Highest 4-H honors

4-H youths recognized at achievement banquet

Youth who excel in 4-H programs and adults who help them along the way were recognized Sunday at the annual achievement banquet.

Claiming the top youth awards at the event were Cady Auckerman and Amanda Sims, who received the highest 4-H honor, the Gold Star.

I Dare You awards, presented to "emerging leaders" in the youth program went to Joanna Brumley and Cindy Harder.

Three adults were acknowledged for their support of the 4-H program. Scott Keeling and Johnny Trotter were presented Friend of 4-H plaques and Loretta Urbanczyk received a special adult award.

Record book judges chose Cady Auckerman and Karon Harder in a tie for the senior honor. Intermediate record book winner was Jaime Steiert and the junior winner was Betsy Weaver.

Special recognition also was accorded youth who entered record book judging for the first time. Rookie honors in the junior division went to Eddie Trotter and Dawn Auckerman. Intermediate rookie was Amber Brumley and senior rookie was Amanda Sims.

Gold Star recipient Cady Auckerman has been involved in the 4-H program for eight years, completing projects in public speaking, fashion and clothing, breads, sheep, entomology, consumer, family life, home management and environment, meat judging, photography, health and citizenship.

Her experience in entomology has led her into a summer employment opportunity in an experimental lab and may direct her to a possible career as an environmental lawyer.

Auckerman is a member of the building and leadership team in high school this year.

The 4-H program, said the student, has "provided the opportunity to choose my path, equipped me to travel smoothly along it and given me the courage to do down the path."

She is the 16-year-old daughter of Rick and Georgia Auckerman and is a Hereford High School junior.

The second Gold Star winner has been involved in 4-H for three years and worked in several project areas, including clothing and textiles, food and nutrition, consumer decision making, public speaking, family life and housing and home environment.

Sims capped a year in the summer when she won the state 4-H fashion show and was an alternate from this district to the state food show.

The daughter of Aubrey Sims, she said, "Without a doubt, being enrolled in 4-H is the best thing that has ever happened to me." The Gold Star winner is a 16-year-old junior at HHS.

Commissioners' Court got the news that expenditures during the last year were $58,976 more than budgeted.

But the good news from the auditor is that the over-spending apparently will be covered when the year's total revenues are finally calculated.

Schroeter said the spending budget was projected in the beginning to be about $36,000 more than revenue.

However, higher tax collections of approximately $30,000, as well as $59,000 more than expected from fines and fees and a higher payment from the state for housing prisoners are expected to leave the county in the black for the year.

Adjustments to the budget are required by law. Action by commissioners Monday morning brings the county into compliance with state laws.

Adjustments presented by Schroeter showed under-spending in some items by a total of $56,445.

In other business, a report on health and life insurance for county employees for the next year was accepted.

Cost of the medical plan, said Rick Holder, will be "the same as last year." The county's plan is self-insured to a limit of $20,000 in claims per employee. Claims from an insured member of the plan that exceed $20,000 are covered by an insurance company. Holder's firm will handle claims submitted by county employees and their families.

Vesta Mae Nunley, Deaf Smith County treasurer, said the county will contribute $71,838 to the self-insurance fund and in premiums.

Commissioners' Court will postpone the next regularly scheduled meeting from Oct. 10 to Oct. 17. County offices will be closed on Oct. 10 for the Columbus Day holiday.

Bids for fuel for the county for the next year will be opened on Oct. 17, commissioners decided in authorizing advertising for the bids.

Construction funding plan offered by panel

By PEGGY FIKAC
Associated Press Writer
AUSTIN (AP) - A special Senate committee has approved a plan to fund public school construction, but the proposal is being called inadequate by a lawyer for poor school districts.

The recommendation by the Senate Interim Committee on Public School Facilities would cost an estimated $261 million over the next two-year budget period.

It would fund the debt service on about $2 billion in new construction debt, said Sen. Teel Bivins, R-Amarillo, head of the Senate Interim Committee on Public School Facilities.

After a report is finalized, the recommendation will go to Lt. Gov. Bob Bullock, who presides over the full Senate. The Legislature meets in regular session in January.

Al Kauffman, a lawyer for property-poor school districts that 10 years ago sued in state court over education financing, said there are positive aspects to Monday's proposal but that it doesn't go far enough.

"There's certainly too little funding in it to solve the problem or even to address the problem thoroughly," Kauffman said. Bivins said he believed the proposal "would cover all of the pent-up need that we've heard people talk about, and I believe is a conservative estimate in terms of our ability to pay."

Kauffman said some estimates show about $3 billion a year is spent on construction, renovation and debt service in school districts. About $500 million a year of that currently comes from the state, he said.

Senators said they believe the $3 billion estimate is too high. Under the proposal, state funding for construction would be based on a school district's wealth and tax rate, as is state maintenance-and-operations funding.

The need for building or renovating school facilities would be made at the local level by school districts and their voters.

That means if approved locally, state funds for school construction could be spent on football stadiums instead of classrooms. But Bivins stressed that most school construction is instruction-related.

Kauffman said it's good that state money would be allocated based on school district wealth.

Representatives of urban and rural school districts also expressed concern about parts of the proposal, while nevertheless calling it a significant step.

The Senate committee was formed after State District Judge F. Scott McCown of Austin last year ordered lawmakers to come up with a way to equitably fund school construction by Sept. 1, 1995.

If lawmakers fail, McCown said he will stop issuance of new school bonds.

McCown's ruling came in the long-running lawsuit property-poor school districts seeking equal financial footing with wealthier ones. The school funding system relies on state aid and local property taxes.

HEDC holds first official meeting

In their first official meeting, directors of the Hereford Economic Development Corporation Monday set a regular meeting day, elected a secretary-treasurer and asked the interim executive director to prepare a budget draft.

Hereford Mayor Bob Josseland administered the oath of office to Shirley Garrison, Cliff Skiles, Jerry Stevens and Rosendo Gonzalez. Not present was Don Graham.

Garrison is president of the corporation and Skiles in vice president, both appointed by the mayor for the first year, in accordance with bylaws of the corporation. The board elected Graham to serve as secretary-treasurer during the first year.

Regular meetings of the board will be held at City Hall on the first Wednesday of each month at 4:30 p.m., directors decided. They set the next regular meeting for Oct. 5.

Mike Hatley, serving as interim executive director, was asked to prepare a draft of a budget for the corporation. The board will work as a committee of the whole on the first budget.

The economic development corporation will be funded by a half-cent sales tax, approved by city voters in August. Collection of the tax will begin Jan. 1, but the first payment from the state will not be received until March.

In the meantime, Josseland told the board, the city will assist with funding needs for projects that arise.

Hatley, assistant city manager, has been placed on loan to the corporation on an interim basis.

Mouthwash bottle found in field may be nation's oldest

By GARRY WESNER
Managing Editor

When Peggy Oakes' son-in-law discovered an old mouthwash bottle in a cattle pasture, little did he know that the bottle might just be worth $1,000 to the family.

But that is the case with the old Listerine bottle, thanks to a contest sponsored by Listerine maker Warner-Lambert Co., which is looking for the oldest Listerine bottle around.

Listerine was first produced in 1879 and was sold in a glass bottle. The contest is headed up by the National Bottle Museum and the winning entry will be donated to the Smithsonian Institution.

Mrs. Oakes' involvement in the contest came about thanks to the bottle found by Steve Vigil as he checked cattle in a pasture north of town.

She said Vigil noticed a glare off a piece of glass in the pasture and decided to pick it up so the reflection wouldn't start a range fire.

When he went to the glass, he discovered it was a small clear glass Listerine bottle, still intact.

Vigil took the bottle home and his wife, Teresa, cleaned it up and used it as a flower vase until family members learned of the contest.

Mrs. Oakes said she did not know how old the bottle is, and that antique books in the public library here do not have any listings for Listerine bottles made by Lambert Pharmaceutical Company, which is imprinted on the front of the bottle.

She said all listings in the books she has seen indicate the makers of the mouthwash was Warner-Lambert Co.

The bottle has a number "2" on the bottom and has a narrow neck that at one time would have been plugged up with a cork.

Mrs. Oakes said her mother, who is in her 90s, said her father carried a similar bottle with him during influenza and cholera outbreaks of the 1910s in the Nazareth area.

She said her grandfather would take a swig from the bottle before going into the home of a victim of the diseases, then take another drink after leaving. He never contracted either sickness.

The bottle contest ends on Friday, after which time a researcher with the National Bottle Museum, located 20 miles north of Albany, N.Y., will examine photographs of all the entrants to determine the oldest bottle in the country.

Local Roundup

Fall weather continues

Mild temperatures are continuing in Hereford with a 90-degree reading recorded Monday. Overnight low was 51 degrees. More of the same is on tap Tuesday night with a low of about 50 and light and variable winds. Wednesday's high should reach into the mid-80s and wind will be light, 5-10 mph, from the southeast.

School board to meet

The regular September meeting of the Hereford Independent School District board of trustees will be held at 6 p.m. Tuesday, Sept. 27, in the school board room, 601 N. 25 Mile Avenue. Among the agenda items slated for discussion are: bids on Shirley School construction and a school van; action on a language development program, TTAS appraisers and a high school final exam waiver; and discussion of SPS/Energas reports and a report from the school resources officer. An executive session is scheduled for discussion of sale of property and personnel matters. The meeting is open to the public.

Richards touts ad with 'good news'

Governor denounces opponent's 'gloom and doom'

By The Associated Press
Democratic Gov. Ann Richards says her latest television commercial is something that's overdue in this year's campaign: good news.

"All we get from my opponent is doom and gloom - misrepresentations and distortions - about what is going on in Texas," Richards said Monday.

In announcing her ad touting Texas' "comeback," Richards said some of the positive news is that personal income is up 30 percent since 1990, housing starts are up 100 percent, consumer spending is up 22 percent and a record 7.7 million Texans are working.

The ad also notes that state government ended the most recent budget year with a $2.2 billion surplus.

"The Texas economy is currently the envy of the nation. Since 1990, we have led the nation in job growth. Our school students are doing better and we are attacking the problem of crime. There are almost twice as many criminals behind bars today as there were the day I took office," Richards said.

Not surprisingly, Bush's campaign saw things differently and said the governor's comments and commercial left out some key ingredients.

Bush spokesman Reggie Bashur said violent juvenile crime has risen while Richards has been in office and that the governor permitted early release of convicted felons, something the Republican pledges to stop.

"Texas unemployment is higher than the national average. Jobs are not being created fast enough to meet the needs of Texans. And long-term economic growth depends on an end to junk and frivolous lawsuits, a reform she does not support," Bashur said.

The Bush spokesman also said Richards is trying to gloss over her record.

"Gov. Richards has a failed record in office. Her feel-good ads may fit nicely into the Hollywood TV production rooms, but they do not reflect the daily lives of Texans," Bashur said.

In other developments Monday: - Republican candidate Don Wittig began airing two radio ads in his campaign to oust Democratic Attorney General Dan Morales.

One ad accuses Morales of signing a deal with prison inmates that "sets thousands of criminals free every year," opening loopholes for killers to avoid the death penalty, voting as a lawmaker to give early parole to drug dealers and against requiring parolees to get a drug test and a job, and of not doing his job in collecting child support.

Morales campaign director Mary Elizabeth Jackson said Wittig, a Houston district judge, is misrepresenting the Democrat's record. Morales "has a strong anti-crime record and ... is the choice of the law enforcement community and the people most affected by the criminal justice system," she said.

The second ad calls Wittig a "decorated Marine Corps officer who volunteered for Vietnam" and "the only choice for attorney general who's put felony criminals behind bars." Wittig was a military prosecutor.

Mrs. Jackson said, "I think when the public reviews this, they are going to recognize that Dan Morales is the person who has been able to get the job done, and the person who has been actively working in our criminal justice system and for the children of Texas, while Don Wittig has not been involved in policy-setting positions."

- Republican land commissioner candidate Marta Greytak won endorsements from the Farm Bureau and the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers' Association. Association president Tom Beard of Alpine said, "With her background in ranching, she believes in limited government and strong protection for private property rights."

- Steven Overton, the Libertarian nominee for Congress in District 24, threw his support to Republican candidate Ed Harrison, who is running against incumbent Democrat Martin Frost.

Vocational student named

First Vocational Student of the Six Weeks at Hereford High School was announced at the Monday meeting of Hereford Rotary Club. Club President Johnnie Turrentine, second from left, presents a certificate to Melinda Leal, who is enrolled in the Health Occupations program. Looking on are her instructor, Martha Paetzold, left, and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jose Leal, who were guests for the meeting. The recognition will continue through the year with students receiving certificates at Rotary meetings.

Lubbock residents must decide between new arena, higher taxes

LUBBOCK, Texas (AP) - People pushing for a new arena in Lubbock talk about tourism and business possibilities if the $39 million facility gets built.

Opponents don't like the idea of new taxes.

Voters will decide Jan. 21 whether to replace the 40-year-old Lubbock Municipal Coliseum, which has no air conditioning, with a new facility for basketball games, concerts and other events.

A three-eighths-cent sales tax would be put in place to pay for it. Months of speculation ended last week when City Council members chose a vacant lot north of the Civic Center as the place to build the arena.

Council members considered the location a good shot for attracting new businesses and reviving downtown.

"That particular site is really prime," said Glenn Johnson of the Lubbock Hotel-Motel Association.

Councilman T.J. Patterson dissented on the 7-1 vote Thursday. He wanted the arena built at the South Plains fairground.

But Patterson promised to help win approval in January.

"We will unify our efforts to pass this son of a gun," he said.

A public hearing drew dozens of citizens - some speaking out against a tax increase, others arguing that a 13,000-seat arena could boost regional prestige for Lubbock.

"Our ability to improve our (city) has a direct impact on our ability to attract new companies and to stimulate existing businesses," said Joe McKay, vice chairman of the Chamber of Commerce.

Talk of building a new arena gained momentum with Texas Tech's planned membership in the Big 12 Conference. Supporters envision a facility with sky boxes and a floor big enough for ice hockey.

Bob Bockrath, Texas Tech athletic director, urged even more seats.

"We should build the facility for the next 50 years, and for that reason, it should seat 15,000 people," Bockrath said.

YVONNE MEIWES

Sept. 24, 1994

Catherine Yvonne Meiwes, 18, of Muleshoe, died Saturday in a highway accident in Castro County.

Services were held at 6 p.m. Monday in St. Anthony's Catholic Church of Hereford with Msgr. Orville R. Blum officiating. Burial was in St. Anthony's Cemetery, by Rix Funeral Directors.

Born in Hereford, Miss Meiwes was a senior honor student at Springlake-Earth High School. She was band drum major and took part on the debate team and calculator competition.

She traveled to Europe as a National Honors Band member last summer and accumulated national symbols which were placed on her European walking stick. Miss Meiwes also traveled to Denver, Colo., in 1993 for World Youth Day, with the opportunity to see Pope John Paul II. She was a member of St. Anthony's Catholic Church and active in the youth organization.

Survivors are her parents, Steve and Jane Meiwes; two brothers, Keith Meiwes and Cody Meiwes; a sister, Crystal Meiwes, all of Muleshoe, and her grandparents, Steve and Pat Meiwes of Hereford and Richard and JoAnn Ellis of Hereford.

The family has suggested that memorials be directed to the Yvonne Meiwes Scholarship Fund, in care of Rix Funeral Directors, 105 Greenwood.

Group seeks poster child

As part of the observance of National Epilepsy Month, High Plains Epilepsy is sponsoring an area poster child contest.

Any child between the ages of 10 and 14 who has epilepsy and lives in the Texas Panhandle is eligible to enter.

A winner will be selected at a banquet to be held in Amarillo.

The winner will be selected by a panel of judges who will base their decision on the child's participation in school and extra-curricular activities and the ability to meet people and discuss epilepsy.

The purpose of the contest is to demonstrate that most children with epilepsy, with proper treatment and counseling, can live normal lives.

The winner will represent the High Plains Epilepsy Association at various functions throughout the year.

The winner and one parent will travel to Austin to see the State Capitol.

For an application, call High Plains Epilepsy Association at 372-3891. All applications must be completed by Oct. 10. The contest will be held Oct. 15.

High Plains Epilepsy is supported by the United Way of Deaf Smith County.

Ann Landers

Group to entertain at "Taste of the Southwest"

"Texas Country" will be performing during the annual "Taste of the Southwest" planned from 7-9 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 1, at the Hereford Community Center. Appearing will be (back row from left) Eddie Gallagher, Weldon Stephan, Kristi Lytal, Billy Lytal, Raul Guerrero, (front row) Paul Guerrero and Natalie Simms. The fundraiser, which is sponsored by the Deaf Smith County Unit of the American Cancer Society, is open to the public and will feature a variety of foods from local businesses and a silent auction. Donations will be accepted the door.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am 41. For 20 years, I worked as a bank teller and never had a problem. Two years ago, the bank began hiring its first male tellers. Twice a week, I worked alone with "Bob" until the drive-in window closed.

Bob was nice, good-looking, neat and a pleasure to work with. The teller area is small, and we got to know each other pretty well. Before long, he told me that his marriage was miserable and he had no feelings for his wife.

The next night, after closing, Bob suddenly embraced me, said I was the most exciting woman he had ever met and promised to divorce his wife if I would let him make love to me. Even though I had a good husband and two lovely children, I gave in.

Our affair went on for several months, and Bob said it was the happiest time of his life. We agreed that we would divorce our mates and get married.

I asked my husband for a divorce. He was stunned but said, "All right, if that's what you want." When I asked Bob if he had talked to his wife, he said, "I'm afraid you've taken this fling too seriously." Within weeks, Bob got another job and left the bank without so much as a goodbye. I was in shock and heartsick. I begged my husband to forgive me, and thank God he did.

I'm not asking for advice, Ann. I just want businesses to know what can happen when they create situations where men and women work closely together in isolation.--naive in Missouri

DEAR MISSOURI: Don't blame "businesses." It was your failure to conduct yourself in a mature and responsible manner that caused the mess.

Temptation is often the test of what we are made of. Sorry your lesson was such a painful one, but consider yourself lucky you have a forgiving husband.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Will you please help me deal with a problem that is causing me a lot of pain?

An old high school friend recently died after a five-year battle with cancer. She was only 26. We had been close pals in high school, but she married at 17, and I went to college and moved away. We did not stay in touch much after that and just drifted apart.

Grill meat and poultry to the "doneness" stage. Cook red meat to 160 degrees F. and poultry to 180 degrees F. Check for "doneness" by using a thermometer.

When I heard "Pearl" had died, I sent a sympathy card to her sister as well as one to her parents and her husband. Her sister returned my card with a note saying, "Where were you for the past five years? No calls or visits. Did you really care about Pearl?"

Her comments hurt me terribly. I don't know how or if I should respond. My sister, who also sent a sympathy card, had hers returned, too, with the same nasty message scribbled across the bottom.

I feel guilty and horrible and don't know what to do about it. How can I put this behind me? Should I respond? If so, what should I say?--Mortified in Memphis

DEAR MEMPHIS: Don't judge Pearl's sister too harshly. She has suffered a tremendous loss and needs to be forgiven for her inappropriate behavior.

On the other hand, I see no reason for you to feel "guilty and horrible." Friends often drift apart when one moves to another city.

Pointers for parents

Is your child making strides towards physical fitness? It is thought that children who are active and fit when they are young are more likely to be active, fit and healthy as adults.

Fortunately, experts agree, you don't need an expensive gym, or a structured training regimen to help your child get in shape. Youngsters can get fit just by doing everyday activities, games and even chores, alone or with family or friends.

That's the word from The Prudential Fitnessgram, a health related physical fitness conditioning, assessment and reporting system for school children, grades K through 12 introduced in 1982 by The Cooper Institute for Aerobics Research in Dallas, Texas. The Prudential Fitnessgram focuses on health-related fitness and encourages the development of self-motivated, lifelong fitness habits in children, regardless of natural athletic ability. This tracking and testing program is currently used by more than four million children in over 3,000 schools.

As part of the program The Prudential Fitnessgram recommends activities like these that children can work into their everyday routines:

-Around The House-Practice throwing and catching and shooting baskets. Encourage them to walk or play with the family pet. Have your children help clean the house or wash the car. Let them carry the laundry upstairs.

-In the neighborhood-Encourage your child to ride his or her bike to a friend's house or the store.

-In the Community-If your child is interested, sign him or her up for a community recreation activity program such as soccer, baseball, basketball, dance or swimming. Where no structured leagues exist, encourage your child to play sports or create active games with family and friends. Visit a local zoo or museum and walk the exhibits.

-At the Playground-Encourage kids to participate in active, rather than passive activities. Good choices are roller blading, hopscotch, frisbee, bicycling, tag and climbing on playground equipment.

Walt Disney's "Mickey Mouse" made his movie debut in 1928.

Extension News

"Many consumers believe chocolate causes food allergies," said Jeremy Drelich, M.D., who presented the study findings at the recent American Academy of Allergy and Immunology (AAAI) annual meeting. "But as with other food ingredients, the true prevalence of allergy to chocolate is much smaller than is commonly believed."

True food allergy affects less than 2 percent of all adults. Surveys show that about one out of every three Americans believe they have a food allergy. True food allergy in comparison to other adverse reactions to foods or food components involves the body's immune system.

Most common food allergens include milk, eggs, fish, shellfish such as shrimp or oysters, soy, peanuts and tree nuts. Allergic reactions to any food can occur. Only a few food additives have been associated with adverse reactions. Since these reactions do not involve the immune system, they are referred to as food intolerance or food sensitivities instead of food allergies.

Food allergy symptoms vary among individuals beginning within minutes to a few hours after eating the offending food. Symptoms may include swelling or itching of the lips, mouth and/or throat, nausea, vomiting, cramping, diarrhea, sneezing, runny nose, hives and eczema.

Check with your physician if you believe you have a food allergy. Then a proper diagnosis can be made.

For the treatment of a food allergy, removal of the offending food is the only proven therapy. Elimination diets must be based on the individual's ability to tolerate the offending food, the need to avoid malnutrition and other factors.

Herd tennis team wins showdown with Canyon

Forehand

Hereford's Natalie McWhorter returns a shot during her singles match Saturday at Whiteface Courts. Hereford won a key team match against Canyon Saturday.

The Hereford tennis team defeated Canyon 11-7 Saturday in Hereford, moving the Herd a step closer to earning a berth in the regional tennis tournament.

Hereford still has to beat Pampa, Dumas and Caprock, but Hereford coach Ed Coplen saw Canyon as the biggest obstacle left in District 1-4A play. Borger has already beaten Hereford, but if Hereford wins out and Borger beats Canyon in the last week of the season, Hereford will go to the Region 1-4A Tennis Tournament as the district's runner-up.

"It all comes down to Borger beating Canyon," Coplen said. "If it comes to a three-way tie, I don't know what they do."

Coplen said that just because Borger beat Hereford and Hereford beat Canyon, it doesn't mean Borger will automatically beat Canyon.

"Canyon's boys are just as strong as Borger's," Coplen said. "Their girls aren't as strong; I don't know if they'd win a girls' match off of Borger. But they could win most of the boys' matches."

Coplen praised the Hereford team's doubles play against Canyon.

"That's what won the match for us: we won five of six in doubles," Coplen said. "Annie Hoffman and Jennifer Jones came out and played the best they have all year, and they won. That was a critical match. Rob

Reinauer and Pete Vargas won, and that's the first match those Canyon boys have lost all year, so that was another critical match.

HERD II, CANYON 7

Boys' singles: Matt Williams (Canyon) def. Tom Jarecki, 6-0, 6-4; B.J. Lockmiller (Hereford) def. Eric Marable, 6-4, 6-2; Cliff Martin (C) def. Rob Reinauer, 7-5, 6-3; Pete Vargas (H) def. Casey Reed, 6-3, 7-5; Toya McLeod (C) def. Tyler Merrick, 6-3, 6-4; and Zeb Read (C) def. Andrew Carr, 6-4, 7-5.

Boys' doubles: Reinauer/Vargas (H) def. Read/Martin, 6-2, 6-0; Williams/Marable (C) def. Jarecki/Lockmiller, 7-5, 2-6, 6-3; and Merrick/Carr (H) def. Davenport/McLeod, 6-3, 1-6, 6-2.

Girls' singles: Natalie McWhorter (H) def. Katie Canon, 6-1, 2-6, 6-3; Paige Robbins (H) def. Candi White, 6-3, 6-1; Holly Weishaar (H) def. Leslie Artho, 6-4, 7-6(7-4); Vanessa Gerkan (C) def. Taylor Sublett, 6-1, 6-3; Erika Vaquera (C) def. Nicole McWhorter, 6-4, 6-1; and Annie Hoffman (H) def. Laurie Garner, 6-3, 6-2.

Girls' doubles: McWhorter/Robbins (H) def. Canon/Artho, 6-3, 6-1; Weishaar/Sublett (H) def. White/Parks, 6-3, 7-5; and Hoffman/Jennifer Jones (H) def. Garner/Gerkan, 6-3, 6-2.

Girls' golf team wins in Pampa

The Hereford High School golf teams continued fall play with the girls winning a triangular match Saturday at Hidden Hills Golf Course in Pampa.

Hereford totaled 392, far better than Canyon's 486 or Palo Duro's 548. Jami Bell led Hereford by shooting 92, and she was backed up by Kristin Calkins at 94, Karen Manchec at 99, and Jana Baird and Jacque Bezner, both at 107.

Hereford's boys finished second in a triangular at Borger. Hereford's 324 was behind Borger's 316 but better than Canyon's 345. Scott Burkhalter led Hereford with a round of 77. He was followed by David Sims at 80; Tom Munoz at 82; and Justin Griffith and Keith Riley, both at 85.

Spikers run over River Road

The Lady Whitefaces volleyball team took a break from the District 1-4A schedule Saturday and routed River Road, 15-2, 15-3, in Whiteface Gym.

"We had an exceptionally good day behind the service line," Hereford coach Brenda Reeh said. "We had 12 aces from the service line; that's nearly a game's worth of points right there."

Most of those aces came in the second game, which started and ended with aces by Hereford's Jessica Evers. Between those, Clarissa Ramirez served three aces in a row, and Brittney Binder and Heather Hodges each added one.

River Road scored the first point of the first game immediately, but didn't score again until Hereford had nine points. A run of eight points in a row by Hereford came on two kills each by Tarabeth Holmes and Danielle Cornelius and four errors by the Wildcats.

River Road didn't play as well Saturday as it has at other times this year, Reeh said. In pool play at an earlier tournament, Reeh said, River Road split with both Dumas and Granbury, a playoff opponent of Hereford's the last two years.

"I didn't feel like River Road's offense ever got going," Reeh said. "We were never pushed as far as our digging was concerned. Our passes were on target and we were able to run quite a bit of offense."

Hereford improved to 3-0 in district and 18-4 overall. The Herd returns to district play today, as Canyon (1-3, 5-11) comes to Whiteface Gym. The junior varsity match starts at 6 p.m., with the varsity playing about 20 minutes after the JV match finishes.

Ya dig?

Hereford's Deanna McCracken gets a dig—meaning she played the other team's hard-hit attack so that her team could control it. Hereford beat River Road 15-2, 15-3 Saturday in Hereford.

Cross country teams' results from Amarillo meet unknown

The Hereford cross country team had some good performances at a meet Saturday in Amarillo. Coach Martha Emerson would just like to know how good they were.

Due to what Emerson speculated was a computer foul-up, complete results for the meet were not available. It is unknown in which place the Hereford teams finished, but they weren't in the top five. Emerson had times for her individual runners, but she had places for only a few of them.

"I thought we ran pretty well," Emerson said. "Three boys finished well (24th-26th place). The top four varsity girls ran pretty well; I just wish we could knock a little more time off.

Boys' varsity: 24th, Lee Mungia, 18:37 (three-mile course); 25th, Tommy Misher, 18:38; 26th, Ines Lopez, 18:41; Pedro Del Hoyo, 19:16; Miguel Carrillo, 19:22; and Sammy Ruiz, 20:22.

Girls' varsity: 27th, Jamie Harrison, 14:05 (two miles); Michelle Garza, 14:26; Teresa Lopez, 14:32; Nora Herrera, 14:33; Marie Crox, 15:16; and Karon Harder, 15:22.

Boys' junior varsity: Brandon Cole, 19:37; 15th, Miguel Huerta, 19:52; Flavio Cardenas, 20:51; Adolfo San Miguel, 20:56; Rafael Del Hoyo, 21:06; Justin Criner, 21:29; Ignacio Garcia, 22:34; Justin McDowell, 23:15; and Edgar Herrera, 23:23.

Girls' JV: 32nd, Bethany Townsend, 15:22; Beverly Celaya, 15:30; Priscilla Alonzo, 16:05; Anna Witkowski, 16:22; Ana Torres, 16:37; and Michelle Ochoa, 17:33.

Inman captures football contest

Thomas Inman won this week's Hereford Brand Football Contest by missing only three of the 25 games. He'll pick up $25 in Hereford Bucks.

Raymond Lueb and Mike Cook, of Amarillo, both missed four games, but Lueb picked Frenship as the winner in the tie-breaker, and Cook didn't. Lueb will receive $15 in Hereford Bucks, while Cook will get $10.

Bills stop Elway's 4th quarter comeback try

By JIMMY GOLEN
AP Sports Writer
ORCHARD PARK, N.Y. (AP) - The Denver Broncos used to win these games, remember? John Elway would move his team downfield with the clock ticking away, and one chance at the end zone would usually be enough. Not this year. For the third time in four games, the Broncos had a chance to win a game in the final minutes but Elway couldn't deliver. On Monday night, the ball slipped out of his hand - again - and the Buffalo Bills held on for a 27-20 victory. "A quarterback's not Superman," Denver running back Glyn Milburn said. "He's not going to see everybody open every time. He's got people flying around. It's a tough thing." Elway may not be Superman, but they used to share a phone booth. By the Broncos' count, he has engineered 32 game-saving, fourth-quarter drives in his career. But the only one in the last two years was a three-play, 11-yard drive with more than 10 minutes left against Kansas City last year. And the three times he has been called upon to repeat the heroics this season, he hasn't. -Against the Jets, Denver had a chance to take the lead late in the game but had to settle for a field goal. The Broncos lost in overtime 25-22. -Against the Chargers, Elway led the two-minute offense to the San Diego 3. He rolled out and went to throw, but the ball slipped out of his hands and was picked out of the air by Junior Seau. Final score: San Diego 37, Denver 34. -And now, against Buffalo, the ball slipped out of Elway's hands on a fourth-and-2 with 21 seconds and sailed high over Cedric Tillman's hands and through the end zone. Bills quarterback Jim Kelly said he was having the same problem on the rainy night. "It slipped out of my hands probably seven times," he said. "It's one of those things where you really have to concentrate on the grip and the follow-through."

Thurman Thomas ran for two touchdowns in the last two minutes of the first half and Carwell Gardner added another after Thomas hurt his knee. The Bills took advantage of two turnovers that bridged the halftime break to score 21 points in 3 minutes, 36 seconds. Elway, who had an interception returned for a touchdown in each of Denver's first three games, threw one that Washington returned 27 yards to the Denver 25. Four plays later, after Thomas injured his knee carrying the ball to the 3, Gardner crashed into the end zone and it was 24-7. Coach Marv Levy said Thomas' injury "doesn't appear to be real serious." Elway finished 26 of 45 for 280 yards with a touchdown.

Oilers unable to celebrate victory

By MICHAEL A. LUTZ
AP Sports Writer
HOUSTON (AP) - The Houston Oilers should have been able to laugh. But it hurt too much. Cody Carlson showed up for Monday's team meetings with a reddened nose that was broken in the third quarter of Sunday's pedestrian 20-13 victory over Cincinnati. Gary Brown, the team's leading rusher, hopped in on crutches because of a twisted ankle that may keep him sidelined this week and punt returner Travis Hannah hobbled in with a brace on his sprained knee.

Even with all the injuries, the Oilers (1-3) were relieved to get that first victory. "We started like the Mighty Ducks and finished like the Bad News Bears. We barely pulled this one out," linebacker Michael Barrow said. However, the victory over the Bengals (0-4) was not a confidence builder. Carlson returned to the lineup after missing two games with a second-degree shoulder separation. He produced enough offense for a victory, but he was so rusty the fans were booing in the second half. He got an "A" for bravery from his teammates, but it will take more efficiency to beat Pittsburgh on Monday night. "Cody played his butt off with a broken nose and everything, but it's not enough to go out and beat quality teams," wide receiver Webster Slaughter said. "We have to do something to make our play better offensively."

The Oilers were 1-4 last year when they beat New England to start an 11-game winning streak. "When we lost those games last year, we were a lot better than we are right now," Slaughter said. Carlson's nose was too swollen Monday to reset the bone. He'll have that done Tuesday, the team's day off, and expects to be back for practice on Wednesday. "Offensively, we played better except for the quarterback position," Carlson said. "I hope the guys don't look at this game and say we're just not talented. We did some things better. I just didn't perform well."

Defensively, the Oilers have been hit hard by injuries in the secondary, the team's most talented area. Defensive coordinator Jeff Fisher was forced to recruit wide receiver Reggie Brown as a nickel back in the final two minutes Sunday because the team was down to just four defensive backs. Starting safety Bubba McDowell is out six weeks after knee surgery, and Steve Jackson and Bo Orlando also are out with injuries. Mike Davis was ejected Sunday because of a late hit. Fisher first talked to backup quarterback Bucky Richardson about filling a defensive back spot, and "Bucky's eyes got this big," Fisher said. Fisher finally decided on Brown, who played defensive back earlier in his career. "I explained it and Reggie was confident," Fisher said. "I just wanted him to go out and play that third deep spot."

There should have been a celebration for the Oilers' first victory of the season. But there was gloom over the way the Oilers had to struggle to beat a team that is 0-4. "Our performance as a team was embarrassing," Ray Childress said. "If we'd lost this game, we couldn't have gone to our cars until dark." They didn't look like winners either.

HS rankings don't change much

By JAIME ARON
AP Sports Writer
DALLAS (AP) - If you noticed that most teams ranked in The Associated Press poll last weekend were winners, then it will come as little surprise that the latest rankings have few changes. Only four new teams entered the five classes in the poll released Monday and, of those, Houston Cypress Creek made the highest debut at No. 9 in Class 5A. They came in just ahead of fellow newcomer Arlington Lamar. Bay City, seeking its fifth-straight playoff appearance, joins the Class 4A rankings for the first time this season at No. 10 and Roscoe is the new No. 10 in 1A. Some of the ranked teams in Classes 3A and 2A moved around a bit, but all 10 teams remained in the poll. This is the third-straight week that all five No. 1 teams have remained intact. They are Aldine MacArthur in 5A, Stephenville in 4A, Cuero in 3A, Schulenburg in 2A and Thorndale in 1A. MacArthur is the most solid No. 1 of the group. The Generals, who were runners-up in 5A Division I last year, received 31 of 33 first-place votes in the polling of statewide sports writers and broadcasters. Abilene Cooper picked up the other two top votes and held on to No. 2. The Cougars are followed by Austin Westlake, Deer Park and two-time defending Division I champ Converse Judson. A pack of Dallas-area schools follows with Mesquite at No. 6, Plano East jumping up three spots to No. 7 and Grapevine at No. 8. Falling out of the 5A rankings were Irving Nimitz, which lost 33-14 to Arlington, and Spring Westfield, which lost 13-7 to Humble. Although Stephenville is the only defending champion among the five top-ranked teams, the Yellowjackets are the ones being pursued the closest. Stephenville was ranked first by 23 voters, second-ranked Waxahachie got three first-place votes and No. 3 La Marque, which has shut out its last three opponents, received four first-place votes. Fourth-ranked Sulphur Springs, which beat then-No. 9 Highland Park 24-14 to knock the Scots out of the poll, got two top votes and No. 5 Gregory-Portland had one. Rounding out the 4A poll are No. 6 Corpus Christi Calallen, No. 7 Sherman, No. 8 Austin Reagan, which fell from sixth following a 14-14 tie with New Braunfels Canyon, and No. 9 Lamar Consolidated. Last week's newcomers shifted around this week with Ballinger moving to No. 8 from No. 10, Columbus going up one spot to No. 9 and Marlin falling a spot to No. 10.

OFFICIAL ENTRY BLANK

Teams are numbered in ads; check games and mark box number of team selected as winner. Use official entry blank (no copies of the official form will be accepted). Entries must be deposited at Brand office before 5 p.m. Friday. All mail entries must be post-marked no later than Thursday or received later than Thursday. Only one entry is allowed per person. All entrants must be at least 8 years of age to be eligible. Prize winners residing in Deaf Smith County MUST appear IN PERSON prior to the next week's contest to claim award. Prizes not claimed within 5 working days become null and void. Entrants outside the county can appear in person or enclose a self-addressed envelope with entry. Be sure to guess total score in the tie-breaker game. Members of the Brand staff or their families are not eligible. Decision of the judges is final.

La Madre Mia Study Club plans annual Tour of Homes

The Annual Tour of Homes was discussed by La Madre Mia Study Club when the group met Thursday evening with Tricia Sims serving as hostess and Betty Lady assisting.

The tour, which is sponsored by the club, is scheduled Dec. 4 and will showcase outstanding local homes, according to Mary Herring. Proceeds will be used to assist the community.

Roll call was answered with the "latest and oldest" beauty tips revealed.

President Glenda Marcum presided over the meeting.

Merle Clark presented the program telling about her surprise 25th anniversary trip that her husband, Wendell, had arranged for them. She shopped, packed and flew to Los Angeles, Calif. without knowing ahead of time where she and her husband were going. They stayed in the Beverly Wilshire Hotel in a poolside room and she spent an entire day at the Jose Eber Salon getting a complete makeover and massage. The next day the couple's good friends, Pat and Susan Robbins, flew out to join the celebration.

Refreshment were served to: Ruth Black, Cindy Cassels, Merle Clark, Linda Cumpton, Kay Hall, Mary Herring, Betty Lady, Barbara Manning, Glenda Marcum, Gladys Merritt, Lavon Nieman, Nancy Paetzold, Lucy Rogers, Tricia Sims, Georgia Sparks, Betty Taylor, Marline Watson, Nicky Walser and Mary Beth White.

Committee reports heard by LAE Club members

Various committee reports were heard by members of the La Afflatus Estudio Club during a recent meeting at "Something Special." Aileen Montgomery served as hostess.

President Louise Streun called the meeting to order and the club collect was led by Marie Harris. Secretary Virginia Curtsinger read the minutes of the previous meeting which were approved. She also gave the financial report.

Roll call was answered by a quip or quotation.

Virginia Beasley announced that the program speaker had to cancel and that the remainder of the time would be spent visiting.

Refreshments were served to: Annie DeLozier, Alberta Higgins, Pet Ott, Della Stagner, Mary Williamson, Streun, Curtsinger, Harris, Montgomery and Beasley.

Winners of contests named

The Hereford Toastmasters Club met Thursday morning at the Ranch House for the local Evaluations Contest and the Humorous Speech Contest. The area contests will be held in October in Hereford.

Chris Leonard won the Evaluations Contest. He competed against Dave Kimmel, Ed Gilbert and Mike Harris. Pat Varner won the Humorous

Speech Contest with her speech, "The Transplant of Yankees." Ralph Barndt also competed with his speech, "Male Bonding Symposium."

Joe Don Cummings was the target speaker. His speech was entitled "For Your Ears Only." Toastmaster was Joe Weaver; chief judge, Rick Jackson; and timer, Dee Hamilton.

Adolfo Del Toro was welcomed as a guest.

To Your Good Health

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: Please explain Graves' disease. Is it life-threatening? How debilitating is it? My daughter, 33, has it, and is on medicine to slow the gland. Her doctor now gives her a choice of removing the gland surgically or taking a nuclear pill. I know that seeing your explanation in print will help her make up her mind. Thanks. — Mrs. L.C.

ANSWER: Graves' disease — exophthalmic goiter — is an overactive thyroid gland. The gland is over-producing its hormone, thus revving up body processes. Weight loss follows, along with nervousness, disruption of menstrual periods and other signs. The heart speeds up, too, even at rest. In time, the body weakens.

Perhaps the most physically evident consequence of Graves is a swollen neck over the thyroid, which lies imbedded in front, at the base of the throat. The constant gland overactivity causes its enlargement. Protruding eyes are another common sign.

Your daughter falls into the common Graves' age group. The problem usually affects women in their 30s or 40s.

The disease won't pose an immediate threat to life, but rather a gradual wearing down of the body from the constant thyroid hormone overproduction. Still, you have to treat that. Uncorrected, Graves can be quite disabling.

Your daughter's present medicine is standard for an overactive gland. The radioactive medicine her doctor suggests is a modern way to put a permanent damper on the gland.

Such words as "radioactive" and "nuclear" excite shivers of fear. I know, but the process involved is quite safe. The idea is to deliver the radioactivity to the gland to reduce the number of its cells. Just view it as an alternative to surgery.

For more information, see the thyroid report I'm sending you. Others can order it by writing: Dr. Donohue — No. 32, Box 5539, Riverton, NJ 08077-5539. Enclose $3 and a self-addressed, stamped (52 cents) No. 10 envelope.

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: This is my third request. I have been checking daily. Here it is again. If a person has high blood pressure and has been on Capoten for six years, what would the side effects be if it was increased from 25 milligrams per day to 100 milligrams per day? I have been experiencing a swollen face, hands, feet, arms and legs. This started with the increase. — W.J.M.

ANSWER: Your increased dose is still well within the recommendations for daily Capoten — captopril — dosage. It sometimes is as high as 150 milligrams.

Now, the message here, and I dearly hope it is one that everyone out there takes to heart, is that any unexpected and undesired effect of a medicine or an altered dosage of it simply must be reported. It's important for doctor and patient to reassess things.

What you describe should not happen, but it does in some patients.

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: I have a big problem. My wife eats ice day and night. I can't get much sleep with her chewing it. Can you tell me what I can do for her? — T.H.

ANSWER: That has to be somewhat disconcerting for you. I think you can chalk it up as another case of pica (PIE-kuh), an abnormal desire to eat nonfood substances.

Pica can involve any of a long list of substances not usually parts of a diet, including ice. Common pica substances include clay and starch.

Sometimes pica appears out of the blue during pregnancy. Young children also can exhibit the symptoms, to the dismay of parents. Sometimes, pica occurs as a sign of iron-deficiency anemia.

If your wife has not had a checkup recently, perhaps she should. Otherwise, the only answer lies in getting her to try to wean herself off the habit.

Former Hereford teacher is nominated for honor

Helen Reed, a former Hereford teacher and now the adapted physical education coordinator for the Lewisville schools, has been nominated for a state "Teacher of the Year" award.

Reed has been the adapted P.E. teacher for the Lewisville ISD the past nine years. She initiated the inclusion of students with disabilities in Lewisville physical education programs in 1985 and full inclusion was attained in 1993.

The special award for which she has been nominated is the "Adapted Physical Education Teacher of the Year." A committee from the Texas Association for Health, Physical Education, Recreation and Dance will make the final selection from teachers nominated across the state.

Reed has been in the teaching profession for 24 years—three in New Mexico and 21 in Texas. She was a coach, P.E. and resource teacher in Hereford ISD for 11 years. She is starting her 10th year at Lewisville.

When she assumed her position at Lewisville, there were 21 schools and she served 15 of them. Today her area of responsibility consists of not only Lewisville but also the Colony, Flower Mound and Highland Village.

On her nomination form, submitted by a teacher from another school, Reed was cited for "believing that all children, regardless of their abilities or disabilities, are entitled to and should receive the services which will help them achieve their maximum potential and enable them to lead satisfying, productive lives...she looks at her students' abilities and not their disabilities."

Part of her responsibility as an adapted P.E. teacher is to modify the programs to deal with the blind, deaf, autistic, Downs Syndrome, mentally retarded, brain-damaged and cerebral palsy-affected children.

Reed provides consultation to classroom and P.E. teachers, helping them learn how to modify for students with special needs as they participate as much as possible with typical peers in regular P.E. classes. She also works in the community through the American Red Cross, Muscular Dystrophy Association, Special Olympics, and the American Heart Association.

Ethel Zimmerman, who adopted the stage name of Ethel Merman, never trained as a singer but her high-volume style made her an instant success in her debut performance singing "I Got Rhythm" in the Broadway musical "Girl Crazy."

Prayer to The Holy Spirit
Oh Holy Spirit! Thou who art all knowing, who brightens every path that I may reach my ideal. Thou who giveth me the divine gift of forgetting and forgiving wrongs done unto me and who in every instant of life art with me. I'd like in this short dialogue to affirm my gratitude for all my blessings and reaffirm once again that I never want to part again from Thee. Though the illusion of material things abound--my desire is to be with Thee and all my loved ones in perpetual grace. Thank You for Your mercy on me and my loved ones.
Persons should pray three consecutive days without revealing petition. Within three days grace will be attained regardless of how difficult the petition may be. Publish this prayer once grace has been attained.
Grateful for Grace attained.

Dear Readers: Do you know how to help your children be healthy, physically and mentally? It's not something they inherit; instead, it comes from making the right choices and following good habits.
Children should be taught from an early age how to eat properly, exercise regularly, get enough sleep and take care of personal hygiene. They also should be taught how to talk about their feelings, value themselves and know they are special.

All of these topics and more are included in the "Helping Your Child Be Healthy and Fit" booklet. To order, send your request along with 50 cents and your name and complete address to: Consumer Information Center, Dept. H-371A, Pueblo CO 81009. Please allow three to five weeks for delivery.

Help your children along to the brightest of futures by teaching them how to be fit, in both mind and body!

WEDDING PETALS
Dear Heloise: While photographing weddings over the years, we have seen too many brides and grooms pounded by bird seed or rice thrown much too hard by well-intentioned wedding guests. On one occasion, in particular, bird seed lodged under the contact lenses of the groom — what pain and what a shame!
Therefore, when our daughter was married last year, we wanted to turn this time-honored tradition into a more pleasant remembrance. We collected and dried various colored roses, peonies and other flowers from the yards of the bride and groom's grandmothers, relatives and friends. We then gathered the dried petals in 9-inch circles of netting and tied them with tiny satin bows.
Not only was it safer, but each petal was special. It carried thoughts and good wishes from some people who were very special to the bride and groom. — Janice Miller, Front Royal, Va.

ANOTHER SUCCESSFUL BUSINESS STORY

“Everybody Already Knows My Store And What I Carry.”

Sound Familiar?

Advertising is news about the marketplace, if you don't advertise, you're telling consumers there's no news from your store. But your competition is fighting for the public's interest with regular ads; if you want to keep your share of the market, you need to be in the same arena, bidding for the business. You need to advertise in the newspaper. Plus, people move out of the area and new people move in. Advertise to bring new customers into the store. Sell your store and your service through newspaper advertising.

NOT CONVINCED?

Newspaper advertising is unlike any other media choice. You're reaching a friendly, receptive audience with your advertising message. So receptive that they pay to have the paper delivered to their home. No wonder consumers consider newspapers the most believable advertising medium.

Newspaper advertising can help your business. It can increase sales and in a competitive market, it can give your business and edge over the other guy.

Don't tempt fate. Join the many successful businesses who know what works for them and what doesn't. Advertise in the newspaper and get results.

Honors announced at banquet

4-H AWARDS

younger youth. She also earned public speaking contest first place this year.

She has been involved in a number of project areas, including swine, beef awareness, horse judging, meat judging clothing and photography. The 14-year-old daughter of Mike and Janice Brumley, she is pointing to a career in agricultural economics. She is a sophomore at HHS.

Cindy Harder, a first year senior 4-Her, was a winner in the district fashion show and has shared her knowledge with younger 4-Hers. She has judged fashion shows in adjoining counties.

The daughter of Norman and Sherry Harder, she is 15 years old and a freshman at HHS. She is developing a spirit of entrepreneurship with her own fashion business. She also has participated in food and bread projects.

The Friend of 4-H recognition to Scott Keeling acknowledges his time in teaching young persons about one of Hereford's valued industries. He has offered a hands-on enrichment project on feedyard management, supported a veterinarian project and sponsored hamburger feeds for 4-Hers.

Johnny Trotter has been active in beef, shooting sports and horse projects, sharing his knowledge with youngsters. He has provided facilities for the horse project to gain a foothold. Because of his financing support, the shooting sports project has offered incentives for youth to excel. He also has welcomed youth to study and learn feedyard management practices.

Special recognition accorded Loretta Urbanczyk is a tribute to her service as treasurer for the 4-H Parents' Association since 1987 and her many other contributions through the years. She has been a club leader, project leader and a judge at district level.

The special award to Urbanczyk was presented by Stan Metcalf. Friend of 4-H awards were announced by Shirley Carlson.

Announcing I Dare You awards were Moriah Olson and Cady Auckerman. Presenting the plaques was Dr. Martha Couch of Amarillo, extension director for consumer and family science for District 1.

Deaf Smith County Commissioner Lupe Chavez of Precinct 2 presented Gold Stars. Announcing winners were Karon Harder and Kinann Campbell.

Rookie and record book awards were presented by Vance Christie and Beverly Harder, extension agents, and Justin McBride, retired agent.

Emcee for the event was Karon Harder, president of 4-H council.
