

Name Spence As Compact Commissioner

In a fast cycle of events involving water matters of the state, E. V. Spence of Big Spring today was named Interstate Compact Commissioner.

Earlier, Governor Beauford Jester asked the Senate to allow him to withdraw his appointment of Spence as chairman of the State Board of Water Engineers, and this was granted.

At the same time the governor submitted Spence's name for confirmation as Compact Commissioner, and within a few minutes this appointment was confirmed.

This turn of events ended a stalemate which has existed ever since the legislature went into session. Sen. Kilmer Corbin of this district had opposed Spence's confirmation to the Water Board, and because of his stand the governor's nomination had never gotten to the Senate floor for formal action.

In a long distance conversation with The Herald shortly after noon, Sen. Corbin said, however, that he "was happy to vote for the confirmation of Mr. Spence as Compact Commissioner."

The position of Compact Commissioner was created in a House bill recently signed by the governor. It authorized such official to represent Texas in negotiating compacts with New Mexico, Oklahoma and Louisiana for the division of waters of the Canadian, Red and Sabine rivers.

This bill, effective immediately, calls for a salary of $6,600 for the Compact Commissioner.

The Herald could not reach Spence by telephone, but presumably he will assume the new duties promptly. That the appointment to this post, together with retirement from the Water Board, is satisfactory to both Governor Jester and to Spence was indicated by Sen. Corbin.

"We worked out a happy compromise on this thing," Sen. Corbin told The Herald. "I have had nothing against Mr. Spence, have had no desire to be vindictive toward him, and feel that his knowledge of water affairs will be of vast benefit to the state as he serves as Compact Commissioner."

Many West Texans, including Big Spring people, have endeavored in vain to get Sen. Corbin's assent to the Water Board confirmation. Interests in the shallow water irrigation belt in the Plains area, however, had opposed the Spence appointment, and Sen. Corbin said that he felt he owed representation to those interests.

CONFINED TO PALACE

Reds Succeed In Silencing Beran

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia, June 23. (AP)—Catholic priests said today that Czechoslovakia's Communist government apparently has succeeded in clamping a wall of silence around Archbishop Josef Beran.

The archbishop is in semi-captivity now in his palace in Prague. The informants said all their contacts with him had been broken off since last week end.

Vatican informants and informed diplomatic sources here expressed the belief Archbishop Beran might be formally arrested at any time. The Communist regime has accused him of anti-state agitation. He has resisted the Communists' campaign to bring the church under state control and to crush the influence of the Vatican in Czechoslovakia.

According to the priests here, the Communists seem now to have sealed any loopholes through which the archbishop might smuggle another pastoral letter of defiance. Last week end Archbishop Beran emerged from the palace and made two sermons in which he accused the government of trying to split the church and crush religious freedom.

The Communist-sponsored Catholic Action Society leadership defied Vatican excommunication last night and accused Beran and his followers of anti-state activity.

A similar charge was leveled against Archbishop Beran Tuesday night by Premier Antonin Zapotocky who warned that the law will take its course.

Archbishop Beran and the Vatican have denounced the government-sponsored Catholic action on the grounds that it intends to split the church and permeate it with anti-Christian ideas.

RECOVER 24 BODIES

30 To 40 Killed As Plane Crashes

BARI, Italy, June 23. (AP)—A four-engine KLM (Royal Dutch Airlines) plane crashed in the sea off this southeastern Italian port today, killing between 30 and 40 persons.

American, Dutch and Turkish were said to have been aboard. Apparently there were no survivors. A Bari port official said 24 bodies had been recovered, many badly burned. These included 16 men, five women and three children, he said.

Recovery of other bodies believed trapped in the wreckage was hindered by choppy seas. The plane crashed in bright, clear weather. Some accounts said the transport went down in flames from a height of about 15,000 feet.

At the same time the governor submitted Spence's name for confirmation as Compact Commissioner, and within a few minutes this appointment was confirmed.

NOTED EXPERT ON EXPLOSIVES SLAIN

AMARILLO, June 23. (AP)—Tex Thornton, renowned, death-defying oil field trouble shooter, was found slain in a tourist court here today.

Police said a shirt and towel were wound tightly about his throat. The famed explosives expert, about 60, was president of the U. S. Nitroglycerin Co. of Amarillo.

Justice of the Peace C. W. Carter, said he had been killed about midnight. Jesse May Walker, a Negro maid at the Park Plaza tourist court found the body about 8:30 o'clock this morning.

Police said Thornton came to the tourist court late last night with a young man and a young woman, Fred Fairleigh, manager of the motel, said the woman, about 22, registered. The age of the young man also was estimated at 22. The time they left the tourist court had not been determined.

There was blood on Thornton's face and his shoulders. The funeral home which took the body said there were two skull fractures.

J. L. King, chief of Amarillo detectives, said no weapon had been found. Mixed drinks were in glasses on tables in the tourist court room. Thornton's body was identified from cleaning marks on his clothing and from the large leather belt he wore marked "Tex."

Thornton was active to the time of his death—handling explosives in oil fields.

Police have been instructed to tighten enforcing a city ordinance prohibiting the sweeping of trash into the streets, City Manager H. W. Whitney announced this morning.

Crews have been working each night this week cleaning sand and rubbish from downtown gutters, Whitney said. "The street sweeping machine and several hand crews have been kept busy."

The city manager asked the cooperation of store owners in keeping streets clean, particularly in view of the American Business Clubs national convention scheduled to start in Big Spring Sunday.

"We want to keep the city clean at all times, however," he said. "An ordinance prohibiting parking between 2:30 and 6:00 a. m. on downtown streets running east and west will also be enforced."

Whitney, who incidentally is chairman of the Army Advisory board, said officials had assumed the Guard to continue in existence due to lack of funds for rental purposes," said Gen. Berry.

Mayor Dabney, who expressed surprise at content and tone of the letter, deferred reply until the next commission meeting. He considered the bluntness and simultaneous circularization of the letter as an ill-concealed attempt to "put on pressure."

Democrats See Victory For Housing Bill

30-Vote Margin Is Claimed by Truman's Leaders in House

WASHINGTON, June 23. (AP)—Administration Democrats confidently predicted victory as the slam-bang House debate on public housing — which started off with a fist fight — went into its second day.

House leaders claimed a margin of 30 votes for President Truman's hotly contested housing bill.

Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex) told reporters the administration is sure to win.

However, lawmakers spearheading an opposition team of Republicans and southern Democrats insisted the issue is still in doubt.

The opposition appeared split over whether to make an all-out fight to kill housing legislation for this year, or offer a substitute.

Opponents shouted "socialism" at the bill yesterday as floor debate opened, and cried that the administration proposal imperils the financial soundness of the government.

The bill's backers—including some Republicans—kept up a running argument that billions put into publicly-owned housing would be a good investment in better citizenship and crime, improving health, and instilling confidence in democracy.

The legislation proposes a vast program of slum clearance, low-rent public housing and farm housing aids. Its cost has been estimated all the way from $7,500,000 to $20,000,000,000.

The tension broke into a fast-swirling brawl yesterday. The principals were the 83-year-old dean of the House, Rep. Sabath (D-Ill), a stout supporter of the bill, and Rep. Cox (D-Ga), 69, a bitter opponent.

Police Will Stop Sweeping Of Trash Into City Streets

Judy Had Plans For Russian Visit

WASHINGTON, June 23. (AP)—Judith Coplon said today that she considered visiting Russia in the spring of 1948, but dropped the idea.

John M. Kelley, Jr., a government prosecutor in her trial on charges of stealing government secrets to give to the Russians, drew out the story.

It was the sixth day for Miss Coplon on the witness stand and the third day in which she has been cross-examined by Kelley.

Kelley said he expects to complete his questioning of the 28-year-old former Justice Department political analyst today.

She denied yesterday that she ever had any intention of going to Russia with Valentine A. Gubitchev, a Russian engineer with whom she was arrested March 4.

Kelley brought this up again, then asked her if she had not inquired whether it would be possible for her to visit Russia in the spring of 1948.

She replied that she did. She added quickly that the implications of Kelley's earlier question was that she considered going to Russia to live. She said she gave up the trip plan because she feared she could not get Russian permission.

Miss Coplon visited western Europe on a vacation trip beginning in May, 1948. Kelley earlier had asked her whether she met any Communists while in Italy and she replied "not to my knowledge."

As Kelley hammered away yesterday at Miss Coplon's story of a kissless romance with Russian Engineer Valentine A. Gubitchev, and Baltimore hotels. Under cross examination by prosecutor John M. Will Go Into Effect After Waiting Period

Attorney General Rules Legislation Is Entirely Legal

AUSTIN, June 23. (AP)—A bill abolishing rent controls in Texas was signed into law today by Governor Beauford H. Jester.

It will become effective 90 days after adjournment of the 51st Legislature plus 15 days for federal processing. Date of adjournment was still uncertain.

The measure that stirred up one of the session's hottest controversies went back to Jester's desk yesterday with an opinion from Atty. Gen. Price Daniel that it would stand up legally.

"The Legislature, in passing House Bill 808 (the decontrol measure) has declared federal rent controls are no longer needed in Texas and, in the same act, has provided that the governing body of any city or town may establish rent control for the duration of a housing emergency in Texas," Jester said.

"I am signing House Bill 808 because this bill, according to a clear and well-reasoned opinion of the attorney general and the answers thereon to the questions in my request for an opinion, is a valid and constitutional law," Jester's statement said.

The statement continued: "It is properly pointed out that the existing emergency must be one of such grave proportions as to affect the health, welfare, safety or morality of the city as a whole. Only under such conditions, indeed, could rent control by any authority be justified.

"Upholding of this home-rule right eliminates or modifies that objection to House Bill 808 that, while the need for rent control has passed in most places, some Texas cities still gravely need it. The opportunity exists for these cities . . . to evaluate the emergency and prepare proper local regulations if they so desire. House Bill 808 will not become effective until 90 days after the 51st Legislature adjourns, and the federal law gives the federal housing expediter another 18 days in which to act."

Jester requested the opinion from Daniel after Federal Housing Expediter Tighe Woods flew here to ask that the bill be vetoed. Woods questioned legality of a provision of the bill authorizing cities to re-establish their own rent controls if they find it necessary to deal with a housing emergency.

Building Plan Gets Senate Group's Okay

AUSTIN, June 23. (AP)—A new bond plan for financing construction of public buildings received U. S. Gov. Allan Shivers' blessing and was approved by a Senate committee today.

Legislative approval of the measure introduced yesterday by Sen. Searcy Braswell of Houston would be a major step toward breaking the log-jam over state finances and would clear the way for quick ending of the session.

It appeared likely this was the route to be followed.

CITY FATHERS DELAY REPLY

Free Guard Armory Rental Here Asked

Surprised, chagrined and chafed, city officials Thursday awaited a meeting of the city commission before replying to a court request for free National Guard armory rental.

In a letter directed to Mayor G. W. Dabney but circulated to the chamber of commerce, the Herald and Army Advisory committee, Maj. Gen. L. Berry asked for a $1 per year lease. Gen. Berry is adjutant general of Texas.

The letter, said City Manager H. W. Whitney, was the first inking the city had that the Guard was dissatisfied with its rental arrangement. Whitney said that the city commission had accepted a Guard proposal of $100 per month for a bomb trainer building at the airport area. Subsequently, he added, at the state's request, remodeling was effected. Costs were to be liquidated at Guard request, he continued, by a $50 per month increase over a fixed period of time.

Gen. Berry, in his letter, took the position that the charge was "particularly unfair, to say the least . . . for any city owned property, in particular when the property was a gift or near gift from the Armed Forces."

He went on to say that many places furnished armories at $1 per year and had, in some instances, had conditioned them at city expense. He also said some others had constructed armories and leased them to the Guard at nominal figures or had deeded land to the Army Board on which the board constructs armory facilities. City and counties, he said, could give monthly support up to $100 for Guard purposes.

"If all Texas communities took the attitude your city is displaying in this matter it would be extremely difficult for the Texas National Guard to continue in existence due to lack of funds for rental purposes," said Gen. Berry.

Mayor Dabney, who expressed surprise at content and tone of the letter, deferred reply until the next commission meeting. He considered the bluntness and simultaneous circularization of the letter as an ill-concealed attempt to "put on pressure."

Whitney, who incidentally is chairman of the Army Advisory board, said officials had assumed the Guard to continue in existence due to lack of funds for rental purposes," said Gen. Berry.

Light Rain Brings Some Relief As City Perches On Horns Of Water Dilemma

Wednesday's light thundershowers brought momentary relief to the city in its water dilemma.

Having established a new record of 5,004,000 gallons for a single day on Wednesday morning, water production eased off Wednesday to 3,990,000 gallons. That gave the water department opportunity to replenish supplies in reservoirs.

The new record came almost a year to the day from the previous high of 4,841,000 required on June 23, 1948. In turn this peak had surpassed one set a few days earlier on June 16, 1948, when 4,782,000 gallons were consumed.

From 8 a. m. Tuesday to 8 a. m. Wednesday, master meters showed that the city produced more than five million gallons for the first time. At that reservoir levels shrank steadily until production heads were uneasy before consumption eased late in the evening. Reservoirs began gaining. Wednesday's slack permitted them to be replenished.

Paradoxical is the city's situation. It has more water in sight in its two lakes alone than the municipality could consume in a year. But only one and a half to one and three-quarters million gallons a day can be squeezed through the line and filter plant from the lakes. That puts pressure on well production at the city park, section 17, section 33, and the O'Barr field in Glasscock county.

In addition, reservoir capacity is comparatively limited. It is somewhere in the neighborhood of two and a half million gallons.

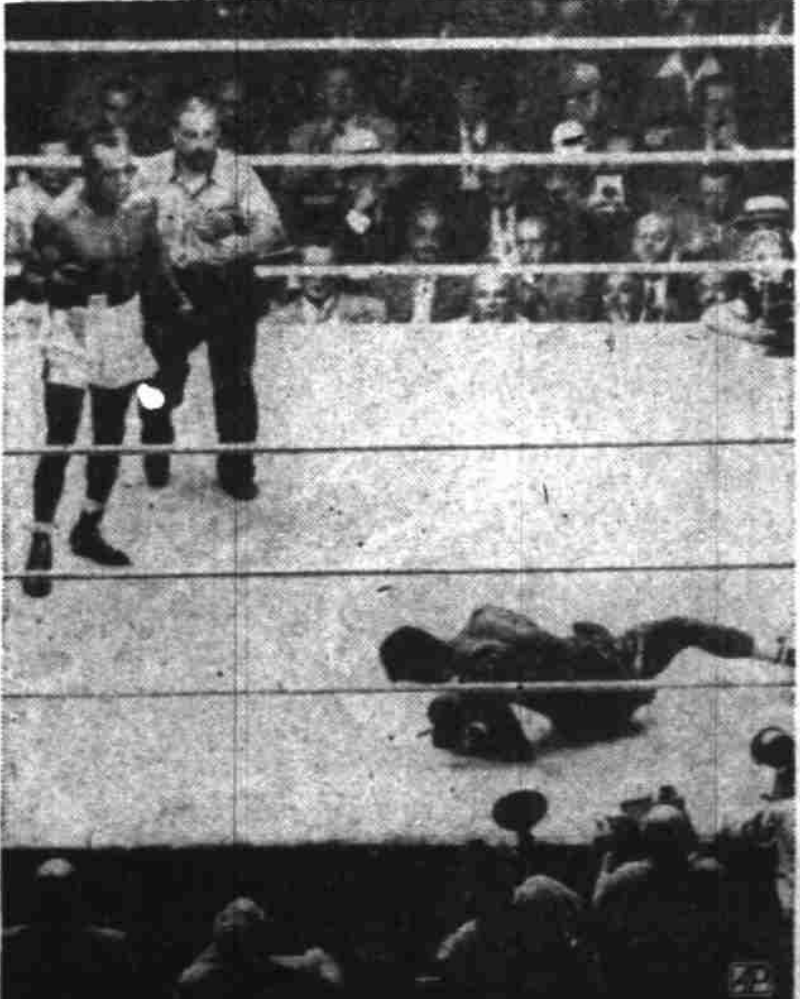

More reservoir space wouldn't solve the situation immediately. The distribution system is right against the ropes at five million gallons per day. Spotted areas in the city, served by small lines made inadequate by rapid residential development, are virtually choked off during unprecedented demand periods.

Were all these areas served with larger lines, there is little doubt that peak consumption would surge upward. It then would be a case of being able to get water when wanted. Now low pressure areas don't consume all the water because it can't be supplied through the small lines.

Gradually these low pressure spots are being eliminated. When the job pulls ahead someday, the city then may need more reservoir capacity. It also will need more pipeline capacity to keep production in pace with consumption.

A sustained increase in demand would ultimately mean need for more basic supply.

Right now the city is in an unusual position. It would like to sell tremendous amounts of water to recoup finances weakened by a two-month period of successive showers. But it is limited by pipeline, reservoir, pumping capacity and distribution lines in the aggregate amount that can be furnished in a single day.

MUM ON PLANS

British May Run Chinese Blockade

SHANGHAI, June 23. (AP) — A British sloop off the mouth of the Yangtze today caused speculation that efforts may be made to run a Nationalist blockade of Chinese Communist ports.

The blockade is scheduled to be clamped on all Chinese Red ports from Fochow northward beginning Sunday.

British sources here were mum on their plans. But the Sloop Black Swan, damaged only a few weeks ago by Communist artillery on the Yangtze, was known to be off the mouth of the river.

American shippers awaited advice from their government and owners before announcing their plans. Some wanted U. S. warships nearby just in case.

Nationalist planes have raided the river front three times in four days. The British Freighter Anchises, was crippled and beached in one of the raids. Apparently Nationalist planes yesterday tried to sink her and block the Whangpoo Channel near its confluence with the Yangtze. A bomb was dropped, but it missed the ship.

HEAT WAVE
Shanghai today felt a "small heat"—Chinese term for the season's first heat wave. The mercury soared to 96 degrees under an overcast that prevented Nationalist planes from getting in, if any tried.

The question of continued publication of the British owned North China Daily News was unsettled. The newspaper has come under Communist criticism for printing stories about a mine scare earlier this month. Some Communist sources demand that the paper be suspended for three days, at least as punishment.

WICHITA FALLS STILL IS WITHOUT POLICE CHIEF IN MUNICIPAL ROW

WICHITA FALLS, June 23. (AP) — Wichita Falls still has no police chief.

A deadlock between Mayor Harold Jones and the city council on the replacement of Chris Jensen was not settled by a straw vote of the Police Department itself last night.

Twice the council has voted to oust Jensen. Each time he has taken his case to court. The latest ruling by District Judge Frank Icard blocked the council's choice of Traffic Officer R. A. Nelson for the post. It involved a question of who had executive powers.

Yesterday, the mayor and council informally agreed to accept the decision by the police department. After Capt. S. J. (Baker) Lawrence received 38 of the 51 votes cast, the council met and adjourned with no action.

Nelson received five votes; Jensen none.

Alderman J. R. Ray talked of "compromise," but the mayor, who has offered Lawrence's name before said he would re-submit his nomination.

Lawrence, 32, was a nominee of Jensen for his captaincy. Nelson, 36, is a long-time foe of the demoted chief.

The dispute began in 1947 when Jensen discharged Police Capt. Ed McDonald, charging "insubordination," and demoted several other officers, including Nelson, on the same charges.

Candidates for city council posts in both 1948 and 1949 became involved in the dispute. The present council was completed in last year's election.

Lives Of 43 Saved By Pilot's Skill As Convair Crash Lands

MEMPHIS, Tenn., June 23.—A pilot's skill and split-second judgment were credited today by the American Airlines with bringing 43 persons alive through a jolting crash landing followed by fire.

Thirty-eight of those aboard the huge two-engine Convair were injured when the airliner crashed two minutes after taking off from Municipal Airport here yesterday.

Spokesmen for American Airlines lauded Capt. Ed Hatch of Memphis for his skill and judgment in crash-landing the craft in a field after skidding it across a highway and into a large tree.

The craft, the Fort Worth-to-New York "City of San Antonio," nosed down three and half miles from here. When Captain Hatch brought it to a stop, company spokesmen said, a wing was smashed, an engine was ablaze, and its gasoline was loose.

Thirty eight persons were treated at hospitals but 18 were released. None of the others was released in critical condition.

Civil War Belle, 102, Succumbs

DALLAS, June 23. (AP) — Mrs. Mary Fletcher Sheaffer, a southern plantation belle, whose memories of the Civil War were vivid, died at the age of 102 years here yesterday.

She was born near Columbus, Miss. She and her husband, Brett Randolph Sheaffer, a Confederate army surgeon, came to Texas in 1867.

The plane, smashed across the field and into the tree and a pig sty.

Stewardess Yvonne Hanavan, a 22-year-old brunette from Memphis, related that passengers pitched in to help immediately, opened the emergency hatch, and cleared away torn seats from the injured.

Just who the subcommittee will call, or when, was not determined. Staff members prepared to invite Clarke Stallworth, a Birmingham Post reporter, as one witness.

Stallworth was beaten in the Alabama town of Sumiton, near Birmingham, while working on a story of violence by hooded gangs.

The committee expects to call other witnesses later, including perhaps some flogging victims themselves.

Announcing plans to investigate the Alabama incidents, Celler told reporters the committee will "try like hell" to learn the identity of the floggers while studying the psychological "climate" surrounding the beatings.

Celler said the Justice Department's inquiry is based on federal law protecting individuals from intimidation or deprivation of rights guaranteed by the Constitution. But, he said, existing laws do not go far enough in defining the rights of individuals.

He has written a broad new civil rights bill, now before the committee. It would spell out these rights along lines recommended by a commission appointed by the President.

The Celler bill would plug gaps in existing statutes by providing specifically for:

1. A five-member federal civil rights commission.

2. A joint congressional committee on civil rights.

3. Reorganization and enlargement of the present civil rights functions of the Department of Justice, and addition of new personnel in the FBI for civil rights investigations.

The bill would outlaw conspiracy to injure, oppress or intimidate any citizen, protect rights of political freedom and franchise, and abolish Jim Crow segregation in interstate commerce.

Full-Scale Probe Of Floggings Launched

WASHINGTON, June 23. (AP) — The Justice Department teamed up with Congress today to investigate incidents of flogging in Alabama by hooded gangs.

Rep. Celler (D-NY), chairman of the House Judiciary Committee, said an attorney from the department's civil rights section was being assigned to help the committee in the inquiry.

Celler set off what he said would be a full-fledged investigation of the floggings by directing a civil rights subcommittee yesterday to determine the extent to which federal civil rights laws have been violated.

The chairman also disclosed the Department of Justice was working independently on the case. Celler said his group will move carefully to avoid jeopardizing the department's work.

"We don't want to stymie any prosecutions," he told a reporter. As plans for the congressional investigation were made, the chairman of a veterans' committee in Birmingham, Ala., announced he had asked that it be called off.

Carl K. Wells, head of an organized Veterans' Committee against Crime and Violence, told a Birmingham mass meeting last night he had sent telegrams to Celler and Rep. Hobbs (D-Ala).

Wells said he told the congressmen the investigation would "not serve any useful purpose at the present time, but would agitate the issue of civil rights in Alabama."

Staff members prepared to invite Clarke Stallworth, a Birmingham Post reporter, as one witness.

Stallworth was beaten in the Alabama town of Sumiton, near Birmingham, while working on a story of violence by hooded gangs.

The committee expects to call other witnesses later, including perhaps some flogging victims themselves.

Monty Stratton's Triumph Over Handicap Told In Motion Picture

Baseball followers will be especially interested in a new motion picture called "The Stratton Story," but everybody, baseball followers or not, will find inspiration in the production.

For "The Stratton Story" is a true one, detailing how a man who was knocking at the Hall of Fame suffered a blow that put him on the sidelines; how he refused to stay there, and how he mastered a handicap to achieve, if not more sports fame, a sort of character distinction that is attained by few men.

Most people will remember the case history of Monty Stratton. He was a lanky, Greenville, Texas boy who knew how to throw a baseball. He climbed to the majors, and in the late thirties ranked among the top right-handers in the American League. Then one fall while he was hunting, there was a gun accident. The result was that Monty lost his right leg by amputation.

It seemed impossible that a one-legged man could pitch baseball. But Monty determined in his own quiet way that he could do it. And he set out to practice, with the help of his wife.

And, after seven long years, in 1945, Monty Stratton went back to the mound. What must have been one of the inspirational hours in all sports was that game in which he pitched against a team of all-stars and emerged with a four-2-0 shutout victory.

the next year, Stratton went back into regular league play and became the leading pitcher in the East Texas league, with a 34-8 record.

Monty played for a couple more years, did some coaching chores, and then dropped out of active organized diamond play.

The fact remains, however, that he proved—apparently by his own satisfaction, as well as to the world—that spirit and determination can be put to use to overcome seemingly insurmountable obstacles.

A high tribute to this quiet, modest determination of Monty's is paid by Douglas Morrow, who wrote "The Stratton Story," Morrow, in a recent issue of the magazine, "This Week," tells how he lived for several weeks with the Strattons, how he had difficulty in persuading Monty in letting the Stratton story be told for the films. Morrow had to convince the lanky Texan that such a story would serve to help many handicapped veterans who would take heart from what he had done.

"The Stratton Story" is told with sympathy and understanding in the film release which is playing at the Ritz theatre Thursday through Saturday. The popular Jimmy Stewart takes Monty's role, and June Allyson appears as his wife. Some baseball notables, including Jimmy Dykes and Bill Dickey, also are in the picture.

UAW Rejects Ford's Proposal For Wage Freeze

DETROIT, June 23. (AP)—Ford's wage freeze proposal was denounced as "counterfeit security" by the CIO United Auto Workers today.

The union's formal rejection, delivered by President Walter Reuther, also termed Ford's proposal a "flight into fantasy" and "upside down economics."

Last week FORD asked the UAW to withdraw all its economic demands, including a wage increase and $100 monthly pensions, for a period of 18 months.

Wages meanwhile would be pegged to the cost of living. The union's official rejection came as negotiations covering 106,000 Ford production workers were stepped up.

Today was to have been an open date in negotiations but a meeting was scheduled nonetheless. Ford and the union are working against a July 25 expiration date in their present contract.

Reuther said Ford's proposal was a "pattern for continued and increasing unemployment." He said it was "unsound and unrealistic." Ford offered to hold its present wage levels in return for the union's withdrawal of its economic demands.

The company cited a falling car market and a drop in living costs and said the "postwar buggy-ride of higher wages costs and prices" has ended.

Ford argued that higher wages might mean "fewer jobs." (A Ford worker is paid an average of $1.65 an hour.)

However, Reuther termed Ford's idea the "same kind of economic patient medicine" which he declared led to the 1929 depression.

He said an increase in consumer purchasing power was the only way to provide security. The union's rejection went to Ford Vice President John S. Bugas, the company's industrial relations chief.

Reuther cited conditions in the textile and shoe industries.

"When you point out that certain industries are 'already affected badly,'" he said, "it is not difficult to ascertain the reason."

"The textile and shoe industries are depressed because insecure auto and other workers cannot buy garments and shoes with their present wages at the artificially high price levels."

"Your answer to the question you pose is, in effect, to drag a healthy industry down into the same condition as a few others which in turn will drag other industries and perhaps a whole economy down with it."

Reuther said the union is sticking to its positions of March when it made its demands.

The union president said nothing has happened since then to change the UAW's position "except that increasing unemployment has made our demands all the more compelling and all the more essential to the stabilization of the economy."

Destroyer Division Delayed By Typhoon

SINGAPORE, June 23. (AP)—The U.S. destroyers Rupertus and Perkins, caught in a typhoon off the Philippines, are two days behind schedule for an operational visit to Singapore.

Lt. Comdr. Gordon Cornell, assistant U. S. naval attache, said he has been informed that Destroyer Division 32, which included the two vessels is now expected to arrive Saturday afternoon. Cornell said he had no information as to whether the two destroyers had been damaged in the typhoon.

Two 4,000-ton tankers, Platte and Severa, also are due in Singapore Saturday. The four vessels, part of the American Pacific Fleet, are expected to remain in port here until June 29.

East Australia Has Unusually Cold June

SYDNEY, Australia, June 23. (AP)—Eastern Australia, its coal rationed and its heating curtailed because of a threatened mine strike, shivered today in the coldest June weather it has had since 1935.

It is mid-winter now in Australia. Five towns in the southern Alps near Canberra are snowbound after a heavy blizzard. Sixty miles to the southwest there was six feet of snow.

Coast Blaze Lays Waste 2,000 Acres

LOS ANGELES, June 23. (AP)—Blackened orchard trees and oil derricks marked the path today of a raging brush fire near Whittier that was brought under control after covering some 2,000 acres.

The blaze, which started yesterday, destroyed at least 12 derricks, and three big oil storage tanks.

Lamb Prices Cut

CINCINNATI, June 23. (AP)—A price cut of 12 to 13 cents a pound for most retail lamb will become effective tomorrow in Kroger Stores, the firm said today.

BOARD GETS BUSY

Hawaiian Strike Testimony Studied

HONOLULU, June 23. (AP)—A fact-finding board today began studying more than 1,000 pages of testimony on Hawaii's 54-day longshore strike.

It will make its recommendation for a settlement to Gov. Ingram M. Stainback by June 29. The five man board heard final arguments yesterday by spokesmen for waterfront employers and 2,000 striking stevedores of the CIO International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union. Neither side will be bound by the board's recommendation.

Union Spokesman Louis Goldblatt told the fact-finders they are "honor bound" to uphold the ILWU demand for a wage boost of 32 cents an hour. This would raise the hourly pay to $1.72 and restore the old differential of 10 cents under the West Coast scale.

Employer Spokesman James P. Blaisdell said the board's responsibility is to find the facts and report them to the governor along with its recommendation—"nothing more."

Much of the final session was loaded with charges and counter charges. When the firing was over, Board Chairman James L. Coke announced Acting Gov. Oren E. Long has postponed the deadline for the report until June 29. Stainback's original instructions were that the board should report today.

The board heard the union press its demand for "equal pay for equal work." Goldblatt said there had been no evidence to refute his contention that Hawaii longshoremen work harder and get less pay than any in the country.

Blaisdell said he recognized that stevedore productivity here is higher than on the West Coast but the West Coast record, he added, is at an "all-time low." Pacific Coast longshoremen have "priced themselves out of the market," he said.

The union agreed to unload 4,400 cases of evaporated milk from a strikers' ship to ease the short supplies for babies. It will be rationed under doctor's prescriptions which will be given free.

New Deputy Tax Collector to TC

WASHINGTON, June 23. (AP)—The Bureau of Internal Revenue notified Rep. Thompson (D-Tex) today that a new deputy collector will be assigned to Texas City.

A sharp increase in population and industrial development in recent years has made it imperative that an additional agent of the bureau be stationed in Texas City, said Thompson.

Commissioner George Schoeneman told the congressman another deputy would assume duties at Texas City "as soon as necessary arrangements can be made."

Typhoon Death Toll Is 143

TOKYO, June 23. (AP)—Rural police today set the official death toll in Tuesday's devastating typhoon in southern Japan at 143 persons.

Still missing were 206 persons. All Japanese. Some 840 others previously reported missing were found.

Still unreported are 93 passengers and crewmen of the Ferry Boat Aoba Maru which foundered in the Inland Sea.

Thirty-four bodies of the ferry victims have been recovered. An American and three Japanese aboard the ferry were rescued.

Most of the dead were from Kyushu, Shikoku and Southern Honshu Islands.

Big Spring Garden Club Has Final Meeting Of Summer And Pilgrimage

Members of the Big Spring Garden Club held their final business meeting of the summer and conducted a garden pilgrimage Wednesday morning.

Gathering at the J. Gordon Bristow home, the members voted to begin regular meetings in September and to make membership dues payable at that time. Mrs. J. M. Morgan, who organized the club in 1926, was presented a life membership and an orchid corsage.

Interesting flowers found in the Bristow home were: butterfly bush, zinnias, shasta daisies and fritoniac.

At the Nora Harding home, members viewed hundreds of shasta daisies, roses, althea, hoarhound, zinnias, trees and shrubs.

In the Johnny Lane yard, visitors found red verbenia, purple petunias, phlox, roses, shasta daisies, candy tuft, zinnias and marigold.

At the A. R. Hamilton home, there were Scabiosa, petunias, pink carnations, butterfly bush, shasta daisies and roses.

Visitors at the Toole Mansfield home viewed shasta daisies, roses, carnations, snapdragons and yellow daisies.

Those present were: Mrs. Robert Stripping, Mrs. H. C. Stipp, Mrs. D. M. Penn, Mrs. Worth Peeler, Mrs. B. L. LeFever, Mrs. J. D. Benson, Mrs. Everett Ellis, Mrs. E. C. Dodd, Mrs. J. E. Hardesty, Mrs. R. L. Tollett, Mrs. J. W. Burrell, Mrs. Hack Wright.

Mrs. James Bogart, a guest, Mrs. J. O. Vineyard, Mrs. J. C. Pickle, Mrs. R. H. Boykin, Mrs. W. G. Wilson, Mrs. Frank M. Dillon, Mrs. J. E. Hogan, Mrs. J. D. Elliott, Mrs. Otis Grafe, Mrs. R. P. Kountz, Mrs. S. R. Noble, Mrs. L. B. Baird, Mrs. Marvin Sewell, Mrs. John A. Coffee, Mrs. A. C. Bass, Mrs. Frank Wilson, Mrs. J. M. Morgan, Mrs. Roy Green, Mrs. Brown Rogers, Mrs. J. C. Daugherty and Mrs. Royce Satterwhite.

Hemlines Stay Static And Necklines Change

LOS ANGELES, June 23. — Outside a 90 degree sun was beating down, but California designers had their minds on fall rainwear. Raincoats with weighted hemlines—to keep the coat down no matter how hard the wind blows—featured the display by Colle of Hollywood at the California apparel creators fall fashion show.

The coat is made of shiny velon and has a braid trim around the yoke, sleeves and belt. Hat and bag match. Plastic Polka dots enlivened the Graff California raincoat, which had inside ventilation sleeves. With it was carried a ruffled umbrella. In the lingerie department, strapless slips with built-in bra scored a hit. There's a strapless night gown, too. It's held up by elastic in the back and around the top. Necklines, it seems, are coming back up on both dressy and casual clothes. Turtle necks and small rolled collars will be reinstated. The plunging neckline will remain for afternoon and evening dresses

VISITS and VISITORS

Mrs. Jack Bryan and daughter, Jackie, are guests in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Moore.

Mrs. Maurine Wade Terrell and daughter, Andre, are visiting here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Wade. They plan to spend several days before returning to their home in El Monte, Calif.

Mrs. B. J. Petty, Marie Petty, and Mrs. J. T. Cauble returned Wednesday from a 10-day visit in Houston, Galveston and Bryan.

While in Houston, the trio visited Mrs. J. H. Barker, formerly of Big Spring, and family.

Chester Wood of Long Beach, Calif., has been visiting his mother, Mrs. Addie Wood Thomas, and his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. D. Wood.

Youth Caravan To Begin Conference Tour On June 25

ABILENE, June 23.—Members of the Youth Caravan which will tour the Northwest Texas Methodist Conference will leave Abilene June 25.

Dr. Edward Staples of Nashville, Tenn., who is directing a Youth Caravan Training School at McMurry College, announced appointments for the caravans Sunday.

Appointments for the Northwest Texas caravan will include First Methodist Church, Midland, a joint meeting of all Methodist churches of the city, June 26; Big Spring, July 2; Hale Center, July 9; St. John's Methodist Church, Lubbock, July 16; Vega, July 23; Gruber, July 20; and Texline, August 8.

Caravans will spend a week at each church. Each team is comprised of four members and a counsellor. Members specialize in community service, recreation, missions and worship. Two of the group specialize in working with intermediates. Members of the Northwest Texas caravan are Jean Clark of Kansas, Nelda Comer of Mississippi, Joan Camack of Longview and Robert Cooper of Iowa.

Seima Baird, youth director of the Vernon district, is counsellor for the caravan.

Nine caravans are in training in the school at McMurry. It is scheduled to close Friday.

RIBBON RAMBLINGS By Mildred Young

Though polio is definitely not in an epidemic stage in Big Spring, we noticed a few rules recently which should help guard against the disease and thought we might pass them along to you. They aren't guarantees because science doesn't yet know how the virus is actually spread. The rules apply to adults as well as children since the disease seems to be hitting more than formerly against older children and young adults.

Avoid crowds, especially where there is an outbreak of polio. Many scientists suspect the virus is spread by close, intimate personal contact.

Avoid swimming in polluted waters.

Do not get over-tired. Lowered resistance may invite an attack of polio. For every person who comes down with the disease scores or hundreds may be carrying the virus without becoming sick.

Avoid sudden chilling or prolonged exposure to cold.

Be particularly careful about personal cleanliness.

Keep flies away from food and keep garbage cans covered. The virus has been found on some kinds of flies, but there is not any proof that flies play a part in transmitting the disease.

Watch for the symptoms. Sore throat, a head cold, nausea and sometimes vomiting are the first symptoms of polio. There may be some slight fever during the first stage of the illness. Since these are the early symptoms of most communicable disease and minor illnesses they are frequently ignored by the patient and his family.

Another rule might also be adopted—don't worry too much about polio. After all, it is not a common disease. It is an epidemic when 20 or more recognized cases occur out of every 100,000 population.

Chances of recovery are good. In an average group of 100 cases of polio, 50 will recover completely. 25-30 will show slight after-effects. 15-20 will be seriously crippled, and 5-10 will die.

EAT PLENTY AND TAKE OFF UGLY FAT

When you buy Barostrate, you buy a preparation for taking off weight. You do not pay for any printed diet or for vitamins to fortify you against weakness while on a starvation diet. You need never know a hungry moment while taking this preparation. Barostrate is the original grapefruit juice recipe for weight reduction.

Just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of liquid Barostrate. Pour this into a quart bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take just two table-spoonfuls twice a day. That's all there is to it. If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple, easy way to take off ugly fat, return the empty bottle for your money back.

Lost 54 pounds

Here is what Mrs. L. J. Bryant, P. O. Box 14, Whitewright, Texas, wrote me: "I want to tell you what Barostrate has done for me. I weighed 288 pounds when I started taking it. I now weigh 211. 'I have taken my dress size down from size 40 to 44 and never felt better in my life and everybody tells me how much nicer I look than I did.' 'I am still taking Barostrate as I want to get my weight down to 165 or 170 pounds.'"

Mrs. Ledbetter Given Farewell Gift By Club

GARDEN CITY, June 23 (Sp)—Mrs. Alton Ledbetter was presented with a farewell gift at the Home Demonstration club meeting in the courthouse Tuesday. Mrs. Ledbetter, County HD agent, has resigned her position and will make her home in College Station, where her husband is attending school. Her successor has not been named. Mrs. A. J. Cunningham discussed "Taxation Without Representation." Mrs. D. W. Parker spoke of "China." Following the program, refreshments were served. Attending were Mrs. Alton Ledbetter, Mrs. A. J. Cunningham, Mrs. D. W. Parker, Mrs. H. A. Haynes, Mrs. Sam Ratliff, Mrs. Fred Ratliff, Mrs. Cecil Wilkerson, Mrs. Clyde Berry and Mrs. Jim Ratliff.

Mrs. Y. C. Gray won high score at the meeting of the Afternoon Bridge club in the home of Mrs. W. R. Scudday Tuesday. Lapel vases were presented as plate favors. Refreshments were served to Mrs. Y. C. Gray, Mrs. I. L. Watkins, Mrs. Clyde Reynolds and the hostess.

Members of the Double Deck Bridge club convened in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Cook Tuesday evening. Mrs. I. L. Watkins won high score, Buster Cox won low and Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Norton binged. Refreshments were served to those attending. They were Margaret Davis of Mansfield, Ore., Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Norton of Midland, Mr. and Mrs. I. L. Watkins, guests and Mr. and Mrs. Alvis Ray Cox, Mr. and Mrs. Buster Cox, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Gibson, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Riley, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Hoston and Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Cook.

In dividing recipes so as to make fewer portions remember that there are three teaspoons in a tablespoon and four tablespoons in a quarter of a cup. If it is ever necessary to divide an egg beat the yolk and white together then divide by spoonfuls; a large egg will measure about four tablespoons.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Waggoner and children of Roswell, N. M. are visiting her mother, Mrs. Meedie Shortes.

Jean Johnson Becomes The Bride Of Weldon Miles In Local Church

Jean Johnson and Weldon Miles were united in marriage in a double ring ceremony performed in the First Baptist church Friday evening.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Johnson of Stanton. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Miles of Colorado City.

Dr. P. D. O'Brien, pastor, officiated as nuptial vows were exchanged before an altar decorated with shasta daisies, snapdragons and fern.

For her wedding, the bride chose a blue crepe dress with pink and blue accessories. Her corsage was of pink carnations and white forget-me-nots. In carrying out the tradition, she carried a handkerchief, belonging to Sara LaMay, for something borrowed. Her wedding ensemble was something new and a blue garter served as something blue. She wore a 1954 penny in her shoe for something old.

Mrs. Asa Williams, matron of honor, wore a grey and white crepe dress with black accessories. Her corsage was of white carnations. Asa Williams served as best man.

Attending the wedding were Jean Weatherford, Mrs. Clay Mann Smith and Mrs. Jim Henry.

The bride is a graduate of Stanton high school and for the past five years has been employed as receptionist at the Big Spring State hospital. The bridegroom, a graduate of Colorado City high school, attended Texas Tech at Lubbock. He served with the Armed Forces from 1944 until the duration of the war. He is now employed by the Shell Oil Company in Wichita Falls.

For traveling, Mrs. Miles chose a dress of red chambray. Her accessories were white.

Following a honeymoon trip to Kerrville, the couple will be at home in Wichita Falls.

Mrs. Weldon Miles, the former Jean Johnson, was honored with a bridal shower in the home of Mrs. Burle Dennis Tuesday evening.

Co-hostesses at the affair included Mrs. Greer Tucker and Jean Weatherford. Others in the house party included Sarah LeMay, Janice Boardman and Barbara Jean Tucker.

Mrs. Greer Tucker registered the guests. Jean Weatherford and Sarah LeMay displayed the gifts.

The refreshment table was laid with a white linen cloth and centered with an arrangement of zinnias and fernery. Mrs. Burle Dennis, served the cake. Janice Boardman and Jean Tucker attended the punch service.

Out of town guests attending were Mrs. Jim Johnson, mother of the bride, Shirley Dale Johnson, sister of the bride, Mrs. Bob Thrallkill, all of Stanton; Mrs. Lockley Hall, sister of the bride, of Odessa, Mrs. W. K. Miles, mother of the bridegroom, Mrs. Charlie Mizchew, sister of the bridegroom, Mrs. J. A. Thompson, grandmother of the bridegroom, Mrs. Bill Gale and Mrs. Lester Webb, aunts of the bridegroom, all of Colorado City.

Others attending were Mrs. Clay Mann Smith, Paula Clay Smith, Mrs. A. M. Bowden, Mrs. John P. Houser, Mrs. Ilic McDaniel, Mrs. Asa Williams, Mrs. C. E. LeMay, Mrs. Benny H. Collins, Mrs. O. M. ### GOPs To Fight Even Trial Run Of Farm Plan

WASHINGTON, June 23 (AP)—A group of Republicans girded today for a fight against even a "trial run" for the Truman administration's new farm program.

The battle may echo in next year's congressional campaigning in farm areas.

A House Agriculture subcommittee yesterday approved a 3 to 1 new farm bill that would:

1. Permit Secretary of Agriculture Brannan to experiment on three crops in 1950 with his proposed "production payment" farm program. Brannan contends his program would mean cheaper food and assured income for farmers.
2. Kill the 1948 Aiken Law, which is scheduled to set up next year a flexible 60 to 90 per cent of parity price support program for agriculture. Parity is a price level set arbitrarily some years ago as a standard considered fair to both farmers and consumers.
3. Create a new parity system, as proposed by Brannan and support prices of major crops at 100 per cent of that standard. This might mean for most crops the highest price supports ever attempted by the government.

Prices of crops are now supported at 90 per cent of the old parity standard.

Rep. August H. Andresen (R-Minn.), a top-ranking member of the agriculture committee, told newsmen:

"This thing has been reduced pretty much to a political matter with the Democrats trying to put through this Brannan thing."

"They may find Republicans pretty much together in the House on continuing the present 90 per cent program and suspending the Aiken Law so we can have time to work out a real program."

The bill approved by the subcommittee goes before the full committee today.

Brannan has indicated he would

Liquor Board Says 11 Still Stills Raided

AUSTIN, June 23 (AP)—Still are still being raided in Texas. Inspectors knocked off 11 stills in Titus, Grimes, Henderson, Dallas, Harrison, Marion, and Harris Counties in May, the liquor control board's monthly report showed.

Ten were arrested, 7,140 gallons of mash were poured out, and 10 gallons of moonshine destroyed.

The board took in $903,853 in revenues, almost half of it from liquor stamp sales to wholesale liquor dealers.

Collections at the El Paso International Bridge were $7,517; at Laredo, $5,537; at Hidalgo, $2,118; at Thayer, $102; at Roma, $249; at Brownsville, $2,287; at Del Rio, $562; and at Eagle Pass, $961.

Cuba Claims Third Uprising Crushed

HAVANA, Cuba, June 23 (AP)—A Dominican government broadcast said last night a third attempt to land revolutionary invaders in the republic by plane had been crushed.

Eight of the invaders were killed and four captured, the broadcast said. Horacio Jilio Hornes, "chief of operations" for the rebels, was reported among the captives.

Like to try out the "production payment" plan first on hogs, potatoes and wool. The subcommittee banned any experimenting with wool, milk or butterfat, but gave him a clear field otherwise.

Under the production payment proposal, prices of perishable crops would be permitted to drop to whatever the market would pay, whatever the government would pay. Then the government would pay subsidies to farmers to make up the difference between the market price and the parity-of-income level. This Brannan contended would mean cheaper food and a fair return for farmers.

The plan has been attacked by some farm organizations as a "dole."

Ex-Texas Adjutant General Is Happy In Filling Station Job

By TEX EASLEY

AP Special Washington Service. WASHINGTON, June 23 (AP)—Former Texas Adjutant General Harry Knox, who held down a $10,000-a-year job as aide to W. Lee O'Daniel when the latter was in the U. S. Senate, is now the lone night attendant at a suburban filling station.

LIKES HIS WORK—Harry Knox, who held down a $10,000-a-year job as aide to former U. S. Senator W. Lee O'Daniel and who is a former Texas Adjutant General, says he is happy now as a lone night attendant at a suburban Washington, D. C., auto service station. The 48-year-old former Brownwood, Tex., merchant, is shown June 21 at his work. He says when "I come home now with my $50 (a week), I feel good." (AP Photo).

His title is night manager, but he is the whole shebang. He wipes the windshields, fills up the gas tanks, checks the tires. He changes oil and fixes flats.

The 48-year-old, former Brownwood wholesale merchant, one-time chairman of the Texas State Board of Control and in charge of vast expenditures of tax funds, is philosophical.

His salary is $50 a week. He works from 11 p. m. to 8 a. m. His wife and 14-year-old daughter tip-toe lightly about their apartment during the day while he gets his sleep.

Interviewed at his home shortly before his "breakfast" the other evening, he said:

"You know, when I come home now with my $50, I feel good. I sure enough feel like one of the common citizens."

He paused for a moment, then added with a grin:

"And I'm not saying that for any public effect."

Knox was the typical, small city wholesale merchant until his path and O'Daniel's happened to cross. The latter was selling flour. When O'Daniel decided to run for governor, Knox was one of his first and most enthusiastic supporters. He still is.

When the erstwhile flour salesman entered the governor's mansion at Austin, he picked Knox as his adjutant general. Then the Brownwood merchant served for six years on the state board of control. Meanwhile, O'Daniel came to Washington as a senator. At the expiration of Knox's term on the board of control he came up to head the senator's secretarial staff. With O'Daniel gone from the national political scene, Knox looked about for another job. He applied for a job at the Agriculture Department, Commerce Department and other government agencies.

He said he had proper Civil Service credentials and a "strong endorsement" from both Senators Tom Connally and Lyndon Johnson, and from Rep. Clark Fisher of San Angelo. The latter represents the district which includes Brownwood. (Incidentally, Knox made an unsuccessful race for Congress when Fisher was elected for his first term, in 1942.)

"It seems that every time I tried for a job," he continued, "they'd find there was no vacancy for a man of my qualifications."

"Once agency executive remarked, 'I learned, that he wouldn't touch that man with a 40-foot pole. Another sent word to one of my endorsers that they couldn't take me on because O'Daniel had caused them so much trouble.'"

"That's not official, but I know perfectly well that the reason I couldn't get a government job was because of my affiliation with O'Daniel."

Satisfied that he wouldn't be able to get on the government payroll, Knox then began to look elsewhere for work.

He says he hopes eventually to retire to a farm or ranch along the shores of Lake Brownwood, but that right now he wants to stay in Washington and pay off a mortgage on a six family-unit apartment house he acquired a year and a half ago.

The red-brick three-story building is located directly across the street from the U. S. Supreme Court lawn and next to the big apartment building which O'Daniel owned while he was in the Senate. Knox declined to state what he paid for his property, but said he wouldn't sell it for $50,000.

"I'm paying it off in regular payments just like you'd pay for your home," he added.

"I figure I'll have it paid off in 13 1/2 years. No, the rents I get from the five apartments we rent out isn't enough to take care of the payments and upkeep."

Knox says he plans to acquire a filling station of his own, when he finds one he can lease at a reasonable figure.

The station he operates is owned by a major oil company. He thinks the financial risk is too great for an individual to build a big expensive filling station of his own. The experience he is getting now, which even includes scrubbing the oil spots off of a concrete parking apron during the "two hours of the morning," will come in handy when and if he does take over a station for himself, he figures.

Answering a parting question about politics, he said he personally never intends to run again for public office. He inferred however, that perhaps he would like some day to again be in a good appointive position.

"You know," he added, "there is talk that O'Daniel might run for governor again."

"Maybe he ought to. The expenses of the Texas State government have risen to three and a half times what they were when he was governor."

Around the Capital: Those who think of a stuff-shirt, big-waisted old man when you mention the word "congressman" would drastically change their concept if they could attend such an affair as the recent Texas State Society picnic in Rock Creek Park.

Many of the Texas legislators, particularly those with families, were on hand with their picnic baskets. They included Wichita Falls Congressman Ed Gossett with his

Official Says Texas City Blast May Have Been Saboteurs' Work

GALVESTON, June 23 (AP)—A government attorney says the explosion of the SS Ocean Liberty at Breest, France, and the devastating Texas City explosion may have been caused by saboteurs.

Assistant U. S. Attorney Joseph Cash made his statements yesterday during the trial of $300,000,000 in damage suits against the federal government growing out of the Texas City disaster.

Cash said the Breest ship explosion may have been touched off by a thermite pencil.

Earlier, he said sabotage may have caused the April, 1947 Texas City, Tex., disaster which left more than 500 persons dead or missing.

He hinted at the possibility—of the time of the Texas City explosion—of a long range plan to disrupt shipments of ammonium nitrate fertilizer from the United States to foreign lands.

He had said the series of blasts at Texas City may have been started with a device similar to a "candle stick" found last year at New Orleans in a load of ammonium nitrate.

Dutch Reds Lose Badly In Election

AMSTERDAM, June 22 (AP)—Dutch Communists lost heavily to the right wing in yesterday's city elections throughout the Netherlands.

The Communists lost almost half of their seats in municipal councils, holding only 111 as compared with 215 seats they gained in the 1946 elections.

Subject To Experience, Parley At Paris Produced Some Results

Dean Acheson did not come home from Paris empty-handed. It is obvious that the Big Four conference accomplished more than anybody expected. It covered a lot of territory, and the results are tangible. That is, they are if the Russians don't wash out of the agreement.

The statement of principles to guide negotiations on Germany contains six points, perhaps the most important of which is Russia's promise not to reimpose the Berlin blockade in return for efforts to revive East-West trade. This is a promise with strings attached, and it could very well turn out to be meaningless. If, for instance, Russia is dissatisfied with the interzonal trade concessions by the West, she could claim that wiped out her promise not to reimpose the blockade, and then proceed to shroud down again.

The conference admitted frankly that they had not been able to reach an agreement on the unification of Germany, but this is not surprising. This question comes under the heading of ideology, and on this point neither side is willing to compromise. Russia wants a Communistic Germany; the West wants a democratic Germany. Eventually, perhaps, both sides will put out and leave it up to the German to decide what they want, but that time is nowhere near.

However, the Big Four did agree and covenant among themselves to devise ways of starting the flow of goods between the two halves of Germany. They will try to work out a way of existing side by side without coming to blows. This is a tall order, seeing that their economic philosophies differ as radically as their political beliefs, but nevertheless it could be done if both sides respect the other's prejudices and prerogatives.

This fall they will meet to work out Austrian independence. This would remove Russian troops from Austria, Hungary and Romania, and quite possibly ease the tension in that vicinity.

All in all, seeing that nobody expected much of the conference the foreign ministers have worked out a system of co-existence that could, very well lead to better things. We'll have to wait and see how it comes off.

Thorough Inquiry Proper, But Let's Not Have A Book Burning

American school books may need looking into for a determination of their commu-nistic contents, if any, and while they're about it the investigators should weigh the books for their fascistic contents, if any.

But the House Un-American Activities Committee isn't a proper body to carry on such an investigation. The other day the committee sent out a letter to college and public school authorities, asking them for lists of books used in their institutions. This sounded like a threat to freedom of learning to many people, and the committee got raked over the coals very handsomely indeed.

Committee members denied any intention of "carrying on a witch-hunt looking to a possible Hitler-like 'burning of the books.' The Sons of the American Revolution, a small outfit of a few thousand members, had asked the committee to look into the matter of subversive school books, alleging a scandalous state of affairs existed, and the committee asked for the lists as a routine matter. One would think that if the Sons had any proof of their sensational charges, they'd simply bring it before the committee without further ado.

Well, the committee backed down. The GOP members signed a statement washing their hands of the whole affair and the Democrats soon followed suit; so it looks like the great school book round-up died a-borning.

Instead, committee members want a specially qualified body of educators to carry on the book probe, men of the stature of Ike Eisenhower of Columbia and Dr. Henry M. Wriston of Brown University. That's sensible. If there is any subversive propaganda in any of our school books, let's get it out—after qualified and non-litigious-seeking educators have established the fact.

The committee members are wise to have disowned the apparent threat to our free institutions of learning. We hope the lesson will be salutary.

Fast-Changing World Exacts Some Difficult Adjustments

THIS AMAZING WORLD OF OURS IS changing so rapidly in its way of life that it's difficult for some of us old-timers to keep up.

The horse-and-buggy elders don't so easily adjust themselves to the ideological, social and political upheaval of the atomic age.

What inspired this outburst was the marriage extraordinary of the German Princess Cecilia of Hohenzollern to Clyde Harris, a good-looking former American Army officer from Amarillo, Tex.

The princess is the granddaughter of the late Kaiser Wilhelm and is a direct descendant of England's Queen Victoria. The wedding took place Tuesday amidst the splendor of one of the Hohenzollern castles, with many notabilities, including royalty, present.

IMAGINE THE KAISER'S GRAND-daughter marrying a commoner! When I was a young fellow in the hey-day of Wilhelm such a marriage would have been unthinkable, at least to the emperor and his court.

Royalty was royalty and the Kaiser ruled by divine right. It was the Kaiser's exalted view of himself which inspired the poem "Me Und Gott" by an American naval officer, a composition which infuriated his majesty. It was that same ambitious spirit which had much to do with hastening the present politico-social global upheaval, for it was he who gave the signal which precipitated World War I.

Finally came the German collapse, the revolution and the forced abdication of the Kaiser, who went into exile. This disappeared one of the greatest thrones of history, to be followed by the rolling of crowns in many other countries.

The rest of the German royal family, including little Willie, the crown prince, retired to private life and since then have lived quietly with ample means amidst their wonderful estates. Gradually they have been adapting themselves to the new world which has followed the Kaiser's war. Tuesday's wedding indicates how well they have succeeded.

THE BLONDE PRINCESS CECILIA IS a charming woman of 31 who has married for love—with the smiling approval of her royal relatives. The best man for the wedding was her brother, Prince Louis Ferdinand, who is married to the Grand Duchess Kira of Russia.

Louis said of his new brother-in-law: "We love Clyde. He is such a sincere, likeable and genuine chap. I can tell you, we are happy about this match."

And will the newworlds live in a castle in Germany? Not on your life. Harris is going to take his bride back to Amarillo where he is an interior decorator. There they will build themselves a home, even as you and I.

Yes, our world certainly is changing. Are we in step?

Twilight Of Allied Control Is Falling Upon Revived Germany

The dominating fact at the Paris meeting of the Foreign Ministers has been the tacit recognition that the Big Four are no longer able to make a German settlement. Their power and influence, severally and jointly, in German affairs is so reduced that they are not able any longer even to propose seriously alternatives on which they disagree. The control of the German problem has slipped out of the hands of the Foreign Ministers and their four governments, and all they could do was to accept the fact that the outcome will now be shaped by events within Germany and elsewhere.

The difference between this meeting and all the meetings that preceded it, between the meeting itself and the preparations which led up to it, has been that instead of a conflict of policies, there is now an absence of policies. Mr. Acheson did not have one plan for Germany and M. Vishinsky a quite different plan. None of the Foreign Ministers had any plan which he believed in so seriously and so sincerely that he was prepared to fight for it, even to advocate it.

There were some perfunctory proposals made in general and ambiguous terms. But no one had a plan which he believed could be accepted by the four powers. No one had a plan which he wanted to have accepted by the four powers. No one had a plan which he wanted to be identified with enough to have to explain it to the Germans and to his own partners and Allies.

For in both Western and Eastern Germany the time has passed when the occupying powers have the power to make and impose plans on Germany. The diffidence of the Foreign Ministers reflected the knowledge that any plan they would offer seriously would not merely produce a sterile quarrel among them but would cause reactions among the Germans and among their own Allies and satellites. This would only have disclosed and accentuated the deterioration of their power in Germany.

General Bradley Is Forced To Remind General MacArthur He Is Subordinate

WASHINGTON — An important, backstage battle has broken out between two of the nation's highest-ranking generals — Douglas MacArthur and Chief of Staff Omar Bradley.

General Bradley wants to withdraw American forces from all the Pacific except Japan and Hawaii—even out of the Philippines. In case of war, Bradley argues that American forces caught in the Pacific outside Japan or Hawaii would be immediately sacrificed in another Bataan. Therefore, he wants all troops withdrawn to positions we can maintain.

General MacArthur, on the other hand, wants American troops strung out around the Pacific to create spheres of influence to stem the spread of Communism. MacArthur is definitely opposed to withdrawing American troops from the Philippines and South Korea.

The tone of his cables has become so strong that mild-mannered General Bradley has been forced to remind him that he, Bradley, not MacArthur, is the chief of staff.

TOBIN'S WARNING

Dan Tobin, head of the powerful teamsters union, has sent a confidential letter to all teamsters locals, cautioning them against strikes and urging a conciliatory policy toward employers.

Tobin, intimate friend of the late President Roosevelt and a longtime power in the AFL, started his letter by saying that he was fearful of today's economic situation and cautioned his locals against pushing good employers for wage increases.

Tobin commented at some length on the foolishness of the Ford strike at this time. He recognized that Walter Reuther, head of the United Auto Workers, was under compulsion from union membership but said that Reuther would have been wiser to have ruled the situation with an iron hand and forbidden the strike.

Referring to his own union, Tobin was critical of the West Coast teamsters' strike and also of the teamsters in New York City. In the latter city bakery drivers had struck for an unwarranted increase, on the assumption that people had to eat bread so there must be bread deliveries. But with the strike many weeks old, customers get along by buying from chain stores and independent bakeries, Tobin said.

Communist agitation inside labor unions also came in for criticism from the forthright teamsters boss. He said he had received reports to active Communist leadership in one teamsters' local—which he declined to name. An investigation was being made, Tobin said, and these agitators would be fired from the union whether they signed non-Communist affidavits or not.

Tobin also warned his teamsters that one trouble in union organization was the inability and unwillingness of rank-and-file members to understand economic laws. He pointed out that while members of his union are unskilled, they receive annual returns higher than bricklayers, plasterers, and skilled mechanics because of the fact that the latter suffer seasonal layoffs.

THOUGHTFUL PRESIDENT

A group of Four-H Club youngsters waited on the White House portico to see the President while Representatives Robert Secrest and Earl T. Wagner were inside presenting him with a petition from the Ohio congressional delegation to name George Rogers, an SEC attorney, to the Securities and Exchange Commission.

"I'm going to be photographed with those young people in the rose garden outside," said Truman.

"Don't let us detain you," Mr. President," urged Secrest. Just then a sudden cloudburst tattooed the windows of the President's office.

"Stick around," he told his callers. "If I take those kids out in the rain to be photographed, their fathers and mothers will be after me."

ANTI-HIGHWAY LOBBY

Congress is now probing the fact that the oil industry, which owes its prosperity to the gasoline burned on highways, is so shortsighted that it opposes new highways. Reason: To pay for the roads, many states are boosting gasoline taxes.

The extra taxes aren't paid by the oil companies, but by motorists. Yet the industry has already boosted "gas" prices so high they fear the public won't stand for both higher prices and higher taxes.

So, believe it or not, the oil lobby is actually fighting against building new roads.

Take North Carolina, for example: Gov. Kerr Scott, a hard-hitting liberal, submitted a $200 million road program to the voters. To finance it, he proposed a one-cent-per-gallon increase in the state gasoline tax. The oil lobby immediately and bitterly opposed, appealed to city voters to block the program.

When the vote finally came, city people did vote 5-1 against new rural roads. But the farmers amassed 225,000 votes to the urban voters' 175,000.

Meanwhile, in the rest of the nation, highways are in worse general condition than at any time since the depression. Yet the oil lobby continues to oppose new roads.

But here are the statistics: Since 1945, the number of automobiles on the highways has increased by 10 million. Of these, 2.5 million are trucks. All told, 100 billion ton-miles were traveled in 1948—almost double the 1945 traffic. Yet only a paltry few million dollars have been added to the road bill. Because of inflation, even this increase in dollars really has been a decrease in purchasing power when it came to road building.

Result has been wear-and-tear on automobiles, irritating traffic snarls, and an increase in traffic deaths. What the public doesn't realize is that safety can be built into the roads. Yet the public, while paying more for automobiles and gasoline, has let the highways run down.

Niven, Goldwyn Weep As Contract Called Off

HOLLYWOOD, June 23 — When David Niven and Sam Goldwyn called off their contract this week, it marked the end of a profitable deal for the veteran producer.

The actor has been under contract to Goldwyn for the past 15 years, excluding a six-year war service period. His deal still had a year to go when it was ended in a friendly agreement. So friendly was the parting that both shed tears in Goldwyn's office.

It would seem that Goldwyn had more cause for emotion. From a source close to both parties, I learned the money details of their association.

Since Niven returned from the war, Goldwyn has profited $1,300,000 for the actor's services on loanouts to other film makers. Niven was loaned at $150,000 for 10 weeks, the normal time for making a picture. One or two of the deals went over the 10-week period, calling for extra payment.

Goldwyn's British deals were fabulous. Niven's services in a Korea film ran overtime, calling for a payment of over $400,000. Another deal gives Goldwyn retaining rights in this part of the world of a Scarlet Pimpernel sequel.

Meanwhile, Niven was paid his usual weekly salary of $3,000. Which is no small potatoes, but a minor part of what his talents were earning.

Without confirming or denying these details, Niven assures the parting was friendly.

"I'll be happy to work for Sam anytime he wants me," he said on the set of "A Kiss for Corliss," his last loanout. "I love Sam."

Only Bigoted Materialist Can Deny The Existence Of Ghosts

Once when I was in the hospital with a broken leg, my nurse scolded me for reading ghost stories. She said there were no ghosts, anyway, and that people who saw them or claimed to see them were crazy.

"Did you ever hear of Dr. S. Weir Mitchell?" I inquired.

Of course, she had heard of Dr. Mitchell, for she was a registered nurse and could write RN after her name. It would have been strange indeed if she had known nothing of the great pioneer in the treatment of mental diseases, whose name still is mentioned daily wherever doctors and nurses congregate.

"Well," I said, "Dr. Mitchell certainly was not crazy, and yet he saw a ghost." She was incredulous, and since it was evident that she did not know the story, I told it to her.

This happened on a cold, snowy night in Philadelphia, where Mitchell at the time was doing the work of a general practitioner. He had had a hard day and was at home preparing for bed when the doorbell rang. Swearing at his luck, but nevertheless faithful to his Hippocratic oath, he threw on a dressing gown and went to the door. There stood a small girl who told him that her mother was very ill and begged him to come at once.

Together, the great doctor and the child hastened through the sleeping streets until they came to a small, mean house where Mitchell found a woman lying half-delirious with fever. He instantly diagnosed the case as one of pneumonia, and for the next hour or two he was a busy man. Satisfied at last that the patient was out of any immediate danger, he snapped shut his bag and bade her good night, promising to return the next day. During all this time, he had not thought of the little girl, and now he realized with some perplexity that he had not seen her since he came into the sickroom.

"You are fortunate to have such a devoted daughter," he told the sick woman.

"My daughter!" she exclaimed. "Why, she is dead. Her clothes are in that closet across the room."

Mitchell opened the closet door and looked at the garments hanging within. He recognized them as the same the girl had worn. He touched them and found them perfectly dry; yet he remembered that on the child they had been soggy with snow. Neither then nor at any subsequent time was he able to explain the phenomenon.

My pretty little nurse, however, was not convinced. She insisted that the whole adventure was nothing but a hallucination, and I dismissed her in a rage.

As a matter of fact, there are few things so well established as the existence of ghosts. Dr. Mitchell's experience is only one of thousands on file in the archives of the Society for Psychical Research. None of these cases ever was authenticated until it had passed every test that could be devised by keen-minded scientists. It would be the height of absurdity for anyone to set up his individual judgement against the testimony of so great a cloud of witnesses.

Personally, I never have seen a ghost, and do not expect to see one, but I think it is just on that account that I find the ghostly experiences of others so enthralling. —R. G. MACREADY.

Proposed Welfare Dept. Would Have Many Agencies Under It

WASHINGTON — PRESIDENT TRUMAN wants to create a brand new government department, called the Department of Welfare.

This was one of the seven plans he laid before Congress this week as part of a program to reorganize the government and make it run better.

To understand why he did this, and the background of it, imagine you're looking at a chart of the government's make-up. You start with:

1. The nine big departments whose heads are members of the President's cabinet: State, justice, labor, commerce, agriculture, interior, postoffice, treasury, and the military establishment (Army, Navy, Air Force).
2. Then you see the big independent agencies and commissions which stand alone, not connected with any department, such as:

THE FEDERAL SECURITY AGENCY; Civil Service Commission; and the Interstate Commerce Commission.

3. Then you see swarms of smaller agencies and bureaus tucked away inside of (because they're part of) the departments and the big independent agencies, such as:

The Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) in the Justice Department; the U. S. Office of Education in the Federal Security Administration (FSA).

Those big independent agencies, created from time to time to fit some special need, have grown with the years, in size and importance.

The FSA, for instance, with 35,000 employes, is bigger than three government departments.

The Labor Department has only 3,906 employees; the State Department has 20,000; the Justice Department, 26,000. Next in size is the Commerce Department with 47,000.

NOW MR. TRUMAN WANTS TO CREATE a new government department by changing the name of the FSA to that of the Department of Welfare. The FSA was established in 1939 but Mr. Truman says creation of the Department of Welfare is long overdue. Why? He says the FSA: "The central purpose of the FSA is the conservation and development of the human resources of the nation. . . the range of its programs and the significance of their impact upon national development obviously entitle it to a place in the highest rank of federal organization."

The FSA now has a number of agencies under its wing. If it became the Department of Welfare Mr. Truman would want it to keep those agencies which promote the health, welfare, and social security of the people.

For example, the Department of Welfare would keep these agencies which the FSA has now:

U. S. Public Health Service; Social Security Administration; U. S. Office of Education; Food and Drug Administration; and the Bureau of Employees' Compensation (it handles injured government workers).

Other agencies, now part of FSA but which Mr. Truman thinks belong outside a welfare department, would be transferred elsewhere.

Frenchman Bemoans Ill Fortune In Not Running Car Into Truck

NEW YORK — TO UNDERSTAND a Frenchman "if you have to do is to take a ride with him in his motor car.

After five miles you will know the spirit of France better than if you had read a hundred histories. You will never again see the French short, or believe they are through as a nation.

For the Frenchman hasn't let the machine age take romance out of his life. His motor car isn't just an instrument to get him somewhere efficiently. It's a four-wheeled adventure—a vehicle that lets him play highway chess at 60 miles an hour.

I LEARNED ALL I WANT TO LEARN about the dauntless character of the French the other day in a ride from Caen to Paris. My fellow passengers were two ex-jeepees from the war days—George Hicks of the National Broadcasting Company and Jack Thompson, the Chicago Tribune's bearded military expert.

Our vehicle was a new tiny model Renault. In a Detroit factory it might be stepped on as a oversize cockroach. But these little cars, which sell from $800 to $900 and get 50 miles to a gallon of gas, are popular in France.

There has been no ride like it since Paul Revere.

Down the road our little car sped at 100 kilometers an hour like a maddened water-bug. Our driver drove like a Frenchman making love or painting a picture—with zip, passion, artistic frenzy.

WE GRAZED THE HANDLEBARS OF bicycles, and they peeled off to the right. We skinned the paint off motor cars coming at us, and they sheered off to the left.

Then we got caught in a series of traffic jams. Elsewhere in the world when there is a traffic jam, the vehicles come to a tangled halt, unable to move.

Not on the road to Paris. The bigger the jam the faster it moves. Everybody gears up and hundreds of cars going in opposite directions thread through each other in shifting, weaving honking masses at 60 miles an hour.

"Stop! Halt! Slow down!" we yelled.

The driver turned, grinned, circled a truck and picked up speed. He wanted the Americans to have a good time.

BY SOME MIRACLE WE REACHED Versailles, on the outskirts of Paris. As suddenly as it had erupted in frenzy, traffic slowed down to a gentle, 50-mile-an-hour crawl.

It was then we discovered our driver was bawling mad. By gesture and phrase he let us know why. It seemed a truck had swerved into his path without honking horns. And he was angry because he had crashed head-on into the truck to punish it.

"A Frenchman would rather get into an accident if justice is on his side than avoid an accident and feel he has not insisted on his rights," he said with dignity.

That is all anyone needs to know about the French spirit. He'll hold on to it—even if it lands him in a ditch.

Charles Grabs Boxing Crown

CHICAGO, June 23. (AP)—Ezzard Charles, who wanted to be a ring champion ever since he started boxing at the age of 14, has realized his burning ambition.

Last night, after 13 years of slugging his way to the top, this little 27-year-old Cincinnati Negro won the NBA version of the world heavyweight title vacated by Joe Louis by decisively defeating Jersey Joe Walcott in a 15-round battle.

Charles won the unanimous decision of the three officials, approval of the National Boxing Association, the consent of Louis and the blessing of the newly formed International Boxing Club, promoters of the bout, which has an exclusive three-year contract with Charles.

But now Charles has to convince the New York Athletic Commission, which is on record as favoring a tournament among contenders, and Massachusetts, which does not belong to the NBA and, too, will have a championship of its own Sept. 6 when the British Board of Boxing Control recognizes the winner of the Lee Savold-Bruce Woodcock bout for the crown.

The contest was fought in Comiskey Park, home of the Chicago White Sox, where 12 years ago to the night Louis won the championship by knocking out Jimmy Braddock.

First Baseman Doing Big Job For The Cards

By JOE REICHLER Associated Press Sports Writer

Quick now, who is the regular first baseman of the St. Louis Cardinals?

The average baseball fan probably has to think twice before answering "Vernal (Nippy) Jones," but the 24-year-old sophomore first sacker, in his colorless, but efficient way, is doing a bang-up job for Manager Eddie Dyer.

Although he is shoved into the shadows by glittering teammates, it is doubtful if any other Redbird has done as much as Jones during the past 10 days to boost the Cards up to their present spot in the National League of standings—mere half game out of first place.

In the Cards last nine games with Brooklyn, Philadelphia and New York, Jones has wrecked enemy pitching for 17 hits in 38 times at bat. He's driven in 17 runs and boosted his season mark 41 points to a respectable 311.

Jones collected three hits last night to help the Cards defeat the Giants, 11-8. The victory moved the Redbirds to within a half game of the first place Brooklyn Dodgers, who were defeated by the Cards in Cincinnati, 4-3.

The Cards won the hard way, making up an 8-1 deficit with three runs in the fourth, two in the sixth and a winning five in the seventh.

Cincinnati had to go 11 innings to defeat the Dodgers. Three successive singles by Peanuts Lowrey, Grady Hatton and Walker Cooper furnished the winning run after two were out. Fwell Blackwell, pitching two and a third innings of relief, received credit for his first victory of the season.

A trio of homers by Herman Reich, Hank Sauer and Pitcher Devey Adkins helped the last place Chicago Cubs outlast the Boston Braves, 9-8. Bob Muncie, one of the 10 pitchers used in the game, was credited with his first victory as a Cub.

Dino Restelli, rookie Pittsburgh outfielder, celebrated the end of his first week in the majors by blasting two homers—his fourth and fifth—to lead the Pirates to a 12-3 triumph over Robin Roberts and the Philadelphia Phillies. Vic Lombardi went all the way to notch his first victory of the season.

The Detroit Tigers regained second place from the Philadelphia Athletics, defeating the Red Sox in Boston, 13-4, while the A's were bowing to the Cleveland Indians in a 14-inning thriller, 7-3. The triumph, coupled with New York's split in its doubleheader with the St. Louis Browns left the Tigers four games behind the front-running Yankees.

The Yankees received a scare from the cellar-dwelling Browns who whipped them, 5-1, in the opener. However, the Yankees came back to outscore the Browns, 10-8, in the nightcap. In the other American League game, the Chicago White Sox, behind the steady hurling of Southpaw Bill Wight, defeated the Senators in Washington, 4-1.

The Tigers blasted four Boston pitchers for 18 hits, good for 26 runs. Johnny Ligon got four, and Paul Campbell and Vic Wertz got three apiece.

The Browns came within an eyelash of winning a doubleheader from the Yankees. They knocked out Vic Raschi, belaboring the ace righthander with 13 hits in less than six innings of the nightcap.

Tri-County Teams Play Here Tonight

Baseball will be on again at Steer park tonight as the area's amateurs take over for one of their most important games of the season.

Tonight's contest will figure in the Tri-County league standings, and it brings the loop-leading Forsan aggregation into Big Spring. The Forsan crew, which has suffered defeat only once in league play, will face a challenge from Knott.

The skirmish here was arranged to make-up for a regularly scheduled game that was postponed a couple of weeks ago. Forsan of course will be trying to protect its league record of eight victories and one defeat. The lone setback was administered two weeks ago by HCJC.

The Tri-County Loop is winding up its second round of play. The Forsan aggregation is scheduled to begin third round play Sunday when they tackle the Cosden Refiners.

Forsan's latest triumph was an 8-7 victory over Coahoma last Sunday.

No Newcomers Able To Place With All-Star

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR. NEW YORK, June 23. (AP)—Johnny Mize, currently a benchwarmer with the New York Giants, probably will play first base for the National League in the All-Star game next month.

Johnny was benched because he wasn't hitting in his old style and was fielding in his old style. Nevertheless he forged ahead in the balloting when Eddie Waitkus was shot. Maybe that shows why the pennant races are so close. The veterans like Mize are slipping a bit, but no newcomers have appeared who threaten to knock the old-timers off the all-star list.

The balloting, in fact, shows only two real standouts—Brooklyn's Jackie Robinson and Detroit's George Kell, until you get down to the outfielders. There's no doubt that the six guys on top in that department are real pros who belong on anybody's all-star team.

Speaking of all-star games, Bob Feller isn't the only guy who doesn't like to pitch in them. Lefty Covington, a colorful character who pitches for the Tampa Smokers, was sounding off recently about the Florida International League's all-star contest the other night.

"I'm too valuable to my team to work my arm off for a gold baseball," Lefty protested. "I can't live on the honor-my grocer still charges me 15 cents a loaf for bread." At this point Owner Tom Spicola intervened with the command: "If you feel that way, Lefty, then don't pitch. But just don't pitch and keep your mouth shut about it."

John McMillan, reporting the incident for the Miami Daily News, commented: "For years Lefty had been told by various exasperated managers and owners to shut up and pitch. Now, for the first time, he had been told the reverse—don't pitch but shut up."

Due to the present state of the fight business here, Jimmy Grippo, the part-time manager, has taken his celebrated hypnosis act into a local night club. He won't find a heavy weight prospect among the guys who try to slug it out on the sidewalk at three A.M.

The pre-season football brochure from Texas Christian U. devotes three full pages to Quarterback Lindy Berry. Suppose they'd be mad if somebody picked Lindy for an All-American team? Gardner Dickinson of Louisiana State, who tied for the medal with a record score in the NCAA Golf Tournament last year but didn't get it, will be back for another shot next week.

Gardner had to leave right after the qualifying round to report at ROTC camp, and rules specify that the medalist must play at least one match.

Jim Connolly, celebrated writer of sea stories, has been awarded his Harvard track H for winning the hop, step and jump at the 1946 Olympics after Harvard had denied him leave of absence to compete.

After 50 years, he's entitled to ask "What the?" Phyllis Kessler, drum majorette of the Green Bay Packers Lumberjack Band, will compete in the Miss America contest at Atlantic City in August.

Phyllis is proof that fans were wrong when they said the Packers weren't much to look at.

EL PASO, June 23. (AP)—Melvin Rogers of Fort Bliss advanced to the semi-finals of the Fourth Army Tennis Tournament here yesterday with a grueling 5-7, 6-1, 6-3 victory over George Maliszewski of Camp Hood.

The local post placed a second man in the round of four when Kenneth Yarnell trimmed W. C. Brown of Fort Sam Houston, 6-3, 6-3.

Dick Russell of Camp Hood dropped William V. Crowley of Sandia, N. M., Air Force Base, 6-4, 6-3, and David Wood of Sandia beat W. C. Brown of Fort Sam Houston, 6-3, 6-3 in other quarter-final matches.

Finals in singles and doubles will be played Saturday. Doubles results were: Crowley and Wood, Sandia, defeated Pickering and Smith, Camp Chaffee, Ark., 6-0, 6-1.

Turkovic and Golomski, Fort Bliss, edged Higgins and Phillips, Fort Sill, Okla., 2-6, 6-4, 6-2. Johnson and Herrera, Brooke Medical Center, beat Armstrong and Wilkshere, Sandia, 7-5, 6-2.

Yarnall and Rogers, Bliss, dopped Smith and Lahm, Fort Sill.

Jersey Joe Calls His Conqueror A 'Sneaky' And 'Dirty' Fighter

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN CHICAGO, June 23. (AP)—Having flung his leather at Ezzard Charles without avail, Jersey Joe Walcott has decided to fling some mud.

While Charles, newly-crowned NBA heavyweight boxing champion, was paying somewhat of a tribute to loser Jersey Joe by saying "he can take it," Walcott called the 27-year-old Cincinnati belter "A sneaky puncher."

Wary Walcott, a shopworn contender who missed his third try at the crown at Comiskey Park last night on a unanimous decision.

A Good Book and Easy Chair

IT'S BETTER WITH BLOCK'S BEST California WINE

Relaxation and rest, with Block's Best!

Walcott said that Charles is not a great fighter—he's a sneaky puncher who hits coming out of the clinches. When the referee broke us, I stopped fighting, but that dirty fighter kept banging away.

Felix Boechicchio, Walcott's manager chimed in: "Charles kept hitting low every round—they were punches that hurt my boy."

Davey Miller, veteran referee, discredited Walcott's charge. "I thought both fighters broke pretty well for big guys," he observed. "I didn't see any punches thrown coming out of clinches."

Walcott, 35-year-old father of six children, is not ready to call it quits. "I'll fight Charles again next week, if it could be arranged," he insisted. "I'm going to Camden N. J. to rest. Then I'll be ready to fight anybody."

Charles wants to be a fighting champion—"Like Joe Louis."

"I want as many fights as I can get," he said. "But now I just want to go home and play some golf for a while. Although I trained at a golf course in Sunset Hills near Momenta, Ill.; they wouldn't let me play."

Pitcher Purchased

HOUSTON, June 23. (AP)—Houston of the Texas League has purchased Pitcher Marty Errante from Texas of the Class B Big State League.

Brothers Harry Walker of Chicago and Dixie Walker of Pittsburgh both entered the 1949 season with lifetime batting marks over 300.

Helba Stops Dusters As Broncs Win, 5-4

Locals Increase Their Loop Lead

VERNON, June 23—The Big Spring Broncs scored three runs in the first inning to gain a lead they never relinquished in edging the Vernon Dusters, 5-4, here Wednesday night.

Gumbo Helba, who marked up his eighth victory of the season for the Broncs, experienced some rough sailing in the eighth, but he managed to retire the side and leave two Dusters stranded in scoring position.

The victory increased Big Spring's Longhorn league lead to eight and a half games over the second-place Dusters.

Felix Gomez started the first-inning surge for the Broncs when he drew a free ticket to first. Ace Mendez singled and Pat Stacey swatted a double and the rally was on. After Carlos Pascual skied out, Ray Vasquez came through with another two-base fly and the Broncs were on their way to victory.

The Dusters came back for two in the bottom of the first on the strength of a three-base error committed by Helba. Gumbo tossed one into right field trying to nip a runner at first.

The Hossees picked up another run in the fourth on a hit, a walk and a Duster miscue, and one in the sixth when Gomez singled, stole second and then romped home on a one-base blow by Mendez.

The Dusters got three hits in the eighth, but could push only one run across. The final Vernon marker came in the ninth as a result of Bob Huntley's pinch single after two were out.

The Broncs conclude the series with the Dusters tonight.

The Hossees are due to move into San Angelo Friday to open a three-game set with that city.

LOOKING 'EM OVER
With Tommy Hart

By WACIL MCNAIR
(For Tommy Hart Who is Vacationing)

Red Brown, who took over the pilot's reins of the Ballinger Cats just before the Felines put in here to drop three in a row to the Broncs, is searching frantically for some pitchers. That should be no surprise to local fans who watched Cat tossers force in three scores with bases on ball and one by hitting a batter. However, Brown was alert to the fact that he needed pitchers before Tuesday night's doubleheader.

The catch is that dependable rookie hurlers are as scarce as the proverbial hen's teeth. Red said he searched this part of the country thoroughly while scouting for Dallas and he knows what he's talking about.

"I could get some class pitchers right away, but I can't use them," the Cat field boss lamented.

Consequently, Brown wishes right now that the Longhorn league permitted more than two class men on each club roster.

Bert Baez probably will play first base regularly for the Broncs for a few days. Eddie Ramirez, the rookie who didn't come around as a hitter, was released Tuesday, and a replacement has not yet arrived. The Broncs may obtain Danny Concepcion when the veteran George Sturdivant is able to return to the Abilene Blue Sox lineup. Sturdivant is sidelined temporarily with a back injury.

Bronc Manager Pat Stacey was expecting Will Roca, the big lefty, to report in from Havana before the Hossees pulled out for Vernon Tuesday night, but Wilfredo didn't appear. He was originally due here about three weeks ago, but Havana decided to keep him around for a few days after he turned in a no-hitter.

Bert Baez turned first basing duties over the Gumbo Helba in the fourth inning of the second game against Ballinger Tuesday night to meet a plane and welcome his wife to Big Spring.

The Junior Legion Bombers may have lost the services of Centerfielder Harold Rosson for the remainder of the season in that 19-8 victory over the Hawks Tuesday afternoon. Rosson came out with a broken toe when he collided with Aubrey Armstrong as both of them went after a fly ball.

Results of the Women's West Texas Golf Tournament in Lubbock last weekend certainly should not detract from interest in the July 2 exhibition at the Big Spring Country club. On the contrary, local golf fans have added assurance that Bettye Mims White will be teamed with formidable links artists for her appearance here. Mrs. Sam O'Neal and Gloria Strom Ezrell both indicated by their play in the tournament that they can make things interesting for most any professional.

Bill Path, the former Ballinger catcher, has joined the San Angelo Colts for a five-day look.

Incidentally, some local fans believe Wayne Wallace, the big shortstop, is the most promising youngster on the Colt roster.

Austin Heat Playing Hob With Netters Seeking College Titles

AUSTIN, June 23, (AP) — Minus combination of Arnold Saul and Bob Perez of Southern California was taken out by Gardner Larned and Buddy Behrens of Rollins in a match that went 48 games—11-9, 5-7, 9-7.

The terrific Texas heat was an important factor in virtually every match of yesterday's rounds. In one instance it caused a seeded player — Dick Savitt of Cornell, ranked ninth—to fall out. Savitt suffered a sunstroke and had to go to a hospital. He defaulted to Jack Tuero of Tulane.

The heat indirectly brought a default from still another player — Clark Taylor of North Carolina. Taylor suffered a sunstroke last year and had had some trouble from it since then. He had been ill for two days here and quit his match against Behrens because of an upset stomach aggravated by the heat.

Savitt also had to forfeit in doubles where he was to have played with Leonard Steiner against Seixas and Taylor.

As the tournament reached the halfway mark, UCLA, San Francisco and Rollins were locked in a tight battle for the team championship which is decided by victories in both singles and doubles from yesterday's round through the finals. A point is awarded for each win.

UCLA, San Francisco and Rollins each had three points and William and Mary two. Each also has that many entries left in the tournament.

Martin Whiffs 18 Batters As Bombers Win

Floyd Martin pitched two-hit ball for the Big Spring American Legion Bombers here Wednesday afternoon as the local aggregation romped to a 10-0 victory over Forsan.

It was the second straight victory for the Bombers in the young American Legion Junior baseball season.

Martin struck out 18 men and issued only two bases on balls in coasting to the triumph.

Howard Washburn led a nine-hit Bomber attack at the plate with a triple and two singles in four trips to the plate.

The Junior Legion schedule continues today with the Big Spring Hawks travelling to Stanton to meet the Buffaloes.

Dan English Wins Putting Contest

Dan English nudged Bob Hodges in a playoff to win the Country Club putting contest Tuesday night.

English and Hodges both finished their regular round with 69's. Bob Satterwhite finished in third place with a 70, while Sam McComb was a close fourth with 71.

Dot Vineyard's 71 was good for first place in the women's putting contest. Billy Dillon was second with 74.

Ty Cobb holds American League record by laying the most years with one team, 22 with the Detroit Tigers.

Ft. Worth Cats Extend Streak To Ten Wins

By WILBUR MARTIN
Associated Press Staff

Fort Worth bids for its eleventh straight victory tonight, one that would match a mark set by Dallas at the season's outset.

The Texas League leaders made it ten in a row last night by sloshing to a 5-0 win over San Antonio.

The decision kept the Cats a half-game in front of the Dallas Eagles, who downed Houston twice, 7-6, and 3-2.

In other games, Tulsa and Beaumont divided a twin bill and Oklahoma City edged Shreveport, 3-2. Beaumont won the first game, 5-4, and Tulsa the second, 8-6.

The last four innings of the Fort Worth-San Antonio tilt was played in rain. Chris Van Cuyk went the distance for the Cats, winning his eighth game of the season and his third in the string of ten.

Dallas came from behind three times to win the 12-inning opening game. Ralph Rabnies drove home the winning runs in both games.

Two home runs and Jack Hall's six-hit pitching won for Oklahoma City Mickey Burnett and Grant Dunlap hit the homers.

Beaumont had a big three-run seventh inning in the first game, and Tulsa had a four-run outburst in the fourth frame of the nightcap.

Abilene Sockers Return To Form

By The Associated Press

The Abilene Blue Sox have moved all the way from fourth place into a virtual tie with Lubbock for second place in the West Texas-New Mexico League baseball race.

Abilene licked Lubbock last night, 7-5. The win moved the Sox to within one percentage point of the hubbers. Both clubs are four and a half games behind the first-place Albuquerque Dukes.

The Dukes divided a double-header with the fourth place Amarillo Gold Sox. The Dukes won the opener, 3-1, while the Sox capped the nightcap, 9-8.

Borger skidded all the way from third to fifth place, losing a double-header to Clovis. Clovis swept the twin bill, 6-5 and 9-5.

Pampa edged Lamesa, 8-7, in ten innings.

Abilene scored six runs in the seventh inning to down Lubbock.

After Albuquerque won an easy victory in the opener, Amarillo's Crawford Howard hit a three-run homer in the last inning of the nightcap.

Clovis' Red Sallars won the opener with a single in the fifth frame. Clovis grabbed a comfortable lead in the second inning of the nightcap and coasted to victory.

Pampa's Roy Parker swatted a home run in the tenth inning to beat Lamesa.

The 'Babe' Meets Ft. Worth Star

OKLAHOMA CITY, June 23, (AP) — A couple of Teyans turned to golfing irons to settle an old score as the Western Women's Open Golf Tournament went into its quarter-final round.

The luck of the draw and a couple of well-placed victories placed Mrs. Babe Didrikson Zaharias, Port Arthur, against Polly Riley, the sturdy little Irish girl from Fort Worth.

They were to tee off at 1:15 p.m. (CST) in the first of four quarter-final matches which placed professionals against a quartet of par-shooting amateurs.

Another contest will feature Defending Champion Patty Berg, Minneapolis, and Beverly Hanson, the Fargo, N. D., miss.

Another match today sends Professional Louise Suggs, the Western Open winner in 1945 and 1947, against Marjorie Lindsay, Decatur, Ill.

Professional Betty Jameson, San Antonio, opposes Carol Diringer, Tiffin, O.

Babe Ruth struck out more times than any other major league batter—1,330 times in his career.

Youth Committed To State School In Burglary Here

Howard Carter was committed to the state school for boys at Gatesville, while another 14-year old lad was placed on probation Wednesday afternoon when County Judge J. E. Brown rendered judgment on burglary cases.

The two youths were charged with breaking into and entering the Big Spring Hardware store and taking several pistols and guns along with ammunition and scarfs. The loot was recovered last week by Jess Slaughter, county juvenile officer, and Chief of Police Pete Green.

Another youth, Johnny Bedwell, 17, is due to face burglary charges in district court in connection with the same incident. Bedwell has been released on bond.

AMRS, ECONOMY PLANS CONTROVERSIAL

Unfinished Business May Keep Solons In Town All Summer

WASHINGTON, June 23. (U.P.)—The efforts of Democratic leaders to get Congress out of town by late July or early August may be snaggled by some items of unfinished business.

Key senators have a plan for approving President Truman's first seven government reorganization proposals without waiting the 60 days now required by law.

But at least two controversial proposals may hold up adjournment anyhow. They are:

1. Secretary of State Acheson's suggestion yesterday that Congress vote at this session on re-arming western Europe, following expected Senate ratification of the North Atlantic Pact. Action on the arms plan, which now seems likely, probably would involve long committee hearings and floor debate.
2. A Senate petition demanding a vote on an economy scheme that would order President Truman to cut government spending in the fiscal year beginning July 1. That, too, could cause considerable time-consuming argument among the lawmakers.

The economy petition is being circulated by Chairman McClellan (D-Ark) of the Senate Expenditures Committee, and Sen. Reed (R-Kan.).

It asks the Senate to direct Mr. Truman to chop from 5 to 10 per cent off funds voted by Congress for spending during the fiscal year starting July 1.

Democratic Leader Lucas of Illinois has rejected pleas for its consideration, saying Congress has the job of deciding on government spending, not the President.

But McClellan claims 21 Democrats have signed the petition, while Reed has 24 Republicans on the line and expects more. Five more names would make a Senate majority.

McClellan, whose committee is considering the reorganization plans delivered to Congress Monday, day, told a reporter he is certain they will not delay adjournment.

GOP Floor Leader Wherry of Nebraska agreed that Congress should be able to decide the reorganization issues quickly.

Under the new law giving the President authority to reshuffle and streamline executive departments, his proposals go into effect 60 days after they are sent to Congress unless either the Senate or House disapproves.

Some leaders in both the House and Senate are proposing that Congress speed this up by a direct vote of approval. That would make the reorganizations effective without awaiting until Aug. 20.

Water delivered to the city of Rome by the great system of aqueducts in the First Century A. D. has been estimated at about 92,000,000 gallons a day.

Survivors Of Sunken Steamer To Make New Start Without Luggage

SOUTHAMPTON, England, June 23. (U.P.)—Six survivors of the Sunken Steamer Princess Astrid sailed today on the Luxury Liner Queen Elizabeth without a piece of luggage.

Four of them were traveling to the United States to get a new start in life with the clothes they wore when they scrambled into the Astrid's lifeboats. They slept last night in nightclothes borrowed from the ship's purser.

"We had to leave everything behind in Czechoslovakia except our clothes and personal belonging and now they're at the bottom of the sea," said Mrs. Anna Dunda, 40.

"But we saved our passports and money because when we started and fastened them around our necks."

Mrs. Duda with her sons, Thomas, 14, and John, 11, is traveling to Bridgeport, Conn., to join her husband, a timber foreman.

Mrs. Lena Klembus, 22-year-old dark haired Hungarian, is joining her husband, an upholsterer, in Arnold, Pa.

"Even my handbag went down with the Astrid," she said, "but I saved my money and passport by stuffing them in the pockets of my skirt."

Her husband left Hungary to set up a new home in Pennsylvania last February.

LOCAL POSTMASTER PLEASSED WITH NEW CURB LETTER DROP SETUP

Postmaster Nat Shick was happy today with the new set-up for the curb letter drop.

Moved Wednesday from its original location at the extreme south corner of the west side of Scurry street in the 300 block, the drop now is located around the corner on the Fourth street side.

Shick lost no time in trying it out as city workers blocked off the new area. He invited Carl Strom to pull in, and Strom found it more accessible.

Because open end of the area is at the intersection, the postmaster felt it would be easier to drive close to the box. Moreover, he pointed out, the new location makes it accessible from three instead of one direction. Traffic north, at southbound on Scurry and westbound on Fourth can pull directly into the slot. At the previous location, only southbound Scurry street traffic could get at the box.

LIFER RISKS DEATH TO WRITE A NEW CHAPTER IN MEDICAL HISTORY

OSNING, N. Y., June 23. (AP)—By gambling with his life, a Sing Sing prisoner has helped write recent medical history.

Even today, doctors are waiting to see if he will live or die as a result of the latest experiment for which he volunteered.

The dramatic role "at 49-year-old Louis Boy has played in major medical tests was detailed yesterday for the first time.

Some of his deeds had been told previously, but he had remained anonymous. And authorities had not disclosed that the same man had figures in several tests—any of which might have killed him.

Boy is serving a life term for his part in the 1931 murder of the garage cashier during a New York City holdup. He was convicted with two other men. They were sentenced to electrocution, but Boy's sentence was commuted in 1937 by then Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt.

In 1942, the government was testing atabrine as a weapon against malaria. To determine if the drug was poisonous, Boy volunteered to take it. It didn't hurt him. Later, millions of American service men in the war used the drug to stave off malaria.

In 1943, a "guinea pig" was needed on which to test a new influenza vaccine developed by the Rockefeller Institute. Boy again volunteered, and escaped possible death.

Several weeks ago, in a last-ditch attempt by doctors to save the life of a small girl dying of leukemia, Boy submitted to a blood exchange during which he took a quantity of the child's infected blood into his own body.

The girl later died. Doctors say Boy seems all right, but it may be months before they know if he will survive.

A casserole of garden-fresh vegetables is particularly delicious when topped with cheese biscuits. For the topping, prepare a standard two-cup flour baking powder biscuit recipe and add a half cup of finely grated cheese.

Councilman At Odessa Resigns

ODESSA, June 23. (AP)—City Councilman Bill Hale quit yesterday after J. J. Heaton was hired as chief of police.

Heaton was named to the post in a tumultuous meeting of the city council.

Before the group took action Hale said "If this thing is passed I will resign immediately."

After Heaton was voted chief, Hale said, "Yes, I've resigned."

Heaton was acting chief of police last year when his predecessor, O. Hamm, was hired. Hamm was dismissed by the council May 31.

When it fired Hamm the council said it wasn't satisfied with the way he was managing the department.

Lad Of 3 County's Berlin Rail Offer Fifth Polio Victim Runs Into Snags

Randall Harrington, 3, has been reported as Howard county's fifth polio victim. Randall is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Harrington, 1008 Gregg street.

Four cases of polio originating in Howard county had been reported for the year prior to the Harrington diagnosis. Four additional cases had been brought to Big Spring for treatment.

The surface of the Atlantic ocean is far more salty than the surfaces of the other great oceans.

BERLIN, June 23. (AP)—The offer by Berlin's railway strikers to restore service between Berlin and western Germany ran into snags today.

The anti-Communist Union UGO, announced yesterday it was willing to handle freight trains for West Berlin, but would continue the month-old strike on the elevated railway system.

Early East-West reaction to the proposal was this:

A vice president of the Russian-run Reichsbahn, against which the 14,000 workers struck, said it was an encroachment on the railroad's rights.

An American official said "the strikers are not a railroad company. They obviously can't set up a separate rail system unless they have agreements with the Reichsbahn."

UGO leaders sent work squads out, however, to repair damage done during demonstrations early in the strike which was called for full pay in West marks, job security and union recognition.

The Reichsbahn scheduled a meeting to consider the plan and the western military commandants will meet later today.

Strike chiefs said the offer was made to comply with a Big Four foreign ministers' wish to get Berlin rail freight traffic moving.

They also were urged yesterday by an American official to start considering the welfare of the city and not only of themselves.

Eastern Berlin newspapers carried no editorial comment on the proposal, but mentioned in news stories that it was an UGO plan to force the Western Allies to order them back to work.

The British-licensed Telegraph called for an impartial strike mediator.

Emergency Cars Take Priority

If you hear a siren or see a red light coming your way, better move over—and avoid trouble. There's no defense for blocking the progress of an emergency vehicle!

"Police cars, fire trucks, and ambulances have the right-of-way when they are making emergency calls," Chief of Police Pete Green declared. "They are on serious business and the driver of any other vehicle is required to get over to the side of the street and stop—out of the way. Failure to do so calls for a stiff penalty."

It's not safe to follow vehicles making emergency calls, either. Penalties are provided for violation of that prohibitory measure.

"Public cars or trucks on routine business or not making emergency runs observe the same rules as private vehicles, the chief said.

Double parking and "Sunday-driving" are other practices pointed out by the police chief as violations of law, and tickets are likely to be issued in cases where traffic is delayed.

Sweden Seeking Better Deal For Show Business

By RAGNAR AGREN
AP Newsfeatures
STOCKHOLM — Show business, which is often bad business in Sweden, is hoping for a new life through some legislators who have embarked upon a revision of the local entertainment laws.

With few theaters willing to devote a whole year exclusively to vaudeville, entertainers in other countries usually fill their schedules with restaurant and hotel appearances. But under present regulations in Sweden, floor shows are out.

No artists other than singers are allowed to perform "in connection with the serving of alcoholic beverages." This law dates back to 1896 and some entertainment-conscious legislators have begun to think it's time for a change. They are aware, no doubt, that tourists in Sweden miss the nightclubs and restaurant floor shows which lure travelers to most European countries.

Showpeople in Sweden hope the proposed revisions will untie some of the strings which have virtually bound them hand and foot.

Meanwhile, one of vaudeville's few sanctuaries in Sweden is the China theater in Stockholm, which from April through August each year is converted from movies to vaudeville.

The annual show at the China reached an all-time high both in popularity and quality during the war, when show people from all parts of the world were stranded in Sweden. Many of them have since returned; Sweden enjoys a certain popularity with foreign artists because local currency regulations allow them to take their earnings out of the country.

Even if the show depends on foreign artists for its main attractions, an increasing number of Swedish performers help keep up the China's vaudeville traditions.

One of Sweden's veteran troupers of international standard is Hector L. Neco, born Nils Neco, who gave up his law studies some 30 years ago to pick rabbits out of a hat. A pupil of the great American magician, Danie, Hector El Neco has appeared in private performances for Sweden's aging King Gustaf. He is booked solid for the summer in Sweden but plans to resume his international tours in the fall.

The show's feminine beauty is provided by 24-year-old Marianne Schueler, of Stockholm, a former chorus girl who has emerged as a promising young dancer.

Miss Schueler was chosen "Miss Ring Solves Mystery Of Missing Engineer"

SYDNEY — Two men at Wyndham, north-western Australia, caught a 14-foot crocodile. In its stomach they found a man's gold signet ring with the initials "J. T."

Police remembered the mystery of John Thompson, a young refrigeration engineer. In July, 1948, he fell from a wharf, at Wyndham. His body was never found. Police now know why.

Branks or scolding bridges were contrivances once used in the British Isles to punish "scolding women." It was a headpiece with a piece of iron that fitted the mouth and depressed the tongue.

China of 1949." In this capacity she appears on the stage in various scanty dresses to announce the number of each new act in the show. However, her dancing ability earned her a solo number of her own, dancing with provocative veils to the tune of Dave Rose's "Holiday for Strings." She likes her 3-month stint at the China but wouldn't say no to a chance at the movies—which is, after all, where many former vaudeville performers have landed.

'Real Life' Murder Is Studied By Scientist

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
NEW YORK, June 23. — Murder stories could help prevent murders, by telling what goes on in the killer's mind, a prominent psychiatrist suggests.

Nearly everyone likes to read a good murder story. "because they think they can learn how other people live," says Dr. Fredric Wertham in a new book, "The Show Of Violence." (Doubly & Co.)

Dr. Wertham, head of two psychiatric and mental health clinics has long made a study of murder. He has been a witness in many famous murder trials.

His suggestion is that the stories also tell why psychiatrists find in examining murderers. Such tests often are made to determine if a killer is sane or insane. A good psychiatrist learns why the murderer acted as he did, and what ideas and emotions made him do it.

Dr. Wertham claims "people are born non-violent, and like to be non-violent." To murder, they have to make up reasons to justify killing. The reasons may come from his own thinking and the social ideas and conditions surrounding him.

Making the psychiatric reports public would help society understand why murders happen. The facts would often point to social conditions and ideas that should be changed, he says.

Murder is far too common, he adds, citing some "mathematics of murder."

"A murder is committed every 45 minutes in this country. There are times and places where murder outbreaks tuberculosis as a cause of death."

"In the United States, 60 per cent of the murderers get away with it. Every two hours a murderer commits a perfect crime."

Dr. Wertham says this shows that "society doesn't have enough sense of guilt" about murders, and thus is partly to blame for the high murder rates.

"There are underlying psychological and social facts behind each act of murder," and these should be publicized, he says.

The question in preventing murders "is not only why one does it, but how one justifies it to himself. The dangers of violence that threaten us come not from the heads of individuals, but from social circumstances."

One of the biggest social changes needed, he says, is to create more respect for human life.

Wars, economic exploitation, widespread starvation, political murders all help to make it easier for the individual human to find reasons to justify the murder he commits, Dr. Wertham says.

Poverty, lack of training for parenthood, lack of facilities to find or treat people with emotional sicknesses, are other factors.

These weaknesses would be spotlighted by publicizing the workings of the murderer's mind.

Psychiatry could help prevent murders in another way, he adds in spotting the people who may become killers. Often, they are arrested on lesser charges before they ever are guilty of murder.

Those who show the signs of insanity or mental reasoning that could lead them to murder could be treated to make them well, or be placed in institutions.

HIT IN HEAD WITH CANOPY

WASHINGTON, June 23. — A man who was just waiting for a streetcar Monday was hit in the head with a Washington landmark.

John Hare, 45, was waiting for the car under the ancient metal canopy at the edge of the capitol grounds. The top of a truck connected with the edge of the canopy, causing it to crash. Hare was not seriously injured.

Sand Pays All Of Town's Bills

SEDFORD, England — This Norfolk village runs on sand. The 700 or so villagers haven't paid a penny in local taxes in 15 years.

The tax rate is fixed at eightpence on a pound's worth of real estate—roughly dollars 3.50 a hundred. But it hasn't been collected.

Sedford has paid all its expenses and made enough extra to refurbish the war memorial and start a new athletic field by selling natural resources—sand from a village-owned sandpit.

The first American "mint" was the glass factory founded at Jamestown, Virginia, about 1621 to make the handmade glass beads essential to trade with the Indians.

This "mint" was destroyed in the Indian massacre of 1622, to reach the earth.

Caravan Will Visit Local Church July 2-8

Worship, study and recreation will be on the schedule when a Methodist Youth caravan visits the First Methodist Church July 2-8. Programs will be conducted throughout the week under the joint direction of the local Methodist Youth Fellowship and a visiting caravan team.

Caravan work is a program project of the Methodist Youth under the direction of the Board of Education of the Methodist Church.

Since the project began in 1938, teams have been sent into all parts of the United States, Cuba, Hawaii, Poland, Czechoslovakia, Switzerland, Belgium, Norway, Sweden and North Africa.

Two young men, two young women and an adult counsellor, Selma Baird of Vernon, will conduct caravan week activities in Big Spring.

President of the three divisions of the First Methodist youth department will also have a part in the direction of activities. They are: Joan Miller, junior high department, Richard Deats, senior young people's department.

Mrs. Wayne Gound is the junior high counsellor; Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Barnes, the senior sponsors; Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Walker, the young people's department sponsors; Mrs. H. N. Robinson, the general superintendent; and Mrs. Bernard Lamun, the division superintendent.

Iron, Steel Industry Always Is In Need Of Qualified Workers

By GROVER C. BROWN
American Iron and Steel Institute
The iron and steel industry is one of the great basic industries of this country. The first successful iron furnace was put into operation in Saugus, Mass., in 1644, and the more than 300 years since that time, development in the industry has kept pace with the growth of the country and its needs.

Today the industry employs more than 600,000 workers, and in the past year it produced approximately 88,534,000 net tons of steel ingots. It is estimated that there are in everyday use in the United States at the present time more than a billion tons of steel.

In bridges, buildings, railroads, ships, machinery, automobiles and trucks, on farms and in the millions of private homes in heating and plumbing equipment, kitchen ranges, refrigerators, steel cabinets, tables, etc., and in an almost endless number of other miscellaneous articles and gadgets necessary for the comfort and happiness of 150 million people.

The iron and steel industry, as commonly defined, embraces only the manufacture of iron and steel in the form of raw or semi-finished products such as are made in blast open hearth, Bessemer and electric furnaces, and in rolling, drawing, piercing and other shaping mills.

On the other hand it must necessarily have attached to it various auxiliary operations. Many companies own their own ore and coal mines and limestone quarries; their railroads and ship lines for transportation of raw materials and finished products; coke ovens and by-product plants; machine shops, construction and maintenance departments; and other facilities which are essential for the efficient operation of the huge plants in which iron and steel are manufactured.

A large steel plant is a complete industrial city unto itself. Besides its great buildings, machines and equipment, it must also have its maintenance and repair shops, roads and railroads, waterlines and sewers, heating and lighting facilities, power houses, transmission lines, warehouses and stockpiles, laboratories, engineering, sales and executive offices, etc.

To administer, operate and maintain all of these facilities, provide for steady expansion and compensate for normal retirements and migrations of workers, the industry must employ each year thousands of new laborers, clerks, many types of craftsmen and helpers, machinists, electricians, metallurgists, chemists, civil and mechanical engineers, construction, maintenance and repair men, plumbers, railroad men, and hundreds of other classifications directly engaged on raw materials, furnaces, rolling mills, finishing, inspection, testing, handling, and shipping operations.

There are at least 4,000 different kinds of occupations to be found in this industry. Only about 10 per cent of all workers can be classified as unskilled.

The iron and steel industry ranks near the top among all basic industries with respect to average salaries paid and rates of pay and average earnings per hour for wage earners.

The high technical nature of steelmaking and the many mechanical skills required make it necessary to seek the highest grade of labor available. The ratio of workers with high school and college educations is increasing year by year.

The industry offers many opportunities to its new and old employees for special training in many lines of work. Under the learner training program promising young men are given a short course of intensive training in special operations or on particular jobs where additional skilled help is needed.

Apprentice training programs are one of the principal means in the industry by which skilled tradesmen are trained to supply its needs and from which foremen and supervisors for its many shops and crafts are developed. Apprentices are paid while they learn.

Training is given in about 30 occupations, including: machinist, millwright, electrician, bricklayer, roller, electrician, bricklayer, blacksmith, carpenter, plumber, boilermaker, tinsmith, toolmaker, etc. It is common, though not universal, practice to require graduation from high school as a prerequisite for admission to such training courses.

'And' Expensive With Cuppa Java

CHICAGO — "Coffee and" cost Alfred Ellis $282.05. It was the "and" that proved expensive. Ellis, who owns a store, bought a cup of coffee in a nearby soda fountain, returned to his place and drank it. Thus far he was out five cents. Then he brought back the cup and saucer to his store. While he was out, quick thieves took $282 from his cash register.

'Hot News' Brings Fire Dept. On Run

PONCA CITY, Okla. — There really was a lot of hot news... Neighbors called firemen to the residence of Ed Nichols when they spotted smoke pouring from the kitchen. The firemen rushed in to find the smoke coming from the stove, where Nichols was drying his rain soaked newspaper.

Australia Gains New Immigrants

CANBERRA — Australia added 48,000 people to her population by immigration in 1948.

Government figures show that 65,731 persons came to Australia during the year with the idea of living here permanently. In 1948, however, 17,000 people left Australia planning to be away one year or longer.

These 17,000 people are counted as losses to Australia.

The youngest U. S. Open golf champion was Horace Rawlins, who won the second open at Newport, R. I., in 1895, at the age of 19.

Barbecues Have Become Very Popular With Professional And Amateur Cooks

Barbecues have become very popular for outdoor or indoor cooking. Many amateur and professional cooks lay claim to the one right method, the best cut of meat, or the perfect sauce. Any discussion of barbecue could scarcely do justice to the many variations, but a broad classification may prove helpful.

Even the origin of the name "barbecue" is disputed. But probably, originally the term was applied to large feasts where a whole carcass was roasted for hours over a pit of glowing coals. Today, there are a few old-timers who make a profession of barbecuing meat for crowds of two or three thousands. They buy sides of aged top-grade beef. Each side is fastened to two long poles which rest on props over a bed of live coals. The trick is to replenish the coals from a secondary fire so that there is no blaze or smoke. During the 12 hours of roasting the beef is turned by reversing the position of the poles every half hour until the meat is cooked and tender. At meal time, the meat is carved and served with a sour-spicy sauce made with vinegar or lemon juice, catsup, garlic, or onions, salt, and red and black pepper—with variations at the discretion of the cook. This method is best left to the professional.

Another quite different method of out-of-doors barbecuing has been perfected by the Animal Husbandry Departments of some of our Land Grant Colleges. At one affair, 45,000 barbecued beef sandwiches were served from 11,000 pounds of boneless high-quality beef. In this method, uniform 15 to 20-pound chunks of meat are salted, then wrapped in parchment paper, then in muslin, and tied securely. Into pits 3 feet deep are poured a 1 1/2-foot layer of live coals from burning dry wood. Two inches of sand cover the coals and act as a bed for the bundles of meat. A metal roof covers the pit and dirt is added for insulation. From 12 to 14 hours in this snug warm pit produces meat cooked to a tender turn. Skillful slicing and a good barbecue sauce are also important.

These two methods of out-of-doors cooking take skill and practice, but there are many variations which even the novice can master. One-inch thick club steak, or sirloin or cubed steaks cut in servings are popular for barbecues. To assure the long, slow cooking necessary, a tautly stretched piece of chicken wire makes a good rack over a bed of hot coals or charcoal.

Some cooks use improvised or specially made metal-grills to suspend the meat. The trick here is to prepare a thin, zesty sauce and to use a "dauber" to brush or daub the surface of the meat every 15 or 20 minutes when it is turned. A clean paint brush may be used, but for an authentic touch, a cloth tied around a green stick makes an excellent dauber. If the meat is lean, the sauce should contain a liberal portion of butter or fortified margarine. But if a forequarter of lamb or spareribs are used, the butter can be omitted. A tip from the professionals suggests the use of only live coals, a 2-foot distance between coals and meat. Frequent turning of meat, and patience to wait 1 1/2 to 2 hours for slow cooking.

Drawn, whole young chickens, boned, rolled, and tied beef, lamb or pork roasts, spareribs, and hams are sometimes turned on a spit or pole before or above coals. These chunky pieces of meat take more cooking time than steaks, but are well suited to a backyard barbecue pit with a mechanical device to turn the meat. This type of cookery may be done with or without application of the sauce during the cooking.

For indoor barbecues, there are specially constructed push carts containing an insulated well for burning charcoal or charcoal broquettes. Some fireplaces have turning spits or roasting hooks, but too often the drip from the meat causes smoke unless drip pans are used. In fact, some experts claim that the meat juices should be caught and used to baste the meat during cooking and the barbecue sauce served only with, not on, the cooked meat.

Perhaps the easiest kind of home barbecue is prepared on top of the range, in the broiler, or in the oven. Barbecued franks, lamb riblets, beef short ribs, and lamb shanks are favorites. For these the browned serving-sized pieces of meat are covered with a barbecue sauce, then slowly cooked or baked until well seasoned and fork tender.

Young, plump broiling chickens are delightful when split and soaked in a flavorful lemon butter sauce, then slowly broiled with frequent application of the sauce to the surface of the chicken. Opinions differ as to the use of tomato paste or catsup with chicken or game. It would seem that a little crushed garlic, melted butter, lemon juice, salt, and a hint of crumbled herbs give a more distinctive flavor.

Now for a few quickies. There is ground beef, browned with a little onion, then covered with a thick barbecue sauce, heated slowly to blend flavors, then served on hot buns. Or shredded cooked beef or pork, or a ready-to-eat jellied pot roast of beef heated in enough barbecue sauce to make a thick spread of buns. Of course, barbecued franks are quick and easy. In fact, for home or picnic there's nothing better than tender, juicy franks heated in a good barbecue sauce. What a far cry this 10-minute barbecue version is from the 10-hour ancestor!

A chart for barbecued meats, sauces, and methods can be but a suggestion. It's fun to start from there and do some creative cooking.

Tuna Fish Salad Is Very Tasteful

Tuna Fish Salad***
Potato Chips

Blueberry Pie
Beverage

(Recipe for Starred Dish Follows)
TUNA FISH SALAD
Ingredients: 1 seven-ounce can tuna fish, 1/4 cup finely diced celery, 1/4 cup finely diced cucumber, 1 cup well-drained cooked peas, 2 hard-cooked eggs (sliced), 3 tablespoons (about 1) mayonnaise or creamy-type salad dressing, 1 teaspoon prepared mustard, 1/4 teaspoon cider vinegar, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon sugar, salad greens.

Method: Flake tuna fish unless it is already flaked. Add to it the celery, cucumber, peas and eggs. In a small bowl mix the mayonnaise or creamy-type salad dressing with the mustard, vinegar, salt, and sugar until they are well combined; add to the tuna mixture, mixing lightly. Serve on salad greens, 4 servings.

(Recipe for Starred Dish Follows)
RASPBERRY TAPIOCA
Ingredients: 1 egg (separated), 2 cups milk, 5 tablespoons sugar, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 3 tablespoons quick-cooking tapioca, 1/4 teaspoon vanilla, 1 cup sweetened crushed raspberries (reserve four whole berries for garnishing.)

Method: Put the egg yolk in a saucepan and beat slightly with a fork; add a little of the milk and beat again. Now add remaining milk, 3 tablespoons of the sugar, salt, and tapioca and stir well. Place over moderate heat; stirring constantly, cook until mixture comes to a full boil—this will take about 8 minutes. Remove from heat. Add egg white with a rotary beater or electric mixer until foamy throughout; add the remaining 2 tablespoons of sugar, a teaspoon at a time, and continue beating until whites hold peaks that bend over slightly when beater is slowly withdrawn. Add hot tapioca mixture and vanilla, stirring constantly. Put a portion of the crushed sweetened raspberries in each of 4 sherbet glasses, cover with the tapioca cream and chill. Garnish each glass with a whole raspberry, 4 servings.

Ingredients: 1 cup soft bread crumbs, 1/4 cup plus 2 tablespoons milk, 2 egg yolks (beaten), 1/4 cup sugar, 1/4 cup orange juice, 1/4 cup seedless raisins, 2 egg whites (stiffly beaten).

Method: Soak the bread crumbs in the milk; rub through a coarse sieve into a medium-sized mixing bowl. Add the egg yolks and sugar and mix well. Add the orange juice and raisins and mix again. Fold the stiffly beaten egg whites into the pudding. Turn into 4 custard cups. Set cups in a pan of hot water and bake in a moderate (350F) oven for about an hour or until set. Chill before serving.

Green Pepper And Rice Casserole Has That New Look For Your Table

Green peppers are one of nature's finest examples of her designing ability of packages. They are a mixture of good packaging and flavor done up as one. But they are at their best doing team work with other members of the list of foods. A leader among these is rice. Stuffed peppers with rice mixtures of various sorts are well known. In this different combination, the peppers form the background and the rice with its cohorts get the top billing.

Ingredients: 3 or 4 green peppers, 1 cup cooked rice, 1 can condensed tomato soup, 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, 1/4 pound grated cheese, or dice the cheese if washing the grater is a task. 1 teaspoon salt.

Preparing the Fluffy White Rice: Put 1 cup of white rice, 1 teaspoon salt and 2 cups cold water in a two-quart saucepan. Cover with a tight-fitting lid. Set over a hot flame until it boils vigorously. Then reduce the heat as low as possible and simmer for 14 minutes more. During this time the rice will absorb the water and come out deliciously tender. Remove the lid to permit the rice to steam dry. Lift the rice with a fork to test its consistency. Never stir rice while cooking—and the grains will be separate and tender. Makes approximately 3 1/3 cups fluffy white rice. Keep leftover cooked rice in a covered bowl in refrigerator—you'll find it handy next time you're in a hurry to fix a quick meal.

Method: Cut peppers into halves, lengthwise, remove the seeds and membrane, and drop into a small amount of boiling salted water. Cook or steam about seven minutes or until the peppers are partially cooked. To the cooked rice that is still hot add the cheese and cover until the cheese melts. Then add the canned condensed tomato soup and the Worcestershire sauce. Mix lightly to blend. Place the peppers in a greased shallow baking dish and cover with the rice mixture. Bake in a moderate oven, 350 degrees, for about 45 minutes. Will make from four to six servings.

Timely Tips

Dairy products are plentiful now—also eggs—it's an ideal time for ice cream pie.

A new food product—frozen fruit puree for cakes, pies, ice creams and sherbet is not far in the future—lemon and orange already are being sold.

Letture on the plentiful list also may be cooked as well as served raw. Cook it slowly in a covered frying pan with a little fat.

Canned grapefruit segments go into a jellied ring mold for a delightful cool salad or dessert.

'Tame Broncs' Sometimes Are Meanest Ones

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Don't believe everything you see at a rodeo. Those high bucking broncs may be easier than those that look tame.

At least 29-year-old Gerald Roberts says so, and the 165-pounder should know. He won the title of world champion all-around cowboy last year by making bull and bronc riding look simple.

"Broncs that look easy sometimes have sly tricks that make them toughest," says the champ.

He figures there just isn't an easy side and the tougher they look the more points for the rider who turns in a smooth performance. Points mean dollars for the rodeo hands.

Cowboys must stay on the broncs to score, but they are judged for style in addition. That style and balance comes naturally to some, but require plenty of practice, nevertheless.

Gerald started riding when he was about two at his father's Strong City, Kan., ranch. He's been at it ever since.

Starting on the rodeo trail at 14, he has won two all-around titles — the first in 1942.

Winning 21,766 points in bareback bronc, saddle bronc and bull riding during 1948 meant $21,766 and, more coveted still, the title again.

"The more events you can take points in, the better your chance of getting the championship," Roberts explains. He says it's unusual for a cowboy to perform well in more than three events.

It took some high flying on more than broncs and bulls for the native Kansan to win his crown. When the competition was toughest, he rode in rodeos being conducted simultaneously.

You can do that by riding during the afternoon in one city, flying or driving to the other for the evening performance and then back to the first for the second go-round. Sometimes you can compete on alternate days.

Roberts did his traveling by airplane and on one occasion doubled up by competing in rodeos being held the same days in Cheyenne, Wyo., and Kansas City.

He may change his mind as 1949 rolls on, but right now Gerald wants no more doubling up.

The top hand doesn't look for many more competitive years and you might guess logically that the world champion cowboy would want a ranch of his own to work.

You'd be wrong. Roberts wants to own a night club and now that Kansas has cast prohibition aside, he would like to go back there.

His father, E. C. Roberts and brother, Ken, produce rodeos through the Midwest. Ken is a former world champion bull rider.

Heat Strike Cause Idleness of 17,000

DETROIT, June 23 (AP) — "Heat strikes" caused approximately 17,000 auto workers to be idle Tuesday.

Chrysler Corp. said it was forced to send home 12,000 employees. Production was stalled, the company said, when a group of men quit.

Kaiser-Fraser halted its two assembly lines, laying off 5,000. Trim department workers had left.

Detroit's temperature of 86 degrees was accompanied by excessive humidity.

Music For Everyone Is St. John Theory

ANNAPOLIS, Md., June 23. — One night last October, beaming Vienna-born Victor Zuckerkandl told the assembled St. John's College students, "If you can breathe, you can sing."

Zuckerkandl already had sold the faculty on the "Great Books" school on his theory. He was out to convince the student body.

Rare indeed, he said, are persons with physical tone-deafness, unmusical types" are usually just untrained or inhibited. And there's no profit in staying that way.

Such arguments fitted right into St. John's educational ideas: other forms of expression, words and numbers, literature and mathematics are held to be no one's monopoly. There're attainable for all.

So the result of Zuckerkandl's plea for music was a major addition to the curriculum. Now every Friday evening of the school year the student body becomes a choir. Zuckerkandl conducts; and everything goes—from Bach to Gershwin.

What Zuckerkandl meant by music wasn't just "appreciation," or "a-time worship. Nor did he mean complicated techniques. He was talking about singing, reading notes, playing instruments.

At St. John's, the no-choice curriculum is so arranged that to stay with his class, any man in the faculty of 33 must be trained, or training, in the contents of any other class.

Zuckerkandl, who leads classes in music-writing and a discussion group in great compositions, put his finger on a gap in the "integration" of the liberal arts program. His notion of music filled it and was therefore welcomed.

"Integration" is an important word around St. John's. Its steady emphasis on a whole, rounded curriculum is based on the belief that there is an underlying unity in the knowledge man has accumulated in his efforts to understand the world.

On this fundamental knowledge and its various phases the St. John's program is focused: the study of "man and the world, and all that these imply."

That's a mouthful, but not hard to follow in its practical workings at St. John's. You simply study and think about the great books of western civilization, the stalwart which form "dictionary and grammar" of our common intellectual language.

It's been a dozen years now since beautiful old St. John's took its walk from the ranks of conventional colleges.

The banner of academic revolt was hoisted in 1937 by Springfellow Barr and Scott Buchanan, the first president and dean, respectively, under the new program.

It has remained proudly aloft through several crises, including the naval academy's one-time threat to swallow up the St. John's campus and quite recently, the big fuss among the top four of the college after Barr and Buchanan left.

That "civil war" involved the personalities of President John Kieffer, Dean Raymond N. Wilburn, assistant Dean L. Harvey Poe, Jr., and Treasurer Harrison Fiddesoff.

All resigned their administrative posts but stayed on in what St. John's considers their more important function, as teachers.

Their day-to-day policies were involved, but not the great challenge. These have met with no challenge either from faculty of students.

All students continue to chart their course with such landmarks as Aristotle, Wierchow, Marx, Freud the Bible, St. Thomas Aquinas, St. Augustine's confessions and Copernicus.

The four-year program involves a basic mastery of Greek, Latin, French, and German—to say nothing of more than 800 instruction hours in mathematics (through calculus), astronomy, chemistry, physics and biology.

There's no choice allowed. Some people may fancy themselves with little aptitude for science, others feel they can't get on with foreign languages. But St. John's has found such attitudes due mainly to laziness—or bad teaching. Only once in a while does it find a student with a genuine blind spot.

TFL Will Elect Officers Today

BEAUMONT, June 23. (AP) — The not fight over an executive secretary for the Texas Federation of Labor reaches the voting stage today.

Delegates to the annual convention will choose between longtime incumbent Harry Acreman of Austin and Paul C. Sparks of Houston.

Yesterday, a group of Sparks supporters went to Orange to deny a published report that Acreman's re-election is assured.

Secretary Fred Lucas of Carpenters Local 213 at Houston told the Orange leader:

"Our contacts indicate the election of Mr. Acreman is anything but in the bag and there is every reason to believe that Mr. Sparks will be the victor in this election."

William J. Harris was re-elected president of the convention yesterday by acclamation. He is head of the Dallas Musicians Union.

21-Gun Salute For Israeli President

TEL AVIV. (AP) — The Argentine embassy in the United States forwarded to Israel a request for information on how many gun salutes are fired here for Israeli President Weizman.

Actually the new state hasn't had time yet to work out a lot of these matters. But its protocol department set to work, drew up a code, and replied: "21 guns, as other states do for their presidents."

But the note added, confidentially, that in fact so far they've only been firing five guns—because of the war and munitions supply and all that. (And whether it's five or 21, it is the first time military censorship has passed the fact that Israel has that many guns.)

File Murder Charges In Fatal Beating

DALLAS, June 23. (AP) — Murder charges were filed late yesterday against L. D. Decker in the fatal beating of his blind and crippled 85-year-old mother.

Decker was charged with murder in Justice of the Peace Pierce McBride's court.

City Detective Jimmie Robert said the aged woman was beaten with a claw hammer.

Uranium Discovery In N. M. Reported

ALBUQUERQUE, June 23. (AP) — A uranium discovery in Central New Mexico is reported by Jack Pierce, executive secretary of the New Mexico Miners and Prospectors Assn.

The discovery was made June 4 by William McIlhenny, Albuquerque. Pierce said, three miles north of Scholle in Torrance County.

Dies Of Injuries

EL PASO, June 23. (AP) — Robert David Robinson, 20, died yesterday of injuries received early Sunday in a two-car crash near Marfa. Five persons were killed instantly in the accident.

Wedding Day Is Incomplete Minus Lovely Cake; Three Cakes Served

As much a part of wedding tradition as "something borrowed and something blue" is a lovely cake. Long ago at elaborate weddings, no less than three cakes were provided for the gala festivities... the bride's cake, the groom's cake and the wedding cake. Now it is considered correct to have one cake which we speak of as the wedding cake. This may be just one large white cake or a combination of the bride's and groom's cakes.

The bride's cake (which we often refer to as the wedding cake) is a white cake, generally made in tiers, and decorated with beautiful white icing. It can be as elaborate or as simple as you like. It is the star of the bridal table decorations and is served as a part of the refreshments at the reception. The bride always cuts the first piece of cake which she shares with the groom. Then the rest of the cake is served to the guests. If the number of reception guests outnumbers the serving the wedding cake will provide additional white cakes should be baked. Bake them in layers or oblong pans and ice them simply. Cut them and have them all ready to serve before the reception begins. These extra cakes are not displayed, they merely serve to supplement the supply.

The groom's cake is traditionally a fruit cake, dark or light. It may be left uniced or iced in small pieces in advance of the reception. These pieces are then individually boxed in small packages and presented to each guest as he departs. It's a popular custom for the guests to place a piece of the cake under their pillows, "to dream on" the night of the wedding. Or the groom's cake may be used as the top tier of the bride's cake, iced, and then wrapped uncut and stored in a tin box to be opened by the couple on their first anniversary.

The three-tier cake we are presenting in this bulletin follows this last plan. Such an arrangement makes less work and is more appropriate for the small wedding.

The groom's cake may be omitted entirely if a simple reception is being planned.

BRIDE'S CAKE
(white cake-makes 2 bottom tiers)
For success do these first: Have all ingredients room temperature. Preheat oven to 350° (mod.). Grease generously and dust with flour 1 round layer pan, 12-in. diameter, 1 1/2 to 2-in. deep and 2 round layer pans, 8-in. diameter, 1 1/2-in. deep. Measure level for accuracy. Sift cake flour; spoon lightly into cup. Do not pack. Sift together into bowl: 3 1/2 cups (3 cups plus 1/2 cup plus 2 tbsps) sifted cake flour, 2 1/2 cups sugar, 5/4 tsp. double-action baking powder, 1 1/2 tsp. salt. Add: 1 cup milk, 1 1/2 tsp. vanilla. Beat vigorously with spoon for 2 1/2 min. by clock (about 150 strokes per minute). Or mix with electric mixer on medium speed for 2 1/2 min. Scrape sides and bottom of bowl constantly. Add: 1/2 cup milk, 1/2 cup unbeaten egg whites, 1/2 cup large. Continue beating 2 1/2 more minutes. Divide batter between 12-in. layer and one of the 8-in. layer pans filling each not more than half full. Put 8-in. layer in refrigerator. Bake 12-in. layer 35 to 40 min. in mod. oven (350°). When layer is nearly baked, mix a second batter exactly like first one. Divide it between remaining 8-in. pan and 12-in. pan (which has been greased and floured again). Place unbaked 12-in. layer in refrigerator. Bake the two 8-in. layers 30 to 35 min. in moderate oven (350°) or until top springs back when lightly touched. Bake second 12-in. layer last. Serves 58 to 60.

GROOM'S CAKE
(fruit cake makes top tier)
For success follow steps above and in addition: Prepare fruits and nuts. Pre-heat oven to 250° (slow). Line a greased round pan 5-in. diameter, 2-in. deep, with 2 layers of heavy paper; grease paper. Sift flour. Sift together into bowl: 3/4 cup sifted flour, 1/2 cup sugar, 1/2 tsp.

double-action baking powder, 1/4 tsp. salt. Add: 1/4 cup shortening, 1/4 cup water. Beat well until blended. Beat in, 1 at a time... 2 egg whites. Mix: 1/4 cup sifted flour with 1-3 cup each, white raisins; shredded coconut; toasted, chopped, blanched almonds, 1/4 cup each, finely cut-up candied citron, cherries, pineapple, orange peel, lemon peel. Stir into cake batter. Pour into prepared pan. Bake about 2 1/2 hrs. in slow oven (250°).

BUTTER ICING
(perfect for use in pastry tube)
Cream 2 cups shortening (part butter adds flavor). Blend in gradually 16 cups sifted confectioners' sugar (about 4 1/2 lb.). Stir in 1 cup cream, 8 tsp. vanilla. (Make icing in 2 or 3 batches if mixing by hand.) Cut 2 cardboard circles 8 and 5-in. diameter. Put the two 12-in. layers together with icing between. Place 8-in. cardboard circle on top. Set one 8-in. layer on top of cardboard, frost and top with second 8-in. layer. Place 5-in. cardboard circle on top. Set third tier in place. Frost ledges and sides smoothly. Place small vase on top of third tier. Cover vase with icing using ribbon tip. Decorate top and bottom edges of each tier with same design. With wooden pick draw guide lines for rambling rose vines on sides of each tier. With icing tinted pale green fill in vines using small round tip, and foliage using leaf tip. With pale pink icing build up roses on ledges and sides of tiers. When ready to serve, fill vase with fresh rose buds.

If pure white icing is desired, use all shortening and add 1 tsp.

Berry Meringue Ice Cream Pie Completes Menu

3 egg whites, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon cream of tartar, 1 cup sugar, 1 teaspoon vinegar, 1 teaspoon water, 1 teaspoon vanilla extract, 1 pint vanilla ice cream, 1 pint berries.

Combine egg whites, salt and cream of tartar and beat stiff. Add sugar gradually, alternating with mixture of water, vinegar and vanilla. Beat until mixture stands alone. Make individual "pastry shells" from the meringue by dropping meringue onto heavy paper on a cookie sheet and shaping with a spoon. This also may be baked in a 9-inch pie plate lined with a circle of heavy paper, making several slits from outer edge toward center. Spread meringue mixture in pie plate making rim at edge. Bake in very slow oven 250° F. for an hour. Cool.

Fill baked meringue with ice cream and sugared fresh or frozen berries.

Eisler's Bailers Are Getting Off Lightly

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Jumping bail can be pretty expensive, as in the Gerhart Eisler case, for the people who put up the bail. But the people who furnished Eisler's bail aren't in so bad a hole as they would have been, once upon a time.

Eisler's bailers, the Civil Rights Congress, put up $23,500, which the government is now in the process of setting. Under old English law, bailers were personally responsible if the defendant was not on hand when the court demanded his presence. The bailers were jailed and were given whatever punishment would have been meted out to the defendant.

Now the only bail that is required is money or a bond. But the obligations and rights of bailers are still regarded very seriously by the courts. The bailer becomes, in effect, the jailer of the person for whom he has furnished a bail bond.

He can personally take him into custody any time he deems it necessary to assure the defendant's presence in court. If he thinks the man is preparing to flee he can put handcuffs on him and turn him over to the police. If the defendant has already fled the bailer can go after him and arrest him just like a policeman.

Most bailers are professional bondsmen—persons who make their living furnishing bail to defendants in criminal cases. A lot of them get into trouble with the authorities from time to time for various abuses, such as loitering around courthouses and working in cahoots with shyster lawyers and corrupt policemen.

But many are respectable businessmen. And in almost all jurisdictions they have to be approved by the court before they can set up in business. The court must be satisfied not only that they are financially able to furnish bond but also that they are law-abiding, reputable citizens.

In any case they frequently offer the only hope of a prisoner's being released from jail pending his trial or appeal from conviction. If the judge won't release a prisoner on his own recognizance (meaning he doesn't have to furnish bail), he has few alternatives. If the court has said it will free him provided he furnishes a certain amount of bail, (it is usually a matter for the court's discretion), he can do one of four things:

1. Deposit his own cash with the court or give the court a lien on any real estate he owns.
2. Get a friend or a friendly organization, such as the one Eisler used, to post cash or a bond.
3. Engage a professional bondsman.
4. Get a surety company to furnish bail.

But surety companies very rarely provide bail in criminal cases.

When they do, the defendant usually is a man with substantial means and of high reputation. He posts collateral with the company, and the company furnishes the court with a bond which will be forfeited if he skips.

As the survey companies work it, the transaction is in the nature of a loan, and it isn't a very profitable business, as the maximum amount the company can charge in most jurisdictions is two per cent.

HIGH RATE

Professional bondsmen sometimes charge up to 15 per cent of the amount of the bond. Many jurisdictions set the maximum charge at five per cent.

When you want to get a professional bondsman to bail you out of jail, he'll often check on your record, see if you've ever been arrested before, see if you are holding a steady job, learn something about your general reputation and find out what property you own.

Many times, however, the bondsman is satisfied in the course of a half-hour interview. He is used to working with persons in the toils of the law and can size them up with uncanny accuracy.

If the bond isn't more than $500 or $1,000, and if the prisoner is an average citizen, he knows it is unlikely that the man will try to abscond. Even if the prisoner is an underworld character, that bondsman often knows all about him and his associates. He knows what the man is likely to do, whether he will be a good risk, and if he jumps bail he knows where he can find him.

AT THE RED GATES — A proposed skyscraper for Moscow

Reds Try Sky Scraping

MOSCOW—Architectural designs of new Moscow "skyscrapers" have begun to appear in the Soviet press.

According to plans these new 18- to 26-story buildings are to be erected during the next few years. Their construction was provided for in a special postwar decree of the Council of Ministers of the USSR.

One of the tallest of the new buildings is scheduled to be erected at the highest point in Moscow—Lenin Hills. This skyscraper, which will be visible from all over the capital when illuminated, will be a part of the new Moscow University campus which is being created out of several hundred acres.

Another large building which will be erected at the Red Gates opposite the present Railways Ministry building. The central section of this new building will be used for additional space for the Railways Ministry, and other portions will provide nearly 300 two, three and four room apartments.

Among modern conveniences the building is scheduled to have are air-conditioning, electric refrigeration, vacuum cleaners, television facilities in some offices, fluorescent lighting, incinerator shutles, a subway station, and store and service facilities.

The apartments sections are to be from 10 to 12 stories. The central administrative section is to contain 250 offices and will be about 25 stories high.

The project was designed by A. N. Dushkin, B. S. Mezentsev, and V. M. Abramov, architects in the employ of the Railways Ministry.

At present the tallest buildings in Moscow are 15-story structures. One is the Moscow Hotel in the center of the city, which in 1947 housed the American, British, and French delegations to the Council of Foreign Ministers.

Looking for a Doctor may be difficult, too...

• Better get "directions" from a friend, relative or business associate. Then locate your Doctor soon, before an emergency arises. That's smart! And it's just as smart to bring the Doctor's prescriptions to this Professional Pharmacy for careful specialized compounding.
