

No Compromise Is Voiced Over Tidelands Issue

By HARRISON B. HUMPHRIES WASHINGTON (AP)—Threat of a filibuster in the Senate next week failed today to produce any agreement to limit debate on a bill to establish state ownership of offshore submerged lands rich in oil.

One Democratic leader who has been pushing for passage of the bill said, "There will be no compromise—not when we've got 49 certain votes." He asked that his name not be used.

His 60-vote estimate agreed with that of Republican Leader Taft of Ohio. Taft said he couldn't be sure, however, that all senators supporting the bill would be present when the vote is taken.

Absenteeism played a part in Taft's reversal of a decision to force a test vote last night. He said five senators out of town protested and three or four supporters of the bill suggested more time be allowed for debate.

Taft says he will move to kill a substitute by Sen. Anderson (D-NM) which would establish federal control of the submerged lands.

Taft, after twice changing signals yesterday, said he will make his motion Monday. It would put off debate temporarily, forcing an immediate vote on Anderson's proposal. Taft said he will withhold it if an agreement has been reached by Monday to curb debate or fix a time for voting.

That condition was also attached to the decision of the Senate GOP Policy Committee to hold 24-hour sessions beginning Monday. Today is the 18th day of debate on the measure.

Taft concedes that a vote on the Anderson amendment would not shut off debate on the bill itself. He says his purpose is to show how the Senate is divided.

Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn) spoke seven hours yesterday and reached an agreement that he complete his speech in another hour and a half today.

Humphrey said President Eisenhower might veto the state ownership bill because of provisions conflicting with the views of the State, Justice and Interior Departments on recognition of state boundaries claimed by Texas and Florida in excess of three miles offshore.

Eisenhower says he favors state ownership of the submerged lands. Sen. Fulbright (D-Ark), another opponent of the state ownership bill, said one factor in the long debate has been a hope that the bill's backers would agree to defer a vote "for at least a period of weeks."

Fulbright said he and many others believe that if the vote were postponed six months to a year, public opposition to the bill would be so great that it could not be passed in its present form.

J. L. Moates Is Killed In Car Mishap

J. L. Moates, about 75, Howard County stock farmer, was injured fatally in a car mishap north of San Angelo Wednesday evening.

Mr. Moates died in the Shannon Hospital about an hour after the fatal north of San Angelo on U. S. 87 at 8:40 p.m. Wednesday.

Under treatment in the same hospital was Mrs. W. D. Harvey, 26, of Lancaster, Big Spring. Extent of her injuries were not learned immediately. Her two children, age 4 years and 3 months, were released after treatment Wednesday evening.

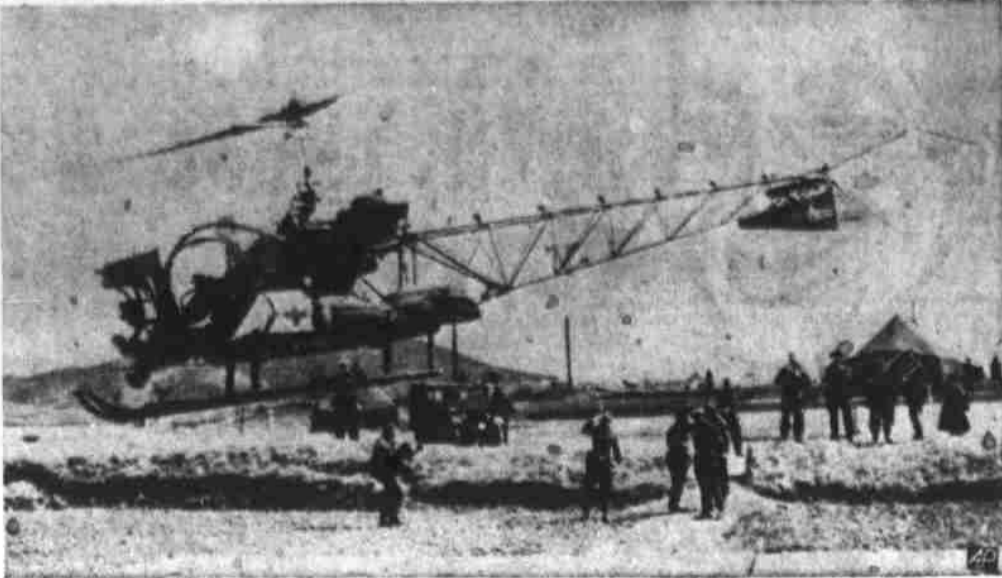

Highway Patrolman Frank Perkins, who investigated the mishap said that the new 1953 Plymouth swerved from the right side of the highway, on a new section of road, skidded back across the road, hit a highway marker and overturned one and a quarter times.

The Johnson Funeral Home had no word on arrangements or on survivors at noon Thursday. A relative had called from Colorado City to say that members of the family were en route, according to the funeral home.

Mr. Moates owned land north of the Gay Hill community and part of the tract lies over the western fringe of the East Vealmoor oil pool.

Reds Promise To Release More Disabled POWs

By ROBERT B. TUCKMAN PANMUNJOM (AP)—The Communists said today they would free more disabled Allied prisoners—a startling reversal of their earlier insistence on releasing only 605.

They did not say how many more, nor their nationalities. But they did pledge to return all sick and wounded Allied troops in North Korean stockades, as well as those captured recently.

The unexpected move apparently stalled off a possible U. N. protest that the Reds were holding back some disabled captives.

Allied prisoners exchanged in four days have said many more seriously sick and wounded were left behind in North Korea.

Gen. Mark Clark, U. N. commander, said he was gratified that the Communists "in response to repeated requests from the U. N. Command, have agreed to return 600 disabled Allied prisoners, the UNC called the figure 'incredibly small' and asked for a recount.

North Korean Maj. Gen. Lee San Cho said several times that the figures had been rechecked and that 600 was all.

But at this liaison meeting Lee told Allied truce delegate Rear Adm. John C. Daniel: "I would like to inform your side that the sick and injured captured personnel whom our side is repatriating at this time include not only all the sick and injured captured personnel held in prisoner of war camps of our side but also those captured recently by our side at the front."

"Therefore the number of personnel to be repatriated by our side is more than the estimated figure which your side has been previously informed. As to the exact figure . . . your side will be informed daily according to the agreement of both sides."

The meeting lasted only four minutes. At Munsan, both Daniel and Lt. Gen. William K. Harrison, senior United Nations truce delegate, expressed pleasure.

Daniel commented: "We would be glad if we only got back one more than they said they would give us but we would like to get them all back."

originally by the Reds. However, the new Red move could raise that figure.

In four days of exchange, the Communists have returned 400 Allied troops—the majority South Korean—and the U. N. has returned 2,000 Communists, including all 700 Chinese scheduled to go home.

The Red offer to return more U. N. troops came at a special liaison officers meeting called by the U. N. amid speculation the Allies would demand more prisoners after hearing reports about those still in camps.

It came against a background of mushrooming charges that 1,500 Allied prisoners died of hunger and lack of medical attention, of clubbings and bayonetings and death marches along icy roads.

When the Communists first announced they would return about 600 disabled Allied prisoners, the UNC called the figure "incredibly small" and asked for a recount.

North Korean Maj. Gen. Lee San Cho said several times that the figures had been rechecked and that 600 was all.

Pain-Wracked POWs Tell About Atrocities

By ROBERT EUNSON FREEDOM VILLAGE, Korea (AP)—Pain-wracked Allied soldiers, wounded only a few weeks ago in bloody fighting for outpost hills in Western Korea, came back from Communist captivity today.

Some managed a smile or a joke despite the pain of unhealed wounds. Others, pale with shock and suffering, gripped the sides of their litters.

A South Korean told of almost unbelievable cruelties by his North Korean captors. M. Sgt. Kim Ka Sung, 25, said the Reds eliminated their torture by hacking off all of his fingers—some with a saw.

Lt. Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, the Eighth Army commander, called it "a scandalous case."

Some U. S. Marines freed today lived through the tremendous mortar and artillery barrages and the hand-to-hand combat on Vegas and Reno outposts March 26.

And there were some Colombians captured when Chinese overran nearby Old Baldy at about the same time. Ninety-six Colombians have been missing since that battle.

A young Navy hospital corpsman, Thomas Waddill, 20, of Ft. Worth, Tex., said Marines who had lost consciousness from lack of oxygen in a small cave on Outpost Reno were riddled with burp gun fire.

"I was in the cave when the outpost was hit," he said. "There were just three of us walking around. Lots of the guys were asphyxiated and snoring. The Chinese started spraying us with burp guns and grenades. They came in the cave. I got powder burns from a pistol. Then I got shot in the neck and I thought I was going to die. I just kept moving around and finally they captured me."

Pfc. Samuel J. Armstrong, 15, of San Antonio, Tex., captured on Vegas, said he knew of 10 other Americans captured in the bitter fight who still are prisoners. He said he was well treated.

Marine Pfc. Joseph Britt Jr. of Long Beach, Calif., captured in the same fight, said the Chinese gave him only battle dressings for several days. Britt was wounded in the arm and leg by shrapnel and had light shrapnel wounds on his head.

Britt said he was marched by the Chinese for about two hours until he collapsed from loss of blood.

"I didn't know I was wounded in the leg until I was in the hos-

Highway Flooded In SW Texas By Torrential Rain

By The Associated Press TORRENTIAL rain temporarily flooded a highway in Southwest Texas Thursday. Lighter showers fell elsewhere over West Texas, a life-giving elixir to parched pastures and wheat fields.

The heaviest downpour was 3.71 inches at the Duke Wilson Ranch, 18 miles south of Sonora in Sutton County. Rushing water quickly flooded draws on the Sonora-Del Rio Highway, halting traffic briefly.

More scattered showers and thunderstorms were forecast for all sections as a weak cool front drifted eastward across the state.

The rain fell from a low cloud blanket and settled choking dust which swept West Texas earlier.

Up to one inch had fallen in the dry San Angelo area late Thursday morning. San Angelo's lakes were up slightly.

A booming thunderstorm with 50-mile-an-hour winds poured out one inch of much-needed rain on Big Spring, substantially benefitting ranges. Other rainfall totals in that area: Lamesa 47 inch, Colorado City 7.1, Snyder 1.25 and Sweetwater 1.2.

A half-inch of rain, described as "wheat-saving," dampened El Paso. The rain was expected to save the early wheat crop and insure increased yields in later plantings.

Other rainfall: Abilene .64, Amarillo .01, El Paso .44, Fort Worth .02, Wichita Falls .26, Lubbock .27, San Angelo .64, Childress .40, Salt Flat .35, Wink .22, Midland .72 and Mineral Wells .02. Traces fell at Austin, Houston, San Antonio, Del Rio, Lufkin, Junction and Marfa.

The Weather Bureau said an east-moving storm area lay diagonally across the state from Gage, Okla., to Del Rio.

"The entire state should get more showers today, tonight and tomorrow morning," a weather man said.

Temperatures were generally mild. Maximums early Thursday ranged from 44 at Salt Flat to 75 at Brownsville and Alice.

Skies over all of Texas were cloudy Thursday and forecasts called for continued cloudiness, scattered showers and mild temperatures for Friday. Thursday morning temperatures ranged from the middle forties in the Panhandle to the middle seventies in the Rio Grande Valley.

Some early ground fog hovered over Southeast Texas.

NATO Urged Not To Relax

PARIS (AP)—President Eisenhower warned America's Allies in the North Atlantic Alliance today not to relax their rearming because of the Russian peace campaign—that "until the conditions for genuine peace have been firmly established, it would be foolhardy for us to delude ourselves about the dangers confronting us."

Secretary of State Dulles read the President's message to the opening session of the 14-nation NATO Council of Ministers.

The first action was the signing of contracts totaling 550 million dollars for European airplanes to fortify Western defense. Defense Secretary Wilson called the signing an example of NATO co-operation which will "provide essential military equipment and at the same time serve as economic aid" to the countries producing the planes—Britain, France, Belgium, The Netherlands and Italy.

The U. S. will put up $281,540,000. Eisenhower's warning did not specifically mention the recent change in the Russian line, but his implication was apparent in the light of the ministers' avowed intention to discuss fully, and assay, the conciliatory line Moscow has taken since the death of Stalin.

"We deplore the fact," Eisenhower wrote, "that civilized nations are compelled at this stage of human history to devote so large a portion of their energies and resources to the purpose of military defense."

"I have already expressed the hope that it will be possible in the foreseeable future to devote part of these resources and energies to more constructive purposes. I know that this can be accomplished if all nations will co-operate sincerely in creating the necessary conditions for lasting peace."

But "realization of this opportunity," Eisenhower added in another clear reference to the Soviet Union, "will depend primarily on the deeds of others."

Foreign Minister Georges Bidault of France accused the Communists of launching a new attack in Indochina while talking of peace in Korea. Bidault referred to the Vietnam invasion of the Kingdom of Laos.

It was apparent the 50 or so ministers shared both Eisenhower's and Bidault's views.

Farm Prospects Boosted By General Area Rains

Total Varies From .67 To 2.1 Inches

General showers riding the wake of shasting winds accompanied booming thunderstorms into the Big Spring area Wednesday night and early today to stimulate Howard County's agricultural outlook.

Ranges were refreshed, stock tanks were replenished and moisture sufficient for cotton planting was dumped on large portions of the county's farm lands.

Generally, the rainfall in Howard County ranged from about three quarters of an inch to something over two inches.

The U. S. Weather Bureau station at Webb Air Force Base west of the farming section southwest of Knott, where 2.1 inches were reported. Other farms between Knott and Big Spring, including some in the Fairview area, reported from 1.4 to 1.6 inches. Coahoma had approximately one inch, and the rainfall was general over most of the east part of the county. Unconfirmed reports indicated heavier showers in the Vincent area to the northeast.

The lightest showers in Howard County apparently were in the southeast part, with Forsan reporting .67 inch.

Approximately one inch fell in southwest.

The storm line hit Big Spring suddenly at about 7 p.m., with billowing clouds of dust reducing visibility to a quarter of a mile. Gusts of wind ranging up to 53 miles per hour buffeted the city for more than an hour.

The blowing dust was followed by the first shower of the evening. Brilliant flashes of lightning and crashing thunder came in with the rains.

Other showers followed incrementally during the night, with the last coming at dawn this morning. Some small hailstones fell in the city during this morning's shower.

Elsewhere over the area Snyder had 1.2 inches, Sweetwater 1.2, Steffling City .6, Ackerly .7, Stanton 1.5, Midland 1.35, Garden City .7, Terminal (between Midland and Odessa) .72.

Farther to the west, showers brought half an inch of moisture to Ward County and a quarter of an inch to Andrews County.

Moderate to heavy showers fell in Mitchell County. In Colorado City gauges showed 1.31 inches, while the Texas Electric Plant at Lake Colorado City southwest of town gauged .71 inch.

Although there was little runoff, the rainfall at Moss Creek lake southeast of Big Spring amounted to 3 inch. The lake had caught two or three inches of water.

City Manager H. W. Whitney said he believed that detention dams in the city caught more water than at any other time recently.

The old T&P lake southwest of town caught considerable water, as the draw through City Park went on a rise during the showers.

No reports had been received from Lake J. B. Thomas. However, E. V. Spence, manager of the Colorado River Municipal Water District reported that an inch and three quarters of rain had fallen in Scurry County around the Snyder area.

Low Glasscock Co. Rain Varies

GARDEN CITY — Pastures were freshened over Glasscock County by showers ranging from three quarters of an inch to twice that amount in the northwest corner.

Garden City had .70 of an inch. To the northeast on the Harris place the amount was .56. Six miles north on the Bob Ballinger place the lightest spot in the county occurred with half an inch. This strip continued to about a half mile north of Lee's and steadily got heavier into Big Spring, where an inch fell.

The Bill Currie ranch, on the east side of the county, had an inch. Clyde Reynolds, on the southeast, had .85.

The Coppe place at St. Lawrence, on the south edge of the county, had .70. John Henry Cox, south of Garden City, reported .60 of an inch.

On the west side, Sam Ratliff and Charles Cox reported half an inch. Bill Bigby, 10 miles out, got three-fourths of an inch and Son Powell reported .60. The Wraga ranch, in far west Glasscock, got 1.1 and seven miles northwest of here Jim Ratliff reported .85.

Heaviest amount in the county occurred in the northwest corner on the W. O. Daves farm where 1.45 was measured. This is in south of Lomax.

COLORADO CITY — Showers which continued through most of Wednesday night brought 1.31 of moisture to Colorado City.

The rains were accompanied by gusty winds which ripped branches from trees in residential areas and interrupted telephone service to some local homes.

CEREMONIES SET AT BRONC OPENER TODAY

Weather permitting, the Big Spring Bronco attempt to open their home Longhorn League season again tonight at Steer Park.

The San Angelo Colts, who were to furnish the opposition last night until a sandstorm and rain forced postponement, are still in town, and they'll square off against the Broncos around 8:15 p.m. The elements are willing. The same pre-game special events planned for last night will be held, and the same record crowd is expected to be on hand.

Trash Crews Start Out On City Pickups

City trash crews started their part of the spring clean-up effort this morning, despite muddy alleys and soggy trash.

Four trucks were on the job today, two starting in the Lakeview Addition and working eastward and another pair in the western section of Edwards Heights, also moving east.

Some trash in those sections may not be picked up today, due to condition of alleys following last night's rain. However, the trucks will double back to get the rubbish they miss today, city officials said.

It was too early for any progress report, but volume of trash to be collected probably will exceed last year's total which was approximately 250 loads.

The trucks will continue to haul off the trash until the city is cleaned. Residents are advised to stack their rubbish in the usual places for garbage and waste disposal.

Salvation Army Gets Local Aid During Clean-Up

A number of Big Spring people have been contributing furniture and clothing to the local Salvation Army during clean-up week.

L. Robert Hall, commander of the Big Spring post, said one man has been kept busy since Monday picking up the contributed goods.

An appeal was made by the Army commander for contribution just before the clean-up campaign began. Hall believes that people have many goods which they no longer need but that will help others.

"As long as they are cleaning up they might as well clean out too," he said. "Instead of throwing away their goods, they can give them to us for repair and use elsewhere."

Hall pointed out that all an individual has to do is call 454 and Salvation Army workers will be out to pick up whatever they have to contribute.

People of Big Spring also gave good response to a Salvation Army request for aid to a Negro family recently burned out of its home, Hall said.

Two bedsteads, springs, stove, couch, and two young people's beds were contributed. Hall reported the family, which consists of eight children, is now back on its feet.

A recent contribution made by a local woman has assured good accommodations in the Army's transient lodge, Hall said. The lady contributed money to pay for all the sheets needed for beds in the lodge.

The transient building now has a dormitory for men (accommodating 34 people), a room for women, and two family rooms. Remodeling will be completed within a few days.

City Court Fines Up $10,057; Police Activity Also On Rise

A big increase in police activities and volume of fines assessed in Corporation Court is noticeable in the annual report of the Big Spring Police Department.

Activity in practically every phase of the department's work shows an increase over the previous year. Total of Corporation Court fines increased, as a result, from $39,213 in 1951-52 to $49,270 during the '52-53 fiscal year which ended Mar. 31.

Arrests increased from 2,294 to 2,831. Tickets were issued or charges filed and settlements made as a result of 4,380 traffic violations during 1952-53, compared to 2,137 for the preceding year.

Amount of fines collected also showed an increase—$31,250 in 1952-53, up from $24,294 the previous year.

Police patrols stretched out to 190,272 miles—20,000 miles more than cars traveled in 1951-52.

Accidents occurring in the city also increased. There were 211 mishaps during the 1951-52 fiscal year and 271 in the past 12 months.

Fewer persons were injured in the wrecks, however. Police reported 32 injuries in their 1951-52 report and only 24 during the fiscal year just ended.

There was one traffic death.

San Antonio Firm Is High-Liquor Bidder

The Big Spring office of the Liquor Control Board made a sale totaling $3,434.49 Wednesday to a San Antonio firm.

The sale consisted of 70 cases of liquor and 73 cases of wine, all confiscated by local liquor officials since November.

Don and Ben's Package Store of San Antonio made the purchase after entering high bid for the products. Shipment was made by motor line Wednesday afternoon.

C. B. Arnold, director of the local office, stated that all confiscated liquor is sold to the highest bidder among liquor permit holders in the state.

charged to the city a year ago, but none during the 1952-53 year. Although one person died as a result of injuries received when struck by an automobile last Mar. 26, the death is not charged to Big Spring traffic as it occurred on private property, according to the Texas Department of Public Safety.

Howard County coffers benefited to the extent of $10,000 from city police work during the past year. City officers arrested and transferred to the county 99 persons charged with driving while intoxicated. These subsequently were fined $100 or more each.

Of the $49,270 in fines assessed in city court, $17,858 was laid out in jail. With $31,130 in fines paid, only $181.50 was pending at the end of the fiscal year. Collected on previous years' pending was $108.

The total number of traffic tickets issued during the past year was 7,352. With the closing of 4,380 traffic cases, some 3,000 tickets still are pending.

Traffic fines included $33 for moving violations, 68 for mechanical defects, 195 for driving without license, 13 for leaving scene of accident, 256 for parking violations other than overtime, and 2,686 for overtime parking. Only four traffic cases were transferred to other courts, although charges against 425 drivers were dropped during the year.

Misdemeanor fines included 1,712 for drunkenness, 90 for disturbance, 53 for affray, four for assault, 14 for gaming, 112 for vagrancy, 10 for burglary and theft, one for liquor law violations, and 52 for other offenses.

Transferred to other courts were cases involving drunkenness, 21; driving while intoxicated, 600; disturbance, six; affray, two; assault, 40; gaming, two; vagrancy, seven; burglary and theft, 37; robbery, 16; car theft, nine; carrying deadly weapons, 16; murder and attempted murder, 10; and other offenses, 53.

Dismissed were 53 charges of drunkenness, 33 of disturbance, 25 of affray, five of assault, one of gaming, 35 of vagrancy, 21 of burglary and theft, four of robbery and 25 alleging other offenses.

Key to success of the department's work was, in most cases, police radio. A total of 22,500 messages was broadcast or received over the radio.

F-W Man Heads Federal Bureau Of Reclamation

WASHINGTON (AP)—Marvin Nichols, selected as the new U. S. reclamation commissioner, is the third Texas Democrat named to an important post in the Eisenhower administration.

The Fort Worth municipal water expert, long recognized in water reclamation and flood protection, would succeed Michael Straus.

Interior Secretary McKay said yesterday he was recommending Nichols to the appointment.

Holding top posts in the Republican administration are R. B. Anderson of Vernon, Navy secretary, and Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby of Houston, secretary for health, education and welfare.

The Reclamation Commission pays $14,000 a year. Straus was receiving $14,800 when he left the job.

McKay described Nichols as "a Shivers Democrat who voted for Eisenhower." Anderson and Mrs. Hobby, also Democrats, supported Eisenhower.

Reporters had been told recently that appointment of Nichols was being held up by objections of Jack Porter of Houston, Texas National GOP committeeman. Porter endorsed Nichols Saturday.

Nichols said at Amarillo yesterday, "I doubt that I could seemly way clear to refuse the appointment" but declared "I have not been an applicant for the position."

Nichols, a former Amarillo resident, is consulting engineer for the Panhandle city and has been there two days conferring with officials on water problems. He was assistant city engineer of Amarillo from 1922 to 1927.

He was chairman of the Texas Planning Board in 1933-34. Nichols attended school at Denton and Austin.

Soldier's Funeral Is Set Today At Loraine

COLORADO CITY — Funeral services for Private Marcos S. Morales of Fort Leonard Wood, Mo., will be held Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock, from the Catholic Church in Loraine. Burial is to be in the Loraine cemetery under the direction of Kiker and Son, of Colorado City.

Morales died Sunday night when struck by a car near Temple, Texas.

He was born March 3, 1922, at Pecos and had been employed by the T&P Railroad and the Walker Motor Company of Loraine prior to entering the service.

He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leonardo Morales of Loraine, and seven brothers and eight sisters.

More Atrocity Evidence To Be Collected; Probe Plans Shelved

WASHINGTON (AP)—A proposal to inquire into Red atrocities against prisoners of war in Korea has been put temporarily on a Senate shelf.

After being assured that the Army and State Department will step up collection of evidence with a view to later war crimes prosecutions of the Communists for any atrocities against United Nations prisoners, the Senate Appropriations Committee dropped plans to investigate.

Some members of the committee, like Senators Ellender (D-La.) and Magnuson (D-Wash.), said they regarded yesterday's two-hour inquiry, ordered by Chairman Bridges (R-NH), as "premature."

Rep. Judd (R-Minn.) said, meanwhile, that the Communists are using the exchange of sick and wounded prisoners to divert American attention from "the main campaign"—a thrust toward rich Southeast Asia. The drive started just after Peking announced acceptance of U. N. proposals to exchange sick and wounded prisoners.

Rep. Zablocki (R-Wis.) said the Laos campaign is "very serious" and agreed with Judd that the attack should be turned over to the United Nations. Laos has petitioned for U. N. help but no action has been taken.

The two congressmen are members of a four-man foreign affairs subcommittee which returned recently from a swing through the Far East.

Judd said Southeast Asia "always has been the main target" of the Communists and that Indochina, its gateway, must be held. "Zablocki voiced the opinion that the U. S. cannot continue aiding the French in Indochina until the French bring us assurances of honorable intentions" to give the Viet Nam natives more freedom.

"I feel it is futile and dangerous on our part to assist the French if we are going to be listed as collaborators to colonialism," Zablocki said.

The Senate committee's decision not to hold hearings on the atrocities reported in Korea was announced by Bridges. He said Walter Bedell Smith, under secretary of state, and other officials told the committee in a closed session they were concerned over the publicity already given released sick and wounded Americans in Korea.

Bridges said the officials urged, and the committee agreed, that:

1. It would be "very unfortunate" to stir up new publicity while the exchange of prisoners is going on.

2. Publicity attending a congressional hearing might complicate negotiations for exchange of other prisoners.

3. Publication of facts now known to the military might bring reprisals against U. N. prisoners still held by the Red Chinese and North Koreans.

Bridges said the officials agreed to step up collection of evidence of atrocities "so that when and if Vietnam natives more freedom, to take some affirmative action the evidence will not have to be collected, but be on hand."

He said he was satisfied all possible efforts are being made to obtain release of any sick and wounded the Communists may still be holding.

VFW Installs C-City Officers

COLORADO CITY—Wilson Wyatt Post number 9178 of the Veterans of Foreign Wars recently installed new officers in a joint ceremony with the auxiliary.

Jimmy Kuhn was selected to head the VFW for their ensuing year and Mrs. John Colson was reelected auxiliary president.

Roy Yoakum of Sweetwater, district commander, installed the new slate of VFW officials. Other officers are Jimmie Palmer, Senior Vice Commander; Ralph Sanderson, Junior vice commander; R. J. Hoback, quartermaster; Howard Bynum, adjutant; Dr. Harry A. Logsdon, post surgeon; L. O. Schaffer, chaplain; M. D. Robertson, John H. Colson and J. R. Erwin, trustees; and Paul Prescott, officer of the day.

Also present for the ceremony was Justin Morrow, state senior vice commander. Junior Sadler, outgoing commander presaged Kuhn with 47 members who had paid 1954 dues.

Nelta Chapman of Snyder was installing officer for the auxiliary. In addition to Mrs. Colson, other auxiliary officers are Mrs. J. R. Erwin, senior vice president; Mrs. Babe Cox Jr., senior vice president and secretary; Mrs. Junior Sadler, treasurer; Mrs. Lon Robertson, conductress; Mrs. J. P. Ellis, guard; Mrs. Roy Miller, 3rd year trustee and patriotic instructor and Mrs. Jimmy Kuhn, chaplain.

He was born March 3, 1922, at Pecos and had been employed by the T&P Railroad and the Walker Motor Company of Loraine prior to entering the service.

He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leonardo Morales of Loraine, and seven brothers and eight sisters.

Tax Lien Is Filed In Ector County Court Against Benny Binion

ODESSA (AP)—The federal government has filed a tax lien here in Ector County against Nevada gambler Benny Binion.

The lien filed yesterday alleges Binion and his wife owe almost a million dollars in federal income taxes. A similar lien was filed against Paul Harvey, Odessa gambler.

Binion has been resisting a federal court order to appear for trial in Texas on income tax evasion charges. Dallas County wants Binion on state gaming charges.

Newspaper Labor Relations Better

NEW YORK (AP)—The American Newspaper Publishers Association was told today that there was "a definite improvement in newspaper labor relations" in the past year.

"But that improvement has been partially offset by less arbitration and more strikes," a special standing committee reported to the association's convention.

It said there had been several gains in promoting "amicable relations between publishers and employees," including:

1. Restoration of free local bargaining, and curbing of "the monopoly threatened by national bargaining."

Make This Home Recipe To Take Off UGLY FAT!

HERE IS THE PROOF FROM YOUR TEXAS NEIGHBORS

It's simple; it's amazing how quickly one may lose pounds of bulky, unsightly fat—or money back. Here is a home recipe to help take off ungainly weight and help restore graceful slenderness.

Just ask your druggist for a four-ounce bottle of Barcentrate. Pour into a pint bottle or jar and fill bottle with grapefruit juice. Then take two table-spoonsful twice a day as directed on label. There is also a supply of appetite curb tablets in the improved Barcentrate carton. These tablets help to lessen the taste buds which lie on the surface of the tongue. Take as directed on label.

If the very first bottle of Barcentrate does not show you the simple, easy way to aid in taking off weight, if fat doesn't start to disappear from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves, and ankles, just return the empty bottle for your money back.

DEMAND THE New Improved BARCENTRATE—ACCEPT NO SUBSTITUTION!

LOST 75 POUNDS
"I have lost about 75 pounds and reduced my waist line eleven inches, taking Barcentrate," writes Mrs. A. B. Henderson, 1509 Tabor St., Paris, Texas. "I feel much better since I got rid of the excess weight."

THIS LADY LOST 50 POUNDS
"I think Barcentrate is a wonderful product. I have lost about 50 pounds taking it," signed Mrs. G. T. Hicks, 410 Whiting Ave., San Antonio, Texas.

LOST 27 POUNDS
"I cannot say thanks enough for Barcentrate. It has helped me many ways. First, I lost 27 pounds. I also got rid of the fullness and bloating that made breathing difficult." Signed: Rose Warren, Box 114, Knox City, Texas.

20 POUNDS LOST
"I am happy about the easy Barcentrate way to take off weight," writes Florence Schaefer, 4102 Avenue D, Galveston, Texas. "I have taken off 20 pounds taking Barcentrate."

Court Fight Resumes On Spraberry Flaring

By BO BYERS
AUSTIN (U.S.)—Oil operators and gas processors renewed their court attack today on the Railroad Commission's order shutting down the Spraberry field to prevent gas flaring.

Three top independent operators and the presidents of two processing plants testified yesterday they face severe losses if the policy is upheld.

John Barnett of Rowell said he would lose income of about $41,000 a month from 35 Spraberry wells in which he has an interest and would be under threat of foreclosure on loans totaling $900,000 for financing of those wells.

"I would be at the complete mercy of my creditors," he told Judge Charles Betts in 98th District Court.

Asst. Atty. Gen. C. K. Richards repeatedly objected to testimony about prospective loss.

He said such testimony was "speculative."

Others testifying on potential loss were Arch Rowan and Arthur (Tex) Harvey, Fort Worth and Midland oil operators; John Osley of Tulsa, president of Texas Gas Products Corp.; and Joe Wright of Tulsa, president of Anchor Gasoline Corp., which operates the Tex Harvey gasoline plant.

Harvey said he had invested vast sums of money in the interest of construction in the 500,000 acre Spraberry field and is heavily mortgaged as a result.

He said his Spraberry investments—oil wells, water company, crude oil pipeline system, and gasoline plant—since drilling of the Tex Harvey discovery well have totalled $5,400,000.

If his Spraberry income were cut off by the shutdowns action a considerable time, Harvey said, his consolidated bank debt of $2,850,000 would be subject to foreclosure.

Betts allowed the testimony over Richards' objection.

A challenge of another commission order was injected into the trial when Plymouth Oil Co. contended the Benedum area at the south end of the Spraberry is separated from the rest of the Spraberry as an oil-producing structure.

Plymouth said if its contention is true, the Benedum area should be exempt from the shutdown if there is no wasteful flaring from the 150 Spraberry wells in the Benedum.

Richards objected. He said Plymouth had never before attacked the commission order combining the Benedum, Tex Harvey and Pembroke fields as a common reservoir known as the Spraberry Trend Area.

Betts upheld Attorney Ireland Graves, who contended Plymouth had never been under that combining order until the shutdown order was issued.

Plaintiffs in five suits were still putting on witnesses today, with the state yet to offer its side.

Commission Chairman Ernest Thompson testified yesterday that the field-wide shutdown was a new step, "a frontal attack" on the problem of waste of this natural resource.

Reorganization Of Departments Is Considered

WASHINGTON (U.S.)—President Eisenhower is considering a broad reorganization of the Defense and State Departments to increase their efficiency, and talked over his ideas today with congressional leaders.

Sen. Taft said after the White House meeting that there was general discussion covering such possibilities as:

1. Removing the Voice of America and associated information programs from the State Department and making them an independent agency.
 2. Transfer of the Point Four aid program from the State Department to the Mutual Security Agency. This program aims at spreading technical knowledge to underdeveloped areas of the world.
 3. Reorganization in the Defense Department to eliminate certain boards and give these responsibilities to civilian assistant secretaries. Taft said this included the Munitions Board.
 4. Approval of new procedures in the Defense Department to give the secretary of defense and the armed forces secretaries a closer grip on "what is going on."
- Taft said the meeting was taken up mostly by presentations of the reorganization proposals by Roger Kyes, assistant secretary of defense and Nelson Rockefeller, who heads a group of civilians named by President Eisenhower to study reorganization of the federal agencies.
- Taft said there was no discussion of the reported desire by some Republican leaders for a complete change in the membership of the Joint Chiefs of Staff. Some Republicans have said such a personnel change should be made to get a fresh approach to the problems of defense.

Gruenther Says West Lacking In Reserves

By ERNEST B. VACCARO
WASHINGTON (U.S.)—Congress was told today that Western military forces in Europe "probably could cope with any surprise Russian attack but lack the reserves to meet long-range requirements."

This testimony came from Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther, chief of staff to Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway at Supreme Allied Headquarters in Europe. Given at a closed session of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee April 1.

Gruenther asserted NATO's situation was "vastly improved" over what it was at the start two years ago when its leaders worried "we might wake up some morning and find the whole (Soviet and satellite) force just pouring through, with warning that was no more than a matter of minutes."

He cautioned against cutting foreign aid so drastically that the French and other Allies might fear "we are getting ready to pull out" of European defense.

Highly placed officials said Tuesday the Eisenhower administration is talking in terms of about a two billion dollar cut in former President Truman's $7,600,000,000 foreign aid request for the year starting July 1.

Gruenther told the committee there are still four million men under arms in the NATO forces. Included are 175 land divisions, 20,000 operational aircraft and upwards of 300 submarines.

Of the 175 divisions, 30 are stationed in Europe, the large part in forward areas, with others on the Western borders of the Soviet Union where they "can be quickly brought up for reinforcement."

He called the Russian MIG15 one of the finest interceptor airplanes in the world, but said that in long range or strategic aircraft, "we have better types."

"The NATO forces, Gruenther said, have 'an emergency plan.' "That plan envisages the actions that would be taken if the Soviet force should move today," he said, adding:

"That doesn't mean that we necessarily have enough force now to meet this threat successfully. In fact, we think we do not, but you fight with what you have and you do the best you can."

A long-range plan, envisaging what the strategy should be, has been presented to the North Atlantic Council, he said.

"There are strains on the Soviet side, and particularly on the satellite side, but those strains, with the gun in the back keeping people in line, are not enough to give us any reason for believing that the empire is about to collapse in the fashion of the Roman Empire," he said.

Five Americans Are Arrested By Argentine Police

BUENOS AIRES (U.S.)—The U. S. embassy said today five U. S. citizens connected with Texas cotton firms are being held under house arrest by Argentine authorities in Resistencia in Northern Argentina.

The men were seized by 15 to 20 police Monday night. They were held in prison for 24 hours and then permitted to return to their homes and hotel but under house detention.

They are being investigated for presumed violation of Argentine national security, the embassy added, but Argentine authorities declined to say what illegal acts they are suspected of carrying out.

The five are Jesse Root, Argentine manager for the Anderson Clayton and Co., of Houston, E. R. Connally and G. E. Turbeyville, both of the company's Houston office; James Griffin in charge of a ginning operation for the company in Northern Argentina and Walter Stindt, also in the cotton business at Houston.

Police said at first they received a tip five cotton men were holding a public meeting without police authority as is required by Argentine law. Later, the accusation was changed to presumed violation of the law governing the security of the state. The prisoners were repeatedly questioned during the 24 hours they were held in jail, but they were unable to learn what was back of their detention.

Scurry Offers Funds To Improve Highways

AUSTIN (U.S.)—The Highway Department is considering new requests for road improvements with an eye on its dwindling funds.

"With higher construction and maintenance costs, and no more money from this session of the Legislature, we may have to curtail our construction program for the new two years," said chairman E. H. Thornton Jr., yesterday to several delegations.

Scurry County officials had one answer. They offered $250,000 left over from their last farm-to-market funds to help finance six more F-M roads. The projects would total 28 miles and cost $436,000. The commission said it would think the offer over.

Kerr County officials asked to have F-M 1273 cut from 3.9 miles to 2.5 miles, to end at the Peterson-Graham property line instead of Camp Maddox, due to right of way difficulties.

The commission offered to apply the curtailed length to some other area in the county that needed it.

A 20-man Dallas group again asked for widening and improving Highway 77 from Field Circle to the Dallas-Denton County line for 8.75 miles.

James Sewell, Navarro County judge, asked to have a 3 1/2-mile gap to Winkler from F-M 246 closed. The cost would be $69,300.

A U. S. highway four blocks from the center of town in place of the present one through town was asked by a Sherman delegation. They could promise 150 feet of right-of-way.

"It would have to be at least 200 feet before the federal government would give us funds," said D. C. Greer, highway engineer. The delegation offered to try to get the needed right of way.

An Amarillo delegation had five requests. They asked for a four-lane highway between Canyon and Amarillo; widening of northeast Eighth Avenue from Fillmore Street in Oldham County; widening of Highway 87-267 for a seven-mile stretch from northeast Eighth Avenue.

Odessa Files Suit For Mishap Damages

Jose Orona of Odessa filed a $316.19 damage suit in Howard County Court today against George W. Wilson. The suit results from a collision on Highway 80 near the Martin-Howard County line.

Orona alleged that the accident occurred when Wilson attempted to pass some other vehicles by swinging over to the left side of the highway. Orona was going west, and Wilson east.

The petition alleges Wilson was negligent by not keeping a proper lookout, driving on the wrong side of the road, not having proper control, not yielding right-of-way, and driving at excessive speed. John H. Hall is Orona's attorney.

Two Men To Go On Theft Trial Friday

Trial of two men charged with theft of less than $5 has been set for Friday morning in city court. A third person pleaded guilty this morning to charges of shoplifting and was fined $25.

Police said the shoplifter was arrested after he stole a bottle of bay rum from a downtown variety store. The pair accused of theft were taken into custody Wednesday after a length of garden hose was taken from another store.

Trial of a man on disturbance charges, resulting from a window peeping incident in the southwest part of town last week, has been continued until next Tuesday. The man's trial had been scheduled for Saturday, but was delayed at request of the defense.

Debt Suit Is Filed In The County Court

Bessie L. Piland, acting guardian for the Alice Merrick estate, filed suit for debt against Lag (A. W.) Cauble today.

The suit was filed in Howard County Court. It is alleged that Cauble has failed to pay a $600 note due on Nov. 6, 1952. According to the petition, Cauble gave Alice Merrick a promissory note for the sum on Nov. 6, 1951.

Baylor University Sets Up Scholarship

WACO (U.S.)—Baylor announced today the establishment of the E. S. Fentress Memorial Journalism Scholarship by Harlon Fentress, son and successor of the Texas publisher.

Dr. Guy Newman, promotional vice president, said the scholarship will cover full $405 tuition for one year. It will be awarded to an outstanding Central Texas high school graduate.

Fentress, publisher of the Waco Times Herald and New Tribune and other Texas papers from 1917 until his death in 1951, is memorialized at Baylor also in the Fentress Library, a reading room in the Union Building.

Mild Weather Is Noted Over Nation

By The Associated Press
Generally mild weather continued in most of the country Thursday.

There were some wet and cloudy spots but sunny skies were in prospect for wide areas. Showers fell in Southern New England, New York, Washington State and on the western slopes of the Rockies. Thunderstorms hit Eastern New Mexico and West Texas as a squall line moved eastward over the region.

Some cooler air spread southward over the Great Lakes and the Plains as far south as the Ohio Valley and westward into Kansas. Temperatures continued above seasonal levels. Readings were in the 90s in some parts of the mid-continent yesterday, including 96 at Garden City, Kan., and 92 at Guymon, Okla. The day's top was 99 at Presidio, Tex.

Three More Texas Soldiers Are Freed In Exchange Of Prisoners

By The Associated Press
A young wife jumped up and down with joy and then cried tears of pure happiness.
A mother of eight sons—seven of them Marines—arose from her hospital bed and told fellow patients—the glad news.
A teacher, feeling as if she "couldn't make it through the day," took on new life.
Their soldiers were free again—back in the hands of United Nations comrades. Hope had become reality.
Three more Texas fighting men had been exchanged by the Communists Thursday: Pfc Samuel Armstrong, son of Mrs. Ida Barnes, San Antonio; Cpl. Jimmie Lacy, husband of Mrs. J. E. Lacy, Texarkana; and Navy hospital corpsman Thomas Waddill, son of Mrs. T. E. Waddill, Fort Worth.

Mrs. Waddill had almost lost hope her son was alive. A chaplain in Korea had written that there appeared to be no survivors of a Red attack in March from which her son was missing.
"I told my husband that after that it was just no use," she said. "He wasn't willing to give up though and kept hoping."
Like Waddill, the other two men had been in Communist hands a relatively short time. Jimmie Lacy had been reported missing March 26 after only two months in Korea. His red-blond bride, Sue, 17, "just jumped up and down" and then settled down for a good cry when she learned her dark-haired husband was free.
Lacy's father, Otto, said Sue was visiting him and Mrs. Lacy when they first learned the news.
"Sue just jumped up and down all around the place," Lacy said. "Then she started crying. And we began crying, too. We were so happy."
Lacy said his son lied about his age to get in the Marines. "Jimmie is just 17," he said.
At San Antonio, Mrs. Ida Barnes

jumped out of her hospital bed when told her son was safe. She has had seven sons in the Marines at one time or another. Recently three returned as Korean War casualties and two were discharged. Her other son plans to enlist in the Corps in June.
Mrs. Barnes, wife of a retired soldier, is at Brooke Army Hospital recovering from radium burns received under care of a physician.
T. E. Waddill at Fort Worth said his wife had been "stuck as a horse, but she's all right now."
"I'm a teacher and had gone to school today and when I came home, I felt like I couldn't make it through the rest of the day. Then I heard this broadcast," Mrs. Waddill said.
She fell from a divan when her son's name was flashed on a television screen, her husband said.
Before Wednesday, three other Texans had been freed.
They were Sgt. Gerald Neighbors of Hereford, Cpl. Theodore Jackson of Palestine and Pfc. Ed. Vidal of San Antonio.
Sam Armstrong, 18, was the first of the Americans to arrive at Freedom Village. He said he reached the hospital seven days after he was captured on Vegas Hill, where bloody fighting occurred on the Western Front.
He said he was exceptionally well treated. "I know of 10 other Americans captured on Vegas who are still up there," he said.
Armstrong had a broken right hand and grenade wounds. He was notified two days ago that he was coming back, he said. Like some other prisoners, he said the medical treatment afforded by the Communists was "more than I expected." Sulfa drugs and penicillin were used.
Lacy told of the fighting at outpost Reno where he was captured March 26.
Mortar firing started at 6:15 a. m., he said. "We were on the outpost several hundred yards in front of our main line. We tried to get out of our position to defend the hill but we found the fire too heavy."

ROME — Clare Boothe Luce received straight-forward greetings from most of Rome's morning newspapers today but the Communist L'Unita—as expected—was something less than chivalrous.
Commenting on the arrival yesterday of the new U. S. ambassador, L'Unita called her an "elderly lady" and said she spoke with a "Brooklyn accent."

Gilmer-Aiken Repeal Bill Goes To House

By MARTHA COLE
AUSTIN — It's a hot potato—the bill repealing the Gilmer-Aiken public school laws dumped into the House's hands.

The House Appropriations Committee did it yesterday by approving a bill cutting out the very heart of the public school program the Legislature passed four years ago.
School teachers fought for that program then just as hard as they're fighting this year for a $600 pay raise.

Nobody had paid much attention to the bill by Rep. Joe Burkett, Kerrville, to repeal the Gilmer-Aiken laws. The committee took it up; Burkett spoke for it; School Superintendent Fred Kaderli of San Marcos spoke against it; the committee voted it out. It was a voice vote, and three members asked to be recorded as voting "no."

"The Gilmer-Aiken program, the foundation fund, is socialism from the beginning," Burkett declared. Under the program the state guarantees the same education to a Texas child, whether he lives in a rich school district or a poor one. To do that, the state has to supply minimum foundation funds to help out the poorer districts.

What Burkett wants to do is reverse that whole principle. He would have the state spend 171 million dollars a year on public school education—then let the local district make up whatever else they want to give the kids.
"Let the local trustees decide how much they want to pay a teacher, instead of the state," he said. (The state now guarantees a minimum salary.)

His figuring would give the schools about $145 per student a year from the state. He figured that was about the same they're getting now.

Under Burkett's bill, the money would go to all districts, rich or poor, and the state wouldn't supplement poorer districts.
"That would bring back the old rural aid program—a political football for years," Kaderli objected. "It would make the richer districts richer and the poorer ones poorer."

"It will practically destroy all the small schools," he said of Burkett's bill.
Burkett said he thought the local school districts' trustees should decide whether they want a bus route.

The committee also approved a bill giving the state prison farm $3,500,000 to build a new 1,000-unit prison at Eastham Farm.

The committee with the job of figuring ways to raise money for any increased state spending finished up its hearings on proposed increases on beer, oil, gas, sulphur and chemical taxes yesterday. A subcommittee headed by Rep. Joe Pool of Dallas, was assigned the job of evaluating all the testimony and reporting back to the full committee Monday.

Chinese Put On Show For POWs

FREEDOM VILLAGE, Korea — Marine Pfc. Richard L. Oven of Buffalo, N. Y., said today the Chinese had decorated the roadside from Kaesong to Panmunjom with signs bidding returning Allied prisoners "Farewell, Quick Recovery" and "Bon Voyage."
He said the Communists also had placed signs around the Kaesong camp urging Allied repatriates to tell the people back home that the Chinese want peace.
Another Marine, Pfc. Joseph Britt Jr., Long Beach, Calif., said that for the last couple of days at Kaesong the Chinese "had really put on a show."
"Oh, they put on the dog, man!" he exclaimed.
Britt said the Chinese gave him a fountain pen and two cartons of Chinese cigarettes. Then he emptied his pockets on the table before him displaying the pen, cigarettes, a mirror and other trinkets and said "look at some of the trash they gave us."

Freed GI Asks If Marciano Still Champ

Mrs. Knox gave a resume of a speech by Mrs. Ben Neal at the president's breakfast, a celebration of the 25th anniversary of Garden Clubs.

Mrs. Neal recommended five types of roses for Texas growers: Fashion, Ma Perkins, Chrysler Imperial, Dwight Eisenhower and Mamie. The last two are new types.

Mrs. Neal also suggested the Spider and Spoon type of chrysanthemums and the Regal and Reubum type of Mies Comanche, a new annual, is also good for Texas gardeners, she said.

Mrs. A. Randolph Wilson of Waco was installed president of the Texas Garden Clubs, Mrs. Knox reported.

The local group voted to close the membership at 35 members, the present number. Mrs. Norman Read was appointed chairman of the planning committee to investigate possibilities of forming a new Garden Club. Twenty members attended.

Does that tell-tale look on your face say change of life?

A great many women suffer "change of life" after forty. They tire easily, have "nerves", sleep poorly, are hard to live with. Their eyes and face get that "change" look.

CARDUI MONTHLY CHANGE OF LIFE

Twilight Tea Will Honor Mrs. Dudley

Mrs. L. E. Dudley, who was to review Ingils Fletcher's historical novel, "Queen's Gift" this afternoon for the Thursday Review Club, will be honored at a twilight tea this evening.

Mrs. Dudley is first vice president of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs. The Junior Woman's Forum, sponsor of the Review Club, is sponsoring the event, the Forum's annual Federation Day Tea.

It will be held in the home of Mrs. Cecil McDonald, 208 Washington Blvd. from 7:30-9 p.m. Individual guests of Forum members and members of federated clubs in Big Spring will attend.

Federation Of Women's Clubs Meets

Seven clubs were represented at the Big Spring Federation of Women's Clubs meeting in the home of Mrs. Charles Tompkins, 1000 Bluebonnet.

Mrs. Obbie Bristow, Garden Club representative, reported that the club sold over 300 tickets to the flower show and pilgrimage held Sunday.

A resolution protesting the sale of certain adult literature because of obscene language or situations was passed at the district meeting in Odessa in March, Mrs. Norman Read of the 1905 Hyperion reported.

The resolution was introduced by the 1905 Hyperion Club and will be considered at the state federation meeting.

Others clubs represented at the meeting were: 1946 Hyperion Club, Mrs. Floyd Mays; 1948 Hyperion Club, Mrs. Hayes Striping; Child Study Club, Mrs. Joe Pickle; AA-LW, Nell Brown, and Junior Woman's Forum, Mrs. Tompkins.

The city federation will elect officers in May. Clubs to elect new representatives are the Modern Woman's Forum, 1948 Hyperion Club and the Junior Woman's Forum.

Mrs. Mansfield Feted At Shower

Mrs. Robert Mansfield was honored at a pink and blue shower Tuesday night in the home of Mrs. Jim Knight, 1504-A Sycamore.

Co-hostesses were Mrs. Robert Blassingame, Mrs. Bruce Winton and Mrs. Robert Hill.

The table was centered with a miniature bassinets holding a doll. Roses were also used in decorations. The gifts were presented in the bassinets. Fourteen attended.

Sleeveless Dress

So easy in the making... so beautiful to see! This sleeveless dress with a little collar borrowed from the boys. The talking point is the collarless cape closing with one button and dipping to a point in the back.

Mrs. Johnson Is Speaker At Meet

Mrs. Georgia Johnson spoke on "The Ramparts We Build," the theme for the year, at the dinner meeting of the B&PW Club Tuesday in the Settles Hotel.

Mrs. Johnson, chairman of the radio and TV committee, which had charge of the program, developed her talk from the standpoint of what each committee does in the local organization.

Spring flowers formed the centerpiece on the speaker's table and single flowers were given as favors. Attending were 21.

Demonstration On Frozen Foods Shown

Mrs. B. J. Petty gave a demonstration on a meal from the home freezer at a meeting of the Elbow Home Demonstrator Club Wednesday in her home, Route 2.

Roll call was answered with "My Most Embarrassing Moment." Mrs. Petty gave the devotion. Mrs. J. P. Cauble was a guest.

The group will have a tea and book review May 13 in the home of Mrs. Denver Yates.

Tickets Go On Sale For Concert

Tickets will soon go on sale for a concert to be given by Jimmie Lee Pitts, young Negro contralto, April 28 at 8 p.m. in the Municipal Auditorium. Miss Pitts is the daughter of Mrs. R. J. Walker, 911 NW 11th.

She is working for her Master of Arts degree at Westminster Choir College in Princeton, N. J. The Lakeview Chamber of Commerce will sponsor the concert.

Stretch Failed

Gene Woodling, New York Yankee outfielder, is tagged with emphasis by Philadelphia Athletics catcher Ray Murray in the eighth inning of the second game of a Sunday double-header at Philadelphia. Woodling attempted to make a homer out of a triple off the centerfield scoreboard. The ball was relayed from Al Clark to infielder Cass Michaels to Murray in time to nip Woodling at the plate. The A's won the second game, 3-0, after the Yanks won the first, 5-2. (AP Wirephoto).

GROSS TO COMPETE

Unbeaten Aggies To Host Triangular Track Meet

COLLEGE STATION, (Sp1) — Texas A&M's great track and field squad, undefeated in six meets this year including sweeps of the Texas and Kansas Relays, return home this week for a triangular meet with Rice and SMU before Saturday afternoon.

Col. Frank Anderson's, thinclads doubled the score on their nearest competitor at the Kansas classic last week and in Lawrence, scoring three first, four seconds, two thirds and two fourths to outpoint Kansas, 37 1/2 to 17 1/2.

Darrow Hooper, A&M's great Olympic shot put and discus star, became the first man in history to win the Kansas Relays shot and discus titles three straight years and he capped his Lawrence competition Saturday walking off with the outstanding athlete's trophy. He'll be A&M's lone entry in the Drake Relays at Des Moines Saturday while his mates battle at home against Rice and SMU. Buddy Davis, former Aggie great and Olympic high jump champion, will high jump in an exhibition at Des Moines this week.

Sharing the honors with Hooper Saturday were Malcolm Marks, Pete Mayeaux, Bobby Ragsdale, Bobby Gross, Glenn Spradlin, and the relay runners. Gross leads from Big Spring. Marks won the vault at 13-8 1/2 while Spradlin tied for second. Ragsdale became the Southwest conference's first 25-foot broad jumper when he took second with a leap of 25 feet, one-half inch. Pete Mayeaux won second in the javelin. Gross took third in the discus and fourth in the shot while Pratt won third in the shot. The Aggie relay teams won second in the 4-mile and distance medley relays and fourth in the 440-yard relay.

Hooper, who had a 55-3/4 shot put and a toss of 163-2 1/4 in the discus, will be shooting for his second double crown at the Drake Relays Saturday. Only the dual with USC last year kept the star athlete from winning his two events at all three big relays his three years in college. He now owns the double-triple crown at the Texas and Kansas Relays and is favored to win his second such crown at the Drake event this week.

He'll cap his Southwest conference career May 15 and 16 at the loop meet in Fort Worth. Col. Andy's fine crew will be heavily favored to win the school's third straight SWC title next month at Fort Worth.

Between then and now, however,

Texas Wrestling War Spreading

DALLAS (P)—The wrestling war that started in Dallas last January spreads next week to San Antonio and Corpus Christi.

Ed McLemore, Dallas promoter, said today he was opening at San Antonio Monday and Corpus Christi Tuesday in direct competition with Morris Siegel, Frank Burke and Karl Sarpolis, operators of the Texas Wrestling Agency, a booking operation in Houston.

It is retaliation against Siegel and associates for opening up a wrestling show in Dallas in competition with McLemore Jan. 6. Until then Sarpolis was associated with McLemore in the Dallas promotion as McLemore's matchmaker.

Fort Worth, which had been under the TWA banner, joined forces with McLemore March 2.

The McLemore alignment now is Dallas, Fort Worth, Wichita Falls, Tyler, San Antonio and Corpus Christi, and McLemore said he was going into Waco and Houston soon.

The TWA group, which is in the National Wrestling Alliance, which McLemore now shuns, has had wrestling at Dallas, Austin, Corpus Christi, Waco, Galveston, Beaumont, Houston, San Antonio, Baymondville and McAllen and is reportedly opening at Port Arthur Monday.

stand this week's tri meet with Rice and SMU at College Station and a triangular with Rice and Texas at Austin May 7. No action will be held May 2.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Bill Valentine, the Longhorn League's sophomore umpire, spent the winter working in the advertising department of a newspaper in his native Little Rock, Ark.

Orville Eckstine, who worked with Valentine last season, won't be seen around the wheel this year. Orville between seasons sold his contract to the Class A Western League.

Early impressions gained of the Big Spring Longhorn League team: PLAYER WITH THE MOST HUSTLE—Jess Jacinto, who is in there trying, even if the club is 17 runs behind.

HARDEST WORKER—Bill Healer, who goes through rigorous limbering up exercises even on the days he's not working.

MOST MANNERLY PLAYER—Harry Dooley, who addressed most everyone as "mister" and answers with "yes sir" and "no sir."

CLUB'S STRONG POINT—Down the middle, from catcher through the keystone combination into center field.

MOST PROMISING PLAYER—Aymie Fals, potentially a fine hurler who may get there if he learns to bear down on every pitch.

BIGGEST SURPRISE—Joe Riney's ability to play third base.

TOUGHEST MAN TO RETIRE—Jacinto, who bids fair to lead the league in walks.

MOST RELIABLE FIELDER—A tie between Al Costa and Al Valdes. Costa makes plays that other players wave at. Valdes is big league when it comes to handling pitchers.

BEST NATURED PLAYER—Pancho Perez, who refuses to take anything too seriously.

MOST SERIOUS—Quiet spoken Jerry Fetrow, who seems to lend everything deep thought and concentration.

MOST COLORFUL—Mandy Diaz, the little centerfielder with a waddle, who gives it the All-American try at bat or in the field.

When Metz LaFollette declined to report to Big Spring after being sold to the Broncs by Lubbock, Manager Bill Metz of the Hubbers started to send Ed McConnell here instead of Tom Azinger.

He had seen neither player. What influenced him into keeping Ed was his size. At 230 and 6-feet-3, he's the biggest man in the Lubbock camp.

Time will tell whether he made a mistake. Azinger seems to be coming around, could turn into quite a winner for the Steeds.

CONTROL PITCHING BEST AGAINST FERNANDEZ

Al Valdes, the Big Spring catcher, was asked recently what was the best pitch to throw to Bobby Fernandez, the ex-Steed who is now hitting the cover off the ball for Lubbock.

"Right down the middle," Al replied. "Control pitching can generally get him out. The fact that he is a bad-ball hitter is what kept him out of higher classification baseball."

A big high school boy in California is already putting the shot 60 feet with the 16-pound shot (which collegians use), at that.

He is Don Vick of Chaffey, Calif.

People out that way are expecting him to shatter all records in that event.

Do six-man footballers go on to make good in collegiate and pro circles?

Not only can but do. A good example is Ken Konz, who averaged 46.6 minutes of play per game as a halfback at LSU and who joins the Cleveland Browns this fall. Konz is from Wiemar, Texas, which fields a six-man team.

First Baseman Bill Ankovlajak paced Texarkana's 21-hit attack with two home runs and drove in six runs. John Monopol limited Wichita Falls to five hits.

Austin lost its eighth game in nine starts as three singles in the ninth inning scored a run that iced the decision for Waco.

Jodie Phipps made good on "Jodie Phipps" Night at Greenville, scattering seven hits to Paris. A crowd of 1,071 turned out to celebrate his appearance in a Greenville uniform after six years. Four runs in the first inning just about sewed up the game for Greenville.

Temple went 12 innings to nudge Tyler, 11-10, in a three-hour and 48-minute marathon. A three-run rally—highlighted by Ted Brown's two-run single—won for the Eagles after Tyler had gone ahead two runs off an error and three singles.

Joe Campbell socked two home runs for Tyler, his third and fourth in two nights.

Bolling May Be A Prize Find

NEW YORK (P)—The boys in the dugouts say Milt Bolling, Boston Red Sox rookie, looks like one of the best young shortstops to come up in years. It's much too early to rate the kid but he does make all the moves.

It didn't figure this way down at Sarasota, Fla., when the Sox reported for spring training in late February. Bolling was the No. 3 boy on the list behind Johnny Lippin and Al Richter.

At the start of the exhibition games, Manager Lou Boudreau told writers that Richter looked like his shortstop. But Bolling didn't read the papers. He forced his way into the lineup with his fine glove work and unexpected good hitting. Opening day found him winning the job.

"Richter had all the past record in his favor," said Boudreau yesterday at Yankee Stadium. "But Bolling just won the job. We don't know yet how he'll stand up. But he never quits on himself."

Earlier reports were that the band could not be on hand.

Bill Frank, general manager of the club, said the Big Spring Barbershop Quartet would also be present and sing several songs.

WEBB'S BAND AT OPENER

The Webb Air Base band will provide pre-game entertainment at the Big Spring-San Angelo contest here this evening. The musicians will be present from about 7:30 p.m. on.

Bill Frank, general manager of the club, said the Big Spring Barbershop Quartet would also be present and sing several songs.

SPEC GOLDMAN OUSTED IN NORTH-SOUTH MEET

By KEN ALYTA

PINEHURST, N. C. (P)—Frank Strafaci, the Woodhaven, N. Y., veteran, came up with a gimmick yesterday in the North and South Amateur Golf Tournament enroute to his one-up third-round victory over Frank Stranahan, defending champion.

Meanwhile, Bill Campbell of Huntington, W. Va., mpt Dick Chapman of Pinehurst and Maurice McCarthy, Muskegon, Mich., took on William Hyndman, Abingdon, Pa.

Strafaci, an 8 and 7 final victim of Stranahan last year, probably has never recorded a more satisfying victory than that of yesterday.

Stranahan missed putt of less than four feet on the 18th hole which cost him a par four to match Strafaci's and force an extra hole match.

Galletta advanced by putting out Frank Edens, Lumberton, N. C., 3 and 2 after Edens had ousted Spec Goldman, co-medalist from Dallas, Tex., 2 up. Collegian Jimmy Ferree of North Carolina was Galletta's 2 and 1 morning victim.

Bob Cochran, a 40-year-old cutie from St. Louis, was five under in two matches, taking Bill Shields, Albany, N. Y., 4 and 2, and Jim Tom Blair, Jefferson City, Mo., 7 and 6.

Gridder Undergoes Shoulder Operation

FORT WORTH (P)—Malcolm (Pug) Wallace, regular TCU offensive guard from Greenville last season, is recovering from a recent shoulder operation. The shoulder, rehurt during spring training, should be as good as new, doctors said.

John Harville, Frog right half who ended his eligibility last season, underwent a knee operation earlier. He has signed a pro contract.

Local Golfers To Sweetwater

Shirley Robbins, W. O. Maxwell Jr., Claud Ramsey and John Pipes were to leave today for Sweetwater to compete in the pro-amateur tournament to be held in conjunction with the Sweetwater Invitational Golf Tournament.

Qualifying will also be held for the tournament today. Match play continues through Sunday.

Among favorites in the tournament are Ernie Vossler, Fort Worth; and Raymond Marshall, Lubbock.

The Charley Hodges trophy will go to the foursome with the low score in today's pro-am. The championship flight in the tournament will be limited to 16 players. Two rounds of play will be completed Friday and two more on Sunday.

Cries Of Joy Echo Over Nation As More Yank Prisoners Freed

By The Associated Press
A 17-year-old bride in Texas wept up and down in joy, then broke into tears.

neighbor shouted to Papa Denoto d'Andreo: "Your boy is saved. Your boy is a prisoner released."

last March 5. The elder D'Andreo, a park department employee, said he had no plans for a party now.

had lied about his age to join the Marines and is only 17.
Mrs. Ruth Kelley of Ashland, O., is the 26-year-old wife who kept faith that her husband, Sgt. Ned M. Kelley, 23, would return.

A month ago in Korea sat watching their television set. Suddenly they saw his name flashed on the screen as a returned prisoner.

other sons recently were returned home as Korean casualties and discharged.
Neighbors crowded into the home of Mr. and Mrs. George F. Hart of Wantagh, N. Y., to join in a family celebration.

reported missing in action since March 5.
The first prisoner of war from Arizona to be released was Pfc. Ben McGhee of Phoenix. He is one of eight children in the family.

TENT CITY GOES UP Scouts Assembling Here For Round-Up

A tent city will be in operation tonight on the Boy Scout Round-Up Grounds just south of Big Spring. Approximately 1,000 Scouts from a 17-county area will inhabit the city by noon tomorrow. Nearly 90 per cent of them are scheduled to arrive tonight.

The occasion is the 27th annual Big Spring Round-Up, which is sponsored by the Buffalo Trail Council of the American Boy Scouts.

Scouts have been arriving all afternoon, although the official opening time was 4 p.m. The Round-Up will last through Saturday at 4 p.m.

Electricity and water have been connected up for the operation of the "city." And plenty of wood is on hand for cooking fires.

The Scouts are bringing all types of tents with them, and the area will be covered with shelters of various heights, widths, and colors tomorrow.

Jimmie Hale, local field executive, stated that Scouts will be given until noon Friday to get on their feet for Round-Up competitions. The skill contests start at 1:30 p.m. tomorrow.

Each troop will enter the competitive events, and all boys will participate on a patrol basis. There will be 15 events—signaling, height judging, first aid relays, fire building with matches, water boiling, fire by flint and steel, knot relay, blanket rolling, chariot race, stick relay, paper relay, antelope race, nature study, archery, and Scout law relay.

A camp fire is scheduled at 8:30 p.m. Friday, and the annual barbecue is set for Saturday noon. All meat for the barbecue has been contributed by Big Spring business men, Hale said.

Besides the 15 competitive events, Scouts will be judged on ability to properly camp. Ribbons will be awarded for each event and camping, Hale pointed out.

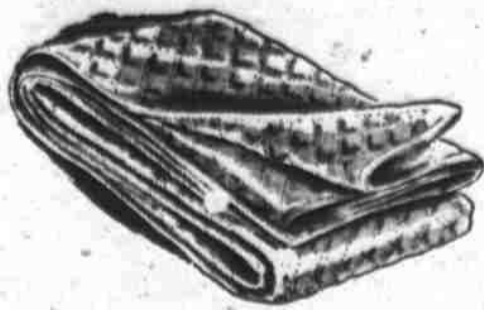

The Boy Scout professional staff, consisting of field executives from about the council, were preparing the camping grounds this morning. An exhibit of camping facilities to be used at the National Jamboree in California has been made up by the staff. "This will enable local Scouts to see just what they will take to the Jamboree," Hale said.

Nurses will be on hand at the Round-Up at all times, Hale said. The Big Spring Nurses Association has set up a schedule whereby nurses can give 24-hour service. Two nurses will be on hand from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m., and they will be on call at night.

Dentist Warns To Beware Of Readheads

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Beware of red hair, a Dallas dentist warns his colleagues.

Dr. Phillip E. Williams told a State Dental Association meeting yesterday that red-haired patients are the most difficult, because "Red heads, male or female, always feel pain, whether it is present or not. They have emotional complications others don't have. Neither blondes nor brunettes present the same problem."

May 20 Seen As Date To Bring Up Tax Bill

By CHARLES F. BARRETT
WASHINGTON (AP)—Congressional leaders were reported today to have set May 20 as a likely date for clearing to the House floor a bill to cut individual income tax rates 10 per cent starting July 1.

Meanwhile, a petition to force earlier action picked up support from two key Democrats on the House Ways and Means Committee, which handles tax legislation.

Rep. Cooper of Tennessee, senior committee Democrat, and Rep. Mills (D-Ark.) third-ranking Democrat, signed the petition to bring the total to 49, an increase of 12 in one day.

But 218 signatures are required to pop the bill out of a Rules Committee bottleneck. That group has held up the bill since the Ways and Means Committee approved it in mid-February. The measure would advance by six months an income tax cut now due Jan. 1.

Leaders who have been close to the hearing and having over timing of tax cut action said they expected other Democrats would follow Cooper and Mills and bolster support for the petition. But many sponsors of the petition predicted House leaders would agree to bring the bill to the floor before the petition would win the required 218 signatures.

Two congressmen who have played leading roles in the maneuvering, asking that they not be named, said House leaders are warming up to the bill now that appropriation cuts are more definitely in sight.

They said House Speaker Martin (R-Mass.) and Majority Leader Halleck (R-Ind.) feel sufficient savings will be lined up to justify clearing the bill about May 20.

Halleck and Martin have supported President Eisenhower's repeated stand that prospects for balancing federal spending with income must be in sight before taxes are reduced.

But Martin told reporters recently that tax cuts would appear justified if the budget for the year beginning July 1 is close to balance and a balanced budget is in sight for the year beginning July 1, 1954.

Income Shows Drop
NEW YORK (AP)—Atlantic Refining Co. reported today net income for the first three months of 1953 declined to $11,174,000 compared with $12,689,000.

Pilot Nabbed In Smuggling From Orient

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP)—State narcotics agents have arrested a Transocean Airlines pilot described as a key figure in smuggling dope from the Orient.

Agents said Roy E. MacArthur, 34, was arrested yesterday at an Oakland drive-in as he exchanged five ounces of pure heroin for $1,200. His customer was State Narcotics Inspector Vincent Chasten, who had arranged to meet MacArthur while posing as "a big-time vice lord."

Chasten said he had previously made three $250 purchases of heroin from the pilot. He said MacArthur had promised to eventually furnish him enough heroin to retail for more than two million dollars.

Arrested at MacArthur's apartment was Miss Raquel Jatica, 25, a night-club entertainer known professionally as Terry Lee.

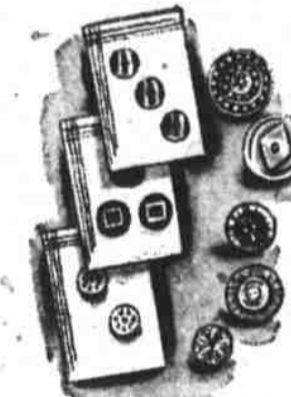

Both MacArthur and Miss Jatica were booked for possession of narcotics. He was also booked on four counts of sale of narcotics and she as an addict.

12 More Sign Bill To Get Tax Action
WASHINGTON (AP)—Twelve more House members have signed a secret petition to force House action on a bill to cut income taxes effective July 1.

The petition, requiring 218 signatures to become effective, previously had been signed by 37 members.

The 12 new signers: Representatives St. George of New York, Broyles of Virginia, Buckley of New York, Bow of Ohio, Kearny of Pennsylvania, Smith of Wisconsin and Vursell of Illinois, all Republicans; Cooper of Tennessee, Mills of Arkansas, Green of Pennsylvania and Friedel of Maryland, all Democrats.

South Korean WAC Is Freed By Reds
FREEDOM VILLAGE, Korea (AP)—A South Korean WAC was among the 50 South Korean sick and wounded prisoners freed today by the Communists—the first woman reported involved in the POW exchange.

She said she was captured in 1951 while serving with the Republic of Korea 8th Infantry Division. She added that two other members of the ROK Women's Army Corps were captured at the same time and still are in prison camps.

Public Hearing Set
WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Internal Security Subcommittee called another public hearing today in its search for Communist influences in schools and colleges.

County Ginning Took Nose Dive

Despite a near crop failure in most of West Texas, one-third of the state's 1952 cotton crop was ginned in a dozen High Plains counties, according to the final report of the Bureau of the Census.

The state ginned 3,471,185 bales, and 1,236,896 came from the 12 leading counties in the High Plains.

A few counties, mostly in irrigation areas, ginned more bales in 1952 than in 1951. Most counties, however, showed sharp decreases in ginning figures.

Howard County reported one of the sharpest decreases in the state, dropping from 25,058 bales in 1951 to 2,889 bales in 1952.

Martin County had a lesser decrease, with 17,490 bales in 1952, compared to 22,541 in 1951. Dawson County ginnings dropped from 60,098 in 1951 to 47,889 last year, while Mitchell County had a decrease from 16,024 to 2,894 bales.

Seven counties, including five on the High Plains, ginned over 100,000 bales of cotton in 1952. They included Hale, 206,542; Hockley, 162,332; Lamb, 177,070; Lubbock, 244,726; Lynn, 100,124; Reeves, 109,268; and Hidalgo, 158,073.

Some 600,000 acres of U. S. Indian lands were under oil and gas leases in 1952.

Local Dealers Report Business For Air Conditioners Picks Up

Judging from the pickup in business at local air conditioning firms, people of Big Spring are preparing early for a "cool and comfortable" summer.

Dealers here say that they have been swamped for the past two weeks on repair and checking of old air conditioning units.

They have also received quite a few inquiries as to "how much" the units cost and "what kind" are in stock. A number of the inquiries have developed into sales.

Although dealers admit no records have been broken as yet, they say the sale of new cooling systems has increased considerably during the past month.

Estimates as to the number of sales this year ranged from "average" to "exceptional." Most dealers think that more new units will be purchased by home owners than ever before, however.

Distributors pointed out that construction work in Big Spring since the last air-conditioning season has been tremendous. New homes mean new air conditioners, they say.

Also pumping units on the cooling systems will not be required by law this year as in the past. That means that as complete cooling system can be purchased at much less cost.

Last year, due to the shortage of water, each system had to have a pumping unit. This enabled the same water to be circulated over and over, cutting down on overall use. With the end of water rationing, the requirement for pumping units was done away with.

Anywhere from 65 to 75 per cent of the homes in Big Spring are now equipped with air conditioning units, dealers believe.

Through the majority of sales will be made to those homes not having cooling systems, a great many sales will be to people already owning them. Approximately 20 per cent of the people buying new units trade in their old ones, according to distributor estimates.

A good many people have been calling dealers during the past two weeks to have their old units checked. "They want to see if their conditioners will last another year," one man said.

Most of the units checked can be reworked, cleaned up, or repaired so that they will last another year, distributors say. However those that are "shot" are usually traded in for new units.

There are really just two types of cooling systems—the evaporative and the refrigerative. In Big Spring, and area the evaporative type is used mostly.

Evaporative units have blowers and fans. Dealers estimate that 90 per cent of the homes here have the blower type units, 5 per cent have fans, and 5 per cent have refrigerative type coolers.

The refrigerative type is much more expensive than an evaporative cooler. An efficient unit, the refrigerative type can furnish any temperature desired.

DANCE

A formal dance for enlisted men, cadets and their guests has been announced for Saturday, 9 p.m., in the ballroom of the Settles Hotel. It will be sponsored by the Girls' Service Organization of Big Spring. All enlisted men and cadets are invited to attend with their guests. Music will be furnished by the Skyliners. There will be no admission charge.

REVIEWS

A formal Wing review, similar to the one held April 11, will be held at Webb on the second Saturday of each month. The reviews are scheduled for an indefinite period.

Standby inspections of personnel and living quarters are slated for the third Saturday of each month. Squadrons will rotate on inspections with two slated on each inspection Saturday.

CADET CLUB

New quarters are in store for the Cadet Club. Currently plans are nearing completion to quarter the club in the southwest corner of the Cadet Dining Hall. When completed, full club facilities will be available to Webb cadets and the adjoining dining hall area can be converted into a dance floor when the occasion demands.

SUNDAY SCHOOL

School classes will open this Sunday, 11 a.m., in the Chapel Annex at Building 261. It was announced by Chaplain (Maj.) Grant E. Mann, Wing Chaplain. The classes will be held from 11 to 12 noon each Sunday. Chaplain (Lt.) Francis Jeffery will conduct the opening session.

RETESTING

Retesting in three career fields—aircraft and engine maintenance, supply and administration—has been scheduled for Webb personnel for the week of April 27. This retesting is for those airmen who could not take the original test because of emergency leave, illness or administrative error. Airmen taking these tests are seeking a higher duty level in their career fields so as to assume more responsibility and pave the way to further promotions.

PASSES

All dependents of military personnel stationed at Webb—wives and children, the latter 12 years and over—all civil service and non-appropriated fund workers will need ATC Form 125-5 type passes in order to gain "solo" admittance at the main gate. These passes can be obtained at the Air Police Building (224) during duty hours.

UNIFORMS

So free and easy on the wind-pipe. That was the pleasant experience enjoyed by Webb airmen this week when summer styles came into vogue.

Winter blues were placed in mothballs and summer khakis became the latest style with ties optional. That means most personnel yanked 'em off and sported open collar with a sign of relief.

The tie option, however, is restricted to the base during duty hours. At no time will personnel be permitted to appear in civilian public places without the tie.

PROTESTANT MISSION

"The Power of God," a series of sermons designed to make Webb AFB personnel more conscious of their religious destiny, will be presented May 10 through May 15 at the Academic Building Auditorium.

The Protestant Preaching Mission will get under way at 11 a.m. May 10 with services at the Auditorium. Big Spring church choirs will participate.

Sermons will be preached by Dr. George Aus, professor of Dogmatics at the Luther Theological Seminary, St. Paul, Minn.

Dr. Aus, one of the top Protestant preachers in the Midwest, is best known for his preaching in New York's Trinity Lutheran Church.

In the past he has conducted spiritual retreats for the three military services in the Pacific area. Civilians are invited to attend.

Air Police at the main gate will direct attending persons to the mission site.

SPORTS

Air Police remained the only undefeated team as the Squadron

Softball League swung into its third week of action. The APs fashioned a pair of triumphs last week to run their early season winning streak to three games.

Supply keglers replaced Pilot Training's Tryhards at the head of the Wednesday Bowling League last week by upending the Tryhards, 3-1, at West Texas Bowling Center.

LT. JOHN F. MCCLOSKEY

Jet Instructor Knows About Coming In On Wing, Prayer

First Lt. John F. McCloskey is another of the more than 20 instructors at Webb AFB who flew combat in Korea before being rotated to the States in order to pass on their knowledge to cadets in the flying program.

Lt. McCloskey completed 100 missions of low-altitude bombing and strafing in F-80 Shooting Stars before being returned to this country. His squadron, nicknamed the "Black Panther," was the 35th Fighter Bomber Squadron attached to the Eighth Bomb Group. The lieutenant's outfit flew the 40,000th mission against the Communists.

He received the Distinguished Flying Cross for his leadership in eliminating a dangerous enemy position. The battle took place over the "Punchbowl," a crater-shaped hill that resembles a bowl. Lt. McCloskey, who was commanding a flight of four F-80s, led his men down on a pass at the hill, from which enemy fire had pinned down United Nations troops. The entire mission was flown during adverse weather conditions.

A 100 per cent coverage of 1,000 pound bombs and withering machine-gun fire from each of the Shooting Star's six .50 caliber guns destroyed four gun positions and five bunkers. "We also blew up an ammunition cache," said Lt. McCloskey. Two of the wing men's ships were hit by ground fire, but both returned from the sortie with no difficulty.

It's no secret that more than one jet fighter has returned on a wing and a prayer as far as fuel was concerned. Here's a good example. Said McCloskey, "Just as I landed from a mission the last of my wing tank fuel gave out, and the F-80 came to a dead stop at the end of the runway. They had to tow my ship off the strip," said Lt. McCloskey.

Besides the DFC, Lt. McCloskey holds the Air Medal, Korean Theater Ribbon, United Nations Medal, Japanese Occupation Ribbon, and the Philippine Occupation Ribbon. He attended San Diego State College before going overseas.

Lt. McCloskey is the son of Mrs. John McCloskey of Dulura, California. He is a jet instructor in Section II at Webb AFB.

California Condor Birds Dying Out

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—The last of North America's greatest birds, the California condor, were reported today by a naturalist as dying out from starvation.

Lewis Wayne Walker declared their only hope of survival was in captivity or by artificial feeding in their 35,000-acre preserve in the Coast Range Mountains north of Los Angeles.

He said he had counted only 12 of the great birds, with wing spreads of 10 to 11 feet, during three months of efforts to trap a pair for the San Diego Zoo. This was a sharp decline from the 34 counted in the preserve during an artificial feeding period of observation in 1934, he said.

Condors, despite their great size, do not kill and in natural state must depend for food upon carrion left by animals of prey or hunters.

They have also received quite a few inquiries as to "how much" the units cost and "what kind" are in stock. A number of the inquiries have developed into sales.

Although dealers admit no records have been broken as yet, they say the sale of new cooling systems has increased considerably during the past month.

Also pumping units on the cooling systems will not be required by law this year as in the past. That means that as complete cooling system can be purchased at much less cost.

Riding THE GRUB LINE

With Franklin Reynolds

Sheriff Jess Slaughter had in the back of his car yesterday the bullet-punctured head of a two-year-old brown Jersey heifer shot and killed, and the carcass then abandoned about a month ago.

In the course of a cattle-stealing investigation, Slaughter became convinced that if he could find a certain witness then this witness might be able to give him some additional information. He found the witness and the man named the person who, he claimed, killed this heifer, the property of E. E. Baker of Coahoma.

The witness told the officer that the man who killed the cow in a pasture found he was unable to load the carcass into a car or truck himself and went after this witness and sought his help in hauling the beef off. The witness was afraid of the job, and now says the man who did the killing was also scared off and the meat abandoned. The witness led the sheriff to the carcass.

Slaughter and his staff are running up a good record in cattle theft cases and hardly a day passes but that there are cowmen dropping into the office to congratulate them and thank them for these efforts.

At the meeting of dairymen at the Settles Hotel Tuesday, the federal milk marketing order was described as "dictatorial" by H. B. Schauer, manager of the Borden plant at Midland.

Ransom Gallaway, dairymen and manager of the Milk Producers Farm Co-Op, had an answer for that.

"That may be true," Gallaway agreed with Schauer, "but even if it is it only gives us a choice between two dictators, the government and you. If we don't let the government dictate a price for us to receive for our milk then we have to take the price dictated by the plants."

It was also pointed out in the meeting that until the order was put into effect the dairymen had to take the plant's word for the butterfat content of his milk, the bacteria count and the weight. Now, under the terms of the order, the dairymen have access to these records, as well as the right to be represented by a technician when the milk is weighed and the tests and counts are made.

Earlier this week a group of Howard County Junior College agricultural students accompanied by Bruce Frazier Jr., their instructor, made a trip to Martin County to study irrigation farming methods there.

They visited the Mustang Draw Ranch of Bruce Frazier Sr., father of the H.C.J.C. faculty member, where an area is being cleared of mesquite to be put under irrigation farming. Here the students observed tree plows and bulldozer rakes in operation. On the trip they also observed irrigation well drilling; three recently completed irrigation wells, one of which is of 400 gallons capacity; and both flood and sprinkler systems. They also visited the Powell and Echols farms and returned to Big Spring via the Andrews Highway.

Members of the class in agricultural economics who made the trip for the purpose of studying the effect of irrigation on the agricultural economy in this area were Loren Warren and John Dameron of Big Spring; Oliver Nichols Jr., and Woody Caffey of Knott; Alfred Thieme Jr., Jimmy Knight, Clinton Jenkins, Charles DeVaney and Henry Hicks of Coahoma, and Cecil Hoggard of Minden, Louisiana.

Register of Merit points will be awarded by the American Hereford Association to winners at three additional livestock shows this year, it has been announced. The Register, started in 1927 as a means of recognizing the sire and dam of top-winning show animals, will be based on winners at nine shows during the 1953-1954 show season.

The three new shows are: The Pacific International at Portland in October; The Bluegrass Hereford Show at Lexington, Kentucky, in November; and The Ogden Livestock Show in November.

The other shows at which the points have heretofore been awarded are: The American Royal at Kansas City; The Grand National at San Francisco; The Eastern National at Timonium; The International Exposition at Chicago; The National Western Livestock Show at Denver; and The Southwestern Livestock Exposition at Fort Worth.

These new shows, says the announcement, will facilitate competition by Hereford breeders in their respective areas, and the new schedule will make it possible for breeders in virtually every section of the country to compete for

Biggest Atom Test Planned By Army

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—One of the Army's biggest maneuvers in connection with an atomic explosion will be held Saturday with 3,000 troops from all over the nation participating.

Two provisional battalion combat teams will be formed, the first from Second and Sixth Army areas, the second from Fourth and Fifth Army installations.

The teams will include men from Ft. Meade, Md.; Camp Pickett, Va.; Ft. Ord, Ft. MacArthur and the Presidio, Calif.; Ft. Bliss and Ft. Hood, Tex.; Camp Carson, Colo.; Camp Polk, La.; Ft. Sill, Okla.; Camp Chaffee, Ark.; Ft. Riley, Kan.; Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo.; and Camp Atterbury, Ind.

Reservists Are Urged To Take Summer Course

merit points without shipping their cattle any great distance.

Register of Merit points are awarded to the sire and dam of each winner placing fifth or higher in class, the champions and reserve champions in the breeding shows and steers. Bulls must have 100 points earned by five or more sons or daughters to enter the Register. Females must have 25 points on two or more sons or daughters.

Register calculations are based on 1916 and subsequent shows. The American Royal and the International were the first shows covered by the Register.

The Grub Line Rider hears there will be a 10-man jackpot calf roping match at the Monument Rodeo Association Arena, about one mile south of Monument, New Mexico, this coming Sunday afternoon at 2:30 (Mountain Standard Time). Monument is about eight miles west of Hobbs and five miles south, on the road to Eunice, the most convenient route from Big Spring probably being from here to Andrews to Eunice.

The ropers contesting are listed as Troy Fort of Lovington; Bill Bomar of Clovis; Jimmy Cooper of Monument; Tuffy Cooper of Monument; Bill Price of Lovington; Glen Young of Lovington and James Kinney of Carlsbad.

A second feature of the afternoon will be the appearance of "Old Baldy" the famous 24-year-old roping horse owned by Troy Fort. This fine old horse has won thousands upon thousands of dollars for his riders in the roping events of major rodeos throughout the country and is probably the best known of all rodeo horses yet living.

AUSTIN—Unsettled condition of international relations is being cited by Col. M. E. Jones, chief of the Texas Military District, as reason for the need for all Army reservists to participate in annual 15-day summer training programs.

Col. Jones is urging employers of reservists to assist them to take part in the training. The summer camps will be held from May to September.

In recent years reserve units have had a high percentage of attendance through the cooperation of business and industrial employers. In some instances, vacations have been granted with pay in addition to regular vacations, or employers have made up the difference between military and civilian pay while the employees were in camp, said Jones.

In the Fourth Army area 11,000 reservists will receive field training from May 31 to August 30 with the various units utilizing different 15-day periods. Thousands of combat veterans of World War II and the Korean War will take part in the mandatory training under the over-all supervision of the Chief of Army Field Forces.

Field training periods will be for 15 days including travel time. Since last year's encampment the Army has liberalized its policy regarding individual travel to and from the camp sites, when travel by unit is directed. District chiefs are now authorized to permit 25 per cent of each unit to travel as individuals. Previous policy permitted only about 10 per cent of a unit to travel individually. The new policy will permit the reservists more personal freedom in complying with the unit field training orders without hampering unit efficiency.

Four-Square 4-H Winners Are Revealed

COLLEGE STATION, (AP)—A boy from Menard and a girl from Plainview are the 1953 Texas Four-Square 4-H Club winners.

The are Frits Landers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Landers, and Yolanda Ellis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmo Ellis of Route 1, Plainview. The awards were announced today by Floyd Lynch, state 4-H Club leader.

Lynch said four-squares means the two have been excellent in school and community activities, scholastic standing, leadership in 4-H Club work and character development.

Each will receive from the Danforth Foundation, St. Louis, a scholarship to the American Youth Foundation Camp, Shelby, Mich. Miss Ellis will attend the camp Aug. 3-16 and Landers Aug. 17-30. Both have completed nine years of 4-H work. Landers won with sheep, wool, goat and mohair work. Miss Ellis won on clothing achievement work.

Dallas Man Loses His Case For Contempt Of The Legislature

AUSTIN (AP)—Louis Ferrantello of Dallas lost his last chance in Texas to stay out of jail on a contempt-of-legislature conviction. The Court of Criminal Appeals overruled his second motion for a rehearing. That's all, unless his lawyers take it to the U. S. Supreme Court. Ferrantello was fined a $3,000 and given 12 months on conviction of refusing to testify before the House's Crime Investigating Committee in June, 1951.

Sister Finds Being Twin Is Advantageous

Being a twin made moving to Big Spring two years ago easy for Mrs. Lorena Haynie, formerly of Lubbock. People mistook her for her sister, Mrs. R. E. Satterwhite, who has lived here for 22 years.

"People were so friendly at first," Mrs. Haynie recalls. "And I couldn't understand it. They found out we weren't the same person, of course, but they're still friendly."

Mrs. Haynie, who is a hostess at the Settles Hotel Coffee Shop, lives with Mr. and Mrs. Satterwhite, 1907 Johnson.

Naturally the sisters have always had trouble with people getting them mixed up. "When we were children, our mother would sometimes give the same medicine to one of us twice," Mrs. Satterwhite said.

"Another time, my sister had a boy friend with whom she didn't want to go out," she added. "So I went out with him instead and he didn't know the difference."

Both sisters are enthusiastic gardeners and Mrs. Satterwhite belongs to the Garden Club. Mrs. Haynie is a member of Big Spring Rebekah Lodge 284. They belong to the First Methodist Church and Mrs. Satterwhite is past president of W.S.C.S.

Mrs. Satterwhite's European style roast chicken with potatoes is a favorite with them, she says, because it has a different flavor.

Good Grooming Aid

Traces of impromptu making up and hair doing can be whisked away with a small but adequate pocket brush. It is so essential to good grooming yet takes up no more room than a comb and is on the market with a protective covering.

Malted Milk, Brownies Team Up For Delicious New Treat

Everybody loves brownies. Everybody loves malted milk. Team these two favorites together and what do you have? A new treat... "Malted Milk Dainties" that are so downright delicious they're bound to make a hit at first-try.

The chocolate flavor malted milk can be said to even improve old-favorite brownies. In fact, they're such a scrumptious surprise, we wonder why it took this long to discover them.

They're even easier to make than ordinary brownies. Instead of melting chocolate you just add chocolate flavored malted milk and sift it with the other dry ingredients. What's more, you use 30 percent less sugar than called for in the usual brownie recipe. And they come out just the way you like them—good and chewy.

Serve them in regular squares or finger-fashion. But if you really want to show off, cut them out big-sized, top with ice cream or fluffy whipped cream and serve them as a tempting treat. Just for a change, why not spring this surprise on the family today!

MALTED MILK DAINTIES
(Yield: About 2 dozen squares)
1 cup sifted all-purpose flour
1-3 cup shortening

Fruit Good First Course At Dinner

A combination of pineapple, pears and maraschino cherries makes an interesting appetizer for the first course at dinner.

PINEAPPLE - PEAR COCKTAIL
1 cup of crushed pineapple (No. 1 flat can)
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 tablespoon sugar
1/2 cup water
3 large pears
3 maraschino cherries

Blend pineapple, lemon juice, sugar and water and turn into refrigerator tray. Place in freezing compartment with the control set at lowest temperature. Freeze until mushy, stirring occasionally with a fork (this will take approximately an hour). Pare, core and dice chilled pears into serving dishes. Top with the frozen pineapple mixture and half a cherry. Serve at once. Serves 6.

The recipe follows a method used in Greece.

The sisters also recommend Mrs. Haynie's lettuce salad as a complement to the chicken.

EUROPEAN STYLE ROAST CHICKEN WITH POTATOES

INGREDIENTS:
2 fat chicken fryers, about 2 pounds each
6 medium size potatoes, quartered
Pepper
Salt
Oregano leaves
1/2 pound margarine

METHOD:
Place whole chicken in heavy utility pan, about 2 inches deep. Surround with potatoes and sprinkle with pepper, salt, and crushed oregano leaves. Dice a stick of margarine and put on top of the chicken. Pour a small glass of water in the pan and cook in a slow or moderate oven for 2 1/2 hours.

The chicken and potatoes may be baked about every 20 minutes with a small mop or brush dipped in 2 sticks melted margarine mixed with 1/2 cup boiling water. The recipe serves 6.

TOSSED SALAD

INGREDIENTS:
1 bunch romaine lettuce or 1/2 head lettuce
1 large avocado
2 medium tomatoes
1 cup diced celery
1-3 sweet bell pepper
6 radishes
1/2 cup wine (garlic) vinegar
1-3 cup olive oil
Oregano leaves
Salt
Pepper

METHOD:
Chop the lettuce, avocado, tomatoes, celery, bell pepper and radishes in large pieces. Add the vinegar and olive oil together with a large pinch of crushed oregano leaves. Salt and pepper to taste. Toss in a large bowl. Serves 6.

Curry Powder Gives New Food Flavor

Long a traditional spice of tropical countries, curry powder has developed into a favorite year-round seasoning in this country. The frankly aromatic flavor is a welcome change from our usual delicately-seasoned foods.

Used with either a restrained or generous hand, according to individual preference, it blends especially well with chicken. For an appetite-stimulating entree for family or guests, serve curried chicken in individual casseroles on a bed of rice encircled with an outer ring of crisp fried noodles.

Complete the menu with a tossed green salad and add a fillop of flavor and smartness to the curry by serving refreshing beer in tall pitcher glasses.

CURRIED CHICKEN (Makes 4 servings)

Ingredients:
3 tablespoons butter
3 tablespoons flour
1 teaspoon curry powder
1 cup chicken bouillon
1/2 cup rich milk
Salt and pepper
1 1/2 cups diced cooked chicken
Cooked rice
Canned fried noodles

Method:
Melt butter; blend in flour and curry powder. Gradually add chicken bouillon and milk, stirring constantly. Cook over hot water, stirring frequently, until thickened. Season to taste with salt and pepper. If more curry flavor is desired, mix additional curry powder to smooth paste with a little of the sauce before adding it to sauce in the double boiler. Add chicken and continue to cook until heated. Serve on freshly cooked rice with a garnish of canned fried noodles. If desired, accompany with pungent chutney topped with whole almonds.

Pot Roast Burgundy

With prices of beef dropping to the point where you really can enjoy a generous serving without wrecking the food budget, why not get out the Dutch oven and get some of the all-time favorite pot roast burgundy under way? Brown the beef, season, cover with burgundy wine and cook tightly covered until tender. For 4 to 5 pounds of beef it takes about 2 cups of wine, to which you may add some water if you like. Results are memorable.

Breakfast Cereals Give Variety To Meat Loaves

An artful use of breakfast cereals gives zestful flavor-variety to your meat loaves, as well as extending the servings and nutritional goodness. According to a research study by home economists, you can switch the breakfast cereal in many recipes in order to make use of different grain flavors.

When loaves using cereal flakes were tested, it was found that either corn flakes or wheat flakes make popular entrees. Also, it was found that for best results, corn flakes should be slightly crushed before measuring when used as an alternate for another cereal flake.

An important reason why many homemakers use breakfast cereals in meat loaves is their thrift. This is true; they do extend the use of meat, and this may be even more important to you, breakfast cereals extend the nutritional contribution.

SAVORY MEAT LOAF
3 cups wheat flakes, finely crushed
1 egg, beaten
1 1/2 pounds ground beef
1/2 cup finely chopped onion
4 tablespoons chopped parsley
2 tablespoons chopped green pepper
1/2 cup finely chopped celery
1/2 cup canned tomatoes
1 1/2 teaspoons salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1/2 cup milk

Combine all ingredients; mix thoroughly. Pack into a 9x5x3 inch loaf pan. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) about 1 1/2 to 1 3/4 hours. Yield: 8 to 10 servings.

A Bible Thought For Today

There is scarcely a day when we do not have such an opportunity. "As we therefore have opportunity, let us do good unto all men." — Gal. 6:10.

Even After Exchange, Mystery Of The 8,309 Other Men Remains

At the close of the second day's business of exchanging prisoners at Panmunjom, 35 Americans had come across the lines into the arms of their comrades. On succeeding days the remaining 85 involved in the delivery will be welcome, for a total of 120 Americans out of the 800 U. N. soldiers given up.

Many of those who have crossed the line to liberty have expressed puzzlement that they should have been chosen by the Reds for repatriation, when some of their buddies left behind were in much worse shape. The implication is that the Reds had deliberately picked the best specimens among the sick and wounded, as a means of covering up what the surrender of the remaining 3,078 U. S. prisoners in their hands might reveal.

The stark fact is that of the 11,507 Americans missing in Korea, only 120 are returning under the present arrangement, and only 3,078 more are to be returned if and when an exchange of all prisoners is completed.

Where are the other 8,309, as U. S. News & World Report asks?

The magazine points out that the Army accounts for 7,601 of the missing, or about eight in ten. They are listed as "whereabouts unknown." The Air Force accounts for one out of each ten missing and not officially reported as captured. Among the missing are 612 Marines, of whom none has ever been listed as among those captured. The Navy has 90 missing and unaccounted for, most of them pilots.

So while relatives, friends and neighbors rejoice at the release of 120 loved ones in the current exchange, and the more than 3,000 remaining to be repatriated under other arrangements, the fate of 8,309 others remains unexplained.

General Matthew Ridgway's tragic announcement in November, 1951, still stands unresolved: He said he had "considerable evidence to justify a presumption of death by atrocity of a large number, which may approximate 6,000."

The Reds propaganda effort to picture the prisoners surrendered to them at Panmunjom as victims of atrocious treatment in UN camps may impress the ignorant behind the Iron Curtain, but has no validity.

Where are our 8,309 missing Americans?

Wife's Foreign Policy Begins At Home -- At Least That's What Boyle Says

NEW YORK (AP)—It used to be hard to get along with a wife.

Bless the Russians, that bag all been changed—maybe.

All you have to do to get along with a wife now is to give the external evidence of listening to her.

Times have changed. It used to be after a husband returned from an evening of reckless adventures, he'd have to explain where he'd been.

That has all gone by the board—maybe.

A wife today has a different view. She inquires where the world has gone during your rest period.

I find this only slightly harder to explain than where I have been the night before. But you have to satisfy a woman's natural curiosity about politics.

The last political remark I recall Frances making was in the late 1930's when she said acutely: "What does this fellow Hitler really do—take the part of a country he wants and then throw the rest of it away?"

Now she has finally written Adolf off and got her dander up at Russia and I don't see how there is any possible compromise between them, strong as she is.

"I have read up on all this Communist business," she said. "And I think Karl Marx ought to drop dead, if he is trying to invent the flight rules."

"Marx has been dead for years."

"So good. It should happen to Trotsky."

"It has, dear. Marx is dead, Trotsky is dead and—"

"And Lenin? Is he bent?"

"He's dead, too, dear. So is Stalin. Now there was a character."

This Day In Texas

By CURTIS BISHOP

The 135 citizens of Tin Top, a town too small to be listed in such volumes as the Texas Almanac and the Handbook of Texas, staged a celebration on this day in 1950.

The occasion was the dedication of a new community center, a native stone building surrounded by playground equipment and planned to provide leisure-time activities for the entire community. Actually, however, the building itself stood for a reawakening of community life of which residents of the tiny hamlet west of Fort Worth could be justly proud.

Life had almost slipped away from the village as a result of better roads and school consolidation. Even the tin-topped cotton gin which gave the town its name had closed its doors it appeared that the settlement would soon simply disappear.

But in 1948 the few remaining residents decided not to let the town die. A $100 prize won in a magazine contest started a community fund which eventually financed the new building; residents started painting their houses and cleaning up the Johnson grass to spruce up the town. A few new businesses moved in, and two churches were established. Baylor University sent students and instructors to help organize recreational activities, and community leaders instituted monthly town meetings.

By the time of the 1950 celebration Tin Top had grown into a good place to live instead of a ghost town.

honey, Stalin started as a poor boy, studied for the priesthood, and became a real revolutionary figure, controlled the lives of more people through fear than anybody in history.

"I'm glad he's dead. What did he die of?"

"The doctors said it was a stroke."

"Well, it probably came from his father's side. I feel sorry for his mother. I hear he had three wives besides all that Communist rubbish."

"I don't know. He's kind of like his successor—Malenkov, a mystery."

"Well, you just tell him from me that anybody as overweight as he is will never get elected again."

"But, dear, he—"

"Don't dear me! Incidentally, where were you last night?"

"I guess I'll have to backtrack. I started off by saying that the new feminine interest in international problems gave a fellow a breathing space. 'Tain't so. A wife's foreign policy always begins at home—in terms of her husband."

Pact Forces Must Decide About Red 'Peace Drive'

WASHINGTON (AP)—A mild man relaxes when a belligerent man stops picking him on the head with a hammer feels so good when it stops.

This country and its Allies in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization must decide soon whether, like the mild man, they will relax their defense plans now that the Russians are talking peace.

Sincere or not, the Kremlin's sudden mildness started about mid-March, which was just far enough ahead of some important Western decisions to have a maximum softening effect, if the West could be softened:

1. The NATO Council of Ministers, representing 14 countries, was to hold its 11th meeting in its four year history to lay plans for further military buildup in case of Russian attack. The meeting began in Paris today.

2. The Republicans are anxious to keep their campaign promise to cut government spending. The biggest cuts are expected in money for defense and foreign aid.

3. The French haven't yet approved the plan to give Western Europe an army that would include Germans. The French are unhappy and doubtful about the prospect of rearming any Germans, even Germans in the same army with the French.

The NATO Council is made up of the foreign, defense and finance ministers of the 14 member countries. The U. S. sent Secretaries Dulles (state), Wilson (defense) and Humphrey (Treasury) to the Paris meeting.

NATO's secretary general, Lord Ismay, was asked by reporters last night if the Russian tactics had induced NATO to slacken defense preparations. He gave an emphatic "no."

The results of the three-day council meeting may show whether Ismay was a prophet. The talk of the ministers may be very sturdy. But it's the decisions they reach that will tell the tale.

When the council met 14 months ago in Lisbon it set a defense goal for 1952, 1953 and 1954. The 1952 goal has largely been met. Later, but before the Russian peace moves started, the Western Allies questioned whether they had overreached themselves for 1953.

Originally the defense buildup was planned to be intense and quick. Now Dulles has said the U. S. would ask its Allies to stretch out the program.

The ministers will decide whether they should go slower because of their own financial condition or (B) the Russians suddenly seem less dangerous.

Meanwhile, it was learned here this week the Eisenhower administration hoped to cut perhaps two billion dollars off the $7,600,000,000 President Truman asked Congress to approve for foreign aid in the year starting July 1.

Some Eisenhower planners think this might be done safely because there is a backlog of about 10 billions for weapons, appropriated under Truman but not yet spent or obligated.

At the same time the administration is looking for ways to reduce military spending on this country's own armed forces. President Eisenhower said he himself will make the final decision on how much the cut should be.

What he decides might mean the difference between victory and defeat if the Russians once more overreached themselves and attacked here or elsewhere.

His advisers may not have been willing to make a commitment by the emergence of a Russia which talks of wanting peace, not war. But if the Russians had been acting tougher there probably would be no cuts.

Meter Looter Gets Big Philadelphia Haul

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Police attempting to cope with the parking problem have another headache today. Somebody has a master key to 8,800 parking meters.

Detectives discovered yesterday a thief had emptied 60 of the meters of several hundred dollars.

The meter looter customarily works just one jump ahead of the regular collectors to be assured of a maximum haul, officials said.

Hearings Recused

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The U. N. Administrative Tribunal has recused until mid-July its hearings on appeals by 20 American firms fired by former Secretary General Trygve Lie for alleged Communist links. Officials said it would take members that long to study lawyers' briefs on the cases.

Man's Gotta Build A Living Room Wall

EVERETT, Wash. (AP)—Ed Stregge, a grocer, built a new home, felt a little stiff in the muscles after putting on the finishing touches, picked up a bowling ball to limber up and took a practice swing.

The ball slipped, went rocketing across the floor. Then...boom!

Stregge plans to begin work right away on a new living room wall.

Around The Rim - The Herald Staff

Diehard, Irresponsible Politicos Block Hawaii, Alaska Statehood

The opinions contained in this and other articles in this column are solely those of the writers who sign them. They are not to be interpreted as necessarily reflecting the opinions of The Herald.—Editor's Note.

Once again the matter of statehood for Hawaii and Alaska are buried deep in Congress, and from all indications it seems that nothing will be done for another session.

This matter is one of grave concern. Here, we try to expand our defenses to areas that are in no sense Americanized, but we neglect outposts as thoroughly American as Main Street, U. S. A.

A bill to admit Hawaii to the Union as our 49th state was passed by the U. S. House of Representatives. The U. S. Senate now must act, but between McCarthy's investigations and the "filibuster" over the Tidelands issue, it appears that Hawaii is out in the cold.

It'll not deny the Tidelands is a vital issue, especially to Texans. The state ownership bill should be approved inasmuch as the recent election was fought in issues which included the Tidelands and Texans voted like into office on the strength of such issues.

As for McCarthy, why bother with him. He's causing trouble. Period. In any event, McCarthy's probes and the Tidelands problem are not new as important to national defense as are Hawaii and Alaska.

This is not the first time Hawaii and Alaska have gotten the snub from the Senate. Both territories got House approval in 1950 for statehood, Hawaii also in 1947.

The Senate, then, is the stumbling block. And all because a bunch of diehard politicians, unmindful of progress or national security, desire to show their influence.

Some senators don't want Hawaii because it is normally Republican. Others don't want Alaska because it's normally Democratic. They don't relish the idea of one party gaining extra senators. But will somebody please tell those guys that when you admit both states you can solve all problems... one is normally Democratic and the other is normally Republican. Two and two does equal four.

Besides, wasn't Texas normally Democratic until recently?

And if they need any more arguments, we might remind all concerned that BOTH major party platforms advocate statehood.

Hawaii's economy is fit for statehood. It's productive and its people are energetic and hard-working. As a matter of fact, Hawaiians pay more taxes than each of 11 states at present.

Alaska, still a vast land of waste and snow, is not an economically fit for statehood, but some advocates contend that statehood would provide the incentive for rapid growth. This is true because there are no doubt many people who would settle there if they thought they could be in a "state." In any event, that territory's population has been growing rapidly and is deserving of recognition in the form of statehood.

"But perhaps the most powerful argument is the matter of defense. As part of the United States, both areas would be more capable of receiving and distributing defensive materials. As part of the overall setup in which states take part, there would be more cohesion to our planning and to our command setup.

No matter how we look at it, however, the important thing is politicians are not keeping faith with the people who elect them. This has been demonstrated more than once in this statehood issue.

Perhaps this is the reason the American people are beginning to elect personalities, not issues.

Look at some of the senators we have as a result. Like McCarthy, Jenner, et al. —FRED GREENE

Washington Calling - Marquis Childs

Matter Of Concessions Is Vital Problem In Getting Asian Peace

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y.—The distance from this international city that rises vertically in a great cube of glass and steel above New York's East River to the truce site at Panmunjom in Korea is very great. In relation to the question of peace in Asia, it is at least as far politically as it is geographically.

If peace is finally to be achieved in Asia, it will have to be evolved out of the deliberations of this unwieldy body that has suffered from so much frustration and indecision. Ending a singularly futile session, the General Assembly will recess rather than adjourn so that it may come back on short notice.

The resolution winding up the session provides that if an armistice is achieved, the president of the Assembly, Lester Pearson of Canada, can call the delegates back immediately. Even without a ceasefire the members themselves can initiate a new session to take up questions of major importance.

While the distance is short, geographically, between the U. N. on the East River and Washington on the Potomac, the two places are separated by a very great gulf, politically speaking. In fact, looking at the distance realistically one must acknowledge the possibility that it cannot be bridged.

President Eisenhower's speech to the American Society of Newspaper Editors was received here with a new kindling of hope. But second thoughts have tended to chill the first optimism among delegates who try to look with some objectivity at the conflict waged across the Iron Curtain.

The Eisenhower aim of ending the wars in Malaya and Indochina as well as in Korea raises a question as to what concessions will be made by the U. N.—with the United States taking the lead—in return for a settlement covering all of Asia.

The best-informed view is that this cannot happen without one concession that has been adamantly resisted by many Republicans and some Democrats in Congress. This is the admission of Communist China to the United Nations. Such a step would, of course, constitute formal recognition by the West as well as the East that the Communists are the sovereign power over the great land mass labeled China on the maps.

It would seem, furthermore, that the United States would cease supporting with arms and military training the National alist Chinese on Formosa with the purpose of assisting them to attack the mainland. In other words, this would mean shutting down not two or three of the civil wars in Asia but all of them. Formosa and Chiang Kai-shek would go under some form of U. N. trusteeship.

But those here who try to see the trees as well as the forest are not unmindful of the uproar raised in Washington when it was reported that Secretary of State John Foster Dulles was even considering such a solution for Formosa. They heard the cry of "appeasement" at the idea of a Korea divided not at the 38th Parallel but at the waist of the peninsula, which would give the South Korean republic a great advantage. The reaction must be measured alongside the fact that many of the delegates not only of the Arab-Asian bloc but from Western Europe recognized nations that have formally recognized the Communist government in Peking.

While the American stand on China and Formosa has hardened as a result of the flurry over what Dulles did or did not say, the possibility of a truce and even a settlement for Korea is nevertheless not ruled out here. This, it is envisioned, might come as the first phase of an Asian peace, with the larger and more difficult considerations deliberately excluded.

But that implies a willingness to move from stage to stage, settling what can first be settled and then moving on to the mountain climber moves by stages toward the last and most defiant peak. Such a willingness can be read into the Eisenhower speech. An armistice in Korea is, as the President put it, the first step.

Whether he will support such an approach is another matter. The majority leader, Senator Robert A. Taft, has already said in an interview that all the questions in Asia should be settled in "one bite." He even suggested that it might be better to have negotiations to that end before an armistice, which would surely be an odd arrangement. Holding out for the "one bite" settlement before an armistice would mean that an armistice would never be achieved.

It is quite possible, however, that the Taft suggestion represents the growing conviction of a pro-Chiang and pro-Syngman Rhee bloc of Republican senators. The report in Washington is that they will oppose any armistice unless the Communists agree to the broadest settlement. That would mean, as seen from the U. N. perspective, the indefinite prolongation of the wars in Asia.

Uncle Ray's Corner

Relates Theory About Arcturus

The man who started me thinking about a series on the Ice Ages was Mr. Robert G. MacKendrick, who has been considering the subject for many years. After reading the first of my articles, he sent another letter, and this time included a diagram, saying:

"Enclosed is a sketch which is meant to illustrate the theory which Dr. Collins of the Swarthmore College Observatory suggested to me in 1907. At that time I was a young boy, thirsting for knowledge."

The sketch shows the huge star, Arcturus, as the central object, with the solar system going around the star. According to this idea, the solar system has an orbit with a period of about 60,000 years. During a large portion of the orbit, the solar system is much farther away than during the rest of the 60,000-year period. It is suggested that an ice sheet forms while the sun and planets are far from Arcturus, but melts when it is close.

That theory may seem to have logic in it, but much has been learned about the heat of stars during the past 45 years. A present-day astronomer could hardly favor the idea. With our modern knowledge, we can say that neither Arcturus nor any closer star (not counting the sun, of course) gives us enough heat to change the temperature of the earth by a hundredth part of one degree.

Some persons class the sun as a star because they say, the true stars are "far-away suns." That is correct, in a sense. Certain stars give out hundreds of times as much light as our sun, but they are so far away that we see them as small objects.

Distance explains the tiny amount of heat which we get from the stars. Light takes only eight minutes to reach us from the sun, but it takes more than four years to come from the "close" star which we call Proxima Centauri. Bright Arcturus is about 10 times as far away — a Proxima Centauri—41 light years.

Bureaucrats Continue To Reject The Vital Functions Of Congress

The Constitution clearly vests the power of the purse in Congress. Section 7 of Article I states:

"All bills for raising revenue shall originate in the House of Representatives; but the Senate may propose or concur with amendments as on other bills."

Section 8 of Article I states:

"The Congress shall have power to lay and collect taxes, duties, imposts and excises . . ."

Section 9 of Article I states:

"No money shall be drawn from the Treasury, but in consequence of appropriations made by law . . ."

In recent years, Congress has tended to delegate the initiation of these powers to the Executive, which Congress now seems to be questioning whether it shall place a limitation upon government spending so that taxes may be cut. Great Britain, Canada, France, Italy and Israel expect to cut taxes this year, but every effort by Congress to place a ceiling on Federal expenditures encounters resistance on the part of the Executive, especially with regard to H. R. 2, introduced by Representative Frederic R. Couderc Jr.

Governor Christian A. Herter of Massachusetts said:

"Ten years spent here in Congress taught me one lesson so well, and gave me one warning so imperatively that I shall not forget either:

"The lesson was that unless Congress maintains rigid control over the spending agencies of the Federal government we may one day find ourselves facing a national crisis of the first magnitude; and the warning was that Congress has lost such control. I believe that nothing more important can be done at this session than to regain it . . ."

The position of the administration is that while its target is to balance the budget, it rejects the concept of Congress doing it. Concerning this Representative George Meader said in a committee hearing:

"But here we have a carry-over of $1 billion dollars of carry-over funds which faces us on July 1st of this year, and if we appropriate the Truman budget there will be 72 billion dollars more—in other words, 150 billion dollars, roughly—more than 150 billion dollars—which conceivably could be spent all in fiscal 1954 by the administration, if they could mechanically get rid of the money that fast."

Mr. Arthur B. Focke, legal adviser, Bureau of the Budget, replied:

" . . . Expenditures can be controlled by the Bureau of the Budget controlling obligations under the Anti-deficiency Act. That is, under the 150 (billion) dollars which Mr. Meader points out which would be available for obligation in the fiscal year 1954, if the entire Truman budget were adopted or were appropriated, it can only be obligated as the Bureau of the Budget apportions it to the agencies for obligation. By reducing the amount of it that would actually be available to the agencies for obligation, they would to some extent control the expenditures that the agencies could make."

And no matter how Mr. Focke tried to squirm out of it, his testimony stands that while he objected to the legally elected representatives of the people passing a law in accordance with the Constitution limiting government spending, he held that an appointed group of men, in the Bureau of the Budget, operating in administrative secrecy, could at their discretion do precisely what he objected to Congress doing. He actually said:

" . . . I was only trying to answer your question as to whether there was any legal limitation, and I said it was a legal limitation in the sense that if, in the discretion of the Director of the Bureau of the Budget, he places such a limitation, the agencies would legally be bound by it."

The Chairman of the committee, Clare Hoffman of Michigan, finding no logic in this proposition, could not help asking:

"Then what objection do you have to letting us do it? Is it a matter of pride, or what?"

This long hearing only proves one point: Too much of the government of the United States is still in the hands of bureaucrats who reject the functions of Congress as they do the clear stipulations of the Constitution.

Early Indians Did Lot Of Stuttering

LOS ANGELES (AP)—An anthropologist says stuttering was common among some early Indians, and he believes it was because of demands made upon the children.

Dr. Edwin M. Leamer of the University of California at Los Angeles says his research shows that every tribal language in the Pacific Northwest contained words meaning stuttering.

"The ceremonially-rich tribal culture of the Northwest demanded competitive participation of the growing child," he says. "A speech defect was a handicap that might cause a family or an entire clan to lose status in the tribe. This led to specific anxieties on the part of both parents and children."

Oral Arguments in Drivers Law Put Off

AUSTIN (AP)—Oral arguments in the first Supreme Court test of the controversial drivers financial responsibility law have been postponed to May 6.

The case was originally set for submission to the court Wednesday. It granted a review of a case from San Antonio March 18. D. C. Gillaspie challenged the law passed two years ago. The purpose of the law was to make sure auto drivers could pay for damages resulting from accidents.

Gillaspie challenged a Department of Public Safety order suspending his drivers license and auto registration.

The alleged basis of the suspension was Gillaspie's failure to deposit security for damages after his auto, driven by his minor son, collided with another car.

Winds, Lack of Rain Hit State Farms

AUSTIN (AP)—Strong dry winds and mostly rainless skies added drought woes last week for Texas farmers and ranchers.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture said the wind whipped growing crops and sapped what moisture there was from soil everywhere but in northern and northeastern counties that got showers.

Range and pasture feed was still plentiful over the eastern half of the state but moisture reserves were dwindling and new growth checked. In the west and southwest there was no improvement in ranges and pastures. There was a heavy volume of moving in yearling and spring lambs.

Cool weather held up vegetables. Hard winds hurt plants and some scattered frost was an adverse factor. The full effects of the cold last week were still not known, the USDA report through yesterday noon said.

Wheat deteriorated in most areas. North Texas was an exception. Winds were sapping moisture and even the more favored plains wheat-growing areas will need rain soon to produce a crop.

MEN IN SERVICE

JARRELL BARBEE

Rayburn J. Barbee and Raymond D. Barbee, twin sons of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Barbee of Sand Springs, have started a 16-week anti-aircraft artillerymen training course at Fort Bliss, Texas.

The two boys, both privates, were drafted into the Army on April 2. They went from here to Fort Sill, Okla., and arrived at Fort Bliss, near Temple, on April 13.

They were assigned to the Anti-aircraft Artillery Replacement Training Center at the Texas base. The course they will take includes eight weeks of basic training and eight weeks of specialized instruction.

The 20-year-old brothers graduated from Coahoma High School. Jarrell was an employe at Costen before he was inducted, and Darrell worked for the T&P at Midland.

Disabled Vets Set Regional Convention

LAMESA — Spring convention of Disabled American Veterans, Region 1, will be held here Saturday and Sunday with the Lamesa DAV Chapter to be host.

Some 150 delegates from throughout the 79-county West Texas region are expected.

Registration and other preliminaries are to be completed Saturday afternoon. First business session is slated for 8 a.m. Sunday.

Guests of honor will be Dr. and Mrs. Sam McMenamy. He is Department of Texas commander and she is commander of Region 1's auxiliary.

L. C. Kurtz, Tulsa, Region 1 commander, is to preside.

Regional officers for the next two years will be chosen during the convention, all sessions of which will be held in the Knights of Pythias Hall, Lubbock Highway.

DeWayne Davis, manager of the Lamesa Chamber of Commerce, is to deliver the principal address during the opening session. All visiting veterans will be guests at a banquet following the business meeting.

Local arrangements for the regional convention are under direction of J. W. Gist, commander of the Lamesa DAV Chapter.

Toscanini Due Back

NEW YORK (AP)—Arturo Toscanini, 88-year-old maestro, will return next fall for his 16th season as conductor of the National Broadcasting Company Symphony Orchestra, the network announced yesterday.

Bronze Star medal for meritorious service in Korea.

The announcement was released through the 3rd Infantry Division in Korea this week. The decoration was presented in recognition of Lt. White's service from Jan. 28 to Dec. 23, 1952.

Lt. White was a member of Battery B in the 30th Field Artillery Battalion of the 3rd Infantry Division before being rotated to the United States in January, 1953.

The division with which he was connected, participated in the battles of White Horse, Jackson Heights and Kelly Hill.
