DEVELOPMENT THIS SECTION

McDowell Well No. 3

The mystery surrounding it has caused many operators to conclude that it is too deep to affect an extension of production, and completely upset dope on the trend of the new field.

There are a number of others, however, who hold firmly to the belief that the test is not as deep as generally believed and will effect a notable extension to the field. This is strengthened by the preparations now in evidence to complete. It is believed shut down in time, near the producing level. Eight-inch casing is in the hole, and six-inch will be run in the near future, it is declared here.

Informed circles in all Midcontinent centers from Houston to Tulsa are firm in the conviction that the much-discussed deal involving the sale of a good block of acreage and a pipe line to the new field is still on.

Reagan County

Developments at the Big field show much activity. Many new wells recently being drilled by various companies now drilling the Big Lake Oil fields the center of attraction for four locations within a mile of each other. The latest well being drilled is the Reagan County well, which is down to 2,850 feet, near the top of the Reagan formation. It is believed to be producing at 525 feet.

At present building rig will be under way in a few days. It has been drilled to a depth of 2,850 feet, with fast progress being made.

Arkansas Fuel

South of the producing well, the producing well has been halted while fishing for gas. The well is now being drilled to a depth of 725 feet. It is believed to be producing at 525 feet.

Howard County

Howard County, of which Big Spring is the county seat, is especially strong on cotton, of which 22,000 to 25,000 bales will be raised this year, against 20,000 last year, said Miss Nell Hatch, secretary of the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce, who is here in charge of the exhibit at the State Fair. The exhibit contains a wide variety of products in addition to cotton and is ornamented with fresh apples, peaches, pears and grapes and late cantaloupes. Six varieties of grain sorghum are shown, besides sweet potatoes, pumpkins, wheat and oats and many other choice products of the field and garden.—Dallas News.

5039 Bales Cotton Received

Up to Thursday morning public weigher T. W. Angel reported 5,039 bales of cotton received at the local yard, which is now at the Big Spring Compress.

The price of cotton was up a little Thursday with a price of 21 1/4c to 21 1/2c per pound.

With approximately 1200 bales of cotton received at Coahoma up to Thursday the total for Howard County is now more than 6,200 bales. Cotton is rolling into Big Spring now at the rate of nearly 300 bales per day.

Makes a High Record at Sul Ross

Miss Trevelyn Petty of Big Spring, who attended Sul Ross State Teachers College, Alpine, during the summer session of 1924, has received a personal letter from President Morelock congratulating her on her high scholastic attainments. Miss Petty was registered for four courses in the college, and she made a straight "A" record. She is a student at Sul Ross this winter, and is an assistant in the college library.

Shafer-Carter

On Thursday, October 9th, 1924, at Big Lake, Texas, Miss Maud C. Carter and Ben M. Shafer were married. Judge Pitman officiating. Immediately after the ceremony the happy couple left for South Texas and Old Mexico to spend their honeymoon. They will be at home to their friends later at Del Rio, Texas.

Big Spring Defeats Stanton

A good game of football was witnessed at Stanton Wednesday afternoon. The Stanton team, while defeated, showed wonderful improvement and it was a hard fought game from start to finish. The Big Spring team won by a score of 17 to 0.

Fay Harding left last Saturday for Galveston to undergo a medical examination.

OLDER BOYS DISTRICT CONFERENCE

One Hundred and Fifty Delegates to be Here October 25-26-27 to Attend West Texas Meeting

To be held in The First Baptist Church, Big Spring, Texas, Friday, Saturday and Sunday, October 24-25-26, 1924, under auspices of The State Executive Committee Texas Young Men's Christian Association. General Theme: "Training for Service."

The Older Boys' Conferences have been conducted for twelve years by the State Executive Committee, and are promoted by the State Boys' Work Committee, of which R. E. L. Sheard, Clem Lumber Company, Dallas, is chairman and for which committee J. E. Lewis, Dallas, serves as Executive Secretary. This WEST TEXAS DISTRICT CONFERENCE is held for the older boys and young men of the area bounded by Lubbock, Barstow, San Angelo, Brownwood and Cisco. The purpose of the conference is to help those attending and through them, the young men and boys of this great section of Texas to face the challenge of the hour as expressed by our honored leader, Dr. John R. Mott, General Secretary of the International Committee of the Y. M. C. A., when, on the 19th of September, 1923, he said: "There is no task quite so important as that of reaching for Christ, His Church and His Program, the boy life of all nations and races. I say 'the boy life'—this new generation—because boyhood is the greatest asset of any nation. It is the hope of the war-torn world. The thoughts of youth, the unspoiled powers, the abounding vitality, the unused and unexhausted energies that boyhood connotes, must all be brought under the matchless sway of the Living Christ. Youth must be challenged by these three questions, 'What shall be my relation to God and the Church? What shall be my relation to my generation? What shall be the investment of my own life?'"

This conference has as its primary aim to assist the older boys of West Texas to face the challenge of a life of SERVICE and to discuss the great theme, "TRAINING FOR SERVICE." The Conference gives inspiration, vision, information, and demonstration.

Registration is open to any older boy (14 years of age and over) and to adult volunteer and professional leaders. School officials, pastors, leaders of boys' groups, boy work committeemen, adult friends of boys' work and fathers of boys are especially welcome. It is expected that every local delegation of boys will be accompanied by at least one adult leader. Any boys' organization, such as a Sunday school class, Athletic association, Boy Scout troop, Hi-Y club, County Agricultural club, DeMolay chapters is welcome to send representatives. Then, too, Churches, Sunday schools, Business Men's luncheon clubs, Chambers of Commerce, Boards of Education, Parent-Teachers' Associations and other groups dealing with boy life, should avail themselves of this opportunity.

The registration blank, properly filled out, should be mailed with the $1.00 fee for each delegate, at once to J. E. Lewis, Y. M. C. A., Big Spring, Texas. A Delegate's Credential Card will be handed each delegate, entitling him to free lodging and breakfast, the banquet, admission to all sessions and to the football game.

The Big Spring Committee in charge of the conference is planning some fine entertainment features for the delegates. The banquet, football game, party Friday night, and special music throughout the three days, will add much pep and enthusiasm to the regular program of talks, addresses and discussions. ### Selecting Steers For Feeding

J. M. Jones of College Station, chief of the Department of Animal Husbandry of the A. & M. College, arrived Tuesday to assist in the task of selecting a uniform bunch of steers for the experimental feeding test to be conducted at the U. S. Experiment Station here. The U. S. Department of Agriculture will cooperate with the A. & M. College in conducting the feeding tests.

The forty-five steer yearlings must be as near the same as to size and breeding as it is possible to get them in order that the test be dependable, and for that reason great care is needed in finding a bunch of young cattle that will meet the requirements. Choice young stuff could be picked up in lots of one to five at various ranches but they would prevent anything like an accurate test being made such as can be made when animals of uniform breeding are used.

A number of ranches will be visited in an effort to secure the forty-five calves that will come nearest meeting the requirements to complete a successful feeding test.

'SUNSHINE SPECIAL' WRECKED: 2 KILLED

Engineer Max Weisen and Fireman Frank H. Pratt Lose Lives in Wreck of Passenger Train

Engineer Max Weisen of this city and fireman Frank H. Pratt of Baird were killed about 1 o'clock Tuesday morning, Oct. 14th, when westbound Sunshine Special, fast passenger train of the Texas & Pacific railway, wrecked five miles east of Sweetwater.

The engine, baggage and mail car turned over and two passenger coaches derailed when the train, four hours late out of Baird and running at a fast clip to make up time, struck a horse caught in a bridge near Stamper, a switch five miles east of Sweetwater.

The pony trucks of the engine left the track after the horse was dragged for some distance, and when the engine reached the switch it was guided over the outer rail and crashed into two box cars standing on the siding, demolishing the cars and causing the engine to overturn.

Engineer Weisen was killed instantly, while Mr. Pratt lived until 4 a. m. Tuesday. "It was necessary to chop away wreckage before the fireman could be taken from beneath the engine. He was rushed to Sweetwater sanitarium where he died.

B. N. Ralph, baggage master on the train was alone in his car when the crash came. He was bruised but otherwise uninjured.

It is remarkable that there was no one seriously injured among the passengers. Steel coaches saved their lives, according to many on the train.

Fireman Pratt had been in the service of the T. & P. the past fifteen years and was held in high esteem by everyone who knew him. He is survived by his wife and two little sons. The remains were taken to Baird, Texas, his home, where interment was made Wednesday.

Engineer Max Weisen has been in the service of the Texas & Pacific railway for more than thirty-five years, and was one of the most loyal and dependable employees. He had been an engineer on the Rio Grande division for twenty-four years.

He was one of Big Spring's highly esteemed citizens and during the thirty-six years or more he has made his home here he has had the best interest of the town at heart. He was of a generous and congenial nature. He never failed to render aid and comfort to those who met with misfortune or when sickness invaded their homes. He had a word of good cheer and friendliness for his fellowman and never have we heard of him injuring or speaking ill of another.

He was a faithful husband and a father who took an interest in his children. He had many friends for he believed in treating the other fellow as he would like to be treated; and he left the world a better place than he found it.

To the sorrowing wife and children, Joe Weisen of Ranger, Mrs. E. J. Campbell of Yoakum, and Miss Margaret Weisen of Fort Worth, and other relatives, who mourn for their loved one, is tendered the deep sympathy of our entire citizenship.

Funeral services were conducted at the Catholic Church in this city at 10 o'clock Thursday morning. The beautiful floral offerings and the vast throng of friends who accompanied the remains to their last resting place in the Catholic cemetery, attested the esteem in which he was held.

Active pall bearers: J. M. Morgan, A. F. Weeg, H. C. Holmes, Chas. Vines, Chas. Koberg, L. F. McKay. Honorary pall bearers: Newt Smith, C. E. Huff, J. M. Standidge, James Costlow, J. N. Cowan, H. E. Schubert, R. Schwarzenbach, S. E. Ord, C. H. Smith, Tom Brigrance.

Out of town relatives and friends here to attend the funeral were a brother Richard Weisen of Fort Worth, a son Joe Weisen and family of Ranger, a son in law B. J. Campbell and family of Yoakum, a daughter Miss Margaret Weisen of Fort Worth, a brother in law Joe Peters of El Paso, a brother in law Arnold Peters and wife and daughter of Fort Worth; Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Ord of El Paso, Newt Smith of the B. of L. F. & E. Fort Worth; J. M. Standidge, B. of L. F. & E. Fort Worth; H. E. Schubert, B. of L. F. & E., El Paso; C. H. Smith, general chairman B. E. T. Fort Worth; Tom Brigrance, O. R. C. Fort Worth.

Sam H. Brewer Killed in Accident

Sam Hill Brewer, one of our highly esteemed and beloved citizens was the victim of a most deplorable accident, which cost him his life at 8:30 o'clock, Tuesday evening, Oct. 14th, in the western part of the city of Big Spring.

Enroute to his home from a drive on the West Pike, a runaway horse collided with his car, practically demolishing the car and causing Mr. Brewer's death. Death was instantaneous as Mr. Brewer's neck was broken at the base of the brain. Mrs. Brewer and little daughter, Lucille, who were in the car at the time escaped with a few bruises and scratches.

It is impossible to conceive of the shock the announcement of the death of Mr. Brewer caused, as the word flashed over the city. No more likable or popular citizen could be found, and his death is mourned by every one who knew him. A happy natured big hearted fellow with a word of cheer for everyone he encountered, it is not to be wondered that he easily won, and held warm friendships, even among those who knew him but a short time. He was aged twenty-nine years, and had resided in Big Spring the past two years, during which time he served as advertising manager and manager of the gents furnishing department of the Albert M. Fisher Company. Prior to moving to Big Spring he made his home at San Angelo for fifteen years.

He was advertising manager for the Baker-Hemphill Co. of that city. He was a warm supporter of amateur sports, and formerly served as secretary of San Angelo's baseball team when the Bronchos were in the West Texas League. He was a noble son, a faithful husband and an indulgent father and many hearts are saddened because of his untimely death.

The remains were sent to his old home at San Angelo about noon Wednesday, accompanied by his wife, daughter, his mother and brother, and a number of friends from San Angelo and Big Spring. Funeral services were conducted Thursday afternoon.

To the parents, brother and sisters who mourn for their loved one is tendered the heartfelt sympathy of the entire citizenship of Big Spring.

Big Football Game Today

The Colorado High school team will be here to tame the Big Spring Steers and one of the warmest games of the season is anticipated.

Joe Ward's boys are getting the game down to a fine point as you will notice if you are out to the game this afternoon.

Let's all go and root for the home team. We want them to continue their fight for the conference championship. They have a fighting chance to win and we should encourage them to "carry on" to victory.

Tell others about the big game today and urge them to attend. Help your city, your school and your team. You show the real pep and spirit and the team will do likewise.

Remember the hour, 4 p. m. Be there.

Death of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Yell Dies

Died Sunday, October 12 at 5:45 p. m. Little William Clinton Yell, aged 3 1/2 years. After a struggle of three long weeks this bright little child lost the fight with that unquerable foe, death, and passed into the life beyond.

The funeral services were conducted from the residence of the parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Yell at 4 o'clock Monday afternoon, October 13.

In an impressive way the last solemn tribute was said over the remains by William B. Sneed, a long time friend of the family; and friends and relatives sorrowfully wended their way to the cemetery and there under a flower covered mound left forever this little flower bud in the hands of Him who said "I am The Life."

Big Spring Steers Lost Third Straight

Meeting the Ranger High football team last Friday in a rather uninteresting football game the Big Spring Steers lost their third consecutive game to Ranger by a score of 6 to 0. The two teams were evenly matched although the Ranger team was a little heavier.

The Steers did some good playing in the second and third periods of the game but they lacked team work in the first and last quarters. Many fumbles were made by both sides and a costly fumble made in the first five minutes play caused Big Spring to lose the game. Big Spring played defensive ball in the first quarter and during the rest of the game Ranger was forced to play in their own territory. The Steers threatened to score four different times but at each play the backs would get "butter fingered" and lose the ball on a fumble.

Segell and Merrick made good gains on line plunging and Crawford gave the spectators a thrill when he made a fake end run for 40 yards. It looked as though he had gotten away for a touchdown but he was downed by Harvey, the nifty little quarter of Ranger, on the 10-yd line. Harvey sustained an injury that caused him to be carried off the field when he made this tackle.

Walker, Mills, Bohanan and Harvey made good gains on line plunges and end runs, for Ranger, but they could not make as many first downs as the Steers.

The High School Pep Squad composed of eighty high school girls and led by Miss Wanda True and Miss Mary Hazel Hathcock marched out on the field between halves and formed the letters B. S. at the same time giving their snappy yells of encouragement to the team. This was the first appearance of the Pep Squad in their new costumes and they showed the boys what pep really was. If the team had shown as much pep as the girls' the game probably would have been different.

First Quarter—

Mills received Segell's kick but fumbled and Segell covered ball on on the 30 yd. line. A series of line bucks and a pass was tried and Segell punted but Ranger was off side and the ball was brought back. Segell then made 6 yds on line buck and Merrick carried the ball 5 yds for first down. Segell passed to Crawford on the 20 yd line but pass was incomplete. Ranger's ball on 20 yd line. Harvey punted 55 yds. to Crossland and no advance was made with the ball. Merrick fumbled the ball and Shell covered for Ranger. They then made a series of line plunges and Mills carried the ball through right tackle for 5 yds and a touchdown. Bohanan failed to make the additional point by place kick.

Shell kicked off 40 yds. to Crossland. Crossland fumbled and Walker covered for Ranger. End of first quarter. Score: Ranger 6, B. S. 0.

Second Quarter—

Walker plunged line for 6 yds and completed pass to Harvey for 5 yds and first down. Harvey attempted to drop-kick goal-but failed and ball went to Big Spring on the 20 yd line. Segell and Merrick failed to make first down and Segell punted 45 yds to Harvey who advanced ball 15 yds. Shell threw ball over Harvey's head causing him to lose 25 yards, and B. S. covered the ball. Segell plunged line twice making first down. Segell passed to McGinnis, incomplete and ball went over to Ranger on 20 yd line. B. S. penalized 5 yds for offside. Harvey punts ball 25 yds out of bounds and B. S. ball in mid-field. Merrick ripped off 7 yds through right tackle and Segell made the additional 3 yds for first down. A series of line plunges and a fake end run by Harwood made first down. Pass Segell to McGinnis intercepted by Walker on the 10 yd line. Harvey punted 20 yds out of bounds on first play. Frost made a bad throw from center causing Merrick to miss the ball and Phillips covered for Ranger. Ranger's ball in mid-field. End of quarter. score, Ranger 6, B. S. 0.

Third Quarter—

Harwood received Shell's kickoff and advanced ball 15 yds. Segell thru right tackle 5 yds. Merrick right tackle 5 yds and first down. Segell thrown for 2 yd loss around end. Merrick and Brown failed to gain. Segell punted 40 yds to Bohanan who advanced ball 15 yds. Bohanan and Mills failed to make first down and Harvey punted 45 yds to Brown who was downed in tracks. Merrick thru right guard 8 yds. Segell off right tackle 8 yds, and first down. Segell made 9 yds more off left tackle. McGinnis failed to make gain on fake end run. Merrick thru right tackle 2 yds and first down. Brown fumbled but covered. Segell around right end 4 yds. Brown right guard 1 yd. Merrick right tackle 4 yds. Ranger penalized 5 yds for offside. Merrick 2 yds and first down off right tackle. Segell 1 yd thru line and McGinnis around end 1 yd. B. S. penalized 15 yds.

Ranger's ball on B. S. 25 yd line. End of third period.

Fourth Quarter—

Harvey punted 30 yds to Brown who advanced 10 yds. Segell off right tackle 8 yds, and first down. Perry relieved Mills at full. Merrick right tackle 5 yds. Merrick fumbled Phillips covering. Walker fumbled and lost 15 yds. Swatzy for Harwood. Harvey booted ball 30 yds. out of bounds. Segell left tackle 3 yds. Segell around end no gain. Horn for Collins. B. S. offside and penalized 5 yds. Crawford around end on fake play 40 yds and downed by Harvey on the 10 yd line. Shipp for Harvey. Shafer for Merrick. Segell right tackle 1 yd. Shafer failed to gain thru line. ### The Important Thing

Rear Admiral Henry S. Wilson, superintendent of the Naval Academy at Annapolis, in submitting his annual report to Secretary of the Navy Wibur, gives expression to an idea that may be well considered by every American citizen, young and old.

He says: "As stated in my reports for 1922-1923 the one single thing of great importance to the midshipmen is that they shall have instilled in them, perhaps unconsciously, but so thoroughly as to become an integral part of their makeup, a recognition of the Eternal Worth of Character."

Comment is superfluous. This educational axiom should be posted in every school room in America and in every home. Our young people are taught to be "go-getters" and the men of achievement are held before them as examples. They are urged to get on in the world, to get position, to get wealth, to get power, but after all, life is a total loss unless the exhortation of the ancient philosopher is heeded—"with all your getting, get Wisdom," which is just another way of saying, recognize the Eternal Worth of Character.

Make It "Fire Prevention Year"
Editors of this country are coming to understand that Fire Prevention Week, which has become an annual event, is essentially a matter of public welfare. By their comment they have shown that they are squarely behind this movement.

During fire prevention week wide publicity is given to appalling loss of life which averages more than 1250 fatalities a month in United States and to startling average fire wastage which last year was a little short of $1,400,000 worth of property every day, not to mention interruption of business and many other attendant ills.

Fire prevention should become a daily practice and Fire Prevention Week should, as time goes by, be used as a period for recording the activities of various communities which have cut down their fire losses and thus bettered their condition. It is a matter of common sense to pare down the old wasteful practices, killing their people and burning their property through fire carelessness. Let the lessons taught during Fire Prevention Week emphasize the necessity for fire carelessness day in the year.

HOW DOCTORS TREAT COLDS AND THE FLU

To break up a cold over night or to cut short an attack of gripe, influenza or sore throat, physicians and druggists are now recommending Calotabs, the nauseous Calomel tablet, that is purified from dangerous and sickening effects. Those who have tried it say that it acts like magic, by far more effective and certain than the old style calomel, heretofore recommended by physicians.

One or two Calotabs at bed time with a swallow of water,—that's all. No salts, no nausea nor the slightest interference with eating, work or pleasures. Next morning your cold has vanished and your system feels refreshed and purified. Calotabs are sold only in original sealed packages, price ten cents for the vest-pocket size; thirty-five cents for the large family package. Recommended and guaranteed by druggists. Your money back if you are not delighted.—adv.

G. O. P. Leaders Getting Uncomfortable

Washington, Oct. 2.—Will Charles G. Dawes get off or be pushed off the Republican ticket as a candidate for vice president?

That is an exceedingly "live" question in political circles.

Dawes has run into rough weather in his speaking campaign. There have been numerous forecasts he would be forced off the stump if not the ticket. However, he had speaking engagements today and tonight.

There is evidence that his appearances cause considerable discomfort to certain Republican chieftains.

The campaign water is steadily getting hotter around him.

What is it all about? First, Dawes was stopped in the middle of his speech at Minneapolis by a question from the audience regarding his Lorimer bank deal.

He sputtered something about "sulphureted hydrogen" and sat down.

Second, Senator Smith W. Brookhart has written Chairman Butler of the Republican campaign committee demanding that Dawes be eliminated from the ticket because of the Lorimer bank deal.

And that's what it is all about.

What was the Lorimer bank deal? Quite simple. In 1912 U. S. Senator Lorimer, who was kicked out of the senate, was president of a national bank in Chicago. The bank was so shaky that it was about to bust.

Lorimer decided to switch over to a state charter and have a state bank. Under the law, he had to exhibit the total sum claimed as capital and surplus, $1,250,000. in cash, and his bank officers had to swear that the cash belonged to the bank, unincumbered and for use in the banking business.

Lorimer didn't have the money.

Now Charles G. Dawes was president of the Central Trust Co. of Chicago and his cousin was the cashier.

Lorimer asked Dawes to help him out. Dawes did. The state auditor was taken to the Dawes bank and handed $1,250,000 in cash, being told that it belonged to the Lorimer bank.

The auditor handed Lorimer his permit to open the bank, and the money was put back into the Dawes bank vaults.

Lorimer's bank, started on the foundation of this lie, soon failed, and 4000 depositors, most of them poor folks, were stung.

The receiver of the Lorimer bank discovered the Dawes-Lorimer transaction and sued Dawes' bank for the money it had said belonged to Lorimer.

The case went to the supreme court of Illinois twice, and twice the supreme court and all the intermediate courts decided that the Dawes bank must help pay the Lorimer depositors who had been stung.

The directors of the Dawes bank pleaded in court that they had not authorized the transaction, and that President Dawes and his cousin, the cashier, had no authority to do such a thing. But the court said the acts of the two Daweses were binding.

That is the transaction that Dawes must explain if and when he gets back on the stump.

As soon as the Brookhart letter was made public, retelling the Dawes-Lorimer story, Chairman Butler declined to see reporters and took a fast train for Washington.

THE PASSING DAY

Will H. Mayes, Department of Journalism, University of Texas

Although he has lately abolished several bureaus and consolidated others in the interest of economy, Dr. Malone Duggan, State Health Officer, has created the position of Secretary of Public Health Education with a view of giving the people more direct information on matters pertaining to public health. This is a progressive step of the Health Department that must redound to the good of the public, for although physicians have of late been impressed with the value of health conservation, the people as a whole are woefully ignorant in matters pertaining to the preservation of health. This is because they have not been accustomed to thinking of health other than as a personal matter, when it is really in most cases a community or even a state or national problem. The secretary placed in charge of this work is Mrs. C. R. Fields, who has done much efficient service as an educator and as a journalist, and has besides had training through service in the Health Department.

The average citizen seldom thinks of the public health as an asset or liability to his community. The cost of an epidemic is not measured by the expense to those who are the direct sufferers, or by the suffering, or by the loss of time, but by the additional loss of community productivity. No community can prosper as a whole where its health average is below normal, for it can not produce to meet the requirements of a normal population. No person wants to locate in or move to a place where health conditions are bad, even though he could be assured of perfect health for himself and his family, because every one knows that such a place can not make a desirable home. Considered purely as an economic question it pays a people to guard the health of the entire population as far as it can be done. If the Texas Health Department can impress this truth upon the entire State, and then can even in small measure teach the people how best to conserve their health it will have justified the entire expense of its maintenance.

The best way that people otherwise unacquainted with a place can judge it is by its newspapers, and the part of the newspapers on which judgment is based is invariably the advertising columns. Some eighty Texas newspapers reach my office regularly and I can at once tell whether a town is progressing or going backward by a glance at those papers. One can almost tell how the yards look, whether the homes are kept painted, if mud holes are in the streets, if hogs and other stock run loose, if business is good, if the merchants are mossbacks, if the town is always half asleep, just by the spirit shown by the merchants in their advertising. No town is better than its business men make it, and the business men are never better and seldom worse than their advertising shows them to be.

It does not take a big town to make a good place in which to live, but it does take a live town to make an attractive home. Some men and women can grow accustomed to anything and can live anywhere, but the young people are not going to stay a great while in a place that is constantly going down, after they learn that there are better places in which to live. Youth seeks progress for its environment. Age may become content with disintegration. If the older people expect to retain the young about them, they must provide them with pleasing surroundings. There must be good streets and roads, well equipped schools, attractive homes, modern conveyances, bathing and picnicking resorts, well stocked stores, up-to-date entertainment—in short, a place must be growing and developing along with the rest of the world or youth will seek more congenial surroundings.

A good way to determine whether yours is such a place is by comparison. How does your community, if you live in the country, compare in every respect with other country communities around you? If it is worse in any way than others you know it is not all that it should be. How does your town compare with the town to the South, to the North, to the East and to the West of your town? Are any of them going forward while yours is hesitating? Have the citizens of your place, with all the natural advantages of the others, gone ahead of the others in every way that makes toward progress, or have they gone to sleep? If your town isn't just as good, just as progressive, just as growing as the others, it is time for an awakening and for serious study, for it is in the danger of what for lack of a better name often is called "the dry rot."

Failure

Headed by the word "Failure" there is a really remarkable story in the current issue of Elks' Magazine, in which it is somewhat forcefully brought out that Success is not always achieved early in life. In fact the good dame Success seems to pick some very peculiar specimens, if the following letters be taken as a guide to the characters of their writers:

Letter No. 1 reads as follows: "I am now the most miserable man living. If what I feel were equally distributed to the whole human family, there would not be one cheerful face on earth. Whether I shall ever be better I cannot tell. I awfully forbode I shall not. To remain as I am is quite impossible. I must die to be better, it appears to me."

Letter No. 2 is also melancholy: "What madness impels me to desire my own destruction? Why am I in the world? Since death must come to me, why should it not be as well to kill myself? If I were 60 years old or more, I would respect the prejudices of my contemporaries and wait patiently for nature to finish her course but since I began life in suffering misfortune and nothing gives me pleasure, why should I endure these days, when nothing I am concerned in prospers."

Letter No. 3 is really pathetic: "I have wandered this winter in the valley of the Shadow of Death. All the universe have seemed to me gloomy and vage phantasms. If my health returns I do not question I can work out of the shadows. If not there is a cool rest under the violets, and eternity is long enough to make right the errors and deficiencies of time."

Letter No. 1 was written by Abraham Lincoln, who later became president of the United States; letter No. 2 by Napoleon Bonaparte, one of the greatest military leaders France ever knew, and No. 3 by John Hay, one of the most noted Secretaries of State of the nation.

You Are the Judge

And now we note an organized movement in Texas to deceive folks—to make them believe that a pledge or obligation is not binding. You are perfectly at liberty to look upon it as the Kaiser looked upon a treaty with a neighboring nation—merely a scrap of paper. True, there is no penalty other than conscience may exact for the violation of a party pledge, but what chance is there for white supremacy when you destroy the party pledge of Democracy in the Southern states? This failure to observe oaths and obligations is growing at such a pace that the saying "a man's word is as good as his bond" can not be true except in rare instances. We know that many boast of paying no attention to the oath they took in the grand jury room or while in the witness chair; lodges find the members indifferent to the solemn obligations they assumed when applying for membership. Our country is in a bad way when men no longer give heed to their freely given pledges. Sure, you can violate the party pledge if you so desire. It is up to you to decide whether conscience or prejudice shall be your guide.

OUR TEXAS INDUSTRIES

By Phobe K. Warner

Here is something else for the school boys and girls of Texas to study this year. And it will make fine subject matter for your composition work and your junior and senior high school English. What could be more interesting to any live Texas boy or girl than to know more about what is going on and what is being done in Texas?

Until this day Texas and Texans have been the biggest producers of raw materials in the Union. Men, women and little children have spent their lives to produce something for others to do. They have done the hardest work that other people in other States and other Nations might build great factories and employ millions of others to work up the raw products raised in Texas.

Just how many people do you suppose Texas furnishes a job? By this we mean how many people do you suppose it takes to ship the million bales and more of cotton from both Galveston and Houston as Texas did this past year, and make it up into garments of every kind and then ship it back to Texas and all over the world to be used? How many people do you think are required to work the millions of pounds of wool and mohair sent from Texas into garments ready for use? How many people are needed to make the boots and shoes our hides supply. Think of it! Texas produces more raw materials, even agricultural products than Iowa and Illinois combined which are the two other largest producing States in America. What becomes of all this cotton, wool, mohair, cream, beef, pork, and everything raised on Texas farms? Then there are all our mineral products that come from under the earth. Who works those products into finished products ready for the markets? Thus far Texas has the name and the glory of being the greatest producer of all of Uncle Sam's sons. But what becomes of his products? Not one person in a thousand, even in Texas, ever thinks of Texas as a manufacturing State. DO YOU?

Just listen to this. These are the very words of G. M. Knebel, Executive Vice-President, Texas State Manufacturers' Association, with headquarters in San Antonio, Texas: "OVER FIVE THOUSAND INDUSTRIES IN TEXAS ARE PRODUCING OVER $1,000,000,000 IN MANUFACTURED PRODUCTS ANNUALLY."

Think of it! Did you know that? Almost as much as the Nation's cigarette bill. As much as the whole Nation spends on the public free education of all its children. Almost as much as the Nation spends on candy. A little more than the women of this Nation spend on the outside of their heads and faces. More than the wheat crop of the Nation. Almost as much as the egg and poultry crop amounts to in the whole Nation. $1,000,000,000. One MILLION dollars worth of manufactured products are turned out annually in Texas from 5,000 different industrial plants in our own State. The finished products already made in Texas practically double the commercial values of our agricultural products which last year sold for a little more than a billion dollars. What could Texas do, and how many people would be furnished employment if even half of her raw products were manufactured into ready to use and ready to wear articles at HOME? This is one of the biggest problems of the future in Texas. And it is the school boys and girls of today that will have to solve Texas' great industrial problem. It is ripening for YOU. It is getting ready to be solved by you. It will be the problem of your generation. Are you being prepared for that day? Is the State of Texas doing all in her power to prepare the boys and girls of today for Texas' industrial day?

Here is one thing you can do for yourselves. You can look out for industrial news. You can begin to think and study Texas products, their great quantities and varieties. You can study the economic waste from field to factory and back home again by the AROUND-THE-WORLD-ROUTE. Yes, you can. Every high school boy and girl is old enough and ought to be smart enough to study these things.

What our high school students need most is to review their old Ray's arithmetic for about 4 years and learn to compute interest, freight rates and transportation and study the multiplication tables and get a sure-enough business foundation into their heads. But whatever you study this year, don't forget to give a little time to the greatest commercial and economical problem, yes, and one of the greatest social problems of our own Texas. "Our Texas Industries."

It doesn't require much talking to sell West Texas lands these days. Just let a fellow, who has been living in a section where land is priced at from $100 to $200 per acre, visit West Texas and see thousands and thousands of acres producing better crops than his high priced land which is offered at from $25 to $50 per acre and it doesn't take much argument to convince him that an opportunity like this will not remain open indefinitely. In addition to securing as good crops here as he can on the high priced land in North and Central Texas the man who buys now is insured a big increase in the value of his land. It will not be many years before good cotton land in West Texas will be worth $100 and $200 per acre. This is bound to be the case if the boll weevil and other cotton pests cannot be controlled. Obey that impulse. Come to West Texas where the opportunities for owning a home are the best.

Plenty of Big Spring Readers Have This Experience.

You tax the kidneys—overwork them—They can't keep up the continual strain.

The back may give out—it may ache and pain;

Urinary troubles may set in. Don't wait longer—take Doan's Pills.

Big Spring people tell you how they act. Ask your neighbor.

Mrs. J. P. Green, 210 Pecan St., Big Spring, says: "I recommend Doan's Pills highly because they did me a great deal of good. I was troubled with my kidneys acting irregularly and suffered from pains in the small of my back. I am glad to say Doan's Pills relieved that trouble and I recommend them to anyone troubled with kidney disorder."

Price 60c. at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Pills—the same that Mrs. Green had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.—(advertisement.)

Coahoma News Items

Leroy Sorrels went to Lyndale Friday, returning Tuesday the 7th, accompanied by his bride. Coahoma is glad to have her in our midst. They had long been sweethearts and may they remain sweethearts as long as both live.

Mrs. Strickland, sister of Mrs. J. A. Roberts, with two children, spent several days in our city. Mrs. Strickland's home is in Brownfield. Her mother, Mrs. Holden, came to Brownfield and accompanied her, by the way of Seagraves, where Mrs. E. C. Roberts joined the party, all coming into Coahoma together. Mrs. Holden's home is in California.

Mrs. Wheeler Graham gave to her Sunday school class a party Saturday afternoon. There were ten guests present. All enjoyed the games and refreshments.

Mrs. Leroy Echols spent several days with her sister, Mrs. Brown, near Knott. Mrs. Brown and two sons returned with Mrs. Echols and spent the week-end.

Messrs. J. W. Shive and Dee Castleberry spent the latter part of the week spying out good trapping locations.

The Presbyterian Church has a new cover on the west end of the building.

The M. E. Ladies plan to serve dinner November 4th. Every one remember how well they cook and how liberal they serve. So be on hand and enjoy another real feast.

Mrs. Rudder the postmistress, is now domiciled in Big Spring, motoring down each morning to her work.

Rev. Laurence of Cisco preached Saturday evening at 7:30 and Sunday at 4 p. m. Both sermons were enjoyed.

Mrs. Thad Hale fell when passing out the kitchen door at their farm Wednesday and received a severe sprain in her ankle.

The Presbyterian ladies met in their auxiliary Saturday; house was called at 3:10 p. m., ten minutes late. Only a few minutes passed however till all were present, and the rapidity with which the questions were answered showed that much study had been given "Hill." After Hill's questions and answers, Mrs. Wolfe took charge of "Romance of Home Mission," and like a natural born teacher, proceeded to get the needed information on each subject. The lesson in Mission study is the first half of the 3rd chapter, while the scripture is Acts 3 and Hill is "Ruth" and part 1st Samuel. The auxiliary meets Oct. 25, with Mrs. Harve Echols as leader. The treasurer sent $9.50 incidental dues to the district treasurer.

Mrs. Price Echols and Mrs. George Gregor and Ida May Echols boarded the 8:30 train, going east Monday. They joined Mrs. Elbert Echols of Barstow, and all are now enjoying the Dallas Fair.

The Junior League in the M. E. Church has been working—their financial report shows that they have given $15.00 to benevolences.

Mrs. Jim Davis left for Dallas Monday, her mother accompanied her as far as Strawn, where she will visit another daughter, Mrs. Stewart.

The Baptist Auxiliary met Wednesday. House was called to order by the president, Mrs. Austin Coffman.

Miss Lula Jenkins of Big Spring served as pianist for them. The program was well rendered. Mrs. Fred Mullikin, leader, used for devotional Psalm III. This followed a prayer by Rev. Mason, of Prairie View congregation. After Mrs. Mullikin's discussion of text read, three voluntary songs were offered.

Mrs. Wheeler Graham's paper on evangelism showed work and study. While Miss Jenkins' instrumental solo soothed all hearers, at the same time catching the "spirit of service" in its melody. The story told by Mrs. Burt Ruyman produced laughter as well as tears when the realization of China's need was impressed on the audience by the little Chinese girl's letter. Mrs. Sterling Echols followed this with the story of the "dressed up" banana tree. She made it plain that nothing save the gospel of Jesus and Him crucified would enlighten the heathen. May God put it into the heart of men and women to go and of the moneyed people to pay liberally to defray the needed expense. Mrs. Claunch's appeal from Mexico was just as urgent and caused those present to have a vision of real service. The needed support in our own state for real christian endeavor conversion of the foreign people, was pointed out. Mrs. Liles gave a short address allowing a poem that expressed the desire of service for missions to tell her thoughts. Rev. Mason followed this with an eulogy on auxiliary work and its needed place in God's kingdom. After which a free will offering was taken which amounted to $2.00. Dues were also paid and books subscribed for. The young ladies of the church served

Next Sunday all are requested to have a verse beginning with "B." The president reminded the members to bring dues next Sunday evening.

"Flowers for the Living"

Mr. J. C. Morris was operated upon at Mercy Hospital October 7, this being a preliminary operation preparatory to a graver one to come later. Mr. Morris is in good hands, both as to physicians and nurse, and he is making good progress, but his age, being now near 72, makes his recovery slower.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Morris and their son, J. C. Jr., are active members of the Methodist Church. Mr. Morris is a steward, and a good one, and J. C. Jr. is assistant superintendent of the Sunday school. The latter is in the engineering department of the T. & P. railroad, and is necessarily gone much of the time; but good friends are showing many kindnesses to the stricken father at this time.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Morris are greatly missed from their accustomed place in the Church, and it is the hope and prayer of their great circle of friends that Bro. Morris will soon regain his health and be able to take his place again. A Friend.

Wealthy Ranchman Drops Dead

Richard Cordwent, well known ranchman of West Texas, died at latan, Texas, last Sunday night at 9 o'clock, while superintending the unloading of a shipment of cattle he had sold to a Sterling City ranchman.

The remains were brought to Big Spring to be prepared for interment and later sent to Baird.

Mr. Cordwent is a native of England who came to Callahan County a poor boy many years ago and herded sheep to get a start in life. He had prospered in West Texas as he owned ranches in Culberson, Ector and Sterling counties and twenty farms in Callahan County.

He had never married and had no relatives in the United States; a sister, living in London, England, was the only known relative.

Funeral services were conducted at Baird at 3 o'clock Thursday afternoon.

Lions Club Met Wednesday

The members of the Lions Club enjoyed an especially fine luncheon and an interesting business session, Wednesday.

In the absence of President P. G. Stokes, P. B. Bittle presided.

After enjoying the good eats, the business of the day was brought up and action assured.

J. M. Manuel, when called upon to tell something of the Older Boys' Conference which is to be held in Big Spring, Oct. 24-25-26 told of the great merit of the undertaking and the importance of the meeting being given the hearty cooperation of the members of the Lions club. He also urged that loyal support of the lyceum course that is to be given here during the fall and winter. The members pledged their wholehearted support to these worthy causes, and also to the Father and Son Banquet, an annual banquet held under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A.

P. B. Bittle, superintendent of the school, also informed the members of the Lions Club that he was expecting some loyal cooperation from them. He especially desired their aid when the Tri-county Teachers Institute was held in Big Spring from Dec. 15 to 20, inclusive, and during two days next April when a two days' county athletic field meet would be held in our city.

The proposition of aiding in beautifying the school grounds was unanimously approved. A. E. Pistole stated that members of the engineering department of the T. & P. Railway had agreed to assist in planning such improvements.

Presbyterian Notes

On Monday afternoon at the hospitable home of our gracious hostess, Mrs. J. I. McDowell, the Woman's Auxiliary met in social session with an unusually large number in attendance. It was "Rally Day." The "Causes" were Christian Education and Ministerial Relief, and Sunday School Extension and Young Peoples Work.

Everyone enjoyed and were benefited by the splendid program prepared and each number was presented in an attractive, comprehensive way, pleasing and instructive to all. The music so sweetly and beautifully rendered added greatly to the enjoyment of the occasion.

After an hour spent in real old fashioned fun and a real treat of good things to eat, we were not surprised, but gratified, to hear that our Rally Day had been a perfect day and our budget for the "Causes" had "gone over the top."

Next Monday will be Circle Day. The Dorcas will meet with Mrs. C. W. Cunningham; The Kings Daughters with Mrs. H. G. Whitney, and the Whatsoevers with Mrs. W. B. Currie.

The ladies are most cordially urged to be in their respective Circles at three o'clock and help sew for our orphans.

V. A. Bynum resigned his position with the City Barber shop Saturday and left Monday for Lamesa where he will engage in business. Tin Shop and Sheet Metal Works Relocated

By reason of the fact that the fire limits were extended to include block No. 4, J. T. Bell was unable to go thru with his plan of constructing a sheet-iron structure at the corner of Runnels and East Second streets.

He has therefore secured a lease on a tract of land 40x100 feet on East Third street, just west of the Gary & Sigler drive-in filling station. He will erect a frame structure 40x100 feet for the tin shop and sheet metal works.

J. P. Monday of Lamesa will be associated with him in this new enterprise though Mr. Monday will not take any part in the management.

Mr. Bell has secured all necessary tools and will be ready to handle any tin or sheet metal work on and after November 1st, by which time his building will be ready for occupancy.

Is Advertising Really Wasteful Or Is It An Economy?

Some people think advertising is extravagant because they hear about great sums spent for space. Estimates of the national advertising outlay in magazines, newspapers, billboards and other channels run all the way from $250,000,000 a year to more than a billion. When you hear that $1,000,000 was spent last year to advertise coffee, that sounds like a lot of money. But when you know that the per capita drinking coffee was increased from 320 to 400 cups a year at an advertising cost of less than one cent per person, how does it sound then? Did you notice any difference in the price of coffee?

By some queer kink in reasoning, people often forget that it costs money to sell goods. The Michigan farmer slips a note into his bag of potatoes: "I got 24c a bushel—how much did you pay?" and it is found by a housewife in Virginia who paid $2.00. Whereupon they both jumped to the conclusion that somebody took the difference as clear profit. Part of it was freight and hauling, but the merchants who passed along that bag of potatoes and split it up among perhaps a dozen housewives had to pay rent, clerk's wages and other necessary expenses.

The more you make of a certain commodity the cheaper it can be made by the well known economies of quantity production, and the more you can sell the less your sales costs per unit, on the same principles. Twenty odd years ago a young doctor came home, after studying in Europe, with the conviction that Americans did not eat enough soup. Going to work in his uncle's cannery, he began putting up tinned soup and sold half a million cans the first year. He began to advertise and today his advertisements are seen everywhere. A great many folks marvel at his apparent lavish expenditure. But when he sold half a million cans a year, his sales costs were over 20 per cent, while today it is only 5 per cent. A cent's worth of advertising sells six cans of soup. The output now often runs up to 18,000,000 cans per week. No housewife could make soup for as little as this manufacturer sells it.—Albany News.

Temporary laboratories for investigation of the oil field on University of Texas lands have been established at Big Lake by Dr. E. H. Selder and Dr. L. T. Patton, geologists of the Bureau of Economic Geology. The purpose of the laboratory will be to collect and examine samples of Texas oil. It also proposes to work out the structural conditions in order to determine why oil has collected in Reagan County and to see what sort of structures the oil is coming from. After this work has been done, it is stated that the limits of the field and the amount of the oil there can be determined.

One Vote Brought on War

"In 1811 a Rhode Island farmer dalled to release his pig from a fence and arrived at the polls too late to cast his vote. The Federalists lost that precinct by one vote; as a result, a representative who favored war with Great Britain was elected to the legislature, which in turn by a majority of one elected a United States senator who favored war. Then the congress, by a majority of one, declared the war, generally known as the War of 1812."

The foregoing is quoted from the political observations of Richard T. Greener. It should be re-read and memorized by the man who says to himself: "Shucks! my vote doesn't make much difference. Guess I'll not go to the polls."

Our country, in its Colonial days, fought a hard and bloody war to win its independence and to establish government by majority.

This principle of government by majority vote is the most valuable possession of democracy.

Yet for many decades there has been an increasing tendency among voters not to cast their ballots in presidential elections.

This tendency has reached a grave and critical point where we are very close to government by minority.

In the 1920 presidential election, for every 100 who voted, 96 who were legitimately entitled to vote stayed away from the polls.

Do you want government by majority or by minority? You answer quickly: "By majority!" But you help destroy government by majority if you neglect to cast your ballot.

The vote-slacker, by not voting, expresses indifference as to what kind of government we have, good or bad.

The ballot is the foundation of popular government. By wise use of the ballot, citizens can remodel our political and economic institutions—in short, can have any kind of government they want.

Are you really indifferent about whether we have good government or bad? No! A thousand times, no!

Is your lone vote unimportant among the millions? Remember the Rhode Island farmer whose failure to vote may have caused a war, and again you answer: "No! A thousand times, no!"

Do you want better government, a voice in making it better? Do you want to help keep America a government by majority? Yes! A thousand times, yes!

Then be sure to cast your ballot this fall.

Vote without fail! Vote without fail! Vote without fail!

YOUR vote is needed! YOUR vote is needed! — Fort Worth Press.

Mexico and Japan

Mexico and Japan are reported about to sign a treaty of amity and commerce which will give Japan certain rights as to emigration of Japanese nationals to Mexico.

This item will be of interest to west coast states, particularly Sonora and Sinaloa, whose people are opposed to any extensive settlement of Japanese in their territories.

The west coast people, and their eminent citizen, Gen. Angel Flores, may wish to be fully informed as to the provisions of the treaty before the central government binds itself with Japan.

Japan, whose country is filled to overflowing and must have an outlet for excess population, naturally looks upon Mexico as a wonderful country to help develop. But those Mexican states which find limited Chinese competition almost intolerable have something still to learn if the Japanese get a foothold among them in considerable numbers.—El Paso Herald.

Christian Church Notes

Last Lord's day was surely a great day at all services. The largest attendance at bible school for several months, and again proved that we need more room for our classes.

The good attendance and the spiritual service in the morning made it the best service we have had in a long time.

We want to thank all who helped to make the night service so helpful and inspiring.

We regret that we could not accommodate all that wanted to come into the house, and will try and arrange that in the future we will not be compelled to turn any one away that wishes to come to the service.

We expect another increase in the attendance at bible school this Lord's day and are expecting you, and ask you to bring some one else with you. Our subject at the eleven o'clock service will be "Without Me Ye Can Do Nothing."

On Sunday night we will begin a study of the twelfth chapter of Romans, and will preach five or six sermons on this great chapter during the coming weeks.

We invite all to come to these services and extend a cordial invitation to any who are not members of other churches, and to the strangers in our town to the church that makes you feel at home.

"The Old Time Religion"

There are lots of things in this world that cannot be improved on, yes, some fundamentals that never change. Growth is the law of God, the law of nature, hence human life is a matter of progression, mentally, physically and morally, gets stronger as we use these faculties. Faith is the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen. That definition of faith has never been improved on, but once this elemental gets hold of one, that something cannot be explained, but it can be lived, and the evidence of it crops out in the life of the individual who is obsessed with it, the tiny plant, the swelling bud, the flower and then the fruit. And keep it in mind, if there be no harvest time in the Christian life, the planting or seed time was a false alarm in that life. Of course in the exercise of this fundamental essence, it grows in strength, and becomes a wonderful factor in life, but unused, it will rust out. We have a fine gun, and back years ago, we used that gun nearly every day, hence it was in good working order. But of late years, we have not been making use of that gun, and for years, it has been setting in the corner of the closet unused. The other day we got it out and looked it over, and it wouldn't work, the rust of non-use had put it out of commission. Say what you please, make fun of religion if you will, and say that it's a weakness, a sign that a man is shallow, evidence of a weak spot in his make up, but we say to you that man is a religious animal, it matters not where you find him, how low in the scale of intelligence, it matters not how cruel or how ignorant, yet, in his being there is a concept of a God, and tho it may be a bull, a snake or a stone idol—There is a God, it's innate in man, and tho he may be fanatical, and slay and murder the tribe who will not accept his God—yes, man is a religious animal in spite of all high spun theories and sound (?) reasoning of the savants in this new school of thought. And say folks, we need some more of that old time religion of our fathers, the kind that took hold of men, gave them a new point of view, a new vision, that something that pours the oil of goodness and forgiveness on the troubled waters of a man's life, and makes him a better man. Man is triune in his make-up, intellectual, spiritual, physical, and the proper assimilation of the three makes the ideal man. When the mind runs to intellectual things wholly, why then he becomes a cold, cynical and Godless creature, void of all the finer sentiments, the gift wholly of spiritual things. Then vice versa, if he be ignorant, and becomes obsessed entirely with spiritual things, why then he will develop into a religious fanatic, wants to crush everyone who does not accept his system of Christian philosophy—the most dangerous man or sect in the world is the ignorant religious fanatic. Then on the other hand if physical strength be his god, void of culture and spiritual training, he develops into the street or ring bully—a moral pervert. Religion is the most beautiful thing in the world, it's the fulcrum or balance wheel in this temple of reason, permeates the whole, and flower and fruit time will come into that life. Hence, in the language of the text—The Old Time Religion. Yes, we need some more of that old time mourners' bench stuff, we need a spiritual awakening, we need another John Knox, a John Westley, a Whitfield or a Spurgeon to come into this temple and purge it of the meat mongers, men who have made merchandise of God's sacrificial things, dealing tainted meat.—Albany News.

Progress of the Lone Star State

Those who have observed most thoughtfully the periods of development in Texas, first as an independent republic and then as a member of the American union of states, easily distinguish those periods and mark the influence which have contributed to what, superficially appears as an unbroken era of industrial and social progress. But however analyzed and measured, it must be apparent that the last quarter of a century has marked, in Texas perhaps more emphatically than in some other portions of the United States, the period of most rapid as well as most substantial growth. Within those years almost uncounted millions of acres of virgin prairie have been reclaimed by the plow and devoted to cultivation of cotton, corn and wheat. During those same years those thriving cities which even in the later years of the last century were the pride of the southwest have grown and become more beautiful. Prosperity has everywhere left the distinguishing mark of its welcome presence.

Comparisons, if one dares to make them, must be indulged in with caution when one attempts to contrast the relative achievements of Texas cities or sections. Like some of the other larger American states, Texas seems to thrive upon what may be called internal rivalries. Its interests and industries are so widely diversified, its climate so varied, its borders so far-flung, no wonder there is stimulating and good-natured competition even among those whose interests, in the final analysis, are common. But if one might be permitted to appraise the progress made by Texas as a whole and indulge in kindly comparison, it might be said that the most conspicuous advance during recent years has been made in what is known as the Panhandle country, once the center of the stock-raising industry. A half century ago, or even less, it could not have been conceived that in many generations would intensive agriculture ever put its mark upon that vast section. But the unexpected has happened, and the country of which Amarillo is the center now knows the cowboy no more intimately than does Dallas, Fort Worth, Houston, or San Antonio.

Thus it is that while the development of the petroleum oil industry has placed Texas in the ranks of the great mineral states, the tremendous increase in cotton production has kept pace in the march of progress. But cotton is not now, as formerly, the only crop the farmers raise. Rice, fruit, nuts and cereals of all kinds combine to make the Lone Star State more nearly independent economically than it has heretofore been. Its railroads carry to its ports the products of the farms, mills and mines of scores of its neighboring states as well as its own. Its schools rank high, its homes and churches combining with them to set the measure of advanced civilization and culture.

But in these days of her prosperity and peace, Texas does not forget the years of trial and struggle. What once seemed her remoteness, coupled with her proximity to Mexico, tended to multiply her political and social problems. The processes of reconstruction there operated somewhat slowly. The broad leagues seemed, in the years immediately following the Civil War, to offer sanctuary to the hunted, the fugitive, the voluntary outlaw. As in the sections of the far west in an earlier period, organized authority was impotent in dealing with the vicious and marauding. But that period was brief in Texas. Today, even the remotest sections are under the jurisdiction of duly constituted authority. There has been commendable progress along this line.

The great prairies, open to the sky and swept by the Gulf winds, still remain. These can never change. They are dotted now with thriving towns and cities standing where corrals and stage stations once stood. Broad roads, steam and electric railways, ship canals and rivers carry to the markets of the world the increasing surplus products of the State's rich soil. Texas, as Emerson Hough would say, is still south of 36, but it has established itself as the center of an empire prosperous beyond the dreams of her pioneers. Christian Science Monitor.

PIONEERS AIDED IN MAKING THIS NATION A POWER

How They Did It is Graphically Shown in Picture, "The Covered Wagon"

What is the most vital period in American history?

There may be a division of opinion between the Revolution, the Civil War, the winning of the west, and so on, but certainly the last named has had a tremendous bearing upon the development of the American nation.

The hardy pioneers who wrested from the earth the yellow metal, the sacrifices made by the homeseekers who braved the hardships and perils of the miles of prairie, mountain and river to gain the western, promised land—these facts bulk large in the development of America.

Thus is the story of "The Covered Wagon," an epic of the great wagon trains, which in '48 crossed the plains to Oregon from Westport Landing, Mo.

This story, new to motion pictures, was made by James Cruze for Paramount with a wealth of detail, great spectacular effects and unlimited effort. It will be shown at the R. & R. Lyric Theatre next Monday and Tuesday, October 20 and 21.

Most of the picture was filmed in Utah and Nevada. A buffalo hunt was staged on Antelope Island, in the Great Salt Lake, where one of the largest herds of bison in the world is located. The Baker Ranch, in Snake Valley, Nevada, was employed for most of its backgrounds—an untrodden wilderness for the most part.

Five hundred covered "prairie schooners" were built or purchased, and thousands of Indians and other characters are employed. "The Covered Wagon" will be acclaimed one of the greatest dramas of the century—and one that will be an invaluable historical record. An excellent cast headed by J. Warren Kerrigan and Lois Wilson portray the various roles.

Two Lose Lives in Borden County

The charred bodies of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Hicks were found Thursday morning, October 9th in the remains of their home, 28 miles west of Snyder, which was destroyed by fire during Wednesday night, October 8th.

The origin of the fire is undetermined. The family lived in a remote section of the county and it was not known their home had burned until Thursday morning. The bodies appeared to have been dressed.

Mr. Hicks was a prominent ranchman and his home was located in Borden County. He was aged fifty years. Mrs. Hicks was aged forty-two years and was a sister of Ira Sturdivant of Scurry County.

Mrs. Guy Tamsett Tendered Shower.

Mrs. Wm. Nabors delightfully entertained with a miscellaneous shower at the hospitable home of Mrs. J. O. Tamsett, honoring Mrs. Guy Tamsett, Thursday afternoon of last week.

The home was tastefully decorated with fall foliage and cut flowers in pink and white. Mrs. J. O. Tamsett, Mrs. Bart Wilkinson and Mrs. H. Markham received the guests.

They were then requested to register in the Gift Book, naming their gift and its use, presided over by Mrs. J. P. Dodge.

At the appointed time the honoree with her aunt returned from a lengthy shopping tour and was greeted by a chorus of voices "Here is the Bride," Mrs. T. S. Currie at the piano.

As soon as she had recovered from this surprise and had been extended good wishes and congratulations from all, a most charming and bewitching gypsy knocked at the door, always anxious to tell fortunes, and collecting the fee, but offering to tell the bride's free of charge. She was invited into the parlor. After telling her of a most glorious happy future, she also predicted a "fortune" would arrive on the Shenandoah, which shortly was announced of its arrival by Little Miss Dorothy May Wilkinson—The Shenandoah's Herald—who conveyed the sealed message to the bride in a dainty chariot of pink and white, followed by Two Fair Messengers bearing a large box and a sea-bag, which was truly a fortune for any bride to receive, as they contained a wonderful lot of lovely beautiful gifts from relatives and friends far and near.

The guests were then ushered into the dining room where cosmos and roses in shades of pink and white, surrounded the large wedding cake, which was cut amidst much merriment. The honoree receiving the thimble, Mrs. E. L. Barrick the ring, the gypsy the dime, and the button to Mrs. W. E. Hornbarger. Following the cutting of the cake Mrs. Nabors with Mrs. Can Powell, Mrs. C. A. Schull, Mrs. Josephine Rudder and Mrs. E. L. Barrick was assisted in serving dainty refreshments, which consisted of chicken salad, buttered raisin bread, wafers, olives, coffee and cake.

With parting wishes to the bride and absent groom that they live to celebrate their golden wedding anniversary. Thus bringing to a close the end of a perfect day. A Guest.

You Can't Lead Us Out of Camp Boys

It's a political scream now, yes, the howl is going up and there's a scramble for vantage ground, in the camps of Israel. Samuel of old said to Saul, "What is all this noise I hear." "The bleating of the sheep and the lowing of the cattle." Yes, Ma Ferguson has arrived and the nas been crowd are playing their cards for Ma's political scalp. Some of the old would bes' met in Dallas the other day and proceeded to organize and resolute—and they named the Democrat League or anti-Ferguson Democrats and then proceeded to endorse the Republican nominee for Governor. Democrats, eh? But oh God, pass the smelling bottle—the carcass stinketh. We remember a long time ago when our bridges were built out of poles, that is to say, they were floored with poles, hence, full of cracks. And our old mule that we always rode to mill sure did shy the castor on pole bridges and always we had to blindfold old Pete and back him across the bridges. So this has been crowd have met and with anti-Ferguson stuff—and we expect they will begin to holler anti-prohibition party pretty soon, nice sloop to catch some folks, but Brother Felix is working it over time, yes, the bolters, the men who walked up to the Democratic Primaries and said, "I am a Democrat and pledge myself to support the nominees of the Democratic Party." did eh? Now you think to come and put the blind bride of old prejudices on the boys and back 'em onto the Republican bridge, all full of cracks and crevices and holes—leading 'em out of the Democratic fold over into the camps of the doggone Republicans, but Brother Love, you can't do it—Grand Old Texas—she's too Democratic. Now who in the devil would follow a bunch like that, pledge breakers, eh? Men who will vow a political vow—and a Democrat—then hop over into the Republican's back yard, and climb upon the fence and begin to scream for the Democratic boys to come over and help mow the grass on a Republican lawn. We repeat it: who the devil and Tom Walker would follow leadership like this? Why you, just a few moons ago, Big Chief Tom Love, was the bellweather in the camps of Democracy, state and nation—a dictator—had his vest pocket full of political gun drops for those who would lick salt from his hand. A big guy up there in the National Democratic Convention—shouting for Democracy, then in turn, comes back down home, walked up to the Democratic lick log and vowed a vow and signed a pledge, that he would abide by and obey the mandates of that political machine, and follow its fortunes, but in the opinion of Brother Tom, the machine slipped a cog, belt string bursted, the horse cast a shoe and his colt got bested in the chase—and now he's flew the coop, got over into the Republican barnyard, and gee, how this Republican Maverick is crowing for votes, you know away back a long time ago, in the days of the open range, when the cow rustlers would scour the range for mavericks, and stick their brand and mark on 'em, that's what the Republicans are doing now, prowling around in the Democratic corral, looking for mavericks in he big political roundup—but take it from us, Grand Old Texas is a whopper in area, and the biggest Democratic corral on earth—and we thank you, not in the danger zone. Of course these pledge jumpers are making a lot of fuss, but who is going to follow them? Who has any confidence in a fellow who will violate a pledge? Why when a fellow goes wrong, morally, politically, religiously or otherwise, ain't no telling where he will head in, maybe two years hence, he will be in a Socialist camp—and by the way, we have far more respect for a socialist than we have for these Republican mavericks, browsing around on the commons among the hateful Republicans, and playing second fiddle at the hay rack. —Albany News.

When you consider the possibilities of the dirigible airship there is no limit to what may be accomplished. The desert may soon be made to blossom as the rose, without the construction of mammoth reservoirs; and no section need fear a drought of extended duration. The scientists tell us that clouds may be made to disgorge their moisture by spraying them with electrified sand. A dirigible, such as the Shenandoah which is now on a cross-country flight, could load up with a carload of sand, enough to spray the clouds over a considerable territory, which could be covered in jig time with the ship capable of traveling sixty miles an hour. Just think what a relief it would be to have a Shenandoah parked in our county during the summer months, ready at a moment's notice to get in action whenever a cloud was sighted anywhere above our county. Wouldn't it be a glorious sight to see the big ship bombarding the clouds with hot sand until every drop of moisture was transferred from the cloud to mother earth? We should take this up with Uncle Sam at once, and get in our bid for a mooring mast; thus getting ahead of some of the other counties that sometimes complain of a shortage of moisture during the growing season. If Uncle Sam is not interested this will open a big field for a new crop of rainmakers; and we expect to be offered some stock before next summer.

West Texas
 Have you turned your eyes toward West Texas lately?

Do you know what is happening in West Texas these days—out in Fort Worth's "front yard?"

An empire of agriculture is building out there so swiftly that any picture of it changes overnight.

The Fort Worth Chamber of Commerce has just published a booklet, "West Texas," attempting to describe the tremendous development now under way in the plains country. But next week that booklet will be out of date.

West Texas bids fair to more than equal, within a few years, the combined agricultural production of Illinois and Iowa—the "fat spots" of the middle west. Write that to your friends in other states!

Thousands of homeseekers poured into West Texas during 1923. Came 1924, and they reaped bountiful crops; some paid for their farms this first year. More and more homeseekers are coming—it is an ever-increasing stream, feeding settlers to an ever-widening territory. The Man with the Plough is making new history out in West Texas faster than it can be recorded.

Eighty-three counties, 80,000 square miles, are surrendering themselves to the farmer; 83 counties that have fertile soils and an average rainfall of 20 to 25 inches. Twenty years ago the farmer was almost unknown in these counties. The plains knew only the ranchman, with his thousands and tens of thousands and hundreds of thousands of acres.

But there trickled in an advance guard of men who preferred to till the soil. One by one they came at first, with patches of but a few acres; patches of grain, sorghum, cotton; pens of hogs and chickens, and a few cows.

"A recent casual survey, far from complete, shows that there are now on the market in farm tracts one ranch of 400,000 acres; three of from 200,000 to 300,000; five of from 100,000 to 200,000; six of from 50,000 to 100,000; nine of from 25,000 to 50,000," the Chamber of Commerce booklet relates. And what a marvelous story of transformation can be read between these lines! Of West Texas, Fort Worth is the chief market place and the financial capital.

What development is not possible for Fort Worth as the metropolis of the southwest as West Texas develops?

Seventy-five years ago, a station on the cattle trails leading from the ranches of West Texas to the railheads in Kansas. Fort Worth developed her first commerce when buffalo hides and bones were hauled into the settlement from old Fort Griffin, and the wagons that brought them carried back the supplies of the hardy pioneer ranchers," the CofC publication tells. "Just as the cavalry from the army post of Fort Worth sallied forth in that long-gone day to protect the settlers in West Texas against the raids of the Comanches and Kiowas, so has she since answered every call.

Thruout the years of pioneer hardship she has struggled side by side with the people of her territory, to be rewarded in later years with the bounty of its fertile fields."

An epic of the passing of the ranchman and the coming of the farmer in West Texas awaits the writing—but be warned, before you tackle the task, that it will be the better part of a life's work for even the ablest author.

Meanwhile West Texas is writing its own epic; writing it with the plough.—L. M. S. in Fort Worth Press.

What is Americanization?

The word "Americanization" has fallen under a shadow because it has been used too frequently as a cant phrase, but it is too good a word to be relegated to the limbo of discredited terminology.

What does it mean? Not merely an ability to read and write the English language and to understand all the "modus operandi" of the American government, with a smattering of the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution. There are unnumbered American citizens of both native and foreign birth who know all these things and more and yet fall far short of being good American citizens.

To be an American in truth is to have an understanding of American tradition and American history, whereby there has been developed upon this continent a new social order different from and better than any social organization that history has known, distinctive because for the first time here is a social order dedicated to justice, liberty, brotherhood and righteousness. It means further, a profound appreciation of those principles and of that spirit that has made this nation great, not only in populations but in moral force and spiritual ideals.

The Little Theatre is putting on two clever one-act plays at the High school auditorium next Thursday night, Oct. 23, at 8:30 o'clock. Interspersed between the plays are musical numbers, song and story. This is the first of a series of light wholesome entertainments to be given during the following months. The Central School will profit from the proceeds of this first number and so the school youngsters from Central are selling tickets. Twenty-five cents is a very small sum for value received by those who attend, but the Little Theatre wishes first of all to attract the crowd. As this is to be a permanent feature we hope from the first to have a good attendance. It is a fine place for the young people to go, and both old and young cannot fail to enjoy the many good things provided for their pleasure. Our next program will be near Thanksgiving, and South Ward will be the recipient. We expect hearty cooperation and liberal patronage from the homes of the entire town. Another feature, not to be overlooked is the value of the training to those taking part. During the holidays we hope to have a pageant and other attractive numbers appropriate to the season. Remember to watch the Herald for Little Theatre performances, and get the habit of regular attendance. Our program in full is elsewhere in this week's paper. Look for it. And don't forget time and place. Thursday night, Oct. 23, at 8:30 o'clock, at High school auditorium.
