CRAWFORD HOTEL COFFEE SHOP WAS ROBBED OF $70

Someone entered the Crawford Hotel Coffee Shop, sometime late Sunday night, and relieved the cash register of $70.00 in cash. The thief is said to have gained entrance thru the back door of the shop, which is in the kitchen, and took the money from the register, which is in the dining room.

A. D. Meletis, proprietor of the Coffee Shop, is being complimented highly on his management of the Coffee Shop, and his customers and friends are all well satisfied with the meals and service. The Coffee Shop has enjoyed a wonderful business since its opening, and every day they have a rushing business.

Another Interesting Letter Written From Honduras

Mr. Editor:

As you were kind enough to print one of my personal letters written from the republic of Honduras, I feel that I owe your readers a more general account of the country and its wonderful resources.

It is the third largest of the five central American Republics, and while it is very rich in natural resources, it is the least in progressive development, due to many causes, but principally for lack of stable government and education. This however is being rapidly overcome as the government now has eight hundred primary schools as well as a number of high schools and universities. They also have a few normal schools and industrial schools, the latter of which are the most important, as the young people are being taught to create articles to supply their own needs. I visited several of these schools and saw the boys working with machinery in manufacturing automobile parts and many useful articles, and in another department, they were making furniture and all kinds of wooden work out of their beautiful hardwoods, of many varieties.

I saw the girls spinning and weaving cloth rugs, and curtains, and all seemed to be bright, intelligent, young people, and deeply interested in being able to create something useful, as the rank and file of the people, especially in the country, are very poor with the most primitive household articles.

The beds consist of home made canvass cots with a straw mat, and pillows made from the lint of the Ciber tree. The stoves are made of mud, and the ovens are crude dome shaped affairs made of mud, and are heated by making a fire inside.

I visited a school up in the mountains run by an American, who was formerly a mining engineer, and when the mine failed which he was superintending, he went into the ranching business, raising fine Holstein dairy cattle for breeding purposes, as most of the cattle are of the long horn variety. He has been very successful, both in his ranching and school, as ten years ago he opened a school for boys who would otherwise have been denied an education.

This school is an ideal place, built high up in the mountains, surrounded by a pine forest, and overlooking the banana groves, orange trees, avocates trees, and limes, with pine apples and vegetables and strawberries in the gardens.

The boys milk the Holstein cows and make a fine grade of cheese for market. I was told by the owner of this ranch that good grazing land could be bought for one dollar per acre and as a great deal of the land belongs to the government, and is unfenced, land is used by the cattlemen with out cost. There is no government tax on lands, or other real estate. I visited the penitentiary in Tegucigalpa where five hundred men are prisoners. They all looked clean and well cared for, as they are not required to work and friends and relatives from the outside are allowed to supply them with everything for their comfort. The more desperate criminals are sent to Omoa, an old Spanish Mission across the bay from Puerto Cortez. This prison is over two hundred years old and very damp and unhealthy. So the life of prisoners do not live very long. I visited this prison also but did not go inside as it was dark and forbidding.

The people in general are kind and considerate of each other. On one occasion while driving on a steep mountain road in a large motor conveyance, we encountered a heavy rain storm, and while we were trying to keep dry as the roof was leaking, one of the women passengers set up a great commotion, and the driver stopped. A young man smilingly told me the woman had allowed a young mocking bird to escape, which she was carrying in her hand, and the driver had stopped the car with sixteen people in it to allow the woman to go back and look for her pet. After fifteen minutes she returned, saying it had flown over the cliff and escaped.

I found the climate delightfully cool and every place except the sea coast, and even there, there was a cool sea breeze most of the time. There are many resources there awaiting capital and intelligent de-

Luncheon Club Talks Development

Viaduct, Office Building, Gas Franchise, Paving and Poultry Are Discussed at Luncheon

Not a very large number were in attendance at the regular meeting of the Wednesday Luncheon Club this week but some big and important topics were up for consideration.

J. B. Pickle, president of the club, took occasion to express the membership's pleasure at having enjoyed the fellowship of Rev. W. C. Hinds, pastor of the Methodist church, who is leaving our city Friday to accept his new charge at Colorado and express their regret that we were losing him as a member and as a citizen of Big Spring.

E. A. Kelley stated that the Viaduct proposition was progressing, but slowly and it now seemed a problem of the various interests agreeing on the amount each could afford to pay. If a viaduct of substantial construction capable of meeting the needs of our city is erected, and it is certain no cheap affair is desired, the minimum cost will be $80,000. If after the plans are prepared and the estimates secured we believe the proposition will be put over quickly if the city and county will each call for bond issues of from $20,000 to $25,000 as it is believed the railroad company will bear one half the expense of the viaduct.

Joe Fisher stated he had talked to several of the Commissioners of Howard County and they recognized the need of a viaduct and would favor erecting one of a substantial nature.

Several discussed the importance of the need of an office building in Big Spring and urged that it was costing our city big money because we could not furnish accommodations for those desiring office space here.

Upon being pressed C. W. Cunningham stated the firm of Trost & Trost, architects of Big Spring and El Paso, were preparing tentative plans for an office building and were working out a method whereby the proposition could be put over.

W. V. Montin, city manager stated that the City Commission had granted a franchise to a reputable gas company and work on the distribution plant would be underway shortly. He said the members of the City Commission deserve much credit for making a deal that is going to be of so much benefit to our city and citizens.

In regard to the new paving program, he advised that a new freight rate which would mean a big saving to our city, would become effective in December and it had been decided to postpone the paving program until December 12.

Dr. L. D. LeGear of St. Louis was a guest at this meeting and made an interesting talk in which he told of the value of poultry raising. He said the Big Spring section was ideal for this industry and a man could make more on 5 acres raising poultry, if he studied his business, than he could make in the general run of business in this city. He said that right now a hen could be making $1.00 clean profit each month for the owner. He said the business men were overlooking a big opportunity in not encouraging poultry raising.

Dr. LeGear announced he was to deliver a laudable address and deliver a lecture at the court house at two o'clock and urged all present to be on hand.

The following were appointed on the program committee for next

Paving Tests Are Favored

With Worlds Of Paving Material at Hand, Big Spring is in a Position to Do Some Experimenting

Whether it would be better to pave thirty blocks or three of four times as many for the same price is the question. The City of Big Spring has $41,000 to expend for paving streets in our city, and the city is not favored, to this job in any set time.

If the same type of paving is contracted for as was laid in the business section the city will be able to pay her part in the paving of about thirty-four blocks.

We can have three or four times this amount of paving if we put down a less expensive but just as serviceable a paving. We have plenty of gravel at hand and plenty of crushed rock to be had right at our door. A nine to twelve inch base of gravel on crushed rock topped with asphalt, would give us just as serviceable paving in our city as is needed. A heavy curb and concrete guttering to handle the flood waters would be necessary.

If the city found this paving would fill the bill, and wanted to spread it over a greater section of the city, they might park a space in the center of the streets in the resident section of the city for the present. Later on, if it was found that any street was unable to handle the traffic, the parking space could be eliminated and this space paved.

The growing number of automobiles causes a demand for wider streets; so by making parking spaces in the center of the street which can be removed at will, Big Spring will be able to have streets plenty able to handle traffic for a city many times the size of Big Spring.

We just can't afford to make our streets any narrower is the general opinion.

But we certainly do think the members of the City Commission can well afford to give consideration to the plan of building less expensive paving and cover a greater portion of our city. We believe the majority of our citizens would be in favor of giving this plan a trial.

We have a partial experiment on Scurry street. Had this gravel, with asphalt topping, been protected on each side with curbing it would have been just as good a type of paving as is needed in the resident section. You must remember that this stretch has been badly punished due to the heavy oil field traffic. Anyway there is no particular rush about the paving and we can afford to try out a little experiment. We can use material that can be secured locally and home people can be given employment.

ROSCOE TEAM WILL PLAY FOOTBALL HERE TODAY

Roscoe High School Football team said to be the tightest team in all West Texas, is scheduled to meet the local Steer team, in our city this afternoon, game to be called promptly at 3:45. Not only does the Roscoe team claim to be a go-getter, but they also claim that they will not be defeated by ten-points during the season. The Steers are determined to take the "not" of this team, and they promise the fans one of the best games of the season. The Steers have said that they have been defeated now for the last time, and they are going to take the victory with Roscoe, and also the one on Thanksgiving Day, when they play Lamesa. With their determination to win, and the support of the fans, the Steers are on the right road to victory.

The game will be played at the city ball park. Come out and help our team win.

STEEERS LOSE GAME WITH COLORADO, ARMISTICE DAY

Wolves may like Steer meat, but the meat they got hold of Armistice Day was the toughest they ever had. Thursday night might have been their final night to howl for they had a good reason after the battle. The final score was 9 to 0 in their favor. Another large crowd of fans accompanied the team to Colorado, to cheer for them.

The Steers received the ball on the kick off but failed to gain, so punted. The Wolves made a first down but were unable to go further, so they punted to the Steers. Big Spring made three first downs but were unable to get touch down—punted and it went across the goal line. It was Colorado's ball on her own twenty-yard line but when Colorado punted it was Big Spring's ball. The Steers punted and the wind carried the ball back of the kick-off before it was grounded. Colorado passed to the Steers one yard line, but they couldn't make a touchdown. The ball went to Big Spring, when a pass was completed over the goal line. The Steers started a march down the knee deep sand field and finally in the half Colorado passed to Big Spring's one foot line. The next play carried the ball over the goal line by an inch. Colorado kicked goal.

In the second half, the Steers put up a good fight, to stage a comeback, but it seemed that pot luck was against them. The Steers fought their hardest in the second half, and the final pistol shot found them in there holding on stubbornly.

Roscoe claims to have the tightest team in West Texas will play here Friday afternoon.

DR. LE GEAR MADE GOOD TALK AT ASSEMBLY

Dr. LeGear, who is touring the State and giving lectures on poultry, and who is a guest in our city this week, was a guest at the High School Tuesday. He gave a short talk at assembly, at which time he gave us some interesting facts about the raising of chickens, and urged all of us to encourage and promote this industry in our section of the country. He told us how to treat sick chickens, and gave a demonstration of how to give a sick chicken a dose of epsom salts. The lecture proved to be interesting.

Many cotton growers in our country are away behind with their work due to much of the cotton not being opened. In fact, many are just now beginning to harvest their cotton crops. The open fall is going to greatly increase the output in Howard County.

PROPHETS AND THOSE WITH "ITCHING EARS"

Whereupon, O King Agrippa, I was not disobedient unto the heavenly vision.—Acts 26:19.

One of the most deplorable group of tragedies enacted by mankind is that wherein men have suffered death at the hands of those whom they would benefit. It has extended from Cain's murder of his brother Abel down through the centuries.

It reached its climax of awfulness and horror nineteen hundred years ago on a little hill called Calvary near Jerusalem when Jesus of Nazareth was hanged upon a cross.

This greatest tragedy of all the ages, most terrible that ever has been or ever can be, was not brought about by violation of law, Divine or human, on the part of the victim. It was the result of hate and malice, envy and jealousy, ranking in the breasts of ignorance and brutality. Men in position, ecclesiastical and civil, feared for their position. They were not concerned as to the truth of statements made by Him whose presence and teachings, miracles and deeds of loving kindness, had aroused their passions to the uttermost.

Pilate for example, was weak, cowardly and infamous. Office meant more to him than justice.

The greatness of the shame, ignominy, sorrow and suffering of those who sacrifice themselves for others' good seems always proportionate to the good they would do those who put them to death. That being true, of course in the tragedy on Golgotha in the suffering of the Saviour it reached its unspeakable and indescribable climax.

Pathetically and tragically true it is, too, that men with vision, no matter the direction into which they look, still have to sacrifice for those who are too blind to see the good they do. "The cares of this world, and the deceitfulness of riches and the lust of other things" blind their minds.

The result is that innocence suffers for the guilty, virtue is condemned as vice, sympathy meets the fate of cruelty and love is rewarded with the penalty that should attach to hate.

But the multitude does not think seriously. As a multitude it doesn't seem to think at all, being moved solely by the urge of the senses and the stimulus of selfishness. This is why it has always been that the people as a whole have resented the warnings given them by those who had vision, as well as those who had inspiration, to abstain from certain pleasurable indulgences, vicious practices and unwholesome amusements. It has always been so and it is today. "Lovers of pleasure more than lovers of God."

The bootlegger, the robber, the thief does not want to be bothered in his nefarious business. It is the same with him who gorges himself with licentious indulgences, unlawful hear.

In the Apostle's warning to his "son in the Gospel," Timothy, as to things that shall come about in the "last days," he describes one characteristic of men of all days when he says, "For the time will come when they will not endure sound doctrine; but after their own lusts will heap to themselves teachers, having itching ears; and they shall turn away their ears from the truth."

Because of their "itching ears" only teachers, prophets, fortune-tellers, who will foresee things they want to know, are desired. Belshazzar was not at all appreciative of Daniel's interpretation of the handwriting on the wall, but he couldn't do anything about it. He acknowledged the correctness of it only when he had to. And that is about the way it is with us all—we only admit being wrong when it is the only thing we can do.

Prophets who did not prophesy as pleased their masters didn't last long in the palaces of ancient despots. They all cry out as did the demons of long ago, "Let us alone."

Every violator of law, although conscious of the wrongness of his deeds, cries out just as did the demons, "Let us alone!"

In its last analysis this presents the marvellously strange spectacle of men wanting to be left alone while they destroy themselves.

"Doth Not Prophecy Good"
Men, as a rule, are like Ahab, King of Israel, when Jehosaphat asked him if there was not a prophet of the Lord of whom he might inquire. His reply was, "There is yet one man, Micalah, the son Imah, by whom we might inquire of the Lord, but I hate him; for he doth not prophesy good concerning me, but evil."

It would be a very unprofitable business were the fortune-teller to foresee anything for his or her customers but what they wanted. "Satisfaction Guaranteed" is quite a significant phrase in the fortune-teller's line. Those engaged in that occupation know full well that men and women do not care to pay to hear anything except what they want to hear. Then as in latter times, many have lost their heads for telling the truth. Let one at this time voice a prediction that certain calamitous things are to occur, it matters not how true may be his vision, he will be called a Jeremiah; but those who so call him should remember that Jeremiah was right.

"When it is evening, ye say, it will be a fair weather; for the sky is red. And in the morning, it will be foul weather today; for the sky is red and lowering. O ye hypocrites, ye can discern the signs of the sky; but can ye not discern the signs of the times?" This was the utterance of the greatest of all the prophets, even He who inspired the prophets.

Prophecy is simple history written in advance, of course, in a general way and without detail. Only inspired prophets could give detailed descriptions and accounts of what was to be; yes, and even of what is still to be.

Prophecy, Prediction, Foresight
Prophecy is usually accepted as meaning visioning the future of Divine inspiration. Prediction is anticipation of events based on historical records and cause and effect. Foresight looks toward future eventualities and prepares for them.

One may not be a prophet endowed with Divine inspiration, but if he has intelligence, has a reasonable acquaintance with history of nations and events and understands human nature he should be able to foresee the future a little way ahead. It is not difficult to see growth or decay of a nation when the spiritual and moral condition of the people is known. Its prosperity and permanence are forecast by the tendency of the people morally. It has always been so; it can not be otherwise.

Spiritual and moral fiber supports the social fabric; just as health and vitality support the physical man.

A people's leaders are not always men of vision; not always men who have the courage to warn their fellow citizens of what is ahead, even when they see it; not always men who are willing to sacrifice their political ambitions upon the altar of patriotism or suffer martyrdom to save them from social and governmental degeneracy and decay.

This much is certain: There is never growth where there is not sacrifice, whether in individuals or nations.

The multitude has no vision, therefore the multitudes are unwilling to sacrifice. Being unwilling themselves to sacrifice, some one has to sacrifice for them. This has been so all down the centuries, and it will so continue. It is made so by the blindness of the many and the vision of the few.

Physical blindness is terrible, but mental blindness is worse.

Some Practical Uninspired Prophets

Too much attention is paid to profits and too little to prophets.

Too great effort is bestowed on material things to the neglect of spiritual things. Or it might be more nearly correct to say that no less effort should be devoted to material things but more to spiritual ones. The relative importance of the two should impress itself upon us all. We are not to minimize the practical prophets, but to magnify the spiritual ones.

There are millions who have the vision as to themselves individually, but who haven't the courage to sacrifice to save themselves, not to mention a nation.

He is a very practical and helpful prophet who sees in advance the destiny, possible and prospective, of his city. All real builders have been men with vision. They are those who look ahead to development and urge their fellow citizens to plan for their city's growth as well as its prosperity. City planners are very practical prophets, and should have the co-operation of all citizens.

In this particular field of endeavor or the late George E. Kessler could with all warrant be dignified as a prophet. His study, experience, skill and foresight, together with his intense interest in city planning, suggest the title. The report made a few days ago of the Ulrickson committee is such that these committee-men have proved themselves not only patriotic citizens, but are entitled to be considered as far-sighted and self-sacrificing, as are a number of other Dallas citizens who have exerted themselves to devise means that when executed will assure the consumption of the plans Mr. Kessler's wisdom and foresight offered.

He is a still greater and more helpful prophet who has the wider vision of his nation's destiny and urges the people to act in accordance with what he see ahead. History, cause and effect, human psychology and present conditions, politically, morally and socially, should make it possible to divine with some degree of certainty the trend of the times, and such trend is a sure index of events to come.

Present conditions focus the spotlight of vision on the future. They bring it into view by magnifying it. The light of the past should uncover for us at least the immediate future. Let us not be blind to revelation.

Every day we have redemonstrated the truth of the axiom, "No one is so blind as those who refuse to see."—Dallas News.

LEO FORREST IS MANAGER OF "THE PRAIRIE" AT CANYON

Leo Forrest has been elected business manager of "The Prairie," student publication at the West Texas State Teachers' College at Canyon, for this quarter. In introducing Mr. Forrest to the student body of this educational institution, "The Prairie" said:

"Mr. Forrest's native haunt is in Big Spring. He started his college work at A. & M. College, transferred to West Texas State Teachers' College in 1924. He taught school in Howard County the following two years, returning to the Teachers' College the past summer. He is completing his sophomore work. Mr.

Forrest began his work with The Prairie this fall, when he became business manager, upon the resignation of Mason Anderson. He is fast proving his efficiency in his post on the paper."

Serving on "The Prairie" staff with Mr. Forrest is another Big Spring boy, W. H. Dawes. Bill is the organization editor, and a good one. He was introduced to the student body as follows:

"Mr. Dawes is a graduate of the Big Spring High School and this is his first year in the Teacher's College. He has shown his willingness to work in the various college activities. He was chosen for this position because of his willingness to work and devote his time to making every undertaking a success."

What gave Hills Bros Coffee its reputation?.. Flavor through Controlled Roasting

Hills Bros. roast their coffee as a good cook makes frosting. By pouring the hot syrup on the egg whites a little at a time, she beats the mass to a smooth consistency. By roasting coffee a few pounds at a time, Hills Bros. have constant control and produce a rich uniform flavor.

HILLS BROS. give the West far more than a fine blend of coffees. Far more than the vacuum pack which maintains the original freshness. It's a matchless, uniform flavor that Hills Bros. give, such as you won't find in any other coffee.

By roasting coffee a few pounds at a time, instead of in bulk, a richer, smoother, rarer flavor is produced. You inhale the ravishing aroma produced by this exclusive process as you open the vacuum tin. And when you make a cup, every sip is completely satisfying to your taste. The joy of coffee-drinking is magnified when you drink Hills Bros.

Ask for Hills Bros. by name and look for the Arab on the can. Then you'll get the genuine Hills Bros. and not a coffee claimed to be "just as good." Mail the coupon now for a free copy of "The Art of Entertaining." It tells how to make a perfect cup of coffee.

ST. MARY'S EPISCOPAL CHURCH NOTICE

There will be a Thanksgiving service at St. Mary's Episcopal church on Thanksgiving Day at 10 o'clock in the morning. This will give the people an opportunity to come to church and thank God for the blessings that have come to them the past year.

If A. D. Franklin, who resides 6 miles west of Big Spring, believed in signs, he would be hard to deal with if an oil company took a notion to secure a lease on his place for a song. Mr. Franklin found a freak in the way of a rock which had been blasted out of the ground by the crew laying the trunk, pipe line for the Magnolia Oil Company. On the fragment of rock is the likeness of an oil derrick, and it just about the point where the casing would be coming out of the ground, is a greasy looking spot. The miniature derrick is two inches high and plainly etched in the rock.

CITATION BY PUBLICATION THE STATE OF TEXAS

To the Sheriff or any Constable of Howard County—Greeting:

You are hereby commanded to summon Earl Stirman by making publication of this Citation once in each week for four consecutive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your County, if there be a newspaper published therein, but if not, then in the nearest County where a newspaper is published, to appear at the next regular term of the District Court of Howard County, to be holden at the Court House thereof, in Big Spring on the first Monday in February A. D. 1928 the same being the 6th day of February A. D. 1928, then and there to answer a petition filed in said Court on the 27th day of October A. D. 1927, in a suit numbered on the docket of said Court No. 1146, wherein Will P. Edwards is Plaintiff, and Earl Stirman, The Wool Growers Central Storage Company, a corporation, and H. B. Cox are Defendants, and a brief statement of plaintiff's cause of action, being as follows:

Suit upon a note made by Earl Stirman, October 3, 1925, for $7116.74 due and payable to Will P. Edwards at Big Spring, Texas, April 1st, 1926, with ten per cent interest per annum from maturity, and for ten per cent on said note as attorneys fees. Also to foreclose a Chattel mortgage lien on 1500 head of ewes, 325 ewe lambs in Spring of 1925, together with their lambs born in Spring of 1926, and their increase and accretions, and 17 bucks, all wool-branded H on left side, 125 cows, 75 two-year-old Steers and heifers, 100 yearlings, 70 calves, crop of 1925, and all branded H on left side; also on all their increase, accretions and additions; known as the Earl Stirman flock of sheep and stock of cattle, claimed to be located in Pecos County in October, 1925.

Said suit is against the said Earl Stirman, The Wool Growers Central Storage Company, a corporation, of San Angelo, Texas, and H. B. Cox of Crockett County, Texas, for the full amount of said note and interest from maturity of said note for conversion of said livestock. Plaintiff prays that all of the said defendants be cited to answer his suit filed herein at the said term of the District Court of Howard County, and for costs of suit, and general and special relief.

Herein fail not but have before said Court, at its next regular term, this writ with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Given under my hand and seal of said Court, at office in Big Spring, Texas, on this 2nd day of November A. D. 1927.

(S) J. I. PRICHARD, Clerk, District Court, Howard County, Texas. 7-47

CENTRAL WARD P. T. A. HAVE INTERESTING MEETING

A delightful program was given at the last regular meeting of the Central Ward Parent Teachers' Association, held at Central School, last Thursday afternoon, and a good crowd was in attendance. Mrs. J. C. Douglas, President, presided at this meeting. The following program was given:

Song—Central pupils.
Devotional—Claude Wingo, minister.

"Health," a short play—Pupils in Mrs. Hopkins' room.

Talk, "Care of the Teeth,"—Dr. C. D. Baxley. Dr. Baxley's talk was interesting, instructive, and will prove beneficial to the mothers and teachers, who heard it. Dr. Baxley also answered questions asked him by the members.

Important matters came up for discussion during the business meeting.

A social committee, composed of Mrs. Clifford Hurt, Mrs. Chas. Dublin, Mrs. A. A. Williams and Mrs. W. W. Grant, was appointed by the president. This committee will plan social meetings for the Central P. T. A. to be held at intervals throughout the year.

A committee to represent the Central P. T. A. in the City Federation was appointed as follows: Mrs. J. Tom Mercer, Mrs. C. J. Gordon, and Mrs. Travis Reed.

Report from the Ways and Means Committee, and from the Treasurer were heard.

At the close of business, Mr. Holloway, principal, enumerated some of the needs of Central.

MEXICAN SUPPER

On Saturday, November 19th, a Mexican supper, consisting of hot tamales, enchiladas, and chili, will be served at the W. O. W. Hall in Mexican town, beginning at 5 o'clock until 8 o'clock. All of our American friends are invited to come and eat with us.

AN EARLY LETTER TO SANTA CLAUS.

Box 205, Big Spring, Texas.

Dear Santa:
For fear you will forget me, I thought I would write to remind you that I still want you to come to see me, Christmas, and bring me a little car, a doll with long curly hair, and a doll buggy. I also want a little monkey, some fruit, candy and nuts. And Santa, you will find me at home at Levelland, or at the home of my Grandparents. Be sure to go to all those places for I am sure I will be at one of them. I hope you are well.

Thank you, Santa, for these few things. I remain your little friend,
Winona Edwards.

SCHOOL NOTES

Public Speaking Club Organized This Week

A public speaking club met at the High School, Tuesday afternoon, for the purpose of organizing. Mr. Scott talked on the purposes and aims of such an organization, and also talked to work up interest in a debating team and declamations. The club's purpose is to train pupils who will enter public speaking activities, such as debating, declamation, extemporaneous speaking, essay writing, etc., the contest to be held in the spring. It was decided that the meetings should be held every first and third Friday night in the month, at the High School. Officers elected as follows:

President—Lucille Rogers.
Vice-president—J. D. McWhirter.
Secretary—Zillah Mae Ford.
The members of this club are: Elwyn Walling; Doris Cauble; Charm Citel; Marvin Sewell; Anna Dixon; Velma Anderson; Zillah Mae Ford; Mary Alice Wilke; James Cross; Phillip Slusser; Ben Allen; Mary Elizabeth Stedman; Lucille Rogers; Lillian Little; Nettie Arnold; Jessie Slusser; Reba Leach; Joe Pickle; Ruth Earley; Curtis Bishop and Reta Debenport.

Latin Class Goes On A Picnic Thursday

The Latin 4 of the High School enjoyed another picnic at the New Wells last Thursday afternoon. Games were played and jokes were told at the amusement of all. At 6 o'clock a delicious feast was enjoyed. Those attending the picnic were, Miss Vesta Mosteller, teacher of the class; Mamie Hair, Virginia Whitney, Reba Leach, Katherine Bettle, Anita Musgrove, Dick Hatch Aaron Gensberg and Joe Pickle.

PEP RALLY IN ASSEMBLY

Last Thursday at noon a pep rally was held in assembly, preceding the Colorado game. A great number of students were present and all were "full of pep."

CHORAL CLUB HAVE MEETING AT BITTLE HOME

The members of the Choral Club under the direction of Miss Lillian Hancock, had a meeting at the home of Superintendent P. B. Bittle last Wednesday. It was decided to adopt the name "Be Natural." At the meeting Wednesday such songs as "Silver Threads Among the Gold," "Mighty Like a Rose," "Say, You'll Be Mine," and "O Sole Mio," were practised.

WATERWORKS IMPROVEMENTS FORCED BY CITY'S GROWTH

That the city of Big Spring is growing at a rapid pace is best shown by the increasing number applying to the city water office for service.

Just recently 250 water meters were purchased by the city and this supply has been exhausted and another order for meters has been placed. An average of six new water connections per day has been maintained the past two months.

More new water mains are to be laid in the city, this in addition to the miles of new mains recently laid, and this extension is necessitated by the continued growth of Big Spring. Cast iron pipe is going to be used to replace all the one-inch mains along Main Street.

Sidewalks are needed in many sections of Big Spring. If the city would establish some grade lines which they would guarantee we believe quite a few property owners could be persuaded to have sidewalks constructed.

Some folks are not built to stand prosperity.

Mrs. Kirby Miller returned last Saturday night from Fort Worth, where she underwent an operation. Mrs. Miller is regaining her strength and is reported to be getting along nicely.

Failure to secure the furniture for the new quarters in the Crawford Hotel has delayed the moving of the Chamber of Commerce office to their new home.

A BUSY SPOT ON T. & P. RY.

Dull Headache and Sluggish Feeling

"We are a healthy family and haven't had to use much medicine," says Mr. J. H. Adams, of Bishop, Ga. "But I have found it necessary to take some medicine."

"I had headaches. My head felt dull, and like I couldn't hold it up."

"I had a bad taste in my mouth; felt sluggish and tired."

"I brought home some Black-Draught and took a few doses, and I got good results. I felt so much better. My head cleared up. I was hungry and wanted to get out and work."

"Black-Draught has proved satisfactory and we have used it ever since."

Thousands of other families have had equally satisfactory experiences.

THE FARMERS'

"LAST FRONTIER"

Visitors to the Plains country of the Southwest are prone to comment on the extensive amount of uncultivated land and to express the opinion that it cannot be very valuable or there would be more fields and fewer ranges.

This is especially true of people who have never traveled much and who come from thickly settled parts of the country. Their own section has been well occupied ever since they can remember and they do not stop to consider that there was a time in its history when farms were as few and far between as they are now on the plains. They have become so accustomed to seeing every available acre in cultivation that they instinctively infer when viewing for the first time the miles and miles of virgin sod, that if it was good for anything, it would be growing something besides grass—and such grass! Having neither the vivid green nor the height of meadow grass in other agricultural sections, the stranger is apt to speak slightly of "short grass" pastures, appreciating not at all the wonderful nutritiousness in these seemingly half dead blades.

It is entirely human to condemn what we do not understand and to be suspicious of things that are different and it is sometimes difficult to convince visitors that the only reason there are not more farms on the Plains is because there are not yet enough farmers to cultivate the land. In the Panhandle, there are still many thousands of acres owned by the big cattlemen and used only for range purposes. The soil is as fertile and would be just as productive if farmed, as any of the surrounding land which is being cultivated but the big herds of cattle need lots of range.

There will come a time, and it is now not far distant when those acres will be too valuable to use in that way; when the big ranch owner will cut down his pasture and grow crops to feed out his stock. The Panhandle is an ideal stock country and stockraising will always be a dominant factor in agriculture here. It is altogether likely that in the years to come, more and not less, cattle will be raised but as the country settles up, there will be changes in methods.

Gradually ranches comprising fifty or sixty sections are becoming things of the past. Many of the largest ranches in the State have been cut up into farms during the years of depression in the cattle business and the farmers who have cultivated those acres have been astonished at their productiveness, particularly if they were from other parts of the State or from other states.

As passengers from the north and east travel through Panhandle, they often look out upon the vast reaches of level country without sign of habitation and feel sorry for the poor farmers but their sympathy is wasted. There is nothing wrong with the soil of the Panhandle. The only reason it isn't all in cultivation is because there isn't man-power enough in this region, as yet, to take care of it. It will not always be so and each year sees the price of land rising steadily.

The Plains region is the "last frontier" for the American farmer and the Plains of the Southwest where "wheat and cotton meet," is rapidly proving its superiority, agriculturally, climatically and commercially. Those uncultivated acres will not be uncultivated long—Southwest Plainsman Amarillo.

EFFORTS TO IN-

CREASE PLEDGES

Dallas, Texas, Nov. 9.—Total cash receipts for the Conquest Campaign of the Texas Baptists, which was organized a year ago for the purpose of paying off debts on Baptist institutions in the state, have reached $725,000. Dr. F. S. Groner, General Secretary of the Texas Baptist Convention, announced. Pledges last spring reached more than $1,100,000 and Dr. Groner believes that by the time the annual convention opens at Wichita Falls, November 16, $800,000 or this amount will have been paid.

Efforts to increase the pledges and cash contributions, and to collect pledges already made, will continue without interruption, at least to the last of the year, at which time Baptist officials believe that more than a million will have been received.

One of the important considerations at the annual convention, November 16 to 19, will be the question of continuing this campaign through another year, or indefinitely, as a move to wipe out all debts on all hospitals, colleges, and other institutions which receive assistance of the convention.

Letters, phone calls, and many indications point toward a record attendance at the annual convention. Special railroad rates are being provided by roads over the state—Baptist Headquarters, Publicity Department.

We should get everything in shape for the big building program which is due to get underway in our city shortly after the first of the year. Everything is coming along just fine and if we fail to make preparations to handle the rush we will have no valid excuse.

You will make no mistake in purchasing property in Big Spring at this time. A steady growth is now assured.

DON'T HUNT TROUBLE

The Book says: "Man is born to trouble as the sparks fly upwards." Nevertheless there are some people everlastingly on the hunt for an extra chunk. A man has not to run far nor hunt long to get plenty. You can get all you want right across the back fence, or, if you covet the real thing you can start enough to satisfy the most cantankerous in any church meeting. Those trouble chasers who go about trailing their coattails on the ground and flourishing a shillalah in the air, whether in an Irish fair, a town council or a church conference are the despair of those to whom life means something more than a continuous round of physical, intellectual or spiritual combat. The kicker is a useful member of society until his jawing becomes a nuisance. There are people who would rather fight than eat. It takes infinitely less ability to find fault than to find good in anything. The Wise Man says: "He that searcheth after mischief, it shall come unto him." There is a man who once owned one of the most prosperous wholesale establishments in the city, but who quarrelled with everybody, from his creditors to his family, and is now on the street. There is another who owned a farm of a couple of hundred acres who "lawed" everyone in reach of him, and is now sawing wood for a living. Don't go hunting trouble. You will find enough at your door every morning.—The Batteryman.

Dr. G. T. Hall and S. H. Hathcock sold to W. W. Winn and Mr. Smith of San Angelo, the property known as the old opera house on Main street, just opposite the court house. The W. L. McCulister garage now occupies the building. It is said that Messrs. Winn and Smith plan to erect a two story brick building 50x140 feet on this site.

LITTLE FELLOWS

Mean men are really in the minority, but like weeds and all other things they are hard to keep down. They are foremost at business meetings, and always the first on their feet in religious gatherings. They can talk longer and pray louder than seven men that can render a reason. They want the spotlight if it does not cost too much. The little fellow says sweet but nasty things about his competitors, and volunteers information concerning his neighbors not calculated to enhance their commercial standing. There is no more honest humor or genuine joy in his metallic laugh than there is music in a cow bell. His laugh is always tap and his hand out like a pump handle. These creatures who are all sting and no honey are a weariness to God and Man. It is related of Henry Ward Beecher that a young man came to him and stated that he had concluded not to join his church because he knew of two or three men in it who were crooked. "I have often wondered," said Mr. Beecher, "why the Lord permitted men like those to whom you have referred to be in the church, but now I understand it. It is to keep fools like you out."

Men from other sections of the country are coming here in search of business openings. By the time oil development swings into line in earnest you will see many new firms established in Big Spring.

REPRESENTATIVES OF 101 RANCH LEASING LAND HERE

George L. Miller, of Ponca City, Oklahoma, arrived in Big Spring Friday, on business. Mr. Miller is Big Spring primarily to conduct the sale of a half interest in the 101 ranch block in Borden county comprising 12,000 acres. Fred Olmsted, representative of the 101 ranch, with headquarters in Big Spring, is leasing several blocks of land in Howard county for this company and it is their intention to drill a number of wildcats drilling. Olmsted is a valued man to his company, according to Mr. Miller, especially in assembling blocks of land for wildcatting.

Olmsted is an oil land and man when he isn't engaged in terrapin derbies. At the present time he is down in Texas for several months, looking up blocks of land for George Miller of the 101 ranch and it is the intention to drill a number of wildcats drilling.

Miller as a land and lease man. A number of years ago, Olmsted was a Congressman Milt Garber of Texas in a similar capacity and had to do with assembling blocks of land later were to put Garber up as the oil millionaire of the present. Olmsted lived in the Tomahawk locality at that time and continued to do so until about six years ago when he moved his family headquarters to the town of Marland, Texas. The late Co. Joe C. Miller, had the idea of the terrapin derby years ago, and it was decided by it got the first time on the Olmsted participated in the arrangements and it was decided that he should act as the starter. He did so satisfactorily that time and he has been kept on the job ever since. He even returns to the oil fields, wherever he may be, to give the signals for the terrapin derby to start.

There are thousands of people who know Fred Olmsted on his official capacity with the Terrapin Derby association, and as a rule would not recognize him excepting in his starter's cap of high, black plug hat, Albert coat, light trousers, and everything. In this make-up he resembles greatly the circus manager in charge of one of the rings of the arena during the time the fancy horse back acts are being performed.

Estimated figures he has leased at least a million acres of land during the last 15 years, all of it for some purpose to drill on. He estimates that he has leased in blocks of land many millions of barrels of oil and consequently many millions in money to the men who own the land he has leased it for. He knows as one of the best men in the Mid-Continent area.

George L. Miller was the original owner of this portion of Oklahoma and the first oil company formed in the company, with the Miller Brothers. Later Ernest W. Miller, Low Wentz, William M. Miller and other men, now known in the oil industry, were associated with Millers in this original company, and it is here they started.

George L. Miller has so many, varied interests in connection with his ranch ownership that he has to have competent men at the heads of the various departments, and it was for this reason that he induced Fred Olmsted to join him about eight years ago. It develops that Olmsted had been with the Millers prior to that time, but an entirely different capacity, and that was with the original 101 ranch wild west show, which went on the road in 1905. Olmsted was with the aggregation later in the advertising department particularly, traveling over the country in one of the show's advertising railway cars.

The fact that Olmsted is also something of an artist and wields an interesting brush at times is another thing not told on him before. Over one of the entrances at the ranch "White House" is a large picture in colors done by Mr. Olmsted at odd moments, and it is understood that he has several others throughout this portion of the country. He raps to landscapes as a rule, and naturally to western landscapes with genuine Oklahoma sunsets and cloud effects.

In recent years George L. Miller has done a lot of wildcatting on blocks in both Oklahoma and Kansas and Olmsted has assembled all of them. At the present time Miller is drilling five miles southwest of Ponca City, near Maramec in Pawnee county and is preparing to drill down in Texas, and it was Olmsted that leased the acreage for all these blocks. Every once in awhile too, Olmsted is borrowed from Millers by one of the other production companies, when there is a particularly hard nut to crack in the way of getting certain pieces of acreage needed to complete a drilling block. It is said that Olmsted has a way with him with the usual farmer landowner that is well nigh irresistible. Instead is well posted on almost any subject and he can switch his line of conversation or conserve it, just as may be necessary. He has a world of knowledge regarding cattle, the range and the herds that roam them. He can talk show business, terrapin derbies, the best methods of advertising, what wheat and corn are the best to plant, and how to educate the children.

Right now Olmsted is making his headquarters at Big Spring while leasing several blocks and it is told on him that he knows more actual landowners down here than any other man in his game. He possesses an unusually bald head, rimmed with some red locks, and a smile that will not wear off. He'll buy anything or trade anything.

A few years ago Olmsted in some manner, got up to Sioux City, Ia. He found that somewhere in that town was the old stage coach which General Dodge used when he was engineer in charge of constructing the Union Pacific railroad, the first steel transcontinental line. He looked it up, found it in good repair, bought it for $50 and had it shipped to the Miller Brothers at the ranch. As a memoir of that pioneer day it is worth 10 times the price Olmsted paid for it.

THE WAR ON UNHAPPINESS

The dominant hunger of the human heart, once safety and the simple satisfactions are achieved, is the hunger for happiness.

The universality of this hunger for happiness evoked a vast literature of glad-girl exhortation.

We are told to stand still, look up, think beautiful thoughts, and, on the magic carpet of mere wishes to fly into the heaven of happiness unalloyed.

Happiness does not, however, lie so cheaply on the emotional bargain counter.

For most of us, happiness must come as the logical result of realistic intellectual, social and spiritual engineering.

Let me suggest two modern adventures in social and intellectual engineering that seem to me to bulk large in the war on unhappiness.

Henry Fairfield Osborn, the distinguished head of the American Museum of Natural History, has published a book of essays and addresses that bristles with ideas that breed still other ideas in the reader's mind. In this book, "Creative Education" I find this statement:

"The unhappy people of the world include two classes: those who have no creative talents, and those who possess talents and never discover them."

The unhappiness of undevelopable inferiority.

The unhappiness of undeveloped superiority.

Neither unhappiness can be preached away by the Polyannas.

But two of the major movements of our time promise to do away with much of both of these kinds of unhappiness.

The New Industry promises happiness to the one-talent men.

The New Education promises happiness to the ten-talent men.

The New Industry, with its uninspiring routine, may mean death to the gifted craftsman, but it means life and leisure and means to the mediocre millions who would be hard hit if they had to meet the challenge to creative craftsmanship that a handcraft world would put to them.

There are millions of one-talent men to whom monotony is preferable to challenging variety; they can be happy as managers of a routine that is within range of their abilities; they would be unhappy in an industry that made demands their ingenuity could not answer.

The New Education keeps its eye on the individual student rather than upon the class; it seeks, not so much to thrust organized knowledge into minds as goods might be packed in a warehouse, as to help the individual student peculiar abilities.

The goal of the New Education is to see that no one talent man remains unaware of his genius.—Glenn Frank in Fort Worth Star Telegram.

American Mutual Magazine: "So you put a couple of magnates in jail on heavy fines, did you?" asked the investigating reformer.

"Yes," replied the native. "We fined them the limit; they wouldn't pay and we put them in cells."

"That's a good example."

"Is it? Within two days they organized the prisoners, guards and jailers into the International Penalty Company. Issued $5,000,000 in bonds, paid the fines of all the prisoners left us with a mortgage on the jail and courthouse—and stuck the surplus money in their pockets."

for Economical Transportation

A car for her, too!

In thousands of American homes there are now two automobiles—"a car for her, too," so that there may be transportation for the family while "he" drives to business.

And the family car has such an infinite degree of usefulness: neighborhood shopping, running downtown, taking the children to school, afternoon calls—and the many additional trips that must be made as part of every day's work.

Because it is so easy to drive and park . . . because it is so decidedly smart and comfortable, today's Chevrolet is an outstanding favorite among women drivers everywhere—providing, in abundant measure, the safety, charm and elegance that women demand in their personal cars.

Come—and see the beautiful Chevrolet models. You'll find quality you have always associated with the highest priced automobiles—and you'll find Chevrolet ownership is always economical . . . even when the family has more than one automobile.

Small Chance for Him to Get Away

Day of Rejoicing

Summer's blush and summer's glow,
All her wealth of languid light,
Faded and perished long ago,
Daisies dropped their petals white,
And the late red roses' flame
Faded when the asters came.

All the autumn's red and gold
Flashed and spread and died away;
Seas of vapor tossed and rolled
Round the hill-tops, dim and gray
Latest bloom was dull and dead
When the Indian summer fled.

What of that? The radiant blaze
Shining on the cottage wall
Makes the autumn's latter days
Warmly welcome unto all.
Like a parting sunset-ray,
Comes at last Thanksgiving day.

Then, with signs of goodly cheer,
See the pantry shelves arrayed—
Ruby jellies, crystal-clear,
Rich preserves and marmalade;
And a streak of sunshine lies
On the row of pumpkin pies.

Ah, the contrast! Who can tell
What the Pilgrim fathers bore—
All the hardships that befell
Exiles on a barren shore?
Yet their thanks to God were sent;
They with freedom were content.

We have corn and wheat and fruits,
Peace dwells with us all the day,
Who our liberty disputes?
Who can wrest our rights away?
Let us, then, our blessings heed,
And our thanks be thanks indeed.

Pumpkin Pie Has Its Stronghold in New England

No Attack Able to Shake Its Popularity There—Riches in Old-Time Farm Cellars.

Thanksgiving day is home-coming, turkey and pumpkin-pie day. The duty of giving thanks, the pleasure of home-coming, the toothsome of turkey and universal appeal, but as to pumpkin pie opinions differ. There is a deplorable tendency to disregard the name, ignoring the letter "p," substituting an "n" for the "m," pronouncing it "punkin," and some say that the reason is, the pie is punk. Of course there are ways and ways of making pumpkin pie. Some aver that the stronger the pumpkin flavor the better the pie, and some say that the best recipe for making pumpkin pie is to assemble a sufficient quantity of pumpkin, eggs, cream, butter and spice, consign the pumpkin to the garbage can and proceed to mix the other ingredients. Among the granite hills of New England the pumpkin pie is at home, and there its qualities are the most highly lauded.

Pumpkin Pie Supreme.

If certain folk will poke fun at it, it has caused as much mirth as Charlie Chaplin's custard. If its detractors use remains of paper and empty bottle after bottle of ink in trying to knock it out of the ring of popularity, there is this to be said for the pumpkin pie, it refuses to take the count and always comes up smiling. Today its face, bland and yellow as a full moon, is seen on dinner tables from east to west, from north to south.

The pumpkin pie owes much to New England writers who have featured it when they sang of the Thanksgiving feast. As advertisers for their harvest festival, the New England writers do exceedingly well. They have given those of the hinterland such a whiff of the Thanksgiving dinner that makes one fail to be plowing through drifts of snow, tucked in a sleigh behind old Dobbin, headed for the old red farmhouse, its great chimneys wreathed in blue smoke from the fire that lights the big hearth around which are gathered grandfather and grandmother, father, mother, sister, brother, uncles, aunts and cousins. One would gladly sit on the straight backed pews of the church and listen to the long sermon which marked the religious significance of the day if one knew that at the end of it there was the loaded dinner table with the turkey and the pumpkin pie! And after dinner, one could listen to the thrilling stories which grandfather would tell of the old musket that hangs over the mantel, the part it played in the hands of an ancestor who fought in the War of Independence. And when the old gentlemen grew drowsy and tired of telling tales, one could repair to the great kitchen and romp with the young folks, playing "Blind-Man's Buff" or the quieter games of "Forfeits" and "Button, button, who's got the button?"

Well-Filled Cellars.

The writers give one a pleasant peep into the farm cellars from which came the stuff for the Thanksgiving feast, the cellar with its

Sixteen barrels of cider
Ripening all in a row,

the barrels of apples, russets, which were spheres of frost until bitten by thoughts of spring, the pears, the Rhode Island greenings, waiting the hand of the pie-maker, and

The Baldwins and Flyers,
Wrapped in their beautiful blue!
Color forks up from their stems
As if painted by Flora,
Or out from the pole streams the flames
Of the Northern Aurora.

There were bins full of various sorts of potatoes, the Merinos, which were red and grew in clusters, almost like grapes, and the Beautiful Carters,

Every one doomed to be martyrs
To the eccentric dears
Of Christian people to skin them,
Brought to the trial of fire
For the good that is in them!

The pursnips, turnips and all the rest of their sort were keeping company with the numberless jars of pickles and preserves, which testified to the thrift of the housewife, and, of course, the great, golden globes of pumpkins that furnished the pies.—Kansas City Times.

The Nation's Gratitude

In a spirit of profound gratitude the nation pauses to give thanks for blessings enjoyed during the year. Despite disasters that have afflicted parts of the national community the 12 months have brought an exceptional measure of bounty. The year has been marked by general prosperity by advances both material and spiritual. It has furnished additional reasons for belief that the American people are especially blessed by Providence.

Source of All Blessings

The significance of Thanksgiving day is appealing. It grips our very consciences. It causes us to recall the familiar old hymn that has been the Rock of Ages that has anchored many a wandering soul—"Praise God From Whom All Blessings Flow."
And thus we should pray—not merely on Thanksgiving day, but every day and every hour.—Atlanta Constitution.

TURKEY-TROTTER

These two New England children had heard of the turkey trot and they wanted to see it demonstrated so they got one of the farm gobblers that survived the holiday season and harnessed him to their little cart. The turkey trotted to their satisfaction.

Big Spring, Texas, Friday, November 18, 1927

REV. W. C. HINDS IS APPOINTED TO COLORADO

The appointment of Rev. W. C. Hinds to the church in Colorado, came as a surprise and shock to his many friends and congregation, in this city last Sunday evening, when the list of appointments were read by Bishop John M. Moore, presiding Bishop of the Northwest Texas Conference, which was in session in Big Spring, November 9th through November 13th. Up until five o'clock Sunday afternoon, it was a settled fact that Rev. Hinds would remain in Big Spring for another year, and when the announcement was read that he was to leave, it was heard with regret.

Reverend Hinds came to Big Spring two years ago, arriving in this city on Thanksgiving Day, 1925, to take up his duties as pastor of the Big Spring church. At this time, services were being held in the District Courtroom at the Courthouse. The new church was under construction, but work on same had been stopped. Immediately upon assuming duties in the new parish, Reverend Hinds began devising ways of securing money so that the work on the new church could be resumed. After days of effort he finally perfected a loan, and the church was completed in August, 1926. He was a tireless worker in the completion of the new church, and through his efforts, and his board of stewards, the building was completed. The Methodist Church is one of the biggest assets to our city.

The two years that Rev. Hinds has made his residence in our city, he has proven himself to be a substantial citizen, and we regret to lose him. He was interested in everything for the improvement of the town, and associated himself with the social, religious, educational, civic and moral betterment of Big Spring.

Rev. and Mrs. Hinds and children left today for Colorado, to make their future home.

DOUGLASS HOTEL PROGRESSING

The walls on the second story of the new Douglass Hotel will soon be completed and this edifice will begin to take on a finished look.

While work is being rushed on the building, it will not be ready for occupancy until about January 1st.

Cicero-Smith Co. Buys Lumber Yard

Sells Property on Fourth and Goliad Buys Already Established Lumber Yard. T. E. Johnson Manager

A deal, wherein the Cicero-Smith Lumber Company bought the Berry Lumber Company in Big Spring, was closed last week, and the new firm has taken possession of this business, located at the corner of East Third and Austin Streets. T. E. Johnson, manager of the Berry Lumber Company in this city, will fill the duties of manager for the Cicero-Smith Lumber company. Mr. Johnson is a capable young man, and has made many friends while in this city.

The Cicero-Smith Lumber Company bought some property at the corner of East Fourth and Goliad Streets about a year ago, at that time contemplating to erect a lumber yard in this city. The slump in the oil business came before their plans were completed, so the erection of a lumber yard was postponed until things began to pick up again. This property was disposed of several months ago. S. F. Morrison, having purchased same from Cicero-Smith Company.

The Cicero-Smith Lumber Company is one of the largest companies in the state, operating chains of yards throughout Texas, Lamesa, San Angelo, and other West Texas towns have lumber companies located there and the headquarters for the company are located at Fort Worth. At the Big Spring office, a complete stock of building materials, derricks and standard rig timber and supplies will be kept on hand, and all orders for same will be filled with promptness.

Mr. Johnson wishes to serve his old and new customers in the same satisfactory manner.

Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Ashley and Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Watkins enjoyed a hunting trip to the Cowden ranch near Midland Wednesday.

Natural Gas for City By March the First

A Franchise Has Been Granted And Actual Construction Work On The System Be Started In 40 Days

Cheap fuel for Big Spring is assured. Natural gas will be available for domestic and commercial use in our city by March 15, 1928.

The corporation which has granted the franchise agrees to begin actual construction work of extending pipe line distribution system within forty days.

The company further agrees to use gas from the fields in Howard County as long as a supply can be secured, before buying gas from distant fields, but to provide an ample supply to insure us an extra good gas pressure at all times.

The Consumers Natural Gas Company said to be subsidiary of the Lone Star Gas Company, was awarded the franchise to supply us with natural gas.

The City of Big Spring was indeed fortunate in obtaining a franchise quite unique in its character, in fact one of the best franchises ever rendered to any city in the United States. The franchise embodies a proposition wherein the city becomes co-partner in the profits of the sale of gas to its inhabitants. For the first five years the city will receive three per cent profits, after first five years the profits will increase to five percent. There is also a fee of 25 cents per meter payable to the City monthly.

The City has a right of purchase of the distribution system at any time up until March 15, 1931, at the actual cost of the distribution system plus 10 per cent, after 1931 the City has the first option to purchase the plant.

The rates are as good or better as any place in Texas, namely: the minimum, 1st 1500 cubic feet at $1.50, all over 1500 feet seventy five cents per thousand, for all public buildings sixty cents per thousand, churches fifty cents per thousand; with 10 per cent discount if bills are paid within ten days from date rendered.

An especially attractive price has been made on the gas for commercial use. A sliding scale has been adopted and it is possible for large consumers to secure gas at a rate as low as seventeen cents per thousand cubic feet. The company securing the franchise has already received notice from some of the industrial plants in Big Spring that they wish to adopt gas as a fuel as soon as they can be given a connecto.

BIG SPRING AIRPORT ASSURED

All preliminaries looking to the establishment of a modern airport at Big Spring have practically been completed and the work on the field will be started shortly after January 1st, as the land needed cannot be secured until that date.

A 320 acre tract of land adjoining the city limits is the site the airport committee has selected for the airport.

NEW PASTOR AT METHODIST CHURCH NOVEMBER 25th

Who will serve as pastor of the First Methodist Church of Big Spring for the coming year. Rev. Mr. Bailey has served as pastor of the Methodist Church of Arlington, Texas, between Dallas and Fort Worth for the past two years, where he has made a fine record, and comes to our city with the best wishes of his many friends there. He will be in Big Spring November 25 to take up his new work.

Big Spring Gets Lumberman's Meet

Lumbermen of West Texas Will Be Guests in Big Spring at Next Year's Meeting Nov. 11 and 12

Big Spring will be a real convention city in 1928. Several big conventions are already scheduled to meet in our city, and another one has been added to the list. The West Texas Retail Lumberman's Association will hold their annual meeting in Big Spring on November 11 and 12th. This association has just closed their two day session in Sweetwater, and Big Spring was unanimously chosen the convention city for 1928. The invitation to meet in Big Spring was extended by Sam Weaver and J. Fred Phillips.

Lumbermen from Big Spring attended the two day session in Sweetwater, those going were: T. E. Johnson, J. Fred Phillips, Sam Weaver, and H. P. Woods. These men are praising Sweetwater for the delightful manner in which they were entertained while in their city.

C. W. Bryant of Sweetwater was elected president of the association. Dick Gray of Colorado, vice-president; W. P. Hogan, San Angelo, Secretary-Treasurer; Directors, J. Fred Phillips, Big Spring; Paul Bryan of Hamlin; Edgar Manning, Coleman; Ross Jennings, Abilene; V. F. Wallace, McCombs; Frank Harden, Brownwood; and J. N. Powell, Midland.

Big Spring will endeavor to give the lumbermen at their next convention, one of the finest meetings that they have ever enjoyed. We feel it is a privilege to entertain folks in our city, and it will be our earnest endeavor to do it, in a big way.

JAMES P. DAVIS DEAD

James P. Davis, 59 years, 5 months, passed away at 10 o'clock, Saturday night, November 12th, following an illness of several weeks duration. Mr. Davis suffered a severe injury to his hip about five weeks ago, when he slipped and fell at his home on Scurry street.

All that loving hands and medical skill could do to relieve his suffering proved to no avail. His weakened condition and serious injury was more than he could overcome and he was called to his Home on High.

Funeral services were conducted at the family residence at 1301 Scurry street at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon, Rev. J. M. Cochran, pastor of the Methodist Church of Coahoma, officiating, and the remains were laid to rest in Mt. Olive cemetery.

Mr. Davis was born in North Carolina on June 12, 1868. He came to Texas early in life and has made his home in the Lone Star State. He had been a resident of Howard County many years, having lived near Coahoma until last year, when he moved to Big Spring to make his home. Mr. Davis was a friend to everyone, and held in high esteem by all who knew him. He was of a retiring nature, but had won many warm friendships, and he was ever ready to help a friend in need. He practiced the teachings of the Golden Rule in his daily living and lived a consistent Christian life. He was a kind and loving husband, a loyal neighbor, and many hearts are saddened at his death.

Deceased is survived by his devoted wife, three brothers, and one sister, Chas. W. Davis of Big Spring, Alce Davis and J. W. Davis of El Paso, and Mrs. E. E. Lane of El Paso, all of whom were here to attend the funeral services. Mrs. Stewart of Strawn, sister of Mrs. Davis, was also here to attend the funeral.

Heartfelt sympathy is extended to the bereaved ones in this sad hour.

COTTON RECEIPTS 10,639 BALES

Cotton receipts are showing quite a drop since the cool weather made its appearance the latter part of last week. About 900 square bales and 400 round bales were the receipts for the week at Big Spring.

Public Weigher, J. W. Carpenter had weighed 2239 bales of cotton up to Thursday morning. The Keisburg gin here had ginned 2800 round bales so far this season; making the total on a 500 lb basis of 10639 bales.

DR. LEGEAR POULTRY EXPERT LECTURES HERE

Dr. L. E. LeGear of St. Louis, national poultry expert spent Monday Tuesday and Wednesday in Big Spring in the interest of promoting poultry raising in this section.

He was brought to Big Spring under the auspices of the Chamber of Commerce. While here he predicted that on his next visit there will be more poultry raisers out to attend his lectures.

He stated that the Big Spring section was ideal for poultry raising and if our people had a few million instead of a few thousand chickens on our farms this would be one of the most prosperous counties in the United States.

He visited a number of farms where poultry was being raised and gave the owners many pointers to help them. He delivered interesting lectures at the court house and it is to be regretted that more of our citizens were not there to meet this noted expert. He will return at some future date.

Dr. LeGear is among the most prominent veterinary surgeons of the U. S. and manufactures a splendid line of stock and poultry medicines and his work has undoubtedly been of much benefit to the people of the entire United States.

Dr. LeGear talked to his audience about poultry raising, and the diseases that menace the poultry farm and how to keep chickens and turkeys healthy and profitable. During his lecture he performed autopsies on two chickens, and showed how to give medicine to another by actual performance. The eager way in which his hearers attended on his words was evidence of their desire for this knowledge and their appreciation of the man who had made such deep researches in science and evolved remedies which would save poultry raisers thousands of dollars that are lost through diseases and improper care of fowls.

Dr. LeGear is a man of fine personality and is also a man who seemingly forgets the fame he has attained throughout the United States and steps down as it were among the common people to teach them by word and example the ways of making poultry and livestock more profitable, in fact, shows them how not only to make a living but to save money.

Contract Let for Telephone Building

Two Story Brick Office And Exchange Building To Be Completed By February 1st

W. H. Moore of Abilene district manager for the Southwestern Telephone Company is the authority for the statement that the new office and exchange building for Big Spring will be completed by February 1st.

The contract for the building has been awarded to R. E. McKee of Abilene. He hopes to start work on the new building within ten days. Just as soon as material can be assembled workmen will be put to work, it is said.

This building will be erected at the corner of East Fourth and Runnels Street where the company owns a 50x140 foot building site.

RECEIVES INJURY WHEN HORSE FALLS WITH HIM

Herbert McPherson, received painful injuries Monday when a horse he was riding fell with him. He was rushed to Big Spring to receive medical attention, and is reported to be getting along nicely, at this time. Mr. McPherson was at work on the Dorwood Ranch, north of Big Spring when the accident happened.

SINGING CONVENTION AT COAHOMA DRAWS CROWDS

The Howard County Singing Convention held at Coahoma, Texas, last Saturday night and Sunday, attracted one of the largest crowds of singers ever attending such an occasion in this section. This was the annual meeting of the convention, and the first to be held since the organization last May. Singers from all over the county came to Coahoma Saturday evening, to attend the opening and remained for the singing Sunday.

A basket dinner was served Sunday at noon, to the large crowd attending.

Formal Opening Crawford Hotel

Handsome Seven Story Structure To Be Presented To Public Thanksgiving Day. Good Program.

"The Crawford Hotel," standing high in the skyline of Big Spring as a monument to the activities and progress of our thriving little city, will be formally presented to the citizenship of Big Spring and friends, at an opening to be held on Thanksgiving Day. A. J. Crawford, proprietor, and Calvin Boykin, manager, together with the members of the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce extended a most cordial invitation to the entire citizenship of Big Spring and Howard County, to visit the Crawford Hotel on the opening day, and approve of its beauty and comforts.

Five hundred invitations have been issued to out of town friends to attend the opening of the Crawford Hotel, and letters of announcement of its opening have been issued to the traveling men in the Big Spring territory.

The program for the opening will begin at two o'clock, Thursday afternoon, and will continue through the evening until 9:30 o'clock. An out of town orchestra has been secured to furnish music for this occasion, and musical entertainments and speakers will also be on the program. "The Gypsy Entertainers," seven girls from Sweetwater will entertain in the afternoon and evening. Miss Lillian Hancock and her male quartet will sing. Readings will be given by such men of note as J. L. Lancaster, President of the T. & P. Railway, Mayor Thomason of El Paso and others.

Guests Entertained

The Crawford Hotel entertained its first guests on Tuesday night, November 8th. Mr. Crawford had not planned to open his hotel until it was completed, and he was ready to present to the public for approval. But the demands for rooms in our city, and the influx of out of town guests to attend the Methodist Conference here, forced Mr. Crawford to permit them to take rooms at his hotel. Just as quickly as the rooms were completed, and the furnishings and fixtures installed, the guests were ready to occupy them, and since the first night when guests were received and 39 entertained, they have enjoyed a full house and a rushing business.

Folks will find this is true, if they will notice the activities that center around the hotel. It is the busiest spot in town, and will continue to increase, after the formal opening.

It is the wish of the management of the hotel, that every citizen in Big Spring and friends will pay a visit to the hotel on Thanksgiving Day. Each one will be shown through the hotel, in its completeness. You are invited.

"THE MEN'S STORE" TO OPEN IN ELLIOT BLDG.

"The Men's Store, Inc." is the name of the new firm, opening in the corner space of the Elliott building, formerly occupied by A. B. Cook and Sons. R. M. Burnam is to be manager of the Men's Store, and he is in our city this week, overseeing the installation of fixtures, and taking charge of the stock, as it arrives. Workmen are busy getting everything in readiness for the opening, which will probably be held the latter part of next week.

The Men's Store, Inc. is the third store to be opened in West Texas, other branches having been established in San Angelo and Midland. Everything for men is kept in stock, and a high grade of merchandise.

COTTON STRIPPER RECEIVED HERE THIS WEEK

A McCormick Deering Cotton Stripper a late invention, and new on the market, was received this week by J. & W. Fisher. This cotton stripper is one of the first to be shipped from the factory of the International Harvester Company, at Chicago, Ill., and the first one to be received in Big Spring.

Its purpose is to pick the cotton, and that is what it does—picks bolls and all. The machine can gather from five to six bales of cotton per day. It is some invention, and is going to put it over on the cotton pickers. It is interesting.

A PANACEA FOR THE HEAVY LADEN

Writing in a 1905 Cosmopolitan under the title, "When I am Dictator," Edwin Markham discourses with a great deal of wisdom on the evil of enforced idleness and the remedy to be applied. He says:

"I have decided that my first step as a dictator will be to give to every man a chance to live by labor. There shall be no enforced idleness. This will do more than any other one thing to sweeten and lighten the burden of the people. This would lift from the man-out-of-work the fear of tomorrow. Think of an able-bodied man knocking in vain at the door of life, begging simply for a chance to live by work of his hands. There are always tens and thousands of these hapless men. . . . Out in Colorado, a certain city furnished work for a drove of workless men, and the shovels were piled upon the ground. The men were there promptly on the hour, and so eager they were for work that they fell to fighting for the shovels, breaking bones and shedding blood, so wildly fearful were the men that the shovels would not go around.

"So when I am dictator, everyone shall be made secure in this primary right of man. Thinkers will differ as to the best procedure to this end. I have a suggestion, and I think it would go deep enough to do some good, and yet not so deep as to interfere with our present system of private enterprise. The idea is a simple one. I would make diligent inquiry as to the number of men idle in the several arts and crafts; then I would establish enough state or municipal shops to absorb all this idle labor. Shoemakers should be set to aking and mending; bakers to kneading and baking. Unskilled labor could be provided for in state farms and factories or on public improvements. Good wages could be paid as the element of profit-making would be rooted out, as it has already been rooted out of the post office business. If at any time we were making too many good things, the hurs could be shortened so as to keep all hands busy.

"RED BARN" NAME OF COMMUNITY OF YATES FIELD

San Angel, Texas, Nov. 12.—The Yates Oil field, one of the best known oil areas in the country, will soon have a real community. Plans for development of Red Barn, the small community that has sprung up there, are maturing following the leasing of a town site area and the purchase of buildings thereon from Ira G. Yates by Paul G. Halamick of Big Lake and his brother W. A. Halamick of Rowena.

$5,000 A PIECE FOR DEAD BANK ROBBERS

About one of the quickest ways of getting rich quick is to kill a few bank robbers. Five hundred banks in Texas are only too eager to make it to your interest to go gunning for the elusive birds who are now making banking a hazardous occupation. $5,000 is offered for bank robbers, dead robbers preferred.

Nothing short of an ocean in the way of a surface water supply can be depended upon. Abilene citizens are requested to conserve their water supply by cutting consumption of water by 400,000 gallons per day. At one time Abilene invited folks to use water without reserve. Use of water from Lake Abilene has been discontinued for the present.

HUNTING TRIP TO SANDERSON

Hubert Rutherford, Newt Caldwell, Guy Winslow, Jack Johnson and Mr. Caldwell left Sunday morning for Sanderson, where they will enjoy a hunting trip.

Two great pugilists are planning to tour the country to tell the younger generation of the need for clean living. Gene Tunney and James J. Jeffries, heavy weight champion and ex-champion, are the two who have stated that their intention of making lecture tours through the United States.

Met a lady on the street. I said, "I hear your husband has been real sick."

She said, "He was very bad." I asked her if the doctors got him straightened up yet and she said, "Yes, hurted him last Thursday."

Boy! If we just had a modern, four or five story office building, we would be mighty fortunate. Such a building is very much needed just at this time, and we are going to overlook a good bit if we fail to complete arrangements for the erection of one before things begin to move here next Spring.

HOME GROWN PURPLE TOP TURNIPS ON THE MARKET

L. H. Thomas, a successful Howard County farmer, who lives nine miles northwest of Big Spring, has had a fine garden this year, and he is still enjoying the fresh vegetables from same. This week he is marketing turnips, the finest that you ever saw, and with good tops. Mr. Thomas states that he finds a ready market for the turnips and turnip greens and sells out every time he brings a load to town. The Herald family enjoyed a serving of fine Purple Top Globe turnips and greens, and we are here to say that they are certainly fine.

Mr. Thomas has netted a nice sum from his garden this year, and on his crop of snap beans, cleared about fifty dollars. Besides raising plenty for home consumption, giving some to his neighbors and friends, he still has plenty to sell and makes money on them.

Jack Smith returned Monday morning from Caddo Mills, where he was called Saturday by the illness and death of his nephew, Leo Smith.

Clyde Thomas made a business trip to Lamesa, Tuesday.

VINCENT ITEMS

Our school term began last Monday. The attendance is comparatively small on account of so many being out to help gather crops, but we hope to have more soon. A good term is expected by the teachers and students.

Quite a crowd of young people gathered Sunday night at the Baptist Church for the singing. We have ordered new song books for the class and hope to have better singing in the future.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Shafer who for some time have been visiting his parents, left Saturday for their home in Detroit.

Miss Lucile Bishop and her mother Mrs. Walter Bishop of Abilene were the week end guests of Miss Arvie Bishop.

Mr. and Mrs. Hollis Gainey and little son Harold of Westbrook were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Richards Sunday.

Frank Dunn went to Dallas last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Uell Lewis spent several days in Sweetwater last week.

Miss Jewel Motley of Borger is visiting relatives and friends in and around Vincent.

Gilbert Madison of Coahoma attended the singing Sunday night.

Mrs. Ted Coale visited relatives and friends here last week.

Dave Lee and family formerly of Lorraine, Texas, have moved to their property west of Vincent.

Many of our young people have been attending the Harley Sadler show at Big Spring. They all report a wonderful time and a splendid entertainment. Reporter.

KNOTT ITEMS

Knott school is making great progress this year, having as many enrolled at present as were enrolled at the close of the term last year.

The Knott Community is anticipating great returns from a box supper to be given next Friday night, November the eighteenth. Each and every one is invited to come, bringing a well filled box or a pocket full of money. The fishing pond will be one of the leading features, and last but not least will be the awarding of a cake to the prettiest girl of the community.

Mr. Kenneth Turner and Miss Dorra Brashers of Knott were united in marriage on Sunday, November 6. The bride and groom are highly esteemed by their many friends, who extend their best wishes. The happy couple will make their home in Abilene. —Knott Reporter.

CHAMPIONSHIP GAME OF CLASS TO BE PLAYED AT ABILENE

Abilene, Texas. — The annual championship game of West Texas football will be played here Friday, Nov. 25. The game will be the Class A final between the Abilene Eagles clash with the Big Dam Loboes of Cisco High. The southern half of West Texas and in the opinion of many will select the champion of all West Texas and probably determine the team destined to enter the state finals. It will bring together some of the most colorful teams of the state each determined to win or to be the attempt.

Never before have two teams met with the hope more even. Each team has amassed an enormous number of scores in their games this season and both have held their own against pitifully small scores. The Loboes have scored nearly five hundred points during the season. The machine has run rough shod against all opposition. Their comparative scores indicate that the Loboes and Eagles are evenly matched.

FREAK RADISH

Wheeler of Coahoma, Miss., brought to the Herald office this week a freak radish. It looked like anything, but what it was — weighing 2 1/4 pounds, and measuring 10 inches in length and 4 inches in circumference. Most persons who saw the vegetable thought it to be an odd sized turnip.

MASTERPIECE OF CRIME "UNDERWORLD" HAS BIG CAST!

Many crook stories have been filmed, some of them good, others of lesser quality, but it has remained for Paramount to give the motion picture public a masterpiece of crime drama which is true to life and constructive in its treatment.

The picture is "Underworld" an amazingly vivid and thrilling story written by Ben Hecht. It will be shown at R. R. Lyric Theatre, and will run for two days, beginning Monday, November 21.

Briefly the story recounts the violent adventures of a group of men and women of criminal instincts in a metropolitan American city. It shows gangland in its true colors. The characters have a distorted viewpoint toward life but they possess human qualities too, that actuate their desperate acts and color their loves, feuds, and depredations. There is regeneration for only two of the characters, Clive Brook and Evelyn Brent, a man and girl whose underworld associations have been brought about by strange circumstances and who finally find "the right way" through their love.

George Bancroft, as a gang leader, is a huge, roistering barbarian who lives by violence and dies the same way. Fred Kohler, a rival gangster, is a savage bandit, second only to Bancroft. The grimness of the picture is lightened by Larry Semon's spontaneous humor.

The tale moves swiftly to a startling conclusion that would appear highly melodramatic were it not that one can read, daily of furious gun battles between police and gangsters, shooting it out to the death. The picture in this respect is as authentic as the front page of tomorrow's newspaper.

The direction by Josef Von Sternberg, under Hector Turnbull's supervision, is consistently clever. He seems to have the psychology of crime down to a science in its relation to the screen drama.

FRANK SEGALL STARS IN WESLEY-BURLESON GAME

Frank Segall, son of Mr. and Mrs. Max Segall of this city, who is attending Wesley College at Greenville, Texas, was the outstanding player in the football game last Friday played between Burleson College and Wesley College, and to him much praise is given by the college students and fans. In the write up of the game as given in the Greenville Herald, they say, "Led by a plunging and punting demon in the person of Segall, the Panthers took full advantage of the wind in the first quarter and outplayed the Bruins."

Segall was the all-star player on the Steer team of the Big Spring High School the past season.

MAY ESTABLISH HATCHERY IN BIG SPRING SOON

Albert Sikes of Goldwathe was in Big Spring the fore part of this week, looking over conditions in Big Spring, in the interest of establishing a hatchery in this city. Mr. Sikes was well pleased with conditions as he found them in Howard County, and is thinking seriously of locating his hatchery in Big Spring.

This will be another big thing for Big Spring to locate. The poultry industry has proven itself worthwhile in Howard County, and it is the farms that are stocked with chickens that are paying their own way, and not depending on cotton to tide them over. With a hatchery located at this point, the trade territory for miles around could be stocked with chickens of good breed and make the poultry industry one of the leading industries in our section.

PAY OFF THE DEBTS

Wichita Falls, Texas, Nov. 16.—Several thousand Baptist ministers, laymen, executives, and official "messengers" crowded Wichita Falls streets today preparatory to the opening tonight of the annual Texas Baptist convention. The meeting, which is the big event of the year in Baptist executive circles, probably will last through Saturday.

"Pay off the debts" is a phrase frequently heard in the various groups gathering to discuss the work of the coming days, in which they refer to the Conquest Campaign, perhaps the most important single topic of the session. This campaign was inaugurated a year ago, when Dr. George W. Truett, director of the campaign, and nearly a score of committeemen and executives, pledged themselves to the work of paying off debts on Texas Baptist institutions within the four years that followed. At a meeting of the campaign executive committee at Dallas last Saturday complete plans for continuing the campaign through 1928 were drawn up and will be submitted to the convention for approval. "There is not the slightest indication of dissension," Dr. Truett said then. "Everyone is for paying off the debts as quickly as possible. Our only problem is as to the methods to be employed in raising the funds."

Dr. Truett explained that Texas Baptist institutions have undergone a period of rapid growth, when it was necessary to create debts. The total assets now are about nineteen million while debts totaled about 6 million a year ago. This total has been greatly reduced.

Reports will be read on the work of the Conquest Campaign through the past twelve months, including all funds in cash and pledges received up to November 17.

Dr. Truett and Dr. F. S. Groner, general secretary for the Convention, urge that pastors go right on with their work for the debt-paying drive, not allowing the convention and the transfer from one fiscal year to another to interfere.

CAPTURE OIL FIELD WHISKEY FACTORY

Getting the still, 1,800 gallons of mash, several hundred gallons of corn whiskey, seven cases of beer, three men and two hogs, the raiding force made one of the biggest catches near Brookfield ever made in this part of the west, and broke up one of the strongest outfits alleged to have made and sold the fermented beverages.

The report from the sheriff's office gives the names of the three arrested as McEntosh, three-time offender, Red Graham and Earl Johnson, alias Earl Jackson. They were brought to town and put in the hoosegow for future reference. Pecos Enterprise.

P. S. The hogs, merely used to eat up the mash after the liquor was run, so they are not to be kept in custody.

HOUSTON COUNTY OIL NOTES

Lockhart Allen well in now production making its daily average of 75 barrels, coming by heads, being run through the pipe line from station where it is shipped to the refineries at El Paso. It is used to make Speedene the product of the Rio Grande Oil Co. controlled and started by Lockhart Bros.

Lockhart location on the north side of a deep test started. The Exploration well, the A. A. No. 1, north of town, about 1/2 mile, is drilling slowly ahead, to a total depth around 400 feet according to last reports. No speed has been made on this lease.

Earl W. Brooks well, Eddins No. 1, in the southeastern part of the county is now drilling below 2,800 feet in sandstone and steadily going ahead.

Deep Rock well, their fourth, is now below 350 feet, using a 1/2 inch hole, with a depth of only 1,700 feet. The show they found previously in one of their wells at 1500 feet. This company is making an attempt to lease a block of acreage which lies along the Reeves-Hunter County line, where it is owned by the T. & P. line.

Humble Oil & Refining Company's Elgin-Flora well in the Davis Mountains, is drilling below 2200 feet and making fair time.

As the oil market remains in present level, there will be little development in unknown areas and even a hesitancy in financing unproven areas.

ELECTRICITY GIVES BETTER SERVICE AT LESS COST

William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, did not exaggerate the accomplishments of the electrical industry in the least in his recent statement paying tribute to that industry. Mr. Green was especially impressed with the fact that the electrical industry has quickly put into use every new worthwhile invention designed to better and cheapen service. "I am certain no other industry is devoting so much time, money and effort to the successful expansion of its service and production," the labor leader declares. He might have added had he cared to make comparisons, that the electrical industry is about the only one of the public utility interests that hasn't been crying for higher rates the last few years. Many of those interests have resorted to the expedient of going into the Federal courts to get rates set which the people disapprove. Electrical service on the other hand as a general proposition has been greatly improved, and the trend of charges has been downward instead of upward. This is a fact of especial concern to the people right at this time when there is brewing a war on the electrical industry, sponsored by certain individuals and interests who pretend to see a menace in the methods of industry in consolidating power plants and producing power from larger units. Apparently, the very things objected to are the things that are responsible in large measure for the better service at less cost. Editorial, Houston Post-Dispatch.

WORLD WELL TO SHOOT FOR TEST

Graham-Hunter Moved to New Reeves Location

For the possibility of finding production from the Delaware sand, the World Oil Company will shoot their well, the Duff No. 1 in Reeves County from 4,520 to 4,200 feet in the next few days.

Failing to find any real production from drilling the hole to a depth of more than 4300 feet, the operators have decided to back up and set off a charge of nitro to see if that will get any results. This depth is in the oil bearing sands, known in this area as the Delaware, and has given all the other wells their show. Pecos Enterprise.

LITTLE STORIES TAKEN FROM DAILY LIFE

In My Travels
B. Gundelfinger

I met a friend of mine in the street some time ago. He introduced me to his Newly Married Wife and his Mother. He said, "I just got married this morning and am going to get a row boat and we are going out on the lake to fish all day." I asked him "If you were a mile out on the lake, a storm came up the boat turned over and you could only save one, which one would you save?" He said, "My wife, of course." I told him V. R. wrong. I'd save my mother and I'll tell you why. You can always get another wife but you can never get another mother.

DON'T BE WEAK!

Some people don't know the difference between meekness and weakness. A meek man is not an ass who lets everybody saddle and ride him, nor a door mat for every clodhopper to wipe his feet on. The creeping, wobbling creature that adapts his spine to his new surroundings is not a meek but a weak man. A meek man has backbone enough to hold up his head and get through an ordinary six foot door. No one admires the nuisance who jostles everybody and upsets everything with which he comes in contact, but the simpleton who hasn't enough self-assertion to wipe his nose without asking somebody's leave makes the angels weep.

Don't go around apologizing for being on the earth. Stand out for the treatment a man should receive and get it. Look out for those who will trade on your softness if they get the chance. "The simple believeth every word, but the prudent man looketh well to his going." Do not be suspicious but keep your weather eye open. Don't be fooled with sugar sticks or fox talk.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC

Information is hereby given to the public in general, regarding the releasing of Chattel Mortgages. If you have ever given a chattel Mortgage on anything to anyone and have paid it off you should have it released from the records for this mortgage stands against your credit standing until it has been released. There are numbers of people that have overlooked this matter and just considered that when they got their note that this was all there was to it, but not so, the mortgage still stands against you on the records of the County until you have it released and the best time to have this done is when you pay off your note while it is fresh on your mind. It only costs 25 cents each, and it might mean $100.00 to you sometime when you try to borrow some more money on that same team or tools or whatever it may be and they should perchance run the records and find that there was already a mortgage on this stuff, even though you had already paid the note but the mortgage still stands on record.

OILING THE WORKS

It is a mistake to think the best results are got from employees or anyone else by constant fault-finding. Some men seem to run their establishments on the principle that the sharper they are with those about them the more they will get out of them. When anything occurs calling for a little praise, they balance it up against previous shortcomings and failures. Some employers are so afraid of spoiling their employees with praise that they kill the initiative. No one who knows human nature and who is looking for the best from his help will make this fatal mistake. There is nothing like a little oil for eliminating friction and increasing power.

There is nothing like a pleasant smile or a kind word to bring out the best there is in anyone. There may be people in this world on whom kindness is wasted, but they are so scarce that they do not count. "As face answereth to face in water, so the heart of man to man."

A GREATER TELEPHONE SYSTEM FOR TEXAS

Texas Telephone News
A Journal of Telephone Information Published by the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company
Vol. II No. 11

Telephone Employees Fitted By Training and Experience

Average Service of Texas Telephone Employees is Four Years

The telephone business is a highly specialized industry and in a great many of its departments requires considerable technical knowledge. In most branches of telephone work this knowledge can be gained only through experience and special training. The longer the experience, generally, the more capable a telephone employee is of serving the telephone company and telephone subscribers.

In Texas the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company has in its employ more than 7,100 people. The average length of service of these employees is over four years.

LONG SERVICE RECORDS

More than 900 of these employees have had more than 10 years of telephone service, about 200 have had more than 20 years.

These employees in Texas represent but a small portion of the telephone workers who make possible the telephone service you enjoy today. In the United States there are more than 425,000 men and women engaged in telephone work. Their coordinated efforts make it possible for you to reach by telephone all corners of this nation, as well as Cuba, Canada, Mexico, or Great Britain, from your home or office.

MEXICO

Mexico is now within sound of your voice. On September 30, long distance service was opened between the United States and Mexico, bringing another nation within reach of your telephone. Just ask for "Long Distance" and give her your call in the usual way.

A POPULAR SERVICE

During the first eight months of this year, 9,990,000 long distance calls were placed by Texas telephone subscribers. Of this number, approximately 1,998,000 were placed after 7 o'clock in the evening, showing the popularity of the reduced rate periods for station-to-station calls, which start at 7 p. m. and continue until 4:30 a. m.

YOU ARE INVITED

In Texas, more than 4,400 operators are required to handle the continuous flow of telephone calls. Why not drop in at your telephone office some afternoon and see just how your telephone calls are handled at the switchboard? You are always welcome, and the visit will be well worth while.

OIL DEVELOPMENT STEADY AND SURE

grees for the California test on the ranch of Bernard and Joe Fisher, 6 miles south of Big Spring, due to the great amount of salt water encountered. A depth of more than 2900 feet has been reached. It is planned to drill to a depth of 3000 feet, if possible, before the eighth inch casing is run.

TO DEEPEN TEXON SETTLES NO. 1

The work of drilling the Texon, Settles No. 1 on section 159 Block 29, W. on W. survey on down in search of the big pay found by the Magnolia Petroleum Company's Roberts No. 1 on section 136, Block 29, W. N. W. The Roberts No. 1 is about two miles east of the Settles No. 1.

The Texon Oil company had a good producer in Settles No. 1, from the 1300 foot sands, but decided to make a try for bigger producer at this 2950 foot depth.

A SHALLOW TEST ON SEC. 61

John E. Lee is to start a shallow test for oil on the south part of section 61, Block 29-W. and N.W. survey at once.

This well is to be drilled to a depth of 1400 feet unless a commercial producer is secured at a lesser depth.

AT EDITH K. FISHER TEST

The drill is pounding away near the 3900 foot mark in the Marland Oil Company's Edith K. Fisher No. 1, about eight miles south of Big Spring.

This test is about six miles northwest of the Magnolia's big well on the Roberts ranch.

OIL SITUATION LOOKS PROMISING, OIL MAN SAYS

J. R. McGraw of Tulsa, Oklahoma, was a business visitor in Big Spring this week, in the interest of some Howard County property. Mr. McGraw is vice president and general manager of the McGraw Oil Company of Tulsa. According to Mr. McGraw, the oil situation in Howard County is very promising, and some good things are assured our county, from its development.

PEER OIL COMPANY GETS SHOWING

The Peer Oil Company drilling on the C. D. Read ranch in the eastern part of Howard County are said to have had an oil showing in their test well near the 2800 foot mark.

There was 2200 feet of water in the hole so it was impossible to ascertain the value of this showing. The work of running 66 5-8 inch casing was completed Wednesday night and with the water cut off, drilling will be resumed.

MARLAND TO DRILL NORTH OF COAHOMA

The Marland Oil Company has a derrick up on section 12, block 31, T. SP I. N. north of Coahoma, and is to start a deep test as soon as the rigging up has been completed.

SALEM NOTES

Most of the farmers in our community are done gathering cotton and feed. We feel so thankful for the bountiful yield and good prices.

Our School started Monday with a pretty full enrollment. A goodly number of the patrons visited the school.

Mr. and Mrs. Skinner and Mrs. W. F. Cox made a quick trip to Commerce, Cooper and Waxahatchee to visit relatives Friday and Sunday night.

Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Hull left Friday morning on the train for Dallas where Mrs. Hull was to undergo a thorough medical examination. She has been very poorly for the past few weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Dearing and family spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Rogers and family of Fairview.

Grandmother Wise is reported to not be gaining in health.

A goodly number of the Salem folks attended the singing convention at Coahoma Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hull and family and Mrs. W. C. Rogers visited with Mrs. E. E. Mason a while after the singing.

Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Hull are expected to arrive from Dallas Wednesday with their son, T. D., accompanying them.

Misses Bertha and Eva Miller, who are attending the Douglas Business College of Abilene, spent the week end with home folks this week.

Rev. Ed Thorp and wife of Littlefield who were attending the First Methodist Conference in Big Spring spent Friday night with Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Robinson.

Mr. and Mrs. Ebner Hull and Mr. and Mrs. Webb and families, have moved back to Covertan after spending

Thanksgiving!

An appropriate occasion for a host of tributes to those influences that have made life more enjoyable. That Pilgrims were thankful for the Providence that saved them from destruction by Indians and for a full dinner table. Life to-day has more hazards and it behooves us to count ourselves thankful for the blessings of safety and happiness.

On Thanksgiving Day we stop for a moment at our toil to offer up thanksgiving for the good things that are ours. We have chosen this day from out the year of unrest and worry and tribulation to look about us and be glad for the good there. We have come thru the year to here. We have feared the future, but doggedly stuck to our task and upon Thanksgiving we pause.

Albert M. Fisher Co. Department Store is THANKFUL!

As a public institution we pause for a moment to offer Thanksgiving. We are thankful, we are here, we are thankful of the inspiration, honesty of purpose, integrity and ability to serve the community in every way possible. We are thankful for the many friends this store has gained and as a token of our thankfulness we pledge to give you the best merchandise obtainable for the least possible price.

Very Fine - yet Not Costly Thanksgiving Linens

Table linens are the setting for the feast--the background for all the luscious eats that make Thanksgiving the major eating event of the year. And if you think there's expense involved, we can easily prove to the contrary by pointing out the very modest prices our linens bear. We take pride in presenting this beautiful selection.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR SOCIETY FIRST CHRISTIAN CHURCH BIG SPRING

The local Senior Endeavor Society has in its future work program: an active drive for workers, the training of new leaders, and building up the social life. Hope to build up social life through not only socials as parties, hikes, suppers, etc., but also in some form of games. The society has been considering building courts for tennis, volleyball, croquet, etc. The purpose of said games to be two fold: for the social get-together of the members and for the benefit of those of our group who are unable to attend all the time.

We count ourselves happy in the Church when casting around some one with leadership ability some one who has proved their organizing worth, some one who could and would go to San Antonio for the leadership training and choose our president, Nettie Griffin. These girls were chosen to represent it at the church to represent it at the state. They have transportation all expenses paid. Nettie is president of the Endeavor Society, and the rest of the Pathfinders and the church.

BRIDE'S WEDDING
Holding tall burning tapers, that graced the wedding table of her Grandmother's appointed the table on this occasion.
The groom presented the members of the wedding party with handsome gifts, and his gift to the bride was a Studebaker coupe.
Miss Nell Hatch caught the bridal bouquet, which Mrs. Whisenant threw into the crowd as she boarded the train.
The happy couple left on the Sunshine Special, for El Paso, where they will receive their car, and from there will go to California to spend their honeymoon. For her travelling attire the bride wore a striking dark green velvet ensemble after Molyneux, the jacket of velvet was stitched in matching silk, and carried a sumptuous collar of lynx. Accompanying the skirt and jacket of velvet was a youthful blouse of crepe Elizabeth of matching shade, self stitched. Her accessories were of harmonizing shades.
Miss Ricker is the charming and gracious daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Ricker of this city and is a popular member of the social and musical circles of the city. After completing her education at Southern Methodist University at Dallas, Miss Ricker studied music and voice under prominent masters in the north and east, taking post graduate work under Oscar Seagle in New York and Bush Temple in Chicago. She possesses a soprano voice of unusual quality and is recognized as a singer of note. Miss Ricker has several productions on victrola records and has broadcast over the radio on several occasions. She has been absent from Big Spring the major part of the past few years, having been voice instructor in Lubbock, where she was favorably acclaimed an artist by the members of the musical circle of that city, and also was studying in the north, but Big Spring claims her as her own and many friends here wish her every success and happiness.
Mr. Whisenant is a member of a prominent family in Duncan, Oklahoma. He received his education in Oklahoma University, where he was prominent in athletics, being a nine letter man. He was a popular member of the Phi Delta Theta fraternity of that university.
After a three weeks' visit in California, the happy couple will return to this city, where Mr. Whisenant will resume his duties as geologist with the California Oil Company.
Congratulations and best wishes are extended to the happy couple by a large circle of friends in this city.
Out-of-Town Guests
Out of town relatives and guests attending the Whisenant-Ricker nuptials on Monday evening were: Mr. and Mrs. Rupert P. Ricker and daughter, Maribel Ellen, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd C. Dodson and son, Judge and Mrs. W. W. Hubbard, Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Griffin, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Develin, and R. C. Sanderson of San Angelo; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ricker and Mrs. Pearl Calhoun Davis of Fort Worth, Mrs. N. W. Hickman of Big Lake, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Whisenant of Duncan, Oklahoma, Lee Laird of Colorado, Mrs. N. E. Hall of Corsicana and Tom Galbraith of Eastland.

MRS. M. R. SHELTON HONORED AT BRIDGE
Mrs. M. R. Shelton of New York City, who is a guest in the city, visiting her parents, Dr. and Mrs. J. H. Hurt, was the honoree at a happily planned party on last Thursday afternoon, when Mrs. Clifford Hurt invited a few of her friends in for a bridge play. Two tables of players found interest in the games and friendly conversation of the afternoon and at the termination of the play, when scores were counted, high score honor went to Mrs. H. D. Hilliard.
A pleasant aftermath to the play was the attractive refreshment plate served to: Mrs. C. W. Cunningham, Mrs. J. D. Biles, Mrs. James T. Brooks, Mrs. J. M. Fisher, Mrs. H. D. Hilliard, Mrs. J. R. Gopeland, Mrs. M. R. Shelton and Miss Jennie Bell of San Francisco, California.

PRETTY ARMISTICE PARTY IN MELLINGER HOME
Emphasizing a seasonal note, with gorgeous shaggy chrysanthemums of yellow, artistically arranged in vases and baskets, and also using flags to denote the patriotic color theme on Armistice Day, Mrs. Victor Mellinger most delightfully entertained with a bridge luncheon on last Friday at one o'clock. The already attractive rooms, with the pretty adornment provided a lovely setting, wherein guests were entertained during the afternoon. Around daintily spread tables the guests were seated, and served a delectable two course luncheon, consisting of baked turkey, dressing, cranberry jelly, olives, peas en timbales, cherry pie with whipped cream and coffee.
Following the luncheon, bridge accessories were placed on the tables, and tallies of attractive design were passed. The guests found diversion in a series of interesting bridge games. At the conclusion of the play when scores were compared, high score honor was won by Mrs. J. R. Copeland, who was favored with a set of three beautifully embroidered guest towels. Mrs. L. S. McDowell won high in the cut, and she received a lovely linen bridge set.
Party favors to each guest were yellow chrysanthemum nut cups, filled with salted almonds.
The guest list to this delightful affair included: Mesdames Frank Pool, Biles, Notestine, Brooks, Cunningham, Everett, Evans, Ellington, A. Fisher, Robinson of Corsicana, Eckhaus, J. Fisher, B. Gundelfinger, of Lafayette, Ind., Mitchell Stoner of Del Rio, Gallemore, Bennett, Inkman, McDowell, McNew, Thomas, Happel, Keating, Hilliard, Wolfe, Homan, Roe, Stedman, Hair, Hathcock, C. Hurt, Wilcox, Reed, Pike, Coffee, Pistole, Whitney, Huggins, Stephens, Martin, Bivings, Copeland, Strain, Cushing, Fahrenkamp, Markham, Ashley, Duvall, Orebaum, Rogers, Austin, Devries, Piner, B. Fisher, and Misses Clara Pool, Eleanor Antley, Vesta Mosteller and Zou Hardy.

FAREWELL RECEPTION FOR REV. AND MRS. W. C. HINDS
In farewell to Rev. and Mrs. W. C. Hinds, who leave today for Colorado to make their future home, where Reverend Hinds will become pastor of the Methodist Church at Colorado, a reception was held in the parlors of First Methodist Church at eight o'clock Wednesday evening. The members of the congregation called during the evening hours to bid farewell to the pastor and his family, and it was with deep regret that they all said goodbye. During the social hour, the honorees were presented with a beautiful floor lamp, a token showing in a small way, the love and esteem in which they were held. Goodbyes were said, and the best wishes of his congregation go with him to his new post of duty.

SMITH-HULL
The marriage of Miss Annie Hull and Algie Smith was performed at the home of the bride's parents, in Snyder, Texas, at noon, Saturday, November 12th, in the presence of only relatives and close friends of the families. Reverend I. D. Hull, father of the bride, read an impressive ceremony which united them in marriage.
The bride is the attractive daughter of Rev. and Mrs. I. D. Hull of Snyder, and she is loved by all who know her.
The groom is a resident of Big Spring, where he has made his home for the past several years. He is owner and manager of the Big Spring Electric Laundry, and is held in esteem by all who know him.
Immediately following the ceremony, the happy couple left for a brief visit in Abilene.
Their friends extend congratulations and best wishes to the happy couple.
Miss Dorothy Ouida Fleeman accepted a position in the office of the Wolcott Motor Company, on Thursday morning.

PARENTS DAY TO BE OBSERVED AT JUNIOR HIGH
Parent's Day will be observed Friday at the Junior High School. All of the patrons and friends of this school are invited and urged to visit the school on Friday, and inspect the work being done. This invitation is extended by the members of Junior High P. T. A., and pupils of the school. Miss Carolyn Early will present her pupils in a program in the afternoon, beginning at one o'clock, and everyone is invited to come to this entertainment. The program will be given throughout the afternoon, and will consist of readings, and other interesting numbers.
At the regular meeting of the Junior P. T. A. on Tuesday afternoon it was decided to observe Parent's Day. If parents seem interested in school work of their children, and visit the school often it creates new interest in the school work for the child. Show your children that you are interested in what they are doing by visiting them at the Junior High School, Friday.

HIGH SCHOOL P. T. A. WILL HEAR HOME ECO. TALK
Miss Cowan, Home Economics teacher of Big Spring High School, will deliver a lecture before the mothers and members of the High School P. T. A. at their next regular meeting to be held at high school Tuesday afternoon at 4:00. Miss Cowan will discuss and give a demonstration on "How Home Economics is Taught in the High School and its Relation to the Home."
The members of the High School Glee Club will give several musical numbers, preceding Miss Cowan's lecture.
Following the meeting of the P. T. A. a social hour will be held in the Home Economics department, and light refreshments will be served by members of the classes.
A cordial invitation is extended to all members and friends to attend this meeting.

VIVIAN LA JEUNESSE SIGNALLY HONORED
Friends in this city will read with interest of the distinctive honor that has been accorded Miss Vivian La Jeunesse, sister of Mrs. J. Bob Austin, who spent the past summer in this city. Miss La Jeunesse, who is a senior at University of Michigan, was recently unanimously elected to Chi Delta Phi, a national sorority. The membership into this sorority is extended to people who write creditably and possess a genius of creation. Miss La Jeunesse has won many honors while attending the University at Ann Arbor, and ranks high in scholastic standing.

CAROLYN AND FRANK McCLESKEY HAVE PLAY PARTY
A group of little friends of Frank and Carolyn McCleskey gathered at their home in the Fairview Heights Addition Wednesday afternoon, between the hours of four and six o'clock and enjoyed a play party. During the play hours, a number of games such as "Clap In Clap Out," "Winkum," and others were enjoyed after which dainty refreshments of sandwiches and hot chocolate were served to the following:
Mary Settles, Edith Dow Cordell, Katherine Happel, Lula Ashley, La Verne Stewart, Verna Kinard, Floy Martin, E. P. Driver, Montye Jones, Dorman Kinard, Quintin Martin, Chas. Yarnell, Harry Jordan, Frank and Carolyn McCleskey.

MRS. LEWIS BLIVINS IS HONORED AT SHOWER
Misses Anita Musgrove and Mildred Nell are entertaining with a miscellaneous shower this afternoon, in honor of Mrs. Lewis Blivins, a recent bride. The party is being given at the Musgrove residence on South Scurry street, with intimate friends of the honoree as guests.
H. K. Woodford of Dallas was a business visitor in Big Spring the forepart of this week.

HOME GARDEN FLOWER CLUB MET TUESDAY AFTERNOON
The initial fall meeting of the Home Garden Flower club was held in the rest room at the courthouse on Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. J. M. Morgan presiding.
Mrs. Morgan urged all of the members to plant trees and shrubs this fall and to work for beautiful lawns. Fall is the time of year to set out trees and shrubs and it is the desire of the Home Garden club to get all the home owners in Big Spring interested in planting some this fall.
Big Spring flower growers are also urged to plant Bluebonnets. Bluebonnet plants set out in the fall are hearty and grow large and beautiful.
Anyone wishing to order rose bushes or shrubs, please notify Mrs. Morgan. She can secure them for all members at reduced prices, at a club rate.
Cooperate with the members of the Home Garden Flower club and let's make Big Spring a city noted for its beautiful trees and flowers.

SPECIAL SONG SERVICES AT FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH
Special song services will be given at the First Baptist church on Sunday, November 20th at both the morning and evening services. Sunday morning, a double quartet, composed of Mrs. Travis Reed, Mrs. Homer McNew, Loula Cardwell, Mrs. George Gentry, and Roy Cornelison, Fred Phillips, Roy Lay and George McNew will give a special number. Miss Lillian Hancock, choir director, will give a solo.
Sunday evening, special numbers will be given by the male chorus, and H. G. Keaton will render a solo.

MARRIAGE LICENSES
Jack Norrell and Abby Lou Poe—November 12th.
R. L. Snow and Novice Roberts—November 12th.
Francisco Roderiques and Maria De-La Luz—November 12th.
Willie Levi Robinson and Birdie May Deel—November 12th.
J. B. Whisenant and Mabel Ellen Ricker—November 14th.

I-DEAL BRIDGE CLUB GUESTS OF MRS. STEDMAN
The members of the I-Deal Bridge club were delightfully entertained in the home of Mrs. F. H. Stedman, on Tuesday afternoon, with three tables of players contesting in the interesting card games of the afternoon. In the play, high score honor was won by Mrs. Renshaw.
Dainty luncheon covers were spread at the refreshment hour, and an attractive plate luncheon was served in a dainty manner.
Only club members attended this delightful party.

EPISCOPAL AUXILIARY MET WITH MRS. POWSLEY
Mrs. Powsley was hostess to the members of the Episcopal Auxiliary of St. Mary's Church on last Monday afternoon at their regular business and study meeting. Fifteen women were present to take part in the discussion of the afternoon.
After the business hour, the hostess served dainty refreshments.
The Auxiliary will meet with Mrs. A. M. Ripps at 3 o'clock next Monday afternoon. All of the ladies are invited to be present.

TAX ROLLS ARE READY; PAY YOUR TAXES EARLY
The Tax Rolls of Howard County and for the Independent School District are now ready, and anyone wishing to pay their taxes now, may do so. The taxes are collected at the office of the Sheriff in the Courthouse, and everyone is urged to pay their taxes as soon as possible, to avoid the rush and jaqm the last few days of grace.
John Wolcott is acting as nervous as a bride... all because he is expecting to meet the long expected new "Lizzie" Ford. John is due to go to Dallas about the first of the week and it is quite likely that he will bring "Miss Ford No. 2" to this city.

CHRISTMAS SEAL SALE WILL OPEN THANKSGIVING

Every resident in Big Spring and Howard County will be given an opportunity to purchase Christmas Health Seals, the sale of which opens in Big Spring, Thanksgiving Day and continues on until Christmas. Mrs. Chas. K. Bivings, Jr., chairman of the Seal Sale, has appointed her assistants, and everything is in readiness for the opening of the sale. Hundreds of seals are to be sold in our town and county, and it is going to take the cooperation and financial help of everyone to put Howard's county's quota over the top. Big Spring has always done her part in contributing generously in the fight against tuberculosis and this year's record must be the best.
"Buy Seals," is going to be on the tongues of everyone during this campaign. Teams of workers have been organized to visit the business houses, schools, church organizations, lodges etc., and every available source will be used to get money, the funds to be used in the eradication of the tuberculosis plague.
Tuberculosis can be cured in the majority of cases, if it is discovered early. Proper food, rest in the open air by day, at night, if possible, clean surroundings and the help of an intelligent doctor will do wonders. With money secured from the sale of health seals, the services of an expert doctor, and other treatment for the disease is afforded the sufferers. Those who are stricken are depending upon the more fortunate ones to help in their cure. We must all help. Every penny's worth of seals bought may save the life of a sufferer. We will all gladly donate to this good cause, to help those who are depending on us to save their lives.
When you are visited by the committees, give until it hurts.

THANKSGIVING DAY TO BE OBSERVED THURSDAY
Thanksgiving Day, the one day in the year set aside by our forefathers to remain away from the regular duties of the year, and give thanks to God for the many blessings that we have enjoyed the past year, will be observed next Thursday, November 24th. This being a national holiday, all of the banks and postoffice will be closed, as well as the stores in the city.
It is useless to remind the housewives to order a supply of groceries and other supplies on Wednesday to last until Friday, since the big event of the day centers around the noon day meal, with baked turkey the principal dish.
The opening of the Crawford Hotel on Thanksgiving will be the main event of the afternoon and evening. Church services will be held in some of the churches of the city, Thursday morning.

COLLINS BROS. DRUG STORE IS ROBBED
Collins Bros. drug store in this city was robbed at midnight Tuesday. A large glass door near the front of the store was smashed to enable the burglar to gain entrance. A small amount of cash and a gallon of paragonic was missing. The paragonic was found hidden in an alleyway by officers.
Ted Albright, aged about 32, who came here from Odessa a week or so ago, is being held on a charge of burglary. He held a job as dishwasher at the Coffee Shop for a few days.

BUILDING PERMITS
C. A. Talbot for Johnson and Hatch, a hollow tile filling station and parking place just north of Crawford Hotel, estimated cost $650
P. W. Looney a stucco residence in Cole and Strayhorn Addition, estimated cost $2400.
Mrs. Laura Wheat, a small structure 24x16 in Boydston Addition.

Entered as second class matter at the Postoffice, Big Spring, Texas, under Act of Congress, May 3, 1897.

Big Spring, Friday, Nov. 13, 1927

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC: Any erroneous reflection up the character, standing or reputation of any person, firm, or corporation, which may appear in the columns of this paper, will be gladly corrected upon its being brought to attention of the editor.

Last Friday was the day set for work to have been started on the new telephone building. Promises are easy to make, but out folks have been unable to make promises help the unsatisfactory phone service to any great extent.

Preaching the doctrine of hate cannot but react upon the class or creed which teaches such folly. "Love thy neighbor as thyself," has been deleted from the Bible by many so called Christians.

With the restricted residence sections now offering choice residence lots for building sites, the number of new homes should take on a considerable increase. Both tracts are on the high plateau East and south of Big Spring and both are ideal home sites. It will not be difficult to secure a site that will prove to be to your liking.

There's an increasing number of farmers coming to the Big Spring country just now, who desire to cast their lot in our section. West Texas agricultural lands have demonstrated their worth in good years and bad and at their price are more profitable to the owner than the famed black lands of Central Texas.

A wildcat test well is due to be started northwest of Big Spring sometime next spring. An eighteen hundred acre tract has been blocked up for drilling about five miles from this city. This test is to be placed in a territory that is considered especially favorable for production and will be an especially interesting one to the oil fraternity.

Just about the biggest of our needs is to be met. Natural gas for domestic and commercial use will be available by the the Fall of 1928. Cheap fuel is the big need for any city and as Big Spring can supply cheap fuel when gas is piped to our city we will be "sitting Jakes"

Howard County must line up with other progressive counties along the Glacier to Gulf Motorway and complete the job of building a system of first class highways in our country. Oil development will help pay a big part of the tax necessary to build hard surfaced roads in our country.

"The Society of Itching Palms" must be in session in Big Spring. A constant stream of panhandlers are now systematically working our city and citizens. They go from business house to business house begging or peddling some penny article for twenty five cents. A number of squat on the sidewalks with outstretched palms. A fellow don't mind helping a person in need but we are satisfied that the majority of the beggars now invading our city are professionals and not in need of assistance. What are we going to do about it?

The country is full of feed. The commodity brings very little money on the market. Why not convert it into hogs and turkeys and chickens and cows? Let's continue to raise our milk and butter and eggs and meat at home, so that our cotton money will be a surplus—Lynn County News.

The above goes for all of West Texas. This feed can best be marketed by feeding to livestock and poultry and the grower can realize a better profit for their crops if they follow this plan.

And Big Spring is to be host to another convention. The Lumbermen's Association of West Texas selected our city as the place to hold their 1928 convention.

Quite a large number of home folks and visitors on Sunday motored to the two new, restricted subdivisions to Big Spring, Edwards High and Washington Place, to give them the once over. These subdivisions are now on the market and many are availing themselves of the opportunity to secure an ideal home site.

C. OF C. DIRECTORS
INVITE YOUR SUGGESTIONS

Most every day someone sees fit to criticize the Chamber of Commerce for not pushing some particular plan when as a matter of fact, the directors may have never heard of the suggestion. The elective officers and directors of the chamber of commerce serve without pay and are no less human after being elected than they were before. They can take some action when matters are brought to their attention, but can do very little when the suggestions are merely whispered on the outside. They have their own personal affairs to attend to and cannot devote their entire time to running down rumors of things that might be done.

By adopting the course he has, President Weaver has given every member an opportunity to put his views directly before the directors and in such form that they may be acted upon. You will not have to get some member of the board to sponsor your ideas, but sponsor them yourself.

WAITED FOR "DOC"

"Have you given him anything or done anything to relieve him?" asked the young doctor who had fared far into the backwoods to see a patient in the dead of a stormy night.

"Well, no, doc—that is to say—nothing to speak of," said the wife of the patient. "I had him to soak his feet in almost b'ill'n' water with a lot of mustard in it, an' I clapped a red hot plaster on his back, an' another on his chest, an' I've put a couple of blisters I had in the house under his arms, and a bag o' cracked ice to the back of his neck, an' had him to drink a pint o' ginger tea with a dash o' rum in it jes' as hot as he could swallow it, an' I follored that with some yarb biters one o' the neighbors sent over, an' I had hi mtake five or six pills I got out of a box I got along with medicine to sell, an' he's had three or four spoons of Quackem's pain-killer an' one o' these sidelit's powders, but I didn't feel like as if I ort to give him much o' anything, or try to do much for him until you come an' see what you think ailes him."

7927 COTTON CROP
BRINGS MUCH MORE

Washington, D. C., Nov. 10, (SP)—Cotton farmers in the territory extending from the Texas Panhandle to the Atlantic coast, a 2,000-mile territory, will sell his cotton crop this year from approximately $200,000,000 more than he obtained in 1926, the department of agriculture today estimated.

OIL SITUATION IMPROVING

Levi Smith, president of the Big Lake Oil Company, is optimistic over the oil outlook. Here's his statement: "much brighter than a year ago," he said. He pointed out that the season of unusually low gasoline consumption has arrived, but an open winter, which often follows a severe one as experienced last year, would maintain a good demand for the fuel. He pointed out to the Seminole decline and said he did not believe the West Texas fields will be a menace. He said the West Texas production would not affect the market as Seminole did, because production will be limited to transportation facilities and it will be some time before outlets can be increased to any extent.

Pecos County's ultimate production is largely a guess, Smith believes. Because of the field's not being determined and the wells now pifched in, he said there was no way to accurately determine their flow. Intrusion of sulphur water on the east side of the river is not surprising to Smith, as he pointed out that the wells in that area are low structurally.

BIG EXPENDITURES FOR S. W. BELL TELEPHONE CO.

Gross expenditures amounting to nearly $8,000,000 to be spent in Arkansas, Missouri, Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas, were approved during the third quarter of 1927, by the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company, according to M. H. Moore, District Manager.

Almost the entire amount Mr. Moore said, will be expended for new equipment. Approximately $8,000,000 will be spent to replace old facilities, worn out and obsolete equipment.

This $8,000,000 is part of the $100,000,000 budget of the Bell System which was approved during the same period, $38,000,000 of which will be expended for new buildings, switchboard, poles and lines. The net additions to the telephone plant throughout the United States will amount to approximately $61,000,000.

DEATH FROM GAS

SUBJECT OF SUIT
Crane Field Gas Claims Four Victims; Precautions Made To Check Spread

Crane City, November 9.—One suit is reported to have been filed as the result of a death from gas in the oil fields in this county. The death of the man mentioned in the petition is alleged to have occurred as the result of his spending the night in a car, which had stalled near a battery of tanks. The gas in the field has been a problem, and in an effort to avoid trouble from it, it is burned so that at night the fields can be seen for miles. Hundreds of these gas jets burn all the time.

The workers try to keep away from the gas as much as they can and the burning, of course, lessens the danger. Four men have lost their lives, two of them being men who opened the their hatch of tanks, only to be met with a rush of the gas. Before help came they were dead. There are no bad after effects, as when fresh air is reached, the patient comes back to normal. Of course in cases when the gas continues to go into the lungs, it results in a trip to the hospital, but

THE BILLION-DOLLAR HEN

With more than $1,000,000,000 a year to the credit of the business she creates, the American Hen now stands third in the branches of the livestock industry. She accounted for about 16 per cent of the total value of all livestock and its products for 1926, and only the dairy industry with 40 per cent and the swine industry with 22 per cent rank higher. Dr. John R. Mohler of the United States Department of Agriculture, addressing the convention of veterinarians, reminded his hearers that poultry diseases were important because the American hen is responsible for more than one-third of the world's supply of poultry and eggs. The American hen collectively lays at the rate of about 760 eggs a second or 2,000,000,000 dozen eggs a year.

If she is mentally tired, she cannot help but convey her fatigue to those out in front and the result is a form of ennui on both sides of the footlights. I have found a sure cure for such fatigue, on the part of the player, is a good cigarette. AVIATOR IS PLEASED
BIG SPRING'S LANDING FIELD

The first commercial aviator to make Big Spring his headquarters, is W. A. Moores, who flew into town from McGregor Tuesday about noon. Immediately after his arrival in the city, Moores stated that Big Spring has one of the greatest air port locations in all of west Texas, and that he was so impressed with the activity of the city, that he would make this city his permanent headquarters for some time.

Moores, like all other aviators, gives the Army the credit of making a flyer out of him.

Moores first enlistment in the aviation service, saw him in training at Kelly field, from Kelly field, when the war was at its height, he was transferred to Barron field, where the Canadians had their war aviation instruction camp. It was at this camp that Moores was on duty as an instructor, and his work was appreciated by his superior officers to such an extent, that he did not get across the pond during the Big Parade. As soon as the war was over, Moores entered the civilian flying game and has been in it ever since. He has flown all over the southwest and has made a business of being one of the best commercial aviators in the southwest.

The plane that Moores flew into Big Spring with is a J. N. 4 D., which will carry two passengers besides the pilot.

Moores stated that he is ordering two Swallows, that are being rushed to completion in the Wichita factory, and that they will be ready for delivery about the first of the year.

Moores will represent the builders of the Swallow planes in all of west Texas and will handle the sales of these planes in this vicinity. Moores also stated that he will be glad to take up passengers, who wish to view Big Spring from the air.

The specialty the Moores will make will be fast and emergency trips for the business and professional men that will have to use this means of transportation in over quick business deals.

At the present time the ship of Moores will be stationed at the flying field and he will be glad at all times to accommodate the public.

The Sheriff's department recovered a Chevrolet Coupe belonging to the Chief of Police of San Angelo, here Tuesday.

Deputy Sheriff Lane left Thursday for Wichita Falls where he will place A. L. Turner in the State Insane Asylum. He is a former service man gassed in the war and this is the second time he has been sent to the asylum.

RATTLESNAKES ON DISPLAY IN H. S. HARDWARE WINDOW

Folks have been attracted to the display windows of the Big Spring Hardware Company this week by several big rattlesnakes that have been placed in there. An attractive display has been arranged by this firm, suggesting that the hunting season is on, and among the branches, and sprays of "grandpa's whiskers," can be seen the big snakes, coiled or moving about. Folks are mighty brave around snakes, so long as that piece of glass protects them from the reptiles, but we believe that if the glass showed the slightest crack, the crowd of onlookers would soon be scattering. The snakes are pretty vicious, and we wouldn't care to meet them, while out hunting or walking.

Why Nations Celebrate

By all means get the spirit of the day, cultivate the habit of thankfulness; let the lit of the long meter doxology lift one to the peaks of praise. The spirit's the thing! Possess the spirit of gratitude and not only Thanksgiving but every day takes on a new meaning and becomes big with the promise of good will and a friendly world. Recall the Pilgrim Fathers that "Amidst the storm they sang." Yes, they sang because their spirits were keyed to "the anthem of the free."

Before there was an official Thanksgiving in America there was a spiritual experience of gratitude spontaneous and profound. That's why we celebrate the day!—Mobile Register.

Thanksgiving

Let us be thankful, not alone because since our last universal thanks were told. We have grown greater in the world's applause, and fortune's newer smiles surpass the old. But thankful for all things that come as aims. From out the open hand of Providence.—James Whitcomb Riley.

LAMESA TEAM WILL PLAY
HERE THANKSGIVING DAY

The last official game of the football season for the Steers will be played in Big Spring, on Thanksgiving Day, between the Big Spring Steers and the Lamesa High School football team. Lamesa has the best football team this year that she has ever had before, and the two teams seem to be pretty evenly matched. Lamesa was ruled out for championship of her district last week, when she was defeated by a fast team from Slaton. Most of the victories have come her way in the games played this season and they are very anxious to close the season with a big winning in their favor. The Steers are anxious for the victory, too—and they want the backing and support of the Big Spring fans, so that they can win the game. One of the surest ways of helping to win, is to turn out in full force, and root and cheer, while the boys are fighting.

This is the first game that has been played on the local gridiron in the past month, and this being a holiday, quite a large crowd is sure to attend this, the last game of the season.

Come out and cheer for the Steers.

Beautiful Fairview Heights

NOTICE—A report is being circulated that all lots in Beautiful Fairview Heights have been sold. Take no notice of any reports you hear relative to any of our property (some people do such things in the dark for their deeds are dark). We have over 100 lots to sell in "Beautiful Fairview Heights." We desire to sell every lot within the next Twenty Days. With the new Crawford Hotel completed and a 6000 barrel oil well completed and others being drilled we would be justified to raise the values of these lots Double the Price—but we are not going to raise these values for Fifteen Days. We put this addition on the market at reasonable values and for the sole purpose of making our city grow; and how well that object has been accomplished; take a drive thru the streets of this addition and form your own opinion. Almost under the shadow of both the primary and high school buildings; being only two blocks from the primary and adjoining the grounds of the high school; every lot a Gem. As stated no raise in the prices of these lots for fifteen days. See us today and make your selection; securing same at half their true value. Call Earle Read over Phone No. 8, and he will call for you and show you this property. The transfer of each lot carries a modest restriction of $2,500.00 for the home. We cater to the modest home building; the million dollar home would look out of place. These lots at almost your own terms.

Watch the west highway grow. If you have something substantial to build there you can buy, rent or lease; but if it is a "shack" that you propose moving, do not see us; for we will not be interested in shacks. Have there the finest location in city for a filling station and camp yard, 120 feet frontage on the highway, by 140 to 300 feet deep. Also can furnish you any size location where you require trackage or power.

Columbus Discovered the World's Greatest Opportunity for You

More than four centuries ago when Galileons of Columbus nosed their way to a new hemisphere, he expected to unfold greater treasures than his day knew.

He found this continent and thereby opened up to the colonizations of our forefathers a land today the greatest of the world. Little did he appreciate the ultimate of his discovery. Beyond his wildest flights of imagination was the thought that here in his new found land there would arise the world's greatest nation--the Land of Opportunity.

But no man could foresee such. Visions, thought and foresight develop and from a land of wilderness has come this wonderful country. Men with foresight have built cities--and these cities have spread and are still spreading.

Foresight today, just as much as in the past, is to be rewarded. Even greater fortunes are still to be made by those with faith in the development of cities.

Around Big Spring on every side are avenues of profits in real estate investments. EDWARDS HEIGHTS, the new Restricted Addition, is now up before your very eyes.

With foresight, you too can reap the rich rewards. Our city is growing--new homes are needed--and this demand cannot cease.

Home Ownership

Home-ownership is more than a matter of money. It is a matter of character. It is a progressive asset. Paying rent is a progressive handicap. What is more forelorn than a man denied the comfort and pleasures of a home of his own? It is the man who realizes that his family cannot have the things which are naturally due them.

By the same reason, what is more beneficial than a home? The home-owner looks to the future unafraid. Opportunities are his--home has advantages--a man alert to his own interests as well as those of his entire family. Opportunity holds the pen for those who sign for future happiness to home-ownership in Edwards Heights.

WORTH REMEMBERING

Remember, Edwards Heights is one of the most beautiful spots in Big Spring in which to build your home, and it is based upon the natural trend of Big Spring's growth, plus its beauty. Will YOUR HOME be among the many attractive new homes that are going to be built here? Can you pass up this opportunity that is placed before you? You cannot do justice to yourself and your family. CAMP COLEMAN PRAISED AS MODERN TOURIST CAMP

Situated on a hill, about half a mile from the center of Big Spring, east, is a little city, progressive and thriving, "Camp Coleman" is the name that has been given to this settlement, which has the appearance of a real town, and just as much activity centers about this place as you can find in an ordinary West Texas town. "Camp Coleman" is the home of tourists, and here they find every convenience and comfort that they could want. Modern camp houses have been erected, each one equipped with furniture, baths, a community kitchen, and laundry room, and are rented to the travelers at a most reasonable rate.

L. E. Coleman, owner and manager of "Camp Coleman" has left nothing undone to provide every convenience for the travelling public.

Thirty five camp houses have been completed, and every one of them is in demand every night. When the camp was first started, only a dozen camp houses were erected, but it was not long until Mr. Coleman was convinced that more houses were needed. He did not waste any time in enlarging his camp, and as soon as work on the camp houses was finished they had a renter there at hand.

We have a letter in hand addressed to Mr. Coleman from the El Paso Automobile Club of El Paso, in which they hand him a high compliment, praising his camp. We quote from it as follows:

"We had the pleasure of having, Mr. Walden owner of the Montanama Camp, come to see us yesterday, and he was indeed a booster for your camp. He said after he left your place that he made this remark to his wife, 'This is where the West really begins.' He said that nowhere along the entire route did he find such treatment as he did at your place."

The people in Big Spring realize that "Camp Coleman" is an asset to Big Spring, and it is to our advantage to have Mr. Coleman extend them such courtesies. The good word that the tourist passes on to his fellow travelers goes a long way in advertising a town and the tourist will drive after nightfall to reach a place where he can get such accom-

FOSTER'S WEATHER

Washington, Nov. 12.—Severe cold wave, extending for southward, was expected to center on November 10; period of rising temperatures 10 to 14; general increase in precipitation during first half of month; heaviest precipitation, relative to local normal amounts, expected to occur on north Pacific slope and in northeast sections during first half of month.

A storm wave of severe intensity will be expected to cross continent during week centering on November 14; this storm wave will move well down into southern states, probably drawing a companion storm, of lesser intensity, across southern California; week following 14 will be a period of stormy weather throughout northern hemisphere and I will expect to hear of dangerous storms, of a local character, occurring near 16, tho I will not attempt to localize them, as such forecasts border too close to sensational and cannot be made with a sufficient degree of accuracy. Heaviest precipitation during 14 to 21 will be expected in western Europe, central and northern Atlantic coast sections of North America and northern Pacific slope of North America. Following this week of severe storms, the most extreme cold wave of month will be expected to cross North American continent centering on 23.

ROSS CITY LIVENING UP

With five new oil derricks right in their midst, Ross City is beginning to show a big increase in business in all lines.

odations. The more convenient camps in our section will attract more tourist trade our way. We feel that Mr. Coleman is certainly doing his part to attract tourist trade, and we should all appreciate it. Now, if we will keep up our roads, that will be another feather in our cap.

OLD TOWNS AND NEW

A great change has come upon American towns in the last twenty years.

American towns are strikingly alike. This is as true now as it was at the beginning of the century. Yet the similarity nowadays is different from the similarity of two decades ago.

Slowly and steadily our towns are losing the peaceful detached air that once was theirs. Not long ago, the casual traveler easily could find a small city that was many leagues removed from anything savoring of modernity or up-to-dateness. Dusty main streets, wooden sidewalks, quiet squares, a general atmosphere of peaceful somnolence and unhurried friendliness—these were the characteristics of the minor city until recently.

But the change has come. Every town, even the smallest, is alive, nervously eager to grow bigger and noisier than ebofre. The dusty main streets are becoming brick and cement; the wooden sidewalks have long since been replaced; even the remotest town has its radio store, its up-to-the-minute garages, its Chamber of Industry, its movie theaters and so on. The old sleepiness is gone, and the tense speed of modern America has replaced it.

There are many people to whom all of this seems a shame. Doubtless it is true that there was something extremely attractive about the old type of town; the town where life flowed in a moderate, unhurried manner, where people could spare time from the rush of making money to enjoy unique privileges of the small city—peace, quiet rest. And, indubitably, there is something repellent about many modern towns; they are, some of them, so hurried, so blatant, so frankly and unashamably ugly.

Yet this is progress—even though it may often seem to some people like deterioration.

For the change that has come upon the small city is only a symptom of the change that has come upon the country as a whole. As a people, we have become tremendously busy. We are in a mighty hurry; and it is worth remembering that we are hurrying toward something, not away from something. We have a goal, and we are working toward it, even though we may not always see just what it is.

The American town, caught up in this rush, is changing. Its old virtues are disappearing; but new ones are emerging, and it is not hard to trust that, in the end, they will make our towns better places than ever in which to live.

PERSECUTION

Dr. John M. Moore, bishop of the Methodist Church, in an address at the West Texas Conference at Corpus Christi last week, declared that if you want a church to grow, persecute it.

The Christian faith had its original meteoric growth because of the persecution of the sauhedrin and such outstanding characters as Saint Paul. The Christian faith thrives on persecution. It is persecution that perfects a Christian character. Christ promised persecution to every person or church which should live near him in spirit.

Throughout the country there is a spirit of persecution fostered by one church against another. We wonder if ministers of such denominations think that by persecuting and "knocking" other denominations they will succeed in building up their own faith and destroying the other church. Our experience and observation have been that such persecution is a benefit rather than a deterrent to the persecuted.

This is an age of liberality. There are 38 churches in the United States, however, which will tell you that they are the ONLY Church. They recognize no other denomination except their own. And because they are so exclusive and selfish they relegate every other faith to the anathema. However, the world is growing wise. Christ's church is composed of every believer regardless of the denomination to which he may belong. In this age when the world is steeped in sin and degradation and the forces of atheism, infidelity, agnosticism and evolutionism are working overtime, it is high time that the various evangelical churches over the land should combine their forces rather than fight each other, and though they may differ doctrinally they can all work for the common purpose of destroying sin among the people—desideratum of these denominations.

To flay a denomination that does not believe as you do does not hurt it. It builds it up. Take the churches most persecuted in the past and note their tremendous growth in membership. The best way to oppose anything you can't subscribe to is to totally ignore it. To fight it continually is to manifest an un-Christian spirit and at the same time to direct attention to it and to encourage sympathy in its support.—Dawson County Journal, (Lamesa)

SPEND $250,000,000 DEVELOPING OIL FIELD

The Panhandle oil field is estimated to have expended more than $250,000,000 during the years of 1925 and 1926 in the leasing of land, building of pipe lines, gasoline plants, highways, drilling of wells and for equipment. More than $30,000,000 barrels of oil have been produced in the area. The income from oil, gasoline, and by-products exceeds $37,000,000.

THE STATE OF TEXAS TO THE SHERIFF OR ANY CONSTABLE OF HOWARD COUNTY—GREETING:

You are hereby commanded to cause the following notice to be published in a newspaper of general circulation which has been continuously and regularly published for a period of not less than one year preceding the date of the notice in the County of Howard, State of Texas, and you shall cause said notice to be printed at least once each week for four consecutive weeks before the return day hereof: Notice of Application for Partition and Distribution of Estate of Netter Hall, Deceased

THE STATE OF TEXAS, To all persons interested in the estate of Netter Hall, deceased: Whereas on the 29th day of October A. D. 1927, E. O. Ellington, administrator of the estate of Netter Hall, deceased, filed in the County Court of Howard County, Texas, an application for the partition and distribution of said estate, and alleging that Shelby Hall, who resides in Howard County, Texas, Noah Hall, who resides in Cave Spring, Kentucky, Emmet Hall who resides in Russellville, Kentucky, and Bertie Berendt, who also resides in Russellville, Kentucky, are entitled to a share of the estate, and are the only persons so entitled; which said application will be heard at the next term of said court commencing on the first Monday in Dec. A. D. 1927, the same being the 5th day of December, 1927, at the court house thereof, in Big Spring, at which time all persons interested in said estate are required to appear and contest said application should they desire to do so.

Herein fail not, but have you before said Court on the said day of the next term thereof, this writ, with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Given under my hand and the seal of said court, at office in Big Spring, this 31 day of October A. D. 1927.

J. I. PRICHARD, Clerk, County Court, Howard County, Texas. By Nell Davis, Deputy. (7-4)

SATURDAYS ARE BUSY DAYS

We doubt if a circus could attract any more people to our city than are to be noted here each Saturday. And most everyone is here to do his trading. Stores are crowded to capacity practically all day long and clerks are worn out when the day is done.

Because field work is still calling full time on the part of the workers, Saturday is the only day those living outside of the city take off to do their trading.

Conditions in our country are one hundred per cent better than they were last year and many are now able to pay off past due accounts and have the cash to pay for the things they need.

C. of C. Directors In Session Monday

Directors Consider a Number of Propositions at Their Regular Session, Monday Night

One of the next big events in the history of the Chamber of Commerce is the annual banquet and Thursday night, December 15th has been named as the date for this event. The entertainment committee was instructed to get busy on the plans for the annual meet.

The Secretary was authorized to have printed a bulletin outlining the accomplishments of the Chamber of Commerce during the past year and include same in the program for the banquet.

A communication from Mayor Thomason of El Paso outlining plans for a meeting November 19 at El Paso to plan an advertising campaign for the "Broadway of America" and Bankhead Highway was read. A motion prevailed that the secretary attend this important meeting.

A motion prevailed that the petition urging better telephone service for Big Spring be circulated among all business men who had not yet been reached and a copy be sent to district manager of Abilene and the State Manager of the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company. It was moved that the copy for the Inter-State Commerce Commission be held up for the present until it can be definitely determined whether or not the telephone officials really intend to improve the telephone service in Big Spring within a reasonable time. A proposition was submitted by Frank W. Irvine of Abilene offering to establish a 24000 capacity chicken hatchery at Big Spring under certain conditions. No action on this proposition.

A membership drive was discussed but it was agreed that the better plan would first be to make the membership in the Chamber of Commerce on a continuation basis—any member being at liberty to resign upon giving thirty days notice. Then a drive for new members to follow. The general chairman for the membership drive will be named at the next meeting.
