Sales tax payments gain

By Donald M. Cooper
Hereford Brand Managing Editor

Hereford's economy advanced in June, at least by one measurement. The city's sales tax payment from the Texas Comptroller's Office this month was $80,644, up 4.3 percent from the $77,324 received in June 1999. However, June's allocation was down from the $97,244 received in May.

Deaf Smith County received a rebate of $27,667, a 2.6 percent improvement over the $26,965 for last June. However, the county's rebate was down from the $35,202 payment for May.

For the year, Hereford has received a total of $530,801, up 0.8

percent from the $526,794 for the same period last year. Deaf Smith County has received a total of $188,871, up 4.4 percent from the $180,886 for 1999.

The comptroller's office delivered a total of $199.3 million in monthly sales tax payments to 1,103 Texas cities and 199 counties, an 8.3 percent improvement over the $184 million rebated in June 1999. Year-to-date sales tax rebates are up 7.9 percent compared to 1999.

In addition to city and county sales tax rebates, the state's six metropolitan transit authorities and two city transit departments received $72.2 million, with another $6.5 million going to 51 special purpose districts.

June sales tax rebates represent sales taxes collected in April and reported to the comptroller's office in May.

By law, the state collects sales taxes for Texas cities and counties that have local sales taxes. The comptroller's office then returns the portion of the taxes on a monthly basis.

The state charges a 6.25 percent sales tax and local sales taxes can be up to 2 percent above that. The city of Hereford levies a 1.5 percent tax, while Deaf Smith County's sales tax is 0.5 percent.

Around the area:
• Borger — $176,263, up 0.7 percent from $175,059 the previous year;

- Canyon, $42,336, up 4.3 percent from $40,585 in June 1999;
- Dalhart — $82,494, up 0.4 percent from $82,147 in June 1999;
- Dimmitt — $19,698, down 11.9 percent from $22,366 the previous year;

The Forgotten War

Known by many as "The Forgotten War," the Korean War has often been overlooked by both historians and the American people.

This year marks the 50th anniversary of the start of the Korean War, and in observance of the milestone, the Los Ciboleros Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution is trying to locate and recognize those from this part of the Texas Panhandle who served in the conflict.

Through the efforts of many members of Los Ciboleros Chapter, a large number of Korean veterans have been located and have shared some of their experiences.

Their stories are too numerous and lengthy to tell in a single article, so beginning in this weekend's edition, the Hereford Brand will run a series of articles about the important events of the war and to the Korean veterans.

In this series, we hope to pay tribute to those who served, fought and died in Korea and to help everyone remember not only the war itself but these individuals.

Russians denounce 'Star Wars'

MOSCOW (AP) — Rejecting U.S. assurances about the American missile defense shield, Russian Defense Minister Igor Sergeev claimed that the planned program was intended to give the United States the ability to strike first and destroy whatever missiles Russia launched in response.

In an interview published Friday, Sergeev said that some U.S. officials had the "delusion" that the missile defense shield and future arms control agreements would allow the United States "to destroy Russia's strategic nuclear potential by a pre-emptive strike and interception of the remaining Russian

CAPITAL PUNISHMENT

Most Texans don't share Bush's confidence on the death penalty

AUSTIN (AP) — Disagreeing with Gov. George W. Bush, most Texans believe the state has executed an innocent person, according to a statewide poll.

The Scripps Howard Texas Poll — released on the eve of a hotly debated scheduled execution — found that 57 percent of those surveyed think that Texas has put an innocent person to death.

Also, 87 percent of respondents said death-row inmates should have access to free DNA tests to try to prove their innocence, according to the poll.

Despite such doubts, Texans continue to strongly support capital punishment, with 73 percent of those surveyed in the Texas Poll favoring the death penalty. A recent Gallup Poll showed that support nationally for capital punishment has fallen to 66 percent, its lowest level since 1981.

In the Texas Poll, whites were nearly twice as likely as blacks and Hispanics to support the death penalty.

Bush said Wednesday that he still believes the Texas judicial system works well in death-penalty cases.

"I analyze each case when it comes across my desk, looking at innocence or guilt and whether or not the person had full access to the courts," Bush said while campaigning in Los Angeles. "As far as I'm concerned, there has not been one innocent person executed since I've been governor."

The state has executed 221 prisoners since 1976 — more than any other state. Texas has executed 22 inmates this year and 134 during Bush's 5½ years in office.

The new Texas Poll was released as Bush, the presumed Republican nominee for president, faces international scrutiny over the fairness of the death penalty in Texas.

Convicted capital murderer Gary Graham received a lethal injection in Huntsville on Thursday evening. Graham's case drew widespread attention because of allegations of poor work by his attorney.

The statewide telephone poll of 1,000 adults was conducted by the Scripps Howard Data Center from May 22 to June 16. The margin of error is plus or minus 3 percentage points.

Among its other findings:
• Sixty-four percent said the death penalty deters crime, up from 60 percent last year and 50 percent in 1998.

• Eighty-one percent of whites surveyed supported the death penalty, compared to 55 percent of Hispanics and 44 percent of black respondents.

• By a 38 percent to 29 percent margin, respondents said the high number of executions helps, not hurts, the state's image.

Graham kept his pledge to fight to end

HUNTSVILLE (AP) — Gary Graham promised to "fight like hell" his execution.

He did. Angry and defiant, Graham was executed Thursday evening for killing an Arizona man during a Houston robbery 19 years ago, a crime he insisted to the end he did not commit.

"This is what happens to a black man — genocide in America," Graham said, almost spitting out and shouting his words while strapped and handcuffed to the death chamber gurney.

"This is nothing more simple than murder, state-sanctioned murder in America," he barked. "They know I'm innocent. They won't acknowl-

Tobacco lawsuit still alive

WASHINGTON (AP) — Dealing a blow to the tobacco industry, the House voted Friday to provide money to the Justice Department to pursue a health-related lawsuit against cigarette-makers.

With a potential settlement worth billions of dollars at stake, the House voted 215-183 let the Justice Department accept $12 million from other agencies to help foot the bill for the tobacco action. Without the money, Attorney General Janet Reno has said her agency would have to drop the suit, which it filed in September.

The drive to scuttle the lawsuit, led by a coalition of Republicans and tobacco-state Democrats, faced a questionable fate even had the House voted to block the funds. President Clinton had called on lawmakers to keep the litigation alive, and had threatened to veto the spending bill containing the tobacco provision. In addition, it is unclear whether the yet-unwritten Senate version of the spending measure will contain a similar provision.

Even so, the issue was fought so hard that today's vote was the third on the matter in the House this week.

The election-year vote had political overtones as it forced lawmakers to go on record about an industry that is unpopular among many voters, but treasured as a major part of the economy in tobacco-growing regions of the Southeast.

"This case is not about the law, but about the federal government extorting money from an industry it does not like," said Rep. Ron Lewis, R-Ky. "Which industry will be the next victim of this punitive action?"

Rep. Henry Waxman, D-Calif., leader of the effort to thwart the GOP proposal, called the tobacco industry "the least-deserving industry in America," saying it had "targeted our children ... manipulated nicotine to keep smokers addicted ... deceived and lied to the public for decades."

Clinton weighed in Thursday, accusing the cigarette companies of "working overtime to pass special protections to shield them from financial responsibility for the harm they've caused."

The lawsuit seeks to recover costs the government said it has incurred from decades of helping Americans with smoking-related illnesses, a price tag federal officials say exceeds $20 billion annually.

A provision in a $35.5 billion measure financing the departments of Commerce, State and Justice would forbid the Justice Department to accept financial help from other agencies for suits the government has filed.

Waxman's amendment would exempt suits filed before last Jan. 1, which he said would affect only one action: the tobacco litigation.

The White House has threatened a veto because of the tobacco provision and cuts in Clinton proposals for hiring local gun-crime prosecutors and police officers, legal aid for the poor, and payments for U.N. peacekeeping missions.

The Justice Department's bills for the suit are expected to be $40 million for 2000 and 2001 alone. The department wants the departments of Veterans Affairs, Health and Human Services and Defense to contribute $4 million each next year to help pay the bill.

Apple crop takes hard hit

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) - They surveyed their battered orchards and used terms like devastated, worst ever, and hopeless to describe the damage from severe storms.

Apple growers in the Hudson Valley region of New York say they will need financial help from the federal government to weather what they say will surely be a dismal year for production.

The region's apple industry, one of the largest in the nation, was already complaining about financial obstacles when hailstorms May 18 and June 2 damaged an estimated 2 million bushels of apples.

"It was devastating," said Rod Dressel Jr., manager of packing and storage for Dressel Farms in New Paltz. "The Hudson Valley apple crop has been hit pretty hard from north to south."

Apple growing is the fourth most valuable crop in the state, generating $138 million in 1999. Dairy is still king at $1.8 billion in 1999 while hay is valued at $300 million and greenhouse and nursery products at $264 million.

New York trails only Washington in apple production.

New York Gov. George Pataki has requested federal disaster recognition for 30 counties. Economic loss estimates for the mid-Hudson alone run as high as $10 million. The U.S. Department of Agriculture will make the decision.

This week, Agriculture Commissioner Nathan Rudgers toured apple orchards to view the damage himself and heard from growers, some of whom said their survival is at stake.

In many cases, area apples have been rendered unmarketable except as juice, hardly a profitable fallback, the growers said.

"I wanted to get a handle on the fruit in the Hudson Valley," said Rudgers. "A nick or peck on it now, that's going to grow. This is a fresh market region and it makes them unmarketable."

Jeff Crist, who took the state commissioner on a tour of his ravaged Milton farm, said the storm damage was the worst he has ever seen.

"This is a big blow," he said. "What we saw was just terrible, devastating," said James S. Allen, president of the New York Apple Association, a professional interest group.

"There's no hope of getting any economic return," added George Lamont, president of the New York State Horticultural Society.

Gene Coy is the third generation to raise apples on the 170-acre farm in Modena, selling his produce at fresh fruit markets here and abroad. Losing the apples, he said, is like losing a child.

"It's one of those things that happens to us. There's nothing we can do," said Coy. "You're giving up your crop of apples. It's your livelihood. The hail really did a number on us."

Police seek leads in Wade disappearance

Melanie Wade

On Monday, June 19, at approximately 9 a.m., 14 year old Melanie Wade disappeared from her home in the 200 block of Fir St. in Hereford. She has not been seen or heard from since.

She is currently listed by the Hereford Police as a runaway, but the possibility of foul play does exist.

Melanie's mother had checked on her at 8:30 a.m. and everything was fine. When a friend of the family stopped by at 9:30 a.m., she was gone.

Melanie was known to chat every day at home and school on the internet with people from across the country.

Friends say she talked about her online friends and even hinted that she may not be around here much longer. She associated some with the "Gothic" crowd and is known online as Morbid Juliet and Mellymouse 01.

On the day and time of her disappearance, neighbors report seeing a shiny red pickup in the driveway. Melanie talked about knowing people in Amarillo she had met on line. If she was taken willingly, she may be posing as a older girl of 17 or above. As far as the Hereford Police Department knows, Melanie did not confide in anyone here in Hereford about running away or what her plans were.

Melanie is 14 years old, and anyone helping her run away is guilty of a Class A misdemeanor punishable by a year in jail and a $4000 fine. Hereford Police have exhausted all leads in this case. Any help you can give in covering this case would be greatly appreciated.

Parents may be contacted at Alvis and Janis Wade, 240 Fir St., Hereford, TX, 364-6605.

Information may also be delivered to Capt. Pat Michael Hereford Police Department, 363-7120.

Officials unveil non-violent drug abuser program

NEW YORK (AP) - A reform package introduced by the state's top court officials aims to reduce drug addiction and drug-related crimes, saving taxpayers hundreds of millions of dollars.

State courts will start using their "coercive" powers immediately to get nonviolent drug offenders into treatment programs, said Chief Judge Judith Kaye, adding that 75 percent of people arrested test positive for drugs.

While accepting treatment is ultimately voluntary, the courts would offer it to every nonviolent drug offender identified, said Jonathan Lippman, the state's chief administrative judge.

The reform package was announced Thursday.

Defendants who opt for treatment would plead guilty and be sentenced for their crimes, then have their sentences deferred pending successful completion of a treatment program. They would then be eligible for a lighter sentence on the original offense.

"For dropouts and failures, there will be immediate incarceration," Lippman said.

The decision comes in response to a 400 percent increase in drug cases over the past 20 years, and is among the recommendations by the state Commission on Drugs and the Courts. Kaye created the 27-member panel last October.

"Drug addicts clog the courts' dockets," the 126-page report said, "and they are often recidivists. An addict who ends up criminally charged is likely to be responsible for multiple drug and drug-related crimes."

The report shows 12 percent of offenders who graduate from drug treatment programs commit more crimes, compared to 35 percent of offenders who test positive for drugs and simply go to jail or are paroled without being treated for substance abuse.

Lippman said the initiative, believed to be the first such statewide program in the country, is expected eventually to cut the recidivism rate by two-thirds and save the state some $500 million a year.

Ann Landers

Ann Landers

Dear Ann Landers: I know you have printed a great many "how we met" stories, and some of your readers are sick of them, but mine is a little different. I hope you will share it with your readers:

I was at my mother's funeral, consumed by grief. My mother was always my best friend. She clapped loudest at my school plays, and dried my tears when my first boyfriend broke my heart. When her illness was diagnosed, it fell to me to take care of her; preparing her meals, and keeping the house up. I considered it an honor.

Now my work was finished, and I was alone. In the middle of the funeral service, I heard the church door open, followed by footsteps. An exasperated young man appeared, looked around briefly, and seated himself next to me. He folded his hands, and I could see that his eyes were brimming with tears.

After a few minutes, he asked, "Why do they keep calling Aunt Mary 'Margaret'?" I replied, "Because that was her name. No one called her Mary." "No," he insisted, "that isn't correct. Her name was Mary Peters."

"This is not the funeral of Mary Peters," I replied.

"Isn't this the Lutheran church?" he asked.

"No," I told him. "The Lutheran church is across the street."

Red-faced, he realized he was at the wrong funeral. The solemnity of the occasion, mixed with the man's incredible mistake, struck me as hilarious. I cupped my hands over my face, hoping others would interpret it as sobs of grief, but the creaking pew gave me away. I peeked at the bewildered, misguided man, and was surprised to see that he was laughing, too.

After the final "Amen," we both dashed out a side door of the church into the parking lot. He then said, "Let's go get a cup of coffee." We married a year later, and recently celebrated our 23rd wedding anniversary. Whenever anyone asks how we met, my husband tells them, "Her mother and my Aunt Mary introduced us, and it was truly a match made in heaven." — Ginny in the Midwest

Dear Ginny: Wrong church, right pew. Thanks for sending it my way. I loved it.

Dear Ann Landers: A few evenings ago, my husband and I went to dinner at a very fine restaurant. Two men in business suits were seated at the table next to us. They both made and received calls on their cell phones throughout the entire meal. Their conversations were easy to hear, and their rapid-fire business chatter was very disturbing to those of us within listening range.

One of the men even got up and walked into the men's bathroom while using his phone. He was gone for several minutes. When he came out of the bathroom, he was STILL talking on the phone.

I was flabbergasted. Not only was this man rude, but what on earth could the client on the other end of that conversation have thought while he was in the bathroom? Surely, business etiquette hasn't become so casual that it is acceptable to make a business call under such circumstances. What do you say? — No Name in Nebraska

Dear Nebraska: Those rude folks who insist on using their cell phones to conduct business while in restaurants, theaters, and so on, do so because they think it impresses the people around them. They are mistaken. Cell phones are so common these days, they impress no one. Unless it is an emergency, users should phone callers back at a more convenient time. And there is absolutely NO excuse for using a cell phone in the bathroom.

Single-engine plane begins flight

Today in History
Today is Friday, June 23, the 175th day of 2000. There are 191 days left in the year.

Today's Highlight in History:
On June 23, 1931, aviators Wiley Post and Harold Gatty took off from New York on the first round-the-world flight in a single-engine plane.

On this date:
In 1972, President Nixon and White House chief of staff H.R. Haldeman discussed a plan to use the CIA to obstruct the FBI's Watergate investigation. (Revelation of the tape recording of this conversation sparked Nixon's resignation in 1974.)

In 1985, all 329 people aboard an Air-India Boeing 747 died when the plane crashed into the Atlantic Ocean near Ireland, apparently because of a bomb.

In 1989, the Supreme Court refused to shut down the "dial-a-porn" industry, ruling Congress had gone too far in passing a law banning all sexually oriented phone message services.

Ten years ago: African National Congress leader Nelson Mandela, on a U.S. tour, received a tumultuous welcome in Boston.

Five years ago: Dr. Jonas Salk, the medical pioneer who developed the first vaccine against polio, died in La Jolla, Calif., at age 80.

One year ago: A divided Supreme Court dramatically enhanced states' rights in three decisions that eroded Congress' power. U.S. Marines in Kosovo killed one person and wounded two others after coming under fire; no Marines were injured.

INTO THE GAME

Into the game—The Hereford Diamondbacks took care of business on Tuesday when they defeated the Palo Duro Rangers 6-3 at Whiteface Field. The Hereford team took on Canyon High yesterday in a double header and face the Tascosa JV at Whiteface Field tonight at 6 p.m. J.P. Holman (top) slides into home plate on Tuesday safely putting the snakes up by a score of 2-0 in the bottom half of the first inning. With one out in the first, pitcher Michael Rhyne (middle) sprints home to put the team up 3-0. Rhyne is 3-1 on the year for the Hereford team. Another Diamondback (below) looks intently at the pitcher waiting for the next pitch on Tuesday. Before Thursday's games in Canyon, the Diamondbacks had put together a record of 7-6-1. The Diamondbacks are a part of a summer league that faces teams from cities around the Panhandle. Next week, the team travels to Caprock on Monday and is at home against Clovis on Tuesday. Gonzo in pinstripes? Former Ranger mulls trade to New York

NEW YORK (AP) — Just because they have a deal with Detroit, it doesn't mean the New York Yankees are getting Juan Gonzalez.

The proposed 3-for-1 trade, which would send the two-time American League MVP to New York for outfielder Ricky Ledee, minor league third baseman Drew Henson and minor league left-hander Randy Keisler, was tentatively agreed to Thursday, according to a baseball lawyer who spoke on the condition he not be identified.

But Gonzalez must waive his no-trade clause. Only when that happens would the Yankees be given a 72-hour window to sign the outfielder to a contract extension. The extension would be needed to make the trade final.

"What deal?" Gonzalez said in Toronto before going 1-for-3 in Detroit's 7-4 loss to the Blue Jays. "Rumors. There's lots of rumors. I'm going to talk to my agent."

After the game, Gonzalez said he had made his decision, but he didn't reveal it.

When asked what are his favorite cities, he said: "A quiet city. A nice place."

While it appeared Gonzalez wasn't interested in New York, the Yankees did not immediately receive a formal response, the lawyer said.

The last time the Yankees acquired a slugger from Detroit, it was Cecil Fielder, and he wound up helping New York win the 1996 World Series.

But while Roger Clemens and Chuck Knoblauch pushed for trades to New York, others stars have stayed a way. In December, Ken Griffey Jr. said he would block a trade from Seattle to the New York Mets, and two months later the Mariners dealt him to Cincinnati.

If Gonzalez refuses to go to New York, the Yankees probably would turn their attention back to Sammy Sosa. Talks with Chicago haven't progressed because of the Cubs' demands, two baseball officials said Thursday.

A new contract for Gonzalez figures to be a major obstacle for the Yankees. After acquiring Gonzalez from Texas on Nov. 2 in a nine-player trade, the Tigers attempted to sign him to an extension.

Detroit was said to have offered a $140 million, eight-year deal, which would be

Astros topple Los Angeles, 6-3

McGwire belts number 548 tying Philadelphia's Schmidt

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Barry Bonds couldn't do anything but laugh.

"My dad told me if you play long enough in your career, something's going to happen," he said. "I used to watch this on TV. Well, now I get to be on the bloopers reel."

Shawon Dunston hit a three-run homer in the eighth that bounced out of Bonds' glove and over the wall, and tied a career high with six RBIs as St. Louis rallied from a seven-run deficit to beat San Francisco 11-10 Thursday night.

"Barry helped us, so that's OK," said Dunston, whose second homer of the game gave St. Louis a 10-9 lead. "If he can't catch it, no one can. He's the best left fielder in the game."

"He should send me a thank you letter, at least," Bonds said.

Jeff Kent, who had four RBIs, tied it with a ninth-inning single off Dave Veres (1-2), but Craig Paquette's RBI single off the glove of reliever Mark Gardner (4-3) in the bottom half won it.

In other NL games, it was Montreal 6, Pittsburgh 5; Milwaukee 6, Florida 1; New York 5, Philadelphia 4; Houston 6, Los Angeles 3; Cincinnati 5, Colorado 3; and Atlanta 6, Chicago 4.

At St. Louis, Mark McGwire tied Mike Schmidt for seventh place on the career home run list, hitting No. 548 in the fourth inning.

McGwire reached 548 homers in 5,832 at-bats, while it took Schmidt 8,352 at-bats. Earlier this season, McGwire passed Jimmie Foxx (534) and Mickey Mantle (536). Reggie Jackson is sixth on the career list with 563.

Expos 6, Pirates 5

Jose Vidro went 3-for-4 at Olympic Stadium with a go-ahead homer in the second off Todd Ritchie (4-4) and

Brewers 6, Marlins 1

John Snyder (3-2) won his third straight start for Milwaukee, allowing two hits in six shutout innings.

Charlie Hayes hit a two-run homer in the game at Florida, and Luis Lopez had a solo shot.

Jesus Sanchez (4-6), who has five losses and three no-decisions in his last eight starts, gave up three runs and six hits in 6 1-3 innings.

Mets 5, Phillies 4

Jay Payton hit a go-ahead, two-run homer in the sixth off Cliff Politte (1-2) at Shea Stadium as New York avoided a three-game sweep. The drive appeared to skim the top of right fielder Bobby Abreu's glove and go over the wall.

Derek Bell and Melvin Mora also homered, and Glendon Rusch (5-5) allowed two runs and seven hits in seven innings. Dennis Cook got the last out for his first save.

Astros 6, Dodgers 3

Scott Elarton (5-3) stayed unbeaten in four decisions at home, allowing one run and four hits in eight innings. Marc Valdes got three outs for his first save, and Lance Berkman went 3-for-3 with a three-run homer.

Gary Sheffield hit his fourth homer in three days against the Astros, raising his season total to 24. There have been 116 home runs in 34 games at Enron Field, just two short of last season's total in the Astrodome.

Darren Dreifort (4-6) lost his third straight decision, allowing five runs — three earned — and five hits in seven innings.

Reds 5, Rockies 3

Ken Griffey Jr. hit his 21st homer and Steve Parris (3-10) allowed three runs and five hits in 7 1-3 innings as Cincinnati won for only the third time in 15 games.

Kevin Jarvis (2-2), making his first start against his former team.

baseball's richest in total and average, but Gonzalez was said to have wanted $148 million or more. The figures have never been confirmed by the Tigers or Gonzalez's agents.

Neither Tigers general manager Randy Smith nor Gonzalez's agents, Jim Bronner and Bob Gilhooley, were available for comment. Yankees general manager Brian Cashman declined comment.

"As far as anything being close to happening, I don't know anything more now than I did before," Yankees manager Joe Torre said in Boston after meeting with owner George Steinbrenner.

Left field and designated hitter have been major disappointments for the Yankees, causing Steinbrenner to push for change. Ledee is hitting .239 with six homers and 28 RBIs.

Gonzalez, a 30-year-old right-handed hitter, also has struggled, batting just .260 with 13 homers and 30 RBIs. He has hit 40 or more homers five times in his career.

Henson, who will be the Michigan's starting quarterback this fall, is a third-base prospect and was selected to play in baseball's prestigious Futures game in Atlanta next month, but there's no assurance he will choose baseball over football.

"I just don't like talking about it," Ledee said. "If they make it, they make it. It's

Pentagon defends its work on national anti-missile defense system, rejects observers' claims it has rigged the testing process

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon is defending its high-stakes efforts to develop a national missile shield, rejecting assertions by some observers that it has rigged the testing of the proposed $36 billion system.

The Air Force general in charge of the system, Lt. Gen. Ronald Kadish, told Congress there is no deception in the up-and-down testing of the system.

Kadish said he'd tell his own children the interceptor defense is worth developing because the country is now defenseless against long-range nuclear missile attack from hostile nations or terrorists.

Critics say the Pentagon hasn't proved its proposed system of interceptor missiles will work. One test succeeded but a mock warhead slipped through in the latest one, and another test is scheduled July 7 over the Pacific.

Kadish, after briefing House members in a classified hearing Wednesday, said in an open session Thursday that allegations of fraudulent testing have been made since 1996 and have been taken seriously with no evidence of deception.

Kadish said the system, to be deployed in 2005, is "high-risk" and stressed that it would not protect against any massive attack.

"We will not be perfect against every conceivable countermeasure, but neither will our adversaries be perfect," he said.

In the toughest political challenge yet, more than 50 House Democrats urged the FBI on Thursday to investigate allegations by scientists of "fraud and cover-up" in testing of the system designed to defend the United States against limited accidental or intentional nuclear attack.

Physicist Robert L. Park, Washington director of the American Physical Society, said the limited testing conducted by the Pentagon is inadequate to ensure a viable system.

Park said his organization of scientists strongly supports an FBI inquiry into whether any tests have been rigged or whether data has been withheld.

Clinton on road raising funds

SAN DIEGO (AP) — President Clinton is sprinting through three days of Democratic fund-raisers, helping gather the millions of dollars needed to buy TV time for Al Gore's presidential campaign.

His one break from politics takes him to the U.S. Olympics Training Center at Chula Vista, Calif., where the president will pay tribute Friday to athletes preparing to compete for the United States in Sydney, Australia, this September.

Then it's on to Los Angeles to raise more campaign money, both for the vice president's campaign and for Democrats trying to regain control of Congress after six years.

First in Phoenix and then in San Diego, Clinton took a prominent cheer-leading role for Gore and jabbed at Texas Gov. George W. Bush's promises to spend the nation's burgeoning projected budget surplus on tax cuts and favored programs.

Clinton issued his warnings amid reports that his administration will announce next week that new projections show budget surpluses reaching nearly $2 trillion over the next decade.

The president's message: It's wrong for Bush, the presumptive GOP presidential candidate, to make lavish spending promises based on paper projections that may never turn into hard cash.

"I don't think we ought to risk the whole projected surplus on tax cuts and long-term spending commitments," Clinton said of the Bush proposals.

Writing Want Ads that really sell!

Unsure how to write a Classified Ad that will get results? Follow these pointers and you'll soon have an empty space in your storage room and cash in your pocket.

For starters, look at ads which offer the same item/products. Get a sense of going rates and ideas for how to make your ad stand out. Once you're ready to write, begin with exactly what you're selling: "Dining room set, maple, six chairs."

Then remember these hints:

- Give the price. A newspaper consultant says 70 percent of
- Use key words to describe what you're selling. The key words for a car are make, model, year, body style, color, mileage and price. If it's a house, key words are location, type of construction, number of bedrooms and baths, and condition.
- Don't use abbreviations. It's tempting to abbreviate and save money if ads are billed by the line. Brand ads are billed by the words, so spell them out so readers won't be confused trying to figure out abbreviations.
- Don't be misleading. Think accurate and factual when you write. Be sure to include a phone number and the best times to reach

Counsel's report is reminder of scandal

ALBANY, N.Y. — New Yorkers weighing the U.S. Senate candidacy of Hillary Rodham Clinton have been given a fresh reminder of scandals that have dogged the first lady and her husband. Independent Counsel Robert Ray said Thursday that he will not charge Mrs. Clinton over the 1993 firings in the White House travel office but said there is "substantial evidence" she played a role — despite her denials.

Facts About The BIBLE BY JOHN LEHTI

MEAT AND MILK NOT TO BE EATEN AT THE SAME MEAL!

THREE TIMES THE BIBLE SPECIFICALLY STATES "THOU SHALT NOT SEETHE (BOIL) A KID IN HIS MOTHER'S MILK." (EXODUS 23:19, EXODUS 34:26, DEUT. 14:21). THIS WAS GOD'S LAW LAID DOWN TO ISRAEL BY MOSES AND, TO THIS DAY, THE ORTHODOX HAVE NO MEAT AND MILK AT THE SAME MEAL. MANY PEOPLE THINK THIS WAS A DIETARY LAW—THAT MILK AND MEAT TOGETHER WOULDN'T DIGEST WELL, ESPECIALLY IN THE HOT DESERT CLIMATE—WHICH IS NONSENSE! MILK AND MEAT, BOTH HIGH PROTEIN FOODS, DIGEST AS EASILY TOGETHER AS THEY DO APART—HOT WEATHER OR COLD... BUT THERE WAS A GOOD REASON, IN MOSES' EYES, FOR THIS LAW—VERY UNDERSTANDABLE WHEN WE EXAMINE A CUSTOM OF THE IDOL WORSHIPPERS WITH WHOM THE ISRAELITES CAME INTO CONTACT IN THEIR DAILY LIVING....

MOSES CONSTANTLY ADMONISHED HIS PEOPLE TO STAY PURE IN GOD'S EYES—TO HAVE NOTHING TO DO WITH HEATHEN IDOLATERS. THE YOUNG MEN WERE FORBIDDEN TO GO WITH THE DAUGHTERS OF BAAL, WHICH MANY OF THEM DID! MOSES COULD FORESEE THE DANGER OF HIS YOUNG NATION DISAPPEARING FROM EARTH, NOT BY WAR, BUT BY THE SIMPLE PROCESS OF INTER-MARRIAGE—SO HE ORDERED ISRAEL TO AVOID ALL CUSTOMS OF THEIR HEATHEN NEIGHBORS TO FORESTALL ANY OF THEIR WAYS CREEPING INTO THE LIVES OF HIS PEOPLE. JUST AS ISRAELITES BROUGHT SACRIFICES TO GOD'S ALTAR, SO DID THE HEATHEN TO THEIR IDOLS—A POPULAR OFFERING WAS A TASTY DISH OF BOILED YOUNG KID OR LAMB IN ITS MOTHER'S MILK (OR ANY MILK FOR THAT MATTER). THE MEAT JUICE AND THE MILK BOILED INTO A SAVORY SAUCE SO DELICIOUS THAT THE PRIESTS AND TEMPLE PROSTITUTES COULD HARDLY WAIT TO GRAB AND EAT IT BEFORE THE DONOR, WHO HAD BROUGHT IT, LEFT THE TEMPLE!

NEVER A DAY WENT BY THAT SOME HEATHEN FAMILY DIDN'T TURN UP AT THE TEMPLE WITH THIS DELECTABLE DISH, CONVINCED THEIR GODS WOULD ENJOY IT AND SO SMILE DOWN ON THEM WITH FAVOR! IS IT ANY WONDER, THEN, THAT MOSES ORDERED HIS PEOPLE TO HAVE NOTHING TO DO WITH THIS DISH AT ANY TIME—EVER! THE IDEA THAT SOME ISRAELITE MIGHT OFFER TO GOD THE SAME THING THAT WAS GIVEN TO A STONE IDOL WAS UNTHINKABLE! YE SHALL NOT DO AS THE HEATHEN DO, WAS THE ORDER OF THE DAY SO THAT ISRAEL MIGHT CONTINUE... "A PECULIAR (SPECIAL) PEOPLE... ABOVE ALL THE NATIONS THAT ARE UPON THE EARTH." (DEUT. 14:12)

NEXT WEEK: GIANTS THEN AND NOW!
