DEVELOPMENT IN THIS SECTION

Oil Development in Various Texas Counties for the Past Week

Hogan County Oil News

The drilling contracts made the past few days and the active leasing of major, minor, and independent prospects are one of the biggest developments in the history of oil. Thousands of dollars have been involved in the oil business here the past few days and this activity continues stronger day to day. More acreage is being acquired and new drilling contracts are being closed providing for immediate drilling. Prices of leases are ranging from $2.00 to $6.00.

The discovery well, according to reports, continues its daily performance which is indicative that a pool of high grade oil underlies the huge structure. Experienced men from various Texas and Oklahoma fields say that the structure in this field exceeds and excels any other saw.

NO. 2 DOWN 2800 FEET. The Texon No. 2 is down 2800 feet and awaiting stems which are expected to arrive by the first of the week. Then only a few days will be needed for the bit to reach the pay zone which was found in the discovery well at a depth of 3050 feet.

WEEKLY OIL SHIPMENTS

The Texon Oil & Land Company is shipping their regular oil shipments each week, according to Frank T. Hill, vice president of the company who left here Friday for El Paso. One car of oil was shipped Monday to the Rio Grande Petroleum Company of El Paso. Mr. Hill is well pleased with the nice work from the Santa Rita. P. Powell, Tom Nolan, and the parties closed a deal this week for the Barnes of Fort Worth for a portion of University land. The deal provides for ninety-day drilling according to L. P. Powell who is interested in the transaction. The deal has not been made but will be made in Block 5.

Enders-Smith & Company are to spend in about the first of the month, according to driller Redwood who has been in Big Lake all week.—Big Lake News.

Mitchell County Activities

California's A. L. Miller No. 2 is making 100 bbls. per day on 3011 feet.

California's T. C. Richardson No. 2 is casing to abandon at 4620 feet.

California's E. Morrison No. 2 is casing at 3915 feet.

Colorado-Texas Petroleum Co. No. 2, drilling by tools at 35 feet.

Oil Co.'s W. H. Badgett No. 1 is casing temporarily shut-in by water line.

Looney et al. C. LeSure No. 1 is casing at 35 feet.

Kelley et al. W. H. Badgett No. 1 is casing at 3040 feet.

Operators Association's No. 1, rig completed.

Kiley et al. E. Morrison No. 2 is casing cemented at 35 feet.

Shoan et al. J. H. O'Neil No. 1 is casing at 2610 feet.

Writers Producing & Refining Co. No. 3, setting at 2580 feet.

Spudded-in in Borden Co.

The oil well was spudded in on Monday on the Long ranch, southwest quarter of Section 30, situated in Borden County.

A derrick was built for the well last summer, but blew down in a wind storm, and it was rebuilt very recently that the well was spudded in. We have not heard who is behind this enterprise.

The territory described in the report of the new well is in the northeast quarter of Section 30, Borden County as a partially developed oil field and has been started but not completed. The well was lost late this summer.

The tools in same well have been heard from these men in what they intend to do with the well. The supposed name of another well will be in the Borden County Times.

the 3300 foot depth and is steadily going down to the projected thirty-five hundred foot depth, and possibly farther. They have been in a blue shale and are now in the lime formation.

This is the well that struck considerable showing at 1780 feet, and it is proposed to shoot same at this depth if nothing better is found further down. A deep test is being made for the pool that geologists place in this territory.

One remarkable feature of the Loutex is the fact that the gas coming from same has been harnessed and is running the machinery. The engine is being run by the gas pressure without a spark of fire in use.

The Loutex is located about a mile south of Ira and is near the shallow field in Mitchell County. Strong faith exists in the Loutex proposition and it is confidently expected that something real worth while in production will be brought in before the limit depth of 3500 feet is reached.—Scurry County Times.

Mrs. Adiline Shive Dead

The Death Angel visited our city this week and called to that better and brighter world Mrs. Adiline Shive, one of our well known and beloved citizens. She passed away at her home at 1307 South Scurry St., at 1:30 p. m. Tuesday, October 2nd.

Death was due to tumors of the stomach, and followed an illness of four years. No one can conceive of the pain and suffering she underwent during this time, but no one could have borne her trials with more Christian fortitude and patience. It is a revelation to those of us who are inclined to rail at fate everytime things do not go to suit us to come in contact with a real Christian who can bear his cross without a murmur and such a one was this good woman. She was loved most by those who knew her best and her life has been an inspiration to many.

Then too her life as a wife and mother was all that it should have been and the sons and daughters have reason indeed to love and praise her. She was ready to meet her Master when the summons came. Funeral services were conducted at the family residence at 10:00 o'clock Wednesday morning by Rev. W. L. Shepherd, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, assisted by Rev. Ben Hardy of the Methodist Church. Interment was made in Mt. Olive cemetery.

Mrs. Shive, who was aged sixty-six years, seven months and twelve days, is survived by four sons, two daughters and a son in law: C. E. Shive, A. L. Shive and Miss Clara Shive of this city; J. D. Shive of Lamesa; E. G. Shive of Castro County; Mrs. Frank Buckelew of Fort Worth and G. T. Abbott and children of Castro County, and to these who sorrow for one dearly beloved is tendered the sincere sympathy of our entire community.

Miss Lillian Frances Gary Entertains

One of the most delightful social affairs ever held in our city was planned by Miss Lillian Frances Gary on Thursday of last week when she gave a Bridge Luncheon in honor of Mrs. Bruton of Havana Cuba. Ten ladies of Midland were pitted against ten Big Spring players thru-out the series of interesting games. Mrs. D'Armand of Midland had the honor of making high score.

Miss Gary also entertained with a Bridge Tea Monday afternoon and an especially delightful time is the report of the five tables of players.

Building Addition to Service Station

The work of constructing an addition to the building at the corner of Main and West First Streets, owned by the Messrs Slaughter, proprietors of the Slaughter Filling Station, was started Thursday. This addition is 30x24 feet, is to be constructed of brick and J. M. Morgan was awarded the contract for the construction of same.

A portion of the addition will be used by the Service Station and the balance will be fitted up as a neat sales room and will be rented for another line of business.

Buyers Interest in Elite Confectionery

On Monday of this week Mack Stallings bought the interest of Lonnie Dempsey in the Elite Confectionery in this city and this popular confectionery is now owned by Roy and Mack Stallings. They are both hustlers and will give their full time and attention to building up the patrons of this confectionery.

CEMETERY ASS'N ELECTS OFFICERS

Improvements to be Made at Cemetery if Citizenship Will Only Lend Their Aid

Pursuant to notice a meeting of the Cemetery Association was held last Friday afternoon for the purpose of electing officers for the coming year, and transacting such other business as might come before the meeting.

The following were elected to serve as officers of the association: Mrs. Jno. Notostime, president; Wm. Fisher, treasurer, and Miss Nell Hatch, secretary.

The president announced the appointment of W. W. Rix to be superintendent of Mt. Olive cemetery.

There came up to be discussed the proposition of making some needed improvements at Mt. Olive, chief among these being the erection of a new fence that would not only turn cattle and horses but one that would keep rabbits and other pests from destroying trees, flowers and shrubs which have been planted. A new concrete reservoir is needed so a reserve supply of water can be maintained for irrigating trees, flowers and shrubs.

Of course some extra funds will be needed to make these improvements but we believe our big hearted people will gladly donate a sufficient amount to make same.

From the regular dues it is necessary to pay the sexton's salary, make repair on sexton's home, on well and windmill, and take care of other expenses.

Many are careless about the payment of annual dues and it seems almost a constant struggle to keep the Cemetery association out of debt. The faithful few have been responsible for keeping the association a going concern. On the part of most of us it is plain forgetfulness else we would send in our dues promptly. It's only a small amount, yet someone must be constantly reminding us or it soon slips our mind, and with others as forgetful, it is not long until quite a sum that is needed to carry on the work at the cemetery is out of circulation.

Let us all try to be a little more prompt in paying annual dues and in addition let each and everyone donate five or ten dollars so the needed improvements can be made at Mt. Olive cemetery. This is a small amount and each and everyone of you would gladly give same if some one would talk it over with you. But that's just the trouble. Everybody is too busy to volunteer to go out and solicit funds—even you don't care to tackle the job—so why not write a check and hand it to the president, secretary or treasurer. The gift will be appreciated and care will be used to see that no money is wasted. Don't read this and then forget to send in a donation. Do it now while you have the matter in mind.

A Moving Meat Market

Estes Bros. Moving Meat Market is an innovation in our city. The proprietors of Estes Bros. Market in this city have installed this novel plan in order to give the citizens of Big Spring real service.

Their Moving Meat Market is a meat market on wheels, and comes to your very door so you may select the very cut of meat you desire.

A motor truck has been equipped with a spacious fly-proof and sanitary body, wherein are installed refrigerator, scales, cutting block, and all necessary tools. Cured meats as well as fresh meats will be carried in stock. Large lettering is to be noted on the side of the moving meat market so those desiring meat promptly can signal the driver and secure the kind of meat they like right now.

Ransom-Little

A quiet wedding, but one of decided interest, was that of Miss Frances Little and Elliott Ransom, Jr., which was solemnized at Houston, Texas, at five o'clock Saturday afternoon, Sept. 15th at the home of Rev. S. W. Thomas. The bride was charming in a gown of navy blue with trimming of Chantilly lace, and hat and shoes of reindeer color. She carried a bouquet of brides roses. The young couple left immediately after the ceremony for a trip to Galveston, after which they will be at home in Houston.

Mrs. Zoe Kinnery of Eastland was here Monday looking after property.

Reception at First Baptist

On Tuesday evening, October 2nd at 8 p. m. a reception was held at the First Baptist Church for the new members and teachers who are with us for the school year.

Cosmos, autumn's earliest blossoms, were used with ferns in a very effective arrangement. A large number of both old and new members were present to enjoy this delightful occasion.

Bro. Strother, in a few well chosen remarks, gave the guests a hearty welcome into the church, after which the following program was rendered:

Several numbers by the church orchestra of which Mr. Chenault is leader.

Reading—Miss Opal Pittman.
Piano Solo—Mrs. Harry Hurt.
Reading—Miss Myrtle Reeves.

The closing number on the program was an alphabetical Scripture Contest, which was conducted similarly to an old-fashioned spelling match by Mrs. P. G. Stokes. Mrs. Beckett and Bro. Strother chose sides of twelve each. Bible characters and places of note were the answers to be given to the contest, which were in rhyme.

Much merriment was created, the climax being reached when the "pastor" had to take his seat first one of all. His explanations were satisfactory however, and we are sure he will not let it occur again. The "deacons" soon followed suit, leaving several Sunday school teachers and school teachers to guess the remaining numbers.

After the program, the guests were invited into the adjoining room by Mrs. Wasson, who served punch in a very gracious manner. She was assisted by Misses Lillian Frances Gary and Velma Wasson. During this time everybody became acquainted, the new members were introduced and made to feel at home in every possible way.

Much credit for the success of the entertainment is due Mr. Chenault and his coworkers who were exceedingly generous with their musical numbers. The people of Big Spring should feel very proud that we have such a capable leader in our midst.

May Get State Park Here

T. H. Johnson has always been a real booster for Big Spring, and as a result of his efforts a State Park may be established at Big Spring. Anyway Governor Neff and members of State Park Board will visit our city and inspect the site we have to offer.

This good news comes in a letter to Mr. Johnson from D. E. Colp, manager of the Glacier to Gulf Highway Association.

He says in part: "Governor Neff will announce the members composing the State Park Board within a few days—whose duty it will be to establish a state system of Parks in Texas. An effort is going to be made to secure four or five large parks and forty or fifty ranging from 100 to 500 acres, each."

"The Glacier to Gulf Highway has three times as many suitable park sites as any other route in Texas. It will therefore be the aim of the Glacier to Gulf Highway Association to secure as many park sites as possible."

"Governor Neff has agreed to accompany the members of the Park Board on their first trip of inspection, which is to be over the Glacier to Gulf. They plan to start from San Antonio about October 22 and go as far north as Amarillo, stopping at Big Spring to inspect site you have to offer."

Mr. Colp states there will be eight in the inspection party, and asks for all necessary information relative to location and number of acres in tract to be designated at Big Spring.

Off to the Penitentiary

Four men found guilty of violating the prohibition laws and who entered pleas of guilty in district court were turned over to a penitentiary agent Wednesday evening and are now on their way to begin serving their time. The four who left were R. L. Pennington, sentenced to serve 5 years; John Chambers, 5 years; Clarence Thompson, 2 1/2 years; Frank Anderson, 1 year.

A Watermelon Country

R. G. Cook can surely prove to the skeptical that old Howard County is a sure enough watermelon country and he is still marketing fine big melons. He treated the Herald force to a fifty pound Halbert Honey watermelon, Thursday and it certainly was a dandy. Mr. Cook is going to the office of the city until they

HOMEBUILDERS NEEDED HERE

Every Condition is Right to Advise Our County and Bring More Homebuilders Here.

The time is now ripe for a united effort to bring more home builders to Howard County. It is only a question as to whether we will grasp our opportunity. The cotton producing area is rapidly moving westward. We can wait and let folks drift this way in the course of years, or we can inform them as to the advantages of our section as being especially adapted to cotton production and point out the fact that good land can be purchased here at a smaller price than most any place in Texas, and have them coming in droves this fall. In a year such as the present it is no trick for a tenant to secure enough from his cotton crop to pay for a good farm; and this is what they are doing.

In addition the increase in land values that are certain to come inures money invested in lands here one of the best and safest investments a man can make. Folks in other parts of the state are not aware of these opportunities. It is up to us to give them the facts. Persuade them to come out and look us over and learn the facts from men who are on the job and making good. There is only one obstacle in the way of launching a cooperative movement to boost our section and secure a portion of the vast number of homebuilders that are headed to West Texas and that is that everyone is too busy to lend a hand. We are all heartily in favor of the proposition and want to see it put over—but we want the other fellow to do it as we are too busy. The citizens of other progressive counties are not too busy and are putting up every inducement to attract new citizens. Can we afford to do less?

One of the first moves in our program should be to have a real agricultural exhibit at the Dallas Fair. So far very few have shown much inclination to help with this. No funds have been raised so any definite plans can be completed.

With these facts in view it is evident that some of our folks are going to have their hands full if we have an exhibit at the Fair that will be a credit to our county. Can we afford to fall down on the proposition? This is a little of everybody's business who is interested in boosting our county and a few more citizens should be willing to forget self a little while and work for the good of the community. If our county could have a prize winning exhibit at the Dallas Fair this year we would all profit.

Real Estate Transactions

The T. H. Johnson Land Co. report the following real estate transactions the past week:

Chas. Dublin sold to A. W. Flaniken of Lamesa, eight hundred acres of land in Gaines County. Mr. Dublin took in the residence of Mr. Flaniken on Scurry street in this city, on the deal. Mr. Dublin will move his family into his new home.

Andy Williams sold to Tom Lane six hundred and forty acres of land, located northwest of Big Spring.

T. H. Lane sold to Andy Williams three hundred and twenty acres of land, located west of Big Spring.

Gordon Griffice bought of A. R. Hood a residence in the south part of Big Spring.

Benches for City Federation Park

Sixteen fine benches were taken to the City Federation Park this week. These benches were donated by some of the business men of Big Spring. A few tables and other things are needed and would certainly be appreciated by the members of the City Federation who have secured this fine park for our citizens and who are using every effort to make it a park our city can be proud of. Join in and help secure tables and other equipment for this fine little park.

The City Dads are on the job and are working faithfully to put our city on its feet in a financial way. They are also working on the proposition of our sewer system but in the interest of our citizenship are demanding par and accrued interest on the bonds. They also propose to have the engineering work for the sewer system done by competent and responsible engineers. They are adopting a policy of rigid economy in the office of the city until they

Stephen Tamsitt Dead

The announcement of the death of Stephen Tamsitt came as a shock to friends and relatives in this city. He died at his home about 11:40 o'clock Sunday morning, September 30th, due to an attack of apoplexy. He was alone at the time; had fallen in the yard, and was dead when his wife and son found him just a short time after he suffered the stroke.

Mrs. Tamsitt had been attending services at the Episcopal Church and having a premonition that something was wrong left before the church services were completed and hurrying home found that death had claimed her loved one before she could reach him.

In the death of Mr. Tamsitt Big Spring loses a substantial and valued citizen, and our people lose a true and tried friend, a man who enjoyed the respect and esteem of everyone with whom he came in contact. Of a genial and generous nature he had a smile or a cheery greeting for everyone and it was a pleasure to meet him. He truly practiced the Golden Rule and his pathway thru life is marked with good deeds and kindness and never has he been known to injure another in thought, word or deed.

Mr. Tamsitt was born at Ashford, Kent County, England, June 24, 1850. After learning his trade he came to the United States fifty-four years ago; working at Palestine, Weatherford and Marshall, before coming to Big Spring. He has been a resident of this city the past thirty-eight years during the major portion of which time he held the responsible position of foreman of the blacksmith department of the Texas & Pacific Railway shops, and no man worked more faithfully or was more loyal to those he worked for or the men under him.

Funeral services were conducted at the Episcopal Church in this city at 10:00 o'clock, this, Friday morning.

The honorary pall bearers were John Price, J. W. Martin, Wm. Fisher, L. F. Nall, W. W. Fisher, T. S. Currie, and the pall bearers W. H. Battle, Harry Loes, Yuell Robb, Frank Hefley, J. E. Moon and W. G. Hayden. The remains were accompanied to their last resting place in Mt. Olive cemetery by a vast concourse of friends.

Deceased is survived by his wife, a son, J. O. Tamsitt of this city, a daughter, Mrs. Will Nabors of Miami, Ariz., a brother, George Tamsitt of Marshall, Texas, and other relatives, and to those who mourn for a faithful husband, a kind and indulgent father and a beloved brother is extended the heartfelt sympathy of their many friends. Mrs. Will Nabors of Miami, Ariz., Mrs. John Seymour of Mexico City, Guy Tamsitt of Shreveport, La., and Mrs. G. W. Tamsitt of Dallas were here to attend the funeral services Friday.

All Singers Called to Meet

Every singer in Howard County is urged to attend a meeting to be held at the Christian Church in Big Spring at 7:30 o'clock Friday night, Oct. 12th.

This meeting is called by O. D. Dubberly, president of the Choral Club, for the purpose of organizing a permanent Choral Club.

Howard County has a large number of fine singers and if they would band together in a permanent organization, secure a capable director, and have regular song services it would certainly be fine.

Here's hoping a large number of singers attend the meeting Friday night, October 12th.

Will Exhibit at Dallas Fair

Sam Little, breeder of Big Type Poland China hogs, will enter ten of his purebred pigs at the Dallas Fair. He will have entries in both the Junior and Senior Pig Classes.

Mr. Little usually "brings home the bacon" when he places his fine hogs in competition with the best in Texas or elsewhere and we believe he will do so again this year.

Rain Halts Cotton Picking

We thought we were getting along in great shape, and were until the rain put in an appearance Wednesday morning and put a stop to cotton picking. The rain covered an extensive territory, being heavy and light in spots. We had more than one half inch rainfall in this immediate vicinity.

C. L. Alderman arrived Tuesday from an extended tour thru South Texas and reports the cotton thru-out that section almost completely

Fire Prevention on the Farm.

The week of Oct. 6 to 13 has been declared Fire Prevention Week, in commemoration of the great Chicago fire. That greatest of American fires started from a broken lantern which a cow kicked over while she was being milked. Readers of the Semi-Weekly Farm News are in no danger of setting fire to a city the size of Chicago, but some are in danger whenever handling fire of starting a blaze which might be just as disastrous to them individually as was the Chicago fire to the inhabitants of that city.

Early October is the time when most heating stoves in Texas are put up. There is where real care is needed to bar the likelihood of causing a fire some time in the course of the winter. Farmers have no fire department which they can call out to extinguish a blaze once started, and when once a farmhouse really gets on fire there is small chance of saving it. The first thing to make sure of before putting up a heating stove is that the doors and joints are tight enough to prevent coals from falling out onto the floor when the wood or coal is replenished, or at any other time. Next, the stove should be set on a fire-resistant mat, or in a box of sand, so that such coals as fall will not get to the floor. Third, and possibly most important of all, the pipe should be properly put up.

The pipe should be insulated from or held off from the wall where it enters the flue, so the wall or ceiling can not possibly become hot enough to burst into flames. The flue should be cleaned of surplus soot before the pipe is inserted. Soot is merely finely divided carbon and is always ready to kindle. Flues are recognized by insurance companies as one of the chief causes of house fires, and every flue should be carefully made and every pipe carefully inserted, to reduce this risk.

Next to defective flues, stray matches probably are the most prolific cause of fires on the farm. In houses where there are small children, matches must be kept away from them, for there is nothing a small child likes more than to play with fire when once he has had the experience. Rats often carry stray matches to their beds and there gnaw on them with disastrous results. For these reasons matches should be kept in closed containers of some kind too strong for rats to gnaw through and too high for children to reach. —Austin E. Burges in Semi-Weekly Farm News.

Resolutions of Condolence

Whereas the Heavenly Father has seen fit to call from a life of usefulness here to fulfill a greater mission in a brighter and better world, our beloved sister, Miss Myrtle Glasscock, a faithful and beloved member of the Rebeccas, therefore be it resolved:

That we, the members of Mullin Lodge No. 272, I. O. O. F. of Big Spring, Texas, while humbly bowing to the will of Him who does all things for the best, express our deep and sincere sorrow to the mother, sisters and other relatives who mourn the passing of her who was dearly beloved.

Be it further resolved that we humbly beseech the Heavenly Father to comfort and sustain the grief-stricken family until that hour when loved ones shall be gathered together to part no more.

Be it further resolved that these resolutions be spread on the minutes of the lodge, a copy furnished the family and same be published in the Big Spring Herald.

H. L. Rix,
J. A. Kinard,
S. C. Lamar, Committee.

James Willey raised some exceptionally fine broom corn this year and a sample of same will occupy a prominent place in the Howard County exhibit at the Dallas Fair. What can you bring in to aid Howard County in taking a prize? Bring it in at once if you wish to aid.

MAGNETIC MABEL'S MAIL

She Tells 'Em

Dear Mabel: I am greatly distressed at a seeming coldness on the part of my husband. When we were first married and I was a slender slip of a girl, he was very demonstrative. He always called me "little one" and would hold me on his knee for hours. We were so happy. I am now twice the woman I was then. I weigh in at 200 lbs., yet he no longer holds me on his knee and never calls me little one. He has no call to freeze upon me, the miserable little worm—he only weighs 115 lbs. on the hoof. I'll give you my word he's not so much to look at. Between you and me, Mabel—mind you, I say this entirely without malice—he's a hair stripe. He should grow cold and hand me the Klondike shimmy. I'd can him tomorrow, only he's a real good check signer. I'll hand him that. You know all about men and their weights. Mabel. What would you do?
ELFIE D.

Dear Elfie: You must have lined up against an awful proposition. Any man who will cease holding his 200 lb. wife on his 115 lb. knee must be a waster—and beef so expensive and all. The only thing to do, if you want to hang on to Henry, is to reduce. He doesn't seem to appreciate volume. Reduce! Not all over at once, but an inch at a time. Read all the ads in the Sunday Supplements. Buy everything that comes in bottles for the purpose. Wear every appliance that is recommended from an assafoetida amulet to a rubber union suit. Take something inwardly and rub something on the outside. If you're not reduced in tonnage, you will be in purse. Then, all else failing, try holding the thought.
MABEL.

Save Plenty Cotton Seed

Cotton seed is going to be worth plenty of money at planting time next year. Howard County is producing the finest cotton seed in Texas and if a storage place for seed was available every bit of this seed should be saved for planting. The members of the Farm Labor Union purchased 4,000 bushels of pure Mebane cotton seed for planting in Howard County last year and the seed from the crop raised should be held for next year's planting as there is certain to be a scarcity of good seed throughout Texas. If we only had a big warehouse here enough could be realized off this fine seed in one year to pay the cost of such a warehouse. This seed is far too valuable to send to the mills, even at the price now being offered.

Every cotton grower should save all the seed he can possibly store away.

Good Young Mules for Sale

Have several mules—aged 3 to 4 years—unbroke, for sale, at right prices. See F. G. Sholte or O. A. Goodman. 1-

Talk about your busy little cities, if Big Spring isn't one of the busiest places you ever saw on Saturdays, ever since cotton began rolling in we would like to see a busy one. The streets are crowded with automobiles, and the stores and sidewalks packed with folks. The business houses are enjoying a brisk business since cotton has been bringing such a nice price and many old accounts are being squared up. Everybody is busy and a prosperous era now reigns thruout our county.

Buy a Good Lot

and build you a home at a later day. Ideal residence lots in College Heights at reasonable prices. Phone 128. J. F. HAIR. 51-4f.

Just to show what old Howard County can do, L. H. Thomas brought to the Herald office last Monday morning a sample of the good things to eat that he is now raising on his farm and marketing in this city. Included in his offering to the Herald force was a mess of the finest roasting ears, turnip greens, sweet peppers and tomatoes, you ever saw. There are few sections in Texas where such fine products are now being secured without irrigation. Come to Howard County.

Presbyterian Notes

Next Sabbath will be Rally Day in the Sabbath school of the Presbyterian Church at 9:45 a. m. and we hope to see all of our people there right on time to enter in the program for the morning.

And at 11 a. m. we will have our regular quarterly communion service, and reception of members at the same hour.

The Senior Endeavor society will meet at 6:30 p. m. That will be thirty minutes earlier than we have been used to meeting.

And at 7:30 the pastor will preach: A Sermon to Young Women. This will be the last of the four sermons to the home.

Watch out for the announcement next week, less you may miss something that you would want to see.

We are always glad to welcome you in the hours of worship. "Come with us and we will do thee good."

Attention Ladies

I have moved to 307 Goliad street, where I am prepared to do Hem-stitching at 7 1-2 cents per yard. Telephone 247. MRS. J. M. SARLEY. 51-4t.

A. B. Waldron of Fort Worth, general agent of the International and Great Northern Ry., was a business visitor in Big Spring Tuesday. A. B. is a former resident of Big Spring, and has a host of warm friends here. He has a friendly feeling for the old home town and has confidence in this section. This is evidenced by the fact that he owns three hundred and twenty acres of fine agricultural land, located south of Big Spring, which is not for sale, but which is going to be put in cultivation.

Special Announcement

Beginning on Sunday morning at eleven o'clock, at the First Christian Church, the minister will begin a series of sermons running all month on the Twenty-Third Psalm, the text being taken from the words of Jesus, when He said: "I am the Good Shepherd." You will be interested in Shepherd life, as it was in the days of David and in the days of Christ.

We will try and show in these sermons just what Christ as the Good Shepherd meant to David as a shepherd, and cordially invite all to be present at these sermons.

There will also be a series of sermons at night on the subject: "The Church as a New Organization." These sermons will show the difference between the old Jewish dispensation and the Christianity which Christ came to establish by his death burial and resurrection, and which began at Pentecost.

Every Community Interested

Most of our readers have noted that American Education Week is to be observed this year from Sunday, November 18, to Saturday, November 24, somewhat earlier than in former years. The program emphasizes the importance of the country schools by devoting the exercises of two days mainly to the consideration of rural problems.

Sunday, November 18, is designated, "For God and Country;" Monday, "American Constitution Day;" Tuesday, "Patriotism Day;" Wednesday, "School and Teacher Day;" Thursday, "Illiteracy Day;" Friday, "Community Day;" Saturday, "Physical Education Day."

The slogans for Friday, November 23, are, "An Equal Chance for All Children;" "A Square Deal for the Country Boy and Girl." The suggested program emphasizes the plea for "Equality of opportunity for every American boy and girl" and urges the importance of a public library in every community. It is expected that every rural community will assemble at its schoolhouse on that day. On Saturday will be featured, "The Great Out-of-Doors" and the "Conservation and Development of Forests, Soil, Roads and other Resources."

The Government's Guess at Cotton

A cotton crop larger by a million and a quarter bales than last year's was forecast Tuesday by the Department of Agriculture, which placed production at 11,015,000 bales.

This forecast, the last of the season until the December estimate, was 227,000 bales more than was indicated last month.

Census bureau figures for cotton ginning prior to Sept. 25 showed 3,215,394 bales, or 348,998 bales less than ginned last year to that date.

Texas had ginned 2,185,219 bales prior to Sept. 25. The Government report indicates that Texas will produce a total of 4,168,000 bales this year.

Following the Government crop and ginning reports there were some violent fluctuations in the price. A one hundred point increase being followed by a one hundred and fifty point drop in the price. Cotton was selling in Big Spring following the receipt of the reports at 27 1-2 cents per pound.

Innocent Children Succumb to Dread Influence of Dope

That five thousand innocent children have already become confirmed dope addicts in Chicago alone and that child addiction is spreading throughout the nation at an alarming pace, should be sufficient to jar thousands of men and women into a full realization of what the drug menace means to society at large.

While the country goes unthinkingly about its daily work, while wealthy men and women endow many charities that do not require funds, while others seldom give a thought to the menace of narcotics because they think it "too revolting" and regard it as something to be "covered up" and not discussed, the very flower of American youth is confronting a far more deadly foe than war in dope.

In "Human Wreckage," Mrs. Wallace Reid's great anti-narcotic photoplay, the distribution of dope among school children is revealed in all its terrifying aspects. The scenes are not revolting; they are not calculated to horrify beholders. But they are designed to drive home with powerful blows the real inside story of dope in this country—the story of a dread enemy that menaces not only the pitiful slaves already addicted to the use of opiates, but also hundreds of thousands of children and young men and women who are, together with many others, living at a faster pace today than ever before.

"Human Wreckage," at the R. & R. Lyric Theatre, Monday and Tuesday, October 8th and 9th, shows how unsuspecting school children are met outside a high school by a pasty-faced dope peddler and how the usual capsules filled with the deadly white powder are slipped into their hands. These scenes are not exaggerated. They are developed in all the truth of stark realism. Conditions are revealed on the screen just as they exist in real life.

Methodist Sunday School Notes

After a two weeks absence the Supt. will be back at her post Sunday morning and her chief desire is to see her splendid Sunday school out in its entire force to give her welcome home. Let us have our whole school on hand for the opening of the fall quarter. Everybody come. It is pleasant to visit other places, and Dallas is without doubt the liveliest city in the state, but the Supt., like the poet, thinks "there is no folk like our ain folk" and she is extremely happy to be back with them.

She acknowledges with much appreciation both the message and the flowers sent her by the Sunday school. She returns with renewed zeal to work at her job as Supt. and urges every Methodist to come and take part in this very important part of the work of the church. Be on hand at 9:45 Sunday morning.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

FOOTBALL — B. S. High Wins, 26-0.—Big Spring High School football team opened the season here Friday, Sept. 28 by defeating Merkel High School 26-0.

The first quarter was scoreless but the first of the second quarter McGinnis, right end for the local team, received a forward pass in the end zone, this making the first touchdown. Pitman kicked goal. This started the local team to real playing.

In the second quarter Jack Nall also made a touchdown in the same manner as the first was made. This time the trial for goal was also made after touchdown. The first half closed Big Spring 14, Merkel 0.

The third quarter was scoreless, possibly due to fumbling and off-sides.

In the fourth quarter the home boys began to make good gains on the visitors. "Cit" Line blocked a kick within the visitors ten yard line, Pitman plunged the line for the third touchdown. During the last part of the quarter Hoover made a center rush for the fourth touchdown. This making a score of 26 to 0.

The entire line and backfield played a good game. The visitors put up a good fight but were unable to score.

Merkel—Delbert Polley, left end; N. Harwell, left tackle; B. Bailey, left guard; R. Garrett, center; F. Hutcherson, right guard; C. Suthens, right tackle; J. Toomes, right end; B. Smith, quarterback; L. Acuff, left halfback; C. Paterson, right half; R. McDonald, fullback.

Big Spring—Jack Nall, left end; V. Crawford left tackle; M. Johnson, left guard; M. Frost, center; W. Arnett, right guard; W. Line, right tackle; C. McGinnis, right end; Lee Porter, quarterback; T. B. Hoover, left halfback; H. Wright, right halfback; M. Pitman, fullback.

Subs—Lewis Rix for Crawford; Zelma Gay for Rix; Earl Ezzell for Arnett; Max Merrick for Ezzell.

Officials—White, referee; Sharp, umpire; Stoner, head linesman.

Big Spring vs. Roscoe—Our team is going to Roscoe Friday, Oct. 5. We want every person who can go along and root for them. We hope, we almost know, they will bring back a victory. We want them to know that all of Big Spring is backing them and "betting on them."

The coaches are trying to get a game here Friday, Oct. 12. Nothing definite is known about it yet.

Sweetwater vs. Big Spring—The big games are near at hand. We play Sweetwater Friday, Oct. 19. Our boys must "Fight! Fight! Fight!" It is hoped there will be a large crowd of boosters to go with them. Try to go. It will be more than worth the trip.

BASKET BALL—The girls are starting practice Wednesday. Zoe Hardy is going to coach. We are sure the girls will practice hard and have a good strong team, like we have always had. Our girls have not been defeated for five years. We want them to continue the good work.

ENTERTAINMENTS—The girls of the Pep Squad entertained the Big Spring and Merkel football boys Friday after the game. Mr. Manuel was very kind to us in letting us use the Y. M. C. A. Iced tea and sandwiches were served. The good music was greatly appreciated.

MEETINGS—The Pep Squad had a meeting last Thursday. Yells were practiced and they were good ones too. Everyone was "all excitement" for the game next day.

The Seniors met and organized, Wednesday, Sept. 26. President, Walton Morrison; secretary-treasurer, Alice Dawes; vice president, Earl Ezzell.

Annual Staff: T. B. Hoover, editor in chief; Lee Porter, business manager; Robert Stripling, assistant business manager; Frances Melton, assistant editor in chief; Elza Janett Barnett, literary editor; Abbey Nell Rhoton, cartoonist; Kate Gilmore, society editor; Huddleston Wright, athletic editor; Freeman Meakimen, snap shot editor; Ruth Suttle, art editor; Frances Stokes, joke editor.

Seniors had meeting October 1st and 2nd and decided on the privileges they would ask for.

The Glee Club met and organized Oct. 2nd. Miss Mustella is going to be advisor. There were about nineteen there. Elza Janett Barnett was elected president and Wanda True, secretary and treasurer; Alice Dawes was elected pianist.

Presbyterian Notes

An event of outstanding significance on the calendar of the Southern Presbyterian Church each year, Sunday School Rally Day, is appointed to be held on first Sunday in October every year by the General Assembly, making this year on October 7th.

Its purpose is fourfold:

1. To reassemble the members of the school after the vacation season and recruit new members.
2. To stir enthusiasm and shall forces for the work of the school and winter.
3. To teach a great lesson of vice by a well-rendered Rally program.
4. To make an offering for the day School extension worthy of the great missionary agency of the General Assembly.

Under the inspiration of splendid accomplishment on this day in past years and the urgent need for Sunday school extension in large sections of the South, preparations now being made in practically all of the Sunday schools of the church to make a great success of Rally Day and then go forward with the petus thus gained.

The promotion of the general observance of this day throughout the bounds of the church each year under the direction of the executive committee of Sabbath school extension and publication, through its efficient secretary, Mr. R. E. Macpherson, Richmond, Va. Some conception of the scope of this work and the program may be gathered from the following: (1) the organization of mission Sunday school within the bounds of every self-supporting church; (2) a trained worker in every Synod, every presbytery and in every needy and promising field; (3) assuming the church's share in evangelizing the thirteen million neglected children and young people of the south through personal offerings for Sunday school extension; and (4) training the young people in our churches for leadership, by wholesome home influence and by adequate religious education in our Sunday schools at the hands of trained teachers. Rally Day is not "a one-day spurt" but it is the beginning of a year's sustained effort.

Rally Day will be observed in local Presbyterian S. S. next Sunday at 9:45.

A special program in which class and department is to take part is being prepared. There will be solos and other special music. It is hoped that every one from babies to the grand parents will be present for this interesting occasion.

Coahoma News Items

M. Jenkins, who teaches music here two days in the week, also has a class of 13 in Stanton.

The high school girls are on the streets selling tickets for the Lyceum course that Coahoma is to have this winter. We are glad to have such attractions brought to our little city. We know all who love Coahoma will aid this cause by buying tickets.

John Runyan of the Coahoma garage installed a radio but sold it last week to Pat Sullivan of Green Valley. He, however, installed the second one—had put in the last connection (?) only five minutes before the ball game began in Fort Worth, opening the Dixie series, played between Fort Worth and New Orleans.

Several cars well loaded went into the picture show last Thursday night to hear the Hawaiian music. The school children here enjoyed the visit made them by the musicians.

DeWitt Shive spent Friday at Abilene attending the fair. He said the Fair was good.

Mrs. John Sullivan is this week with her grand children in Snyder. Their mother, Mrs. Smithers is still in the hospital from an operation. She is improving and hopes to soon be home again.

Master S. P. Echols, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Echols, was on the street in his Indian suit, playing "heap big chief," one day this week.

Mesdames Cramer, Davis, Neel, Thompson and Liles; Messrs Cramer and Davis, J. W. Neel and Lucile Thompson attended the M. E. quarterly conference at Center Point Saturday. The sermon delivered by presiding elder Stewart; subject, "Prayer," was inspiring. The business of the day was dispatched speedily and all present enjoyed the hour.

Rev. and Mrs. Hardy of Big Spring, Rev. Cook of Big Spring, who is pastor of Center Point, his family, with some representatives from Moore, and the Center Point people made a nice assembly.

The Center Point ladies lived up to all the nice things that had been said about their culinary ability, and the men to the fact of being splendid providers. The table fairly groaned beneath its load. After all had eaten and eaten, and eaten, there was much to spare. Many who were present went from there to the burial of Mr. Hill, one of the former trustees in the Elbow M. E. church.

Glad to see Mrs. Harvey Echols able to be up and out again.

Mr. Sorrel lost some cotton last week by fire. The cotton was in the wagon when it caught.

There was a bale of cotton burned at the cotton yard last Friday.

Mr. Hutto, father of Messrs Tom and Louie Hutto, is very sick. He is a patient sufferer and makes those who visit his sick room realize that there is much to christianity.

We appreciate having Rev. Cook and family with us for Wednesday night prayer meeting. Jessie Coffman led prayer meeting last week. The young leaders appreciate the older christians being present.

Rev. Holifield who has been pastor of the Presbyterian Church, preached his farewell sermon to us Sunday evening. At his services Sunday morning there was one conversion to christianity. At the girls prayer meeting Sunday afternoon, there was one also.

Glad to report, that Mrs. Sterling Echols' baby is about well again.

The arrival of cotton pickers has nearly doubled the number of inhabitants in the vicinity of Coahoma.

Mrs. Cook who resides near the school building gave the young people a party Saturday night. All present enjoyed the evening. "Wink-Em," "Snap" and other games were entered into as can only be done by the young.

The following enjoyed Mrs. Cook's hospitality: Ruby Elliott, Edna Graham, Louise Graham, Annie Bell Roberts, Jessie Coffman, Paul Madison, Gilbert Madison, Le Troy Sorrels, Truett De Vaney, Jimmy Walker, Cecil Coffman, Jetty Francis, Mrs. Elliott, Miss Agnes Barnhill.

Rev. Green, pastor of the Baptist Church, is spending the week in Coahoma.

Had good attendance at Senior C. E. Sunday evening. The Society decided on purple and gold for their society colors and will carry a pennant of these colors at the convention at Big Spring, Oct. 26-27-28. The Seniors copied, added to, and sent the Round Robin letter to Lamesa, Coahoma having received it from Big Spring.

Mr. Roberts has added to his furniture for sale a piano and an Edison.

Logan and Graham have in their new shoe bench. So when you have shoes fitted there, you will be comfortable, while being fitted, and afterwards.

Up to Tuesday, Oct. 2nd, we had had 1300 bales of cotton ginned; 115 of that number were ginned the 2nd.

A PICTURE EVERYONE SHOULD SEE!

BIG CAST INCLUDES: JAMES KIRKWOOD — BESSIE LOVE — GEORGE HACKATHORNE — CLAIRE McDOWELL — ROBERT McKIM — VICTORY BATEMAN — ERIC MAYNE — LUCILLE RICKSEN — AND A HOST OF OTHERS.

"Human Wreckage" is a summons to battle, a fight without quarter against Dope, against the antiquated and ineffective laws now on the statute books, against the laxity and indifference of officials; against the fatal blindness of governments which could stop this whole, fiendish traffic at its source—if only they would.

THIS FIGHT IS LED BY MRS. WALLACE REID, who dedicated her life to fight this Great Evil. She says: "My personal defeat was a bitter one. The enemy stole from me happiness, contentment — everything, perhaps, save the knowledge that it was not in vain; that perhaps it might be the means unto a ruthless war against this Devourer of Man."

Carved out of the very soul and tissue of quivering human life — "Human Wreckage" pierces through superficiality and plunges deep into the pulsing heart of humanity itself!

It tears with ruthless grasp the black veil of secrecy that hides the drug traffic. It drags into the merciless light of day that insidious monster that spreads its coils into every corner of the world.

In gripping scenes of tremendous drama it hurls into your consciousness a shattering thunderbolt such as no man, woman or child who sees it can forget.

In the production of this amazing film, Mrs. Wallace Reid has had the very cream of the moving picture, theatrical and allied professions to help her — the entire resources of one of the biggest motion picture concerns.

Washington Letter

By William L. Daley

Special Correspondent Big Spring Herald

Washington, Oct. 1. — Problems relating to agriculture, coal and reclamation are occupying the attention of the Cabinet. These economic questions have temporarily sidetracked political and international issues.

The President has put an end to rumors of an extra session of Congress. He has made it clear that no convincing reasons have been presented to show the necessity for an extraordinary session.

It appears that Mr. Coolidge proposes to take advantage of existing machinery to bring about relief for agriculture in instances where such action is deemed advisable. The Chief Executive and his Cabinet will take the matter of relief for the farmers in hand when Secretary of Agriculture Wallace submits a special report which he has under preparation. This study will deal with the wheat situation. Individuals representing farm organizations who are interested in the situation agree that the President is kindly sympathetic and in close touch with farm matters.

It has been made clear that President Coolidge does not propose to give approval to anything but a constructive legislative program to help the farmer. Schemes to fix prices of and to store agricultural products, it can be said without qualification, will not be countenanced by the President. It is also realized that the wheat farmer is the victim of present day conditions and from a point of production, it has been explained, wheat represents only eight per cent of the total crop of the United States. A great deal of encouragement toward a constructive legislative program to improve the financial condition of the farmers, has been obtained from the agricultural community itself.

Secretary of Commerce Hoover is of the opinion that the freight rate structure should be revised in order to bring about a reduction in freight rates on agricultural products. He feels that the freight rate item is the principal source of dissatisfaction among the farming interests.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics has completed a study showing a decrease of eight per cent in the cost of all articles of food combined for the year of 1922 as compared with the cost of 1921. The retail food index issued by the Department of Labor, through the Bureau of Labor Statistics shows that there was a decrease of one per cent in the retail cost of food to the average family in August, 1923, as compared with July, 1923.

A special study of business conditions conducted by the Committee on Statistics and Standards of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, shows that at present there is a general pause in manufacturing activity, and predicts an early definite improvement. The reasons given are seasonal dullness, a temporary specifying of demand, and a widespread feeling of conservatism on the part of buyers. The latter reason is supplemented with interesting comment. The general trend is that purchasers feel the price is too high and it is very easy to sense this sentiment among the public. Building material is somewhat cheaper, but apparently not enough to check the gradual decline in building and construction. The reason for high prices of building materials is explained chiefly by reference to wages of labor and high prices. Agricultural conditions are described in the report as being mixed, but on the whole the situation among the farmers is much better than has been pictured, although there are some "sore spots." Secretary of Treasury Mellon believes that the business and agricultural outlook is very favorable.

It is believed that President Coolidge soon will announce a definite policy with regard to the tariff generally and the flexible provisions of the present law particularly. Indications are that he will follow the program laid down by the late President Harding although it is doubtful if he will prove himself to be so ardent a supporter of the flexible provisions as President Harding. At the same time the flexible provisions are a part of the law and consequently, reports to the contrary notwithstanding, President Coolidge undoubtedly will resort to them for the purpose of either raising or lowering rates, whenever such action is justified, on a basis of careful investigations by the Tariff Commission. The statement has been made at the White House, however, that the President will be extremely cautious in disturbing business by tinkering with the tariff, but this does not mean that he will not authorize changes in rates where such action is justified. It is assumed that the Commission soon will announce its program with regard to beginning investigations abroad. Though Mr. Coolidge has formed no definite opinion on the proposed program of public buildings, it is known that his advisers are opposing governmental buildings at this time. Secretary Hoover and other Cabinet officers have frowned upon construction of government buildings under present conditions, because competition for labor and materials would prove disastrous for home builders in all localities. The suggestion has been made that Congress approved a building program which would result in the expenditure of $500,000,000 in a ten year period for government buildings, principally post offices. There is little likelihood of a measure of this kind passing the next Congress as efforts will be made to curtail Federal expenditures. Reports received by the American Railway Association here this week show that the loading of grain and grain products totaled 46,782 cars for the week which ended Sept. 8. This was only a decrease of 7,882 cars under the preceding week, but was a decrease of 531 cars under the same week last year, and a decrease of 8182 cars under the same week two years ago. Live stock loading totaled 35,716 cars, 3485 below the previous week, but an increase of 6218 cars over the corresponding week last year. It also was an increase of 11,016 cars over the corresponding week in 1921. Surplus box cars totaled 45,245, a decrease of 6677 within the same period. Reports also showed 1435 surplus stock cars, or a decrease of 605 within a week, while 6627 surplus refrigerators cars were reported, a decrease of 118 within the same period.

The administration is without a definite policy for the operation of Shipping Board vessels by the government. A decision of the Attorney General that direct operation by the government is not possible under the present statutes has upset all plans. There is a possibility that the Shipping Board may ask for the necessary legislation, but it is hoped to devise a method which will permit government operation without Congressional action. Inasmuch as the reclamation question will be an important issue at the next session of Congress, Secretary of the Interior Work has appointed a fact-finding commission consisting of Julius H. Barnes, President of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States; Oscar E. Bradford, President, American Farm Bureau Federation, Xenia, Ohio; former Governor Thomas E. Campbell, of Arizona; Dr. John A. Widtsoe, former President, State University and State Agricultural College of Utah, Salt Lake City, Utah; and former Governor David W. Davis, of Idaho, Commission of Reclamation.

The commission is asked to ascertain the whole amount of money expended by the Government and returned to it; the total sum owing but not due; and the amount due but unpaid; the relation between estimates and final costs, between expenditures and returns represented by structures, and to suggest the best approved methods of accounting, if not already practiced; the construction costs and methods employed to get water to the land; the methods of application of water in agriculture; original estimated costs of projects with actual costs; estimated time necessary for completion with actual time intervening; number of acres proposed to irrigate with actual number under irrigation; estimated cost per acre to water users before the work was begun with the actual cost when completed; whether the service lent itself to promotion or sought to determine possibilities and requirements of the locality; whether or not the Government has obligated buyers of water to a higher acre cost than first proposed; if rates charged are impossible of payment from the land; if the Government's service is adequate if the Government has kept faith with the settlers by fulfilling its obligations for water supply; if delinquencies of payment have been unavoidable. Federal reports show that the visible supply of wheat totaled 67,020,000 bushels at the end of August, as against 44,097,000 on August 31, 1922. Prices of wheat advanced during August, while prices of flour averaged lower. The visible supply of corn at the end of August aggregated 1,966,000 bushels, as against 10,007,000 on August 31, 1922. Prices of corn advanced during the month. The apparent consumption of beef and beef products for July, figures for which have just become available, totaled 404,082,000 pounds, as against 409,152,000 in July, 1922. The consumption of pork and pork products totaled 591,878,000 pounds in July, as against 470,575,000 pounds in July, 1922. Wholesale prices of beef declined, while pork prices advanced during August. Creation of a special division in the Interstate Commerce Commission to supervise the coal industry has been recommended by the Federal Coal Commission in its final report to the President this week. It was suggested that the Government should levy a graduated tax on royalties and differential profits as a method of curbing monopoly in the anthracite field. The idea was also advanced that licenses be issued under Federal supervision to coal shippers engaged in interstate commerce. (Copyright 1923 by National Editorial Association.)

MATERIALS

Fashion's looms have woven magic weaves for Milady this Fall. Never before have fabrics been so varied and so beautiful as they are now. Velvet is establishing itself in first place in frocks this Fall and Winter. For a simple dress, velvet combined with embroidery is very attractive. Velvet and taffeta is another combination. One model of soft brown velvet, almost a tan, has taffeta in fine tucking laid flat as a banding around the throat, turn-back cuffs of taffeta at the bottom of long tight sleeves and side pleating of the taffeta for the skirt, topped at the left hip with a large taffeta rosette.

Then there are the shimmering black satin frocks, whose lustrous fabric yields with equal grace to youth or maturity. One model with tiered skirt has the tier repeating itself on the sleeve with two cuffs, one falling on the other and a flattering neckline with a flat bias collar of ribbon-edged white crepe-de-chine, stressing the smart black white note.

Another model has deep ruffles and led slightly to one side, giving a draped line, and has a touch of color at the sash belt. Tight sleeves ending abruptly at the elbow with a riotous flared cuff in cape fashion, give the air of a cavalier's gauntlet. Panels and pleats are combined in some satin frocks and have the charm of tailored simplicity. Then there is the allover tucked satin frock with soft cream lace falling in soft ruffles from neck to hem giving it a courtly air.

POPULAR FALL COLORS

Fashion favors dark colors for the street and autumn's best colors are brown, navy blue and black. The lighter shades are for afternoon and evening wear. Light toned lace and georgette dresses are appropriate for afternoon dances or teas. Net dresses are with us again and more charming than ever with their variety of ribbon trimmings. Just imagine one of white net trimmed with rows of narrow white taffeta ribbon having a silver picot edge, running about the skirt in five parallel rows. Dresses made of the summer tub silks are especially good in the chemise design, with a fashionable tiny bow and long streamers at opening of the collar in front, a plain ribbon girdle and small pockets bound with ribbon to match the stripe.

It is a new extravagance to have underclothes to match one's frock, necessitating having laces and georgettes or other materials especially dyed.

Now What?

If Germany is sincere in her abandonment of passive resistance, unconditionally, and France acts sensibly, there will be a chance to settle the greatest problem confronting Europe.

During the occupation of the Ruhr and Rhineland, the German masses have been suffering and laboring for almost nothing, and resistance to the new order will come from few outside the militarists and bolsheviki, elements which Germany always has in her midst under any national policy.

Sense, financial policy and moral obligation should now prompt France and Belgium to do all in their power to give the German people the greatest opportunity to produce and get a fair return for their labor. To put it another way, instead of, in any way, crucifying their debtor, they should help him to pay his debt. A fine demonstration of such a change in policy would be resumption of German administration in the occupied territory, release of prisoners, to a safe extent, and return of deported German workers.

France and Belgium ought to be able to realize that such is the world's confidence in Germany's productivity that, with anything like industrial normalcy, there will be little doubt as to her ability to obtain substantial financial help. Certain it is that civilization is going to learn, thru the future attitude of France and Belgium, whether or not there's truth in the charge that France's ultimate object is the crushing of Germany, industrially. One road means hope for Europe; the other, a Europe such as no intelligent man can contemplate without disgust, gloom and dread.—Fort Worth Press.

 TRADE MARK

Every bolt and bar made of the toughest steel that science can produce; every piece of metal put there for a special purpose with ample reserve strength to withstand the most unusual strain; and every drop of kerosene that goes into the tank transformed into power—that is the Fordson Tractor.

Whether it is required to drag the implements of agriculture across the fields or to turn the wheels of stationary machines, the Fordson will do all that is claimed for it and more.

We will gladly demonstrate to you this the most powerful tractor for its size on the market.

Weekly Market Letter

The following letter from Daggett-Keen tells of market conditions at Fort Worth:

This market opened up October 1, with about 200 cars of cattle and calves and about 130 cars Oct. 2nd. Very few good beef steers here and prices fully steady. Choice fat steers would bring $7.00 to $8.00 and good medium steers $5.50 to $6.50. Common fleshy steers $4.00 to $5.00. Butcher cows looked a shade lower yesterday, but stronger today and are steady today with last week's close. Good butcher cows $3.50 to $4.25. Medium butcher cows $2.75 to $3.25. Canners and cutters $1.75 to $2.50. Heavy bulls $3.00 to $4.00. Light bulls $2.25 to $3.00. Fat grass yearlings $5.00 to $7.00. Fleshy grass yearlings $3.50 to $4.50. Choice fed yearlings $8 to $9.00. The calf market was steady today, but 50c lower yesterday and on top of last week's decline is a very mean market. Light calves $5.00 to $6.50. Heavy calves $4.00 to $5.50. Common calves $2.00 to $3.00. Calves are too low and will likely react for the better in a few days. Most of the good quality stocker steers selling from $5.25 to $6.25. Common to fair kind $2.50 to $4.50. Stocker cows $2.00 to $2.75. Stocker heifers $2.25 to $3.50.

Hogs—1500, market steady, top $8.00. Bulk of sales $7.75 to $8.00. Butcher pigs $6.50 to $6.75. Stocker pigs $6.00 to $6.25. Fat sows $6.50. Kansas City top $7.95. Oklahoma City top $7.40.

Sheep—steady. Best lambs $12. Yearlings $10.00. Wethers $7.25. Ewes $6.00. Feeding lambs $10.00 to $11.00. Fat goats $2.50 to $3.00

Brown Items

October 3.—An interesting small blizzard struck here last night. Quite a nice little taste of winter. The clouds look like snow and it is thundering some. Those who haven't their cotton picked, or nearly so, are not enjoying this weather as well as they could.

Lots of cotton pickers are needed in the community and picking is a good price.

W. F. Forester of Texhoma, Oklahoma spent last week with his brother, P. E. Forester, and other relatives. Mr. Forester who is of the Primitive Baptist faith, preached last Friday and Saturday nights at our schoolhouse. A very good crowd attended and gave good attention.

M. Michalopolus, whom we all know as "Mike" is one big smile this week, having got a fine well of water on his farm here. As the well is only 35 feet deep, Mike has put a pump over it instead of a windmill. We extend to him the heartiest of congratulations.

 regularly with much interest since we have an organ and new books.
 We expect even better attendance been visiting here, will leave for her home in Dialville, Friday. Mrs. Forester wishes us to say for her that she has enjoyed her stay with the Brownites very much and hopes to make her home in the near future gained here.

The Big Spring Herald

Big Spring, Texas, Friday, October 5, 1923

By Jordan & Hayden

XX NO. 3.

Made It Twice as Nice as Paradise"
 By Edward S. Jordan
 I think it would be a good thing for the people of the States if in some chosen year could be set aside—a sort of period—during which all of the lights would be shut off; the automobiles barred from the streets; all of the telephones silent; all of the bath tubs dry; the Victrolas mute; the radio silent; the aeroplanes dead; the typewriters, adding machines, cash registers sealed. Following this seven-day period would be a real Thanksgiving. People who complain about their light bills, swear at telephone wires, worry about static, complain about speed in automobiles and fret when the Twentieth Limited stops unexpectedly, ought to go back with me twenty-five years to my boyhood for a few weeks as I did. They would appreciate what the University of electrical research, at Nela Park, is doing for them. They would take off their hats to Ford, give thanks to Bell, and some admiration for the man who surfeited with comforts for what our ancestors had a mere song. To go to bed in Cleveland in a car, and eat breakfast on a special delivery letter from the morning and it down from the sky and is down in New York the same day. I have stepped into a motor car in San Francisco and rolled into New York in less than a day. I can drive your automobile in the north woods of Wisconsin and enter the City of St. Louis in a matter of days. People do not appreciate the progress which has been made in this country in twenty-five years. In fact, the world has advanced more since 1823 from the point of personal comfort and convenience than it did in all the years before. A comparatively young man, I was a child my mother's age when she left home and would tip over the kerosene lamp miles a day was top speed travelling. Now I can drive a hundred miles in a day with the other day a man in New Orleans telegraphed me in Los Angeles, the telegraph was too slow.

All this is the products of the brains of men who would not be satisfied to live and think as their fathers lived and thought.

All this is the product of co-operative effort on the part of organizations in which all the brains and all the energy of many individuals are brought together and backed by ample capital encouraged to produce for the benefit of all the people.

No individual inventor, no individual craftsman, no irresponsible or unprogressive concern could possibly have accomplished what these great organizations of men and capital have accomplished in a comparatively short period of time.

The social theorist who dreams of communism does not realize that such public service organizations have gone farther toward realizing his dream than he could ever possibly imagine.

But far more important than the mere satisfaction of our individual comforts, is one great economic truth, so evident in this country.

All of these sources of individual comfort and convenience have been provided at a cost which, when we consider the benefits derived, is so small as to be absolutely ridiculous. —Southwestern Machinery.

The Preservation of American Freedom

After more than 100 years of National life in which the country has passed through periods which tried men's souls and put their patriotism through the test of fire, it seems almost paradoxical to suggest the need of giving instruction on law observance to the rising generation.

Americans are boastful, and the thing we talk most, at home and abroad, is our freedom. We point with pride to our constitution which guarantees freedom of speech, freedom of the press and freedom of religion, but through the years which have followed the writing of that famous document, we have woven a network of laws about ourselves, and built up a system of court procedure, which bids fair to bring about the loss of that freedom for which our Revolutionary fathers fought so valiantly. Our freedom today seems to lie in the liberty we take in making a selection of those laws most convenient to observe to the utter disregard of all others. Inasmuch as we all have different tastes, the selection of the laws to be observed, or to be ignored, as the case may be, just about includes the entire list.

Disregard for the law is almost a National sin. It permeates every level of society. It is not regarded a sin to disobey a law if it can be done without being caught in the act. Often no effort is made to catch the lawless or to meet out punishment to them. Some men pride themselves on the fact that they try to observe all "just" laws, they being a self appointed court to determine which laws are just and which are not. Others set themselves up as judges and jury to correct the evil tendencies of fellow citizens; to define for them their code of morals and to pass sentence as well as execute it, without the sanction of the law of the land. Under circumstances of this kind, does it not appear necessary and important that the rising generation should be taught reverence for the law and instructed to observe it?

Americans should rededicate themselves to the task of preserving the National freedom by repealing all unnecessary and conflicting laws; by reforming and simplifying our court procedure and by adhering closely to the plan of law observance. It is the only way of safety for America. Listen to the words of Lincoln on this subject:

"Let reverence of the law be breathed by every mother to the lisping babe that prattles on her lap; let it be taught in the schools, seminaries and colleges; let it be written in the primers, spelling books and almanacs; let it be preached from the pulpits and proclaimed in the legislative halls and enforced in the courts of justice; let it become the political religion of the Nation." —Farm and Ranch.

Don't Take a Chance

Is your property protected from loss by fire? If not you are assuming a heavy risk. You know what an uphill task it was to save the money to build a home or invest in business. It would be an even harder task to save enough to rebuild or recoup your losses if fire should destroy your property and you had no insurance. Don't take a chance. Let us show you where it pays to keep your property insured. We take pleasure in trying to aid you.

A. J. GALLEMORE, 45-1f. Big Spring, Texas.

Mike Michalopolus has always been a good natured "cuss" but he is wearing just a little broader smile since securing a good water well on his 320-acre tract of land four miles north of Knott. This well was completed at a depth of 56 feet and will furnish 25 or more barrels of water per day, and fine water according to those who have tested it. Mike is now having two hundred acres of this land grubbed so it can be put in cultivation next spring.

We are on the last lap in the preparation of a prize winning Agricultural Exhibit at the Dallas Fair. If you want Howard County to be in the running bring in all exceptionally good crop specimens at once.

Loy Smith has been here this week from Seymour, on a business trip.

Historical Worth of a Man

Speaking of Abraham Lincoln, one of the leading New York newspapers said editorially in its issue of May 19, 1860:

"The Republican convention at Chicago has nominated Abraham Lincoln of Illinois for president of the United States—a third-rate western lawyer, poorer than poor Pierce. The conduct of the Republican party in this matter is a remarkable indication of a small intellect growing smaller. They passed over Seward, Chase, and Banks, who are statesmen and able men, and they take a fourth-rate lecturer who cannot speak good grammar and who, to raise the wind, delivers his hackneyed illiterate composition at $200 apiece. Our readers will recollect that this peripatetic politician visited New York two or three months ago on his financial tour, when, in return for the most unmitigated trash, interlarded with coarse and clumsy jokes, filled his empty pockets with dollars coined out of republican fanaticism."

Five days later a leading Philadelphia newspaper said of Lincoln: "There is not in all the history of his life any exhibition of intellectual ability and attainment fitting him for the high and responsible post for which he has been nominated. His coarse language, his illiterate style and his vulgar and vituperative personality in debate contrast strongly with the elegance and classical oratory of the eminent senator from New York."

In wilder moments some of the leading papers and political haranguers called Lincoln a "freak," a "baboon who had escaped from the morasses of Illinois," a "vulgar clown," and a "low-bred village politician."

Lincoln, when he ran for the presidency, stood about as much ridicule and unmerited slander as any political candidate in our history. However, he looms greater and greater with the passing of the years. His greatness lives on while most of the newspapers that vituperated him have died of dry rot.

You contrast Lincoln's standing in history with the things they said about him when he was alive. There never was a better illustration that the importance and historical worth of a man cannot be judged by the generation in which he lives.

It takes death and the perspective of time to "place" him properly. Most of the prominent people who rank highly now will be gone and forgotten within half a century. And the ones who survive time's sifting process and emerge truly great will be, in many cases, individuals who are underrated today.

The ultimate position of Woodrow Wilson and Theodore Roosevelt in history, for instance, will not be known for at least 50 years. —Southwestern Machinery.

Banks and Insurance

This is no boom article for banks or insurance but published because financial and property losses weaken the community.

In nearly every issue of a daily paper will appear accounts of the burning up of homes while owners were in another part of the state.

Often everything in the house was a total loss, including a goodly sum of money, and other valuables. And the story ends with the words: "they had no insurance."

This is a human interest article to warn such as do not have their home, its contents, and all that is insurable, properly protected.

It is sound common sense to use every possible precaution to safeguard one's property, real and personal.

So heavy proves the loss to almost any family that they are for the time destitute; neighbors care for them and relatives in another state are telegraphed to for funds.

Many hardships can be avoided when one takes every precaution to protect, through insurance, his home, his personal property, his health and ward off losses through accident.

Texas Litter Weighs Almost 2-Ton

Texas now holds the world's record in the National Ton-Litter contest with an official weight of 3898 1-2 pounds for a litter of twelve Duroc-Jersey at the end of 180 days feeding. The pigs averaged 324.9 pounds each when weighed Sept. 1st under the supervision of A. L. Ward, Swine Specialist of Texas A. & M. College and officials of the McLennan County Farm Bureau. The pigs made an average daily gain of 1.8 pounds during the entire feeding period.

This record litter was bred and raised by Vic Hill, Chalk Bluff, McLennan County, Texas, and is from champion ancestry on both sides. The sire is a son of the champion junior yearling boar at the Texas State Fair in 1920 while the dam is by L's Pathfinder that was state grand champion Duroc boar at Dallas in 1919. The pigs were farrowed March 5th; there being fourteen in the litter, twelve of which were raised. The dam was a few days less than three years old when the contest ended.

In order to be correct and certain on every point, the litter was earmarked when seven days old by the County Agent, E. R. Eudaly, in the presence of the President of the local County Livestock Association. The scales on which the pigs were weighed were tested and sealed by the Waco city inspector of weights and measures.

For raising this great litter, Mr. Hill won $335.00 in cash prizes; $200.00 of which was offered by the National Duroc-Jersey Record Association, Peoria, Illinois, and the balance by Waco business houses. On the day weighed, the pigs were valued at 9 1-2c per pound on the market though Mr. Hill will realize much more for them. He has recorded nine of the pigs and after being shown at the Waco Cotton Palace they will be sold for breeding stock. The total cost of feed consumed including pasture was $229.84 making the cost of production $5.89 per cwt. At the market value of 9 1-2c a pound the pigs showed a net profit of $140.51. The pigs were fed corn, corn feed meal, pig chow and skim milk. When 90 days old the litter weighed 1243 pounds; at 131 days the litter passed the ton mark weighing 2025 and at 160 days the weight was 3117. The last twenty days the daily gain was 3 1-2 pounds per pig.

Endeavor Had a Business Meeting.
Big Spring, Texas, Oct. 1, 1923.

Dear Friend:
As convention time draws nigh we all get busy, don't we?

Sunday we did not have a regular meeting with songs and such, but we all got our heads together and decided on our convention song.

We selected this song: "Since the Fulness of His Love Came in." I think it is a very good selection, don't you?

We also decided on what colors we want. I am not going to tell you our colors because then you wouldn't enjoy coming to the convention if you knew all about everything. I merely told you the song so you could learn it and help us out on our singing. Of course you are coming for you wouldn't miss it for a dime. If you know any one that is undecided about coming to the convention be sure and rally them up. You may tell them that Colby D. Hall of Fort Worth will speak for us the 28th of October.

Oh, yes, I really must tell you the dates, mustn't I. Our convention will begin Friday evening the 26th of October, and will continue thru Sunday evening, the 28th. Now, please don't get the dates mixed up.

Listen if you know of any Endeavorers that are not going to attend the convention tell them they had better come again before Halloween for all those that don't come and help out in the convention won't get to come to the party.

I just know we are going to have the best district convention that has been in session. I know that if every one does his and her duty our convention will go off just fine. It isn't the big things we do that really counts you know, but if we can't help out any other way than by being present that will help a great deal.

I was talking to a girl the other day and asked her to be sure and come to the convention but all she did was laugh a silly laugh and said, "Oh, shaw, what good could I do?" "Why, a great deal," I said. Of course, one word brought on another and I finally got her to half way promise to come to the convention. Well, dear, I will ring off for I know you are getting ready for the convention. I remain as ever,
Your friend,
C. E. Reporter.

"Love—Home—Money"

The magic multiple of Love, Home and Money is the keystone of every empire. Americans today enjoy the pleasures of its highest development.

The money appeal is man-made, but natural, because in it man sees preservation—for self and those he loves. Ideas of independence for an old age may vary, but the principle to that realization is just the same. To attain the goal, investment is necessary—either in strong box, bank, business bonds, securities.

The West Texas National Bank can help you, from the first service of a saving department where 4 per cent interest is paid, to our experienced advice on sound investments which will earn the greatest profits for you.

On Plates of Gold.
Why Fighting is Respectable.
93,000 Miles a Second.
Whiskey, Champion Criminal.

One hundred years ago Joseph Smith, prophet, founded the "Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints." He received from Heaven gold plates, mysteriously engraved, and from them, divinely guided, translated the Book of Mormon.

At least, that's his story. His followers say it should not be questioned by Christians that accept a similar story from Moses, about the tablets of the law.

Those that wisely respect all religions, denying none, are interested especially in the changes that have come over Mormonism, still full of vitality after 100 years. Joseph Smith made a particular virtue of many wives for one man—so did wise King Solomon, by the way.

Modern Mormonism, rallying under the purple, blue and gold banner, "Cumorah-Ramah," says, "one wife is enough." That does not mean repudiating Joseph Smith. Many good Christians tone down Jonah and the whale, knowing that the earth is round, do not insist that the four angels actually stood at the four corners of the earth. All life is a compromise.

The Department of Commerce, Bureau of Census, calculates the total wealth of the United States as about three hundred billions of dollars, three thousand dollars for every man, woman and child, nearly double the total wealth of 1912.

One hundred per cent seems encouraging, and the Census Bureau figures may be technically accurate, but they don't mean anything.

A lady asks why the Dempsey-Firpo fight is allowed. "Once," says she, "prize fighters had to hide away in barns, like dog fighters. Now they have the police to keep order for them while they knock each other down. How can you explain that?"

Easily. A big prize fight now is worth two million dollars to the promoters. That makes it RESPECTABLE.

The owner of a little gambling house must hide away. The owners of a stock or produce exchange, where they bet millions, is respectable and protected. We have our weaknesses in this country, but we do show respect for anything above one million.

One single IDEA might be worth three hundred billions—for instance, an idea supplying men with unlimited free power from sun or tides.

There are many times three hundred billions worth of wealth below the earth in mines, oil, gas, coal, and in the earth's thin crop producing carpet of soil.

There are many more than three hundred billion dollars' worth of nitrogen in the air above us. This is a rich country, but we need more people, and instead of encouraging them to come in, we foolishly keep them out.

Henry Ford is studying a better kind of boat to carry freight and passengers. If he produces it, he will add billions to the nation's wealth. The height of mechanical folly is carrying, on pounding rails and wheels, freight that ought to glide, without friction or wear, along thousands of miles of canals and rivers.

To enjoy a good headache, read Sir Ernest Rutherford, great British scientist, on the atom. A thousand atoms in the corner of your eye wouldn't bother you. You wouldn't know they were there.

The atom, a complex unit of pure electricity, of which all substances, elements, wealth, rocks, buildings, money and men are made, is a miniature solar system. It has a central electron which is like the sun.

Around it revolve dozens of smaller electrons like planets. The electron farthest away from the centre, in this miniature solar system, travel slowly in their orbits—only five hundred miles a second. Those nearest the centre travel at the inconceivable speed of ninety-three thousand miles a second.

What horrible forces are locked up in those minute particles of matter? In such an "infra-world."

Who knows what may happen, what generations may be born and die in the fraction of a second? Who knows that this milky way cosmos of ours, compared to which the earth is as big as an atom compared with the earth itself, may not be a mere atom in a bigger cosmos?

The power that holds together the atoms in a glassful of water would, if released, run all the machinery of the United States for an indefinite period.

There's another headache in that thought.

A man asleep and drunk complains because thieves took his spectacles, false teeth and money.

That man shouldn't complain of thieves, but of the whiskey that he drank. Whiskey is the champion thief, stealing not only money, health, reputation, character, but finally life.

ROBS CALOMEL OF NAUSEA AND DANGER

Medicinal Virtues Retained and Improved — Dangerous and Sickening Qualities Removed. Perfected
Tablets Called "Calotabs."

The latest triumph of modern science is a "de-nauseated" calomel tablet known to the drug trade as "Calotabs." Calomel, the most generally useful of all medicines thus enters upon a wider field of popularity—purified and refined from those objectionable qualities which have heretofore limited its use.

In biliousness, constipation, headaches and indigestion, and in a great variety of liver, stomach and kidney troubles calomel was the most successful remedy, but its use was often neglected on account of its sickening qualities. Now it is the easiest and most pleasant of medicines to take.
One Calotab at bedtime with a swallow of water—that's all. No taste, no griping, no nausea, no salts.
A good night's sleep and the next morning you are feeling fine, with a clean liver, a purified system and a big appetite. Eat what you please.
No danger.

Calotabs are sold only in original, sealed packages, price thirty-five cents for the large, family package;
ten cents for the small, trial size.
Your druggist is authorized to refund the price as a guarantee that you will be thoroughly delighted with Calotabs. (Advertisement 41-13t).

A Lesson From Rome

In ancient Rome there were those who kept saying, from one generation to another, that the empire was doomed unless its people returned to the good old ways, and the government quit wasting money. They hated Vespasian's coliseum. They considered it a sign of social illness that the populace, noble and plebeian alike, should rush to see the Subian giant slug the herculean Goth, while the temples remained deserted.

When these disagreeable persons spoke in the street they were hooted down. Rarely could they get the politicians in the senate to listen to their diatribes; usually the members rushed away toward the toga rooms.
All the Rabbits of growing Rome called these disturbers "old fogies."
They were, in truth, dull, tiresome and fond of statistics. Nevertheless they were right. The empire sagged, slumped, tumbled.

History repeats itself. On the same day that eighty-five thousand persons crowded themselves into the Polo Grounds to see the Dempsey-Firpo fight, Lewis E. Pierson, president of the Merchants' Association, addressed the annual convention of the American Society of Certified Public Accountants on the subject of government extravagance.

With elaborate citations from the record, Mr. Pierson showed how this city is getting head over heels in debt. New York is traveling faster than other municipalities toward ruin, but all large American cities are on their way. Most of the states and federal government are moving in the same direction. Tax-free securities, representing the borrowings of state and municipalities, increase at the rate of about one billion dollars a year, and total more than ten billion dollars at present.

No city makes any pretense of desire to get out of debt. It pays its maturing debts with the proceeds of new loans. When it gets ahead a little the treasury is almost sure to be raided by advocates of some plan to bring on the millenium by having the city chase private enterprises out of some public service. Whereupon the surplus melts away and presently another loan is needed.

The meeting adjourned in time to let the certified public accountants, who are really quite human persons, get to the fight in time. Probably Cato the censor went to the gladiatorial combats after trying to save Rome from her follies. Nevertheless Rome fell.—New York Herald simple, cheap and effective. Make a strong salt brine, as strong as can be made. Then spray your hen house

And still, calling it "Bootleg" is rough on the boots.

The fellow who knows how to do everything seldom has much to do.

No good dancer ever steps on the same lady's toe twice in an evening.

The fellow who goes back on his friends can never understand why he has so few.

It's patriotic when aimed at the other fellow—persecution when you are the mark.

Intolerance the Curse of the Ages.

"Christians have burnt each other quite persuaded

That all the Apostles would have done as they did."—Byron.

Might is not argument. Force is not logic. The twist of the thumb-screw never changed any one's opinion.

The agony of the stocks never made a real convert.

Persecution never established the correctness of the persecutor's contention.

The stake and burning fagots never convinced any one of the rightness of those who kindled the fires.

Sensible men are governed by reason and righteousness, fools by prejudice and passion.

Intolerance and its whelp, persecution, always have had the effect of promoting the cause which provoked the hatred of the Pharisee, the fanatic and the bigot. And their help has been in proportion to the severity of the torture experienced by the champions and advocates of such cause. The experience of the past is such that the truth just stated has been translated into the proverb, "The bones of the martyrs are the seed of the church."

Ignorance leads to superstition, and superstition to intolerance, and intolerance to persecution.

There are no two things exactly alike. There is no need that they should be. God has infinite initiative. He is as infinite in design as in creative genius and power.

There are no two grains of sand exactly alike.

No two leaves of the trees are exactly alike.

No two blades of grass are exactly alike.

There are no two living creatures, bird or beast, reptile or insect, molecule or germ, exactly alike.

Neither are there two human beings exactly alike.

Circumstances surrounding life, pre-natal and post-natal, are never exactly similar in any two cases.

Then, if there are no two human beings exactly alike physically, is there any likelihood that they would be alike mentally? And if they are not alike mentally, how can they be expected to have opinions exactly alike, especially concerning things about which no one knows all? Particularly is this true with regard to religion. And it is about just such things that there is most difference of opinion and therefore most contention, strife and needless suffering.

Prejudice nor passion ever settled a thing.

They are themselves the fruits of ignorance and egotism.

Would it be reasonable to torture, or persecute, or even ostracise one because he happened to be left-handed?

Would it not be ridiculous to send one to the stocks because he had brown eyes while another had blue?

Would it be civilized treatment even to imprison a man because he has a physical deformity?

Intolerance, fanaticism, prejudice and passion are a brood of terrors, and ignorance is the mother of them all.

The really learned are never intolerant.

They recognize the varying conditions to which humanity is subject, and therefore that difference of opinion, physical appearance, tastes and other peculiarities are to be expected; indeed, this must be so if mankind are to make progress. Preconceived and inherited opinion is not necessarily correct as to any great problem of life.

Religion is the greatest force for good.

It has never harmed any one, but some of its misguided and fanatical adherents have.

And most of the havoc they have wrought, most of the persecution and torture, have been brought about because of difference of opinion as to unessentials.

The great underlying, fundamental truths have been the cause of but little friction. The trouble has been brought about, as a rule, by the effort to make the other man's interpretation of them conform to that of the one making the trouble—the one who assumes dogmatically that his interpretation of a thing is right and everybody else's wrong.

Censure, condemnation and persecution can never be evidence of correctness of vision. On the other hand, it is strong evidence of lack of spiritual insight.

The fanatic, or extremist, in any good cause does vastly more harm than does he who opposes such cause.

The greatest tragedy of the ages, the murder on Calvary, was the work of the Pharisee, and not of the publican.

And it was the result of intolerance and bigotry.

It was the effort of creed and dogma to neutralize the power of truth and love.

It was pride and selfishness trying to extirpate humility and mercy.

It was carnality opposing spirituality, hell opposing heaven, Satan contending against God.

The crucifixion of Jesus of Nazareth was the effort of the minions of darkness to destroy Truth by putting Him to death in whom Truth was incarnate and manifest, Him who lived it and practiced it. They were not wise enough to know that truth, or principle, or a righteous cause, can not be destroyed by torturing or taking the life of one who is its advocate, champion or defender. This has been the fatuous effort of the impatient, intolerant and ignorant all down the centuries, even up to the present time. They are unable to differentiate between person and principle. It has been true in politics, in philosophy, in science and economics as well as in religion, but has never changed a fact nor the opinion of those who have been its victims.

Be it said to the credit of humanity that it has at least progressed sufficiently far during recent centuries that no one at the present time in what are known as the great Christian countries would be so foolish as to suggest that anyone be punished for even concededly heretical teaching. This for the reason that we now have a better understanding of the teachings of the Master, supplemented with the general enlightenment of the age. The great multiplicity of religious denominations also may have something to do with this, for we all know that human nature is such that were all sects by common consent merged into one, and absolute power given to the one sect to do as it willed, it is possible that a no distant day the intolerant spirit which unlimited power and authority seems to arouse in man would again bring about some form of persecution, if not the rack and the stocks, the gibbet and the stake.

There is more or less intolerance even at the present day, but it does not take the form of severe bodily punishment.

The most pronounced atheist in this day may remain unmolested. The infidel and agnostic, not so extreme in their views as to religion as the atheist, have no thought of being brought to account to their opinions as to religion.

Every step of progress made by mankind in every field of endeavor has been in spite of fixed opinions and the baser passions of men. This obtains in the sciences as well as in religion. Copernicus, Watt, Stephenson, Fulton, Franklin, Edison, Marconi and others of the great pioneers moving against prejudice and fanaticism, who have blazed the way for enlightenment in things material, as well as the long list of heroes who have held high the torch of progress and enlightenment in things spiritual, were considered heretics in their respective fields of usefulness.

Intolerance would drive us back to the Dark Ages.

It would displace modern ocean liners with primitive sails and boats propelled by galley slaves.

It would swap the automobile for the ox wagon.

It would exchange the Twentieth Century Limited for the stage coach.

It would supplant the aviator and the telegraph with the pony post, exchange the wireless operator for the messenger on horseback—a Marconi for a Paul Revere.

It is but natural that men should differ, but difference of opinion does not mean that either is right.

Men have fought and persecuted each other because of difference of opinion on great questions and then found that they were both wrong. Especially has this been true of religion and science.

The peace and happiness of the world rests in large measure upon toleration of opinion in all things—political, philosophic, scientific, religious.

"He that saith he is in the light and hateth his brother is in darkness even until now; he that hateth his brother is in darkness, and walketh in darkness, and knoweth not whither he goeth, because that darkness hath blinded his eyes." — Dallas News.

DEVELOPMENT IN THIS SECTION

Well Nearing Completion.

Oil News of Mitchell, Sterling and Reagan County

At McDowell No. 4

Unless some bad luck upsets plans it should be but three or four days until McDowell No. 4 will be ready for a test to determine whether or not it is a real oil well, and to open a big field in West Texas.

A perforated liner has been set at 3058 feet to prevent interference with the work of running casing to shut off water started Thursday. If all goes well this task should be completed in three or four days, according to D. Conley, trustee of the General Petroleum Company, who is conducting operations at this well.

In the belief of all our folks the McDowell No. 4 has entered a real oil sand and is going to be completed as a sure enough well.

County Oil News

S. O. Edward of Chicago, trustee of the Chicago-Texas Oil and Refining Company, was a business visitor in Big Spring Tuesday. He is now looking after the development of the company's holdings in Sterling County. He informed us that 6 1/2 inch casing had been secured and drilling can be resumed at 1400 in the near future.

Edward also informed us of organization of a new company, the M. O. Oil Co. at Sterling City. The M. O. Oil Company is capitalized for $100,000. Trustees Paul Howard and James S. Meriwether. Holdings are in the Chicago-Texas Oil and Gas Syndicate, the Co-Operative Lease & Development Co., and other sections close to production in the Colorado field in Mitchell County, Texas, and are negotiating oil leases to the Fidelity Oil and the Big Lake well in Reagan County. These properties lie on the Sloan Fold structure that geologists claim will be one of the biggest producing areas in Texas when developed. This company is organizing the purpose of completing the work on their holdings.

The Co-Operative Lease & Development Company have dismantled the well and are going to use the well for the purpose of testing if necessary. Mr. Edward left Sterling City for Big Spring to make necessary arrangements to complete operation. It is rumored that one of the big oil companies has leased the Richardson land in Sterling County to be a thorough test. Geologists claim that a real oil sand had been discovered in Richardson No. 1 about the time the operations suspended and the well abandoned.

Well Produces 10,200 Barrels

Angelo, Texas, Oct. 9.—The Oil and Land Company's discovery well, the Santa Rita, has produced 10,200 barrels of high grade oil since it was connected with storage tanks June 25, according to Carl G. Cromwell, head of the company who was in San Angelo last Saturday, a week ago, to the Santa Rita Refining Company at El Paso and two more carloads were shipped Monday and Tuesday. The Santa Rita well has never been deeper since the bit struck the oil May 28 and went only 18 feet into the sand. Its depth is 3,026 feet, says Mr. Cromwell.

First offset to the discovery well, the Santa Rita No. 2, lacks but a few feet of being down to the level, where it is expected to be struck. It was completed last week at 2,720 feet. The wells which are being drilled from Eastland by M. G. Pioneer, drilling contractor, 2 1/2 inch pipe extends to 2,900 feet, 8 1/2 inch casing is being run.

Rita No. 3, the second offset, has been fishing at 500 feet for signs of tools that have been lost and will be drawn out as soon as a fishing hitch is received. About a month ago Henry and Charles E. Thies & Son, Mrs. M. G. Pioneer and John Queen of Eastland and San Angelo, leased the University land in Reagan County 25 cents per acre or $64 per section, plus a small filing fee. Last week they sold 15 of the 16 sections for $24,000, making a profit of $23,030. They sold the tracts to the Trans-continent. The land is in block 6, 17 miles southwest of Big Lake and 10 miles south of the Santa Rita well. Trans-continent intends to drill some wells on section 6, within a mile of the Santa Rita.

HOWARD COUNTY SENDS EXHIBIT

Howard County is to be Represented at the Dallas Fair by a Creditable Exhibit

The agricultural products which will be included in Howard County's Exhibit at the Dallas Fair were shipped to Dallas by express Tuesday evening. Jno. Burns left Friday night for Dallas to take charge of the shipment, see that it was delivered promptly, and unpack it promptly so it would be in good shape. He will remain there to assist in arranging the display. W. H. Cardwell is to leave Friday morning for Dallas to be in charge of the display during the first week of the Fair.

There is not a doubt but that some of the finest specimens of farm products as are to be found in Texas are included in the exhibit from Howard County, and we are going to secure some good publicity as a result of having this exhibit at Dallas. While we cannot hope to win first prize, because our display is incomplete—due to inability to secure some products listed on the score card—we can make a showing that will cause folks planning to move to West Texas to consider Howard County.

Where we fell down on our exhibit was our failure to employ a man a month or two ago to do nothing else but collect the best samples of all farm, garden and orchard products.

We waited until after most of the crops had been harvested and it was impossible to secure good specimens. Then the coming of rains caused weather damage and we could not secure the bright, clear color in some of the grain sorghum heads. It was no one's fault in particular; each one expecting the other fellow would bring in enough to make up the exhibit. It is characteristic of the majority of our folks, however, that they are willing to help in most everything but it is necessary that someone make it his especial business to keep on the job to see that we do not put off or forget to do our share in these community enterprises. It takes time, money and effort to do most anything worth while, and with everyone of our folks busy as could be this fall it has been almost impossible to employ anyone to help go out and secure specimens for the exhibit, pack and ship same to Dallas and then remain in charge of the exhibit as can be testified to by the Secretary of the Chamber of Commerce who at the last minute was given the entire responsibility of seeing that Howard County had a creditable exhibit at the Dallas Fair.

Boys! How About a Band?

A meeting will be held at the Y. M. C. A. Monday night, October 15th for the purpose of discussing the proposition of a fine band for Big Spring. J. D. Chenault, instructor of violin and band instruments, will be present to talk over the proposition with those interested in the organization of a good band to boost our city. Every boy who would be interested in taking part in this band is especially urged to be present.

Let all interested in the organization of a band be present next Monday night. Those of us who have attended conventions at other cities recognize the need of Big Spring having a good band if we expect to gain favorable notice, so it is now up to us to get in behind the proposition of organizing a band while the opportunity is offered.

Come and tell the other fellow to be at the "Y" next Monday night.

Cotton Receipts

More than five thousand bales of cotton have been received at the cotton yard in this city and with sunny weather in force cotton is being ginned at the rate of from 900 to 1,000 bales per day. Cotton is being ginned out practically as fast as it is received and there are big about 1,500 bales at the cotton yard at present.

Cotton has recovered some of the loss sustained following the government report and was bringing from 17 to 25 1/2 cents per pound, depending on grade, in this city Thursday.

Dr. W. A. Lee brought in a freak stalk of maize from his farm in the Lees community this week. From one stalk numerous suckers were formed until the parent stalk and suckers equalled a big bundle of feed. There were sixty-two big heads of grain on this freak stalk. This specimen will form a part of the Howard County exhibit at the Dallas Fair.

New T. & P. Agent for Big Spring

We are informed that G. W. Marshall of Barstow has been appointed freight and passenger agent for the Texas & Pacific railway at Big Spring. We have not learned just when the new agent will be checked in.

Ted O'Brien Shot at Odessa

Ted O'Brien, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. O'Brien of this city, was shot twice at Odessa Tuesday afternoon, of last week, by two youthful bandits, and is now under treatment at the Midland sanitarium.

The following account of the shooting appears in the Odessa Times:

Ted O'Brien, 15 years of age, was brought to Odessa, Tuesday afternoon by two boys, in a very serious condition after having been shot twice with a 30-30 rifle, once near the collar bone and once thru the thigh.

The boys accompanying him into town were 14 and 18 years of age, and stated they were from California, but it is said, refused to give their names. They were placed under arrest by Sheriff Webb and landed in the Midland County jail.

According to the story told by O'Brien, he went to Judkins Tuesday afternoon to get a load of watermelons and after loading the melons in his car, he was driving west near the old two-story building formerly occupied by O. C. Utsey, just north of Judkins, when he observed two boys driving a Ford coupe in his direction. They immediately turned their car around and after driving back to the building stopped their car and ran to the opposite side of the house.

When he approached with about 30 yards of them, O'Brien states, they opened fire upon him, the first shot taking effect in his chest near the collarbone and the next one striking the thigh. According to the doctor's report both bullets were shattered after striking bones.

O'Brien also states that the boys forced him to drive to an old house three miles south of where he received the shots and had him wash the blood from his wounds and change his shirt and informed him they intended killing him "to prevent any tale being told," and after much pleading and promises not to relate the facts, they were persuaded to bring the suffering boy to town. He states that he promised them he would report that the shooting was accidental, and in that way probably saved his life.

The two boys, according to report, stated they were shooting at doves when the accident occurred and that they did not see O'Brien until he was shot.

W. S. Dewey Passes Away

William Stewart Dewey, one of our oldest and most highly respected citizens, died at his home in this city at 1 o'clock Friday afternoon, October 6th. His death was due to paralysis, and he had been ill for sometime. Mr. Dewey was aged seventy-six years, two months and twenty days, and he had been a resident of Texas for more than seventy years. Going as a volunteer from Texas, he served in the Confederate Army, during the Civil War. He was a first cousin of Admiral Dewey, who won fame and honor during the Spanish-American war.

During the twenty-seven years Mr. Dewey has made his home in this city and county he has held the respect and esteem of all with whom he came in contact. He was of a genial nature, had a big heart, and believed in treating his fellowman as he would like to be treated. Many hearts were saddened when this good man was called to his reward.

Funeral services were conducted at the graveside in Mt. Olive cemetery, under the auspices of the Masonic Lodge, of which fraternity he has been a true and loyal member for more than fifty-five years; the funeral party leaving the family residence at 10 o'clock Sunday morning.

He is survived by his wife, a son, Ed C. Dewey of Duncan, Okla., two step-children, Mrs. Maud Barclay of El Paso, and R. E. Young of this city, all of whom were with him in his last hours. A granddaughter, Miss Alexandra Dunn of San Antonio, Texas was here to attend the funeral services.

We join many friends in extending to those who mourn for a loved one our deep sympathy in this, their hour of sorrow.

Recital at Baptist Church

Miss Elsie Willis and Miss Myrtle Reeves will give a Recital at the First Baptist Church Friday night, October 19th at 8 o'clock. They will be assisted by Miss Zou Hardy, voice and J. D. Chenault, violin. A splendid program has been arranged. The public is cordially invited to attend.

CEMETERY ASSOCIATION BENEFIT

Harley Sadler Chautauqua to be Here October 22, Under Auspices of Cemetery Association

The Mt. Olive Cemetery Association in their effort to raise funds to build a stock proof fence and make other improvements at Mt. Olive cemetery have made arrangements to have Harley Sadler Lone Star Chautauqua appear in Big Spring during the week beginning October 22nd. These arrangements were completed Wednesday with Harry Holbrook, business representative.

Harley Sadler and his excellent company are too well known to the people of Big Spring and Howard County to need an introduction. Judging from the crowds which flock to the big tent theatre everytime this company has visited our city, it is evident they give entertainments that please.

During their visit here week after next even larger crowds should be in evidence since part of the proceeds are to go for a worthy cause—the Cemetery Association.

Very few responses were made to the recent appeal of the Cemetery Association for funds and it seems that it is going to be necessary to conduct a number of benefit entertainments in order to secure funds to make the improvements planned.

Keep the date in mind and plan to attend the chautauqua entertainments and thus aid the Cemetery Association.

John W. Robinson Dead

John W. Robinson was claimed by death at the home of his daughter Mrs. Allen Burleson at 208 Locust street in this city at 5 o'clock Wednesday morning, October 10th. He had been in ill health for more than a year. He underwent an operation for an abscess of the intestines about a month ago and up until a day or so before he died it appeared as though he was on the road to recovery.

Mr. Robinson, who was aged forty-four years, three months and eighteen days, had made his home in this county for more than twenty years. He was energetic and industrious, always ready to lend a helping hand, and was a good and honorable citizen in every sense of the word. He was loved and esteemed by everyone with whom he came in contact and many hearts were saddened when the Master called him to that Home beyond the skies.

Funeral services were conducted at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Burleson at 3:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon by Rev. W. D. Green, pastor of the Baptist Church and at the graveside by the Woodmen of the World. A large number of friends accompanied the remains to their resting place in Mt. Olive cemetery.

To the bereaved wife and children, the mother, brothers and sisters and other relatives who mourn for their loved one is tendered the condolence of many friends throughout our county.

Fire at Cotton Yard

Fire was discovered at the cotton yard in this city about 3:30 o'clock Thursday morning and by prompt work it was checked before the damage was very great.

Olie Cordill had a Ford truck and tow chain and he, assisted by others hooked onto the bales of cotton which were on fire and dragged them to another part of the yard so the water could be turned on them without damaging the other cotton. The fire originated in the outside row among the last bales brought to the yard, so it is presumed that a match-head was in the cotton while it was being ginned and caused the fire.

Ten or twelve bales of cotton were damaged, some only slightly. We have not learned who owned the cotton.

Ramael Wright

Mr. Ramael Wright of Westbrook, Okla., Thursday, October 11th, at a meeting of the Coahoma people, was elected to the position of Coahoma pastor, and will preach at the Coahoma church, Sunday, October 14th, at 8 o'clock. The Coahoma people would welcome a large attendance at the school indoor carnival, Saturday evening, in the school auditorium. Splendid program and inviting booths of good things for the tooth. Let us see all Coahoma people.

Letroy Sorrel's car turned turtle for him Monday evening; no one injured; car a wreck. A Mexican did the same with his car, only a few hundred feet away.

Coahoma News Items

Frank Acker bought himself a new Studebaker Monday. It is the light six touring car. We are glad to see more new cars in the neighborhood.

Rev. Green preached at the Baptist Church Saturday evening, Sunday morning and Sunday evening. His subject in the morning was, "Giving the Tenth," and was enjoyed by a large crowd.

John Cullem of Lubbock, Studebaker dealer, was in Coahoma Monday.

The high school pupils have begun preparation for the indoor carnival. They will welcome any visitors.

We are glad to note Guy Whatley among us again.

The M. E. S. S. was well attended, the largest crowd since the reorganization. Mrs. Frank Logan, having resigned as teacher of the young peoples class, Mrs. Tom McCann, was elected teacher.

Mrs. Mc Price is at the switch board again. We are glad she is well again. Miss Jessie Westfall substituted for her during her illness.

The Senior C. E. had an interesting meeting Sunday evening. The play, they plan to present at C. E. convention in Big Spring, was read. The characters have been chosen and parts are being learned.

E. L. Carter is home from Fort Worth where he has been in hospital for some weeks.

J. Hendricks Tuesday of last week was seriously injured by getting his arm in a fan belt of the Coahoma gin. Both ulna and radius were broken and elbow was dislocated. Wednesday, however, found him at his post of duty.

The Presbyterian ladies have completed the box for the orphans at Itasca.

Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Hart have been on the sick list this week. Both are up now. Jerry Hart has also been sick, but is able to be in school again.

The Bankhead restaurant gives a chicken dinner each Sunday—regular price. Come out Big Spring and enjoy a good old-fashioned chicken dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Logan spent the week end in Colorado.

Mr. and Mrs. Clay Robinson are the happy parents of a fine boy, born Oct. 4th. This is their third child, but first son.

Mr. McKinney does certainly make good chili, barbecue, excellent beef and also makes delicious ham sandwiches.

Coahoma is proud of Buster Neel, who is in the Methodist school at Abilene. He is a member of the glee club; made good in the try out for the football team, and is doing splendid with his literary work.

Have you eaten any of Sammie Walkers hamburgers? Then you have missed a treat.

A. N. Hart is enjoying having his cousin, Elbert McGee of Coss, with him.

The number of bales ginned up to Tuesday is 1600.

Mr. Hendrick's brother of Merkel was here Tuesday of last week.

Mrs. Hiram Langford of Little Rock is with her brothers Messrs. Louie and Tom Hutto, attending the father who is still seriously ill.

The Junior C. E. met Sunday, Oct. 7th with 22 present. The following program was rendered: Song, 147. Scripture reading, C. H. Devaney. Sentence prayer. Song, 47. Bible Story of Abraham and Isaac—J. W. Neel. Of the Exodus, Ruby Thompson. Of Ruth, Troy Killen. Of Esther, Opal Madison. Discussion on Selfishness, by all present.

The Wall Mothers of the Ten Commandments and the Beatitudes were given where all might read. The recitation, "Help, Lord, the Lord," was recited.

For lack of time, the girls and society caps were not made. One new member enrolled.

Miss Elsie Willis and Miss Myrtle Reeves will give a recital at the First Baptist Church Friday night, October 19th at 8 o'clock. They will be assisted by Miss Zou Hardy, voice and J. D. Chenault, violin. A splendid program has been arranged. The public is cordially invited to attend.

RICHARD LLOYD JONES

SAYS

Measure Your Greatness

Mere family never made a great man. Thought and deed, courage and conviction, and not pedigree, are the passports to enduring fame. Great men are not supernatural; they are the natural, the true men in whom nature has succeeded. They who fall short of greatness are the imperfect.

The great men are they who both see the right and choose it, and having chosen, pursue it with invincible resolution, resisting the temptations of easier paths. It is they who point out the way and by their example show others.

Great men are unique only in that they are uncommon and are conspicuous by their contrast to the common.

In the panorama of time the great men loom up like snow-capped peaks above a range of hills. Each in its solitude represents a great spiritual force rather than material force. The great prophets and painters, preachers and poets, musicians and patriots, all stood for, fought for, lived for and died for ideals.

All great potential powers have come to us unheralded and unknown, for there is nothing more simple than greatness. The greatest men like the greatest truths, are the simplest. The great man is what he is from nature and he rises to his height of fame without reminding us of others. It is only the pretender who calls for contrasts. However far above us the truly great man may be, they always make us feel that they are our brothers.

No really great man ever thought himself as great as he really was. No man ever became great by imitation. A great man must give us something new in thought or fact.

Great men never lose their childlike heart. They give to the world a great affection and it is this, when they are gone, which the world keeps and holds for them. Because great men possess this passion to serve rather than to be served, to give rather than to get, to do something for the world, we find great acts and great eloquence most commonly going hand in hand.

The road to greatness is through loss of self in the thought of all.

Dear Aleda: A friend and I had an argument as to the correct way to butter bread. Will you kindly tell us which is the correct way? (2) Also, are muffins and toast done the same way? (3) And is it poor table manners to eat corn on the cob? Thank you.

TWO FRIENDS.

Bread should be broken into a small piece and held at the edge of the butter plate. Then, taking the butter-knife, put on the butter. It is very poor form to hold the bread in the air while buttering it as we see so many people do. Always touch it to the butter plate. (2) Yes. (3) No. There is no reason why corn should not be eaten on the cob. Personally I think a lot of the real flavor of the corn is lost by cutting it off. A graceful way therefore, to eat it is to break the ear in half before commencing to eat.

Dear Aleda: A girl friend of mine is to be married shortly, and I would like to give her a shower. Will you please tell me how to word the invitations? (2) Also, should it be given in the afternoon or evening? With many thanks.

MARGARET V. PENN.

If your shower is to be small and informal, the invitations may be merely verbal. If, however, it is to be a larger affair, send cards by post, worded something like this: "Miss Marion Stewart will have a shower at her home for Miss Chandler, on Wednesday, August 10th, at four o'clock. (2) A shower is usually an informal affair, making the afternoon preferable, but if you wish to include men, the evening is the most popular time.

HELPFUL HEALTH HINTS

Burns (Acid)—An acid burn should be flushed liberally with cold water and then washed with a strong solution of soda.

Breads—Gluten or brown bread is a great deal more healthy and has more nourishment than white.

Poem by Uncle John

THE new names may be smarter than the old ones used to be, but I reckon that the old names sounded mighty good to me. I can't forget Serepty, nor the old time Mary Ann, Jehosaphat, Joslar, even Heersheba an' Dan. The gentle Ruth—of boyhood days—I recollect her well—and Alice Jones—a pretty flower—long-side of Isabelle! A mound her like Jabex was a title that would stick, and I'm certain that Elihu didn't dignify no hick! O, I lift my hat to Charlotte, though she's drifted far away, and I pay respects to blossoms like Evangeline an' May. And, while Heuben wasn't comic in the sacred days of yore, they seem to think he's comicker than what he was before! There's poetry in Samuel and Peter, John, and Jane—I never could convince myself that Helen is profane. I don't complain at twined-lynn or modern Margueret—because a rose with any name, may allers smell as sweet!

Mr. Harvey's Return

It is not at all hard to arrive at the judgment that the return of Mr. Harvey from the London Embassy will scarcely be that of a conquering hero. Nor need we expect that the Department of State will wear mourning. For that matter, the public generally is expected to take the retirement of Mr. Harvey—if it be a retirement—with great calmness. Mr. Harvey has talked freely and at times with an indiscretion which amazed both England and America. That he has been an awkward aid to Mr. Hughes in many negotiations we may well imagine, although the Secretary has kept his counsel on the point. But there have been sudden and significant lapses of the Colonel into abysmal silence. These lapses have invariably followed one of his particularly objectionable outbreaks. They may have been the result of recollection and realization on the Colonel's part, but the better guess is that Secretary had to say a word to the Colonel in the interest of taciturnity and propriety.

There is of course the rumor that the Colonel is coming home to run the Coolidge campaign. It's about time somebody got at it, and the impression is abroad that Mr. Coolidge is a likely candidate as his own campaign manager. Still, he can well afford thus to appear to abdicate that function in Mr. Harvey's favor. By doing so he furthers the notion that he is heir to Mr. Harding's on the nomination next year. At the same time he disembarasses his administration of Mr. Harvey's services abroad. And finally he has the advantage of the post thus vacated for the occupancy of a representative of some section or faction of the party which ought to be placated in the interest of harmony and of the Coolidge boom.

Regarded as pure politics, the return of Mr. Harvey is downright opportunity for Mr. Coolidge. Taken as diplomatic progress, it is a stroke of good fortune for the country. Viewed from Mr. Harvey's own standpoint, the incident is without sting. He probably took the place only as a means of venting the more effectually his spleen against Woodrow Wilson and all his works. Now that he has done that, he probably prefers to come back home where he can talk at will without the expectation of expostulations and instructions from a man like Mr. Hughes—who in good taste, magnanimity and dignity of purpose is about as far from Mr. Harvey as very well could be.—Dallas News.

To Pay Tax to Aid Schools

W. L. Holder, tax commissioner of the Texas & Pacific railway, in a letter to W. W. Satterwhite, tax collector, expresses appreciation of fairness shown the T. & P. Ry., and states the 1923 taxes will be paid soon in order to aid the public schools. Mr. Holder's letter follows: Dear Sir: We have received notice showing amount of taxes due by the Texas & Pacific to Big Spring Independent School District for 1923, $1,750.00.

The Texas & Pacific sustained a great loss last year on account of the floods and shopmen's strike, and is still in a deplorable financial condition, but we appreciate the spirit of fairness shown the Texas & Pacific by the citizens of Big Spring and Howard County, and in order to help out your schools we have made voucher for $1,750.00 and have requested the Treasurer to pay this amount soon as he can arrange for the funds. The amount should reach you soon and we trust it will be of considerable assistance to your schools.

With best wishes, I am,

Yours very truly,

W. L. Holder, Tax Commissioner

That Nice Little Farm

George Bailey of the Houston Post doesn't intend to remain always bound up with the newspaper business, keyed up seven days a week. Sometime he is going to break his chains and escape from journalism into the free, zesty air of the foothills where he was born. Hear him tell it:

"The nice little farm that we are to retire to when we leave this business behind still tickles our fancy at times. The trees along the brook that traces its silvery course through the landscape are flaming with autumn leaves, and the birds are singing joyfully among the branches. Over on the hill the sheep are feeding, and the cows are nipping clover blossoms beyond them. Apples yellow and crimson are weighing down the trees in the orchard, and over on the mountainside behind the cabin is a panel of cornfield fringed with the crimson foliage of the timber. There is within the walls of the small house on the slope near the brook a spring out of which the coldest water gushes, and on the walls are some old-fashioned gourds. The faint call of Bob White is heard in the distance, and there are winds soft and musical drifting down the valley freighted with the fragrance of muscadines. We are going to like this farm, for its ever changing beauty and its manifold voices of melody enrapture us, and its peacefulness and restfulness are alluring. Every newspaper man has one in his fancy, but none is so sweet and beautiful as ours. And we forgot to tell you, about a furlong away where the little brook muffles its sweet song into the deeper current of the creek, across which a log supplies the passageway, are some neighbors, and we can hear the laughter of their children. We have been told the man is a moonshiner, and probably we shall go over and get acquainted with him tomorrow and tell him about the Volstead law and plead with him."

The above sounds well, and as George states, every editor has one pictured in his dreams. Not many years ago the senior editor dreamed such a dream and put it into execution by moving onto a dream farm but he had not been there long until that dream had turned into a nightmare. He fought it out four years but had to give up in despair just about the time of the great "back-to-the-farm" movement set in; and his back has been turned to the farm ever since and will remain that way the rest of his days. We learned that a man had to have some sense to successfully operate a farm and our advice to the dreaming newspaper man is just to dream on and never attempt to make dreams come true.

If the Worm Should Turn Germany is still sore, for she is in worse condition than she was when the war ended. Germany only gave up the struggle long after she knew she was whipped to a frazzle—and as each day was adding an enormous weight to her already overwhelming burden, nothing but pure Germanic bull-headedness induced her to keep up the senseless struggle to dominate the world.

When the war ended, had Germany accepted the inevitable, stopped "goose-stepping and saber-rattling," the entire world was ready to do everything possible to enable civilization to regain its pre-war status. Germany only sulked in her tent—grumbling, and fretful, over her defeat, and by adopting such a course, disgusted the very friends that stood ready to aid her in reconstruction work.

Never for a moment did Germany ever expect to pay any considerable portion of the costs of war laid upon her. From start to finish, she adopted a course of delay—quibbling, and arguing over trifles in order to kill time—after she had very near killed civilization.

In America, Germany had far more sympathizers than she seemed to know. The cause for such feeling was the general opinion in this country that the masses of the German people were not the enemies of this country, but that the war was wished on them by the military clique that held the power in that country—swayed, and controlled, by William the Sprinter.

Another thing, which caused such a feeling of sympathy for the masses of the people in Germany, was the conduct of the German people in America during these dark days that tested the metal in the Man. There were few Germans in America, when the war started, who were not citizens of this country—and valuable ones—but practically every one of them had strong ties of kindred in the Fatherland, and to fight against them was a task that can only be appreciated by those who have been put to the test.

Did the American Germans falter? Did they hesitate, when the moment for action arrived?

Who has the audacity to say they did?

According to population, there were far more weak-kneed, brush-hunting, full-blooded Americans who turned tail and dived into a thicket than among those with German blood in their veins. Can you beat it?

Ever since the war closed, Germany has been in the grasp of a reckless and avaricious gang of commercial free-booters as ever set their heels upon the necks of a prostrate people, and put them into enforced slavery. True to their nature, the average German stopped grumbling when the war ended and went to work. Work is the first name of every German I ever knew. As one of our colored brethren would express it, "Jes' plain, habd work is 'bout all a German man mostly knows"—and he usually adds:—"I sho'ly is glad I'se a niggah, an' not a German."

When the war ended, there was still a lot of money (real money) in Germany. Of course the people had it. The financial group at once laid their plans to get it—and now they've got it—and are determined to hold it at all hazards—while the common people are in distress.

If they had not realized the fearful effects of war, the German people would sweep that country with an internecine uprising, that would stagger the world, and would squeeze a stream of money from the pockets of the profiteers that would pay most of her just debts, and put Germany again on the highway for national prosperity.

They are afraid of any more war—and well they may be—but we look for some sort of a national upheaval, that will again bring prosperity to a war-torn country, equalize economic conditions, and best of all—wring millions of dirty dollars from the dirty pockets of the profiteers.—American Forum.

Of Big Spring Herald published weekly at Big Spring, Texas, for October 1, 1923.

STATE OF TEXAS,
County of Howard,

Before me, a Notary Public in and for the State and county aforesaid, personally appeared W. G. Hayden, who, having been duly sworn according to law, deposes and says that he is the Editor of The Big Spring Herald and that the following is, to the best of his knowledge and belief, a true statement of the ownership, management, etc., of the aforesaid publication for the date shown in the above caption, required by the Act of Congress of August 24, 1912, embodied in section 443, Postal Laws and Regulations printed on the reverse side of this form, to-wit:

1. That the names and addresses of the publishers, editor, managing editor, and business managers are:

Publisher, Jordan & Hayden, Big Spring, Texas.
Editor, W. G. Hayden, Big Spring, Texas.

Managing Editor, T. E. Jordan, Big Spring, Texas.

2. That the owners are: (Give names and address of individual owners, or, if a corporation, give its name and the names and addresses of stockholders owning or holding 1 per cent or more of the total amount of stock.)

W. G. Hayden, Big Spring, Texas.
T. E. Jordan, Big Spring, Texas.

3. That the known bondholders, mortgagees, and other security holders owning or holding 1 per cent or more of total amount of bonds, mortgages, or other securities are: NONE.

4. That the two paragraphs next above, giving the names of the owners, stockholders, and security holders, if any, contain not only the list of stockholders and security holders as they appear upon the books of the company but also, in cases where the stockholder or security holder appears upon the books as trustee or in any other fiduciary relation, the name of the person or corporation for whom such trustee is acting is given; also that the said two paragraphs contain statements embracing affiant's full knowledge and belief as to the circumstances and conditions under which stockholders and security holders who do not appear upon the books of the company as trustees, hold stock and securities in a capacity other than that of a bona fide owner; and this affiant has no reason to believe that any other person, association, or corporation has any interest direct or indirect in the said stocks, bonds, or other securities than as so stated by him.

The Clinging Vine Kind of Folks.

Just recently we read in some journal in which Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont (she has several other names) gets up on the style block and announces to the gentler sex, that marriage is a failure, and we expect so, among her kind, and she says that the intelligent class, the high brow kind, will agree with her that marriage is a failure, and to that end, she advises her kind to taboo marriage, so we guess that the theory of the propagation of the race would be, the socialistic route—Free Love. And in her fling at marriage in this interview, she said of course the small town folks would not agree with her, and more especially the clinging vine kind, and that's a sarcastic fling at the real Mothers of this nation, and thank the God of Democracy that she predominates in the small towns. There is a spirit in this nation today, and it's world wide, and socialistic in its scope, a two-hour day, and all play and no work, and they vow that marriage is a curse, saddled on the race by the capitalistic class as a means for the perpetuity of property rights, the entailment of vast estate, and under the old feudal system, it did apply, but not in this democratic age. But it's not ancient history, feudal lords nor socialist propaganda that we are going to write about in this article, but the clinging vine sort of folks that have everything to do in the nourishment of the roots of this tree of civilization. And speaking of a clinging vine, that denotes that it must have something strong to cling to, else it will not cling and climb and flower and fruit. This year we had a right smart to do with clinging vines, morning glory vines, and how human-like they are in seeking something to lean upon, and it seemed to us like we could hear those morning glory vines cooing and talking love stuff to that post nearby, and oh my, how those vines do cling and cluster around that post, and how they have multiplied, and their swelling buds and beautiful flowers remind us of wedded bliss, the strong post bears the burden of the clinging vines which cluster and entwine about it so gently and lovingly, and flower fruit time comes, and the post just smiles and bears the burden and seems to enjoy it. And say, do you know that those morning glories had sense and a liking for something strong, as there was a small twig right close to the pretty little morning glory, but it seemed to have sense of strength, wanted something strong to lean upon, but female like, it kinder flirted with the post and letting on like some other objective was its destination, but all the while it was seeking the strong. And God made woman a clinging vine, and she sure does like to have something strong to lean upon, not only a physical giant, but an intellectual giant as well, one that can feel the forest, split rails, dig post holes, shoot a gun, man a ship, dam a river, tunnel through a mountain, say a big speech, write a book, edit a paper, orate to the multitude and bring the gang home on election day and sit on a political throne. And say my dear Mrs. Belmont, of many matrimonial aliases, man is partial to the clinging vine, something of the weaker sort, you never see him leading an elephant or a lion around by a string and calling them pet names, but he likes a weak pet, one that will lean upon, cling to him and look up to him, and that's the only kind of a pet that he will shoulder a gun or wield a club in defense of. The leopard can not change its spots, nature made woman the weaker vessel, God said so in the Book. And that was the trouble down there in the Garden of Eden, as we expect that Eve got bossy and wanted to wear the breeches or the longest apron we should have said, and they had a spat, and so Eve deserted the bower of roses, and went off down in the orchard and sat down under the apple tree to have a pouting spell, and that's when the devil came along with his slick tongue and honeyed words, explaining to her about the fruit, how it would make her as wise as the gods, and to this foolish woman, the devil seemed wiser and stronger than Adam, and like a clinging vine that she was, she fell to his wiles and despoiled the beautiful Eden.—Albany News.

Irrigation is Hope of Texas

Irrigation will be one of the chief factors, if not the chief factor, in the future greatness of Texas as an agricultural State. It has a greater future here than in any other State of the Union, though many of them have made much greater progress in the art and science of irrigation up to the present.

Every summer we hear the same old story of crops lost or damaged by drouth or dry weather. Yet close to the damaged crops are other fields from which a full harvest is taken. The magic that makes the difference is the magic of water, which, with soil and sunshine, makes crops.

Irrigation is being practiced in a small way in various parts of Tarrant County. One does not need to drive about the environs of Fort Worth for many miles to have a lesson in irrigation that will not be forgotten easily. One can read the same lesson in the difference between watered and neglected lawns and gardens right in the city.

Irrigation is being practiced successfully on a large scale in several parts of Texas. In the lower Rio Grande Valley and in the upper reaches of that valley near El Paso there are examples of the power of irrigation to raise crops and raise land values and increase wealth.

The great Wichita irrigation system is another example, soon to be in full operation. A great advance in the irrigation activities of Texas may be predicted as soon as the Wichita project is delivering water and as soon as crops are being raised under it. It is an object lesson on such a large scale and it is so well placed for the observation of the State that its effect cannot fail to be important.

There is no need for the farmers of Texas who have lands in the large areas, in which irrigation is practicable, to be at the mercy of the weather's caprice. There is enough water falling on Texas each season to properly raise bumper crops. But the fall is irregular and water goes to waste in one season and is scarce the next.

The modern way, the sensible way, is to impound water when it is plentiful, stopping the ravages of floods and the criminal waste of waters, and at the same time providing supplies of the precious fluid to be used as needed.

The one word that should be emphasized until it becomes an italicized word in the vocabulary of Texas, is IRRIGATION.—Fort Worth Record.

Richard Lloyd Jones Says "PAUSE AND PLAY A BIT"

Life is a serious business, but it ceases to be a well-balanced business unless it is lightened and brightened, sweetened and purified by a wholesome seasoning of mirth and merriment.

There is a wagon-load of mirth in the old adage that all work and no play makes Jack a dull boy. It is just as true that all play and no work makes Jack not only dull but worthless. Wise men work and play.

Play is a duty. It is the filter through which character is refined. Play is governed by the same laws that govern work. Play is the relaxation from the concentration of work. Hence it puts men to test in the life of larger liberty.

Play is the temper test. It is fun to win a game. It is an art, that only the cultivated know, to lose a game and laugh at the loss, rejoicing, sportsmanlike, that the best man won.

He who cannot lose without blaming everybody on his team—those who played on "his side" in the game—has much to learn before he can, soldier-like, stand shoulder to shoulder to win or lose together for a common good and a common cause. Kindness and generosity have their places on the playground. There may be a thoughtfulness for one who is weaker than the rest, or who is a newcomer, or whom, for any reason, others may neglect. There is an opportunity to stand up for those who are ill-used. There is a generous sympathy for those who in any way are having a hard time.

There is an opportunity for honesty and dishonesty on the playground. One may cheat in a game no less than in business, and can show honesty no less. Indeed, the term "fair play" is used in regard to the most serious affairs of life. In politics or in business of any kind, we hear it said, "Such a person did not have 'fair play.'"

There is a great opportunity for energy or laziness, presence of mind or carelessness, to show itself on the playground. In training the youth of our country we should be equally anxious about their conduct in play as in work.

T. E. L. Business and Social Meeting

The T. E. L. class of the First Baptist Church held its monthly business and social meeting Friday, October 5th at 3 p. m., in the church auditorium. The last two meetings were only three weeks apart on account of the church association being held during the week we were to have had our September meeting. No regrets were expressed however because of the short interval as everyone apparently enjoys the meetings and would really like them to come more often.

The "Standard of Excellence," which every organized class strives for, was extensively discussed and after examining our records for the past three months the secretary announced that we were qualified to secure the standard. It consists of quite a few rigid requirements and only a very laborious and faithful class could acquire and retain them three consecutive months.

After the reading of the minutes by the secretary there were several talks and suggestions made on how we might reach strangers in our city and secure their enrollment in the Sunday school.

We were dismissed with a prayer by Mrs. Beckett after which delicious refreshments were served in the basement to all present, by the hostesses of the afternoon, Mesdames Bly and Schull.

During the month of September there were made by the ladies of this class: 37 calls, 12 sick calls, 33 phone calls, 5 soul talks, 2 prayer meetings held in homes, 3 food trays and 1 bouquet of flowers carried to sick, several charity acts such as donation of clothes and funds raised for stranded travellers. If there is any one at any time who knows of someone sick or in need please notify our teacher, Mrs. Beckett, or some member of the class and we will gladly do all possible for them.

We need every married lady in Big Spring, not in Sunday school, with us. You will search a long time for a welcome warmer than that which awaits you there.

Presbyterian Notes

Sabbath school will meet at 9:45 a. m. And at 11 a. m. the subject will be: Christian Depression.

At 7:30 p. m. the pastor will begin a series of twelve sermons on the Book of the Prophecy of Daniel.

Whenever any one speaks about taking up the study of Daniel someone will say, Well there is another man gone astray. Well, I want to say that the book of the Prophecy of Daniel, with its fulfilled and unfulfilled prophecies is one of the most interesting portions of the wonderful word of God.

In view of this marvelous masterpiece of Divine and infallible predictions concerning this earth and its future and the destiny of the nations one can hardly understand why the church of today almost ignores and neglects the study of it. Yet such is the case. The study of Daniel or of the great N. T. prophecy is frowned upon by many. When we know that to neglect the word of prophecy is to remain ignorant of the great plan of God for his people and this world.

Realizing this the pastor of the Presbyterian Church will begin a study of the same next Sabbath evening. He will use the black board so you will not only hear the plan of God by the hearing of the ear, but you can see it by the seeing of the eye.

"Come with us and we will do thee good." And I will assure you that you will at least find a world of food for thought as we meditate upon the key of all prophecy.

Build Good Roads

News items indicate that the Bankhead Highway between Fort Worth and El Paso is being completed rapidly. There are comparatively few stretches of unimproved road now and a great part of the distance is covered with hard surfaced road.

It will not be long before the States of Arizona and New Mexico make improvements that will give us a first class road between Texas and the Pacific Coast. What a change from the days when General Phil Kearney made the terrible trip in the forties.

Good roads develop the country. They mean better land values, better access to markets, better schools, better and more contented people. We can scarcely build too many good roads.—Fort Worth Record.

The Origin of Species

The Indian legend relating to the origin of men has been revealed. The Great Spirit, it seems, fashioned three models from clay and placed each in its turn in an oven for baking. The first one came forth pale and underdone—the white man. The second was overdone—the negro. The third one was well done and brown and just right—the Indian.

When we look at Oklahoma, the United States senate, Germany and other points east and west and north and south, we cannot avoid the conclusion that there is something approaching fact in this Indian legend. There is not the slightest doubt that a very considerable number of whites are half-baked and it is beyond question that the Indians have "been done brown."

It should be possible for Mr. Bryan and the preachers to get together on this theory, with the aid of a looking glass, and end their acrimonious and rather empty controversy. — Fort Worth Press.

Doctor Chats With Patient as Latter's Stomach is Removed

Buffalo, N. Y., Oct. 8.—Chatting from time to time with the man on the operating table, Dr. Hans Finsterer of the University of Vienna, before a clinic of Buffalo surgeons Wednesday removed the patient's stomach, performed a minor operation on the organ and replaced it. The operation required nearly two hours, the patient being fully conscious throughout.

Dr. Finsterer explained that special treatment of the solar plexus, deadening the nerve centers, had made unnecessary the use of anaesthetic.

Physicians examining the patient said he had suffered none of the after effects of shock usual in major operations.

PEG O' MY HEART

Miss Taylor created the role of Peg in the original stage play which has been performed more than 15,000 times

Directed by King Vidor

Adapted by Mary O'Hara from the play by J. Hartley Manners

Peg O'Connell, vivacious impish, roguish--gets plenty of fun out of life from the companionship of her father and her little dog, Michael. One day the news comes that her uncle, on his dying bed, has provided for her education. Peg is taken to England to be brought up under the care of her aristocratic relations--the Chichesters.

Here we see the slighted Irish lass, accustomed to happiness in her own humble home, faced with misery in her luxurious surroundings in which she has been sent to live. We see her caught in the problems of the aristocratic Chichesters; and we see her save her snobbish cousin from a tragic elopement.

But never have we been so truly happy in the theatre as when we watched the delightful scene in which Jerry--Peg's handsome guardian--tells her how rich she is; how the Chichesters really depend on her for much; and, finally how much he loves her. This pathetic scene is admirably portrayed by Miss Taylor and Mahlon Hamilton, and it makes a lasting impression on those who see it. It's one of the most delightful photo-plays you ever enjoyed. Don't Miss It!

Whereas the Heavenly Father has seen fit to call from a life of usefulness our friend and beloved brother, E. C. Hill, a faithful and beloved steward in the Elbow Methodist Church, Therefore be it resolved: That we, the members of the Fourth Quarterly Conference of the Big Spring Circuit, express our sorrow to the brothers and sons and other relatives who mourn the passing of him who is dearly beloved. Be it further resolved that we humbly beseech the Heavenly Father to comfort and sustain the grief stricken family.

Be it further resolved that these resolutions be spread on the minutes of the Conference, a copy furnished the family and that they be published in the Big Spring Herald.

A Mule--or a Husband

Bully for the department of agriculture! It costs millions but it lays a strictly fresh egg, every day. Its latest is a bulletin on psychology of the mule. Just as everybody was sinking in despair over failure to safely and skillfully lead the family mule, comes the department of agriculture with a fine brochure on the morality and mentality of the critter. Listen:

"The mule will not be pulled. He will usually follow quietly, however, if a man will walk away in the direction he desires to go."

"Perfect," writes in 'A Farmer Reader' of this paper who has received the department bulletin. "Them Washington fellers sure has associated with real mules. You can't pull a mule because he can out-pull you. You can pull onions and beets and such but no mule. Them Washington experts is dead right. When you want to lead a mule, take him gently by the halter and walk quiet, posed-like in the direction he desires to go. It's the only correct recipe for leading either a he mule or a she mule. God bless the department of agriculture for helping us farmers!"--Fort Worth Press.

Tuesday evening at the home of Miss Marion Purser the Endeavors of the Presbyterian and Christian Churches had a business meeting. Plans for our great C. E. convention were made.

Both societies entered in a contest. Each society will try to get the most registrations. I think a prize will be given the side that is victorious.

Every Endeavorer in both societies are requested to be present at the Presbyterian Church Friday evening. If you are absent you will fail to learn all about the convention that is to be held soon. There will be a report about the registration. There will be other reports besides. You may be one that has to make one of these reports. If not it won't hurt to come. Maybe you can suggest something we would never have thought of. You can't give any excuse for not being there, only that you were too lazy to come.

Sunday evening we had our regular meeting with Mrs. Dunn as leader.

Our program was alright only we didn't have anyone to play the piano. Our pianist was not there but we had a real good program all except the music. We had a lesson not so very long ago about "More Music." If we would keep in mind how much music helps out I don't think we would be absent from Endeavor. Without music things don't seem just right.

Endeavorers--get after our pianist and make her come to Endeavor. If no other way go after her when you start to Endeavor. If she is not at home find out where she is and get her and bring her right to Endeavor where she belongs.

I don't see why any one does not like to go to Endeavor; as for me I get a great deal out of the lessons we have every Sunday. I am expecting to see all those that were absent last Sunday. We are meeting at 6:30 now and you really ought to be there, not because you think you must, just because you like to come.

Charlie Dunn is leader for Sunday. I am sure he has an interesting program. If you don't think he has come and see. I am sure you will think the other way when you leave.

The program was not bad Sunday evening, so look and see if you are on the program. Please don't stay away if you are; nothing is any more discouraging to a leader as when you are not there to make your talk or whatever you might be on for. Come for the program Sunday.

C. E. Reporter.

I. B. Cauble Wins at Midland

I. B. Cauble, one of Howard County's successful breeders of Registered Hereford cattle, took a few head of his fine cattle to the Livestock Show at Midland, October 4 and 5, and captured eight ribbons.

Among the prizes captured were: 1st Junior Champion bull; 1st Junior yearling bull; 1st on yearling herd; 2nd on junior heifer; 2nd on junior heifer yearlings; 2nd on get of sire.

Mr. Cauble's little bunch certainly attracted much interest and out-classed some regular show herds, all fixed and primed for show purposes.

Mr. Cauble reports a fine show and good sales at Midland.

"John, are you ever going to get matters so arranged that we can afford an automobile?"

"I am afraid not, dear, but I hope I can arrange things very shortly so that we can get one."--Boston Transcript.

Farm Land FOR SALE

We are offering for sale eight sections of land, all in one body. This land is all good tillable land, rich sandy cat-claw soil, with clay foundation.

The land is adapted to the growing of cotton, corn, maize, kaffir, feterita, soudan, and all kinds of garden truck and fruits.

Shallow water may be had at a depth of 35 to 45 feet in sufficient quantities for irrigation.

This land is to be cut into 160- and 320-acre tracts and will be sold to farmers at a low price, with terms. Small cash payments, balance to suit purchaser. One or two crops will pay for the land.

This land is situated 18 miles northwest of Stanton, and will be within five miles of a gin that will be built next year. Good school from one to two miles.

A small portion of this tract is now in cultivation, and from one-fourth to one-third of a bale to the acre will be the cotton yield.

This is an excellent opportunity to buy a farm on easy payments, and as homeseekers are coming into Martin county it will be worth your time to come and look over this fine tract of land.

Do You Know?

The great fire at Berkeley, California, recently, which burned over an area of fifty city blocks, not only destroyed property worth approximately $10,000,000 but brought to light the interesting and deplorable fact that only about $4,000,000 of fire insurance was in force throughout the devastated section. Americans, apparently, will never learn. With the lessons of the San Francisco conflagration still fresh in the minds of many; with the records of the Baltimore blaze not yet dry on the pages of insurance history, and with the horror of the Japanese catastrophe even now before their eyes, men and women go about the affairs of their daily lives and either do not insure their property holdings at all or else, in many cases, fail to protect them with an adequate amount.

Presbyterian Auxiliary Notes

Last Monday the Auxiliary observed Rally Day. Mrs. Shepherd hospitably invited the ladies to hold the meeting at the Manse and her invitation was eagerly accepted. A fine representation of the membership was present and several visitors. The program conducted by Mrs. C. W. Cunningham was bright and snappy. Everyone felt that this Rally Day had accomplished its purpose and the women will rally to the work with stronger zeal and more earnestness than ever before.

Mrs. Shepherd, assisted by the Auxiliary officers, served dainty refreshments of ice cream and delicious home made cake. The social hour was a delightful one.

Next Monday is Circle Day and the Circles will meet at 3 o'clock, as follows: The Whatsoevers, with Mrs. T. S. Currie; The Dorcas, with Mrs. Dubberly; and The King's Daughters, with Mrs. Litter.

FASHIONS

By Lillian Meriwether
TAILORED SUITS

For the early brisk days of autumn, there is nothing quite so smart as the ever essential tailored suit, which has come into its own again, and women in this country do not have to be urged long to adopt this mode. The dominant note in the early Fall suits are the immaculate tailored lines of slenderizing simplicity. Twills of various materials have been chosen for these suits, but some are made of the thinner pile fabrics, such as velvetyne, velora, vellona and Duvet de Laine. These look like heavy velvet, so deep are their shadows and so lovely their surfaces. And however lovely the fabrics are this season, their tailoring makes them more lovely.

Some autumn suits are distinctly mannish in style and are amazingly popular. The box back suit with a hip length jacket in novelty cloths is liked among the youthful models. All the skirts are smart lap-over or sheath models, giving the long, svelte line decreed for Fall. The smart, new three-quarter or knee length coat has apparently come to stay for the rest of the season. There are belted and unbelted effects. The unbelted ones give the straight line from shoulders to ankle without a break, without a vestige of a waist line, without a sign of a flare. Sleeves appear long, slim and straight.

The three-piece suit still holds its place as a happy combination of street and dress style. With coat removed, seated at lunch or at the theatre, only the blouse shows. This can be as elaborate or simple as the occasion calls for. Women are loath to give up the becomingness and the charm of light materials near the face, and as collars have yet to make their appeal for afternoon dresses and formal occasions the costume suit with a part of the frock hidden is sure to be favored.

Many of the smartest tailors are designed to be worn with one's own furs. Others are lavishly fur trimmed, finding endless new effects in fur pockets and novel fur borders as well as in collars and cuffs.

RUFFS AND BOWS

When summer furs became the vogue, the saner women took a decided dislike to fur scarfs no matter what the season and having learned to do without them, they are loath to swathe their throats now in heavy fur. But the suit requires a finishing touch at that spot, and ruffs and bows are back. Pretty ruffs of pleated or gathered velvet are worn for early autumn street and afternoon occasions. They are silk lined and have a silk flower at the fastening, silk net, very full and crisp and a finishing knot of ribbon. Another good neck scarf is of marabout shown in straight-around collars and in boas of different lengths. Some are practical shoulder scarfs, long and wide in many beautiful shades. It is considered distinctly swagger to wear a muffler of wool or silk with the tulle in mauve, gray, brown, black or white or in fancy Roman stripes.

SPORTSWEAR

Scotland asserts itself in sportswear. Bright plaids which claim their origin from the Scottish clans are among the new autumn fashions. There is, also, the sports suit with which envied "English" air, fashioned from the softest English woolsens in new weaves. These tailored two-piece sports suits are foremost favorites because of their all-around adaptability and general "every-hour" appropriateness. The appeal of these smart, simply styled suits lies in their happy versatility—they are equally trim for street wear, for business, and for week-end trips. Two piece models in stripes, plaids, and tweed mixtures offer a wide selection for smart serviceability. Fur embellishment abounds.

Then there are the tweed knicker suits, the kind the college girl will delight in. Fashioned of all wool tweed in warm shades of gray and brown, the coat is well tailored, with patch pockets and box pleats down the back. The wrap around skirt opens full length, revealing roomy, well cut knickerbockers so essential to the hiker's and golfer's wardrobe. Another model has a plain coat with a convertible collar and slit pockets. A narrow belt gives a smart finishing line. The coat is equally good-looking when worn with the swagger knickers or the well fitting skirt.

SWEATERS

One of the smartest sweater notes of the new season is the chappie coat style, that serves either as sweater or jacket, and comes in gayest designs. These are especially good looking because they are of the soft brushed yarns, with collars that fasten at the neck or turn down Tuxedo fashion. They fasten to the side with ornamental buttons and come in the effective combinations, camel and brown, navy and silver, black and white, all henna, gray and alpaca brown.

Fire Prevention Week

October 9, 1923, is the fifty-second anniversary of the great conflagration that destroyed the city of Chicago. In recent times it has been customary throughout the United States and Canada to observe a week including October 9th as Fire Prevention Week, and accordingly Oct. 7th to 13th has been designated as Fire Prevention Week this year.

The observance of the occasion should be a concerted universal effort to reduce the stupendous loss of life and property by fire. The aim of Fire Prevention Week is to bring to the people a realization of two fundamental facts—that fire waste is everybody's loss and everybody's responsibility, and that a great majority of the fires are easily preventable by the exercise of common sense and caution. All features of Fire Prevention Week ought to emphasize these facts, for it is largely because these two fundamentals are not realized that fire losses are so enormous.

CAUSES AND PREVENTION OF FIRE WASTE.—Compiled statistics show conclusively that at least 80 per cent of all the fires that occur are preventable. The outstanding causes of fire are defective chimneys and flues, gas—natural and artificial—hot ashes and coals, matches and smoking, petroleum and its products, rubbish and litter, sparks on wooden roofs, stoves, furnaces and boilers, electricity, spontaneous combustion and incendiaryism. Every great conflagration that has taken place in the United States in the last twenty years with two exceptions, originated from a small preventable cause. Carelessness is responsible for most fires—carelessness about constructing and equipping buildings, carelessness in providing fire protection and enforcing fire prevention ordinances, and carelessness about common fire hazards.

Rubbish heaps are fire breeders. A clean city will have few fires.

Attics and cellars should be kept free from combustible accumulations. Don't deposit ashes carelessly in wooden boxes, against wooden fences or other combustible surfaces.

Burning trash or autumn leaves too near buildings is dangerous.

The careless use of pipes, cigars and cigarettes causes countless fires. A lighted cigarette thrown through an open sidewalk grating is supposed to have caused the Baltimore conflagration.

Smoking in factories, mills, warehouses and shops, stables, garages, etc., should be absolutely prohibited. Wooden boxes should never be used as cuspidors.

The match is designed to start fires, and it does. A single match may cause the burning of a city. Most fires of the same size when they start. A thoughtful husband or father will have no matches in his home except those which light only on the box.

All electric wiring should be done by competent electricians only, and inspected before the current is turned on. Electric light bulbs should never be covered by cloth or paper shades or decorations.

Kerosene lamps should be kept scrupulously clean.

Candles or matches should never be taken into closets or other places where they may ignite inflammable materials.

A stove is a receptacle for fire, and should not be neglected; adjacent woodwork and the floor under it should be protected. Clothes hung too close to dry are easily ignited.

An open fire-place should always be protected by a wire spark-screen. Many children are burned to death by their clothing igniting at open fires.

Gas and oil stoves should be kept scrupulously clean and free from leaks.

Electric flat irons should never be left with the current on.

Gasoline, naphtha and similar volatiles for domestic cleaning should be used always in the open air and by daylight only, and never near any open flame.

Oily rags or waste, used in furniture polishing or any sort of cleaning, should be burned at once after using, as certain oils ignite spontaneously.

Every man, woman, boy and girl in every community ought to become interested in Fire Prevention Week with the thought of extending the activities of that period to the other 51 weeks of the year. Let us make Fire Prevention a habit. The folly of fire waste is the ease with which it may be avoided. Its serious aspect is the ever increasing loss. Safeguard life and property by doing away with the things that cause fires.

The fact that Austin Sherman is to receive of the $1,350,000 now by the Presbyterians of educational purposes is interest not only among Presbyterians but among other citizens of Austin College is now and will celebrate its 100th anniversary next June. Attention called to the fact that he has educated a long list of Texas without regard to affiliation.

According to the local Presbyterians education said to have begun with the founding of Austin College that time there were 17 churches and 17 Presbyterians in Texas. That that year to all have amounted to $600. It is planned to divide to be received from the giving $200,000 to a permanent fund and the much needed equipment have been received from students pledged to the work.

High School News

FOOTBALL—On Oct. 5th, Big Spring defeated Roscoe, 33-12 — Big Spring high school downed Roscoe high school in a game featured by straight football at Roscoe Friday by a score of 33-12.

Pitman, fullback for Big Spring, plunged Roscoe's line for good gains, making two of the five touchdowns. Wright and Hoover did good work, each making a touchdown. Lee Porter crossed the line for the fifth touchdown. Pitman made three out of five of the trials for points after touchdowns.

The line did good work. Wesley Line deserves special mention.

Roscoe's team, although much lighter than Big Spring's fought hard throughout the game. Smith starred for Roscoe.

Line up for Big Spring — Jack Nail, l. end; Chas. Segall, l. tackle; M. Johnson, l. guard; M. Frost, c.; William Arnett, r. guard; Wesley Line, r. tackle; Clyde McGinnis, r. end; Lee Porter, quarter; T. B. Hoover, l. half; H. Wright, r. half; M. Pitman, full.

Line up for Roscoe — M. Leech, l. end; S. J. Parker, l. tackle; V. Blocker, l. guard; R. Clayton, c.; F. Ledbetter, r. guard; E. Duncan, r. tackle; R. Haney, r. end; C. Smith, quarter; M. Risinger, l. half; G. Parks, r. half; G. Williams, full.

Big Spring subs: Lewis Rix, Zelma Gay, A. Gallemore, J. T. Johnson, Earl Ezzell, Boyd Carpenter.

Roscoe subs: E. Whiteker, A. Nemir, D. Handy, J. Standifer.

The following men were in reserve: Cecil Horton, Frank Wright, Wilbert Brown, Max Merrick, Vernon Crawford, M. D. Collins, Jack Martin, and Mitchell Hoover. These men are reporting regularly for practice and are showing up well.

Officials: Potts, referee; White, umpire; Nelson, head linesman.

Our football team is going to play Stamford Friday, at Stamford. They will leave here Thursday night. Abilene defeated this team 7 to 0 and we hope to defeat them more than that. Although it is too far for many boosters to go our thoughts will be of them and we will be wishing to hear the news that they have won.

Don't forget to make arrangements to go to the game at Sweetwater next Friday, Oct. 19th. We want a big crowd of Big Spring rooters to go. The team needs us behind them and we want a victory on that day. Our boys are working hard and we are proud of the victories they have won. Let's hope they will keep up the good work and win everyone of the games they play.

ASSEMBLIES—Thursday, Oct. 4 —Announcements by Mr. Brewster, Mr. Hughes, Mr. Burleson, Mr. Edwards.

Songs—Yankee Doodle and Dixie. Monday, Oct. 8—All students seated according to classes. Mr. Brewster made some announcements. Mr. Edwards told about the game he saw between Abilene and Eastland. He is a great booster for our boys and continues to encourage them for the game with Abilene.

Mr. Bittle has asked that the patrons not phone him asking him to deliver small, unimportant messages to pupils. It causes much disorder. The classes being disturbed for mere trifles. He will be glad to deliver any important messages to students but has asked that he be not requested to deliver unimportant ones.

There are now thirty-two students in high school who are certified seniors. There will likely be more later on. They will graduate provided they do not fail in some of this year's work.

THE SCHOOLS WILL OBSERVE FIRE PREVENTION WEEK — This week has been designated as Fire Prevention Week. Our schools all over town are to be thoroughly inspected. We wish to act in accord with the wishes of our governor and also try to prevent any fires that would destroy valuable property. Special programs have been arranged for Thursday. Each school in the city has a program of its own. The one at the high school will be especially interesting as special speakers have been arranged for. The following is the Proclamation of the Governor:

The fire loss in this State for 1922. In round numbers, is Fifteen Million Dollars. It equals the entire taxable values of many of the prosperous farming and stock raising counties of Texas. It falls in excess of the wealth of the major percentage of our thriving cities and towns. Many leading European nations, whose civilization we delight in contrasting with our own for the purpose of advertising our superiority, have a per capita fire loss of less than Fifty Cents, while ours is from Three to Four Dollars for each man, woman and child in the State. Some sage has said that comparisons are odious. This one certainly should be so, because it is a scathing arraignment of our habits, a terrific indictment against our efficiency, and a withering rebuke to our civilization. The two extremes in economics are those that create wealth and those who destroy it.

When the wealth created serves the purposes of man it follows a God-directed course. But when this wealth is permitted through design or carelessness to be consumed by the fire-god, the ends of the Divine scheme has failed. Fires that destroy the fruits of honest labor are to be guarded against with unflinching zeal. There is no warmth that pleases the flesh or soothes the soul in a burning structure. There is no poetry in a fire that destroys. There is no warmth of good cheer in a blazing home. Only misery and want and woe can echo from homes destroyed, from business houses wrecked, from savings vanished by way of the fire route.

Fires are the fruits of human acts of commission and omission. They do not start of their own accord. They always have in close partnership a known or unknown human agency. This being the case, why not cultivate a little foresight? Why not keep your premises clear of trash, of litter, of waste and all such excellent fire food?

In order, therefore, to arouse our people to a proper sense of the danger of fire, I, Pat M. Neff, Governor of the State of Texas, do hereby proclaim and designate Oct. 7th to 13th, as Fire Prevention Week and suggest that the people of Texas observe said week by cleaning up their premises, removing all rubbish and waste and seeing to it that all heating apparatuses, chimneys and flues are safe for the winter season.

Let all Theatres, Schools, Public Halls, Asylums, Hotels, Private Institutions, and all places of assembly be carefully inspected by those in charge, looking to the elimination of all fire hazards.

It is to be hoped that all municipal officers throughout the State will show recognition of said Fire Prevention Week by some appropriate formality to the end that fire dangers and simple means of fire prevention be brought to the attention of our people.

Permit me to suggest that all mayors in this State issue proclamations, calling to the attention of our people the importance of fire prevention week, and requesting strict observance of same.

Given Under My Hand, and Seal of the State of Texas, at the Capitol in the City of Austin, on the 14th day of September, A. D. 1923.

Methodist Sunday School Notes
Everything looked so nice last Sunday morning at Sunday school. Great clusters of pink geraniums from the Towler's breathed of June instead of October and beautiful roses also. It may have been the rose-colored glasses of affection but somehow all the teachers and students appeared far better looking than usual. The new fall clothes may have been partly responsible.

Only two teachers were absent, and one of them had secured her own substitute, a courtesy greatly appreciated. Our new pianist and treasurer, Miss Mariam McDonald, was on hand and gave us a very pretty instrumental number for assembly.

Mr. Witten reported that his class of boys had doubled their number, and intended to keep on growing. He thinks his class an A1 and the boys are bound to live up to his opinion of them.

Mrs. Sloan's primary boys gave Scripture quotations from the cards she has been giving for attendance. We had the O. H. Morris family from Lamesa as visitors and very welcome ones. It was such a beautiful morning we should have had our 300 present. Let the absentees come this Sunday. The lessons for the last quarter of the year are more interesting than ever. Come and listen to them. Bring some one else along.

Hospital Nearing Completion

The Shriners of Big Spring and particularly those who belong to Hella Temple, are very proud in the fact that the Childrens Hospital, which has been in the course of construction at Dallas for over a year, is nearing completion. Recent announcements indicate that the Hospital will be dedicated on Thursday, November 15th, which date falls during the Progress of the Scottish Rite Reunion. Elaborate plans are now being worked out for one of the most interesting Shrine and Masonic gatherings ever witnessed in North Texas. Prominent speakers will tell of the aims and purposes of the Hella Temple Childrens Hospital and Shriners from every section of North Texas will be present to witness the beginning of this wonderful institution.

The Hella Temple Childrens Hospital is to cost over $250,000 and was built by an appropriation from Hella Temple and through the generosity of its members in making individual contributions. The Hospital will be maintained by Hella Temple and its members.

The Fall-Ceremonial of the Dallas Shrine Temple will be held two days later, Saturday, November 17th and co-incident with the opening of the Hospital the officers of Hella Temple are now engaged in organizing an extra ordinary large class of candidates for the occasion.

Only charity patients will be admitted to the Shrine Hospital and without regard to nationality, religion or fraternal affiliations of the parents. The only requirements being that the child must be correct mentally and under fourteen years of age.

Pending the erection of the Hospital, Hella Temple has, during the past two years, maintained a clinic for the treatment of crippled children. 400 cases have been handled in this manner some 300 of which have required operations, most of which have been done successfully.

R. L. Price is the local representative of the Potentate of Hella Temple.

Who Would Hide the Faults of His Town Rather Than Correct Them Is a False Friend to the Community

Jewish Control Only a Bugbear

Every now and then some panic-stricken person shrieks to Heaven that the Jews are rapidly getting control of the United States.

When Henry Ford opened his attack on the Jews every province is to settle the affairs of nations on the street corner, said that settled Henry. If he ever had political ambitions he might as well abandon them.

Then came the cry of the Ku Klux Klan—a large, influential secret organization was needed to keep the Jews in check. An examination of the facts, however, show the absurdity of this ringing of the alarm. Of more than fifteen and a half million Jews in the world only 8,602,150 live in the United States. Of those, 1,648,012, representing 29 per cent of the total population, live in the City of New York. The heart of the big town, Manhattan, houses 657,101. Brooklyn has 604,380. The strongest percentage, 38 per cent of the residents, is shown in the Bronx, where 278,169 Jews live and have their being.

The majority of the Jews in America are quartered in the large cities, including Chicago, Philadelphia, Boston, Cleveland, St. Louis, Pittsburg and, let us not forget, Detroit.

More than 67 per cent of the world's Jews live in Europe, according to the year book for 1923-24, compiled by Harry Schneiderman. Poland contains 3,500,000, Russia 3,113,066, the British Empire 795,466, Germany has 615,000, Hungary 498,000, France and its possessions 411,500, the Irish Free State 5,161, the rest being found in Czecho-Slovakia and Austria.

It is interesting to note that in Palestine there are only 704 Jews, so that so far as America is concerned, New York truly be said to be the new Jerusalem.

When Japan's earthquake casts gloom over thousands of city slappers because it spalled a jump in the price of silk stockings. It is easy to see the intricacy of our business machinery. Also we see how confidence turns even our vanities into influences that work for peace and the inescapable advancement of mankind.

A New York builder the other day said he was having a hard time with labor. He could not get any kind of labor under a dollar an hour, but he could get all the college engineers he wanted for $25 a week. Of these days we may hear of the professional men going on strike, but then what?

Don't be impatient, good people. It will not be long before you will be told for whom you may vote for President of the United States. Have patience—and wait.

EXTRAVAGANCE

Extravagance is a prolific source of dishonesty. Extravagance may be defined as a foolish expense, or expense disproportionate to one's means.

Such extravagance may be found in all grades of society, but it is chiefly apparent among the rich, those aspiring to wealth, and those wishing to be thought affluent. In other words, it is the overreaching of social ambition, longanquity and competition. In order to make a social demonstration the young man spends, borrows, steals in order that he may keep up appearances. When the young man goes beyond his legitimate income to purchase theater boxes, and finance automobile parties, frequent golf links and other places where the idle and indifferent congregate, he is both mentally and morally dishonest.

The man who tries to appear to be something which he is not is a social thief. In order to keep that appearance before the public he has to actually steal. In fact, extravagance, which is the expenditure of money unnecessarily, and the expenditure of money beyond the realms and boundaries of legitimate incomes, is but another word for larceny; trying to steal public opinion and therefore stealing the money of others in order to perpetuate the show.

Some are ambitious of fashionable society, and will gratify their vanity at any expense. The victim is straitened for money; without it he must abandon his rank; for fashionable society remorselessly rejects all butterflies which have lost their brilliant color. Therefore, the young man who is extravagant and ambitious must choose between honesty and mortifying exclusion, or gaiety purchased by dishonesty.

The extravagant person is dishonest.

County Judge's Order

THE STATE OF TEXAS

County of Howard,

WHEREAS, on the 14th day of September, A. D. 1923, two petitions were presented to me, one of them being signed by a majority of the legally qualified voters of common school district No. 13, in Howard County, Texas, and one of them being signed by a majority of the legally qualified voters of common school district No. 20, in Howard County, Texas, said districts being contiguous common school districts in Howard Co., Texas, praying that the County Judge of Howard County Texas, order an election to be held in each of said districts, to-wit: Common school districts Nos. 13 and 20, in Howard County, Texas, to determine whether or not the said districts shall be consolidated as provided for by Acts of 36th Legislature of Texas, Second Called Session, Chapter 65, the new consolidated districts to be known as consolidated common school district No. 13, and said petitions being in every respect in conformity with law;

Now, therefore, I, James T. Brooks, in my capacity as County Judge of Howard County, Texas, do hereby order that an election be held on the 13th day of October, A. to Know You Are Educated.

When is one educated in the best way? A professor in the University of Chicago is said to have told his pupils he should consider them truly educated when they could answer affirmatively these 14 questions:

1. Has your education given you the ability to handle all good causes and to espouse them?
2. Has it made you public-spirited?
3. Has it made you a brother to the weak?
4. Have you learned how to be a friend and keep them?
5. Do you know what it is to be kind yourself?
6. Can you look an honest man in the eye?
7. Do you see anything to love in a child?
8. Will a lonely dog follow you on the street?
9. Can you be high-minded and kind in the meaner drudgeries of life?
10. Do you think washing dishes is as noble as piano playing?
11. Are you good for anything to yourself? Can you be happy alone?
12. Can you look out on the world and see anything except dollars and cents?
13. Can you look into the mud of the wayside and see anything to be learned from it?
14. Can you look into the stars? Can you see beyond the stars? Can you claim relationship with the stars?—The Progressive Farmer.

What Saving Will Do For You

The absence of plain, self denying New England thrift is one of the great weaknesses of our Southern people. "A penny saved" is not only a penny earned, but if properly invested will soon earn another penny. It would be a fine thing for the South if every pupil were required to start a savings account, even if the child had only a quarter to start with. It is the practice of thrift and saving started early in life that will help make adult Southerners independent. A friend of mine sent me a circular the other day which admirably illustrates this point; and I give it herewith:—

"The teacher in the Economy Class asked his pupils how best to save $300. They could not answer and requested him to explain. 'Do not spend it,' said the teacher, and put the following statement on the board: 'The average man's income for each year is about $300 over necessary expenses. If this amount were invested each year at 6 per cent compounded annually, the following results would be secured:

$300 for 5 years.....	$ 1,792.50
$300 for 10 years.....	$ 4,191.60
$300 for 15 years.....	$ 7,401.90
$300 for 20 years.....	$11,697.90
$300 for 25 years.....	$17,446.80

"From the above table, it appears that any boy who early learns the habit of thrift and regularly works and saves his money ought to be well-to-do at the age of forty-five.—The Progressive Farmer.

Moving Meat Market

Protect Your Cotton

When the market is continually rising, and all reports are bullish, many farmers carry their cotton home, or leave it in the open cotton yard. As a rule their intention is to sell or remove to a warehouse within a very short time, but often this is neglected, and the cotton is damaged for more than the advance in price.

Many farmers have an erroneous idea that the bale will absorb moisture. Selling moisture at 30 cents per pound would be a good business, but remember the spinners have outwitted the farmers at every turn, and it is not likely that they will pay 30 cents per pound for this moisture.

When cotton is selling for around $150 per bale, it is valuable property and should be treated as such. Baled cotton is very susceptible to damages when left outside; it is also very inflammable and should be insured.

When cotton is worth around 30 cents per pound, it is bad business to allow a damage of from five pounds to 200 pounds. The farmer pays this damage, either in dock weight or a lower price per pound.

Store your cotton in a warehouse or in a shed at home, if this is impossible, place timbers under the bale and cover with wagon sheet, boards or other available material. Farm and Ranch.

1923 an Exceptional Favorable Year for Cooperatives

Associations organized for the cooperative marketing of cotton were much more successful in 1922-23 than in 1921-22. There were two reasons for their greater success this year: First, they had a year's experience behind them, and second, the trend of the cotton market was much more in their favor in 1922-23 than in 1921-22.

In 1922-23 a large per cent of farmers who sold cotton as individuals dumped their crop early in the season while prices were relatively low. On the other hand the cooperatives sold gradually over a longer period and on a rising market. It does not require exceptional mercantile skill to sell successfully on a rising market, and for this reason, we do not believe that the success of this year can be taken as a criterion of what may be expected of the associations over a period of years. However, the results of two year's experience in the cooperative marketing of cotton have proved conclusively that the pooling plan is economically sound and can be put into practical operation when handled by efficient men.—The Progressive Farmer.

North Carolina County Leads

"Mothers in Anson County, North Carolina, who canned 260 quarts of soup mixtures and tomatoes for the use of their children during the winter have given that food to be used in the noon lunches which the children will receive in school. This sort of preparedness is quite new and worthy of imitation. Hot school lunches are known to be of great value to the youngsters who consume them during the winter. What could be wiser, then, than for the mothers, who know that their children will need them, to prepare the food for their especial benefit?"—Baltimore Sun.

If every rural school had a canning club and a cooking club, or the two combined in one, the hot lunch problem would be solved for them. The preparation of a soup or a vegetable stew would be a simple matter. In some cities school children consider themselves badly treated if they can not have hot lunch every day. Under weather conditions in most rural communities the hot lunch at school is more important than in the cities. The delicious lunches that can be prepared in these country schools would make the city children envious.

My Share in Making Highways Safe

(Essay by Theodora Poole, of Pontiac and Lansing, Michigan. Chosen as Best of 400,000 papers by elementary school pupils.)

In a game each person has his part to play. Let us think of the task of making a nation safe as a game in which each has his place to fill and his bit to do.

One might suppose we children have very little to do with the safety of our nation, but we are the coming generation and in our time shall uphold better and safer highways.

As in a game, there are rules to follow. These things we must do: Always observe traffic before crossing a street.

When walking on a road keep to the left to meet on-coming vehicles.

Learn automobile signals to know what a motorist means to do.

When alighting from a street car stand until sure of a safe way to curb. Help those in need.

Keep close to the curb when riding a bicycle, and give correct signals when turning.

Thus we shall spread our safety interest and information.

Now come the things we must not do, rules just as important if we are to play the safety game.

Don't hurry! Most accidents are caused by the desire to save a few seconds.

Never play in the streets nor dash before moving vehicles.

Never jay-walk.

Never steal rides.

Never make a blind dash across a thoroughfare.

Never stand in the street while waiting for a car—you are safer on the curb. One cannot always stand on his rights.

A child's part in this Safety Game is to keep from being "tagged" by an automobile. In the many automobile accidents in which the driver is blameless, a pitifully large number of children are victims.

Then there are always drivers who consider that responsibility ceases with the tooting of the horn. Since we stand less firmly than a telephone pole we had better be out of their way.

Our Code is a Code of Honor. Nobody can make us play fair. Our schools foster athletics to encourage clean sport. More important than ordinary athletics is the game in which we save the sorrow of accidents and loss of life. If I could feel that by joining this Safety Team I had saved one little child, I would consider my effort better spent than if I had won highest honors in athletics.

These things children can do. It is because of the splendid foresight of our elders that we are having these things laid before us while we are of an age when it is easy to learn. Much time, money, and thought are being spent to teach us safer ways. And if we become men and women who think safety and act sanely we shall have a nation of happier and safer people.

"ALWAYS BE CAREFUL."

Too Much and Not Enough

We have too much politics and not enough politicians in this country—too many followers and not enough leaders.

From coast to coast and from Canada to the gulf we see our political machinery in the hands of a few, controlled by professionals who make use of every known trick in order to prevent the great mass of voters from expressing their free and unhampered will at the polls.

In many cases they regard the public as sheep, expected to follow the bell wether wherever he goes. If you can turn enough tricks for the bell wether you may swallow a political plum as your reward. If not, you will be permitted to vote — as the bell wether suggests. No tricks, no plums.

Every voter should be a politician, a leader. He should study political conditions and insist upon the placing of our best men in public office.

A good republican is better than a poor democrat, and a good democrat is preferable to a poor republican. Yellow dogs should not be elected merely because they wear the party collar.

Inactive Liver

"I have had trouble with an inactive liver," wrote Mrs. S. Nichols, of 4412 Spencer St., Houston, Texas. "When I would get constipated, I would feel a light, dizzy feeling in my head. To get up in the morning with a lightness in the head and a trembly feeling is often a sign that the stomach is out of order. For this I took Theford's Black-Draught, and without a doubt can say I have never found its equal in any liver medicine. It not only cleans the liver, but leaves you in such a good condition. I have used it a long time, when food does not seem to set well, or the stomach is a little sour."

All Singers Called to Meet

Every singer in Howard County is urged to attend a meeting to be held at the Christian Church in Big Spring at 7:30 o'clock tonight, Friday, Oct. 12th.

This meeting is called by O. Dufferly, president of the Choral Club, for the purpose of organizing a permanent Choral Club.

Howard County has a large number of fine singers and if they would band together in a permanent organization, secure a capable director, and have regular song services it would certainly be fine.

Here's hoping a large number of singers attend the meeting.

When you feel like giving somebody a "piece of your mind" it's an indication that you need it and should hang onto it.
