Hereford Golden Gloves Get Underway Monday, Tuesday

Two action-packed nights are promised to boxing fans when Hereford and area boxers gather for the third annual District Invitational Golden Gloves Tournament to be held in Deaf Smith County Bull Barn here Monday and Tuesday.

About 70 area and local boxers are expected to weigh in Sunday in preparation for the first of four district invitational meets to be held in the Panhandle this month.

Fights will begin at 8 p. m. on each night, and the meet is expected to draw most of the outstanding amateur boxers in the region.

"We're shooting for 18 to 20 fights each night," said Hereford Athletic Club coach Don McNeese.

Invitations have been sent to boxing clubs in Levelland, Plainview, Pampa, Borger, Canyon, Muleshoe and Amarillo. Two Amarillo clubs will be represented in D & D Pharmacy and Amarillo Boxing Club.

Nineteen trophies will be awarded to top boxers in high school and open divisions. Ten high school division trophies will be awarded, and eight open division boxers will receive trophies.

One golden sportsmanship trophy will be given away on the final night of the tourney.

"We expect contests in every division," McNeese said. "That means that a boxer will face some tough competition before winning a trophy."

McNeese said as many or more boxers are expected to enter the tournament than in past years. Last year, 36 fights were held in the second invitational meet here.

Official weigh-in is scheduled from 2 to 5 p. m. Sunday.

in the Chamber of Commerce conference room.

Local boxers expected to enter high school divisions, listed by weight classification, include Glenn Nelson, 135; Fred Rodriguez, 135; R. C. Welty, 135; Johnny Welty, 145; Robert Welty, 160; Wayne Bomar, 175; Roy Rogers, heavyweight; and Larry Lopez, 155.

Don Bomar, 145, and John Cordeiro, 135, both Hereford boxers, will enter open division bouts. Frank Lopez will not be able to enter the Hereford tourney due to a laceration near an eye which he received at a recent Levelland match.

Other outstanding area boxers expected to enter are Manny Perez of Amarillo, Jim and Charles Snyder of Pampa, Manuel Gonzales of Plainview, Gary Watt and Robert Vielle of Levelland, Elmer Clements of Canyon and Doc Wilkinson and Glenn Ward of Borger.

The Hereford meet is the first of four district Golden Gloves tournaments scheduled in the region this year. Later in the month, district tourneys will be held in Plainview, Borger and Pampa. Local boxers will enter at least two of the other tournaments.

Bouts at the Hereford tournament will start in the 105-pound class in high school divisions, and open bouts will start at 112 pounds.

The year 1959 was a long page in Hereford and Deaf Smith County's history. It was packed with spectacular and heartening developments, and recorded new concepts swiftly brought to reality.

Although space does not permit the covering of all events which occurred in 1959, the following is a summary of news which illuminated the final year of the 1950's.

JANUARY W. T. "Bill" Thompson arrived to take over as Chamber of Commerce manager. The March of Dimes drive got underway. Clint Formby was installed as president of the Kiwanis Club. District Judge Harry Schultz, in an unprecedented letter, urged immediate renovation of the district courtroom. Upsets marked the second annual Golden Gloves boxing tournament. Don Zimmerman was named "Citizen of the Year." H. Roe Bartle, Mayor of Kansas City, Mo., was speaker for the annual Chamber of Commerce banquet, which was attended by 801 persons despite zero-degree weather. Jimmy Higgins won grand champion honors in the calf division during the 13th

City, County Census Count Contest Opens

This is the year of the census in the United States. How much has Hereford grown since the census count of 1950? How many more people live in Deaf Smith County now than ten years ago?

The Hereford Brand, from now through March 31, will accept your estimates of both city and county population. It will be recorded by the U. S. census bureau, there will be a $50 cash prize for the closest guess in each division, city and county.

Send in your guess, preferably on a post card, labelled clearly as to estimate for city and for county. Include your name and address.

Entries must be postmarked before midnight, March 31, to be eligible. Entries may be brought to the Brand office, but must be written or typed to be accepted.

For those interested in past records, the 1950 census gave Hereford a population of 5,307, while the county had a population of 9,111.

Winners will be announced as soon as possible after the official census counts are released.

New Mexican Charged On DWI

Juan Ybarra, 28, of Albuquerque, N. M., was charged with driving while intoxicated, first offense, after arrest by Hereford police Friday night on west Highway 60.

Ybarra was traveling east on the highway when arrested. Arrest was made by Hereford patrolman Edd Robinson at 10:30 p. m.

Bond was not set immediately as Deaf Smith County Court house was closed for the holiday week end.

annual Junior Livestock Show and Sale. In their first attempt, the Dameron Hereford Ranch entries won first place for senior bull calves in carload lots at the International Livestock Exposition in Denver.

FEBRUARY DeAnne Sparks and Jan Wallace were named H. H. S. band royalty. E. Ramey retired after 27 years as a rural mail carrier. Committees for the Community Center fund drive were named. A community-wide education study of Hereford schools was held. Hereford boxers won four titles in the regional Golden Gloves at Amarillo. The first of several mysterious "boxes" made

Rank Ten Best Stories Of '59

What was the most newsworthy event of 1959? Certainly an important year in the growth and development of Hereford and Deaf Smith County, it was filled with events, some of lasting importance, others only attention-compelling for a moment.

The news staff of the Hereford Brand rated the following stories as the ten top events of the year:

- 1. Arrests and trials of four men in connection with procuring at a hotel.
2. Hereford High basketball team wins runner-up honors in the state.
3. County bond election approval for construction of jail and modernized courthouse.
4. Many varied events and success of the first annual Hereford Harvest Festival.
5. Stock sales and change of control in both local banks.
6. The huge amount of damage and inconvenience resulting from the ice storm.
7. Planning, and construction of a Community Center.
8. Organization of a Hereford Country Club.
9. The collective harvest of wheat, grain, vegetables and cotton.
10. Lasting success and importance of the first annual Hereford Cattle Tour.
To these, might be added such stories as the two fires at the Hereford Labor Camp, the murder trial of Mercedillo Castillo, investigation into the death of hotel manager Bill Schreiner. They are all part of the passing parade that chronicles the life of the area. Some already are almost forgotten. Others will be recalled occasionally. "Say, remember back in '59."

its appearance after a big blast with winds up to 90 miles per hour. Police nabbed two youths and went to Illinois after two more following the $750 burglary of the Star Theatre office. The City of Hereford adopted a budget of $514,800. Deaf Smith farmers were shocked by the 31-cent cut in milk support prices. Hereford's smooth basketball team won the district crown with a 7-1 record.

MARCH The Herd won its second straight regional basketball crown with convincing wins over Graham and Lake View in Lubbock. Chicago Bridge and Iron Co. was low bidder on a new city water tower. Capturing the fancy of the state, Hereford's fast-running basketball team downed Kilcoo 61-52 before losing to 7-1/2 Qualls and his mates from Houston Smiley in the state cage finals. Bond issues for construction of a new county jail, renovation of the courthouse and funds to buy right-of-way for a four-lane expansion of U. S. 60 east from Hereford all passed voters by margins of more than 2-1. Jack Reinho challenged farmers to start thinking of vegetables as something other than a "secondary crop." In a stock sale, Russell Carver replaced Townsend Douglas as president of the Hereford State Bank. School trustees decided to extend the academic year by five additional teaching days. Channing started after the low bid of $131,131 was received on the Community Center. Baseball was resumed at Hereford High after a five-year lull. Nancy Boardman and Patricia Maxwell captured the senior and junior spelling crowns. Announced results of experimental plantings of rafflower, an oil crop, were mixed.

APRIL Hereford played host to the large Rotary District 572 convention. Dr. E. B. Barnett and Ivan Bloek won places on the school board. Woodrow "Woody" Wilson succeeded Ray Godwin as mayor while Gid Brown was named to the commission and Don Little was unopposed for re-election. Hereford's entry won first place in the District AAA one-act play competition. The Brand won first place in the Panhandle Press Association for typography and presswork. Arnold Wall was installed as V.F.W. commander. Killingsworth Construction was awarded contract for the Community Center. Roy Boyer became president of the Hereford Optimist Club. Zetha Ivey of Prospective candidates have less than a month to file intention to run for seven county and district offices scheduled for the May 7 Democratic primary here. Application deadline is Jan. 30. Offices open for election include tax assessor-collector, county sheriff, county attorney, district attorney, county commissioners for Precincts One and Three and representative of 96th Legislative District. Candidates apply at 10 a. m. and oath of citizenship must be signed by candidates seeking election before their names can be placed on ballots, said County Clerk Ralph Smith. If a runoff is required after first primary votes are tabulated, a second primary will be held June 4, Smith said. To date, no Republican primary has been scheduled. If that primary is scheduled, Smith said, it will also be held on May 7. Candidacy applications and oaths may be signed in the county clerk's office any time before Feb. 1. The signed applications and oaths will be filed with L. H. Woodford, county Democratic chairman. No polling stations for the Democratic primary have been announced. Terms of office are for four years. Those filing candidacy to date include: Harry McCauley, Lanelle Mobley Miller, Wallace Shelton and D. H. Alexander for tax assessor-collector; L. R. Cheryhomes and Lowell Sharp for county sheriff; J. Edward Line for county attorney; Jesse M. Osborn for representative of 96th Legislative District; W. H. Andrews, C. C. Bowman, A. N. Hopsan and Charles Sowell for commissioner of Precinct One; and J. T. Guinn for commissioner of Precinct Three. They settled about one mile west of Hereford, on what is known as the Jeff Gilbreath place. J. T. Guinn Asks Re-Election As Commissioner

J. T. Guinn this week authorized The Brand to announce his candidacy for the office of Deaf Smith County Commissioner, Precinct 3, subject to action of the Democratic primaries. Guinn, who farms 30 miles southwest of Hereford, is now serving in his sixth term as commissioner in that precinct. He has lived in Deaf Smith County since 1901, and in Precinct 3 for 29 years.

"After talking to a number of voters of Precinct No. 3," Guinn said, "I have decided to announce I am a candidate for the office of County Commissioner for another term. "I appreciate the trust you have shown in me in the past, also for your cooperation given me in filling the office." Guinn continued, "I feel like the experience I have had will help me make you a still better commissioner. I will appreciate your support."

Joyce Merworth Condition Same

Condition of Joyce Merworth, 15, 219 Lee, was reported as unchanged at Deaf Smith County Hospital Saturday morning. Miss Merworth received serious injuries in a one-car accident west of Hereford on Highway 60 Christmas night.

The Hereford High School student, a passenger in a one-seat 1957 model vehicle, sustained a possible head injury when the car in which she and three companions were riding overturned as the group was returning from a drive-in movie.

The accident occurred at about 10:15 p. m. on a rain-slick highway, less than two hours from the end of Christmas Day. The car, headed east, left the highway and overturned as the group was returning from a drive-in movie.

Around Town

Now that the holidays are over, things should get back to normal again. Had the predicted snow come blasting in Friday and Saturday, it might have been quite a mess with folks trying to get home in time for work or school. Although the weathermen generally are pretty accurate, they have missed badly twice in the last three weeks - once when they thought the ice storm was going to be a small thing and again Friday when they predicted a real blizzard.

About 150 tickets now have been sold for the Chamber of Commerce banquet. We expect more than 500 will have been grabbed off by next week end. If the past two years are any indication, there will be just about 100 up for public sale.

Hereford Art Guild is arranging two classes, one for beginner painters and another for advanced painters. The beginners class will be held on Mondays from 7-9 p. m. The advanced class will be held on Saturdays from 1-4 p. m. starting Jan. 30. It will be taught by Chris Gikas of West Texas State. The beginners class will start as soon as there is sufficient enrollment. Persons interested are asked to call: EM4-1237, EM4-3503, or EM4-1260 for details.

Rebels Stall To 50-40 Win; Herd Tries Dimmitt Tuesday

In a typically low-scoring game, the visiting Tascosa Rebels from Amarillo defeated Hereford Whitefaces Friday night, 50-40.

The seasoned Rebels used their well-known stalling tactics for much of the fourth quarter to preserve a slim lead.

Hereford battled the Rebels on more than even terms until mid-way through the third quarter, when the Amarillo squad managed to gain and hold the lead.

First quarter play was erratic for both teams. Four Whitefaces each tallied a field goal during the quarter. Tied 3-3, Tascosa got in front 9-3 but Hereford came back. The most outstanding shot of the game was a mid-court throw just before the quarter ended by Hereford's Dennis Hodges that tied the score at the end of the first period, 9-9.

After the score was tied twice, the Rebels got a 17-12 lead in the second period, but the free throws of Charlie Burrus narrowed the gap. Burrus hit six straight charity tosses and garnered one field goal and a total of 8 of 9 free throws during the quarter. Three straight free throws, two by Burrus and one by Thomas gave Hereford a 23-22 lead at halftime.

The lead changed hands three times and was tied twice before the Rebels got a lead it could hold with five minutes left in the period. A six point lead was cut to three, but that was as close as the Herd could get.

Opening the fourth quarter with a 40-34 margin, the Rebels played ball control. Leading 44-40 the Rebels went into a full stall. They picked up four points on free throws as Hereford fouled in efforts to get the ball. Not until the fading seconds did the Rebels make a field goal.

Easier Sandpapering
You can make the job of sandpapering much easier if you tape your sandpaper to the smooth side of a square of upholsterer's foam rubber. When grasping the block, insert your fingers into the exposed holes, and you will have a good grip and better control of your paper.

Sports License

Here's a good one for fishermen and hunters: Removes the cartridge from an old discarded ballpoint pen and insert your rolled-up license. Clip this into a pocket, where it will be easily available, but safe and dry.

Preserving Overshoes

Try rubbing a little glycerine over the overshoes occasionally. This will clean up the rubber effectively and also prevent its drying out.

DISSATISFIED CUSTOMER

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — James H. Coleman, 30, was charged with burglary by police who didn't believe his story of losing a dime in a pay telephone. Coleman was found inside the booth with a hammer, screw driver, mallet, can opener — and one very battered telephone.

DEER ME!

BURLINGTON, Iowa, (AP) — The tab on the venison dinner Wayne Haley gave residents of the Des Moines County Home came to $600.

That was the price for having his car repaired after he struck a 25-pound deer on the highway near Burlington.

PECKING TOPPLES POLE

RICHLAND CENTER, Wis. (AP) — Birds turned out to be the culprits when the electric power was cut off three hours in four communities. Work crews traced the power failure to a pole weakened and

REFUSES TO QUIT

LONDON (AP) — Bill Dobbyn, who lost an eye playing in the American Hockey League last season, is planning a comeback with Sireatham of the British National League.

Dobbyn, rated a promising defenseman with the Buffalo Bisons, was struck accidentally in the face with a stick during a game with the Hershey Bears. The injury barred him from playing hockey in the United States and Canada but Dobbyn figures he'll do all right in England where the style of play is not as rough.

NEW MARK FOR ARCARO

NEW YORK (AP) — When Jockey Eddie Arcaro won the Futurity at Aqueduct with Weatherwise it marked his 206th victory of 1959. It was a new high for the 43-year-old rider. His best year was 1957 when he won 205 races. Arcaro now has ridden more than 200 winners in each of the last four years.

Make Now, Bake Later New Plan For Cookies

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
A BIG CROP of peanut butter cookies lies ahead if you try this recipe. This refrigerator variety of dough takes to shaping in plain old-time or fancy new ways. You can make up the cookie dough and have it on hand to bake when you will. The cookies are great for after-school snacking and to pack into lunch boxes. Their crisp and crunchy character usually delights youngsters.

PEANUT-BUTTER REFRIGERATOR COOKIES
Ingredients: 1/2 cups sifted flour, 1/2 teaspoon baking soda, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 cup butter or margarine, 1/2 cup smooth-style peanut butter, 1 cup firmly-packed light brown sugar, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 1 egg.

Method: Sift together the flour, baking soda and salt. Cream butter, peanut butter, sugar and vanilla. Beat in egg. Stir in flour mixture, mixing just enough to blend. Shape into two 9 - inch long rolls (each 1 1/2 inches in diameter). Wrap tightly in transparent plastic wrapping, waxed paper or foil. Chill, preferably overnight. When ready to bake, using a sharp thin-bladed knife, cut with a sawing motion into 1/8 - inch thick slices. Place on ungreased cookie sheet about one inch apart. Bake in moderate (375 degrees) oven 8 to 10 minutes. Cool on cookie sheet about 2 minutes before removing with foil; chill. To remove, crispness, store in tightly covered container. Makes about 60 rounds. To make square cookies, flatten sides of rolls.

NEW TRICKS
Can Cookies: Wash and dry four 6 - ounce frozen - juice cans. Pack cookie dough firmly into cans. Cover open end with foil; chill. To remove, open closed end with can opener. Push cookie dough through can, using can lid as pusher. Slice and bake as recipe directs. Makes about 60.

Pinwheel: On waxed paper, press cookie dough into two rectangles, each 10 by 4 inches. Melt 1/3 cup semi-sweet chocolate pieces over hot water; spread on rectangles and cool slightly. Lifting waxed paper, roll from long side as for jelly roll; chill. Slice and bake as recipe directs. Makes about 80.

Cloverleaf: Shape cookie dough into five rolls, each 12 inches long and 3/4 - inch in diameter. Wrap and chill. Cut into 1/8 - inch thick slices. Place 3 slices together on cookie sheet overlapping slightly; lightly press centers. Bake as recipe directs. Makes about 72.

BY JIMMIE GILBERTINE

Most people are recovering from New Year celebrations, but John Alken is different. He is still trying to overcome the results of Christmas. His right hand is swathed in bandages and everyone he sees wants to know "How come?" Around the stroke of midnight of Christmas eve, when all was quiet throughout the house, John was very busy assembling one of those bunk beds for dolls. The screwdriver slipped and nicked a couple of blisters, acquired earlier in the evening. A spot of iodine, and John was willing to forget the whole thing. However, a few days later the pain became terrific and close examination showed red streaks, plus a big knot in his armpit. These things sent John out for professional attention - and he is just now beginning to feel better.

"From now on," declares John, "I am going to leave this Santa Claus business to the fat boys. They have a natural advantage, anyway."

Never did I underestimate the intelligence of women, but I do believe they get smarter as they grow older. We are figuring on moving, probably early in January, so I very carefully scheduled a couple of out-of-town meetings which I absolutely must attend. This morning I sprung them on my wife, figuring that she would be

Circle Back Group Gives Luncheon

The Chevalier and Lady Thelma Gage of Circle Back entertained Chevalier A. N. and Lady Lydia Hopson, Chevalier Ben and Lady Anna Conklin, Mrs. Naomi Murrell and Chevalier A. R. Lady Ruth Rogers with a luncheon in the home recently.

In the afternoon, gifts were exchanged.

Chevalier A. N. and Lady Lydia Hopson entertained with a New Years dinner party in their home at Knob Hill addition New Years Eve. Games of 42 were enjoyed and the New Year was welcomed by singing, ringing of bells and blowing of whistles. Miniature cocktails of blackeyed peas were served at 12 p. m. for good luck in 1960.

Those present were Chevalier Raymond and Lady Thelma Gage of Circle Back, Chevalier A. R. and Lady Ruth Rogers, Chevalier Ben and Lady Anna Conklin, Chevalier Edgar and Lady Nelma Sowell, Mr. Elmer and Lady Roberta Combs, Chevalier Gordon Elliott, Chevalier Jim and Lady Cora Lee Loving, Chevalier Nathan and Lady Janie Hopson and the host and hostess.

Malta, a key point in the British Empire's defense line, was formally annexed by Great Britain in 1814.

structures of this type and purpose can be found in Russia? The Community Center is a tribute to democracy and the American way of life. Nowhere else in the world will you find a parallel.

Some of the rooms have already been booked and when folks get a good look at the place, you can bet that business will pick up. It may well become the busiest spot in town.

There have been several more reports of Rose Bowl tourists on Highway 60 as a result of the Milwaukee ad. Guy Lawrence and Sam Bell called in and said to make it clear that the ad was published by all of the local firms along Highway 60 - and not by Guy and Sam. They merely went around and took up the collection. Anyway, it was a pretty good deal.

Which reminds me of another question. Where in the world do tourists eat on Christmas Day? I don't think there was a single place open here. In Clarendon there were only two gas stations open when we went through, and I didn't notice any at all in Claude or Hedley. No restaurants in any of the three towns. If I ever do any touring on Christmas, I sure am going to pack a sack lunch. Remember how folks used to put up lunches in shoe boxes to carry on the train? That's the sort of deal I have in mind. Strangely enough, there is always a lot of traffic on the roads on Christmas Day. I wonder if they eat at all?

These bowl games do pull the interest. I heard of several people who used two TV sets, one on the Cotton Bowl and one on the Sugar Bowl. Still others put their TV on one bowl, and picked up the other on radio. It is pretty hard for me to keep up with one game - but I always manage to get out the one with the least excitement.

Well, as the little girl said, "I sort of peculiar to be going to church on Tuesday, but I'll be the second time in two weeks and I am getting used to it."

Beauty At Home

Q. My face is triangular-shaped - narrow at the top and wide at the bottom. What is the best way for me to apply my rouge?

A. Avoid putting rouge in a circle above the upper lip, as this will only serve to make the lower part of your face look wider, and don't use heavy rouge. Apply rouge in a modified triangle, shading it up to the temples and just under the center of the eyes, and then down faintly over the jawline. The rouge should cover the outer half of the cheeks.

Q. What can I do for cold sores on my lips?

A. Hot compresses will often help to relieve the soreness. Then dab some spirits of camphor gently over the lips.

Q. Do you sanction the use of false fingernails?

A. Why not? And especially when one's own fingernails are inadequate to a glamorous appearance. False nails can be procured in almost any variety or drugstore, and usually some complete with fixative and nail base. Apply the fixative to both your own nail and to the underside of the false one. Press the two firmly together, then wrap the finger with thread or a rubber band until the fixative has dried thoroughly.

Q. How can I exercise to reduce shoulders that are too fleshy and flabby?

A. Standing in good posture, extend arms out from body sideways. Rotate right arm in a big circle. Do the same with left arm. Then rotate both arms at the same time. Relax when the arms become tired, then repeat.

Q. Do you have any makeup suggestions for the girl with a very high forehead?

A. By using only dark powder on her forehead and highlighting the lower portion of her face with lighter makeup, she will reduce the prominence of her forehead. Eyebrows darkened a little more than usual help, too.

Q. What is a good after-shampoo rinse for encouraging more luster in the hair?

A. One very good one consists of the beaten yolks of eggs.

Q. How can I eliminate the annoyance of steamed-up eyeglasses when I enter a warm room after being out in the cold?

A. Rub the lenses with a thin film of cold cream or petroleum jelly, then clean them.

Q. How can I do a good emergency "cover-up" job on a pimple that suddenly pops up on my face?

A. Make a paste out of powder and foundation cream, pat this over the blemish, then press some powder evenly over the offending spot.

Q. What is a good "home-made" formula for a deodorant?

Barbara Jean McGee Wed To Amarillo Man Dec. 29

Barbara Jean McGee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence M. McGee, of Amarillo, became the bride of Jack R. Vincent, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack R. C. Vincent, of Amarillo, on Tuesday evening, Dec. 29, at the Central Church of Christ, Robert C. Jones read the double-ring ceremony. Miss McGee was formerly a resident of Hereford.

The sanctuary was centered with a complete sunburst of snowball chrysanthemums, white princess gladiolus, and double stock. An arch of lighted tapers was banked with woodwardia palms. White Grecian urns atop matching columns and tiered candelabra holding cathedral tapers completed the altar setting. The steps leading up to the ceremony area was flanked by crystal chandelier candelabra garlanded with plumosis fern and holding white candles. Cathedral candelabra and window candles lighted the sanctuary. White trellises garlanded with maiden-hair fern and holding Grecian fountains suspended by cherubs embraced the entire setting. The double aisles were laid with white satin carpet and the pews were marked with white taffeta ribbons.

Flower girl was Jackie Kelly of Panhandle. She wore a dress identical to the attendants and carried a miniature bouquet designed identical to those of the honor attendants, attached to a tiny lace petal basket.

Ring bearer, Donna Hegi of Petersburg, presented the rings on a satin heart-shaped pillow edged in Chantilly lace.

Jack R. C. Vincent, father of the groom, was best man. Groomsmen were Randall McGee, Dale Williams, and Joe Walker. Ushers were Carroll Herring of Lubbock, Robert Carr Vincent of Panhandle, Louis Bruecher of Houston, and Don Hegi of Petersburg.

Mrs. McGee, mother of the bride, chose a navy blue sheath dress for her daughter's wedding. With it she wore navy accessories and a corsage of sweetheart roses with pink and silver tufts. Mrs. Vincent, mother of the bridegroom, wore a sapphire blue sheath dress of Peau de Soie with navy accessories and a corsage of pink sweetheart roses.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor-length wedding gown of Chantilly lace over white satin with a chapel train. The dress had a fitted waist with long torso to a point at center front and back. Inlaid with fan design of scalloped around bottom of skirt formed with double ruffles of accordion pleated tulle, inlaid at center of fan with tridescant beads. Bottom of dress was finished of wide scalloped Chantilly lace.

Fans of skirt were inlaid over tulle of scalloped Chantilly. The sweetheart neckline was

Wester - McClure Vows Are Repeated

In a double-ring ceremony performed in the Central Church of Christ in Hereford Sunday, Dec. 27, Mildred Wester, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Wester of 111 Bradley, became the bride of Garland McClure, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. V. McClure, 822 Blevins, in Hereford. Earnest Highers, minister of the Central Church of Christ, officiated over the ceremony.

Vows were repeated as the couple and their attendants stood before an arch and candelabra. The arch was decorated with greenery and white bells, and the candelabra was adorned with gold candles.

Candle lighters were Carolyn Brooks, cousin of the bride, and Sheryle Patterson. They wore dresses of dark green-ballerina length with long sleeves.

Bridesmaids were Sandra Wester and Mrs. Stanley Cox of Borger, sisters of the bride, Mrs. Norman Paschall of Lockney, sister of the groom, and Lue-na Guinn of Hereford.

The bridesmaids wore red ballerina-length dress with low necklines and long sleeves. They carried a red carnation.

Flower girl was Donna Paschall of Lockney, niece of the groom, and her attendant was Kevin Young, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Young of Hereford. Miss Paschall wore a red dress and carried a basket of flowers. The attendant carried two carnations which he presented to the bride's and groom's mothers.

The ring-bearer was Vickie Cox, niece of the bride. She carried the rings on a white satin pillow, and was dressed in white and wore white gloves.

Maid of honor was Carrie Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Al Smith of Hereford. She wore a gold-floor-length dress and carried a red and gold bouquet.

Ushers were Kent Duncan of Plainview, Norman Paschall of Lockney, Barry L. Jones, Fort Bliss, El Paso, and Stanley Cox of Borger. They wore black slacks with white coats.

The bride's mother wore a beige dress with dark red accessories, and a red carnation corsage. The groom's mother wore a Navy blue dress with Navy and white accessories. She also wore a white carnation corsage.

The bride given in marriage by her father, wore a white taffeta floor-length gown, overlaid with Chantilly lace. The waist featured a scalloped neckline and long sleeves. She carried a gold bouquet on a white Bible. Her veil was finger-length, attached to a rhinestone.

The church chorus sang "Walk Hand in Hand with Me," as the candle lighters entered. "I Love You Truly" was sung by Mr. and Mrs. Dale Young as the bridal party entered. During the ceremony, Leon Roberts presented the Wedding Prayer.

After the wedding, a reception was held in the Fellowship Hall. Mrs. Willodine Brooks, Mrs. Elmer Patterson, Sheryl Patterson and Carolyn Brooks assisted at the reception.

After the honeymoon trip to New Orleans, the couple plans to live at the Oberthier apartments. The bride is a senior at Hereford High School and plans to continue her schooling. The groom is the owner and operator of McClure's Dinateria.

Out-of-town guests were Mrs. McClure, grandmother of the groom, and Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Birchfield, aunt and uncle of the bride.

Fiftieth Wedding Anniversary Held

Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Ireland, 213 Ave. D, celebrated their Golden Wedding Anniversary in Fellowship Hall of the Presbyterian Church of Hereford Sunday, Dec. 27.

Calling hours were observed between 2:20 and 5:30 p. m. Reception committee included Mrs. Henry Hosling and Mrs. D. H. Alexander.

Mr. and Mrs. Ireland were married Dec. 23, 1909, in the home of her father, D. P. Bell of Dimmitt.

Approximately 200 guests called on the Irelands during the reception. The church was decorated with gifts of flowers, and a gold embroidered cloth covered the table. The centerpiece was of golden bells with bronze chrysanthemums. A miniature bride and groom highlighted the centerpiece.

Refreshments of coffee, cake, mints and nuts were served from the table. Pianists providing background music included Miss Nancy Boardman, Miss Ann Wingert and Mrs. Buford Crosthwait, all of Hereford.

Mrs. Harvey Cash read the original wedding announcement from the Hereford Brand of Thursday, Dec. 30, 1909.

Presiding at the guest book were Miss Martha Ann Henslee of Lubbock, Miss Sylvia Lynn Ireland of Moriarity, N. M., Mrs. Bob Birchfield of Amarillo and Mrs. O. J. Labs of Plainview.

In the receiving line were Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Ireland of Ireland of Moriarity, a son.

STATUS RAISER: Your reputation as a good friend and family this raisin-cinnamon cook is bound to increase when you serve loaf made in your own kitchen.

Modern Look To An Old Favorite

EVERY TIME we go marketing we notice how far raisin-cinnamon loaves have gone in this world. So many bakeries putting them out, so many families buying and enjoying them.

Seeking a little status for your own kitchen? You may gain it with this home-baked version of the bread.

This is a quick and easy recipe so even cooks who have never used yeast can be successful with it.

To make this bread, we give an old rule a new twist. We take a standard recipe for batter bread, dot it with golden raisins and thread it with cinnamon and sugar. Pecans help to make an enticing topping.

Did you notice this is batter bread? That means it is made from a batter rather than a dough. Batters are softer than doughs and are not kneaded. Maybe this wasn't Grandma's way with yeast-risen breads and coffee cakes, but it is mighty appealing nowadays.

Friends coming over in the evening? Serve the bread with hot coffee. But be prepared. Do any of your guests refuse coffee because it "keeps them awake"? Have some of the instant all-coffee hot decaffeinated variety on hand and you may get an award for being a perfect hostess.

RAISIN CINNAMON LOAF

Ingredients: 2/3 cup hot water, 1/2 cup sugar, 1 1/2 teaspoons salt, 1/4 cup butter or margarine, 1/2 cup warm (60 degrees) water, 2 packages active dry yeast, 1 egg (slightly beaten), 3/4 cups sifted flour, 1 cup golden raisins, 3/4 cup sugar, 1 1/2 teaspoons cinnamon, 1/4 cup finely chopped pecans.

Method: In a small mixing bowl stir together until combined 2/3 cup hot water, 1/2 cup sugar, salt and butter; cool to lukewarm. Into a large mixing bowl pour 1/2 cup warm water; sprinkle in yeast; stir until dissolved. Stir in lukewarm water mixture. Add egg, flour and raisins; stir well to blend egg and flour—about 2 minutes. Cover and let rise in a warm (85 degrees) place free from draft until more than doubled in bulk—50 minutes. Stir down and beat vigorously about 1/2 minute. Mix together 3/4 cup sugar and cinnamon. Pour one-third of the batter into a greased 1 1/2 quart casserole and sprinkle with 1/4 cup of the cinnamon sugar; repeat. Add remaining batter. Mix remaining cinnamon sugar with pecans; sprinkle over top. Bake uncovered in moderate (375 degrees) oven 40 to 45 minutes. Turn out on wire rack; turn right side up; cool.

Win One Class Holds Meeting

The Win One Sunday School class of the First Methodist Church met for a Christmas party recently in Ward Hall.

Mrs. J. F. Ward, teacher of the class, led the class in prayers. Mrs. E. W. Harrison told a Christmas story entitled "The Loneliest Christmas." Mrs. Harrison said, "With God in the heart, Christmas can be the greatest gift of all."

The Christmas story was followed by a caroling session, and members were accompanied at the piano by Mrs. I. H. Spratt. Hostesses were Mrs. W. A. Gearm and Mrs. A. C. Thompson.

The refreshment table kept with the Christmas theme, as did other decorations. Mrs. Ward presented each member of her class with a gift, and members presented Mrs. Ward with a Christmas gift. The class gave a box of fruit and vegetables to a Hereford family.

Members present included Mesdames William McGee, E. W. Harrison, J. F. Ward, I. H. Spratt, Laura Thomas, Jennie Clark, W. A. Gearm, A. C. Thompson, Mary Woolery, H. D. Whitaker, Dorothy Ross, J. E. Beyer, C. M. Hick, H. M. Benefield and Clem Randall and Miss Lula Botsford.

The Thames, principal river of England, is 210 miles long.

Church Group Has Meeting And Party

The Golden Circle Class of Avenue Baptist Church of Hereford met with Mrs. Peggy Jo Hardy recently for a regular meeting and holiday party.

Members prepared and delivered a Christmas basket. Roll call, "My Favorite Bible Scripture" was answered by Mesdames R. M. Mason, Carl Leavelle, Clais Kemp, C. L. Lynch, Preston West, Bill West, Bill Wall, Ray Roberts and the hostess.

"The Christmas Story", a devotional, was given by Mrs. Bill Wall. Gifts were exchanged and names of secret pals and prayer partners were drawn for the next three months.

Refreshments were served by

(Continued from page 1) scalloped with Chantilly lace and white satin. Design in neck was inlaid with iridescent beads and mother pearls. Long pointed sleeves had matching satin buttons at cuff and matching buttons down center back of dress. Small double folds of crystalline taffeta outlined the waist. A veil of pure silk illusion attached to a half crown of set pearls and iridescent sequins.

The hostess. Next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Preston West on Jan. 21.

GUESTS HERE

The Rev. and Mrs. Robert E. Parrott of Nashville, Tenn., were guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Owen Stagner of Hereford for the holidays. Mrs. Parrott is the former Donna Jean Stagner, daughter of the Owen Stagners. They attended the funeral of Mr. Joe Stagner while here.

The points of the crown were accented with tiny pearl drops. The fingertip veil was edged with scalloped lace medallions matching her gown of Chantilly lace. She carried a long, flowing bouquet of calla lilies designed on the natural line of the individual blossoms. The slender cascade of blossoms was interspersed with white h. acinthis and showered with tiny satin showers and tailored love knots. She wore a single strand of pearls, a gift from the groom.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held in the social hall of the church. The large serving table was draped with floor-length folds of bridal satin and horizontal surges of the same material clipped to the table's edge. A silver epergne and candelabra holding dinner tapers was interspersed with white mum bouquets. The tiered wedding cake was decorated with clusters of blue forget-me-nots and roses. It was served by Mrs. John Dale Kelly, Jr. of Panhandle and Mrs. Layden Hitchcock, while Lafon McGee and Mrs. Chester Wiggins of Hereford served at the silver punch service. Silver appointments were used throughout.

For a trip to Mexico City and Acapulco the bride chose a baby blue wool suit with black accessories and a corsage of calla lilies taken from the bridal bouquet. Following the trip they will be at home at 2700 Britain Drive, Medallion Apartment 18.

The bride was honored with showers given in the homes of Mrs. C. A. and Mrs. Danny Ritter. Mrs. B. A. Wulfman was hostess to a luncheon honoring the bride at the Amarillo Country Club.

The bride was graduated from Hereford High School and Abilene Christian College and for the past 3 1/2 years has been employed as secretary with The Shamrock Oil and Gas Corporation. The groom was graduated from Amarillo High School, Texas A & M College, served 2 years in the Army, holds a Captain's commission in the reserve program, and is a member of the Fourth U. S. Army Reserve Pistol Team. He is engaged in farming and ranching southwest of Amarillo.

Pears Low In Calories But Are Tops In Taste

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
AP Newsfeature Food Editor
A summer visitor lingers into fall, and this guest we're happy to have stay on.

So obliging! Ready to pitch in at any hour of the day — breakfast, lunch, supper, snacktime. Here's a mealtime companion that's both refreshing and versatile.

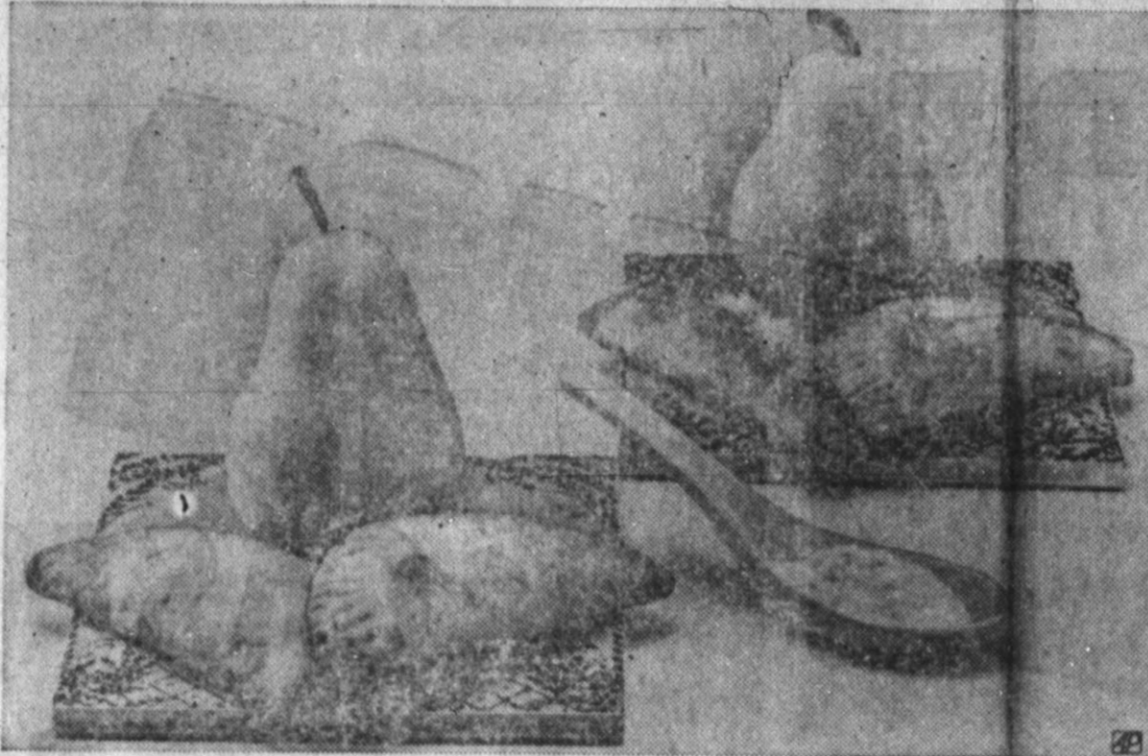

It's the Bartlett pear we're welcoming, adding up its charm and practical contributions to family fare.

But pears need understanding treatment to bring out their best qualities. If they are a green shade and quite firm when you bring them home from market, leave them in their wrapping in a cool room in the house. After they turn yellow and yield slightly to the touch, put them in the refrigerator so you can serve them chilled. Pears make fine partners. Put together a sandwich of date-and-nut bread with a filling of mild soft cheddar cheese; pack into the lunch box for dessert along with a cold ripe pear.

Ever discover how well the pear and orange suit each other? Pare, halve, seed and slice pears into orange juice; serve at breakfast time. Or turn that combination into a company-time compote for lunch or supper by adding fresh orange sections and silvers of syrup-preserved ginger.

Do your young children like finger food? Cut unpeeled pears into eighths and remove seeds; place on a paper plate. Just the right size for youngsters to pick up and nibble, and full of nutrients. Weight-watchers, too, can enjoy these juicy nibbles for dessert because a medium sized pear counts only about 70 calories.

TEAMMATES. Bartlett pears and pastry turnovers filled with raspberry preserves are

The pear is a fine companion for meat. Want to glorify that boneless pork shoulder butt? Insert whole cloves in it, roast it in the oven, baste with ginger ale; slice and center on a platter. Pare the pears, halve and seed; Beat some currant jelly with a little prepared mustard and spoon some into each pear cavity.

If some lamb chops or roast lamb are on the menu, change the pear garnish to green mint jelly and top with pine nuts. The raspberry turnover is a perfect mate for fresh Bartlett pears. Make your own using drained frozen raspberries or raspberry preserves and pastry dough. Or take the easy way and use the excellent puff-paste-turnovers that now come frozen and need only to be baked. Because these frozen raspberry turnovers are large, they may be cut in half after baking and sprinkled with confectioners' sugar.

NO BOYS — NO TEASING

ANCHOR, Wyo. — Girls attending the only school in this small northwestern Wyoming community are never teased by boys. There aren't any. All seven students are girls.

WRONG TURN

RAWLINGS, Wyo. — Don Ethridge, Salem, Ore., stuck out his hand and pointed it downward to indicate he was stopping his car at a Rawlins intersection.

A big boxer dog bit him on the hand.

Under the will of Cecil Rhodes, 32 scholarships to Oxford University in England are awarded each year to American students.

LONG WAIT

IRONTON, Ohio — Warrants issued by the court clerk 24 years ago have finally been returned to the court house here for payment.

Treasurer Bernard McKnight says about $80 worth of warrants drawn up in 1935 to pay jurors and witnesses were cashed at a local grocery. But the grocer never turned them in to be reimbursed and they were rediscovered only recently.

Q. Is there any way I can remedy dents in one of my articles of furniture?
 A. Sometimes you can raise the dents by placing a damp cloth over the dent, then a bottle cap (flat part down) to localize heat on the dent, then rest a warm iron lightly on the cap. This swells the wood fibers. If the dent fails to rise after several applications, you'll have to remove the finish over the dent with some fine sandpaper and try again. Refinish, if necessary, then rub with rottenstone, and wax.

Q. How can I frost the panes of a window?
 A. Dissolve three teaspoons of Epsom salts in a glass of water; add a teaspoon of liquid glue, stirring thoroughly. Apply to the glass with a brush.

Designer Says It With Silver

Q. How can I keep apples a long time without decaying?
 A. Pack them in sawdust.

Q. How can I remove a callous from the foot?
 A. Take a pumice stone to the bath and rub the callous under the water. If it becomes tender, wait until the next day to continue the treatment, and gradually it will all be smoothed away.

Q. How can I renovate some cheese that has become moldy?
 A. Put the cheese into a covered container with a few lumps of sugar. The mold will leave the cheese and enter the sugar. Eat the cheese - and throw away the sugar!

Q. How can I prevent rubber hot-water bottles from drying out and cracking?
 A. An occasional rub down with glycerin will ward off this danger.

Q. How can I remove the lime scale which forms in teakettles in hard-water areas?
 A. You can loosen this scale with boiling water and vinegar (half and half). Let it stand in the kettle for several hours, or overnight, then scrape out the deposit with steel wool. If necessary, repeat the process.

Q. How can I hasten the drying process after washing sweaters or hose?
 A. Fold them in a Turkish towel and run through the wringer, changing towels if necessary. They will dry very quickly as a result of this "squeeze play."

Q. How can I prevent that tough "skin," which invariably forms on my puddings?
 A. By covering the pudding while it's still hot with some waxed paper.

Q. Is there anything at all I can do about bone or celluloid knitting needles that have broken?
 A. It is possible to get some more life out of them. They are easily sharpened in a pencil sharpener, or with a knife. Smooth with an emery board.

and fortune as the only girl winner of the annual design competition sponsored by the Sterling Silversmiths Guild of America. She was awarded second prize for her original design of a sterling silver tea set, hand-crafted on simple modern lines, with unusual handles of padouk wood, a golden colored wood with black veins.

"Everybody has been curious about the padouk wood," says Leilani. "They seem to think it must be some strange oriental wood. Actually I bought a block of it from a woodturner in Massachusetts. I had never seen it before, but I was attracted by its bright orange color, its knots and the delicate black veins. I used the knots for the lid tops."

Leilani has been designing things almost ever since she can remember. Born in Shanghai, she is the daughter of Dr. Edwin T. Kam, a surgeon, of Honolulu. Her Chinese mother, who died when Leilani was 7, also was a doctor. Says she: "My father always wanted me to be a doctor too. I used to help him in his clinic. But then I got interested in design, and here I am."

Leilani has been studying design in the United States for the last four years, first at the Boston Museum School of Fine Arts, then at the School for American Craftsmen of the Rochester Institute of Technology and now at the Cranbrook Academy of Art in Michigan.

"I started doing ceramic jewelry while I was still in grade school in Hawaii," says Leilani. "I sold it first to friends and then to tourists. Then I found some copper wire in my father's toolbox and started working with that. I had two exhibits in Hawaii - one when I was 12, the other when I was 14."

Leilani admits that she sometimes gets homesick for the beautiful island of Oahu and the companionship of her father and sister. Dr. Kam raises orchids as a hobby, and recently won a prize in the World Orchid Show in Hawaii.

He also likes to fish and hunt. "When I was at home I always used to go with my father on hunting and fishing trips," says Leilani. "We hunted wild goats and wild pigs - great sport."

"The youthful designer is interested at present in working with gold and silver. Says she: "The materials cost a lot, but the results are worth it."

Homemade Dish Cement

A good and handy homemade cement for broken dishes can be made by melting some powdered alum in a spoon over a gas flame. While this is still soft, rub the melted alum over the edges of the two pieces you want to stick together; then press them together, and let dry. It will be all right to wash the dish in hot water.

India Ink Stains

For India ink stains on washable fabrics, mix a solution of half laundry bleach and half water, and saturate the stain by dripping one drop at a time of the mixture on it with an eyedropper. Then launder in the usual manner.

Tennis Rackets

When storing away tennis rackets, rub the strings with petroleum jelly to preserve their elasticity and prevent their snapping.

Care of Suede

For a general brightening up of suede articles, a wire brush, of course, helps a lot - and it'll help still more if you'll first go over the suede with a cloth dipped in vinegar. Another good brushup can be done by rubbing a piece of stale rye bread over the surface of the suede. Holding spotted areas over the steaming spout of a teakettle is sometimes effective, too.

Linoleum Repair

Holes worn in your linoleum can be repaired by filling them with a paste made of shellac and finely ground cork. When the mixture has dried, sand smooth and paint to match the linoleum pattern.

Gilt Frames

Gilt picture frames can be nicely cleaned, without danger of tarnishing, with a cloth dampened in beer.

County Salary Boosts Appear To Be Well In Line With Local Conditions

Deaf Smith County's blanket salary raise has created considerable comment following the announcement. In a nutshell, the increase amounts to $12,478.50 for the next 12 months, and figures approximately eight per cent. When you stop to calculate that this is the first blanket raise in the past three years, it seems to be well in order. Most local firms have faced salary raises during the same period, and most of them would be glad to settle for the overall eight per cent.

Taken job by job, some of them may seem a bit steep. This decision is one for the Commissioners Court, however, and they should have carefully investigated the duties involved and time required. Certainly, until one is fully informed regarding duties of an office, it is difficult to say what salary would be fair.

County employee salaries must stay pretty well on a parallel with those paid by private industry and business; otherwise, we would have a mighty poor quality of help — and this is always the most expensive employee one can hire. Critics might well remember, too, that the responsibility in some of our county offices is tremendous.

Deaf Smith County, as far as we know, is in excellent financial condition. If the salaries were far above the figure which the same people could secure in non-county work, we would be the first to complain. As things stand, however, they seem to be merely coming into line. They have not gone hog wild, which has been the case in some other West Texas counties.

Reasonable salaries, it seems to us, provide the best type of insurance for a good job done by capable employees. These things, added together, should result in a continuation of the excellent financial condition which our county now enjoys.

Watch Where You Throw Beer Cans

Announcement of a drive to curb littering of street and private property with beer cans, whiskey bottles and other debris was announced this week by Hereford police, and comes as a welcome situation to a long-suffering public.

Many people seem to get a childish sort of pleasure in strewing alcoholic beverage containers in public places and the state highways are no exception. The practice has become so common, in fact, that it seldom attracts undue attention.

Needless to say, these containers create an unsightly scene for visitors to the city, and if it takes maximum fines to stop the practice, then it is time we extracted some stiff penalties. In view of the new insurance laws, these litter violations could easily lead to possession charges — and might result in serious consequences. In addition, those who throw the beer cans and bottles reflect upon themselves, along with other citizens of the community.

Like most crack-downs, the police would much rather see the practice of littering halted, in which case we feel sure that everyone concerned will be much happier with the results.

COFFEE-BREAK TIME IN HEREFORD

Tex And Archie Talk Over Recording Costs, Then Decide Manicurists Deserve Higher Filing Fees

"You know, the manicurists are the most underpaid group of folks in this state," declared Tex the other morning while he and Archie were drinking their third cup of coffee. "Their filing fees don't begin to touch the rates they charge you at the clerk's office."

"I ain't never had a manicure," replied Archie, holding up his calloused hands to prove the point, "but you might be right. This past summer I latched onto a little house through F. H. A. and they nicked me $9.50 to file the paper. My sister's husband says the same thing cost him $1.50 over in New Mexico."

"Most other states do seem to be a lot cheaper," said Tex. "Anyway, they tell me that Deaf Smith County is just the same as other counties in the Lone Star state."

"I read in the paper where the county clerks are all using pictures instead of hiring girls to make the copy," mused Archie. "Reckon that's why it costs so much more?"

"I don't think so," replied Tex. "Fact is, they would need about four girls to replace the photostat machine in the office here. Besides, those pictures don't make typographical errors — and that's mighty important."

"I can't see no reason, then," responded Archie. "Why my no-account brother-in-law gets by for $8.00 cheaper in New Mexico than I do in Texas."

"It's real complicated," said Tex. "You see, it goes back to the fact that our legal instruments take up a whole page and a half to two pages in the record book, while New Mexico deeds take up only a few lines."

"I figured it was them lawyer fellers," declared Archie. "They put so many herefores and whyases I can't tell what they are talking about half the time. Them fellers sure are tricky."

"Now wait a minute," said Tex. "The lawyers do use a lot of words, but they tell me it is necessary because of the State of Texas basic laws. Fact is, the printers seem to be more at fault than the lawyers."

"Them!" sneered Archie. "They're worse'n lawyers, and that's for sure."

"You might have something, there," admitted Tex. "Those big time printers sure get a lot of money for printing those long-winded deeds — and I hear that they open every issue to cut down the wording on Texas legal instruments."

"Another thing," exploded Archie. "How come my wife's gotta have a special acknowledgment? They don't have nothin' like that in New Mexico. Maybe not even Oklahoma. Whatcha gonna do about it, Tex?"

"Me? Nothing. Nothing at all," answered the indignant Tex. "After all, we've got the second biggest state in the Union — and it will be a long time before all of our space is used up to store record books — especially if we go two and three stories high. Houston and Dallas already have some trouble along this line, but the judge told me the other day this wasn't why we had to expand the Deaf Smith County courthouse. I am not going to worry about it."

"Well, I am still out an extra eight bucks," argued Archie, "and I don't like it. We coulda bought some more groceries, then my wife would have had more trading stamps, and I would of got a better Christmas present. I don't like it, Tex. I sure don't. I think I'll write Walter Rogers a letter."

"There you go," scolded Tex. "He's your federal congressman in Washington. The one you need to write is Jess Osborn in Austin. He's your state representative. Or maybe Gov. Price Daniel."

"Austin . . . Washington! I don't care," retorted Archie. "I am a hard working fellow, and I want back my $8.00. Besides that Notary Public . . ."

"Notary Public," corrected Tex. "But that's another subject, Archie — and I've got to get back to work. I've already taken 54 minutes on this coffee break. Besides, you're not going to write anybody. You're just shooting off your head."

"Still, and all, it does cost me $9.50," protested Archie as they went out the door, "and I don't see why my lousy brother-in-law should oughta get off $8.00 cheaper than me. It just ain't right!"

The POWER of FAITH by Howard Brodie

Many great athletes have been strengthened by faith in God and prayer. In their prayers, they do not ask for victory—but to perform their best in accordance with Divine Will. The Fellowship of Christian Athletes is one approach to acquaint high school and college athletes with the power of faith.

The organization was founded in 1954, through the inspiration of Don McClanan, young basketball coach at Eastern Oklahoma A & M. Among outstanding sports figures who have supported the group or attended its annual conference are Branch Rickey, Otto Graham, Robin Roberts, Bob Pettit, Bud Held, Doak Walker, Paul Dietzel, Pete Elliott and Alonzo Stagg.

Two hundred young athletes attended the annual conference in 1956; over 600 attended this year, at Estes Park, Colo. City-wide programs also have been conducted in various communities from Springfield, Mass., to Denver, and Fellowship Athletes have spoken of sports and Christianity—and the relationship between the two—to more than 150,000 youngsters in 15 states this year.

With headquarters in Kansas City, McClanan's Fellowship is spreading its gospel to youth across America.

AN OPEN LETTER:

Watermelon Provides Gay End To Search

Ordinarily it isn't proper to read another's mail. But there is a small file of correspondence in the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce office that is a heart-warming story.

It's a story of watermelons, a small boy's cravings and the cooperation of many people to fill a wish.

Here is a letter from Bryan, Texas, dated Dec. 11, 1959: "President, Chamber of Commerce Hereford, Texas

Dear Sir: At a time like this and at this season of the year it may seem very strange to receive such a request.

Dear Sir, a friend of mine told me that it might be possible that somewhere in your town or area you might locate a watermelon for our little son.

We realize that a watermelon now is almost out of season and season, but this little four-year-old is craving one so badly that he is actually losing weight from the great desire.

Michael is a very brilliant child and also very spoiled, although I suppose he has a good reason for being spoiled. You see, Michael was born with congenital heart trouble. He had to be one of the very fortunate ones; yet, he is very fortunate to have been able to go through major heart surgery at the age of ten months with such wonderful doctors as we have today. Dr. Denton A. Cooley of Baylor Medical College of Houston operated on Michael Jan 4, 1956. He still has a hole between the walls of the lower chambers of his heart, although three of the other defects have been worked on. We pray that the good Lord will help him to be comfortable. He has many bad days during this damp weather.

When he feels good, he wants to be a real "shoot 'em up." We have to watch him and slow him down so often.

If you can, and I know you will be so kind to do so, I would sincerely thank you from the bottom of my heart. Not only me, but my husband and the four children would also. If you can locate one please send it C. O. D.

Sincerely, Mrs. Joe C. Patranello 206 S. Haswell Dr. Bryan, Texas"

Bill Thompson, manager of the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce, was unable to locate a watermelon. However, he wrote Mrs. Patranello on Dec. 15, suggesting three men who might be able to help. One was in California. The other was in Arizona, and the third was Jack Drake, manager of the Lower Rio Grande Valley Chamber of Commerce.

On Dec. 18, Mrs. Patranello wrote Bill Thompson. She thanked him for his help and said she was writing the three men in a continuing effort to find a watermelon.

The story has a happy ending. On Dec. 27, Mrs. Patranello wrote another letter to the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce. The search was successful, through Jack Drake and two men from Weslaco. Mrs. Patranello expressed her appreciation and said that Michael was eating well and gaining weight now that he had gotten a watermelon.

As a matter of fact, Michael got two watermelons. They were delivered to him by the Texas-Louisiana division supervisor of Railway Express, which delivered the melons just before Christmas.

CITY STUDIES WATERWORK GROWTH

Dumas City Commissioners intensified their study of the city's water problems—both natural and manmade—during a lengthy discussion with a bonding company representative. The commission's only other activity was establishment of a $1 fee for jurors called into session by Corporation Court Judge Arlis McBe. Discussion about the city's bonded indebtedness revolved around the waterworks bond issues approved by the voters in 1947 and 1948. A repayment schedule introduced by the bonding firm shows the city still owes more than $240,000 in principal and interest on the two issues. Cost of waterworks improvements and expansions facing the city immediately could run as high as $222,000. This does, however, include a fire sub-station almost sure to be necessary after the 1960 census is completed. The engineer's cost estimate listed as necessary storage facilities for an additional one million gallons of water, two new wells, corrosion protection, cleaning of present storage tanks, and related pumps and buildings. The drainage channels which would divert much of the water that often floods Dumas were estimated at $96,600. This would include two huge ditches at the west edge of the city, with one requiring excavation of almost 75,000 cubic yards of dirt. —MOORE COUNTY NEWS

HIGHWAY JOBS AMOUNT TO $376,500

The Texas Highway Department will spend $376,500 on highway and Ranch and Farm-to-Market road improvements in Uvalde County in 1960, according to the district office in Del Rio. The Highway Department allotted $227,000 for improvements on highways in the county as a segment of the 1960 Safety and Betterment Program which was approved by the Highway Commission at its December meeting. Work included on this program consists of shoulder widening, seal coat jobs, additional surfacing, widening and structures, etc., and is for the purpose of improving already existing highways. The Highway Commission at its November meeting approved $149,000 for improvement of Ranch-and-Farm-to-Market roads in the county for 1960, according to C. N. Parsons, district engineer in Del Rio. Allotment for projects listed in the two programs are in addition to the regular construction and maintenance programs. —THE UVALDE LEADER

DUMAS LOW IN GROWTH POLL

Though construction in Dumas for the 12-month period ending November 31 totalled almost $1,275,000, the city ranked fourth in a comparison of five High Plains cities of comparable size. Figures for the comparison were drawn from the December issue of "West Texas Today," official publication of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. Perryton, with oil-boom growth pains reminiscent of those which hit Moore County three decades ago, overshadowed the population bracket with construction totalling more than $7 million. Hereford showed the most diversified construction program, with a community center, new county jail and courthouse improvements highlighting the year's work. Levelland, with $2,275,819, also exceeded Dumas construction totals, with Littlefield just behind with $1,088,335. —MOORE COUNTY NEWS (DUMAS)

THIEVES SWEEP DOWN HIGHWAY

Thieves made a sweep down Highway 60 Thursday night, taking two mats from behind the Dairy Freeze and rifling a soft drink machine at Bonds Oil Co. Service Station. Boyd Gilreath, owner of the drive-in, said he took the mats out of the building to wash them and left them out. —THE BOVINA BLADE

The BOOTLEG Philosopher

Editors note: The Bootleg Philosopher on his bindweed farm has found out a new year is at hand, his letter indicates.

Dear editor: This is the time of year when all the experts bring out their predictions for the next twelve months, and while I'm no expert—oh, I'll admit I've been wrong about as many times as they have, still I don't qualify as one—I thought I'd fall in line and bring out a few of my own. The trouble with most predictions is they aren't strong enough. They hedge. They say times are going to be good in 1960, unless this or that occurs. There's going to be an upturn unless there's a downturn.

Mine are more positive. For example, I predict the world's coming to an end in 1959. I don't really think so, I'm going ahead and making a crop, but you've got to admit, if I'm right, I'll go down in history.

As for the economic situation in the next twelve months, I predict most people will make it, but at the end of the year when they look back, they won't see how they did. Internationally, the scene looks cloudy. This is the same prediction I've made every year since I found out there were other countries besides the United States, and it's always been right. I've never been caught napping on that one. If I wanted to pick out the easiest job on earth, I'd pick the job of predicting every January 1 that the international scene is fraught with danger and uncertainty.

On the national scene, I predict the United States, despite the feeling some people have it won't hold together, will hold together for another twelve months. It's a funny thing about the United States. It's not as smart as some people give it credit for being, nor half as dumb as some people suspect.

Around here, my predictions are a little more hazy. The closer a man gets to home, the less specific he is, if he's smart. I wouldn't mind predicting what's going to happen around here in the next twelve months, and may do it some day, just as soon as I find out what happened in the last twelve.

Happy new year. That's the kind I intend to have. Yours faithfully, J. A.

You Can't Teach Your Golf's New Star Has Old Parakeet To Talk Parallel With Jones

YOU CAN'T TRAIN an old parakeet to say "uncle" or anything else for that matter. Old birds are likely to be stubborn. That's the word from English "budgerigar" (that means parakeet) expert Phillip Marsden, here to observe American parakeets in action.

"Everyone wants a talking parakeet. But if you'd train one, take him right from his nest, preferably before he is six weeks old. A young bird has lines across his head all the way to the beak, and no spots on feathers in front."

PHILIP MARSDEN — Parakeet expert at work.

Males are your best bet for the ABC's because they have better dispositions, and so much of talking is in the taming, Marsden points out. He explains:

"The right techniques of teaching are important. The bird must become your friend, and you must employ constant repetition of identical sounds over a period of time, such as his name. With reason a little concentration he should say his name in a month. It'll take that long perhaps to control his throat muscles. After that you can expect him to learn a phrase of from four to six syllables in a week or 10 days."

The best speakers in the parakeet world belong to childless women, he says, "because they have plenty of time to devote to their pets."

By HUGH FULLERTON Jr. Jack Nicklaus gave himself an almost impossible assignment just after winning the U. S. Amateur golf championship when he said he'd like "to do something like Bobby Jones."

But the personable young redhead from Columbus, Ohio, already has three things going for him in the effort — his first championship, a modern version of Bobby's famous "Calamity Jane," and jumpy nerves.

There is, in fact, a rather curious parallel between Jones and Nicklaus as far as Jackie's rather brief golfing career has gone.

Jones played in his first U. S. amateur championship in 1916, when he was only 14 years old.

While Marsden talked, his own parakeet, 2½ year old "Bobby", jabbed away at his shirt collar chattering unintelligible gibberish.

"But he's very bright," Marsden explains. "He's on television with me and has learned lines for a movie — the story of a little English girl and a trumpet."

English birds have good vocabularies, he says pointing out that this year's BBC television holding it very steady some distance from the bird at about perch level, until he sees that it means him no harm. Move slowly toward him until the finger rests on the bird's tummy, and then with a slight upward pressure, force him to climb on to your finger. Each time the winner had 700 words in his lexicon.

Anyone can train a bird that has qualifications, provided he is patient, and will make a pal of the bird by finger taming.

"You can tame a bird to your finger by inserting your forefinger extended into the cage, command 'up', and in about a week, he'll get up every time he is told to do so," Marsden advises.

Once your bird is tamed, let him out as much as you can. He's essentially a thing in flight, and needs freedom.

Marsden, who is British consultant to R. B. French, bird breeder, and author of "Talking Budgetary", has a full time job as principal of the Vote Office in the House of Commons. He says:

"Many famous British people own parakeets, among them Winston Churchill. We have more than 10 million parakeets in Britain, compared with three and a quarter million dogs and five million cats."

Your pet can live long and happily, if you'll pay attention to some small details such as these:

Give him a cage with room — at least 10 by 15 inches. He'll need two perches to encourage exercise flying from one to the other.

Wire hooks that are attached to his toys should be kept safely closed, as these can cause injury.

Keep him out of drafts. Also check his cage for mites which can come in the window at night and feed on his feathers.

Direct sunlight can cause a soft moult, particularly if there is a drastic change of temperature at night. Keep him in an even temperature if possible.

Give him toys. He'll love his own mirror, slides, swings.

Lastly, your parakeet needs a lot of affection, if you'd get the best results from his presence. Says Marsden:

"But don't be like the Englishman who indulged his parakeet in everything, even to his own death. He was called 'to kill the bird.'"

He was eliminated in the third round by Bob Gardner, the defending champion and the only player younger than Nicklaus ever to win the U. S. Amateur.

At 15 Bobby won the Southern Amateur and at 17 he was runnerup in the National. But it wasn't until 1923, a few months after he had turned 21, that Jones beat Bobby Cruickshank in a playoff for the U. S. Open title and began his incredible string of victories that was climaxed by the 1930 "Grand Slam."

Nicklaus qualified for his first U. S. amateur at 15 — in 1955 — a much more difficult feat than in Jones' day because there were 1,493 entries instead of 217. Oddly, he was beaten by another Bob Gardner.

At 16 Jackie won the Ohio Open championship; at 17 the Jaycee International Junior Mississippi amateur. He was 19 years and 8 months old when he proudly accepted the U. S. Amateur championship trophy at Colorado Springs, Sept. 19.

Where Jones had his battered old putter known as "Calamity Jane" as his chief weapon of execution, Nicklaus said his most effective club in the final against Charlie Coe was the "rusty putter" he picked up in Scotland last spring.

BOBBY JONES Using Calamity Jane

quickly acquires a patina of age and doesn't cause any disturbing reflections.

At his competitive peak, Jones suffered from a nervous stomach and couldn't eat before a match. Jack didn't miss any meals at Colorado Springs but he said he was "too nervous to think" during the last couple of matches and had to ask his caddy to read the greens.

It's conceivable, though unlikely, that Nicklaus some day may duplicate Jones' 1930 feat of winning the U. S.

and British Open and Amateur championships. But here's the Jones record he'll have to match:

U. S. Amateur champion — 1924, 1925, 1927, 1928, 1930 (runnerup 1919, 1926).

U. S. Open Champion — 1923, 1926, 1929, 1930 (tied but lost playoffs 1925, 1928).

British Open Champion — 1926, 1927, 1930.

British Amateur champion — 1930.

Walker Cup Competition — won five matches, lost none.

UNDER CRITICAL EYE

NEW YORK (AP) — Robert Preston has a special reason for keeping his lead portrayal in "The Music Man" full of zest. Having been in the part two years, Preston finds himself "in the funny position of competing with myself."

He explains: "Some people are seeing the show for the fourth or fifth time, and they compare my performances on different occasions. And I can't fall down, because audience response is always so enthusiastic."

YOUTH IS SIGNED

NEW YORK (AP) — The 8-year-old French lad who won acclaim in the prize film, "The Red Balloon," has been signed for his first Broadway role.

NAMED BY CRITIC

NEW YORK (AP) — Broadway's current hit "At the Drop of a Hat" was named by a drama critic who never saw it.

Michael Flanders, one-half of the two-man revue, explains how it happened:

"Alexander Woolcott once said in a theater book that an author never has to be urged to do his own material, and in fact will go into an act at the drop of a hat. That fits us exactly."

TEST PILOTS — Eliot Mover, of Everett, Mass., uses husky babies to test strength of these new nursery swings.

Today's Babies Rough On Nursery Furniture

By VIVIAN BROWN
MODERN BABIES are pretty tough customers, bigger and stronger than ever, and the puniest member of the diaper set can put a crimp in the best laid plans of nursery equipment manufacturers.

"But we aren't licked yet," proclaims Eliot Mover of Everett, Mass., who has met the challenge head-on.

"Time was when baby would lie in a crib kicking his heels happily and cooing the day away. But nowadays he's likely to be up gadding about the nursery after his first session with vitamins, says Mover, who doesn't manufacture anything nowadays until it's been thoroughly tested by the small Samsons. He explains:

From this noble experiment, duly recorded by Mover and members of his firm, have come useful innovations, and some drastic changes.

"The house swing had to be reengineered — the modern baby can propel himself with enough force to knock one over. The car bed was redesigned, and stronger tubular steel has replaced flat steel, and the capacious posteriors of today's baby, plus his pile-lined snow suit, requires a larger car set for comfort. Mattresses have been toughened to foil the most virile teether.

"We use printed plastic bonded right to fabric creating a virtually indestructible mattress — this year. But who knows at the rate we are going what next year will bring?"

Walkers and strollers are made on sturdier lines, play pads and chair cushions have all been toughened to stand the strain of today's exuberant cut-ups.

Mover's father founded the firm, and instituted the idea of testing equipment on children of employees 42 years ago, from which evolved Eliot's baby clinic. The 36-year old Eliot was his father's first guinea pig.

"I was the reason Dad invented the auto seat and the auto bed," Eliot explains. "Mom got tired of having her dresses wrinkled."

Eliot's own children, Heidi, 9, and Dick, 4, also have been test cases, but they've outgrown the role.

The youthful president prides himself on his safety devices — "more important than appearances of the products," he says, although he tries to combine both. His most recent step in that direction was to switch from the potentially dangerous plastic bags to another type of packaging.

WHO IS DELINQUENT?

The majority of our young people are law-abiding, honorable and upright in conduct. Some are so in spite of improper home training and other adverse factors.

But that juvenile delinquency exists today is admitted by all who are informed!

THERE MUST BE A CAUSE!

1. Perhaps it is more parental than Juvenile?
2. Perhaps it is also aggravated by current religious doctrines and philosophy!

WHAT ARE THE REASONS FOR JUVENILE DELINQUENCY?

I -- Parental Failures:

A. Improper examples by parents.

- a. Many parents do not show respect for civil authority.
- b. Many do not show respect for the right of others.
- c. Many live by a low moral code.
- d. Church attendance is infrequent if at all.
- e. Bible study is neglected.

B. Failure to teach:

- a. Respect for parental authority.
- b. Respect for God and the Bible.
- c. Respect for school authority.
- d. Respect for civil authority.
- e. Respect for rights and property of others.

These lessons must be taught early in life. God requires it of parents. "... bring them up in the nurture and admonition of the Lord" (Ephesians 6:4) "Bring Up A Child In The Way He Should Go And When He Is Old He Will Not Depart From It." Prov. 22:6.

CONCLUSION:

The problem of delinquency cannot be solved by civil law and penal punishment alone. So long as parental delinquency and religious failures exist, juvenile delinquency will prevail. Only respect for God's Law — the Bible — and adherence to its principles can ever eliminate the scourge from our society.

Shrimp Curry At Its Greatest

By CECILY BROWNSTONE

From faraway India comes a recipe for shrimp curry. Often culinary directions from India call for exotic and unobtainable ingredients. But not this recipe! It's practical for American kitchens, and utterly delicious.

We admit, however, that in testing the rule here a few changes were made. When this curry is put together in India, ghee (clarified butter) is used as the fat; we suggest bland corn oil. In that country, too, fresh coconut milk is added, but because the fresh product is not just "milk" made from canned coconut. This canned coconut milk does add some extra sweetness, so in our recipe the original amount of lemon juice has been increased as compensation.

The other big change made for-American tastes is in the spicing. The original recipe calls for curry powder plus extra amounts of three of the powder's regular ingredients — coriander, cumin and turmeric; powdered red pepper is also included. If you have these spices on your kitchen shelf, and like the Indian way, add the amount of curry powder we suggest and throw in extra pinches of the others. But be careful of that red pepper unless you are sure your family and friends will welcome a hotter than hot dish.

Shrimp is back in good supply just in time for this curry. If you use the small or medium variety, add them as is. If you use very large shrimp you may wish to cut each one in half lengthwise.

SHRIMP CURRY

Ingredients: 1½ cups milk, 1 can (3½ ounces) flaked coconut, 1½ pounds shrimp (fresh or frozen), 5 tablespoons corn oil, 1 clove garlic (minced and crushed), 2 medium onions (minced).

FROM INDIA comes this delightful shrimp can kitchens but not tampered with! curry. The recipe was adapted for Ameri-

1 to 2 tablespoons curry powder, cayenne pepper, ¼ teaspoon salt, 3 medium - sized tomatoes (peeled and chopped), 3 tablespoons lemon juice.

Method: Heat milk to boiling; pour over coconut; let stand until cool. Clean shrimp; dry with paper toweling. Heat three tablespoons of the oil in a medium-sized skillet. Add shrimp and cook, tossing often, until firm and pink — 3 to 5 minutes. Remove shrimp and add remaining 2 tablespoons oil to pan with garlic and onion; cook over low heat, stirring often until onion is tender. Stir in curry powder, a pinch of pepper and salt; continue cooking a few minutes. Add tomato and lemon juice and cook 10 to 15 minutes, stirring at the beginning and mashing the onion and tomato. Meanwhile, pour coconut and milk through a strainer, pressing moisture from coconut; discard coconut meat. Slowly stir the coconut milk into curry mixture. Cook over low heat about 20 minutes. Add shrimp and continue cooking just long enough to heat shrimp. Serve with hot-cooked rice and a small bowl of finely chopped parsley and scallions. Makes 4 servings.

REMEMBER WHEN?

By Charlie Seeds

This was one of the most unusual championship fights in the history of boxing... a battle between the young champion, Floyd Patterson, and a 28-year-old amateur who had never had a professional fight, Pete Rademacher.

Rademacher had won the Olympic Gold Medal the previous year in Australia, knocking out all of his opponents to reach the top and take the heavyweight crown in the games. He was supposed to have a big punch... but all the experts scoffed at the match with Patterson. Pete didn't have a chance, they said. He didn't belong in the same ring with the champion.

The bout was held August 22 in Seattle. In the second round the experts swallowed their cigars when Rademacher caught Patterson with a solid right and knocked him to the canvas. But that was his big moment. After that the champion started cutting the amateur down. By the middle of the sixth round he had been decked six times. Then came the seventh — and last knockdown... and the amazing amateur was counted out.

How Can I?

By Anne Ashley

Q. How can I properly wash an electric blanket?

A. They should be washed by hand or in a machine, but should never be dry-cleaned. Use lukewarm suds, and rinse at least twice in water of the same temperature as the wash water. Do not rub or twist or wring the blanket. Hang in the shade to dry. And after washing, stretch it gently into shape so as to straighten out any kinks in the fine wires inside.

Q. How can I prevent glove odor resulting from perspiring hands?

A. This can be prevented by dusting rice or talcum powder into the gloves as soon as they are removed.

Q. How can I mix a good, tough liquid for blowing soap bubbles?

A. Try the following solution: Two parts of dry castile soap, thirty parts of glycerin, forty parts of water.

Q. How can I remove spilled candle wax from furniture?

A. Scrape away as much of the wax as you can, using a stiff card, smooth stick, or your fingernail. Wash off the remainder with a cloth wrung out of mild, warm soapsuds, or wipe with a cloth moistened with carbon tetrachloride. Then polish.

Q. How can I tenderize a steak?

A. If you believe that a steak is going to be tough on your family's teeth, tenderize it by soaking it in a pint of water and a tablespoonful of vinegar for 10 minutes before cooking it.

Q. How can I prevent the sewing machine needle from cutting linen materials?

A. Rub the seam to be stitched ed with hard, white soap.

Q. How can I avoid the danger of scratching my plated plumbing fixtures when it is necessary to use a wrench on them in order to replace a washer?

A. You can prevent scratching if you will first wrap a strip of adhesive tape around the polished metal where the wrench is to be fitted.

Q. How can I prevent the juice of roasting meat from escaping?

A. When either roasting or broiling meat, it is better to use a spoon for turning, for the reason that a fork sticks into the meat and allows the juices to escape.

Q. How can I prevent windows from rattling?

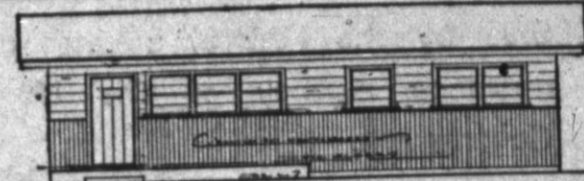

A. Felt weather stripping tacked, or stuck on with mullage, to a door or window that rattles will stop the annoyance.

Q. How can I quickly and easily remove water that has been spilled on a book page?

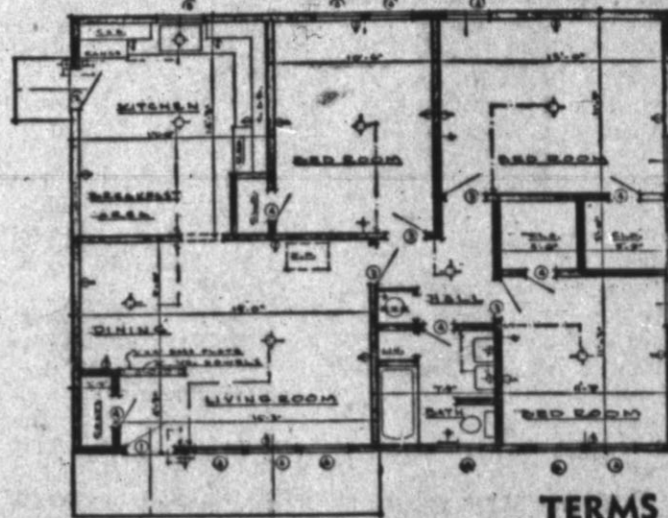

A. Lay a blotter on each side of the first wet page and press with a medium-hot iron until smooth and dry. Repeat with other pages if it has soaked through.

Q. What is a quickly-prepared and effective beauty mask?

A. Just the painting of the white of an egg over face and throat, allowing to remain on for 10 minutes, then washing off with warm water is very beneficial to the complexion.

Students Back In School After Christmas Holidays

By MRS. HAROLD RUDD
Christmas is over and soon it will be time for the children to go back to their respective classrooms. College students will be returning to their respective schools and saying goodbye to their parents and friends of their community.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Rudd was the scene of the family Christmas tree on Thursday evening. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Rudd, Teresa, Susan and Paul Douglas, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Rudd, Lynn, Patsy, Cheryl and Kit, and Mr. and Mrs. Homer Rudd and Colleen. Mr. and Mrs. Harold Rudd and children then went to her parents' home, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Wells in Hereford, for supper and to have their family tree.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Griffin of Pampa and Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Weeks of Amarillo arrived Friday to eat Christmas dinner with the entire Rudd family. Mr. and Mrs. Griffin remained until Saturday evening before returning home.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Rudd and children left Friday afternoon to visit with her parents. Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Sims and Ronnie at Andrews. They visited with friends in Odessa on Saturday and that night her brother, Mr. and Mrs. Neil Sims of Hobbs, N.M., joined the group for the family tree at the Sims home in Andrews.

Mr. and Mrs. Merlin Kaul were hosts for a candle light supper in their home on Christmas Eve. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Morrison and Judith, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Landers and Ross Joe, Larry and Walter Kaul and the hosts.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Halton, Roy and Terry of Lubbock, Nathan Wilson of Baylor University and Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Wilson, Debbie, Judy, John and Alan ate Christmas dinner with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Wilson, Nathan returned to Waco on Friday, Jan. 1.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Morrison and Judith, Raymond Morrison, Mrs. Ralph Morrison, and Mr. and Mrs. Merlin Kaul, Larry and Walter ate Christmas dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Don Heddings and girls in Hereford.

Mrs. Joe Landers and Ross Joe spent Christmas day with Mr. and Mrs. Guy Lawrence in Hereford.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Raines and family were visitors at the Westway Church Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Henson and Clifford and Edward of Hobbs, N. M., and Mrs. W. J. Frost and Mr. and Mrs. Don Heddings, Rhonda and Donna, all of Hereford, were visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Morrison Sunday.

R. M. Gunn of Hereford spent Saturday with Mr. and Mrs. Joe Landers. Mr. and Mrs. Roy Landers and children of Hereford also visited with the Joe Landers Saturday night.

Joe Reinauer Jr. arrived home from Oklahoma State University at Stillwater about ten days ago to spend the holiday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Reinauer Sr.

Mr. and Mrs. Finis Wright of Amarillo spent Christmas Eve and Christmas Day with her sister, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Combs. On Christmas Mr. and Mrs.

W. E. Corbbs of Plainview came to visit with Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Combs and Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Combs. Saturday the three Combs families, Bill and Gene Combs, Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Merritt and Sandra Townsend of Hereford were near Ft. Sumner, N. M. on business.

Joe Reinauer and son, Jim, spent Sunday through Wednesday in Oklahoma City. Joe's brother, John returned home with them for a few days visit.

Mr. and Mrs. George Turrentine, Janice, Carol and Pat, Mrs. Bess Werner, Dr. and Mrs. L. A. Beyers, Steven and Mary Alice of Hereford and Brother Crist of the Labor Camp ate dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Joe Paetzold in Hereford on Christmas Day.

Late Saturday morning the Turrentine family and Mrs. Werner left to spend the week end in El Paso with their sister and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Roach and family. Mrs. Werner remained for a week's visit with her daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Harver of Silver City, N. M., spent Saturday night with her cousin, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Rudd. On Sunday morning they visited with Mr. and Mrs. Paul Rudd and Mr. and Mrs. Homer Rudd.

R. A. Wells of Hereford and Raymond Wells Jr. of Amarillo also were visitors in the Paul Rudd home Sunday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Rudd and children visited with Mr. and Mrs. Ed Dzuik Jr. and children Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. O. Wertenberger and Erin of Hereford visited with Mrs. Bess Werner and Mr. and Mrs. George Turrentine Thursday afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Rudd and children were also callers in their homes.

Mr. and Mrs. James Headstream, Tom and Patti of Hereford visited with Mr. and Mrs. Dick Godwin Thursday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Merlin Kaul attended the funeral of J. A. Stagner in Hereford Sunday afternoon.

Later they attended the Golden Wedding Anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Ireland held at the Presbyterian Church.

Mrs. George Turrentine visited with her mother, Mrs. Joe Paetzold, in the hospital in Canyon on Tuesday.

The Westway Home Demonstration Club will have its first meeting on Jan. 14 in the home of Mrs. Paul Rudd.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Wilson of Snyder, Mr. and Mrs. Byrd Wilson of McKinney, Mrs. W. Davison of Hereford, Mr. and Mrs. Obe Wilson of Hereford and Mrs. R. L. Wilson and Nathan were guests in the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Wilson, on Christmas night. It was the first time they had all been together in a long time.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Paetzold and family of Hereford visited with Mr. and Mrs. George Turrentine and family on Saturday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Rudd visited with Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Fuhrmann in Hereford Monday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Rudd also spent Wednesday in Amarillo and visited with Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Wells Jr. and Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Weeks.

El Paso Burges Downs Herd 61-45 In Meet Consolation

Unable to hold a slim lead during the first half, the Hereford Whitefaces lost 61-45 Wednesday afternoon to El Paso Burges in the consolation finals of the Caprock Holiday tournament in Lubbock. After breaking a 8-8 deadlock, Hereford surged in front 17-12 at the close of the first quarter.

With slightly more than one minute remaining in the first half, the Herd was leading 27-23. But Burges used the seconds to advantage, tying the score with 42 seconds remaining and running the score to 30-27 before the half ended.

It was Burges all the way in the third quarter as they bolted to a 36-28 lead before Hereford was able to net a field goal. That was as close as the Whitefaces could get as Burges pushed to a 48-37 lead at the end of the three-quarter mark. Sophomore Dennis Hodges was the only Whiteface to score in double figures as he counted 17. Joe Villegas had 20 points for Burges, while Eddie Wilson added 15 and Charles Villegas had 13.

After losing their first game to Midland in the three-day tourney, the Whitefaces nudged Colorado City 85-82 in an overtime affair to enter the consolation finals for the AAAA and AAA team bracket.

Burges of El Paso lost to Tom S. Lubbock, then whipped Ector of Odessa to meet Hereford. Midland went on to win the tourney. After downing Hereford, they knocked off Monterey of Lubbock and whipped Tom S. Lubbock in the finals.

HE KNOWS THE RULES

BALTIMORE - Mrs. Beatrice H. Badders was warning her 5-year-old son, Bobby, to be a good boy during his first ride on a school bus.

"There is a rule about riding on the bus, you know, 'Hobby,'" she said.

"I know," replied her son with a worldly air. "It's 'No Smoking.'"

HOT TIMES NOWADAYS

WINDOW ROCK, A. T. - A few years ago Window Rock, in the middle of the vast Navajo Reservation, was Arizona's quietest town. The nearest theatre was in Gallup, N. M., about 50 miles away.

Then oil was discovered on Indian land.

Now the Navajo Civic Center at Window Rock has booked, for the fall-winter season: the U.S. Air Force Band, Guy Lombardo, Fred Waring and his Pennsylvanians, Phoenix Orpheus Club Boys Choir, Ximenez-Vargas Ballet Espanol, and the Vienna Boys Choir.

IMPORTS FROM PARIS

NEW YORK - The thrill melodramas known in Paris as Grand Guignol are scheduled for American exhibit.

St. John Terrell, promoter of musical tent entertainment, has completed arrangements for transfer of four of the repertory items to a theatre here.

Six cameras are used to photograph the running of every race at Hialeah Park racetrack.
