County to call weed district vote

By KAY PECK
Staff Writer

In the midst of a dry spell there is still something growing green across Deaf Smith County.

It's the bindweed. Concerns about the pervasive presence of unwanted weeds motivated county commissioners to approve a request for an election to determine if a noxious weed district should be created. Commissioners approved the election request during Monday's regular meeting.

"We definitely have a problem (with weeds). What the solution is, we don't yet know," said Ernest Flood, one of the proponents of the noxious weed district.

Flood was one of several interested individuals at the meeting to express their support of the noxious weed district. The election to determine if such a district will be formed has been scheduled for August 12.

That election will include only those Deaf Smith County residents living in rural areas. Voters within the city of Hereford will not vote in that election nor would property within the city limits be included in the weed district.

"We deemed it wise to exclude the city because of the overwhelming work load of policing weeds within the city limits," Flood said in his recommendation to the commission.

Commissioners were concerned about excluding the city from the district.

"If Joe Blow lives in town and owns 10 sections of farm land, he still can't vote," said Judge Tom Simons.

Preliminary research on the formation of a noxious weed district found that similar districts in other counties did not include cities and towns. Including property within city limits in weed districts proved to be impractical, Flood said.

If a noxious weed district is approved, the maximum a weed district can assess on property owners is six cents per acre per year.

"The taxes you collect just about pay for the administration of the thing," said Commissioner Austin Rose Jr.

If approved by voters, the weed district would police the control of noxious weeds, but the property owner would be responsible for the actual weed control.

"Ideally, people should be responsible for their own (property), but it's not happening. It's a real burden for those who are trying to control weeds," said one farmer as he expressed support for the district.

If one land owner controls the weeds on his property but his neighbor does not, the weed problem remains. Weeds from the untreated land re-seed the treated land.

After reviewing applicants for the position of museum director, commissioners selected Donna Brockman. Brockman will replace Juanita Koetting who recently submitted her resignation after serving three and a half years.

Dr. Arnold Isaacson, regional director for the Texas Department of Health, led a contingent in presenting a request to the commission for larger offices for the Hereford office for TDH.

"Out of that small office, we're seeing thousands of patient visitors each year," Isaacson said. "We have reached the saturation point where we don't have enough room."

Isaacson proposed that the county and the state divide the financial responsibility of maintaining the local office.

He suggested that the county provide the actual physical plant, custodial service, maintenance and operation, and parking. The state would provide personnel, salaries, health programs, telephones and "innovation."

Isaacson was emphatic in substantiating the need for continued and improved public health care in Deaf Smith County. The physician described the infant mortality rate in the county as "horrendous." In 1986, 14.49 infants died out of every 1,000 births.

"You have a tremendous need for pre-natal care in your area," Isaacson said.

The local TDH office is currently handling 100 obstetric cases per month.

In order to deal with the growing demands in the local office, TDH asked that the county provide a facility with three examination rooms, an educational room, a waiting room, office space, a laboratory and storage.

After the commission has had an opportunity to consider the request, Isaacson asked that the county contact the Department of Health.

"Let us know when you're ready to pursue the matter further," Isaacson said.

County commissioners approved a request to advertise for a replacement for deputy county clerk in a position left open by the resignation of Rachel Hernandez.

A proclamation for the celebration of the Agricultural Extension

Extension observes 75th anniversary

Deaf Smith County extension agents Dennis Newton, left, and Beverly Harder, right, look on as County Judge Tom Simons signs a resolution marking the 75th anniversary of the Extension Service on Monday.

Service's 75th anniversary was adopted by commissioners.

Other business discussed by the commission included the possibility of obtaining an air conditioner for the computer room in the County Clerk's office. Maintenance agreements on photocopy machines in the courthouse were also the object of some concern.

County Clerk David Ruland reminded commissioners that they had decided to drop maintenance agreements to see if "we could break even or even come out ahead."

"Guess what. We didn't," Ruland said. Commissioners voted to check on a service agreement on one copier which has heavy use and many different operators.

Commissioners began the long task of coming up with an 1989-90 budget during Monday's meeting. The discussion will continue until the budget is finally refined and adopted.

Three regain council seats

By KAY PECK
Staff Writer

Three city officials took their oath of office during Monday night's city commission meeting. All three officials were returned to their seats on the commission by voters during Saturday's local election.

Mayor Wesley Fisher, Commissioner Silvana Juarez (place 1), and Commissioner Tom Legate (place 3) all ran unopposed in the recent election.

Once the incumbents were sworn in for their new terms of office, the city commission turned its attention to business.

Dr. Howard Johnson was reappointed as the local health officer during Monday's meeting. Johnson has served as health officer for several years, and is paid a token $10 a month for the service.

"I certainly want to commend him," City Manager Darwin McGill said. "It's a service... a definite service."

Commissioners authorized McGill to represent the city in the allocation of crop acres through the Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS). The acreage in question is on land known as the Fraser Farm which was purchased by the city for its water rights. The farmland is currently being leased to Gene Vasek.

Commissioners voted to retain the 304 acre wheat allotment for use as a dry-land crop on city land. In the past, 74 acres of corn have also been allocated to the city's farm. Commissioners voted to release those corn acres to Vasek.

Since the city wishes to retain water rights on the farm for municipal use, irrigation is forbidden on the city's farm land. Commissioners felt that Vasek could make better use of the corn acreage since corn, at least in this area, is a crop which requires irrigation.

Commissioners also approved the use of the city's name in current negotiations with Southwestern Bell. Those negotiations would involve a rate reduction for Southwestern Bell customers.

Dr. NADIR KHURI
...Elected to hospital board

Khuri elected to DSGH

Dr. Nadir Khuri and incumbents Raymond Schroeder and Ralph Detten were elected to the Deaf Smith County Hospital District board of directors in the only contested race in the county in Saturday's municipal elections.

Schroeder had 218 votes, Detten 212, and Khuri 191 to earn seats on the board. Hereford veterinarian Dr. Steve Lewis had 158 votes.

The three will be sworn in at a Wednesday meeting of the hospital board, where ballots will be canvassed.

Kathy Moore and Shirley Wilson, running unopposed, were sworn in Monday night at the Hereford school board meeting.

Hereford Mayor Wes Fisher and commissioners Tom LeGate and Silvana Juarez were re-elected to their offices in the city election. The three were unopposed. Fisher had 217 votes; Juarez, the Place 1 commissioner, 31 votes; and LeGate, the Place 3 representative, 107 votes.

In the only other race in the county, Ted Eicke, Kent Jack and Dan Hall were elected to the Walcott school board.

School reviews TEAMS scores

By JOHN BROOKS
Managing Editor

Hereford school administrators were glowing Monday night when the report on the annual Texas Educational Assessment of Minimum Skills (TEAMS) test scores were announced to the Hereford school board.

The results showed the best-ever overall scores for the Hereford school district since the inception of the tests in 1986.

"We were tickled to death," said Marc Williamson, assistant superintendent for instruction and personnel. "This was the best we've ever done, and I think the teachers and school principals should be commended, because they have worked hard the last couple of years to improve our performance on the TEAMS test."

The tests are given each year to students in the third, fifth, seventh and ninth grades, and assess skills in mathematics, reading and writing.

Some of the highlights included: --89 percent of all Hereford third graders mastered (scored 70 or better) on mathematics, up from 84 percent in 1988 and 70 percent in 1987; 83 percent mastered the nine-part reading test, up from 68 percent in 1988 and 60 percent in 1987; and writing scores were up markedly, including 56 percent who scored a "three" or "four" (best possible scores), compared to only 20 percent last year, 16 percent in 1987, and 13 percent in 1986.

--Among fifth graders, 79 percent mastered the 11-part math test, up from 73 percent last year; 76 percent mastered reading, down from 1988's 77 percent but up from 67 percent in 1987 and 65 percent in 1986; and 28 percent scored "three" or "four" on written composition, down from 34 percent last year, but the number scoring "two" was up from only 34 percent last year to 52 percent this year.

--In the seventh grade, 83 percent mastered the math test, down from the 86 percent (previous years were a composite of the scores of Stanton and La Plata junior high school scores), but up from 75 percent in 1987 and 72 percent in 1986; reading scores improved from 79 percent in 1988 to 82 percent this year; there was a drop in four of six sections of the writing test, but written composition scores improved significantly, going from six percent who scored three or four last year to 25 percent this year.

--Scores among freshman students dropped in most areas compared to last year's ninth graders; the overall math score fell from 87 percent mastery last year to 79 percent this year, the reading score fell from 76 percent last year to 73 percent this year; and writing test scores were generally lower, although 37 percent scored three or four this year, compared to 35 percent last year, but 24 percent scored a "one" (lowest score), compared to 17 percent in 1988.

Board member Shirley Wilson said that while most of the scores improved, there were drops in some individual areas within each test. "Many of the math portions were down, and that's a real concern," she said. "If you look at each campus, they're improving, but if you look at some of the individual areas, they're not making the gains they need to be making. As good as this may look, there's still some concern."

"TEAMS is a test of minimal skills, and let's face it, if you're not mastering an area you're practically illiterate. We're not anywhere close to where we need to be. I'm glad we have some improvements, but TEAMS is a test of minimal skills."

Superintendent Charles Greenawalt said that California Achievement Test scores would better assess where students are in particular areas.

The board agreed Monday to turn over management of custodial and maintenance work in the school district to ServiceMaster.

ServiceMaster is a Chicago-based company that takes care of custodial and maintenance duties at one of every six hospitals in the United States, but also handles about 400 schools, said John Crotts, area manager for ServiceMaster.

Crotts said that current custodial and maintenance employees would be retained, with the company to bring in an overall manager to oversee those duties. The manager would answer to the school district.

Crotts said the company would provide one-on-one training and other help for employees, and showed figures that would save the district about $31,000 a year, compared to the current budget, for maintenance.

Greenawalt, other district employees, and board members Raymond Schlabs and Sylvia Flores visited schools in Wylie and Burkburnett that use ServiceMaster.

"I was very impressed when we visited Burkburnett," Flores said. "The school was so clean inside and out."

"We went through the cafeteria, gym, restrooms, and classrooms, and we were pleased with what we saw," said Schlabs.

The board also reviewed insurance and heard a presentation from Tom Jarboe, former Friona superintendent, on services provided by the Texas Association of School Boards.

The board also agreed to advertise for bids for additional bleachers for Whiteface Stadium. Last season, portable bleachers were placed on the track to seat the Mighty Maroon Band, but bleachers can't be placed on the newly-resurfaced track without causing major damage.

The board also honored the employees of the month: HHS assistant principal Marilyn Leasure and Aikman secretary Jessie Ann Davis.

Fun breakfast set Thursday

Hereford's popular Fun Breakfast is expected to draw another big crowd Thursday morning when emcees Charlie Bell and John Stagner lead the audience through a program of music, games, door-prize drawings, community announcements and the recognition of a Bull Chip recipient.

The breakfast begins at 6:30 a.m. in the Community Center and tickets are $4.50 each. In order to assure enough food, reservations should be made at the chamber office by 5 p.m. Wednesday.

The Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce conducts the breakfasts about four times a year. The general public is invited to participate, and the business sponsor for this breakfast will be Peavey Grain, a division of ConAgra.

In addition to door prizes for anyone attending, a special $100 drawing will be held for chamber members, and the winner must be present. Hereford Hustlers will be serving coffee when the breakfast line forms at 6:30 Thursday morning.

Stubblefield serves as hostess

Wyche Extension Homemakers Club members met recently in the home of Mary Stubblefield who gave the opening exercise entitled "let not your heart be troubled."

Members repeated the T.E.H.A. prayer and recited the pledges to the United States and Texas flags. Roll call was answered by 12 members with "my plans for the summer and what home improvement I plan to make."

During the business meeting conducted by President Audrey Rusher, Marcie Ginn gave the council report and reports were also heard from the finance and 4-H committees. The parliamentarian and historian also spoke.

Rusher displayed kitchen curtains she had made and Stubblefield showed the drapes she had made for her home.

A letter was read from club member, La Verne Worley, who has moved to Muleshoe to do private nursing.

Program chairman, Argen Draper, reported that the next meeting will be at 2:30 p.m. May 18 in the home of Marcie Ginn. The program will be entitled "Our Family Tree."

Members present included Louise Axe, Draper, Virgie Duncan, Ginn, Camelia Jones, Carol Odom, Corcen Odom, Pet Ott, Louise Packard, Audrey Rusher, Brenda Rusher, Stubblefield and Clara Trowbridge.

Tree donated

Ruby Smith, left, donated a locust tree to Golden Plains Care Center this week, courtesy of First National Nursery. Center administrator Cindy Walker, right, took time to help other center employees with the planting and noted that donations of plants and flower bulbs are welcome as the facility hopes to beautify the premises.

Beavers honored

Chad Beavers, who attends Friona High School, has been named an All-American Scholar by the United States Achievement Academy.

Chad is the son of Sandra and Manuel Beavers of Friona and the grandson of Aline Beavers of Dawn and Opal McCleod of Yucaipa, Calif.

The USAA has established the award program in order to offer deserved recognition to superior students who excel in the academic disciplines. The scholars must earn a 3.3 or better grade point average.

He weighed 6 lbs., 9oz. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Ed Barrett of Hereford and Mr. and Mrs. Larry Nelson of Tulia.

Bippus Club visits homes

Two homes were visited by Bippus Extension Club members during their May 3 meeting.

Members met in Vega and visited the J.D. Walker home. Among the treasures found there was a large wall hanging which was actually the root of a tree. Wood carvings, tole paintings, and an antique wood burning stove were also featured.

The Vega Dairy Queen served lunch to the group, who visited with guests hailing from Bootleg Corner to the Adrian, Vega, and Hereford area. Mrs. G.D. Webb then served as hostess and guide as she led the group to Indian pictographs in rugged country located about five miles northwest of Adrian on their ranch. The paintings cover a large area but are faded with age.

From there, club members departed to their homes.

Guests included Webb; Paula Fairchild and Bea Fortenberry, both of whom live near Adrian; Mona Gee, who resides south of Vega; and Alta Mae Higgins of Hereford.

Herd, Matadors play for 1-4A title

By JOHN BROOKS
Managing Editor

Hereford High School will begin its 1989 baseball playoff season today at 4 p.m. at Lubbock Estacado.

It's listed as a regular season game, but it's for all of the marbles between District 1-4A's top two teams.

The winner will be the district champion and carry the top seed in the playoffs. The loser will be the second seed in post-season play.

Hereford owns two wins over Matadors this season, a 5-3 win on March 3 in the snowy Abilene Tournament, and a 7-6, extra-inning win on April 8 here.

On Saturday, Hereford raced past Randall, 8-2, as Clint Cotten ran his season record to 6-0. The Herd put the game away with a five-run third inning.

Hereford scored twice in the first when Jason Scott, playing center field because of a hand injury to Jim Andrews, singled to center, stole second and went to third on an errant throw. Glenn Parker walked, then Parker and Scott pulled off a delayed double steal to give the Herd a 1-0 lead. Parker then stole third and scored when the throw sailed into center. The Herd eventually relocated the bases with two outs but couldn't muster more runs.

In the bottom of the first, Randall combined three two-out hits to tie the score at 2-2 before Cotten got out of the jam. In the bottom of the second, Cotten gave up two hits and a walk to load the bases but induced two pop-ups and an infield grounder to escape further damage.

Hereford iced the game in the third.

Keith Brown and Roger McCracken led off the inning with singles to right, then Kyle Andrews was hit by a pitch to load the bases. Russell Backus, who went 3-for-3, singled to center, scoring Brown and McCracken for a 4-2 lead.

Cotten singled to left, scoring Andrews. After Stuart Mitts struck out, Jared Victor tripled to right, scoring Backus and Cotten and giving the Herd a 7-2 lead.

Randall had two more hits in the third, but Cotten retired the last 11 batters in a row.

Hereford's last run came in the sixth, when Parker reached on an infield single, stole second and went to third on an error. Brown's single to right scored Parker.

While Hereford is already assured of winning the season's series against the Matadors, the Herd, thanks to a 6-6 tie with Dumas early in the season, must win or tie today's game to earn the No. 1 playoff seed.

If the first two games are any indication, today's matchup should be a dilly.

In the first meeting, March 3 in Abilene, Scott earned his first win of the year, striking out nine and giving up two first-inning runs, then an unearned run in the second.

The Herd twice erased two-run deficits in the first meeting, tying the score at 3-3 after two innings.

In the fourth inning of the first game, Brown had reached on an error before Andrews hit what Hereford coach T.R. Sartor called a "monster" home run to give Hereford the win.

The second game was tougher for the Herd as Estacado pitcher Mike Ruth had a no-hitter through four innings as the Matadors jumped to a 6-1 lead. Five of the runs were unearned.

Trailing 6-2 in the sixth, the Herd combined two walks, two singles and an infield out to cut the lead to 6-5.

In the seventh, after two line-drive outs by Andrews and Backus, Cotten and Victor walked and Stuart Mitts singled, loading the bases for Scott. He singled to center, scoring Cotten to send the game into extra innings.

In the eighth, the Herd loaded the bases on a Brown triple to right and intentional walks to McCracken and Andrews.

Brown was out at the plate on a fielder's choice grounder by Backus, but Cotten singled over the drawn-in outfield to score McCracken.

Rangers rout NY, 13-2

By The Associated Press

The Texas Rangers had all sorts of unexpected things happen to start a three-game series in New York.

Shortly before Monday night's game against the Yankees, the Rangers announced Rick Leach did not show up at the ballpark.

Manager Bobby Valentine told Jeff Stone he would take Leach's spot as designated hitter, batting sixth.

Stone, who entered the game 4-for-19, drove in four runs with a triple and double as the Rangers routed the Yankees 13-2 behind rookie Kevin Brown.

While a member of the Toronto Blue Jays, Leach disappeared from Aug. 25-27, 1987, after an argument with his wife. A Rangers spokesman said the club called Leach's wife when he failed to show up but she did not know his whereabouts.

"We spoke to his wife and she did not know of any problems," Valentine said. "We're all very, very concerned."

Brown, 3-1, beat New York 4-1 last Wednesday with a two-hitter. He allowed two runs and seven hits in seven innings on Monday. Kenny Rogers pitched the eighth and Jeff Russell got the last three outs.

Stone keyed a seven-run fifth inning with a three-run triple and added an RBI double in a four-run sixth.

The Rangers, who had 16 hits, four by Ruben Sierra, sent 12 batters to the plate in the fifth and had six hits.

Andy Hawkins, 3-4, allowed nine hits and nine runs in 4 2-3 innings. In the fourth and fifth innings, Hawkins threw 66 pitches to get five outs.

The Rangers entered the game having lost four straight and six of their last seven to drop out of first place in the American League West.

How hot are the California Angels?

So hot that they failed to get a hit for three innings, then scored nine runs in the fourth en route to a 9-2 victory Monday night over the Detroit Tigers.

The Angels have a five-game winning streak and are 20-11 on the season. Last year, they didn't win their 20th game until June 5.

In other American League games Monday night, it was Minnesota 4; Boston 2; Oakland 6; Baltimore 1; and Toronto 10, Seattle 1. The Chicago-Milwaukee game was rained out.

California's Chuck Finley scattered seven hits. California starters have pitched into the seventh inning or later in 23 of 30 games.

Reds blank Mets; Expos top Astros

CINCINNATI (AP) - Jose Rijo is pitching more like a Hall of Famer, and it's not just coincidence.

Rijo, an erratic thrower for years in the Oakland organization, has been taking lessons on the art of pitching from his father-in-law, Hall of Famer Juan Marichal. The Cincinnati Reds are enjoying the spectacular results.

Rijo, 3-0, allowed just two hits over seven innings Monday night to help the Reds blank the struggling New York Mets 3-0 on a combined four-hitter. He struck out nine batters - the most by a Cincinnati pitcher this season - and walked three as he sent the Mets to their second consecutive shutout.

The right-hander has won his last three starts after four no-decisions, has lowered his earned run average to 1.43, and improved his career statistics against the Mets to 4-0 in seven starts with a 1.84 earned run average since he came to Cincinnati before the 1988 season.

Loser Bob Ojeda, 1-4, allowed just three hits in seven innings but walked six. His deliberate motion to the plate also allowed the Reds to steal a season-high five bases, one day after Houston's Kevin Bass stole four on the Mets. The walks gave the Reds opportunities, the steals gave them runners in scoring position, and a groundout by Barry Larkin and two sacrifice flies by Todd Benzinger produced the three runs.

In the only other National League game, Kevin Gross pitched a five-hitter and Tim Raines hit a two-run homer as the Montreal Expos snapped a four-game losing streak by defeating the Houston Astros 4-1.

Gross pitched Montreal's first complete game of the season as the Expos became the last team in the majors to have a pitcher go the route. Loser Bob Knepper gave up four runs and five hits in 3 2-3 innings.

Montreal took a 2-0 lead in the first on Raines' first home run of the season following Otis Nixon's one-out single.

The Expos made it 4-0 in the fourth after loading the bases on a two-out walk to Wallace Johnson, Spike Owen's double and a walk to Gross. Johnson scored on Knepper's wild pitch and Rex Hudler's infield hit brought Owen home.

Houston scored in the bottom of the fourth on Bill Doran's third homer of the season.

Public Notice

On March 14, 1989, Southwestern Bell Telephone Company filed with the Public Utility Commission of Texas an application which proposes to revise its Toll Restriction Tariff in Section 21 of the General Exchange Tariff. The Commission received the application as Docket No. 8700.

Bulls take on Knicks, Suns to host Warriors

By The Associated Press
The opponent has changed. The approach remains the same.

The Chicago Bulls, fresh from upsetting Cleveland in the first round of the NBA playoffs, are in New York tonight to open a best-of-7 series with the Knicks. New team, old challenge.

"Against the Knicks, we have to be very enthused and motivated, like we were for Cleveland," said Michael Jordan, who averaged 39.8 points against the Cavaliers.

"I think the playoffs have brought a different atmosphere to this team. I don't think we were as prepared as we should have been throughout the season. We didn't believe in ourselves."

But Jordan believed and even predicted the Bulls - 0-6 against Cleveland during the season - would win the opening round in four games. It took five, partly because Jordan missed a key free throw late in Game 4 and Cleveland came back to win in overtime.

"I knew that prediction would get back to Cleveland," he said. "But I wanted to instill belief in my teammates that we could beat this team. You have to believe it before you do it."

As for the Knicks, Jordan said he is "retiring as a predictor. I did that to get my teammates involved. But I might do it again if I see there's a need to inspire them."

The other NBA playoff game tonight has Phoenix at home against Golden State and holding a 1-0 lead in the series.

Wednesday night, it will be Milwaukee at Detroit in Game 1 and the Los Angeles Lakers playing host to Seattle, whom they beat Sunday in their opening game.

Warriors-Suns
Golden State might try something old and new after being routed by Phoenix in the series opener. The old is former starting and star center, 7-foot-4 Ralph Sampson. The new is teaming him with 7-7 Manute Bol to form the "Thin Towers."

Sampson has been buried on the Warriors' bench and didn't play at all in the first-round sweep of Utah. He got onto the court in Phoenix's 130-103 victory, scoring six points, grabbing two rebounds and making one steal in 10 minutes. But the Suns were way ahead when he got in.

"I tried to be an inspiration or boost for the guys," Sampson said. "I have no control over when I play. I have no idea what's going on."

Coach Don Nelson does, but isn't saying. "I'm not going to go over strategies," he said.

The Suns, who swept Denver in the first round, made 50 of 98 shots against Golden State.

Davenport wins Rotary event

Wade Davenport of Friona didn't score an "ace" for the big $20,000 prize, but he did earn a $350 set of woods for coming closest to the pin in the Hereford Rotary Club's Hole-in-One Contest Sunday.

Twenty-five qualifiers took one shot at the $20,000 prize Sunday and Davenport finished first with a shot that was 11 feet, 5 3/4 inches from the hole.

Golfers had qualified Friday through Sunday to see who could come closest to the pin on No. 6 at Pitman Municipal Golf Course. The top 25 ranged from Bret West's 2'-10" to Don Cumpston's 11"-11 1/2".

The top shot each day earned a golfer $25 in golf merchandise. West collected the first day; Truman Touchstone got it the second day with a shot 4'-2" from the pin, and Davenport won Sunday's qualifying with a 5'-2 1/8".

About 200 golfers participated in the contest. Rotarians are using the proceeds from the tourney to support youth drug programs in the communi-

Ann Landers

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I'm a 15-year-old girl who has something to say to kids my age.

My parents do not allow me to go to parties where liquor is served. My instructions are, "If you see liquor, come home."

Three weeks ago, I was at a party where they served wine coolers. I had never seen one before and I asked what was in it. I was told it was fruit punch and soda. I didn't believe it because they called it "A wine cooler."

Later in the evening, some of the kids were acting pretty loud. They looked drunk to me. I thought maybe they had brought some liquor with them because I didn't see any in the house. Now, after reading an article in the Washington Post by Catherine O'Neill, I know the truth. I'd like to share this information with other teenagers.

The average wine cooler contains about 6 percent alcohol. This is 50 percent more alcohol than you will find in a beer. Wine has a much higher alcohol content, about 10 to 14 percent. But wine is usually served in smaller glasses than beer. Most wine coolers come in 12-ounce bottles. A person who drinks two wine coolers gets more alcohol than a person who has two glasses of wine.

Wine coolers can be dangerous because they don't taste like alcohol. They taste more like fruit punch. You could drink two or three without realizing that you are getting very drunk. Kids who get drunk could find themselves in a pack of trouble.—Mary J. (Georgetown)

DEAR MARY: When I was in high school they called it "pink lightning." The more things change the more they remain the same. Thanks for the wake-up call. A letter from you can do a lot more good than anything I might say.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: "Mary Jane" and "John" recently gave me my first grandchild. M.J. went nuts finding the right formula. Then she tried every bottle on the market to get the best one. The baby clothes and toys cost a fortune. But that's their business and their money. My other daughter says, "Ma, keep your mouth shut."

Ann, my reason for writing is cigarettes. M.J. and John are chain smokers. Their beautiful little child, with all those fancy clothes, washed in just the right soap, bathed every day in just the right shampoo, lotions and powders, is put to bed in a beautiful room with white furniture and organdy curtains that stink to high heaven of cigarette smoke. And I mean stink. The child sleeps in cigarette smoke. She is fed in cigarette smoke. She goes for a drive in a car filled with smoke.

I get so mad my blood boils. That little baby's lungs will be black by the time she's in junior high. I have sent them several newspaper and magazine articles and some of your columns on the hazards of secondhand smoke. They say it's a lot of baloney. Please, tell me what I can do to help that baby.—Gram in Indiana

DEAR GRAM: Take your daughter's advice. After all that has been said and written about the dangers of secondhand smoke, if it hasn't made an impression, nothing you can say will make a difference.

You might ask the child's pediatrician to speak to the mother. Maybe a word from a professional, a non-relative, might make a dent. Good luck.

What can you give the person who has everything? Ann Landers' new booklet, "Gems," is ideal for a nightstand or coffee table. "Gems" is a collection of Ann Landers' most requested poems and essays. Send a self-addressed, long, business-size envelope for a check or money order for $4.85 (this includes postage and handling) to: Gems, c/o Ann Landers, P.O. Box 011562, Chicago, Ill. 60611-0562.

Deadline Wednesday

Wednesday is the deadline to make reservations to participate in a vest stenciling workshop planned from 5:30-9:30 p.m. May 16 at the Hereford Community Center.

Reservations for the event, to be hosted by the Deaf Smith County Extension Homemakers, are limited and the $18 workshop fee is due Wednesday at the Extension office.

Supply lists are available at the Extension office and at Sew 'N Tell in Hereford.

Artist Vickie McGowen of the Bryan-College Station area will serve as instructor of the course.

Dinosaur display to open in Amarillo

Imagine living 100 million years ago when dinosaurs roamed the earth.

The next best thing is scheduled to open May 13 at the Don Harrington Discovery Center when DINOSAURS! Vacation Invasion premiers to the Panhandle.

These animated, realistic dinosaurs are the latest example of what can happen when high tech takes on a new field. In this case, it's paleontology.

Eight dinosaurs, the brainchild of Dinamation International Corporation founder Chris Mays, don't leave much to the imagination: they move, they roar, they gnash their teeth and stare unsuspecting visitors right in the eye.

To accommodate this extraordinary exhibition, which required over 6,000 square feet of floor space and minimum ceiling heights of 20 feet, the new discovery Pavilion was constructed.

The adaptability of the structure has provided a perfect setting in which to create a trip back in time. Visitors to the exhibit will experience wonderfully real dinosaurs and the ancient jungles in which they lived.

The new building is the design product of the SEE Company of Salem, Oregon, and represents the latest in technology for structures to meet immediate expansion needs, as well as fulfilling specifications to withstand the infamous Panhandle winds.

Parents invited

A covered dish meeting will be held for the 4-H Parent-Leaders Association at 7 p.m. today in the ballroom of the Hereford Community Center.

The program will be presented by 4-H members, Amber and Joanna Brumley, and by Susan Hicks who will report on the legislative meeting in Austin.

The Don Harrington Discovery Center, named for the notable Panhandle oilman and philanthropist, is an interactive science museum and planetarium. All science and health exhibits have hands-on aspects that make learning fun for everyone, and DINOSAURS! displays will include a fossil dig, dinosaur maze and an opportunity to be photographed as a dinosaur.

DINOSAURS! will be open to the public Tuesday through Saturday from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m.; Sunday from 1-6 p.m.; and holidays. Tickets are priced at $4 for adults and $2.50 for children ages 3-12. They are available at the door. Advance reservations for groups will receive a discount.

In conjunction with DINOSAURS!, the Discovery Center's planetarium will feature DEATH OF THE DINOSAURS and the Cinema 360 film GENESIS. Show schedules are available by calling (806) 355-9547. The DINOSTORUS gift shop will be open during the exhibition.

The Discovery Center is located just west of downtown Amarillo in the Medical Center Park at 1200 Street Drive. Take Interstate 40 West to the Coulter Road exit, turn north and follow signs for the Discovery Center and DINOSAURS!
