High Style In French Provincial Circus Theme Is Used At Class Banquet Here

By MARGARET KERNODE AP Feature Service Writer
This French Provincial group is displayed by a New York department store as high style this fall.

It's more or less after Louis XV and all the other Louises.
The love seat is upholstered with antique satin which is very popular this season.
The cotton print for the fabric of the chair at the right has a background of green, a favorite color for French Provincial decorations.

The chintz chair at the left has another shade of green for the background of the larger print.
Accessories are antique brass and pewter lamps, an authentic old china hot chocolate pot in green and an original painting.
For this showing the store painted patterns on composition floors instead of using carpets.

Miss Laneous Notes

By MARY WHALEY

Reading Superman and stories about the year 2040 that have been appearing lately got us to thinking again. Wouldn't it be a big time saver to have little pills labeled food and sleep that could be consumed?

S a y y o u were tired, zip take a little pill containing 8 hours sleep and be done with it. If you were hungry, take another labeled three-course dinner, and that would be over.

Don't mistake us, sleeping is fine and so is eating and we do our share of both but it does take up an awful lot of time that could be spent doing more interesting things.

There are only 24 hours in a day and seven anyway are spent for sleeping and three for eating. That leaves only 14 hours. Somebody came along and started a rumor about working eight hours a day and that leaves but six hours in which to read, pursue a hobby and enjoy the things that are the most fun to do.

But if those ten hours spent sleeping and eating could be condensed to a few seconds, look at all the time left for fun.

Maybe when folks fly through the air and traffic signals are installed above cities to regulate airplanes, some one will figure out how to do this.

However, by that time, we probably will be gone, having worried to death about what to eat and how to work sleeping into a busy day.

What is a turkey doing in an October gasoline ad?

It's rushing the season a little to broadcast the picture of the great American bird before Thanksgiving... but it dramatizes and highlights the money-saving facts about a remarkable motor fuel which does not rush the season!

NEW Phillips 66 Poly Gas is not merely high test without higher price. It is the right high-test for the month in which you buy it. Matched and re-matched to your weather every thirty days. Proved by continuous laboratory and field surveys to be more accurately engineered, all year 'round, to the month-by-month differences in climate than any other gasoline.

Today, NEW Phillips 66 Poly Gas is better than ever. At regular price... mind you, no premium... it delivers practically the same kind of anti-knock performance for which you formerly had to pay 2¢ extra-per-gallon. And even now, premium price gasolines only infrequently equal or exceed the volatility (high test) of NEW Phillips 66 at its lower cost.

Let your own motor convince you. Feel that difference after stopping for a trial tankful... at any Orange and Black 66Shield.

4 SW Teams Get Barker's Vote To Win

By HERB BARKER
NEW YORK, Oct. 4 (AP)—At the week's football winners and maybe hitting a few: Tennessee-Duke: Two great Southern powers in Saturday's stand-out game, marked by a renewal of the personal rivalry between Bob Neyland and Wallace Wade. The coin spins and says... Tennessee.

Minnesota - Nebraska: Another even-stephan affair. Minnesota looked fast and alert against Washington; Nebraska supposedly is coming up with a real powerhouse such as the Huskers used to put on the field. Out of the hat... Nebraska.

Cornell-Colgate: Cornell Southern California - Oregon State: A fier on Oregon State.

Northwestern over Syracuse.

Ohio State-Purdue: Those Buckeyes look like the goods. Ohio State.

Pitt-Missouri: It's just possible Paul Christianman will pass the Panthers this but this hunch ballot goes to Pitt.

Indiana-Texas: One of the toughest of them all. Bo McMillin may have a sleeper at Indiana this year but the choice here is Texas.

Michigan over Michigan State. Santa Clara over U. C. L. A. Yale over Virginia. Stanford over Oregon. St. Mary's over California. Washington over Idaho. Texas Christian-Arkansas: No way to judge so the coin says T. C. U.

Texas Aggies-Tulane: The Aggies but it might be close.

Southern Methodist - North Texas Teachers: Baylor just got past the Teachers a week ago but the choice must be Southern Methodist.

Rice-Centenary: Taking Rice.

Marquette-Wisconsin: Probably close but we'll take a chance on Wisconsin.

Tulane-Auburn: It's hard to believe Tulane is as bad as it looked against Boston College. Put it down to sheer stubbornness but this vote goes to Tulane.

Louisiana State - Holy Cross: Don't risk any fortune on this. Out comes the coin and reads... Holy Cross.

Kansas State-Colorado: A fier on Colorado.

Oklahoma-Oklahoma A. & M.: Picking Oklahoma.

Denver-Baylor: Taking Baylor.

Baylor Goes To Mountains For Battle With Denver U. Frog-Porker In SW Loop Opener Sat.

DALLAS, Oct. 4 (AP)—The Baylor Bear goes over the mountain in mile-high Denver tonight, moving Southwest conference clubs into a cluster of six weekend games, one of which opens league play.

The Baylor leave the prairies of Texas to enter the rarified atmosphere of the Rockies for a date with tough Denver University, and the homefolk are leery of it all because of the sudden climate change.

Only last Saturday Colorado university slipped down into Austin and lasted about 35 minutes, giving way to weariness and fatigue that permitted Texas to run four touchdowns over them in the fading minutes.

The tip is that Baylor, usually dependent upon a hard running game, may switch to an easier-going aerial routine against a Denver team that opened last week with a victory over Iowa State.

Big Jack Wilson, the tremendous Baylor ball carrier, and his old running mate, Jimmy Witt, Weldon Bigony and Milton Merka, will be ready. Too, it is almost certain that sophomore Milton Crain, the 210-pound speedster, will be ready after nursing hurts for two weeks.

Climate or no climate, it's Baylor in these books—with a very sudden reversal of the form they showed against North Texas State last Saturday.

To Bloomington, Ind., goes Texas for an afternoon with Bo McMillin's Indiana Hoosiers. One of the closest games of the nation's card, with Cowboy Jack Crain and the brilliant Hal Hurst slated for a duel, it could go either way. But D. X. Ebbie started his crew in the right direction by swamping Colorado and should shave past the Hoosiers with a superior passing attack.

Over in Fort Worth the Arkansas Razorbacks, old fixtures of Texas Christian, come to town for conference opener. The Christians have more than first suspicion—a grand collection of sophomore backs who can scat.

If the going gets too rough, Kyle Gillespie, the one-man gang, is likely to bow in for the first time this season, despite his knee.

Coach Dutch Meyer kept him out of the Centenary game and has indicated he would be used only in emergencies during the Arkansas battle. These two teams play hair-raisers annually, but TCU should put it away on speed and defensive play.

Baptism of Jesse Institute under a new regime—the Jess Neely regime—takes place at Houston tomorrow night.

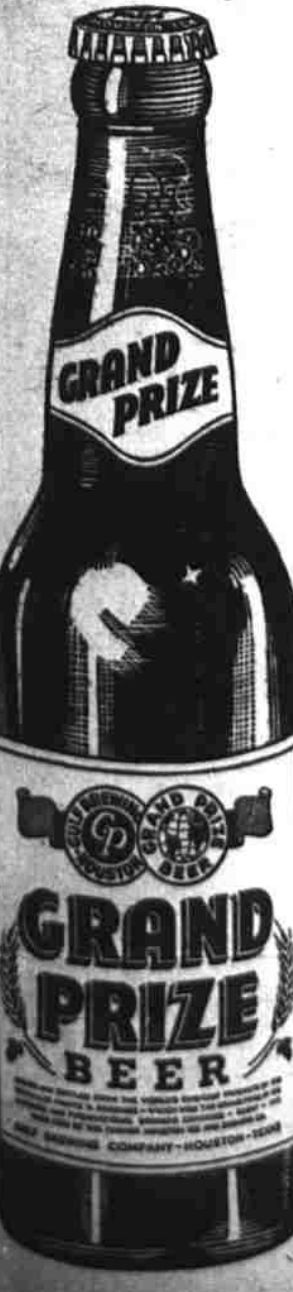

The Owls, a faster, better conditioned team than Owl supporters have seen in years, start off against battered Centenary, which, with eager sophomores in the lineup after a general overhauling by TCU, may be a good bet. Neely has in T. A. Weems, Gene Keel and Dick Dweck, a likely trio of soph to sandwich in with a flock of veteran backs and linemen.

Rice to give Neely an appropriate send-off—but not an avalanche.

The Texas Aggies play at San Antonio against Tulsa. Its another Aggie victory, going away. Tulsa has a rough club, one that has almost dared John Klmbrough and Jim Thomason, two very destructive forces, to run against it. At last reports, brothers Klmbrough and Thomason had accepted the challenge, which means football hungry San Antonio will see lots of power.

Southern Methodist, suddenly struck at the vital tackle posts, will be missing two giants in the line but should prove that North Texas' showing against Baylor was a "one night stand." The Methodists, back in the sunshine and dry weather after licking U. C. L. A. on a dew-covered field at night, should romp with passes and runs from nine veteran backs.

Port Arthur, Longview In Grid Spotlight

By the Associated Press
A battle between Longview and Port Arthur at Longview headlined a schedule of 44 Texas schoolboy football games today and tonight as the campaign completes its first month.

Undeclared and untied — and each unscored on—the game will go a long way toward setting up the favorite in the lower bracket of the state race.

Amarillo's mighty Sandies meet Capitol Hill of Oklahoma City at Amarillo in another outstanding game—a game in which the high-ranking Sandartom is due to be sorely tested.

Five games were played last night with Arlington Heights beginning its search for the Fort Worth district title with a 29-7 victory over Poly and favored Brackenridge downing Harlandale 27-6 in the San Antonio district.

Lamar beat Milby 18-0 in a Houston district conference game.

Arlington defeated Class A Weatherford 25-7 and Bowie (EI Paso) battled Mexico City Y. M. C. A. to a 13-13 tie in an international encounter at El Paso.

Receipts Off In First Two Series Duels

CINCINNATI, Ohio, Oct. 4 (AP) Serious Salutes on the series!
Unless attendance picks up a bit at Detroit today in the third game of the world series, the principal actors in the big baseball classic are liable to get a slight slash in cash.

The first two games at Yankee Stadium last year attracted 118,332 paying customers, the cash register's ringing to the chery tune of $445,058. This year, in the limited-capacity Cincinnati park, the two tilts drew only 62,443 fans, and receipts of $292,542.10.

The players cash in on only the first four games, so the Detroit fans better flock into the stadium today and tomorrow if they want the boys to get the right kind of a bonus for their good work this season.

Of course, the Tigers and the Reds aren't the only ones who will go hungry this winter if the sale isn't "upped," for the next three clubs in each loop cut a slice out of the world series coin.

And that fund, which for the first two scraps last year soared to $151,319.72, is down to $99,464.32 this season. Commissioner Kennesaw Mountain Landis, who took about 90 players away from the Tiger chain this year and then set back to watch them take the American loop hunting, also comes in for a slash, on present returns.

The judge, who derived $66,758.70 from the first two 1939 games, has only $43,880.31 coming from the Cincinnati set.

Yearlings To Face S'Angelo Here Today

Today is a day of rest for Big Spring's Steers but Coach Carl Coleman's Yearlings will take on the San Angelo Crimson Tide on the home field for their second game of the season.

Coleman's crew, although losing their initial test to Lamesa's Whirlwinds, are slated to throw power into the fray against today's foe. A lot depends on the strength shown in Doyle Stewart's drives through the visitors' line.

The Yearlings will probably run a tight formation against the Crimson Tide in order to better make use of straight line pushes.

Probable starting lineup for Big Spring: Bagley and Dearing, ends; Brown and Boykin, tackles; Coffee and Smith, guards; McDonald, center; Massey and E. Boatick, halfbacks; Matlock, quarter; Stewart, fullback.

Probable starting lineup for San Angelo: Schultz and Bailey, ends; Clendenen and Jones, tackles; Thompson and Winans, guards; Weatherby, center; Chase, quarterback; Ford and Dodson, halfbacks; Hill, fullback.

Game time is at 3:30.

Armstrong To Defend Title

NEW YORK, Oct. 4 (AP) — Hammer's Henry Armstrong, the record-dusting fighting man since the Marquis of Queensbury wrote the book, adds another mark tonight for the flatter of the future to shoot at.

The little buzz-saw, who skyrocketed out of Los Angeles four years ago with his fearful pace and solid, wearing punches, and became the first fighter to hold three world championships simultaneously, takes the 20th defense of his welterweight crown against the challenge of rough, tough Fritz Zivic in Madison Square Garden. Some 15,000 customers and a gate of $40,000 are expected for the festivities.

Henry is favored at odds of 1 to 3.

Lamesa Due For Uphill Odessa Battle

LAMESA, Oct. 4 (SpL)—In dead earnest about trying to upset the Odessa Bronchos in the first conference game, Lamesa Golden Tornadoes left here this afternoon well aware that they have an uphill battle tonight in Odessa.

While not in the pink of physical condition, the Tornadoes were nevertheless free of serious injuries except for McClendon, substitute guard, who bears a couple of fractured ribs from the rough Tahoka game last week.

Practice sessions during the week have been generally light except for a torrid scrimmage session Tuesday. Coach Ted McCollum saw to it that no cockiness crept into the rehearsal because of three pre-conference victories.

Odessa, due to its record against earlier opposition, is favored in the tilt. On a muddy field, the Bronchos held Lubbock, defending state champions, to a one touchdown victory. Last week they rallied back to walloper the Ranger Bulldogs by a 59-0 count with second stringers doing most of the chores.

The Tornadoes opened with a 19-0 win over their traditional rival, the Slaton Tigers, then came back with a story-book ending to vanquish the strong Roswell, N. M., squad 12-7. Last Friday Tahoka almost stalled the offensive power of the Lamesa youngsters and left the lads pretty well battered before yielding a 12-0 victory to Lamesa.

Thursday McCollum gave his boys a day of rest in anticipation of the Odessa struggle. While decidedly the underdogs, team members were said to be conceding nothing to the Bronchos and their red-hot Hogan.

Several hundred Lamesa fans were due to follow the team and the 72-piece Tornado band under the direction of Conway King to the Odessa county seat.

Reds 'Are Revived Club After Downing Tigers

LOOKING 'EM OVER With Jack Douglas

This Friday night Pat Murphy's boys will be able to sit in the stands and pass judgment on the showings made by other teams throughout the district. In view of the fact that Odessa is their opponent in their initial loop tilt next Friday, we are of the opinion that the Lamesans, who will be on the field with a strong Broncho troupe, will not be much more interested in the strength displayed by Odessa than will Big Spring.

The Odessa aggregation is considered the team to be beaten in the Steers' minds, although the close of the session is liable to erase such thoughts from their line of thinking. Odessa turned in an outstanding score against its foe of last week, Ranger, but this exhibition might not have been a true picture of Pony strength because the Ranger crew is considered an extremely weak one this year. It is our guess that Odessa will edge Lamesa's Tornadoes tonight, but not without a little more of a struggle than they seem to be expecting. The impressive record of no defeats for the year so far can not be ignored. After all, that is what gives a team a boost, the ability to turn in winning scores. Evidently, Lamesa must have something or it could not have beaten a good Roswell team.

The down-trodden Cincinnati Reds gave the works to a bunch of prophets yesterday who had said Manager McKechnie's lads were just a complete washout. Rallying behind the dependable arm of old Bucky Walters and backing up the hurling with some mighty influential hits, the Reds got the idea across that, although they might not win the series, at least were not going to do the fadeout that marked last year's sessions with the New York Yankees. Prospects of another four up and four down match for the world title evidently gave Cincinnati the inspiration to deliver the goods.

WILL ROUNDUP ANTELOPE WITH PLANE NEXT MONTH

An airplane will replace hard-riding horsemen when the Texas Game, Fish and Oyster commission resumes the trapping of antelope in West Texas next month, it is announced by the executive secretary of the game department. Trapping of antelope on over-grazed areas and the transporting of them to less heavily grazed land is necessary because the fleet game animals will not jump fences higher than three feet.

The game department, using a technique developed by the New Mexico game department, trapped nearly 300 antelope near Sterling City last fall. Horsemen were used to round up the antelope and drive them through a series of pens into a net corral, where they were picked up, placed in crates and transported to their new homes, some times more than 200 miles distant. Despite the fact antelope are extremely wild when attempts are made to drive them, so successful was the trapping of them last year that only six of the animals were killed.

Experiments by game managers in attempting to turn antelope in any direction desired by the use of an airplane has proved successful, the executive secretary said. With a plane flying no lower than 500 feet, antelope can be directed. It is expected that not only will the game department be able to cut its trapping crew from a dozen men to four, but that twice as many antelope can be trapped in half the time. This will mean an appreciable saving to the department and also that more areas suitable for antelope which are not now stocked can be populated with the pronghorns.

There is now a closed season on antelope in Texas due to the fact that the animals decreased to a few thousand because of over-shooting. The game department is working toward an open season.

This will mark the first attempt by any game department to round up and trap antelope by use of an airplane.

If the rounding up of antelope with an airplane is as successful as it is expected, several hundred additional sections of West Texas land may soon be populated with the excellent game animal. More than 200 sections of land were stocked with the pronghorns trapped last year. Antelope will not thrive in wooded areas, but there is much open land in West Texas upon which they will do well.

Antelope trapping is one of the half dozen game restoration projects being carried on by the game department under the Pittman-Robertson program with the aid of federal funds, which are obtained by an excise tax on arms and ammunition.

In addition to rounding up antelope, it is possible the plane, which will be leased, will be used for making game surveys and is impossible to make accurate counts of big game by surveys from the ground. It takes but a short time to count big game in any given area from the air. Such information is extremely useful in game management.

Weldon Bigony, 187-pound Baylor fullback from Big Spring, is ready to go in the Bruins' invasion of Denver university at the mile-high city Saturday. Bigony is considered one of the most improved players on the Baylor squad by Passengers can go from Miami to Rio de Janeiro in two days and seven hours on a projected flight. Coach Morley Jennings.

Grid Sextets In Crucial Tests Today

COURTNEY, Oct. 4 (SpL) — Courtney's Eagles will meet Forsan's six-man football crew this afternoon in the Courtney Gray Bowl in a match scheduled to be an outstanding battle. Last Friday Courtney went to Water Valley and thumped their host 19-14. The Forsan squad dropped a game to Sexters on the same day, 13-6. Both sextets have played three games each this season, winning two and losing one.

Courtney's loss to Garden City and Forsan's loss to Garner were both considered upsets, as Garner and Garden City were considered comparatively weak.

Since Courtney and Forsan are in good condition, and are holders of the same records for the year, a good crowd is expected to see what both teams have when pitted against each other.

The six-man grid yard is rounded out with engagements between Garner and Sterling City at the latter place, Water Valley at Comaha, and Westbrook at Garden City. These sextets are moving into the middle part of round robin play.

Bridges Takes Mound Today For Detroit

DETROIT, Oct. 4 (AP)—A few well-spaced smacks by Cincinnati's batters and one beautifully pitched game by Bucky Walters had changed the entire complexion of the 1940 world series as the reviving Reds tackled the Detroit Tigers in the third struggle of the autumn series at Briggs Stadium today.

Before yesterday's game anybody who would have offered a dime for the Reds' chances must either have been psychic or an incurable sentimentalist. The National league champions had looked plain terrible as they lost the opening game at Cincinnati, 7 to 2, and they were the first to admit it.

Today they had to be accounted almost a new ball club. They finally had crashed through and won a world series game, 5 to 3. Bill McKechnie's boys, who have felt for two years that they were a fine ball club, were riding the crest of victory and confidence that they were on the brink of showing the American leaguers a thing or two.

It was a brand-new series as full of fight as a mountain boater. A majority of the country's baseball writers who crammed a special train from Cincinnati last night were feeling much better about their original hunch that the Reds were due to win.

There was some substance to their feeling, since Walters had won his game and the Reds had knocked Schoolboy Rowe, Detroit's second-best pitcher, from the hill. The Reds appeared to be in vastly better shape for pitching.

Detroit's logical pitcher today—in fact, about the only flinger Del Baker could call upon—was the veteran Tommy Bridges. This admittedly would be Tommy's last appearance in the big series. Great star as he has been, Tommy is 34 years of age. He was tired in the latter stages of the American league race and was knocked from the box the last two times he started.

The Reds, on the other hand, had made it try to follow the example set by Walters yesterday. It either would be "Milkman" Jim Turner or Junior Thompson, either of whom would be a welcome addition to the Detroit staff at this juncture. And after this pair the Reds could come right back with Paul Dorringer, who was knocked from the hill in the opening game, somewhat inexplicably.

Whatever happened today, the invaders looked the best for pitchers. The Detroiters, whose spokesman was the almost silent Del Baker, had Hank Greenberg and York, who are bad when they stand up there swinging the polished oak. Cincinnati had the pitching edge. It made it fairly even. It looked like a seven-gamer.

An individual hero? Outside of Bucky Walters, who limited Detroit to three hits yesterday, that probably would be Jimmy Ripple.

He is a somewhat corpulent young gent, who was sent kiting first by the New York Giants and then by the Brooklyn Dodgers. Neither team considered him a big leaguer. Yesterday he came up, all unbeknownst, and slapped a fine left-handed home run into the far distant right field stands with a mate on base. That was the Reds' winning margin.

Major Advances In Styling And Engineering Noted In Chrysler Lines For 1941, Now Being Shown Here

The 1941 Chrysler Royal four-door sedan. This car features completely new bodies with additional roominess and a wide variety of upholstery and trim, a new Vacumatic Transmission giving automatic safety control, a "Spitfire" engine and many other improvements. Fluid Drive is now available on the complete Chrysler line, standard on the eights and optional on the sixes.

In the opinion of company officials, based on an imposing array of facts, the 1941 Chrysler line embodies the greatest improvements that this manufacturer ever has made from one model year to another. These improvements cover every phase of development—appearance, roominess, performance, comfort, safety and long life. Fluid Drive, an exclusive development of Chrysler Corporation engineers available for the last two years on the higher-priced Chrysler line, is now standard equipment on all eights and has been extended to all of the lower-priced cars in the line, on which it is offered as optional equipment at nominal extra cost. The new Chryslers are now being shown by the Marvin Hull Motor company, 207 Gould. The most striking and most readily apparent change for 1941 is in the new "Airflow" body, which has been completely redesigned, as have the hood and fenders. This change has brought two betterments, a greatly improved appearance and a considerable addition to the passenger space. Bodies are longer, and wider but at the same time lower. The over-all height of the car has been reduced 1-2 inches. Much of the additional roominess has been achieved where it counts most, below the window line. The body bells out at this point, so that on either front or rear seats three large adults can ride in perfect comfort. The name "Airflow" has been given to the new body because it is an ultra-modern development of the famous Airflow Chrysler, which, introduced at the beginning of the 1934 model year, completely revised previous conceptions of the body design and greatly influenced the whole industry. The 1941 Chrysler body is, however, a very notable advance over the original Airflow. Mechanically the car has been improved by a number of entirely new features and by innumerable refinements. Horsepower has been stepped up by refinements in engine design and by the use of a new type of multiple-jet carburetor, which both increases horsepower and promotes economy of operation. There are jets for idling, for normal driving and "Spitfire" jets that come into action when the driver "steps on it." A new type of thin habit, main and crankshaft bearings achieved by

Defense Spending Is Not Yet Up To Budget Figures

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3 (AP)—The United States has been spending about $6,600,000 a day for defense since July 1, but it will have to step up the rate almost three-fold in the next nine months to meet budget bureau estimates. The cash outlay for defense in the first quarter of this fiscal year was announced yesterday by the treasury as $394,975,380. The budget bureau had estimated $5,000,000 would be spent during the 12-month period. However, the defense commission reported that it had cleared contracts aggregating $7,600,000,000 in the three months, and a higher rate of actual spending was expected as a consequence. Treasury outlays for all purposes during the quarter amounted to $2,229,266,771. Texas had eight capitals before it was admitted to the union as a state. Blueberries require well drained soil, especially while they are growing.

WASHINGTON—The battle of the buttons is on and while we, from this observation post, wouldn't call it a Waterloo or a Gettysburg, it is presenting some minor skirmishes that are well worth recording.

At Chicago the button assembly line must have been working ahead of time, because the vote for Roosevelt hadn't been officially tabulated when a few thousand button-holders blossomed with boutonniere for the president.

CONFUSINGLY SIMILAR

What I've never been able to get over is that some button salesman must have been double dealing. Hundreds and thousands of the buttons were the same, except that some were stamped "Willkie," others "Roosevelt."

Man About Manhattan

AT SEA—This ship is over-run with young Puerto Rican students enroute to scores of universities and seminaries throughout the United States. Every year at this time they make the journey to New York, then scatter—some going to Tulane, some Clemson, others to Ohio State.

These students have portable phonographs and stacks of rumba and cat-music records. They dance constantly. They can all speak English but seldom stray from their native Spanish.

Hollywood Sights And Sounds

HOLLYWOOD—Mr. Egbert Souze (pronounced So-Say, please) stood at the bar of the Black Pussy Cat, munching a clove with the air of a connoisseur, tapping the counter with nervously rhythmic fingers and mumbling, or seeming about to mumble, some pearl of alcoholic wisdom.

Thus another W. C. Fields movie got under way the other day, minus Mae West but backed by Director Eddie Cline.

As they first rehearsed it, Bill Wolfe sidled in to the stance beside Fields, who merely looked up from his ruminating chatter on the clove and inquired of the stranger whether he'd ever done any boondoggling. Three rehearsals later, Bill Fields was doing a "take"—exaggerated surprise—at looking up and finding a stranger beside him.

Once, in Fields' spot, observing Bill Wolfe's planted preoccupation with his wardrobe, Cline wound up ad-libbing, touching Bill's coat appraisingly—"Army and Navy?"—and Bill Fields chuckled "Good line." But when Fields got back in, his version was "Nice piece of goods . . . hm-m-m . . . Walk upstairs?" And they dropped the whole idea.

No two rehearsals were alike, no two "takes" were alike. Bill Fields ad libbed a different finish each time. Once, ordering his "poultice" with a chaser, he downed the "whisky" and used the chaser as a finger bowl.

Makes Bond And Announces For Senate Race

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 4 (AP)—Democratic National Committeeman James A. Noe today announced for the United States senate in 1942 as he left the federal building after making bond for $5,000 on a federal charge of income tax evasion in 1935.

"I'm mighty happy to let you boys take the picture of Louisiana's next United States senator," Noe said, grinning broadly.

Noe was indicted yesterday with Seymour Weiss and the Win or Lose corporation for allegedly paying themselves large fictitious salaries as president and vice president of the corporation in order to cover up a division of profits and dividends to the six stockholders including Huey P. Long.

Native Texan, In England, Gives Calm Recital Of Nazi Air Attacks

Amazingly calm in tone, the letters reflect the underlying determination of the English, the undying courage that ultimately—if not soon—the war will end with destruction of the totalitarian scourge.

Lady Conway is a native Texan and spent her early life here. Many old residents remember her as a member of the younger set and as a sister of D. W. Christian, Jr., Big Spring. Her English husband succumbed more than a year ago, leaving her a large estate which includes Saltwood, a native English castle, a fortress within itself.

Because Tunbridge Wells is located southeast of England in "Hell's Corner"—so named because it is the lane through which invading Nazi aircraft fly on their way to attempt attacks on London—Lady Conway has come to regard air battles and bombings as an almost every-day happening.

"Don't Worry About Me"

Speaking of mounting intensity of aerial assaults, she said that "Mrs. Clements sat under the stairs all night. Miss Baird, Miss Judge and I slept in our rooms. As we have no real shelter here, I think it is so much safer at Saltwood... So we are all going today. Of course, I'll keep the place as a refuge in case of need and still come back and forth."

"Don't worry about me. We hope all this war will soon be over and we can live a normal, peaceful life again."

Perhaps a more graphic account of happenings is contained in a letter she penned at Saltwood castle early in September. She wrote:

"Miss Judge came here with us and has been thrilled watching the air-battles from a tower which has a top. Every time the planes come over she rushes for her 'front-row seat' as she calls it.

"Now they generally fly very high over here on their way inland and get on alone here, but occasionally the fighters come lower and we have seen planes falling. One German crashed in my distant woods, bringing down some trees.

Gets Horses To Cover

"The farmer (my tenant) is very brave. He goes on getting in his crop until the planes get very low overhead and then he gets the horses under cover, he says, expressing no fear for himself, in spite of the fact that he had an incendiary bomb drop in his hay crop, which set alight some hay stacks; but it was quickly put out. I watched the plane which just dropped them as it carefully rose to avoid the castle.

"Perhaps they think this would not be so easily destroyed or are using it as a land-mark.

"The courage these people around here show is amazing; they go on about their business accepting the fighting overhead and the noise of the big guns as a matter of course. The real danger in being out of doors is from falling shrapnel when they are overhead, but I now have a steel helmet, which I put on if I am caught out before I can get under cover."

"Miss Baird is not so frightened now but does not bother to watch. She says the noise gives her a headache.

"It is a pity all this disturbance should occur when we might enjoy in full this lovely summer. Never have I known a more beautiful one, day after day of glorious sunshine. The garden is as beautiful as ever, and the woods are lovely with their masses of green foliage.

"The fruit crop is especially abundant this year. Trees are loaded with apples, and never have I seen such a prolific crop of plums. I have had so many I did not know what to do with them, and have given away bushels—and a car load to the Vicarage to distribute among the poor.

"We have made so much jam and jelly we wonder if we will ever be able to eat it all. We have heard that over there people think we are short of food, but that is not so; there is an ample supply of essential things."

"Lady Conway seemed more concerned in each letter about the health of her family here than for her own safety.

They declared that in event of a repetition they might invoke German espionage laws under which they said, foreign journalists will fall as well as anybody else.
