A thank-you hug

Kyle Andrews (13) gives a congratulatory hug to teammate Clint Cotten after Saturday's Hereford-Estacado baseball game at Whiteface Field. Cotten lined a bases-loaded single to right field to give the Herd a 7-6, extra-innings win over the league-leading Matadors. The win gave Hereford first place through the first half of the district schedule.

Vandals damage HHS By KAY PECK

Staff Writer

Vandals did an estimated $2,000 in damage to Hereford High School sometime between Friday afternoon and Sunday evening.

Most of the damage was incurred to Room 308, an outbuilding at the high school. A door knob and dead bolt lock were beaten from a door by the vandals. After gaining entry, the suspects smashed a window and severely damaged a computer, a printer and a film strip projector.

Objects in the building appear to have been beaten by a hammer or some other heavy object.

The vandals apparently threw the door knob which had been beaten from the door to Room 308 to break a glass door to the main building.

The damage was reported Sunday evening by William Sanders, school custodian.

Today in history

By The Associated Press

Today is Tuesday, April 11, the 101st day of 1989. There are 264 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

Three hundred years ago, on April 11, 1689, William III and Mary II were crowned as joint sovereigns in Britain, two months after their reign had begun as part of the "Glorious Revolution" that deposed James II.

On this date:

In 1814, Napoleon Bonaparte abdicated as emperor of France and was banished to the island of Elba.

In 1898, President William McKinley asked Congress for a declaration of war against Spain.

In 1899, the treaty ending the Spanish-American War was declared in effect.

In 1921, Iowa became the first state to impose a cigarette tax.

In 1947, Jackic Robinson made his major-league debut, playing in an exhibition game between the Brooklyn Dodgers and the New York Yankees.

In 1951, President Harry S. Truman relieved Gen. Douglas MacArthur of his command in the Far East.

In 1953, Oveta Culp Hobby became the first Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare.

In 1970, Apollo 13 blasted off on its ill-fated mission to the moon.

In 1980, the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission issued regulations specifically prohibiting sexual harassment of workers by supervisors.

In 1981, President Ronald Reagan returned to the White House from George Washington University Hospital, 12 days after he was wounded in an assassination attempt.

In 1986, two FBI agents were killed in a wild shootout in Miami that also resulted in the deaths of two robbery suspects.

The male children are born with 47 chromosomes instead of 46. These males are sterile, they have enlarged breasts, trouble with speech and language, and a myriad of other problems.

My husband and I have talked to many people in the medical profession. We did not learn much from them, but I don't fault the doctors. Limited information is available for many of the chromosome abnormalities.

This condition, though rarely spoken of, affects one in 400 males. Parents of children with Klinefelter's hesitate to tell family and friends because of the stigma. I tried to locate a support group but there doesn't seem to be any. this is where you come in, Ann.

Clint Cotten drove Roger Mc-Cracken home in the bottom of the eighth inning to give the Hereford Whitefaces a 7-6 win over Lubbock Scott, Keith Brown and McCracken Estacado's Matadors on Saturday at Whiteface Field.

Hereford is now 7-0-1 in District 1-4A play through half of the conference schedule. Estacado is in second place at 7-1.

Estacado had already scored once in the inning when Hereford second baseman Jared Victor ran down a wind-blown pop-up in foul ground in back of first base.

The Estacado runner on third tagged up and scored when the ball cluded catcher Kyle Andrews. A throw to third to get the runner advancing from second went into left field, allowing that runner to score.

The runner who had been on first was waved around third. Andrews came up the line for the throw and singled to center, scoring Cotten to to block the runner, but the ball was tie the score at 6-6 and send the knocked loose in the collision.

Scott retired the Matadors in order in the top of the eighth on a ground out to Mitts at third, a foul pop to McCracken off first base, and a fly ball out to Cotten in center.

"I think Jason really got pumped up after what we did to them in the sixth and seventh," said Sartor. "He might have just been going on adrenalin, but he was throwing harder in the seventh and eighth than he was at any other time in the game."

Scott ended up with nine strikeouts. Only one of the six Estacado runs was earned.

Brown opened the eighth with a triple when the ball was mis-played by the Estacado right fielder. The Matadors intentionally walked the next two batters, McCracken and Andrews, to load the bases for a force-out situation at home.

Against a drawn-in infield and outfield, Backus hit into a secondto-home fielder's choice. With the bases still loaded and the defense in close quarters, Cotten stroked the ball over the right fielder's head, driving in McCracken for the winning run.

"I felt good about Russell and Clint coming up in that situation," Sartor said. "They've both come through for us this year in lots of places, and Clint came through in a very big way today."

Today, the Herd will go to Dumas to seek revenge for the only blot on their district record, a 6-6 tie three weeks ago at Hereford.

We already know that if we don't go out there and play well they can beat us," Sartor said. "We are rolling early Rangers

ARLINGTON (AP)--Texas Rangers manager Bobby Valentine said "confidence...a new feeling of knowing that somehow we were going to win" was in the air for the club's season-opening homestand.

The last act in the drama was played out Sunday afternoon, when Ruben Sierra hit a two-run home run in the bottom of the ninth to give Texas a 3-2 victory when defeat seemed a sure thing.

"We tried to give it back to them, but then Rafael (Palmeiro) and Ruben decided to take it back," Valentine said. "And to beat Tom Henke...I guess this is a new year."

With the victory, Texas ended its first week with a 4-1 record--its second-best start ever--and all alone atop the American League West standings for the first time since July 6, 1986.

They started the second week Monday with a 6-4, 10-inning victory at Milwaukee. The Rangers, 5-1, have the best record in the major leagues through six games.

Against Toronto, Palmeiro doubled ahead of Sierra with one out in the ninth. That triggered a called to Henke in the Toronto bullpen. Henke has been a Rangers nemesis ever since they left him unprotected five years ago and the led 4-2 after two innings. Blue Jays drafted him.

Against the right-handed Henke, Sierra moved to the left side, where he had been hitless in 10 at-bats in the young season.

However, Sicrra drove a twostrike fastball from Henke six rows into the right field stands for a noted that in Detroit and Toronto, homer that turned what seemed like a sure defeat into victory.

"It's good to end a homestand like this," said Palmeiro. "I was hoping to tie the game, but I wasn't expecting that (Sierra's homer)."

Three of the Rangers' four victories were by one run, as was the one, 10-9 loss to Toronto last Friday. The carlier triumphs were led primarily by leadoff man Cecil Espy and No. 2 hitter Scott Fletcher, who found themselves among the league's leaders in on-base percentage. Fletcher, through five games, hit .438, among the league's best.

The Rangers also got good starting pitching from Charley Hough, Nolan Ryan, Jamie Moyer and Kevin Brown, and the new bullpen stopper, Jeff Russell, came away with two saves.

On Monday, Hough was roughed up at Milwaukce, against whom he has a 1-10 lifetime record. He lasted less than two innings as the Brewers

In the tenth, Sierra doubled in Palemiero, then Espy singled in Sierra. Russell retired the Brewers in the bottom of the tenth for the win

General Manager Tom Grieve the Rangers started with two feared opponents.

"I don't know what it means in the long run, but we play two teams from the Eastern Division, both with front-line pitching, and we win four of five," Grieve said. "That gets me charged up, and it has been a long time since I've seen our fans this charged up. After the last two years, this is fun."

FATS ARE OUT

LOS ANGELES (AP) - Meat loaf and mashed potatoes will be "in," and saturated fats will be "out" in 1989, according to a poll of 100 food editors and writers held here at the International Food Media Conference.

Twenty-one percent of those polled by Puritan Oil predict traditional, home cooked foods will be this year's hottest cooking trend. Other trends to watch, according to the food experts: Oriental and Asian foods (13 percent) and low-fat cooking (10 percent).

Texas should process its own provide information for those interested in developing the textile industry in our service area," said a recent study by the Texas Agri- Greg Boggs, SPS agricultural consultant.

SPS serves a 52,000-square-mile area of the South Plains and Panhandle of Texas, eastern and southof Oklahoma, and southwestern Kansas.

"In Texas, we have an abundance of cotton, and 92% is sent out of state," he said.

Boggs said several textile plants industry has not been developed to potential. The TABEC-A&M its study, as well as other reports, suggests there is room for expansion in the textile industry in Texas, he said.

Boggs pointed out that the market value of cotton leaving the state is about 55 cents per pound. By spinning the cotton into yarn, its market value increases about $1 per pound and another $1 per pound when it's woven or knitted into fabric.

"Fabric is purchased for roughly $3.50 to $4 per pound and sold as clothing for about $5 per pound," he said.

"This all suggests there are millions of dollars of revenue being lost to the state, not to mention a large amount of jobs that are lost when we ship our fiber elsewhere," Boggs said.

Persons wanting details of the study should call Boggs at (806) 378-2178.

"What If" program given at Baptist Women meeting

Clovis Seago presented a pro-gram entitled "What If" when the Baptist Women of First Baptist Church met Wednesday in the church fellowship hall for a general meeting and coffee. Assisting Seago were Frances Crume, Costaline Lee, Marie Stringer and Sara Cook.

Bonnie Sublett, president, asked for prayer requests for those with special needs. Ella Oglesby led the prayer.

Cook discussed the River Ministry kits that are being prepared for distribution in the Rio Grand Valley area. Cook also told of a kitchen shower held for a mission church.

Lee, Mission Action chairman, asked for the Bible of the Month Club offering for seamen. She also reported 75 people were served at the B.S.U. luncheon in Canyon March 22. The ministry of students during spring break on Padre Island was also discussed.

Lillie Stagner presented the Prayer Calendar for Missionaries. Prayer was led by Theda Seiver.

Sublett was hostess to 23 members including Seago, Gladys Miller, Vernis Parsons, Donnie Owen, Seiver, Grace Covington, Mildred Drake, Eunice Boyer, Opal Roberson, Ella Caudle, Crume, Lolita Vinson, Oglesby, Lucy Kirksey, Leatrus Clark, Lee, Stagner, Jennie Terrell, Alice Christman, Louise Kinsey, Blanche Moseley, Cook and Stringer.

Woman's Health

Both women and doctors alike are concerned with the rising numbers of cesarean deliveries being performed today. While it's hard to point out one reason as the cause of the increased numbers of c-sections, experts agree that a major reason is repeat cesareans-women who have had one cesarean delivery having subsequent children by cesarean section. Until recently, it was medically accepted that once a woman had a c-section, she should have all her children by cesarean because of the concern about tearing her incision. Yet, studies have shown "Once a cesarean, always a cesarean," no longer holds true for most women. If you have had a cesarean and the incision made into your uterus was horizontal and across the low end (the hospital records from your previous delivery will have this information), you may be able to attempt to deliver your next baby vaginally.

There are guidelines for women who want to try and have a vaginal delivery after a previous cesarean. perhaps the most important is that early in pregnancy you, your partner, and your doctor agree that it is appropriate for you to try for a vaginal delivery.

Approximately 80 percent of all women who have had one cesarean can attempt to deliver their next child vaginally. There are certain medical conditions that rule out vaginal deliveries, such as multiple births, babies in abnormal positions, or having an active case of herpes. Having a vertical incision in the upper part of the uterus during your previous cesarean is a reason for not trying a vaginal delivery.

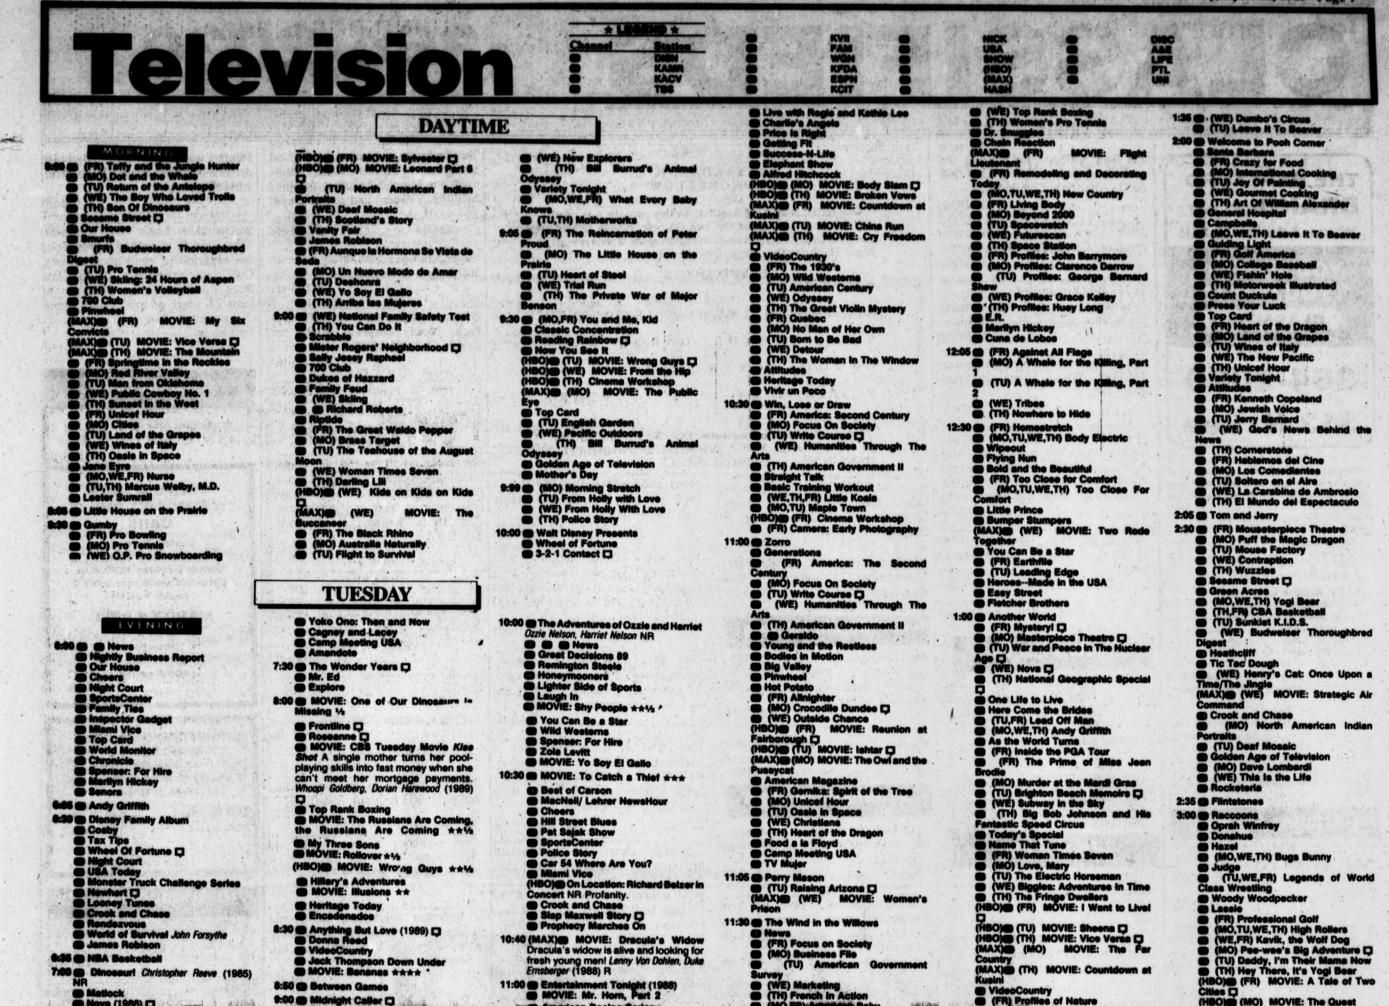

Your doctor will want to make sure that if you attempt to deliver vaginally, there will be staff and facilities to perform a cesarean promptly if it becomes necessary.

The Hereford Brand--Tuesday, April 11, 1989--Page 9 4 - 210 Cement work, additions, driveways, Know how to prevent, 10 detect skin cancer Exposure to the sun is the cause The average combination lock may hold as many as a million possible combinations. of more than 90 percent of all skin cancers, almost all of which are preventable, says the Texas Medical Avoid exposure to the sun between 10 a.m and 3 p.m.

In addition to prevention, it is important to detect skin changes. You should conduct regular total body skin exams in which you examine the entire surface of the skin for any of five warning signs.

The warning signs of skin cancer are: an open sore that will not heal: a reddish, crusty patch; a smooth, elevated growth with an indentation in the center; a shiny bump or nodule (not to be confused with a mole); or a yellow or white waxy scar-like area where the skin appears shiny and taut. Also, you always should be aware of any changes in shape, size or elevation of moles. "There is a real health bonus to be gained by doing regular skin self-examinations. Most people only see their doctors once a year or less, and although skin cancers grow slowly, they can develop significantly between physician visits," continued Dr. Vogel.

Self-examination should take place completely undressed in a room that is well-lighted, has a fulllength mirror, a hand-held mirror, and two chairs or stools nearby.

First, holding your palms face up, look at your palms, fingers, spaces between your fingers, and forearms. Turn your hands over and completely examine the backs of your hands, fingers, spaces between the fingers, fingernails and forearms.

Next, in the full-length mirror, hold your arms up with the elbows bent and your palms facing you and look at the back of your forearms and elbows. Drop your arms and observe the entire front of your body for any of the five warning signs. Turn your palms inward and look at your upper arms. Then lift your arms over your head with your palms facing each other and turn first to the right and then to the left and observe both sides of your body--arms, underarms, sides of your trunk, thighs and lower legs. With your back to the mirror, look at your buttocks and the backs of your thighs and lower legs. Now, using the hand-held mirror, examine the back of your neck, and any other area you could not see just by turning your head. Also, examine your scalp carefully, using a blow dryer to lift the hair from the scalp. Finally, sit down and prop up one leg on a chair or stool and examine the inside of the propped up leg with the mirror. Repeat the process for the other leg. Then, cross one leg over the other and use the mirror to examine the top of your foot, the toes, toenails, and spaces between the toes. Do this for both feet. If you detect any of the warning signs on your skin, see your doctor immediately. "The goal is to find a problem and inform your doctor so that treatment can begin," said Dr. Vogel. There are many methods of skin cancer treatment available, all very successful when the cancer is caught and treated at an early stage. The Texas Medical Association is a professional organization with more than 29,000 physician and medical student members. It is located in Austin and has 116 component county medical societies around the state.

Association. And although skin cancer is the most common (and the most curable) of the many forms of cancer, 450 Texans died in 1987 because they didn't take the necessary precautions to prevent the disease

In addition, they did not detect it in its early stages and take proper steps to control its spread.

Dr. Victor Vogel is a medical oncologist at The University of Texas-M.D. Anderson Cancer Center, Houston, and holds a master of science degree in epidemiology (the study of the cause of a disease). "In this day and age, finding a skin tumor early means that you certainly won't die of it, and you won't need a painful or disfiguring operation to remove it," said Dr.

Skin cancer is a condition that begins with the uncontrolled growth of abnormal cells in one of the layers of the skin. Texans who live and work in the strong rays of the sun need to be especially aware of that exposure to the sun can cause skin cancer.

Sensible precautions taken early in life can prevent any occurrence of skin cancer, even in high-risk individuals (those who are fairskinned and light-eyed, spend a lot of time in the sun, or have relatives who have had skin cancer).

Adults and children should wear protective clothing to reduce the ### penetration of ultraviolet rays and wear a sunscreen with a sun protection factor (SPF) of 15 or more.

"We Reach. Thousands Everyday."

364-2030

NEW YORK (AP) - Schoolchildren joined dozens of best-selling authors and publishing executives to start a and publishing occurrences to start a nationwide literacy program sponsored by the nation's largest bookseller. "Team Read," a program organized by Waldenbooks, will ask children to read, write their own stories and raise money for teaching other youths to read.

The bookseller will conduct, among other events, a "read-a-thon," with sponsors agreeing to pay a child for each book completed, and a writing contest, with $1,000 savings bonds awarded to the authors of the best stories and poems.

Among the authors at Wednesday's kickoff of the program were animal rights activist Cleveland Amory, children's book writers Stan and Jan Berenstain, mystery writer Mary Higgins Clark, former basketball star Walt Frazier, Muppeteer Jim Henson, historian James McPherson, and Bob (Captain Kangaroo) Keeshan.

The word cigar comes from the Spanish, "cicada," a cigar-shaped beetle.

Hints from Heloise

DEAR HELOISE:

I was getting ready to bake a dessert when I realized I didn't have the honey that the recipe called for. It happened that a friend was visiting and she told me I could substitute corn syrup for honey or granulated sugar. I didn't argue with her but it didn't seem right. Can you actually make this substitution? - Confused Baker, Casper, Wyo.

Generally corn syrup can be substituted for honey in most recipes. When using corn syrup, remember that it isn't as sweet as the honey and the dessert in turn will not be as sweet. When substitutions are made, the texture and flavor of recipes will be slightly altered.

You cannot substitute corn syrup for granulated sugar. With one being a liquid and the other a dry ingredient, it would be difficult to adjust the ingredients in the recipe so that it would come out correctly. — Heloise SEND A GREAT HINT TO:

DEAR DR. LAMB: My husband has a condition which I have not observed in anyone else. Anytime he eats food that is highly seasoned with pepper, tabasco, jalapenos or any other hot sauce, he perspires profusely. Can you explain why this happens?

DEAR READER: It is not rare. Hot spices affect the thermostat in the brain that controls your body temperature. That turns on your body cooling mechanisms, including sweating, to release body heat by evaporative cooling. This effect is more marked in some people than in others.

Several things turn on the heat-loss mechanism. That is what exercise does when you first begin to sweat with exertion. Emotional stress can cause a person to sweat for the same reason. Alcohol may, too. Does your husband drink beer when he eats spicy foods?
