Catholics introduce universal catechism

PARIS (AP) - The Roman Catholic Church's new catechism finds new implications in the Ten Commandments, ranking as sins such phenomena as white-collar crime, mistreatment of the environment and genetic engineering.

French clergymen introduced the new Catechism of the Catholic Church for the world's 900 million believers Monday. The 676-page document addresses some issues that didn't exist 426 years ago when the last full revision was issued.

Jean Honoré, bishop of Tours and the catechism's French editor, said the catechism contains no "new sins ... We have simply tried to take up the commandments again on how a Christian can conduct his life today."

The text will serve as a universal guideline for church teachers and theologians, who may put together local catechisms based on it.

The catechism retains many of the old positions that have become increasingly controversial, including prohibitions of abortion, artificial contraception and divorce.

Although the catechism continues to condemn homosexual acts, it urges Catholics to show "respect, compassion and delicacy" toward homosexuals.

It condemns genetic engineering that is used to determine a baby's sex or other aspects of it "unique identity and human dignity" and says that producing human embryos for biological material is immoral.

And third-party procreation - such as sperm donors of surrogate mothers

- is inherently dishonest because it breaks the link between the sexual act and procreation, the catechism says.

Prohibitions against non-marital sex, masturbation, pornography, adultery, polygamy and free sexual union remain in force. Chastity is demanded of the non-married.

But strictures on the Seventh Commandment - Thou Shalt Not Steal - have been updated to rank bad checks, price-gouging, fiscal misdeeds, paying low wages or performing low-quality work as sinful.

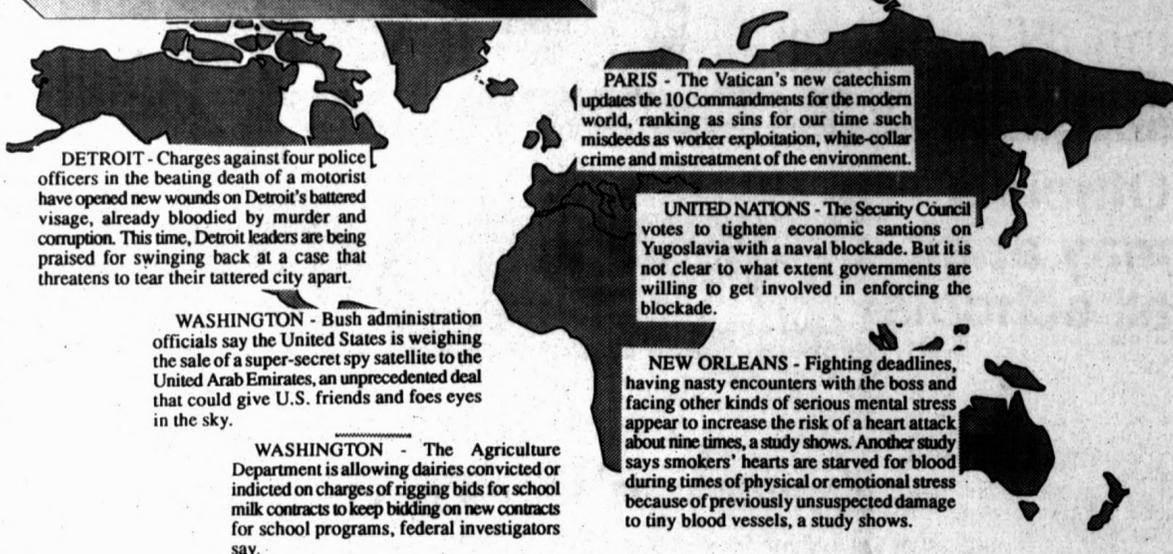

The document also demands that rich nations accept immigrants from poorer ones and help economic development, noting that the mass of the world's poor are Third World peasants.

It says the handicapped have a right to work and that going on non-violent strike is a moral right. The church's once-sacrosanct view toward private property has been modified to state that the Earth is the heritage of all mankind. Damaging the environment is thus a sin.

Terrorism, hostage-taking, and forced amputation and sterilization are condemned.

Under the Fifth Commandment - Thou Shalt Not Kill - the catechism does not rule out a state's right to impose the death penalty. A few paragraphs later, regarding abortion, it says "human life must be protected in an absolute manner from the moment of conception."

News digest

DETROIT - Charges against four police officers in the beating death of a motorist have opened new wounds on Detroit's battered visage, already bloodied by murder and corruption. This time, Detroit leaders are being praised for swinging back at a case that threatens to tear their tattered city apart.

WASHINGTON - Bush administration officials say the United States is weighing the sale of a super-secret spy satellite to the United Arab Emirates, an unprecedented deal that could give U.S. friends and foes eyes in the sky.

WASHINGTON - The Agriculture Department is allowing dairies convicted or indicted on charges of rigging bids for school milk contracts to keep bidding on new contracts for school programs, federal investigators say.

PARIS - The Vatican's new catechism updates the 10 Commandments for the modern world, ranking as sins for our time such misdeeds as worker exploitation, white-collar crime and mistreatment of the environment.

UNITED NATIONS - The Security Council votes to tighten economic sanctions on Yugoslavia with a naval blockade. But it is not clear to what extent governments are willing to get involved in enforcing the blockade.

NEW ORLEANS - Fighting deadlines, having nasty encounters with the boss and facing other kinds of serious mental stress appear to increase the risk of a heart attack about nine times, a study shows. Another study says smokers' hearts are starved for blood during times of physical or emotional stress because of previously unsuspected damage to tiny blood vessels, a study shows.

Bid-rigging dairies still eligible

WASHINGTON (AP) - The Agriculture Department is allowing dairies convicted or indicted on charges of rigging bids for school milk contracts to keep bidding on new contracts for school programs, federal investigators say.

The USDA's Food and Nutrition Service says it doesn't have the expertise to suspend or bar dairies from supplying school cafeterias, according to a report by the General Accounting Office.

Although the milk contracts are awarded locally, USDA subsidizes the cost of the milk and in fact does have the authority to bar or suspend suppliers.

The Justice Department's bid-rigging probe has spread to at least 21 states and has uncovered conspiracies involving dozens of dairies. Three-dozen corporations and 35 individuals have been convicted of federal antitrust violations and have paid fines and civil damages exceeding $33 million.

Phil Shanholzer, a spokesman for the Food and Nutrition Service, said the agency also has not seen any reason to ban the convicted dairies because they have reimbursed losses caused by bid-rigging.

"Our position is that as long as they make it up to the state programs, that's the greatest interest we have. We're not interested in using this as a punitive measure," he said.

But GAO said the threat of losing access to government contracts is only a deterrent if "those dairies that improperly bid-rig have a reasonable expectation that, if caught, they will be suspended or debarred from federally funded programs."

Since the Justice Department began investigating in 1988, it has brought 73 federal antitrust cases against 39 corporations and 48 individuals in 10 states.

Federal grand juries in 21 states continue to investigate the scandal, which has implicated some of the best-known names in the business, among them Flav-O-Rich and Pet Dairies. Both companies pleaded guilty and settled their cases with fines totaling $13 million for Flav-O-Rich and $2 million for Pet.

Nationwide, the cases largely involve milk contracts for schools, but investigators also have found bid-rigging on contracts to supply milk and dairy products to military installations.

In a typical bid-rigging conspiracy case, the Justice Department said, dairies in an area decide which one will get the milk contract for a particular school district. The others then submit higher bids to ensure the chosen dairy wins the contract, at an inflated price.

Dairies also may simply divide the market through mutual agreement, with some dairies bidding on contracts that exceed a specific dollar value and leaving smaller contracts to other dairies, GAO said. The purpose of that tactic is to reduce the number of dairies bidding - in some cases to one - which gives the dairy the opportunity to submit higher bids and reap higher profits.

Since the conspiracies were uncovered, the Defense Department has barred or suspended convicted dairies and individuals from participating in federal contracts government-wide, GAO said.

But it's up to USDA to bar contractors who supply the school lunch or breakfast programs, GAO said.

GAO said Food and Nutrition Service officials said the agency "has not developed expertise in such matters."

"These officials stated that they, unlike their counterparts in DOD, lack a multidisciplinary team of knowledgeable investigators and lawyers to suspend those for whom there is adequate evidence that they improperly rigged bids and to debar those convicted," GAO said.

After all the hype, 'Malcolm X' film finally arrives in theaters

LOS ANGELES (AP) - The making of "Malcolm X" inflamed naysayers, frustrated a studio, gratified merchandisers, worried police and transfixed the media. All that remains is the only important test: pleasing moviegoers.

After months of nonstop hype and director Spike Lee's one-man publicity blitz, the epic-length film about the slain black activist arrives Wednesday in about 1,200 theaters nationwide.

If the three-hour, 21-minute "Malcolm X" does not debut strongly, it almost surely will be swept aside. It faces stiff competition from "Bram Stoker's Dracula," which set box-office records its opening weekend, and the upcoming "Home Alone 2: Lost in New York" and "The Bodyguard."

One thing is certain: the $42 million "Malcolm X" is among this year's most anticipated releases. Based on "The Autobiography of Malcolm X," the film took 26 years coming to the screen.

Academy Award-winner Denzel Washington stars as the charismatic civil rights leader whose life story is largely unfamiliar to millions of Americans.

"Some people know part of his life, but not the real meaning," said Jasmond Anderson, a senior at Dallas' Lincoln High School.

Tobias Price, 17, who lives in St. Louis, always wears at least one article of clothing marked with Malcolm X. He plans to wait in line as long as it takes to see "Malcolm X" on opening night.

"I'm counting on the movie to show me what was going through his head, what kind of man he was, how did he do things and how he fired up so many people," Price said.

Malcolm X evolved from a drug abuser, petty thief and convict into a disciple of the Nation of Islam who urged black power "by any means necessary." But after a pilgrimage to Mecca, he moderated his views, split with the Nation of Islam and founded the Organization for Afro-American Unity in 1964.

He was assassinated by Nation of Islam followers at a 1965 Harlem rally. He was 39.

Warner Bros. hopes its multimillion-dollar marketing campaign will broaden the film's appeal to audiences of all races. The studio says the film's length - almost twice the average movie - means it can be shown only three times a day, compared to five showings daily for most titles.

Robert Friedman, head of marketing for producer Warner Bros., said "Malcolm X" should perform as well as the studio's 1991 release "JFK," another lengthy epic which eventually earned $70.3 million at North American theaters.

"Malcolm X" was enveloped in controversy ever since Lee ("Do the Right Thing" and "Jungle Fever") replaced Norman Jewison ("In the Heat of the Night") two years ago as the film's director.

Warner Bros. clashed with Lee repeatedly over the film's budget, content, running time and legal clearances.

All the while, apparel and merchandise bearing the X logo flew out of stores, turning millions of young people into walking advertisements.

Marvin Worth, the film's producer, is hopeful audiences will embrace the film and not greet its opening with acts of violence.

Spikers dump Dumas; are Austin-bound

By JAY PEDEN
Sports Editor

The Lady Whitefaces are going to Austin!

The Hereford volleyball team ended three years of frustration with a 12-15, 15-6, 15-10 win over Dumas in the Region I-4A finals Saturday in the Caprock Activity Center.

Jill Robinson had three consecutive kills to push Hereford's third game lead to 14-9. After Kathy Hernandez' hit fell untouched in the Demonette backcourt, the Hereford players celebrated with cheerleaders and fans for 30 minutes on the floor. They even serenaded Dumas coach Jack Wilson with an impromptu rendition of "Hit the Road, Jack."

"I need to wake up," Robinson, a senior, said. "I can't believe it. I can believe we're going, but it just doesn't seem real."

"I'm not in disbelief, but it's a dream sense," senior Angie Jowell said. "We've just accomplished a major goal. It's incredible."

"I don't think it's hit me," senior Erin Bullard. "I know we won. We worked hard to beat Dumas. It's great to be the first team to go this far."

The Lady Whitefaces (22-9) take on Austin Anderson (28-9) at 5:45 p.m. Friday at Burger Center in Austin. The other teams in the Final Four--Red Oak (38-2) and Friendswood (25-9)--meet at 4:30 Friday. The winners of those two matches meet at 2:30 Saturday for the Class 4A state championship.

Bullard was a starter in the regional finals between Hereford and Dumas last year. It was a similar match with a different winner.

"This was just as intense, just as much heart in it. Fate was on our side," she said. "We could have fallen apart and folded on the last five points. We've been working all season to get those last points: pressing to win, pressing the lead."

Hereford had blown a 10-5 lead in the first game thanks to three consecutive hitting errors. Hereford held a 14-3 lead in the second game, but Dumas clawed for four sideouts and three points before Hereford could get the 15th point. Dumas is known for coming back from the dead, so even a 14-3 lead wasn't relaxing.

"I credit the kids with taking to heart the fact that no lead is ever safe against Dumas," coach Brenda Reeh said. "Even at 14 we had to hit to win. That was a real key for us the entire match. We hit the ball more than we have in the past against Dumas. We tipped the ball very little."

In the first game, Dumas quickly scored the first three points, but Hereford came back to tie at 4-4. The Herd took a 10-5 lead on two kills by Hernandez and an ace by Jessica Evers, who served during the six-point run.

Three consecutive hitting errors by Hereford brought Dumas back, and a fourth tied the game at 10-10. Seven sideouts followed before Dumas' Angie Swimmer hit long for a Hereford point, then made up for it with an ace. Dumas took a 14-11 lead on a Latisha Foster kill and a Laura Tatum ace wrapped around a Hereford hitting error. Jill Robinson had consecutive kills for a sideout at a point for Hereford, but Dumas' Callie Beauchamp stuffed an overset for a sideout and Summer Giffin served an ace to end the game.

Reeh did some coaching between the first and second game.

"We talked about the fact it was similar to the second district match in Dumas," she said, referring to a rare two-game loss for Hereford: 17-15, 15-8. "When we went to Dumas, we lost the first game by a close margin, then played with little emotion in the second. We didn't dig our heels in like we should have. (On Saturday) we reminded ourselves we had to go after every point. We talked about how hundreds of girls in the state would give anything to be in our situation even after losing the first game."

Sideouts prevailed early in the second game, and it was only 2-2 after nine rotations. Then, kills by Jill Robinson and Bullard and an ace by Jowell made it 5-2. Dumas got a point on a LaKrisha Randolph ace, but Bullard had a kill off of a block then went to the service line. When she was finished, Hereford had run its lead from 5-3 to 14-3.

The run started when Hereford's Robyn Watts stuff-blocked Dumas' Tatum. Watts, Robinson and Kara Sandoval each had two kills in the run, and Bullard had an ace.

"The momentum wasn't really on either side early in the second game," Reeh said. "Erin just did a good job getting the ball in. During the 6-to-14 run, (Wilson) called two timeouts. That's a credit to the kids."

Dumas didn't give up and scored three points, but Jowell had a kill for a sideout, and the Demonettes watched Evers' serve scrape the line for a game-ending ace.

"I had it planned: the second game, game-point, I was going to go in and serve an ace. That was my game," said Evers, who also said it was an "honor" to be the only sophomore on the team.

Hereford came from behind most of the third game. Dumas led 4-0; Hereford came back to lead 5-4. Dumas led 7-5; Hereford tied it up. Dumas' Jenny Robinson's kill gave Dumas an 8-7 lead, but that was the last lead Dumas got.

Jowell's kill got a sideout. Dumas made a passing error and Hereford got a point to tie. Bullard and Jowell, consecutive kills made it 10-8 and Dumas called a time out.

"One of the things we talked about in the last time out was to go after the ball and hit it hard," Reeh said. "Everything we hit was falling. As long as we didn't hit it into their big middle (6-foot-1 Jenny Robinson) we were fine."

A Hereford hitting error gave Dumas another point, but Dumas' service error gave Hereford the ball back. Watts had a kill, then Robinson had three straight. Dumas got a finger on all of them, but couldn't return any of them. Hereford led 14-9.

"I was starting to look--reading where it was open instead of just hitting hard," Robinson said. "They weren't hard hits."

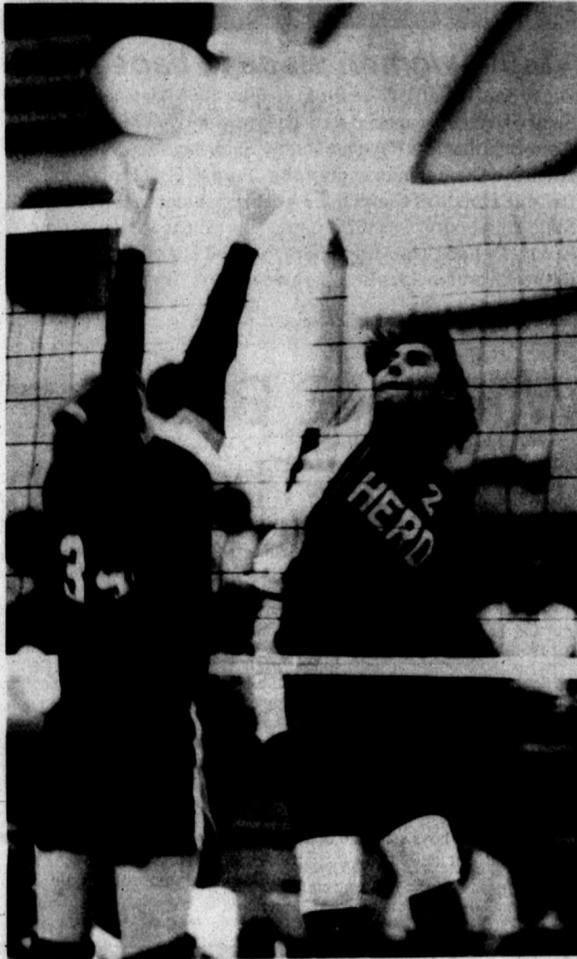

Dumas got a kill for a sideout, and Julie Do served for an ace, but it was the last point of the season for the Demonettes. On the next serve, Sandoval tipped the ball over the net and it fell for a sideout. Sandoval served and a long volley ended when Sandoval set Hernandez, and her hit fell untouched in the Dumas backcourt.

Robinson led the team with 16 kills, followed by Watts with 12, Jowell with 9, Sandoval with 7 and Bullard with 5.

Bullard added 16 service points on 22 good serves and one ace. Evers served for eight points, including two aces.

Reeh said the digs were spread around, but Bullard and Robinson led service reception. Bullard had 15 passes to setter, and Robinson had 12.

"Every one of these kids--at one point or other, on or off the court--has made a huge contribution to this trip to Austin," Reeh said. "It's taken all 13 in workouts and in games to not just execute the needed skills, but maintain a positive attitude."

Explosive hit

A light on the wall provides Hollywood special effects for a hit by Hereford's Kathy Hernandez over Dumas' Laura Tatum. The Region I-4A finals match had a Hollywood happy ending as Hereford beat the Demonettes 12-15, 15-6, 15-10. Hereford advances to the state Class 4A tournament Friday and Saturday in Austin.

Herd dominates all-district team

Haney named 'Coach of the Year'

The Hereford High School football team, 5-0 district champions, got the victor's share of All-District 1-4A honors, taking up 17 of 54 spots with 15 different players.

Coach of the Year honors went to second-year coach Danny Haney, who deflected the spotlight to the players.

"The credit goes to these kids, not to me. That's what (all-district honors) are for," he said. "I thought it was tribute to our athletes that the other coaches (in the district) felt the same way about them that we do. Our kids got lots of votes. It's a tribute to the kids. It makes you feel good about what you've done through the year."

The Hereford contingent was led by Steven Blea who was named to the first team as a lineman on both offense and defense. Joining the first team offense was tailback Petey Colvin and tackle Ramiro Garza. On defense, it was end Mark Kuper, linebacker Kyle Hansen and cornerback Cody Powell.

Colvin, Kuper and Blea (on defense) were all unanimous choices of the district's six head coaches. Kuper was the only junior Whiteface honored. He was one of five juniors on the first team and 11 underclassmen overall.

The second team was led by Shawn Fogo, who got the nod at safety and at punter. On offense is quarterback Richard Sanderson, fullback Quincy Curtis, center Manuel Barba, tackle Craig Hiltbrunner and placekicker Greg Coplen. On defense, it was cornerback Ronnie Gomez, linebacker Eric Sims, and lineman Jerry Rincon.

Player of the Year honors went to Randall quarterback Brandon Barker.

Basketball players get ready

Brooke Bryant (left) guards Jamie Simpson in basketball practice Monday. Simpson, returning starter, will lead the Lady Whitefaces in their debut tonight against Brownfield. The boys' team also debuts tonight. Both play Brownfield in Levelland.

GARRISON

Garrison resigns

Carol Garrison, Hereford's head girls basketball coach, has resigned her post effective immediately.

Garrison cited personal reasons for resigning, according to Hereford Superintendent Charles Greenawalt.

Greenawalt said Loy Triana, who had been Garrison's assistant, will be the interim head coach. Hilda Fuentes, who had been the freshman coach, will move up to take over as varsity assistant and as junior varsity coach, Greenawalt said.

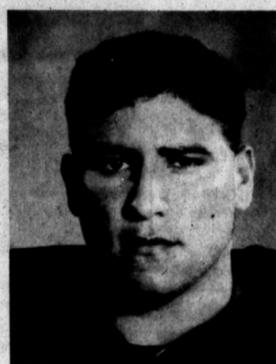

Garrison was hired last spring to replace Dickie Faught, who resigned after three seasons in Hereford. Garrison had been a successful middle school coach in Amarillo before moving here.

Greenawalt said the resignation was "sudden and unexpected."

"You might imagine how difficult it would be to find someone to take over as head coach from outside the system," said Greenawalt. "We will probably take applications, but I don't imagine we will be able to find anyone else. We don't have any trouble with Coach Triana taking those responsibilities."

Basketball season tips off with new coaches at helm

By JAY PEDEEN
Sports Editor

It's not often you have a coach with less varsity experience than his players, but that situation exists in Hereford.

Carol Garrison resigned Thursday as head girls' basketball coach, citing personal reasons, according to Hereford Superintendent Charles Greenawalt. That leaves first-year coach Loy Triana in charge. His first game is tonight.

The Hereford basketball season tips off in Levelland as both the girls' and the boys' teams take on Brownfield in the Texan Dome at South Plains College. The girls start at 5 p.m. and the boys start at 6:30.

"I'm real excited about this," Triana said. "This is my goal. This why I got into coaching: to coach girls' basketball. Experience is one thing I'm lacking, but enthusiasm will help out."

The Lady Whitefaces have some experienced players coming back, including several starters or part-time starters. In the backcourt, Stephanie Wilcox, a junior, started as a freshman and as sophomore, and Jamie Simpson was second on the team in steals (45), assists (32) and three-point shooting (12-of-38). Up front, Misty Dudley was second on the team in rebounds with 138 and third in scoring at 6.1 point per game.

Wing Wendy Hollingsworth and post Taylor Brooks also played in most of last year's games. Rounding out the varsity will be Lori Coronado, Cristal McNutt, Brandy Dunn, Jill Walser, Misty Peabody and Jamie Jones, a transfer from Idalou.

When the volleyball team returns from the state volleyball tournament this weekend, the basketball team will be bolstered by Kara Sandoval and Jill Robinson. Sandoval was second in scoring last year at 8 points a game, and she hit 26-of-67 three-pointers for 39 percent. Robinson was a part-time starter at post and was fourth in rebounds with 82.

"I think the girls will work hard," Triana said. "They're committed to turning the program around. I am, too. We'll have to win the little ones--the big picture comes later--but if the girls work hard we'll make something happen this year."

"The girls have been working hard; getting 100 percent out of them isn't hard. We're not very tall so we're going to utilize our quickness and pressure the ball."

The Lady Whitefaces finished last season at 9-23, 2-8 in District 1-4A, under coach Dickie Faught, who resigned in the spring.

Unlike Triana, boys' coach Joe Main has experience--he even won the Class 4A state championship at Huntsville in 1978. What he doesn't have is returning players in practice.

All five underclassmen who played in more than 10 games last season were on this year's Hereford football team, whose season ended with a playoff loss to Plainview Friday. They start practice Wednesday.

Main is pleased with the progress of the players who are in practice, though.

"We scrimmaged Amarillo High and Canyon (Tuesday) and we competed well and played hard," he said.

The players he'll take to Levelland have experience ranging from junior varsity to freshman teams last year.

They include Tim Burkhalter, Corey Scott, Michael Melendrez, Aaron Walker, Elijah Walker, Jay Kendall, Robin Simons, Michael Carlson, Jason Colston and Benton Buckley.

"It gives me an opportunity to really get a good look at the rest of the guys and really work with them," Main said of starting without any returning players. "We're fixing to get some real good experience with the young kids--and the four seniors."

The seniors listed above are Burkhalter, Scott, Melendrez and Aaron Walker. Aaron, a transfer from Iowa, is the brother of Elijah.

When the football players get their bearings on the court, one starter will be back from last year: Richard Sanderson, a starter at point guard the past two seasons. He set the Herd record for assists in a season last year with 153. He was second on the team in steals, and scored 9.2 points per game, also second.

The other four football players are Kyle Hansen, Eric Sims, Jason Tatarevich and Mark Kuper. Hansen set a Herd record last year with 19 charging fouls taken. He also was third in rebounding with 5.5 per game and scored 5.9 points per game. Tatarevich shot 34.6 percent (9-for-26) from three-point territory.

Sims, who grabbed four rebounds a game, and Kuper, a sophomore who earned playing time late last season, join Burkhalter as the only players significantly over six feet tall.

The Herd was 8-22 and 3-7 last season under coach Jimmy Thomas, who resigned in the spring.

Main said he doesn't know how long it'll take for the football players to switch gears to basketball.

"I haven't seen them play--ever. I just don't know," he said. "Fortunately we're in a small district--we don't start until Jan. 5--so we've got some time. We don't have to rush."

ACS president talks to HRSEA members

Nicky Walsler, president of the local American Cancer Society, spoke recently to members of the Hereford Retired School Employees Association. The speaker stressed the need for local involvement, such as drivers for patients needing transportation to the cancer center in Amarillo. Also, Walsler mentioned that Thursday has been designated as the Great American Smoke Out. All smokers and dippers are urged to participate.

Emphasizing that early detection can save lives, Walsler stressed regular self-exams, as one in three will be diagnosed with cancer. Walsler reiterated that the best defense for melanoma/skin cancer is to protect the skin from the sun. Early detection is the surest way to a cure, so see a doctor at the first warning sign. Proper diet, including eliminating excess fat, protecting the skin when in the sun, stopping smoking or dipping, regular self-exams and doctor visits can help detect or prevent cancer.

A check was presented by President Margaret Ball to Nicky Walsler for the American Cancer Society in memory of Marion Davis.

Marie Stringer revived memories of people who had helped and inspired her during her twenty years of teaching as she remembered "When It Happened..."

Margaret Bell announced that the association now had 84 members. Members were reminded by Mary Dzuik to keep account of their volunteer hours, as these will be turned in at the January meeting. Seniors throughout the state donate thousands of hours in volunteer service.

Bobby Boyd stressed that those not having previous CPR training should attend one of the Tuesday night meetings that will be held each week through May at the Community Center from 6-10.

All were encouraged by Audrey Powell to attend "The Festival of Trees," to be held Thursday through Sunday. The annual event benefits the Senior Citizens Association and there will be activities for everyone.

An up to date report was given by legislative chairman, Teddi Poindexter, on the Sunset Advisory Commission Report for TRS and ERS. These issues are of great importance to seniors and she urged members to study the described issues and policy options and make immediate contact with the Sunset Commission Board to express their opinions. The Commission will have a decision meeting in Austin on December 11-12 that will directly affect present and future retirees. Anyone wishing further information may contact Teddi Poindexter.

The Holiday Social will be a "pot-luck" dinner on Nov. 30 at 6 p.m. in the West Banquet Hall of the Community Center. All members, guests, and interested parties are welcome. There will be no December meeting and the next regular meeting will be Jan. 11, 1993.

Participating in project

Jessie Joe Garcia, a fourth grader at West Central, chooses a good book at the school library. He is among other students at the school who are reading to earn an invitation to the "Hug-a-Book" party planned Dec. 14. The invitation is earned by reading seven books, reading 15 minutes each evening, discussing a book with a friend and making a book jacket for one of the books. Party goers will enjoy a film, popcorn and special prizes. The reading motivation will continue during National Children's Book Week currently being observed.

University professors co-author textbooks

Jan Cosmic and Wanda Smith, remedial English instructors at West Texas State University, could not find a textbook to suit their classes. Instead of using several books, each with its own purpose, they chose to write a textbook tailored to fit their classes. The result is Write This Way.

The textbook is designed specifically to help remedial students with writing skills and to practice for the Texas Academic Skills Program test, an exam designed to ensure that all students attending public colleges and universities in Texas have the reading, writing and math skills needed to perform effectively in college-level coursework. The textbook is currently being used not only at WTSU, but also at the William P. Clements Correctional Unit in Amarillo and at Frank Phillips College in Borger and Clarendon College in Clarendon, where professors were concerned about students passing the TASP test as well.

Cosmic and Smith began writing the textbook prior to 1989, working primarily in their spare time and during school holidays. Editions of the textbook have been printed by both the Canyon News and the WTSU Print Shop. Although publishers have shown interest in the book, Cosmic and Smith are awaiting additional copyright permissions and expanding the text. The textbook's use began to spread when Smith was asked to sit on a panel for the Clements Unit. When asked what method was used to teach her remedial students, she told the other panel members about Write This Way. The prison was already using the textbook for some of their students.

"The need arose and we wrote the textbook for use at WTSU, but other colleges are showing interest," Cosmic said. "Sometimes it's hard to find materials to meet the needs of a particular class."

NEW YORK (AP) - Catherine Crier is leaving her anchor chair on CNN to become a correspondent on ABC's "20-20" news magazine.

"She's a great communicator, a dynamic presence and a widely respected journalist," "20-20" executive producer Victor Neufeld said Monday. Ms. Crier will join the show in early 1993, he said.

Ms. Crier joined Cable News Network in October 1989 as co-anchor of CNN's evening newscast. She also co-anchored CNN's "Inside Politics '92."

Style show, German supper scheduled at Center Friday

The Hereford Senior Citizens Association's Festival of Trees celebration is being held this week at the Hereford Senior Citizens Center. In conjunction with the event, Hereford merchants will be participating in a style show and German supper from 7-9 p.m. Friday at the center, 426 Ranger Drive.

According to the style show chairperson, Thelma Mercer, admission will be $6.50 per person. This includes the price of the meal. Tickets may be purchased at the center or from participating merchants: Gaston's, Anthony's, Little's, The Vogue, Inkahoots, The Ginger Tree, Pants Cage, Betty's Shoes, EtCetera, Kids Alley, Merle Norman, Class Act, Yiota's and Sew 'n' Tell.

The fashion show will be narrated by Mary Thomas and music will be provided by Cheryl Betzen.

The meal will consist of German sausage, salad, cabbage strudel, homemade hot rolls, fried potatoes and sherbet.

Public invited to annual celebration in Pep

PEP's 47th Annual Thanksgiving celebration will be Thanksgiving Day, Nov. 26, in the St. Philip Neri Parish Hall in PEP.

Famous Pep sausage, turkey, dressing and all the trimmings will be served continuously from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. Adult plates are $6 and plates for children under 10 are $3. Take out plates are $7 and will be available until 5 p.m. For carry-outs call 933-4361 on Thanksgiving Day.

Homemade bread, baked goods and homemade crafts will be for sale in the country store and a fish pond will be open throughout the day. Also the concession stand will be open throughout the day.

An auction of various donated items will start at 2 p.m. in the dining room. All donations are appreciated. A raffle of three different items—a homemade king size quilt, $100 in South Plains Mall Money and $50 to be spent at Dollar WESTERN Ware will be held at 11 p.m. Donations are $1 per ticket or 6 tickets for $5. The winners will not have to be present to claim their prizes. Tickets are available from any parish member as well as on Thanksgiving Day.

The day's activities will conclude with a country and western dance from 9 p.m. until 1 a.m. Tickets are $5 each.

Pep is located about 20 miles northwest of Levelland and can be reached by going west on Hwy 114 and turning north onto Farm-to-Market 303. It can also be reached by going west from Littlefield on Highway 54 and turning south onto Farm-to-Market 303.

JERUSALEM (AP) - Margaret Thatcher, who has likened herself to a tigress, says Golda Meir, the late Israeli leader, "had the heart of a lioness."

The former British prime minister, in Israel on a private visit, spoke Monday at the dedication of The Margaret Thatcher Day Care Center in Sderot.

She took the opportunity to praise Meir, "who in fact showed us that even at great times of trial and difficulty and danger a woman prime minister had the heart of a lioness."

Trail Blazers nick New York

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) - Count Pat Riley among those impressed with the early accomplishments of the Portland Trail Blazers.

"They were a very good team, and now they seem to be a great one," he said.

The Blazers became the only team in the young NBA season with an unbeaten record Monday night when they beat Riley's New York Knicks 109-94 to improve to 5-0.

"We felt going into this season we were going to be a much deeper team than we were last year. We felt we were going to be a much more flexible team than last year, and I think that's proven out in the first five games," Portland coach Rick Adelman said.

The Blazers used strong bench play and dominance on the boards to beat the Knicks, playing the first of three games on a five-day trip to the West Coast.

Portland's reserves outscored their New York counterparts 52-25 and the Blazers won the rebound battle 51-38.

"It was because we were so active," Portland's Cliff Robinson said. "We made a conscious effort to keep those guys off the boards. They're a very good rebounding team. If we'd have let them control the boards the way they wanted to, it would have been a tougher game for us."

In the NBA's only other game Monday night, Phoenix handed Seattle its first loss, 117-108.

Robinson came off the bench to score 21 points for Portland. Terry Porter, 3-for-8 from the field on the heels of his record-breaking 40-point performance against Golden State on Saturday, made 10 of 10 free throws and scored 17 points.

Robinson scored 14 in the first half, when Portland led by as many as 16, then scored five more in the final quarter, when the Blazers pulled away after a Knicks rally.

Reserves Mark Bryant, who spent much of the game guarding Patrick Ewing despite a distinct height disadvantage, and Mario Elie had crucial fourth-quarter baskets.

Ewing scored 28 points and John Starks 21 for the Knicks, who pulled within one in the third quarter, but couldn't catch the Blazers.

NBA

Clyde Drexler had 13 points, 10 rebounds and nine assists, but also committed seven turnovers and was just 5-for-15 from the field.

After trailing by as many as 16 points in the first half and 14 at halftime, New York scored 10 straight points, cutting the Portland lead to 72-71 on Ewing's basket inside with 2:38 left in the third quarter.

But the Blazers went on a 21-6 run, pulling back ahead 93-77 on Buck Williams' layup with 8:14 left in the final quarter. Elie had two 3-pointers and Bryant scored five during the outburst.

Suns 117, SuperSonics 108

Phoenix handed visiting Seattle its first loss in five games behind Charles Barkley's 28 points and 12 rebounds and Dan Majerle's 22 points.

Barkley and Majerle scored just four points apiece in the final period, but the Suns, who took a 93-83 advantage into the fourth quarter, stayed in front as Tom Chambers scored eight of his 16 points in the period, all in the first 5 minutes.

Derrick McKey and Shawn Kemp had 19 points each for Seattle.

Fisher unworried about Wolverines

By JIM O'CONNELL
AP Basketball Writer

Steve Fisher holds back when talking about his top-ranked Michigan Wolverines. He has no qualms about telling the world about his conference.

The Big Ten has four teams in the preseason college basketball poll, and Fisher's band of sophomores was on top, with Indiana fourth, Iowa 11th and Michigan State 20th. Three other leagues - Big Eight, Atlantic Coast Conference and Big East - have four teams each, but Fisher wasn't biting.

"I think the conference will be much better than it has been in a number of years. We had two teams in the Final Four last year and this is the strongest the league has been since I came to Michigan," said Fisher, an assistant at Michigan since 1981. "Without question we are the No. 1 league in America. You can make a case for even putting another team in the Top 25. It's a great league."

Michigan lost to Duke in the NCAA title game last season and Indiana fell to the Blue Devils in the semifinals. Nine of those Big Ten Final Four starters are back, including Michigan's Fab Five freshman class.

"I think it says a lot of people recognize the quality of our players and program and the strengths are perceived to be that good," Fisher said Monday. "But there are 10 or 12 teams good enough to be considered the No. 1 team. I think we are one of those teams, but how good? I don't know."

Michigan, which was last ranked No. 1 in the 1977 final regular-season poll, received 23 of the 65 first-place votes and 1,536 points from the nationwide panel of sportswriters and broadcasters. Kansas, second in the final regular-season poll last year, had 19 first-place votes and 1,513 points to take the same spot eight months later.

Two-time defending champion Duke, which lost player of the year Christian Laettner to graduation, was named first on 15 ballots and had 1,504 points, 15 more than Indiana, which was No. 1 on six ballots.

Kentucky was fifth, followed by Seton Hall, with two, the only other team to get first-place votes. Then comes North Carolina, Memphis State, Florida State and Arizona.

Iowa led the Second Ten and was followed by Georgetown, Louisville, Georgia Tech, Oklahoma, Connecticut, Tulane, Syracuse, Iowa State and Michigan State.

Cincinnati, the other member of last season's Final Four, was 21st, followed by UNLV, Massachusetts, UCLA and Nebraska.

The top four teams will have a tournament of their own on Dec. 5 when Michigan is at Duke and Kansas is at Indiana.

Michigan, led by Chris Webber and Jalen Rose, was never higher than No. 11 last season and entered the NCAA tournament ranked 15th.

"We got hot, white hot, at the right time last year and still only finished tied for third in our conference," Fisher said. "I think our players are smart enough to realize we haven't scored a basket or stopped one yet and those are the things we have to do consistently and very well to be as good a team as I'd like us to be."

At No. 8, Memphis State is the highest ranked of the eight teams in the preseason poll who weren't in the last regular-season poll. The Tigers, who lost to Cincinnati in the regional finals, have superb swingman Anfernee Hardaway back among four starters.

By REBECCA WALLS

It is time to take your pep pills and get your comfortable shoes on. The next two months will be packed with exciting things to do and places to go.

The library activities begin with the National Childrens Book Week on November 16th-20th. In conjunction with the theme "Books Make the World Go Around" the library will be hosting a drawing for a new World Atlas. Each child between the ages of 5-12 is eligible to register for the drawing just by coming in. On November 18th at 4:00 pm we will be showing the films "Otherwise Known as Sheila the Great" and "The Wacky Machine." These films are based on the books by Judy Blume and Robert McCloskey.

November 19th at 7:00 pm we will be showing the family film entitled "Gus". This movie is about the California Atoms football team that can't seem to get a win until they recruit Gus. Gus is capable of kicking 100 yard field goals and with that kind of talent who cares if he is a mule. With stars like Ed Asner, Don Knotts and Tim Conway you know its got to be a good comedy.

Each Thursday morning at 10:00 am we have the preschool story time. Parents and preschoolers are invited to come enjoy a story, finger plays, songs and films.

November 26th-29th the library will be closed for Thanksgiving. You will need to be sure and stock up on reading material before that time. We wish you all a Happy Thanksgiving to come.

You may want to chose some of this weeks new books for your holiday reading. The list begins with Belladonna by Michael Stewart. The time is the 1970's, the place is Oxford University in England. Matthew Cavewood is attending Oxford on a Rhodes scholarship and is working diligently to complete his thesis before the deadline. If Matthew's thesis isn't completed on time he will have no career as an associate professor. Matthew doesn't hear the first knock at the door over the running water, but when he finally pulls the door open he catches his breath. The girl that stood before him was the most "astonishingly beautiful girl he'd ever seen." When his eyes "fell upon her dress" he was shocked to see "an exquisite period ball gown" of the 1670's. Was this a trick? "Nathaniel", she said. Surely she had mistaken him for someone else. "Extraordinary, he thought distantly; that's exactly how they dressed in those days. She was no game of Lyall's and she was no trick of his mind. She was absolutely authentic. And curiously, potently, familiar". When Matthew looked back down at the diary she was gone. Michael Stewart continues to weave the threads of time into a suspenseful thriller that will definitely hold your attention until the last page is read.

For a good spine chilling mystery try So Shall You Reep by Marilyn Wallace. Twenty five years ago Julia, Sarah Hoving's mother walked away from the village of Taconic Hills and her family. Today the independent Sarah has built a successful bookkeeping business and married the son of Ruth Hoving, the town autocratic matriarch. But Sarah is plagued with strange flashes from her past; a crenelated gold cross, drops of blood, a man's naked chest, and another nameless horror likened to her mothers disappearance that stay hidden just around the corner of her memory. Ruth Hoving is planning a bicentennial pageant that centers around a love triangle in which Sarah's character, Emily is cast. As the bicentennial approaches strange things begin to happen as though the two-hundred-year-old story is beginning again. There are fires, explosions, murder and the possibility that Sarah may be the next victim, or maybe the murderer.

Frank E. Peretti, the author of The Present Darkness has another book coming out called Piercing the Darkness. This story begins in Bacon's Corner which is a small farming community far from the interstate. The workday was over, a normal Tuesday evening in which no one expected anything unusual. The "commotion started behind a dismal little rented farm house just south of Fred Potter's place - a flapping, a fluttering, a free-for-all, and then a cry, a long eerie shriek, an echoing, slobbering wail that raced into the forest..." Then Sally Roe lay in the grass...trying to clear her head, trying to think...I have to get moving...Don't wait. Go! Get moving." This is a very unusual book that combines fantasy, spiritual and human forms.

John Gardner's new book is The Secret Families which features the British Railtons and the American Farthings, two families linked through marriage and a commitment to espionage. It is 1964, Casper Railton is dead and it is discovered that he was a traitor. Witnesses and documents begin to surface which make both families suspect. It is now up to Donald (Naldo) Railton and Arnold Farthing to clear the family names.

IDAHO FALLS, Idaho (AP) - Americans consume about 80 pounds of potatoes annually and one-third come from Idaho, more than from any other state. Here are some "tater tips" from the Idaho Potato Commission:

- What should I look for in choosing russet potatoes? A rounded or elongated shape, with few eyes, a net-textured skin and a deep russet brown color.

- Should I wash potatoes before storing them? No. Dampness can cause decay.

- Where should I store them? In a cool, dark well-ventilated place. They'll keep for several weeks at 45 to 50 degrees Fahrenheit. Never refrigerate spuds.

- Should I bake Idaho potatoes in aluminum foil? No. That holds in the moisture and steams them, giving a "boiled" taste and texture.
