Court Takes Recess From Wednesday to Monday, August 15

District court opened Monday morning with the empanelling of the Grand Jury by District Attorney, B. N. Richards, and the holding of several appearance cases before District Judge Reese Tatum. Wednesday morning the Grand Jury recessed until August 15th, turning in ten indictments from the investigations made in the three days sessions. Judge Tatum also recessed court Wednesday until Monday morning, August 15, advising attorneys with cases to come before the court to have them ready for trial when the time comes. Petit jurors who had been summoned for court duty next week have been dismissed and the jurors for the succeeding week will be used when the court again convenes.

By this move, Judge Tatum thus saves Deaf Smith county the expense of more than a week of the usually long term of district court, a circumstance of which the taxpayers of the county should be appreciative.

Mrs. R. J. Kibbe Died Today at Rural Home

As final copy is being written for the Brand, word is received of the death of Mrs. R. J. Kibbe at their home just north of Hereford at 8:30 o'clock this morning. She had been an invalid for the past year, her health gradually failing until the end.

Mrs. Kibbe could truly be said to be one of the pioneers of Deaf Smith county, coming here by wagon and team with her husband in 1891, and part of the land they homesteaded is the present home site. She was one of the best loved and respected women of the community, and hundreds of friends are bowed in grief over the passing of a dear associate whose loyalty has been faithful over a long period of years.

Mrs. R. J. Kibbe was born February 23, 1866; died August 4, 1932, age 66 years, five months and 11 days.

Funeral services will be held at the First Christian church Friday, August 5, at 3:00 o'clock p. m., conducted by Rev. M. J. Johnson, after which interment will be made in West Park Cemetery.

The body will lie in state at the home from 3:00 p. m., Thursday, until 2:30 p. m., Friday. Casket will not be opened at the church.

Call Made for Organization In Welfare Work

The proclamation of County Judge Earl W. Wilson on the front page of the Brand this week contains information every worthwhile citizen of the county should give earnest consideration. It shows a recognition of present conditions and future prospects, and is an urgent call for citizens to organize for the operation of welfare work here that waste time and effort may be eliminated to the greatest extent.

The proclamation asks representatives of every civic and community organization, as well as all interested citizens, to come to a mass meeting in the county court room next Monday evening at 8:00 o'clock, where welfare activities for the coming year will be organized, with discussions of plans for conducting same, including preparation during the remaining summer and fall months, and a fair and equitable distribution of food, clothing and fuel to deserving people when cold weather comes.

The question cannot be considered simply a community, city or county proposition, but must be brought home to each individual, that realization be made of each one's responsibility to others less fortunate.

Candidates Will Speak At Dawn Ice Cream Supper On August 15th

The Parent-Teacher Association of Dawn will hold an ice cream and cake festival at 9:00 o'clock Friday evening of next week, to which the several candidates for county and local offices have been invited to speak in the interest of their campaigns.

Students May Select Studies During August

(By SUPT. C. H. DILLEHAY)

The high school office will be open each day beginning Friday, August 5, and continuing through August 25, for the purpose of enrolling and classifying high school students. The hours will be 10:00 to 12:00 a. m. and 2:00-4:00 p. m. This will allow students and parents plenty of time for conferences with school officials, and should be of value in planning the work for one or more years ahead. Since the number to be taken care of is uncertain and the high school will be operated with one teacher less than last year, it will doubtless be to the interest of students to make their plans early. Some elective subjects may be overcrowded thus forcing some students to select a second choice. Those entering the Hereford high school from other schools should have an official statement of credits sent to the high school principal.

Solid geometry will not be offered this year the first part of the year, and trigonometry will be left off the last half of the year. Other subjects offered last year will be offered again provided there is a sufficient demand to justify them. There will be some slight changes in the regulations providing that certain subjects may be restricted to a given class or classes, or rather the restrictions will doubtless have to be adhered to more strictly because of threatened crowding in some sections. For example: chemistry has been a junior subject, though many seniors have been permitted to take it. Juniors cannot take physics and indications are that the number of chemistry sections provided for will hardly take care of the juniors. Seniors will not be scheduled for chemistry, except in unusual cases, until all juniors have had an opportunity to select that course. Seniors requesting chemistry will then be permitted to take that course in the order of their requests for it.

Seniors will be required to take civics or a non-credit course in state and national constitutions. The Texas law requires each high school student to take 18 lessons on the constitutions before graduation. Unless the student takes civics as an elective during his senior year, the non-credit course must be taken three or four weeks.

Foreign language is not required for graduation, but may be required for entrance to college. The student is advised to take Spanish if the college of his probable choice does require two years of some foreign language for college entrance. There will be no change in the prescribed subjects for graduation. These are: four years of English, two years of algebra, plane geometry, two years of science including physics or chemistry, two years of history if general history is taken, or three years of history if ancient history is taken. Seventeen units must be earned for graduation, sixteen of which must be affiliated.

Parents are cordially invited to accompany their children at the time of enrollment and advise with them about their courses. Such a visit will be good for the child and also good for the parent in providing a better understanding between the home and the school. Closer cooperation and a knowledge of the problems that are facing the student may mean the difference between success and failure in school work. Such parental interest at the beginning of school will be more effective than it can possibly be after serious mistakes have been made. Much thought and careful planning now for the high school courses to be taken should provide a better program of studies than will be obtained by selection at random.

BAND CONCERT TONIGHT AT FIRST AND MAIN

Director Ralph Smith announces the municipal band will play a patriotic concert at the intersection of First and Main Streets tonight at 8:30. The program will be in keeping with a series planned to be given as part of the band's contribution to the Washington Centennial observance. A concert will be played each Thursday evening there is not some other public meeting with which the band program might conflict.

A PROCLAMATION

To the People of Hereford and Deaf Smith County—

The time has come now when we must begin to think about the welfare of the needy in our midst this coming winter. An organization must be perfected now in order for the same to learn to function before the winter months arrive. It is an evident fact that many people will find themselves in a condition where they will be compelled to ask for bread and meat and clothing. These same people can be helped now to help themselves. Fuel should be conservative, late gardens should be planted, anything to eat should be canned, and plans made and committees created to look after the welfare problems of this community.

Now, therefore, I, Earl W. Wilson, County Judge of Deaf Smith County, do appoint Monday next, August 8, at 8:00 p. m., in the county court room, as a time and place for a public mass meeting of every citizen of this town and county to meet and perfect plans whereby the administration of public charity may be done in a business-like manner. Every citizen who reads this proclamation bears a personal responsibility to be present and share in perfecting this organization.

Done at the City of Hereford, this the third day of August, 1932.

EARL W. WILSON, County Judge.

Deep Test Well at Garcia Lake Below 1000 Feet

Progress at the Garcia Lake deep test well for oil in the west end of this county, is reported as very satisfactory this week, passing the expectations entertained when the work was first begun.

The bit Tuesday was down 1045 feet, boring into the Santa Rosa sand, which had been encountered at 996 feet, with a slight showing of gas, a dept of 300 feet less than was anticipated. This is taken as a good proof of the excellence of the structure as indicated by the presence of oil, by oil men and geologists, Mr. Hoover, who made the location, saying he is elated with the prospects over finding the sand at that level.

C. C. Acker and George L. Muse, trustees of the special fund raised here to assist in drilling the well to the contract 4500 foot depth, measured the hole Friday and report excellent progress being made.

The slight showing of gas at the top of the Santa Rosa sand leads to the belief that traces of oil may be found in it before passing through, although it is not expected to be in any considerable amount.

Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Hudson have as guests this week Mrs. Annis McManan of Weatherford, mother of Mrs. Hudson, Miss Mabel Hutson of Paris, Miss Mabel Hutson of Lubbock, and Mrs. Jim Hodges and children of Lubbock.

LIONS GOLF MATCH GETS TIGHT WITH HEREFORD MEMBERS

The challenge golf match being played between the golfers of the Lions club and other members of the Hereford Golf club, waxed hot and furious. In 11 of the 21 scheduled matches, the golf members, who have styled themselves the Lion-Tamers, now have six wins to the Lions' five. A number of the matches will be finished today, and it is expected all will be settled by the last of the week.

Some of the individual matches have made local golfing history and will probably take a long time to get settled to the complete satisfaction of all hands concerned.

Defeat Friona; Canyon Here for Match Sunday

The combined golf teams of Friona and Farwell were no severe competition for the Hereford club last Sunday afternoon, the local players taking 12 of the 16 matches, losing two and tying two.

Next Sunday's match will be against Canyon's league team, which comes to return the game played there several weeks ago. The Hereford players, while out of the championship running in the league, have hopes of winning a decisive victory over the visitors, and are planning to have their best sharpshooters on the course that afternoon.

Surveyor of Original Town Here This Week

W. D. Twichell, recently of Austin, also of Amarillo, but claiming he has right to say he is from Hereford, is visiting and looking after business interests in Deaf Smith county this week.

Mr. Twichell's time of residence here dates back to "the days when" He is a cadastral surveyor, and laid out the original townsite of Hereford when it was thought the place was going to be named Blue Water, its present name being chosen in preference to that back in 1898.

Not many of the old timers are here now who lived in Deaf Smith county in those days, some have died and some have moved away, and there were not many here then, anyhow.

SCHOOL BANDS TO BE ORGANIZED AFTER SEPT. 1

Both the high school and Central school bands will be operated for the coming term, according to Ralph Smith, director, and will begin practice immediately after the schools open. There is no charge for instruction in either of these organizations, the only expense being the purchase of the instrument the child will use.

Mr. Smith says he will give private instruction to those who wish it, but it will be advanced work not essential for membership in either band.

Free Brand Subscriptions Secured By Trading With Advertisers During Week

As time goes by more and more readers are taking advantage of the free merchandising subscriptions the Brand is now offering.

Like most propositions by which something may be obtained free, people were skeptical, but as the plan becomes better understood subscriptions are rapidly increasing. A number of merchants are taking advantage of the situation to increase their sales, and by giving the Brand without cost to their customers are building up good will, confidence and appreciation for themselves and the community as a trading center.

The plan is very simple. Every merchant who advertises in the Brand may give away subscriptions to those who trade with him from the time the paper is published one week until it is again printed the following week. Every family living within 50 miles of Hereford whose subscription expires or who is not now taking the Brand may receive a six months' or year's subscription by trading with an advertising merchant.

For trading $5.00 with advertising merchants, a six-months' subscription is given, and for trading $10.00 a year's subscription is given. The whole amount does not have to be traded with one merchant, but purchases at several stores may be added together to reach the necessary amount. The purchases need not be made the same week but must be from merchants who are advertisers on the weeks the purchase is made. Each merchant will give the customer a credit memorandum that will be accepted as evidence of the amount of the purchase and credited for subscription. Not more than one year's subscription will be issued to a family under this plan, nor may any present subscriber extend their subscription by merchandise purchase. When any subscription expires it may be renewed if the merchandising plan is still in effect.

At the rate subscriptions have come in during the past week, it is evident the plan cannot be kept in continuous operation, as the list would become too large for the present business set-up of the Brand to finance. When the number of subscriptions reaches 2,000 the plan will of necessity need to be abandoned for the time being.

The Brand cannot too highly recommend that its readers patronize the paper's advertisers. In most instances the advertising merchant recognizes the service the paper renders to the community, and takes advantage of it to carry his message of new merchandise, reasonable supplies or special sales effort to the homes and individual members of each family. Advertised merchandise is almost invariably of better grade and at lower price than that which is not advertised. Hereford merchants will gladly assist their customers in securing free Brand subscriptions.

Lions to Build Shower Spray In Lake Park

Final arrangements for the construction of a wading place for youngsters of Hereford were made at Wednesday noon's Lion club luncheon, when authority was given by the board of directors to rush the work to completion.

It is proposed to lay a slab of concrete 12 feet wide and 30 feet long in Lake Park, with water piped to make a huge shower or spray so the children of the city may come in their bathing suits and enjoy the pastime of playing there. John Patton, E. S. Ireland and Dr. R. E. Perkins are the committee in charge of the work. City authorities have pledged their assistance in making the project a reality. It should be a treat for the little tots of the city during the hot weather.

Wednesday's luncheon was a most enjoyable one, 39 members and guests partaking of the excellent meal and being entertained by the program. W. L. Davis, in charge, present Misses Ardelle and Marie Foster, Billie Hill and Marie Seed in a variety of quartet numbers that delighted their hearers until they finished with "The Eyes of Texas", to which several Lions, being A. & M. men strenuously objected, but were overruled by other members.

Guests of the club were Wilson B. Stanford, brother of Jesse, and W. D. Twichell, former surveyor of the original Hereford townsite, who was the guest of Alex Thompson. The club has been delighted recently with the return of its former "sweetheart," Mrs. J. C. McCracken, for piano accompaniment for its singing (?) and Dr. B. M. Wiltshire was back with his smiling countenance Wednesday.

LAST RITES HELD HERE SUNDAY FOR MRS. HENRY CLOYD

Mrs. Henry Cloyd, who died Saturday after an illness of several weeks, was buried in West Park Cemetery Sunday afternoon, following funeral services at the First Christian church, conducted at 3:30 o'clock by Revs. M. J. Johnson and V. M. Cloyd.

Celia Elizabeth Robinson was born December 18, 1886, in Cook county, Texas, near Gainsville. She moved to Hereford with her parents in September, 1901. She united with the First Christian church at the age of 14 years, when Rev. Volney Johnson was in Hereford. She was married to Henry Cloyd April 1, 1906, and this union God blessed with two girls, Nellie Grace and Gertrude.

Mrs. Cloyd was an untiring social worker for the welfare of her community, and was a leader in church and community activities.

She has left to mourn her departure a loving husband and two daughters, her mother, Mrs. J. D. Cursinger; four sisters, Mrs. Grace McLeRoy of Chicago, Illinois; Mrs. Ralph Henson, of Roscoe; Mrs. Boyd London, Mrs. Criss Renfro, and one brother, James Wallace Robinson, of Hereford.

Rural School Transfer Time Is Extended

Announcement is made this week by Judge Earl W. Wilson, who is also ex-officio county superintendent of schools, that the transferring of scholastic money from one district to another may be made when pupils move, up to and including September 5, the day set for the opening of the rural schools of the county. This will amount to $16.00 for each pupil of scholastic age in the county and is a sizable amount, worthy of consideration, and needed by the school to which the pupil chances to transfer.

Scholastic money may be transferred from a district to any other within the same county, but scholastic money may not be transferred from one county to another except from a district in one county to another district just across a county line from the district from which the transfer is made, both districts being adjoining on the county line.

Mayor E. B. Black, who is also a member of the local committee for farm seed and loan distribution, and R. J. Richardson, vice-president of and representing the Hereford chamber of commerce, went Wednesday to Lubbock to attend a meeting of the Reconstruction work as authorized by the federal government. District, state and national representatives of the work were present, including former governor Day of Idaho, Oren Sherrill of Dallas, and Congressman Marvin Jones.

It developed in yesterday's conference that there was little prospect for immediate financial aid for the preparation and seeding of wheat land this fall. Upon being made aware of the pressing need of this region for agricultural assistance the representatives stated they would meet with national directors the first of next week in Washington, at which time they would make the most urgent plea for assistance to be given. They would send back at once whatever decision is made.

At present there has been no money designated to be used for wheat farming relief, and the local committee consisting of G. A. F. Parker, E. B. Black and J. F. Ward, has no information or instructions relative to how or advisability of making application for a loan, or knowledge of how to consider any applications that may be attempted.

Dr. O. H. Loyd of Vega, who also attended the conference at Lubbock, informed the Brand this morning he has every confidence in the world that aid will be available in time for the planting of wheat, but the exact date has yet to be determined. The federal loan representatives at Lubbock gave assurance they realized the importance of the situation and would push the matter with all speed.

Mrs. Bartley Is Buried At Leesburg, Mo.

Mrs. N. M. Bartley died Sunday morning, July 31, after a lingering illness of several months duration. Funeral services were conducted at 4:00 o'clock Monday afternoon by Dr. E. E. Robinson in the First Methodist church. That evening the body was shipped to Leesburg, Missouri, her former home, where burial was made at 4:00 p. m., Wednesday, August 3.

Clara Hooten was born in Missouri August 9, 1883. She married N. M. Bartley at Marshallfield, Missouri, October 20, 1905. To this union were born two sons, Spaulding and David, the husband and both sons surviving her. She was a member of the Methodist church, having lived a consistent Christian life for many years.

Two brothers, James Hooten of Missouri, and Ed Hooten of White-wright, Texas, survive Mrs. Bartley. She has three sisters, Mrs. W. C. Evans of Leesburg, Missouri; Mrs. Lillian Holder, of Marshallfield, Missouri, and Mrs. Nora Hall of White-wright, Texas.

On two separate occasions has the Bartley family made Hereford their home. Mr. Bartley having been associated with the Western National Bank from December, 1905, to June, 1910, and again from June, 1926, until the bank was sold in March, 1931. Upon returning from laying Mrs. Bartley to rest, the father and sons will again make Hereford their home.

Hundreds of warm personal friends extend sympathy and condolence to them in their hour of sorrow and loss.

SPRAY TREES TO KILL RED SPIDERS

The trees in Lake Park are receiving a spray this week to kill the red spiders that have been causing the leaves to turn brown and give them the appearance of needing water. The spray is known as Kerosene Emulsion and is being applied under the supervision of R. O. Dunkle and B. A. Hopkins.

Baseball Sunday.

Tulla is scheduled to meet the local town team Sunday at 3:30 at the ball park south of the railroad tracks. This promises to be a good game as both teams are in good shape and are evenly matched.

HONEST JOURNALISM

However much they may differ in the beginning, honest convictions, honestly expressed, invariably arrive at the place where truth and understanding abide. But when editorial policies are either bought, or promulgated for the purpose of punishing those who will not buy, the interests of the people are lost in the jungle of misrepresentation and prejudice.

Honest editorial policy always has for its objective the greatest good for the greatest number of people. One editor may think that "the greatest good" is more quickly achieved by a policy that encourages and promotes the development of great industries, because great industries always are great employers of labor and great payers of taxes and great creators of wealth.

It looks good to see Will Womble around on the streets again. His recovery from that lightning stroke has been very slow and he says he still has a long way to go, but everyone feels he has come a considerable distance from the condition he was in when brought to town June 18.

He went back out to the ranch this week for the first time since the accident, and saw the place he was sitting when the bolt struck. From the way the building is torn up, he says he is sure the next time he goes into that barn to get out of a rain he will sit on the other end of that manger.

Given time, however, these two honest differences of opinion will come to agreement and together assail the heights of prosperity and happiness. Concession here and compromise there, will show how Texas' incomparable opportunities may be capitalized in such a way as to diffuse the consequent blessings equitably among all of the people of the commonwealth.

The thing which most effectually defers the time when these commendable potentialities are realized is that dishonest type of journalism which arrives at its policy after it has asked, and been answered the question, "Is it worth $500 a month to have us for you instead of against you?"

Such journalism, now conspicuous in Texas for its rarity, can not long survive amidst an intelligent people. Sooner or later its hate will wither it, and its avarice consume it. Then Texas will move more swiftly to the commanding position among the states which is hers by reason of natural endowment and popular initiative.—This Week's Opinion.

A LONG TIME AGO IN HEREFORD

(From Files of Hereford Reporter, August 2, 1901) Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Evans, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Sullivan, Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Davis, G. R. Irwin and family, Ples Turnbow and family, Geo. Sachse and family, H. S. Syms and family, Mrs. W. H. Clary and children, Misses Mary and Minnie Tygret, Empress and Lara Jewell, Bessie Davis, Bessie May, Miss Clark, and Messrs. Jno. Humphrey, G. R. Jewell, A. P. Murchison, J. C. Coker, Will Gough, Kelly Gray, H. S. Harwick, Benj. Bounds, C. G. Orr, Troy Womble, Harmon Beach, C. S. Bounds, Sheriff Inmon, Conner Jewell, L. R. Brady and many others had attended the re-union at Canyon that week.

Mr. M. C. Weeks had spent the previous week at the ranch home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Womble.

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Kelleher and two sons, and their guest, C. J. Kelleher of Williamson county were guests of the Ritchey hotel.

Ed Joiner and Dow Mercer attended the Canyon reunion that week.

J. A. Fox had quite a bit to say about having had the first mess of home-grown roasting ears Wednesday of the week before.

At the Canyon reunion a baseball team made up of the best players of the Panhandle mopped up on a Hereford nine 15 to 23 and the following day Amarillo downed our boys 14 to 3. Amarillo girl rooters were credited with the win by Amarillo. The Saturday before Hereford had defeated Canyon 19 to 6 in a game here. A feature of this game was a throw of nearly 300 feet by Hereford's left fielder, Eugene Dyer, to first baseman Martin McCracken, to make a double play.

The statement of the First National Bank carried that week showed deposits subject to check of $107,707.40, capital stock $25,000, loans and discounts $87,343, overdrafts $3,483, banking house, furniture and fixtures $1,881. F. J. Clinkinbeard was cashier, F. B. Fuller, Jno. E. Ferguson and A. J. Lipscomb signed the statement as directors.

(From Files of The Hereford Brand, August 4, 1911) Rain to the amount of 8.75 inches was recorded in the Summerfield vicinity during July.

Twin boys were born to Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Laird August 1.

Plainview was to ship 100 cars of cantaloupes that season.

It had rained. "On the Wither- spoon alfalfa field west of town a lot of new-cut hay was floated away, but he gathered a load of bass instead, securing one six-pounder and several smaller fry. The fish were left in the field by the overflow."

J. P. Slaton had attended court in Amarillo that week as leading attorney in an important case.

Mrs. F. H. Oberthier and children had returned from an outing spent in the mountains of Colorado.

Mrs. Seth B. Holman of Comanche had spent the week with her sister, Mrs. D. C. Laird.

Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Black had celebrated their 20th wedding anniversary at their home on West Third Street, assisted by numerous friends and relatives. The first part of the evening was devoted to congratulations and conversation, followed by refreshments of brick ice cream and cake. Materials and Equipment for Successful Pickling.

1. Store jars, wooden buckets or barrels. Covers and weights. Hardwood boards make good covers, and glass containers filled with sand or water are better for the weights.
2. Kitchen scales and measuring cup for accurate measure.
3. Baumé Salinometer for correct proportions of salt.
4. Wooden spoons or paddles for stirring. Enamel spoons or vessels may be used if the enamel has not flaked off anywhere.
5. Salt, common grain salt, or salt of clean coarse grade.
6. Vinegar. Fruit or malt vinegar may be used. Distilled vinegar is colorless and free from sediment.
7. Sugar—granulated or brown cane may be used.
8. Spices—whole or ground spices may be used. Whole are preferred.
9. Coloring—fresh grape or spinach leaves.

Varieties.

Pickles may be made from any variety of cucumbers, but some varieties because of their shape and firmness are better adapted than others. Chicago pickling, Boston pickling and Snow's Perfection are among the best varieties.

Preparation and Grading.

Cucumbers should be freshly gathered, retaining one-half to one-fourth inch stem if possible. Care should be used to prevent bruising. Sort the cucumbers according to size, color and maturity. The grades vary somewhat but are usually designated as follows:

- No. 1, 2 inches long, midgets or gherkins; No. 2, 3 inches long, small pickles; No. 3, four inches long, medium pickles; four inches or longer, large pickles.

Wash and drain before placing into the brine, and put together in the curing process pickles of uniform size.

Pickling in Salt.

Pickling is the preservation of food with salt or vinegar, either with or without the addition of spices or sugar.

Pickling with vinegar consists in covering the fruit or vegetables either with plain vinegar or with sweetened and spiced vinegar. The seasoned vinegar is usually used in pickling fruits, but vegetables are sometimes pickled in this way. However to make pickles of the best texture and keeping quality, they should first be cured in brine before treating with seasoning and vinegar. The brine cure better prepares the tissues of the fruits or vegetables to absorb the flavored vinegar or syrup.

In making pickles with salt, the pickling results primarily from the action of the salt. For cucumbers salt is added in the form of brine. Covered with brine they usually undergo a fermentation hence are often spoken of as fermented pickles. The juices withdrawn by the action of the brine hold in solution the sugar content of the fruits and vegetables. This vegetable sugar is attacked by lactic bacteria, which are commonly present on the surface of vegetables, and the acids are formed. As a result of the action of the acid brine thus formed, physical changes are brought about, which constitute the pickled state.

Soft water should, if possible, be used in making brine. Water which contains iron or a large per cent of lime is especially objectionable, and should not be used in making brine. Iron, if present in quantity, may under some conditions cause a blackening of the pickles. The presence of large quantities of calcium salts and possibly other salts found in many natural waters, may prevent the proper acid formation in the brine and materially interfere with the curing process.

The brine for cucumbers should contain not less than 9.5 per cent of salt at the start. One pound of salt dissolved in nine pints of water or 3 3/4 ounces of salt in one quart soft water makes a solution with a salinometer reading 40 degrees or approximately a 9.5 or 10 per cent brine. In a brine of this strength, fermentation proceeds somewhat slowly, but pickles kept in a brine maintained at this strength will not spoil. One-half pound of salt dissolved in nine pints of water makes approximately a 5 per cent brine, with a salinometer reading of 20 degrees. A brine of this strength will permit a rapid fermentation, but vegetables kept in such a brine will spoil within a few weeks after curing if air is not excluded.

The active stage of cucumber fermentation continues from 10 to 30 days, depending on the temperature and strength of the brine. The most favorable temperature is 86 degrees Fahrenheit. During this period gas is formed and froth appears on the surface, due to the rising of gas bubbles. At the close of this period the brine becomes "still". The maximum acidity is reached very soon after the close of the active stage of fermentation. Test for the acidity by dipping a piece of blue litmus paper in the brine. If the paper turns pink or red the brine is acid. At this stage the scum should be taken off, cucumbers weighed and sealed air tight with paraffin, in case they are to be kept any length of time before making them into finished sweet or sour pickles. After being cured in brine, pickles must be soaked to freshen them before they are used. If they are to be eaten as salt pickles they need to have only part of the salt removed; while those to be made into sweet, sour or mixed pickles must have nearly all the salt removed. Put the cucumbers in a kettle with enough cold water to cover, heat slowly with frequent stirring until they reach 120 degrees. Taste, and if too salty discard the water and repeat the process. Take care not to allow the cucumbers to boil while processing to extract the excess salt. When freshened in this manner they are ready for use in making a variety of different high quality pickle products.

Sour Cucumber Pickles.

Cover the freshened cucumbers with 4 or 5 per cent vinegar and allow them to soak over night. In case this does not give the sourness desired, continue soaking the cucumbers for 8 or 10 days and then transfer them to a stronger vinegar. The first vinegar is by this time very much reduced in strength, because it has become diluted with the brine which has been drawn out from the cucumbers as they soaked. The sour pickles will be of better keeping quality if the first weakened vinegar solution is discarded and the pickles after packing are covered with a fresh 4 or 5 per cent vinegar and sealed.

Glass jars with glass tops and stone jugs are the most satisfactory for storing the finished sour pickles in small quantity.

Sweet Cucumber Pickles.

Sweet cucumber pickles are usually made of smaller sized or midget pickles. Soak brine-cured stock in several changes of cold fresh water or process in warm water not over 120 degrees. Drain well. A sweet pickle of firmer texture can be obtained if after soaking or processing the cured cucumbers are allowed to soak for several days in a vinegar solution before adding them to the syrup.

Prepare a syrup, stirring one-half pound of brown sugar into two pints of good elder vinegar. Warm the mixture in a covered saucepan together with flavoring and spices. Be careful not to allow the vinegar syrup to boil. Let it stand and infuse for about an hour. When the syrup is cold pour it over the drained cucumbers and allow them to stand over night. Next morning drain off the spiced vinegar syrup and add to it another pint of vinegar and a pound of sugar. When the sugar is dissolved again, pour the vinegar syrup mixture over the cucumbers and let stand for several hours, or warm slightly and let stand over night before packing them into jars. Strain the vinegar syrup solution and pour over the packed pickles and seal tightly.

If a very sweet vinegar syrup is desired it would be best not to exceed the quantity of four pounds of sugar to one gallon of vinegar for the first plumping, but gradually add sugar until the desired concentration is obtained, and avoid the danger of making sweet pickles shrivel and toughen. This condition often results when cucumbers are placed at first in too heavy a syrup.

Dill Pickles.

Select well shaped, medium sized cucumbers. Place in the bottom of a clean earthenware jar a few large fresh, green grape leaves, then a layer of dill and 1/2 ounce of whole mixed spices. Add another 1/2 ounce of whole mixed spices and a layer of dill. On top of the dill place a layer of large green grape leaves. The grape leaves not only make a good covering, but they also give a good green color to the pickles. Spinach leaves are also said to have a greening effect on the pickles.

les when they are added in this manner to the pickle keg, or barrel, before curing or fermenting.

Brine—Make a cold brine by combining one pound salt, one gallon water and a pint of vinegar and pour over the pickles. Place a wooden cover or plate on the pickles with a sufficiently heavy weight on top to keep the cucumbers well below the surface of the brine. Cover over the top of the jar with a double layer of cheesecloth to keep out dust and at the same time admit air. If a temperature around 86 degrees is maintained where these pickles are stored through a period of 10 to 12 days this pickling process should be completed. Any scum forming on the surface of the liquid should be removed as fast as it forms. If scum is allowed to remain it may cause softening and spoilage of the pickles. Just as soon as bubbling ceases and active fermentation has stopped, transfer cucumbers and pack into glass jars. Heat the brine drained from the pickles to boiling, and after cooling to about 100 degrees pour it over the pickles, filling the jars full. Seal tightly and store in a cool, dark place.

Cucumber Rings.

Select medium sized cucumbers that have been cured in brine. Freshen as for other pickles. Drain well and place in a weak vinegar solution (1 cup vinegar to 3 cups water) for several hours; then add another cup of vinegar and allow to stand over night. By this time the vinegar has become very much diluted with the brine. Draw off and discard. Weigh the drained cucumbers. For three pounds of sliced cucumbers allow 2 lbs sugar, 1 1/2 oz stick cinnamon, 1 oz whole cloves.

1 oz dried ginger root, 2 cups vinegar. Heat together the vinegar, spices and 1/2 the sugar. Do not boil. Cover and allow to infuse one hour. Cool and pour over the drained cucumber slices. Allow to stand over night. Next morning add remainder of sugar. Heat syrup, pour over cucumbers and cook all together until slices become clear and transparent. Cover and cool in the syrup to plump the slices before packing.

Pack into jars, strain syrup and pour over the pack. Process in water bath at 180 degrees for 15 minutes.

Variations can be made by cutting a small circle from the center of each slice and garnish with sweet red pepper, cherry or artificially colored watermelon rind or raisins.

After the cucumbers have been cured in brine freshen and follow any good pickle recipe and make them into a variety of different high quality pickle products.

Cheaper...

In spite of recent general reductions in living costs, according to the annual report on the subject by the National Industrial Conference Board, the cost of living has not reached pre-war levels. At the close of 1931 it was still 34 per cent higher than in July, 1914.

During this same period, however, the AVERAGE COST of domestic electric service has decreased 32 per cent BELOW the July, 1914, average.

County Health Activities

MISS GRACE BUZZELL County Health Nurse

At a meeting of the rural health chairmen, of the county health council last Saturday, plans were completed for the sanitary campaign, which will be carried on during one week in August and one week in September.

The scoring for the contest is as follows: Pit toilets 20, Water supply 20, Drinking water, washing facilities 20, First aid equipment 10, Sanitation of grounds 15, Sanitation of interior of building 15, Total score 100.

The first week of inspection and instruction will be from August 15 to 20, when the sanitarian will inspect schools and install pit toilets in homes and schools.

Chairmen are to notify either Miss Martin or Miss Buzzell as soon as possible if their community and school wish to enter the contest. A definite schedule of the day and time that each community will be visited will be published as soon as definite plans are completed.

It is important that where pit toilets are to be installed that the following preparations be made before the sanitarian arrives for the work: Have pit dug ready for the building of the toilet, as follows:

For one unit, dig pit 3x3 feet. For two units dig pit 5 1/2 deep by 3 feet.

Have scraps 2x4, also large and small nails.

Lumber required for each toilet: 2x10-4 feet long, 1x12-18 feet long, 1x4-5 feet long, 2x4-4 feet long, 1 sack cement, 5 cubic feet sand and gravel (pitrun gravel), 4 bolts, 1/4 in., 4 feet long, 4 bolts, 3-8 inch, 4 feet long, Pipe, 3 or 4 inches in diameter, 7 feet long (boiler flu can be used), 4 square feet hog wire.

Estimate total cost $1.65. The objective of the campaign is to make the best possible improvements, especially in schools, at the least possible cost.

It is hoped that every rural community will cooperate in this program.

Minimum first aid equipment: 1 package sterile gauze, Several rolled bandages, Small bottle neocresochrome, 1 bottle antiseptic, as Lysol or chlorine, 1 package of soda, 1 teaspoon, 1 pair scissors, Adhesive tape.

Texas mortality records show 2510 deaths from typhoid fever during the past five years, or an average of 502 per year. The best medical authorities claim that one person in ten who contract typhoid fever dies. These 2510 deaths would indicate more than 27,500 cases during this period.

This disease runs on an average of 21 days, although the patient may be invalidated for weeks and even months. These 27,500 individuals lost more than 585,480 days. If their earnings were only 50 cents a day, the loss was $292,740 in wages, while if each case cost the family or community only $25, which is a very low estimate, the cost of these cases was $687,500, or a total in the five years of approximately almost a quarter of a million dollars per year.

The distribution of mortality by months indicates that during the first six months of each year, only 27.2 per cent of the total occurred, while during the last six months, that is from July 1 to December 31, 72.8 per cent of the deaths occurred.

The first six months of the year is the best time for vaccination against typhoid fever, for during the last six months you run the greatest risk of catching this disease.

Typhoid fever is preventable, and therefore an unexcusable disease, from a public health standpoint. Any person who takes the typhoid immunization need not have the disease, but the immunization should be taken before exposure to the disease. It is advisable that the vaccination, which includes three administrations, 8 days apart, be begun at once, so that the immunity may be produced before the annual epidemic has reached its peak.

Several cases have already been reported in Deaf Smith county.

An attractive house dress can be made for about 76 cents, it has been found by 65 home demonstration club members in Wichita county, who entered the annual house dress contest.

FUTURE FARM FEATS

(Devoted to the Interest of Vocational Training.)

Reginald Henley, first year vocational agriculture boy at Walnut Springs high school, produced 183 eight-weeks old S. C. W. Leghorn chicks from 214-day old chicks at an average cost of 9 1/2 cents per chick and with a labor income of 86 cents per hour. He used home grown feeds supplemented by a startling mash.

More than 20 watermelon growers attended an organization meeting of the Richland Springs Watermelon Growers Association sponsored by R. J. Powell, vocational agriculture teacher, recently. The group plans to ship 75 cars of melons cooperatively this season.

State Superintendent Chas. N. Shaver, executive officer of the State Board of Vocational Education, has announced that the state contests for the winners in the 14 districts of the State will be held in Huntsville at the teachers' college August 2 and 3. This contest will be in public speaking, debating, chapter opening and closing, and band work.

As a result of cholera breaking out in the Edwards herd near Whitehouse, J. M. Hancock, vocational agriculture teacher, and his students double treated 1013 hogs for 22 farmers in that community. The boys treated 1585 White Leghorn pullets for intestinal worms.

More than 1200 cans of food have been canned in less than two weeks of operation of the Haskell cannery. This cannery is run by the Progressive Farmer Club, an organization of former vocational students, who are now farmers in the Haskell community. When a demonstration of the work of the cannery was given recently, 32 women in the Haskell trade territory attended.

WEATHER CONTINUES DRY THOUGH RAIN INDICATED

Dry, hot weather has prevailed here through the past week, despite some indications that rain would come soon. The highest temperatures of the year have been reached, staying around 100 each day at the warmest periods.

The precipitation of several weeks ago has entirely disappeared and crops are suffering for moisture. Those farms that were not reached by the rains are in sore straits and farmers in general are very discouraged over crop conditions. Rain is looked for each day, and indications point to the receipt of moisture soon.

"Enough soil was saved during the first rain to pay for building terraces on my brother's place," states Walter Cardwell of Lockhart, who says that a 4-inch rain failed to wash away any appreciable amount of soil, while bordering fields showed a heavy wash.

LULA MAE MARTIN, AGENT.

Canning is in full swing this week and will be through this month and into September. The agent is using the new canner and automatic sealer that was bought by the commissioners court for demonstration use. Canning demonstrations will be given in all clubs and all unorganized communities asking for the work. If the unorganized communities want canning demonstrations they will be given the third and fourth weeks in August and into September.

If there are people who want to can on the halves, cans will be furnished by the commissioners court. The cans can be obtained by seeing the agent or Judge Earl W. Wilson.

The delegation returned from College Station last Saturday. The ones making the trip were Mrs. John Kropff, North Hereford; Mrs. J. W. Brown, North Hereford; Miss Vivian Bowers, Dawn; Miss Adeline Koutzler, Office club. All report a very good time and each one wishes to thank those making it possible for them to go. The organizations and individuals making it possible for them to make the trip were the Consumers Fuel Company, Chamber of Commerce, First National Bank, First State Bank, W. D. Kellehor, John Miller, J. C. Parker, Chas. Paddock.

TO THE VOTERS OF PRECINCT NO. 1:

I take this means of thanking you who voted for me in the first Primary election, and asking you and those who did not see fit to vote for me then to consider me in the second primary. I feel that I can fill the office and give every one a fair deal. I believe I can get the cooperation of the commissioners' court and give the people more information as to where and how their tax money is being spent.

I would like to publish you a statement of the salary of everyone that is drawing money from the tax payers. I would like to show you how our money comes into the county treasury and how it goes out. I believe the voters and tax payers should demand that their office seekers should scale their salary according to the tax payers income.

Most of you remember that was the point of the article that I put in the paper before the first primary. If elected, it will be my desire to publish my record to the tax payers. Your vote and influence will be appreciated. I pledge myself to try to repay you in service. Yours truly, P. J. (Jack) ROSE.

The families of John Haberer and F. W. Lambert spent a pleasant day last Sunday when they gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Moutz for a family reunion, with 34 present.

At noon a bountiful feast was spread upon the tables, consisting of many varieties of good things to eat.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. John Haberer and son, Johnny, of Hereford; Roy Haberer and family, Arthur Haberer and family, Herman Haberer and family, all of Big Square; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Sherman, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Lambert, Mrs. G. R. Jones and son, of Altoona, Pa.; Mrs. Lloyd Wright and family, of Baxter Springs, Kansas, and Carl Moutz and family, of Hereford.

ACE HIGH SUPPER CLUB CLEVERLY ENTERTAINED

One of the most enjoyable parties of the year for the Ace High-Supper club was given Tuesday night when the men of the club entertained the women with a lawn party and watermelon feast in the spacious back yard of the E. S. Ireland home on East Eleventh Street.

Bridge furnished the amusement of the evening, while music from the radio, which had been moved out of the house for the occasion, lent an atmosphere of festivity to the scene. At a late hour lovely refreshments of cake and ice cream were served, making the evening one of complete enjoyment.

Scores went to Miss Gladys Seligler and Miss Blanche McDonald second high.

Present were Dr. and Mrs. B. M. Wittshire, Miss Blanche McDonald and Harvey Cash, guests; Messrs. and Meses. Hubert McIntire, M. C. Alston, J. W. Witherspoon, Mrs. Rafoed Ricketts, Miss Gladys Seligler and Miss Martha Duncan; Messrs. Frank Mosley, Edgar Pickett and Edgar Ireland.

TOMMY WILSON HAS BIRTHDAY PARTY

The home of Mrs. Victoria Wilson, 205-A West Fourth Street, was the scene of a gala event Saturday, July 23, from 5:30 to 7:00 o'clock when Master Tommy Wilson, with a host of his little friends, celebrated his fifth birthday.

After the youngsters had enjoyed playing several games they were invited into the house to cut the huge birthday cake, upon which had been placed five pink candles. Delicious refreshments of ice cream and cake were served to the kiddies, who had been grouped around small tables. The tables were adorned with beautiful centerpiece of sweet peas and daisies.

Those present to share in the merry-making and to wish Tommy many more happy birthdays were Mrs. Ann Acker, Helen Acker, Patty Ball, Margaret Barber, Mattie Lou Lawhon, Phyllis Jean Radovich, Jimmie Easley, John Estes, Ruth Temple Hastings, Jas. Barnard Hicks, Barbara Ann LeGrand, Wendell LeGrand, Geo. L. LeGrand, Virgil Olson, John Douglas Pitman, Helen Ann Pitman, Joan Rosson, Chas. Skelton, Maydelle Beavers, David Neal Beavers, Elizabeth Dunlap, Tommy Jones, Tommy Wilson.

Deaf Smith County Library Notes

MISS LILLIE HOSTETLER Librarian
Miss Emma Jean Donald Assistant.

(By MRS. BOB WILSON)

Where are we going and toward what are we tending? What does rural cooperation really mean? Is there to be a farm peasantry in America? These questions and many others are foremost in the minds of the thinking public today.

These questions are dealt with in a most concise way—from an optimistic standpoint in "The Evolution of the Country Community," by Warren N. Wilson and we might say from a pessimistic view in "Rural Life at the Crossroads," by Mary Campbell.

The changing of our rural population, the developing and inspiring of the coming generation of farm owners, operators, tenants, laborers and farm children are the ends sought by these vital, practical thought-producing contributions to rural sociology, economics and education.

These two books deal with the ever changing and growing problems that are constantly confronting our rural people of today. The world has entered into the full swing of the age of science and practical achievements and no longer looks backward on past accomplishments but does she know what she is headed for in the future?

The prosperity of the nation depends on its agriculture and the farmer should control these most important commodities through wise economy, thrift, efficient production, organization of business principles, marketing and cooperation, yet Mr. Campbell finds the poorest business organization among the American farmers of today. If organized business can be successfully carried on in Denmark, can not the rural American farmer see that they can do something to save America from a farm peasantry? Shall rural life decline or shall it prosper and through cooperation travel on the road to success? Read what Mr. Campbell has to say.

On "The Evolution of the Country Community" Mr. Wilson centers his attention around the rural church and school and regards them as important institutions for building and organizing country life. He does not treat the church in ecclesiastical terms, but rather as a register of the well-being of the community. He finds that what ever affects the church and school certainly does affect the community. The author says because these institutions are so important they should have a union and see what concerns the country people as a whole and have a desire to inspire, or rural life will suffer.

"The Awakening Community," by Mary Mims, is a most humane book. It is a fine book of courage and full of practical ideas. Every citizen should read this story of the adventurous records of hundreds of communities in Louisiana, working under the guidance of Miss Mims. What they have done to awaken the community to its needs through cooperation, neighborly spirit can be brought almost in any rural community through leadership and cooperation on the part of everyone for the welfare and happiness of the community life.

The story told in its most unique way certainly does inspire one to do more than ever to bring about this community awakening. The book is full of good suggestions for community gatherings and could easily be adapted to meet local conditions.

Wireless Outfit to Relay Messages of Athletes Home

Olympic Village, Los Angeles.—One of the spots liable to be as fraught with drama as the stadium where most of the events will take place in the Olympic athletic spectacle is a tiny cottage at the entrance to the Village where the amateur wireless outfit is located. Over this service will be relayed the personal messages of victory or defeat of the visiting teams to their home lands and anxious families. Pictured above, left to right, are E. D. McNeely, with ear phone, the operator of the amateur station, and E. L. "Dunc" Gray, Australian, who is sending a message home.

W. T. C. C. to Stage Five-Year Contest

Hereford has been asked to enter the Inter-Community Beautification Contest just launched by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

Rules and regulations of the contest, an entry blank, and a letter inviting Hereford to enter have been received by Mrs. C. R. Bentley, stenographer of the local chamber, from D. A. Bandeen, general manager of the regional chamber.

G. A. F. Parker, the local director in the regional chamber, has also received an announcement of the contest, and a letter from President Wilbur C. Hawk and Chairman Houston Harthe of the Beautification Committee, urging Hereford's entry in the contest.

The purpose of the contest is to promote the beautification of the West Texas landscape and appearance of West Texas communities by stimulating competition between the cities in beautification and clean-up activities. All affiliated towns of the West Texas Chamber are eligible for competition in the first year's contest which will close with the 1933 convention in Big Spring. The contests have been announced to run for a five year period—the same time of the All-West-Texas Beautification program of the regional chamber that was launched last year, and of which this contest is a part.

A loving cup will be awarded annually at the conventions of the West Texas Chamber to the town showing the best results in beautification activities as determined from reports made prior to the convention covering the past year. In addition the winning city will have its name carried in West Texas Today each month for a year, together with a description of the honor won.

Home planting and beautification, painting and repair, city property beautification, and county and rural beautification will be factors in the judging.

Special music. Young people meet at 7:30 p. m. Woman's Missionary Society each Wednesday at 4:00 p. m. Mid-week services each Wednesday at 8:30 p. m.

We will not come into better times until we return to God and his church. Make your plans to attend some church next Sunday. A welcome awaits you.

THE TEN COMMANDMENTS

Exodus 20:1-11

1. And God spoke all these words, saying:

2. I am the Lord thy God, which have brought thee out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of bondage.

3. Thou shalt have no other gods before me.

4. Thou shalt not make unto thee any graven image, or any likeness of anything that is in heaven above, or that is in the earth beneath, or that is in the water under the earth:

5. Thou shalt not bow down thyself to them, nor serve them: for I the Lord thy God am a jealous God, visiting the iniquity of the fathers upon the children unto the third and fourth generation of them that hate me;

6. And showing mercy unto thousands of them that love me, and keep my commandments;

7. Thou shalt not take the name of the Lord thy God in vain; for the Lord will not hold him guiltless that taketh his name in vain.

8. Remember the sabbath day, to keep it holy.

9. Six days shalt thou labour, and do all thy work:

10. But the seventh day is the sabbath of the Lord thy God: in it thou shalt not do any work, thou, nor thy son, nor thy daughter, nor thy man-servant, nor thy maid-servant, nor thy cattle, nor thy stranger that is within thy gates:

11. For in six days the Lord made heaven and earth, the sea, and all that in them is, and rested the seventh day: wherefore the Lord blessed the sabbath day, and hallowed it.

Golden Text: Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thine heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy might.—Deut. 6:5.

Introduction.
The commandments are not out of style . . . because moral history has not changed, because people have not changed . . . because God has not changed. And the laws which he gave to man in the dawn of time will be the laws of God when the last day breaks. We speak of having left them behind. Far from that, we have not even caught up with them.—John Alexander Hayes.

Lesson Connection.
From the Wilderness of Sin the Israelites journeyed onward to Rephidim, where three important things happened. (1) The water falling, the people were about to stone Moses, whereupon he was commanded by the Lord to obtain water by striking the rock. (2) Israel was attacked by a tribe of Amalekites, who were defeated, Joshua leading the army while Moses, with Aaron and Hur, prayed to God. (3) Moses was joined by his wife and two sons, also by Jethro, his father-in-law, who greatly helped by his suggestions concerning organization. Read Exodus 18 and 19 for the story.

Israel at Mt. Sinai.
From Rephidim the journey was continued in a southerly direction to Mount Sinai, where, in fulfillment of the promise made to Moses at the burning bush, the Israelites worshipped Jehovah (Ex. 3:12). Moses was told that Jehovah was ready to enter into a sacred covenant with Israel, and for three days they prepared for the meeting with solemn ceremonies of purification. On the third day, as the people stood according to instructions, Jehovah came down in a strange and awe-inspiring manifestation of his majesty, and gave Israel the immortal Ten Commandments, the embodiment of moral conceptions which became the very heart of Israel's moral code, and the guide of the ages since. They have never become obsolete, because they deal with matters fundamental and vital in every age.

The Impressive Surroundings.
The setting for the momentous revelation was most appropriate. The awe-inspiring grandeur and the impressive stillness that one encounters only in such places, give emphasis to the words of the Eternal as he utters them in the thunder's roar and the lightning's flashes. Moses there on the mountaintop alone with the Eternal, is elevated into a greatness that is well-nigh superhuman; the tallest figure in history—excepting only the Christ—rising above David and Paul, Plato and Aristotle, Alexander, Caesar and Napoleon.

The First Commandment.
"Thou shalt have no other gods before me." The principle behind this First Commandment is fidelity. It does not recognize the reality of other gods, but it does face the fact that men in their ignorance thought there were other gods and were worshipping them. God has called Israel for the purpose of revealing himself to them and through them to the whole world. Fidelity to Jehovah is absolutely essential. For that our Saviour argues, "Ye cannot serve God and mammon." We need today to recall the spirit and words of Jesus: "Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God, and him only shalt thou serve."—Matt. 4:7.

The Second Commandment.
"Thou shalt not make unto thee any graven image." Graven images, material representations of God, were stumbling blocks then as they are now. Although the golden calf of Aaron was meant to aid in the worship of Jehovah, it was a snare, because God was identified with it and limited by it. "God is a Spirit," said Jesus, "and they that worship him must worship in spirit and in truth."

The Third Commandment.
"Thou shalt not take the name of Jehovah thy God in vain." Moffatt translates, "You shall not use the name of the Eternal, your God, profanely." This command forbids all irreverent use of the divine name, all light and trivial use of it as in swearing. Profanity is so common in America that it has been called "the great American sin." "Profanity is a sign of impoverished thought," Lord Byron remarked of an acquaintance, "He knew not what to say, and so he swore." We are told of Laurence Oliphant's father that he got in the way of using bad words for want of something to say. Our Lord supplemented this commandment most helpfully when he said solemnly: "I say unto you that for every idle word that men shall speak, they shall give account in the day of judgment."—Prof. Henry Sloan Coffin. "For Jehovah will not hold him guiltless that takes his name in vain." That is, God will hold him guilty, will condemn him; and the most terrible punishment will be a loss of the sense of spiritual things and an increasing separation of the soul from God.

The Fourth Commandment.
"Remember the Sabbath day to keep it holy." The use of the word "remember" shows that God was laying down no new law for Israel. He was only telling them to remember an old law, as old as mankind. "The Sabbath is one of the very oldest of all religious institutions, a relic of Eden itself. It is 'the Lord's day,' a standing witness to the finished work of Redeeming Love, as the seventh day had been a memorial of the finished work of Creative Power."—Rev. G. H. Knight.

Work Is a Duty—Idleness a Sin.
"Six days shalt thou labor, and do all thy work." Work is enjoined, just as much as rest is enjoined. The main reason why many do not observe the Sabbath is because they do not work hard enough during the week to get their tasks out of the way. They desecrate the Sabbath by attending then to postponed and neglected duties, or they spoil it by worrying over them and dreading the accumulations of tasks they must face on the morrow. Let the student prepare his Monday's lessons thoroughly on Saturday. Let the merchant come to the Sabbath with his books all in order and his correspondence all attended to. Let the day of rest find the housekeeper prepared to rest and worship in it. Like all good things the Sabbath must be prepared for.

One Day in Seven Is God's.
"But the seventh day is a sabbath unto Jehovah thy God." To be spent as to God, since it comes from God. "Work is one of God's greatest blessings, but God never meant that we should overwork. An unresting civilization cannot long do its work well. This law of one in seven seems to be written with the finger of nature. Physiologists have proved that one in ten (as tried during the French revolution) would be insufficient. God understands the strain, the wear and tear of life, and gives us this foil for our weakness. The

A light rain fell here Tuesday, but not enough to help the crops much. A good rain is needed.

Mrs. Nola Mae Bennett and Miss Netha Crawford accompanied the former's brother, Cecil Crawford, of Hereford to Portales, New Mexico, Tuesday.

The pie supper Saturday night was a fair success. Mrs. O. L. Echols and family, H. Echols and Miss Zena Waggoner of Clovis; C. Jones of Friona, and Ed Beason, John and James Eason of Oklahoma Lane, furnished the program.

Mr. and Mrs. Kelly Gray of Westway were at the pie supper. Mr. Gray acting as auctioneer.

H. L. McLean, Kelly Gray and Ed Beason were candidates for the ugliest man, Mr. Gray winning the pie. Misses Vena May Welch, Noble McLean and Lucille Hays were in the contest for the place of prettiest girl, Miss Hays winning.

Charlie Hays had the misfortune to get his leg thrown out of place and is having to use a crutch to get about with for a few days.

The many friends of Mrs. T. Presley are glad to know she is doing well, and is expected to return home from the hospital in another week.

Misses Etta and Gladys Brumley and Messrs. Cecil and Vistor Brumley were visitors here Saturday evening.

Black baseball team defeated Farwell Sunday by the score of 8 to 9.

Rev. Jones of Hub preached here Sunday night, and his sermon was greatly enjoyed. He will preach here again next Sunday morning and night.

Mr. and Mrs. N. A. Smith left Monday to spend a few weeks with friends in Dawn.

Mrs. G. W. Brumley and Rogers Brumley and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Joiner all of Hereford visited in the R. O. Bennett home Sunday afternoon.

Here and There

By MRS. C. E. TICE

Farmers are busy preparing wheat land, but moisture is badly needed in nearly every field.

Howard Waldron of Hereford spent the week end with the Whitaker boys.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Harlin were Sunday guests at the Jack Roberson home in Hereford.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Nowak and children of Runningwater were Sunday guests of John Gaetz.

One day last week at Deane and Duane Tice were playing in the yard they discovered a snake coiled up under a tree, and Deane's cries as he tried to hold Duane back from going to look at it, attracted his mother, and calling the men nearby they killed the snake which proved to be a rattler with seven rattles. A very narrow escape for these youngsters.

Mrs. J. B. Harlin and Henry Allman spent Wednesday with Mrs. Mobley.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Mercer of Silvertown were week end guests at the W. A. Springer home.

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Dixon attended the funeral of Mrs. Henry Cloyd Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Woodruff of Amarillo spent Sunday at the Brooks home. Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Lindsay called on them in the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Dungan moved to the Lance place last Friday to put in the wheat crop.

Leo and Paul Williams and Mrs. Henry Allman were called to Floyd Monday by the serious illness of their father. Mr. and Mrs. Whitely are staying in the Alman home while they are away.

Messrs. and Meses. W. A. Springer, J. E. Andrews, Lester Sparkman, D. Roberson, A. T. Jones and Misses Benson attended the singing convention at Friona Sunday.

Mrs. Mary Tice spent Wednesday with Mrs. John Gaetz.

The W. W. club met with Mrs. A. Beauford Thursday in an all day meeting, with 11 members answering roll call. My Ideal Vacation, Misses Arlene Buchanan, Maxine Tice and Faye Buchanan of Idalou were visitors. Following the short business meeting, Miss Buzzell and Mrs. Bob Wilson each gave a talk. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Dave Benson, with Mrs. Mobley in charge of the social hour.

Miss Faye Buchanan of Idalou visited in the Blain Poff and Springer homes last week.

There will be singing at Friona each Sunday night except the third. Everybody welcome.

Mrs. R. A. Walls and son, John Douglas, returned home Wednesday of last week after visiting Mrs. Wells' daughter in Minneapolis, Minnesota.

WHETHER you should use a Mid-continent or a pure Pennsylvania grade motor oil is a matter for your engine to decide. The important thing is to get the finest oil in these classes that money will buy.

Sinclair Opaline Motor Oil is a scientific blend of the oldest Mid-continent crudes mellowed and filtered for an average of 80 million years. Included in this blend is the famous Cambro-Ordovician crude taken from a mile and a quarter below the surface in Oklahoma.

Sinclair Pennsylvania Motor Oil could not be better, for it is made 100% from the costliest Pennsylvania grade crude oil—the famous Bradford-Allegany crude which was formed in the Devonian

Age more than a hundred million years ago. Mellowed and filtered in its earthy bed for successive ages—ages which saw the rise and fall of life in strange forms—Bradford-Allegany crude has no superior among Pennsylvania crudes for sheer lubricating quality.

Sinclair not only de-waxes Sinclair Pennsylvania and Sinclair Opaline in the refining process—it goes one step further and takes out the non-lubricating petroleum jelly by chilling the oil down to as low as 60° F. below zero.

Note how Sinclair Pennsylvania or Sinclair Opaline stands up in the heat of hard, fast driving. Note especially at draining time how little oil has been used up—positive, visible proof of protection for the last mile as well as the first!

Canner-Sealer Equipment Free to All Citizens

Deaf Smith county has purchased an 18-quart automatic pressure cooker and a large sealer for citizens and groups of citizens to use for their canning and preserving of vegetables and fruits. The large sized equipment is available to everyone, yet each must take his turn in regular order as the request is made.

Miss Lula Mae Martin, county demonstration agent, is in charge of the equipment, and those desiring to use the canner and sealer should make arrangements with her. To those not familiar with the operation of the equipment, Miss Martin will give instructions, and if possible, make a demonstration of its operation, but she cannot depart from her schedule of work and service to other communities to give all-day canning instructions.

Deaf Smith county will furnish the cans and necessary canning supplies for any person or group of persons who will give back to the county one-half of the amount canned, to be added to the surplus the county is now preparing to use for welfare work this winter. Thus those who have an abundance of growing vegetable and garden produce but do not have equipment or cans to preserve it, may get all the materials necessary if they will divide their abundance with the county to help in feeding those who are unfortunate this winter.

ARMY BALLOONISTS PRESENTED LITCHFIELD TROPHY.

Washington, D. C.—Senator Hiram Bingham of Connecticut, president of the National Aeronautic Association, presents the Litchfield Trophy to the winning team in the National Elimination Balloon Race.

Midgets Lose But Hold Lead In Ball League

The Midgets were tumbled from their perfect percentage this week by the Odd Fellows who took Monday's game from them 3 to 2, but a score like that could not be called much of a defeat. The youngsters still top the league and may be expected to win their tilt of next week to finish the second half with an even .500 percentage.

The Firemen turned the hose on the Legion team last Friday, 9-2, when they ran up a strong score in the first innings and the Legion never recovered from the shock. The lowly Lions surprised themselves and the fans by showing their teeth and putting up a real scrap yesterday to take their first game of the second half from the Legionnaires, 9 to 3.

The Bible Class and Firemen play tomorrow at 5:00 o'clock.

Miss Hazel Wininger, owner of the Imperial Chevrolet Motor of Canyon, was a business visitor in Hereford Friday. She has appointed Artie Daniel and Clyde Honea as her Chevrolet representatives of Hereford, and announces the fact in advertising this week.

TOO MANY FISH; WANTS TO GIVE SOME AWAY

Joe Huckert, who lives in North Hereford on 25-Mile Avenue, has so many little catfish in his stock tank he must get rid of them, as there isn't room for anything but the fish.

Two years ago 14 tiny catfish caught in the Tierra Blanca were put into his stock tank. At that time they were each about half an inch long. Now they are from six to eight inches long, and have increased so prolifically that the water seems to swarm with the tiny black fellows.

Mr. Huckert says he would like for folks who have stock tanks and would like to have some of the little catfish to come and get them, as he must get nearly all of them out. He plans to give all but a few to people who wish them, and if that does not thin out his fish he will take them down and turn them loose in the Tierra Blanca.

BRINGS IN NEW TYPE OF VEGETABLE PEA

W. J. Stewart, who lives a half mile south of Dawn, brought to the Brand-Saturday specimens of a new kind of garden pea that has proved a most prolific producer of choice food. While resembling the usual black-eyed peas in growth, the pods reach a length of 18 inches, are very rapid of growth, much more tender, and, Mr. Stewart says, much finer flavored.

The Brand gratefully acknowledges the assistance of J. E. Hill in coming in with Mr. Stewart to bring specimens of the variety. The new peas should be a valuable addition to the useful vegetables grown in the Panhandle.

Seen On the Screen at the Star

The 10-cent admission prices of this week with a matinee each afternoon and a change of pictures every day has proved to be most popular. Today's, Friday's and Saturday's programs falling under that admission charge.

Today's picture is given as the star program of the week, with Lionel Barrymore playing the title role in "Washington Masquerade", said by pre-view reports to be the equal of any release made this year.

"Skyscraper Souls" plays Friday and Lewis Stone appears in "Unashamed" for Saturday's feature. Sunday's matinee and Monday and Tuesday's evening picture will bring Ramon Novarro in "Huddle", a tremendous success wherever it has been shown and is proving to be one of the most popular presentations of the year.

Warner Baxter comes in the One-Cent special feature Wednesday and Thursday of next week in "Man About Town". Some exceptional strong features on the coming programs at the Star include Richard Dix in "The Roar of the Dragon", on August 14-15-16, and "Bring 'em Back Alive", a story of African wild game life, to come August 21-22-23.

STATE CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS PUBLISHED

There will be found in the Brand this week nine proposed changes in the state constitution. These changes have to do in general with voting and property of citizens, including taxation and compulsory payment therefor.

It will be well for all citizens to study these changes as they are proposed, that they may be informed whether or not to vote for them at the November elections. Texas is noted for trying to make changes in its constitution, but the usual procedure is for the people to vote down each change rather than to do any remodeling.

A Want Ad in The Brand is a sure, steady worker—try it out.
