Miss Mary Holmes left Wednesday for a visit with friends in Dallas and Sherman. Miss Holmes will be a member of the high school faculty of the Corsicana high school the coming session.

Mike Michalopolus of San Angelo was shaking hands with old time friends here Tuesday.

Rev. and Mrs. W. C. Hinds and children left last Thursday afternoon for a vacation trip to points of interest in New Mexico. Enroute home they will visit relatives and friends in Tahoka.

Miss Bernice Waggoner spent Sunday in San Angelo visiting homefolks.

"I'M A SPORTING MAN, I AM," SAYS SAM JOHNSON

"Everybody's got two sides to his nature, and most times on the farm one side gets cultivated too much and the other side not enough."

This statement came from our friend Sam Johnson when he dropped into our office the other day to talk over plans for a camping trip he and his kinfolk are preparing to take and a family reunion they are to have a little later.

"What I'm talking about," he went on, "is work and play, or 'recreation' as the highbrows call it."

"You know what? Recreation is just as important as working. Fact is, it helps you make more money. It's stimulating and nourishing. It sharpens your wits, clears your mind opens your heart, and makes you last longer and work better. Fact is, I can do more work and better work in five days than I can in six when I play one day, rest and go to Sunday school and preaching one day, and work five days. One day's play a week rests a fellow's body and mind, and one day a week at the Lord's house meeting up with friends and neighbors who love one another like they ought—well, what was it old David said? Something about 'it restreth my soul'? That's what it does, it rests a fellow's soul. If I don't get rest and recreation I go to work like a 20 year old mule. When I do get my rest and recreation like I want it, then I gallop back to work like a three year old thoroughbred starting to run a derby or whatever you call it."

"What keeps a man young is taking some recreation and also putting his head and heart into his work. That's sport, and I'm a sporting man. Everything I do, from running a disk harrow to making trap nests for Sallie's prize winning hens, I try to make a sport by sort of making a game of it to see if I can't do it a little better than I've been doing it before. You know how axle grease makes wagon wheels run smooth? Well, that's what having a sure-enough interest and ambition in our everyday work does—kind of takes the jar and strain and wear out of it. If a fellow can keep himself feeling that way about his work and then average half a day a week for some kind of pure recreation—well, there ain't no doubt about his staying young as long as anybody ought to."

And Sam was gone again—The Progressive Farmer.

GET REMINISCENCES OF OLD PEOPLE

But they are going now—fast, very fast—those old soldiers "who once wore the gray of their country and now wear the gray of God."

A few of these yet linger with us. But there is little time to lose in the case of any of us who have kinfolk who yet remember the picturesque era of slavery, war, and reconstruction—an era such as the world will never know again, no matter how long it lasts. One of the things I prize most is a typewritten copy of the recollections of an old aunt born in 1850, transcribed from notes she laboriously wrote out for me with a lead pencil. All of us ought to preserve all such reminiscences and family history while there is yet time to do so, and pass them on to our children and children's children.

I say this because these old people who are yet with us not only remember many incidents, the memory of which should be long treasured and preserved, but they also have a quality of personality of which we should seek to preserve the savor and the fragrance. The world will yet go a seeking for the flavor of these traits and characteristics so marked in the old folk, and which we unfortunately are in danger of losing. As someone has well said:

"Great friendships also are rare in the midst of the hurly-burly of these days. Fellowship of spirits cannot ripen in an age where busy men and women are always just catching a train or snatching their food from a lunch counter. It takes time to ripen friendships. It also takes candor and simplicity of soul and a roaring log fire and long hours of communion. The passing of years has brought many benefits to mankind, but it has also taken some of those indispensable granddears of life which grew out of the great simplicities."—Clarence Poe, in The Progressive Farmer.

What does it take to get up a family reunion? Just a little leadership. If three or four people will get together and say, "Somebody must lead; why not us?" then all the rest is easy.—The Progressive Farmer.

NEED OF POTASH

FORWARDS EXPLORATION
Washington, Aug. 25. — Spurred by the ominous reduction of productivity of American soil, the Government is engaged in a search for potash, one of the three essential constituents of fertilizer, and one for which America now is paying virtual tribute to a Franco-German monopoly.

This country is well provided with the other two constituents of fertilizer — phosphorus from the vast deposits in Wyoming, Utah and Colorado and nitrogen, which can be manufactured at Muscle Shoals.

A foreign potash monopoly, officials of the United States Geological Survey pointed out today, holds more menace for this country than a foreign rubber monopoly, because as the soil is exhausted, use of fertilizer will become absolutely necessary or America must become dependent upon the rest of the world for food.

For example, according to the Bureau of Soils, a crop of wheat yielding twenty five bushels of grain and 2500 pounds of straw removes from the soil in an acre of ground eighty pounds of nitrogen, phosphorus and potash combined, of which twenty one pounds is potash. At this rate a crop of 250,000,000 bushels of wheat represents a withdrawal of 100,000 tons of potash, or nearly five times the present total American production.

The actual need for fertilizer has not yet been felt generally, although in certain sections failure to use it already shows serious results. In Missouri land that produced forty bushels of wheat to the acre now produces only fifteen, it was pointed out. Increased acreage and the fact that the soil not yet has become generally less productive accounts for the national continued large crops, it was said.

Nevertheless soil exhaustion must come without fertilizer and the United States Geological Survey is conducting an extensive investigation in Texas to determine if potash deposits accidentally discovered there by oil well drillers are sufficiently large to warrant mining operations.

BASEBALL GAMES WERE CALLED OFF LAST SUNDAY

Quite a few fans were disappointed Sunday afternoon because the ball game scheduled for that time was not held. Snyder's team cancelled the engagement Saturday afternoon on account of rain in their section. A number of visitors from Colorado, Comhoma, Stanton and other points were in Big Spring to attend the game.

ANCIENT HISTORY OF FLEA IS

Just whether or not the flea was included in that voyage on Noah's Ark that has long since been historical obscurity, but in considerable interest because why the cotton flea hopped become a serious cotton pest recent years.

In answer to this query a bulletin of Texas Agricultural Experiment Station states that of bottom crops of cotton years may have been attributed the flea but that the third detection. Recent identification the flea and observation methods seem to lead to suggestion.

Another suggestion has been advanced is that the Israelites of old came period of starvation and the patriotic led them out of the land of Egypt. The actual truth of this it can not be determined. There are some grounds for believing the majority of fleas are satisfied with the present and the fact that they are doing practically nothing under the huge imports of which are smothering the Dallas News.

A PRAYER FOR THE EDITOR

Here is a minister who appreciates the editor. At a recent editorial convention he offered the following toast: "To save an editor from starvation take his paper and pay for it promptly. To save him from bankruptcy advertise in his paper liberally. To save him from despair send him every item of news of which you can get hold. To save him from profanity, write your correspondence plainly on one side of the sheet and send it in as early as possible. To save him from mistakes bury him. WHAT'S DOING IN WEST TEXAS

By West Texas C. of C.

White Deer — A contract for a few forty-five room hotel has been closed here recently. Each of the rooms will have an outside exposure and will be equipped with all modern conveniences. This building will also be used for a number of offices, which will also have the advantages of an outside exposure.

Lubbock — Lubbock's new $500,000 six story hotel will be opened September 1, according to the manager. The hotel is modern in every particular. There are 124 guest rooms, a large lobby and coffee shop on the main floor, a banquet hall, and three private dining rooms. There will also be an open court for dancing and for public gatherings.

Big Lake — This city's paving program is to be gotten under way soon, following a recent meeting of property owners relative to carrying out the program which has been arranged, calling for paving from the Orient railway north on Main and one block each way on all streets at their intersection with Main street.

Rising Star — Work on the Brownwood Rising Star State highway is making good progress. The right of way which will go through fields will be delayed until crops are gathered. Three crews are at work on this project at present.

Clyde — Answering the call of Secretary W. H. Shanks, of the Chamber of Commerce the Callahan County Sheep and Goat Raisers Association has recently been organized. The organization plans to build warehouses at Clyde and make the city a market center for their products.

Plainview — An incubator with a 12,000 egg capacity will be installed in Plainview by the Bonner-Price Co. of this city. The firm will have baby chicks to sell in season. M. M. Bonner believes that there will be a good market for the custom-hatching. The incubator to be used is one of the largest of its type sold.

Sweetwater — Agitation is being started here for the establishment of a local creamery to be owned and operated by local dairymen. This project was started soon after the recent organization of the Nolan County Dairymen's Association.

Slaton — The Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. expects to spend an amount of $77,000 in new building, new outside equipment, and the installation of the new common battery system here soon. The completion of the news system is expected early in the new year.

Alamogorda, N. M. — Work on the new power and light plant for this city has begun. C. M. Einhart of this city is to be manager of the new plant. Lines are to be built immediately to Tularora and to a shallow water pumping belt. They will be constructed to other cities later. The cost of the entire plant is to exceed $200,000.

Stamford — The West Texas Chamber of Commerce has been instrumental in aiding the farmer to kill the leaf worm which has recently made its way into the bumper cotton crop of West Texas. The Chamber has put those communities needing calcium arsenate or other poisons for this pest in touch with places where supply was in excess of the demand.

FOSTER'S WEATHER FORECAST

Washington, August 26. — September—General increase in precipitation is expected to continue through the month, causing the month to average above normal precipitation in southern and eastern sections, Central and Northern Pacific Slope and in Eastern Great Central Valley; a little below normal precipitation in Northern Great Central Valley and on Southern Pacific Slope; about normal precipitation over balance of continent. Principal storm waves of month are expected to be severe, waves centering on 6 and 29, moderate waves centering on 14 and 29, general cool waves, that will probably be northern cold waves, will come with following storm centers of 6 and 29; a Southern storm is expected to enter from the Southwest near 9; this Southern storm is not expected to be of severe intensity, but of sufficient force to draw a rather cold wave down the western plateau, and cause quite heavy precipitation in Southern States east of the Rockies and in Eastern Great Central Valley. Storm wave centering on 29 is expected to be of the proverbial equinoctial type and of rather severe intensity. Warm waves are expected to center on 5 and 14; month will average below normal temperatures generally; greatest departures below normal temperatures are expected in Gulf Coast States, Atlantic Coast States and Northwest section; month is expected to average greater than usual temperature extremes.

CALIFORNIA READER

GIVES ADVICE

San Francisco, Cal., Aug. 27, 1926
Mr. Editor:

Some few years ago thru the courtesy of your journal I appeared every little while with a message, and would like to again at least once in a great while.

I see that you have a political campaign on in Texas, and I wonder if your candidates are giving the people any thing new progressive and inspirational to think about? Anyway, I should like to offer both them and the people of Texas, a few questions for consideration and if too late for this campaign, they could be made ready for the next.

I expect that you have in Texas just as elsewhere and will always have until people get to thinking, dirty, dusty unclean travel on your trains. May I suggest that both the candidates and the people begin to consider that railroads should, like ship companies, make traveling safe, comfortable and clean. They should even give us some sort of amusement while traveling, movies for instance, music, meals at reasonable prices.

I should like to see the candidates whether elected or not and the people, begin to labor for to disarm the public, that is the individual. We have learned that revolvers are not safe in churches nor in the hands of preachers.

We would love to see the my former home the grand old State of Texas lead out on the modification of climates and making that awful hot weather mild and like a sea shore climate. It can be done by men and machinery. Most all things are possible by men and machinery, reforms, processes, etc.

We would love to see Texas lead out with an educational system that really educates. One that brings out individuality, originality, and one that emphasizes character, brotherly love, love for law and obedience thereto.

We would love to see every institution press organization, and person labor for stand by the protection of womanhood. This will mean that all the educational means will be used, that womanhood will be revered, protected, exalted, and defended always at all times. And while Texas does not lag behind in this great work, yet we would see you lead.

I thank you.
Don't lend your friends money,
Jos. A. Shires.

COTTON PRICES LOOKING UP

Mr. M. H. Thomas, who lately in an interview in The Star-Telegram urged Texas farmers to hold their cotton for 20 cents, now finds an even greater pressure toward higher prices than he envisioned at that time. Mr. Thomas now believes that Texas' crop will not exceed 4,000,000 bales, and he looks toward 30 cents as the ultimate price of the season. The world, he says, can easily absorb a 16,000,000-bale crop at 20 cents a pound, and every bale that the crop shall prove short of that figure is a booster for better returns to the farmer.

Mr. Thomas' opinion is worth a great deal in the cotton trade. His prediction of a short crop, made in the face of the government reports which continued at that time to forecast a big crop, has been borne out by later government estimates. It is almost a certainty that the next government report will show still greater deterioration in the crop. The prospect, therefore, is that cotton can be made to command a good price this fall.

The world has not too much cotton. Last year's tremendous production represented hardly more than a normal supply for all the hungry spindles that make the world's fabrics. A difference of even a million bales this year should be important.

Texas farmers should avoid dumping their cotton on the market this year. Higher prices are almost certain to come later in the season. Every community resource should be employed to assist the farmers in carrying their cotton, so that the benefit when it comes will come to the growers and the growers' communities.—Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to thank each and everyone who voted for me, and who worked for my election as public weigher of Precinct 1 in the run-off primary. While I was unsuccessful in my race for the office I nevertheless appreciate your efforts in my behalf, and also the good will and confidence you have shown toward me. I hold no ill will because of my defeat, and will be found always ready and to bow to the will of the majority.

MINNESOTA FARM INCOME INCREASES

The average income of Minnesota farmers increased by more than $500 in 1925 as compared with 1924. The greatest increases were made in Southern Minnesota where the dairying interests are prominent. It was done by better production methods and by close culling of dairy animals. A cow that does not produce 4,000 pounds of high-testing milk per year is not considered worth keeping in either Wisconsin or Minnesota. By good breeding, good feeding and careful culling Wisconsin has increased the average production of its cows to a little better than 5,000 pounds, while Southern Minnesota has an average production of 5,600 pounds per animal.

If Texas were to kill all its dairy cows that did not come up to the 4,000-pound minimum, there would be a slaughter of nearly 90 per cent of the dairy cows in the State. If the minimum were lowered to 3,000 pounds, 1,000 pounds below a profitable margin, the number of dairy cows in Texas would be reduced more than 50 per cent.

Farm income can be best increased by employing the best of the approved methods of production which includes a crop rotation plan and a selected number of good animals for every farm. One crop farming has failed everywhere it has ever been tried. It will continue to make poor slaves of those who practice it.—Farm and Ranch.

CARD OF THANKS

I want to thank my friends thru-out the county for their vote and loyal support in my run-off race for the office of Public Weigher of Precinct No. 1 of Howard county.

I shall do my best to fulfill the duties of this office in such a way that not only those who voted for me, but everyone who has business dealings with the office will be more than satisfied.

I indeed appreciate the winning of this office and thank the citizenship for entrusting me with same.
J. W. Carpenter.

Two-Piece Jumper Dress Is Favored

Biarritz Approves Straight Plaited Outline; Godet Flare Displayed.

The smart world having foregathered at Biarritz during recent weeks, fashion reached a high water mark and gave a very clear indication of what is likely to be worn by the Parisienne during the summer months and especially at the country clubs and various sport centers such as Deauville, La Touquet and other fashionable pleasure haunts.

Biarritz has set the seal of its approval on the jumper two-piece dress. Indeed, even when a dress is made in one piece there is some clever arrangement of a little belt or band that simulates the two-piece effect.

Straight, simple lines are the invariable rule. The godet has vanished for the time being, and perhaps forever. Against this, however, platts are having it all their own way, for the modern woman insists on sufficient fullness to enable her to step into the smart little two-seater which she drives herself and also to indulge in an impromptu game of golf, if the spirit moves her, without having to rush home and change to something essentially workmanlike.

Crepella and frisca divide the honors among the really summery fabrics for sports wear. They are cool and practical, for they do not easily crush, and they are seen in the prettiest and most delightful colors imaginable.

Navy blue and white are popular combinations both in two fabrics and also in the printed foulards that made their appearance in great numbers at Biarritz during recent weeks. Sometimes red is introduced as well, and red and white with a touch of green is another popular color scheme where printed fabrics are concerned.

Nothing could be more attractive for golf than the natural-colored jersey jumper suits made by Chanel for many dwellers at Biarritz. She brightens the jumper by inserting graduated strips of her favorite crepella in white, yellow, red, pink or pale blue and often adds a straight collar lengthened into stole ends that are tied in a loose bow in front. The skirt is finely box-plaited and is often trimmed with rows of stitching in artificial silk to match the crepella stripes of the jumper. This stitching is machined, two or three rounds about an inch apart, round the hips to give a yoke effect.

Chantal Offers Bloused Waist and Long Sleeves

The straight, full silhouette, accomplished by means of unpressed plaits, and the bloused waistline were the outstanding features of the Chantal midseason or summer opening. The tailored suit was accorded a prominent place in this collection and it exploited two significant features. It was invariably accompanied by a bloused jumper and it was most frequently developed in velvet. The hip-length jacket was the typical length.

If a Chantal showing is any criterion, long sleeves are to dominate for at least another season—practically every frock incorporated this feature.

Silk lace was the striking fabric of the evening models. Black lace worn over a flesh-colored foundation appeared several times in this part of the collection.

Among the informal costumes sports fabrics and finely patterned English woolsens stood first. A notable feature of daytime dresses was the use of camel-hair jersey, usually employed in combination with chiffon.

Flower Prints, Chintz Drapes

The woman who is fortunate enough to possess an old book filled with plates of colored flowers can produce a most effective decoration. Mounted on larger backgrounds and framed with narrow bands of black or gold, they make ideal pictures for the chintz-hung living room.

Tailor-made Are Popular

Tailor-made suits are becoming more popular in the present. The models are made of long ones where the skirt is with the skirt hem, three-quarter length, but especially short tailors with the jacket just reaching the hips.

Several tracts of land are now secured for deep tests for oil in the vicinity of Big Spring. Land owners have everything to gain by encouraging all legitimate development work while those with the necessary funds are willing to take the risks.

With plenty of water to meet the needs of a city several times our size, Big Spring is in a position to take care of the substantial growth that is now taking place as a result of the prosperity of our section and of the oil development in this section.

Our people who expect to continue to bet it all on cotton must consider the added cost of insect control in estimating the cost of producing cotton. Cotton pests have found West Texas and it is going to be necessary to wage a continuous war against them during the growing season.

The fight against the leaf worm and other insect pests should not be halted. If we can overcome the next attack of the leaf worm by poisoning a fair cotton crop is assured. The next bunch of worms will be the ones that can wipe out the cotton field if he is not destroyed.

DIXON'S NEW PLAY HOUSE AT COLORADO TO OPEN MONDAY

Colorado, Texas.—The new $40,000.00 Palace theater to be opened Monday night, Sept. 6 in Colorado, by Mr. and Mrs. Ross D. Dixon will be among the most elaborate and well equipped play houses in West Texas.

From front entrance, leading under an inviting archway done in attractive Spanish architecture, to the dressing rooms behind, the stage, ever feature of this theater will represent the best obtainable in beauty as expressed in the artist's touch. Specially manufactured draperies, curtains, etching and other details which are to enter into the complete interior scheme will form a happy combination of beauty.

The stage curtain will be of dark blue velour with silver fringe. The initials P. T. in beautiful colors on either side of main proscenium. The valance and screen curtains are to be of rose satin, supported by hand painted garden scenes, on either side, The King Scenic Co., of Dallas, Texas, is doing the decorating.

All side wall lights and fans, of which there are to be many, will nestle in an attractive panel effect. All interior wood work will be finished in artistic cafnale, with walls stippled and painted in delicate shades of lavender and ivory. Stencil finish will be used on walls also.

As to attending to those details of comfort Mr. and Mrs. Dixon have provided the best. In addition to the several electric wall fans to be installed in the building, two large "blizzards" are built in the rear of the theater. These give assurance of a cool breeze in the theater at all times. In the winter the building will be kept at desired temperature by the modern steam heating system being installed.

Among the attractive features to form a part of the beauty in this theater will be the vari-colored fountain, to occupy space in the inside lobby. Here one of the most beautiful master pieces of the master decorator's art will be ever before the patrons of this play house.

The fountain will throw a stream of water sprays underneath a circling chandelier from which a vari-colored illuminating effect will be cast. This water will be the right temperature for drinking at all times.

The new Wicks organ purchased for this new theater will be in a class by itself so far as West Texas is concerned. Contract has already been made with an organist of Dallas to come to Colorado and play this instrument.

In the projecting room is to be installed two Mottograph Deluxe Machines, the best that can be bought.

Special attractions only will be shown in this new theater. Program changing three times a week, Monday, Wednesday and Friday. Matinee starting at 2:30 p. m. Night show at 7 p. m. Reserved seats will also be sold at any time for special occasions.

The opening picture for Monday and Tuesday, Sept. 6-7 is one of the best that could be obtained. Douglas Fairbanks in "The Black Pirate" all in natural colors. We hope all will be able to attend our opening and other special attractions.

DRILLING ON SEMINOLE TEST TO BE RESUMED THIS WEEK

Drilling on the well east of Seminole, near Cedar Lake, has been at a standstill for the past week on account of being out of fuel oil. However, a car of oil was received at Lamesa on Thursday afternoon's train, and drilling will be started immediately.

The drill is now down to a depth of 2180 feet, and we understand the drillers feel that no great obstacles are anticipated, and that the contract depth of 3250 feet will be reached in a short time.

As to prospects for this well no one knows what the outcome will be, but those in charge are still hopeful of bringing in production.—Seminole Sentinel.

The Big Spring Compress, with the installation of the new and improved press, will be in a position to handle all cotton produced in this district in much faster time than heretofore. The number of bales handled each year continues to show a substantial increase. The big improvements at the compress will be completed before the cotton season opens in full blast.

Mrs. A. T. Lloyd returned Sunday night from El Paso where she had been called by the serious illness of her brother in law, F. C. Neldermeier. Mr. Neldermeier's condition was greatly improved when she left El Paso.

involves control in cooking. You must be patient — add the cream a little at a time and flour or you won't have a creamy consistency. This same principle of control is followed by Hills Bros. in roasting coffee. A little at a time is roasted, and matchless, uniform flavor is the result.

CONTROLLED Roasting makes all the difference in the world. For our patented process roasts only a few pounds at a time . . . in an even temperature, constantly ventilated.

Such aroma, such flavor could never be secured by ordinary roasting methods. You'll realize this the moment you break the vacuum seal of a tin of Hills Bros. . . . the instant you get your first taste of a cup freshly brewed.

Hills Bros. "Red Can" is the pride of the coffee-loving West. It is called for everywhere. It is served everywhere. It grew up with the West and is growing with the West.

TWO KINDS OF TAX EXEMPTION

Florida gained the limelight by adopting a constitutional amendment prohibiting State income taxes. Presumably large fortunes were attracted to the Everglade State by this exemption; if not, Florida sold her birthright for a mess of apple-sauce.

Now comes Mississippi and provides for a five year exemption from taxation of farm improvements, such as residences, barns, newly cleared lands for farming "an other improvements of a premature nature tending to enhance the value of the property." The act providing for such exemption makes its application optional with the counties, and Yazoo county has just passed the necessary resolutions to thus encourage farm development within its borders.

In times past, factories, railroads and other large enterprises have frequently been encouraged by temporary exemptions, but insofar as our information goes, Mississippi has led the way in thus favoring the farmer.

Which type of tax exemption will contribute most to the sound and permanent development of the State—the Florida or the Mississippi type? An interesting problem for the economists to mull over; but it takes no deep student of economics to make a good guess in favor of the Mississippi plan.—Farm and Ranch.

Depending on one money crop is certainly a risky business, and no one can realize it more than folks in West Texas. If our cotton crop goes to the bad we are just about "blow-ed up." If we had more poultry, milk cows and brood sows on every farm in our county, a cotton crop failure would not crimp us.

AUTO DISTRIBUTOR NOW HAS DISTRICT WITH 7 COUNTIES

The Randals Motor Company of this city, local dealer for Studebaker automobiles is now a distributor instead of a dealer. Heretofore the agency here has been a sub agency under the Studebaker distributor at Lubbock, but this week, Loo Randals, active partner in the local company, closed a deal with the general office of the Studebaker corporation whereby this company has a direct distributor's contract with the factory.

The Randals motor company has also been given a territory of seven counties over which it will control the distribution of the Studebaker products.

Mr. Randals announces that he has leased a building in Big Spring located just across the street from the T. & P. station and as soon as he can get possession of that place he will establish a house in that city. He will probably have a sub-dealer at Midland, also. The territory given to the local company includes Dawson, Gaines, Howard, Martin, Midland and Upton counties. Mr. Randals says.

The bus line operating out of Big Spring will have their headquarters in the Randals motor company building at Big Spring.—Dawson County Journal.

T. & P. ENJOYS GOOD BUSINESS

The Texas & Pacific railway earnings for the month of July are estimated at $2,750,000 by far the greatest since 1920 when oil activity in the Ranger section boosted its gross earnings to $3,311,934.

A noteworthy feature of the T. & P. July business is the fact that passenger receipts showed a decrease of $400,000 from July, 1925.

There will be plenty of work for each of us to do if we want our town to keep moving forward. Very few of us go out of our way to encourage those who are working for the progress and rebuilding of Big Spring. It would hurt many of our citizens to say a good word for their home town.

HOW TO BEGIN

LIVESTOCK PRODUCTION

With the steady improvement of livestock prices and the recent and probable future decline of cotton prices, the livestock production of the South is almost certain to increase for the next few years.

"Crops and Markets," published by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, in a recent issue heads some of the paragraphs dealing with the markets for livestock and livestock products as follows:

"Better grades of beef steers advance 25 to 50 cents per 100 pounds."

"Butter markets continue steady to firm."

"Hog market highest since 1920"

Three things are necessary to the successful beginning of livestock production in the South on the part of a vast majority of our farmers. These are—

1. The providing of feeds and equipment before the livestock is obtained.

2. A knowledge of the livestock business.

3. Breeding stock of good quality.

It is especially necessary that feeds be provided or grown on the farm before the livestock is obtained. Owing to the fact that we use more feeds than we produce (that is, buy a large proportion of our feeds from other sections), prices of bought feeds are too high. When costs of long freight hauls and other handling charges are added to the cost of feeds to our livestock producing competitors, as will always be the case until we produce more feeds than we use, these higher feed costs will always be a serious handicap to the Southern producer of livestock.

The quality of the breeding stock is more important today than ever before in the history of this country. The "spread" or difference between prices of the better and lower grades is greater and the chances for profit much better than ever before when quality products are produced. It is a mistake for any beginner to pay extravagant prices for popular strains or pedigrees, but high quality breeding stock from high quality producing ancestry is a necessity in starting any herd or flock. These are never low priced but they are nevertheless the cheapest in the long run.

Finally, let us insist that unless a man intends to continue in the livestock business it is not wise to start in when prices are high, nor at any other time. If a man tries to jump into the business when profits look most promising and then jump out whenever a change comes, the chances are that he will both jump out a little too late.—The Progressive Farmer.

WHEN TO INCREASE

HOG PRODUCTION

The South can well afford to produce more hogs, regardless of what the price is likely to be a year hence; but no one should start now to produce market hogs on a large scale. If he started two years ago he is fortunate, for the May price of hogs reached the highest point in six years. This is due to the scarcity of hogs, brought about by the low prices two years ago, which as usual, markedly decreased the breeding of hogs.

When the prices are low it can be assumed with certainty that the total production of hogs will be decreased, and therefore, this is the time the wise hog raiser begins to get ready to greatly increase his production so as to have his largest number of hogs ready for market in say about a year to eighteen months. The reverse is also true, and when prices are high the wise producer of market hogs will make his plans to have his smallest number of market hogs ready for market in about a year to 18 months.

As stated, the South can at any time afford to increase the hogs on most farms, for home consumption; but this is a time when no wise man will start in the business of producing market hogs on anything like a large scale, for by the time he gets his hogs ready for market thousands of others, stimulated by the present high prices, will have done the same and the large supply will depress or break the market.

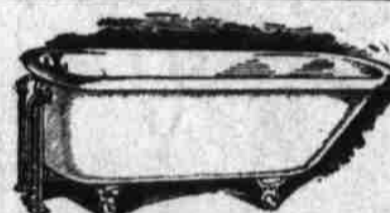

The ratio between corn and hogs is now very favorable to hogs, because there is less than the average number of hogs and a large supply of corn. The supply of pork in storage is 27 per cent less than a year ago. That is, there is the pork of 1,500,000 hogs less in storage now than a year ago. Without some unusual occurrence, it is perfectly plain that the number of hogs produced during the next year to 18 months will be greatly increased and the result is inevitable—lower prices, say a year from now, possibly somewhat sooner, but almost certainly not more than six months later, or 18 months from date.—Tait Butler, in The Progressive Farmer.

There is not a doubt but that the unhurried development in the Chalk oil field is a blessing in disguise. Just suppose the first well was a gusher. We would have been swamped by the resulting rush of people to our city. Oil men say the Chalk field is going to be producing oil on a commercial basis long after these gusher fields have passed away. The preparations the big companies are making to take care of production will eliminate the loss and blockades which are in evidence in the gusher fields.

ONE BROOD SOW TO 9 FARMS

Having occasion to look up some statistics not long ago the editor learned that Van Zandt county, in 1925, had one brood sow to every nine farms. Van Zandt county is no worse off in this respect than most counties in Texas. And yet, Texas farmers are great pork eaters. Where do they get the pork? It is shipped into Texas from Iowa, Missouri and Illinois. Our Texas farmers pay Iowa farmers for raising their pork. They pay transportation expenses and a number of intermediate profits and expenses, and then kick at the price the grocer charges for a piece of sow belly. Texas farmers should not have to eat sow belly. They should eat ham and eggs, spare ribs, back bone and fine bacon, but they never will have that opportunity unless they produce enough pork for their own needs.

There are many other articles of food that Texas farmers are paying farmers in distant States to raise for them that they could far better produce for themselves. But no, the idea that it is cheaper to buy than produce for their own use is deep seated in the minds of many, and they would rather grow cotton, sell it at the other fellow's price and buy what they eat, paying what the other fellow asks, and then cuss those who are looking out for themselves. Thousands of bushels of tomatoes rotted in East Texas fields this past few weeks. Is it true, as one East Texan put it, that many growers who let their tomatoes rot because they could not sell them, will be buying canned tomatoes and catsup before November 1?

Tomatoes, peas, berries and other fruits and vegetables may not have brought a price that paid to haul them to market, but when they are hauled back in cans, the price is plenty high, which is just one way of saying that it is not always what one can sell an article for that counts, but what one must pay for the article when he has it to buy.

The farmer who grows everything for the market and nothing for himself and family will continue to find it difficult to make tongue meet buckle. Farm and Ranch.

HOFFER "BLOOD TEST" TO BE GIVEN CROPS

Agriculture, the oldest occupation of man and perhaps the less developed when compared with the finality which marks some other industries, is about to take one very important step forward.

Science again is coming to the rescue of farming and is about to make it possible to determine with a fair degree of exactness the plant food requirements of such plants as corn and cotton.

An amazing invention of discovery which is now the talk of scientific circles in this country, centers about the researches of Dr. G. N. Hoffer, agronomist of Purdue University, Indiana, who actually takes what is equivalent to a "blood test" in human beings, only his tests are confined for the present to corn, cotton and sugar cane.

Dr. Hoffer, after years of experiment as a specialist for the United States Department of Agriculture, has developed a chemical test for plants which gives a fairly accurate index as to the plant food requirements of plants tested for the presence or absence of nitrogen and potash. Tests for phosphoric acid have not given equally successful results, but this phase of the investigation is still in its infancy.

In other words, Dr. Hoffer's tests show whether a plant has absorbed into its tissues from the plant food in the soil and from the air a sufficient supply of those essential agents which enable it to yield its maximum.

The method is quite simple. Just take a cornstalk and split it lengthwise through the joints and apply a few drops of diphenylamine to the tissues. If the tissues or sap turn an indigo blue or almost black the plant has its full allowance of nitrogen. If the reaction is only a faint blue the plant has not sufficient nitrogen. If there is no blue reaction the plant is starving for nitrogen.

The test for potash is similar, only the acids used are potassium thio-cyanide (10 per cent solution) and hydrochloric acid, the latter applied after the former. What really happens is a reddish discoloration of the nodes, showing the presence of iron where potash should be. Such plants are hungering for potash but have absorbed iron instead. If the joint tissues show discoloration the plant has sufficient potash, if only a faint pink reaction is obtained the plant has a little potash in its tissues but could use more.

The phosphorous test at present is limited to examination of the stalks. If the stalks are stunted and the soil reaction is acid, phosphorous deficiency is indicated. A solution known as "tolitex" is applied to the sample of the soil on which the plants grow. They give the usual reactions when acid is obtained with similar tests with blue litmus paper. Dallas News.

Miss Ruby Burnett has returned after two weeks spent in Big Spring and Dallas, Texas, where she went in the interest of her business. She stated that never before have the style shows been more beautiful, nor the assortment of styles more numerous from which to select new goods. Many buyers were thronging the wholesale centers daily from all parts of the country. She says buying was brisk and unusually heavy to meet the big demand, due to the times. In her selections including purchases for both places. The one located at Big Spring and the Ruby Hat Shop of Big Lake, Many new and up to the minute styles will be placed on display for the first time in this part of the country. Big Lake News.

The next few months are certain to be busy ones in this section. Cotton picking will soon be in full swing and should continue for several months. Civic improvements, improvements being made by the West Texas Electric Co., the Southwestern Bell Telephone Co., by several of the big oil companies operating in the Big Spring section; in connection with the extensive building program in Big Spring is giving employment to many men.

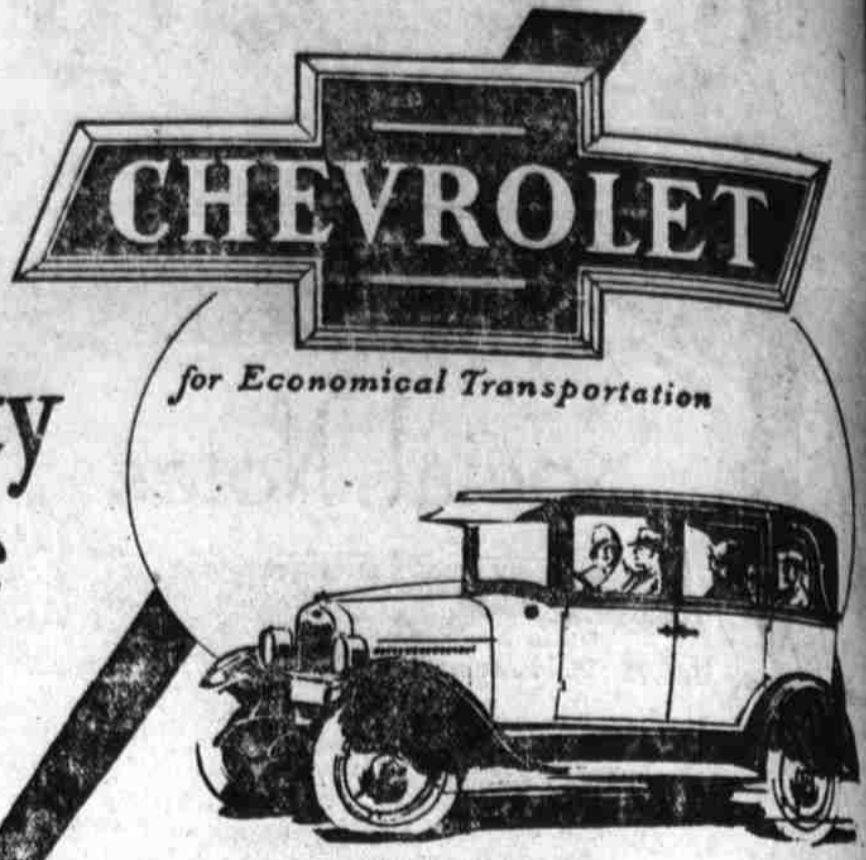

Anyway they can't say the farmers of Howard county did not make a determined fight to save the cotton crop from being entirely destroyed by leaf worm and other pests. Four carloads of calcium arsenate, in addition to other poisons, have been dusted and sprayed on the plant and the work is still in progress.

The greatest enemy fertile soil has is washing. Perhaps there is more depleted soil from this cause than all the others combined. On nearly every farm some portions are being carried away every time it rains. Especially during a down-pour great injury is wrought; the bigger the rain the greater the damage done. If washing does not amount to much, still the bad results are noticeable, and to neglect the minor washes is to invite disaster sooner or later. Bear in mind that a small hole requires a small patch, and a large one must have a patch of greater size. So it is with small gullies and ditches on the farm. Begin to make repairs before much damage has been done. Exchange.

DIAMOND Facts

Only 3 to 5 per cent of diamonds cut are perfect. To produce the equivalent of a one carat diamond one hundred tons of blue ground or kimberlite must be excavated, and 3000 feet or more to the surface, moved from three to fifteen miles and weathered for two years, washed, sorted and shipped to Europe where the diamonds are cut and finished.

It takes a piece of "rough" weighing 2 1/2 carats to make a perfect polished diamond one carat.

The cutter consumes seven and one half days of eight hours each in perfecting the cutting and polishing of a one carat diamond. One syndicate controls approximately 95 per cent of the world's production of diamonds.

Good diamonds are not only good taste for personal adornment but good investment as well, as a review of diamond prices for the last twenty-five years will prove. Come in and let us show you our big stock. A small payment down, balance in monthly payments.

A MONEY PRODUCER THE YEAR ROUND

Average farmer hates to keep a dairy herd because he says it makes him a slave to a cow. He has to be on the job promptly at milking and feeding times. Milking for an hour or two at 4 o'clock in the morning and at the same hour in the afternoon cuts into his days, Sundays included, and the Saturday afternoons, when he would like to stay a bit late in town.

It is true cows are as much creatures of habit as are humans. They want what they want when they want it, and they show their sunny dispositions and their full productive capacities at their best only to those owners who give them the proper attention.

But it is also true that any drawbacks in dairying are offset by the pleasure the owner of the cows gets from the weekly or monthly milk check.

If the cows insist on regular habits, the checks are just as regular. The owner of a herd of good cows does not spend a year betting with himself whether his work will bring any financial reward. It comes to him at short intervals, and regular ones.

And if cotton is too cheap, or the alfalfa is not up to standard, he should worry. His cows will take care of him, just as he takes care of them.

Furthermore, who ever heard of a cow being blighted by boll worm?—El Paso Herald.

IMPROVING RUN-DOWN LAND

Growing forage crops and grazing them with hogs is a very desirable way to improve run-down land, according to numerous hog raisers and experiment station workers. Practically all the fertilizing elements of the vegetation except that stored in animal bodies is returned to the soil in the manure and litter. The only danger of injury to the soil is in the trampling by the animals on heavy clays when they are wet, and this is easily avoided where a permanent sod pasture is available. Furthermore, hogs, when turned into a new field, frequently clean up a number of different kinds of weeds. They make good use of waste plants and tend to eliminate them from the fields grazed.—Dallas News.

WHAT COWS AND CHICKENS CAN DO FOR A TOWN

The city of Petaluma, California, has been built by chickens and milk cows and is one of the most prosperous cities in the United States 365 days out of the year. The resources of the Petaluma banks are $16,000,000. The city is the richest per capita city in the United States. The leading hotel cost $400,000 and was paid for by the citizens without borrowing a cent.

MOVE TO SECURE PICKERS

A meeting attended by about one hundred citizens was held at the courthouse at 2:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon to discuss the proposition of securing cotton pickers, agreeing upon a reasonable price for cotton pickers and working cooperatively with adjoining counties.

The meeting was called by the Chamber of Commerce and Secretary C. T. Watson in the opening talk explained the object of the meeting and stated the Chamber had no other purpose than a desire to assist the farmers in securing the needed labor and assist them in every way possible.

He stated it was well to agree upon a fair price for if they started bidding against each other it would hurt every man in the county and would demoralize the pickers. If it becomes known an established price is being paid in Howard and adjoining counties the pickers will settle down to work, but if the farmers start bidding against each other the pickers will spend most of their time hunting for the fellow who pays the highest price.

He also stated that all desiring pickers should leave their name and addresses with him, the number of pickers they needed, the accommodations they could furnish, the number of acres to be picked and he would forward the information to the U. S. Employment Bureau so the needed labor could be sent to our county.

He then introduced A. M. Robertson of Fort Worth, a representative of the Farm Labor division of the U. S. Employment Service who had been requested to visit our city.

Mr. Robertson stated that it was his job to divert the unemployed to the sections where labor was needed and his services were free. There was no charge against the man getting the laborers nor a charge against the laborer for the job.

He said there was certain information they must have, as pointed out by Mr. Watson and that given this they would do their utmost to supply the labor needed. He said his department had placed 35,000 cotton pickers in the Rio Grande Valley this season and they were now getting ready to head this number and more to Central, West and North Texas. He pointed out that so much cotton came on at the same time this year that it is going to be difficult to get sufficient pickers.

He said it was a good move to set a fair price for cotton picking and for everyone to stick to it. He also said it was a good move to get the adjoining counties to work together along this line. He stated it would be best for the cotton growers to work thru the Chamber of Commerce or they could write or wire to the Employment Bureau at Fort Worth.

He answered a number of questions relative to transportation, prices paid pickers elsewhere and starting the pickers to West Texas.

When it was put to a vote it was agreed that a price of $1.00 per hundred be set as a fair price for picking cotton in this section.

A motion prevailed that the Chamber of Commerce get in touch with Mitchell, Martin, and Dawson counties in an effort to have growers of the four counties maintain this fair price.

A motion was made that the Chamber of Commerce be tendered a vote of thanks for the effort being made to aid the farmers in this work.

It was suggested that when cotton picking gets underway that every one listing as needing pickers notify the Chamber of Commerce when they have all the help they need.

SHOWING OF FALL DRESSES, COATS, SHOES, MILLINERY

The newest creations of the season in dresses, coats, shoes, purses, and hats, designed to charm mllady, and to grace her thruout the coming months, were displayed at an informal style show in the ladies ready to wear department of the J. & W. Fisher store on Tuesday afternoon, between the hours of two and six. Gorgeous fall flowers, brilliantly colored, and other adornment gave the interior of the store a festive appearance for early fall, and hundreds of visitors called thruout the afternoon to view the new fall apparel. The millinery models were taken from the Moon Hat Shop and the ladies ready to wear from the J. & W. Fisher store.

The predominating colors in the dresses worn by the models were: chanel red, claret red, jungle green, black, brown, and navy blue. Hats in harmonizing shades with purses to match, were in pretty combination. Small shapes with high crowns, seem to be most popular in millinery for fall and winter, and scarfs will also have their place in mllady's wardrobe this season. Many striking models were worn, each one with a touch of smartness, and just a little different to appeal to the most particular. Crepes, satin, georgettes and other soft materials will hold sway over fashion dictates for fall and winter.

Fur lined coats, some of solid material, others checked or plaid, with fur trimmings were beautifully displayed with attractive hats, most of them small and close fitting, in some contrasting color, or harmonizing shade.

Footwear for fall in new styles and colors was also displayed, and the woman of fashion has much to select from for gracing her feet. Satin slippers are always good, and there is a wide range from the dress up shoe to the walking shoe, from which she can choose. Many new shades in silk hosiery will be seen this fall and winter.

New fall hats for the school children were beautifully shown, and models for the little folks are just as attractive as for the college girl or matron.

With the arrival of autumn mllady's thoughts turn to her wardrobe for the busy fall months. The showing of these attractive creations have caused much favorable comment, and has aroused interest in securing frocks, coats and hats that answer the call of fashion.

Delicious iced punch and wafers were served thruout the hours, while visitors called to see the attractive and fashionable display.

MINISTER FOR CHURCH OF CHRIST AND FAMILY ARRIVE

Bro. and Mrs. J. D. Boren and family arrived Thursday from Sweetwater and will make their home in this city. Brother Boren will be the minister at the Church of Christ. The membership of this church have been very anxious for the Boren family to arrive, and for Brother Boren to take up the leadership of the church.

We welcome them to our city.

Work on the new $50,000 warehouse of the J. M. Radford wholesale grocery company in Big Spring will be under way soon. The contract for this structure will be awarded next week.

BUSINESS HOUSES TO BE CLOS- ED MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 6TH

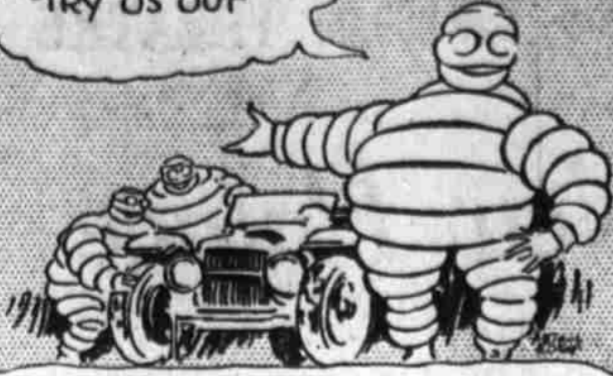

The banks and business houses of Big Spring will be closed thruout the day Monday, Sept. 6, for the reason that this is Labor day, a national holiday.

You are reminded to secure all needed supplies, and attend to your banking and other business on Saturday, Sept. 4, if you would avoid inconvenience. Don't forget.

We hope no gushers are struck in the Chalk oil field until the paving program has been completed because it is a difficult task right now to handle the traffic that is now coming our way and we would be swamped if any more should drop in on us.

Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Johnson plan to leave soon for Uvalde and Crystal City where they plan to spend the winter.

AN S. O. S. TO THE CITY FEDERATION

Since the business interests of Big Spring had so little influence with the railroad officials as to the moving of the old frame express building in the middle of Main street, the City Federation should be appealed to come to the aid of the Chamber of Commerce. We believe the women of Big Spring could persuade the officials that this fire trap should not be placed at the foot of Main street.

Great Value Even in Moments of Leisure

Farm women have recognized that well-earned and well-used leisure is the oil which makes the necessary duties of life be performed happily. Carl Sandburg has said: "Life is a combination of biscuits and hyacinths," and the farm woman is learning to realize the value of the hyacinths as she has long since realized the value of the biscuits, a writer in the Country Gentleman asserts. She is changing her objective from shining pots and pans to shining joyous faces, and she and her family alike are profiting by the change in accent.

Not all farm women are realizing the value of leisure, and but few farm women as yet have leisure in needed measure; nor are all who have won it using it effectively. But a good beginning has been made and the future is full of hope.

These times of leisure are literally moments only for some women. I know one mother of five young children who can't find 15-minute periods for recreating mind and soul. She says she can find leisure only for a moment here and there. To be sure, she looks ahead to the time when she can lessen the personal service to the little folks, but now practically every moment demands her attention, and so her leisure, like a rosary, is counted bead upon bead.

Wind's Great Effect on Personal Comfort

Personal comfort at any time of the year depends to an astonishing degree on wind; that is on the motion of the air. An interesting experiment, described by a writer in the American Magazine, illustrates the point.

To find out the different effects of still air and of air in motion, a man was shut up in a telephone booth. The booth contained an electric fan and it also had tubes through which fresh air could be supplied. The man had a lighted cigarette.

With the electric fan going, and with no fresh air coming in through the tubes, the man was comfortable, even after his cigarette had gone out because of lack of oxygen to burn. But when he was shut up in the booth without the fan being turned on, he was soon in great discomfort, even though he was being supplied with fresh air through the tubes.

"Divine" High Priest

The Grand Lama is the supreme high priest of the Lamaistic hierarchy, and is regarded as a divine being. Lamaism is the name of the religion prevailing in Mongolia and Tibet and to some extent in China; its followers are numbered in the millions. Lamaism is a form of Buddhism, corrupted by Sivaism, and by Shamanism or spirit worship. It was introduced into Tibet by the Chinese about the middle of the Seventh century, A. D., and shortly thereafter the holy city of Lhasa became a goal for pious pilgrims and the seat of the Grand Lama. The Grand Lama is also called the Dalai Lama, i. e., the ocean-priest, or priest as wide as the ocean.—Exchange.

What She Was After

Mrs. Skiffington, during the course of an afternoon call on Mrs. Biffington, sought the latter's advice regarding a proposed divorce action.

"Well," said Mrs. Biffington, on the conclusion of her friend's lengthy recital of her woes, "you have had your marital troubles just like the rest of us; but I am not at all sure that you would be justified in taking this step. You have no other grounds for seeking a divorce, have you?"

Mrs. Skiffington hesitated a moment, and then added: "To tell the truth, in addition to what I have just said, I have a brother who is a lawyer, and I am very anxious to give him something to do."

Retiring Into Oneself

Men seek retreats, houses in the country, seashores, and mountains; and thou, too, are wont to desire such things very much. But this is altogether a mark of the most common sort of men; for it is in thy power whenever thou shalt choose, to retire into thyself. For nowhere either with more quiet or more freedom from trouble does a man retire than into his own soul, particularly when he has within him such thoughts that by looking into them he is immediately in perfect tranquility.—Marcus Aurelius.

Cane and Beet Sugar

When highly refined no one can distinguish between cane and beet sugar, as they are one and the same thing. Between the crude or raw beet and cane sugars there is a great difference, the latter being edible, while the former is not, as it possesses a very disagreeable odor and taste. Cane sugar molasses is good for culinary purposes; beet sugar molasses is not. Cane juice contains glucose, but beet juice does not, though the latter contains raffinose and the former does not.

"Curiosity Killed the Cat"

Just how this saying got started is unknown. There was an old proverb that a cat has nine lives, yet care would wear them out. Another version of the proverb is that though she had nine lives care killed the cat. Probably "curiosity killed the cat" is merely a corruption of the former saying. Its popularity seems to rest on the alliteration of the three hard "c" sounds, rather than on the sense of the expression.—Exchange.

Lesson for September 5
THE TENT OF MEETING

LESSON TEXT—Exodus 11.
GOLDEN TEXT—And the Lord spake unto Moses face to face as a man speaketh unto his friend.
PRIMARY TOPIC—God's House in the Wilderness.
JUNIOR TOPIC—Moses' Workshops in God's House.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Friendship With God.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Communion With God.

I. The Divine Command to Possess the Land (vv. 1-6).

1. The abiding purpose (v. 1).
They were to go up and possess the land despite the fact that the calf worship had broken the bond between them and their God. God spoke of them as the people whom Moses brought up out of Egypt, not as His own people. They had not shown any true penitence for their awful sin, therefore God could not claim them as His own.

2. Divine aid promised (v. 2).
Though their sins made it impossible for God to go with them, He still agrees to help them by sending an angel before them to drive out their enemies.

3. The threatened withdrawal of the divine presence (vv. 3, 5).

God said, "I will not go up in the midst of thee, for thou art a stiff-necked people, lest I consume thee in the way." The presence of God in the midst of a sinning and impatient people would mean death unto them.

The mercy of God is often strikingly shown by God's withdrawal from His people.

4. The effect upon the people (vv. 4, 6).

(1) "When the people heard these evil tidings they mourned."

They had not understood the seriousness of God's threatened withdrawal. They knew that no angel could make up for the great loss of the personal presence of God. They called it "evil tidings." Surely no tidings are so evil as those which tell of the withdrawal of the divine presence.

(2) They stripped themselves of their ornaments, showing that the articles which indicated gladness and joy could not be consistently worn when God had departed. We must be stripped of all that pertains to self and carnal pleasures if we be clothed with the divine blessing.

II. The Tent of Meeting (vv. 7-11).

1. It was pitched outside of the camp (v. 7).
As a token of the severed fellowship, the symbol of God's dwelling place, the tent of meeting was placed without the camp. While this showed the excommunication of His people, it showed also God holding out an opportunity to such individuals as sought the Lord to continue in fellowship with Him.

2. Moses in communion with God (vv. 8-10).

Because Moses had not transgressed God's law, he still had fellowship with God. The visible sign to the people that God honored Moses was the descent of the "cloudy pillar" as Moses entered the tent of meeting.

3. Moses the friend of God (v. 11).
This is one of the most beautiful expressions of personal fellowship to be found in all the Bible. If not in all literature. Friendship implies mutual confidence and sympathy, a disposition to share each other's secrets.

4. Joshua at home in the tabernacle (v. 11).

Joshua was not involved in the rebellion of the people. Because of his fidelity he was privileged to abide in the tent in the divine fellowship.

III. Moses' Prayer (vv. 12-23).

Moses' mind was somewhat perplexed, therefore he came to the Lord for the solution of his problem. God had said that He would send an angel to carry out His covenant obligation concerning the people in the possession of the land. Moses desired fuller knowledge of this angel so that he might act intelligently with reference to the matter. He asked for three things:

1. Fuller knowledge (vv. 12-14).

In order to lead the people he needed to know more fully his God. God graciously responded to this request by assuring him that His presence would go with him and that He would give him rest.

2. "If thy presence go not with me, carry us not hence" (vv. 15-17).
Moses was convinced that no substitute could take God's place even though that one be an angel. He argued that it would be better to perish in the wilderness than to attempt to go into Canaan without God.

3. "Show me thy glory" (vv. 18-23).

Manifestly Present

Never in all the world's history has God been more manifestly present in it than when Jesus died upon the cross. We can all see that now. God was there, if He was ever anywhere in the world of men.

The True Prayer

The true prayer in time of great trial, care, or sorrow, is, not that we shall be delivered from the experiences, but that we may pass through them unharmed.

THE OLD-TIME ARISTOCRAT WAS THE FARMER

The time was when the aristocrat of this country was the farmer—the man who owned and cultivated the land. Today farming ranks among the lowest paid of all producing industries. Is it worth while to try and discover the causes for such a reversal of position? Why has progress been made in other industries while agriculture has slipped—not in importance to the people, but as a profitable, attractive business?
There are many reasons—too many to be mentioned in detail in one short article or editorial—but chief among them may be mentioned the fact that outside of the general use of machinery and power, farmers have let their manufacturing plant run down. They are making an effort to keep up the quantity of production by increasing acres cultivated rather than to decrease the cost of production by increasing acre production.

Another reason, probably of equal importance, is found in the practice of growing everything for the market and producing very little for home consumption. The old-time farmer—the aristocrat of his day—lived off the fat of the land. His daily menu was varied and abundant. His table almost groaned with the weight of appetizing food, and the housewife knew how it should be prepared. It was a rare treat for a city man and his family to receive an invitation to spend a week-end out on the farm. It isn't always so today.

The early farmer had virgin soil and only native insects to combat, but he didn't have much in the way of transportation and had a very limited market. Therefore he did not overproduce, but always produced enough to keep the farm well supplied with food and feed. If he had anything to sell or trade, and he generally did have, it was clear money to him. No merchant or banker took it away from him in return for an overdue note. He occupied his own land and tenants were scarce.

Of course, the farmers of those days were a political factor. Most of the great political leaders were farmers. Gentlemen farmers, of course, but they managed their own farm or plantation and lived on it. Today more than 60 per cent of the landowners in Texas live in town. Their land is rented to men who have no incentive to keep up its fertility. It is the business of the tenant to take from the soil all he can get out of it in the way of a cotton crop and move on. It seems to be the business of many landowners to get all they can get from the land with the expectation of an advance in land values and a sale at a profit. There seems to be a conspiracy to rob posterity, and it seems to be successful in that respect without returning a profit to either the owner or the tenant.

Politically speaking, the old-time farmer had the best of it. The present day farmer is handicapped by the tariff arrangement of the party in power, but it is safe to say that the majority of his troubles are within his power as an individual to correct, or can be solved through organization and cooperation.—
Farm and Ranch.

MONUMENT TO WEEVIL

Over in an Alabama town there is a monument to the boll weevil. The monument represents the gratitude of that particular community to the insect which forcibly freed it from the shackles of the one crop cotton system, and forced diversified corn, livestock and other money-making products.

West Texas had been bothered but little by the weevil, but it may some day take similar action for the worm. The farmer who sees his crop disappearing down the voracious maws of these pests may not feel grateful at the moment, but our greatest blessings are sometimes so disguised they are not recognized until long afterward—perhaps not at all.

But a five dollar advance in price due to insect ravages is not an unmixed evil, at that.—Sweetwater Reporter.

CENTRALIZED INDUSTRY CONSERVES RESOURCES

Centralization of the oil industry is having an important effect in stabilizing production and conserving sources of supply, declares the American Research Foundation. In its report, it says: "There are 16,000 producing oil companies in America, but 60 per cent of the oil production comes from the wells of 150 companies. Competition, however, is maintained in a high degree, owing to the fact that no one company produces more than four per cent of the total."

Quite a few of our folks who had planted turnip patches last week were quite tickled to see the shower here Monday afternoon.

CAMP FIRE GIRLS GIVE FAREWELL PICNIC FOR A MEMBER

Miss Dorothy Nummy, who left early Wednesday morning for Baird, where she will make her future home, received a pleasant surprise on the eve of her departure when the Tejas Unalloyed Camp Fire Girls gave her a farewell shower and picnic. The young ladies met at the Kent home about 7:30 Tuesday evening and from there went to the Nummy home. Dorothy, when met by the guests, was showered with numerous packages, containing dainty hand painted shoe trees, handkerchiefs, vanities, etc., given as parting gifts from her friends.

A delicious picnic spread, brought by the girls, was attractively arranged on the lawn and all of the girls grouped around it and feasted royally.

Following the evening meal, old fashioned games were played and a jolly time was in order. Adieus were said and the members of the Camp Fire invited Dorothy to come back and visit often with them.

WILL ORGANIZE WOMAN'S AUX. TO AMERICAN LEGION

Every wife, sister, or mother of a member of the American Legion is urged to be present at the Chamber of Commerce on Tuesday evening, Sept. 7, at 8 o'clock, at which time plans will be discussed for the organization of a Woman's Auxiliary to the American Legion. Many wives will want to accompany their husbands on the Legion trip to France next year and unless she is a member of the Woman's Auxiliary she is not eligible to go on this trip. There will be other advantages in being a member of such an organization.

Be on hand at the Chamber of Commerce office in the West Texas National Bank building Tuesday evening Sept. 7, at 8 o'clock.

MRS. J. O. TAMSITT HAS NEIGHBORHOOD S. S. PARTY

Mrs. J. O. Tamsitt was hostess to the members of her Sunday school class, "The Sunbeams," of the First Presbyterian church and the neighborhood children on Tuesday afternoon at her home on Johnson street.

Little Miss Winella Woodall, Elizabeth Dodge and Robert Owen received the guests and after they all arrived various kinds of games were played. Mrs. Tamsitt told them the story of how the robin got his red breast, and after this she invited them to come and go with her to "The Clubhouse." She has erected a big house out of crackers, loaf sugar and candy, and soon after the happy group arrived there, they had an earthquake and demolished the building of good eats. All of the children assisted in devouring the good things it was made of. After enjoying a glass of iced milk, and some sandwiches they were invited into the back yard to play "mud pies." A busy little village began to thrive after this group of industrious settlers inhabited it. All kinds of stores were established and there were vendors of every kind. Every child knew how to keep house and cook and a variety of cakes and pies resulted from the cooking campaign conducted.
