Nation Welcomes Move Of England To Lift Penalties Against Italy

PARIS, June 18. (A)-France informed Great Britain today she cannot "take or share" the leadership in lifting sanctions from Italy, although she will support the Britich move at Geneva

It was announced the French government welcomes the step al-though Premier Blum's socialistic principles hold France back.

LONDON, June 18. (A)-Britain's cabinet decided yesterday sanctions against Italy must be scrapped and approved a pronouncement of new policy dealing, it was reported, both with league of nations reform and with Germany.

The ministers gave authority to the statement which Foreign Sec-retary Anthony Eden was to make n commons today.

That statement was to follow these three main lines: 1-Sanctions: Britain is ready to serap them if the other sanctionists at Geneva are willing.

2-The league must be supported but reformed. 3-European peace: A way to settlement must be opened and Germany holds the key to it. and when the ranctions can be lifted is a question to be settled at Geneva. The council meets June 26; the assembly, June 30. Parliamentary circles anticipat-

City May Be Selected For Girl Contest

District Elimination In Queen' Event Slated For July 4th

An added feature of Big Spring's celebration on July 4th, when a full day of sports and water events will mark the formal dedication of the new swimming pool at city park, probably will be an area-wide contest to select a West Texas repre-sentative in the "Queen of the Centennial" contest being promoted in connection with the Dallas exposi-

The chamber of commerce Thursday received advices that this city probably would be chosen as one of the district key points in the contest. The event is sponsored by the Dallas News and Journal, ra-dio station WFAA and the Chrysler Motors organization. Girls will be chosen as representatives of Texas towns, compete in district elimination contests, the winners of which would gather in Dallas for the final event, when the Queen of the Cenennial will be crowned by Ginger Rogers, the movie star. That wil e on July 31.

Film Contract The winner will receive rot only honors at the exposition, but will be awarded a film contract by a follywood producing company. Designation of Big Spring for one of the district points would mean the appearance here of several scores of girls representing towns throughout West Texas. Sponsors of the state contest were reported interested in this city, since the district affair could be held in connection with the July A bathing beauty contest has

Science To Use Color Camera To Penetrate Solar Mysteries During Eclipse Of The Sun Tomorrow Six color filters will separate out

Since these total eclipses occur on an average of less than one a year and are extraordinarily short, information about the cor-ona has been limited. The experts in out-of-the-way Siberian outposts who will work feverishly during the 127 seconds of total eclipse hope to increase materially the data on the

Three American expeditions have made the costly trip to Siberia and transported tons of apparatus to the usually isolated communities which were selected as their camp

Chief attention will center on the corona. Science has known for years that huge flames shot out for thousands of miles from the sun's surface. Photographs have taken showing some which completely envelope the Experts, always curious to add to their knowledge of observa-ble things, want to learn more about these flames which might be called "tidat waves" of solar heat and energy.

Odds Fever Clear Skies Months of careful preparations sill be climaxed when the moon slowly blots out the light from the sun. As typical of the care, the locations for the three expeditions were selected by weather students after rummaging over a large mass of data submitted by Soviet officials. They asked regarding the probability of cloudless skies, calculated where the eclipse would be in the total stage and sought the most easily reached community. Clouds may ruin all the preparations and make the trip a disappointment and a failure. Thus pecial attention was given to the chances for clear skies. The odds now favor the scientists' success.

The Harvard University-Massa husetts Institute of Technology joint expedition will make observations from a camp at Akbulak in Central Asia. At the same location will be Dr. and Mrs. Irvine C Gardner, experts from the U. S. bureau of standards, who will specialize in photographic observations. The third group will be the Georgetown University - National Geographic Society expedition, which has established headquarters near Kustanai in the Siberian portion of the U. S. S. R.

Previous color photographs of the sun's "rim" have not been as distinct as experts have wanted. Artists have made hurried sketches of the colors, but solar experts have always wanted some reproduction which did not depend so much on the human element, always considered a variable color.

Sullivan had a fling at first base, too, but all the time he really wanted to catch, He's a catcher in Cleveland, and it will be all right with him if he remains a catcher as long as he emains active.

Sullivan has the mechanical ability which, together with his back-ground and the coaching of Wally chang and Steve O'Neill, should make him one of the outstanding catchers in the big leagues. That would be all right with his dad,

You can safely go ahead and name Billy Herman, of the Chicago Cubs, and Charlie Gehringer, of the Detroit Tig-ers, as the two leading second eman in the major leagues. But if you want to find yourself with a real argument on

Our own private straw vote among the ball players indicates that these two are pretty evenly matched, with the edge —a mighty small one at best— going to the Tiger star. The general opinion is that Herman is a bit more flashy in the field while Gehringer, a finished per-former, handles even the most difficult chances with grace and case. At the plate this season Gehringer appears to have the edge.

WASHINGTON-The sudden and obtrusive resignation of Ralph W. Morrison from the federal reserve board has attracted no great attention, but around this mysterlous Texan has developed one of the most unusual and important inside stories of the new deal.

It is particularly important now because this is the day of big campaign contributions to both parties, and the case of Morrison illustrates what campaign funds may do, During the 1932 campaign, Morrison contributed $50,000 to the Roosevelt war chest, ranking closely after Barney Branch and Joe Kennedy as one of the top contributors.
