COPS NEED DEGREES SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (INS) —College degrees and high men-tality are needed by the men who hope to cope with modern crime, according to August Voltmer, chief of police of Berkeley, Calif. "The average police department of the nation is centuries behind the times and is trying to combat crime of 1931 with methods of the fifteenth and sixteenth cen-turies," Vollmer recently told members of the Salt Lake City police department. "The problem of crime is a problem om the child and the only way to halt crime is to stop ti in its infancy."
