J. O. Guleke Will Speak For Gov. Ross Sterling Here Saturday Afternoon

G. A. F. Parker, county chairman for the Sterling-for-Governor campaign, has announced a big occasion for Deaf Smith county voters for next Saturday afternoon, when James O. Guleke of Amarillo will address an audience on the court house lawn at 4:00 o'clock in the interest of Governor Ross Sterling's candidacy for re-election.

Mr. Guleke is one of the most able speakers of the entire Panhandle and is thoroughly conversant with the subject upon which he will talk, a comparison of the Sterling and Ferguson conduct of the office of the chief executive of the state. Mr. Guleke is a member of the state educational board, having jurisdiction over the teachers' colleges in Texas, and has knowledge of facts and figures it is important the voters of the state should learn.

Following Mr. Guleke's address there will be talks by visiting speakers in the interest of candidates for other state offices.

During this week a Sterling-for-Governor organization has been effected for the women of Deaf Smith county, with Mrs. Jesse Carter chosen as chairwoman. It is especially desired that women voters attend the speaking Saturday afternoon, as much of the comparisons that will be made will prove interesting and of vital importance to women listeners. A document released this week by Jane Y. McCallum, secretary of state, deals at first hand with facts and figures as she has come in contact with them and as they are on file in her office at Austin.

Workers Give Rural Schools Contest Rating

H. E. Hargis, district sanitary engineer, has been working in Deaf Smith county this week with Miss Grace Bassell, county health nurse, and other health authorities in inspecting and scoring the several rural communities and their school premises in preparation for the sanitary improvement contest being staged by the health department in cooperation with the chamber of commerce.

Each community is given a percentage of rating in accordance with its physical equipment for adequately protecting the health of its children and adults. This is done on a point system, certain things being responsible for higher percentages than others. The two highest scoring physical effects on the rural school grounds are the installation of pit toilets and the supplying of drinking water in the most sanitary way.

Mr. Hargis and Miss Bassell have been making long and hard working trips each day this week getting the several communities checked and ready for the contest which begins with the opening of school. In a number of instances the installation of approved physical equipment is being supervised.

Last Monday the communities of Valentine, Sims, Bippus and Ford were visited with the possibility of having to return to Sims today and to Ford next Saturday to see to the proper installation of pit toilets. Patrons of Sims were so impressed with the value of better sanitation that four homes of the community have determined to build pit toilets at the residences.

Tuesday the health workers went to Westway, Walcott, Dean and Ward, finishing up with an afternoon gathering of the patrons of Wyche, where a pit toilet was installed.

Wednesday Dawn, Fairview and Daniel were inspected, with an afternoon neighborhood gathering awaiting the health workers at Progressive, where a pit toilet was installed.

Thursday (today) will find the health workers installing a pit toilet at Sims and going to Summerfield to make an inspection in the afternoon.

Friday a pit toilet will be installed at Messenger school in its new location three miles north of its former site, the school being moved this year to a point on the Harrison Highway, two miles west of Syndicate.

Saturday will be a continuation of the work as needed at several points, with a possible trip back to Ford for inspection and assistance with getting the contest under way there.

Henry Ansley Died Saturday From Wreck

Henry Ansley, versatile newspaperman famous for his ready wit and outstanding ability as a public speaker, was killed Friday night of last week when his car struck the concrete side of a culvert in the highway. The car was overturned and Ansley was fatally hurt when hurled through the car door to the highway. He died the next morning in an Amarillo hospital.

Mr. Ansley had been making political speeches in the interest of Governor Ross Sterling's campaign for re-election, and was returning home with Roy Cullum, Amarillo automobile dealer, at the time of the accident.

Mr. Ansley was very well known in Hereford and Deaf Smith county, having appeared here many times in the role of extemporaneous speaker, toastmaster and director of programs, his quick wit and genial good humor, along with his fearless advocacy of what he believed in, making him one of the most popular visitors Hereford has ever known.

TOMATOES TRAINED ON STAKES PRODUCE FRUIT OVER LONG PERIOD

Mrs. Ray Barber has about 12 tomato vines at her home here in the city, she has tied to stakes driven in the ground near the plants, that have given heavy production for the past month and continue to bloom and grow fine fruit. Instead of letting the vines run over the ground as is the usual custom, Mrs. Barber, by tying the vines to the stakes, keeps the fruit from the ground, finds caring for the vines much more convenient, the fruit ripens more uniformly, and the production is continuous over a long period of time.

The 12 vines have produced all the family uses fresh, and Mrs. Barber is busily canning the surplus fruit as it ripens faster than they eat the fresh tomatoes.

LIONS SERVE GOLFERS NEXT MONDAY EVENING

J. M. Posey, Lion club member in charge of festivities resulting from a recent golf contest, the Lions foolishly indulged in with the other members of the Hereford Golf Club, has announced the date of the "chicken supper" the defeated Lions will serve the "rough necks" as the golfers have been named by the Lions. The golfers had first choice of names, however, and are now strutting their stuff under the title of Lion Tamers.

Each Lion who played in the match is obligated to see that his recent opponent is invited and attends the supper and contemplated program which will be given in the First Presbyterian church next Monday evening at 8:00 o'clock.

FIGGLY WIGGLY STORE MAKES CARNIVAL IDEA MERCHANDISING EVENT

The Carnival Grocery Store staged by the Figgly Wiggly store in Hereford Friday and Saturday was made by the firm into a time of good fellowship, lots of fun for the kiddies, and good business for the store. The building was attractively decorated in gala style reminiscent of carnival occasions, and a number of associated manufacturing firms helped make the day one of entertainment and instruction by displaying and demonstrating the high-grade and standard brands of merchandise regularly carried in stock.

Final Games In City League Due Next Week

The Twilight League of Hereford has closed its second half of the 1932 season and is now planning a play-off between the winners of the first and second halves. The first half was won by the Odd Fellows, but the second half was not decided until Tuesday afternoon of this week when the Midgots and Bible Class played off a tie for first honors, the latter taking the game, 11-5.

Accordingly, the Bible Class will face the Odd Fellows in a three game city series on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday afternoons of next week. The games will be called at 5:00 o'clock, and all other regulations of the twilight play will be observed in conducting the games.

Much interest has been worked up in the rivalry of the two clubs and it is expected the "Little World Series" will occupy a central part of the citizens' attention on those three days.

VOCATIONAL STUDENTS PICNIC NEAR CANYON

Future Farmers of Texas, the vocational agriculture students of the high schools of the Panhandle, will hold their annual encampment at the Tierra Blanca Farm, one mile from Canyon, on August 24, 25 and 26, according to an announcement made by J. Recreational features will include boating, fishing, swimming and a barbecue which will be furnished by the Tierra Blanca Farm. At this time the boys will get some practice in judging swine and dairy cattle. They are preparing for the contests at the Tri-State Fair.

J. R. Bertram of White Deer is president of the Future Farmers club.

W. T. C. C. Asks Tax Officials to Meet With Them

G. A. F. Parker, local director of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, has been invited by District Director, W. J. Casey, to attend a meeting of the directors, chamber of commerce secretaries and members of the local public expenditure committees of District One in Amarillo Thursday, August 25.

The visitors will be guests of Wilbur C. Hawk, president of the W. T. C. C., at the Amarillo Rotary club luncheon at noon, when General Manager D. A. Bandeen, of the regional organization, will be the speaker.

Following the luncheon, the district meeting will be held in the Red Room of the Amarillo Hotel, with W. J. Casey, District One director, presiding. The program will be informal, and for the purpose of discussing organizational affairs and the program of the regional chamber as affecting cities of the Panhandle district.

Members of the local public expenditure committees of the county and city who have been invited to the meeting are Frank Givan, Troy Womble, J. C. Ricketts, W. C. Slagle, W. E. Hicks, S. S. Riggs, Carl Straus, J. H. Head, G. A. F. Parker, John Patton, Mrs. L. R. Brady, W. B. Dameron and Geo. J. Muse.

Tennis Players In Tournament Draw Crowds

One of the most hotly contested city tennis tournaments has been in progress on the high school court this week that Hereford has ever witnessed. While the play so far has been by doubles teams, a few singles matches have been put out of the way in between times.

The present standing in the doubles finds T. E. Selgler and Urin Streu facing Bernard Seed and Frank Cogdell this afternoon or tomorrow at the latest, in the finals. The former team eliminated Travis and Elmer Dameron in one of the semi-finals, and Seed and Cogdell let Keith Guthrie and Hal Kester out by the same route in the other semi-final.

Play begins about 4:00 o'clock each afternoon, and the best galleries the sport of tennis has drawn here for several years are witnessing the games. As a consequence the players are putting up a better brand of tennis than is usual, and interest is keen.

Players participating this year in the city matches are T. E. Selgler, Urin Streu, Woodrow Ireland, Edgar Ireland, Elmer Dameron, Travis Dameron, Hal Kester, Clifford Kester, Bernard Seed, Edgar Pickett, Frank Cogdell, Marlin Kester, Keith Guthrie and Roy Arnold.

CARL MOUNTZ GRAPE MAKE ENORMOUS YIELD OF FINEST FRUIT

The two acres of grape vineyard Carl Mountz has at his home just northwest of town, is keeping the family busy these days picking and selling the luscious fruit of the vine. Mr. Mountz has a considerable investment in the vineyard and takes good care of it throughout the year.

Several varieties now ripe are making excellent yields, and although the price is low in accordance with all other produce and merchandise at the present time, the abundance of the fruit is evidence that in more fortunate years the financial returns would be very satisfactory.

The editor gratefully acknowledges a basket of the finest grapes of several varieties Mr. Mountz presented Tuesday evening, and can speak enthusiastically at first hand information regarding the excellence of their flavor.

Educational Tour Delayed by Truck Wreck

A large truck containing nine young men and their leader, on an educational tour from New York, was wrecked Monday afternoon when the truck hit loose dirt near Summerfield, badly damaging the truck, the boys escaping without serious injury.

The tour is sponsored by the vice-president of the Bethlehem Steel Company, and he has 30 trucks touring the United States like the one overturned. The truck was equipped with beds, individual lockers, cooking facilities and other conveniences for travel.

The boys had been across the northern part of the United States, visiting all the big industries and laboratories, and were returning from the Olympic games going back to New York by the southern route.

The boys will be in Hereford about five days while their truck is being repaired. Langley Claxton, leader, is in charge of the boys, who are: Pat Wilson, Ben Riley, George Kerler, Jack Coker, Ben Luqua, Fred Miller, Martin Lickner and John McAvoy.

School Finances Lowered for Coming Term; Budget Will Be Discussed at Meeting Tonight; Patrons Invited

(By SUPT. C. H. DILLBAY.)

The income for the Hereford schools will be materially reduced according to practically complete figures on valuations for the year 1933. Practically every piece of real estate in the school district was reduced 20 per cent below the valuation placed on it for school purposes last year by the school equalization board, composed of G. A. F. Parker, F. H. Oberthier and C. H. Dyer. In some cases where the valuation seemed out of line with other valuations on similar property the reduction was somewhat greater, or possibly a little less. The total reduction on real and personal property amounted to about 20.2 per cent. This loss in income, together with a loss of $2000 in the amount expected from the state and the probable amount of delinquent taxes made a serious problem facing the school board in the effort to maintain the schools for the full term.

The interest and sinking fund has used 23 cents of each dollar of taxes collected during the past few years. With the drop in valuation of nearly $500,000, that fund will require 33 1-3 cents out of each dollar. The levy for the new fiscal year will then be 66 2-3 cents on each $100 valuation for the maintenance fund and 33 1-3 cents for the interest and sinking fund.

The board met Tuesday night to consider the tentative budget. The final approval of the budget will be made Thursday night, August 18, at 8:30 at the high school building, at which time the public may be heard on the subject, according to law.

In anticipation of reduced receipts it had already been decided to lower operating costs and eliminate any expenditures not absolutely necessary. Further reductions were ordered in the last two meetings, bringing the total down to $48,692.50, as compared with $56,160.79 in 1931-32, and $58,303.94 in 1930-31, when 100 children were on half day sessions. Since the debt service requires $10,046 each year, and other items such as fuel, insurance, etc., which were reduced last year, cannot be materially cut, but some had to be cut, practically all of the reduction had to be made on salaries.

It was also decided to pay a part of all salaries in deferred warrants, beginning with the first payroll about October 1. Each month 20 or 25 per cent of the salary, depending upon the amount, will be so paid. Since the warrants will not be payable until the close of school, it will have the effect of distributing the available cash over the nine months and avoid the danger of having no money at all for the closing months of the school term. Conditions will determine whether the percentage issued in warrants each month will be increased or decreased. Current receipts of subsequent years will not be affected by any warrants that may be outstanding, but payment on these must be made out of available funds of the 1932-33 fiscal year or out of delinquent taxes of 1932 and prior years.

S. D. Edwards and son, Bryan, of Fort Worth were here the first of this week visiting his son, Lloyd.

Mr. Linville lived here about 21 years ago. He owned a big sheep ranch about 18 miles west of town. Both men say this country looks mighty good to them in comparison to the country they saw on the way to Texas.

Hi-Y Camp At Ceta Canyon In September

Plans for the fall Hi-Y training camp in Ceta Canyon, September 16-17-18, were discussed at a dinner and round-table meeting held at the home of G. M. Hudson, senior club sponsor, Tuesday of last week. Each year the Hi-Y clubs of the Panhandle-Plains meet at the Methodist camp grounds in Ceta Canyon for a three days training course for the officers and sponsors. At the camp all present are organized into a giant club with each boy and man assigned to a definite committee of each club. In these committees the program for the whole year is developed so that every club can take back home with it a complete program for the ensuing nine months work.

Some of the more important committees are the World Brotherhood, program, service and project; Bible study, social and membership. Several hours daily are spent working in these various committees. Then two or three general sessions are held, when either boy or adult speakers address the group as a whole. Also time is taken for suitable recreational activities, swimming, athletic contests, etc.

The spirit of the camp is such as to encourage the development of ideals of character and service, and few if any boys ever attend these camps without being greatly benefitted and stimulated to high ideals. The purpose of the entire program of the club might be summed up as an effort to interpret the ideals of Christianity in terms of "Help the Other Fellow".

Several outstanding adult leaders with addresses the boys and the sponsors from time to time, among them being Clifton Dorn of Dalhart, Gaston Foote of Amarillo, and Dr. J. A. Hill, president of W. T. S. T. C., at Canyon. Dr. Hill will address the group at 10:45 a. m., Sunday September 18. His subject will be "The Challenge to Christian Leadership". This should be especially good, because Dr. Hill has an enviable and well-deserved reputation as a speaker who can bring a real message to his hearers. Parents of the boys and other interested people will be welcome to be present at any of these general assembly sessions, with a special invitation to hear Dr. Hill's address.

About 12 boys are expected to attend from Hereford. Those present at the dinner and meeting last week were Paul Conaway, senior president; Homer Henslee, vice-president; Billy Phillips, secretary; George Smith, treasurer; Noel Bryant, retiring vice president; L. W. Carlyle, president of junior club; Clifford Kester, junior sponsor, and G. M. Hudson, senior sponsor.

District Court Sentences Four to Penitentiary

District court this week has been considering criminal cases, and bringing civil cases in between them as the opportunity presents. Judge Reese Tatam is using every precaution to keep the court progressing rapidly so as to finish the docket in the shortest time possible.

Chief local interest this week has been concerned with trials which resulted in four penitentiary sentences. Willburn Dallas Casstevens and Lewis Falcon pleaded guilty to burglarizing a railroad car and were on Monday sentenced to two years each. Wednesday Angria Freeman pleaded guilty to a similar charge and was given a like sentence.

A. M. Henderson pleaded not guilty to a burglary charge yesterday and was tried before a jury, it bringing in a verdict of guilty, and Henderson was likewise given a two years' penitentiary sentence.

Back many years ago kraut making was regarded as an arduous task that took much time, preparation and lots of cabbage. This week J. A. Buckner, who has all that fruit and vegetables growing about his place at 400 East Fourth Street, tells me and Mrs. Buckner have been making kraut in half-gallon jars.

They have found that the kraut is better than when made the way we used to make it in big 20 to 50-gallon jars or barrels, and can be used as often or as seldom as the family wishes. The process is simple, according to Mr. Buckner, and should be made use of by those who have but a few heads of cabbage.

Kraut of recent years is recommended as one of the best foods for supplying needed vegetables during winter, and by the process Mr. Buckner describes with his price of cabbage as low as it is, anyone can easily put up kraut for future needs.

The idea of the city furnishing free garden plots and water for irrigation purposes, seems to have taken hold in several instances, and a few fall gardens are being put in. More people should avail themselves of the opportunity and make preparation now to have canned vegetables during cold weather.

The county will furnish seed to those who cannot buy it, will furnish the canning equipment free with which to put it up. Besides all that, the county will also buy the cans in which to preserve the food if half of the completed work is given to the county to be dispensed to welfare work this winter.

I am told by those who are

A LONG TIME AGO IN HEREFORD

(From Files of the Reporter, August 16, 1901.)

Dimmitt had given a picnic and barbecue the previous week. Dimmitt was described as the hustling county seat of Castro county, and at that time the business section consisted of a general store conducted by Beach & Kerr, a livery and sales stable, and inn managed by Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Tate. A ball game between Hereford and Dimmitt featured the day. Hot weather prevailed, and it was decided that the first team piling up a score of 20 be declared winner. Hereford accomplished that light task before the end of the fourth inning, and took the game, 20 to 3. In the tournament, out of a field of eight entrants, M. O. Meeks took first to win the $8.00 prize money, Bartley Bell taking second the $4.00 prize money. People from all over the Panhandle accounted for the big crowd, an estimated 500.

Troy Womble, on Thursday had "received a handsome covered carriage with a crimson-hued gear."

actively associated with welfare work here that there are some who deliberately take advantage of being fed free, and devise schemes by which their cases are made to appear of urgent necessity. Such conduct will work a hardship on circumstances of real need when cold weather comes, for it will make necessary a most rigid investigation of every bit of welfare work done and a record kept of it. Systemization of the dispensation of charity must be done in the interest of serving the greatest number at the least cost, or the waste occasioned by poorly organized methods will soon consume what supplies are available. Our people do need to awake to the urgency of the matter, and make due preparation to accomplish the most good with the least effort and cost.

Your Electric Power Supply Must Be Flexible

Electric Power, to serve any community adequately, must be flexible. It must meet all requirements, large or small—from a huge factory to a small household—at any time and at any place.

Small plants serving single communities lack this flexibility . . . they lack the variety of volume and demand which enables a larger system, serving a wide area by transmission lines, to operate efficiently.

The transmission line delivers larger amounts of power AT ONCE without the delay of installing additional equipment. Thus it clears the way for a rapid and permanently expanding industrial growth.

The present day industrial progress of small communities is based in a large measure on the ample and economical power supply which resulted when transmission systems replaced small plants throughout the Nation.

The Texas Utilities Company, through its widespread 1000-mile transmission line connecting network, makes available about 60,000 horsepower of electric energy—ready at the turn of a switch.

Mrs. Bascom says this call was worth $1,000

Mrs. Clyde Bascom left her dinner cooking while she weeded the garden. Just as she re-entered the kitchen, the kerosene stove exploded.

Her first move . . . the telephone.
"Central! My house is on fire!"

And Lucy Adams, at the switchboard, did the rest. "Too far out for city water," she reasoned. Then, quickly, she called a half dozen men who had cars. They sped to the scene. Water from a cistern saved the Bascom home.

Next day, the operator again "plugged in." It was Mrs. Bascom.

"Lucy, you sure got help out here in a hurry. That call was worth $1,000 to me. Don't know what I'd have done if the house had burned. . ."

Day or night the telephone is ready for your calls. It may be an order at the store . . . a call for the doctor . . . your house on fire . . . or, just to visit with neighbors.

Your telephone may be worth a nickel today . . . a quarter tomorrow . . . a thousand dollars next week. You can buy few things which cost so little and are worth so much.

Are you guilty or not guilty? Prisoner: I don't see why I should express an opinion and try to interfere with the jury's guessing contest.

A Friend and a Counselor

Often you may have wished that you had a friend qualified to give you advice—disinterested, sound advice—as to the conduct of your business affairs. But it is difficult to find even among the closest personal friends, one who is detached enough to offer really workable suggestions. Let us act in that capacity for you. Our long banking experience gives us a broad insight into business affairs. We are able to offer you just the friendly, helpful counsel you may need at this time.

THE FIRST STATE BANK

TO THE VOTERS OF DEAF SMITH COUNTY—

I wish to take this means of informing you that I still want to be your next County Judge and County Superintendent. Since announcing for this office in January, I have tried to see each of the voters personally and solicit your consideration. It will not be possible for us candidates to see all the voters a second time, however, I want to see as many as possible. In my campaigning I have tried to acquaint the voters with my training and experience so that they may know of my qualifications for this office. I am not asking for your vote on any sympathetic consideration; nor have I tried to deceive you on any point or issue. I am making this race strictly on my own merits. The present Judge will have had this office eight years when he has finished this present term, and will have been paid from $20,000 to $30,000 for his services during this time. Considering our political form of government, why is it customary to change our public officials after they have served only a few terms in office? Surely it is not because most of them were not good officials, or because they did not serve their people well. But do we not make these frequent changes so that the masses of the people may have a voice in their government rather than having to submit to the will of an organized few?

- HAVE YOU HEARD— 1. That my home is not in Deaf Smith County? 2. That I do not pay taxes here? 3. That I did not pay my poll tax? 4. That I have large property holdings in New Mexico? Etc., Etc., Etc.?

Of course all these whisperings are false. Deaf Smith County is my home actually, as well as legally; I pay taxes here and have paid my poll tax. (These can be verified by phoning tax collector's office.) All the property that I have is in this county. Folks, let's not be deceived by last minute reports. Such reports would have been circulated earlier if they could stand the test. Vote your sentiments as determined by what you know to be true. If the voters of this county see fit to honor me by electing me to this office, I will serve you to the best of my ability.

I WILL APPRECIATE YOUR VOTE AND INFLUENCE. C. W. HUMBLE Candidate for County Judge and Ex-Officio Superintendent of Schools

His Birthday

By JANE OSBORN

IT WAS on the eve of Griffith Vall's birthday. He probably wouldn't have thought about it if now, on the very day before, he had not received a letter from his mother, who was off on a year's holiday somewhere in France with his father. The letter had reminded him of the fact that he was to have a birthday and a money order had slipped from the letter. It was for a hundred dollars and the letter had explained: "I know you can't possibly need the money but I am hoping you'll take it and spend it—do something that you really want to do without thinking whether it is extravagant or not. Do you remember what fun you and I used to have on your birthdays?"

So when George sat in his bachelor apartment that evening he fell to thinking of those birthdays long ago. From the time that he was a very little boy his mother had devoted the entire day to him. There had been other brothers and sisters, so in the ordinary course of events he never saw quite as much of his mother as he wished. But when his birthday came his mother somehow disposed of all other duties and from early morning until bedtime she was his. And he could do just what he wanted to do—and no one need know what they had done if it was something that the brothers and sisters might tease him about. Once he had wanted to spend the entire day in her car with her—not to go where she wanted to go or where other people went, but just where he wanted to go. And they had gone down through all the dingiest sections of the city, through narrow crowded streets, along the waterfront and finally out in the woods—not to pick flowers as his mother might have suggested on any other day, but to play Robinson Crusoe. One day they had gone together to the seashore and spent most of the day swimming.

Recalling those other birthdays he decided to spend the next day as he had done with his mother—doing just what he wanted all day long. He would do just what he wanted—and yet as he thought about it he couldn't come to a decision as to what it should be.

By the time morning came he had somehow managed to get himself in a perfectly irresponsible mood, but he found himself eating just the same sort of breakfast in the same little restaurant where he always went. He left the restaurant—and strangely enough his impulse led him in the direction of his office. Yes, that was where he really wanted to go. He wondered why—yet all the time he really knew. He didn't like to let the day pass without seeing Edith Lee. Edith worked there as a draftsman, and a mighty good one she was—shy, curly-haired, freckle-nosed little Edith, who somehow felt that to work in an architect's office was the consummation of all her ambitions. Or, at least, George thought that was what she thought.

Well, he went to his office, and when he said good morning, Edith smiled, and George rather surprised himself by asking her if she had a great deal to do. Perhaps she could get time to go with him to the next county to see the new church in which they had each in their way had a hand. Edith had a good deal of work before her, but while she hesitated, she decided that she could take the work home and work until midnight to get it done. Then she said she would go with him.

George and Edith took a taxi to the garage where George kept his car that he used only when he went to the country, and while they sat together George smiled to himself to think that he was really here with Edith. Ordinarily he wouldn't have thought of asking her—because ordinarily he never acted entirely with an idea of his own personal satisfaction because for some reason or other he thought it was his duty to do so. And there was no earthly reason why he should be spending time with Edith, except that he found pleasure in doing so.

So it was that, after they had seen the church together and talked about it as one architect to another, he asked Edith to have luncheon with him—because at the time it seemed as if nothing else in the world would be so pleasant. They went on another drive in the country. He asked her to have dinner with him and to go to the theater, too. Edith said she couldn't. She had work to do that night and besides—"It seems so strange that you really wanted to be with me," said Edith. "I've often thought it would be fun to be with you, but you've barely looked at me."

George, sitting in his car beside Edith, explained about his birthday. Then he drove to the curb and stopped the engine. "Edith," he said abruptly, "I believe I've been in love with you for months. I believe I can never love anyone else. Forget the work—I'll help you with it tomorrow. It isn't so pressing. Make the day perfect, come to dinner and go to a show with me—before we part promise you'll marry me." And Edith promised.

T. and P. Railroad

So far the Washington commissioners refuse to permit the building of the T. & P. N. railroad, but the fight is not finished. The people along the proposed line and the Texas & Pacific officials, and our Texas Railroad Commission, thru its chairman, Hon. C. V. Terrell, and our attorney general, Hon. James V. Allred, are all merely biding their time and will push the proposition again next year.

When we had the hearing at Lubbock in December, 1930, Hon. C. V. Terrell the present chairman of our State Railroad Commission, was present and then, and continuously since, did and has continued to do all within his power to help us. The attorney-general's representatives were also at Lubbock. All the way through, Chairman C. V. Terrell and Jimmie Allred have stood by us and worked hand in hand with and for us.

Jimmie Allred is now re-nominated for Attorney General, but at the July primary Deaf Smith county voted against C. V. Terrell for Railroad Commissioner. Why such ingratitude—he is our best friend? We gave a majority to Lee Satterwhite, a politician, who has been a candidate for some office at every election. Terrell led Satterwhite in the state by more than 150,000. Satterwhite lives away down in Ector county, and few of us even know where that is. C. V. Terrell lives in Decatur, Wise county, and understands our needs and speaks our language. Vote for C. V. Terrell and scratch Lee Satterwhite in the next primary.

Also Ernest O. Thompson was at Lubbock and working with and for us, and is now a candidate for another place on our State Railroad Commission, and he has an opponent in the person of one W. Gregory Hatcher, of Dallas county. Hatcher is an eternal, always, ever-running candidate for some state office—vote against him.

There are two men to be nominated for Railroad Commissioners at our August primary. I hope that Deaf Smith county will cast every vote for C. V. Terrell of Wise county and Ernest O. Thompson of Potter county for our two Railroad Commissioners. They are our friends and we will need their help. Respectfully, JNO. P. SLATON.

 But 28 members and guests attended the regular Wednesday luncheon of the Lions club this week, a number being absent on vacation or out of the city on business, making the smallest attendance for many months. In the absence of Boss Lion B. H. Hopkins, his assistant, Cliff Estes, was in charge of the meeting and directed proceedings as much as it was possible.

The program of the day was also by Mr. Estes, and he presented Miss Gladys Seigler in a reading by O. Henry that delighted the club membership. Lon E. P. Gieser gave an interesting report of his attendance at the Olympic games, the Lion pay-off supper to the victorious golfers was set for Monday evening of next week, the Ladies' Night committee, reported an excellent program in preparation for the outdoor evening entertainment honoring Lions' wives and friends to be held in the City Park down on the creek next Tuesday evening, and the committee on the construction of a wading and shower bath concrete platform in Lake Park announced the lateness of the present season rendered the work impracticable for this year, and it would not be done.

Bread, From Prehistoric Times to the Present
 However it came about, it seems likely that some ages after the discovery of fire, prehistoric man in his hunt for food found that by picking and eating the heads of the grain, that grew in the fields, he could satisfy his hunger. To avoid eating the whole plant, he learned to grind the grain a bit between stones, and it is apparent from the worn off teeth of mummies that he also ate some of the ground stone along with his grain. However, there we had the first flour.

To make the cracker grain go down better, some one thought of adding water, and, ergo, the first dough. A few generations later one of the youngsters grew careless and dropped some of his grain and water mixture on a hot stone. Every one looked and tasted—and started dripping more dough on more hot stones. They had discovered that bread was good.

Then one day a careless cave lady forgot and left her dough sitting out over night. She didn't know it, but in that time it picked up some wild yeast floating in the air. In the morning when she started to make up the day's dry, flat pancakes, she discovered that the batter bubbled and rose on baking and the bread was delightfully tender and moist instead of hard and dry. Then dough was left out over night—and leavened bread was born.

$90. Three years later they went to the same district again shooting a bear. They arrived at the bungalow at night, and once again the same headman appeared. He made a simple request. "If you sahbs have another 200 rupees, I have another old woman for you to shoot."

"Magic Carpet" Fable
 Brewer's "Handbook of Phrase and Fable" says: "The magic carpet which, to all appearances, is worthless, but which, if any one sat thereon, would transport him instantaneously to the place he wished to go, is one of the stock properties of eastern wonder tales and romances. It is sometimes termed 'Prince Hassan's Carpet,' because of the popularity of the story of Prince Ahmed in 'Arabian Nights' where it supplied one of the chief incidents; but the chief magic carpet is that of King Solomon, which, according to the Mohammedan legend, related in the Koran, was of green silk."

"I wonder if you'll love me when my hair has turned to gray?"
 "Why not? I've loved you every time you've changed color so far."

WHICH SHALL RULE?
 Shall the Railroad Commission represent the people, or shall it be dominated by major oil companies? Shall the hundreds of thousands of dollars being spent in this race buy the office, or will Thompson—the Appointed Colonel—be repudiated as he was in the first primary?

Shall we let the big oil companies control one of Texas' most important natural resources and regulate the price of crude oil and the retail price of gasoline through the appointment of their favorite—Col. Thompson?

The common people said "No" the July primary, and we believe the people will again take control of the Commission August 27.

City of Halifax Linked With American History
 Halifax claims to be one of the most strongly fortified cities in the world. Its citadel, or Fort George, standing on an eminence above the city, took nearly thirty years to build. Its splendid harbor is spacious enough to hold the whole British fleet. Point Pleasant park is reserved by the crown for purposes of defense, but is leased to the city for a pleasure ground for the sum of a shilling a year for 99 years. Its Martello tower was built under the direction of the duke of Kent in 1796.
 The Northwest arm, famous for its scenery, and its facilities for all kinds of aquatic sports, also boasts a memorial tower, built at the time of the advent of representative government in 1768.
 St. Paul's church, Halifax, is the oldest Protestant church in Canada, and contains memorial tablets to such historic figures as Sir John Wentworth, a governor of New Hampshire before the Revolution, and afterward governor of Nova Scotia; and Rt. Rev. Charles Inglis, D. D., first Protestant bishop of British North America.

Vaccine's Beginning
 It must have been at a date almost coincident with Jenner's experiments with vaccine that Lady Mary Wortley Montagu brought to England the Turkish method of inoculation for smallpox, writes a correspondent to a London paper. The inoculation was not with vaccine, but with the poison of smallpox itself, as stated on her grave in Lichfield cathedral, which Henrietta Inge, daughter of Sir John Wrottesley, wishes to express her gratitude to Lady Mary for the benefit she herself received from this "alleviating art which softens the virulence of this malignant disease." Lady Mary likes Jenner, first tried the experiment of inoculation on her own family. The epitaph is dated 1789. For a time, one supposes, the two methods of inoculation went on side by side, but the Turkish method, proving injurious in too many cases, was dropped.—Detroit News.

THE TENT OF MEETING THE TABERNACLE

Exodus:7-16

7. Now Moses used to take the tent and to pitch it without the camp, afar off from the camp; and he called it The Tent of Meeting. And it came to pass, that every one that sought Jehovah went out unto the tent of meeting, which was without the camp.

8. And it came to pass, when Moses went out unto the Tent, that all the people rose up, and stood, every man in his tent door, and looked after Moses, until he was gone into the Tent.

9. And it came to pass, when Moses entered into the Tent, the pillar of cloud descended, and stood at the door of the Tent; and Jehovah spake with Moses.

10. And all the people saw the pillar of cloud stand at the door of the Tent; and all the people rose up and worshipped, every man standing at his tent door.

11. And Jehovah spake unto Moses face to face, as a man speaketh unto his friend. And he turned again into the camp; but his minister Joshua, the son of Nun, a young man, departed not out of the Tent.

12. And Moses said unto Jehovah, See, thou sayest unto me, Bring up this people: and thou hast not let me know whom thou wilt send with me. Yet thou hast said, I know thee by name, and thou hast also found favor in my sight.

13. Now, therefore, I pray thee, if I have found favor in thy sight, show me now thy ways, that I may know thee, to the end that I may find favor in thy sight; and consider that this nation is thy people.

14. And he said, My presence shall go with thee, and I will give thee rest.

15. And he said unto him, If thy presence go not with me, carry us not up hence.

16. For wherein now shall it be known that I have found favor in thy sight, I and thy people? is it not in that thou goest with us, so that we are separated, I and thy people, from all the people that are upon the face of the earth?

Golden Text: Jehovah spake unto Moses face to face, as a man speaketh unto his friend.—Exodus 33:11.

Time: B. C. 1498.
Place: At Mt. Sinai.

Introduction.

"The tent of meeting brought the people to a place that symbolized the presence of Jehovah and made it more vivid and vital. The church is our tent of meeting with God and with one another in religious worship and fellowship; and we need it still. Though our worship is more spiritual than that of the Israelites, yet if we do not have a home and a school for it, it is likely to grow dim and thin, and may fade into a reminiscence."

—Snowden.
"The great saints of history have all been praying men and women. They did not cultivate God in order to become hermits and recluses, but rather to take their places as doers of their Master's work."—Round Table.

After the Lord had given the Ten Commandments to Israel, Moses again ascended the mount, where he remained for forty days and nights communing with Jehovah, who spoke to him many more of his laws for his people, a record of which we have in Exodus 21:31.

The Golden Calf.

While Moses tarried in the mount, the people became restless and perplexed. They went to Aaron and said, "Up, make us gods, which shall go before us; for as for this Moses, the man that brought us up out of the land of Egypt, we know not what is become of him." The request was in direct violation of the Commandments. What did Aaron do? He weakly yielded, and commanding them to bring their golden ornaments, he made from them a golden calf such as they had seen in Egypt. To the people he said: "These be thy gods, O Israel, which brought thee up out of the land of Egypt;" he built an altar before it, proclaimed a feast for the following day, and thus led the people to sacrifice and play before the image.

Moses, the Intercessor.

So it was that Moses, at the command of God, returned from the mount to see his people worshipping the molten image. In his anger he cast down the tables of the law which he had in his hand and destroyed the golden calf. By the next day, however, the anger of Moses had cooled, his love for his people shone through, and we hear him praying that wonderful prayer of intercession, "Oh, this people have sinned a great sin, and have made them gods of gold. Yet now, if thou wilt forgive their sin; and if not, blot me, I pray thee, out of thy book which thou hast written." For answer, the Lord did not destroy them, but withheld his Presence and visited them with his displeasure.

and have made them gods of gold. Yet now, if thou wilt forgive their sin; and if not, blot me, I pray thee, out of thy book which thou hast written." For answer, the Lord did not destroy them, but withheld his Presence and visited them with his displeasure.

Face to Face.

"The Lord spake unto Moses, face to face, as a man speaketh unto his friend." The whole world's chief thoughts about God was of power—dread power, protective or vengeful. There was much of awe and fear. But here in Israel, in the infancy of the nation, God reveals himself as One who is ready to come into human life as a Friend. No less power, no less majesty, but those bathed in the tenderness of love. Abraham was the friend of God. God spoke to Moses as one friend speaks to another—freely, intimately, giving and inviting utmost confidence.

Moses' Prayer.

First is Moses' prayer for himself. "Show me now thy way, that I may know thee, that I may find grace in thy sight." It is for himself, but is far from selfish. It looks in two directions—toward the command of God that he should lead the people out of Egypt and the assurance of his grace that God had given him—and toward the people and the task to which he was committed. The favor that

Moses sought was reassurance and re-enforcement for his task. Closely connected, therefore, with the prayer for himself is one for his people: "Consider that this nation is thy people," and (in verses 15, 16) a plea for the Presence of the Lord with them: "If thy presence go not, carry us not up hence."

"Can we look at this scene without seeing in it the operation on a lower field of the same great principles of intercession, which reaches its unique example in Jesus Christ? We need in it a foreshadowing of our great High-priest."—MacLaren.

The Answer of God.
"There are some kinds of prayer that God does not answer. Recall from the psalmist the futility of the prayer in which one regards iniquity in the heart; and from James, 'Ye ask, and receive not, because ye ask amiss, that ye may consume it upon your lusts.'"

"What then is the kind of prayer that obtains a blessing? In his recent book The Faith of Prayer, Samuel Chadwick speaks of the law of faith in prayer under several heads: (1) Ask. (2) Ask in faith. (3) Ask aright or with the right motive. (4) Ask righteously. The righteousness of the asking goes to the righteousness of the asked. (5) Ask earnestly. (6) Ask in the Spirit. Its source is divine, harmonizing with the revealed purpose of God."

The "Presence" of God.
This is the all-sufficient answer to all our needs. "My presence shall go with thee." The promise of the presence sent Jacob on his way with confidence. It is the same promise that sent Moses from Midian to Egypt to combat all the powers of that great empire, and gave him the courage to face the wilderness with the hosts of Israel. And when at Sinai the people aimed and God withdrew the promise, Moses' heart failed. "If thy presence go not, carry us not up hence." The sense of the Presence is the sine qua non; it is also the one comprehensive grace.

"If God be for us, who can be against us?"

Intercession.
"Prayer cannot stop at personal need. Even in the inner chamber there is no escape from the impact of those who impinge upon us in the home, the church, and the world. The law of prayer is that each stands alone in the Presence of God, just as surely as each one of us shall give account of himself to God, each bearing his own burden, and yet every man bearing the burden of others. There is always a burden. Intercession is vicarious. The Saviour made intercession because he bore the sin of the transgressors. So it is in all prayer that entreats for others. Moses made the cause of Israel his own."

Mrs. E. S. Ireland and Mrs. C. F. Kerr visited friends in Amarillo last Friday.

To the Voters---

Just a word at this time to tell you I want your vote on August 27. Please give me your careful consideration. To believe propaganda told on one running for office is very unfair. It is easy enough to get the facts, if facts you want.

I am trying to conduct a clean, fair race and if you feel 13 years service in the court house is long enough for the present clerk, please give my candidacy due consideration.

Yours very sincerely,
