Winds, Hail Hit Eastern Deaf Smith

Heavy wind and hard hail ripped into crops in the northeast part of Deaf Smith County Tuesday night causing some damage.

ONLY TWO REPORTS on damage were available Wednesday morning. Ted Hardwick, 22 miles northeast of Hereford, said: "I had enough hail to cover the ground. The hail didn't hurt anything but the wind ruined my cotton that was just coming up."

Joe Henry, 26 miles northeast, reported heavy hail damage to his wheat crop. No other farmers in that vicinity could be contacted. The crop-damaging winds and hail were part of a noisy thunder and lightning storm which covered most of the county throughout Tuesday night.

Lightning is believed to have caused a fire at a home at 117 Catalpa shortly before midnight Tuesday. Fire Chief Earl Phillips said he thinks lightning struck electrical wires leading into the house, causing fire in the attic. Damage was restricted to one room and the attic.

Clay Angelo measured .08 of an inch of rain in town but .45 was gauged just west of town. Carl Wimberley at Dawn reported .06. Other areas had no rain.

Bright flashes of lightning and artillery-like thunder disturbed the sleep of folks in town and country.

Old Timers Gather For Annual Event

Several hundred Deaf Smith county pioneers are expected to begin registering at 9 a.m. today for the annual Mid-Plains Pioneer Day in Jim Hill Hotel lobby.

Because of a new ruling passed by the organization's board last year, far more "pioneers" are expected to register this year than at any other time in the past. The new ruling allows anyone who has lived in the county at least 30 years to be eligible.

AT REGISTRATION, pioneers will be given ribbons designating their length of time in the county. Ribbons will have 30, 40, 50 and 60 year figures on them. Registration will be overseen by the B&PW Club. Greetings and information will be under the direction of the Overstreet Class; members of the first graduating class of Hereford High School. Refreshments will be served until meeting time.

Highlight of the day will be a basket lunch on the south court house lawn. Each family of pioneers is expected to bring its own lunch, but complete facilities such as soft drinks and coffee, tables, chairs plates and cups furnished by the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce. The basket lunch is under the direction of Mrs. Matt Gilliland, Ezra Norton and their committee.

Should weather be bad, according to officials, the lunch will be held in the ball room of the Jim Hill Hotel.

At the annual business meeting, slated to begin at 10 a.m. in the hotel ballroom, several topics are to be discussed, according to president of the organization, Mrs. Henry F. Neely.

Mrs. Neely is to call the meeting to order, invocation by Rev. Gilbert Davis of the First Christian Church, welcome by Chamber of Commerce manager Bill Lenderman and response by George V. Stambaugh.

Election of new officers is to take place, as well as recognition and introductions, discussion on the historical project, and guest speaker will be Marlin Gilliland. The afternoon has been reserved for visitation of friends and visitors, and will be held on the court house lawn or in the ballroom.

The day of pioneer gathering here has attracted 200 to 300 old folks each year, and has gained in popularity annually. Each year old timers have traveled from as far as Canada, Mexico, California and other distant points, just for the one-day association with old friends.

A display of relics and heirlooms of the past will be on exhibit in the Chamber of Commerce conference room from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. by the Deaf Smith Historical Club, representing the county Texas Historical Survey Committee.

Last year the display attracted nearly 1,000 people, and contents this year are expected to far exceed the one put on in 1957.

Three Resign Police Dept.

Resignations of three Hereford police officers have been accepted this month by Chief Henry Aycock. Two replacements have been hired.

Quitting the force were Capt. Morris Brown, who has gone to work in Amarillo, Patrolman Dale Wanderscheid and Patrolman Rex Cowart. Cowart's resignation is effective June 1.

Joining the force as replacements will be Roy Bevers, 37, of Canyon and Vernon Wheatley, 40, of Amarillo. Both men have had experience with the Amarillo Police Department.

Yanks Hold Lead With 9-4 Victory

THE YANKEES solidified their hold on first place in the Little League Tuesday night by defeating the Dodgers, 9-4.

In winning, the Yanks retained their full game lead over the Cardinals. The Yankees have four wins and no losses and the Cards are 3-1.

Monday night, the Cardinals thrashed the Giants, 10-3, banging out 19 hits in the process. Saturday night, in a game moved from Friday because of graduation exercises, the Giants downed the Dodgers, 8-4.

In minor league play the Giants defeated the Dodgers, 12-10, Saturday; the Giants whipped the Cardinals, 16-10, Monday, and the MEMORIAL DAY SERVICES—Memorial Day services will be held tomorrow at 9 a.m. at Veterans Memorial Park, with Rev. Gilbert Davis giving invocation and Earnest Langley as guest speaker. A special invitation has been issued by the Veterans of Foreign Wars and American Legion to all Gold Star Mothers, requesting them to attend and present a wreath on the memorial monument. Legion members will decorate veteran graves, as they do annually, for the day. Free coffee and doughnuts will be served by the Auxiliary between 8 and 9 a.m. at the park. (Staff Photo)

Dawn Co-op Adds New Grain Storage

A new storage building owned by the Dawn Co-op is being contracted by A and S Steel Co. of Amarillo and will cost approximately $60,000.

The building is an all steel construction with concrete floors. Floor space is 100 X 160 feet, and has 16,000 square feet. The storage capacity of the building is approximately 300,000 bushels.

The building will be finished between June 10 to 15.

This new structure will be used for milo which will be moved from other storage units, Co-op authorities say. In August, machinery will be installed to unload the fall milo crop in.

The total storage capacity for the Co-op is 800,000 bushels. This new unit will hold a little less than all the steel bins combined and some more than the other steel storage building.

A drier has been installed by the dump which will handle 1,000 bushels an hour.

Ray Polan, manager of the Dawn Co-op, says they "have plenty of storage to take care of the wheat in this area."

Kathryn McClain is Stanton Valedictorian

Kathryn McClain, daughter of Mrs. Vinita McClain of Dawn, was announced as valedictorian of the Stanton Junior High School eighth grade class at graduation ceremonies in Hereford High School auditorium Tuesday afternoon. Lavonne Thompson was named salutatorian.

Receiving special awards were Randy Dowell and Donna Rogers, who were presented with certificates awarded by the American Legion, and Walker Parris was named receiver of the Citizenship Award.

All honor students names were kept secret until ceremonies, and none of the 189 graduates were aware of who would be named. W. C. Quattlebaum, Stanton principal, said only one point separated the scholastic standings of the valedictorian and salutatorian. American Legion Award winners were chosen by members of the faculty, and the student body voted on the receiver of the Citizenship Award.

Mack Casler made the memorial presentation to principal Quattlebaum. The award this year was a cash fund for the purchase of a School flag, designed by members of the class.

Earnest Langley, local attorney, was guest speaker on the program. Processional and recessional music was furnished by Mrs. Howard Scott. Invocation was by Paul McClung of Dawn, welcome by David Scott and benediction by Gilbert Davis. Presentation of the class was made by L. L. Chisum and Quattlebaum awarded diplomas.

Special music was furnished by the Junior High Girls Chorus, directed by Don Moore.

Some 800 people attended the ceremonies, which was followed by a reception at the Jim Hill Hotel in honor of the graduates.

PIONEER VISITS

Claude Witherspoon of Mineral Wells is visiting his cousin, Vern Witherspoon, for the Pioneer Day holidays. It was Claude Witherspoon who helped pioneer this country, moving here in 1893.

PIONEER DAY VISITOR

Mrs. Catherine Rice from Fort Worth is visiting her sister, Mrs. J. B. Elliston, during the Pioneer Day celebrations. Mrs. Rice moved to this country in 1902 and left in the 1930's.

Hundreds Are Expected To Watch Parade

A GIANT PARADE at 3 p.m. down Main Street today will kick off the general public's portion of the annual Deaf Smith County Pioneer Days, which will run through Saturday with rodeo performances and dances each evening.

Eight, and possibly nine, horse riding organizations will highlight the parade, and will be joined by bands from Hereford High School, Stanton Junior High, Amarillo Air Force Base and Cannon Air Force Base of Clovis.

Featured attraction will be a convertible containing the "Most Courteous Salesman and Saleswoman" of Hereford, as selected by secret voting and a five-person secret committee. They are L. Z. "Cap" Oldham and Louise Ferguson. The contest was sponsored by the Hereford Boosters.

RIDING CLUBS in the parade will be Dalhart XIT Rangers, Castro County Sheriff's Posse, Cochran County Sheriff's Posse, Will Rogers Range Riders of Amarillo, Will Rogers All-Girl Mounted Quadrille, Fritch Saddle Club, Idalou Roping Club, Hereford Riders Club and possibly the Hale County Sheriff's Posse of Plainview.

The Hereford Riders Club will present trophies to the top three judged riding entries in the parade.

Stock for the three rodeo performances, which will start each evening at 8 p.m., is furnished this year by Morris Stevens of Silverton. The stock, considered by Harold Beauchamp, president of the Hereford Riders Club, to be very good this year, arrived Tuesday evening.

Norman Brooks of Wichita Falls will be clown for the rodeo. One of his many acts is an exploding car, which promises to afford some good entertainment for the entire family.

Beauchamp said he was looking for a large entry list in each of the rodeo events. "By Tuesday evening," he said, "we already had 15 entries in the bare back event, 12 in bull riding and eight ropers. There will be a lot more than that by tonight, especially in the roping event."

An amateur rodeo this year, as last year, belt buckles will be presented to high-point averagers in each event of the rodeo. Beauchamp said. They are donated by Truly Insurance, Jeff's '66' Service Station, McCullough Motor Co., Jim Hill Hotel and Hereford Riders Club.

One trophy will be presented in the rodeo. The fastest single time in the girls barrel race will receive it.

Six Indicted by Grand Jury; Seven No-Billed

The Deaf Smith County grand jury Tuesday returned six indictments and seven no-bills during a special session.

Daniel Garcia and Joe Perez Galindo were indicted for the April 22 beating and robbing of Earnest (Fatty) Brown, 79.

Jimmy Adrian Waitf, 28, of Hereford was indicted for the May 6 burglary of Neill's Body Shop.

Three men, Antonio Reynosa, Carlos Padillo and Esmuel Lucero, were indicted for child desertion.

Garcia, 26, and Galindo, 31, were arrested in Plainview the same night Brown was robbed. Brown identified the two men as his assailants.

Brown was robbed of a shotgun, three watches, two hats, two coats and two razors.

Garcia is an escapee from the U. S. Public Service Hospital in Fort Worth. He was serving a five-year term for dope addiction. He is from LaQuente, Calif., and Galindo is from Plainview.

BOTH MEN are in jail in lieu of $10,000 bond each.

Waitf, the burglary suspect, is free on $1,000 bond. S. J. Dyer, Chris Clark and J. B. Roberts were no-billed on defrauding by worthless check charges; Doyle Lee and Jimmy Merritt were no-billed on burglary counts, and Natividad Martinez and Lasaro Jimenez were cleared of child desertion charges.

MOST COURTEOUS WINNERS—Louise Ferguson of Harman's and L. Z. "Cap" Oldham of Cooper's Market were named today as winners of the "Most Courteous Saleswoman and Salesman" in Hereford, as result of both public voting and study by a secret five-man committee. Runners up were Cawthon Bryant of Piggly Wiggly and Jewel May of Cooper's. Other finalists were Jim Cassels of Cooper's, Opal Merrill of Piggly Wiggly, Clara May of Penney's and Mary Newman of Safeway. Winners will be featured in today's parade down Main Street. The contest was sponsored by Hereford Boosters. (Staff Photos)

Robbery In Adrian

LACK OF CLUES is hampering the investigation of an armed robbery of the Briggs 66 Service station in Adrian, according to Oldham County Sheriff Day Thompson.

The station was robbed of $140 to $150 by a young couple about 5:20 a.m. Tuesday.

Law enforcement officers from Deaf Smith County — including city police, sheriff's officers and the highway patrol — joined in a search for the couple Tuesday but no arrests were made.

While the woman held a 38-pistol on attendant George Bates, the young man tied Bates with an electric cord and put him in a rest room. They then took the money from the cash register.

Bates managed to stumble out of the rest room and was freed by a tourist.

BATES DESCRIBED the woman as being about 19 with brown hair and wearing a green blouse and men's trousers.

The man was described as about 21, 5-10, about 150 pounds and wearing a blue suit. They are believed to be traveling in a 1950 two-door green Oldsmobile.

Report Burglary

Approximately 300 feet of copper wire valued at $30 was stolen from an Arrow Electric Co. truck over the weekend. The truck was parked at the new First National Bank building, Third and Main. The lock was cut off the vehicle. Police are investigating.

Down through the years, the usually long Santa Fe trains have been a topic of discussion in this area. Many people, despite the fact that they often get tied up 15 to 20 minutes at crossings, maintain a certain amount of pride concerning the 100-car monsters which haul freight on the line.

These days we have a new situation, however, and several people have commented on the little "one engine, one car" affair which systematically travels back and forth each day through Hereford. Behind the little train lies quite a story which, oddly enough, summarizes some of the problems which these days are giving our roads so much trouble. The little train is an outgrowth of the one proud and glorified "Grand Canyon Limited." Its existence can be attributed to red tape, which Santa Fe hopes it is strictly temporary, chiefly because it is costing the line a pretty penny every 24 hours.

Due to a lot of reasons, Santa Fe petitioned to eliminate the Grand Canyon limited from its schedules. Right now, things are in the mill, but Texas Railroad Commission has not released the Texas run between Farwell and Higgins. The rules say that Santa Fe must make the run, so they are meeting technical requirements with the dinky train which turns around in Farwell, returns to Higgins and goes on to Shattuck, Okla., where it turns around and, once again, makes the return trip.

Day real service in the area is being provided by the new "San Francisco Chief," which is one of the line's finest. This train stops twice daily in Hereford, offering

White Sox Tap Tigers 22-11 In Pony Opener

Opening the Pony League in a rousing fashion, the White Sox pounded the Tigers, 22-11, Monday night at the field in Veterans Park. The White Sox parlayed 12 hits and 16 Tiger errors into their runs, scoring seven in the second and seventh frames.

Tuesday night's match between the Indians and Red Sox was called off after four innings because of high winds and dust. Since the game had not gone the necessary five innings to make it official, it will be completed later. The Indians were leading, 4-2, when the game was halted.

Neal Lueb, White Sox rightfielder, clouted a long homer on the left field wall to drive in three runs during the Sox' big second inning.

The Tigers almost caught the winners in the fourth inning, cutting the lead to 11-10, but the White Sox added two runs in the fifth and sixth and then wrapped it up with seven more in the top of the seventh.

Roger Albracht hurled the win for the Sox. Joe Mack Hale started for the Tigers and was replaced by Randy Dowell in the fourth inning.

did a real good job. One of his quotes especially appealed to me. Earnest said:
"You can't control the length of your life, but you can control the width and the depth."

Two weeks ago, The Brand prematurely announced the opening of the new Baptist Church elementary building. Last Sunday, the Amarillo News came along and prematurely announced the opening date for May 25.

"Now, I am so confused that I hesitate to announce the opening myself," Rev. Howard Scott, pastor, told the congregation, "but I am fairly sure it will be held Sunday, June 1."

Things are all set for the big rodeo this weekend, according to Harold Beauchamp, Riders Club top man. This will be the seventh annual rodeo — if it doesn't get rained out. Leo Forrest says this one will be a "dilly." Remember the dates, May 29-30-31.

There is a lot of talk about putting on a big vegetable celebration here during the summer. Some people figure that they should move back the rodeo, incorporate the Lions carnival and pick up some other loose ends to make the event a memorable one. It could be done, too, but it will take a lot of work and, these days, hard workers seem mighty scarce. As George Goebel says, "They just don't make that kind no more."

Beauty At Home

Q. What is a good, external treatment I can give to hair that is very oily?
A. Shampoo this kind of hair oftener, and also brush it oftener. Brushing carries the oil to the very tips of the hair where it belongs, away from the scalp where it clogs. Treat yourself to a vigorous massage before each shampoo. You have oily hair because, the tiny oil glands are working overtime, and massage and brushing will help to regulate them.
Q. Please suggest a method for removing blackheads from the skin.

Teacher Heading for Safari

SEATTLE (AP) — It pays to be a good schoolteacher these days. Pretty Billie-Marie Gannon, 22-year-old junior high school teacher, can testify to that. Because she's such a good teacher she's going to have an adventure beyond her wildest dreams this summer. As winner of a national contest conducted under supervision of the National Education Association, Billie is going on an African safari. Says she:

"I'm really orbiting over this—doing loop-the-loops through space! Who ever said school teaching was dull?"

Miss Gannon's trip will include stops in New York, Brussels, Paris and Rome as well as Kenya, Tanganyika, Uganda, Sudan and Egypt. The climax will be a climb to the peak of Mount Mtlimanjaro to search for the tomb of King Menelek, son of Solomon and the Queen of Sheba. She will be accompanied by John Goddard, African explorer and a member of the faculty of Brigham Young University, whose wife also will be a member of the expedition.

Currently Goddard is overseeing Billie's preparations for her great adventure. These include swimming lessons at a Seattle club, shots for everything from tetanus to typhus and a daily stint of walking, to get her in condition for the 20 miles a day she will be hiking in Africa.

He also is advising her on clothes and equipment which will be needed for the safari as well as the stops in big cities. This must include city clothes and cocktail dresses as well as such things as mountain boots, waterproof parka, bush hat, mountain cap, bush jacket, khaki slacks and swim suit.

Everything will be easily washable. Dresses will be of permanent-finish nylon. And it all has to go in one large bag and one overnight case of light-weight aluminum, total weight not to exceed 60 pounds.

Up to now Billie has lived in Seattle with her parents, and never has traveled more than 200 miles from home. The start of her adventurous trip will be her first airplane flight.

Billie won over 1,500 finalists in a teacher awards program open to all elementary, junior high and high school teachers throughout the country. Her trip is one of 31 travel awards offered by the "Bold Journey" television program. The trips are educational tours planned and supervised by the National Education Association. And the reason she won? Say the judges: "Her ability to open a window on the world for her students."

AS GOOD A PLACE AS ANY NORTH LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Four-year-old Mark Andrews caused an awkward silence when he asked his parents before some dinner guests: "Where did I come from to the hospital?" Getting no answer, he said, "Oh well, we'll look it up in the Book of Knowledge."

Q. What can you tell me about the use of perfume?
A. Most perfumes are effective when worn on the skin, and when used imaginatively. Touch the stopper to your brows, the tips of your ears, the curve of your throat, and in the bend of your elbows. Try sprinkling a drop on your hairbrush to impart fragrance to your tresses. Perfume the shoulder pads of your dresses. Drop a piece of perfume-saturated cotton in your suit pocket. Regard your perfume as something intimate and personal — and use it that way.
Q. Will you please suggest a good dressing for dry and lifeless-looking hair?
A. Mix a little baby oil containing lanolin with a few drops of water.

EXHUMING TRIP SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Dr. Jesse D. Jennings recently led a 10-man party on a 150-mile trip down the Colorado River, but the jaunt wasn't for pleasure.

Dr. Jennings, head of the anthropology department at the University of Utah, made the trip as part of a long-range project to salvage remains of prehistoric Utah dwellers from an area that eventually will be submerged by waters of Glen Canyon Dam.

Then he drove away, the still on the roof. When last seen he was at other motorists who were ing horns and pointing to of his car.

SPECIAL DELIVERY PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — A woman motorist in Phoenix was aiming to get a passenger in her car close enough to put some letters in a sidewalk mail box.

Pauline Koukakis' car jumped the curb, hit the mailbox, then bounced into the side of the post office building.

DUSTY—V. D. Powell, 105 Douglas St., points to very tiny dead insects believed to have come from grown over by volunteer alfalfa. The insects are so small they can be seen only through window screens and small cracks around the house. Up in arms over the invasion, residents have called for a type of poison in reserve for the battle, and are afraid of slow but fatal results. (Staff Photo)

Does the interior of your car sometimes look like a sand-trap combined with a rat's nest—with just a little touch of children's playground? Most cars get that way at one time or another... especially where there are kids and pets. If so, come in and be "whisked."

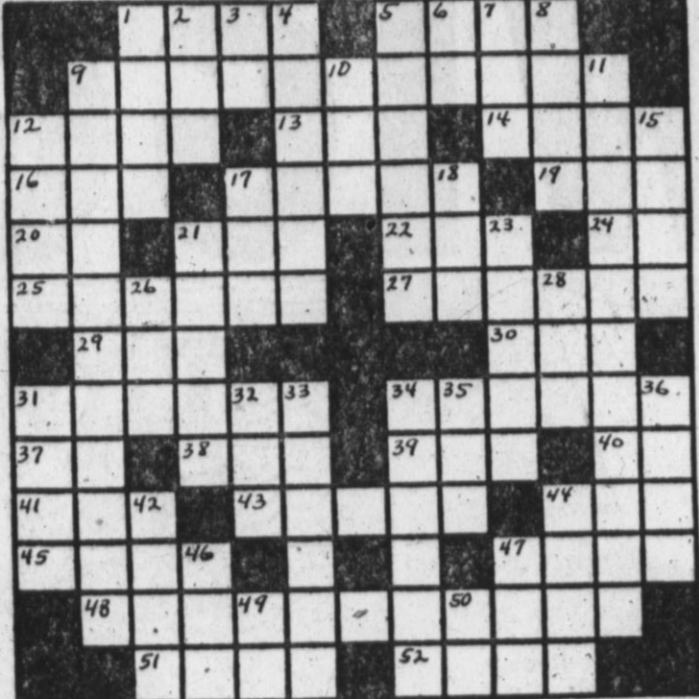

Whiskbrooming your car's interior so it is spick and span is just one of the little "extras" you can expect when you drive in to a Phillips 66 Station.

Another service your Phillips 66 Dealer will gladly perform is to clean your windows all the way around!

MEMO TO ADVERTISERS

for advertising, too!

What a fix we'd all be in without those standards of measurement for the goods you buy and sell. Imagine the confusion, waste and doubt in business transactions if we didn't have accepted standards of weights and measures—known values.

We believe it is just as necessary for us to tell you what you get for your advertising dollars, in terms of known circulation value, as it is for you to do business with your customers on the basis of recognized standards. That's why this newspaper is a member of the Audit Bureau of Circulations.

WHAT IS THE A.B.C.? The Bureau is a cooperative and nonprofit association of 3450 publishers, advertising agencies and advertisers in the United States and Canada. Organized in 1914, A.B.C. brought order out of advertising chaos by establishing a definition for paid circulation, rules and standards for measuring, auditing and reporting the circulations of newspapers and periodicals.

WHAT A.B.C. DOES FOR YOU. At regular intervals one of the Bureau's large staff of experienced circulation auditors comes to our office and makes a thorough audit of our circulation records. He has access to all of our books and records to obtain the FACTS that tell you what you get for your money when you advertise in this newspaper.

WHAT A.B.C. REPORTS TELL YOU. The circulation FACTS obtained by the A.B.C. auditor are condensed in easy to read A.B.C. reports which tell you: How much circulation we have; where the circulation goes; how it was sold and many other FACTS about the audience we provide for your sales messages. Make your advertising investments on the basis of this audited information. Ask for a copy of our A.B.C. report.

Children Love Make-Believe

By DOROTHY V. WHIPPLE, M.D.

"Davey, it's time for lunch," calls mother.

Davey plays on, paying not the slightest attention.

"Come on in, little man," says mother again in a few minutes. Davey continues his game, hopping a little further from the kitchen door. Finally mother goes out into the yard.

"Davey, it's lunchtime, let's go in."

Davey looks up sweetly at his mother, then hops off from her, without saying a word.

"Did you hear me, Davey? It's time for lunch."

"I'm Peter Rabbit and I can't hear people talk," he says, hopping briskly about.

"Oh, then, I'm Mother Rabbit, and I've some beautiful carrots for your lunch, hop along."

Davey hops along toward the kitchen door. When he reaches it, he stands up and walks in.

"Are the carrots orange?" he asks.

"Let's look and see," says mother and lunch goes along smoothly.

Did Davey lie when he said he couldn't hear his mother call him? Obviously he did hear her but lying is a nasty word to use for such untruths. So long as he was Peter Rabbit he really couldn't act like a little boy. Mother entering the game gave him a chance to come out of the game slowly and quite happily. Imaginative play is part of childhood. It many times takes years before a child learns the difference between the real world and the world of imagination. But he does learn by growing up. We adults don't teach him, he learns just by living and growing.

Imagination is a good quality. To be able to think and feel beyond the everyday things in front of our noses is the way bright people think up new ideas and make inventions. The world would be badly off if it were not for imagination.

Of course we expect mature people to know what is real and what is just in the mind, but this is a lot to expect of little people. The picture in the mind is just as vivid, sometimes even more so, than the actual real world. They are real to the child. That wonderful ability to imagine, to see and feel from within is a quality to be treasured and nurtured.

Sometimes it's hard for an adult to understand what's going on inside a little fellow, but it's well worth the effort of trying.

Mexican Roads Swap Confusion for Logic

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Confusion is the order of the day in Mexico City's street names and house numbers.

But not for long. The Mexicans soon will install a new system so simple even the latest arriving tourist will be able to find his way around.

He'll not only know where he is but how far and in what direction he has to go to find what he's looking for.

The radical but logical system was devised by Enrique Elias True, the well-to-do owner of a heavy equipment agency. It has been patented in both Mexico and the United States.

It's already being put into effect in Acapulco and several United States cities have shown an interest.

Mexico City certainly needs it.

The current system — if there is one — is so confusing that even veteran taxi drivers get lost.

For instance, there are 20 streets named Juarez. Some streets change names five or six times in a mile. As to numbers — well, 324 may be just next door to 32.

The new system will end all that. It works like this:

The center of the city, established by presidential decree in 1950, is the intersection of Tacuba, Puente de Alvarado, San Juan de Lerran, and Sta. Maria la Redonda.

All numbers will branch from there. And they will be more than just numbers. They will represent the actual number of meters (slightly more than a yard) away from the center of the city.

If a building is located 357 meters away, that will be its number.

Next, the city will be divided into north, south, east and west zones. Street signs in each will be colored differently. For example, north may be purple, south gold, east blue, west red.

Thus, if the street sign is purple, and a nearby number is 1610, you're just about a mile north of the center of town.

But that's not all. The signs, about 20 by 20 inches and clearly visible, will have two arrows. The top one will be small, and will indicate the progression of numbers. If the number is 1132, and you want 1157, you follow the arrow. If you want 967, you go contrary to the arrow.

The large arrow is for traffic purposes. It will indicate the direction of the traffic flow. A red arrow will mean avenues, a green arrow ordinary streets.

Under the second large arrow will be the area's zone number. Any tourist with a map showing zones can easily pinpoint his location.

Next, and very important, will be the name of the street in large letters. This is going to be a major problem — renaming streets. Officials promise that under the new system, streets will keep their names, not change every few blocks — and no two streets will have the same name.

The street name idea goes a step further: a small block at the bottom of the street signs will give a brief biographical sketch of the person for whom the street is named.

Experts believe this new system will make Mexico's street sign and numbering system the most perfect in the world.

Dumas' Dogie Days Slated June 12-14

DUMAS — The old-fashioned, wild-west rodeo, long absent from the Dumas-Dogie Days calendar of events, will be a feature attraction of the 1958 celebration which the Dumas Lions Club has slated for June 12-14.

Rodeos are not new to Dogie Days celebrations. For the first time, however, there will be adequate public seating, concession stands, newly-completed rest rooms, and one of the most efficient, custom-made networks of stock pens and chutes in the Southwest.

Return of the rodeo, in the huge, new permanent arena, is only one of the many "extras" planned for this year's edition of Dogie Days, one of the most popular area celebrations in the Panhandle. Among the new attractions will be sack races, watermelon-eating contests, and the chase for three greased, 40-pound pigs which will be turned loose on the Court House square on Friday, June 13. "He who catches 'em... keeps 'em," explains general chairman Ted Powell.

COWBOYS COMPETING in the three night-time performances won't have to worry about riding in a "cracker box" arena, or accidentally roping a fence post. The new arena also serves as the Lions Club's Little League ballpark.

A system of bright, professional baseball lights will assure spectators and contestants of seeing everything that takes place within the solid-wood fence which surrounds the arena. Though permanent seating facilities cannot be constructed in time for the 1958 celebration, the Lions have made arrangements for enough bleachers to accommodate the hundreds of spectators expected at 8 p.m. each evening. Besides the usual rodeo contests in calf roping, bull riding, barrel races, saddle bronc riding, double muggin', and bare-back bronc riding, the rodeo sponsors have slated cutting horse competition at each rodeo performance. An outstanding extra attraction will be Grandma Reynolds, an amazing animal trainer and trick rider from Fritch, Tex.

The sponsoring Lions Club emphasizes that participation in the big Dogie Days rodeo is not limited to Dumas or Moore County residents, but that every effort is being made to promote one of the most outstanding rodeos in the Southwest area.

Stock for the rodeo will be furnished by Morris Stephens, of Silverton, Texas, an old-timer in the rodeo business who guarantees plenty of action and thrills in every event.

Further information about the rodeo may be obtained from Dogie Days Rodeo Headquarters, at the Hotel Sneed, in Dumas. Cutting horse competition is under the direction of Pat McDowell, 918 East 2nd Street, Dumas.

A TIME-TABLE of events points to a fast-moving, action-packed three days of fun and thrills for families from all over the Panhandle. Highlights for Thursday, June 12, include a western barbecue and "Old Timers" Reunion, where the Lions usually feed 7,000 to 8,000 people. This year's planning would accommodate a 25 per cent increase in attendance.

A four-door English Ford will be given away Friday evening, June 13, to some purchaser of a Dogie Days barbecue ticket. Saturday morning festivities will be launched by a giant parade down Dumas Avenue, with a free-two-hour Teen-Time Musical Revue scheduled for the Court House square that evening.

These attractions are in addition to the big Lions Club midway, and the dozens of rides which will surround the Court House during the three-day celebration.

RETURNS HOME

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Dement arrived home Sunday from Dacoma, Wash., where Dement has been stationed with the United States Army. Dement will leave June 8 for San Francisco, Calif., where he will board ship for Korea. Mrs. Dement plans to stay in Hereford with her parents.

Governor Attacks Money Problems

By Vern Sanford
Texas Press Association
STIN — A fresh task force organized by Governor Daniel to attack the monetary problems.

oil production still hovering at historic low and a prime of state revenue partially by Texas government is, for being, at least, "living its means."

ernor Daniel named a six-member committee of executive department officials to study ways of bridging the gap between income and outgo. Members are Sec'y of State Zollicoffer, Treasurer Jesse James, Comptroller Robert S. Calvert, Auditor C. H. Cavness, Budget Officer Jess Irwin and Col. J. T. Ellis Jr. of the governor's administrative staff.

They are expected to work cooperatively with the State Tax Study Commission, a group of legislators and outside experts who have been surveying the state's fiscal position for some months.

Under the present spending pattern, it is estimated the next legislature would have to scratch up upwards of $100,000,000 in new revenue to balance the books.

As in a family that comes up short at the end of the month, the state's advisors, both official and unofficial, are divided between those advocating getting more money and those favoring less spending.

Governor Daniel urged his executives to try both angles. Specifically, he suggested exploring:

1. Every possible economy in use of state funds.

2. Possible elimination or combination of duplicating services among state agencies.

3. Compilation of a list of non-recurring expenses in the present appropriation.

4. Every possible source of additional state revenues which may be available without the levy of additional taxes.

The first putting tournament of the year will be held Friday night, May 30, at 8 p.m. There will be a men's flight, a ladies' flight and a children's flight, if enough are present. Everyone is invited to attend.

GOLF TIPS: IMPROPER FINISH

Every golfer knows that an inside out downswing is one of the most important requisites of a good swing. Yet many players who do not have such an inside out are unaware of that fact.

The one sure fire way to check this in a golfer is to check his finish. Any golfer can check his own swing in this manner.

If at the completion of the swing the players weight is concentrated on his left heel, the swing has been outside-in.

This of course is incorrect. Concentrate on finishing with most of the weight on the left toe or on the outside of the left foot. If this is done the golfer is almost certain inside-out and his golf game will improve.

Don't worry about other phases of the swing at the moment. Get that finish right and watch the scores go down.

If a woman says she shot her age for nine holes, you shouldn't ask her score.

Legislation for 'Official' National Anthem Introduced

Recently I have received a considerable number of letters, particularly from school children, having to do with our National Anthem, "The Star Spangled Banner." Confusion seems to exist in some quarters, and a few of the letters urged me to adopt the new "changed version" of the National Anthem, while others expressed their opinion that they wanted it to remain just as they have always known it.

Actually, four bills have been introduced in the House of Representatives having to do with the adoption of an "official version" of the Star Spangled Banner as the National Anthem of the United States, but the law failed to specify the particular version of either the words or music which is to be official. Legislation was introduced in the 84th Congress and reintroduced in the current 85th Congress to establish a standard of both words and music for the National Anthem. I understand these bills were the first legislation in the national Congress to contain music, and each of them includes a full score of the song. The composer of the music is unknown, and it allegedly came from an old English folk tune. Francis Scott Key wrote the words during the battle of Fort Mifflin on Sept. 14, 1814, the original of which is preserved to this day by the Maryland Historical Society. However, nearly all printed sources of the poem are derived from a newspaper account which was set in type by a 14-year-old apprentice the day after the words were written. This newspaper account contained some major and minor changes from the original and has been the source for some of the confusion which has existed.

One of the bills would alter the music of the song in six measures by lowering it to a more singable register. The author of this bill states that most people find the song difficult to sing because of the high notes about "the rockets' red glare" and "land of the free." I must confess that any alteration of the music would not particularly effect my performance of it, since I usually have as much difficulty singing "Oh say can you see" as with "the rockets' red glare."

A Judiciary Subcommittee commenced hearings on the bills this week. These hearings were somewhat different from the usual congressional committee hearings, to say the least, in that there were musical performers present and tape recordings of the song were heard in versions all the way from piano and voice to the full Army Band. One of the questioners wanted to know how a layman could tell an official anthem from a clandestine version, and "if he did know the difference and heard someone hit a sour note, should he remain standing or sit down?"

It is unknown at this time if any of the bills will be reported from committee or, if so, their fate thereafter in the House and Senate. It does seem to me that the numerous pressing issues which confront the Congress today should not be sidetracked in favor of less important matters. In my opinion, however, if any of this legislation is adopted, it will not signal a change in the manner you and I have always heard, sung and performed our National Anthem.

VISITORS
We were highly honored this week with visits from some notable groups from the Panhandle. The high school senior classes from Gruver and Groom were in Washington as a part of their senior trips. From Groom came 18 this year's Round-up. This is the 50th celebration of club work and those attending will get to see and talk to some of the members of the first corn and tomato clubs of 50 years ago. Some of the early club members who will attend are

W. L. Derrick of Jack County, J. R. Shelton of Smith County and Mrs. Lessie Boggan of Milam County.

Two pioneer county extension agents, George Banzhaf of Milam County and Mayesie Malone of Brown County will also be honored at Round-up.

Snacks are becoming a national pastime, it seems. Since this is true, it is important that nutritional needs, as well as appetite desires be considered. After school or party refreshments for children should be geared to their needs. Crisp, crunchy fruits and vegetables, or cold meats cut in attractive shapes will fill the craving for food and add some much needed nutrients to the young folks' diets. Teenagers, who are very often lacking in calcium, will find a flavored milk drink welcome after school.

Snacks form an important part of the food intake for the older folks, too. Although the older person no longer needs food for growth, he needs good repair and maintenance foods. Calorie needs are lower, but the need for protein and calcium still remain high. Snacks which provide added calcium, protein and vitamins, without an excess of calories will be the winning answer for all age groups. The benefits derived from this kind of eating are life long—the best of good health.

in more building in smaller towns dependent on agriculture for prosperity.

UT's Bureau of Business Research reports a 10 per cent rise in the January-April building volume for towns with less than 10,000 population.

BBR's report reflected a fairly general brightening of the building picture. Construction authorizations for April were up 3 per cent from March and 22 per cent from a year ago.

Home builders were found to be cautiously optimistic. Most BBR reported, hadn't actually experienced much of an increase in the home sales. But they were busier than they'd been in months building up a supply for an expected pick-up in buying by fall and next year.

Easier credit and, in some cases lower costs of materials are expected to make house-buying more alluring.

MORE SALVAGE—Sale of some municipal bonds owned by the bankrupt US Trust and Guaranty Co., has brought another $144,000 for the company's creditors.

An earlier distribution of $2,181,000 represented about 31 per cent of the amount owed some 9,000 persons.

Meanwhile, Insurance Department employees are working against a May 31 deadline to complete an operation designed to prevent such fiascos in the future. They check the annual statement of each company doing business in Texas. If any questionable transactions are uncovered, the company is required to straighten them out before being re-licensed.

During the past year, a period of tightened regulation, there has been no large-scale crack-up in the industry. Many younger companies have merged to strengthen their positions by combining assets.

GUN SELLING LAW—Whether Texas law regulating sale of pistols is constitutional is being considered by the Court of Criminal Appeals.

Case in point involves a Houstonite who was sentenced for sale of a pistol to a minor. Attorney for the defendant contends the law is too vague and confusing to be valid.

Texas penal code has two separate and sometimes conflicting sections on sale of firearms, forbidding their sale to minors, persons "under heat of passion" and persons convicted of felonies.

SHORT SHORTS—Texas Employment Commission has announced the first substantial drop in unemployment claims this year. After weeks of tabulating steady increases in joblessness, TEC reports claims had slid from 90,913 to 86,528. Total benefits paid dropped $143,070 for the week. . . . Accompanying this good news, TEC announced 1,127 new jobs created in the state by the opening of new businesses. Largest was a garment factory in Temple employing 200.

Pineapple Denotes Warm Welcome

LILY BROWNSTONE
 Press Food Editor

Have you ever noticed a hand-carved pineapple carved out of a decoration on a piece of furniture or for an old-fashioned party?

The fruit may have been used in this way because of its charming symbol, and gifted woodcarver possibilities in the interesting shape.

It may have been duplicated because it denoted hospitality. Legend has it that during the exploration of America, explorers noticed that any house whose gate post was topped with a pineapple gave a warm welcome. Designers of the colonial period who first put pineapples over a door-plate, entrance may have been because they liked this fruit's charming symbol.

It has fallen heir to the tradition. Used in a center-piece, a pineapple adds allure. To us, it signifies that a hostess is happy to have her guests enjoy making the table attractive.

COOL DESSERT, WARM WELCOME—The pineapple, by tradition, signifies a warm welcome to guests who will go for this dessert—hollowed pineapple shells filled with vanilla ice cream and served with a sauce made from the finely diced fresh pineapple.

Fresh pineapple desserts, served in the hollowed-out shells of the fruit, look so festive and are wonderfully refreshing. To hollow the shells, cut the pineapple in half, right through the green plume or crown. With a sharp knife cut out the center core in a long, narrow and deep strip. (Any edible pulp may now be cut away from the fibrous center.) With a curved serrated grapefruit knife, cut out the rest of the pineapple in two large half-circle sections. These should be cut into strips or sliced, cubed large or diced small, or shredded with the sharp tines of a fork—depending on how the pineapple shells are to be filled. With a sharp-edged spoon, any good pineapple pulp left in the shells may finally be removed.

Take your choice of ways to fill the shells. Most usual is to mix the cubed pineapple with strawberries, raspberries, pitted cherries, melon balls, blueberries or orange—or a combination of some of these fruits. The melange may then be sugared to taste, if desired, and spooned back into the shells.

A special dessert we favor: Fill the shells with vanilla ice cream and garnish with mint leaves and cherries. Serve with a sauce made from the finely diced fresh pineapple, sugared to taste, and a little finely diced preserved-in-ginger syrup.

One last tip to a hostess: Snip off any frayed edges of the pineapple plume with a kitchen scissors, making clean slanting edges.

When Summer Comes... Sun Gets in Your Eyes

PROTECT YOUR EYES—Sunglasses help. These have nylon frames.

By VIVIAN BROWN
 AP Newsfeatures Beauty Editor

Americans are becoming more aware of the importance of shielding themselves from over-doses of sunshine, especially during the hot part of the day when rays are most harmful.

If we are aware of how much damage may be done to the skin as a result of overdoses of sunshine, then we must stop to think of the effect of sunshine on our eyes.

Anyone who goes outdoors on a sunny summer day should wear glasses to protect his eyes. Scientific studies reveal there may be a 50 to 90 per cent loss in the eyes' sensitivity to light by exposing the eyes to bright sun. This loss of sensitivity to light may make night driving a danger and cause headaches when close work is attempted. Artists, writers, crocheters and knitters may all feel especially the effects of sun saturation.

Even those who wear prescription glasses should wear clipovers, sunglasses that clamp on regular eyewear. These are available now in smart looking nylon frames, as fashionable as those pink, white, black and blue hues available in the standard shapes and harlequin styles. Ground and polished lenses in sunglasses are inexpensive these days, even with the newer nylon frame.

Girls with short hairdos should wear hats with brims if they sit in the noonday sun on the beach to keep the scalp from becoming sore, the hair burned, the disposition sour from the sun's beating. A brimmed hat will offer further protection to the eyes if eyeglasses are worn, but usually doesn't offer enough protection for comfort if sunglasses aren't worn.

Sunglasses are being made more interesting for children also with spring flower motifs trimming open lattice work on frames and little yachting flags on the corners of the yachting.

A new piece of equipment will stop the reception interference caused by sun spot activity.

"Either we get this silencer equipment or we get a translator," Otlewis said. "But this can't go on—my men reply to commands with 'Viva Zapata!'"

In Memoriam

They have not died in vain... those who paid with their lives the last full measure. Today, Memorial Day, is the day to remember Lexington, Gettysburg, Santiago Bay, Chateau Thierry, Coral Sea, Okinawa, Palermo, Normandy and Korea. We need only to look at the cemeteries of the world to realize the supreme sacrifice that was called for, that we might be secure. It called for the giving of life itself for many a man; for untold sorrow and heartache for friends and loved ones. As they bravely died, so we must bravely live. God has a destiny for us, for America, and only eyes of faith can read that destiny. Each drop of blood spilled from Bunker Hill to Iwo Jima, is a deposit in the bank of our country. One hundred sixty-five million Americans can do no less than dedicate ourselves anew. With our Alabaster Ointment of thankfulness, let us nobly remember those who laid themselves between our country and her foes. This is Memorial Day.

YOU IN THE CHURCH THE CHURCH IN YOU

Character is a by-product of the church. It is here that young and old alike are showered with benedictions that fortify and influence for a better citizenship and a stronger democracy. In the church the ministerial staff and the church alone can furnish leadership to handle the affairs of state in these perilous times. Then we with our children should go to the church of our choice on Sunday. "You in the Church and the Church in you" form a combination for good. Be a regular CHURCH-GOER and a daily BIBLE READER.

Girls Grab Baseball Bats

STOWN, Pa. (AP)—Girls may be the nation's baseball stars.

Lassie League, made up of girls from 10 to 15 years of age, is the supreme of the League on the national level. The national baseball diamond, shared with the enthusiasts, Marion B. Earl, director of physical education for schools here and coach of Lassie Leaguers, Inc., Collegeville.

PLAY BALL—Coach Marion B. Earl trains a young pitcher of the Norristown Lassie League in correct form.

Earl expects 100 or more leagues, each consisting of teams and four farm teams in spring and summer. Lassieball, a modified softball.

Earl has taught Lassieball to girls since the game was introduced in Collegeville five years ago. She believes in the wholesome influence of the game on the girls' characters of growing girls.

Earl's daughter, Lynn (she's 14) is a pitcher. Lynn has learned how to be a better pitcher than her father. Lynn is one of the most social graces in my town.

Household Scrapbook

Wrinkles
To take the wrinkles out of a garment when in a hotel, hang it over the rack in the bathroom, close the door and windows, and turn on the hot water. Let it run until the room is filled with steam. Leave the garment hanging in this vapor for an hour, then open the room and let the article dry in the fresh air. The appearance of the garment will be freshened surprisingly.

Sugared Honey
If you have some honey that has sugared, it may be melted by placing its container in a vessel of hot, but not boiling, water.
Whitewash Aid
A pound of soap dissolved in a gallon of hot water and added to five gallons of whitewash will impart a glossy finish to the whitewash.
Gloves
When giving the chamois or pigskin gloves their final rinse, there should be not only some soapuds, but a few drops of olive oil in this water, to insure the gloves drying as soft as new.

Egg Yolks
If the egg yolks are not wanted for immediate use, place them in cold water and keep in a dark, cool place; in this way they can be kept fresh for several days.
Picture Frames
The shabby appearance of gilt picture frames can be freshened by applying the white of an egg with a soft brush.
Moth Preventive
A rug can be freshened and kept free of moths if a little turpentine is poured into a pail of hot water and a broom is dipped into this solution and used on the rug with a light sweeping stroke.
Sewing Hint
If a small piece of adhesive tape is applied to the finger, it will prevent it from being pricked by the needle when sewing or embroidering.

Blending Dates
Dates will blend better with other ingredients in cooked dishes if they are first covered with a little hot water or milk. This will soften them.

How Can I?

By Anne Ashley

Q. How can I remove scorch from cotton fabric?
A. If it is badly scorched, try dipping the article in cold water and hanging it dripping wet in the sunshine. When dry, wet it again and repeat the process. It may take about two or three days but it is a cure that will not injure the wearing qualities of the material.

Q. What is a good tonic for ferns?
A. Use the leftover coffee. Pour a little fresh water through the grounds to weaken the coffee slightly, then pour around the ferns. Do this about once a week.

Q. How can I clean a rubber article?
A. Use a solution of household ammonia and warm water. This will not only clean the rubber, but will keep it soft and pliable.

Q. How can I remove blackheads?
A. A treatment for blackheads is to use soap and water freely. Gently massage a thick lather on the face, and when it has dried, rinse off thoroughly. The larger blackheads can be pressed out with the fingers, using care not to bruise the flesh. Then sponge the skin with witch hazel. This treatment should be used daily.

Q. How can I clean a discolored vase or crucifix?
A. Try pouring a little household ammonia into it and letting it stand for awhile. Shake thoroughly until all sediment is loosened. Then rinse with warm water.

Q. How can I avoid skin forming on the top of freshly made starch?
A. Skin will not form if the starch is covered with a pan.

Q. How can I strengthen new glassware?
A. By placing it in a vessel of slightly salted water, letting it come slowly to a boil, then boil thoroughly, followed by cooling slowly. The slower this treatment, the more effective will be the result.

Q. How can I insure a crisp crust on the pie, preventing it from becoming soggy?
A. After taking the pie from the oven, place it on a high wire rack to cool, instead of a flat surface such as a table. An inverted dish drainer will serve the purpose.

YOUR HELPFUL FRIEND CLAIMED HE NEVER MET THE HARD-BARGAINING OWNER

YOU OWN IT! NOW WHAT NEXT?

NO CHAMPAGNE...

BEFORE LONG, YOU'RE AN OLD SALT

AP Newfeatures

In buying a boat it's best to make reasonably certain that the ever-present Helpful Friend & Amateur Expert is not a brother-in-law of the seller.

Whatever his other qualifications, Helpful Friend will have in stock a knowing look, a vocabulary of such phrases as "seems a bit bogged," and a tool kit consisting of a jackknife with a 3-inch blade.

The latter he uses to probe the boat's various discolored spots, which he pronounces "somewhat soft."

You find however that those are the only soft spots in the setup. In particular, the price is firm. Despite that your friend stage-whispers "buy it," and you begin to wonder whether he and the seller are absolute strangers after all.

So you buy the scow called "Dixie Belle." (If it had four wheels you'd call it a wreck.)

Between you and the joys of the open sea, where automobiles never speed and telephones never ring, there exists only a week-end of relaxing preparatory chores. At least that's what the seller said.

But now second thoughts arise, and bits of second-hand information drift your way. Not of course from your friend. He's washed his hands of the whole business and refuses to take any responsibility whatsoever.

It develops that the topsides, which are differentiated from the bottom side by a complicated color scheme, should be taken down to the wood. By whom? One guess. Also that five varieties of marine paint are required and that marine hardware store which employs in its calculations a silver scale and weights of gold.

Four weekends later you dab a final bit of seam compound into seams that gape wider and wider under a heartless sun and make ready to launch.

For that maneuver, your friend of yore once remarked, "Just rent a trailer." Now it comes out that trailers rent for $5 an hour at this time of year, when you can locate one that isn't busy. Also that attaching a trailer to your car raises in your mind vague doubts, which you hesitate to investigate further, about the validity of your insurance policy.

You discover it's easy to drive a trailer, once rented, to a boat, but that you can't make "Dixie Belle" take readily to the drink. Was this craft supposed to be only 14 feet long, or is it the Queen Mary incognito?

The solution is additional help. You get on the phone, start making wild promises about fishing and sailing expeditions to come, and assemble at last a crew more innocent than yourself. Meantime the rental timeclock has clicked up another 10 bucks.

You don't bring along a bottle of champagne but somehow you expect at least a flourish of trumpets when the good sloop "Dixie Belle" slides into the water. The trouble with "Dixie Belle" is that she doesn't know when to stop sliding. That seam compound must have been made out of soft soap. Water spurts through a score of gaps and you find that you can see daylight through some of them.

By this time the "Dixie Belle" has floated 20 feet from shore, with you in it. "She's sinking," you yell.

"Better start bailing," remarks the most helpful of your crew. Just as you begin to wonder whether it's still de rigueur for a captain to go down with his ship, "Dixie Belle" hits bottom and you wade ashore. Why didn't somebody tell you that seawater in May is still cold enough to refrigerate clams?

Inside of a week, against all expectations, the seams swell up and, since someone had the forethought to tie "Dixie Belle" to the dock while you wrung out your pants behind the seawall, you are in a position to luxuriate in your first sail. This is the moment you have waited for.

Appealing once more to your original Helpful Friend, with whom you doubtless should let bygones be merely old grudges, you get a quick briefing on a few of the more essential terms like "tack," "come about" and the difference between "jib" and "jibe."

But out there all alone, 200 yards from shore this time instead of 20 feet, the wind whips over from starboard to port and catches you with your mainsail up when it probably should have been down.

ENID, Okla. (AP) — The Oompah Overture has been played for the public only once and then by a bunch of teen-agers, but that was enough to rocket young George Gray to prominence among music enthusiasts around here.

Since that performance last summer, George has been dubbed "Mr. Music" in Enid.

For he composed the Oompah, then directed the 65-piece summer band through the four-minute work, and that's quite an accomplishment for a freckled-faced 12-year-old.

It's not unusual though, considering George's background in music. The plump young composer became interested in opera and symphonic music at the age of 4, and two years later was studying piano.

Now he also plays the viola, clarinet and bassoon.

George says he plans to learn a number of other instruments, but he has no ambition to play professionally.

He wants to be a composer and last year enrolled in a theory of composition class under Dr. Eugene Ulrich, professor of music at Phillips University.

"He grasps things better than the average college student," Ulrich says.

George now is engrossed in his first operatic attempt. An admirer of the works of Richard Wagner, Gian-Carlo Menotti and M. P. Mussorgski, he is writing an opera called "David," based on the Biblical story of David and Goliath.

NORMAN, Okla. (AP) — Don't discourage Junior if he takes to moving pawns, rooks and bishops around a checkered board.

He may prove to be one of America's weapons in its scientific competition with the Soviet Union.

That's the considered opinion of Jerry Spann, president of the U. S. Chess Federation.

Russians are world leaders in chess, notes Spann, and "we think there's a method in the Russian chess madness."

"Chess doesn't make brains," says Spann, "but it pinpoints those students with minds who can benefit from intensive scientific training."

"Kids take to the game and it's a perfect aptitude test. You can find talent that way which might never be known otherwise."

Who are the best chess players?

ROCKFORD, Ill. (AP) — Anyone with information on the 1936 soap-box derby winner in Rockford is asked to get in touch with Attorney John F. McCanna who made a movie of the affair.

The winner is the star and McCanna wants to locate him so he can present him with the film. "He may have children by this time," says McCanna. "I am sure they would be very pleased to have this film."

Why did the Coast Guard let you out in a gale like this? Helpful Friend certainly never mentioned whitecaps in his 10-minute indoctrination. And how the heck do you haul on a sheet (or did he say halyard) when the floor tips up like the roof of a church steeple? You remember it's been 15 years since you got the Boy Scout merit badge in swimming.

In spite of everything you can do, "Dixie Belle" refuses to capsize and, instead, noses up into the wind. As the deck levels off, you size the glad moment to lower the sails, and start paddling back to land.

Cheer up, sailor, the summer isn't half over. And ahead lie long, lazy hours and dozens of little incidents you'll always remember — including three groundings, a couple of becalmings, and the time your best girl stepped on the rail as if "Dixie Belle" were a dock instead of a few planks and scraps of metal in an ever precarious and unpredictable state of equilibrium.
