WASHINGTON (AP) — They pale in size compared with tax cuts for individuals, but tax relief items for businesses from railroads to arrowhead-makers were tucked into the $792 billion package Republicans pushed through Congress.

Roughly $72 billion of the total cuts over 10 years would benefit businesses directly, and many stand a good chance of eventually becoming law even if President Clinton vetoes this version of the bill as he has prom-

"Once you've gotten into the bill, you can go back up to the Hill and say: This is noncontroversial because it's been passed by either the House or Senate. You've gotten a foot in the water," said Evan Liddiard, a partner at the KPMG accounting firm's national tax office.

Some of the breaks are big and complicated, such as a $24 billion change in the arcane world of international taxes to allow U.S.-based companies a new global way to calculate credits for interest expenses incurred while operating in foreign countries. General Motors Corp. led the lobbying effort for that.

Some are simple and much smaller: A provision with negligible cost inserted by Rep. Dave Camp, a Republican whose Michigan district is prime hunting territory, would allow makers of specialty big-game arrowheads to pay a lower excise tax because they would no longer be defined as "essential components" of standard arrows. For business lobbyists, the changes merely rectify unfair or onerous portions of the tax code, even if they benefit primarily single industries or just one company. "It redresses many inequities of the current tax law that needlessly restrict small business growth, stability and job creation," said Nelson Litterst of the National Federation of Independent Business.

■ Board approves request from agribusiness giant for a five-year abatement

By Donald M. Cooper

Hereford Brand Managing Editor Three taxing entities still must come on board, but the Deaf Smith County Tax Abatement Board voted unanimously Tuesday afternoon in support of Archer Daniel Midland Co.'s request for a five-year tax abate-

The board's recommendation for the 50-percent annual tax abatement still must be approved by the Deaf Smith County Commissioners Court, Hereford Independent School District and the Deaf Smith County Hospital District before it can go into effect.

Archer Daniels Midland Co., which is based in Decatur, Ill., has purchased a 229-acre tract along the Burlington Northern Santa Fe Railway line near the junction of County Road 1 and U.S. Highway 60.

Bob Fifield, ADM national director of facilities, told the board the company intends to build a grainholding complex. The estimated cost of the plant and rail spur will be about $6 million, he said.

The company will be building two grain elevators designed to handle the loading and unloading of 110 rail cars within 15 hours.

Fifield said the rail spur will be about 8,400 feet long, capable of holding 120 rail cars.

"The railroad will bring in rail engines ... the minute their engineers get out, we have 15 hours" to complete the loading/unloading of the 110 cars, he said.

HISD Superintendent Elizabeth elected chairman.

Abernethy said the state penalizes districts for granting abatements by deducting a percentage of state funding; however, she said the ADM project would "add to the wealth" of the community.

Simons also said ADM's request is less than other companies have received in recent years, noting that "from the county's point of view, what they've asked for is reasonable."

Based on the estimated tax rates of the affected taxing entities, the annual abatement will be about $68,070.

News in brief

Groups develop electronic tickets

DALLAS (AP) - IBM and the airline industry are collaborating on new technology that could make it easier to fly without a ticket.

At some domestic airlines, up to half of all passengers now use electronic tickets. Ticketless travel saves the airlines money they otherwise would spend handling paper tickets.

But unlike paper tickets, airlines cannot honor each other's electronic tickets unless they establish costly links between their e-ticket systems; their electronic systems don't recognize each other's tickets.

IBM and the International Air Transport Association plan to announce today that they are developing a single system that would link all airlines that offer ticketless travel beginning

Officials at IBM and travel experts said the system could help passengers who must fly more than one carrier — for example, to reach smaller cities served only by commuter airlines or to link with foreign carriers on international trips.

Another execution scheduled

HUNTSVILLE, Texas (AP) — Nine-year-old Kandy Janell Kirtland got off her school bus, deposited her books and keys at her home in Bryan and disappeared.

Witnesses reported seeing her talking to a huge disheveled man with a stubby beard and dirty clothes. He was driving a Chevy Impala.

Parents were frightened. Photographs of the brown-haired blue-eyed girl who sang in her church choir went up all over the city. An abduction like this had never happened in Bryan.

More than a dozen years later, James Otto Earhart, convicted of her abduction and murder, is set to be executed this evening.

"It was a broad daylight kidnap," Brazos County District Attorney Bill Turner recalled Tuesday. "It was every parent's nightmare. She was a latchkey child. She got off the bus, came into her house and waited for her folks to get home. That strikes at the heart of every family, I suppose. You're going to come home and find your child - and you don't."

Two weeks after she disappeared on May 12, 1987, Kandy's decomposing body was found partially covered by brush in a wooded area a few miles from her home. Her hands were tied behind her back. An autopsy found she had been shot once in the head with a .22-caliber handgun.

Critics oppose grant repayment

Officials expect college dropouts to repay unused pell grant portions

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Education Department plans to require college dropouts to repay federal grant money regardless of how much they spend before quitting school, an across-the-board proposal that critics argue would hit poorest students hardest.

Under current rules, most students who drop out don't have to return federal needbased grants unless they leave on or before the first few days of classes. Financial aid officers take into account how much grant money the student received and the amount/ of expenses on books, parking stickers, supplies and the like. If students receive more grant money than their expenses justify, only then is repayment required.

The new proposal calls for one grant-repayment formula to cover every school and every student, based on how long the student stays on campus before withdrawing.

"Every student would owe a repayment regardless of whether the financial aid received was enough to cover the expenses they incurred," said Linda B. Michalowski, director of federal relations for the California Community Colleges system. "They no longer look at how much they (the students) got. It's just bam, you owe a percentage. And our students will pay the highest price."

Community college students, unlike those who attend moreexpensive state schools or private universities, rarely have loans and other money to supplement tuition, books, fees and housing, she said. Loans, unlike grants, always require repayment, regardless of student status.

The Education Department, which based its proposal on a federal law enacted last year aiming to make sure federal grants are used wisely, maintains the new approach is fair.

"Aid is awarded to a student with the expectation that the student will complete the period of time for which the aid has been awarded, said Dan Madzelan, the Education Department's chief policy analyst for higher education. "If the student doesn't complete the term, then there is a return that is required.'

An estimated 1.1 million Pell Grant recipients each can get a maximum $3,125 per was responsible for 10 percent of federal student aid last year. College trade groups say colleges with nontraditional students, who may be older, working full-time or with lower incomes, report higher percentages of Pell Grant students dropping out.

The Education Department says it doesn't know how many Pell Grant recipients nationwide drop out in an average

The department's proposed rule throws out the old individual repayment calculations that could be based on a college's tuition instead of the grant amount and instead requires the return of "unearned" financial aid if a student drops out before completing 60 percent of an academic term. Both college and student are responsible for what's left, and the law applies only to federal grant aid outlined in the Higher Education Act.

PRUNES Simple snack packed with nutrition

By Elizabeth Pivonka, Ph.D., R.D.

(NAPS)-It's no myth that you are what you eat, and new research shows that certain fruits and vegetables pack a powerful arsenal of essential vitamins and minerals vital for good health. Americans can ensure a longer, healthier life with a diet that may reduce the risk of certain chronic diseases such as cancer, heart attack, stroke, and assist in weight management.

Moist, chewy prunes are a delicious way to add fiber, vitamins and minerals to your favorite dish and get you on your way to eating 5 servings of fruits and vegetables every day. California prunes are sunripened French plums, dried at their peak of ripeness. Pitted and ready to use, prunes offer a boost of nutrition and flavor.

Researchers at the University of California at Davis, found that prunes contain high amounts of essential vitamins and minerals that help reduce the risks of diseases such as cancer, diabetes, heart and lung disease, and cataracts. Prunes are an excellent source of carbohydrates, vitamin A, vitamin C, iron, and potassium-key to cardiac health and athletic endurance. Additionally, they are fat-free, cholesterol-free, and low in sodium.

Preliminary research from Tufts University in Boston, shows prunes may also help slow the aging process in both the body and brain. The study ranks the antioxidant value of commonly eaten fruits and vegetables using an analysis called ORAC (Oxygen Radical Absorbance Capacity). Prunes top the list with more than twice the level of antioxidants than other high-scoring fruits such as blueberries and raisins.

Citrus Slaw

Ideal for kicking off the spring season with outdoor picnics and barbecues, prunes added to salads offer a moist, sweet texture. For a twist on a light, warm-weather meal, combine the flavors and textures of turkey, celery, and low-fat yogurt with prunes and place in a whole-wheat pita. Add diced prunes to traditional salads for a more exotic flavor.

Cut up and mixed with other fruit, prunes taste great in cereals, yogurt, pancakes and oatmeal. For an energetic midmorning or afternoon snack, try prunes right out of the box. Combine pitted prunes with chilled cubed melon, apple chunks, and pineapple pieces for a refreshing fruit salad.

Test your culinary skills with this delicious low-fat Citrus Slaw recipe.

Holdout Anderson expected to rejoin Falcons today

GREENVILLE, S.C. (AP) Jamal Anderson could return to the practice field today for the Atlanta Falcons. Then again, he might be requesting a trade.

Anderson and his agent, Jim Sims, were planning to hold their first face-to-face meeting with coach Dan Reeves and general manager Harold Richardson since training camp began July 29 at Furman Univer-

Sims portrayed the gathering as a chance to break the impasse that has kept the All-Pro running back out of camp - or cause irreparable damage to the negotiating process.

If a deal can't be reached today, Sims said he would ask the Falcons to trade Anderson, who set a franchise rushing record with 1,846 yards and an NFL mark with 410 carries.

Sims first raised the trade possibility a couple of weeks ago when his client refused to report to training camp.

"I we don't get it done, I think from that point on we'll really have to push the trade option," the agent said. "He's not retiring."

As he did several weeks ago, Reeves flatly rejected the idea of dealing Anderson to another team.

"We'll meet with them and he won't get traded," the coach vowed.

On Tuesday, dozens of reporters converged on the sleepy campus at the edge of the Appalachians, expecting a meeting between Anderson and the Falcons. The running back arrived in Atlanta on Monday morning, putting him within a 2 1/2-hour drive of Greenville.

But Sims, based in Oakland, Calif., said he had trouble getting a flight out of the Bay Area, so the meeting was pushed back 24 hours.

Reeves seemed perturbed by all the attention devoted to the star running back, who is refusing to play out the final year of his current contract for $2.6 million. Anderson wants a long-term deal that's in line with the NFL's other top runners.

"They just want more publicity and y'all are doing a great job of giving it to them," Reeves groused to reporters.

The coach, who has final say on contract matters. continued to draw a line in the sand at Anderson's demands. He said the running back should accept the Falcons' offer or live up to his contract and become a free agent at the end of the season.

"I don't see anything being different just because we're meeting face to face .. instead of talking on the phone," Reeves said. "We've stated our stance and that's

He did concede a willingness to shift some money to earlier years in the con-tract. While the two sides have basically agreed on a new five-year deal worth $28 million to $30 million, Anderson is seeking around $13 million in the first three years and the Falcons have offered $11 million.

Also, the Falcons have offered a $7 million signing bonus, while Anderson is seeking at least $7.5 million after initially asking for $10 million.

If a deal is reached today. Sims said his client could take part in practice this afternoon or Thursday morning. The Falcons play their first exhibition game Friday night against De-

Reeves seemed somewhat heartened that Anderson was at least making the effort to be at training camp, even if didn't plan on being in uniform right away.

"That's better than nothing," Reeves said. "We'll sit down and talk and see what happens."

Sims sparked the first face-to-face talks by cutting short a European vacation and sending a new proposal to Richardson on Friday.

"There can't be a bigger commitment than going to training camp ready to go to work," Sims said. "Hopefully, we'll get it done."

Anderson, facing fines of $65,000 for skipping 13 workouts as of Tuesday, has been unwilling to take the field without a new contract since the Falcons can still retain his rights next season by designating him a franchise player.

Even in that situation, he would be assured of making at least the average salary of the top five players at his position.

While Anderson can't force the Falcons to trade him, Sims said it would be foolish to keep the player if negotiations reach a point where he no longer wants to play for the NFC cham-

"It's only vindictive for a team not to go forward and try to entertain the trade option," Sims said, pointing out that the Falcons would be stuck with a $3.6 million salary cap cost whether Anderson plays or not. "Then where we are going to be next year? Starting off at square one."

Meanwhile, the Falcons went through another day of practice on a scorching 95-degree day, their thoughts far away from Anderson's contract im-

Tech must step up

Ricky Williams- and Rob Peters-led offense must step it up for the Monte Reagor-less Red Raiders

LUBBOCK (AP) — When Ricky Williams couldn't find a hole and Rob Peters couldn't find a receiver in the fourth quarter last season, it was often defensive lineman Montae Reagor who bailed out Texas Tech.

Reagor, the Red Raiders' all-time sack leader, led a fumbleforcing, swarming defense that ranked eighth nationally in total defense. Minus Reagor, now with the Denver Broncos, and four other defensive starters, the Tech offense will have to carry its own weight in 1999.

There were at least a few games the defense won for us and they put us in position to win every game," coach Spike Dykes said. "This year we'll have to give ourselves more room in the fourth quarter."

There are reasons for cautious optimism, chief among them an experienced quarterback and one of the nation's best running backs. Peters returns at quarterback after sitting out half of 1998 with a sprained shoulder and missing spring workouts because of thumb sur-

Peters, who threw for 1,269 yards and nine touchdowns last year, said the Raiders have spiced up their

"We're looking to speed things up a little and have better transition between our running game and our passing game," he said. "We're running at some different angles and looking at more short-yardage plays. I feel great and can't wait to get out there for our first game."

Peters' first - and best - option will be handing off to Williams, who carried 306 times for 1,582 yards and 13 touchdowns as a sophomore. The 5-foot-9 back bulked up from 175 to 190 pounds during the off-season.

"I know that I'm going to have to run a lot more this season," Williams said. "I'm ready to handle the extra load." Williams again will have a beefy line opening holes for him. Tech's offensive line remains the nation's biggest, with eight players over 300 pounds. All-Big 12 guard Curtis Lowery (6-5, 327 pounds) anchors the left side next to 357-pound tackle Jonathan Gray.

As for the passing game, Tech hopes receiver Derek Dorris can replace the departed Donnie Hart, who caught 48 passes for 871 yards. Dorris, a junior, was second on the team with 28 catches for 395 yards.

On defense, Tech will look to junior tackle Kris Kocurek to lead an experienced squad that had eight seniors listed as starters after spring drills. Kocurek was third on the team in total tackles last year with 87.

Dykes has made it clear he hopes the team won't rely on the defense as much as last

"We don't want as many close games if we can avoid it," Dykes said. Nail-biters were the norm in 1998. Four games were won by key defensive stands and forced fumbles. Against Oklaloma State, Tech led 17-10 but was sputtering as the Cowboys drove toward a game-tying touchdown with 2:53 left. Reagor forced a fumble, and linebacker Dorian

Pitts ran it back for a 53-yard score. Tech held on for a 24-1" victory. Texas Tech, 7-5 overall and 4-4 in the Big 12 last year, will start 1999 on Sept. 6 at Arizona State. The two biggest games of the season are likely to be against Texas A&M Oct. 2 in Lubbock and against Texas Nov. 13 in Austin. Tech closes the regular season Nov. 20 at home against Oklahoma. If the Red Raiders secure another bowl bid. Dykes hopes to avoid what has become an annual postseason collapse.

In the Independence Bowl last season, 10-point underdog Mississippi managed 355 yards of offense in a 35-18 victory. The loss dropped Tech's record in bowl games to 5-17-1.

"If we get there we have to win," Dykes said. "Bowl games are opportunities ... the victory is not in just getting there. Sometimes you can play like you're just happy to be there and our goal this year is to walk away in victory."

WICHITA FALLS (AP) -The Dallas Cowboys' ability to contain the blitz will be on the "needs work" list as they role tape of their exhibition

"We didn't spend a whole lot of time in preparation for that kind of stuff," quarterback Troy Aikman said after Monday night's game against Cleveland. We got good protection most of the game, but the blitz was tough. I'm sure we'll work on it some more."

The problems against Cleveland Monday night evoked memories of 1998, when the entire NFL took advantage of the Cowboys' problem with the blitz.

Head coach Chan Gailey didn't sound alarmed about the blitz problem. After all, it was only an exhibition, and Dallas used most of the game to look at young players.

"I got a chance to see some key personnel in action and what I saw was promising," Gailey said. "We need some work on the blitz, but that will come with a little more time."

On the flip side, there were some promising signs for the Dallas rush.

First-round draft pick Ebenezer Ekuban recorded a sack, chasing down quarterback Ty Detmer. Former Texas A&M star Dat Nguyen halted a Cleveland drive by pouncing on quarterback Tim Couch on a third-down play.

"We saw some great de-fensive work out there from our young guys," Gailey said. "As far as I'm concerned, the game was a victory for our defense."

CLASSIFIED ADS

Classified advertising rates are based on 20 cents a word for first insertion ($4.00 mini num), and 11 cents for second publication and thereafter. Rates below are based on consecutive issues, no copy change, straight

Times	Rate	Min
I day per word	.20	$4.00
2 days per word	.31	$6.20
3 days per word	.42	$8.40
4 days per word	.53	$10.60
5 days per word	.64	$12.80

CLASSIFIED DISPLAY Classified display rates apply to all other ad not set in solid-word lines -- those with captions, bold or larger type, special paragraphs all capital letters. Rates are $5.30 per column inch.

LEGALS Ad rates for legal notices are $5.30 per column inch.

ERRORS

Every effort is made to avoid errors in word ads and legal notices. Advertisers should call attention to any errors immediately after the first insertion. We will not be responsible for more than one incorrect insertion. In case of errors by the publishers, an additional insertion will be published.

Writing Want Ads that really sell!

Unsure how to write a Classified Ad that will get results? Follow these pointers and you'll soon have an empty space in your storage room and cash in your pocket.

For starters, look at ads which offer the same item/products. Get a sense of going rates and ideas for how to make your ad stand out. Once you're ready to write, begin with exactly what you're selling: "Dining room set, maple, six chairs." Then, remember these hints:

· Give the price. A newspaper consultant says 70 percent of classified readers won't respond to an ad with no price. Use key words to describe what you're selling. The key words for a car are make, model, year, body style, color, mileage and price. If it's a house, key words are location, type of construction, number of bedrooms and baths, and condition.

· Don't use abbreviations. It's tempting to abbreviate and save money if ads are billed by the line. Brand ads are billed by the words, so spell them out so readers won't be confused trying to figure out abbre-interviewed by the board was Larry Langley, chief financial officer for Borger Health Care Center. Langley met with the board on July 12.

· Don't be misleading. Think accurate and factual when you write. Be sure to include a phone number and the best times to reach you.

The three men were identified as prospective HRMC administrator by Search One, the Euless-based recruiting firm hired by the board to carry out the search for a permanent hospital chief executive officer.

The position became vacant in May when John Studsrud submitted his resignation, less than a year on the job.

Studsrud had been named HRMC administrator last fall replacing Jim Robinson, who resigned in February 1998 after a conflict with the hospital's medical staff.

The board turned to the Texas Organization of Rural and Community Hospitals (TORCH) Management Services to find an interim administrator.

The interim administrator, J.O. Lewis of San Antonio, took over the helm of the hospital earlier this month. The Corpus Christi native formerly served as CEO of Mesa (Ariz.) General Hospital.

Search One will conduct the search on a contingency basis. If the hospital board should conduct its own search and hire an administrator, it will not be required to pay

However, if Search One conducts the full search and finds the candidate who ultimately is hired at HRMC, the firm's fee will be 15 percent of the first year's compensation package. Using the salary and benefits package for Studsrud as a guide, the hospital board could be looking at a fee of about $12,500.

Pakistan fires at Indian plane

BHUJ, India - Pakistan eled on the special local drug fired a missile at Indian aircraft flying near the crash site of a Pakistani surveillance plane today, the second aerial clash in the disputed border region in two days.

Pakistani military spokes-man Brig. Rashid Quereshi said his forces fired on two Indian fighter jets escorting three helicopters to the crash site. An Associated Press reporter was among a group of journalists aboard the helicopters.

"Two Mig 21 fighters ... approached the site of the wreckage. Our troops who were there engaged them and fired one time," Quereshi said. He said a surface-to-air missile was used, but refused to elaborate.

Indian Group Capt. P. S. Bhangu said that from the cockpit he saw a missile flash coming from the direction of the Pakistani border, and immediately the three choppers veered away from the area.

Justice to check states on new parolee courts

WASHINGTON - The Justice Department plans to seek suggestions for implementing "re-entry" courts that would augment the parole system by having state judges oversee the return of inmates to society.

Speaking to the American Bar Association in Atlanta on Tuesday, Attorney General Janet Reno suggested that re-entry courts could be modcourts that were successful during her tenure as a Miami prosecutor - a concept that has spread to several other cities success, the criminal justice system is going to fail again." Many states are interested in the program and Nevada will begin having judges oversee the release of prisoners in October, said Jeremy Travis, director of the National Institute of Justice, the Justice Department's research group.

Demos set demographic goals for delegates SACRAMENTO, Calif. -

Intent on projecting diversity, California Democrats have spelled out precisely how many gays, lesbians, disabled people and minorities should serve as delegates to the party's national convention.

State party officials sent a memo to 2,500 activists last week, laying out what they called goals for how the 432 delegates should look. In August 2000 the delegates will gather in Los Angeles to choose the Democratic presidential nominee, and the party is eager to showcase its diversity before a television audience of millions.

According to the memo, 26 percent of delegates should be Hispanic, 16 percent black, 10 percent disabled, 9 percent

Asian-Pacific Is . lander, 5 percent gay, 5 percent lesbian and 1 percent Indian. Half should be men, and half women, the party said.

Fight over affirmative action at Michigan ANN ARBOR, Mich. -

When new students arrive at the University of Michigan in a few weeks, about a quarter of them will be minorities a freshman class selected through the kind of racebased admissions system despised by opponents of affirmative action.

Two lawsuits against Michigan seek to eliminate race from the admissions process. While similar struggles have played out in other states + California, Texas and Washington - experts say the fight in Michigan could be decisive for the nation.

"It is a case that very well may go up to the Supreme Court," said Gary Orfield, a Harvard University professor of education and social policy. "It has every possibility of

In Washington state, The Spokesman-Review of Spokane said Furrow had a relationship with Debbie Mathews, widow of Robert J. Mathews, founder of the hate group called the Order. Mathews was killed in 1984 when his hideout caught fire during a shootout with federal agents on Whidbey Island in Washington state.

The newspaper said he lived with Ms. Mathews for a time. It quoted Metaline Falls town marshal Rick Reiber as saying he understood they had been married around 1996 and later split up. The newspaper said records could not be found to confirm a marriage.

After Robert Mathews' death, 22 Order members were convicted or pleaded guilty after being indicted on racketeering charges. They were accused of robberies that netted more than $4 million, as well as other crimes, including the June 1984 murder of Alan Berg, a Jewish talk-radio host in Den-

Police arrived four minutes after Tuesday morning's shooting, gun smoke still lingering in the lobby of the suburban community center, Cmdr. David Kalish said. The gunman had already disappeared, leaving behind the wounded: three young boys attending day camp, a 16year-old counselor and a 68year-old receptionist.

Furrow fled in a van and then stole a car, Kalish said.

Investigators followed his trail across the city, from the shell casings that littered the center's lobby to the abandoned red-and-white van filled with ammunition, bulletproof vests, explosives, freeze-dried food and a booklet titled Ranger Handbook. The trail led to a green Toyota Corolla he was believed to have stolen and then left in front of a hotel a few miles from the community center.

Officers surrounded the hotel, but the search ended after four hours.

"Racial unity is not a political position for me, it's

If elected president, Bradley said he would work to help the 14 million American children living in poverty, one in five of whom is black.

"Timid leadership and the silence of good people have caused us to risk losing yet another generation," he said, taking a shot at President Clinton and Gore. "After seven years of a Democratic administration, the percentage of American children living in poverty has barely blipped down."
