Toddler dies in trailer fire

A trailer fire apparently started by a cigarette lighter claimed the life of a 2-year-old Hereford girl Thursday afternoon.

"We really don't know what happened," said Fire Marshal Jay Spain of the incident in which Nicole Miller died.

The house was located one-half mile east of U.S. 60 on County Road 8.

"We think the 2-year-old was playing with a cigarette lighter ... and set either the bed clothing or stuffed animals (on fire)."

The girl's mother, 35-year-old Helen Miller, and her siblings, Frank, 3, and Jamie, 5, were also in the house when the fire started.

The victim's father, Henry Miller, and another man rushed to the house and fought the fire with a garden hose, then began searching the building for Nicole, Spain said.

The other family members were able to get out of the burning building, although all suffered injuries -- primarily smoke inhalation -- in the blaze.

The unidentified witness located the child in a closet of the room.

Spain said people at the scene attempted CPR, but Nicole was already dead.

Firefighters were not called out until 4:43 p.m., Spain said. "We feel like the fire probably happened about 4:15 to 4:20 p.m."

He said family members were likely "doing a frantic search for the little girl" after having extinguished the blaze themselves.

The other two children and Mrs. Miller were rushed to Hereford Regional Medical Center by ambulance.

Mrs. Miller was admitted and treated overnight, but was discharged Friday morning.

"Besides the smoke inhalation, she was in very deep shock when we loaded her in the ambulance," Spain said of Mrs. Miller.

One of the children was airlifted to Northwest Texas Hospital in Amarillo Thursday night, while the other one was transported by ambulance to the same hospital later Thursday.

They were listed in serious condition Friday morning.

Spain said the child died of apparent smoke inhalation, while the injured family members also suffered smoke inhalation.

Damage to the trailer was restricted to the child's bedroom where it began, although the entire structure sustained smoke damage.

The body was sent to Lubbock for autopsy.

Funeral arrangements are pending with Rix Funeral Directors of Hereford.

Practicing parents

Parents of Hereford High School band students got a taste of what it is like for their children on Thursday when the band hosted Parents Night, which included brief training on marching techniques. Here, parents hold imaginary instruments while marching, stepping in time and turning. Other parents took batons in hand and twirled with their daughters or shoot imaginary pom-poms with their drill team daughters. After the parents tried their hand, the band showed them how it is all done.

Voters to cast ballots Saturday on economic development tax

Saturday is election day in Hereford, with voters deciding if an additional half-cent sales tax will be dedicated to economic development in the community.

Early voting for the special election ended Tuesday with 737 people having cast ballots. Voting will be held from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. Saturday in the west end of Hereford Community Center. Registered voters residing in the city limits are eligible to cast ballots.

Many community leaders have termed the outcome of the election as being vital to the city's future. A mayor's task force recommended the tax as a way to attract new business and expand existing ones, and to slow the rise of property taxes by expanding the tax base.

Members of the People Promoting Progress committee conducted an educational and advertising campaign to urge voters to adopt the proposal. Shirley Garrison and Jeff Carlile were co-chairmen of the task force, which was composed of a good cross-section of city residents.

While little public opposition was expressed on the issue, Mayor Bob Josseland urged citizens "not to let this opportunity slip away" and be sure to vote in the special election. He termed it the "fairest way to finance economic development because everyone shares in the program."

If voters approve the issue, the mayor would appoint five board members to an Economic Development Corporation, with city commission approval, to guide the program. The board, using state law on how the funds could be spent, would administer the program, but the city commission would have final say on how the funds are used.

Figures from the state comptroller's office indicate the half-percent sales tax here would generate about $325,000 a year. The comptroller also estimated that a family making $10,000 a year would pay about 40 cents a week in additional sales tax. A $25,000-income family would pay about 77 cents a week, and a $35,000 income family would pay about 98 cents a week.

If voters approve the tax, merchants would start collecting the new rate on Jan. 1, 1995. The first rebate to the city would be received around March 10, 1995. The economic sales tax could be rescinded in the future if 10 percent of registered voters in the city submit a petition for an election and voters approve abolishment of the tax.

With the Town & Country Jubilee activities being staged in Dameron

Park, voters are reminded that reserved parking will be available on the west side of the community center on Ave. C. Those attending Jubilee activities in Dameron Park also have the opportunity to walk across the street and cast their votes.

While voters are not required to have their voter registration cards with them to cast a ballot, election officials point out that it speeds up the process.

Texas delegation takes part in defeating crime package

WASHINGTON (AP) - Texas lawmakers say they won't have any difficulty explaining to constituents why they blocked House consideration of a $33 billion crime-fighting package.

On a 225-210 vote Thursday, the House thwarted debate on the massive six-year crime bill - an action that House Judiciary Committee Chairman Jack Brooks predicted would kill the measure for this year.

Twenty of Texas' 30 members joined an unlikely coalition of gun-control opponents, Republicans and black lawmakers in opposing consideration of the bill.

Eleven of the 58 Democrats breaking with their party on the issue were Texans.

Brooks, D-Beaumont, said the assault-style firearms ban, which he vehemently opposed inserting in the crime conference report, was a "big rock in the road."

Opponents urged defeat of the procedural rule allowing debate so that the bill could be sent back to House and Senate negotiators to strip out the weapons ban and make other changes.

Invitation causes stir over gambling

AUSTIN (AP) - GOP gubernatorial candidate George W. Bush's campaign says a casino investor's invitation to Gov. Ann Richards' birthday fund-raiser next month raises new questions about the investor's influence with the governor.

Dallas businessman Daniel P. Robinowitz, who has given Richards' re-election campaign $107,000, is listed with other top Richards backers as "patrons" for the event.

A portion of the invitation to the Sept. 9 gala, the "Lone Star All-Star Birthday Celebration," was obtained by The Associated Press.

The governor turns 61 on Sept. 1. A 60th birthday party and fund-raiser last year generated about $2 million for her re-election campaign.

Richards spokesman Chuck McDonald said Thursday that Robinowitz was invited and featured as a patron only because he is among those who've given at least $10,000 to the Democrat's campaign.

"He has given more money than anyone else. So there is no way that we could not list Mr. Robinowitz as a patron of the Ann Richards birthday party," McDonald said.

"There will be no more money raised from Mr. Robinowitz. If you make a sizeable donation, you're invited to all the big parties," he said.

Bush's campaign said this raises further questions about ties between Robinowitz and the governor, since the 1995 Legislature is expected to face a major push to legalize casino gambling.

Bush spokeswoman Karen Hughes noted that Richards aides earlier said the governor only had met Robinowitz at public receptions with others present, not privately.

"Is the governor now inviting total strangers to her birthday party as well as accepting huge special-interest contributions from them?" Ms. Hughes asked.

"Why would someone who has never known you, who's never been to your birthday until now, give you $100,000?" she asked. "The public will have questions about that."

Getting ready for school

Lisa Huffaker, parent of two Nazarene Christian Academy students, uses a steam cleaner to put the final touches on a third grade classroom at the private school on Thursday. With the first day of school just over a week away, schools all over town are getting their final cleaning, as teachers begin putting up decorations and arranging desks after the summer holiday.

Parade to kick off daylong Jubilee Junction activities

The big parade and Jubilee Junction head up a full slate of activities Saturday as Hereford's annual Town & Country Jubilee moves toward final activities Sunday.

Several events are on the Jubilee program today and tonight, then the Greg Black Memorial Races launch a full slate of events Saturday at 8 a.m. The big Jubilee Parade forms at the high school parking lot at 9 a.m.; judging starts at 9:30, and the parade gets underway at 10:30, going to Park Avenue, west to Main Street, south downtown to First National Bank, and east before concluding at Hereford State Bank.

Jubilee Junction, at Dameron Park, starts immediately after the parade with more than 50 booths offering a variety of food and games for the entire family. A full slate of musical entertainment will be staged from 11:30 to 5 p.m. in the park.

The Jubilee Junction includes a Petting Zoo, Pet Parade, a kids' games section, horseshoes, washer pitching, volleyball, and live entertainment on the stage.

Saturday's activities also include the Jubilee Softball Classic, the Jubilee of Arts, a Quilt Show, class reunions, and a Jubilee Street Dance. The softball tourney and class reunions wind up events on Sunday.

St. Anthony's Jubilee Dance will feature Randy Huston and the New West Wild Band beginning at 8:30 p.m. Saturday on the St. Anthony parking lot. Admission is $5 a person.

A Twilight Sidewalk Sale will be conducted by many merchants until 10 p.m. this evening; the Hereford Riders Club will hold a Jackpot Buckle Roping starting at 7 p.m.; the Jubilee of Arts opens at the Community Center from noon to 6 p.m. today, and the softball tourney and

Local Roundup

Scout project at Jubilee

Hereford Boy Scout D.J. Warrick will be at Jubilee Junction on Saturday, not to enjoy the food and games, but to provide a community service as part of an Eagle Scout project. Warrick will be at Dameron Park throughout the day, fingerprinting and photographing children as part of a child identification project. He is a member of Scout Troop 52.

HJH orientation set

Orientation has been scheduled for children who will attend seventh and eighth grade this year at Hereford Junior High. The session will be at 6:30 p.m. on Tuesday, Aug. 16. Students are asked to bring their parents to pick up their schedules and meet their academic team teachers and tour the building. Those who cannot attend with their parents may pick up schedules beginning Wednesday, Aug. 17, through Friday, Aug. 19, from 8:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. Fines need to be paid as well and new students may register before Aug. 16 at the office.

Partly cloudy skies greet Jubilee

This weekend's Town and Country Jubilee will not only feature games, a parade and lots of other activities, it also will have partly cloudy skies and a high in the lower 90s with south winds at 10-20 mph, according to the National Weather Service. On Thursday, Hereford recorded a high of 88 degrees, with an overnight low Friday of 64 degrees. For tonight, expect mostly clear skies with a low in the mid-60s and south winds at 10-15 mph.

News Digest

World/Nation

WASHINGTON - Democrats portrayed it as a detention-plus-prevention, take-it-or-leave-it, now-or-never, multibillion-dollar crime bill, but that was before they lost what amounted to a sharp rebuke to President Clinton. Now it is morning-after, cooler heads' time. For four years, Congress has struggled to address the issue Americans say most concerns them. Neither Democrats nor Republicans can relish going to the voters in 88 days to explain why they can't address that issue.

WASHINGTON - A growing bloc of Senate moderates is demanding changes in Senate Majority Leader George Mitchell's health bill even as House leaders are forced to postpone their action on reform a week or more.

GENEVA - U.S. negotiators face a decisive day of talks today in the bid to prevent North Korea from extracting atomic bomb-making plutonium from thousands of spent nuclear fuel rods.

ANCHORAGE, Alaska - A jury awarded $286.8 million to 10,000 Alaska fishermen for their losses from the 1989 Exxon Valdez oil spill - less than one-third the amount they had sought.

The federal jury rejected plaintiffs' claims that the spill cost them $418 million in 1990 and 1991 from depressed salmon prices.

Memories of high school

Band parent Lloyd Ames was among those participating in the HHS band's Parents Night on Thursday. Here he marks time as part of the adult group, which delighted the real band members as moms and dads tried to march, hold imaginary instruments and stay in line, all at the same time.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

We have an opportunity on Saturday to put the Hustle back in "hustlin' Hereford. We need to vote YES on the sales tax referendum.

We must have funds to achieve economic development in our city and this may be our last opportunity to do so. I urge citizens to vote "Yes."

Dear Editor:

I have read some nasty letters to the editor and seen some nasty articles in your paper, but none have upset me as much as the picture of the two little boys showing the black poodle in the paper.

I grew up in Hereford and have been through the prejudices of race and other scorn. I do not need to see a picture of two white boys showing a little black poodle by the name of "Niggie" to let me know there are still underdesires of discrimination in Hereford.

I live in Hereford and would not want to live anywhere else. If that is the only type of news your reporters can find for the Town & Country Jubilee, then I would hope Hereford would stop having the jubilee.

Sincerely yours,
Jim Scott Jr.

Energy costs push consumer prices up

WASHINGTON (AP) - Consumer prices rose 0.3 percent in July - the same as in June - primarily because higher gasoline costs pushed energy prices into their steepest climb in 10 months, the government said today.

The Labor Department said its Consumer Price Index increased for the sixth straight month, but for the year is up just 2.7 percent at an annual rate. That equals the moderate 2.7 percent advance for all of 1993.

On Thursday, the department reported that its Producer Price Index, measuring inflation pressures before they reach the consumer, surged 0.5 percent last month. The July wholesale price gain was due almost entirely to sharply higher costs for gasoline, oil and coffee.

While inflation has remained subdued this year, analysts anticipate the Federal Reserve - worried about possible future inflation - will raise short-term interest rates next week for the fifth time this year.

"By hiking rates they are sending a signal the economy is too fast and something has to be done," said Carl Palash of MCM Moneywatch in New York City.

Today's overall consumer price rise was in line with economists' predictions, and the core rate excluding volatile energy and food costs was even a little better than projected.

The underlying consumer inflation rate rose 0.2 percent in July, less than the 0.3 percent increase in each of the preceding two months. Most analysts had predicted a 0.3 percent rise in July for the core figure.

Energy costs in July rose 1.8 percent, the steepest climb since they rose 1.9 percent last October. The Labor Department said almost all of the increase was due to a 3.8 percent jump in motor fuels.

Food prices increased 0.5 percent last month, as declines for meats and dairy products partially offset rising costs of fresh fruits and vegetables and coffee.

The cost of beef and veal fell 1.2 percent, the best showing since they dropped 1.5 percent two years ago.

Coffee prices, which soared nearly 43 percent at the wholesale level, rose a record 22.4 percent for consumers.

Car finance costs increased 1.8 percent, on top of a 3.4 percent jump in June.

Analysts discounted most of the increases in advance of today's report. "Seasonal factors will add to inflationary pressures" in July, said Donald Ratajczak of Georgia State University's Economic Forecasting Center in Atlanta. "They are less significant in August, however."

Still, there seemed to be a consensus among analysts that the Federal Reserve will boost short-term interest rates for the fifth time this year when the central bank's policy-setting Federal Open Market Committee meets Tuesday.

"The Federal Reserve is not looking at current inflation. It's worried about the future," said economist David Wyss of DRI-McGraw Hill, a forecasting service in Lexington, Mass.

Obituaries

JAMES KIRBY
Aug. 10, 1994

James E. Kirby, 77, of Las Cruces, N.M., died Wednesday in Memorial Medical Center. He is survived by a sister, Katherine Perrin of Hereford.

Services were planned at 4 p.m. today at St. Paul's United Methodist Church in Las Cruces. Interment and graveside service will be held at 10 a.m. Monday at West Park Cemetery in Hereford. Visiting hours in Hereford will be from 5-7 p.m. Sunday at Gilliland-Watson Funeral Home.

Dr. Kirby was born in Marion Junction, Ala., the son of James Wright and Sadie Hopper Kirby, early settlers to the Texas Panhandle. After the death of his father, he assumed management of the family ranch and was engaged in farming and ranching operations for the next 20 years before returning to college in 1957.

He received his Ph.D. degree from Texas A&M University in 1965 and afterward worked with the Texas Cooperative Extension Service.

In 1967, Dr. Kirby was named assistant director of the New Mexico Cooperative Extension Service and later served as economist for that organization. He retired from NMSU as professor emeritus in 1979. He was a Mason and an active member of St. Paul's United Methodist Church.

Dr. Kirby is survived by his wife, Sallie Gilbreath Kirby of the home; a sister, Katherine Perrin of Hereford; and four daughters, Sue Noakes of Athens, Ga., Dr. Carolyn Eisenstein of Washington, D.C., Ann Draper of Houston and Rebecca Kirby, M.D.,

of El Paso.

In lieu of flowers, the family requests contributions be made to the New Mexico Boys Ranch, Belen, N.M. or the American Red Cross.

MARK LESLIE MILLER
Aug. 9, 1994

Mark Leslie Miller, 37, a former Amarillo resident, died Tuesday, Aug. 9, 1994. He has several Hereford survivors.

Memorial services directed by the family will be at 2 p.m. Saturday in First Baptist Church Chapel of Amarillo with Lanny Allen, music minister, officiating. Cremation is by Boxwell Brothers Funeral Directors.

Mr. Miller was born in Amarillo and was a resident of Howardwick. He had worked as an airline agent. He married Judith Gabriel Jones in 1984 in Amarillo. He was a member of First Baptist Church of Amarillo.

Survivors include his wife; two sons, Sean Miller of Howardwick and Jonathan Martin of Hereford; his parents, Joy and Michael Miller of Hereford; and two brothers, Phillip C. Miller of Amarillo and Michael L. Miller of Hereford.

The family will be at 1112 Alta Vista St. and requests memorials be to the American Cancer Society.

ST. ANTHONY'S CATHOLIC CHURCH

Classes for persons wishing to learn more about the Catholic church will soon be scheduled. If you know of anyone interested in the 1994-95 rite of Christian Initiation of Adults season and the important process by which our faith tradition grows, contact Carmen Flood at 289-5381 or call the parish office at 364-6150.

St. Anthony's Messenger subscriptions are currently being promoted through the efforts of Josef J. Matej, an "apostolic layworker." Both your bishop and pastor are aware of his efforts on behalf of this Catholic magazine. How you respond is up to you.

Rose petals from your rose garden to be used in a special prayer service in September are requested. Please bring them to the office.

Everyone is invited to a reception for Sisters Angela Martinez, Lawrence Herrera, Hermelinda Herrera and Heliodora Wuest. The event is planned from 8-9 p.m. Tuesday. Gather on the church lawn or in the cafeteria as determined by the weather. The sisters this year will work in the parish as well as in the school.

If you, as a parent, would like to see us reinstall a nursery for babies during the 9 a.m. Sunday liturgy, please call the office at 364-6150 within the next two weeks.

Altar bouquets have been donated in memory of Walt Warren by Velma Warren and the Warren Brothers Motor Co.

There's a shortage of forks in the parish kitchen for use at our parish functions and funeral meals. Please bring your extra forks to the church office and will "put them to work."

Catechists are needed to share the faith in a classroom setting on Wednesdays nights for 10th and 11th graders and at weekend liturgies for K5 to fourth graders during the Liturgy of the Word. Call Charlotte, Christian Formation coordinator, at 364-6150 if you are already to evangelize the younger generation.

The school cafeteria needs potatoes, cabbage, carrots and onions. Anyone with food to donate, please bring to the school between 8 a.m. until 5 p.m. or call Alice Hund at 364-3218 to meet you there.

Fifteen students have applied for tuition assistance for the coming year at S.A.S. If you would like to adopt one of these students at the cost of $95 per month (or any lesser amount toward their tuition), please call the school office at 364-1952.

If you know of youth who did not attend St. Anthony's School or were not active with CCF, JOY or CYO groups, we'd appreciate so much hearing who they are. Call Charlotte at 364-6150 so we can add them to our roster for mailings, invitations, etc.

FIRST UNITED METHODIST CHURCH

The hand of friendship is extended to all who visit First United Methodist Church. Dr. Ed Williamson serves as pastor.

Meeting each Sunday: Sunday school, 9:30 a.m.; morning worship service, 10:45; youth snack supper and UMYF, 6 p.m.; and evening worship service, 6.

Joining the Sanctuary Choir in providing special music will be Eric Gilley, who will be performing on trumpet, "Believe Me If All Those Endearing Young Charms." "I Wonder By the Sea" will be sung by the Sanctuary Choir as the anthem.

Today, parents must be prepared for everything, and one, unfortunately, is the possibility of a missing child. To aid parents, local and state authorities and the news media, Eagle Scout candidate, D.J. Warrick of Troop #52, will be finger printing, description gathering and photo gathering children at the Aug. 13 Jubilee in Dameron Park.

The sixth grade Sunday school class will travel to Wonderland Park Monday for an end-of-summer outing. All sixth graders need to be at the church by 5 p.m. Bring $7 and a sack lunch. One friend may be invited. The children will be returned to their homes by the sponsors around 11:30 p.m. For more information, call Kathy Allison at 364-2714 or Andrea Caison at 364-1344.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

All boys and men are invited to attend the Brotherhood Breakfast at 8 a.m. Sunday in the fellowship hall.

"Gentle Touch" will be presented in concert at 4 p.m. Sunday in the sanctuary of First Baptist Church. Those performing will include Robbi Hudgens, Susan Shaw, Terri Souther, Denise Teel, Ginger Wallace and Jan Walser. They will be accompanied by Linda Gilbert. The public is invited to attend.

Youth visitation is held at 8 p.m. each Monday and "Hang Time" is at 7:30 p.m. each Wednesday. Sunday school begins at 9:45 a.m. and the discipleship training meets at 5:30 p.m. each Sunday.

A "back-to-school bash" is scheduled during Hang Time Aug. 24. Refreshments will be served and door prizes will be presented.

The Adult 4 Sunday School hamburger cookout is planned Sunday following the evening worship service.

CENTRAL CHURCH OF CHRIST

Our Super Saturday was a super success! Children from the community enjoyed the Exodus. The hands on learning experience will stick with them for years to come. Thanks to all the parents who allowed their children to come.

Summer is winding down? School will begin soon. The before school ski trip for the youth will be the 14th. The 20th we will go to Berger for the youth rally, "Teenage Crusade for Christ." Over 800 young people will gather to sing songs of praise and learn more about God's word.

Sunday our prison workers will go to Amarillo to visit and work with the prisoners. Sunday evening worship will be our singing service.

The public is invited to worship with us: Sunday Bible class begins at 9:30 a.m. and worship services are held at 10:25 a.m. and 6 p.m. The Wednesday Bible study begins at 7:30 p.m. Watch for the Amazing Grace Bible Class Sunday morning at 7:30 on Channel 4.

FELLOWSHIP OF BELIEVERS

We invite anyone looking for a church home to come and visit with us.

Sunday school classes for all age groups and Bible study for adults meet from 9:30-11:15 a.m. The adult class and Sunday worship service are held from 10:30-11:15 a.m. This week's message will be delivered by Dr. Guy Greenfield of Albuquerque, N.M.

We have nursery facilities for all ages. The free taxi service is available upon request by calling 36-40359.

COUNTRY ROAD CHURCH OF GOD

Woody Wiggins has been named pastor of Country Road Church of God.

Wiggins comes to Hereford with his wife, Kathy, from Palestine.

He has been in the ministry for many years and welcomes everyone to visit the church.

Sunday School starts at 10 a.m., church at 11 a.m. and Sunday evening service at 6 p.m. Wednesday night services are at 7 p.m.

This Sunday, the church will begin a revival, featuring evangelist Cecil Bryant from Villata, Fla.

The services will be at 11 a.m. and 6 p.m. Sunday and at 7 p.m. each week night.

The church is located at 409 Country Club Drive.

For more information call 364-5390.

COMMUNITY CHURCH

Pastor Dorman Duggan and the church congregation would like to extend a warm welcome to everyone to come and worship with them Sunday morning.

Sunday school for all ages begins at 9:30 a.m. and the morning worship service starts at 10:30. A nursery is provided.

Youth groups meet each Wednesday at the church at 7 p.m. Children's church also meets at 7 p.m. on Wednesdays and we have various home groups around town meeting at 7 p.m. on Wednesday.

For more information, call 364-8866 or 364-2423.

IMMANUEL LUTHERAN CHURCH

The public is invited to attend the Lutheran Mexican stack dinner from 11 a.m. until 2 p.m. Saturday at the church located across from Dameron Park. Tickets, which may be purchased at the door, are priced at $3.50 for adults and $2 for children 10 years of age and under. Baked goods will also be sold as well as raffle tickets.

Sunday school is at 10 a.m. with classes for all ages. The Adult Bible class will continue the study of II Corinthians.

"Fragrance Unto the Lord," taken from Ephesians 4:30-5:2, will be the message delivered during the 11 a.m. Sunday worship service.

At 7:30 p.m. Sunday at the church, we will show the video presentation "Beyond the Great Wall." This is an inspiring testimony of the power of Christ in the lives of countless Chinese men and women. There is no admission but a free will offering will be taken. Money from the offering will go to "Mission Without Borders." The public is invited to view the video.

Strike interrupts exciting baseball season

By RONALD BLUM
AP Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) - Forget the race for Roger Maris' record and perhaps the expanded playoffs, too. The baseball players are on strike.

Players walked out on one of the most exciting seasons in decades after Thursday night's games, stopping the sport for the eighth time since 1972. They went on strike rather than give up a system that has increased the average salary more than 20-fold since the free agent era began in 1976.

"It's just going to be weird not coming to the ballpark," Ken Griffey Jr. said after the Seattle Mariners routed the Oakland Athletics 8-1 in the final game before the walkout.

"Today was a normal day," Griffey said. "Tomorrow it will be strange."

Soon after their offices opened today, the National League and the American Leagues issued statements that officially canceled all 14 games scheduled for tonight.

No talks were held Thursday and none were scheduled for today. The strike threatens the final 52 days and 669 games of the regular season. And it creates the possibility that the World Series, which was played through two world wars, won't be taken place for the first time since 1904.

"All of us are anguishing over the season," said Milwaukee Brewers owner Bud Selig, chairman of the ruling executive council.

As the strike deadline neared, George Steinbrenner and two other owners publicly questioned parts of management's bargaining strategy and Marge Schott questioned the experience of the owners' chief negotiator. Management is demanding a salary cap and won't give up the right to impose a cap after the season, leading players to feel a strike was their only means to force an agreement.

Donald Fehr, head of the Major League Baseball Players Association, said players were "resigned and resentful" because they believed owners forced the stoppage.

More than half the teams, including the long-suffering Cleveland Indians, were still in the race for this year's expanded playoffs.

Again, Reinsdorf disagreed.

"The problem with Mr. Angelos is he's new in the game and not fully aware of all the things that have been going on," Reinsdorf said.

Later in the day, McMorris said, "I think we could negotiate a settlement that did not include a salary cap" and offered to personally go to the bargaining table.

Schott, the Reds owner, questioned the experience of Ravitch, who led New York City's Metropolitan Transit Authority through an 11-day strike in 1980.

"I don't know if he's ever had any experience with unions," she told Cincinnati radio station WLW. "I don't think so. It takes a certain person. We'll see what he does."

The strike could end the season prematurely for the first time since 1918, when President Wilson demanded an abrupt conclusion because of World War I.

"We hope it's not a long strike," Gwynn said.

President Clinton pleaded with the parties to settle their differences and preserve a season that's already seen a perfect game by Kenny Rogers of Texas and an unassisted triple play by John Valentin of Boston.

Matt Williams, who has 43 homers, and Griffey Jr., who hit a grand slam for his 40th on Thursday night, were still in the chase for the home run record. Tony Gwynn's quest to become the first 400 hitter since 1941 may have ended with his average at .394.

"I think the people really ought to be taken into consideration here and I hope they will be," Clinton said in the White House Rose Garden.

"There are a lot of little kids out there who want to see this season come to a close and there are a lot of not-so-little kids out there who know this is the most exciting baseball season in 40 years."

Cracks in the owners' solidarity appeared Thursday. Steinbrenner of the New York Yankees said owners should be allowed at the bargaining table.

Steinbrenner said management negotiator Richard Ravitch's arguments about competitive-balance problems were false.

"Look at Montreal," the Yankees' owner was quoted saying in The Philadelphia Inquirer on Thursday. "The best record in baseball is the team with the second-lowest payroll. So you can shoot that theory right in the butt."

Spikers to scrimmage in Brownfield

The Hereford High School volleyball team will scrimmage against Brownfield and Lubbock High Saturday in Brownfield, starting at 10 a.m. and going most of the day. Odessa High may also participate in the scrimmages, Hereford coach Brenda Reeh said.

The Lady Whitefaces return eight letter-winners from last year's 26-7 regional finalists.

Hereford opens the season for real against Pate Duro at 6 p.m. Monday in Whiteface Gym in Hereford. Palo Duro was a playoff participant last year out of District 3-5A.

Mets, Phillies put off strike for 15 innings

By TOM WITHERS
Associated Press Writer
While the Mets and Phillies did their best to delay the inevitable, the San Diego Padres struggled to get home.

After the first five NL games were completed Thursday, New York and Philadelphia played 15 rainy, uneventful innings at Veterans Stadium before the Phillies pulled out a 2-1 win.

Meanwhile in Houston, the Padres, their bags packed and aboard a California-bound airplane following an 8-6 afternoon win over the Astros, sat helplessly on the tarmac with a flat tire.

Not a bad analogy for the state of baseball on this 12th day of August.

With no talks planned or scheduled, the extraordinary 1994 season came to an abrupt stop with players packing up their belongings and fans seeking entertainment alternatives.

Obviously the "STRIKE" headlines obscured the games, but there were some notable performances on what could have been the season's final day.

Greg Maddux continued his domination of NL hitters and pursuit of an unprecedented third straight Cy Young Award with a three-hit shutout at Colorado. With the Rockies' planned move to Coors Field next season, it was possibly the final baseball game at Mile High Stadium.

Tony Gwynn, trying to become baseball's first 400 hitter since Ted Williams hit 406 in 1941, went 3-for-5 in Houston to raise his average to .394. He needed a 6-for-6 performance to reach 400.

"I'm happy with my season,"

Gwynn said. "I hope I'm not done for the year. I hope I get a chance to add those six extra points to my average."

Ramon Martinez of Los Angeles pitched a seven-hit shutout in Cincinnati as the Dodgers built a 3 1/2-game lead over San Francisco in the NL West.

Dodgers 2, Reds 0

At Cincinnati, Martinez (12-7) beat Cincinnati for the third time this season and Tim Lincecum (1-0) pitched a seven-hit shutout.

Martinez pitched a seven-hitter for his third shutout and struck out seven.

The Reds lost for the fourth time in five games, but clinched the NL Central if a strike wipes out the rest of the season. Ace Jose Rijo (9-6) matched his NL high with 12 strikeouts in eight innings.

Padres 8, Astros 6

At Houston, the Astros, playing their first game without Jeff Bagwell, blew a chance to move into first place in the NL Central.

The Astros remained one-half game behind Cincinnati. Bagwell, leading the majors with 116 RBIs, is out 3-5 weeks after breaking his hand when he was hit by a pitch Wednesday.

Joey Hamilton (9-6) overcame two errors by shortstop Luis Lopez and Derek Bell hit a two-run homer. Greg Swindell (8-9) allowed five runs in 2 1/3 innings.

Braves 13, Rockies 0

At Denver, Fred McGriff hit his 34th homer and David Justice hit his 19th and drove in four runs as the Braves pounded out 20 hits to back Maddux.

Maddux lowered his major league-leading ERA to 1.56 with his third shutout.

Lance Painter (4-6) allowed five runs in three innings.

Pirates 4, Expos 0

At Pittsburgh, the Expos hardly looked like the team with the best record in baseball, going quietly into the strike by losing to Zane Smith.

Smith (10-8) hadn't won since July 6, only to shut down the division-leading Expos on five hits as the Pirates beat Montreal for only the second time in 10 games.

Butch Henry (8-3) took the loss, allowing two runs and six hits over five innings.

Cards 8, Marlins 6, seven innings

At Miami, Tom Pagnozzi hit a home run for the third consecutive game and three teammates also homered, giving St. Louis a rain-shortened victory.

Mark Whiten, Ray Lankford and Bernard Gilkey also homered for the Cardinals, who are averaging 6.5 runs per game in August.

The game was called in the top of the eighth inning following a 79-minute rain delay.

Tom Urbani (3-7) earned the victory despite allowing 10 hits in five-plus innings. Pat Rapp (7-8) was the loser.

Phillies 2, Mets 1, 15 innings

At Philadelphia, the last four innings were played in a steady light rain.

Only about 5,000 of the original 37,605 fans remained when Billy Hatcher scored the winning run on Ricky Jordan's single in the bottom of the 15th.

Hatcher opened the 15th with a bunt single and moved to third on a wild pitch by Mauro Gozzo (3-5) and a fly out. After two intentional walks loaded the bases, Jordan hit a two-out single down the third base line.

Reliever Tom Edens (5-1) picked up the win.

HJH athletes can pick up equipment

Seventh- and eighth-graders who plan to participate in athletics at Hereford Junior High should pick up equipment Tuesday.

Girls should pick up equipment and release papers after registration. As for boys, eighth-graders should get equipment from 9 a.m.-noon, seventh-graders should go from 1:30-4:30 p.m., and a parent should accompany each boy.

All athletes must show proof of having a physical exam before they can get equipment.

Football shoes will be available at $22 a pair, on a first-come, first-serve basis.

Mariners shine in pre-strike blowout

By WENDY E. LANE
AP Sports Writer
OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) - It was baseball's last game for a while, so the Seattle Mariners showed off their best.

Ken Griffey Jr.'s grand slam and Randy Johnson's 15 strikeouts on the eve of today's strike gave the Mariners their sixth straight win, 8-1 over the Athletics.

"It's a shame there's going to be a strike," Johnson said. "We've pulled together as a team, and no one has complained about the strike. Everybody's doing their job. The young pitchers are going to kill, and the work stoppage is going to end a lot of streaks."

Some scattered boos were heard when Johnson (13-6) fanned Ernie Young for the final out.

Even though the home team lost, the crowd went wild when Griffey hit a high fly ball into the right-field seats to highlight a six-run second inning. They cheered again when his leaping catch at the wall robbed Stan Javier of extra bases.

In other games, Toronto beat New York 8-7 in 13 innings and Milwaukee beat Detroit 10-5. The Boston at Baltimore game was rained out.

Griffey, whose 40th homer of the season highlighted a six-run inning, said afterward he wasn't ready to hang it up.

"It's just going to be weird not coming to the ballpark," he said. "Today was a normal day. Tomorrow will be strange."

Johnson, who grew up in nearby Walnut Creek, wanted to pitch well in front of his family and in memory of his late father.

"I still could feel," he said's presence here," he said. "It always meant that I have a better than average game here."

On this night he was way above average, allowing only four hits. He finished with a major league-high 204 strikeouts, and a fan hung Ks over the second-deck railing each time Johnson recorded another strikeout.

The Mariners' Ron Darling (10-11) in the second, loading the bases twice.

Blue Jays 8, Yankees 7, 13 innings

If this was their last game, Toronto and New York made it last a little longer at Yankee Stadium.

Joe Carter, who ended last year with a World Series-winning home run in the 12th inning for the Blue Jays. But the Yankees tied it in their half on a double-play grounder by Paul O'Neill.

Ed Sprague led off the Toronto 13th with a home run, and the Blue Jays made the lead stand up.

Darren Hall (2-3) was the winner. Joe Ausanio (2-1) gave up Sprague's 11th homer as the AL East-leading Yankees lost for the fifth time in six games.

Brewers 10, Tigers 5

No one wanted a rainout right before the walkout, so Milwaukee and Detroit waited nearly three hours while rain delayed the start at Tiger Stadium.

Once the game began, Jody Reed singled on the first pitch. Both teams kept hitting throughout the afternoon, with Reed's two-run double highlighting a six-run rally in the eighth inning.

A crowd of 18,857 saw Tony Phillips homer for the Tigers and Troy O'Leary connect for the Brewers. Cecil Fielder drove in two runs, giving him 14 RBIs in August.

Jesse Orosco (3-1) was the winner and Storm Davis (2-4) was the loser.

Players make plans for return, time off

By BEN WALKER
AP Baseball Writer
Tony Gwynn and David Justice talked about tee times. Todd Zeile and Tom Pagnozzi planned a plane flight. Deion Sanders and Jose Rijo got ready to relax.

With a strike about to start, it was more like October than mid-August at ballparks Thursday as players packed their bags, traded phone numbers and set up travel arrangements.

"It feels like the end of a season," Cincinnati's Barry Larkin said. "There's that ambiguity. We don't know when we'll be coming back or if we'll be coming back. It feels like... we don't know."

The strike deadline was today. Ozzie Guillen, like many others, already had plans to go away. The White Sox shortstop looked about going home to Caracas and selling maracas.

Cubs reliever Dan Plesac said he would take a few days off before working to stay in shape.

"I'll probably make a tour of the county fairs and go to the speed pitch so I can get my throwing in," he said.

Sanders, who does not plan to play in the NFL this year, might still see some football games - as a fan.

"What do they call that, tailgating? I'll probably be the most recognized tailgater ever," he said.

Rijo, his Reds teammate, may not even be that active.

"I'm going to eat a lot of potato chips and popcorn and hope I don't get too bad out of shape," he said.

Once a strike starts, players will be allowed in their clubhouses to pick up personal belongings, but not any equipment.

Players whose teams are on the road had to make their own plans to get home. The New York Mets, who were supposed to be on a seven-game trip, found they only had meal money for four days - through Thursday.

Cardinals players scrambled to put together a charter flight back to St. Louis after Thursday night's game in Miami. Team management earlier had agreed to fly the players home, but team president Stuart Meyer on Wednesday said the club wouldn't provide transportation.

Zeile, the Cardinals player representative, and Pagnozzi, the assistant rep, set up a DC-9 charter for the players. The cost, including relatives, was $18,000 - $600 per person. The players' union will pick up part of the cost.

"The higher priced players are going to pick up more of the tab compared to the younger guys," Pagnozzi said. "My suggestion is if you make a million or more, you've got to pay. If you make a million or less, you're freeloading."

Toronto played in New York on Thursday, and was scheduled to face the Yankees again today. But Blue Jays shortstop Dick Schofield said he would stick around if there was a strike.

"New York's a great city," the Blue Jays shortstop said. "I just want to take in the city for a few days."

Gwynn and Justice said they would spend their free time on the golf course.

"I want to get as good as Freddie (McGriff)," said Justice, whose Atlanta Braves played in Colorado on Thursday before heading home.

"I know I'll be golfing tomorrow," Gwynn said.

Unhappy fans criticize baseball players' strike

By ANNE M. PETERSON

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) - The fans at the last game had the last word.

When the Mariners-Athletics game ended and the baseball strike began, they booed.

Seattle beat Oakland 8-1 Thursday night in game that ended with Randy

Johnson striking out his 219th - and possibly last - batter this season.

Johnson left the mound and waved to the fans, a few of whom lingered at Oakland Coliseum for a half-hour after the game ended.

Montana to help FOX football get off ground

By The Associated Press
Joe Montana and the Fox network both get their first expanded work of the summer tonight.

Montana, making his first start of the preseason, is scheduled to see extensive action when his Kansas City Chiefs play the Washington Redskins at RFK Stadium.

Montana, who finished last season as the AFC's second-leading passer, played just two series against Minnesota in Tokyo on Saturday in his only previous preseason game.

"I think Joe's right on target as far as where we are with him at this time," Coach Marty Schottenheimer said. "We'll open with Joe. Then we will go to Steve Bono. Joe will play most of the first half, and then we will give Steve an opportunity."

Fox, meanwhile, will kick off its coverage of the NFL when Denver plays at San Francisco in one of three NFL exhibition games tonight. It's a first for Fox, which won a bidding war late last year for the privilege of televising NFL games.

John Madden will be teamed with Pat Summerall in the broadcast booth, as they were for 13 years at CBS.

In tonight's other preseason game, Buffalo plays at Atlanta.

The preseason schedule continues with 10 games on Saturday. It's the New York Giants vs. San Diego at Berlin, Los Angeles Raiders at Pittsburgh, Detroit at Cleveland, Indianapolis at Cincinnati, New York Jets at Philadelphia, Miami vs. Green Bay at Milwaukee, New Orleans at Minnesota, Chicago at Arizona, Tampa Bay at Seattle and New England at Los Angeles Rams.

The Bills return to the Georgia Dome for the first time since their fourth consecutive Super Bowl appearance, a loss to the Dallas Cowboys.

"Buffalo kind of limits you in some of the things they do," Atlanta coach June Jones said following Thursday's training camp workout. "If you get real fancy with Buffalo, there are going to be a lot of wide open guys, so we're just going to try to play our schemes and be sound."

In training camp news:

Cardinals
Former All-Pro linebacker Wilber Marshall reportedly will rejoin his former coach, Buddy Ryan, and sign with Arizona.

Steelers
With Gary Anderson's holdout entering its third week, Pittsburgh Steelers coach Bill Cowher suggests he's nearly ready to go looking for some fresh kickers.

"No question we're looking and keeping our eyes open to any potential kickers out there," he said. "It's a possibility."

Rams
Safety Derald Boykin did not practice Thursday, a day after needing six stitches to close a cut in his head caused by a fight during the Los Angeles Rams' practice.

Boykin was hit by a helmet swung by offensive tackle Darryl Ashmore on Wednesday.

Eagles
The Philadelphia Eagles have contacted the agent for free agent cornerback-kick returner Deion Sanders, according to a published report.

Sanders, a two-sport star whose baseball season was cut short by today's players' strike, talked with Eagles owner Jeffrey Lurie, unidentified sources told the Philadelphia Daily News.

The sources said that Lurie and team vice president Joe Banner flew to Cincinnati last week to meet with the Reds' center fielder, who had played football with the Atlanta Falcons.

Colts
The Indianapolis Colts signed running back Rodney Culver on Thursday, leaving two holdouts missing from training camp.

A pair of starters from last season, Jason Belser and Kerry Cash, are still camp holdouts.

Hard hit spices up Cowboys' practice

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Dallas Cowboys hard-hitting free safety James Washington turned a listless Thursday afternoon practice into a heated affair, all concluded by a harsh lecture from head coach Barry Switzer.

Quarterback Troy Aikman, the offensive players and Switzer became incensed when Washington leveled Alvin Harper. Harper, who has been nursing a sore shoulder, had made a catch and tried to turn upfield during a two-minute drill.

Harper crumbled to the ground, clutching his right shoulder which has caused him to miss the last week of practice. Then the heated words were exchanged.

Aikman yelled at teammate Charles Haley and attempted to cross the line of scrimmage in Haley's direction. Cowboys Pro Bowl guard Nate Newton grabbed Aikman, pushing him back toward the huddle. Aikman, turned again and Newton put all of his 325 pounds into his efforts.

"All I need is for Troy to swing and break his hand. I need those $50 million fingers," Newton said afterward.

Switzer admonished Washington before the entire team for the needless hit.

"The hit with James Washington wasn't a smart play," Switzer said. "I told them that. It has to be intelligent play out here in practice. It has to be intelligent play in the ballgame."

Trainers quickly pulled Harper out of practice and iced his right shoulder. But Harper evidently was fine, his name not appearing on Thursday night's injury list.

Washington said he pulled off the hit, and that Harper knows he could have been hit harder.

"I don't think we need to blow this out of proportion," Washington said. "Alvin is my friend. I just happened to run into him, and it happened to be Alvin."

The incident did not cause a loss of focus. Aikman concluded the drive with a 21-yard touchdown lob to wide receiver Tim Daniel in the back of the end zone. Cowboys backup quarterback Rodney Peete also drove the second offensive unit for a touchdown, concluding his drive with a 12-yard bullet over the middle to tight end Coleman Bell.

Foreigners crowd PGA leader board

By BOB GREEN
AP Golf Writer

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — An unprecedented non-American sweep of golf's Big Four events moved a step closer to reality with the massive success of foreign stars in the first round of the PGA national championship.

Nick Price of Zimbabwe, the recent winner of the British Open, and Colin Montgomerie, the burly Scot who barely lost this year's U.S. Open, led the way Thursday with a pair of 3-under-par 67s.

They were joined near the top of the leaderboard by former Masters champ Ian Woosnam of Wales, U.S. Open winner Ernie Els of South Africa, Sam Torrance of Scotland and David Gilford of England.

Masters champion Jose Maria Olazabal of Spain had a 72.

As if to emphasize the shift in world golfing power, two aging Americans who led the United States' dominance of the game in earlier eras were subjected to exhibitions that could only be described as embarrassing.

Jack Nicklaus, 54, a five-time winner of this title, and Arnold Palmer, 64, playing in his 37th consecutive and last PGA, each struggled to a 79, 9-over par on the difficult Southern Hills Country Club course.

The American standard-bearers this time were a couple of returnees from the ranks of the walking wounded, Fred Couples and Phil Mickelson.

Each shot 68 and were tied with Woosnam and Els a single shot off the lead.

Mickelson, still on the rebound from a broken leg sustained in a skiing accident, played without a bogey and Couples, who lost three months of the season to a bad back, birdied the last hole.

Just behind them were the American veterans including 51-year-old Ray Floyd, who won this title on this course in 1982. He was in a group at 69 that included Tom Watson, Fuzzy Zoeller and Lanny Wadkins. Gilford and Torrance also were 1-under.

Paul Azinger, meanwhile, found he has a longer road to travel than he thought in his comeback after a successful battle with cancer.

"I didn't know I'd lost my edge," Azinger said following only his third competitive round since being diagnosed with lymphoma, a form of cancer, shortly after winning this title a year ago.

"Obviously I'm not as ready as I thought I was," Azinger said after opening defense of his title with a 75.

He called his 5-over-par effort "the lack of a few putts going in and a few bad shots on a tough golf course."

Price, who has the opportunity to become the first winner of consecutive majors since Watson in 1982, clearly is the outstanding player in the world since his 1992 PGA victory.

He has won 13 times around the world since then, including three American tour events and the British Open this season.

Alamo Bowl challenges Cotton

DALLAS (AP) — A bowl war apparently has begun in Texas.

One day after the 58-year-old Cotton Bowl made a move to lure the Big 12 Conference runnerup, the infant Alamo Bowl on Thursday made its own overture.

"We just think we have everything going for us," said Bob Coleman, immediate past chairman of the bowl, said after emerging from a meeting of the Alamo Bowl board.

"We have an ideal facility, a city people like to come to. We had the NCAA convention here (in January), and people fell in love with the city. It is a great destination city. We can guarantee 70 degrees if that's what you want at kickoff (in the Alamodome), with no sleet or snow," Coleman said.

John Scovell of Dallas, chairman of the committee in charge of the Cotton Bowl's future, said the Alamo Bowl's action was expected. He said the Cotton Bowl also can expect competition for conference hook-ups from the Sun Bowl, Citrus Bowl and Holiday Bowl.

The Southwest Conference champion has been the host team in the Cotton Bowl in recent history, but the SWC is breaking up, with Texas, Texas A&M, Texas Tech and Baylor joining the Big Eight members in a new Big 12 Conference beginning in 1996.

The bowl's affiliation with the SWC ends after the game Jan. 2, 1995.

By being left out of the Tier I alliance announced last week, the Cotton Bowl also will be denied the champion of the new Big 12, since that team figures to be one of the teams involved in the alliance's matchup of the nation's top teams.

Scovell said the Cotton Bowl would prefer not to get into a bidding situation.

CHURCH

SAN JOSE CATHOLIC CHURCH

San Jose pre-school will be starting Aug. 22 with a three and four-year-old program open to everyone. Our pre-school will maintain a morning session only from 8:30-11:30 Monday through Friday. A registration fee of $50 must be paid by Friday, Aug. 19, to reserve a place. Tuition per month from September to May is $40.

San Jose Outreach has temporarily discontinued its food distribution and clothing bank until a new location can be found at the proposed San Jose Education/Recreation building becomes a reality. Guadalupe Economic Services from Lubbock now maintains a food distribution center at the San Jose Community in the former San Jose Outreach pantry.

The Diocesan Institute for Pastoral Ministry has been established and will begin this fall with adult formation and training for laity of the diocese involved in pastoral ministries. The institute will be held one Saturday a month, four months each semester. The two locations for the institute will be at the Catholic Student Center in Canyon and Borger. All sessions will be offered in English and Spanish. The institute seeks to provide solid spiritual and academic formation for all involved in catechetical and evangelization, social action, youth, liturgical or pastoral care ministries. The opening date of the institute will be Saturday, Sept. 10. Pick up your application forms on Sunday or at the parish office after you check with Father Darryl Birkenfeld.

Thanks to the efforts of several interested parishioners, there will be a Hereford Fiesta Patrias celebration this year. The celebration will be held Sept. 17. Events being planned are a parade at 10:30 a.m. followed by a tardeada in Dameron Park immediately after the parade. The tardeada will begin with "El Grito de Independencia" and the singing of the National Anthems of Mexico and the United States while the flags are presented. There will also be mariachis, baile folklorico dancers, live music and food booths until 4 p.m. To close the day, there will be a dance at San Jose parish hall from 9 p.m. until 1 p.m. If anyone is interested in participating in this celebration, please come to the meeting at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday in the rectory.

TEMPLE BAPTIST CHURCH

The Pastor H. Wyatt Bartlett and the congregation of the Temple Baptist Church, 700 Ave. K., invite everyone to come worship with them this Sunday and Wednesday.

The Sunday School and Bible study begins at 9:45 a.m. and the Sunday worship services are held at 11 a.m. and 7 p.m. with the pastor preaching at both services.

The mid-week prayer meeting is held each Wednesday at 7 p.m. This is also our business meeting.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Elder Whit Hunt of Plainview will be the guest speaker for the regular 10:30 a.m. Sunday worship service. His sermon title is "Laughter, Excitement, Love." The scripture lesson is I Samuel 17:32-37 and Romans 7:28-39.

Mr. Hunt is a well-known speaker throughout the Presbytery and civic organizations. He was a graduate of Baylor and Trinity Universities and has served as a hospital administrator, farm and ranch representative, insurance salesman and has his own management consultant business in Plainview where he has resided since 1972.

There will be a deacons' meeting Sunday following the worship service.

The Adult Sunday School Class will meet at 9:30 a.m.

Enjoy fellowship time from 10:10-10:30 a.m. each Sunday with others of the congregation. Light refreshments will be served.

CHRISTIAN ASSEMBLY CHURCH

Pastor Don Cherry and the church congregation invite the public to attend all services at the church located on S. Main St.

We have dismissed Sunday school for the time being and changed our Sunday morning worship service time to 10:30. The Sunday evening service will remain the same (6 p.m.) as will the Wednesday night service at 7.

For additional information, call 364-5874.

ST. THOMAS EPISCOPAL CHURCH

"To Sit at Wisdom's Table" is the title of the sermon by the Rev. Charles A. Wilson on the Twelfth Sunday after Pentecost. The Holy Eucharist is celebrated at 11 a.m. and there is a coffee hour after the service.

The regular Wednesday Public Service of Healing is at 7 p.m. with the Litany of Healing, the Laying-on-of-Hands with Holy Unction and Holy Communion. The major prayer book feast of St. Mary the Virgin will be observed.

Intercessory prayer requests from the community are most welcome. To have them included in the Prayers of the People at all services, please call 364-0146 and leave a message. In case of emergency or to make appointments for personal conferences, please call Father Wilson in Amarillo at 1-353-1734.

The August fellowship event is this Sunday evening at 6:30 with a party for adult members and their guests.

Ann Landers

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Will you please explain to me what age is considered "middle" and what is considered "old"? My husband and I are having an argument about this, but neither one of us is sure who is right.

"Elliot" is 58. He has had a back problem for years, and as he grows older, it seems the pain comes more often and stays longer. He has become quite depressed lately and doesn't want to go anywhere or do anything. He says, "I'm an old man, and nothing can help me."

I told Elliott he is not old, just middle-aged, but he says, "Middle age is 33 to 45, and anyone over 45 is old."

I say middle age is 45 to 55. Please settle this for—The Cleveland Battlers

DEAR BATTLEERS: Age is only a number. Some people are old at 30,

LAS VEGAS (AP) - Andre Agassi has found yet another meaning for "love."

"There's a lot of kids that could use some help," the tennis star said at a fund-raiser for a foundation helping underprivileged children. "And now that I have more than I had ever dreamed of having, I'd like to help."

while others are young at 70. What counts is good health, energy and a genuine interest in others. Elliott should see a pain specialist. Insist on it.

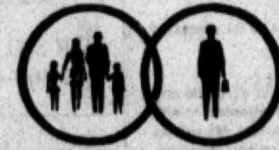

Planning a wedding? What's right? What's wrong? "The Ann Landers Guide for Brides" will relieve your anxiety. Send a self-addressed, long, business-size envelope and a check or money order for $3.65 (this includes postage and handling) to: Brides, c/o Ann Landers, P.O. Box 11562, Chicago, Ill. 60611-0562.

LOS ANGELES (AP) - Buddy Rogers is still drawing sighs from swooning female fans. Even at age 90, every birthday means an encore.

The silent film actor, married to the late Mary Pickford for more than 40 years, has celebrated his last nine birthdays at Reseda's Jewish Home for the Aging, which benefited from the couple's donations since the 1940s.

Rogers, whose birthday is Saturday, made an entrance on cue

Wednesday and blew kisses to an applauding audience of more than 300. He wore a bright red sportcoat, with sparkling white slacks and shiny red-and-white shoes.

"How is it that you can evoke such love and passion from every age?" fan Faye Rudoff asked as she held the actor's hand. "It's such a thrilling thing. I wish I knew the secret. Of course, you're handsome."

The reply: "You're spoiling me."

Early wedding rings were made of iron.

It takes more than blind luck to pin down the right home.

Sure, you could go on stumbling through the housing market. Running into dead ends and getting cornered with too little information. Or you could nail down that new home the easy way. By consulting an experienced real estate agent. An agent can point out options you may have missed. Get you inside interesting homes that you may never have seen otherwise. Even do a lot of the groundwork, so you don't have to. Like researching financing packages. Checking through the multiple-listing service for homes that fit your needs -- and your pocketbook. Negotiating with the seller. And arranging for inspections. He or she will even be there at closing. So instead of forging ahead without knowing what's out there, get some help from an expert. A real estate agent. Inside The Hereford Brand, you'll find both qualified agents and valuable information about home buying. Everyday, the real estate classifieds list many properties and agents. And The Brand's Sunday housing section examine the latest market trends and housing opportunities. With the right guide, hitting your mark can be child's play.

Facts About The BIBLE BY JOHN LEHTI

BIBLICAL SUBTERFUGE!

WHEN ABRAM WENT TO EGYPT TO ESCAPE THE FAMINE IN CANAAN, UNDOUBTEDLY, HE WAS IMPRESSED BY MANY THINGS THAT HE SAW IN THE LAND. THE EGYPTIAN CITIES WERE OF STUPENDOUS ARCHITECTURE AND, WHEREVER THE EYE FELL, ONE COULD SEE THAT EGYPT LACKED FOR NOTHING---YES....

...THEY ARE MUCH WEALTHIER THAN HE, BUT, STILL, HE DOES POSSESS A MOST RARE JEWEL....

IF THE EGYPTIANS SEE THEE, THEY MAY KILL ME IN ORDER TO KEEP THEE! SAY THEN, FOR MY SISTER, THAT THOU ART MY SISTER SO THAT THEY MAY NOT KILL ME!

...SARAI, HIS BEAUTIFUL WIFE! WHAT IF THE EGYPTIANS, ON SEEING HER GREAT BEAUTY, SHOULD KILL HER IN ORDER TO POSSESS HER! IN ABRAM'S MIND, IT IS A DISTINCT POSSIBILITY, AND SO HE HASTENS TO THE TENT OF HIS WIFE TO PLAN WHAT TO DO IN CASE TROUBLE OF THIS SORT SHOULD HAPPEN!

OF COURSE THE WHOLE PLAN REALLY BACKFIRED RIGHT IN ABRAM'S FACE WHEN THE PHAROAH FOUND OUT THAT SARAI WAS ABRAM'S WIFE (GEN. 12:9-20) AND ABRAM FOUND OUT THAT HE HAD WORRIED NEEDLESSLY--FOR PHAROAH COMMANDED HIS MEN TO PROTECT ABRAM, AND HIS WIFE, AND ALL THAT HE HAD!
