contract for a 50,000 bushel capacity elevator to be erected on his former elevator site. It will be valued at some $25,000 when completed. Two new brick business houses are now assured, as the sites for these have been purchased, but the contract for the buildings have not yet been let.

E. H. Oberthier is just completing three brick business houses on West Third Street, and G. W. Bromley, only recently completed a new garage and drive in filling station on East Third Street. A number of new homes in Hereford have just been completed, and a score of others are now under construction, or are being planned for the near future.

Work is scheduled to begin within the next few weeks on Hereford's extensive street paving program, and sewer and water extensions. These projects will represent an expenditure of some $225,000. Contract for these improvements have already been let.

The development in Deaf Smith county is keeping pace with the building in Hereford. One contractor has just completed twenty one houses, and practically all of them were built on farms in Deaf Smith county. Other contractors are busy at this time, and new homes can be seen going up in all parts of the county. One real estate firm here last week announced the sale of twelve sections of land to different parties, and most of it is to be improved immediately, and the land put in cultivation.

Recent rains have put adequate moisture in the ground for spring crops, and have practically assured a bumper wheat crop for this section. Hundreds of acres of virgin soil will be put in crops this year for the first time. Real estate has started turning earlier this spring than it has for a number of years, and with the huge building and development program that has already been mapped out, local folks are very optimistic over the outlook for 1926.

EAGLE SCOUT CEREMONY IS IMPRESSIVE

The largest crowd that has turned out in months attended the weekly Chamber of Commerce luncheon Monday at the City Cafe and were rewarded with an unusually fine program.

Rev. J. R. Ross of the Presbyterian church conducted for the benefit of the diners the special "Eagle Court of Honor" of the local Boy Scouts, and presented five local Eagle Scouts with their certificates and badges of merit. It was a unique and striking ceremony and one that greatly impressed the audience, as well as the five fine youngsters who were the chief participants. A number of the parents of the boys were guests for the occasion. The five boys are Paul Wright Barnett, Oliver Ray, Bill Parker, Keith Guthrie and Marlin Gilliland. The presentation speeches were made individually by G. A. F. Parker, E. S. Ireland, Rev. J. O. Haynes, Rev. W. R. Hill, and A. W. Gregg. The boys recited the pledge of a Scout in unison and each lighted a candle as he gave some motto of the organization.

Following the Court ceremony the diners had the privilege of listening to short addresses by Judge L. Gough, Secretary Goodwin of the Amarillo Board of City Development, and J. D. Coghlan of Dallas, representative of the Texas Farm Bureau. Mr. Goodwin merely brought a message of good will and cooperation and pledged himself to aid in any cooperative move for the mutual good of Hereford and Amarillo. Mr. Coghlan spoke powerfully of the need for organized marketing of farm products and stressed its importance to both the farmer and to the business man.

The entire program was unusually fine and much enjoyed by the huge crowd. Next Monday the luncheon will be held at the Hereford Hotel.

COUNTY AGENT SAYS PLANT JUST A LITTLE COTTON NOW

County Agent Dunkle says: "Farmers should consider very seriously the planting of a few acres of cotton, but should not plant more than can be given the proper attention. The outlook for the future cotton industry in Deaf Smith county is reaching a rather serious situation, for the reason that unless sufficient acreage is planted this year to maintain a gin the chances are that the farmers will not have the privilege of ginning their cotton in Hereford in the future, which would, of course, be a serious mistake for the future prosperity and development of this section."

"Conditions are almost ideal for planting cotton, and by planting cotton now and by using the proper seed adapted to this country the farmer could be almost certain of a reasonable cotton crop. Some of the early maturing Burnett Cotton will be sold to farmers at cost. Those wishing Burnett Cotton Seed should see E. B. Black or R. O. Dunkle."

WILLIAM BLACK MAKES FINE SCHOLASTIC RECORD, REPORT

Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Black are very proud of the scholastic record being made at Baylor University, Waco, Texas, by their son William A. Black. William will complete his work this year and has made unusually good grades in four subjects. The usual number of subjects in this year are three. Under date of April 10, Dean W. S. Allen wrote William as follows: "I am writing to congratulate you on your high scholarship during the winter quarter. Your grades were: B plus, B plus, A, B plus. This is an excellent record and in behalf of the University it gives me much pleasure to commend you and to wish you continued success in our loved institution."

DR. GABBERT INVITED TO BANQUET MILITARY MEN

Dr. W. F. Gabbert has been invited to attend a Military Dinner, sponsored by the Military Surgeons Association of Dallas, at the Scottish Rite Cathedral, Dallas, April 19, 7:00 p. m. The doctor is seriously considering the invitation.

This is expected to be a notable gathering of medical military men. Dr. Hugh H. Young of Baltimore will be toastmaster. He was the head of the medical division in France of which Dr. Gabbert was a member. Some of the greatest medical lights in the United States will be on the program.

H. A. HOFFMAN BUYS THE WARREN GROCERY STOCK

H. A. Hoffman, brother of Joe Hoffman, who lives in the Jumbo community, has purchased the G. B. Warren Grocery and took charge of the business last Saturday.

Mr. Hoffman originally comes from Indiana, although he has been in this community since last October. He is an experienced grocery merchant, is enthusiastic over the prospects ahead of this country, and states that he will conduct a strictly cash, up-to-the-minute grocery service. He is making his announcement of business in this issue of The Brand.

JOEL

The following little poem was cut from some paper and the author is unknown but there is so much truth to it we could not refrain from copying it. It does not tell all the story either does it?

By Heck, I'm Ready
Down on the farm, 'bout half past four,
I slip on my pants and sneak out the door,
Out to the yard I run like the dickens,

To milk 10 cows and feed the chickens,
Clean out the barn, curry Nance and Figs.
Separate the cream and slop the pigs.
Work two hours, then eat like a Turk.
And, by heck I'm ready for a full day's work.
Then I grease the wagon and put on the rack.
Throw a jug of water in an old grain sack.
Hit up the horses, bustle down the lane.
Must get the hay in, for it looks like rain.
Look over yonder, sure as I am born,
Cattle on the rampage and cows in the corn.
Start across the medder, run a mile or two,
Heaving like I'm windbroke, wet clean through.
Get back to the horses, then for recompense,
Nance got a-straddle the barbed wire fence,
Joints all aching and muscles in a jerk,
I'm as fit as a fiddle for a full day's work.
Work all summer till winter is nigh,

Then figure on the books and leave a big sigh.
Worked all year, didn't make a thing.
Got less cash now than I had last spring.
Now some people say that there ain't no hell,
But they never farmed so they can't tell.
When spring rolls 'round I take another chance,
While the fringe grows longer on my old pants.
Give my s'penders a hitch, my belt another jerk,
And by heck, I'm ready for a full year's work.
Everybody is glad to see the sun shine after the storm, but are rejoicing over the abundance of moisture it put into the ground.
No Sunday School Sunday owing to the bad roads and threatening weather.
We have been having school Saturdays to make up a few days lost earlier in the term. Not many got the benefit Saturday as only the children from one family were in attendance.
Grandmother Stice is spending a few days with the Walter Loo family.
Mrs. Guy Smith spent Tuesday town with her mother, Mrs. Cassels.

Will you give a Penny for its Life?

IT costs one cent more per chick to feed Purina Poultry Chows for the first six weeks than to feed uncertain unbalanced mixtures. Of the chicks fed average mixtures 50% die. Purina saves 90%. It costs a lot more to let chicks die than to save them. The best feed you can buy is by far the cheapest. You can save a cent—or a life. Which will it be? Phone us your answer. CAMERON, N. M.

Well, we can say we have plenty of moisture now. Last Friday morning we had about an inch of rain then it was followed by ten inches or more of snow. This was recently preceded by a four inch and also by a ten inch snow.

Mrs. M. A. Johnston received a telegram Monday of last week stating that her grand daughter, Mrs. Edith Howard was very low at her home in Altus, Oklahoma. Mrs. Johnston and sons Willie and Lonnie left immediately in Lonnie's coupe. Lonnie took sick while there, and Willie returned with him Wednesday. Mrs. Johnston is still at Altus. Mrs. Howard died Thursday. She had flu and then pneumonia.

Floyd Mote returned Sunday from a trip to Marfa, N. M., where Phil lives at a logging camp in the Sacramento mountains. He reports the snow about four feet deep up there.

Vera Cogdill spent from Friday eve till Sunday with Ella Davis.

F. B. Scott and family postponed a trip to Amarillo Friday on account of the weather. They had intended to visit Mr. Scott's sister, Mrs. Ethel Brooks, who has undergone an operation for appendicitis.

James Hogg of Grady was selling out a beef in this community last Tuesday.

A. W. Cameron moved the Cameron post office building across the road east last week into Curry Co.

A. C. Johnston sent his truck loaded with hogs to Hereford by his brothers Dallas and Willie. They left very early Friday morning, reaching Hereford O. K., but it began raining then snowing. They loaded with coal, but were compelled to unload most of it on the way back, but finally got into New Mexico with the truck but had to abandon the truck and borrow some horses to get home.

At the school election at Boney last Tuesday, Messrs. Lee Spurlock and J. O. Wood were elected trustees. A. C. Johnston is the other trustee.

Because of the bad roads there was no Sunday school or church at New Hope Sunday morning.

Dr. Smith of Clovis accompanied Dr. Hale Friday in a visit to see little Melvin Johnston who is still very low.

Miss Ruby Harbour is suffering with the flu.

Halla Leach visited at the J. A. Leach home Sunday.

Mrs. Ella and Floyce Burnett and Miss Nellie Patterson were among those who sat up at the A. C. Johnston home Saturday night.

The Wheatland school dismissed Friday when it began storming and the trucks reached home in safety. The Boney school did not dismiss early enough, and the truck could not travel and most of the pupils failed to get home.

Dr. Hale was forced to make a part of his trip on horseback Sunday to the A. C. Johnston home after leaving the highway, as the snow was too deep for a car to travel.

The Boney school is preparing a program for their school closing this Friday night.

If the roads do not improve greatly we fear there can't be a very large crowd attend the singing convention at New Hope next Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Johnston are at the home of Mrs. Johnston's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Powell. Mrs. Johnston went there to stay while Lonnie went to Oklahoma, and he returned there, and they are in bad health and the road almost impassable at present.

Lewis G. Ewing passed to the great beyond Wednesday, April 7, after a lingering suffering of lung trouble. He was not bed fast but a few days.

He was born in Johnston county, Iowa, Feb. 25, 1876. He came to Cameron, New Mexico, in 1907, where he has resided since that time. He was married in 1917 to Miss Della Tuck of Cottonwood, Texas. Their home was blessed with three children, one preceded him in death. Those living are Wallace, age 9, and Anna Lou, aged 4. His brothers John and Charlie were present at his funeral, which was conducted at Wheatland by the Rev. Slade. His brother Raymond was not present. The entire community are in sympathy with the sorrowing wife and orphans.

Those who were absent last week on account of sickness were: Marie, Hanley and Virginia Miller, Jake Barnes, Buster Greer and James Mayfield.

The declamation contest was held at Dawn school house last Tuesday night. Many were present.

Those taking part in the contest were:

Junior Girls: Lovie Mayfield, Ruby Harris, Lois Smith, Anna Marie Straub, Margaret Bengue, Leona Frye and Jewel Harris.

Vera Harris was the only one in Senior declamation.

Margaret Bengue won first in Junior contest; Lois Smith second, and Leona Frye third.

Brother Lindlay held services at the school house Friday, Saturday and Sunday of last week. He preached some very good sermons, and the singing was good.

Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Smith and family moved into the Dawn Hotel Monday.

Mrs. Julia Samuelson and daughters, Misses Gusta and Lois, were guests in the Glenn Greer home Thursday night.

Mrs. S. F. Bengue called on Mrs. H. H. Miller Thursday afternoon.

Carl Herr from Munster, Texas, is visiting in the home of his brothers this week.

R. O. Dunkle, county agent, made another visit to the Dawn school Wednesday. He gave the children an interesting talk. Many of the pupils of Dawn school belong to the club which he organized here some time ago. Officers of the club were elected Tuesday: Margaret Bengue, president; Gladys Greer, vice-president, and Effie Christian, secretary.

Another "Bull" Durham advertisement by Will Rogers, Zigfield Folger and screen star, and leading American humorist. More coming. Watch for them.

Congress No. 1

I went to Washington the other day. I visited "The House of Representatives," they were in session. What I mean by being in session, the tax bill was up for debate and they were arguing on "Better Golf courses for the medium salaried man." I suppose if the World Court bill had been up, they would have been talking on "Shall America park oblong or parallel."

Well, then I went over to the Senate. They had adjourned, so I felt that America was not having such a bad day at that. We were only 50 percent inefficient THAT DAY.

You know we all joke and kid about Congress, but we can't improve on them. No matter who we elect, he is just as bad as the one he replaced. So with all their faults we love 'em. They are as good as the people who vote to put them there, and they are 10 times better than the ones who don't vote at all. They are like "Bull" Durham, they are not perfect, but they are the best in their line.

To Those Who Judge Quality by Price

The quality of Ford cars cannot be judged by the prices at which they are sold—because Ford prices are made possible by conditions that are absolutely unique in the automotive industry.

From mine to market the Ford car is the work of a single organization. The Company owns and operates the mines and forests that furnish the raw materials for its products. This material is carried over Ford transportation routes, fabricated in Ford mills, manufactured in Ford plants—and the finished product is sold to the public through Ford dealers.

The following statement, previously made in an advertising message, is repeated because of its significance to the public:

"If any other manufacturer endeavored to produce a car similar to the Ford, according to the high standards of quality in material and workmanship used by the Ford Motor Company and with the same tried and proved design, it would be impossible to offer it at any-thing like Ford prices. And it is well to note that even with less costly design they have not met Ford prices."

MUSIC STUDY CLUB ENTERTAINED BY MRS. WILKINSON
Mrs. D. H. Wilkinson of Amarillo entertained the members of the Hereford Music Study Club who were attending the music festival, with a luncheon on Thursday evening, April 8, with a few Amarillo friends included.
Mrs. Wilkinson's luncheon for the Hereford delegation during the Festival is annual, and was attended this year by Mesdames W. R. Steckman, H. L. Broadwell, G. A. F. Parker, C. C. Ferguson, A. O. Thompson, Homer Fox, A. C. Thompson, H. H. Hawkins, J. W. Hicks and daughter Miss Veda Hicks, Mrs. Barnard Hicks and Miss Mattie Swisher of Hereford, and Mesdames Ben Stone, Roscoe Nealey, Will O'Brian and Turner of Amarillo.

SHOWER HONORING RECENT BRIDE
Miss Loreta Murphy and Miss Mildred McLeroy, assisted by Mesdames A. Witherspoon, Dr. Bowe, George McMahon and S. Casebolt, gave a miscellaneous shower Monday afternoon at the home of the former, honoring Mrs. Ray C. Casebolt, a recent bride.
Pink and white streamers of crepe paper and white wedding bells were used most effectively in the decorations. The drawn shades shut out the dark gloomy weather, which prevailed throughout the day, while the softly shaded lights gave a most pleasing effect to the entertaining rooms.
After the guests had enjoyed a well rendered and appropriate program of various numbers, the honoree was seated in a large chair, which was beautifully decorated with white and pink bows, a knock was heard at the door and upon being opened, the bride's most intimate chums, the Misses Murphy and McLeroy, were disclosed, bearing between them, a lovely white basket, attractively trimmed with pink bows, filled to overflowing with many packages, which Miss Murphy in a few well chosen words presented to the honoree. Upon exploring the mysterious depths of this wonderful basket, Mrs. Casebolt found a collection of beautiful and useful gifts, tokens of love and appreciation from her many friends.

After the gifts had been passed among the admiring guests, the hostesses served delicious punch and wafers. About thirty guests were present.

THE STATE OF TEXAS
To the Sheriff or any Constable of Deaf Smith County, Texas, Greetings:

You are hereby commanded to summon B. M. Rea, Mary-L. Waller Rea, and E. L. Sharp, if living and the unknown heirs of them or either of them if deceased, and the legal representatives of each and all of the persons above named and the legal representatives of said unknown heirs of said persons, by making publication of this citation once in each week for four consecutive weeks previous to the return day hereof in some newspaper published in your county, if there be a newspaper published in your county, but if not, then in the nearest county where a newspaper is published, to appear at the next term of the District Court of Deaf Smith County to be holden at the courthouse thereof in Hereford, Texas, on the third day of May, A. D. 1926, the same being the first Monday in May, 1926, then and there to answer a petition filed in a suit numbered on the docket of said Court No. 1538, wherein A. B. Robertson is plaintiff, and B. M. Rea, Mary L. Waller Rea, and E. L. Sharp, their unknown heirs, their heirs or legal representatives, are defendants.

The nature of the plaintiff's demand is as follows: Plaintiff alleges that he is the owner of the legal title to the following described property situated in Deaf Smith county, Texas, to-wit:

Section No. Twenty-six (26), in Block No. Three (3), original grantee, A. B. & M. and containing 640 acres more or less.

Plaintiff claims title by regular chain of title from the State of Texas and by adverse and peaceable possession under the three and five year statutes of limitation, and that defendants and each of them are claiming some interest in and to said lands, the nature of which is unknown to plaintiff, said interest so asserted being an apparent but not a real interest. Plaintiff alleges that all of said claims are invalid and should be removed as a cloud upon the plaintiff's title; suit being in trespass to try title as well as for removing cloud from title and for recovery of said land.

Herein fall not, but have you before said Court on the first day of the next term thereof this writ with your return thereon showing how you have executed the same.

The Sunday School Lesson

(By Jas. T. Ross, Pastor of First Presbyterian Church)

Sunday, April 18.

Subject: "The Beginning of Sin."

Scripture Reading: Genesis 3:1-24.

Golden Text: "For as in Adam all die, even so in Christ shall all be made alive."

1 Corinthians 15:22.

The immeasurable worth of the Bible to humanity consists in the candor with which it faces all the facts of life. It does not even seek to conceal the fact that the Almighty and all-wise God in the creation of a marvelously perfect and good world, nevertheless, left in it the possibilities of a flaw. It does not try to justify the imperfections in the masterpiece of the divine creation. On the other hand, it does show how that even these imperfections can be overcome by the wisdom and goodness of the Creator, and just how powerless is man to defeat ultimately the noble purposes of God in his world.

Sin is Fact

The most unpleasant of those facts with which the Bible deals is that of sin, and it is with the accustomed candor that it faces that fact. Sin had its beginnings and it is present today in the world as the blot upon the white page of creation. Why did God not make man incapable of sin? Answer: He could not have made man other than he is without divesting him of the divine image and of the exalted privilege of making a life. Whereas, the so-called creations of man are called perfect when they respond with necessary uniformity to the touch of their maker, the divine Creator derives his greatest glory and perfection from that creation called man which may choose its response to the touch of its maker. Man is more than a mechanism subjected to invariable responses; he is the possessor of a will which makes him capable of and responsible for the responses which he makes. In his nature then he has the possibility for either holiness or sin, and the presence of sin in the world witnesses his use of the freedom of will as truly as would the presence of holiness. Even sin is a testimonial to the spiritual nature in man.

Sin is an Abuse of Good Things

Out of the same materials are created by the choice of man either a holy or sinful character. The pleasant garden of Eden contained within it the materials which man might use for a noble character, or which he might abuse to his ruin. We speak of things secular and divine and foolishly try to draw the line between the two. That line is a figment of human imagination. The divinity and secularity of things exists in the human will, the divinity consisting of a proper use of, and the secularity, of abuse of those things. If man sees good and evil in God's material creation, he sees what God in his great wisdom could not see for, "God saw that it was good." The garden of Eden surrounds today every noble soul; the accursed ground with its thistles and prostrated serpents surround those who are lacking that nobility of soul. Sin is an abuse of good things, it is a transgression of the law of goodness. It is, after all a misappropriation of God's good and beautiful world, hence a specie of dishonesty towards God.

Did the Serpent Really Tempt Man?

There are those who will answer that the serpent was merely a figure representing Satan. The writer of this article asks the privilege of differing from those who hold to that view. The serpent undoubtedly was representative in its character but not in a figurative sense; it represented Satan but in a more vital sense than as a figure, and to the sacred writer, this representation was so immediate that the serpent is mentioned and Satan is not. I believe that a close scrutiny of the devil doctrine of the later period will show that the writer of Genesis is far more intelligent in his presentation of the doctrine of temptation than we, who with a waving of the hand ascribe it all to the devil. Now, when all allowances have been made for the primitive thinking of the world in which the writer of Genesis lived, we, nevertheless, are faced with the fact of the reasonableness of this account of temptation.

We are prompted in our actions by suggestion and the most powerful suggestions are those that come from our habitual associations. Given, such a primitive life as that pictured in this passage in Genesis, where man lives in the closest association with the animal life about him and where the more complex notions of our civilization are absent, it is absolutely reasonable that he should receive suggestions to action from the beasts of the field, and that those suggestions should harmonize with the characteristics of those beasts. It is, therefore, a very reasonable account that begins with the statement, "Now the serpent was more subtle than any beast of the field which Jehovah had made", and proceeds to tell us that it suggested to the woman a deed seemingly as subtle in its nature as that of the serpent. If we were able to resolve the suggestions that prompt us to action into their simplest elements we should be surprised to discover that we are being controlled by very insignificant things. A subtle act is prompted by a subtle suggestion. If a serpent can come upon its prey by stealth, if it can hide itself from the pursuer, if it can make good its escape, why cannot a human being do the same?

How valuable is this lesson of Genesis to us! We would far better watch and guard ourselves from the world about us than to hang a horse shoe over our doors for good luck, or sprinkle holy water upon ourselves to keep a horny-headed and fork-tail devil from getting us. To us of this day of the world, the little suggestions of our associations are fraught with far more peril to our spiritual lives than an invisible devil's pitch fork.

Sin Makes Man Afraid of God.

Through all of humanity's history the story of hiding from God is repeated. When God walked through the Garden, sinful man tried to hide. Why cannot a bad man look clearly into the eyes of his fellows? Because the look into the eye is so revealing of his character? Why do the hi-jackers prefer the night for their pilfering and why hide their faces? Because theirs is a traffic of sin. Why the wide prevalence of hypocrisy, why the pious psalm singing on Sunday of some folk, why the exclusive social circle, why the promiscuous scattering of titles, why do some people think that their Pastor is such simpleton that their flimsy little lies are not apparent to him when they seek to excuse themselves from failure to do their duty? Poor dupes! Poor self-deceivers! They may not go quite so scantily dressed as this first pair in Eden or they may be able to afford something better than a flimsy suit and they may have heard someone say that a sinner can not hide from God among the trees, but they are, nevertheless, foolish enough to believe they can hide from God. They are afraid of God and well may they be. For God will find and punish the sinner.

Sin and Civilization.

On the wings of progress sin came in this chapter also indicts the dawn into the world. The indictment of sinning civilization of the world. The desire to peer a little further into the secrets of God's province brought sin. The attempt to satisfy the thirst for unbounded knowledge, even for knowledge of good and evil brought sin. Woman's initiative caused man to disobey God. The dawn of shame and the desire for clothing arose from sin, so our writer tells us. Sin and civilization march hand-in-hand.

It is true? The superficial thinker will answer at once, why yes, it's true. But how is it true? Let us not lose the message of this story. Is the desire for knowledge wrong? If so, why did Jesus say, "Ye shall know the truth and the truth shall make you free"? Is a woman's desire for action and recognition wrong? If so, can you answer the fact that Jesus blessed the deed of the woman who anointed his feet and provided for the publication of that fact co-extensively with his Gospel? Is the desire for clothing, for sufficient clothing, wrong? If so, why did Jesus tolerate and use it and why was Paul careful even that women should not sit in church with uncovered heads? The fact is, that civilization is right and that God so purposed it that he planted the insatiable thirst for progress in man when he made him. But civilization is wrong and perilous when that civilization is interwoven with sin. The Bible begins its story with a rural scene; it ends with a divine metropolis, with the highest order of urban life, an urban life that is absolutely harmless and satisfying. Civilization is not opposed to the divine purpose; civilization built on wrong is.

Sin and Redemption.

Equally significant with the other lessons of this story is that the provision for redemption. The serpent, the instrument of sin in this case, shall by his presence in the world continue to cause suffering to man, just as the instruments of sin shall ever do. But man by virtue of his divine endowments shall finally crush the head of that instrument as all others. God shall not be defeated, although the strife with sin shall go on until the end. If in Adam, the serpent shall bruise the heel, in Christ, the serpent's head shall be bruised. If in Adam, humanity shall be wounded and its progress toward holiness of character impeded; in Christ, shall be found that one who shall strike the paralyzing blow to sin that shall end its power to hurt. "As in Adam all die, even so in Christ shall all be made alive." Moreover, when the fact of sin dawned upon the world, God not only provided a means for redemption from it, but also revealed that redemptive fact. Thus, there never was a moment in this world's life when human hope had to be eclipsed by the dismal despair of sin. The consciousness of divine love has been made co-extensive with the consciousness of sin.
