Republican gubernatorial candidate Clayton Williams and Eddie Trotter, son of Johnny and Dee Anne Trotter, give the thumbs up during Williams' visit to Hereford on Thursday. Williams was greeted by a crowd of about 150 persons at a fund-raiser at the Trotter's house.

Republican gubernatorial candidate Clayton Williams brought his campaign to Hereford on Thursday, greeted by a crowd of about 150 persons at a fund-raiser at the home of Johnny and Dee Anne Trotter west of the city.

"I'm not a politician, and I'm not a lawyer," Williams said to cheers from the crowd. He addressed the race, his stance on several issues, and about his opponent, Ann Richards. Williams also held a brief press conference at Hereford Municipal Airport.

Williams said he has had "a lot of practice downsizing" his companies for the past several years, and would downsize state government if elected. He said state spending has increased 42 percent in the last four years, with a net of 32,000 new state employees over the last 10 years.

Williams briefly reviewed his anti-drug plan, which would employ tougher penalties for drug sellers and put first-time drug offenders through an intense boot camp, "bustin' rocks," in hopes of rehabilitating them and letting them be useful members of society again.

"Drugs are killing our kids," Williams said. "That is the main reason I am running. I don't accept the fact that a bunch of blankety-blank drug lords from Columbia are the problem. We need to double, double, double, the prison system so the son of a uh, guns won't be out there. We need to restore the sting to our criminal justice system."

Williams quipped that he had "cleaned up my language, and I'll never talk about the weather again," Williams said as the crowd roared with laughter.

How would Williams pay for his $1.6 billion plan?

"We would have 10 percent less state autos," Williams said. He also wants to sell off state print shops and bid out the work, and sell the state's airplane fleet.

"If you're ever in a mood to see a circus, if you're in Austin go by the state airplane hangars," Williams said. "Don't go until 9:30 or 10 in the morning, and you will see state officials get out of your cars and get into the planes so they can go all over the state spreading their mess."

Williams also pushed for a voucher system to help pay for public education. The system would give each school-age child in the state a voucher that could be used to pay for education at the school of the child's choice, depending upon the enrollment allowed by the private school.

"It costs private schools only two-thirds of what it costs to teach a child in the public schools," Williams said, "but their test scores are 50 percent higher." He also said he would likely veto bills that force new program on local school districts without state funding, and would seek to increase parental involvement in their child's school.

Williams also promised to veto any income tax proposals coming out of the legislature, and would push for more reforms in worker's compensation and product liability laws that are hurting Texas businesses.

He also defended his environmental record, pointing out that he had received only a handful of citations despite being one of the state's top well-drillers.

In response to Richards' criticisms of his environmental stance, Williams said "she ought to worry about polluting the air with his words."

He also promised to push for a more responsive agriculture department in Austin. Williams has been a major cattle feeder in Deaf Smith County, and has large agricultural operations in West Texas.

Williams is leading in polls in the state by 11 to 15 points over Richards, but said the polls "are only a snapshot of how people think that particular day. We'll continue to work hard through Election Day, then work hard for the people of Texas."

Group studies fed mailouts

WASHINGTON (AP) - A survey by a no-new-taxes group on the use of free mail privileges in the House of Representatives shows Texas Republicans generally use the perk more than Democrats.

Grand jury indicts 7

The Deaf Smith County grand jury met and returned indictments Thursday.

Panfilo "Steven" Montelongo was indicted on two counts, aggravated sexual assault of a child, and sexual assault of a child.

Jose Bera Olivarez, Luis Salas and Gilberto Esqueda Herrera were all indicted for felony driving while intoxicated.

Paula F. Tarter was indicted for interference with child custody.

Ray Santos Guerrero was indicted for aggravated assault with a deadly weapon. Roy Nava and Francisco Flores Jr. were indicted for aggravated assault.

Seven other persons indicted remain at large.

But the survey released Thursday is far from comprehensive, said the National Taxpayers Union, which advocates reform of the mailing privilege. And aides to Texas congressmen who rank high on the list said its analysis is unfair.

"That survey is so far off and so unrepresentative of what goes out of members' offices, it's, to me, extremely unfair they would publish something like that," said Trish Brink, spokeswoman for Rep. Tom DeLay, R-Sugar Land. "What they were trying to do was certainly admirable... but there's no way they can give an accurate reflection."

DeLay ranked No. 2 among the 27-member delegation in number of pieces sent in mass mailings last year.

House members, unlike senators, don't have to disclose how much mail they send from their offices. So the National Taxpayers Union decided to take a stab at it.

The group gathered the most information it could from the Commission on Congressional Mailing Standards, but it wasn't much, said James Davidson, president.

The commission only tracks mailings that are sent to every address in a congressional district. Not included are letters individually addressed, either by typewriter or computer label. Those are also sent at no cost, a practice called franking.

The group said many members forsake the commission by not sending blanket mailings. Instead, they use elaborate address lists or target special groups, like veterans or senior citizens.

For instance, the group said Rep. Kika de la Garza, D-Mission, never sent a blanket mailing to every household in his South Texas district last year. But the congressman sends newsletters weekly to about 600 constituents and others, one of his aides said.

"All these members who don't go through franking or whose files do not include everything they mail out, they're not going to call the National Taxpayers Union and say 'Gee, I sent out a lot more mail,'" Ms. Brink said.

A Congressional Research Service study released earlier this year estimated House postage costs will top $136 million for 1989 and 1990.

High tech helps search

Deaf Smith County sheriff's deputies are using high-tech equipment to try to narrow the list of suspects in the murder of Johnny Martinez, 15, near Hereford on Sept. 2.

Texas Rangers helping in the case were able to use a Lumalight, which uses ultra-violet rays to see things undetectable to the human eye. With the light, authorities are able to see things like footprints, human hair, blood and other things that would match with persons who may have killed Martinez.

Martinez was taken to an abandoned farmhouse southwest of Hereford, where one or more persons killed Martinez with one or more blows to the head with a blunt object. Using the Lumalight, authorities said they were able to see many things unseen by the human eye that may provide a direct link to the perpetrators.

The Lumalight, a $10,000 instrument, has been used to provide key clues to many murders and other crimes in the past, including several murders in Amarillo. Authorities here said they were fascinated by the amount of new information they were able to gain from the use of the light.

Deaf Smith County Crimestoppers is still offering a reward of $300 or more for information in the case. Persons with information may remain completely anonymous and may call 364-2583. There are no tracers or anything else on the Clue Line, and persons may use a code name or number to help in paying rewards later. Contact need never be made with law enforcement officers, other than talking with them on the Clue Line. Payments are made by leaving the reward at a place of the recipient's choosing at the time the recipient wishes it to be made. The payments are left by persons not associated with any law enforcement agency.

Iraq vows no retreat; oil pumping through Iran

By JEFF DONN
Associated Press Writer

Iraq said today it will not retreat from Kuwait and vowed to fight until victory, while it reportedly sought to get around a tightening world embargo by pumping its oil through Iran.

Countries enforcing the U.N. embargo to pressure an end to Iraq's 6-week-old occupation of Kuwait bolstered their forces Thursday. France sent its first contingent of 4,000 more troops to the Mideast, while the chief of NATO appealed for other nations to follow suit.

The Iraqis today said two warplanes flying from Saudi Arabia penetrated up to six miles into their airspace Thursday before turning back. The military communique on Baghdad Radio did not identify the type or nationality of the aircraft.

In the latest round of diplomatic wrangling, Iraq ordered two military officers on the British Embassy staff to leave the country and barred a new military attaché from taking his post next month, the British Foreign Office said today.

European countries have made similar moves toward Iraq's diplomats to protest Iraqi raids on Western embassies in Kuwait.

Iraqi President Saddam Hussein was quoted Thursday as saying Iraq could weather the U.N.-ordered embargo for years.

Early today, the ruling Revolutionary Command Council led by Saddam broadcast a statement that denied reports Iraq might compromise on the Persian Gulf crisis.

"There will be no wavering or change in our objective on our march towards victory," the statement said.

The broadcast did not specify what compromise it referred to, but on Wednesday there were reports that Palestine Liberation Organization chairman Yasser Arafat had said Saddam might agree to withdraw troops from Kuwait if the ruling Sabah family was not allowed to return to power.

The Iraqi information minister was quoted as saying Thursday that Iraq will knock out Persian Gulf oil fields if attacked by the multinational force assembled against Iraq.

The official, Latif Nassayef Jassim, also said "Iraq will use all weapons at its disposal to respond to any aggression" intended to force its troops out of Kuwait, which Iraq invaded Aug. 2 in a dispute over oil, land and money.

U.S. officials said Iraq has asked Iran if the two countries can join their oil pipelines, a move that would allow Saddam to partly bypass the U.N.-ordered international embargo against his country.

Iran has not yet responded to the Iraqi request, which would let Iraq export 500,000 barrels of oil a day in return for badly needed cash, food and medicine, said the officials, speaking on condition of anonymity.

Despite signs that Iraq is feeling the international pressure, Saddam was quoted Thursday as saying Iraq could hold out for "five or six" years against the trade embargo.

The Turkish newspaper Milliyet also quoted him as saying Iraq "knows that America is the No. 1 superpower in the world. But we also are confident that we can hurt America."

The military forces arrayed against him grew stronger Thursday, however. French soldiers, including members of the Foreign Legion, headed to Saudi Arabia to join the U.S.-led multinational force. They were the first of 4,000 troops expected to ship out of southern

CRISIS IN THE GULF

"There will be no wavering or change in our objective on our march toward victory"

--Iraq statement

France in the sealift, France's largest in three decades.

NATO's secretary-general, Manfred Woerner, urged other Western European nations also to send more forces. "Let me clearly state my personal opinion - that some allies could and should do more," Woerner said at a conference in Brussels, Belgium.

Thousands of troops and dozens of warships from Western and Arab nations have converged on the Persian Gulf since Iraq's invasion of Kuwait, but Britain and France are the only Western European nations to send ground troops. The United States has about 165,000 military personnel in the region.

An American soldier was killed and two others injured in a jeep accident Thursday in the Saudi Arabian desert. U.S. military officials said. The death brought to 17 the number of fatalities among American personnel during the operation.

The oratory duel between Saddam and President Bush entered a new round as Iraqi officials offered Washington a tape of their leader making comments for broadcast to the American people. The Iraqis broadcast a message by Bush to their people Sunday, and Saddam's tape is believed to carry a rebuttal.

White House spokesman Roman Popadiuk said if Iraq gave U.S. officials a copy of the Saddam tape, they would take it "out of diplomatic courtesy."

The networks did not immediately say whether they would accept the tape for broadcast.

TTU student found in trash

LUBBOCK, Texas (AP) - Police are awaiting autopsy results on an 18-year-old college student whose body was found nude in a large trash bin.

Nanette Elaine Harrison's body was discovered Thursday by a man rummaging for aluminum cans, police said.

and bloodied," said police Lt. Dean Summerlin. "We had to locate her roommate and bring her to the Police Department to identify the body."

Summerlin said the time and cause of death will be determined by results of the autopsy.

He said police had no suspects. "We're still trying to retrace her steps."

Margaret Simon of Texas Tech University News and Publications said Ms. Harrison had been in Lubbock less than a month.

Ms. Harrison lived on campus.

Fake CIA plot found

HOUSTON (AP) - A former CIA officer says a diary describing a plot by the agency to assassinate President John F. Kennedy "looks like a clumsy fabrication."

Private investigator Joe West told reporters Thursday he had obtained and copied a diary describing the Central Intelligence Agency plot.

The diary was found by Geneva White Galle, the widow of Roscoe White, a Dallas police officer at the time of Kennedy's assassination, West said.

White's son, Ricky Don White, claimed on Aug. 7 that his father had shot Kennedy, acting on CIA orders. Roscoe White died in an industrial accident his son said was a deliberate attempt to silence his father.

A myriad of conspiracy theories have emerged since The Warren Commission concluded that Lee Harvey Oswald acted alone in killing Kennedy. None have been proven.

When asked what makes the White family's claims any more credible than other assassination theories, West said: "It would take me a month to answer that, and I'm just not going to."

White's original claims brought immediate denial from both the CIA and FBI. However, state Attorney General Jim Mattox has said he'll investigate White's story.

West said Thursday he does not now have the original diary, and refused to divulge who does. He said he believes it is being sent to a certified document analyst and it may turn out to be a hoax.

Even so, "I think this is a historical document and if it is a hoax, the public needs to know about it," West said.

But John Stockwell, a former CIA officer who had been working with West, said he urged the private investigator to call off Thursday's news conference because the diary "looks like a clumsy fabrication to me."

West said Mrs. Galle discovered the diary in a book about U.S. presidents, stuck within the chapter on the Kennedy years.

Researchers find milestone treatment

NEW YORK (AP) - In a boost for hopes of treating cystic fibrosis, researchers have replaced abnormal genes with healthy ones in the test tube to correct a crucial defect in cells afflicted with the disease.

"It's a milestone," said Paul Quinton, a cystic fibrosis researcher familiar with the work.

While the notion of gene therapy for cystic fibrosis was science fiction only a few years ago, the new work has "pressed the fiction closer to reality," said Quinton, of the University of California, Riverside.

The cells carried the abnormal gene that causes cystic fibrosis and researchers fixed the defect by giving them a normal copy of the gene.

Combined with research into gene therapy for other diseases, the new results "give us tremendous hope that gene therapy is going to become a reality in cystic fibrosis patients," said Robert Beall, the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation's executive vice president for medical affairs.

"We're not talking decades, we're talking years, a few years," said Beall, whose organization helped fund the new work.

Two teams of scientists corrected the cell defect in the test tube by using a harmless virus to inject the normal gene into the cells. One group describes its results in today's issue of the journal Cell. The other will publish its results in next week's issue of the British journal Nature.

Cystic fibrosis, the most common genetic defect in Caucasians, affects about 30,000 children and young adults in the United States. Their lungs produce a thick, sticky mucus that sets the stage for fatal lung infections. Mucus elsewhere interferes with digestion.

The abnormal mucus appears because cells cannot expel charged particles called chloride ions, while they absorb other particles called sodium ions too rapidly, Beall said. The effect is to dehydrate normal mucus, he said.

In the new work, researchers found that cells given a normal copy of the cystic fibrosis gene began expelling chloride ions normally. Scientists did not check for any effect on sodium ions.

It is not known whether simply fixing the chloride problem would cure cystic fibrosis, said Dr. Michael Welsh of the University of Iowa

All the counties in the UN are to be represented. President Bush is expected to attend.

In conjunction with the summit a candlelight vigil will take place on Sunday, Sept. 23 beginning in New Zealand and hopefully spreading around the world.

The focus of the vigils is to pray for the success of the United Nations Summit.

On Tuesday, police found Jordan's car abandoned in a wooded area of northeast Waller County. The area was searched on foot and horseback but no leads were discovered, officials said.

Phebus was born in Baltimore and went to high school in Poughkeepsie, N.Y. He was graduated from the state police academy earlier this year.

Officers pay respects to slain trooper

WEBSTER, Texas (AP) - Hundreds of law officers, some from as far away as Dallas and Louisiana, gathered with family and friends of Department of Public Safety officer Mark Phebus to pay final respects to the slain trooper.

Phebus, 23, was buried Thursday - three days after he was gunned down in Montgomery County.

The rookie trooper was off duty when he was fatally shot after he stopped at what he believed was a traffic accident but really was a domestic disturbance.

Richard Leland Jordan, a 43-year-old man from Spring, is charged with capital murder and remained at large early this morning.

Nearly 1,000 people filled the NASA Church of the Nazarene in suburban Houston for services Thursday. The mourners included several hundred Texas troopers as well as other officers.

Phebus' casket was draped with a Texas flag and flanked by an honor guard of troopers. Mourners attending Thursday's service walked through a line of state troopers that bordered the road leading into the church.

"The senseless and tragic way he died is beyond our understanding," said Wayne Hicks, pastor of the church. "It just doesn't make sense."

Hicks said Phebus had been taught Christian values at home and wanted his life to mean something.

"He chose to live a life of serving others," he said, noting that if Phebus had not stopped at the rural Montgomery County scene early Monday, Jordan's wife might have been killed.

"Mark's life was not dedicated to the safe way," he said. "Mark died a man of honor and valor. I pray his spirit will live on with all of us."

A longtime friend, Beverly Stanton, who attended Southern Nazarene University in Bethany, Okla., with him, remembered Phebus as always friendly and willing to lend a hand.

"He was a good and wonderful man with a lot of heart," she said.

At the service, she read a letter from a motorist identified as Bobby Presley, who had received a ticket

The ABC's of eyecare

Parents, focus on this fact: A youngster can "pass" the eye chart test used in traditional school screenings, but still have vision disorders that impair learning, say vision experts at the Better Vision Institute (BVI). That's because eye charts test only visual acuity, or the ability to see objects clearly at 20 feet. They may miss problem with such visual skills as focusing or gauging distance.

To make parents more aware of the importance of annual comprehensive vision examinations, BVI has created a national education campaign called "The ABC's of Eyecare (Annual Back-to-School Checkups)." It's run in cooperation with the National Education Association's Health Information Network and the National Association of School Nurses.

As part of the program, BVI developed a special free resource guide for teachers that includes tips on detecting vision problems in students. Symptoms include: holding books closely to eyes; using a finger as a placemark while reading; frowning, squinting or blinking; avoiding close work; complaining of headaches, nausea and dizziness.

The program will benefit Reading is Fundamental (RIF), the nation's largest organization promoting literacy. BVI will make a contribution to RIF based on the number of school-age children visiting an eye care professional's office.

Praise concert set

Permian banned from 1990 playoffs

ODESSA, Texas (AP) - For the second straight year the defending Class 5A Texas football champion won't be able to defend its title.

Odessa Permian, the top-rated schoolboy team in the country last year, was banned from the 1990 playoffs for violating rules that prohibit supervised football practice before Aug. 20. A cross-town coach and longtime critic of the state's most successful program brought the charges.

Last year, Dallas Carter was prohibited from defending its title in the state's highest classification after grading violations rendered the school ineligible for the playoffs.

Permian is among the most storied high school programs in the country. It is the subject of a just-released book that details the city's obsession with the team, chartered flights for road games and a multi-million-dollar stadium that rivals college complexes.

The Panthers, widely known as "Mojo," have won five state titles and finished second four times.

Permian was turned in by crosstown rival Odessa High School coach Jerry Taylor, who told a state-panel that he witnessed Mojo coaches and players going through summer drills in violation of schoolboy rules.

The University Interscholastic League state executive committee agreed with a Sept. 10 decision by the District 4-5A executive committee that Permian had broken the rules.

Coaches were found to have conducted supervised workouts between Aug. 6-10 and Aug. 13-17. "This is one of the most severe punishments this body has ever given," said UIL Director Bailey Marshall. "I would imagine this decision will send a shock wave through the state."

The panel also suspended first-year Permian coach Tam Hollingshead for two games, including a Sept. 28 meeting with Odessa High, which hasn't beaten Permian since 1964.

Hollingshead, who was slapped with a private reprimand in April for exceeding practice time limits, denied the allegations about illegal summer practices and said he would fight the ruling. He said the rules governing practices were a matter of interpretation.

None of the practices conducted this past summer were different from those that had occurred in the last 10 years, when Permian won three state titles, Hollingshead said.

Junior varsity coach Myron Schneider also received a two-game suspension. Hollingshead, Schneider and nine assistants were placed on a year's probation and Permian players were ruled ineligible for All-District football honors.

Taylor said he was surprised at the punishment.

"I thought it was severe," he said. "I'm sure I am going to be perceived as the bad guy in this situation because I forced the issue, but I am not the one who started this."

At one point during his testimony to the panel Thursday, Taylor was asked when his contract expires. "Probably this afternoon," he joked.

Taylor has long been a critic of the Permian program, which was 16-0 last year. Among his complaints are allegations that Panthers coaches tried to recruit his players and even players from across the state.

Hollingshead said Taylor had done "what he felt was right. He has a different interpretation of the rules than we do. He has been raising these issues for a long time. I feel that (in) my way of thinking, we followed UIL rules."

"We are aboveboard and first-class," Hollingshead said. "We still believe that we haven't done anything wrong. We contend in the present and in the past we were not in violation of any UIL rules."

Permian publishes a 212-page football program and has spent $70,000 on chartered jets to fly to games.

Pulitzer Prize winning author H.G.

Bissinger wrote a recently-released book about Mojo football, "Friday Night Lights: A Town, A Team and a Dream." He spent the entire 1988 season with the team. In the book, he criticized Permian for its "win at all costs" attitude.

Taylor told The Midland Reporter-Telegram that "there's going to be some strained relations" in Odessa.

"There already has been, but at the same time, I don't think it has to destroy us," Taylor said. "There's a possibility that in a short period of time it could make us stronger."

Steve Brannan, a lawyer representing Hollingshead, told The Odessa American that a decision will be made "by next week" on possible legal action on behalf of the Panthers coaches and program.

Monterey bops JV, 24-0

Hereford Whiteface sub-varsity football teams had a hard time finding the endzone Thursday, getting shut out three times in five games.

The Herd junior varsity was handed a 24-0 whitewashing by Lubbock Monterey while the sophomores lost at Lubbock Coronado 14-0. The freshman Maroon split into A and B teams to take on Dumas, losing the A game 26-0 and winning the B 12-0. The freshman White was drubbed 42-6 by Canyon Randall.

Monterey 24, Herd JV 0

Monterey took the opening kickoff and drove 61 yards to score on a 27-yard pass from Joey Gonzales to Homer Hensley. The Plainsmen converted four consecutive third downs in the drive, including third-and-16 on the touchdown.

Monterey's offense controlled the ball and the clock as the Plainsmen held possession for more than 19 minutes in the first half. Hereford ran only 10 offensive plays in the half, picking up three first downs.

The Herd defense kept the game close as a Monterey drive stalled at the Herd 19 late in the half. Chris Brummett broke through on fourth down to block the Chad Webb's 36-yard field goal attempt with 12 seconds left.

The second half started out as a punting duel. The Plainsmen came out on top when Brian Rumpy returned a Shawn Fogo punt 39 yards to score and put Monterey up 14-0.

Hereford reached deep into Monterey territory on its next two possessions. After driving to the 28, the Herd lost the ball on downs. Monterey was forced to punt, but a bad snap gave Hereford the ball on the 27, but again the ball went over on downs.

Chris Welton did all the work for Monterey's final touchdown. Welton intercepted a pass and returned it 15 yards to the Herd 26, then scored on the next play.

Webb added a 36-yard field goal late for the final points.

Coronado 14, Herd Sophs 0
Hereford fumbled the opening kickoff and Coronado turned the mistake into a touchdown.

Hereford's defense kept the score at 6-0 into the fourth quarter, but three more turnovers kept the Herd out of the endzone.

The Mustangs added the final score late in the fourth quarter.

Dumas 26, Frosh Maroon A 0
The teams played to a scoreless tie through the first period before the Demons scored twice in the second for a 12-0 halftime lead.

The Demons added touchdowns in each of the final two quarters.

Frosh Maroon B 12, Dumas 0
Mark Kuper scored all the points on runs of 10 and 16 yards.

Kuper scored once in each half as the game was shortened because of darkness.

Randall 42, Frosh White 6
Chris Vallejo ripped off a 65-yard run for the Herd's only score as Randall rolled.

The Raiders jumped out to a 20-0 lead before Vallejo's second-quarter touchdown.

White Sox AL West division title hopes dimmed, doomed by domed stadiums

SEATTLE (AP) - A few Chicago White Sox fans may be upset that Comiskey Park will be torn down after this season, but they can be thankful a dome is not going up in its place.

"We don't play well at all inside," Chicago manager Jeff Torborg said Thursday after the Seattle Mariners beat the White Sox 7-3 at the Kingdome.

The White Sox record indoors fell to 7-10 and they are hitting just .231 in domes.

Chicago's next three games are in the Kingdome, bad news for Torborg but good news for the Mariners, who are attempting to reach the .500 mark for the first time in club history. Seattle (74-77) needs to go 7-4 over the last 11 games to finish 81-81.

"It's still in reach," said Erik Hanson, 16-9 after his fifth consecutive victory.

The loss by second-place Chicago cut Oakland's magic number for clinching its third straight American League West title to four.

In the only other AL game Thursday, Cleveland defeated the New York Yankees 12-7.

Seattle's Henry Cotto, who had just nine hits in his previous 70 at-bats, tied a career high with four RBI with a two-run triple and two-run home run.

Cotto would have not been in the lineup had starting center fielder Ken Griffey Jr. been healthy. Griffey is nursing a sore left ankle and is listed as day-to-day.

Hanson pitched his second straight complete game and ranks among the league leaders in wins, earned run average and strikeouts.

Hanson allowed eight hits, walked two and struck out three. He has not lost since Aug. 7 and has not allowed more than three earned runs in his last 11 starts.

Greg Hibbard (13-9) took a 2-0 lead into the third when the Mariners struck for four runs. Dave Valle walked with one out and went to second on Omar Vizquel's single.

After Harold Reynolds flied out, Edgar Martinez singled home Valle and Cotto followed with a line drive down the right field line to score Vizquel and Martinez. Jeffrey Leonard then singled home Cotto.

The White Sox made it 4-3 in the fourth. Phil Bradley singled, went to second on Scott Fletcher's single, advanced to third on a wild pitch and scored on Ozzie Guillen's groundout.

Cotto homered in the fifth after a walk to Martinez. Hibbard gave up six runs on six hits in five innings.

Alvin Davis added his 14th home run in the eighth off reliever Steve Rosenberg.

Los Angeles climbed within 3 1/2 games of Cincinnati in the NL West as Ramon Martinez pitched a six-hitter and Mike Scioscia's embarrassing when rookie Chris Nabholz completed the sweep with a one-hitter for his first major league complete game. The only hit was Tommy Herr's clean single with two out in the sixth.

Montreal scored both its runs in the fourth inning off Sid Fernandez (9-14) on Tim Wallach's broken-bat RBI single and Marquis Grissom's sacrifice fly. Fernandez gave up only two hits in six innings, both in the fourth, when he also issued his only two walks.

Herd harriers to host area runners

The Hereford Whiteface cross country teams will play host to teams from 40 schools Saturday at the annual Hereford Invitational Meet.

The meet, which will feature six divisions, is scheduled to get underway at 9:30 a.m. with the junior varsity girls race. That will be followed by the small school (Class A-3A) girls at 10 a.m. and large school (Class 4A-5A) girls at 10:30. The three boys divisions will run in the same order at 11 a.m., 11:30 and noon.

Hereford coach Martha Emerson said the field for this year's meet will contain some of the best teams in the Panhandle. Emerson sees Amarillo High and Amarillo Tascosa as the teams to beat in the large school divisions while Canyon High, Dimmitt and Boys Ranch should dominate among the smaller schools.

"Without Berger (girls, running at Perryton), Tascosa and Amarillo High should finish pretty well," Emerson said. "And Coronado might be in the race. Caprock and Randall finished right ahead of us last week."

"Amarillo High will probably be the winner in the boys division," she added. "They get after it pretty good. They had five runners in the top eight or nine at Plainview and scored 23 points (with a minimum of 15 possible)."

"That's the way the Canyon girls are running, too, and Dimmitt's right behind them. They'll be the ones in that division. And Boys Ranch is always at the top in their division."

Emerson said she expected both Herd girls and boys to continue the improvement shown during the first two weeks of the season.

"I think with two of our top three girls back this week (Teresa Castillo and Brandie Webb) we can get past some of the teams that were ahead of us at Plainview," she said. "I think we can get past Caprock and Randall if we'll just get our minds in gear. If we can improve this week as much as we did last week, I think we can get back into the race again."

"The are also doing better," she added. "We've finished ninth the first two meets but our times got a lot faster at Plainview. And we've finished ahead of (two-time state champs) Randall both weeks. That makes us feel better about how we're doing."

"I hope we run well on our own course for a change. The last couple of years we have not run well here."

One new aspect about this year's meet will be changes made to the course. The route was rearranged to make both boys and girls races closer to the official distances.

"The girls course will be a little bit short this year," Emerson said. "It's been a little bit long (in the past). But I think it will be easier because we've cut out the hill. They'll cut across (the base of the hill) behind the pavilion instead of going up to the top of the hill. The boys course may be a hundred yards too long, but it's going to be closer to three miles than it was last year. Those kids were running 15 minutes last year so you know the course was too short."

Harrier captains

Captains for the 1990 Hereford Whiteface and Lady Whiteface cross country teams are Jerry Gallegos, left, Teresa Castillo, Lisa Zepeda and Armando Garza. The Herd harriers will host teams from 40 schools from across the Panhandle Saturday for the annual Hereford Invitational Meet. The meet will get started at 9:30 a.m. at Veterans Memorial Park.

Emerson added that the course will provide runners as good a challenge as any in the Panhandle.

"Our course is as tough as anybody's except the Lubbock course," she said. "The nice thing about that course is it's smoother than ours is. It has fewer rocks and holes."

AL ROUNDUP

Indians 12, Yankees 7

Carlos Baerga hit a triple and three doubles as Cleveland won at Yankee Stadium. Baerga, playing for the first time in three days since the birth of his first daughter, drove in three runs.

The Indians got 16 hits and matched their season-high with nine doubles. Brook Jacoby had three hits, including two doubles.

Baerga hit an RBI triple in the first before New York came back for a 6-1 lead. Baerga doubled to start a four-run fourth inning, doubled home a run in a four-run fifth and hit a two-run double during a three-run sixth that made it 12-7.

Mike Walker (2-6) got the victory. He relieved Greg Swindell, who gave up six runs in 1 2-3 innings in his shortest stint in 32 starts this season. Rich Monteleone (0-1), the second of five New York pitchers, took the loss.

Tennis, volleyball open 1-4A seasons

The Hereford high school volleyball and tennis teams will open District 1-4A competition Saturday, and coaches of both teams said the first-match opponents are the teams to beat if the Herd is to have a shot at a league championship.

The netters will visit Pampa for a 1 p.m. match while the spikers host two-time state champs Dumas at 2 p.m.

Both teams have posted enviable records in league play over the past few years. The tennis team has not lost a district match in winning the last four team titles while the volleyballers have three district losses over two playoff seasons, all to Dumas.

Volleyball coach Brenda Reeh said the district race could be a dog fight down to the end before playoff teams are decided.

"We're going to have to earn everything we get," she said. "This is a much more competitive district than it was even last year. There's going to be some good teams get beat up on and some others who haven't won much in the past really start challenging."

"Dumas is by far the favorite," she added. "They've won two tournaments this year (Lubbock and Borger). The Lubbock tournament was the only chance I got to watch them. Defensively they are as good as I've ever seen them. And they have lots of depth, too. They took several kids and played them. They were all very capable of playing on the varsity level and being successful."

"Pampa has always had the athletes. With their new coach their fundamentals have gotten much, much stronger. Randall is beating people. And finishing out with Borger and Caprock, there's really not anybody we can sit back and take lightly."

On the tennis court, Zavala said the only things that could stop the Herd from a fifth trip to the Region I-4A Tournament are grades and injuries.

"There were a couple of kids that got progress reports on their grades and they won't play Saturday," he said. "And Trisha Teel and Eric Cortez are hurt. But I think we can still beat Pampa. The girls proved against Monterey that they can play. We have a lot of depth. The top 12 girls can compete against anybody in our district and do well and the guys are good enough we're going to be able to compete."

Zavala added that after the Harvesters, his team should be able to handle the other 1-4A teams.

"Pampa will be the toughest we'll play. Last year we beat them 10-8. We lost three players and they lost five, so I don't think they will have the depth. I'm looking forward to seeing the girls we'll have as replacement because that will be good for the future. That will help us continue to be strong."

"Borger lost to Canyon 17-1 last week. The only person that won against Canyon was their No. 1 girl, and Brenna (Reinauer) has played her twice and they split. None of the other schools really stand out. We played them all last year and beat them pretty badly."

NL ROUNDUP

two-run double highlighted a five-run sixth inning.

Martinez (19-6) boosted his record against the NL West to 12-0 with his 11th complete game, tops in the majors.

Giants 5, Braves 3

Pinch-hitter Mike Laga hit a tie-breaking two-run homer in the sixth inning to give Eric Gunderson his first major league victory.

Laga, batting for Gunderson, hit his second home run of the season off John Smoltz (13-10) following a one-out single by Jose Uribe for a 4-2 lead.

Cardinals 5, Phillies 4

Rookie Ray Lankford's pinch single capped a three-run ninth inning.

The Cardinals were held to two runs and four hits over eight innings by Terry Mulholland, but Todd Zeile started the ninth with a double, bringing on Roger McDowell (6-8).

Facts About The BIBLE BY JOHN LEHTI

IT TOOK A CASE OF LEPROSY AND AN EARTHQUAKE TO STOP THIS KING!

UZZIAH, SON OF AMAZIAH, ASCENDED THE THRONE OF JUDAH AT THE AGE OF SIXTEEN TO REIGN FOR FIFTY-TWO YEARS (809-757 B.C.). DURING THIS RULE, HE SERVED AS A WISE AND PIOUS KING. HE REBUILT JERUSALEM, STRENGTHENED ITS WALLS, ENCOURAGED THE ARTS, WAS VICTORIOUS IN BATTLE WITH HIS NEIGHBORING COUNTRIES AND, IN FACT, RAISED THE KINGDOM BACK TO THE POWER AND GLORY IT ENJOYED IN KING SOLOMON'S DAY! HOWEVER, WHEN HE MADE HIS ONE AND ONLY MISTAKE, IT WAS AS STUPENDOUS AS WERE HIS MANY TRIUMPHS! ELATED BY ALL HIS GOOD DEEDS, HE DECIDED HE SHOULD ALSO BE HEAD MAN IN THE TEMPLE, CERTAINLY ON HIGH OCCASIONS—AFTER ALL, OTHER KINGS DID THIS, DIDN'T THEY? WHO BETTER TO SERVE GOD IN THE HOLY OF HOLIES THAN UZZIAH HIMSELF, WHO HAD DONE SO MUCH FOR HIS KINGDOM? BUT...

...WHEN HE MADE THIS ATTEMPT, HE WAS WARNED BY THE HIGH PRIEST, AZARIAH, THAT ONLY A PRIEST COULD LAWFULLY ENTER THE HOLY PLACE AND OFFER INCENSE ON THE ALTAR (2ND CHRON. 26:17-19). UZZIAH WAS ENRAGED AND ABOUT TO USE FORCE WHEN, THE BIBLE TELLS US, GOD, IN HIS ANGER, INTERVENED AND UZZIAH WAS SMITTEN WITH LEPROSY, THEN AND THERE! NOT ONLY THAT—THE DIVINE WRATH WAS SO TEMPESTUOUS THAT IT CAUSED AN EARTHQUAKE WHICH SPLIT THE ROOF OF THE TEMPLE AND SENT ONE HALF OF A MOUNTAIN, SITUATED TO THE WEST OF JERUSALEM, CRASHING INTO THE VALLEY BELOW, WHICH DESTROYED AND COMPLETELY COVERED UP THE ROYAL GARDENS! THIS WE HAVE ON THE WORD OF JOSEPHUS, THE ANCIENT HISTORIAN OF THE JEWS, WITH FURTHER CORROBORATION IN THE BIBLE (AMOS 1:1) (ZECH 14:5). FROM THAT DAY ON, UZZIAH HAD TO LIVE IN SECLUSION AS A LEPER, HIS SON, JOTHAM, ADMINISTERING THE AFFAIRS OF GOVERNMENT IN HIS FATHER'S NAME. A RATHER FORCEFUL REMINDER TO ALL ISRAEL THAT, NO MATTER HOW GREAT, NO ONE COULD GET AWAY WITH BREAKING GOD'S LAW!

DEAR DR. LAMB: I would like to know when you have to take medicine for high blood pressure. My pressure was 150/94 and the doctor wants me to take medicine to lower it. I feel fine and have heard that you don't need to take medicine for mildly elevated blood pressure. He says I am wrong, that even a little elevation of your blood pressure can increase your risk of having a heart attack or stroke.

Ask Dr. Lamb

DEAR DR. LAMB: I would like to know when you have to take medicine for high blood pressure. My pressure was 150/94 and the doctor wants me to take medicine to lower it. I feel fine and have heard that you don't need to take medicine for mildly elevated blood pressure. He says I am wrong, that even a little elevation of your blood pressure can increase your risk of having a heart attack or stroke.

He has told me that if I go on a diet, exercise and lose weight, I might not need to take medicines. I hate to diet and don't exercise a lot. He said a normal blood pressure for someone in my age group should be below 140/90. Now that is not a lot different. I don't want to take medicine until I need it as I have heard a lot of bad things about high blood pressure medicines.

DEAR READER: It is amazing how people will pay for expert advice and not want to follow it. Your doctor is absolutely right. I would like to see you lose weight and exercise as that can significantly lower mild high blood pressure in many individuals. To get a good effect you usually need to lose at least 10 pounds.

You need to realize that the lower your blood pressure is, the less likely you are to have a stroke. Even what we call normal is not desirable in terms of heart attacks and strokes. Your blood pressure has a lot to do with how much fatty-cholesterol deposits accumulate in your arteries and cause heart attacks and strokes. You don't have fatty-cholesterol deposits in the arteries to your lungs because the pressure there is very low. And you don't have fatty-cholesterol deposits in your veins because the pressure is low there too, even if you are fat, don't exercise and tend to have a high cholesterol. It is your main arteries with high pressure that get diseased.

Tailgating is the ultimate fall feast

Football season will soon arrive, bringing with it cooler weather, cozy wool sweaters, and a great excuse for a party-tailgating!

The folks at French's Mustard have compiled some delicious ideas that will kick-off the party with only minimal fuss and keep the fans roaring for more...

-Team warm up... Soups are a delicious way to stay warm. Fill a large thermos with your favorite feel-good soup and pour into mugs and top with grated parmesan, scallions and croutons to create a gourmet-style garnish. It will look and taste like you made a fuss, even though you didn't have to!

-Offsides... Try a vegetable platter with a light, zingy dip as a healthy and refreshing side dish. Cut broccoli, red and yellow peppers, cucumbers and carrots into bite-size pieces or buy precut veggies at your local supermarket. For the dip, blend one pint low-fat sour cream, a half-cup yellow mustard and one envelope of vegetable soup mix.

-Punt score... Set out all the fixings for healthy and hearty sandwiches and let your team put together their own favorite combo! Offer a variety of breads and rolls along with lean meats like turkey and roast beef and an assortment of condiments such as olives and pickles. For variations on classic yellow mustard, try either honey mustard sauce or zingy relish spread, made by mixing one cup yellow mustard with one-third cup honey or one-third cup pickle relish.

-For another high-scoring finger food, pick up some of your favorite fast-food chicken nuggets and customize them with the quick and tasty honey mustard sauce described above.

-The final huddle... remember to bring dessert! Brownies and chocolate chip cookies always score big points!

-Train with the pros... For great sandwich ideas to please the crowd at any time of year, write for a free booklet to: French's Mustard "Build a Better Sandwich", 1133 Avenue of the Americas, 15th Floor, New York, N.Y. 10036.

NEW YORK (AP)— Chris Rock was only 8 when "Saturday Night Live" made its raucous debut. Now, people are asking him if he's haunted by the ghost of Eddie Murphy.

Rock appeared unruffled Tuesday when the Murphy question came up during a news conference to introduce him and another new cast member. "Eddie's still alive, ain't he?" Rock asked.

Rock, 23, a standup comedian since age 18, went on to say he would bring his own perspective to the new season of the late-night NBC variety show that first went on the air in 1975.

Hints from Heloise

Dear Readers: Because of modern techniques, the danger of disease transmission through blood transfusions is less threatening than before; however, many people are so fearful that they try to store their own blood in case it's needed in the future.

The Harvard Medical School Newsletter warns that some commercial ventures are taking advantage of public anxiety by storing blood for a hefty price for emergencies. In an emergency, such blood would probably be useless because of the time required to locate it and get it out of storage and thaw it, they say.

If you are concerned, talk it over with your own doctor. If you are contacted by one of these companies, discuss the pros and cons with a medical expert before accepting such an offer and for heaven's sake check out the company. — Heloise

SHOULDER PADS
Dear Heloise: This is for anyone in a hurry who needs shoulder pads in a dress or blouse and doesn't have the time to sew them in — just put them in place under your bra straps. They work great and prevent dents in your shoulders. — Mildred Medvin, Union, N.J.

What a great hint! Thanks for sharing your idea with us. — Heloise

Consumer Groups Storm Local Grocery Stores!

Stores point finger at newspaper

Today saw one of the largest consumer responses of the week to offers made by local grocery stores for discounted prices. Across the city, shoppers were redeeming coupons cut from the local paper in record numbers.

"We know any offer we make will be highlighted most by the newspaper," commented a grocery store spokesman. "Our goal is simply to inform the consumers that these discounts are available. We are confident they will respond if they see it in the paper." His statement was backed by recent Consumer Data Service reports that indicated grocery store ads triple volume on discounted items and double volume on regularly priced items. It also revealed grocery ads are read by well over 70% of newspaper readers.

Grocery store representatives unanimously agreed that newspaper advertising was the only way to get immediate consumer response. One grocer remarked, "Most people read the paper, and a bunch of those read our coupons. It's that simple." His comments reflect the well-known Manufacturer's Coupon Center report which stated that over 80% of all families use coupons. "When consumers want more for their money, they always go to the Grocer claims local newspaper "totally responsible" for consumer rush

"We make great offers in our newspaper ads every week, and we always get great response."

"A grocery official said, 'When pressed by reporters for the best offer he could make to the consumers he replied, "Look in the paper, it's all right there. Green leaf lettuce, two heads for 79¢... with a coupon of course."

Ann Landers

DEAR READERS: I want to share with you a poem that is sure to move you, as it did me. It will go straight to the hearts of those who have a child who is "special." Here it is:

To Bruce: My Special Boy -- From His Dad

Hey there, you character with a smile on you face,
You seem the most happy of the whole human race.
Like any boy, you romp and play,
Unlike most children, that's the way you'll stay.
You laugh and cry like other boys,
And never grow tired of your many toys.
You are a joy to Mother and me,
Because you're a special boy, you see.
You, my son, will only know
Love of life and none of its woe.
You'll be happy and contented all your days,
In your angelic, ethereal haze.
For you are retarded through no fault of your own,
And there is no cause, as far as is known.
Thank God you happened to Mother and me,
For we are lucky as you will see.
Our other two boys, whom we love so dear,
One of these days won't be so near.
But you'll always be close to us, my boy,
And for the rest of our lives, give us joy.
Mother and I must have faith for the 'morrow,
And do much hoping and forget about sorrow.
So, keep up your smile, your laugh and your play,
It helps us to grin and have faith when we pray.

The above poem was written by George C. Lyon Sr., of Wilmington, Del., when his Down's syndrome son, Bruce, was just a child. Bruce is now 24 years old. He is among a handful of retarded citizens to have earned the rank of Eagle Scout, is a member of the Special Olympics program and holds a steady job.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My fiancé and I are planning a formal wedding in a few months and we have a question we hope you will answer. Of the six wedding ceremonies we have attended this year, five have been ruined by a baby crying. In one instance, the baby chose to wail just as the bride was about to say, "I do."
My question: Would it be terribly rude to include on the wedding invitation "Children under 3 are invited to the dinner only"? We know some people will be offended but we are willing to suffer their wrath. The wedding is going to be elegant and we don't want anything to spoil it. -- Ms. H., in Madison

DEAR Ms. H.: It would be most inappropriate to put that message on an invitation. Far better, enclose a separate card with the invitation to those who have babies and small children. It should say, "Please, no children under 5 at the ceremony."

Gem of the Day: The two sneakiest words in the English language are "plus tax."

Is life passing you by? Want to improve your social skills? Write for Ann Landers' new booklet, "How to Make Friends and Stop Being Lonely." Send a self-addressed, long, business-size envelope and a check or money order for $4.15 (this includes postage and handling) to: Friends, c/o Ann Landers, P.O. Box 11562, Chicago, Ill. 60611-0562. (In Canada, send $5.05.)

PARIS (AP) - Brigitte Bardot is demanding that Japan return a chimpanzee that a French zoo traded to a Japanese research institute for 10 monkeys.

The former film star said during a meeting with Japanese Ambassador Akitani Kiuchi that the 10-year-old chimpanzee named Chloe was living "worse than badly, in a frozen universe" at the University of Kyoto's Primate Research Institute.

Chloe was traded along with an orangutan by the Zoo de Vincennes in Paris for 10 macaque monkeys in 1984. The orangutan died earlier this year in a concrete cage, Ms. Bardot's Society for the Protection of Animals claimed.

"Chloe is in a basement, lacking sunlight, space, contact and especially lacks affection, like all laboratory subjects," it said in a statement. The type of research was not specified.

The Japanese government will investigate Ms. Bardot's claims, a spokesman said. But he noted that the animal trade was made between private institutions.

Ms. Bardot, 55, who rose to world fame in the 1956 movie "And God Created Women," gave up her film career in 1973 and has since worked to protect animals.
