City will crack down on junkers, buildings

Commissioners will consider new, tougher laws for cars, bad buildings

City commissioners Monday urged stronger enforcement of beautification, junk vehicle and other laws to help the appearance of Hereford.

Commissioners, meeting in a regular meeting at City Hall, also approved a bid for a flow meter at the city's well field in southwest Hereford; approved codification of city laws; tabled insurance bids; and agreed to help Campfire with insurance on its building in a city park.

The council also supported the Planning and Zoning Commission in denying a request for a change in property at 413 N. McKinley. Julian and Maria Tijerina asked P&Z to

Petition drive begins at rally

A crowd of over 250 persons jammed the ballroom at the Hereford Community Center on Monday for a rally for an anti-liquor sales group. Help Eliminate Liquor Problems (HELP) sponsored the rally, which featured petition signing, music, and endorsements of a ban on package sales in Deaf Smith County.

Deaf Smith County Judge Tom Simons and Hereford Police Capt. Pat Michael endorsed the group's efforts. Also speaking was Philip Kappler of Amarillo, a recovering alcoholic who is now involved in anti-alcohol and drug abuse efforts. A children's choir from Church of the Nazarene also performed.

"Honestly, I think the town's being wet has not helped the young people in our community," Simons was quoted as saying on a flyer distributed at the meeting. "I think alcohol is a lot more readily available in the convenience stores, where they make beer runs and steal beer. I think that it is so accessible that it's not good. I think the community was better off when it was dry."

"There is a direct correlation between minors having access to alcohol at local stores and the number of law violations committed by minors," said Michael. "I'm no analyst, but it seems strange that the total reported offenses more than doubled when we went wet."

According to the flyer, the group hopes to:

- Limit the accessibility of alcohol among teens.
- Reduce alcohol-related domestic violence.
- Reduce the total number of criminal offenses within Deaf Smith County.

The group must have 1,440 names of registered voters by the end of the month. The petitions will then be presented to commissioner's court, which will canvass the names to be sure all who sign are registered voters. Commissioners must then call for an election on the issue.

All of the county, except the three northwesternmost sections, is wet. Voters endorsed package sales in a special 1983 election.

Turnout brisk at local polls

A brisk turnout was voting today as Deaf Smith County residents joined others across the nation in going to the polls.

Two commissioner races, and elections for U.S. representative, judges, railroad commissioners and others were on the ballot. At the top were the choices of Republican incumbent George Bush, Democratic challenger Bill Clinton and wild-card candidate Ross Perot.

The local ballots included races for commissioners in precincts 1 and 3. The Precinct 1 race is the echo of a special election held a few weeks ago, but this echo is expected to be much stronger than the original annoying murmur on Sept. 19. In the special election, incumbent John Stribling earned 24 votes in the Republican primary. In the Democratic election, challenger Tony Castillo picked up 70 votes.

In the original Precinct 1 race last spring, Stribling got 329 votes, while Castillo picked up 288. That election was thrown out by the U.S. Justice Department; in the new election, Stribling switched to the GOP, setting up today's challenge. Stribling has served one term on the commissioners court.

In the Precinct 3 race, political newcomer Mike Miller is running on the GOP ticket against incumbent Democrat Troy Don Moore. Moore is finishing his second term.

Ramos wins in weekly contest

Daniel Ramos of Hereford missed just six games to win last week's Hereford Brand Football Contest.

Ramos will win $25 in Hereford Bucks for his first place finish. Earning second was Dennis Sargent, best of four contestants who missed seven games. Sargent will receive $15 in Hereford Bucks.

Placing third was Margaret Hall of Hereford. She will win $10 in Hereford Bucks.

Also missing seven games, but farther away on the tiebreaker, were Edelia Martinez and Cody Phommyvong.

This week's contest appears in today's Brand. Entrants choose from among 25 high school, college and pro games each week for prizes paid in Hereford Bucks. Also at stake each week is a $500 award to anyone who picks the winner in the 25 games and the winner in the tiebreaker game.

Persons placing first, second or third in the weekly contest are eligible for the grand prize game coming up later this month. In the grand prize contest, the winner receives $100 in Hereford Bucks. Hereford Bucks, provided by the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce, may be spent like cash at any business in Deaf Smith County.

Long presidential battle almost over

By JOHN KING
AP Political Writer

America voted today in a battle of generations that put President Bush's re-election hopes against Bill Clinton's call for new leadership. Change was the chorus of Clinton, Ross Perot and candidates for a new Congress, and in all 50 states voters decided just how much to deliver.

There were 35 Senate races in all, a dozen too close to call, several of them with female candidates looking to make history. More than 100 new faces seemed certain in the House, a product of retirements, redistricting and anti-incumbent sentiment.

"Be there today, and tonight we will celebrate a new future for the greatest country in the history of the human race," Clinton told a morning rally in Denver as early voters went to the polls across the country.

Bush ended his final campaign in Houston, where he went jogging and gave a thumbs up when asked about his chances. He and wife Barbara took about a minute to punch out their choices on a paper ballot at their polling place, then he dropped his in the box and pronounced himself "very, very pleased" the long battle was over.

As if to remind the president of the ground this election was fought on, the government had an Election Day economic report. Again, the news was bad: the Commerce Department's Index of Leading Economic Indicators fell for the third time in four months.

Bush defiantly predicted he would win and extend the Republican grip on the White House to 16 years. He had no room for error in his electoral strategy, which counted on wins in New Jersey, Ohio, Georgia and several other states where polls showed Clinton ahead or competitive.

"I learned that you fight when your back is up against the wall," Bush said, harking back to his days in the Texas oil fields.

It seemed likely the winner would have less than 50 percent of the national vote, the first time for that since 1968 when George Wallace split the vote with the Republican and Democratic nominees.

Perot hoped for the most improbable change of all - for an independent to win the White House with a self-financed, multimillion-dollar TV campaign. The billionaire businessman abandoned the high road in the final days with pointed criticisms of Bush and Clinton.

Vice President Dan Quayle was home in Indiana to vote, with his own presidential aspirations bound to be affected by today's outcome. The same could be said for Clinton's running mate, Tennessee Sen. Al Gore.

Perot's choice, James Stockdale, was voting at home in California.

Lines at polling places suggested predictions of high voter turnout would ring true.

Washington Secretary of State Ralph Munro called it "the election of a generation" and predicted turnout of 80 percent in a state with competitive Senate and gubernatorial contests. But harsh weather was a factor in some areas. Snow and rain hit Midwest and Prairie states.

Their long march over - for Perot it was shorter - the candidates turned things over to the voters after one last round of speeches and ads.

"Think of John Kennedy's unrestrained faith in the future of America," was Clinton's message to a crowd waiting in Denver at the end of an eight-state, 4,100-mile election-eve marathon. A last hand grasped, Clinton headed home to vote.

Bush's odds were long; Perot's even longer.

Yet the folksy Dallas businessman declared: "We'll landslide this thing if the people vote their conscience."

The presidential race drew the headlines, but there was so much more at stake.

And there was more at stake.

All 435 House seats were on the ballot, with more than 120 new faces assured even before the balloting began because of retirements and redistricting.

Thirty-five Senate races were being decided as well, with female candidates ahead or competitive in some races. When the Persian Gulf War ended, Republicans had counted on Bush's coattails to gain a Senate majority. Now, the GOP hoped only

Services Wednesday for Sears

Ruby Kendrick Sears, 82, of Hereford, died Sunday, Nov. 1, 1992, at Northwest Texas Hospital in Amarillo.

A memorial service will be held at 11 a.m. Wednesday at First United Methodist Church with the Rev. Joe Wood, pastor, officiating, assisted by the Rev. Lanny Wheeler, chaplain at King's Manor. Private interment will follow.

Mrs. Sears was born March 24, 1910 in China Springs. She married Robert Hunt in 1934; he passed away in 1942. She married James Henry Sears in 1954 in Dallas; he died in 1971. A 1932 graduate of West Texas

State University, she served in the WAVES in World War II, then worked for the U.S. Department of Agriculture in Washington. She then moved to New York, where she worked for White Weld Co.

After moving to Hereford, Mrs. Sears was one of 40 persons who were behind the formation of the Deaf Smith County Museum. She was one of its most faithful leaders. She was co-chairman of the organizing committee, secretary of the board and later president. In 1976, when the E.B. Black House was given to the county, she led in preparing the house for community use. In the late 1970s, she was given an honorary lifetime membership in the Deaf Smith County Historical Society to reflect her years of unselfish work.

She was also a director of First National Bank for many years.

Survivors include a stepdaughter, Helen Burton Sears of Seabrook; a stepson, Wheeler Moore Sears of Dallas; two brothers, Sam Cherry of Odessa and Schumann Cherry of Sun City, Calif.; a sister, Mary Elizabeth Forrest of Amarillo; four stepgrandchildren; and a great-grandchild.

The family requests memorials to the Deaf Smith County Historical Society or a favorite charity.

Kiwanis supper is tonight

Hereford's Noon Kiwanis will host their annual election day all-you-can-eat pancake supper from 5 to 8 p.m. today at the Hereford High School cafeteria.

Pancakes and trimmings will be served for $3 per person. Carryouts are 50 cents extra, and preschoolers are free. All proceeds benefit projects of the Hereford Noon Kiwanis.

change the property from multiple family to light commercial. P&Z had denied the request.

Marvin Gaddy, the city inspector, presented two pages of pictures of houses that are beyond repair. Gaddy said that in his five years with the city, 63 buildings have been repaired or demolished. Three buildings have been demolished by court order; another 29 were voluntarily demolished.

There are 10 building cases pending actions, either through A.O. Thompson Abstract or City Attorney Terry Langehennig.

Council members urged stronger enforcement of the city's junk vehicle ordinance. City Manager Chester Nolen said previous officials had backed away from enforcing the junk vehicle laws. The city can order vehicles which are unregistered, have no recent inspection or have been junked to be removed from the city limits or destroyed.

Langehennig said the city can strengthen its laws during the recodification approved Monday. Municipal Code Corporation will examine and update ordinances for the first time since 1973-74. The recodification work will include insuring that city laws aren't in violation of changes from the state or federal level. The process will take about 14 months and $9,900.

Commissioners approved working on an agreement with Hereford Campfire on carrying the organization's liability insurance on the city's policy. Clarence Scott, representing Campfire, said the group can't afford its insurance but can't afford to go without it. Commissioners approved letting Langehennig, Nolen and Scott working out arrangements and coming back to the commissioners for final approval.

The Campfire building is in a city park at 15th and Ave. H. The building was leased to Campfire for $1 in 1968 by the city.

The council appointed City Secretary Terri Johnson as the Records Management Officer.

Operation Lifesaver

Donnie Henson, right, an employee of Santa Fe Railroad, looks on as Hereford Mayor Tom LeGate designates Nov. 1-14 as "Highway-Rail Crossing Safety Days." On Wednesday, a special train will be on hand at McDonalds from 2 to 6 p.m., offering rides and special safety tips to children and adults. The program is aimed at reducing railroad crossing accidents.

Safety locomotive visits Wednesday

A special train will be at McDonalds in Hereford on Wednesday afternoon to help teach safety at railroad crossings.

The train is part of Operation Lifesaver, a nationwide program to improve safety at places where roadways and railroads intersect. According to Donnie Henson of Hereford, a Santa Fe employee who is chairman of the local effort, there are 13,500 public grade crossings in Texas. There were 539 collisions at Texas grade crossings in 1991.

Henson said the train, a replica of a Burlington Northern engine, will be at McDonalds from 2 to 6 p.m. Wednesday to give children rides. Also available at the restaurant will be coloring books for children to use and bring back for a contest. The winner of the contest will win a Santa Fe electric train set on Nov. 14.

The program is not just for children, Henson emphasized. Safety materials are also designed for adults to remind them to use common sense and to obey the law.

Spooky nights at Easter

Raymond White was one of the many guides who led visitors through the Easter Lions Club Spook House last Thursday, Friday and Saturday at Easter. Over 1,200 persons went through the spook house, and proceeds will benefit projects of the Easter and Hereford Lions clubs.

to keep Democrats from padding their 57-43 Senate margin.

A dozen governorships were up for grabs, and in 14 states voters considered term-limit initiatives. The bet was all 14 would pass. Less certain were the fates of dozens of other ballot initiatives, from Oregon's anti gay-rights measure to California's proposal to legalize assisted suicide, to the District of Columbia's proposal for a death penalty.

When the last lever is pulled - polls in Alaska don't close until 1 a.m. Wednesday EST - the curtain will be drawn on a cantankerous campaign year that took confounding turns.

Pat Buchanan stung Bush in New Hampshire, running ads reminding voters of Bush's "Read My Lips: No New Taxes" promise. Buchanan's 37 percent was his peak. It also was the first sign of how much a punishing recession had eroded Bush's postwar glow.

TDH gets VISTA grant for Hereford

The Texas Department of Health has received a grant from Volunteers in Service to America (VISTA). This VISTA grant will enable Public Health Region 2 of the Texas Department of Health to hire a person in Deaf Smith County to work on a county-wide transportation project.

The purpose of the project is to allow more people to have better access to the Public Health Clinic located in Hereford. Many people who need clinic services cannot receive them because they have no means of transportation to the clinic. There are also those clients who need to be transported to Amarillo for special medical services. The individual hired as the VISTA Coordinator will plan the transportation system as well as recruit volunteers to drive individuals to and from the clinics.

Training will be provided for the VISTA Coordinator of the Transportation Project by VISTA and the Texas Department of Health.

VISTA is a national program of volunteer men and women of all ages and backgrounds who are committed to increasing the capacity of low-income people to improve the conditions of their lives. Serving in both rural and urban settings for a minimum of one year, VISTA workers receive a monthly subsistence allowance and health insurance, which does not affect Social Security or welfare benefits, but is subject to taxes.

Interested individuals are encouraged to apply. Applications are available at the Public Health Clinic in Hereford, located at 205 West 4th, Suite 103. The deadline for receipt of all applications is Nov. 20.

County is included in disaster aid

WASHINGTON -- U.S. Sen. Phil Gramm has announced that farmers in 26 Texas counties are eligible to apply for low-interest emergency loans to help recover from crop losses caused by excessive rain and hail, which hit the state between May 1 and July 30, 1992.

The counties included in the disaster declaration are Bailey, Borden, Briscoe, Castro, Cochran, Cottle, Crosby, Dawson, Deaf Smith, Dickens, Floyd, Gaines, Garza, Hale, Hockley, Howard, Lamb, Lubbock, Lynn, Martin, Midland, Motley, Parmer, Swisher, Terry and Yoakum.

For those who cannot obtain credit through normal channels, the U.S. Farmers Home Administration will make loans available at below-market interest rates to family farmers.

In addition to the above counties, 21 Texas counties have been named as contiguous counties and therefore are eligible for assistance.

The counties affected by the excessive rain and hail are Andrews, Armstrong, Childress, Crane, Donley, Ector, Foard, Glasscock, Hall, Hardeman, Kent, King, Mitchell, Oldham, Potter, Randall, Reagan, Scurry, Sterling, Stonewall and Upton Counties.

Gramm said farmers have 8 months to apply for the loans to help cover part of their actual losses.

The FmHA, which will supervise the loan program is charged with providing aid to the farmers and ranchers in order to assist their economic recovery from natural disasters.

Roberts honored by students

Brownie Roberts, the former Emma Jane Brown of Hereford, is among 65,000 teachers across the nation to be honored by the toughest critics, their former students, in the second edition of "Who's Who Among America's Teachers, 1992." Teachers honored in the book were selected by former students, who are themselves currently listed in "Who's Who Among American High School Students."

Brownie (Mrs. Angus Roberts) is a longtime teacher in the Lamesa system. She taught art from 1955 to 1960 in junior high school and since 1976 has taught at Lamesa Middle School. She is a 1949 graduate of Hereford High School and a 1954 graduate of West Texas State University. She is the daughter of Caudie Ola Brown of Hereford.

Hints from Heloise

Dear Heloise: My pet perfume and/or cologne (some expensive) will not spray when the liquid perfume gets low in container. I have about five bottles with at least one-fourth left in the bottom. No way can I open the container without breaking it. — Theles Hudson, Meridian, Miss.

I agree, I agree! It drives me nuts. I put the bottle in my lingerie drawer to use the last of it. — Heloise

Rural hero search underway

The search is underway for the rural hero for 1992, according to Ben Bullard, president of the Texas Farm & Ranch Safety Council, which presents the annual rural heroism award.

The 1992 recipient will be announced March 22, 1993, at the 55th annual Texas/Southwestern Safety Conference and Exposition to be held at the Austin convention center in Austin.

Deadline for submitting 1992 entries will be Feb. 1, 1993, Bullard said. Send all nominations to the Texas Farm & Ranch Safety Council, Box 2689, Waco, Texas, 76702-2689.

To qualify for the honor, a candidate must have performed an heroic act of human-lifesaving within Texas during 1992. Preferably, it should be related to farming and ranching, Bullard said.

The 1992 winner, John Michalak of Lott, Texas, who took the lead in rescuing his boss and fellow cowboy from floodwaters on "Big Creek" south of Marlin, in December 1991. He received his award at the Westin Galleria in Houston last March.

Nominations should include a written account of the incident and the names, addresses and telephone numbers of all persons involved. Newspaper clippings and photos should also accompany when available, Bullard said.

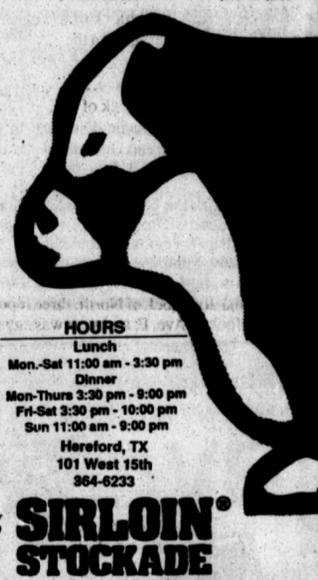

Bullard is a field safety representative for the Texas Farm Bureau Insurance Company's Safety and Underwriting Division.

The oldest person ever to run for the office of vice president was Henry Gassaway Davis, who, with presidential candidate Alton B. Parker lost to Theodore Roosevelt and Charles W. Fairbanks in 1904 when Davis was 80.

Luck of draw turns out bad for netters

The Hereford High School tennis team lost in the first round of the Region 1-4A tennis tournament Friday in Wichita Falls. The Herd fell 10-5 to Big Spring, the number three seed.

Since Hereford was the champion of District 1-4A, coach Natalie Sims hoped to draw an easier team in the first round, but that's not always how the tennis ball bounces.

"They seed the first four teams, then they put all the number one teams in a hat and all the number two teams in a hat," Sims said. She said they fill out the bracket by drawing first from one hat, then the other, and so on.

"It's really stinky, but that's how they do it," she said.

Big Spring was the runner-up in District 3-4A and ended up coming in third in the regional tournament. Wichita Falls won, skunking 3-4A champ Andrews 10-0. On the way to the finals, Andrews beat 1-4A runner-up Pampa 11-7.

"The No. 3 seed, Big Spring, scared us, but we thought with 'perfect tennis,' we can beat anybody," Sims said. "Perfect tennis is exactly what it would have taken. We played excellent but not perfect."

Hereford got wins from Greg Coplen, Jamie Kapka and Donny Perales in boys' singles and from Emily Fuston and Sherry Fuston and Brooke Weishaar and Natalie McWhorter in girls' doubles.

"I got chills watching Jamie's, Greg's and Donny's singles matches and the Fustons', Brooke's and Natalie's doubles matches," Sims said. "Those five that we won were absolutely perfect. I think on any given day we could reverse the score with Big Spring."

Three matches were unfinished. A team match is over as soon as one team wins 10 matches, clinching the most wins out of 18 matches.

Sims said a large group of parents made the trip to Wichita Falls, and the cheers helped.

"The parent support was amazing," she said. "We had them spread all over nine courts cheering us on. I guarantee those cheers helped provide some of the points, especially in the third sets."

Here are the results for each match.

Boys' singles: Greg Coplen (H) def. Greg Biddison, 3-6, 7-6, 6-4; Jamie Kapka (H) def. Robert Lee, 1-6, 7-5, 6-1; Donny Perales (H) def. Donny Dennard, 6-1, 6-2; Orlando Veras (BS) def. Pete Vargas, 6-1, 6-1; and Luciano Delgado (BS) def. Tom Jarecki, 6-2, 6-1. Chris Lyles' match did not finish.

Boys' doubles: Biddison/Lee (BS) def.

Fustons among winners

Sherry Fuston of the Hereford High School tennis team serves during her doubles match at the Region 1-4A Tennis Tournament Friday. She and sister Emily won their doubles match.

Coplen/Kapka, 7-5, 6-3; Vera/Delgado (BS) def. Perales/Lyles, 4-6, 6-3, 7-6 (3-7); and McKinney/Cantu (BS) def. Jarecki/Lupe Perez, 6-1, 6-1.

Girls' singles: Maria Villareal (BS) def. Sherry Fuston, 6-0, 6-1; Christi Ragsdale (BS) def. Emily Fuston, 6-4, 6-4; Lara Stevenson (BS) def. Brooke Weishaar, 6-4, 5-7, 6-4; and Melissa Ware (BS) def. Gabriela Gamez, 6-2, 6-2. The matches of Bri Reinsauer and Michelle Berend did not finish.

Girls' doubles: Sevey/Willis (BS) def. Reinsauer/Berend, 6-3, 7-5; Fuston/Fuston (H) def. Ragsdale/Dominguez, 6-4, 2-6, 6-1; and Weishaar/McWhorter (H) def. Villareal/Ware, 6-4, 6-0.

Tie-breakers unknown in 1-4A

There is some confusion among the six athletic directors in District 1-4A about the tie-breakers used for determining state playoff representatives in football, Hereford AD and football coach Danny Haney said Tuesday. A meeting has been called for Wednesday to work out exactly what the tie-breaking process is, Haney said. The confusion centers around the "plus-points" rule which comes into play in the case of a three-way tie, he said. Each district sets its own tie-breaking process.

Hereford plays at Dumas and Randall plays at Pampa, both on Friday. The outcome of both games will affect which teams go to the playoffs, and any one of the four teams could go.

Lady Whitefaces play tonight

The Lady Whitefaces hit the playoff trail tonight for a first-round volleyball playoff match with Lamesa. The Herd will meet the Golden Tornadoes at 7:30 in the Lubbock Coronado High School Gymnasium.

Lamesa, 19-6, won District 2-4A with a 6-0 record. Hereford, was the 1-4A runner-up at 18-9 and 8-2.

A case of mistaken identity caused a mistake in the volleyball story in the Sunday Brand. Hereford coach Brenda Reeh was cited as saying that Keisha Butler would not play tonight because of grade problems. Reeh actually said "Kechia," but did not know a last name. Kechia Mason, a strong hitter who played in last year's playoff game, will not play tonight, but Keisha Butler will play.

Dumas, the 1-4A champion at 25-4 and 10-0, will meet 2-4A runner-up Snyder at 7:30 tonight at Wayland Baptist University in Plainview.

Ruiz is 2-0 as professional boxer

Jaime Ruiz of Hereford won his second professional boxing bout Friday in Dallas. He took a four-round unanimous decision from Raymond Gallegos.

"I won every round. It was just like my fight up here," Ruiz said, referring to his first pro fight, which he won handily in Amarillo.

"I stole the show down there," he said. "I'll be fighting again in a couple of weeks."

Cross country teams 4th, 5th at district

Hereford's girls' cross country team came in fourth at the District 1-4A Meet Saturday in Amarillo, while the boys' team came in fifth.

Pampa's girls edged Hereford for third, 81-85. Borger and Randall advanced easily to the regional tournament with 30 and 53 points, respectively. Caprock was a distant fifth with 101 points, and Dumas did not compete in either the boys' or girls' race.

Caprock won the boys' race with 38 points, ahead of Borger with 47, and both will go to regionals. Randall was third at 64, Pampa was next at 92 and Hereford had 120.

Borger's Rob Cain won the boys' race with a time of 17:29 over three miles, and Borger's Jennifer Thompson won the two-mile girls' race in 12:43.

The top five individuals among girls an boys advance to the regional tournament. Hereford's top finisher in either race was Aurelio San Miguel in 11th place with a time of 18:41. He was followed in the boys' race by Pedro Dominguez, 16th in 18:55; Josh Pena, 29th in 20:16; Ismael Arroyos, 33rd in 20:30; and Jack Borden, 36th in 21:18.

In the girls' race, Ricka Williams was 13th in 14:18, followed by Renee Banner, 15th in 14:36; Nora Herrera, 16th in 14:38; Cady Auckerman, 17th in 14:39; Melissa Lucio, 24th in 14:48; Linda Martinez, 30th in 15:23; and Karon Harder, 33rd in 16:35.

Coach Martha Emerson said both teams gave a good effort in the races, noting that the girls were almost third.

"The season was not as good as we had hoped and they could have just given up and come in last, but they didn't," Emerson said. "In fact, being only four points out of third place meant a good effort. And the JV girls also did an excellent job. This group is young and they will be contenders next season."

The varsity girls will return all but one runner for next year. In addition, the junior varsity has done well this year, led by eight-grader Bethany Townsend, whose time of 13:36 won the JV race and would have been eighth in the varsity race.

Michelle Garza finished fifth in the JV race in 15:51, followed by Ana Torres, ninth in 16:00; Beverly Celaya, 13th in 16:31; and Vanessa Garcia, 21st in 17:27.

The boys' varsity will lose four seniors. Hereford had only two runners in the boys' JV race: Lee Mungia, who was seventh in 20:40, and Adolfo San Miguel, who was ninth in 20:53.

YMCA to hold volleyball tourney

The Hereford YMCA will host a volleyball tournament Nov. 12-14.

There will be one division each for men and women, and if enough teams sign up, there will be as many as three co-ed divisions. Each division will be double elimination or round robin depending on the number of teams entering.

Play will begin at 6:30 p.m. on Nov. 12 and 13 (Thursday and Friday) and at 9 a.m. on Nov. 14.

Awards include seven T-shirts for first and second place and a team trophy for third.

The entry fee is $40 per team. The deadline is Nov. 10, and the fee must accompany the form. Schedules will be ready at 1 p.m. on Nov. 11. Teams are responsible for calling (364-6990) to find out when they play.

Stan Musial of the Cardinals hit a record six home runs in All-Star competition.

The last winning ride for jockey Angel Cordero was on Shuttleman on Jan. 5, 1992, at Aqueduct.

Magic tires of 'controversies,' retires again

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (AP) - Magic Johnson could always do anything he wanted on the basketball court.

He could pass. He could shoot. He could rebound. And he could rouse a crowd better than anyone.

The one thing he couldn't do was allay the fears his fellow players have about the AIDS virus. And so he retired - again. This time for good.

On Monday - four days before the start of the NBA season - Johnson said he was retiring for a second time because of the "controversies" surrounding his return to the Los Angeles Lakers.

Though he declined to be more specific, Johnson's agent Lon Rosen said: "His feeling was, if people were afraid to play against him, that could affect the outcome of the game, and Earvin didn't want that."

After talking it over with his wife Cookie and his family, Johnson said in a statement:

"I decided I will retire - for good - from the Lakers. It has become obvious that the various controversies surrounding my return are taking away from both basketball as a sport and the larger issue of living with HIV for me and the many people affected."

Rosen said Johnson felt that his message about AIDS was not getting out because "people were focusing on the controversy," and that Johnson now plans to devote more time to AIDS awareness.

Rosen said Johnson called him Saturday night and informed him of his decision.

Dr. Michael Mellman, Johnson's personal physician and the Lakers' team doctor, said there had been no deterioration in Johnson's health.

Mellman repeated what other doctors have said all along - that there was practically no chance of contracting the virus from Johnson through basketball.

Nevertheless, some players aren't convinced. Several NBA stars, including fellow Dream Team member Karl Malone, said they were concerned about playing against Johnson for health reasons.

One NBA general manager, speaking on the condition that he not be identified, was quoted in a New York Times story Sunday as saying Johnson should step aside to avoid any controversy.

Contacted Monday, Malone said: "Look at the cuts and scratches I get now. All of a sudden, the last second of the game, and here comes Magic to the basket. It's the same as, what if I had the virus as a player and what if a Buck Williams or a Charles Barkley comes in?"

"It is a physical game and you do get kicked and scratched," Malone added. "I do have concerns, just like anybody would have. It's not a thing of kicking a man when he's down."

Lakers general manager Jerry West said he believed "a number of things were unfairly said" concerning Johnson.

Said Michael Jordan, another of Johnson's Dream Team teammates:

"I guess he looked at it and said he'd rather be remembered as a guy who enjoyed the game, but not a guy who stirred problems amongst his peers. I respect that decision."

West said Johnson would still receive the $14.6 million contract extension he signed Oct. 1 - two days after announcing he was returning to the Lakers.

Johnson, the NBA's career leader in assists with 9,921, shocked the sports world last Nov. 7 when he announced his retirement after testing HIV positive.

Within weeks of his retirement announcement, Johnson began contemplating a comeback. He was the Most Valuable Player in the NBA All-Star game in February when he scored 25 points and made three straight 3-pointers in the final five minutes.

A week later, his number was retired by the Lakers, but even at that time he made it clear he was considering a return. He continued to work out during the spring and was a key member of the U.S. team that won the gold medal in men's basketball at the Barcelona Olympics.

Just last Friday night, after the Lakers' final exhibition game, Johnson had said he and the team were ready for the upcoming season. Johnson made only 1 of 10 field-goal attempts while scoring eight points in the Lakers' 103-92 loss to Cleveland at Chapel Hill, N.C. He played 28 minutes and had five assists in what turned out to be his final NBA game.

Johnson, 33, played in five of the Lakers' eight preseason games, averaging 10.4 points and nearly 12 assists a game. The Lakers were 4-1 with Johnson in the lineup.

First-year Lakers coach Randy Pfund said Rosen called him Sunday night with the news.

"I think everybody realized going in it might not have worked as perfectly as we would have wanted it to," Pfund said.

After leading Michigan State to the 1979 NCAA championship as a sophomore, Johnson turned pro and played 12 seasons for the Lakers. He averaged 19.7 points and led them to five NBA championships.

Vikings have no problem with Bears

CHICAGO (AP) - Last time, it was "The Audible." This time, it was a plan old-fashioned whipping.

"We got thoroughly whipped. We never got into the flow of what we wanted to do," Chicago coach Mike Ditka said after the Minnesota Vikings crushed his Bears 38-10 Monday night. "They played better football."

"Give them all the credit in the world. Right now they are a better team than we are."

The convincing Vikings victory erased any stigma that their win in the Metrodome last month was a fluke. And it could be the ticket to the divisional title for the Vikings, the end of the line for the Chicago Bears.

"We weren't playing around here," said Minnesota coach Dennis Green. "We came in to win this ball game. Going 2-0 against the Bears is very big."

The victory left the Vikings at 6-2, on top of the Central Division of the NFC, and dropped the Bears to 4-4. Not only are the Vikings two games ahead of the Bears, but they would have the upper hand if any tiebreakers are needed.

"They've got to catch us by three games," said Green.

It was the worst home defeat for the Bears in their 11 seasons under coach Mike Ditka.

Unlike the 21-20 win in the Metrodome Oct. 4 when the Vikings rallied in the fourth quarter after "The Audible" interception by Todd Scott of a Jim Harbaugh pass, Minnesota wasted no time Monday night.

On their first possession, the Vikings drove 77 yards in 13 plays with Roger Craig scoring on a 1-yard run.

Then some crazy things started to happen. Darren Lewis fumbled and Chris Doleman recovered on the Chicago 32. Terry Allen gained all 32 yards on eight carries, scoring on a 1-yard run.

It was 14-3 when the Bears kicked off in the second half. Allen fumbled on the first play, the Bears recovering. On the next play, Harbaugh spotted Tom Waddle and fired. Waddle tripped over an official and linebacker Jack Del Rio came up with the interception. Del Rio didn't stop until he went 84 yards for a touchdown.

"Unlucky stuff," said Harbaugh. "Dumb luck," said Waddle, who fell over umpire Neil Gereb. "The play is designed to get the linebackers to drop back."

Del Rio did. "The ball was thrown low and I was sitting back in my zone and I went and got it," said Del Rio. "I took off running for the nearest sideline and picked up some great blocking."

Just to prove that wasn't a fluke, Del Rio intercepted another Harbaugh pass that resulted in a 28-yard field goal by Fuad Revez.

Rich Gannon hit Steve Jordan with a 60-yard touchdown and Carlos Jenkins intercepted a Peter Tom Willis pass and returned it 19 yards for a touchdown.

Ditka realized what was happening from the start.

"When they took the ball and drove it down the field running, they showed they meant business," the Chicago coach said.

"We played good solid football," said Green. "We're a pretty decent team."

Gannon completed 7 of 15 passes for 157 yards and said "I did everything right. I did not turn the ball over. We talked about and said if we held the ball, we'd have a good chance."

"We wanted to show them we could play physical, too," said Allen, who committed Minnesota's only turnover.

"We came in really hyped and took control early," said Jenkins. "This is what we worked for the whole season."

Pokes own NFL's best record

IRVING (AP) - Dallas coach Jimmy Johnson says he expected to bring the Dallas Cowboys back to the top of the NFL in only two and one-half years.

"I knew what we wanted to do and that it was going to take work and a lot of time," Johnson said. "I guess most people would say we got to that point quicker than they thought. I'm not surprised. There was no preconceived notion on how long it would take."

The Cowboys, making a long climb from a 1-15 start under Johnson in 1989, own the NFL's best record at the halfway point of the season. The Cowboys haven't been there in nine years.

"It's a good feeling but we have a big task in the next eight games," said Dallas defensive end Jim Jeffcoat. "I don't remember the last time we've been two games up in the NFC East."

The last time the Cowboys had the best record in the NFL was after 10 weeks in 1983 when they were 9-1. Dallas hasn't had a two game lead in the NFC East since the sixth week of the 1985 season when it was 5-1. Washington and Philadelphia are 5-3.

The Cowboys (7-1) were riding high at Valley Ranch Monday following a 20-10 revenge whipping of the Philadelphia Eagles, who had defeated them 31-7 only a month ago.

"The coaches told us we could have through Monday to celebrate then we'd have to cut it off," said fullback Daryl Johnston.

One of the items keeping the Cowboys from getting carried away is the fact they have to play the Detroit Lions in the Silverdome on Sunday. Dallas lost to the Lions in Detroit 34-10 in the regular season and fell 38-6 in the playoffs.

"We have enough tape on those two games to keep our guys from walking around with big heads," said defensive coordinator Dave Wannstedt, whose team moved into first place in total defense in the NFL, replacing the Eagles.

"We owe them (the Lions) one," said defensive tackle Tony Casillas.

Emmitt Smith became the first runner to crack the 100-yard barrier against the Eagles in 54 games. Smith rushed 30 times for 163 yards.

"We were pounding them," said offensive lineman Nate Newton.

"They hadn't given up 100 yards to a running back forever so it had to happen eventually," said center Mark Stepnoski. "Why not to us? Emmitt was great."

"Our start this year is about as far away from a couple of years ago as you can get," Stepnoski said. Dallas started 0-8 in 1989.

Smith, the defending NFL's leading rusher, said "It was the biggest high I've had, getting over 100 yards against those guys. You want to have a 100 yard game but you don't count on it."

Smith had averaged 59 yards per game against the Eagles until Sunday.

"It's quite an accomplishment," said Dallas coach Jimmy Johnson. "But there is still more to do. We have a tough game in Detroit and we haven't played well up there the last two times."

Odds makers made the Cowboys seven-point favorites for Sunday's meeting with the Lions.

Bonds selected as player of year

NEW YORK (AP) - Barry Bonds' years as a superstar may just be starting even though his time with the Pittsburgh Pirates may be ending.

Bonds, who led the Pirates to their third straight NL East title this season, was selected The Associated Press Player of the Year in balloting announced Monday.

Bonds, who has filed for free agency, received 87 votes from a nationwide panel of sports writers and broadcasters. San Diego third baseman Gary Sheffield was the runner-up with 67 votes, followed by Oakland reliever Dennis Eckersley with 32.

In what could be his last season with Pittsburgh, Bonds hit .311 with 34 homers and 103 RBIs. He also scored 109 runs, tops in the NL, and stole 39 bases.

"I never set goals for myself," Bonds said. "I prepare the same way every year. I would do the same things if you paid me one dollar."

The difference this winter is that Bonds might be preparing to play for a new team in 1993. The All-Star outfielder will be looking for a contract that will pay him at least $6 million per season, and it's unlikely the Pirates can afford it.

"I haven't closed the door to anything," Bonds said. "I don't really want to get involved in the negotiations. My agent will let me know what's going on."

Bonds, 28, has emerged as one of the best players in the major leagues because of his all-around abilities.

Physicians urged to follow breast screening guidelines

Deaths from breast cancer in the United States could be cut by 30 percent if all physicians followed mammography screening guidelines, according to an article published in the October issue of Texas Medicine.

"A national survey conducted by the American Cancer Society in 1989 showed that only 37 percent of physicians interviewed followed the American Cancer Society recommendations for screening mammography in asymptomatic women," Dr. George N. Peters writes in a Texas Medicine commentary. "Although this had significantly increased since 1984 when only 11 percent of surveyed physicians followed the guidelines, we still need to convince more physicians of the benefits of mammography."

Dr. Peters is president of the American Cancer Society, Texas Division, and a member of the faculty of the Department of Surgery and Surgical Oncology at the Sammons Cancer Center, Baylor University Medical Center in Houston. Texas Medicine is the official news magazine of the Texas Medical Association.

Dr. Peters says 8,700 new cases of breast cancer will be diagnosed in Texas in 1992 and 2,200 Texas Women will die from breast cancer. nationally, more than 180,000 new cases will be diagnosed and 46,000 deaths will occur.

"We, as physicians, do have a tool that will allow us to decrease the mortality from this disease," Dr. Peters states. "Yet, this modality is underutilized and we have to take partial responsibility for that. If we all practiced universal mammographic screening, we could decrease the mortality from breast cancer by 30 percent."

Remember the Goldilocks rule: Try out a variety of mattresses to find the one just right for you.

The American Cancer Society recommends that all women get a baseline mammogram at age 40. The society recommends that women 50 years of age and older have a mammogram performed annually. TMA supports those guidelines and, through its Physician Oncology Education Program, has distributed them to all primary care physicians in the state. In fact, the POEP annually distributes other resources to encourage physicians to become involved in cancer prevention and screening efforts.

"In Texas, only 29 percent of women 50 years and older who saw a physician for routine examination had a screening mammogram in the last year," Dr. Peters says. "We must improve this statistic."

"It is time that we start seeing a decrease in the mortality from breast cancer," Dr. Peters continues. "Every physician in Texas has the potential to help the American Cancer Society and other organizations in the state achieve this goal. Through the cooperation of Texas physicians, we can achieve universal screening."

Texas Medical Association is a professional organization of more than 31,000 physician and medical student members. It is located in Austin and has 118 component county medical societies around the state. The Association represents 82 percent of the doctors of medicine licensed and residing in Texas and 96 percent of the state's allopathic medical students. TMA's key objective is to improve the health of Texans.

Fraser honored with party

A surprise birthday party was held recently in St. Thomas Episcopal Church fellowship hall for Mary Fraser, who turned 85 Oct. 28.

The honoree greeted approximately 40 guests along with the hostesses, Claudia McBrayer, Mary Hamby, Billie Kelley and Janice Brownlow.

A birthday cake, featured with the number "85", was arranged on the refreshment table covered with a white cloth and centered by an arrangement of blue and cranberry flowers placed in a basket. The table was appointed with a gold coffee and tea service and crystal plates.

Refreshments of spiced tea, coffee, hummingbird cake and nuts were served to guests.

Discipline is love

There are many proven methods for managing children without using physical pain or humiliation.

Here are some suggestions on how to discipline your child with love from parenting consultants Dorothy and Robert DeBolt, who have raised 20 biological and adoptive children.

-When your child misbehaves, try to be calm. Take a deep breath and think before you speak or act. Always let your child know that he is good but the behavior at that moment is not good. In other words, condemn the act but not the child. Children need love the most when they deserve it the least.

-Come to an agreement ahead of time with your child. Discuss what behavior is expected, choose rewards for good behavior and consequences for bad behavior.

-Have the child work to pay for destruction or damage. Make sure the punishment fits the crime. This teaches responsibility.

-Remove privileges as a local consequence of breaking family rules.

-For teenagers who have difficulties coming home on time, try this solution. If the teenager doesn't come home at 10 p.m., as told, the next time he goes out require him to be home by 9:30 p.m., etc.

Dorothy and Robert DeBolt are considered to be America's number one parents. They have raised 20 children and have been married, single, divorced, widowed, adoptive and biological parents.

CCA concert tonight

Members of the Hereford Community Concert Association are reminded of the performance of "Dance Through Time" scheduled at 8 p.m. tonight in the Hereford High School auditorium.

FORT WAYNE, Ind. (AP) - Dave Thomas, founder of the Wendy's hamburger chain, says his parents waited too long to tell him he was adopted.

"I didn't really know I was adopted until I was 13, which is really wrong," he told the Indiana Foster Care and Adoption Association on Saturday. "I was really mad about it because no one trusted me to know the truth."

Reporters and others have been able to get quick and important information about some major sporting events—even interview the players—with one phone call to a special number.

 Yesterday's Cryptoquote: AN ART CAN ONLY BE LEARNED IN THE WORKSHOP OF THOSE WHO ARE WINNING THEIR BREAD BY IT. — SAMUEL BUTLER

It is claimed in some legends that, in ancient Egypt, baboons were trained to wait on tables.

The table fork was introduced into England in 1601.

Ask Dr. Lamb

DEAR DR. LAMB: I am an active lady of 76 and never had this problem before unless I sat too long in a car when we went on a trip. Now even when working around the house and outside, I find that both of my legs swell quite badly. They go back to normal after a night's rest. What can I do to prevent the swelling, because, even at my age, I am vain and wear slacks instead of dresses to cover up the thickness of my legs.

The only medication I am on is propranolol, 10 mg four times a day, also extra-strength aspirin and Advil for back pain. My cholesterol is low because I do not eat fried foods. My blood pressure is kept in check with these medications. What am I doing wrong?

DEAR READER: Feet and ankles tend to swell during the day, and the swelling disappears during the night. The reason is related to gravity. When you are upright, there is more pressure in the lower part of your body from the long column of blood between your heart and feet. That causes more fluid to seep out into the tissues, and it is harder for it to move back into the blood vessels. When you lie down, the column of blood is short to non-existent. The feet are at about the same level as your heart and your circulation pulls in the fluid that has accumulated in your tissues. The swelling goes away.

A small increase is normal, but larger amounts are not. In that case, you need to find out the underlying cause for retaining fluid. That can be from varicose veins, inadequate circulation through your lymphatic system—I find many people do not even know they have a lymphatic system as part of their circulation—liver disease, kidney disease, congestive heart failure and other causes.

DEAR DR. LAMB: After I had a chest X-ray, my doctor informed me that I have an enlarged heart. I am a 68-year-old female, 5 feet tall and weigh 200 pounds. My blood pressure is normal. I don't take any medication except Zantac for my acid stomach. My mother had an enlarged heart and had a heart attack at age 64. She died at age 84. My doctor tells me to watch my blood pressure. Could you tell me more about this condition, and what I should do?

DEAR READER: I would need to know more about you, but people who are overweight—and you are—may have an enlarged heart solely because of that. Of course, other factors, such as your cholesterol levels and blood glucose level, are important. You badly need to lose weight under a supervised weight-loss program. It would also help to know why you are so overweight, what kind of diet you follow and your exercise program. Being overweight alone increases a person's risk of a heart attack.

Dr. Lamb welcomes letters from readers with health questions. You can write to him at P.O. Box 5537, Riverton, NJ 08077. Although Dr. Lamb cannot reply to all letters personally, he will respond to selected questions in future columns.

Chancellor to speak in Amarillo Friday

Dr. William E. Tucker, currently in his 14th year as chancellor of Texas Christian University, will speak Friday at a luncheon in Amarillo.

The event will begin at noon at The Amarillo Club, 600 S. Tyler. Sponsoring the occasion is the TCU Amarillo/Panhandle Alumni chapter, headed by Byron Gossett of Dumas.

Special workshop offered

Raising funds for projects is a major problem for most rural communities, so a fund raising/grant writing workshop is being offered in Pampa on Dec. 1-3.

The workshop is being sponsored by the North Rolling Plains Resource Conservation and Development Council. The course will be taught by Dr. Don Udell of Norman, OK.

The three-day course is designed for individuals responsible for helping their organizations with fund raising, or those interested in grant writing. Enrollment is limited to the first 30 registrants. Cost is $150 and pre-registration is required.

"Every community needs someone trained in the professional methods of fund raising and grant writing," according to John Crowell, coordinator for the RC&D Council. "Large cities have the advantage of professionals who are trained to conduct fund raisers and do grant writing. This course provides an opportunity to help our communities by learning the same methods."

Dr. Udell has authored and published numerous articles and has written grant proposals and received funds for over 30 federal, state and philanthropic grants. He will teach participants of the workshop how to conduct successful fundraising programs, how to find potential funding sources, and how to develop a proposal that will improve your chances of getting grants for projects.

For more information, contact John Crowell, NBC Plaza Suite 107, 1224 N. Hobart, Pampa, TX. 79065. Call 806-669-0312.

Festival scheduled in Levelland

The annual Levelland Marigolds Arts and Crafts Festival has been expanded for 1992. The event, set for Nov. 7-8, will be held on the Hockley County Fairgrounds located southwest of Levelland on FM Road 300. Hours for the festival are 9 a.m. until 6 p.m. Saturday, and noon until 5 p.m. Sunday.

Shoppers will have an opportunity to visit 90 booths which feature work by exhibitors from all over West Texas and Eastern New Mexico.

Ann Landers

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Seven years ago, I became involved with a man who was an alcoholic and a drug addict. I thought I loved "Jeb" even though he cheated on me and refused to hold down a job.

Three years ago, we had a son. When I discovered Jeb was using drugs in front of our child, I said, "That's enough," and left him. Fortunately, my parents took us in with loving arms.

I returned to college and demanded that Jeb pay child support. His visitations are supervised by me because of his substance abuse, but he can see his son any time he wants. He hasn't been around for four months, which is pretty conclusive evidence that he has no interest in the child.

After a great deal of soul-searching, I decided to change my son's last name to mine. Jeb couldn't care less, but his parents are furious. They have told me that if their grandson's name is changed, they never want to see me or my son again.

Am I wrong to do this, Ann? Do you think my son would want the name of a man he barely knows, a man who never was a father to him? My family loves my son dearly, and so do I. I think he would be proud to have our name. Please give me your thoughts on this.—Single Parent in South Carolina

DEAR SOUTH CAROLINA: Jeb's parents have no business trying to manipulate you. If you want to change your child's last name, go ahead and do it.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: This is not an everyday problem, but it is one that I am faced with every day. Tell me if I am out of line to complain.

My beautiful 22-year-old daughter appears to be perfectly normal until you look at her hands. She has let her fingernails grow so long that she looks like a freak. To be truthful, I am embarrassed by this bizarre affliction. Unfortunately, her brothers think she looks great with those long claws.

Each of "Ava's" nails appears to be about 6 inches long. She has spent a small fortune on them. I never know from one day to the next what her nails will look like. She keeps them decorated with nail-art designs, rhinestones and gold nail jewelry. You have to see it to believe it. I feel like telling her to grow up and stop trying to attract attention.

Ava is totally wrapped up in this long-nail look and says she intends to let them grow indefinitely just to see how long they can get.

I don't want to alienate my daughter but I'm deeply disappointed and ashamed of her for wanting to look like this.

Please, Ann, what do you think about her behavior? Should I say anything? If so, what?—Tomato-Faced Mom in Van Nuys

DEAR MOM: Ava is 22, which is past the age of consent in every state in the union. I am sure by this time she knows exactly how you feel about her bizarre preoccupation with her nails.

When the novelty wears off and she gets tired of spending a fortune on manicures and nail jewelry, she will trim them to a more conventional length. Until then you are looking at 10 formidable challenges to self-control. I hope you are equal to it.

Gem of the Day: We wouldn't worry so much about what people thought of us if we knew how seldom they did.

Ann Landers' latest booklet, "Nuggets and Doozies," has everything from the outrageously funny to the poignantly insightful. Send a self-addressed, long, business-size envelope and a check or money order for $5 (this includes postage and handling) to Nuggets, c/o Ann Landers, P.O. Box 11562, Chicago, Ill. 60611-0562.

Ballet began in the royal courts of Italy during the 1400s. The early dancers were court nobles performing special versions of social dances of the times.

Food allergies can make your head spin

A change of diet might be all that is needed to provide relief to some people who suffer from persistent vertigo, tinnitus (ringing in the ears) and hearing loss due to meniere's disease, an inner ear disorder.

If you have been diagnosed with Meniere's disease, and suffer from allergic reactions such as a stuffy nose, itching eyes, and skin rashes with seasonal changes, you may have noticed that the symptoms of this disease have also increased at these times.

If you have reacted positively to food testing, you may be able to relieve the symptoms of Meniere's by watching what you eat. Develop an understanding of the food families, avoid suspect foods and read the labels on food products.
