ECONOMY

■ Gasoline, natural gas prices ease; inflation rate shows 0.2 percent gain

WASHINGTON (AP) — Consumer inflation edged up a tame 0.2 percent last month, as prices for gasoline and natural gas eased after soaring in June, the Labor Department reported Wednesday.

Outside the volatile energy and food categories, consumer inflation's "core" rate also rose just 0.2 percent, for a fourth consecutive month, suggesting that most other prices remain under control. The seasonally-adjusted increases in both the overall Consumer Price Index, the most closely-watched inflation gauge, and its core rate matched many analysts' expectations.

The July performance brought the core rate for the first seven months of the year to an average 2.6 percent, up from 1.9 percent in the same period last year. The pickup in this year's prices results mostly from rising energy

The inflation performance could help persuade Federal Reserve policy-makers to leave interest rates unchanged at their meeting next Tuesday.

In another sign of a cooling economy, the Commerce Department reported Wednesday that housing construction plunged 3.3 percent in July to the lowest level in at least two years. It was the third straight monthly de-

Builders began work on new homes at a seasonally adjusted annual rate of 1.51 million units in July, below many economists' prediction of 1.58 million.

After a big jump in June of 0.6 percent, the Consumer Price Index rose a seasonally adjusted 0.2 percent in July. The jolt in June came from an expected leap in energy prices, which hit their highest point in 14 months with a 5.6 percent bounce.

Principals say things go smoothly

The new school year began Monday and by all accounts, the students, teachers and staff got off on the right foot.

With more than 3,660 students flocking back to the eight HISD campuses, it would only be expected to have at least a few glitches along the way, but the consensus of school administrators seems to be: "The first few days went great."

This is not to say there were no glitches. Lost, new or forgotten lunch numbers seemed to be the biggest problem facing the students. Students, eating in the cafeterias, use a four-digit code to record free, reduced or paid meals.

"Some of our students got new lunch numbers since last year and some of them didn't get their numbers until we were in the cafeteria, but everything else went smoothly," Stacy Bixler, principal at West Central Intermediate, said.

Aikman principal Charles Lyles also saw a few problems with the lunch numbers, mainly with younger students learning their Older students, especially at Hereford High School, faced a different set of problems when it came to hiking to the new career/technology buildings. HHS principal Linda Lowe said, "I've done it and Patricia Diggs has done it in the allotted time. The kids just have to learn to adjust their time and know they have to limit their conversations.'

Most of the elementary and intermediate school administrators agree the early open houses had a great deal to do with the smooth transition from summer to back-to-school.

Bluebonnet reports more than 250 students and 300 parents attended the school's open house. Tierra Blanca principal Sharon Hodges said the open house and hot dog cookout helped to alleviate some of the younger students' fears and get them acquainted with their teachers.

Shirley principal David Fanning put a different twist on the smooth return.

"I think the kids were ready to get back. The summer has been long and they are ready to get back to the classroom routine,' Fanning said.

Students enduring the hardest first day were probably the new seventh-grade students, who had to get used to a new school and new administrators, and also a whole new routine, going from class to class in a limited time, dealing with obstinate lockers, and fumbling with the new ID badges.

Hereford Junior High principal Kelli Moulton said, "This is really a change for them. Going from having to change classes only once a day to eight changes. But in all, it went well.

To prove the adaptability and resilience of the junior high students, the staff planned a fire drill on the first day of classes. "In the event of a real fire, it would be just as hectic," Moulton said. "It just got the kids ready for the real thing. Even with the smooth start across the district, a few principals admitted to a first-day fright or two.

"About 7:40 Monday morning, I was working cafeteria duty and I kept wondering, Where are we going to put all these students?' Today (Tuesday) was a lot better," Bluebonnet principal Richard Sauceda said.

Both Aikman and Bluebonnet personnel report nearly full classrooms. Bluebonnet claimed 366 enrolled students Tuesday; Aikman received seven new students which nearly capped their Most principals expect the enrollment to continue through Labor Day, with student registrations continuing to trickle in.

Demos poised to ratify Gore's nomination

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Al Gore, the Democrat-in-chief now, is telling voters "you ain't seen nothing yet" as he seeks to take over President Clinton's lease on the White House with a promise to lead America to even better

With the ritual roll call of states, the Democratic National Convention ratifies Gore's presidential nomination Wednesday night.

First, Sen. Joseph Lieberman of Connecticut was being installed as Gore's vice presidential running mate, and delivering his acceptance speech as the first Jew ever to run on the national ticket of a major party.

Sen. Joseph Lieberman set for acceptance speech.

Lieberman said in an interview said Gore "doesn't want with The Associated Press that his aim in the speech was to introduce himself to the American people, to talk about "the Al Gore that I know and I think a lot of Americans still don't know" and to warn that a Republican victory would turn the nation away from "the positive course that it's on.'

I've always done and work extra hard on the days that I'm campaigning," he said. Lieberman

He said his Orthodox Judaism will keep him from campaigning on Saturdays and on three Jewish holidays in the weeks before the Nov. 7 election. "I'm just going to do what me to vary from my traditional practices and won't."

He said his faith would not affect his handling of Middle East matters, because the record shows "that I've obviously supported the U.S. position" when American policy diverges from that of Israel. "My first and only loyalty is to the United States of America," he said.

Texas executes number 29

HUNTSVILLE, Texas (AP) — A murder case that began with a 79-cent purchase made more than 21 years ago in San Antonio could come to an end Wednesday evening with the execution of a convicted killer who has a lengthy arrest record. John Satterwhite, 53, faced lethal injection for the fatal shooting of a convenience store clerk during a robbery. His execution would be the third of six scheduled for this month in Texas and the 29th this year in the nation's most active capital punishment state. At least 10 other death row inmates have lethal injections set through the end of 2000, which could wind up a record year for executions in Texas, topping the 37 condemned prisoners put to death in 1997. In June, the U.S. Supreme Court refused to review Satterwhite's case. His attorney, Lewin Plunkett, said this week no 11th-hour legal appeals were anticipated. "We don't know anything else we could do," he said.

Expert supports DNA test

BROWNWOOD, Texas (AP) — Although DNA tests failed to clear a convicted child rapist and killer who won a brief reprieve, states should do such analysis when felons claim they were wrongly convicted, a legal expert says.

Evidence should be retested if it is directly related to someone's guilt or innocence, said Dr. Edward Blake of Forensic Science Associates of Richmond, Calif.

"In sexual crimes, you have biological material that is directly material to the likely bad guy," Blake said Tuesday. "If that evidence has not been subjected to state-of-the-art genetic analysis, it should be done as a safety net."

DNA testing done by Blake, the state of Texas and FBI failed to clear Ricky Nolen McGinn, who was convicted in 1995 of raping and murdering his 12-year-old stepdaughter.

The tests were done in the weeks after McGinn was granted a 30-day reprieve June 1, just minutes before a lethal

After the results were released Tuesday, state District Judge Stephen Ellis set McGinn's execution for Sept. 27.

Elsewhere

DNA TESTING: Roy Wayne Criner was freed after 10 years imprisonment Tuesday, as officials expected a pardon from Gov. George W. Bush after DNA evidence cleared him. The Board of Pardons and Paroles Monday voted to pardon Criner in the rape of 16-year-old girl who also was murdered. Jubilant family members greeted Criner, who said he just wanted to go home and have a hot bath. ... CAMPAIGN 2000: George W. Bush's presidential campaign is paying expenses for a small group of state Democrats who have come to their party's national convention city to support the Republican governor. State Sen. Ken Armbrister, state Rep. Robert Junell and former Texas Supreme Court Justice John Hill are part of the Bush campaign contingent.

Lady Whitefaces show determination in grueling three set win over Lubbock Coronado

Jeff Blackmo reford Brand Sports Editor

After a sluggish showing in Lubbock this past weekend, the Lady Whitefaces put on an offensive show to remem-ber Tuesday night in Here-

The Lady Herd gutted out a three set victory last night 15-13, 10-15 and 15-3 over the Lubbock Coronado Mustangs.

After struggling to get into a hitting rhythm during sev-eral scrimmages last week-end, head volleyball coach Brenda Kitten said she felt her team came out deter-mined to play a better offen-

"We did a great job of banging and hitting," Kitten said. "Our offensive power showed tonight."

Even though there were sev-Even though there were several miscues in the win, Kitten said seeing her girls take charge was the most important thing.

"The main thing was that we played aggressively," Kitten said. "When we are non-aggressive it hurts us.

"I just told them to stay aggressive."

aggressive."

the Mustangs' attack.

The Lady Whitefaces took an early 10-7 lead in the second pieces but could not put Coronado away. After fighting off several kill attempts the ladies from Lubbock surged

The losing set exposed some of the Lady Herd's weak points including some position problems resulting in easy Coronado points. Coach Kitten said the Mustangs were able to get some balls to fall softly in mid-court in mid-court

"Coronado was able to roll the ball several times," Kitten

Kitten said her girls then tried to overcompensate the late Coronado surge by hitting the ball hard, but the coach said the hard hitting took its toll on their form.

"Our arm swings and el-bows hurt us," Kitten said." "Hitting hard is good, but scribe to the reach is more important than how hard the ball is hit." With all of the momentum going the opposite way, Kitten said her team buckled down showing their character and resilience by dominating the third set.

"Tonight said a lot for us," Kitten said. "We haven't looked as eager or as hungry, but tonight we had something to prove to ourselves."

After falling behind early in the third set 0-2, the Hostile Herd stormed back to trample the Mustangs 15-3. Coronado had no answer for the determined Hereford team.

Kitten said beating a team of Coronado's caliber will help them believe in their own abilities, and she also said her team must focus and maintain the desire for another state

"My gut tells me we have the potential to be good as long as we are hungry," Kitten said. "We have got to want to Another good aspect of the Hereford win is the emergence of two key players for the Lady Whitefaces. Kitten said sophomore middle blocker Griffin and junior middle blocker Bernhardt are becoming the go-to players on the team.

"Sarah and Michelle had a lot of kills," Kitten said. "Right now they really want the ball and are calling for it."

The Lady Whitefaces travel to Pampa this Friday and Saturday for a tournament that will pit them against several other area teams. The Lady Whitefaces' next home game is Tuesday at 5 p.m. when Amarillo High and Odessa Permian visit Hereford.

The Lady Whitefaces took care of the Lubbock Coronado Mustangs Tuesday evening winning their three set match 15-13,10-15 and 15-3. The Lady Herd relied on their defense led by (top photo) Michelle Bernhardt, Kali Hall and (bottom picture) Ashley Fangman. The team has a 1-0 record going into the Pampa tournament held Friday and Saturday in Pampa. On Tuesday, Amarillo High and Odessa Permian come to Hereford to take on the Lady

Kingsbury looking to lead Red Raiders

New head coach Mike Leach ready to put team in Kingsbury's hands

LUBBOCK, Texas (AP) -When Kliff Kingsbury made his first collegiate start in the 1999 season finale for Texas Tech, little did he know he was making an impression on his new coach.

Mike Leach was then still the offensive coordinator at Oklahoma, and on the other side, when Kingsbury hit 9-ofers beat the Sooners 48-38. Now Kingsbury is the sophomore starting quarterback for Leach, who has replaced retired coach Spike Dykes and could make Kingsbury as well brought his high-octane passing attack to Texas Tech.

With this offense it's a lot shorter passes and you hardly ever throw as hard as you can," said Kingsbury, the son of a high school coach. "The schemes are incredible. It's really going to help our offense."

It is definitely going to change the look of the Red Raiders, who ran two-thirds of the time last season. And that necessitates the need for plenty of practice.

"We practice the way we are going to do it over and over and over again and that 17 passes for 259 yards and three touchdowns and ran for and everybody sees how it all another score as the Red Raidis going to fall together," Leach

> The new offense basically throws the Red Raiders' running game into the air, and known as the two Texas Tech running backs named Williams. Ricky Williams finished fourth nationally in rushing as a sophomore two years ago — behind the Heisman Trophy winner of the same name from Texas with 1,582 yards rushing. He missed most of last year after a knee injury in the season opener. With Ricky Williams out last season, Shaud Williams ran for 658 yards, including a Tech freshman single-game record with 230 against Colorado. Both Williams' are back, and sure to see fewer carries in Leach's attack. But after thinking out the prospects for the season, Ricky Williams has no problem with the plan. He actually is looking forward to the changes. "When the change first happened, I didn't like it," said Ricky Williams. "Then coach Leach explained it to us that we would get the ball, and that loosened things up for me and Shaud."

Other Tech players have also responded positively to Leach's system, one that spreads out the field and allows the opportunity for more players to make things happen.

"We are going to find ways to get Ricky and Shaud the ball and it's going to help them because they are not going to get as banged up throughout the year," Kingsbury said. "Everywhere coach Leach has gone, it's clicked. We have a lot of weapons and we'll be able to move the ball one way or What Leach preaches worked at Oklahoma last year. Under his guidance, the Sooners' offense improved from 101st nationally in total offense to 11th with 427 yards per game.

"You just kind of ... take whatever the defense gives you," Ricky Williams said, try-ing to explain the new of-fense. "Coach Leach always thinks and always is coming up with ways to best use people. He has a very different style."

At Tech, Leach takes over a team that has had seven straight winning seasons. He also inherits a 12-game schedule with eight home games, including Nebraska and Texas.And he says the Red Raiders are further along than any other team he's worked with before. That includes his time as offensive coordinator at Kentucky when Tim Couch was the quarter-back. The defense is also on track, even with only four starters returning. "We're pretty solid over there," Leach said. "I think we have a pretty good combination of speed and size. If we start moving the ball on them (in drills), they move. In the big picture, you better pretty well trade some blows or else you're not going to be good on both sides of the ball."

Dykes, the beloved coach who retired under some pressure after 14 seasons sees several changes., especially on offense.

"That's just apples and oranges," Dykes said. "It's just football and there are a lot of different ways to do it.'

New York handles Rangers soundly in Arlington, 10-2

Cone wins second straight game

ARLINGTON, Texas (AP) -The irony wasn't lost on David Cone.

With two straight victories after going 15 starts without a win, Cone (3-10) is making a comeback.

allowed just one hit over four shutout innings for a save as the New York Yankees beat Texas 10-2 on Tuesday night.

"It's kind of ironic considering what we have said. "I'm really happy to see him make it back after being released earlier this year. He's really throwing the ball well."

Cone shut out Texas on three hits for the first four innings. The Yankees had a 10-0 lead before the Rangers kees. finally broke through in the fifth when Rusty Greer and Rafael Palmeiro hit consecutive RBI singles.

By that point, Cone already had the required five innings for the victory. Manager Joe Torre then went to the bullpen for Gooden — and didn't have to make another trip to the mound until the final out was made and he went to shake the pitcher's hand. "I hadn't been out there in a while, especially in the ninth So is Dwight Gooden, who inning," Gooden said. "It was nice for myself just to get back on track because the last couple of times I came out of the pen, I gave up some runs early." Gooden, with his third both been through," Cone team this season, allowed just one hit in his fifth relief appearance of the season. He began the year with Houston, was traded to Tampa Bay for cash considerations and then signed June 11 to a minorleague contract with the Yan-

> The save was only the second of Gooden's career, and came 243 appearances and nearly 11 years after his only other one. The first save was Sept. 19, 1989, when he was pitching for the New York Mets and coming back from an injury.

"He's throwing strikes, what a difference," Torre said. "Coming out of the bullpen or starting, he's been throwing a lot of strikes. He is so different from the pitcher we saw in Cleveland or when he left us. He just seems to have so much more confidence.

Cone was given a four-run lead before he even threw his first pitch. He struck out three, walked one and allowed seven hits.

David Justice, Scott Brosius and Paul O'Neill all hit long two-run homers for the Yankees, who have won 10 straight games against the Rangers, including three in last year's playoffs.

New York has won 39 of the last 50 games between the teams and Wednesday will try to complete its second threegame sweep in Arlington this season.

Texas' Gabe Kapler extended his hitting streak to 28 games, the longest in the majors this season, when he bounced a single up the middle against Gooden in the eighth. He was 0-for-3 with three flyouts until then. "I really felt uncomfortable for the first time in a long time," said Kapler, who is only halfway to Joe DiMaggio's record 56-game streak. "I slowed down in my last at-bat and I was able to get a better look at it."

The Yankees started with three consecutive singles, the third by O'Neill snapping his 0-for-15 slump and driving in the first run. Justice's 443-foot homer, the longest ever to right at The Ballpark in Arlington, made it 4-0.

Brosius, who turned 34 Tuesday, hit a 374-foot homer to left in the third that made it 7-0. Jorge Posada had an RBI double in the fourth, becoming the last of the New York starters to get a hit, and O'Neill's 408-foot homer to right-center came an inning later.

Texas starter Doug Davis (4-4) allowed seven runs on 10 hits in just 2 2-3 innings. Davis, who has split time between the starting rotation and the bullpen for the Rangers this season, is 1-3 with a 11.70 ERA in his five starts.

"I got behind a lot. After the two bloop hits in the first, I started getting a little tired, I started leaving the ball up," Davis said. "Justice and Brosius each got a hold of pitches up. I got them up there and they hit them pretty Notes: Cone is 11-3 in 20 career appearances against Texas with a 2.65 ERA.

McCartney will release a new Beatle recording

THE ASSOCIATED PRESS eople

LONDON (AP) - Soon making another bid for the charts: The Beatles.

Former Beatle Paul McCartney announced Tuesday that he plans to release a new dance track next week featuring outtakes from original re-cording sessions by the Fab Four.

"Free Now," a club mix made by McCartney with the help of the Welsh band Super Furry Animals, will be featured on the new CD "The Liverpool Sound Collage."

McCartney described the track as a "manic Beatles single."

"It's a new little piece of Beatles," he said. "It's more underground than what you usually hear from me, but I like to be free enough to do this sort of thing."

The track mixes recordings of the Beatles chatting during studio sessions between 1965 and 1969 with previously unreleased guitarwork by the McCartney created "The Liverpool Sound Collage" to accompany an exhibition at the Tate Liverpool gallery by artist Peter Blake. It takes the form of an ambient soundtrack of life in the northern city, featuring everything from interviews with local shoppers to quotes from students.

 Tribal judge slaps senator with fine

IGNACIO, Colo. - Sen. Ben. Nighthorse Campbell was fined $250 by an Indian tribal judge and ordered to serve 10 hours of community service for shooting at a dog from the side of a highway near his home.

The 66-year-old Republican shot at and missed a dog that was attacking his dog on Saturday, tribal prosecutor Julie Holligan said after Campbell accepted a plea agreement Monday.

Writing Want Ads that really sell!

Unsure how to write a Classified Ad that will get results? Follow these pointers and you'll soon have an empty space in your storage room and cash in your pocket.

For starters, look at ads which offer the same intem/products. Get a sense of going rates and ideas for how to make your ad stand out. Once you're ready to write, begin with exactly what you're selling: "Dining room set, maple, six chairs." Then rememeber these hints:

• Give the price. A newpaper consultant says 70 percent of Use key words to describe what you're selling. The key words for a car are make, model, year, body style, color, mileage and price. If it's a house, key words are location, type of construction, number of bedrooms and baths, and . Don't use abbreviations. It's tempting to abbreviate and save money if ads are billed by the line. Brand ads are billed by the words, so spell them out so readers won't be confused trying to figure out abbreviations.

• Don't be misleading. Think accurate and factual when you write. Be sure to include a phone number and the best times to reach you.

Vincent Urbanczyk (left), a member of the Mighty Maroon Band, puts his father, Ben, through some paces as part of the "Box/Diamond Drill 2000" performance Tuesday evening at Whiteface Stadium. Earlier in the evening, the Mighty Maroon Booster Club held its first meeting of the year. The boosters elected officers and discussed activities of the Hereford High and Hereford Junior High bands. Following a practice, the Mighty Maroon Band performed in concert.

to an eruption of cheers as he slowly made his way down the crowded aisle.

Gore was due in Los Angeles today for a preview rally, before he comes to the convention on Thursday night to deliver the acceptance address that will begin the crucial, final phase of his campaign against the Republican nominee, Texas Gov. George Bush.

On the way, he and Clinton symbolized the reversal of their political roles at a rally Monroe, Mich., on Tuesday, with a long embrace and a mutual admiration trade-off. "Every good thing that has happened, that came out of our administration in the last eight years, Al Gore was at the heart of it," Clinton said. He said that includes "the new economy," welfare reform, advances in education and a lowered crime rate.

Convention.

"America's done well," Gore said, "but I tell you, you ain't seen nothing yet. We're going forward to even better times.

They didn't pass any torch or baton, but Clinton's stop at a McDonald's for french fries on the way out of town was an apt symbol of his new role. He said it used to be a regular thing when he was in private life, "so maybe I'll do it some more now." He was headed for a weekend at Lake Placid, N.Y.; Gore for the intensity of the convention and fall campaign.

The vice president said he knows there is "a hard-fought race" ahead of him. Two public opinion polls published Wednesday showed Bush ahead by 9-point margins.

In the city where John F. Kennedy was nominated for president 40 years ago and summoned Americans to a New Frontier, his brother, his daughter, a niece and a nephew took the convention stage in turn to evoke his memory and to urge Gore's

> The Massachusetts senator said Gore will strive to deliver the universal health care that has been "the driving dream of my public service."

Gore said at the rally with Clinton that he would "move toward universal coverage step by step, starting with coverage for every single child in America within the next four years."

Caroline Kennedy, the late president's daughter, told the convention "it is our turn to prove that the New Frontier was not a place in time but a timeless call." Bill Bradley, the lone, losing challenger to Gore for the nomination, declared it "absolutely essential" that Democrats unite to elect Gore. Jesse Jackson, in a speech that could help Lieberman dispel doubts among blacks about his views on affirmative action, said that when Gore chose his Jewish running mate, "he stood up for justice. ... Al Gore had brought the sons and daughters of slaves and slavemasters together with the sons and daughters of Holocaust survivors.

day, the Truth Squad — five Texas Democrats — pitched a brighter version of Bush. They did so, they said, to answer the unkind portrayals of Texas used to attack the Republican presidential nominee.

"We're out here to defend the honor of our state," said state Rep. Rob Junell of San Angelo. His posse will hold daily news conferences to discuss attacks against Texas and Bush.

Bush, they said, is a governor who worked with both parties in the Texas Legislature to pass the state's Children's Health Insurance Program, improve education and give teachers pay raises.

The Truth Squad, whose expenses are paid by the Bush campaign, is the latest unit offering its version of the governor's Texas record, but the only one to travel to the Democrats' convention.

By contrast, Peterson and the Truth Rangers - who hail from the Houston area printed 2,000 flyers with their own money. They say the literature proves Bush exaggerates Texas achievements and ignores its problems.

Rescuers try to reach stricken Russian sub

THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

News digest

MOSCOW - Rescuers in an underwater rescue capsule inched through swirling sand and strong currents Wednesday, trying to reach a crippled Russian nuclear submarine on the sea bottom with 116 sailors trapped inside. The rescue vehicle was looking for a cargo hatch to link up with the stricken Kursk, said navy Capt. Igor Babenko. But conditions on the bed of the Barents Sea, about 350 feet down, were described as very bad with rescuers unable to see more than a few inches through the sand and silt.
