Steel Issue Is Compared With Tidelands Case

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Daniel (D-Tex) said today the Supreme Court's "paramount rights" theory in upholding federal claims to offshore oil lands is closely related to former President Truman's "inherent powers" theory in seizing the steel mills.

Truman, in seizing the steel mills last year to avert a steel strike, said he acted under his inherent powers as President. The seizure subsequently was set aside by the Supreme Court.

Daniel told the committee that both the paramount rights theory and "the Truman theory" could "lead to further nationalization of property and untold centralization of government."

The U. S. Chamber of Commerce, as it has several times in the past, issued a statement today upholding the states' view in the years-long controversy.

Daniel testified in support of a bill by Sen. Holland (D-Fla) which would specify that the coastal and Gulf states shall have title to all submerged lands within their historic boundaries.

He said the fact that federal leases are so much cheaper than state leases gave rise to the entire controversy.

Applicants "blanketed the coast of California with their applications," he said, and hope to "cash in" if the lands are not restored to the states.

Daniel devoted much of his testimony to a discussion of Texas' special claim. He said Texas was admitted to the Union under the specific proviso that it would retain all vacant lands within the 10 1/2-mile limits of the seaward boundary it had as a republic.

Global Military Picture Is Reported To Be Grim

Congress Leaders Meet Eisenhower

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congressional leaders of both parties reviewed the global military situation with President Eisenhower today and a House member said afterward it was a portrayal of "a grim picture."

The Republican and Democratic leaders of the Senate and House spent an hour and a half with Eisenhower at the White House.

They were briefed on Korean War strategy and the military and diplomatic situations elsewhere by Gen. Omar Bradley, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, and by Allen W. Dulles, chief of the Central Intelligence Agency.

A presidential assistant, Robert J. Cutler, also took part in the briefing. He is in charge of liaison with the National Security Council.

After the session, Rep. Halleck (R-Ind), House floor leader, told reporters:

"Everybody knows it is a grim picture." Another Congress member who attended said no conclusions were reached, "unless you might say we are in a hell of a fix." He asked not to be named.

Senate Republican Leader Taft brushed by reporters, declaring he had "nothing, nothing at all" to say.

Then he tossed back over his shoulder as he strode from the White House:

"It was a briefing on a lot of facts, military and diplomatic." Halleck called it "a very informative briefing," which he said covered the whole military outlook.

He added it dealt with both the Korean and the Indo-China Wars, among other things.

When Halleck declared that everybody knows the world situation amounts to a grim picture, a reporter asked whether he meant on a military or economic basis.

Halleck said he meant both and added that the situation represented "a burden on the economy."

"The President said he wanted to tell us about the 'hot spots' generally," Sen. Bridges (R-NH) said on arrival at the White House.

Bridges, chairman of the Senate Appropriations Committee and president pro-tempore of the Senate, was one of 12 senators and 13 House members invited.

Vice President Nixon also joined the lawmakers for the meeting which is likely to affect important decisions and defense spending.

Such a far-ranging review presumably would include possible new action against Communist China, Secretary of State Dulles said yesterday that every conceivable measure to stop the flow of military supplies to Red China is being weighed by his department—including a naval blockade.

Dulles was not scheduled to attend today's meeting, however, nor was anyone else from the State Department.

James C. Hagerty, Press Secretary to the President, said the meeting is "briefing," indicating administration spokesmen expected to do most of the talking.

Hagerty was asked if the inclusion of Democrats was a step toward carrying out the bipartisan approach Eisenhower has promised in foreign and defense matters.

Membership In TSTA Now Up In Legislature

AUSTIN (AP)—Slum clearance and annexation problems of larger cities have been shunted to subcommittees of the Legislature for two weeks.

Action came in committee meetings yesterday. The next controversial question was up in the House today—a bill aimed at preventing required membership in the Texas State Teachers Assn. as a basis for getting a teaching job.

It was second on the House calendar. San Antonio citizens pleaded last night for help in getting rid of the tin can shacks in the slum areas of their city.

We have blocks where one water spigot serves 50 families," Rep. Stanley Banks Jr., San Antonio, said at a hearing before the House State Affairs Committee. "That's where our high tuberculosis, dysentery, diarrhea and infant death rates come from."

Banks asked for passage of his bill that would allow larger cities to set up redevelopment agencies and use funds appropriated by Congress to acquire the land of slum areas. The city would sell the land to private concerns for redevelopment.

Congress in 1949 passed the law under which the federal government would furnish two-thirds of the money, but each state must pass enabling legislation for its cities to use it.

The Senate State Affairs Committee sent the annexation problem to a subcommittee after it listened to a bitter clash between spokesmen for quarrelling cities and suburbs.

City officials called the bill "an iron curtain" against future growth of Texas' home-rule cities.

Proponents contended it was a fair solution to a long sore problem, midway between unlimited annexation and no annexation.

By Sen. Johnnie B. Rogers, Austin, the proposal seeks to set up standards by which a city may annex territory, requiring detailed maps and public hearings, prohibiting annexation of primarily rural lands, and providing for appeal to the courts.

Former Austin city attorney Truman O'Quinn said the proposal sought "some power of restraint" against a city's reaching out arbitrarily to take in farms and pastures. "and everything else in sight" to levy taxes but not to render services.

Cities would be able to protect themselves for health and sanitation and similar purposes by limited annexation without taxation, he said.

Meets Stalin

Screening U. S. Sabre jet pilots shot down two Russian-built MIGs and possibly a third, the U. S. Fifth Air Force said. Col. Royal N. Baker of McKinney, Tex., shot down his 10th Red warplane and became the second double ace in the Korean War.

The Air Force said 195 Thunderjets and Shooting Stars unleashed tons of bombs, following up a 300-plane raid yesterday on the sprawling area near Pyongyang, North Korean Red capital.

Pilots reported the target was flecked with smoke and flame from yesterday's raid. Today's strike was the fourth in the area in less than a week.

The air raiders said they knocked down at least 14 buildings today, started several raging fires and set off seven secondary explosions.

Other American fighter-bombers ranged far and wide across North Korea in smashing attacks on the Red road and rail facilities. The Air Force said Thunderjets destroyed 20 rail cars at Songchon, four locomotives south of Cheryong and a rail bridge at Hulchong. Trucks and supply dumps were also hit.

Today's toll of MIG's brought the six-day bag of Russian-built warplanes to 17, nine of them in two days. Additionally, five others have been probably destroyed and 16 damaged. With revaluations, the Air Force said, the February score now stands at 20 destroyed, seven probably destroyed and 20 damaged.

Davis destroyed his 10th Communist plane of the war last Saturday, but one of the 10 was an LA9 prop-driven fighter. Today he changed his status from "double ace" to "double jet ace."

Today's toll of MIG's brought the six-day bag to 16. Additionally, 23 others have been damaged or probably destroyed.

The Air Force said the triphammer blows destroyed at least 150 buildings and knocked out tanks, vehicles and repair facilities.

Lt. Gen. Glenn O. Barcus, Fifth Air Force commander, said the Reds would "feel keenly the loss of the tank and vehicle repair facilities in addition to the many tanks and vehicles destroyed."

On the frozen battlefield, Allied soldiers buried back six small-scale Communist ground probes in brief pre-dawn clashes.

Fifteen U. S. B29 Superforts roared over North Korea last night and bombed Led supply and troop areas. B29 night bomber pilots reported destruction of 116 Communist trucks.

Coffee flows in Big Spring like wine in Paris. Maybe more so. If you base a comparison on an estimate of local coffee consumption worked out by the Chamber of Commerce.

Lloyd Wooten, Chamber projects secretary, figures Howard County residents drink a total of 17,520,000 cups of coffee per year.

That's a lot of coffee, even at a nickel a cup. And at 35 cents per pound, a half million pounds of coffee boiled locally per year.

Wooten made the estimate at the request of a soft drink bottling concern, which also wanted to know how much ice cream are consumed in the county. No estimates were made on the latter.

The coffee estimate was arrived at after Wooten guessed that 12,000 county residents each drink at least four cups of coffee per day. Howard County population is estimated at approximately 30,000 at present.

New Dust Storms Whip Over Midwest

New dust storms swirling across sections of Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas are cutting into the nation's winter wheat crop.

There was a cheerful note, however, in Thursday's weather picture. Rain or snow was forecast for all three states.

But considerable moisture will be needed to give the soil the soaking it requires.

Strong winds yesterday kicked up the third major dust storm in 10 days in the three states which supply most of the country's wheat.

In one Oklahoma county alone, it was estimated that damage amounted to about one-third of the crop. And last year's crop in that North-Central Oklahoma county—Garfield—brought 18 1/2 million dollars.

County Agent J. B. Hurst, who made the estimate, said farmers there reported yesterday's blow "the worst they've ever seen."

In Russell, in Central Kansas, County Agent Gale Mullen said most of that area's wheat crop is doomed unless moisture comes immediately.

A drought during the latter half of 1952 and insufficient moisture this winter left the soil dry and loose. The high winds can easily whip the soil from around young wheat plants, killing them.

The new dust storms brought memories once again of the black blizzards of the 1930s when wind erosion put thousands of farmers and ranchers out of business.

Yesterday's blow, with gusts up to 50 miles an hour, sent up clouds of dust over Western Kansas. At Great Bend, visibility was cut to one-eighth of a mile at times.

In Oklahoma motorists at Enid in the central part of the state reported dust so thick they couldn't see their hood emblems.

Southern California also suffered from winds. Gusts up to 82 miles an hour whipped up dust from parched fields that have been without rain for 29 days.

with receiving stolen goods, was recaptured about 30 minutes after the break as he walked downtown.

The other escapees identified included: Fred H. Walters, 22, charged with burglary; Ray Bayless, 20, charged with burglary; Bobby Dean Baker, 18, indicted for rape; Lloyd D. Leshner, 19, charged with car theft; William P. Hill, 19, charged with burglary; and Michael Kenneth Davis, 19, charged with rape.

Manuel Hernandez, 17, indicted for burglary, and Glenn C. Crawford, 22, rape charge.

Officers said the nature of the break indicated it was not planned solely to free Hill. The first prisoners escaping went to other cells and asked if anybody wanted to join them.

Hill was brought to the Tarrant County jail last Friday from Longview, Tex., where he had been held since his Dec. 12 indictment for the robbery of $7,250 of a Kilgore couple last August.

About 90 minutes after last night's break, J. H. Forster, 27, told police that he had been kidnapped and his car stolen by five men who approached his auto near the County Jail.

One was carrying a .38 caliber revolver, Forster said, and ordered him to drive to a residential street intersection where they shoved him out and drove off.

Local gas company and city officials at a hearing in Austin recently opposed any such limitation on the grounds it would work a hardship on the area.

Champ Rainwater, local ESQC manager, said today he was informed by the railroad commission's chief engineer that the group had decided against imposition of the gas-limitation rule. Conference was held Monday and formal order on the decision will be issued in the next few days.

Empire Southern gets most of its gas supply from the Andrews County field. A RRC engineer had proposed restriction of gas production there as a result of recent oil development on the fringes of the gas field.

Rainwater said any such action would have raised cost of gas distributed here by several cents per thousand cubic feet as the company would have to secure more of its supply on the commercial market.

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Former President Harry S. Truman, with pen in hand and tongue in cheek, said today he isn't sure whether he got paid for a full day last Jan. 20—when he turned over his office at noon to President Eisenhower.

The former Chief Executive's latest excursion down the byways of the public post involves a "Philadelphia lawyer" and a third person to be known only as "Constant Reader."

"The 'Philadelphia lawyer' is a columnist for the Philadelphia Bulletin. Under that byline—his actual name is cloaked in literary anonymity—he discusses and answers legal questions submitted by his readers."

Recently the "Philadelphia lawyer" received a letter in which "Constant Reader" wrote: "According to the Constitution, President Truman's term ended at noon on Jan. 20 and he went off the U. S. payroll then. President Eisenhower's term commenced in the middle of the day and he went on the payroll as soon as he took the oath of office.

"With the President's salary at $100,000 a year, a day's pay or even a half day's pay, amounts to a considerable sum. Now, which one of the two got paid for half the day and Eisenhower for the other half? Can you tell me who got what?"

"A puzzler," commented the Philadelphia lawyer in today's column.

Fast calculation, he added, reveals that the President of the U. S. is paid at the daily rate of $274 (before taxes, of course)—so that if either the outgoing Chief Executive or his successor was paid for the full day, he was over-compensated in the amount of $137.

The Bulletin columnist decided there were only two men completely competent to provide the answer. One, he realized, was far too busy taking up the reins of government, so he wrote to the "First Citizen of Independence, Mo.," and put the problem squarely in his lap.

In due course, there arrived a letter dated Feb. 11 and bearing this letterhead: "Harry S. Truman, Federal Reserve Bank Building, Kansas City 6, Missouri."

"In reply to yours of January twenty-eighth, I am not able to answer your question.

"It looks to me like a 'Philadelphia lawyer' ought to be able to figure it out. It is more than I can do because I have never had an occasion to do it. I merely accepted the check the secretary of the Treasury sent me, hoping the government would remain solvent long enough for me to cash it.

"Sincerely yours, "Harry S. Truman."

Dusty, Colder Forecast For The Local Area

Dusty and colder, with a very slight chance for localized thunder-showers, was the weather forecast for Big Spring and vicinity today.

The Weather Bureau station at Webb Field reported a cold front was due here early in the afternoon. The northerly winds will be laden with dust.

Dusty conditions will prevail tonight, with a low temperature of 25 degrees forecast. Friday also will be colder, with a high of only 40 anticipated.

The Weather Bureau doesn't expect any precipitation—just pointed out it still is a possibility.

"This might give us the rain we've been needing," a weather forecaster said Thursday as a slow moving but apparently tough norther drifted toward Texas.

The norther at mid-morning had not entered the state. It lay across New Mexico and stretched into Kansas, pulling damp Gulf air toward it.

The Weather Bureau forecast snow and bitter cold—as low as 10 degrees—in the Panhandle and South Plains Thursday night. Stockmen were warned to take cold weather precautions for their herds.

Light rains fell ahead of the front. The Weather Bureau said these came from circulation of Gulf air.

"The low-pressure area of the cold front keeps air rotating toward it," the Weather Bureau said. "The longer the front takes to get into Texas, the more circulation we get and the more rain we're likely to get."

ONE IS CAPTURED Ten Break Out Of Tarrant Co. Jail

FORT WORTH (AP)—An intensive manhunt was under way in the North Texas area today for nine prisoners who slugged three deputies and escaped from the Tarrant County jail.

All available police officers, sheriff's deputies and Texas Rangers and sheriff's officers from neighboring counties joined the hunt. Bloodhounds were rushed here today from Huntsville.

The Highway Patrol reported that five men were seen in a car at Eastland early in the morning, traveling west.

The car's license checked with that of Charles W. Forster, 24, Fort Worth. His auto was commandeered last night by five men, one of them armed with a .38-caliber revolver.

A Fort Worth resident reported to police that a two-toned automobile stopped near his home shortly after the break and picked up three men.

Ten men, including badman Floyd Hill, broke out of jail last night.

Hill is one of three men charged in the $248,000 robbery of two Cuban exiles here last Oct. 3 at the lush Western Hills Hotel.

The break occurred shortly after 10 p.m. when three prisoners on the fifth floor slugged Jailer Jim Holcomb with a shower pipe, took his keys and then freed Hill and four others.

After talking an elevator to the basement, they attacked deputies Jason Young and Jim Smith and trusty Eulon Knight and unlocked an outer door to the jail office.

Lonnie J. Baugh, 23, charged with receiving stolen goods, was recaptured about 30 minutes after the break as he walked downtown.

Mahon Says Defense Budget Must Be Cut

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Mahon (D-Tex) told the House yesterday that billions must be cut from defense funds to balance the budget.

Speaking in debate on a supplemental appropriations bill, Mahon said "the military establishment is where the most of the money is to be spent."

"We must save money in all agencies and wherever possible," he added, but "if you are going to balance the budget and save really big money, you must save billions in the Department of Defense or you do not save enough to change materially the fiscal picture."

"Vast sums can be saved in procurement of materials for defense, he said, because 60 per cent of every defense dollar goes to procurement. It is practically impossible to save money in military pay or maintenance and operation and keep up the nation's military strength, he said.

"In the field of procurement," he added, "real savings can be made if our defense leaders have the skill and the will to get the job done."

Mahon added that the nation is fortunate in having businessmen of great integrity and skill in key places in the Defense Department.

"If they do their job and do it well, they will save billions of dollars," he said.

He estimated the nation has spent 80 billion dollars for defense goods since the Korean War started.

"A 10 per cent saving would be 10 billion dollars in velvet for the taxpayer," Mahon added.

If the new defense leaders do not save billions, Mahon said he feared they will tend to dampen the enthusiasm for leadership of American business in government.

Alleged Madam Due On Stand In Jelke Vice Case

NEW YORK (AP)—A 28-year-old alleged call house madam was due on the witness stand today to tell what she knows about cafe society vice.

"I can't remember any names," said red-haired Erica Steel in advance of her appearance at the trial of oleomargarine heir Minot (Mickey) Jelke III.

The ex-dancer made this comment yesterday as she left another courtroom with a rich mink coat tucked over one arm.

The state claims she is the madam in the case against Jelke, 23, who is accused of inducing three young women into prostitution and of living off the earnings of one.

She was in Special Sessions Court to be sentenced on her guilty plea to running a public nuisance—a plea she entered after being accused of operating a bawdy house. Sentencing was postponed until March 18.

Meanwhile, a onetime movie bit player was testifying in the Jelke trial.

Richard Short, 39, an admitted procurer, testified of his checkered life and of relationships with Jelke. The state claims he co-operated with Jelke in allegedly promoting a prostitution career for a 23-year-old Pat Thompson, Short's fourth wife. Short has pleaded guilty.

Short testified he was with Miss Thompson when he first met Jelke in 1952. He conceded spending time in jail.

Defense Atty. Sam Segal summed up Short's testimony this way for newsmen: "He didn't earn any money. He hasn't done a stitch of work for years since he got out on parole."

Demos Believe They Now Have '54 Issue

By JOE HALL
WASHINGTON (AP)—Democrats displayed quiet confidence today that they have found an issue which may win them the 1954 elections and perhaps lay the basis for a return to national power in 1956. Many Republicans take issue with that appraisal.

The issue is falling farm prices and the views of Republican Secretary of Agriculture Benson, which Democratic lawmakers assert are opposed to high-level, mandatory price supports.

GOP Senate Leader Taft of Ohio conceded yesterday that "if the Democrats don't do better than the Democrats did in the last two years" in backing farm price drops, "we probably will lose the next election."

But Taft scornfully added this should not be a hard task because, he said, "under the Democrats, farm prices have been going down for the last two years."

The Agriculture Department, meanwhile, reported an advance in hog prices and officials there cited it as evidence supporting their contention there is a firm foundation under the agricultural situation.

A department market survey showed prices of hogs paid producers on eight major Midwestern markets have gone up an average of $1.76 for 100 pounds since mid-January. That is about 9.7 per cent. Further, the department said, hog prices on those same markets now average about $2.65 for 100 pounds above those of a year ago.

Democratic congressmen made no secret of their plans to continue the sort of drumfire attacks on Benson which followed a controversial speech the secretary made last week. Some Democrats contended Benson indicated little sympathy with present farm price support programs.

Democrats from farm states say they already are getting letters from dirt farmers attacking Benson, some demand that he be fired.

Sen. Fulbright (D-Ark) came to the floor yesterday with a 3,000-word speech sharply critical of Benson's utterances as secretary. Taft remained on the floor for Fulbright's talk and repeatedly engaged in heated exchanges with him.

The GOP leader said the Democrats must take responsibility for falling farm prices of the last two years.

The Arkansas retorted that the sharpest price drops came after the Republican triumph last November.

Gravedigger Strike Leaves 571 Bodies Stranded In N. Y.

NEW YORK (AP)—A gravediggers' strike at 19 New York metropolitan area cemeteries has stranded 571 bodies.

At Evergreen Cemetery, one of the three nonsectarian cemeteries affected, all vaults have been filled and 77 coffins have been stacked in tents, with the chill February winds their only refrigeration.

Many relatives have dug graves, then carried their loved ones to their last resting place because hearses drivers refused to cross cemetery picket lines.

About 200 grave diggers struck Jan. 7 in a demand for a $10-a-week wage increase plus other benefits. They made $89 a week.

Cold weather has forestalled thus far any sanitary crisis.

Non-Farm Jobs Up During January

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government reported today that nonfarm employment in January was 47,200,000—up 1,300,000 from a year ago but a drop of 1,600,000 from December.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics said decline was largely seasonal and due to post-Christmas layoffs of temporary sales clerks and postal workers.

Most of the gain over last year, the bureau said, was due to recovery of consumers' goods manufacturing from last winter's depressed levels.

Employment in retail trade was also up substantially over the year.

DEFENDS FARM SITUATION Ike Regime Notes Better Hog Prices

WASHINGTON (AP)—Eisenhower administration farm officials today cited strengthening prices in the nation's hog markets as evidence supporting their contention there is a firm foundation under the agricultural situation.

An Agriculture Department market survey showed today that producer prices of hogs have advanced an average of $1.76 for 100 pounds or about 9.7 per cent on eight major Midwest markets since mid-January.

Furthermore, the survey showed that the hog prices on those same markets now average about $2.65 for 100 pounds or about 15 per cent above those of a year ago.

Agriculture Secretary Benson, in replying to congressional critics who charged he was not being aggressive enough in dealing with falling prices, said recently that declining cattle prices largely reflected a normal economic adjustment of big supplies and heavy marketings.

Cattle numbers climbed to record numbers last year, whereas hog numbers declined. Thus, the adjustment that has come in cattle prices in recent months came to hogs last year, officials said.

No recovery in hog prices could be expected, department livestock experts said, if the national economy were not sound and if slaughter houses, packers, processors and so on—expected an early farm recession.

Through most of 1952 and until recent weeks, the ratio between prices farmers got for hogs and the price of corn used to fatten them was largely unfavorable.

That is, most farmers who bought corn could get little more for their fattened hogs than the cost of the feed. Or those who had corn could store it under government price support loans and get as much for their corn as they could for hogs fattened on the grain.

The ratio became favorable, the market survey reported, that it stood at 13.3 to one Saturday. That means that 13.3 bushels of corn were equivalent in value to 100 pounds of live hogs.

The smaller the ratio, the less favorable are feeding operations. For most farmers a ratio of less than 11.5 to one offers little financial reward.

A year ago, the ratio was down to 8.6 to one.

The survey also indicated the cattle industry has not given up. It said upturns in slaughter cattle prices the past two weeks tended to stimulate renewed interest of livestock feeders.

"Although the start of a new grass season is still some weeks away, demand broadened for little cattle to put on pasture," the survey said. "This was evidenced not only in a more aggressive attitude at terminal markets but also in increased activity at country points."

Poland Sentences To Spies To Death

WARSAW, Poland (AP)—A Warsaw regional military court last night sentenced to death two men who claimed they attended an American-staffed sabotage-spy school in Germany and were parachuted into Communist Poland from a U. S. military plane.

During their one-day trial, defendants Stefan Skrzyszowski and Dionizy Sosnowski presented depositions to the court that gave what they said were details of dropping into Poland from an American Army plane last Nov. 4.

U. S. Army European headquarters in Heidelberg, Germany, has said it has no knowledge of the two men and has denied parachuting spies into Poland.

Religion Survey Set For Sunday Throughout City

Churches throughout the city are making plans to participate in a religious survey of Big Spring scheduled for Sunday afternoon. The survey will cover all residential areas of the city, according to the Big Spring Pastors Association, which is sponsoring the event.

Hours for the survey have been set for 1 p. m. to 3 p. m. Members of churches of various denominations will make the canvass.

The pastors association also has announced a plan for including in the survey any persons who will be away from home and others who may not wish to be disturbed during the hours of the survey.

For this purpose, the pastors association is publishing a special advertisement beginning in today's issue of The Herald, which includes a re-production of a religious survey card. Those who enter the requested information in the blank forms and attach the forms to the front doors of their homes will not be disturbed during the survey.

The pastors association is urging wide usage of this system. It not only will be more convenient for many residents of the city, but will also enable canvass workers to complete their tasks rapidly, spokesmen explained.

Reserve Officers To Organize Tonight

Formal organization of a Reserve Officers Association chapter is scheduled this evening at Webb Air Force Base.

The meeting, which will be held in the Officers Open Mess at Webb AFB, is set for 7:30 p. m.

All reservists in Big Spring, active or inactive, and from all branches of the service, have been invited.

Activation of the chapter already is assured, since 13 reserve officers signed the roll as charter members at a preliminary meeting last Friday. At that time, 125 reserve officers made initial plans for organizing the chapter.

'Voice Of America' Probe Is Continued

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Voice of America, losing its over-all supervisor, continued under a Senate spotlight today, with Sen. McClellan (D-Ark) saying he may demand that Dean Acheson be called to testify.

Acheson's successor as secretary of state, John Foster Dulles, announced yesterday the resignation of Dr. Wilson Compton as director of the department's Information Administration.

A successor may be named in a few days, Dulles told a news conference. It was made clear that the current Senate investigation had nothing to do with Compton's resignation.

Defense Told It Can Save $2 Billions

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Defense Department has been told by a citizens' commission it could save five billion dollars—which might mean balancing the national budget.

The commission advised the huge agency, whose outlays are more than half the government's total spending, to cut back 10 per cent across the board in men, money and material.

Some general ideas the commission offered for possible savings included extending the draft service term beyond 24 months, cutting into "push and extravagance" it said "have crept into all our military services" and pushing unification to eliminate "waste, duplication and overstaffing."

But the commission's final report made no specific recommendations for achieving the 10 per cent cut. David Sarnoff, chairman of RCA, was named to head the commission when it was set up last fall. He made the report for the body yesterday, giving it as his personal opinion, concurred in by all but one member, that half a million military and civilian employees could be dropped gradually.

No Injuries Reported As Big Bomber Burns

ROSWELL, N. M. (AP)—Twenty-two airmen escaped unharmed when a B36 caught fire near the end of its landing roll shortly before midnight and burned to the ground.

A spokesman at Walker Air Force Base said the commander of the giant six-engine bomber told him two engines burst into flame as the craft rolled to a stop.

The big bomber, of the 28th Strategic Reconnaissance Wing, was on a routine training flight from Rapid City Air Force Base in South Dakota.

A board was appointed at Walker AFB to look for the cause of the fire.

CITY AHEAD IN PREVENTION OF FIRES IN 1952

Big Spring is way ahead of the rest of the country in fire prevention.

That's what 1952 fire losses indicate, anyway. Fire losses in the United States last year amounted to $5.13 per capita. In Big Spring, losses due to fire totalled only $9.5 cents per resident last year.

Big Spring per capita losses are figured on the basis of an estimated population of 23,006. Fire losses last year amounted to only $21,151.14.

16 UN Nations Talk Assembly Meeting Plans

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—United Nations delegates from 16 Allied nations fighting for the U. N. in Korea meet today for a closed-door talk about plans—especially America's—for the coming U. N. Assembly. Diplomatic sources predicted nothing spectacular would emerge from the get-together.

U. S. Delegation Chief Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. asked the group to meet with him at the U. S. mission for a general exchange of views on the Korean deadlock.

Several delegates indicated they hoped Lodge would lift the veil at least slightly on any U. S. proposals to be put before the 60-nation Assembly, which resumes next Tuesday.

A diplomatic source familiar with some of the American ideas for the Assembly said the U. S. will take a moderate but firm stand on Korea. He said there was no likelihood that the U. S. would ask the U. N. to approve a naval blockade of Red China or an extension of an economic embargo clamped on China by the U. N. Assembly in 1951.

Countries invited to attend were Britain, France, The Netherlands, Belgium, Luxembourg, Australia, New Zealand, South Africa, The Philippines, Thailand, Turkey, Ethiopia, Greece, Colombia and Canada.

U.S. Will Consider Its Allies In Charting Moves Against China

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles has assured Allied nations the United States is seeking to avoid "political embarrassments and troubles" with them in charting new moves against Red China.

One of several actions under consideration, Dulles told a news conference yesterday, is establishment of a naval blockade of the China coast. Another, he said, is strict "enforcement" of United Nations recommendations against trade with China.

The whole range of "measures of varying kind which could be adopted," Dulles said, is under intensive study in the light of three considerations: "their feasibility, their military consequences and the degree of political embarrassments and troubles that might be caused with our Allies."

It was Dulles' first news conference at the State Department since he became secretary. There were no limitations on questioning and a variety of subjects were discussed. Dulles was questioned at length about what the administration hopes to accomplish by repudiating "secret understandings" which permit enslavement of foreign peoples, as called for by President Eisenhower.

The proposed action, Dulles said, would serve these two primary purposes: "One is to register dramatically what we believe to be the many breaches by the Soviet Union of the wartime understandings; and, secondly, to register equally dramatically the desire and hope of the American people that the captive people shall be liberated."

"This document or pronouncement is not intended to be a domestic political pronouncement. It is intended to be a pronouncement in relation to foreign policy, which I hope will receive and I think should receive a substantially unanimous backing in the Congress by the members of both the principal political parties."

His comments appeared to reflect some development or change in administration thinking. Previously the emphasis had been on repudiating agreements which "permit" enslavement. This was

Man Released After Making Bond Of $250

John A. Brown, one of three men arrested by sheriff's officials Tuesday on vagrancy charges, was released today after making $250 bond set in Justice Court.

The other two men charged with vagrancy are Bill Pelley and Orville De Leon. Both Pelley and De Leon are still in jail, though a $100 bond has been set for De Leon. Pelley and Brown were arrested in Midland, and De Leon was taken into custody here.

Pelley rents a house in the 1200 block of Johnson Street. Several other people were taken into custody when arrests were made, but they have since been released.

Gas Restored To Town

WHITNEY (AP)—This dam site town had gas restored early today after a measuring station mishap last night left it without fuel. Local Star Gas Co. officials said the gas had to be cut off from both industrial and residential consumers because of the accident in which no one was injured.

In line with Republican criticisms of the late President Roosevelt and former President Truman that in agreements made with the Soviets at Yalta and Potsdam they had allowed Russia to extend its domination over new areas in the Far East and Eastern Europe.

The line which Dulles took yesterday, however, was that "the enslavement of these captive peoples is due to abuse and violation of the understandings." Any repudiation, therefore, apparently would be blamed on Russian violations and not upon the claim that the understandings were themselves bad in the first place. Hence, the administration would be able to appeal for Democratic as well as Republican support.

On other subjects, Dulles said: 1. A principal U. S. purpose in the Far East is to end fighting in Indochina and Korea on acceptable terms, and one way to go about this is to replace Western forces such as those of France and the U. S. with native troops so that Russia would no longer have the advantage of tying up Western forces in combat with Soviet satellites.

2. This policy of relying more and more on native forces would apply to consideration of increased aid to Indochina. Also the U. S. will be glad to make available to France the experience of American officers in training Indochinese troops.

3. In the Middle East the U. S. is considering giving aid to Egypt. (Other officials said an 11 million dollar aid program is near approval.) The State Department does not intend to follow a policy of cold-shouldering Israel.

A Bible Thought For Today—

There is a very close connection between morality and economic prosperity. "I am the Lord thy God, which teacheth thee to profit, which leadeth thee by the way, thou shouldst go." — Isa. 48:17.

Closer Bi-Partisan Cooperation Seen In Ike, Adlai Conferences

The administrator and congressional leaders are taking steps that work to make the bipartisan foreign policy more of a working, instead of a mere theoretical, gimmick.

The visit of Adlai Stevenson, and the warm welcome given him by Republicans and Democrats alike, set the stage for closer cooperation between the parties in foreign affairs.

But from the more practical viewpoint, Chairman Bridges (R-NH) called Secretary of State Dulles and Mutual Security Administrator Harold E. Stassen to appear before the 23-member Senate Appropriations Committee Wednesday to report on foreign spending and general international policies. Senator Saltonstall (R-Mass) proposed that Senate and House Armed Services Committee meet jointly on March 4 to hear a report from General James A. Van Fleet on the situation in Korea.

Recent Democratic complaints that they were not being informed on foreign policy moves climaxed Monday night in a speech at Atlantic City by Senator

Douglas (D-III). The burr under Senator Douglas' saddleblanket was one that had been annoying Democrats ever since President Eisenhower made his report on the State of the Union. Douglas complained that the President was "surely inaccurate as well as ungracious (although I hope unintentionally so) when he said that under President Truman 'the United States Navy was required to serve as a defensive arm of Communist China.'"

He declared he thinks it is "only fair that our Republican friends should cease distorting history to suit their partisan advantage," and added: "But thus far we have not been consulted on what should be done while at the same time our past actions have been misrepresented."

The Republicans denied their Democratic colleagues had been kept in the dark—the GOP used to make the same charges against Truman and Roosevelt—and Chairman Smith (R-NJ) of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee said the opposition would get its chance to air its views on the resolution to repeal secret agreements made at Yalta and elsewhere.

Resisting Communism Important Regardless Of Scene Of Action

One of the surest things on earth is that the present struggle to the death between the democratic concept of life on the one hand and the totalitarian concept on the other is universal in nature and scope, and no segment of the problem can be made paramount to the neglect of another.

Under the very best of circumstances the free world will have to defend all fronts and exploit all advantages to win this contest, which may drag out for another generation or more.

Korea is important, but so is Indo-China, the Middle East, and Western Europe. Anything that can be done in Korea or Indo-China to strengthen the West, or vice versa, should be done.

The Eisenhower administration is reported to be considering increasing the flow of aid to the embattled French in Indo-China. This makes sense not only as concerns Indo-China and the Asiatic situation generally, but it bears directly on the fate of Western Europe.

In criticizing France for dragging her feet on the build-up of European defenses, we are too prone to forget that France has been carrying on a full-scale war against the Communist Viet-Minh in Indo-China, and that war has been draining away much of her manpower and resources. Indo-China is the key to all Southeast Asia; if it falls, all Southeast Asia falls, and India will hang by a thread.

By aiding France in Indo-China more than we have been doing, metropolitan France will be able to put more vim and zip in her European commitments. If we can help France crush the Communists in Indo-China, we can promote her into a first-class ally in Europe. The $2 billion a year she has been spending defending Indo-China hasn't been available to spend on the defense of Europe.

The French premier, Rene Mayer, is coming to Washington next month, and he is apt to receive an attentive hearing at the White House. Wiping out the Communists in Viet-Nam would certainly relieve the Communist pressure against Korea.

Capital Gains Doubled Dividends Of Mutual Funds In Past 2 Years

The success of the mutual fund industry, which tries to do for the small investor what the large investor thinks he can do for himself, is not without its disadvantages. Whenever an industry grows fast it generates its own traducers and critics—men who seem to say, "If only I'd thought of that first!"

Mutual funds now represent a four billion dollar business. Yet, back in 1941, the total was only $400,000,000. A ten-fold growth, even during the postwar boom, is something to be marveled at, and carpied at by the not-there-firsters.

"Just wait till the market stops rising," say the critics. "Then mutual funds won't expand. Then their dividends will drop off. They won't have such big capital gains. Just wait."

The record doesn't support the prophets of doom. Sure, trusts have rising markets in 1949, '50, '51, and '52. Sure, they've paid out part of their profits as dividends. And most certainly that hasn't made stockholders unhappy. Yet, if the market stopped rising and capital gains disappeared, dividends wouldn't disappear also—just like that.

I've made a tabulation of dividend payments by ten of the larger mutual funds from 1946 through 1952. These are the heyday years for the business to date. Capital gains constituted 38 per cent of all dividends paid. Sixty-two per cent of the dividends came from regular investment income. So most of the dividend money should continue to come in as before. Unless business gets bad and corporations cut dividends.

Trust dividend payments vary. Thus, Massachusetts Investors Trust relies primarily on investment income. Its capital gains disbursements run to only 21 per cent of payments to shareholders. At the other extreme is State Street Investment Corp.—64 cents out of each dollar of its disbursements come from capital gains. Here are the figures:

Trust	Cap. Gains As % of Dividends
Mass. Investors	21 pct.
Investors Mutual	31 pct.
Affiliated Fund	58 pct.
Incorporated Inv.	43 pct.

Animals Have Pal

GOSHEN, N. Y. (U)—The small animals and birds of the Niantic, Conn., area have gained a good friend in Miss Ella H. Pope, school librarian here for 21 years, who recently retired and moved there.

Miss Pope when she lived here was the unofficial community protector of homeless, lost and discarded animals and birds, and her library workshop was a sort of pet exchange. Miss Pope said she has found homes for 73 dogs and cats and other animals.

Yessir, The Gentleman Says, Women Are Behind Anti-Retirement Programs

SOMEWHERE IN THE MIDWEST (U)—Monologue by a man in a Pullman club car:

"Yes, sir, the trouble with this world is that they give a man a dream—and then they set out to shatter it."

"Take the matter of retirement. For 25 years they've been saying a fellow ought to plan his life so he could quit work at a reasonable age and take it easy the rest of his days."

"But what happens? The big propaganda now is going the other way. Everybody is pointing out how dangerous it is for a man to retire. Some doctors say a man is likely to die if he throws up his job, because he doesn't know what to do with himself, he feels useless and unhappy and his resistance to the common cold is lowered."

"I say that's a lot of hogwash. You know who I think is behind it? Wives. Yes, sir, wives."

"Take my wife. She don't like any of my retirement programs. 'She won't even let me talk about them. Says it gives her a nervous headache. Says she doesn't want me around the place all day, wearing out the furniture and poking my nose into her kitchen.'

"When I ask her, 'What do you want me to do—work until I drop dead?' she says, 'Well, I'd rather have you underground than under foot.'"

"Yes, sir, it's a plot, that's what it is—all this talk against retiring. It's a plot among wives."

"They're afraid if their husbands retire they'll find out woman's biggest secret—how easy they've had it at home all the years their old man was out in the world wrestling for the bacon."

"And to keep that secret they're willing to let us stay prisoners of the alarm clock forever. Not me. I'm quitting at 65, and if it kills me at least I won't have to listen to my wife say, 'I told you so.' How can I lose?"

President And Dulles Get Through Conferences OK

WASHINGTON (U)—President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles have now taken their plunges into the chilly, and sometimes slippery, pool called the Washington news conference.

They swam around all right, kept their heads above water, and neither seemed to be breathing hard when the dip was over. Eisenhower held his first conference since taking office on Tuesday. Dulles held his yesterday.

The two men did not handle their conferences in exactly the same way. Both had one thing in common: Neither produced any news sensations.

Eisenhower's conference lasted 30 minutes. He used up more than half that time himself, making statements. In the time that was left he answered questions. When the half hour was up he broke off the conference.

Dulles' conference also lasted about 30 minutes. He had no general statement but submitted at once to questioning. Instead of ending the conference himself he let the newsmen do it.

Former President Truman, because of his years in the Senate before becoming President, knew more when he entered the White House about the inner workings of the government as a whole than does Eisenhower, whose whole career until now was in the Army.

Nevertheless, Eisenhower made no bobbles. He answered questions with some rapidity, at no time dodged behind the "no comment" which is the customary Washington method for not answering ques-

We Note Washington's Birthday Late Due To Calendar Changes

The opinions contained in this and other articles in this column are solely those of the writers who sign them. They are not to be interpreted as necessarily reflecting the opinions of The Herald.—Editor's Note.

Because of eleven days that never existed, we're due to celebrate the birth of George Washington, surveyor-farmer-soldier-president, come Sunday.

The father of his country was born 22 years ago, according to the calendar. But the calendar is all fouled up.

We should have been observing Washington's birthday anniversary eight days ago, Feb. 11.

That's the date the first president was born. But when he was 20 years old, everybody got together and skipped 11 days, so historians have moved the historic birth date up a corresponding period.

The non-existent 11 days came to pass in this manner. Once upon a time, in 46 B. C., Julius Caesar changed the Roman lunar calendar (355 days per year) to conform with the solar year of 365 1/4 days. His mathematical wizardry miscalculated slightly, though, and failed to note that the solar year really lacked 11 minutes and 14 seconds—ing 365 1/4 days long.

So, by 1582, Caesar's calendar was 10 days behind the times. Pope Gregory XIII decided to do something about the discrepancy, he eliminated 10 days and arranged to have leap year left out of three of every four century years—just to keep the record straight.

Roman Catholic countries put the new Gregorian calendar into operation, but English-speaking nations kept the backward old Julian calendar in service. There were two major calendars in use for the next 170 years, a situation probably more complicated than crossing the international date line.

Finally, in 1752, the English Parliament decided enough was a plenty. England and her colonies changed over to the Gregorian calendar. By then the Julian calendar was 11 days behind.

Parliament abolished the 11 days Englishmen had lost on Wednesday, Sept. 1, was followed by Thursday, Sept. 14.

It caused quite a stir in England. One wedding was cancelled, because it had been scheduled for Sept. 10, which just never came around.

Somehow, George Washington got his birthday anniversary mixed up in the deal. Today, we say it comes on Feb. 22, despite the following entry in the Washington family Bible:

"George Washington, son of Augustine and Mary, his wife, was born on ye 11th day of February, 1731, about ten in the morning."

Van Fleet Has Chance To Show His Loyalty And Self-Discipline

WASHINGTON.—The three-alarm fire set off by President Eisenhower's proposal to free the Nationalist Chinese forces of Chiang Kai-shek is subsiding. It took hard work by some valiant fire fighters to bring that outbreak under control.

But the heat is still there and the flames can fan up again unless the proper precautions are taken. Following his retirement as commander of United Nations forces in Korea, General James Van Fleet is returning to Washington. At least four congressional committees are competing for the general's testimony. Little imagination is required to see the sensational headlines that can come out of such a situation.

During the past year Van Fleet has made no secret of his views. To distinguished visitors from America he expressed his disgust with the prolonged truce negotiations. As a fighting man, struggling to keep up the morale of his forces during the long stalemate, he felt almost intolerably irked by what he considered to be the harmful intervention of politicians and diplomats just at a point when he believed the destruction of the Communist armies was possible.

This is, of course, what many of the Republican majority on both the Armed Services and the Foreign Relations Committees want to hear. Rehashing the tragedy of the Korean War, they can pile the blame on the Truman administration. In kind, if not in degree, the Van Fleet hearings could become another sensation such as the investigation into the reasons for the recall of General Douglas MacArthur by President Truman.

From another perspective, too, the Van Fleet story has a great attraction for Republicans pushing an activist policy in Asia. Shortly before he left his post in Korea, General Van Fleet answered questions put to him by the Associated Press. He was asked whether the United Nations forces could mount an offensive against the Communists at the present time.

The general's answer was yes. A commander in the field would almost inevitably have to make such a reply, since to say no would be an admission bound to have an adverse effect on morale.

Those who want to believe that an offensive now will bring an end to the war will naturally welcome this testimony. They can be counted on to prod General Van Fleet. As a valiant soldier proud of the troops he led, the general can be counted on to make stouthearted answers to questions about the striking power of the U. N. army.

Here is the fuel for a new outburst of emotionalism that would encourage the persistent illusion that there is a quick and magical way to bring the Korean War to an end. All the old slogans—get tough, go it alone, let's get it over with—will be trotted out once again. The shattering effect of the storm over Formosa, now subsiding, will make itself felt both at home and abroad.

In the well-deserved interval of rest he enjoys in Hawaii on the way back it seems a shame to intrude business and politics.

Bushmen Feast On Elephants

Thurs. Uncle Ray Bushmen Feast Wilson

White men have had trouble in learning the ways of the Bushmen of southern Africa. These people keep to themselves as far as possible, and to some extent they are feared. They tip their arrows with poison, and few persons care to wander through their hunting grounds.

Despite that, some visitors have gone among them and have brought back facts of interest. We know, for example, that when Bushmen want to cook their game, they often dig large holes in the ground. Such holes are filled with dry sticks and twigs.

After the wood burns to embers, the natives take turns in raking the fire pit with sticks. They use branches to shield their faces from the heat and smoke.

Then a large piece of meat—perhaps a quarter of a buffalo—is placed on the embers. Branches are put over the meat, making a mound, and the cooking goes on.

Bushmen are of small size, but they are known for their big appetites. One report tells of five of them who ate up a buffalo in two days!

The African buffalo is among the most fierce of all animals. Thanks to their poisoned arrows, the Bushmen can slay these terrors of southern Africa.

Even more amazing is the fact that Bushmen hunt and kill elephants. After wounding an elephant with poisoned arrows, they track it through the jungle. When the big beast falls, at last, they get ready for a mighty feast. The body is cut up into many pieces and some of these are hung from the branches of trees, to dry the meat and make it more tender.

The lower parts of the elephant's legs are looked on as choice parts of the feast. They are cooked in a fire pit, and the strange little men eat them with high enjoyment. Forty Bushmen may feast for a week on one elephant.

Odessa Meets HC At 8 p.m.

Odessa JC's Wranglers move into Big Spring this evening, primed to be the spoilers in HCJC's bid for its third successive West Zone basketball crown. The two teams tangle in the HC Gym at 8 o'clock.

The Hawks have won six straight games in Zone play and another win will clinch first place for them. Odessa is capable of making the

Probable Starters

ODESSA	F HCJC
64 Duane Jeter	F Bob Williams	6-4
6-1 Walt Butler	F Bob Williams	6-1
6-1 Bob Black	C Dick Gilmore	6-2
5-10 Tom Smith	O Chary Jones	6-2
5-11 Gloyd Walsh	O Chuck Warren	6-1

Big Springers go all out, however. When the Wranglers are on their game, they're capable of beating most any team.

Odessa's attack is built around the brilliant Duane Jeter, a 6-foot-5 Pampa product, playing his first year with the club.

Jeter wasn't eligible the first semester but he's been little short of sensational since then.

He's aided and abetted by such hands as Tommy Smith, who also hails from Pampa; Bob Black of Monahans; Welton Martin of Odessa; Walter Spiller of Odessa; and Gloyd Walsh of Monahans, among others.

The Wranglers are coached by Larry McCulloch, the former Big Spring High School mentor.

HC has now won 22 games, which represents its victory output for the entire 1951-52 season. The Hawks' reversals have come at the hands of HSU's Buttons and San Angelo (by one and two points, respectively) and Lon Morris.

They are presented with the chance to enjoy their first undefeated Zone season in history but must beat Odessa and Amarillo in that order to turn the trick.

Probable starters for the Hawks tonight are Charley Warren, Bobby Malins, Richard Gilmore, Casey Jones and Bobby Williams. Williams has already set a new team scoring record, with 449 points for the year, and will be out to add to the mark.

Lonnie Muse, like Jones an Odessa boy, will see lots of action against the Wranglers. Muse was tempted to enroll at the Odessa school but finally decided to accompany Jones here.

The HCJC B team will meet a combination Dibrell-Coe-Cola team at 6 p. m.

Last time out, the independent aggregation — led by Frank Hardesty — won a 35-49 decision. Hardesty hit 19 points, Otis Frisell ten and Bill Estes nine for the independent club.

Lee Hanson's and Dairy Maid moved into a deadlock with Seagram's for first place in Men's Bowling League standings this week with record-breaking victories.

While Seagram's was being ruled upset by Sinclair Oil, 2-1, Lee Hanson's was sweeping a set from the Eagles Club and Big Spring Herald was suffering similar treatment at the hands of Dairy Maid.

In the evening's other match, Mathis Studio won over West Texas Roofing Company, 2-1, to drop the Roofers two games off the pace.

Crockett Hale, Dairy Maid, posted a 233, high game for the evening. E. B. Dozier Jr., Seagram's, pieced together a 193-540 for the top series. Don Linn of Lee Hanson's, with a 210, was the only other kegger to top 200. Herb Atwood, Lee Hanson's, registered a 199-532 for second high series.

Sinclair boasted the best team score, 968-2493, followed by Lee Hanson's with 897-2487.

Dairy Maid, Lee Hanson's and Seagram's have each won 37 and lost 29 games. West Texas Roofers have a 35-21 record, good for fourth place.

The Eagles Club and Sinclair Oil are tied for fifth with 31 1/2-34 1/2 marks. Big Spring Herald is seventh with 25-36, followed by Mathis with 25-41.

Friday the loser of the Knott-Forsan tilt will meet the loser of the Center Point-Ackerly game at 6 p. m., and the winners of these same games will play at 7 p. m. At 8 p. m. the losers of Coca Cola will meet, and the winners play at 9 p. m.

Finals in the consolation will start at 8 p. m. Saturday with the championship game at 9 p. m. There will be a game at 7 p. m. between the high school girls teams of Stanton and Knott.

North Ward yielded to a furious third quarter rally on the part of Washington Place to drop a 26-15 Ward School Basketball League decision in the Junior High Gym Wednesday night.

The Senators failed to score in the first period and were behind, 13-0, at half time. They rallied to make 14 points in the third, however, while holding North Ward pointless.

Joe Perry led Washington Place with 16 points. Terry Stanley and Jimmy Whitefield each had four and Bobby McAdams two.

For the losers, Franklin counted eight, Bell four and Musick three. The win was the fourth in six starts for the Senators.

Clarendon JC hosts the Amarillo College Badgers in a West Zone basketball game here tonight.

A Clarendon win would knock Amarillo out of contention in the battle for first place in the zone.

Warren On Rampage

Chuck Warren, star HCJC guard, proved a big factor in HCJC's impressive triumph over Rotary Engineer at Forsan Tuesday night. Warren is shown here aiming for the goal despite discouragement by Glenn Whitis of the Midland team. HCJC won, 86-50.

DECORATED, CHANLEA

Kentucky Colts Derby Dazzlers

ARCADIA, Calif. (AP)—A couple of new names were added today to the probable field in the $100,000 Santa Anita Derby, but two Kentucky colts, Decorated and Chanlea, remain the big attractions in the mile-and-an-eighth fixture Saturday.

Boo Whoop, owned by Rex Ellsworth, and Black Rascal, racing for Trainer R. H. (Red) McDaniel and Dr. M. S. Silverberg, the latter of San Francisco, were the new additions to the Derby ranks.

Both Black Rascal and Boo Whoop rate in the long shot class, but since the three-year-old division, particularly at this stage of the season, is filled with surprises, the owners are ready to gamble on a surprise of their own.

In addition, the runner-up positions are not to be discounted. Second place pays $20,000, third $15,000 and fourth $10,000.

The winner, if 10 or more start, will collect upwards of $86,000.

The lineup as of today shows 11 colts ready to go. Entries close tomorrow. It costs $500 to enter, and $1,500 more to start.

Decorated is owned by Andrew J. Crovelli of nearby Alhambra, who paid $4,200 in a bargain buy for the youngster at the Lexington Sales in 1951. The brown son of Balladier earned the pre-race role of favorite off his two stakes victories at the Santa Anita meeting, with Chanlea one of the victims each time.

Knott Tournament Underway At 6

First round pairings have been announced for the Knott Independent Basketball tournament this week.

One more team is needed to round out the field. Entry fee, said James Lowe, who is arranging details, is $15 per team.

At 6 p. m. Thursday Knott and Forsan will meet. An hour later Center Point and Ackerly tangle. The 8 p. m. game is between Coca Cola and Garden City, and the finale at 9 p. m. is between Cook Appliances and any other team that might enter before the tournament starts.

Host Team In Playoff

Bearcats Host Forsan Bisons This Evening

GARDEN CITY — With their backs to the wall, the Garden City Bearcats host the Forsan Bisons tonight in a District 23-B basketball playoff game. Starting time is 7:30 o'clock.

The Bisons, coached by Frank Honeycutt, went one up in the best two-of-three game series by beating the Kats, 50-42, in Forsan Tuesday evening.

Garden City figures to do better in its own gymnasium, however.

If a third game is needed to decide the conference champion, it will be played in the Howard County Junior College Gymnasium at Big Spring on Friday night.

Each team finished with a 6-3 won-lost record in district play.

Garden City's attack is built around Bryant Harris, Wilburn Bednar and Bobby Frizell.

Forsan has been showing steady improvement since the season began. The Buffs are led by such boys as Albert Oglesby, Arlan White, Jerry Fowler, Dan Hayhurst and Harold Hicks.

Winner of the series will compete in the regional tournament. Biggest crowd of the season, many of its number from Forsan, is due to watch tonight's game.

Woodard Named SMU Mentor

DALLAS (AP)—Chalmer E. Woodard of McPherson College of Kansas today was named head football coach of Southern Methodist University.

Woodard succeeds H. N. (Rusty) Russell, who resigned as coach on Feb. 1 while under fire from alumni.

Woodard is director of athletics and head coach of football, basketball and track at McPherson. He compiled an outstanding record.

He will not report until Sunday to take up his duties at SMU and probably will start spring practice Monday.

Russell, who resigned with three years left on his contract, was paid off with an estimated $36,000. He said he could not coach the football team and take the criticism too.

Woodard was one of six men considered for the job, which pays a reported $12,000 a year.

Mike Brumblow, coach of Texas Western, said Saturday he didn't want the job after he was given a better contract at the school in El Paso. He had been considered the leading candidate.

Others considered were Andy Pincey Tulane; J. O. (Buddy) Brothers, Tulist; Milburn (Catfish) Smith, East Texas State, and Gomer Jones, Oklahoma University line coach.

Woodard will bring to SMU, traditionally a single-wing school, the T formation.

Dr. H. D. Mouson, chairman of the faculty athletics committee, announced the selection of Woodard at a press conference. Dr. Mouson said the committee unanimously voted to offer the job to Woodard at the recommendation of Matty Bell, athletic director.

Colts Acquire Clovis Player

SAN ANGELO — The San Angelo Colts of the Longhorns League have strengthened their infield with the addition of Johnny Jeandron, a shortstop.

Jeandron was acquired from Clovis of the WT-NM League in exchange for two right-handed hurlers, Larry Henke and Dick Palmer, and cash.

Jeandron, one-time Miami Florida International League player, hit .326 for Clovis last season. He played in 134 games. He drove in 104 runs and scored 91 times.

Henke spent most of last season with Hannibal of the Mississippi-Ohio Valley League. Palmer was with the Colts most of last year but saw little action.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Plainview's crack B basketball team has won 20 of 24 starts this season. Three of the Bulldogs' reversals have come at the hands of Sudan's A team, the other to Amarillo's reserves. No District 1-AAA B team has been able to keep pace with them.

All members of the Plainview B team will be back next season. The Bulldogs definitely will be the team to beat in the conference.

LUBBOCK GRID TEAM SHOWS BIG PROFIT It pays to have a football winner.

The Lubbock High School Westerners, who won the Class AAAA championship last fall, showed a profit of $45,340.26. The Westerners played to 148,514 paid admissions, compared to 153,198 the season before. The Lubbock team averaged 15,874 admissions at home games.

WHY GIVE NEWCOMER COACHES THE BREAKS Pete Shotwell, and other veteran coaches like him, must wonder if it's worth the effort.

Shotwell put something like 37 years in the game and was making $6,500 when he retired from the coaching business to enter another field of school work.

The Abilene school board then offered $7,000 per annum to his successor, Charley Moser, for his first year on the job. It is generally understood, too, that a raise is to be expected if a coach remains in the system. Moser brings a fair record up from the Valley but nothing to compare with Shotwell's great feats down through the years.

THEY CAN'T GO WRONG ON CHARLEY WARREN West Texas State College at Canyon has offered Charley Warren of HCJC an athletic scholarship. The Buffs are in need of a guard and figure Chuck can fill the bill.

Warren, though he's a mite as far as basketball players go, would make some Southwest Conference team a good hand.

Odd thing about Warren. He rarely looks outstanding in practice, but get him in a game and he shows to great advantage. He's not an in-and-out, either, but is consistently good.

Look for the Chicago White Sox to be rough for the next few seasons in American League play.

Of the 38 ten-year veterans in the circuit, the Sox have only one—Pitcher Joe Dobson.

One of the spectators at the 110-round fight between Jack Burke and Andy Bowen in New Orleans back in 1883 was baseball's beloved Connie Mack.

The fight, incidentally, lasted seven hours and 19 minutes.

Matty Bell, SMU's athletic director, may serve as referee of the West Texas Relays in Odessa March 20-21.

Johnny Crocker (Odessa), Dan Parra (Roswell) and Evelio Ortega (Odessa) are among the ex-Longhorn Leaguers due to go to spring workouts with Corpus Christi of the Big State League.

THEY MUST BE BIGGER IN PRO BALL Here's the reason Oklahoma's Tom Catlin wasn't grabbed any quicker in the pro football draft than he was.

Catlin, an All-American in the eyes of many, weighs only 195, which is considered relatively small for a pro lineman. Bigger men may wear him down in a game.

Catlin was ninth on the list of centers one team had in mind.

If the local school board will examine Coach Carl Coleman's contract, it will find it extends through Aug. 31, 1954, rather than until June 1, next year.

The board showed a strange lack of confidence in failing to renew Coleman's contract. When Carl was signed, he was told to build up football here. He's done it with a fine grade school program. He's on the verge of fielding his greatest team.

Perhaps Coleman's falling is that he doesn't politic as much as he should.

Mexican Meet Gets Underway

By JACK RUTLEDGE MEXICO CITY (AP)—A trio of torrid threesomes stole the spotlight today as the four-day Mexican Open Golf Tournament got off to a fast start under warm, sunny skies.

A total of 162 golfing greats of five Western Hemisphere nations are entered in the $9,400 peso ($9,450) tourney staged at the semi-private, 6,664-yard, 72-par Chapultepec Course.

But interest centered in three threesomes, teeing off minutes apart.

Red-hot Tony Holguin of Midlothian, Ill., fresh from his sensational 80-under-par victory in the Texas Open at Sea Antonio last week, was matched with Jimmy Demaret of Klamath Lake, N. Y., and Lloyd Mangrum of Niles, Ill.

Twenty minutes later Byron Nelson of Roanoke, Tex., was scheduled to swing into action against Tommy Bolt of Maplewood, N. J., and Antonio Cerda, one of Argentina's champions from Buenos Aires.

Julius Boros of Mid Pines, N. C., Jimmy Turnesa of Briarcliff, N. Y., and Roberto de Vicenzo, another Argentine star from Buenos Aires, formed the other trio expected to draw a big following.

Nations represented in the Mexican Open include the United States, Mexico, Argentina, Venezuela and Canada.

Representing Venezuela is its champion Manolo Bernaldez of Caracas, who was scheduled to tee off shortly after noon against Al Bessellink of Grossinger, N. Y., and Dave Douglas of Newark, Del.

Trotters Defeat Hawaiian Club

LAMESA — The Harlem Globe Trotters defeated the Hawaiian Surf Riders, 43-32, in an exhibition game here Wednesday night.

The crowd numbered 1,500. Late comers had to stand around the walls of the gym.

LITTLE SPORT

San Angelo Colts of the Longhorns League have strengthened their infield with the addition of Johnny Jeandron, a shortstop.

Jeandron was acquired from Clovis of the WT-NM League in exchange for two right-handed hurlers, Larry Henke and Dick Palmer, and cash.

Jeandron, one-time Miami Florida International League player, hit .326 for Clovis last season. He played in 134 games. He drove in 104 runs and scored 91 times.

Henke spent most of last season with Hannibal of the Mississippi-Ohio Valley League. Palmer was with the Colts most of last year but saw little action.

Miceli Upsets Bobby Dykes

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Joe Miceli, aggressive New York soldier, planned a campaign in the middleweight ranks today after chopping out a 10-round decision over Bobby Dykes in the Coral Gables Coliseum Wednesday night.

The tough Army private, who used a slashing left to pile up a heavy point margin against the favored Dykes in the early rounds, is scheduled to leave the service in a month.

Then, he said, he plans to go after a shot at the middleweight crown vacated by Sugar Ray Robinson.

Three Yanks Killed When UN Plane Drops Bombs Behind Lines

SEOUL (AP) - Three American soldiers were killed and five wounded when an Allied warplane accidentally dropped its bombs behind U. N. lines, it was learned.

Air Force and Navy officers refused to discuss the incident, but the Far East Command in Tokyo said it had started an investigation.

An American officer of the unit hit said he understands one fighter-bomber pilot had trouble with his bomb release mechanism while flying toward the Chinese lines on the Western Front.

The explosives dropped on the administrative section of a front-line battalion. The section was about 2 1/2 miles behind the line.

U. S. Fifth Air Force indicated Marine Panther jets were responsible. The Marines have been making their own investigation.

Brotherhood Speakers Urge Respect For The Individual

Accept a man for what he is—that's the American way and that's brotherhood.

This was the burden of brief messages from three Dallas laymen speaking to various groups in a Brotherhood Week observance here Wednesday.

In all, the men—H. G. Spruce, Jack Moser and Ronald Marks addressed approximately 1,500 people while here. This included assemblies at Howard County Junior College and the high school, a P-TA meeting, and a joint luncheon of the Lions, Kiwanis and American Business Clubs.

"We must respect the individual—respect a man for what he is. We must take a stand for the ideals of democracy and brotherhood," declared Spruce. "God didn't give preference when he created man. We must return to the principles of goodness, tolerance, justice and righteousness through practice of the Golden Rule."

Moser told the group that "despite differences in beliefs, we are friends because we respect each other's beliefs." He scored prejudices as opinions without basis of fact. Individuals who preach prejudice may do so for money, because they are egotists, because of imagined wrongs, or because of subversive activity designed for division. Don't condemn an entire group because of personal disagreement with or anger at one individual who may be a member of that group, he said. Brotherhood is the moral thing to practice.

People in Big Spring and Texas are practicing brotherhood because of knowledge of one another. A desire to understand one another will make the nation truly a United States of America, Marks asserted. The three spoke as a team—Spruce as a Protestant, Moser as a Catholic, Marks as a Jew.

R. R. McEwen, president of the host Lions Club president, and introduced R. L. Tollett as chairman of the local observance of Brotherhood Week. Dan Krause introduced the speakers.

LAREDO (AP)—A "buslift" operated by the U. S. Immigration and Naturalization Service is returning an average of 300 aliens daily to Mexico. Most of the aliens are Mexican farm workers.

John W. Holland, Immigration Service district director, said the "bus lift" is more successful than an airlift two years ago and a "train lift" last year.

Art Treasures To Be Put On Display By Mr. and Mrs. Stark

ORANGE (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Lutecher Stark will place their collection of art treasures on public view within the next two years. The couple announced yesterday that they plan to sell the untaxed residence in which the four-million-dollar collection is now kept. "Within a year from that time," the announcement said, the Starks will construct a museum in which the art objects will be put on public display. The collection was given to the University of Texas in 1937 but withdrawn later after the school failed to provide what the Starks considered suitable housing.

Nebraskans Admire Bryan, But Where Do You Put Him?

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP)—Nebraskans proudly grant a permanent place in history to William Jennings Bryan, but the question of a permanent place for his statue has them in a lizzy. A bronze likeness of the Great Commoner, a Nebraska lawyer who became a presidential candidate and a Cabinet member, now looks northward from the front steps of Nebraska's State Capitol. But a lot of people say it doesn't belong there. They can't agree where it should go. There have been charges that things would be different if Bryan were not a Democratic political hero in what today is a Republican state. Republicans sharply deny it. Though no one seems to want to say so, the real trouble may be simply that civic statuary is going out of date. The Bryan Memorial Commission, of which Bryan's sister, Mrs. T. S. Allen, is a member, says the complaints it hears are that the statue interferes "with the architectural simplicity and symmetry of our famous capitol."

Former Gov. Val Peterson suggested the statue go to the new Historical Building being built down the street from the Capitol. Sorry, said James E. Lawrence, president of the State Historical Society, but there is not suitable place there for Bryan's likeness "or any other statuary." The Legislature thought it had come up with a solution of its own when it passed a law last week giving itself sole power to move Capitol-bound memorials. But the law doesn't go into effect for 90 days. Meanwhile, it has been proposed in the Legislature that the statue be moved from the front of the Capitol around to the side or back. Yesterday, a resolution to that effect was referred to a special legislative committee which, in the end, may have the final word on where the statue goes.

Witnesses Due In Education Probe

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two witnesses were on call today to testify about communism in the education field at a closed hearing by the House un-American Activities Committee. Chairman Velde (R-Ill.) declined to tell reporters who the witnesses are. "We are not investigating any particular university or college," he said, "but are interested in publicizing any subversive activity that has been going on within the field of education." The committee heard two witnesses under the same circumstances yesterday.

Meanwhile, The Whale Is Not Going To Move

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A weighty problem — about three decaying tons of it — was washed into the laps of San Francisco authorities last night. But no one could be found who was willing to do anything about it. The problem was a dead whale the size of a small truck. It was first sighted—and smelled—rolling in the surf off the city's ocean beach by 12-year-old Norman Lindoreaux. Norman called Policeman Charles Sandoval. Sandoval called his sergeant at Taravel station. "It's not in our district," the deskman replied. "Our district ends at the beach." Next, the Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Animals: "You can't be cruel to a dead whale." Then the Coast Guard. It's on the out of our jurisdiction. It's on the tidelands—and didn't the administration promise to give the tidelands back to the states? The State Department of Fish and Game: "We're interested only in live fish and game." The city health department: "What problem? — maybe you've got the wrong number." There was one hope — that the rising tide might carry the dead whale back out to sea. Barring that — "Well," said Patrolman Sandoval, "it might be up to Norman. You know — finder's keepers."
