Former president Nixon in deep coma

By TIM SULLIVAN
Associated Press Writer
NEW YORK (AP) - Richard Nixon lay near death in a deep coma today.

Two Marine sergeants arrived at the hospital on Thursday, ready to serve as the former president's honor guard he should die from the stroke he suffered Monday.

"His condition has deteriorated. He's in a very deep coma," Kathy Robinson, a spokeswoman for New York Hospital-Cornell Medical Center, said late Thursday. "His family is at his bedside."

His condition remained the same this morning, Robinson said. Nixon's daughters, Tricia Nixon Cox and Julie Nixon Eisenhower, were with him, she said.

Hospital officials announced earlier in the day that the 81-year-old Nixon had slipped into unconsciousness after developing swelling of the brain, a potentially deadly complication of the stroke he suffered on Monday.

Doctors sometimes try to reduce such swelling by using a respirator to speed up breathing, but Nixon was not on a respirator, and news reports said he had left instructions that he not be resuscitated.

Kathy O'Connor, a Nixon spokeswoman, confirmed he has a living will, but she would not discuss it.

Nixon's doctors and aides would not discuss his treatment or condition in detail. But other doctors said the coma sharply reduced his chances of survival and virtually guaranteed he would never recover his powers of expression.

Nixon had been partially paralyzed on his right side and unable to speak even before the coma.

"His chances of dying are much greater," and his chance of surviving without major damage to his speech and movement is "very, very small," said Dr. Gregory Albers, director of the Stanford Stroke Center at Stanford University Medical Center in Palo Alto, Calif.

For Nixon, that would be a cruel sentence.

In the 20 years since he was forced from the presidency by the Watergate scandal, he has re-emerged as an elder statesman in foreign policy matters. He has traveled widely - five times to China - and published eight books.

Nixon's stroke, which occurred at his home in Park Ridge, N.J., apparently was the result of a blood clot that formed in his heart and moved to the brain's middle cerebral artery. The blockage cut off oxygen to the region, damaging some brain tissue and causing swelling.

His descent into a coma indicated the swelling may have continued despite preventive measures.

"It could, in effect, be squishing the brain," said Dr. Paul Katz, a stroke specialist at the Montefiore Medical Center in New York.

Not until the brain's swelling peaks and recedes - usually five to seven days after the stroke - can doctors best assess the significance of a stroke.

Nixon's career was marked by exhilarating victories and crushing defeats. Alluding to that, Henry Kissinger, Nixon's foreign policy expert, said: "If this is something that can be licked by willpower, by tenacity, then he can lick it."

Meeting the candidates

Carolyn Waters, president of the Hereford Educators Association, and Wes Fisher, president of the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce, standing at center, hosted Thursday's Meet the Candidates forum for those running for seats on the hospital and school boards. Eight candidates turned out to air their views on a variety of issues.

Hospital, school board hopefuls take part in candidate forum

By GARRY WESNER
Managing Editor

Twenty-six people attended a Thursday candidate forum for people running the school and hospital district boards in the May 7 election.

Of those in attendance, eight were candidates, three represented the hosting organizations and one was the cameraman, recording the forum for later playback on cable television.

The remainder of the audience was primarily comprised of relatives of the candidates.

But the thin crowd did not stop the five hospital board candidates and three school board candidates present from expressing their opinions on a variety of issues.

The forum will be broadcast at 7 p.m. on Hereford Cablevision Channel 19 on four nights: April 26 and 28 and May 2 and 4.

The forum was hosted by the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce and the Hereford Educators Association.

Present were five of the six candidates seeking four at-large spots on the Deaf Smith County Hospital District board of trustees -- incumbents John Perrin and Boyd Foster and challengers Dean Crofford, Steve Cortez and Larry Watts -- and three of four seeking seats on the Hereford Independent School District board of trustees -- Ron Weishaar, incumbent in District 1, Raymond Schlabs, incumbent in District 3, and Randy Tooley, who is challenging Schlabs.

Not attending were Merle Clark, incumbent on the hospital board and Angie Villarreal, who is challenging Weishaar in District 1, although she issued a written statement read at the forum.

None of the four city commission candidates running for re-election attended, as none are opposed.

Each candidate received two minutes for opening statements and closing remarks. In between, HEA president Carolyn Waters asked questions submitted to the chamber office from the public.

The following are remarks made by the candidates and responses to some of the questions posed:

HOSPITAL BOARD
STEVE CORTEZ
Cortez, a former Emergency Medical Technician with the hospital, said he was running because "I have seen and experienced many changes that are necessary" at the hospital, but added that "I'm not running with a grudge."

He said many hospital employees earn specialized certification while at the hospital, then leave Hereford.

In response to a question, Cortez said the thing he'd like to accomplish during his term if elected was "to see ... the full use of the hospital. Too many people are going to area hospitals."

As to where he would cut the budget, he admitted, "I don't know what the budget is," but thinks some vehicle expenses are too high and programs need to be evaluated to make sure they provide enough to cover what they cost.

DEAN CROFFORD
Crofford, owner and operator of Crofford Automotive, said he was born in Deaf Smith Hospital, as were his two children.

"In the last year or so I've heard people making comments about the hospital," he said. "For the most part most of them wasn't good."

Some people in the community, he said, have told him they would have to be dying to go to the hospital here, so "I started wondering about the hospital, if it's lost its credibility. It made me decide I think someone needs to run and put a little trust and honesty back in the hospital."

"We've had enough renovating in the hospital," he said, adding that, "two years ago ... there were 95 employees there," now there are 201 workers.

BOYD FOSTER
Foster, an incumbent, said too often the perception of the hospital is based on "rumor and half-truth" because of an unfriendly employee, because of waiting to see a doctor, or because of an error on a bill.

"The good things about our hospital are sometimes overlooked," he said, noting that operating revenue is up $1 million from last year and the amount of money the hospital has lost is down from $708,000 last year to $250,000 this year.

A key concern facing the board in the future, he said, is the need to "solve the indigent care challenge. A lot of people think free medical care is here and they don't pay their bills."

But as for cutting the budget, he said, salaries cannot be cut, but that "there is waste in our hospital as there is in any government-run entity."

JOHN PERRIN
"I've been very proud of the improvements we've made the last four years," said Perrin, who is chairman of the board.

He noted that five new physicians have been recruited to come to Hereford.

Retaining current medical staff is what he said is a desired accomplishment, while a key facing the board is "keeping and maintaining and growing the medical services in this community."

"I don't think there's any one particular budget area we can look at" to make cuts, he said. "We need to be more efficient in everything we do."

LARRY WATTS
Watts, who works for West Texas Rural Telephone, said when he was asked to run, his first reaction was, "Why me, I don't know anything about it," but that as he has talked to people in the community, "I feel I could serve this hospital very well."

Watts said that a goal of being on the board would be to "see a smoother-running hospital" with better morale

Crime bill nearing passage in House

By CAROLYN SKORNECK
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) - House passage of a $28 billion crime bill moves one step closer to reality dozens of new capital crimes, life imprisonment for third-time drug and violent felons and thousands of new cops on the beat.

But first, the House must deal with assault weapons.

The Senate's $22 billion crime bill, passed last November, would ban 19 specific types of domestic and imported assault-style weapons, and President Clinton wants that passed, either in the crime bill or as a separate measure.

The House has never voted on such legislation. Rep. Charles Schumer, D-N.Y., chairman of the Judiciary Committee's crime subcommittee, says it is still 15 to 20 votes short of passage.

But Clinton is "going to roll up his sleeves and get personally involved in this fight," Schumer said White House officials told him Thursday.

Clinton cheered the House's 285-141 vote passing its crime bill Thursday.

"The House of Representatives made their intentions clear: crime will not pay," Clinton said in a statement read by Press Secretary Dee Dee Myers. "Democrats and Republicans joined together to break the gridlock and make our streets safer."

The bill drew the support of 219 Democrats, 65 Republicans and one independent. Voting against it were 107 Republicans and 34 Democrats. House Speaker Tom Foley, D-Wash., who by tradition seldom votes, cast his vote in favor of the bill.

Judiciary Committee Chairman Jack Brooks, D-Texas, extolled the House bill's "genuine balance between hard-nosed punishment and forward-looking prevention."

"When I go to conference (with the Senate), I intend to see that this careful balance is maintained so that the final product sent to the president's desk will make a difference where it really counts - in our communities, in our schools, and yes, in our very homes," Brooks said.

But that balance, and the funding for it, as well as the so-called Racial Justice Act included in the House bill, are expected to be major points of contention in the upcoming House-Senate conference, which must agree on a compromise version of the bill.

The Racial Justice Act would let defendants facing the death penalty use racial statistics on capital punishment as evidence of discrimination.

Getting rid of it is the Republicans' top priority.

"In its present form, this eliminates the death penalty as we know it in this country, and we cannot vote for that," Republican Whip Newt Gingrich of Georgia told reporters.

There is no similar provision in the Senate bill.

As to the funding balance, the House bill specifically authorizes $13.5 billion for state prison grants and $3.45 billion for 50,000 community police officers, plus $7 billion for crime prevention and $2 billion for rehabilitation, such as drug treatment for prisoners.

House leaders have said they will accept the Senate's figure of $8.9 billion for 100,000 new police officers, and Attorney General Janet Reno has told Congress that the administration supports the full $9 billion in the House bill for prevention and rehabilitation funds.

Left in question are the prison funds.

The House bill's $13.5 billion in state prison grants has little in common with the Senate's $3 billion for regional prisons.

The House version would offer bonuses to states working toward "truth-in-sentencing" standards by incarcerating violent criminals more often and longer.

In addition to learning things you might not know about some of the largest companies in the county, you'll learn how much of an impact they make on the tax roles and how industrial development affects the city.

Wisconsin man indicted by Deaf Smith grand jury

Three indictments against a Wisconsin man were among 10 indictments returned Thursday by the Deaf Smith County Grand Jury. Names of two defendants were not released, pending their arrest.

Thomas J. Koller, 30, was charged with burglary of a habitation in two indictments and with arson in a third.

He was arrested by city police on March 2 after allegedly burglarizing two residences and starting a fire in one of the homes.

Koller was held on a fugitive warrant from Wisconsin, then charged with the offenses in Hereford. He reportedly is the subject of a warrant from Wisconsin authorities for bail jumping and felony assault.

The grand jury indicted two persons for felony driving while intoxicated. David Salas, 24, of 112 Avenue H, Apt. 5, is free on $3,000 bond, and Rogelio Castillo, 40, of 208 Windsor, posted bond of $1,000.

An indictment for forgery by passing was returned against Regina Hayes, 44, whose permanent address is not known. She is being held in Potter County jail.

Nancy Molinar, 29, of 405 Lawton, indicted for theft over $750 but under $20,000, is free on $2,500 bond.

Bond of $5,000 was posted by Roberto Ordenez, 23, of 137 Campbell. He was indicted for forgery by making.

Youths make woman adoptive 'grandmother'

By RICK LANNING
Staff Writer

Ten first and second grade students at Community Christian School are proving a little love can go a long way toward solving the problems of the elderly.

The students under teacher Emma Edwards are showering affection on two elderly women of Hereford Care Center through the "Adopt A Grandmother" program, now in its first year.

"These grandmothers are in the 80s and the students are going out of their way to help them celebrate special holidays, birthdays, and Christmas," said Linda Blackman, center director and coordinator.

"For example, they have made Christmas cards for their adopted grandmothers and they buy gifts for them on special occasions."

Hereford Care Center is located at 311 Kingswood St. The facility has 70 full-time residents.

Blackman said Adopt A Grandmother was part of the center's ongoing program to help elderly residents who didn't have anyone to show them love and affection.

young people reacted with enthusiasm and made Adopt A Grandmother a success, she said. Student Collette Linder of the loved her "grandmother" Justin Mae Hamrick, adding, "She gives us a lot of hugs and kisses."

Miss Hamrick didn't look like an elderly woman, she said. "She's young and beautiful."

There are 10 Adopt A Grandmother students at the center, and each has a "grandmother" to care for.

The program is a success, she said. "The students are doing a great job of caring for their grandmothers."

From 10:30 to 4 p.m., a program will be held at the center.

Bush gun stand gets criticism

By SCOTT ROTHSCHILD
Associated Press Writer
AUSTIN (AP) - Republican Party gubernatorial candidate George W. Bush is under fire from a statewide law enforcement group for endorsing a concealed handguns proposal.

"Arming the public is not the answer," Mark Clark, spokesman for the Combined Law Enforcement Associations of Texas, said Thursday.

"The level of violence on our streets right now is unacceptable. It makes no sense whatsoever for me as a police officer or for me as just a citizen to say, 'Let's put more guns out there to try and solve the violence issue,'" he said.

CLEAT claims to be the largest law enforcement group in the state with 16,000 members.

The Bush campaign said Texans should be allowed to vote on whether they could tote handguns.

Gov. Ann Richards, a Democrat, vetoed such a proposal last year.

On Wednesday, Bush said he would have signed the bill into law. "I believe certain people ought to be able to carry concealed weapons under strict licensing requirements," Bush said.

Clark, a Houston police officer, said such a statute would hurt law enforcement.

"He tries to portray himself as the law-and-order candidate," Clark said of Bush. "He may very well have

Hereford Lions going to district convention

The Hereford Lions Club will send delegates and members to Borger this weekend for the District 2T-1 Lions Convention, and local Lions will be promoting the candidacy of Sid Shaw for district governor.

Hereford and Easter Lions will also send candidates to the convention to compete in the District Lions' Sweetheart Contest. Jodi Wallace, an 18-year-old Hereford High senior, will represent the Hereford club, and Crystal Dawn Kelley, 17-year-old HHS junior, is Easter's candidate.

Jodi is the daughter of Lion Joe and Ginger Wallace. She was a member of the All Region Band as a freshman and went to state marching contests as a freshman and sophomore. She was a UIL solo and ensemble member for woodwind choir in state, and first in UIL solo and ensemble as a freshman and sophomore.

Her talent is singing, playing the piano and the bass clarinet. As club sweetheart, she worked at all Lions Club activities and attends the meetings each Wednesday. As sweetheart, she says "I've had the opportunity to work closely with community leaders and spend some quality time with my dad." She plans to attend college and earn a degree in nursing.

Crystal is the daughter of Ronnie and Denise Andrews. She is active in FCA, Keywanettes, the HHS Drill Team, and plays on the varsity volleyball team. She hopes to go to Vernon Regional Junior College and play volleyball, then go to West Texas A&M University and major in child psychology.

K-5 students to get free circus tickets

The circus is coming to Hereford April 27 under the sponsorship of Deaf Smith County chamber of Commerce and, thanks to business leaders, free tickets will be given to all school students in kindergarten through fifth grades.

"We talked about providing tickets to needy students," said C of C President Wes Fisher. "But our business community was so generous that we didn't have to make a decision on who gets free tickets."

Fisher said that within one week, more than 3,000 tickets were purchased by local business leaders. "This reflects the great spirit of hustlin' Hereford."

The chamber board agreed to sponsor the circus almost a year ago. "From the very start, we vowed to be certain this event would be more than whistle stop for the circus," reported Mike Carr, executive vice president.

To add to the cooperative spirit of the community, the 3,000 students will also be taken on field trips to the circus site to witness the raising of the "Big Top" and the animal menagerie.

DPS withholding most information on shooting death

By PEGGY FIKAC
Associated Press Writer
AUSTIN (AP) - The Texas Department of Public Safety has refused to release much information about a state trooper who shot a Dallas man after stopping the driver for a defective headlight in an incident recorded on videotape.

The department, in response to an Open Records Act request from The Associated Press, even blacked out salary information for trooper Bryan Barnhart, although he is a public employee.

Later, DPS chief of legal services John West said Barnhart, 38, earns a base salary of $36,768 annually.

Other basic information deleted included Barnhart's height, weight, eye and hair color, blood type and, on all but one document, his birth date.

The department, citing a pending lawsuit, also has kept secret more important information requested under the Open Records Act by the AP and other news organizations.

The agency has refused to release documents concerning its investigation into the shooting of Lorenzo Colston, or any complaints that may have been filed against Barnhart in the past.

Attorney General Dan Morales has been asked to decide whether that information must be made public. He had not ruled by Thursday.

Barnhart's shooting of Colston, who later was convicted of assaulting the trooper and another officer, has drawn national attention.

The incident was captured on videotape by a camera mounted on the trooper's automobile. It began when Barnhart stopped a car near Athens on Sept. 29 because a headlight was out.

The FBI has said it was looking into the case for any possible civil rights violations. Colston is black; the two officers are white.

Colston in February was convicted by a Henderson County jury of two counts of aggravated assault on a peace officer. He was sentenced to two years' probation.

Last month, Colston filed a federal lawsuit alleging excessive force and seeking almost $2.6 million from Barnhart in compensatory damages.

The suit also seeks damages from the state, Henderson County sheriff's deputy Jim Langford, and Henderson County.

Carliss Hopkins, a secretary at the Athens DPS office, said Barnhart was not allowed to speak about the Colston case and referred a call from the AP to Sgt. Kenneth Authier in Corsicana. Authier had already left for the day and did not immediately return a telephone call from the AP.

The department did release letters of praise from Barnhart's personnel file, including one conveying Gov. Ann Richards' appreciation for the handling of a disturbance at the Limestone County prison.

Other documents released included promotions and transfers, former jobs and schooling, and DPS application and investigation forms.

But a number of items were blocked out, such as an investigator's assessment of Barnhart's strong and weak points when he applied to be a trooper.

Herd looks for win vs. Pampa

The Hereford baseball team hopes to get back in the win column against Pampa at 1 p.m. Saturday at Whiteface Field.

After starting District 1-4A play with four straight wins, Hereford has suffered a loss at Borger and tied Dumas to go to 4-1-1 (10-9-1 overall). The Dumas game was called due to darkness after seven innings, and it will stay a tie in the standings.

Hereford won 7-1 at Pampa in their first meeting April 7.

Frontrunning Borger (6-0, 14-7) can clinch a playoff spot with a win over Randall Saturday in Borger.

For Hereford to earn a playoff spot, it must: 1) win at least three of its four remaining games; 2) win two if one is over third-place Randall; 3) beat Randall and have Caprock lose once.

The Hereford junior varsity will take on the Pampa JV Saturday after the completion of the varsity game.

Heat shocks Hawks, makes playoffs

By The Associated Press
Miami is assured of eighth place in the Eastern Conference, and plenty happy about it. Atlanta, still in first place in the conference, is disappointed.

The Heat clinched their second playoff berth and the first winning season in franchise history Thursday night with a 94-89 victory over the Hawks, who could have clinched first place with victories in their last two games.

"When that buzzer went off, chills ran through my body," said Glen Rice, who scored 21 points, including three free throws in the final 12 seconds for the Heat. "This has to be the high point of my professional career."

Atlanta now needs a win over Orlando and a loss by Chicago in one of its last two games. The Bulls have the tiebreaker edge over Atlanta, while the Hawks have the tiebreaker edge over New York, which still could sneak into first place, because the Knicks play Chicago on Sunday.

"It's not in our hands any more," Hawks center Jon Koncak said. "We have no control over it. Now we cheer for the Knicks, something I never thought you'd hear me say."

The team that earns the No. 1 seed faces No. 8 seed Miami in the first round.

"It looks like we'll play Chicago," Miami coach Kevin Loughery said, anticipating Bulls victories at home in their last two games.

Miami's victory eliminated Charlotte, which surged into contention when it got Larry Johnson and Alonzo Mourning back from injuries. The Hornets have won eight of nine games.

The Heat, now in their sixth year, made the playoffs in 1991-92.

Atlanta shot just 40 percent, and Mookie Blaylock missed a pair of open 3-pointers in the final 10 seconds with the score 92-89.

"When he had that second shot, we got a little worried," said Rice, who made four 3-pointers. Steve Smith added 16 points for the Heat, who beat Atlanta for the first time in four tries this season.

Danny Manning had 21 points after going scoreless for the first 21 minutes. Duane Ferrell added 20 points for the Hawks, 13 more than his average.

Elsewhere in the NBA, it was Charlotte 95, Boston 89; New York 130, Philadelphia 82; Houston 126, Dallas 100; Utah 122, Portland 111; and Golden State 121, Sacramento 96.

Rockets 126, Mavericks 100

Hakeem Olajuwon had 21 points, 14 rebounds and six blocked shots before sitting out the fourth quarter as Houston clinched the second-best record in the NBA.

Seattle is assured of the best record and the Rockets locked up second when Atlanta lost.

Jimmy Jackson led the Mavericks with 14 points.

Jazz 122, Blazers 111

Jeff Hornacek scored 23 points, including nine in the third quarter when Utah went ahead for good.

Karl Malone had 21 points and 13 rebounds and John Stockton finished with 20 points for the Jazz.

Clyde Drexler led the visiting Blazers with 31 points and 12 rebounds.

Hornets 95, Celtics 89

Charlotte's playoff hopes ended despite winning at Boston behind Mourning's 21 points and 11 rebounds.

Rick Fox and Dee Brown led the Celtics with 14 points each.

Warriors 121, Kings 96

Jeff Grayer scored 19 points and Jud Buechler had 18 in the fourth quarter as Golden State won its seventh straight game and clinched sixth place in the Western Conference.

Public Notice

On February 22, 1994, Southwestern Bell Telephone Company ("Southwestern Bell" or "Company") filed an application with the Public Utility Commission of Texas ("Commission") to restructure the Company's Local Transport and Directory Transport categories of its Switched Access Service. This matter has been assigned to Docket No. 12784. The tariff sheets in Southwestern Bell's application, if approved, will bring the Company's intrastate Access Service Tariff into structural parity with the Company's interstate Tariff No. 73 for Local Transport. Southwestern Bell's companion interstate tariff became effective on January 1, 1994.

The transport rate elements provide for the transmission facilities between the customer's premises and the end office switch(es) where the customer's traffic is switched to originate or terminate the customer's communications.

Southwestern Bell proposes to implement the revised tariffs on a revenue neutral basis. Although the proposed tariff changes will affect all customers subscribing to Switched Access Service, the Local Transport and Directory Transport categories of Southwestern Bell's Switched Access Service is primarily for interexchange carriers. If approved, this application will result in an increase in Southwestern Bell's revenues of approximately $1682.00 during the first year. Southwestern Bell proposes that the changes be effective on December 1, 1994.

Persons who wish to intervene in or comment upon these proceedings should notify the commission as soon as possible, as an intervention deadline will be imposed. A request to intervene or for further information should be mailed to the Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Boulevard, Suite 400N, Austin, Texas 78757. Further information may also be obtained by calling the Public Utility Commission's Public Information Office at (512) 458-0256 or (512) 458-0221 for text telephone. The deadline for intervention in the proceeding is May 6, 1994.

Red Sox rally past struggling Eckersley

By TOM WITHERS
Associated Press Writer
What the heck is wrong with Eck? Dennis Eckersley, baseball's premier closer the past six seasons, failed for the third time to get his first save of 1994 on Thursday, giving up two runs in the ninth inning as the Boston Red Sox rallied for a 6-5 victory over the Oakland Athletics. Eckersley has saved 256 games for the A's since 1988, but he dropped from a career-high of 51 in his 1992 Cy Young Award-winning year to 36 last season. The submarining right-hander also blew 10 saves last year, the most since he took over as the A's closer in 1987. Now, 15 games into the 1994 season, Eckersley is searching for a first save or a first win. In the ninth, pinch-hitter Andre Dawson hit a ball to deep center field off Eckersley, driving in Scott Cooper, who had singled and took second when Ruben Sierra bobbled the ball in right. Dawson, who sat out two straight games with a hamstring injury, limped into second base on the play, prompting Red Sox bullpen coach John Wathan to say: "He could hardly run to get into second base on that ball, but he did it. It kind of brought a semi-flashback to the Kirk Gibson thing to mind. He can really lift a ballclub." The Kirk Gibson thing. A name and a moment forever linked to the A's and Eckersley. It was Gibson who limped to the plate and hit a two-run homer in the bottom of the ninth in Game 1 of the 1988 World Series that gave the Los Angeles Dodgers a win over Oakland.

It came off Eckersley. Following Dawson's double, Otis Nixon doubled off Eckersley to send in Scott Fletcher, running for Dawson. Eckersley offered no excuses after the game, only regret for what he offered Dawson. "I have a strike mentality and it comes back to haunt you," he said. "I live and die by it, and I've happened to die the last couple of times." Eckersley lost to Minnesota on April 14 when the Twins rallied for a 5-4 win, and he failed to close an April 8 game at Minnesota that the A's went on to win in 10. "You're always tested and this is a tough test," he said. "But I don't want to go crazy and get out of what I do and what has made me successful."

Murray, 38, hit a three-run homer batting left-handed in the first, and added a two-run shot hitting from the right side in the seventh off Larry Casian (0-2) to snap a 5-5 tie. Murray's first homer moved him past Dave Kingman on the career homer list with 443. His homer in the seventh helped him break Mickey Mantle's record of hitting home runs from both sides in a game 10 times. Eric Plunk (2-0) struck out seven in 3 2-3 innings.

Dodgers explode vs. Mets

LOS ANGELES (AP) - Eric Karros talks about the Los Angeles Dodgers' suddenly potent offense as though it's been functioning since the season began. After breaking out of a team slump last Sunday with 19 runs in Pittsburgh, the Dodgers finally enjoyed a scoring binge at home, routing Dwight Gooden and the New York Mets 13-3 Thursday night. "We had a good spring, and I don't think there was any doubt from the guys going out there every day," Karros said after getting three of his team's 15 hits and driving in a run. Raul Mondesi had three hits, including a three-run homer, and scored three times. Tim Wallach, Mike Piazza and Jose Offerman each drove in two runs, and Delino DeShields had three hits and stole three bases as the Dodgers won their third straight game. The victory enabled the Dodgers to move within two games of NL West-leading San Francisco, which lost to Philadelphia 6-1 Thursday. In the only other NL game, Montreal beat San Diego 5-4. DeShields boosted his batting average from .176 to .218 with his three consecutive singles. The recipient of all those runs was Orel Hershiser (1-0), who allowed eight hits over seven innings after three consecutive six-inning no-decisions. Hershiser beat Gooden (2-1) for the third straight time in a battle of former Cy Young Award winners. Their first meeting resulted in a no-decision for both. "I didn't know we only faced each other five times, and I didn't really keep track of it," said Hershiser, who included his head-to-head battle with Gooden in Game 1 of the 1988 NL playoffs. Gooden surrendered seven runs and 10 hits in 5 1-3 innings with three strikeouts and three walks - all to Brett Butler, who walked all four times up after going 5-for-6 Wednesday night.

Phillies 6, Giants 1
Danny Jackson (2-0) pitched a four-hitter, and Dave Hollins and Darren Daulton homered for visiting Philadelphia. Jackson, who retired 22 of 24 batters entering the ninth, struck out six and walked three. Salomon Torres (0-2) allowed four runs and five hits in 7 1-3 innings. Expos 5, Padres 4
Rookie Cliff Floyd and Marquis Grissom hit consecutive homers in the fifth inning against Wally Whitehurst (1-3), and Moises Alou drove in two runs for visiting Montreal. Ken Hill (3-1) allowed four runs and eight hits in 7 2-3 innings, struck out eight and walked one. Phil Clark's two-out homer, his second of the year, chased Hill in the eighth and pulled the Padres to 5-4. Tim Scott got the final out in the eighth and Mel Rojas finished for his second save.

Yankees 4, Mariners 2
At New York, Melido Perez pitched New York's first complete game of the season with a six-hitter, and Danny Tartabull hit a two-run homer. Perez (2-0) walked two and struck out two. Tartabull's homer, his fourth, came off Chris Bosio (0-3) in the fourth inning after Don Mattingly walked. Indians 10, Twins 6
At Minneapolis, Eddie Murray homered from both sides of the plate for a major-league record 11th time and moved into 20th place on baseball's career home run list.

Brewers 6, White Sox 4
At Milwaukee, Dave Nilsson homered and Turner Ward hit a two-run double. Nilsson's solo homer, his third, off Chicago starter Alex Fernandez (1-3) gave the Brewers a 3-1 lead. Joey Cora's RBI single in the third put Chicago ahead 1-0 before Ward's bloop double in the bottom half put Milwaukee up 2-1. Cal Eldred (2-1) held Chicago to six hits in eight innings, and Graeme Lloyd pitched the ninth for his second save. Angels 11, Orioles 8
At Baltimore, Eduardo Perez homered twice and Bo Jackson hit a three-run shot for the Angels. Rookie Brian Anderson (2-0) gave up six hits and three runs in eight innings. Perez homered in the second off Arthur Rhodes (0-3) and added a three-run shot in the eighth, his fifth, off Brad Pennington. Jackson's three-run homer made 6-1 in the fifth.

New WAC includes several big-city television markets

DENVER (AP) - Television marketability was a major consideration in adding six schools to the Western Athletic Conference, according to the league's Council of Presidents chairman. "It's clear when you look at what we've done," said council chair Dr. Kenneth P. Mortimer, president of the University of Hawaii, in officially announcing the long-rumored expansion. "We now have a major presence in Texas, in the San Francisco area, and in Las Vegas that has substantially improved our television presence." Mortimer said the selection of the six schools was based on athletic history, academic reputation and television marketability. The new WAC will include Rice, Southern Methodist and Texas Christian of the Southwest Conference as well as Tulsa, Nevada-Las Vegas and San Jose State. Along with the 10 present members, the WAC will consist of 16 members by 1996. It will cover nine states, four time zones and stretch from Tulsa to Honolulu and Laramie, Wyo., to San Diego. Current WAC members are Brigham Young, New Mexico, Utah, Wyoming, San Diego State, Colorado State, Air Force, Fresno State, Texas-El Paso and Hawaii. In a teleconference call, Mortimer said such details as divisional structure, revenue sharing and scheduling options will be discussed by the Council of Presidents in coming months. Biggest issues facing the expanded conference, he said, include working out divisional alignments to ensure that regional rivalries will be maintained, working out a possible playoff game between division winners and scheduling. WAC Commissioner Joe Kearney, who is retiring in July, said a playoff game could be scheduled as early as the end of the season in 1996. The WAC's current contract with ABC and ESPN contains "a caveat with additional resources available if there is a playoff," he said. "It's a significant sum." Mortimer said discussions will be held in the coming months on whether to align the divisions north and south or east and west. He noted that an east-west division would keep the California rivalries intact and make travel easier for Hawaii, where "we can't play anyone without going 2,500 miles." There is a lot of pressure for a north-south alignment, however, he said. In any event, he said, such rivalries as Brigham Young-Utah, Colorado State-Wyoming and UTEP-New Mexico would be maintained. Karl Benson, commissioner of the Mid-American Conference, was picked to succeed Kearney as WAC commissioner.

Norton getting out at right time

SANTA CLARA, Calif. (AP) - Ken Norton figures he's getting out of Dallas at the right time. "It's obvious they are letting players go," the Pro Bowl linebacker said Thursday after signing a five-year, $8 million free-agent contract with the San Francisco 49ers. "Maybe they have a secret plan," Norton added. "But after you have seven key starters, all impact players, leave, it'll be hard for them to recover from that." The Cowboys have won the Super Bowl the past two seasons, but they'll be going for three without Jimmy Johnson, the coach who guided them to consecutive championships. Johnson left last month after an argument with club owner Jerry Jones. The dispute probably influenced the decisions of some players who elected to leave, Norton said.

"There were obvious situations there with the owner and the coach, and it left an uneasy feeling with the players," Norton said after signing his new contract.

Oilers to use Sunday's draft to get help on defensive line

By MICHAEL A. LUTZ
AP Sports Writer
HOUSTON (AP) - The Houston Oilers have clearly defined the defensive line as their area of need for the NFL college draft. Unfortunately, they have plenty of company in their search.

"The problem with the NFL is half the teams have the same needs," General Manager Floyd Reese said. "Defensive linemen go quickly. In every draft, the defensive guys are picked off early."

The Oilers lost Pro Bowl defensive ends Sean Jones (Green Bay) and William Fuller (Philadelphia) to free agency, creating a need they hope to fill with some of their 10 selections in the seven-round draft on Sunday. "This year there are two-three guys at the top and one or two more in the middle. You just hope one of them will drop down and still be there when you pick."

The Oilers are the 26th pick in the first round based on their 12-4 record last year, making it unlikely they'll be able to get the top names in their area of need.

Houston could consider Louisville defensive end Joe Johnson, who registered 17 sacks for the Cardinals last season.

"He's a big guy I could see becoming an inside guy instead of defensive end," Oilers scout Glenn Cumbee said. "He's not as nifty as you might want at defensive end. You see no great burst (off the ball) that you have with the great pass rushers."

Florida defensive tackle William Gaines also could figure in the Oilers' plans in a move that could allow veteran defensive tackle Ray Childress to move back to his favored defensive slot. "That's something we've thought about with Ray but you hate to move a Pro Bowl defensive tackle," Pardee said.

Reese isn't tipping his draft day hand, but he is aware of Johnson's potential to help overcome the loss of Jones and Fuller, who had 13 and 10 sacks last season.

"He's a big giant kid that comes off the ball well and has some sack ability," Reese said.

Johnson is a junior, which is a concern.

"The problem with juniors is they often haven't played that many games," Reese said. "Unless they played a lot as freshmen and sophomores, it's hard to get a handle on how they'll perform."

Fitting the draft puzzle into a clear picture became more complicated when Moon signed with Minnesota, Fuller jumped to the Philadelphia Eagles and Jones left for the Green Bay Packers.

Cornerback Cris Dishman, one of two transitional players, restricted free agent Marcus Robertson and wide receivers Webster Slaughter and Haywood Jeffires, also have been seriously testing free agent possibilities.

Carlson, Moon's backup the past seven years, is near a contract settlement on a restructured contract.

The Oilers have 10 selections in the seven rounds of the draft, including one in each of the first three rounds, two in each of the fourth, fifth and sixth rounds and one in the seventh.

"Obviously, losing those two defensive ends, we'll have to look at that area," Coach Jack Pardee said.

"You can go to free agency, which, with the money situation, that's not always feasible. That leaves you with the draft."

The Oilers are completing a contract restructuring on Cody Carlson's contract and he will be the replacement for Warren Moon, traded to the Minnesota Vikings.

The Oilers are shopping for a backup quarterback because they don't think No. 3 Bucky Richardson is ready to assume that role. Former Minnesota quarterback Sean Salisbury is a possibility.

Richardson was negotiating with the CFL Hamilton Tiger-Cats but he lost that leverage this week when the Tiger-Cats signed former Arizona Cardinal quarterback Timm Rosenbach.

The Oilers are moving away from a pure run-and-shoot offense that also will change the roster. They'll carry a fullback that is more like a running back and they've already added a tight end.

"There will be a lot of changes in the offense and a few on the defense," Pardee said. "We'll have a tight end setup but I don't know how much we'll use it. The run-and-shoot is something we've done very well."

Safe Football

NEW YORK (AP) - In what appeared to be a surprising opinion, a pediatrician stated that youth football is the safest of all.

Dr. Paul G. Dymont, writing in the medical journal, Patient Care, said that fewer injuries occur in football played in the prepubertal years.

"You could well advise parents," he said, "that from this standpoint it is the safest age to play football."

Facts About The BIBLE BY JOHN LEHTI

WHO WERE THE PATRIARCHS?

THE TITLE IS ONE THAT IS GIVEN TO THE MEN OF GOD, AND THE HEADS OF FAMILIES AND CLANS, WHOSE LIVES ARE RECORDED IN THE OLD TESTAMENT AND WHO LIVED, CHIEFLY, BEFORE THE TIME OF MOSES. NATURALLY, IT IS A TITLE FOUND ONLY IN THE NEW TESTAMENT AND COMES FROM THE GREEK WORD "PATRIARCHES," WHICH SIGNIFIES "HEAD OF FAMILY." IT IS APPLIED TO ABRAHAM (HEB. 7:4), ALSO TO THE TWELVE SONS OF JACOB (ACTS 7:8-9), AND TO KING DAVID (ACTS 2:20). IN THE PATRIARCHAL SYSTEM, THE RULERSHIP OF A CLAN IS REGARDED AS THE PATRIARCHAL RIGHT AND IT RESIDES, THE FIRST INSTANCE, IN THE PROGENITOR OF THE TRIBE, DESCENDING FROM HIM TO THE FIRST-BORN SON, OR THE ELDEST MALE DESCENDANT. THE HEAD OF EACH SEPARATE FAMILY, INTO WHICH THE INCREASING GENERATIONS EXPAND, ALSO EXERCISES THE SAME RIGHTS WITHIN HIS OWN LIMITED SPHERE.

Ann Landers

DEAR ANN LANDERS: That was some bum rap you gave those live-at-home bachelors. The flat-out indictment by embittered ex-wives and jaded therapists was neither fair nor accurate. To generalize and call them "mama's boys" was a gross distortion and highly sexist, unworthy of your column.

Economic conditions sometimes make it necessary for adult children to return home. And there are times when an aging or ill parent needs the care and financial help of an adult child. Moving back home can be the best solution.

I am a woman who married a so-called mama's boy. I only hope my children will take as good care of me as my husband did of his mother--Kansas City

DEAR K.C.: Seldom have I seen such an interesting mix of opinions. Want to look over my shoulder?

From Cleveland: I didn't marry a mama's boy. I did something even dumber. I married a sister's boy. My 32-year-old husband used to get up every morning at 5 a.m. so he could drive 20 miles and have coffee with his sister. When he phoned her every evening of our honeymoon and talked for an hour, I knew I was in trouble. He should have married his sister. They would have made a perfect couple.--Free of a 32-Year-Old Sissy

Westchester, N.Y. I was a 30-year-old divorced woman when I fell in love with a wonderful, rather shy, man. I was nervous as a cat when I met his parents. They were devout Catholics, and I was certain they would freeze me out. Surprise! They could not have been more welcoming. Two years later, my father-in-law died, and I insisted that my husband's mother come live with us. We now have a new baby, and my darling mother-in-law has been a godsend. I am truly blessed.--XXX

Miami: I married a man who was very close to his widowed mother. I was certain she wouldn't like me. I couldn't have been more mistaken. Two years later, my own mother passed away, and "Larry" insisted Dad come live with us. They became buddies. The following year, the four of us went on a trip together, and by golly, if Larry's mother didn't fall in love with my dad. They were married two months ago, and we just bought a duplex!--The Happiest Quartet in Florida

Jacksonville: When you finish with mama's boys, how about discussing "daddy's girls"? My son is married to an only child who cannot break away from her father. At the wedding, her father cried so hard you would have thought it was a funeral. "Jane" is on the phone with her father every day. She has to tell him every little thing that doesn't suit her. I wouldn't give a nickel for the chances of this marriage making it.--Sad on the Sidelines

DALLAS: My husband is a little long in the tooth to be called a boy. He's 63, but in many ways, he is young at heart. He always put his mother first. She is now 86 and sharp as a tack. When we married 36 years ago, she told me, "If John has to make a decision to please either you or me, I want him to please you. He's yours now, and I don't want him back."--Happy to be No. 2.

DEAR HAPPY: You sound like a real doll. I'll bet your mother-in-law adores you. MOre tomorrow on the same subject.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I just read the letter from "Heartsick Mother in Indiana," whose 15-year-old daughter, "Polly," is involved with a less-than-desirable boy. Ann, I've walked in Polly's shoes, and this letter is for her.

DEAR POLLY: I know you feel your mom and dad are being close-minded about "Joey." You look at him and know that all he needs is a good, honest girl (like you) and your love will turn his life around.

Joey tells you great stories of how perfect your lives will be, and you believe him. After all, Mom and Dad are a couple of squares. What do they know? So Joey does drugs once in a while. He'll stop once you are together. You'll have a baby, and then he'll want to be the perfect father. And when you marry him, you'll have plenty of money because he'll get a real job.

Let me tell you what will really happen. I've been there. I felt the same way about my Tony as you do about your Joey. I blamed his problems on society. I thought I was the one thing in his life that was good and he'd realize that.

I lied to my parents and told them I was pregnant so they'd have to let me marry Tony. The next three years were hell. We moved 27 times, and Tony held 32 different jobs--when he wasn't in jail for some "minor" offense. I lived in a car and on the beaches in Mexico with a 6-week-old baby.

Tony gave me three stab wounds, several loose teeth and black eyes, and I had to have my jaws wired shut for six months. He taught me how to drink, do drugs, shoplift, panhandle and be a prostitute. He also showed me what it was like to sit in jail. I gave custody of my daughter to my parents before she was a year old.

I wish this was the end of my story, but it's not. There were many more Tonys in my life, and I married two of them. When my daughter was 7, my sister and her husband took custody because my parents were getting too old to care for her.

It took me 13 years to get off the booze and drugs, thanks to counseling and Alcoholics Anonymous. I am not married to a wonderful man who helped me learn to trust myself. Things are not perfect, but my worst days are better than my best days with Tony.

Polly, please get some counseling now. Go with your ears, heart and mind open. I thank my family for believing in me and not giving up. I pray your family will do the same for you.--Country Girl in Indiana

DEAR COUNTRY GIRL: You should also thank A.A. and your therapist. They were your salvation.

Your letter proves that no matter how low a person sinks, it is possible to rise from the ashes. Thank you for a genuine success story.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: With all the talk about health care, I thought you might enjoy seeing the bill my mother received when I was born in 1948 at St. Mary's Hospital in Milwaukee. Here it is:

Room and Board, five days, $33.75; Care of Infant, $10.00; Delivery Room, $10.00; Anesthetic, $5.00; Laboratory, $5.00; Dressings, $3.75; I.D. necklace, $0.50; Pharmacy, $1.25; Total: $69.25--J.S.R., Auburn, Calif.

DEAR J.S.R.: Yes -- and $55 a week was considered great pay. I like it better now.

Planning a wedding? What's right? What's wrong? "The Ann Landers Guide for Brides" will relieve your anxiety. Send a self-addressed, long, business-size envelope and a check or money order for $3.65 (this includes postage and handling) to: Brides, c/o Ann Landers, P.O. Box 11562, Chicago, Ill. 60611-0562.

The first nonstop flight from Europe to the United States ended as Capt. Dieudonne Conté and Maurice Bellonte of France arrived in Valley Stream, N.Y., in 1930 aboard their plane, "The Question Mark."

A new view of health care costs

The large price tags on diagnostic imaging equipment--CT, x-ray, ultrasound, MRI--encourage some people to believe they're a primary cause of high health care costs.

In fact, they reduce costs and improve productivity. With their help, doctors can detect diseases while treatments are comparatively easy and inexpensive. They can be more sure they're treating a problem properly without invasive surgery. They can do tests that once cost thousands of dollars and required long hospital stays for much less and in minutes right in the office.

Any health care reform that doesn't include encouraging the use of these life-saving machines could not only increase costs, but could keep more such devices from ever being created.
