Abilene comes a-courtin' Cowgirl HOF

Suitors ask hall to elope with them

By GEORGIA TYLER
Staff Writer

Like a suitor asking his girl's father for her hand in marriage, a delegation from Abilene came calling to Hereford Tuesday.

The object of their affections is the National Cowgirl Hall of Fame.

Abilene Mayor Gary McCaleb figuratively knelt at the feet of the NCHOF board, seeking a marriage between his hometown and the attraction which has never known a home but Hereford.

McCaleb compared the situation to a young man asking his girl's father for permission to marry her.

"You are like the father... you want to know what we can do, how we'll take care of it and if we're in for the long haul," said McCaleb. "I can tell you we will take care of it and we intend to stay with it."

Five private planes brought 31 Abilene citizens to Hereford, arriving about 1:30 p.m. Tuesday at Municipal Airport. They were met by Hereford Mayor Bob Jossler and directors of the NCHOF who transported the visitors to the hall.

Dian Owen, chair of the Abilene Chamber of Commerce board of directors said the trip was made possible by donations from citizens of Abilene, who provided planes and pilots as well as expenses.

Buster Welch, long associated with cutting horse activities on the national level, also assured the Hereford board of the seriousness of the Abilene delegation.

Abilene is one of four cities in the running for the new home of the National Cowgirl Hall of Fame. Fort Worth, Granbury and Dodge City, Kan., are the other finalists.

Sponsors of the Abilene quest propose to place the National Cowgirl Hall of Fame and Western Heritage Museum under the wing of the Museums of Abilene. Quarters being proposed are adjacent to the former Abilene railway station that has been restored.

Among the visitors to Hereford Tuesday was Terry Keane, director of the Museums of Abilene.

Margaret Formby, founder and executive director of NCHOF, welcomed the delegation to Hereford and invited the visitors to tour the facility.

Roger Eades, chairman of the NCHOF board, also spoke briefly during the Abilene group's visit.

The executive board of NCHOF is studying proposals from the four cities still in the running.

Abilene's representatives at the meeting Tuesday pointed out that the Grace Cultural Center hosted 55,000 visitors in its first year of operation.

Griego files paperwork for commission term

The fourth incumbent city commissioner filed Wednesday morning for a position on the May 7 municipal election.

Nancy Griego, appointed last year to an unexpired term, filed for election to a two-year term in Place 2. She replaced Irene Cantu on the City Commission.

Wayne Winget, Place 4, and Carey Black and Roger Eades, both holding at-large seats on the commission, filed Tuesday for re-election.

The four positions are the only seats to be filled in this year's municipal election. Mayor Bob Jossler and Commissioners Silvana Juarez and Dennis Hicks were elected last year to two-year terms.

Deadline for filing for a place on the ballot is March 23.

Suspect in burglary, arson attacked by homeowner

BY RICK LANNING
Staff Writer

A burglary suspect who broke into a house, robbed it, and set fire to it was in custody in the Deaf Smith County Jail today while authorities decided what to do with him.

Police said the suspect, a 30-year-old itinerant, had already robbed one house and torched it when he was caught stealing meat from a freezer in a garage a couple of blocks away.

That turned out to be a mistake.

Police said the enraged owner John Powers, 506 Star, grappled with the suspect and was left holding the man's coat. Powers then grabbed a broom handle and beat the man on the back, according to officers.

Request for observer made by local person

Election inspector to oversee next week's primary balloting

By GEORGIA TYLER
Staff Writer

An election inspector from the Texas secretary of state's office will observe voting in Deaf Smith County during next Tuesday's Democratic primary election, a move welcomed by Deaf Smith County Clerk David Ruland, chief voting officer for the county.

Ruland said Wednesday that a request had been made for the inspector by county residents.

"We welcome the inspector. We're glad someone is coming because it will verify we're conducting fair and impartial elections," declared Ruland.

He said a secretary of state office staff member advised him officially of the assignment of an inspector. The secretary of state directs all Texas voting.

"They have more than 50 requests for inspectors," Ruland said. "They may have more by the deadline at 5 p.m. today (Wednesday)."

The petition for a voting inspector listed three Democratic polling places, Ruland said.

Only one inspector probably will come to Hereford, he continued, and will check at voting precinct one, Aikman School; voting precinct two, courthouse, and voting precinct 4, Community Center.

Contested races for county commissioner will be decided in voting precincts two and four.

On the ballot in voting precinct two are the incumbent county commissioner for Precinct 2, Lupe Chavez, and two opponents, Armando Alaniz and Bernie Griego.

Precinct 4 County Commissioner Johnny Latham is opposed by Edward Maldonado, a race on the voting precinct four ballot.

County-wide contests will be decided, also, for county judge, county clerk, justice of the peace and county treasurer as well as several uncontested candidates.

The presence of an inspector is not new to Deaf Smith County, Ruland reported.

"We had some come here once and stay only a half-day," he added.

By law, any irregularities detected by an inspector may be reported to the prosecutor in the jurisdiction in which they occur, or to the Texas attorney general.

Spellers lining up for county bees, scheduled here Thursday, Friday

The county champion will advance to the Regional Bee at West Texas

A&M University on April 9. It is sponsored by The Amarillo Globe-News and WTA&M. The region champ earns an expense-paid trip to Washington, D.C. to compete in the National Bee.

County winners will receive a total of $250 in awards from local business firms. The county champion will be presented $100 in savings bonds; the runnerup gets $50 in awards, and third place earns a $25 award. The Junior Bee champ, who can compete in the finals Friday, will receive a $50 savings bond, and the runnerup gets a $25 award.

Awards are contributed by First National Bank, Deaf Smith Electric Cooperative, Hereford State Bank, West Texas Rural Telephone, Gibson's, Hereford Texas Federal Credit Union, and The Brand.

The Junior Bee entrant are fourth and fifth-graders, while the Senior Bee has students from grades 6 through 8.

Bera Boyd will be the pronouncer again this year. Judges will be Jane Coplen and Lavon Nieman. KPAN Radio will carry a live broadcast both days.

Sharp, Chamber Singers to be highlights of banquet

John Sharp, Texas State Comptroller, will be keynote speaker and the Hereford Chamber Singers will provide special entertainment when Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce holds its annual banquet Thursday night in the Bull Barn.

The banquet, which begins at 7 p.m., also features the presentation of the "Citizen of the Year" award and the recognition of new officers and directors for the chamber. The event is open to the public. Tickets are $15 each and can be purchased at the C of C office.

"We invite all members and all interested citizens to attend this year's event as we begin the year with the theme 'The Future Is Ours,'" said Wes Fisher, 1994 chamber president.

Other new officers include Wes Klett, vice president, and John Sherrod, treasurer. New directors are Mark Andrews, Mike Foster, Raul Mariscal, Tommie Weemes, and Peggie Fox, Women's Division president.

The appearance by the Chamber Singers will mark their 25th anniversary as they form a reunion group of present and past members. The unique community group was formed in 1974, and their reputation as an outstanding choir spread rapidly. In the summer of 1975, they received an invitation from the Texas Choral Directors Association to sing for their annual convention.

Receiving support from the fine arts committee of Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce, the group received many invitations from community organizations and from other Panhandle communities.

A trip to the Iron Curtain country of Romania in 1977 was a highlight event for the group. Although freedom to communicate with the citizens from that oppressed Communist country was limited, the singers were received warmly.

Another highlight trip taken by the choir of adult singers was return trip in 1985 to celebrate the 35th anniversary of the Texas Choral Directors Association. Each year the group has prepared at least two major concerts for the public and has provided musical entertainment for many smaller gatherings. The variety of music has ranged from religious to country-western, from show tunes to classical, and from spirituals to oratorios.

The last major trip taken by the singers was to World Expo 88, the world's fair held in Brisbane, Australia. The Hereford Chamber Singers remain a vital part of the cultural assets of Deaf Smith County, and the group will continue to share its vocal talents with others.

Chamber Singers to perform

Administration claims Texas would benefit by $3 billion

By MICHELLE MITTELSTADT

Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) - The Clinton administration's latest pitch for its embattled health care reform package suggests states would reap nearly $46 billion in savings.

Texas alone would benefit to the tune of at least $3.3 billion, according to an administration study issued Tuesday.

The Department of Health and Human Services projects that between 1996 and 2000 Texas would save the $3.3 billion through reduced spending for Medicaid, long-term care and employer premiums.

The HHS plan suggests the state wouldn't be the only beneficiary.

Texas employers would save $1.9 billion in reduced insurance premium payments for workers in the year 2000 alone; while employees would pay $2.9 billion less in premiums, the study projects.

The Clinton plan, which would guarantee health coverage to all Americans, has been met with mixed reviews on Capitol Hill, where several competing congressional reform packages are circulating.

Many lawmakers are skittish about the administration's decision to achieve universal coverage through a mandate on all employers to provide health insurance and pay most of the premiums for workers and their families.

Texas Republican Sen. Phil Gramm's office swiftly attacked the study as flawed, saying the analysis ignores the Congressional Budget Office's conclusion that the Clinton plan would add $74 billion to the debt by the turn of the century.

"We note that after counting Texas' share of the $74 billion in extra debt that the CBO says will pile up as a consequence of the Clinton health care program that Texas will actually lose $5.1 billion by the year 2000," said Gramm's press secretary, Larry Neal.

Gramm is a vociferous critic of the Clinton plan and has introduced a proposal of his own that has garnered conservative support. Gramm's proposal has drawn administration criticism because it doesn't guarantee universal coverage.

The Texas chapter of the National Federation of Independent Business, which has cast a skeptical eye on the Clinton plan, didn't rush to embrace HHS' conclusion that Texas taxpayers and businesses alike would garner savings.

"I'm always suspicious of figures like that," said Texas NFIB state director Robert Howden.

"If it saves money in the long run, it sounds pretty interesting," said Howden, who hadn't yet seen the administration study. "I just hope it's not like a pig in a poke, where... they say it's going to save us money yet the state is losing money because of fewer businesses providing tax revenue and jobs."

An NFIB study last year estimated that health care reform built on employer mandates - such as the Clinton plan - could put up to 1.2 million Texas jobs at risk.

The HHS analysis projects Texas employers who currently offer health insurance to employees would save an average $290 on premiums for each worker in 2000 if the administration plan is enacted. Workers themselves would save an average $451 each on reduced premiums.

The biggest savings would come in Medicaid, the study said. Under the Clinton plan, Texas would save $2.6 billion in state Medicaid expenditures between 1997 and 2000.

Rising spending on Medicaid, which serves low-income residents, has been the driving motor of increased state spending nationwide in recent years. Over 21 percent of Texas' budget was devoted to Medicaid in 1992 - services that reached just over 9 percent of the population.

The study also projects that federal spending for home and community-based long-term care in Texas would increase by $4.2 billion under the Clinton plan.

Welcome to Hereford

Roger Eades, left, chairman of the board of the National Cowgirl Hall of Fame, greets visitors from Abilene, W.H. Green III, center, and Buster Welch. Green and Welch were among 31 persons who came to Hereford to continue the Abilene bid to move the NCHOF to that city.

Energy department, state move to preserve collider's benefits

DALLAS (AP) - All may not be lost with the superconducting super collider as the state and the Energy Department have taken steps toward preserving some of the benefits already produced by the multi-billion project.

The two moved closer Tuesday to preserving some of the medical and scientific benefits by agreeing to try and keep alive some projects. An advisory committee to Gov. Ann Richards, which has been sorting through ideas for months, chose options involving continued work on magnets, high-performance computing and cancer research.

Although it may take several months and as much as $44 million to work out the proposals, state officials say the action is a good step. "I believe that this agreement is good for the State of Texas and provides the framework for resolving unanswered questions and examining other uses of the SSC," said U.S. Rep. Martin Frost, D-Dallas.

Advisory committee chairman Jess Hay said the idea is that "you don't throw away $2 billion."

"You try to salvage it and in the process of doing so, you contribute to scientific advances of the country," he said. "The collider itself is not going to be kept going - there's not going to be a 52-mile tunnel - but that doesn't mean you have to throw away the intellectual property and assets. A good portion of that can be preserved."

Texas spent more than $500 million on the venture before Congress voted to kill it last October. How the state gets reimbursed is another issue that was discussed Tuesday.

"The Department recognizes that the State has made significant resource contributions to the project and we expect that there will be a financial settlement with the State that properly recognizes its contributions," Energy Secretary Hazel O'Leary wrote in a letter to Richards.

SUSPECT

around 11:40 p.m. Police Cpl. Albert Garza said the man appeared to be intoxicated.

According to Garza, the suspect was carrying checkbooks, savings books, rare coins, and other property belonging to Larry Ulibarri, a Hereford barber who owns a vacant house at 336 Avenue H.

Hereford Volunteer Fire Department had responded to the Avenue H location earlier in response to a fire call. Fire Marshall Jay Spain said his preliminary investigation indicated the house had been deliberately set on fire.

The fire broke out again this morning around 10 a.m. and firemen returned to the scene. Smoke and fire damage to the structure was extensive.

Roland Saul, Criminal District Attorney for Deaf Smith County, said he hasn't decided what charges to file against the suspect, who apparently has no address.

"There are warrants and a hold on him from Wisconsin for assault," Saul stated. "The local police have charged him with public intoxication."

"With the warrants and hold and the additional charge, he won't be able to bond out until the investigation is completed."

Hereford police said they also found outstanding warrants from Marathon County Sheriff's Office charging the suspect with felony assault and bail jumping.

Ulibarri told police his mother had been living at the house that was torched but had recently moved in with his sister in another part of town.

Jury gives sentence of death

SEGUIN, Texas (AP) - One of Texas' most notorious killers, Kenneth Allen McDuff, has received the death sentence for the murder of an Austin woman, but the victim's family said that is only one step toward justice.

McDuff, 47, was sentenced Tuesday to die for the kidnapping, rape and slaying of Colleen Reed, a 28-year-old secretary for the Lower Colorado River Authority, who was abducted from an Austin carwash on Dec. 29, 1991.

He also received two life sentences for aggravated kidnapping and aggravated sexual assault.

For McDuff, who has spent half his life in prison, it was his third death sentence.

Lori Bible, 32, Miss Reed's sister, said the next steps are to try McDuff's accomplice, Alva Hank Worley, 36, and hopefully find Miss Reed's remains.

"The last chapter will always be reserved for bringing Colleen home," she said.

As for McDuff, he will be returned to the Travis County Jail for several days before State District Court Judge Wilford Flowers designates attorneys to handle his appeals. Then he will be sent to death row in Huntsville.

A death sentence is automatically appealed to the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals.

McDuff's trial attorneys, Chris Gunter and Andy Forsythe, who asked a jury to assess life in prison for the murder, said the appeals will cost millions of dollars and take more than five years.

Ann Landers

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I have never written to you before, but your response to "Angry Mother" regarding the little boy in Ohio who set his house on fire after watching "Beavis and Butt-head" made me furious.

You asked the question, "Isn't anyone monitoring the programs that children might see?" My question to you is where was the child's mother when he was watching "Beavis and Butt-head?" And where was she when he got ahold of the lighter? Why wasn't she there to tell him that fire is dangerous? And why on earth did she allow him to watch MTV in the first place? It is definitely not for young children.

I'm sick and tired of groups and organizations that try to get shows off the air because they don't want their kids to see them. Why don't they just turn off the TV?

Personally, I happen to hate "Beavis and Butt-head," and I don't watch it. I'll give you my name if you have any questions, but please don't print it. Just sign me—Working Writer in Carver City, Calif.

A towel rack attached to the inside of a closet door can hold several pairs of slacks.

DEAR WRITER: It is indeed the responsibility of the parents or caretakers to monitor the TV. Too many people use it as an electronic baby sitter. They don't care what their kids are looking at as long as it keeps them occupied.

Soon we will have 400 channels to choose from. What a nightmare this could be! Please, parents—you wouldn't let your children eat garbage, why let them put it in their heads?

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My husband is 32, and he still has a problem with bed-wetting. It happens fairly infrequently but often enough that I am constantly wondering if I will get to sleep the entire night in a dry bed.

My husband comes from a family of six boys, and I learned early in our marriage that at least two of his brothers have the same problem.

Do you have any idea about what could be causing this? Is there anything I can do to stop it from happening? I haven't discussed it with my husband because it embarrasses him, and I don't know how to approach it. I know he would never discuss it with a doctor. Please help—Iowa Reader

DEAR IOWA: Your 32-year-old husband wets the bed, and you haven't discussed it with him because he might be embarrassed? What on earth are you waiting for, woman? The Johnstown Flood?

This man needs help—and so do his brothers. Do the whole family a favor, and write to the American Enuresis Foundation for help. Send a long, self-addressed, stamped (52 cents) envelope to: The American enuresis Foundation, P.O. Box 54556, Tulsa, Okla. 74155-0556.

For a grown man to get up in a wet bed must be embarrassing to say the least. I'm sure he would love to get over this, and he needs your help.

Gem of the Day: A real estate agent asked a woman eating her lunch in the park if she was interested in buying a house. "What do I need a house for?" she asked. "I was born in a hospital, educated in public schools, courted in an automobile and married in a church. I live out of sacks of food I buy at delicatessens and fast-food places. I spend my mornings on the golf course; my afternoons at bridge tables and my evenings at the movies. I don't need a house, only a garage."

Ann Landers' latest booklet, "Nuggets and Doozies," has everything from the outrageously funny to the poignantly insightful. Send a self-addressed, long, business-size envelope and a check or money order for $5 (this includes postage and handling) to: Nuggets, c/o Ann Landers, P.O. Box 11562, Chicago, Ill. 60611-0562.

Terms of the agreement were not given. The contract follows one Kerrigan signed with Walt Disney Co. for a reported $2 million.

Lady Sandies go for repeat at state basketball tourney

By CHIP BROWN
Associated Press Writer
AUSTIN (AP) - Tracie Swayden, Kim Linder and Stefanie Andrus are back for more.

After leading the Amarillo Sandies to the 1993 Class 5A state girls basketball title, the three seniors are seeking a repeat at the University Interscholastic League girls state basketball tournament, which begins Thursday with Class A, 3A and 4A semifinal games.

Class 2A and 5A semifinal games begin Friday. All the championship games will be played Saturday.

Amarillo (34-1), which features a disciplined display of pressing and trapping, is 94-9 since Swayden, Linder and Andrus became starters as sophomores three years ago.

Over the past two years, the Sandies are 69-2 with the three in the starting rotation. All average double figures in scoring.

They will face League City Clear Creek (29-7) Friday afternoon. Clear Creek, riding a 17-game winning streak, is making its first appearance at the state tournament since 1988.

In the other 5A bracket, San Antonio East Central (35-1) faces Conroe (32-1). East Central knocked off last year's 5A runner-up, Corpus Christi King, in a neck-and-neck, 42-38 decision to obtain its first-ever berth in the state tournament.

Conroe - making its first tourney appearance since 1972 - is known for a dizzying offense that posted a 102-point output in one victory and scores of 98, 91 and 90 in three other wins.

In Class 4A, no teams return from last year's tournament.

Waco Midway (35-3), which knocked off 1993 4A state champs Austin Westlake in the playoffs, will face Borger (29-7) Thursday evening.

In the other semifinal, Dallas Lincoln (28-5), which beat one team this year 98-7, will meet Tomball (27-5), a team making its first-ever tournament appearance.

The story in 4A, however, may well be Borger's coach, Jill Rankin Schneider, who was a member of the 1980 U.S. Olympic women's basketball team that boycotted the games due to political disputes with the Soviet Union.

Schneider is a former assistant coach at Texas, which hosts the state tournament at the Frank Erwin Center.

In Class 3A, the only undefeated team in this year's state championship, Brownsboro (38-0), will face Waco La Vega (31-3) on Thursday. In the other bracket, Dripping Springs (34-3), runner-up in last year's 3A state final, takes on red-hot Canyon (30-3), which won the state title in 1992 and is currently riding a 28-game win streak.

In Class 2A action Friday, Bloomington (33-4), which has won all of its playoff games by more than 20 points, takes on Hemphill (29-4), a state tournament newcomer.

The other semifinal pits Tuscola Jim Ned (32-2), which is making its first tourney appearance, against Rogers (28-4).

In Class A, Sudan (33-3) faces La Rue La Poyner (27-6) Thursday morning. In the other bracket, Jayton (33-2) will face perennial power Moulton (31-7), which is making its 15th trip to the state tournament since 1958.

Trio pitches Herd to win over 'Dogs

By JAY PEDEN
Sports Editor

Hereford's pitching performances dovetailed nicely in a 5-4 win over Plainview Tuesday at Whiteface Field.

Ray Hastings pitched five innings, giving up only one run. When Hastings began to tire in the sixth and gave up a couple of runs, Louis Hernandez came on to finish the inning.

Andrew Tijerina started the seventh with a 5-3 lead and started shakily, walking the first batter and giving up an RBI triple to Cleat Bell, the second batter.

Bell stayed on third. Tijerina struck out the next batter he faced, then coaxed two ground balls. For the last out, shortstop Ronald Torres made the play in the hole, and his long throw to first just beat the runner.

The win raised the Herd's record to 1-1.

"I think the kids are starting to realize that they can be pretty good," coach J.J. Villarreal said.

"He (Hastings) lost his velocity," Villarreal said, referring to the sixth inning, when a single and two doubles resulted in two Plainview runs, cutting Hereford's lead to 5-3.

"I wanted him to go five innings, so in the sixth it was questionable. I brought in Louis to finish the sixth. I brought in Andrew to take them off-balance because he's a lefthander. He's not going to finesse you, he's going to blow it right by you."

Chris Vallejo was the Herd's hitting star, going 2-for-3 and driving in three runs.

Plainview started the scoring, as Ty Miller led off the game with an infield single, and Bell drove him home on a ground rule double to center. Two runners were on, and both probably would have scored had the ball not bounced over the fence.

The ground rule kept the runner on third, and Hastings kept him there. Plainview stranded eight men on base in the first five innings.

Hereford got two runs in the second and three in the fourth. Walks by Stacey Sanders started both rallies.

In the second, Armando Zambrano followed Sanders with a walk. Torres moved them up with a perfect bunt, setting up Vallejo. His bouncing single up the middle brought home Sanders and Zambrano for a 2-1 Hereford lead.

In the fourth, Sanders walked and went to third on Zambrano's single to center. Torres drove Sanders home with a single up the middle, and Vallejo sent Zambrano home with a single to left. Jacob Lopez walked to load the bases, and Torres scored when Tijerina grounded into a double play.

The Plainview pitcher who came on to face Tijerina, Brandon Hanniger, retired all eight batters he faced.

Hastings got the win, and Tijerina picked up a save. Plainview starter

Jamie Fitzgerald absorbed the loss. Hereford will play in a tournament in Levelland Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

After two games, Vallejo has gone 4-for-8 with four RBI and two runs scored. Lopez is 3-for-4 with two RBI, and Josh Tice is 3-for-6 with a run scored. Sanders has drawn five walks in seven plate appearances, and he has scored two runs.

Ruiz wins boxing bout

Hereford's Jaime Ruiz ran his professional boxing record to 4-3 with a majority decision over Pat Chavez Thursday night in Las Vegas.

"One judge had it a draw and two judges had it for me—one by one point and one by two points," Ruiz said. "It was a heck of a fight."

Chavez knocked Ruiz down in the second round, Ruiz said, but Chavez got tired after the third round, and Ruiz was able to come back strong.

Ruiz moved up in weight class for the fight, to featherweight (126 pounds) from bantamweight (118). Chavez has fought as a lightweight (135), Ruiz said.

Chavez, of Denver, falls to 6-8-1.

Herd's Buckley named 2nd team All-District 1-4A

Hereford's Benton Buckley was named second team All-District 1-4A, coach Randy Dean said today.

Buckley was the only Whiteface honored.

The team could not be released until all teams from the district were finished playing. Pampa was eliminated from the playoffs Tuesday with a 71-69 loss to Wichita Falls.

Shallowater wins here; Pampa falls

The Shallowater Mustangs held off the Panhandle Panthers for a 77-70 playoff win Tuesday night in Whiteface Gym.

Shallowater improves to 30-4 and will go on face Haskell. Panhandle ends its season at 21-11.

Panhandle took a 6-2 lead early, but an 8-0 run by Shallowater erased that. The Mustangs led the rest of the way: 18-10 after one quarter; 35-30 at the half; and 53-47 after three quarters.

Jay Lusk led Shallowater with 33 points, and Aaron Brown added 22. For Panhandle, Kelly Black scored 27 and Allen Gorham had 16.

Wichita Falls knocked the District 1-4A champion Pampa boys out of the playoffs with a 71-69 win Tuesday at Lubbock's Monterey High.

Wichita Falls (29-2) will play for a state tournament berth against 2-4A champ Plainview (32-3), a 75-74 winner over Justin Northwest Tuesday in Snyder.

Pampa ends its season with a 26-9 record. Justin Northwest closes out at 29-5.

Knicks overcome Kings after Riley's shakeup

By The Associated Press
The New York Knicks lost most of their Atlantic Division lead in February. March brought a new lineup and the end of a four-game losing streak.
Coach Pat Riley's three new starters missed 10 of 18 shots and combined for just 17 points, but the bottom line was a 100-88 victory Tuesday night at Sacramento.

"It's nice to shake the doldrums with a win," said Riley, whose team outrebounded Sacramento 54-32. "Our rebounding paid off. We got the shots when we needed them."

Patrick Ewing, one of two holdover starters in the revamped lineup, had 28 points and tied his season-high with 21 rebounds.
Riley started Anthony Bonner, Derek Harper and Hubert Davis in place of Charles Smith, John Starks and Greg Anthony.

But Anthony, averaging 4.8 points on 28 percent shooting his previous seven games, came off the bench with 18 points, including three 3-pointers. He led New York's 46-9 advantage over Sacramento's reserves.
Elsewhere in the NBA, it was New Jersey 108, Detroit 98; Washington 109, Philadelphia 103; Atlanta 102, Minnesota 99; Indiana 106, Portland 94; Miami 110, Milwaukee 102; Houston 97, Orlando 85; Seattle 112, Charlotte 96; and Golden State 114, the Los Angeles Clippers 109.

Mitch Richmond scored 29 points for the Kings.
Rockets 97, Magic 85
Houston snapped Orlando's seven-game winning streak behind Hakeem Olajuwon's 26 points and six blocked shots.
Olajuwon got help from Otis Thorpe, with 19 rebounds, and rookie Sam Cassell, who scored all of his 16 points in the second half.
Anfernee Hardaway and Dennis Scott each scored 21 points for the Magic.

Heat 110, Bucks 102
Miami went five games over the .500 mark for the first time in franchise history, defeating Milwaukee behind Glen Rice's 25 points and Grant Long's season-high 22.
Long scored 14 points in the third quarter as the Heat increased their 58-47 halftime lead to 91-74.
Vin Baker scored 26 points and Todd Day 23 for the Bucks, who got as close as eight points in the final period.

Baylor knocks Aggs off SWC pace

By The Associated Press
The Baylor Bears did the Texas Longhorns a favor by upsetting Texas A&M and giving the Longhorns the lead in the Southwest Conference basketball race.

The Aggies kept a slight lead until Baylor (14-10, 5-7) tied it at 72 with a free throw by Doug Brandt.
David Edwards answered with a field goal and free throw for a 75-72 A&M lead. Aundre Branch scored a free throw and Lambert banked in a field goal with 31 seconds left to tie at 75. Lambert then blocked an Edwards shot with five seconds left to send the game into overtime.

The upset victory also felt good for Baylor coach Darrel Johnson, who had been disappointed with three losses in a row.
"I told our kids going into the second overtime, 'No matter what happens, I'm proud of you guys,'" he said.
"This team has been through a lot of adversity and this win feels really good," he said.

The Houston Cougars defeated the Lamar Cardinals 95-81 in a non-conference game.
Tim Moore made 31 points and pulled down 11 rebounds in the Houston victory.
Willie Byrd added 16 points for Houston, Jessie Drain had 15 and Hershel Wafer had 14. Atiim Browne led Lamar with 23 points and Keith Veney scored 17 for the Cardinals.

Pacers 106 Trail Blazers 94
Rik Smits had 24 points and 13 rebounds, his fifth straight game with double figures in both, as Indiana beat Portland for its eighth consecutive victory at home.
Indiana wiped out Portland's last lead, 51-50, with a 10-0 run that included a technical on Cliff Robinson, who led the Blazers with 17 points.

Nets 108, Pistons 98
Derrick Coleman had 25 points, 15 rebounds and seven blocks and Chris Morris scored 23 points in New Jersey's victory over visiting Detroit.
Isiah Thomas had 16 points and 14 assists and Joe Dumars 19 points as the Pistons lost their fourth straight and their 36th in 45 starts.

The Bears needed two overtimes to take a 95-92 victory over the Aggies on Tuesday night as Jerome Lambert scored 20 points and Nelson Haggerty hit a key 3-pointer and provided 12 assists for Baylor.

The Aggies jumped out to a four-point lead as Lance Broderson hit a jumper and McGinnis hit two free throws.
Lambert dunked on a feed from Haggerty to make it 79-77. Haggerty then fouled Edwards with 22 seconds left and Edwards got only one free throw for an 80-77 lead. Haggerty came back with a 3-pointer with 15 seconds left to bring up a second overtime at 80-80.

It was the third victory in four games for the Cougars (7-18). Lamar (10-16) has lost 21 of 23 meetings with Houston.

SuperSonics 112, Hornets 96
Seattle improved its home record to 22-3 and handed Charlotte its 14th loss in 15 games as Kendall Gill and Gary Payton scored 21 and 20 points, respectively.
The Hornets played the Sonics even for three periods, then were outscored 31-17 in the fourth period.
Hersey Hawkins scored 26 points

Bullets 109, 76ers 103
Pervis Ellison had season highs of 25 points and 12 rebounds as Washington beat Philadelphia, ending the Bullets' six-game losing streak and extending the 76ers' loss skid to 10.
Clarence Weatherspoon had 26 points and 14 rebounds for the visiting Sixers, who led 54-47 at halftime. But the Bullets—with Tom Gugliotta getting 10 of his 19 points—outscored Philadelphia 34-21 in the third period, connecting on 16 of 23 shots.

Texas A&M coach Tony Barone credited the victory to the key plays that Baylor made.
"They deserved to win because of the way they came back. We just fell apart at the foul line. Haggerty hit the big shot that put the game into overtime. That was a good job and deserved to win. They took advantage of our mistakes," Barone said.

Baylor jumped off to an 86-80 lead to open and the Aggies could get no closer than three the rest of the way.

Hoosiers bounce back vs. Illini

By HANK LOWENKRON
AP Sports Writer
BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (AP) - Bob Knight sent a message, and his players got it.

"So many people are supposed to know so much.
"To paraphrase Winston Churchill, 'Never have so many thought they knew so much and knew so little.' We accomplished tonight exactly what we tried to do on Sunday."

lax," said Thomas, whose 14 points were five below his average. "I don't think it was any one thing that they did, or one thing that we did."
Henderson, who didn't score at Minnesota, had 20 points, 11 rebounds, four blocks and four assists. The only problem he had was at the free throw line where he accounted for all of Indiana's misses.

Knight pulled four of his starters last Sunday and benched them for most of the game while Indiana absorbed the school's worst defeat in 89 years, losing 106-56 to Minnesota.

In the only other games involving ranked teams Tuesday night, No. 14 Syracuse beat Miami 71-69 and No. 23 Boston College downed St. John's 95-76.

No. 14 Syracuse 71, Miami 69
The visiting Orangemen (20-5, 12-5 Big East) trailed most of the second half and took the lead for good at 70-69 on Lawrence Moten's three-point play with 42 seconds left. The Hurricanes (7-18, 0-17) missed two shots in the final 10 seconds and lost their 15th straight game. Moten had 18 points to lead Syracuse, which was outrebounded 52-34. Alex Fraser had 14 points to lead Miami.

The No. 17 Hoosiers apparently understood Knight's plan as they bounced back with an 82-77 triumph over Illinois on Tuesday night.

Bailey and Alan Henderson, two of Indiana's benched starters on Sunday, led the Hoosiers as they extended the nation's longest home winning streak to 43 games.

No. 23 Boston College 95, St. John's 76
Bill Curley had 30 points and 11 rebounds in his final home game as the Eagles (20-8, 11-6 Big East) reached the 20-win mark for the first time since 1984-85, which was also the last time they made the NCAA tournament field.

But Knight did talk to ESPN.
"If we didn't have an effort tonight, we'll never get one," he said. "We didn't have much of one against a team that played awfully well Sunday. ... Sometimes you lose the battle to win the war."

Bailey, who had 22 points, made all 12 of his free throws as Indiana made the Illini pay for fouling. Indiana (18-6, 11-4 Big Ten) hit 26 of 31 free throws, compared to eight of 20 by Illinois (15-9, 8-7). Deon Thomas, a 74 percent free-throw shooter, missed 8 of 12.

No. 23 Boston College 95, St. John's 76
Bill Curley had 30 points and 11 rebounds in his final home game as the Eagles (20-8, 11-6 Big East) reached the 20-win mark for the first time since 1984-85, which was also the last time they made the NCAA tournament field.

Knight's decision to keep his starters on the bench drew considerable public criticism.

Indiana had a 42-33 advantage off the boards and built a four-point halftime advantage to 19 before Illinois made it close with a series of 3-pointers in the closing minutes.

No. 23 Boston College 95, St. John's 76

"We had no chance, so what difference does it make to try and make a comeback and push everybody to the gills. (Damon) Bailey was sick and rundown and he asked to come out of the game," Knight told ESPN.

Kerrigan loses some of her perfect image

By KEN GUGGENHEIM
Associated Press Writer
BOSTON (AP) - Days after losing out on a gold medal, figure skater Nancy Kerrigan is trying not to lose her golden image.

While waiting to be awarded the silver medal Friday, Kerrigan was heard complaining that gold medalist Oksana Baiul of Ukraine was delaying the award ceremony. While sitting next to Mickey Mouse at a Disney World parade Sunday, she was recorded saying, "This is so corny, this is so dumb. I hate it. This is the most corny thing I've ever done."

Those remarks - plus her criticism of figure skating judges, her boasting that own performance was flawless and her skipping of the Olympic closing ceremonies - threatened to sully her Snow White image and dim her marketing appeal.

On Tuesday, a Kerrigan spokesman tried some damage control.

Dewey Blanton of ProServ issued a statement Tuesday night saying Kerrigan was disappointed at the "negative reaction and misinterpretation some of her recent comments had received."

Of the remark about Baiul, Kerrigan said: "I was afraid the crowd was losing its enthusiasm and was starting to leave. It was not meant as a slight toward Oksana."

Of the "corny" comment, she said: "I was not saying that the parade was corny or dumb. I enjoyed it tremendously. Riding down Main Street with Mickey Mouse - what could be better than that?"

"What I was commenting on to my mother was her insistence that I wear my medal during the parade. Since I was a little girl, I was told not to brag. I was afraid that it might look like bragging, and I'm not comfortable with that."

Sports analysts and public relations specialists say she hasn't done herself irreparable harm - at least not yet.

"Those comments she made were relatively low-key," said Larry Unes, a Chicago-based talent consultant who links celebrities with advertising agencies. "The glow that she left is going to supersede anything that is going to be construed as negative."

"I think that Americans are so fascinated by Nancy Kerrigan and Tonya Harding and the whole Nancy Kerrigan story that she can do no wrong right now," said Kim Bartel, an assistant professor of mass communications and public relations at Boston University.

Even before she was attacked Jan. 6 at the U.S. Figure Skating Championships in Detroit, Kerrigan had promotional contracts with Reebok shoes and Campbell soup. As she recovered from her injuries and as the attack was linked to the Harding's entourage, Kerrigan's girl-next-door image was enhanced.

She signed a contract worth a reported $2 million with Walt Disney Co., and on Monday agreed to appear in advertisements for Revlon.

Kerrigan's silver medal was expected to only add to her appeal, but almost immediately she began her series of public relations blunders. When she was told, mistakenly, that the medal ceremony had been delayed because Baiul was redoing her makeup, an annoyed Kerrigan was heard on television saying: "Oh, come on. So she's going to get out here and cry again. What's the difference?"

In interviews in the following days, she said she had skated flawlessly, that Baiul had not, and she questioned the judges for not deducting points for Baiul's mistakes.

She left Norway before the closing ceremonies to attend the Disney World parade, even though Disney officials said the parade could have been held another day. Callers to radio talk shows began voicing their disenchantment with Kerrigan and newspaper columnists started blasting her.

But none of this is enough to destroy her image - or scare away corporate sponsors, analysts said.

"If she continues, it will be very bad for her image," said David Burns of the Chicago-based Burns Sports Celebrity Service. But he said he's sure Kerrigan's agents will convince her "to stop expressing negatives in interviews."

"That will stop. I can guarantee you," he said.

John Erlichman, a former aide to President Richard M. Nixon, and three others were convicted in 1974 of conspiring to violate the civil rights of Daniel Ellsberg's former psychiatrist.

Red Sox skipper gets beamed

By The Associated Press
Boston Red Sox manager Butch Hobson lost his equilibrium, but not his sense of humor after he was hit by a foul ball during batting practice Tuesday at Winter Haven, Fla.

"It hit me in the head, I'm all right," he said, then continued an interview he was conducting in the Boston dugout when a one-hop grounder off the bat of Ruben Rodriguez struck him above his left ear.

Hobson began feeling dizzy and was treated in the clubhouse with smelling salts. Hobson said after the team's workout that he was feeling better, but still appeared a bit wobbly.

The Chicago White Sox will be without pitcher Jose DeLeon for three to six weeks after an MRI revealed a torn knee ligament. The White Sox signed right-hander Scott Sanderson to a minor league contract.

DeLeon has a partial tear of the medial collateral ligament of his left knee, an injury sustained during fielding drills Monday.

Michael Jordan, admitting that the daily press briefings on his progress were starting to wear on him, won't find any solitude Thursday. But he is looking forward to an intrasquad game at Sarasota, Fla., where he might face Chicago White Sox teammate Jack McDowell, the American League's Cy Young Award winner.

"I think I'm well equipped with fundamentals they have been teaching me," Jordan said. "I'm ready to see if I can excel at it or do well at it or do some of that in live action."

Negotiations on a labor agreement with baseball owners apparently will be difficult and a strike later in the season is a real possibility, players union chief Don Fehr said Tuesday as he began his 28-team tour of spring training camps, meeting for nearly two hours with the Montreal Expos.

Ask Dr. Lamb

DEAR DR. LAMB:—My dad works at a stressful desk job an average of 10 hours a day. He has high blood pressure which he controls with Tenormin. He has back disk problems the doctors say can only be addressed by routine exercise or surgery. He has trouble breathing when he lies down because his nasal passages immediately get blocked.

Dad is 52, about 5 feet 8 inches and weighs 225 pounds. He gets no regular exercise, eats little during the day, but a large dinner preceded by two or three screwdrivers (vodka and orange juice) and one-third box of Triscuits with Cheez Whiz. He eats no fish, but mostly chicken and pork, lots of vegetables with margarine and fruit. On weekends he relaxes around the house.

I am concerned that his current weight, eating habits and lack of exercise will result in serious heart or other problems. Is this a logical concern? Could his weight and lifestyle contribute to his back and breathing problems?

DEAR READER: One cause for back problems is a large abdomen along with being overweight. And if a person is too fat, it can influence his breathing. The diaphragm is pushed upward from the fat in the abdomen and breathing is more difficult.

Your father has at least three factors that do significantly increase his risk of a heart attack: high blood pressure, lack of exercise and being overweight. Stress usually takes its toll in the person who already has heart disease. He probably already has significant changes in his coronary arteries.

The two remaining questions are: What are his cholesterol levels (total cholesterol, HDL-cholesterol and LDL-cholesterol), and does he smoke? If he is on medicine to control his blood pressure, I'm sure his doctor knows what his cholesterol levels are.

Have your dad read my new Special Report 133, Prevention of Angina Pectoris and Heart Attacks, which I'm sending you. Others who want this report can send $3 with a stamped (52 cents), self-addressed, No. 10 envelope for it to THE HEALTH LETTER/133, P.O. Box 5537, Riverton, NJ 08077-5537. If he will lose weight and exercise, he can also decrease his blood pressure problem and may be able to take less medicine. He is probably at least 50 pounds overweight.

DEAR DR. LAMB: My symptom is an excessive amount of saliva that sometimes results in drooling even when awake. It especially annoys me when I speak before a group. Is there anything I can take to reduce the saliva when I am going to speak in public? I asked my doctor, but he didn't think it was much of a problem and gave me no satisfaction. I am 66 years old and in good health. It started about three years ago. Any suggestions would be most appreciated.

DEAR READER: Excessive saliva production is sometimes stimulated by gastric acidity. The saliva is alkaline and helps to neutralize the acid. Occasionally, various neurological problems may cause it, but I would expect additional symptoms. Poor-fitting dentures and other dental problems can be a cause.

You might benefit from one of the atropine group of medications such as Pro-Banthine (propantheline bromide) which your doctor could prescribe. It will dry the mouth so you need to know how much is needed to control saliva without causing such a dry mouth that you would feel uncomfortable speaking. Such medications are commonly used before surgery or sometimes before dental procedures to limit saliva production.

DEAR DR. LAMB: I am a nurse and read your column carefully. Friends called me recently having read only the headline of your column. The headline read, "Diet high in purines help gout sufferers." Your article actually said, "But you can benefit from a low-purine diet." All I could tell my friends was that the newspaper made a very bad mistake. I called the man at our newspaper who wrote the headline and all he said was he guessed he didn't read the whole article or missed what you said. I hope you will clarify this stupid mistake which ran in another paper in a nearby community as well.

DEAR READER: The headline was unfortunate. Although my column goes out with a headline, many newspapers choose to write their own. One of these even made the Jay Leno show. My column was correct as written; the headline by the newspaper was not. It is a good idea for people to read more than headlines, not only in health articles but for any news item.

Dr. Lamb welcomes letters from readers with health questions. You can write to him at P.O. Box 5537, Riverton, NJ 08077-5537.

Special observance scheduled Monday

The community is invited to join members of Church Women United in fasting and prayer in observance of World Day of Prayer. The event is planned from noon until 1 p.m. Monday, March 7, in the sanctuary of First United Methodist Church, 501 N. Main St.

This special service, held during the Lenten season, is based on the story of Christ's passion and resurrection as told in the gospels of Luke and Mark and focuses on the experiences of women living in the occupied territories of the West Bank and Gaza. The authors are Orthodox and Christian Palestinian women charged with truth and hope.

Special guest speaker will be Hereford's own "beloved Palestinian lady," Sylvia Khuri.

Other local participants include worship leader, Janie Banner; music leaders, Carmen Flood and Dee Anne Trotter; and readers, Keith Ann Gearn, Amy Gililand, Zula Arney and Reba Vaughn.

For additional information, contact CWU President Eloise McDougal at 364-2208.

Local teachers attend convention in Houston

Several Hereford Independent School District teachers were among more than 600 Texas educators who attended the recent 1994 Convention of the Texas Classroom Teachers Association in Houston. They included Maria Garcia, Suzan Schriber, Catherine Cortez, Rosario Nava, Jeanie Conway and Elvira Muniz.

Convention delegates discussed current education issues, made policy decisions for the association and elected 1994-95 state officers.

The local instructors are members of the Hereford Classroom Teachers Association. They attended convention sessions on such issues as school violence, inclusion and special education, and year-round schooling.

In addition, delegates presented awards to recognize excellence among individuals who work on behalf of public education.

TCTA non-member award recipients included State Rep. Paul Adler of Henderson; Lubbock, Independent School District Volunteer Sherry Hurst; Larry Bleiberg of the Dallas Morning News; Karen Sonleitner, formerly of KVUE-TV in Austin; High School Principal Sandra Mossman of Clear Creek; High School Assistant Principal Margie Wheeler of Texas City; and Elementary School Principal Charles Zeller of Silsbee. TCTA members honored for outstanding service were Linda Hancock of Midland as Faculty Representative of the Year and Ida Love Smith of Lubbock as Retiree of the Year.

TCTA President Carol Barrett of Baytown presided over the convention which was held at the Wyndham Greenspoint Hotel in Houston.

TCTA is a non-profit, non-union professional association serving 30,000 classroom teachers and related professionals in Texas. Founded in 1927, TCTA is the only Texas teacher association that limits membership to those directly involved in classroom teaching or teaching support.

ATLANTA (AP) - Nancy Wilson and Lena Horne, Muhammad Ali and former Mayor Tom Bradley are accomplished black Americans trumpeted by Turner Broadcasting System.

They were among 15 people honored Monday night at TBS' Trumpet Awards dinner. Others included poet Maya Angelou, novelist Terry McMillan, ABC newswoman Carole Simpson, and Anheuser-Busch executive Wayman F. Smith.

"The concept of this award is wonderful," Ms. McMillan said. "It's nice to know we are appreciated for what we do. I wish the list was longer - there are lots more of us."

Hints from Heloise

Dear Heloise: When driving to an unfamiliar place, I write the directions on a yellow "sticky" note and place it on the steering wheel.

This makes it much easier to quickly glance at a street name and may even help avoid an accident! — Lisa Arends, San Antonio, Texas

FAST FACTS

Dear Heloise: I keep a jar of used toothbrushes near the cleaning supplies. They are ideal tools for many small cleaning, scrubbing jobs:

- around bathroom and kitchen faucets
- crevices on kitchen counters
- cleaning the face of golf clubs
- also excellent for brushing dirt from trouser cuffs prior to washing or dry-cleaning. — Jane S. Peters, Camp Hill, Pa.

Does anyone else have any other unique ideas for toothbrushes? We'd love to hear from you. — Heloise
FISHING-TACKLE BOX

Dear Heloise: You asked for readers to supply ideas for using fishing-tackle boxes for other than their intended use. My idea came from my husband, John.

I was shopping for one of those divided cosmetic cases and became frustrated because even the most expensive ones were not big enough to hold the makeup items I have. My husband suggested a fishing-tackle box. I found one with moveable dividers so I could customize the size of the compartments.

The cost was about one-third less than I would have paid for a cosmetic case. I've been using my box for over a year, and I love it! — Marsha Barrett, Longview, Texas
HEEL COMPLAINT

Dear Heloise: Please! Please! Use your influence and the tremendous impact your column has to call attention to this.

The subject is heels — the ridiculous and dangerous tips shoe manufacturers are putting on women's shoes. It is impossible to walk on any hard surface with them. The only surface you can walk on without problems is carpet.

After almost breaking a leg due to plastic heels, I took the offending shoes to a shoemaker. He showed me a pile of the heels women have had him remove from their shoes. All were made of a hard plastic!

I am sure someone has been or will be injured trying to walk on those slippery dangerous things. — Mrs. Gloria Walrod, Lowellville, Ohio

The experts at State Farm Insurance say wrap insulation around pipes exposed to cold air to keep them from freezing and breaking.

Movie music earns Grammy awards

By DAVID BAUDER
Associated Press Writer
NEW YORK (AP) - Don't be fooled: Those were the Grammys, not the Oscars.

Movie music from "Aladdin" and "The Bodyguard" captured the recording industry trophies at the 36th annual Grammy Awards.

The "Aladdin" soundtrack, which last year won two Academy Awards, took five Grammys Tuesday night. "A Whole New World (Aladdin's Theme)" won song of the year for composers Alan Menken and Tim Rice, while Peabo Bryson and Regina Belle were honored for their duet on the song.

And Whitney Houston, weeks after winning eight awards at the American Music Awards, won in three of the four categories she was nominated in at the Grammys - all for music for "The Bodyguard."

Miss Houston won best pop female vocal and record of the year for the single "I Will Always Love You," which she sang to open the Grammy telecast. "The Bodyguard" soundtrack won album of the year.

"Bodyguard" producer David Foster picked up four Grammys, including producer of the year.

Miss Houston's version of "I Will Always Love You" has sold more than 10 million copies. Composer Dolly Parton happily presented her with one Grammy.

In an evening of sentimentality, it was up to a young lion and an old one to inject some life - U2's Bono and Frank Sinatra.

Bono, seemingly baffled to pick up an alternative music Grammy for his band's "Zooropa" album, uttered an expletive in his acceptance speech. He returned minutes later with a poetic, stream-of-consciousness tribute to a choked-up Sinatra, who received a lifetime achievement award.

"He's the boss of bosses, the man, the big bang of pop," Bono said. "I'm not going to mess with him. Are you?"

Sinatra, his voice breaking after Bono's speech and the audience's standing ovation, recovered enough to joke that he needed a drink and to throw a dart at Dean Martin.

"This is more applause than Dean heard in his whole career," he said.

The speech ended abruptly for television viewers. According to Michael Greene, president of the National Academy of Recording Arts and Sciences, one of Sinatra's assistants, Susan Reynolds, was worried that Sinatra "would have talked for about an hour," and after a few minutes she asked CBS to cut to a commercial.

After the break, program host Garry Shandling apologized. "Mr. Sinatra should have finished his speech. I think that was a slight mistake," he said.

Besides Sinatra, other recipients of lifetime achievement awards were Aretha Franklin, and the late jazz artist Bill Evans and pianist Arthur Rubinstein.

The academy also honored songwriter Curtis Mayfield, paralyzed four years ago when a lighting tower fell on him, with a performance by an all-star band that included Bonnie Raitt, Bruce Springsteen and B.B. King.

Sting, who had six nominations, won a best pop vocal performance award for "If I Ever Lose My Faith in You." He also won two technical awards for an album and video.

Some other multiple nominees - Billy Joel, Neil Young and R.E.M. - were shut out.

Soul Asylum, Aerosmith, Meat Loaf, Ozzy Osbourne and Stone Temple Pilots all won awards in rock categories.

Soul singer Toni Braxton won best new artist and was the only singer to beat Miss Houston, in the category of best female rhythm and blues performance.

Country star Mary-Chapin Carpenter won two Grammys for her version of "Passionate Kisses." Dwight Yoakam won best country vocal performance by a male.

Rapper Dr. Dre won a Grammy for best rap solo performance, while jazz rappers Digable Planets won the best group rap award.

In the classical field, conductor Pierre Boulez's version of "Bartok: The Wooden Prince & Cantata Profana" won four Grammys. A box set of Billie Holiday recordings won three awards.

In a mild upset, Tony Bennett - riding a newfound popularity among alternative rock fans - bested Barbra Streisand's "Back to Broadway" for best traditional pop vocal performance. Even Bennett seemed surprised.

In 1964, President Lyndon B. Johnson opened the New York World's Fair at Flushing Meadow-Corona Park in the borough of Queens.

According to French philosopher Michel de Montaigne, "There is no man so good, who, were he to submit all his thoughts and actions to the laws, would not deserve hanging 10 times in his life."
