Two boys drown in Houston deluge

HOUSTON (AP) — Rains that may have dropped more water on Houston than Hurricane Alicia produced flooding that left two youths drowned, stranded a fully loaded school bus and gave surfers a new playground — city streets.

Rescue teams found the bodies of Gustavo Meza, 9, and Terry Ardoin, 15, in Houston bayous Monday. Searchers were unable to find an unidentified 14-year-old who was swept off a raft in southwest Houston, a police spokesman said. Seven inches of rain was measured in some parts of town Monday, a weather bureau official said.

"The whole Southeast Texas area has probably received more rain today than when Alicia went through," National Weather Service forecaster Gary Beeler said. That hurricane roared into Galveston, up the Ship Channel and into Houston Aug. 18, claiming 22 lives with 115-mph winds and causing more than $1 billion in damage. "The areas that usually flood did and some of the areas that usually don't did too," Beeler said.

Firemen used an air boat to rescue 30 middle school students from a school bus whose driver ignored bystanders' warnings and drove into an intersection submerged beneath five feet of water, fire department spokesman Kenneth Robinett said.

Officials said the rescue took about an hour. The driver refused to give her name or make any comment.

"The driver told us to sit there and not panic," said seventh-grader Laversa Owens, who said water poured through the vehicle's front door. "And we did, except one girl started crying." The two drownings Monday brought to three the death toll from the flooding in South and Southeast Texas.

Select committee on education airs recommendations at convention

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP) — Extra-curricular activities in Texas schools are gouging into time that should be spent drilling academics in the classroom, members of the Select Committee on Public Education told a convention of educational leaders.

"Schools exist for academic learning — not for developing football players for colleges or taking the speech club or school band on trips," said Susan Hopkins, a board member of the Corpus Christi Independent School District.

"There should be an academic slot time with no interruptions," she said. Mrs. Hopkins and other members of the committee, handpicked to make recommendations on education to the Legislature, participated in Monday's joint annual convention of the Texas Association of School Boards and Texas Association of School Administrators.

Committee members, headed by Dallas millionaire H. Ross Perot, have been the targets of some complaints for their sideswipes at the extra-curricular activities.

"Nobody is talking about doing away with extra-curricular activities, but we are hearing some testimony as to whether or not they should be reordered," said Will Davis, a member of the State Board of Education.

One solution, he said, would be to have all such activities pushed back to the end of the school day.

Ms. Hopkins said the state also must devise another method of awarding teacher pay raises, rather than using seniority and college degrees. "The taxpayers will not support a system that rewards only longevity," she said.

Many teachers are against so-called "merit pay," saying there is no way to evaluate teacher effectiveness and that most evaluators aren't competent to pass judgment.

"The idea makes them very, very nervous," Mrs. Hopkins said. "The teachers believe that principals are not good evaluators — that they don't have the time or the talent for it."

Castaneda tops football contest

Rick Castaneda, 905 S. McKinley, won the first place prize of $25 in last week's Brand Football Contest, missing only three games along the way. Isaac Briones, 112 S. Douglas, claimed the second place prize of $15 by missing four games, while Herman Benavidez, 300 E. 7th, Apt. B, won $10 for being third.

Both Briones and Benavidez missed four games, but Briones claimed second place with a tie breaker guess of 57 over Benavidez's 38. The tie breaker game was San Francisco's 42-27 win over the St. Louis Cardinals.

Melinda Gamez also missed four games last week, but her tie breaker guess of 32 was just out of the money.

Six entrants missed only five games on the list, including Brian Townsend, Harold Loerwald, Donna West, Ronnie Andrews, Hector Dominguez, and Paula Gamez.

Mike Veazey and Robert Gamez each missed six games, while 15 entrants missed eight games.

A total of 290 people entered last week's contest.

Dallas firm buys city land

By REED PARSELL
Staff Writer

Hereford City Commissioners Monday accepted a bid of approximately $150,000 from a Dallas firm to purchase about 10 percent of the 3,000-acre city park east of town.

Valley View Energy Corporation bid $500 per acre for the land, which is now being leased by Kenneth Walker. Though Walker still has three years left on his lease, City Manager Dudley Bayne felt the land will be made available to Valley View within six months.

The Dallas company told Bayne it would employ 80-100 people at its new building, which would cost around $50 million to construct. Wes Fisher, Hereford's mayor, said the firm is being "very secretive" about what the site will be used for, "but that's fine."

Under the current lease agreement, Walker is paying the city $9,450 annually for the roughly 300 concerned acres. Bayne said Valley View is to mail the city $15,000 as a downpayment for its purchase.

In other matters, the commissioners voted to include in their Aug. 15 meeting's minutes acknowledgement of a letter from Hereford Senior Citizens. The correspondence stated HSC was withdrawing its request to lease city land at Ranger Drive and Moreman Avenue.

In the August 10 letter, HSC president Homer Garrison said, "Due to the controversy surrounding your decision to lease land to the senior citizens of Hereford, we feel it best to withdraw our request for a lease on the land. We take this action with deep reluctance and sadness."

At its July 18 meeting, the city commission voted 3-1-1 to grant HSC the lease despite complaints from King's Manor Methodist Home, Inc. The nursing home rests on adjacent land and its officials said the two acres of city property represented the only area in which it could expand in the future.

Monday night, Bayne also presented commissioners with a report on the city's budget, which has been operating for four months. Street repairs, he said, are running about $85,000 more than what was projected.

The next regularly-scheduled meeting of the Hereford City Commission is 7:30 p.m. Monday, Oct. 3 in City Hall.

Detention hearing held for suspect

There was a detention hearing Monday for the 14-year-old male suspect in the local Friday slaying of Della Knight, according to Roland Saul, district attorney for Deaf Smith County.

"A petition has been filed alleging delinquent conduct," Saul said over the telephone this morning, "alleging that he in fact killed someone."

The next step in court for the suspect, stepson of the victim, will be an adjudication hearing, Saul said. The district attorney added there may be several preliminary matters, such as psychiatric tests, run on the suspect in the meantime.

If found guilty at the adjudication hearing, which Saul said is much like an adult trial, there will be a disposition hearing to determine what punishment will be administered.

Retail sales here ahead of '82 pace

Retail sales in Hereford continue to show an increase for 1983 over 1982 according to sales tax figures released by State Comptroller Bob Bullock's office. Bullock mailed a check for $26,547.45 for the period ending Sept. 7, bringing to date the city's sales tax rebates for 1983 to $375,317.93.

At this time a year ago the city had received $358,276.55.

Bullock's office mailed checks totalling $41.1 million to the 974 cities that levy the one percent city sales tax.

"Last September, we were reporting the biggest allocation based on a single month's tax collections in the history of our state," Bullock said. "This month, with sales tax receipts running about one percent behind last year, shows us just how fast things can change."

Houston received the largest check — $7.2 million — bringing that city's nine-month 1983 total to $102.7 million, 10 percent below the same period last year.

Dallas' check was $5.2 million, for a $62.8 million yearly total, up 6 percent. San Antonio received $2.5 million, making its yearly total $31.1 million, an 8 percent increase.

Austin's September payment of $1.6 million pushed its total to $30.6 million, a 14 percent gain from last year. Fort Worth's check for $1.2 million brought that city's 1983 total to $19.6 million, up more than 4 percent.

El Paso received $1 million for a year's total of $11.6 million, a drop of 8 percent.

Bullock also sent checks to the state's two Metropolitan Transit Authorities. Houston's MTA payment was $8.9 million, bringing the 1983 total to $117.4 million. San Antonio's MTA check was for $1.2 million for a 1983 total of $17.1 million, up more than 9 percent from 1982.

September checks were for taxes collected on sales made in July and reported to the Comptroller by the end of August.

If you read about the Panhandle Regional Planning Commission approving a 32-unit senior citizen housing project in Hereford, don't hold your breath for the finishing touches.

It may be two months before final approval of such a project is received, according to Marie Griffin, local Realtor who made a pre-application to Farmers Home Administration for a loan on the project. "It's still an 'iffy' situation," stated Mrs. Griffin.

She pointed out that the PRPC approval was on the pre-application. "There is still about two months of paper work to be completed and approved before we know the final decision," added Mrs. Griffin.

Giving to anything, whether the United Way or the church or to some charity, works best when the giver really feels a personal interest in where the money is going. Giving because it is expected is not nearly as effective as giving for the joy of it.

Surely this has not been the problem with our United Way, because it provides funds to local agencies which

The Texas Democratic Party will hold a one-day campaign planning seminar in Amarillo Sept. 24 at the Tanglewood Clubhouse from 8:30 a.m. to 3:35 p.m. Admission is $5.

"We're going to get a jump on the 1984 elections," said Texas Democratic Party Chairman Bob Slagle. "We're beginning to hold our campaign and Get-Out-The-Vote seminars now so we can concentrate all our efforts next year on electing Democrats from the courthouse to the White House," Slagle added.

The Amarillo seminar begins with registration at 8:30 a.m. followed by a Speaker's Forum from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. After a one-hour lunch break, attendees will participate in Mock Conventions from 12:30 to 2:30 p.m. and there will be a Wrap-Up session from 2:30 to 3:30 with guest speakers.

Speaking at the seminar will be Texas Democratic Party Chairman Bob Slagle; Don Boucher, executive director of the State Party; Jack Martin, executive assistant to Sen. Lloyd Bentsen; Billy Rogers, former campaign coordinator for Land Commissioner Garry Mauro; Mel Phillips, chairman of the Texas County Chairs Association; and Ricky Knox, public relations specialist.

Topics to be discussed at the seminar include organizing an election; organizing a phone bank; working with special interest groups; the importance of voter registration; the new rules of the Texas Democratic Party; how to become a national delegate; and the Party's Affirmative Action goals.

The workshop is being sponsored in cooperation with the Potter County Democratic Party, the Randall County Democratic Party, the Potter-Randall Democratic Club, the 31st District Executive Committee and the Texas Democratic County Chairs Association.

South African paper comments on Miss America

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — A Johannesburg newspaper which usually supports South Africa's white-minority government said today the 62-year span before a black was chosen Miss America "doesn't say much for the land of the free."

The Citizen, an English-language daily, said in an editorial that the excitement in the United States over the selection of Vanessa Williams as the first black winner of the contest "is evidence that changing deep-grained racial attitudes is not easy."

The editorial quoted sections of the Declaration of Independence and Abraham Lincoln's Gettysburg Address which declare Americans will be free and equal.

"In practice, there is still no complete equality in America, the majority of Negroes remaining a much-deprived class," The Citizen said. "Perhaps Americans will be a little more tolerant about South Africa's attempts to overcome its own racial problems."

"In the Miss South Africa contests...there were colored finalists this year," the paper said. "Who knows — and it may not take 62 years — we may have a Miss South Africa one day who is also not white."

In South African, persons of mixed race are known as coloreds.

South Africa has two Miss South Africa competitions, sponsored separately by two newspaper groups. Both have been open to blacks, coloreds and Asians since the government eased restrictions against multi-racial public gatherings several years ago.

So far, all winners of both competitions have been white.

Deliberations near in Pizza Hut murders trial

MOUNT PLEASANT, Texas (AP) — A defense attorney called six alibi witnesses to testify that Calvin Loyd Padgett was working 220 miles away when three employees of a Pizza Hut restaurant here were slain.

Final arguments in Padgett's capital murder trial were scheduled to begin today.

Defense attorney Jerry Birdwell rested his case Monday after the witnesses testified that Padgett was at work at J.D. Bray's Paint Co. in Hieldton, Okla., on May 10, 1982, the day of the killings.

But Jerry David Westberry, the bookkeeper for the paint company, said there were no records that Padgett worked May 10, and said that he was paid for 10½ fewer hours than usual that week.

Another defense witness, Michael Earl Davis, a former patrolman for the Mount Pleasant police, said that he concluded from his investigation that one person could not have committed the murders.

Padgett, 28, is charged with the murders of George Dwan Landrum, 42; Howard Leroy McClain, 25; and Shirley O'Bier Thompson, 24.

Their bodies were found in or near a walk-in cooler at the rear of the restaurant. All had been shot, and Landrum had also been hit in the head with a hammer, authorities said.

Padgett was arrested later last year with his girl friend and 15-year-old brother in Oklahoma, where he was charged with the November aggravated robbery of a service station-restaurant. He pleaded guilty and was sentenced to life in prison, authorities said.

Fisherman found three days after boat sinks

FREEPORT, Texas (AP) — A man who floated for 46 hours after his boat sank in the Gulf of Mexico was in a hospital's intensive care unit after dragging himself ashore, officials said.

Ned Cameron, 41, of Bay City, staggered onto the beach near the mouth of the San Bernard River about 6 a.m. Monday and approached a group of campers, said his wife, Jane Cameron.

Cameron was one of four men aboard the 21-foot vessel, Crackerjack. He was listed in satisfactory condition at Matagorda General Hospital today.

Commercial fishermen and the Coast Guard rescued the other three after the boat capsized about 7:30 p.m. Saturday about 30 miles off the coast of Freeport.

Mrs. Cameron said the campers asked her husband, "Are you the fourth man?"

"If the three others were found, then I'm the fourth," Mrs. Cameron said her husband replied.

Mrs. Cameron said her husband was coherent when she talked to him but was "not piecing everything together yet."

All four men were wearing life preservers when the boat turned over, officials said.

Cameron's 14-year-old son, Bruce, said his father tried to swim to a shrimp boat near the Crackerjack.

"But he never made it," the younger Cameron said.

He said his father appeared to be in good condition considering his ordeal.

"He was sunburned on his hands and face and pretty water-logged," he said.

Fort Hood soldier pulls driver from vehicle

AUSTIN (AP) — A Fort Hood soldier was still dazed from a freeway traffic accident when he leaped from his damaged car and pulled an Austin wrecker driver from a burning truck, police say.

The car belonging to Army Pfc. Baron Head and a Southside Wrecker Service truck driven by John Raymond Lightfoot of Austin collided about 1 a.m. Monday on Interstate Highway 35.

Head, 19, a cook in a battalion mess hall at Fort Hood, said he was sitting, stunned, in his car, when he noticed the cab of Lightfoot's truck on fire.

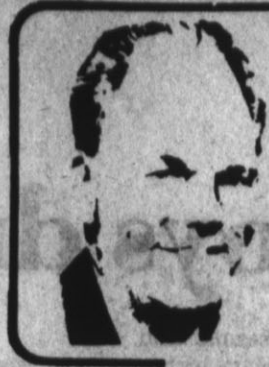

"The flames were coming up over the cab, and I could see somebody moving inside," said Head, who was not seriously hurt. "I ran up to the passenger side of the truck, and he slid across the seat, and I pulled him out of the window."

Lightfoot, 39, was in stable condition at South Austin Community Hospital.

"I was scared to death," said Head, who was driving back to the Killeen Army post from a weekend at his parents' home in San Antonio.

Peacemaking is hazardous

"Blessed are the peacemakers."

We have no option but to keep trying for it.

But if we're not realistic about the prospects for success we could bankrupt ourselves trying for it.

Our Marines in Lebanon are called "a peacekeeping force." I can remember no time when there was peace in Lebanon.

Lebanese Moslems and Lebanese Christians have been fussing and fighting for 140 years.

Similarly in Latin America we must be idealistic about the objective of peace but realistic about what we can afford to bet on it.

Our Defense Secretary Weinberger was a whirlwind three days in three Latin American nations — enough to satisfy him that they need more of your money — $84 million more just for El Salvador.

Guatemala's new dictator wants some of your money.

Who doesn't?

But how are you going to jump-start a country that keeps blowing its head off?

Let me take you for a moment to the southernmost tip of South America, to Chile.

Ten years ago Chile was in trouble, Marxism had resulted in food shortages, runaway inflation despite price controls, hundred percent tariff barriers, exports down, unemployment up.

So Chileans threw out one dictator in favor of another, threw out Allende in favor of the Pinochet.

Shortly things began looking up.

The nation adopted supply-side economics.

Price controls came off, inflation fever subsided from 500 percent to 9.5 percent.

Tariffs came down to 10 percent, markets expanded, employment improved.

By 1976, its economy growing seven percent per year, Chile was a hemispheric showcase for the good life.

It was a nation flooded with new cars, television antennas sprouted everywhere.

Chile, even under a military dictator, was a model for all so-called "developing countries."

Two years ago the cream began to sour.

Bankruptcies on an unprecedented scale. Unemployment more than 30 percent. Foreign debt accumulated to a burdensome $17 billion worsened by a continuing deficit.

Until finally, last year, the peso was devalued.

So this summer the rioting resumed.

And it is escalating.

I expect President Pinochet's tenth year will be his last.

What went wrong? We must acknowledge the significance of soft copper prices because copper has been Chile's major export.

But the more significant consideration is that Chileans could not take prosperity. When they got fat they got lazy. Goods and services produced within Chile were down 14.3 percent last year.

They, perhaps like others you know, could not compete with import prices.

So here is a neighbor nation in which "our way of life" was, in fact, imposed. Economist Milton Friedman was down there calling the shots for Pinochet during his early reforms.

But even "our way" does not necessarily perpetuate itself.

Self-government, without self-discipline, is its own undoing.

Damage Rather Evident

J.T. Carroll's 203 Centre home was rudely visited early (2:40 a.m.) Saturday by a 1981 Chevrolet pickup, which rammed through the garage door and knocked a hole in north brick wall. Damage was estimated to be $20,000, according to the Hereford police report. The driver of the truck, Gary Putzt of 620 Ave. J, was charged with DWI and traveling at an unsafe speed. Northbound on Centre, he swerved over Carroll's lawn to and through the garage door, damaging Carroll's parked 1977 Buick in the process.

Knight was stabbed in the chest several times Friday morning at her 328 Ave. J residence. She was found by an ambulance crew and Hereford police in her backyard, near the rear porch. Within an hour she was pronounced dead at Deaf Smith General Hospital.

The suspect was seen leaving the scene in his parents' pickup truck. Saturday morning he was found by police in Clarendon.

An autopsy was performed on Knight late Friday afternoon by Dr. Ralph Erdman of Amarillo. According to Lieutenant Vernon Hope of the Hereford Police Department, no report on the autopsy has yet been received.

Since the suspect is only 14, he cannot be tried as an adult. Juvenile courts do have the right, though, to waive jurisdiction on juveniles aged 15 or more so that they may

"The state cannot afford the present system of automatic step increases (in salaries)," she said. "There has to be another method of evaluation."

"Principals probably also should be placed on a system that rewards for outstanding leadership," she said.

Davis said the committee has recommended pilot programs for principals "that will hopefully improve their administrative skills."

"The principal has to assume complete authority," he said.

Committee members have been airing their recommendations across the state, but no date has been set for issuing the group's formal report.

help people of all ages — people who are our neighbors and friends. Economic conditions have hurt drives the past couple of years, but even when business was better there was a lack of support by the entire community.

The United Way is a unified effort to "put all the eggs in one basket," as one volunteer has termed it. This type of drive came about because business people were tired of solicitors coming by every few weeks, and because the same workers were being called upon to carry pledge cards and solicit funds every month for different causes.

With the advent of United Way, there was one drive for 10 agencies. It was easier to recruit volunteers to work one drive instead of 10. Thus, givers must remember that their contributions go for 10 agencies, too, not just one.

The United Way is too important to fail. We hope each citizen of Hereford and Deaf Smith County responds with his fair share, and it will truly work for all of us.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor:

Rising interest rates are clear testimony of the disastrous effect that massive federal budget deficits are having on the nation's economic recovery. Members of Congress and the Administration are reluctant to tackle the problem until after the next elections.

We can't wait that long! As a member of the National Association of Realtors I am participating in a massive grassroots campaign to urge Congress and the President to take immediate action to solve the deficit crisis and ensure that the recovery continues.

The Realtors campaign, called "Three-For-All," advocates limiting the growth of spending for federal entitlement programs to three percentage points less than the increases in the Consumer Price Index and setting the indexation of personal income tax brackets, scheduled to begin in 1985, at the same amount.

These fiscal policies, if adopted, would produce a balanced budget within five years and mortgage interest rates three percentage points lower than without "Three-For-All."

"Three-For-All" would be "fair for all," and I urge you to join me in letting the President, our U.S. Senators and our U.S. Representatives know that we support similar measures contained in legislation just introduced by Senators John Danforth (R-MO) and David Boren (D-OK), and by U.S. Representative Jim Jones (D-OK), Chairman of the House Budget Committee and U.S. Representatives Carroll Cambell (R-SC), whose legislation would balance the budget more slowly.

Let's send Washington a message it can't ignore until after the 1984 elections. Let's tell them we want action and we want it now!

Sincerely,
Pat Ferguson

Josephine Quintanilla, 17, drowned in San Antonio Sunday night when her car stalled in high water, officials said. Two children in the car, Georgia Cardenas, 11, and Bobby Garcia, 14, escaped unharmed.

Six bare-chested young men tied a surfboard to the back of a Jeep and towed each other on southwest Houston streets.

"We do this all the time when it floods," 23-year-old Marshall Hefley said. "Only it's never been this good before."

Police and fire department officers were called to two drownings and searched for at least one more person whom they feared had drowned.

Ardo's body was found in Sims Bayou in east Houston at 8:15 p.m., four hours after he was swept away while trying to cross a drainage ditch, said an officer who wished to remain anonymous.

The Meza child's body was found floating in Halls Bayou in far north Houston after he lost his balance while crossing a submerged bridge, paramedic Jeff Phillips said.

Phillips said the boy fell into swift-flowing water which was between six and seven feet deep.

"He and his two sisters and some other kids were walking along and he was at the head of the line," Phillips said. "He was feeling his way along with a stick and the stick broke."

Officers continued searching for a 14-year-old boy who was swept from a raft in southwest Houston.

Girl sues to play on boys football team

PIERCE CITY, Mo. (AP) — A 13-year-old girl who sued to be allowed to play on the boys' junior high football team saw limited action in the team's first game Monday.

Nichole Force, a 5-foot-4-inch, 110-pound seventh-grader, was not involved in any major contact in Pierce City's 18-8 loss to Marionville and emerged from the game with a clean uniform.

She appeared as a secondary blocker on three kickoffs, and two passes thrown her way while she played tight end fell incomplete.

After the game, she refused autographs and told reporters, "No comment."

"My coach told me to say, 'No comment,'" Nichole said after the game.

School officials and Coach Brad Stewart had ordered team members not to speak to the throng of media gathered for the game. The contest drew a standing-room-only crowd that spectators said was larger than the average crowd for a local high school football game.

Stewart, 26, ordered reporters away from the players and also refused to comment.

Nichole's friends rushed to congratulate her after the game ended.

Former resident returns to Hereford with family

By LINDA CAUDLE
Family News Editor

Moving to Hereford ten months ago has been almost like coming home for Beth Altman, a young mother of two. She grew up near Adrian after finishing her first two years of school in Hereford.

After earning a degree in business education from Texas Tech University, Beth moved to Plains, where she taught freshman and sophomore English for three years. It was in Plains that she met her husband, Kenny, a native of that area.

The couple moved to Stephenville after they were married, where Kenny worked for a drilling company. They bought a travel trailer and moved frequently with the drilling business, living in Vernon, Jacksboro, Springtown, Graham, and Granbury for short periods of time.

The Altmans then moved to Seguin, where they resided for almost two years before coming to Hereford. Their first son, Blake, was born while they lived there. He is now 16 months old. Their youngest son, Tanner, was born here on July 4, just two and a half months ago.

Kenny was tool pushing for a company out of Amarillo when they came to Hereford and he is now drilling for a company out of Abilene, currently working at Cotton Center.

Now that they have little ones, it's especially nice that they're back in this part of the country. Beth's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lloyd, her grandmother, Mrs. Eunie West, and other family members are glad for the chance to spend more time with the kids.

"We like to go out to Mom and Dad's farm, 25 miles north of here, which is where I grew up," commented Beth. "I kind of miss living out in the country sometimes."

Beth hasn't worked outside of her home since the family moved here. Besides taking care of her children, she has found time to join Newcomers Club and do quite a bit of needlework. In fact, she has started Creative Circle Sewing and would like to begin teaching in homes.

Explaining that program, Beth said that "women invite several friends to come into their home and they decide what type of needlework they would like to learn together. Then I come in and teach them. They can also order various kits and supplies from a catalog."

Beth says that she likes counted cross stitch the best, but she also does crewel, embroidery, and several other kinds of needlework. She has done a number of items for her home and for her sons' room.

Kenny likes woodworking and Beth is especially proud of a large grandfather clock which he constructed.

Cake decorating classes scheduled

Sweet 'n' Fancy Cake Decorating Club will sponsor four cake decorating classes on consecutive Monday evenings beginning Sept. 26. Classes will be held in the art room at the Community Center from 7 to 9:30 p.m.

Persons interested in learning cake decorating may take any or all of the classes at a cost of $5 per class. The first session will cover beginning cake decorating, and the second class on Oct. 3 will deal with borders and writing.

In the third session on Oct. 10, students will learn to make buttercream flowers, including roses, daisies and mums. The fourth class will cover special occasion cakes.

If possible, those who are interested in taking one or all of the classes should attend the Sweet 'n' Fancy Club's next meeting at 9:30 a.m. Thursday at the Community Center.

Students must furnish their own supplies. To register for any or all of the classes and to obtain information on needed supplies, contact Alice Koenig, president, at 364-1982.

Ann Landers

Sibling rivalry reversed

DEAR ANN LANDERS: You think you have heard of everything? Well, hang on. I just hope you won't write me off as a mental case. Here's my problem and there is no way I can tell anyone else.

I've liked a lot of guys and even gone to bed with a few (I'm 20 years old), but for some mysterious reason I've never been in love, until now. The guy, well - he's my 23-year-old brother.

When we were kids we fought like cats and dogs. Things got better when we went to high school and I was a freshman and he was a senior. Then he went away to college and I really missed him. My happiest times were when he invited me up for weekends and fixed me up with his pals, but I never liked any of them as well as I liked him.

I'm in my third year of college now and my brother is in graduate school. I think about him all the time and compare him with every guy I meet. No one is as handsome, or as funny or as exciting. I dream about him at night and have daytime fantasies.

He has no idea I have these sexual feelings. I'm afraid to tell him. He may catch on soon because I am very critical of every girl he takes out. In fact, I almost hate them. Am I normal? Please tell me what to do.—S.L., Mo.

DEAR S.L.: You should have outgrown this fixation several years ago. Now it is going to require professional help. See a counselor at once. Be totally honest. Dredge up everything. With competent guidance you can overcome it. And you must. If you remain at this level of arrested development it will ruin your personal life and eventually destroy your relationship with your brother.

Morgan's birthday blasts propel Phillies to victory

By KEN RAPPOPORT AP Sports Writer

Joe Morgan is one person who really knows how to celebrate a birthday.

Turning 40, the Philadelphia second baseman slugged four hits, including two home runs, and drove in four runs to power the Phillies to a 7-6 victory over the Chicago Cubs Monday night.

"I'm sure glad it was his birthday," said Phillies' Manager Paul Owens. "Joe was pepped up before the game. It was like he knew that he would hit a homer."

The victory boosted the Phillies' lead in the National League East to two games over the Pittsburgh Pirates and Montreal Expos. The Pirates dropped a 5-4 decision to the New York Mets in 10 innings and the Expos climbed into a second-place tie with Pittsburgh with a 3-0, 6-3 sweep of the St. Louis Cardinals.

The Los Angeles Dodgers, meanwhile, beat the Houston Astros 9-2 and improved their lead in the West to four games over the Atlanta Braves. In other NL action, San Diego tripped San Francisco 4-2.

Morgan's second homer of the game, a leadoff shot in the eighth inning, made a winner of reliever Ron Reed, 8-1. The blast was Morgan's 16th of the season, but his 10th since the All-Star break. He hit his 15th homer in the fourth inning, a two-run shot, and also had a single and a double.

Mets 5, Pirates 4

In New York, Hubie Brooks singled home the winning run in the 10th inning to lead the Mets over the Pirates.

With one out, Mookie Wilson started the Mets' winning rally with a single off Kent Tekulve, 7-5. Wilson then stole second just ahead of a strong throw by catcher Tony Pena.

Brooks then followed with a single to short center field, scoring Wilson from second and making a winner of reliever Carlos Diaz, 3-1.

Losing 4-2, the Mets had tied the score with two runs in the ninth. Ron Hodges' single delivered the tying run.

Expos 3-6, Cardinals 9-3

In Montreal, Bryn Smith tossed a five-hitter and Bryan Little and Doug Flynn each knocked in a run, leading the Expos over St. Louis in the first game of their doubleheader.

Pinch-hitter Terry Crowley singled home Argenis Salazar from third base with none out in the eighth inning for the go-ahead run in a three-run rally that gave the Expos their second-game victory.

"We needed a miracle, and obviously we're not going to get one," said St. Louis Manager Whitey Herzog, whose defending world champions dropped seven games off the Phillies' pace.

Dodgers 9, Astros 2

In Los Angeles, Ken Landreaux drilled three singles and Pedro Guerrero slugged his 29th home run to lead the Dodgers over Houston.

The Dodgers trailed 2-1 entering the sixth inning, but erupted for six runs to snap a three-game losing streak and reduce their "magic number" for winning the West to 10 games. The Dodgers have 12 games left.

Bob Welch, 15-12, earned his seventh win in his last eight starts, giving up five hits over six innings. Two of the hits off Welch were first-inning consecutive home runs by Terry Puhl, his eighth, and Dickie Thon, his 20th.

Joe Niekro, 14-13, took the loss.

Padres 4, Giants 2

In San Francisco, Garry Templeton's run-scoring groundout in the fourth inning broke a 2-2 tie and triggered San Diego over the Giants.

Tony Gwynn knocked in one of San Diego's runs, but his season-high major league hitting streak of 25 games was snapped when he went 0-for-3.

Right-hander Ed Whitson, 5-7, who blanked the Giants for four innings after they scored twice in the first, was the winner with relief from Sid Monge and Floyd Chiffer.

Alzado says

Raiders weird but good

LOS ANGELES (AP) — By his own admittance, Lyle Alzado is a little different, as are his teammates on the Los Angeles Raiders' defense.

Different, perhaps, but very, very good.

If the Miami Dolphins didn't know how good, they do now.

The Raiders blanked Miami until the issue was no longer in doubt Monday night as Los Angeles joined the Dallas Cowboys as the National Football League's only unbeaten teams with a decisive 27-14 victory over the Dolphins.

"Each of the guys on the defense is a little off-center and there's a great deal of pride," said Alzado, a 34-year-old defensive end. "Your teammates beat you up trying to get to the ball. It's a very overpowering defense."

Indeed, it is. The Raiders have given up only three touchdowns and just 30 points overall in beating Cincinnati, Houston and Miami. All three of those TDs came after Los Angeles had assured itself of victory.

The Dolphins, who had only nine first downs until the final few minutes Monday night, got their touchdowns on a 6-yard pass from rookie quarterback Dan Marino to tight end Joe Rose with 2:29 remaining and a 2-yard pass from Marino to Mark Duper with 20 seconds left.

Before that, nothing. As a result, the defending American Football Conference champion Dolphins fell to 2-1 and the Raiders improved their incredible Monday night record to 20-2-1 since prime-time football came into being in 1970.

Probably the key play of the game occurred late in the third quarter. Naturally, it was provided by the Los Angeles defense.

The Raiders led 13-0, but the Dolphins were in a third-and-six situation at the Los Angeles 21-yard line. Miami quarterback David Woodley went back to pass, but was separated from the ball by blitzing linebacker Rod Martin.

Rookie Los Angeles defensive end Greg Townsend scooped the ball up at the Raiders' 34-yard line and dashed 66 yards for a touchdown, making it 20-0 and all but sealing the outcome.

Stefero hero again

By WILLIAM R. BARNARD AP Sports Writer

Don't tell the Milwaukee Brewers that lightning doesn't strike twice in the same place.

After trailing the Brewers 7-0 on Sunday, the Orioles rallied and finally won the game in the ninth inning on a game-winning single by rookie catcher John Stefero.

On Monday night, Stefero, who has played in six major-league games with five hits in 10 at-bats, did it again. He climaxed a two-run rally in the 11th inning with another RBI single, giving the Orioles an 8-7 victory over the Brewers and a 7½-game lead over second-place Detroit in the American League East.

"It's kind of a one-in-a-million chance to get to do this," said Stefero, who helped reduce Baltimore's "magic number" to seven. Meanwhile, the Orioles' comeback ability is starting to look unreal even to their own players. They have 35 come-from-behind victories this season and have a 33-11 record in games decided in the seventh inning or later.

The Orioles have won 10 of their last 11 games and are 23-4 since Aug. 24. They have a chance to wrap up the division this week, starting tonight when they open a four-game series against the Tigers in Detroit.

In other AL games, Kansas City swept a doubleheader from California, 8-4 and 7-6; Boston trimmed New York 5-3, Minnesota tripped Chicago 7-5 and Seattle beat Toronto 9-6.

Texas jumps to second in weekly ratings

By The Associated Press

Texas made an impressive debut this season by downing fifth-ranked Auburn in its season opener. That victory boosted the Longhorns to second place in The Associated Press college football poll — but far behind top-ranked Nebraska.

Nebraska, which routed Minnesota 84-13 was a near-unanimous choice Monday as the nation's top college football team. The Cornhuskers' lopsided victory gave them a 3-0 record and a 184-39 scoring edge on their opponents.

It also gave the Big Eight powerhouse 57 of 59 first-place votes and 1,178 of a possible 1,180 points from a nationwide panel of sports writers and sportscasters. The two voters who did not rank the Cornhuskers No. 1 had them second, with Texas first.

The Longhorns had 1,112 points and replaced Oklahoma, which dropped from second to eighth after losing to Ohio State 24-14. The Buckeyes' victory vaulted them from sixth to third with 1,038 points.

The other members of the top five were Arizona, whose seventh-place ranking last week was its highest ever, and North Carolina. Arizona jumped to fourth with 933 points by trouncing Washington State 45-6. North Carolina belted Miami of Ohio 48-17 and went from 10th to fifth with 847 points.

"For an opening ball game in a totally foreign environment against a highly ranked football team — a first ball game, a first start — I was pleased by the way they kept their poise," said Texas Coach Fred Akers.

"I wouldn't change a thing. How could I be disappointed?"

Among the disappointed on Saturday were while Notre Dame, Auburn, Michigan and Florida State, all of whom fell out of the Top Ten.

Auburn dropped from fifth to 11th. Notre Dame skidded from fourth to 13th following a 28-23 upset loss to Michigan State. Michigan was edged by Washington 25-24 and went from No. 8 to 17th, while Florida State was beaten by Tulane 34-28 and dropped fell from ninth to No. 20.

Alabama moved into the Top Ten for the first time under Coach Ray Perkins. The Crimson Tide clobbered Mississippi 40-0 and rose from 12th to sixth with 790 points.

Iowa, which handed defending national champion Penn State its third straight setback 42-34, jumped from 13th to seventh with 732 points. The Hawkeyes were followed by Oklahoma, with 700 points.

Rounding out the Top Ten were Washington and Southern California. Washington shot from 16th to ninth with 662 points.

Southern Cal climbed from 14th to 10th with 535 points by beating Oregon State 33-10.

The Second Ten consists of Auburn, West Virginia, Notre Dame, Georgia, Florida, Pitt, Michigan, Southern Methodist, Boston College and Florida State.

Last week, it was Georgia, Alabama, Iowa, USC, Florida, Washington, Maryland, SMU, Pitt and West Virginia.

Boston College, 3-0, moved into the ratings for the first time this season with a 42-22 victory over Rutgers. The Eagles replaced Maryland in the Top Twenty. The Terrapins had been 17th but were beaten by West Virginia 31-21.

Receiver Donley

New star emerges for Cowboys

IRVING, Texas (AP) — A new star may have emerged for the talent-rich Dallas Cowboys in their 28-13 National Football League victory over the New York Giants Sunday.

The name on the lights of the Texas Stadium scoreboard was Doug Donley, a second round draft pick from Ohio State in his third year as a Dallas wide receiver.

Subbing for injured Tony Hill, Donley caught six passes for 88 yards and displayed the speed that earned him his nickname: "White Lightning."

"It was no surprise how well Doug played because he has been doing that all summer," said Dallas Coach Tom Landry.

What was a surprise is that Landry used Donley instead of Butch Johnson to substitute for Hill, who had a sprained arch.

Donley said "I've played in the Rose Bowl and been in a lot of big games but this one tops it all. I think I proved I'm not the No. 4 receiver."

Donley, the fastest of the Cowboys, only had five receptions in two years playing in the shadow of Drew Pearson, Hill and Johnson.

Johnson had no comment on his "demotion." He caught one pass during the victory which was fashioned by a strong effort from the Dallas defense particularly Dexter Clinkscale.

Clinkscale had no visions of touchdown when he intercepted a Scott Brunner pass in the fourth period.

"I knew I was gone, I didn't know how far but I knew I was gone," said Clinkscale.

It turned out an exhausted Clinkscale lasted 68 yards for a touchdown which kept the Cowboys the only unbeaten team in the National Conference.

"If it had been 10 more yards he wouldn't have made it," said cornerback Everson Walls.

On the ensuing kickoff, the Giants fumbled and Michael Downs picked up the ball and strolled 10 yards into the end zone.

The Cowboys scored two touchdowns in 12 seconds.

"We were in a full blitz and I read the play, caught the ball and struggled ahead," Clinkscale said.

Dallas is now 3-0, having come-from-behind in each victory.

The Cowboys, who play New Orleans at home Sunday, received some good news concerning the fate of running back Tony Dorsett.

An examination of Dorsett's right knee Monday revealed only a bruise — and not a ligament stretch as feared, team officials said. Dorsett was listed as a probable starter for Sunday's game.

BEDWETTER
 LET THEM HAVE A DRY BED

The greatest gift you can give a bedwetter and the rest of the family, too, is an end to this serious problem, and make no mistake, bedwetting is serious. It can cause complicated psychological problems that last a lifetime. It's so needless because bedwetting, when not caused by organic defect or disease, can be ended. Send for our free brochure, "Bedwetting — What It's All About and How To End It", a report by two medical doctors. No obligation.

Fort Bend remains top-rated in 4A

A second consecutive unanimous first place selection for Fort Bend Willowridge and Groveton's determined bid to overtake Panhandle for the Class 2A lead, highlight this week's Associated Press Schoolboy Football Poll.

Willowridge, which won 15 straight games en route to the Class 4A state title last year, blasted Brazosport 34-10 and for the second straight week gathered in all 20 first place votes cast by the AP's panel of sport writers and sportscasters.

Converse Judson in 5A, Littlefield in 3A, Panhandle in 2A and Bremond in Class A, all maintained their top ranks but Panhandle held its No. 1 rank by the narrowest of margins over Groveton.

Groveton, a state semifinalist last year, remained No. 2 by a 184-183 point total after last week's impressive 38-8 victory over Diboll, a team that was ranked No. 6 in Class 3A going into the game.

Panhandle beat Canadian 30-7 and held the lead despite a 9-8 deficit in first place votes.

Two losses and a tie caused changes in 5A. No. 6 Conroe and No. 9 Galveston Ball were the losers and former No. 1 ranked Houston Memorial, tied for 10th last week, battled to a scoreless tie with Stafford Dulles.

Conroe and Memorial dropped from the poll and Ball held onto the No. 10 spot. Temple, 3-0, moved into the top 10 for the first time this season as the No. 9 team.

Nos. five Lubbock Estacado and six Rockwall were losers on the 4A list and No. 10 Corsicana fought to a 21-21 tie with Jacksonville.

WTSU homecoming scheduled Oct. 6-8

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

What takes two cords of wood, marches through downtown Canyon and looks like a buffalo and a redbird? The answer is homecoming at West Texas State University featuring the traditional carnival, bonfire, Pigskin Review, parade, barbecue, alumni activities and football games Oct. 6-8.

The university homecoming committee, which includes representatives of the faculty, staff and campus student organizations, began meeting last spring semester to plan the 1983 homecoming celebration with the theme "You're a Credit—WTSU."

Annual homecoming activities will begin with the carnival at 7 p.m. on Thursday, Oct. 6, at the Activities Center All-Purpose Room. Student organizations planning to sponsor a food or activity booth may reserve a space by Friday, Sept. 23, by contacting the Student Government office in the Activities Center.

Applications for Homecoming queen also must be returned to the Student Government office by Sept. 23.

Friday, Oct. 7, will feature one performance of Pigskin Review at 7:30 p.m. at North Recital Hall. Members of Chi Omega, national social fraternity for women, will be featured performers at Pigskin Review. They won first prize of $900 during last spring semester's University Sing.

Other organizations winning places during University Sing were Phi Delta Theta, men's social fraternity; Buffalo Belles, women's spirit organization; and McCaslin Hall, women's residence hall.

Other performers are members of WTSU Choral groups, including Chorale and the New Day Singers. Coordinators of Pigskin Review also have planned a selection to introduce homecoming queen candidates, said Scott Herrington, a Department of Music faculty member and Pigskin Review coordinator.

Tickets are $2 for students and $4 for adults.

Following the Pigskin Review performance, students will form a parade to conclude at the bonfire site near the university police station and tennis courts on the eastern edge of campus. The group will stop at Old Main to observe the lighting of the building. A project of campus residence hall groups has been to obtain lighting to call attention to the campus cornerstone. The parade will continue to the bonfire site where stacks of wood will be lighted to blaze for the remainder of the evening. Three finalists in the homecoming queen competition will be announced and cheerleaders will lead the students in spirit activities.

Student Activities Council will sponsor a dance following the bonfire. The dance will be conducted outside the Activities Center.

Saturday morning's activities begin with the parade at 11 a.m. through downtown Canyon and campus. Float entries will be judged for first, second and third places on adherence to the theme "You're a Credit—WTSU" and creativity. Winning entries will be displayed by Frank Kimbrough Memorial Stadium during the football game.

Organizations and individuals on campus or in the area who want to enter the Homecoming parade may receive information from Capt. Eric Wooster of the WTSU Department of Military Science who coordinates the parade. Entries will be accepted at WT Box 746, Canyon, Texas, 79016.

The parade route begins in Canyon near the First National Bank, will proceed down Fourth Avenue and turn onto campus before ending at the Activities Center.

Barbecue with all the trimmings will be served from noon to 2 p.m. on the lawn area near Cornette Library. Bill May, assistant director of the Physical Plant, will coordinate the cooking of about 2,000 pounds of meat.

He said two cords of oak have been purchased and will be lighted about 12 hours before the meat is to be cooked. About 10 members of the Physical Plant staff will supervise the cooking. The meat will be cooked for four hours at a pit dug near Frank Kimbrough Memorial Stadium on the Canyon Expressway.

Members of Alpha Zeta agriculture honor society will set up chairs and tables and faculty members in the School of Agriculture and School of Business will serve the meat with trimmings provided by Marriott Inc., the campus food service. Dr. Jim Thompson, dean of the School of Agriculture, coordinates barbecue activities.

Tickets are $3 for students, $4 for adults and $2 for children younger than 12. WTSU students with meal cards will eat free.

Music during the barbecue will be provided in a free concert by the Mercy River Boys. The concert, sponsored by Student Activities Council, features the gospel and country group with four singers and five instrumentalists from the East Texas Piney Woods. They also will ride in the parade.

A brief ceremony at 1:45 p.m. will dedicate the new chimes at Joseph A. Hill Memorial Chapel on campus. Purchase of the chimes is a project of Buffalo Belles, campus spirit organization. The chimes were installed after an absence of about six years and will play a variety of selections each hour. Student organizations are raising funds to pay the purchase price.

Members of the WTSU Alumni Association will meet in annual session at 2 p.m. at the Activities Center. Members of the anniversary classes of 1933 and 1963 also have scheduled reunion activities.

The football game at 6 p.m. will continue traditional homecoming activities. The game at Frank Kimbrough Memorial Stadium is the first meeting between the WTSU Buffaloes and the Redbirds of Illinois State University. Tickets are $12 for chair seats, $11 for bench seats and $5 for general admission.

Halftime ceremonies will involve the WTSU marching band in a special show and the announcement of the WTSU Homecoming queen.

A dance following the game will be hosted by the residence halls at the Activities Center Ballroom.

Co-chairpersons of the Homecoming Committee are Dr. Allen Early, associate professor of economics, and Mary Hill, assistant professor of physical education.

AUSTIN—The Travis County grand jury last week indicted Texas Atty. Gen. Jim Mattox on a felony charge of commercial bribery, leaving him more tangled than ever in a snarl of legal problems.

If he is convicted, Mattox will have to resign, but he shows no signs of stepping down or aside while he resolves his legal troubles, even while other officeholders cry out that he must.

Admittedly, the persons most eager for the liberal Democrat's ouster are Republicans, and a small handful of Democrats have even flocked to his side. But a citizens group which lobbies for ethics legislation, Common Cause, has suggested Mattox simply step aside and let others fight the state's legal battles until he resolves his own.

Mattox, however, is not moving aside for anyone. On the day of his indictment, he told reporters he was set up by "Big Oil," more specifically Mobil Oil, and that he expects to be a hero when the smoke clears after he is found innocent.

To underscore his point, Mattox last week filed lawsuits and restraining orders against five Houston companies alleged to have price-gouged victims of Hurricane Alicia. Mattox said the hourly fee charged in the alleged gougings amounted to $1,800 an hour in some cases.

Legal Snarls

The gouging lawsuits are small potatoes compared to some of the legal battles which Mattox must expect to fight as the state's lawyer, among them the massive lawsuit involving the state, Clinton Manges and Mobil Oil for disputed oil lease payments. In fact, coming on the heels of Mattox's unpopular ban of some beachfront construction in hurricane-torn Galveston, the gouging lawsuits are simply good press for Mattox in that regard.

Mattox thinks he can beat the charge in time to clear up the state's legal docket. Other political skeptics believe that Mattox, whether he is the victim of big oil or his own big mouth, has shown mainly a proclivity for getting snarled deeper and deeper since he took office, and is likely to remain snarled for months to come.

Questions still unresolved are whether Mattox properly reported a $125,000 campaign loan, whether he illegally intervened in a lawsuit of a Galveston financier and in the awarding of an artificial turf contract by Texas Southern University, and whether he used state workers to conduct personal legal research.

The commercial bribery indictment is unusual, but is explained by the district attorney this way: "Mattox threatened to put Fulbright and Jaworski (Houston law firm) out of the bond business unless the firm stopped trying to question his sister." Mattox responded in his usual tough guy manner: he hopes the DA has the guts to try the flimsy case himself.

Briscoe Out

In the race for U.S. Senate, former Gov. Dolph Briscoe announced he would not run because of extended drought problems on his large ranching operation, but would support the entire Democratic ticket. The door is open for a Briscoe endorsement.

His departure brought sighs of relief from the two conservatives in the fray, Bob Krueger and Kent Hance, who didn't want to split that bloc with the influential Briscoe.

Gramm In?

Congressman Phil Gramm, the Democrat-turned-Republican boll weevil who crafted much of the White House's budget bill, is on the brink of entering the race. Gramm unveiled a finance committee list last week that read like a GOP Who's Who, including former Gov. Bill Clements, Eddie Chiles, Ray Hunt, Boone Pickens, Bum Bright, Bob Perry and Kay Bailey Hutchison. Talk is that with a list like that, Gramm has to go for it.

Meanwhile, a young Houston oilman, Robert Moshbacher Jr., formally announced as a Republican for that seat. Moshbacher, 32, is a former aide to Senate Majority Leader Howard Baker with ties to the Gerald Ford and George Bush factions.

Bob Bullock

Meanwhile, Comptroller Bob Bullock, who wants to run against Gov. Mark White in '86, says he will out DPS director Col. Jim Adams if he is elected. "I don't think he's (Adams) doing anything. Have you seen crime go down?"

Bullock also announced that legalized bingo has produced $2 million in revenue for local governments, according to his collection records.

Anniversary

Last Thursday marked the 50th anniversary of the repeal of prohibition on beer in Texas. Today, Texas is second only to Wisconsin in the production of beer, producing 16.7 million barrels a year.

Excise taxes collected in 1982 on the production, distribution and sale of beer in Texas amounted to $78 million in state revenues. In addition, $45 million is collected from a special gross receipts tax on some retailers and $100 million from the general sales tax.

Although state-wide repeal of beer prohibition is half-a-century-old, 74 counties are still totally "dry." In general, the southern half of the state is mostly "wet," while the northern and Panhandle regions are predominantly "dry."

Texas breweries are located in Houston, Fort Worth, Longview, San Antonio and Shiner.

Grace Gospel Church to host guest speaker

Ivan Tait, associated with Praise Ministries International, will speak Wednesday at 7 p.m. at Grace Gospel Church, 13th and Avenue K. Everyone is invited to attend, according to Pastor Evelyn Tallant.

Tait was rejected by his wealthy father at a very early age and was raised by his mother and grandmother in an environment filled with prejudice and degradation. He was exposed to superstition and witchcraft before turning to God when he was 17.

After several years of ministering in his home church, he and his family are now traveling world wide ministering with Praise Ministries International, an organization founded by Martin and Wileen Stephens who have been affiliated with the Camerons from Scotland.

He ministers in the revelation gifts giving scriptures and personal messages to individuals.

Ethel Logan discusses cabinet organization

Ethel Logan presented a program on "Kitchen Cabinet Organization" when members of Wyche Extension Homemakers Club met recently in her home.

She discussed the adjustment of cabinet height to suit the individual and suggested arranging utensils near the center of use. She also discussed various floor coverings available for use in the kitchen area.

Opening exercise was presented by Novella Hewitt. Fourteen members answered roll call with "Something beautiful I have seen today," and one visitor, Jacklyn Nikkel, was welcomed.

It was announced that the next meeting, on Oct. 6, will be held in the Lamar Room at King's Manor. Members will be celebrating the birthday of Mrs. Maude Richards, the club's adopted grandmother.

Several members attended a baby shower for Louise Walker, extension agent, at the Black House following the club meeting.

Women of St. Anthony's meet for salad supper

St. Anthony's Women's Organization met Thursday evening for a salad supper. At this first meeting of the 1983-84 year, the women made plans for the year's activities. Plans were discussed and approved.

Prayer pals were revealed, followed by announcement of the Deanery Council of Catholic Women's meeting, which will be held at the De Falco Retreat Center in Amarillo in November.

St. Anthony's Women's cookbooks are still available for $5 each. For information, contact Grace Paschel at 364-8604.

State party vice-chairman speaks at brunch

The vice-chairman of the Republican Party of Texas, Mrs. Diane Denman of San Antonio, was guest speaker at a brunch hosted by the Deaf Smith County Republican Women's Club on Saturday.

Mrs. Denman outlined the major interests of the Republican Party at the national and state levels—freedom from foreign interference in the governments of Central America and the establishment of a better rapport with our Latin American residents and neighbors.

her appreciation of the active support of the 9000 members of the Texas Federation of Republican Women. Mrs. Denman also serves on the Peace Corps Advisory Committee. She has recently been on a tour with President Ronald Reagan.

Other special guests from the Republican Party were Judy Torczon, district director of TFRW; Jim Brandon, district Republican committeeman; Peggy Brandon; and Garth Thomas, Deaf Smith County Republican chairman.

Mrs. Claudia McBryer and Mrs. Edwina Thomas served. The refreshment table carried out a red and white motif and offered cranberry juice, melon balls, cheese cream, streusel stick and coffee.

Irene Mullins registered guests and Jane White distributed pamphlets on the aims of the Republican Women's Federation. Nancy Josseland and Ruth Newsom were co-chairmen of the committee preparing the brunch.

HEALTH

Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

Diuretics and strokes

DEAR DR. LAMB - I had a stroke a year ago. My doctor told me to cut down my diuretic pill from one pill to a half pill a day. Shortly after that I got the stroke.

Please tell me if he should not have recommended this to me. Every day on TV they tell people not to stop taking the pills once they have started. Is this true?

Also, someone told me I should take aspirin every day. Would you advise this?

DEAR READER - Since strokes and heart attacks are unpredictable diseases, we never know when a patient may have one. And the occurrence usually has nothing to do with medicine. The probabilities are that you would have had a stroke despite continuing the same dosage of your diuretic.

Having said that, I must add that I am concerned about patients taking too much medicine. Diuretics work by washing out sodium and water from your body. That lowers blood pressure. It also decreases the blood volume and makes your blood more concentrated.

When you have less blood you may not be able to maintain a good blood flow to your brain. In that way diuretics could actually contribute to strokes. And there are studies that show that increasing the blood volume reverses the paralysis and findings of a stroke when this is done at the onset of the stroke.

Still other studies show that more concentrated blood may make circulation through small arteries more difficult. So the liberal use of diuretics in individuals susceptible to strokes may not always be wise. That is why I am delighted to see a swing to using other medications to control high blood pressure, such as the beta blockers and calcium blockers that do not affect blood volume or blood concentration.

I do not routinely recommend aspirin for strokes. Large doses of aspirin may even be harmful. You should let your doctor guide you on what is best for your case.

But I am sending you The Health Letter 16-6, What You Need To Know About Strokes, to give you more information. Others who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it to me, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

No, I do not agree that once you start blood pressure medicine you must take it for life. A recent study

Mines boost Poland's crippled economy

BYTOM, Poland (AP) - Sulphur-scented air hangs over this grim and grimy industrial city where miners work six days a week in an effort to boost coal production, the backbone of Poland's crippled economy.

The government is counting on revenues from coal exports to help repay Poland's $25 billion debt to Western banks and governments, and production, which dropped during the 1980-81 Solidarity upheaval, has climbed again, authorities say.

But miners claim that the gains have been made at a price - lower safety standards, dirty air, man-made "earthquakes" and mandatory work on Saturdays in violation of the government's promise, made three years ago, of a five-day work week.

The government says it is doing all it can to maintain safety and reduce the danger of tremors, and claims that "voluntary" work on Saturdays "is still a strategic necessity for Poland's economy."

The authorities have also boosted the salaries of the once militant miners to counter the living and working conditions in the sprawling Katowice industrial complex.

The area around Katowice, the capital of the southern province of Silesia, is a conglomeration of cities and towns with 3.6 million people living amid slag heaps and smoke stacks. Pollution coats the buildings, the garden plots, and the faces of the inhabitants with soot, especially in Bytom, a Katowice suburb with 240,000 inhabitants.

"We have slums," said Bytom Mayor Pawel Spyra in a rare concession from a Socialist official. Local residents put it more bluntly. "I want to get out of here. My building has cracks and I can't grow anything in my garden because of air pollution," said a steelworker who lives in the city center.

He said his building is shaken every two or three days by tremors caused by cave-ins in the 120 miles of mine tunnels underneath the city.

Another resident, a miner, said "If there is a strong tremor, we have to hold our furniture to keep it upright."

He also would leave Bytom, except for the higher wages, special shops that offer miners hard-to-get items, such as refrigerators, carpets and washing machines - and a law that blocks employees from leaving their workplaces without permission.

In 1982, 35 miners died in the Dymitrow Coal Mine, which lies directly under the city's central section. Seventeen others died as a result of tremors and 18 were killed in an underground gas explosion. In addition, a major tremor last October damaged more than 350 buildings in central Bytom.

The disasters prompted reviews of mining and building techniques, and no deaths have been reported from mine-related accidents this year.

Reviews are still under way, Spyra said, and city authorities claim to have redoubled efforts to make buildings safer and prevent further collapses.

The country's leader, Gen. Wojciech Jaruzelski, has underlined the need to preserve discipline in the mines by appointing two military officers to top administrative posts - Gen. Czeslaw Paszkowski as regional governor and Gen. Czeslaw Piotrowski as minister of mining.

Katowice, once a Solidarity stronghold, has been mostly quiet since the declaration of martial law on Dec. 13, 1981 which suspended the free trade union. The exception was an occupation strike in the Wujek Mine, four days after martial law was declared. Officials acknowledge that seven miners were killed during the incident.

Poland's coal production averaged about 200 million tons before the birth of Solidarity, but fell during the labor upheaval. Deputy Premier Zbigniew Szalajda said during a meeting with miners earlier this month. It cost Poland export earnings worth $610 million in 1980 and $795 million in 1981, he said.

But last year, after the military crackdown, output rose to nearly 190 million tons, and appears headed even higher this year.

Bytom city officials say that 90 percent of the miners work every Saturday and that 15 percent to 20 percent go to the mines on Sundays to do maintenance work. Workers are paid triple time on Saturdays and double time Sundays.

Miners claim that weekend work is not voluntary, that if they refuse to work one Saturday a month, they forfeit the right to work - and earn higher wages, on subsequent Saturdays. And they say they must work one Sunday a month or face disciplinary action.

Air pollution and man-made tremors also plague the area.

A visit to Katowice in June by a parliamentary delegation prompted the immediate closing of Bytom's worst polluter, a manufacturer of building materials, and provided the impetus for an environmental protection bill now being drafted, said Spyra.

The tremors began in the 1950s, the result of exploitation of the mines by German occupation forces during World War II and post-war production drives by the Socialist government, city officials say.

The damage to the crumbly sandstone lying under Bytom is already so severe, they say, that stopping coal production entirely and filling all the shafts would not eliminate the dangers.

The entrance way of the regional administrative building in central Katowice is shrouded with scaffolding to protect passers-by from materials shaken loose by tremors, and the city council chamber has been sealed off because of fear that its ceiling might fall.

4-H Recruitment Night scheduled this evening

By BRAD MORRISON
County Extension Agent

It's that time once again everyone!! Yes, it's our 1983-84 Recruitment Night. Make plans to attend this big night and try to start promoting 4-H at the start of this new school year. The most effective way to recruit new friends to 4-H is to invite friends to join.

We're asking that every 4-H'er bring at least one friend to the meeting to night. The 4-H'er with the most new 4-H Recruits will receive a prize and special recognition. So start talking up 4-H today!!

Recruitment Night is scheduled from 7 to 8 p.m. today at the Hereford Community Center Banquet Room.

The program for the evening will include an orientation, slide presentation, fun and games and a special session with new 4-H parents. Martha Couch, 4-H specialist, will also speak.

The schedule is as follows: 6:30 p.m. set-up, all clubs need to be present; 7 p.m. - registration (don't forget, the member with the most friends will receive a prize; 7:15 p.m. - program; 7:50 p.m. - parent orientation and fun for youth; 8 p.m. - sign up for clubs (this is for old 4-H members as well as new).

Educational programs conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service serve people of all ages regardless of socio-economic levels, race, color, sex, religion, or national origin.

YHT hints

In observance of Young Homemakers of Texas Week, the local chapter is providing these helpful hints to keep heating costs down during the winter months ahead.

-Set thermostat and forget it! Constantly changing the setting wastes fuel and adds to heating costs.

-If you are going away for the weekend, lower the thermostat to 60 degrees. If you are going on an extended vacation, turn it down to 55 degrees.

--Keep the fireplace damper closed when not in use, or block the fireplace opening with a removable cover. Otherwise, drafts will draw heat outside.

-Keep the doors closed to unused rooms and heating vents turned off.

-Heating outlets and return air grills should NOT be covered, even partially, by furniture.

Young Farmers Week Sept. 18-24

Young Farmers

The Hereford Young Farmers are joining with over 150 Young Farmer chapters across the state in observing Young Farmers Week in Texas Sept. 18-24, by proclamation of Governor Mark White.

Hereford's Young Farmer chapter is sponsored under the Hereford High School agriculture department and Monty Adams serves as the local chapter advisor. The Young Farmers Association is sponsored under the auspices of vocational agriculture departments in high schools across Texas and the Texas Education Agency.

Over 150 Young Farmer chapters have been organized in local school districts or on a countywide basis to carry out educational activities for the benefit of members and their communities.

Educational activities keep members abreast of the technological advances in the field of agriculture and help members develop greater efficiency and skill in management, production and marketing.

In designating Young Farmer Week, Gov. White pointed out that Young Farmers incorporate in their planned chapter programs civic and community service projects and leadership activities that are designed to improve their communities, state and nation.

"Through these efforts Texas Young Farmers are helping to strengthen the economy of our country and are promoting good citizenship," says White.

There are 10 area associations of Young Farmers, each having a program which supplements local chapter activities. Ray Schlabs, Jr. of Hereford serves as the president for the Area I association while Rick Hales, also of the Hereford chapter, is Area I vice president.

Over 30 HYF members are part of the overall membership of 3,500 in the State Association of Young Farmers.

Among the Hereford chapter's educational and community service functions are the annual Hereford Young Farmers junior livestock show held each January. The show is open to 4-H and FFA youth from a four-county area and provides a learning format for local youth with livestock projects.

The HYF chapter also presents a scholarship to a Hereford High School senior planning to study agriculture in college. The scholarship presentation is an annual function of the chapter.

Hereford's chapter will host the Area I field day for Young Farmer members this year and other functions of the local chapter planned for the final months of this year include a fundraising turkey shoot and a fundraising pheasant hunt, which will help to supplement production of the stock show.

Officers of the local Young

Farmers chapter include Gerald Marnell, president; Dennis Schilling, vice president; Toby Turpen, secretary; Tom Schlabs, treasurer; Jeff Mercer, parliamentarian; and Jim Steiert, reporter.

The Young Farmer program in Texas had its origin in clubs formed by FFA alumni. These clubs met in 1954 and formed the State Association of Young Farmers of Texas. Membership is open to anyone, age 18-35, in farming, ranching or other phases of agriculture.

Royal birth next year? It's anybody's guess

LONDON (AP) — It's most popular guessing game in Britain: is Princess Diana expecting her second baby or isn't she?

One London newspaper says she is, another says she isn't and the one person who knows for sure isn't saying. So, did the 22-year-old princess, as widely reported, slip away from the royal retreat in Scotland on Sept. 4 for a secret visit with her gynecologist in London? Did she then break the happy news to the royal family, which celebrated with champagne?

These are questions Britons have been asking for the past two weeks. And the answers vary in the press.

On Monday, The Sun, Britain's best-selling newspaper, assured its 4 million readers that the whole thing is a mistake. "Princess Di Is Not Pregnant, Says Aide," ran a headline.

The story underneath it read: "Reports that she is expecting her second baby in April were dismissed as 'rubbish' and 'pure speculation' by her personal press secretary, Victor Chapman." He said no such thing, Buckingham Palace spokeswoman Sarah Brennan told The Associated Press.

"I can tell you he didn't make those quotes," she said. "If they asked him, he would have said what we have been saying all along — and that is that an announcement will be made if the princess is pregnant. But that doesn't mean she is."

Chapman himself couldn't be reached to set the record straight. He was at Balmoral Castle with Diana, her husband Prince Charles, 15-month-old Prince William, Queen Elizabeth II and other members of the royal family.

Back at The Sun, a man on the news desk said the paper stood by its report.

"As a journalist involved in the story, I say we talked to him yesterday (Sunday) as he was leaving church with the princess," said the man, who would not allow his name to be used. But did Chapman say she wasn't pregnant?

"Of course he did," the man answered. "That's what we quoted him as saying. What do you think we are here?"

This follows an "exclusive report" Saturday in the Daily Mirror, The Sun's biggest rival with 3.4 million readers. It said Diana revealed she was pregnant during a royal dinner party at Balmoral after returning from a visit with Dr. George Pinker, the London gynecologist who delivered William on June 21, 1982.

"The royal family was delighted and called for champagne to celebrate," the Mirror quoted "palace sources" as saying. "There was a lot of kissing at the same time."

The Mirror said palace press officers have not been told of the pregnancy to spare Diana, for as long as possible, the kind of publicity that preceded William's birth.

Reagan aide says, Yes, 'border aid' is coming

EL PASO, Texas (AP) — The Reagan Administration has stood by its claim that a $95 million loan guarantee given to a Houston company is "border aid," even though Global Marine Inc. only may spend $14 million along the impoverished border.

"We are satisfied that the money is applicable to the border... the entire amount," Vice President George Bush's press aide, Meredith Armstrong, said Monday.

The federal Maritime Administration's guarantee will cover 75 percent of $126 million in bonds that Global Marine plans to sell to private investors, said Wilbur Martin, a spokesman for the U.S. Department of Transportation. The Maritime Administration is part of that department.

Global sought the guarantee in 1979 for bonds to finance construction of three rigs in Pascagoula, Miss.

Last week, Armstrong included the $94.8 million guarantee in an announcement that the administration had expedited $101 million in aid applications for border communities in four states.

She said the money will pay for building a heavy-weather drilling rig at the Marathon-LeTourneau shipyard in Brownsville, Texas, and will employ 500 workers.

Company executives with Global said the company only has a 20 percent, or $14 million, share of the $70 million rig

"probably won't" spend any bond money in Brownsville, the El Paso Times reported Sunday.

The company "can put it in our general coffers because that's where it came from in the first place," he said.

The money will help finance Global's overall operation, including construction of six deep-water rigs in France, Finland and Singapore, DeWinter said Friday.

Global has no other major construction projects underway or planned, he said.

However, Global vice president Dick Vermeer said Monday that the "bond money will not be used for construction outside the U.S."

"That financing has already been arranged," Vermeer said, referring to the six overseas rigs that will cost Global more than $300 million.

The Brownsville project "is not part of the government (financing) program," but Global's 20 percent share in that $70 million rig largely depended upon the Maritime Administration's guarantee on the bonds, he said.

"I doubt the company would have gone forward without that funding," Vermeer said.

That assessment contradicts DeWinter, who said Global "would probably build that rig anyway."

Ms. Armstrong said she understood Global would spend all of the money in Brownsville when she made the border aid announcement last week. She said she based her announcement on information from Martin at the transportation department.

"This was the amount Global asked us to finance," Martin said. "We didn't ask Global if you're going to spend every nickel in Brownsville."

Nonetheless, he said he would not quarrel with the administration describing the entire $94.8 million financial guarantee as "border aid."

"It went to this company, but I don't expect all of it to be spent on the border. It was part of the package," he said.

Although El Paso has not received any "expedited" aid since President Reagan announced the border aid policy Aug. 13, Armstrong said Saturday that El Paso might be included on a list the administration would release Monday.

The scheduled announcement, however, was canceled.

PUBLIC NOTICE

BRIEF EXPLANATORY STATEMENTS OF PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS

SPECIAL ELECTION NOVEMBER 8, 1983

PROPOSITION NO. 1 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 91 proposes a constitutional amendment which requires a county with a population of 30,000 or more to be divided into not less than four nor more than eight justice of the peace precincts. A county with a population of 18,000 or more but less than 30,000 shall be divided into not less than two nor more than five justice of the peace precincts. A county with a population of less than 18,000 shall be designated as a single justice of the peace precinct or, upon a finding of necessity by the commissioners court, shall be divided into more than one justice of the peace precinct but not more than four. The amendment provides further, that in any precinct in which there is a city with a population of 18,000 or more, two justices of the peace shall be elected. The amendment allows a justice of the peace, constable or commissioner to continue in office until the expiration of his term, although a change in precinct boundaries results in the officer no longer being a resident of the precinct for which he was elected or appointed and allows a justice of the peace or constable to continue in office until the expiration of his term even though a change in precinct boundaries results in the abolishment of the precinct or more than one justice of the peace or constable serving the precinct. Vacancies in the office of justice of the peace or constable that result from a precinct boundary change shall be filled by the commissioners court until the next general election. The amendment would take effect on January 1, 1984, and counties with populations of less than 30,000 and with more than four justice of the peace and constable precincts would have until January 1, 1987 to comply with the amendment.

PROPOSITION NO. 3 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 1 proposes a constitutional amendment that authorizes the Legislature to enact legislation that permits representative associations of agricultural producers to collect refundable assessments on their product sales to be used solely to finance programs of marketing, promotion, research and education relating to those products. It provides, further, that adoption of the proposed constitutional amendment will bring into effect Senate Bill 607, Acts of the 68th Legislature, Regular Session, 1983, with rejection of the amendment resulting in Senate Bill 607 having no effect.

The proposed constitutional amendment will appear on the ballot as follows: "The constitutional amendment providing for the advancement of food and fiber production and marketing in this state through research, education, and promotion, financed by the producers of agricultural products."

PROPOSITION NO. 4 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 30 proposes a constitutional amendment which authorizes the Legislature to enact laws to provide for the succession of members of the Legislature in the event of enemy attack and allows the suspension of procedural rules imposed by the Constitution in the event of, or immediate threat of, enemy attack. The amendment empowers the Governor, after consultation with the Speaker of the House and the Lieutenant Governor, to suspend the constitutional requirement that the Legislature hold its sessions in Austin and allows the suspension of procedural rules by the Governor issuing a proclamation in which the House of Representatives and Senate concur by resolution approved by a majority of the members present. Suspension of the constitutional rules may not exceed a period of two years under a single proclamation; however, the Governor may renew the suspension by issuing a new proclamation concurred in by the House of Representatives and the Senate through a resolution approved by a majority of the members present. The amendment will appear on the ballot as follows: "The constitutional amendment authorizing statutory provisions for succession of public office during disasters caused by enemy attack, and authorizing the suspension of certain constitutional rules relating to legislative procedure during those disasters or during immediate threat of enemy attack."

PROPOSITION NO. 5 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 12 proposes a constitutional amendment that authorizes the Legislature to enact legislation providing for the use of the permanent school fund and income from the permanent school fund to guarantee bonds issued by school districts. The amendment provides, further, that the Legislature may appropriate part of the available school fund for administration of the permanent school fund or of a bond guarantee program established pursuant to the amendment.

The constitutional amendment will appear on the ballot as follows: "The constitutional amendment authorizing use of the permanent school fund to guarantee bonds issued by school districts."

PROPOSITION NO. 6 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 1 proposes a constitutional amendment which would permit the Legislature to provide for the garnishment of wages to enforce court-ordered child support payments. The garnishment remedy would not be available for other purposes.

PROPOSITION NO. 7 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 14 proposes a constitutional amendment that authorizes the Veterans' Land Board to provide for, issue, and sell general obligation bonds of the State of Texas in an amount not to exceed $800 million to provide financing to veterans of the state. The amendment requires that three hundred million dollars of the state bonds be dedicated to the Veterans' Land Fund. The Fund is to be used to purchase land to be sold to veterans under such terms, rules and regulations as may be authorized by law. The amendment creates the Veterans' Housing Assistance Fund and requires that $500 million of the state bonds authorized by the amendment be dedicated to the Fund. The Veterans' Housing Assistance Fund will be utilized by the Veterans' Land Board for the purpose of making home mortgage loans to veterans for housing within the state and for the administrative costs of administering the fund and issuing the bonds. The amendment provides, further, that if there is not money in either the Veterans' Land Fund or the Veterans' Housing Assistance Fund available for payment of principal and interest on the general obligation bonds issued pursuant to the amendment, then money coming into the Treasury in each fiscal year is appropriated in an amount sufficient for payment of principal and interest due in that fiscal year.

The proposed constitutional amendment will appear on the ballot as follows: "The constitutional amendment for financial assistance to veterans and to authorize the issuance of $800 million in bonds of the state to finance the Veterans' Land Program and the Veterans' Housing Assistance Program."

PROPOSITION NO. 8 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 1 proposes a constitutional amendment that authorizes political subdivisions to exempt veterans' organizations from ad valorem taxation on their property. The amendment requires that the veterans' organizations be chartered by the United States Congress, be composed of members or former members of the United States Armed Forces, and be organized for patriotic and public service purposes. The amendment provides, further, that political subdivisions may exempt fraternal organizations from ad valorem taxation on their property. The amendment requires that the fraternal organizations be organized to perform and be primarily engaged in charitable or benevolent functions. The Legislature would be authorized to enact laws that prescribe eligibility requirements for fraternal organizations to benefit from the exemption and to pass legislation limiting the types or amount of property owned by a fraternal organization which may be exempted from ad valorem taxation.

PROPOSITION NO. 9 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 70 proposes a constitutional amendment to authorize the Legislature to provide, by local or general law, a method by which judges of statutory courts with probate jurisdiction may be assigned to any other statutory court with probate jurisdiction and to any constitutional county court in any county in the state.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows: "The constitutional amendment providing for assignment of judges of statutory probate courts to other statutory county courts with probate jurisdiction and to county courts."

PROPOSITION NO. 10 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 17 proposes a constitutional amendment that authorizes the Legislature to enact laws which would allow a city or town to expend public funds to relocate or replace sanitation sewerage laterals on private property if done in conjunction with the replacement or relocation of sanitation sewer mains serving the property. The amendment requires that the law authorize the city or town to affix a lien on the private property, with the consent of the owner, to cover the costs of the replacement or relocation of the sewer laterals on the property. The lien may not be enforced until five years have expired since the date the lien was affixed. The amendment provides, further, that the law require that the costs of the replacement or relocation of the sewer laterals on the private property be assessed against the property with repayment to be amortized over a period not to exceed five years and at an interest rate provided by law.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows: "The constitutional amendment to permit a city or town to expend public funds and levy assessments for the relocation or replacement of sanitation sewer laterals on private property."

PROPOSITION NO. 11 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 13 proposes a constitutional amendment that would change the Board of Pardons and Paroles from a constitutional agency to a statutory agency and would eliminate the Governor's power to revoke paroles. The Legislature would be authorized to establish the Board of Pardons and Paroles and to require it to maintain records of its actions and the reasons for its actions. The amendment would empower the Legislature to enact parole laws. Constitutional language specifying the qualifications and terms of office for members of the Board of Pardons and Paroles is eliminated. The constitutional language governing the composition of the Board of Pardons and Paroles and the manner of filling vacancies on the Board is eliminated.

PROPOSITION NO. 9 ON THE BALLOT

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows: "The constitutional amendment to give the board power to revoke paroles."
