Entries Close on July 1, Home and Garden Contest

Entries in the Better Homes and Gardens contest will close on July 1, is the latest report from the central committee. Large interest all over the city has been manifested, the committee will bear much fruit for a prettier and cleaner and more attractive Hereford.

Twenty-five contestants are reported so far from the East Side, although the details are very incomplete. Of this number nineteen are from the district of which Mrs. J. W. Hicks is chairman. The central committee is very elated over the splendid work being done by Mrs. Hicks. Only three of the ten sub-chairmen have so far reported, and only two finally. The date for the first judging is announced as July 30-31.

Golfers Meeting Called For Friday, July 9th

Shifts and changes in the holders of silver buckles, in the Hereford Golf Club, have been so numerous the past two weeks that it has been impossible to report them accurately. The rivalry for these buckles and what they represent has been very keen, and many a hard fought battle of the links has resulted. The gold buckle men are taking it easy just now, while the candidates for the silver ones find their places. In July it is planned to make the "topnotchers" look to their laurels, however.

The executive committee of the golf club has set Friday night, July 9, as the date for the semi-annual meeting. Manager Oberthier of the Texas Utilities Co., has kindly offered the use of his well lighted building for this purpose. At this meeting new members will be considered and dues for the last six months of the year collected. The club is very active and the outlook is for a largely increased membership the last half and some real golf matches.

At present the buckles are held as follows: Gold—Frank Marrs, Brack Williams, J. A. Clark, E. D. Fox, Homer Fox, J. A. Pitman, J. R. Roden and Fred Patton. Silver—Harry Rice, Luther Hough, Carl Cockrell, J. M. Posey, H. R. Seed, John Cummins, S. P. Rosson, C. C. Acker.

Mrs. W. B. Parmer Dies After Lingered Illness

In the death of Mrs. W. B. Parmer which occurred at the residence Wednesday morning, June 30, Hereford has lost a beloved member of the community, a good Christian woman, and an active worker in social and civic affairs.

Mrs. Parmer was fifty-two years of age. Her death followed many weeks of illness, during the course of which she was taken to a Temple sanitarium for treatment. She was brought home about three weeks ago. Funeral services were held at the Methodist church Thursday afternoon, July 1, at 4:00 o'clock, conducted by Rev. M. M. Beavers of Canyon, assisted by the Rev. J. O. Haymes. The continuous visitation of sorrowing friends throughout Wednesday and Thursday, and the beautiful floral offerings, attests the esteem in which Mrs. Parmer was held.

She is survived by her husband and four children, Buford and Dudley, Miss Nell, and Mrs. S. H. Condon of Clarendon, Texas. All were present, as was Stewart H. Condon, Dean of Clarendon College.

Burial services were conducted at the Hereford cemetery following the sermons at the church.

Farmers Encampment Dates Given As August 26-27

Definite plans for the first Farmer's Encampment ever held in Deaf Smith county have been made. This encampment is to be held on a site in Sulphur Park on August 26 and 27. It is planned to make this a social affair as well as educational. The plans are to have an interesting program in the afternoon, sing camp songs and play games in the evening.

Everybody should plan to make it an outing and come prepared to spend the night and take advantage of every opportunity that is offered in the evening programs.

John B. Edmonds and John Egan, representatives of A. & M. College, have been in Hereford and made final arrangements for the educational part of the program. Specialists from A. & M. College, representing several different departments, will be on the program during the two days.

Big Team Hitching Demonstration Was Given

J. J. Peak of Havre, Mont., and Richard Lefebvre of Chicago, Ill., representing the American Horse Association, gave a big team hitching demonstration on the vacant lot opposite Jones & McLean's store last Monday afternoon. County Agent R. O. Dunkle officiated as master of ceremonies. Mr. Peak is a practical farmer who has had long experience with big team handling in the northwest, while Mr. Lefebvre represents the Horse Association. The two are putting on the demonstration under the auspices of the A. & M. College, with the Panhandle direction in the hands of District Agent Eaton of Lubbock. It is free and given for the benefit of the farmers and financed by the Association.

The talking hitch was used and explained to a good crowd of interested farmers and business men. County Agent Benton of Potter County and ex-Mayor Lon D. Marrs of Amarillo were interested spectators. The hitch is new to most people here, but simple when understood. The two men appeared before the Chamber of Commerce luncheon Monday and explained their mission.

Manager Pickett of the Star theatre will offer Wednesday night, July 7, a picture that comes heralded as the best of the year. It is "The Blind Goddess," with Jack Holt, Ernest Torrence and Louise Dresser in the principal roles. The advance notices indicate an unusually strong offering and Mr. Pickett is confident his patrons will receive a treat.

Mrs. J. R. Sharp, wife of the Rev. Sharp of Dalhart, underwent an operation at the Deaf Smith County Hospital about noon Thursday. Mrs. Sharp has been in the hospital for some time in preparation for the ordeal. The operation was still in progress at the time of going to press and results could not be ascertained.

Summerfield Has Stern Designs on the Fair Ribbons

Communities who expect to have the blue ribbon booth at the Deaf Smith County Fair September 16, 17, and 18, will have to hustle if they beat Summerfield for this honor. That community recently organized a live club, and has already started work on plans for an attractive community booth which will be hard to beat.

The club is composed of enthusiastic citizens in Castro and Deaf Smith counties. A number of them have had past experience in assembling products and fair exhibits. A meeting was held last Friday afternoon, and the ladies decided to get uniform quart jars for their canned fruits and vegetables. The meeting was held at the Louie Huckert home, with some 40 club-members present. Most of the meeting was devoted to fair exhibits.

County Agent R. O. Dunkle announced the score card for the community agricultural booths. Mrs. Bob Wilson, superintendent of the Women's department, explained exhibit rules in her department, and urged the people of that community to work together if they wished to accomplish success. T. D. Moss, secretary of the Hereford Commercial Club, announced prizes to be offered at the Deaf Smith county fair. Refreshments, consisting of ice cream and cake were served by the ladies of the community.

Good Crowd Turned Out at Weekly Luncheon Monday

A full table of diners faced vice president G. A. F. Parker of the Chamber of Commerce at the weekly luncheon held at the Stockman's Cafe, last Monday. Mr. Black, president, is away on his vacation.

Mr. Parker opened the proceedings with mention of the unfortunate deaths of Tom Hastings of Bovina and Marvin McCullough and the diners rose to their feet in respect to the memory of these two well known Panhandle citizens. Rev. Haymes and Rev. Hill were appointed to prepare a resolution on the death of Mr. McCullough, which is given below.

Superintendent Dillehay of the Jubilee Schools reported that the Hereford high school is now fully affiliated with any college in the state in all departments, the statement being received with applause. A more detailed explanation of this recognition is shown elsewhere in this paper.

A. O. Thompson discussed the proposal to hold weekly luncheons at the schoolhouses in the rural sections. He endorsed the idea but said the business men would have to take hold to make it a success. J. A. Pitman suggested that it would be better to defer the effort until about August 1, owing to the fact that everybody, especially the farmers, will be very busy with the wheat harvest until that time. It was finally left to the committee in charge to work out definite plans.

Mr. Parker said the Hotel committee had intended to make a report but the chairman, W. E. Dameron, was not present. Geo. L. Muse of the committee, said something should be done at once. The hotel committee was asked to make a report next Monday.

Representatives of the American Horse Association appeared before the business men and explained their demonstration, scheduled for Monday afternoon. All were invited to attend.

County Agent Dunkle stated that the work of preparing for the competition in the Community Booths at the County Fair was progressing nicely.

Brunk's Comedians Please Large Crowds This Week

Brunk's Comedian's opened a week's engagement here last Monday in their own tent opposite The Brand office, and have played to capacity crowds each night. They have a good band and orchestra and the music has been a feature of the show each day.

Friday night it is announced that a percentage of the receipts will be donated for the benefit of the Hereford band. The play will be "Meet the Wife." A Merchants Matinee will be given Saturday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock, presenting "One Girl in a Thousand," and the engagement will end Saturday night with "Just Married." The show has been popular and all the plays seem to have been well liked.

Fred Brunk, in charge of the show, was raised in Hereford, and has been kept busy since his arrival here shaking hands with old friends and acquaintances.

High School Has Full Credits to All Institutions

Hereford high school now has affiliation with State University and other institutions of higher learning in all the 26 subjects that are being offered, according to announcements made recently by Supt. C. H. Dillehay. This is the first time in history that the school has had affiliation in every subject that is being taught in the school.

Hereford High School now has a total of 26 units of affiliation. Nine and one-half units have been granted in the past three years and four or five have been given up because of changes in the course of study. Next year students will have a wide range to select from and will get full recognition in any they might choose.

The local high school during the past year secured affiliation in the following subjects: English, one; Vocational Agriculture, one and one-half; Commercial Law, one-half; and Commercial Geography, one-half. Supt. Dillehay says that plans are being made to add Typewriting and shorthand to the commercial department, which will give the high school a well-balanced program.

OLD MAN PROSPERITY LURKS JUST AROUND THE CORNER; SOUND CONDITIONS PREVAIL

High Line Power Was Cut in Here Tuesday, June 27

Tuesday afternoon marked an epoch in the electrical history of Hereford. For on that date the Texas Utilities Company completed their new high line from Canyon to Hereford, the old plant of the Hereford Power & Light Company that had served the city so efficiently for so many years was silenced, and the wires in the city throbbled for the first time with the power generated over thirty miles away.

For weeks the Texas Utilities Company have had a picked crew of 24 men at work on this high line, a marvel in its permanent materials, in its finished construction, in its completeness. The poles are heavy, hard, sound, coated in preservative, set-in-the-ground-to-stay. The wires are of expensive aluminum. At short intervals the wires are switched so as to prevent diffusion of the current and interference with the telephone and Western Union wires. One who drives along it, the line presents the appearance of passing through a country where somebody lives—where there must be prosperity and activity.

The power station established at the old Power House is worth the inspection of anyone interested in electrical equipment. The huge transformers are located in a steel-wire enclosure just back of the old plant. The gate is locked for safety's sake. Here the two power units are interlocked, a switch enabling Manager Oberthier to utilize the old plant whenever desired.

And thereby hangs another story. Many people in Hereford have deplored the changes to be brought about by the high line, feeling that it meant the dismantling of the local plant, the possibility of impaired local service, the loss of local enterprise. There appears to have been considerable sentiment mixed up with these uncertainties, also.

As a matter of fact, Hereford has the best reserve power in her history at present, and will not lose the old plant at all. Instead, the Texas Utilities Company is preparing to add to the old plant, to modernize it in many ways, to keep it spick and span at all times, and to be ready for instant service if needed. Although not now in use, steam is kept up in the plant constantly, day and night, and the company is keeping two engineers on the job at all hours, just as though the plant were actually in daily use.

F. H. Oberthier, Jr., local manager, explains this by stating that his company is keeping faith with Hereford and will take no chance whatsoever that the local service can be impaired in the slightest way. For a long time the old plant has been kept keyed up to its utmost capacity to handle the local business. There have been times of late when the ice plant had to be shut down during the heavy run hours of the day. With the coming of the high line all this is a silent history. There is ample power, and if more is needed the old plant is available.

The work crew has turned loose a lot of money here for the past three weeks. They have now been switched onto improvement work in the local lines and connections. New, heavy wires are being carried up the principal alleys and modern installations put in. Special line service has been supplied the elevators and other industrial concerns. The entire equipment inside the city is being brought up to date in every way.

As soon as this work is completed the crew will continue its high line work into Clovis, where an immense power plant is now under construction. When the Clovis line and plant is completed, Hereford will be between two powerful stations, and if either should have trouble at any time the other is amply able to care for local needs. And on top of all this the old plant is kept with steam up, ready if needed.

"Our company is doing this job right," said Mr. Oberthier Wednesday. "My instructions are to see that service is rendered, without regard to cost, and to leave no stone unturned to keep the property up to the very highest possible standard at all times. The Texas Utilities Company has spent a vast sum of money here and is spending it in a permanent installation. Laying aside my personal connection with the company, and from the standpoint of a citizen only, it is my opinion that the Texas Utilities Company is doing a grand developing work for the Panhandle, and its event here marks the turning point from the pioneer to the sure and certain stage of development."

Mr. Oberthier extends a cordial invitation to any interested citizen to visit the uptown office and Ice Plant, as well as the old power plant, and see for themselves just what the Texas Utilities Company is doing in Hereford.

Not since the old prosperous days of 1908 has Hereford and the territory surrounding it carried such an air of coming prosperity, when everything looked so promising, when the people were all so confident.

And the difference between 1908 and 1926 lies in the fact that eighteen years ago the prosperity was founded on a boom, with artificially inflated values and hopes, while in 1926 the situation is vastly different. There is no boom about it all now. It is the steady and natural development of a healthy growth, founded on real values and real future prospects. It looks like the Plains country has at last come into its own and that the crest of the hard uphill climb the pioneers here have been fighting so long, has almost been reached.

There is a simply magnificent wheat crop in this country, just beginning to come in. The big rush is ahead in the weeks to come. Even now the elevator men and buyers are open all night to receive the golden flood. A high average yield for the whole territory is being reported so far. With favorable weather conditions Hereford bids fair to receive the biggest wheat crop in her history.

A trip around the town of Hereford itself is an eye-opener just now. Hardly a block but has its new residence, or its additions, or its new roofs, or its crew of carpenters or painters—all busy. One man who was moving Wednesday tried in vain to secure a dray or truck to haul his effects. The draymen and truckers are all days behind with their work.

And out in the country the march of improvement is almost as fast and steady. Thousands of acres are going under the plow, and country homes are springing up everywhere. With forty blocks of additional paving, with several new bridges just completed or under construction, and with new enterprises of all kinds being planned the picture is completed.

Best of all there is the finest feeling of confidence and trust in the future among all classes of people that has ever prevailed here. And after all that is what makes real prosperity.

Tom Hastings of Bovina Killed in Auto Wreck

Tom Hastings, aged 39, brother of Henry Hastings of Hereford was killed in an auto crash on the curve of the South West Trail at the railroad crossing near Bovina early Monday morning. According to news advices Hastings was driving north, accompanied by his brother-in-law, H. T. Reynolds, when his car collided with one driven by Guy Foster of Clovis, driving east. Hastings' car was knocked off the road and turned over. Foster, with aid of others, turned over the car but Mr. Hastings' neck had been broken and he could not be revived. Foster was held by officials for a time until an investigation could be made. He stated that he did not see Hastings' car until too late to stop. Reynolds said he did not see the approaching car until the accident occurred.

Mr. Hastings had been a resident of the Bovina community for twenty years, and was one of the best known residents of this part of the country. He leaves his wife and four children.

Canyon to Play Ball on Saturday Sunday, Monday

The Hereford baseball team went to Clovis last Sunday and administered a sound drubbing to the New Mexico aggregation. Jewell Tate returned to the pitcher's box and hurled an excellent brand of baseball, holding the opposition safe at all times. The boys all showed a bang-up class of teamwork, refused to become discouraged on errors, and won out by staying in there and hitting the ball. More games are being arranged for the remainder of the summer months, and the locals are promised the best baseball from here out that they have yet witnessed.

Death of C. M. McCullough Greatly Deplored

C. Marvin McCullough aged 47, president of the American State Bank of Amarillo, died suddenly last Sunday of heart disease, at his residence. He was buried Tuesday afternoon.

This newspaper is in receipt of a letter from a prominent advertising expert of El Paso and the following is a paragraph that we think enough to reproduce for our readers: "It is unusual for me to comment on the appearance of newspapers coming to my desk, but there is something about yours that makes me want to express myself. It appeals to me. I never dreamed a town the size of yours could make possible such a paper. You must have a very live bunch there." A compliment of that sort coming from an expert is worth while and he will never fully appreciate Clarendon until he comes here and sees it with his own eyes.—Clarendon News.

For the love Mike, Sam—you, of all people! The bird that wrote that letter had evidently just been to chautauqua and enjoyed "Applesauce." Yeh, we had one identically worded, Sam. And Wellington did, too. And we suspect that if a poll were taken of all the Panhandle papers we would find every single one of the boys had the same letter.
For Pete's sake, Sam—the drinks are on you!

Most all of Big Square attended the flag celebration on June 19, and some of our community were lucky enough to win. The George Kellar horse, "Bill" won in the mile race over Whistler, owned and ridden by Tom Saunders, and our "Browne," owned and ridden by Beeman Howard, 13-year-old son of George Kellar rode the winning horse. Ham Lambert of Big Square and Jim Vaughn of Plainview tied for first money in the calf roping contest, Val Mathis being second. M. G. Kellar and Harve Kellar also entered this contest. Jay Saunders won first in the wild mule riding contest.

We have not had Sunday school or Endeavor for some weeks past because of whooping cough. However, most all of the children are getting well and we hope to be meeting again soon.

Mr. and Mrs. Beeman Howard entertained with a dance on Saturday night, June 19.

Mr. and Mrs. Vera Lust and son made a business trip to Hereford last Thursday.

We are having callers most every day now. They all leave a small printed card requesting our vote and influence. Oh, well, July is almost here.

The Big Square school board has been unusually busy these last few weeks receiving applications for the school.

What & When to do it

By FLO

Dear Miss Flo:—When dining with friends, should the napkin be folded at the conclusion of the meal? Where should it be placed. Should the napkin be completely unfolded? May it be moistened to remove a spot from the clothing? Thank you. H. J.

The napkin should not be folded again, unless one expects to be a guest for the next meal. It should be placed on the right of the plate when rising from the table. The napkin should never be completely unfolded. It must never be moistened for any purpose.

Dear Miss Flo:—If one is unfortunate in breaking a dish or some other article when visiting friends, is it correct to offer to pay for it, or replace it? If it happens at dinner and other guests are present, what should one do?

If the article broken is valuable, it should be replaced by all means. It is more graceful than offering to pay for it, as such an offer is likely to embarrass both the hostess and guest. A sincere note of regret should accompany it. When such accidents happen at the table the guest merely says: "I am so sorry"—or "How careless of me." After dinner more profuse apologies may be offered the hostess in private. The chief rule at dinner being that nothing shall be allowed to disturb one's serenity.

Dear Miss Flo:—When a lady is dining alone in a restaurant, should the waiter remove the covers from dishes that are placed before her? (2) When dining with a gentleman, should he, or the waiter, attend to this. E. D.

When the lady is dining alone, the waiter should remove the covers from the dishes. When dining with a gentleman, it is his duty to attend to it, serving the lady.

Dear Miss Flo:—When one is a frequent guest in an intimate friend's home, is it considered good form to greet the servants? What should one say? W. S.

It is very rude to not speak to servants where one is a frequent visitor. The guest might say, "How do you do, Laura," or, "How are you?"

Word has been received in Clovis that the Santa Fe will commence soon on the extensive improvements to be made in the roundhouse here. The improvements are part of the expansion program of the Santa Fe to take care of the increased transcontinental business as well as the business emanating from this section. The big expenditure at the roundhouse is just another evidence that the future of Clovis is assured. The large addition to the Harvey House is nearing completion, making this one of the most attractive hotels the company has in this section.—Clovis News.

The Santa Fe is also preparing to double track its line between Canyon and Panhandle, it is rumored. Oil, improvement in cattle conditions, wheat, hogs, dairying, poultry, settlement, all contribute to this expansion.—Come to the Panhandle!

FARMERS ARE TIRED "MONEY ENOUGH"—MELLON DANCING IN CHURCH GERTRUDE TRIES AGAIN

Dr. Jaeger, government volcano expert, brings from Hawaii an interesting device. Stored in basement or cellar, this household seismograph will warn the family of any coming earthquake sufficiently in advance. That interests New York, told that a big earthquake fault runs from the statue of Liberty up the Hudson River. But many little earthquake rumbles mean nothing and after a few warnings families will become as indifferent to earthquake warnings as workmen do to bars of dynamite.

There is an automobile for every six people in the United States, about half as many as there ought to be. Before long, in hundreds of thousands of families, there will be a separate car for each person past sixteen years of age. Each bird needs its own wings.

The Reverend Tertius Van Dyke, son of the extremely able Dr. Henry Van Dyke, quits his fashionable New York church for a small town pulpit. "The people of New York want their religion with a jazz tempo," he says, and he doesn't intend to shoot off fireworks or wear a red vest, to save mens souls.

Mr. Van Dyke's complaint is just. When you have bare-footed young ladies dancing in the church aisles to "express religion" you push competition far. But pulpits sensationalism is not new. It was old when in Brooklyn DeWitt Talmage raced up and down his long platform, or Henry Ward Beecher sold a good looking mulatto slave girl at public auction in his pulpit.

Farmers ask a fair profit on money, labor and life invested in their farms, and are told "Oh, that is ruled by the laws of supply and demand. We cannot do anything about THAT."

When railroads tell the Republican government they want at least seven per cent on fifteen to twenty billions of securities, largely pure water, no supply and demand platitudes are handed out.

The Interstate Commerce Commission most politely raises freight and passenger rates, and the public pays. The farmers are tired of that.

If you wonder WHY the farmers are tired, look at today's Wall Street news:

No. 1: "Class 1 railroads gain 14.7 per cent in earnings."
No. 2: "Corn is worth about fifty-five cents a bushel on the farm where it grows."

Bankers wondered how much Secretary Mellon would borrow to meet the government's spring payments. Optimists thought he might get along with two hundred millions. Conservatives said at least three hundred millions.

Mr. Mellon amazes high finance by borrowing no money. Uncle Sam can finance himself, thanks to Mr. Mellon's management.

The public pay him $12,500 a year, and this year he will clear eight hundred millions more of public debts.

Gertrude Ederle, extraordinary young American swimmer, will try the English channel once more, and says, "Last year's experience will help me." It should help her not to eat another heavy meal before she enters the water. A thoroughbred horse eats nothing on the morning of the race. Men know how to handle horses, but don't know how to handle themselves. Millions of young Americans eat heartily—and immediately dance the Charleston violently, adding a heavy percentage to the American dyspepsia record. Tell that to your children.

Our young ladies are becoming sophisticated, almost cold. A young gentleman in love with Miss Clara Bow, who did not care much for him, slashed his wrists with a razor. Her comment was, "Gentlemen usually prefer guns, when they commit suicide for love."

At a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Guaranty State Bank, held Monday night, the contract for the erection of a building on Main street in Farwell, was awarded to the Bowman Construction Company of Littlefield.

It is understood that work will begin tomorrow, and that it will be completed in forty days.

The contract calls for the construction of the building that was formerly occupied by the bank and the rear room, which was occupied by the Farwell postoffice.

A considerable portion of the walls and all of the foundation of the old building, which was burned, will be used in the new structure. It was stated by F. U. McCutcheon, vice president of the bank—State Line Tribune.

Henry Wilkinson, Johnathan Pitman, D. F. Ashbrook and other local men are owners of the Guaranty State Bank of Farwell.

July 4th falls on Sunday this year. It is presumed that Monday the fifth will be generally celebrated over the country. A petition may be circulated to close the stores in Hereford on that date.

Attorney L. C. Penry last week moved into the house formerly occupied by J. E. Beyer. The latter has moved to his newly completed residence.

Valuable Shade Tree, For Texas Becomes Available

By A. D. JACKSON,
Texas Agricultural Experiment Station

The Chinese elm at present gives promise of being one of the best trees for shade and windbreak planting in West Texas, according to R. E. Karper, assistant director of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station. This is a new tree first introduced a few years ago from China by the office of seed and plant introduction and which has been tested out for the past seven years by the Experiment Station at Lubbock. Recognizing the merits of this tree and its adaptability to the western part of the State, the Station has during the past five years propagated and distributed some 10,000 trees of this variety in widely scattered areas.

Only favorable reports have been made on the performance of this elm from the various places it has been tried throughout the state.

The people are fast becoming informed as to the desirability of this elm and there is a big demand for it. The supply within the State up to this time has been largely propagated by the Experiment Station for trial and distribution. The Chinese elm is propagated readily from fresh seed and in the absence of a supply of seed fair success has occasionally been secured from root and hardwood cuttings. Many nurserymen in the State are becoming interested in the possibilities and in the sale of this tree for planting in Texas. A few of the nurserymen now have a limited supply of trees of this variety available and many others are also now planning to propagate it in considerable numbers.

A recent letter to the Experiment Station from the University of Nanking indicates that large shipments of seed of the Chinese elm will soon be received in the United States. The letter states:

"We have orders for about 300 pounds of Chinese elm seed for this spring's delivery and are now collecting the seed at three different places. At least we hope that conditions are sufficiently peaceful where we sent the men so that there will be no difficulty in making the collection and that we will be able to forward the seed to our various people in the U. S. A."

"From what you say I imagine that there will be considerable demand for this for sometime to come and if it continues to do as well as it has done will undoubtedly result in large planting throughout the semi-arid west."

Many of these seed will be planted in the State and it is hoped that an adequate supply of this tree will soon be available. From experience with some four or five importations of seed direct from the University of Nanking, Nanking, China, in the past few years according to Mr. Karper, it has been found that difficulty is encountered in getting good germination. This seems to be mainly due to the fact that the seed ripen in China in May and by the time they reach this country the best time to plant is past and the hot dry months are not favorable for planting tree seeds. In spite of this fact, however, the station has had better success in planting the seed with proper care immediately upon arrival than when the seed were held over for planting until the following spring. These elm seeds do not retain their viability well and when held over until the following April or May, which is the best time for planting most seeds of this kind, the germination is usually very low. The shipments of this seed will arrive from China in June or early July and the best success may be expected by planting immediately upon arrival and giving the seedbeds from one-half to full shade during the germination and young seedling stage.

Fresh seed give a high germination and produce seedlings in abundance, so that once a dependable supply of seed is developed from trees in this country it will be easily propagated. Trees on the Lubbock Station have borne a heavy crop of seed the past two years, but they have mostly been destroyed by late frosts before completely matured. Enough good seed were saved this year to furnish several thousand plants. A more dependable source of seed will likely be further north in the Plains area where the trees are held back from putting on a seed crop in the spring so as to escape the later frosts.

The Chinese elm is a drought resistant tree having an extensive surface root system. It has numerous small leaves, makes a dense shade and is remarkably fast growing and easily transplanted. It is apparently especially valuable for the western part of the state where there are practically no suitable shade trees native and where a dependable tree of these habits is so badly needed for both city and farm planting. Its growth there up to this time indicates that the Chinese elm is a distinct and valuable addition to the meager list of trees thriving in this region and from trial plantings in other sections it also promises to be of considerable importance as a desirable shade tree in other parts of Texas.

2,604 Students Have Registered at T. U.

AUSTIN, Texas, June 28.—A total of 2,604 students registered for the first term of the University of Texas summer school. Of this number 481 registered in the Graduate School as compared with 383 last year. It is expected that 600 individual students will enroll in the Graduate School during both terms of the summer school, according to Dr. Frederick Eby, director of the summer sessions.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Houston and two children and Mrs. Houston's sister, Miss Helen M. Ewing, left Saturday for Long Beach, Calif., where they expect to visit relatives until the middle of August.

Prehistoric Elephant Tusk at University

AUSTIN, Texas, June 28.—Removal of the prehistoric elephant tusk recently discovered eight miles from Austin on a branch of Little Walnut Creek, to the University of Texas has been completed. The tusk is thought to be a mate of that found last fall. Both have been presented to the University Museum Collection by the owner of the farm on which they were found.

When uncovered the tusk proved to be nine and one-half feet long and eight inches in diameter. It curved from the point of attachment to the head, first downward, then upward, ending with the tip pointing back toward the animal's head. Removing the specimen required great care, particularly as it was somewhat decayed, according to Dr. John T. Lonsdale and W. S. Adkins of the Bureau of Economic Geology of the University, who were in charge of the work. The tusk was placed in a plaster of paris cast and brought to the university in two pieces.

With the acquisition of this specimen the Bureau of Economic Geology now possesses two tusks, a shoulder bone, a tooth and a number of smaller bones, all probably from the same animal. Dr. Lonsdale said. From the material at hand it would be possible to at least roughly reconstruct the animal as it existed, he said.

The collections of the Bureau of Economic Geology contain many other specimens of great interest and scientific value. It is unfortunate that no place exists where these collections can be properly housed and exhibited to the public. It is hoped that some time soon a state museum may be established at the University of Texas where these and many other specimens may be shown.

There will be a Republican Primary held in Castro County. There will be a full Republican ticket in the field for every State and County office. Any precinct desiring to hold an election, please let your wants be known to either W. D. Duree or Orville Grant, Dimmitt, Texas.

IN CONFIDENCE By Flo.

Dear Miss Flo: When a woman is married to a professional man; for instance, a judge, doctor, etc., may she use his title on her visiting card? (2) Is it good form for a profes-

IF I WAS A RICH MAN—

you can bet your life I would not be foolin' around selling Oil, Gas, Tires, Tubes, Accessories, etc.

I would probably be driving a Rolls-Royce along the Ocean Side in California or Florida. But as I am as poor as Job's Turkey, and have to Eat, to boot, it's just a downright necessity for me to do some business with you.

And as my appetite is Growing all the time, I simply have to increase my volume.

And I have it figured out that you won't come back if I sell you anything but the BEST. So that's the reason I picked out the MAGNOLIA line to handle.

ANYTHING WRONG WITH THAT REASONING?

Anyway, I'm getting three meals per out of it, and if enough of you patronize me I hope to make it four meals before the summer is over.

Have you contributed yet?— If not—Drive Right In.

al woman to use her title on her social card? Thank you. V. W.

A woman does not share on her cards the honorary titles of her husband. Her visiting card should be engraved solely with her name, address, and day at home. She never uses any other title than Mrs. (2) A professional woman should not use her title on her social card. It may be used on her business card only.

Dear Miss Flo: Is it necessary for a girl to wear mourning for her fiancé? May white stationery be used during the mourning period? Must it have a black border? W. R.

It is not necessary, nor is it very good form, for a girl to wear mourning for her fiancé. It is only done under most exceptional circumstances. White stationery is correct for all occasions; mourning is no exception. It may have a narrow black border, if desired, but a wide border is not in good taste. Grey stationery is permissible after from two to four months.

Dear Miss Flo: Will you please tell me the duties of godparents. Should they be relatives or very intimate friends. Should the request to serve as godfather or godmother be made by letter or in person. If by letter, will you kindly give me a form. Thank you. A. D.

The chief duty of godparents is that they promise to always befriend the child. Other than that, they have little to do beyond lending the grace of the presence to the occasion. They should, of course, if possible at all, be present at the baptism. The godmother carries the infant to the altar and at the proper time hands it to the clergyman. They also present it with a gift of some sort. The request to serve as godparents may be made to a relative or a very dear friend. It should be made in person whenever possible. When it cannot be made in person, the following form may be used:

Dear _____
James and I have both agreed that we would rather have you serve as godmother for James, Jr., than anyone else. We do hope that you will not refuse. With kindest regards from us both, I am

Cordially yours,
If arrangement for the baptism has already been arranged for, details may be given, with a most cordial invitation to be present.

IN APPRECIATION

JUST one year ago I ventured into the Oil, Gas and Garage business in Hereford. Previously I had handled some automobile business, and had bought hogs all over the Panhandle country for several years.

I began operation in this new field with some misgivings. It was new country to me and I stepped cautiously. I was not entirely sure of my ground.

Today after one year's experience, I have shed any misgivings I may have had and am facing the future confidently. I started out at the Abo Filling Station, the South West Trail Garage and with the Brumley-Chevrolet Agency and Wholesale Gas and Oil Business with one motto—A Square Deal to Every Customer. I have tried my best to live up to this motto. Whether I have done so or not I leave to your judgment.

I have not made a lot of money, but have prospered in proportion with my neighbors. I have met keen competition in the Gas and Oil business, especially in the Wholesale Department, but have not been what is termed a "price cutter." The Brumley-Chevrolet Agency has sold many more cars and trucks than was originally allotted us, and could have sold more. The coming year we have more than doubled the allotment of cars and trucks over last year, so confident are we as to the future here.

I have purchased and installed in the South West Trail Garage the most modern garage shop equipment I could find and have put it in charge of the best workmen I could hire. The shop is busy all the time and has justified the cost of its installation. I expect to continue to buy your hogs, as I have done in the past.

All of these things could not have been done without the support and good will of the finest people in the world—the good citizens of this community. I feel that you are due this brief expression of my appreciation. You have been wonderfully kind to me. I am grateful for it and hope to merit, in the personal and business relations we have in the future, a continuance of your confidence and good will.

Here's hoping that the next twelve months will bring to all of us the best year in the history of the Plains country.

ISRAEL ENSLAVED IN EGYPT

Golden text: "Jehovah will not cast off his people."—Psalm 94:1-14.
Scripture lesson, Exodus 1:8-14.

8 Now there arose a new king over Egypt, who knew not Joseph. 9 And he said unto his people, Behold, the people of the children of Israel are more and mightier than we:

10. Come let us deal wisely with them, lest they multiply; and it came to pass, that when there fell out any war, they also join themselves unto our enemies, and fight against us, and get them up out of the land.

11. Therefore they did set over them taskmasters to afflict them with their burdens. And they built for Pharaoh store-cities, Pithim and Raameses.

12. But the more they afflicted them, they multiplied and the more they spread abroad. And they were grieved because of the children of Israel.

13. And the Egyptians made the children of Israel to serve with rigor:

14. And they made their lives bitter with hard service, in mortar and in brick, and in all manner of service in the field, all their service, wherein they made them serve with rigor.

A New Aim.

Today we begin the study of a six months' course. This is the first lesson in the 3rd quarter of our year's work. The next two quarters will be devoted to a study of Israel and her leaders.

In the last quarter we have been studying the Book of Genesis. Directly and personally was God's contact with his people. The leaders were men who stood far above the people. Individuals like Abraham, Isaac, Jacob and Joseph are like outstanding stars in the firmament. The history of these early days is a biography of these great patriarchs.

We now begin the study of a nation. Lives of the great leaders will now be directly connected with the life of the nation. God will have a place in the national life. And the people are taught to worship him.

Also we will learn that men can't live without laws. Human society can endure only when there are unalterable laws of human justice regnant among men. The Ten Commandments are the great human documents of the ages.

Preparation.

With Israel in Egypt, a new era in the world's progress begins. The records now become history. The Jewish people are to be molded into a compact nation. A very interesting study indeed as we watch this nation in its process of development. God makes a nation of them in spite of their environment.

Take your Bible and read some of the Books of Genesis. Genesis 46:1-7, we find Jacob on his way into Egypt. Gen. 47:1-12 is the long sojourn in Egypt. The lesson today, Exodus 1:8-14 is when Israel is enslaved in Egypt.

In Egypt.

Little did the brothers think when they sold Joseph to the traders that some day he would be the ruler of Egypt. In our last quarter we learned how Joseph came into power. Upon coming to this power he had prepared for the great time of famine. He was thinking of only the Egyptian people in this preparation. But when the crisis came he had enough to feed his father's family also. It was the search for this food that led Joseph into Egypt. God always provides for his people.

At the invitation of the king and Joseph, Jacob and his people settle in Egypt. They now become a strange people in a strange land. But they preserve their religion and keep their identity as a people. They continue their cattle raising and live the pastoral life.

The settlement in Israel was very probably during the Hyksos supremacy. We do not know what year it was, neither do we know positively which dynasty, perhaps the 18th or 9th. The length of their sojourn was more than a hundred years, and perhaps three or four hundred. The exodus took place 1276 B. C.

Oppression.

Rameses II is thought to be the Pharaoh of the oppression. Many new discoveries are now being made in Egypt. Archaeology may be able some day to give us definite information about this period of the life of Israel.

The Jews fared well as long as Joseph was in favor with the Pharaoh. They were contented and very prosperous. In numbers they increased very rapidly. At the time of the oppression the lesson tells us that they outnumbered the Egyptians. One cause for their being brought to slavery was their increase in numbers.

But there arose a king that knew not Joseph. No longer did Joseph have any power or influence. Then it was that Israel came under bondage. And such slavery they were subjected to we can hardly realize. They became slaves in the true sense of the word.

Lessons.

This lesson is a study in contrasts. We see life with its indefensible inequalities. It is wealth, power and aristocracy versus poverty and slavery. What is the practical application? How far removed from this are we today. Yes, it is an old lesson of oppression. Now let the teachers point out forms of oppression today. There is oppression and suffering due to the deliberate planning of the oppressor. This is the type found in our lesson. There is another that is caused by thoughtlessness. The little thoughtless acts of daily life may cause someone untold suffering.

Other lessons: Bondage is an illustration of sin. This slavery hardened the hearts of the Jews against any return to Egypt. It strengthened them against idol worship. They are urged to earnest prayer for deliverance. Affliction may bring a multiplication of graces.

On Wednesday night of last week during the electrical storm, lightning struck the belfry of the church here, making a large hole in the roof, doing considerable damage to the frame work of the belfry, then passing inside and burning a large place on the wall. The Prodigal Son, Judge L. Gough's Famous Oration

(Editor's Note—For several years past, Judge L. Gough has been famous for a negro sermon, entitled "The Prodigal Son," which he has delivered before public gatherings. The Brand published this original composition several years ago, but a lot of local people have never heard it, and it is reproduced below from The Dalhart Texan.)

This is a sermon of the old-time Southern dandy, who could not read or write, and got his sermons by hearing other people preach. Hence, he sometimes got his scriptures mixed. In giving this, you want to have in mind the colored minister with his second-hand broadcloth suit about two sizes too big and his pants folded around his ankles like an accordion. His head bald except for a white fringe above his ears, wearing brass rimmed spectacles in lieu of gold ones. Standing in the pulpit he removes his glasses, wipes them and then snaps his eyes over them a time or two, straightens himself and says:

"And now my dearly beloved brethren, befo' I selexin de tex' fo, tonight, I want to make some nouncements. Fust, dar will be a fo, days meetin' in ris here house eber night nex' week, ceptin' Tuesday even, an' on Tuesday even I want a meetin' ob de deacons, and at dis meetin' I want a report of de coal committee. Now las' winter we didden hab no report at all frum ris committee, but dis winter we caint expect de railroad company to lebe de coal cars open on de track lak dey done las'."

"And now, my dearly beloved fellow sufferers, in selexin de tex' fo tonight I want you to go wif me wa-a-y back to de time when Shag-dick, Comeback and Lettgero walked fru de flarin' flames of de fiery furnace and de lions were cas' inter Dan-dels den and Jonah swallowed de Prince of Wales and dar we finds de stunnin' words dat a certain man had two sons. Now de youngest of dese sons wuz a radder contemptus young feller an' in no wise reposit to do de will ob his fadder and was derfere a proglial and de las' state of dat man war wusser dan de fust state. Now dis young man he got tire a-ibin' easy an' he say to his pa: 'You gib me my share of de substum and I will go into a far country and you shall see mah face no mo'." Now de ole man he get tired a foolin' wid de proglial and gib him his share ob de substum and let him go. Now when de young man get into de far country he spent his substum in extravagance and riotous libin', and sin and when his substum was all gone, he was deduced to a great necessity an' so great was de necessity to which dis young man was deduced, dat he hire himself out to a man to min' hogs.

"Now de scriptures do not say so, but it am supposed dat dis was a very mean white man case de young man had to eat wid de hogs. Now when he fain wud fill himself wid de husks what he fed de hogs wif, he come to himself an' sa: 'I see gwine home an' ask me pa to take me as a hired han' on his plantation, case in my fadder's house de hired man have plenty to eat and I ain't had none.' He pulled off his rings and he frowed 'em to de swine an' de swine dey turned aroun' an run at him, case de scriptures say, if yo' cas' your pearls befo' swine dey will turn aroun' and ren' you, and now while dis young man was gwine home he was cver-tuk by a great deluge ob rain and it rained fo' forty years and forty months an' so great wuz de deluge what this young man was overtuk by dat in order to keep from bein' drowned he built himself a big boat, and after he has sailed around for about a month, a month and a half or two months, he lit on Mount Arrarat wif de olive branch in his mouf and when de ole man afar off see dat de proglial had lit on de olive branch wif Mount Arrarat in his mouf, he run up to him and put him arm aroun' him and he hug him close and se say: 'Oh, Absolum, Absolum, my son Absolum, an' he put anudder ring on de young man's finger case he had cas' his fust ring to de swine, and he gave him a gold stud wif a white bosum in it and he say to his hired hands, to go an' kill de fatted calf an' make a great feax case my son Absolum what wuz dead, am alive agin, and accordin' to de way he say, so it wuz all dun.

"An' when dis great feax wuz ready he sent out to invite de neighbors and dey all wid one accord begun to make scuses. One man sed dat he cud not come case he had just taken in a piece of new ground, an' anudder one sed dat he could not come case he had jus' bought him a ycke of oxen and anudder one sed dat he could not come case he just married him a nice young wife, and—well—he warent hungry. An' when de ole man see dat all his rich neighbors discount him, he was very wroth an' sent out into de highways and by-ways to invite in de lame an' de blind and de deaf and de dumb, case de scriptures say dat de lame can walk, de blind can see, de deaf can hear and de dumb can speak. An' when dis great feax was ober and dey had dun et up everything they gathered up twelve baskets full and two small fishes over.

"And now my dearly beloved brethren and sistern, I could go on fadder wid dis preachment, but jus' down de road yonder is a good old cullid woman dyn' and she caint die till I git dar.

"De choir will please turn to de 16th him on de 11 page ob de book. 'Come ye sinners' po' and needy, weak and wounded, sick an' sore,' an' while de contribution box am bein' circumambulated fru de audience, de choir will please vociferate."

Panhandle-South Plains Fair Lays Plans For Fall

LUBBOCK, June 28.—Now is the time for communities that plan to have exhibits at the Panhandle-South Plains Fair to begin gathering their products for the exposition, according to D. F. Eaton, superintendent of the department of agriculture. Several important products are ready to gather at this time, according to Eaton, and the county or community that does not get them now will be at a loss later. Wheat, barley, rye and speltz, are ripe and must be gathered before too late. Alfalfa, sweet clover, wild and tame grasses and other such products can be gotten at this time or later either. Oats will be ripening in the next few days and must be gotten at that time.

The small grain crop is the best it has been in years over this section. The southern portion of the South Plains does not have a large crop of the grain but what is growing is looking good, while the northern portion of the section is covered with waving fields of good grain.

A number of counties and communities have their agricultural committees at work looking after fall products, while others will likely start gathering their products early next week.

Some "Don'ts" for the Golf Links, As Seen By Greens Chairman

Don Mercer, Chairman of the Greens Committee of the Hereford Golf Club, and mainspring of that growing organization, has seized his indelible pencil and jotted down a few "Don'ts" that in his opinion every local golfer should follow. Don has his own vocabulary and peculiar style, but as near as The Brand can make out, here's what should NOT be done on the golf links:

1. Don't gang up on the greens to count your score.
2. Don't SLAM the flag down on the green—lay it down GENTLY.
3. Leave your golf bag and sticks OFF the greens—there's lots more room out there.
4. Don't even TALK to a blaver while he is on the green—no matter how well you know him and love him. It's no place for a pow-wow—and a real golfer won't do it.
5. Don't over-exert yourself trying to get your money's worth on the links. Try and see if you can't make it a better course by reason of your having played the round. You will feel better about it yourself, and your friends will think more of you, to boot.
6. Don't fall to swear all you please, but try to do it only when you are playing a round with yourself.
7. Don't fall to show the proper respect to the ladies, while playing the course. Remember, if she is not yours she is your fellow member's best friend, and you are supposed to be a gentleman, anyhow.

8. Don't fall to read the rules and regulations and restrictions on your playground. Your failure to do this will cause you grief, as well as making it hard on your friends.

9. Don't pass the buck. When anything is going wrong in your presence, step over and attend to it yourself. Be a man.

J. Lennox Making Farming Pay Well

Farming in Deaf Smith county is very profitable if the farmer will "let the ball" and will practice the "at-home plan," this is the idea of J. Lennox, tenant farmer, who lives on the Sulphur Park farm east of Hereford, and this man practices what he preaches.

Mr. Lennox has 100 laying hens, and has been milking seven cows, in addition to doing his regular farm work. From February 24 to June 15, Lennox sold $225.50 worth of cream, and averaged around $5-per week from the sale of eggs. He sold $120 worth of hogs that were fed on skimmed milk, and received $50 from the sale of hens.

Mr. Lennox is farming 375 acres this year, and his sows and chickens are used as a side line only. He had 200 acres of wheat that was killed out recently, from which he received $3,000 for insurance. Conservative estimates of the yield were 30 bushels per acre. Most of the wheat was a 100 per cent loss. He has 175 acres of row crops that are just as fine as can be found anywhere. During his spare time, Mr. Lennox made over $350 breaking land for other people, and got $140 for wheat pasture. This means that Mr. Lennox has already received $3916.50 from his farm labors, and has 175 acres of crops left that is sure to make him big money. If Deaf Smith county had a few more farmers who practiced the "at-home plan" as does Lennox, this section would soon come into its own as a farming district.

That's our Doctrine.
The advocacy of the two-party system by the Republican party is deserving of encouragement. The government of any state is better balanced where there are two political parties of about equal strength. Both parties will bring out stronger and better material to run as their nominees, and the government would be in a much better condition at all times. If Texas had been a bi-party state two years ago, it would have been impossible for the election of Mrs. Ferguson for governor.—Plainview News.

Sunday dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Ward of South Hereford. Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Rogers and son of Hereford spent Sunday evening with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Rogers. Mrs. J. E. Harlin and children spent Saturday in Hereford visiting Mrs. Jack Roberson, also her sister, Miss Dot Owen of Chickasha, Okla., who is here on a health trip as she has very recently undergone an operation. Miss Nettie Lee Green visited in the home of Mrs. Griffith Monday afternoon. Mrs. Woody Vaughan has been with her sister, Mrs. Earl Lance, who has been quite ill the past week. Mrs. Joe Greer visited with Mrs. Leo Williams and little son, and Mrs. Henry Allman Friday afternoon. We are glad Mrs. Allman is doing nicely since her operation and will soon be able to be out again. Mr. Noel Bryant came out Thurs- day and spent the day with his aunt, Mrs. Joe Green. Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Dixon called on Mrs. Allman Sunday morning. They were out in this community ad- justing hall losses. Mrs. Percy Estes and Mrs. R. L. Knox visited Saturday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. Estes' mothers, Mrs. Greer and Mrs. Estes. Wednesday morning found some of the neighbors hunting thimbles and needles to go to an all day meeting of the Frio Good Will Club, which met with Mrs. R. T. Green. The quilts were soon finished, but there wasn't any limit to the eating of a good dinner for everyone seemed to be in the race. And at the noon hour when it was whispered this is Mother Mosley's birthday, everyone became interested and tried to make the day a very pleasant one for her, and some- one even suggested her cutting her hair as she was acting real young for a 72-year-old girl. Those who enjoyed the day were Mesdames Harlin, Estes, Jones, Tice, Mother Mosley, Kellow, Easter, Lomas, Greer and Misses Helen Estes and Gladys Jones. The club meets next time with Mrs. Joe Greer. Mr. Upton was one early caller in Here and There Sunday morning. Mr. Henscheidt is interested in good milk cows having bought four from Mr. Gaetz last week. Mr. and Mrs. Tice had as their guests for Sunday dinner Mr. and Mrs. Al Scott and family. Mr. and Mrs. Scott have recently moved to Hereford. It seems like the lightning has its main office in this neighborhood. Mr. John Gaetz had a fine heifer killed Wednesday night. daughter were visitors Tuesday af- ternoon in the Doak home. Mr. and Mrs. Ramey Elliston came out and visited with Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Lindsey Saturday. One of the most enjoyable times was had last Friday evening when Mesdames Jones, Sullivan, Kincaid and Harlin entertained the Sunday school at Mrs. Harlin's home. It was a very backward affair as everyone came with something on backwards. They were taken to the back door, where they backed in and registered with their left hand in a mirror. Next came the election to see who was the most backward man or wo- man, Mr. Easter being the man and Mrs. Mobley and Mrs. Greer tied for the ladies, as they both are very backward. A good time was had by all. Refreshments of cake and ice cream were served, and at a late hour all departed for their homes. Frio is becoming real civilized. For another jolly occasion was had when Miss Helen and Mr. Greer es- tates were hostesses to their Sunday school classes, teachers and super- intendent. After Sunday school all went to the Estes home, where they joined in the chat and laughter. Later in the evening they went to a nearby grove and took kodak pic- tures. On returning to the Estes home very hungry, Mrs. Estes realiz- ing their weakness, served them to sandwiches, ice tea and cake. Af- ter telling what a good time they had they all attended the singing at Frio. We are always glad to see new faces at singing every Sunday night. Mr. Curtis Farris, Jack Bolander and the Scott family were among the visitors Sunday night. Come back again. Frio sing-song July 28. LIFE'S MIRROR

Reflections by Poems

I gaze into another's eyes,
Nor challenge what I see,
For fate who deals her cunning
blows
Might do the same to me.
I gaze into another's eyes;
Nor raise, nor lower my own;
For other's eyes control my life,
I cannot live alone.

Dangerous.
Speeder in Court: "Your Honor, I wasn't going 40 miles an hour. Nor was I going 30, nor 20, nor 10. I was hardly moving when the officer came up."
Judge: "I'll have to stop this or you'll be backing over someone. Ten dollars."

A Sure Cure.
"I can't sleep nights—I've tried everything."
"Have you tried talking to your- self?"

Monthly Court of Honor.

Mr. G. A. F. Parker, chairman of Here- ford Council and the Panhandle area will deliver the address. All scouts are expected to attend. All scout officials are urged to attend, and all others are invited who es- tectm highly the work of Scouting.— Jas. T. Ross, Chairman Court of Honor.

He Took a Check.
During a voyage across the ocean a tanker struck an iceberg and started sinking. Having no life boats or pro- cessors the situation was hopeless. The sailors herded into a despondent crowd as the ship slowly sank lower and lower. A deathly silence gripped the scene. Suddenly a deep negro voice boomed out: "De ennybody heah want to buy a good pair of bones?"
A Sad Game
Sollicitous Old lady:—"Well now, what's wrong with my little man?"
Tell me why are you crying?
"I been playin' ball with a onion."
