Ask More Investigation On Death Request Made By 69th Grand Jury

Request Made By 69th Grand Jury

The 69th District Grand Jury Thursday ordered a continuation of investigation into circumstances surrounding the death of William H. (Bill) Schreiner, manager of the Texas Hotel here, who was found dead on a couch in the lobby of the hotel Oct. 11.

case Thursday morning. Action in the case was postponed pending further investigation and another review of the case at the jury's next session, scheduled for 10 a.m. Dec. 7.

During the session, the Grand Jury returned three no-bills and no indictments. At the same time Thursday, a Jury Commission, including Billy D. Hutson, Mrs. Ross Latham and Stanley T. Sigman, selected 16 candidates for Grand Jury duty for the February, 1960, term.

The recent session convened at 10 a.m. and ended at 3:30 p.m. The jurors were ordered to return on Dec. 7 for the next session.

Last week the two farm hands administered by the Department of Public Safety regional office in Lubbock in connection with the death of the hotel manager earlier this month. Results of the test were released by Hereford Police Chief Henry Aycock Monday this week.

From test results, the polygraph examiner reported that he believed that both men were truthful in statements they made in connection with the case, Aycock said.

An Amarillo pathologist who performed an autopsy on Schreiner's body reported that death was due to a "coronary occlusion", and that the occlusion was not brought on by any physical acts of violence, Aycock pointed out.

Schreiner was found dead in the lobby of the hotel shortly after 3 a.m. Oct. 11. Aycock said there had apparently been an "altercation" in the lobby of the hotel.

Both farm hands were charged with drunkenness and were fined $100 each, Aycock said.

One farm hand said that after Schreiner's death, he removed $145 from the hotel manager's room with the intention of giving the amount to Schreiner's widow later, according to Aycock.

After police completed investigation of the death at the hotel lobby, the man said, he took the $145 to the home of a resident in Hereford and the money was placed under a mattress in the front room of the house.

The next day Aycock went to the man's home and inquired about the location of the missing money. The money was then turned over to officers and taken to police headquarters.

Schreiner's wife, however, told police she had talked to her husband by telephone about four hours before the death was reported.

Liquor Permit Asked 10 Miles From Hereford

Legal sale of liquor and beer will move to within ten miles of Hereford if a liquor permit filed this week in Castro County is approved.

The permit is one of five submitted for approval following the recent vote in the county's Precinct Four favoring sale of alcoholic beverages for off-premise consumption only.

Frank, Fred and Don Annen filed the permit for a package store on the east side of U. S. Highway 385 some eight miles north of Dimmitt. The store will be known as Beacon No. 1.

The same group also filed for a permit to operate a liquor store four miles east of Nazareth near the Swisher County line.

The other three permits asked for permission to operate package stores in Nazareth.

Permits were filed according to law following a local option election held Oct. 10 in Precinct Four, Castro County.

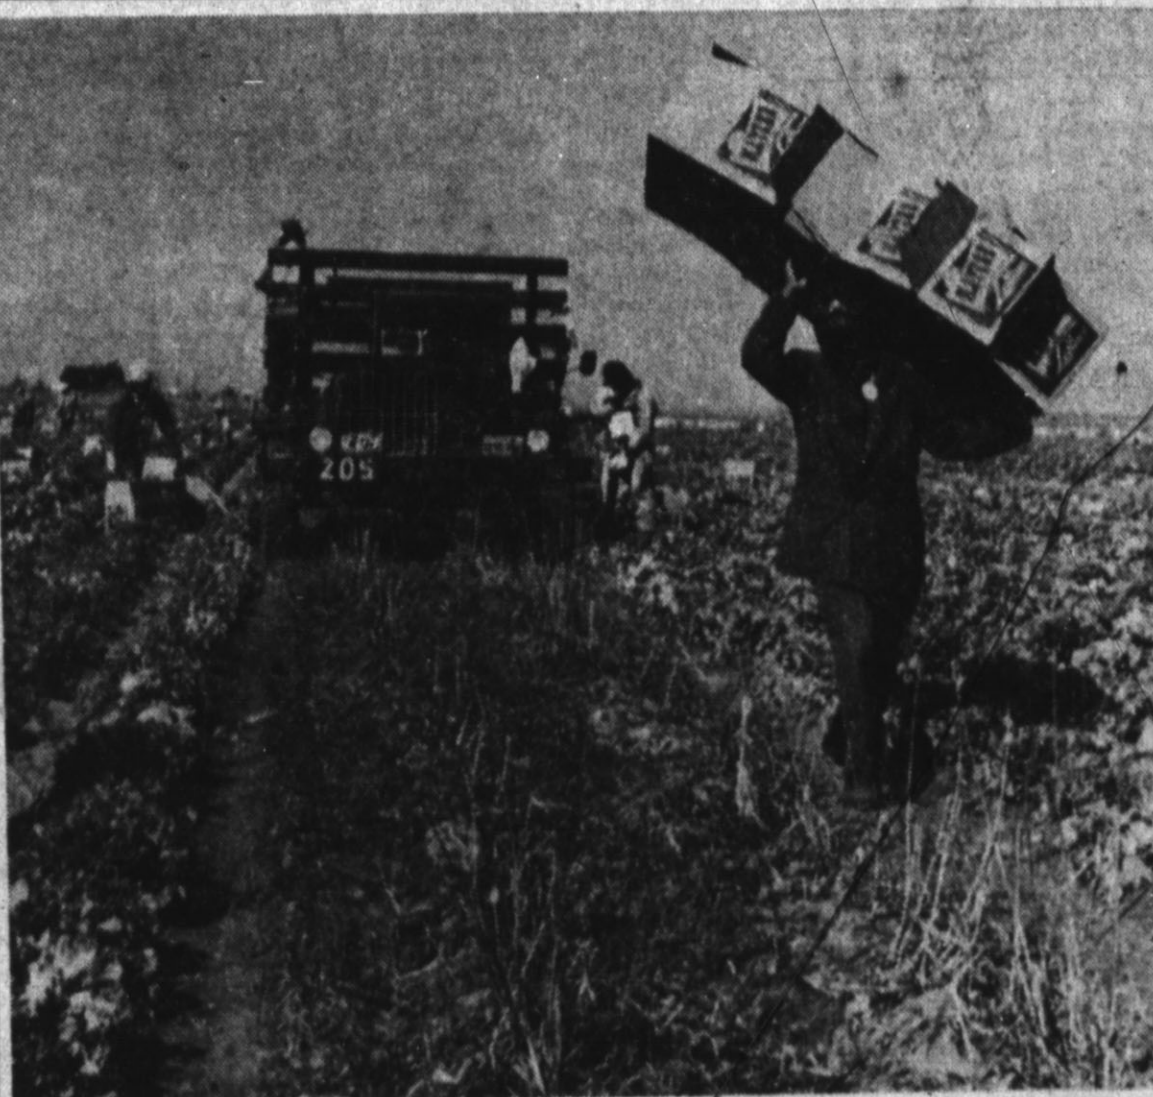

Candy Cane Lane Plans Discussed

Hereford merchants Friday heard a series of reports on plans to transform the business district into Candy Cane Lane during the Christmas season.

Some 70,000 tickets have been ordered for use in connection with a series of four weekly drawings, according to Oliver Streu, chairman of the Christmas activities committee for the Chamber of Commerce.

With different colors for each week, 10,000 tickets are marked for the first drawing, which will be held at 8 p.m. Tuesday, Dec. 1, in the 100 block of Main Street. There will be 20,000 tickets for the Dec. 8 drawing, which will be held in the 200 block of Main. The remaining 40,000 tickets will be used for the drawings on Dec. 15, slated for Park Avenue and Mc-

Dool Loses Right Arm In Accident

Condition of F. W. Dool, who lost part of his right arm in an ensilage cutter accident Thursday morning on the farm he operates five miles east of Hereford, was listed as "good" by attending physicians at Deaf Smith County Hospital Saturday morning.

Dool, 57, lost his arm just above the right elbow at about 8:40 a.m. Thursday when he attempted to repair a clogged ensilage cutter on the farm. His foot apparently slipped and his arm fell into the blades of the machinery. Attending physicians at the hospital reported that a pulley of the machinery also cut into the joint of his left knee. Workers pulled Dool free of the mechanism.

Dool, who manages the farm for Walter G. Russell of Amarillo, was working with three other employees when the accident occurred. Going to his aid after the accident was R. O. Douglas of Hereford, who

An anticipated feature match between the heavyweight Golden Gloves champions of Texas and New Mexico, Carl McClure of Dumas and James Stepp of Clovis, failed to materialize when McClure was unable to attend.

Friday night results included:

Boy Scouts and Camp Fire Girls encompass more youth in Deaf Smith County than any activities outside of school and church school.

Boy Scouts have been allocated $5,500 by the United Fund budget committee. This is an increase of $500 over the 1959 budget figure.

Boys from 8 to 16 years of age are included in the Boy Scout movement. In Deaf Smith County there are four Cub Scout Packs, four Boy Scout Troops and two Explorer Posts.

Presently there are 418 boys enrolled in one of the Scout programs, which includes 188 leaders in the county. The objective for the coming year is 600 boys, within an additional troop and another Cub Pack.

Some 200 Cub Scouts from the county took part in the District Field Day, while 125 Boy Scouts attended the District Camporee and 67 made the long-term camp at Camp Don Herrington or Camp Kiowa. There are 17 boys registered for the annual National Jamboree. Deaf Smith County has 39.8 per cent of its total available boys enrolled in one of the Scout programs. The average for the Llano Estacado Council is 31.5 per cent. The regional average is 25 per cent. (Continued on Page 2)

Northeast Area Has Power Loss

Several homes north and east of the city Saturday morning were without electrical service for about an hour when a wire east of Hereford near Dairy Road was damaged, according to Jay Hammond, general foreman of Southwestern Public Service Company of Hereford.

Hammond said the wire went out of commission at about 6:45 a.m. and was repaired by 7:45 a.m. He was unable to estimate how many homes were affected by the damaged wire during the period.

Local Woman Hurt In Wreck

Mrs. Andrew Szegedin of Hereford Saturday was scheduled to be released from Castro County Hospital in Dimmitt following a two-car collision near Nazareth shortly after noon last Sunday. Mrs. Szegedin was treated for a fractured left ankle and minor bruises and lacerations at the hospital this week and was reported in "good" condition by her attending physician Friday evening.

The accident occurred when the woman's husband, the Rev. Andrew Szegedin, pastor of the Immanuel Lutheran Church of Hereford, reportedly attempted to pass a pickup truck driven by Sam Berryman, a Castro County resident.

Margaret Boomer Wins FHA Award

Margaret Boomer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Boomer of Hereford, was one of ten future homemakers in Texas receiving awards at the 13th annual State Fair of Texas and Dallas Chamber of Commerce honor awards banquet held at the Sheraton Dallas Hotel Friday night, Oct. 16.

Miss Boomer, a Hereford High School senior, represented the Panhandle area in receiving the award. She is state parliamentarian of Future Homemakers of America and was accompanied by Dallas by her mother and by the high school FHA sponsor, Mrs. J. J. Durham.

She was one of 44 outstanding youths in Texas representing FHA, Future Farmers of America and 4-H Club boys and girls at the banquet.

Along with the other nine FHA girls receiving awards, Miss Boomer manned one of the Fair's educational booths Saturday afternoon.

Major General J. Earl Ruder, president of Texas A & M College, featured speaker at the banquet, told the youth, "We must be proud and jealous of our way of life." He advised them, "Don't give up. We need leaders and industry in hunting for them. Ask yourself where you can be of real service to your fellow man."

The speaker then told the youngsters that if they used their heads for greater thinking, their hearts for greater loyalty and their hands for better service, they would reach their goals. On Saturday, Oct. 17, official Youth Day at the fair, more than 100,000 youngsters from 200 counties thronged the fairgrounds. More than five miles of hot dogs and 8,230 gallons of soft drinks were served at the world's largest picnic Saturday afternoon to the youth and their adult leaders, county and home demonstration agents, vocational agriculture and home economics teachers and parents.

C of C president Monk Johnson, during the merchants' meeting Friday, graciously volunteered to let Gene Moore keep and care for a Shetland pony, which is to be the final prize in a series of Yuletide drawings. Generous to a fault, Johnson also agreed to allow Gene to ride the pony to work each day until it is given to some child just before Christmas. Gene stammered so badly we were unable to record his exact words of gratitude and appreciation.

Local Students Appear In Play

Two Hereford students were in the first production in the new Fine Arts Building Theatre at West Texas State College Friday and Saturday, when Shakespeare's "A Midsummer Night's Dream" was presented. Appearing in the comedy were Durward Jacobs, freshman, who played the part of Snout, a rude mechanic; and John Gilliland, also a freshman, who played Snug, a joiner.

Jacobs won the Alpha Psi Omega Scholarship award from the dramatics fraternity at WT last spring. He is a speech major and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Jacobs of Hereford. Gilliland, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marlin Gilliland of Hereford, is a radio and television major.

Shakespeare's "Midsummer's Night's Dream" is a comedy about what happens when the king of the elves decides to take a hand in a mortal love affair.

Stanton Seventh and Eighth Teams Win Over Littlefield

By ROGER McQUIGG
Stanton Junior High School's seventh and eighth grade teams took two victories from Littlefield, played at Wildcat Stadium Tuesday night.

The seventh grade romped to a 34-6 triumph, while the eighth grade pounded out a 24-14 victory.

For the eighth grade it evened their conference record at one win, one loss.

During the first period, the eighth grade moved the ball to Littlefield's 35, where halfback Eugene Green slipped loose for a scoring gallop. Jim Haney pounded over for the extra points.

Behind great blocking, Green again shook loose in the second period and raced 14 yards for Hereford's second TC. Again Haney piled over for the extra points.

Hereford added its third score of the game early in the third quarter. After moving the ball to Littlefield's five, Haney romped over and Green added two more points.

Littlefield finally broke into scoring column with a 55-yard run and ran for two points.

The little Wildcats opened the final period with another score but failed to add extra points.

Stanton's seventh graders grabbed off an easy victory for their second conference win of the season against no losses.

Littlefield scored first on a tricky double-reverse that carried 65 yards. The extra points try was missed.

Hereford took the kick-off and marched to Littlefield's 35, where halfback Gary Stagner broke into the secondary and rambled for the TD.

Early in the second quarter, Stanton quarterback Frank Cain broke the deadlock with a 15-yard bootleg carry for six points. No extra points were made.

Hereford again marched deep into Littlefield territory, with Stagner piling over for the fi-

Hereford Camp Fire Girls Council this year was approved for a budget of $2,937.50. Most of the increase is due to the recent hiring of a half-time administrative secretary and to finance repairs to the existing Camp Fire Hut.

There are 232 girls, between 7 and 18, and 90 adult leaders currently enrolled in the local Camp Fire organization.

There are three age levels within the Camp Fire organization. The Blue Birds include girls 7 to 10; Camp Fire Girls are 10 to 15; and Horizon Club members are 15 to 18.

Aims for the coming year include swimming, a week at camp for each girl, first aid training and the annual Father-Daughter banquet, which last year was attended by 501 persons.

As their part in the national Golden Jubilee, Hereford Camp Fire Girls will conduct a Tree Census, counting the number and types of trees and their adaptability to this climate. Each girl will give a penny for each year of her life. The money will be used to purchase evergreen seedlings which will be planted by the girls around the Community Center.

Four new groups of Blue Birds have been organized this fall, one at each of the elementary schools. Additional groups could be organized if adult leadership was available, local council officers say.

All United Fund money allocated to Camp Fire Girls will be used to advance the local program, officers added.

Dawn Music Club Studies 'Folk Songs' At Meeting

"Folk Music" was the theme of the program presented by the Dawn Music Club Tuesday afternoon, when members met in the home of Mrs. Jim McCabe.

Mrs. Robert Strain was leader of the October session. She stated "If you study the folk music of a country carefully, it will tell you more about the country than any other thing. Folk songs, with wear, become the ways of the people."

Mrs. Strain said, "Folk songs do not represent an imaginary world — rather, they give a vivid story of religious and social life of the people."

Musical selections included "The Rosewood Casket", sung by Mrs. Zed Stewart; "Red River Valley" sung by Mrs. Melvin May; and group singing of spirituals.

During the business session, Mrs. Zed Stewart was elected delegate to the Seventh District, Texas Federation of Music Clubs, convention to be held in Amarillo Oct. 28-29. Mrs. Melvin May was named the alternate delegate. Members voted to contribute to the district scholarship fund.

Those present were Mesdames N. R. Miller, Bill Carthel, Clarence Betzen, Carl Wimberley, Melvin May, Zed Stewart, Robert Strain and the hostess.

"150 Years of Mendelssohn" was the theme of the program presented Tuesday afternoon, when members of the Dawn Musettes met in the home of Mrs. Ray Polan.

Audri Miller told of Mendelssohn's early life and said that by the time he was ten years old, he had composed a concerto and was well launched on a career in music. "The Wedding March" was composed before he was eighteen", she said.

Walteen Beavers told of the wealth of the Mendelssohn family, the furious pace with which he composed and of his early death at the age of thirty eight years.

Music of Mendelssohn presented included "The Rainbow" sung by Jon David Miller, Buddie Stewart and Robert Galley, and "Hark, the Herald Angels Sing", sung by the entire group.

Other selections presented were "The Sunflower" (Aaron), piano number played by Glenn Polan, and "Some Enchanted Evening" (Rodgers - Hammerstein) played by Laura Higgins. Group singing completed the program.

It is difficult for most of us to realize how much things around us change from time to time. This week, I had a visit from Dick Keys, who formerly called on The Brand as a paper salesman before he shifted to another territory in 1953.

Dick never got off our block on Main Street, but he kept noticing changes which I take for granted. The Brand, for instance, had office supplies and a printing department when he was here last. The McDowell Drug site was a hot dog stand - and the First National location housed an auto parts store, a bakery, news stand and sandwich shop. These things Dick remembered well - and seemed quite amazed at progress during the brief interval. Throw in the other new buildings and renovations in the business district, and you have some real changes. Nothing, of course, to compare with development in the residential areas.

Lots and lots of people are asking about weather prospects, but I promised my wife not to make any more predictions. However, if anyone has an extra umbrella I sure would like to borrow it, come November - and keep it right on through until next Spring. I figure I will need it just about the time most of the milo is gathered and in the barn. In return, I would let them have my heavy overcoat until after the first of the year, but I sure want it back right after Christmas. Meanwhile, I have a medium weight topcoat which will probably see me through to that time.

George Williams, who runs a drug store in Fairbanks, Alaska, sent in his subscription this week, and inclosed the following item:

"A colored man who did a government hauling job was told that he could not get his money until he submitted an itemized statement. After much meditation, he turned in the following bill:

"Three comes and three goes, at four bits a went, $3."

All of which goes to prove that those Alaska boys may have made a second rate state out of Texas when it comes to size, but they still have a lot to learn about their federal government - or the item would have said something about "four copies in triplicate."

Notice to all Kiwanians: I have already bought my pancake tickets from Marsh and Wilson, so please lay off.

Notice to all Optimists: I have already bought two Christmas tree tickets from Jack Almon, though I only intended to buy one.

In a recent list of maximum U. S. highway speeds, the two highest are New Mexico and Kansas, both 70 miles per hour; 11 states showed 65 m. p. h., including Florida, Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, Missouri, Montana, Nebraska, North Dakota, Oklahoma, Tennessee and Wisconsin. The District of Columbia posted the lowest limit at 25 m. p. h., and nine states slowed traffic down to 50 miles, including Alaska, Delaware, Maryland, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, and Vermont. Five others, California, Iowa, Kansas, Louisiana, and Oregon, South Carolina, Virginia and West Virginia have 55 m. p. h. speed limits. The two most unusual probably are Iowa and Nevada, both of which show a "Reasonable" speed as maximum. All other states in the list posted a 60-mile maximum.

Joe Hoffman, who recently moved into town with his daughter, Mrs. Chas. Digby, 102 Hyback Street, is having a big time these days visiting with friends and talking over old times in the area. Mrs. Digby says he enjoys nothing better.

Tom Draper tells me that he is not in the "wet" area of Castro County's Precinct 4. However, he says down the road some two miles south they have already cleared a spot and say that they will erect a liquor store, this will probably be the nearest one in proximity to Hereford and Deaf Smith County.

I notice where they raised the Texas quail limit from 12 to 15 a day because there are so many birds. Emmett Milburn is the only fellow I know who could even kill 12, so I guess the more liberal rules won't make too much difference in my neck of the woods. They raised the limit in South Dakota on pheasant this year, and I hear the old boys who always got their limits before didn't make it this time. Too many hunters, they said, but you know how those guys alibi. Especially Dub Reeves, Pappy Tinin and Gene Moore. Anyway, if I can just get 12 quail every time I go out, I will be quite happy.

Remember Billy Paul Knox, who used to write sports for The Brand? He is now working for the Wyoming State Journal, a semi-weekly newspaper at Lander, and says he likes it very much.

Reducing Discussed At Meeting Of Study Club

Dr. C. E. Hicks spoke to L'Allegra Study Club members on "What To Do About Reducing" at a meeting of the club held in the home of Mrs. Terry Grubbs Thursday afternoon.

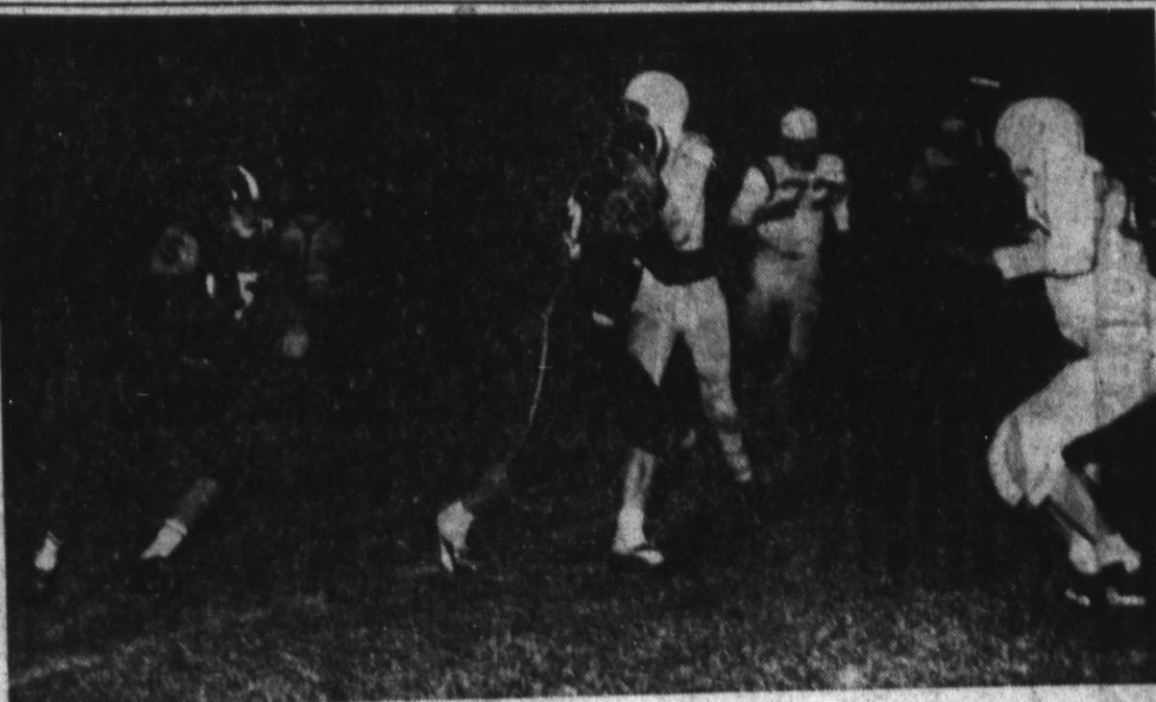

The doctor spoke on reasons for reducing and why people become concerned about overweight, naming appearance and health as two major reasons for concern. He said that drugs sometimes help, but drugs are not the answer, and he suggested exercise, diet control and a study of the individual's reasons for overweight.

Mrs. Joe Lyons presided over the business session when members discussed plans for working with the United Fund Drive, and plans for the club's calendar project were completed.

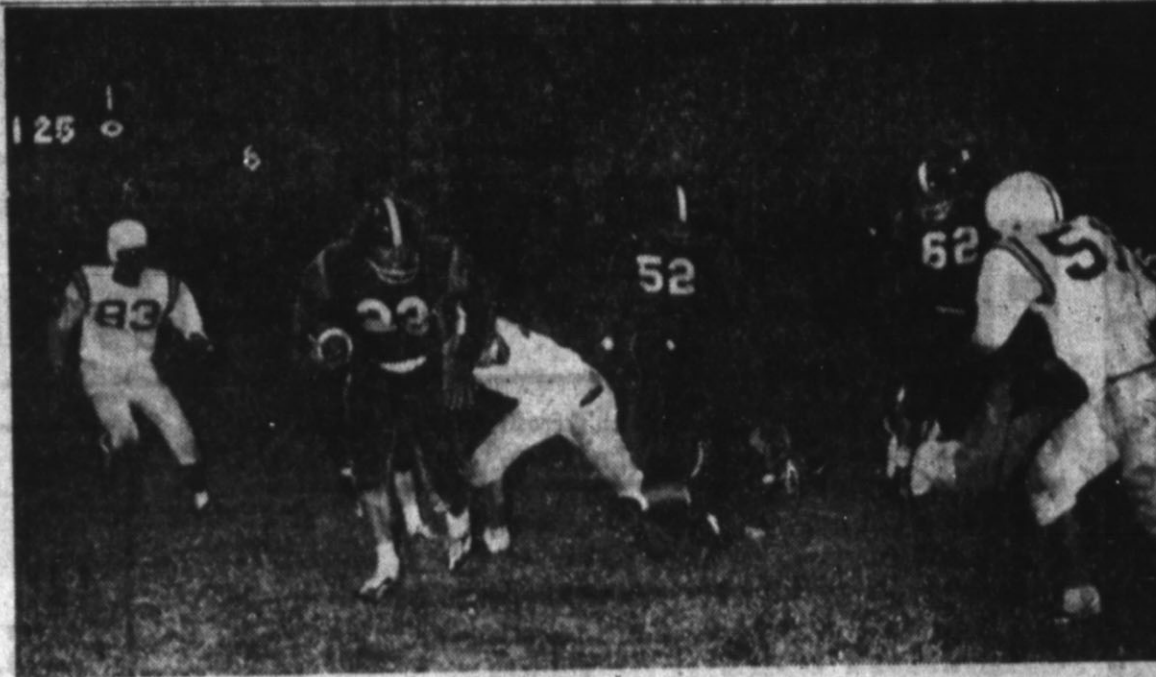

Plans were also made for the club's annual Guest Day Tea, which has been postponed from Nov. 5 to Nov. 19.

Members attending were Mesdames Tommy Carnahan, Bill Dameron, Jimmie Easley,

John Aiken says if really is a small world. He was walking down a busy street in New York City, and ran into Will Wilson; later the same day he ran smack into Walter Rogers. He adds he can now see why the New York theatres are always over-sold. Many of them are smaller than our own Star Theatre here in Hereford, John says.

Blue Denim - Explored with dignity and insight, the problem of deviant young people whose early sex drives get them into trouble is fearfully brought home in this worthwhile film to both parents and older boys and girls. The impact of terror when the girl finds she is pregnant, and both she and the boy are afraid to tell their parents, is shared by the audience. Even mothers and fathers whose children are small will be able to see how mutual confidence and communication must be built up over the years. Carol Lyner as the girl and Brandon de Wilde as the boy are appealing and convincing; both in their startled awakening to life and the stunned realization of its aftermath. Moreover, they are held strictly responsible, even to their own part in the failure to bridge the gap of understanding with their parents. Everyone, in fact, is given fair but uncompromising treatment. A - Excellent. Y - Excellent for mature young people. (20th C-Fox)

P-TA UNITS AT WORK

MRS. JOE REINAUER, president of the Hereford P-TA, checks the roster for the membership campaign with William J. Stanford, high school principal, and looks over the report made by the membership chairman of the telephone campaign held by student council members in high school. Outlines of the buzz session on "Education, Whose Responsibility," to be held Tuesday evening in the high school auditorium at 7:30 p. m., were compared.

LET'S CALL ON ALL—P-TA Membership Drive slogan—will be heard from every side from now until Oct. 31, as members of local units seek to swell their ranks. Pictured today are the men and women who work diligently to promote the welfare of children and youth in the home, school, church and community. Everyone interested is invited to join, including parents and former teachers, and educators, whether or not they have children in school.

See Story Inside

MRS. EUGENE NOEL, president of Central and Northwest Elementary Schools unit, discusses final plans for the chili supper held Saturday night, with principal L. C. Thomas. Libraries for both schools will be benefited by this project. After the supper, open house was held at the new Northwest Elementary school.

MAYOR W. B. WILSON, at right, sends the call to citizens of Hereford to answer the membership call during the October membership enrollment period. He was one of the first to pay his dues to Mrs. Elmer Patterson, at left, first vice-president, District 8. Mrs. Glenn Allred, president of Deaf Smith County Council, center, is shown presenting his membership card.

Problems Of Old Age Discussed At Pioneer Study Club Meeting

Pioneer Study Club met in the home of Mrs. H. E. Miller Tuesday for the regular monthly luncheon program, with Mesdames Burl France, Fred Barrett and C. N. McClure serving as co-hostesses.

Using autumn's flowers, the tables were decorated in the club colors of purple and gold. Mrs. Allen Bell gave the invocation.

Following the luncheon, Mrs. Wirt Phillips introduced the program on "Old Age: A World Problem" saying that a large percentage of the population is old, and because of medical research and discoveries there will be an increasing number in the advanced age group.

She told of the problems the aged face, and of the plans different communities have used to help make the aged more useful and independent.

Mrs. Ray Johnson discussed "Practical Ways to be Old and Happy". She cited four instances of people who have, by their own efforts, solved the basic problems of old age. She also discussed the unnecessary fate of the old and sick. "All too often in America there is only one place for old people, nursing homes, some of which do not give good nursing care, let alone rehabilitation. Experts believe that rehabilitation experts sent into nursing homes, tightened licensing standards and medical benefits for old people would help avert the pathetic old people who become ill", she said.

Mrs. Ralph McCullough, president, presided over a short business session. Members voted to make apple sauce cakes for Boys Ranch for the Thanksgiving season. Plans were completed for the Golden Age Group party which was held at the Hereford State Bank Friday afternoon.

Mrs. Buddy Evans was in charge of the social hour.

Members present were: Mesdames Allen Bell, Buddy Evans, N. E. Gass, Henry Hastings, O. G. Hill Sr., E. S. Ireland, Ray Johnson, F. M. Keeler, L. H. Lookingbill Sr., C. N. McClure, Ralph McCullough, Wirt Phillips, W. C. Hromas, Mary Seigler, Delmar Sigle, M. L. Simpson Sr., C. R. Walser, Bess Werner, Myrtle Wright, Miss Roberta Campbell and the hostesses.

Deaf Smith County Pioneers Feted On 50th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Kye Higgins, Deaf Smith County pioneers, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary with open house in the home of their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Early, 336 Star St., Sunday afternoon.

Hosting the anniversary occasion were the couple's four children, Wayne Higgins, Jack Higgins, Mrs. Imogene Willis and Mrs. J. H. Early, who stood beside their parents to receive more than 100 guests during the calling hours.

A golden bell motif was carried out in a decorative arrangement. The anniversary table was laid with an imported ivory satin damask cloth overcast with a golden sheen reflected from the gold styrofoam bells and yellow and gold chrysanthemums forming the triangular centerpiece. Table appointments repeated the golden theme, including dainty white cake squares iced with tiny white wedding bells having gold clappers.

Assisting in the hot party were Mrs. J. S. Orr, sister of Mr. Higgins, Mrs. Claude Terry of Post, sister-in-law of Mrs. Higgins, and Mrs. Clyde March of Amarillo, who presided at the coffee service, and Virginia Higgins and Janet Higgins, granddaughters, who served the cake. Mrs. Wayne Higgins, Mrs. Jack Higgins, Mrs. Charles Whitehead of Plainview, a granddaughter-in-law, and Laura and Kyla Higgins, granddaughters, assisted with the serving. Susie Higgins and Linda Higgins, granddaughters, presided at the guest register.

Mr. and Mrs. Higgins were married in Hereford on Sept. 9, 1909, by the Rev. O. W. Dean. She had moved to Deaf Smith County from Floyd County in 1900 with her parents, the Hiram Terrys.

Higgins came to Deaf Smith County with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Higgins, who moved the family here from Tennessee in 1890.

Deaf Smith County was not organized at that time, however, as it required 18 votes for organization and only 15 votes were available. The women were not allowed to vote.

Uncle Summy, as his father was affectionately called throughout the area, bought land in Deaf Smith Parmer and Randall counties, including the old Frying Pan Ranch, for as little as $5 an acre. Uncle Summy was one of the first presidents of the First National Bank and many people in the county recall his great faith in the development and future of the Panhandle and the aid given to many in the purchase of land.

The newlyweds moved out on one of Uncle Summy's ranches and set up housekeeping.

Life on a ranch in those days was never dull, and it took a great deal of courage and fortitude to withstand the elements as well as the privations. But Mr. and Mrs. Higgins didn't consider their life hard, even in the worst drought when they had to shoot down their cattle because there was no feed; and later when depressions came. There was always plenty to do — carrying water, washing clothes on a rub board, sewing, cooking and acting as nurse and doctor for the entire family.

Now they like to recall their pioneer friends, the Jewells, Bassets, Witherspoons, Killions, Cox's, Walkers and Bradlys.

For the past several years they have made their home on their ranch 27 miles north of Hereford in the Daniel Community. He has retired from the cattle business, but they love to grow a garden and flowers. He likes to fish and watch television and she stays busy with her housework and family work.

At the first touch of real winter they go to South Texas, but are usually back home by April in time to start their gardens.

Both are still active members in the Palo Duro Baptist Church and both agree that their even-dozen grandchildren are their pride and joy. They also have two great-grandchildren.

Their outlook on life has not changed during the past half century for they still have faith and courage of the sturdy pioneers, and look forward to the future with that philosophy, "Grow old along with me, the best is yet to be."

Out-of-town guests attending the open house included Mrs. Lillian Roots, Mrs. Clyde March, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Lamb, Terry Lamb, Mildred Lamb, Mr. and Mrs. Byron Post of Amarillo, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Terry of Post, Mrs.

Gets you around wherever Fall '59 takes it easy... gets you around in the new looks of menswear. The versatility of our Cricketeer sportcoats delights a man... without a tie for your own backyard, with a tie in somebody else's, the football games, Saturday shopping, Sunday driving. Our recommendation: a new Cricketeer sportcoat a season; a wardrobe of these is a great satisfaction. To collect now: a glen plaid, an antique colored hopsacking, a shepherd check, a new color. All are here, today. $27.95 to $39.95

REMEMBER WHEN?

By Charlie Seeds
It's hard to pick just one year that tells the full story of a man called Army's greatest athlete... because Glenn Davis was a legend from his first year at West Point. Three times he made All-American as the famous "Mr. Outside" of Army's backfield, teamed with Doc Blanchard, "Mr. Inside." Davis led Army to three unbeaten seasons during those years... and added record breaking track and baseball performances.

But one year in Glenn Davis' career stands out. It was his junior year. Every team that Army met was out to stop Davis. They didn't have much luck. Army didn't lose a game. Davis punted, passed, ran, caught passes. Especially he ran! He carried the ball 82 times that year... for 944 yards... an "impossible" average of more than 11 1/2 yards every time he carried the ball! He set a new national total offense mark!

Remember the year? The war had ended then... and people who had struggled along in pre-war cars were looking forward to the day when new models would roll off the assembly lines. The year was 1945.

The car that's setting records on the road this year... is the powerful new 1960 Ford. And you can get a record-breaking deal right now on the FORD of your choice from your low-profit dealer, CHARLIE SEEDS MOTOR CO., INC., 146 E. Second, Phone EM4-2727.

P-TA Promotes Welfare Of Children, Home And School

In October, 1909, the Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers was founded for the purpose, which it still maintains, of promoting the welfare of children and youth in the home, school, church and community. On Nov. 18-20, the Golden Jubilee P-TA Convention will be held in Dallas, birthplace of the organization.

In the beginning, there were only a handful of mothers and teachers who tried to work out the problems of youth, but as the worth became more and more evident both women and men became more interested, until now P-TA ranks over the nation, number almost 12 million men and women.

Thirty-six years ago, the Rev. Paul Merrill, who was then pastor of the First Christian Church, served as Hereford's first P-TA president. Mrs. A. M. Jones succeeded him as president, with Mrs. E. W. Harrison serving as vice-president. Somewhere along the line Mrs. W. E. Dameron also served as president.

Then there was a period of inactivity which lasted nearly 17 years. But in 1945 the Hereford P-TA was reorganized, with Mrs. Elmer Patterson serving as president. Some of the early projects included the children bringing cup towels for the cafeteria, suppers to furnish the cafeteria rooms, and a clean-up campaign to prevent the spread of polio.

With the growth of Hereford, new schools became necessary and in 1956 members voted to form a separate unit in each school in order to function more efficiently.

With the cooperation and guidance of Superintendent of Schools Fred J. Cunningham, the Deaf Smith County Council of Parent - Teachers Association was organized and again Mrs. Elmer Patterson was called upon to serve as the first president for a two-year term.

The council provides an organization through which the member units can work with the school board and the administrators of the school system on problems that affect all schools in the system.

As an advisory group, the Council serves as a clearing house and coordinator for all units, aiding and working with administrators, teachers and parents.

Two years ago a Future Teacher Scholarship Fund was started by the Central School P-TA, and now an annual contribution is made by each unit to this fund from dues received in the membership enrollment period, through the council. More important, Deaf Smith County Council provides a two-way channel of communication between the school board and the public. It provides an opportunity for members of the school board to interpret school programs and to explain local needs. It works with all units to help "secure for every child the highest advantages in physical, mental, social and spiritual education".

OFF THE Shelf

By H. A. TUCK

F. Van Wyck Mason is one of the most distinguished writers of historical novels in America. Unlike most, he is more concerned with facts and details than with the undress indiscretions of fictional heroines.

But his books always tell a fine story, woven into the actual happenings.

The Young Titan is no exception. Mason has created a story based on the struggles of the young English colonies in New England against the encroachment of French colonists and agitators from Canada.

The action takes place between 1741 and 1745, at the start and climax of The Fifth Indian War.

Bart Mayhew, a former Royal Marine in England, establishes a colony in Maine, but ignores signs of war in order to expand his ship-yard and a land holdings.

VISITING DAUGHTER

Mr. and Mrs. S. K. Parsons of Wellington are guests in the home of their daughter, Mrs. Ansel McDowell.

The terrible struggle for survival against weather and other adversities is climaxed by a terrible raid and massacre by French-led Indians.

Bart's wife and daughter are among those captured, while another child is killed by the Indians.

Enlisting in the Provincial Navy, Bart goes on an ill-fated expedition against the French stronghold of Louisburg in Acadia (Nova Scotia). He is captured and finally released.

After considerable difficulties, the English prepare for a strong offensive against Louisburg. The combined ground-sea attack is saved from a premature defeat by a band of Indians led by Bart's two brothers who have become native leaders.

During this time, Bart's wife and daughter also make their escape from the Indians.

Louisburg was termed the perfect fort. It controlled sea approaches with huge cannon batteries while the land approach was limited by huge swamps and bogs.

But the rag-tag colonists forget they aren't supposed to win from the highly-trained French and Swiss who defend the fort. Overcoming the odds of terrain, weather, equipment, manpower and supplies, they organize a siege that eventually causes the surrender of Louisburg and insures that the colonies which are to become America will remain free from French domination.

Mason writes with beauty and authority as he describes the life, country and habits of the early settlers. His detailed passages about the Indians are particularly good.

All in all, Mason's book The Young Titan is a marvelous story about a little-known part of our history and heritage. All of his books are long: Mason uses some 620 pages to tell this story. But not a page is wasted. Mystery fans of Hugh North know that Mason is a real craftsman as an author. His latest book is no exception.

The way a golfer handles his feet may be more important than the type of golf shoes he wears.

Frost Nips Maize, But Not Tomatoes, As Harvest Rolls

By MRS. HAROLD RUDD
Maize harvest is humming along as rapid as the machines can go through the fields. This has been a very unusual year as most of the feed and crops in the fields appear to have been frosted but some of the women have reported their tomato vines as being in perfect condition as yet.

Once We Declared: 'Millions For Defense, Not One Cent For Tribute'

The United States adopted a new policy this week in relation to our notorious economic loans. Now, according to Director Vance Brand, the borrowing countries will be required to spend the money with the United States, instead of applying it where they please on the world market.

As a benefactor, this policy has immediate appeal to most Americans. We doubt, however, if it will be too popular with the borrowing nations, and there are even a few Americans who question the policy.

If the loan is justified at all, certainly the borrowers should be allowed to spend their money where they choose. On the other hand, if we do not expect the nation to repay the loan, it seems feasible that we require they spend the money with us. And, if this be the case, why not sell them goods and surplus merchandise on credit—and make an effort to regain their goodwill.

The average borrower in Deaf Smith County no doubt would blow his top if he went to the bank, borrowed money—and was told by the banker that it must be spent with a certain firm, forgetting cost, service, freight and other factors usually involved in merchandising. Certainly, the approach would not be in accordance with the "American Way" any more than is the current edict of Mr. Brand.

Most important, though, is the fact the borrowing countries do not prefer to purchase from the United States by choice, otherwise the edict demanding U. S. purchases would not have been necessary. This pretty well overcomes the old government argument that our international doles are necessary to maintain friends.

However, if we must continue to fritter away untold tax dollars, let's be smart enough to sell our goods on credit instead of lending our money with "strings attached". This puts us on the basis of the merchant who sells on credit, rather than that of the banker who dictates where his customers must trade.

Frankly, it all boils down to the age-old fact that "you cannot buy friendship". Already many Americans are fed up with paying blackmail to scores of nations, most of whom would turn on us as soon as the doles are halted.

Esteem cannot be where there is no confidence; and there is little or no respect.

Holiday Dress To Be Changed

"For a new look," if for no other reason, Hereford's proposed Candy Cane Lane decorations for the 1959 Yule season seem to be in order. Solicitors report wholehearted response on the part of merchants, who finance the decorations, while public comment remains yet to be generally heard.

Altering the motif occasionally will have much the same effect as changing one's clothes from time to time. No matter how clean a dress may be, very few women would like to wear the same outfit day after day for several months, or years. Such, it seems to us, is the thinking of most people about Christmas decorations.

Since the sole excuse for existence of these decorations is that of providing a Yuletide atmosphere, it appears that crisp, new replacements from time to time can accomplish more than any other single effort. Old, dilapidated or shoddy decorations to many people can actually be worse than no decorations at all.

Hereford merchants deserve a pat on the back for their progressive attitude as a collective group. All of us as individuals will enjoy and appreciate the new decorations, and the nicest way in the world for us to say, "Thank You", will be that of shopping with these people who make our community possible through taxes and voluntary donations.

Merchant Flags Under New Plan

Approval this week of American Legion requests to install flag holders on city parking meters should ultimately do much to cure justified complaints concerning flag etiquette in the community.

Under the plan, already approved by merchants and city commissioners, the American Legion will provide and display store flags on all proper occasions at a reasonable figure.

The plan should not cost the average merchant any more than ownership and laundry on his own flag, and the plan becomes all the more feasible.

Best of all, though, remains the fact that the Legionnaires will raise and take the flags down at proper times, eliminating the chore for those who might be out of town. Funds from the service will, of course, be used for worthy Legion and community projects.

Proper respect for our flag, often neglected by many of us, is still a definite responsibility to every man, woman and child in our nation. Under the new plan any disrespect, usually involuntary, should be eliminated.

The POWER of FAITH by Howard Brodie

"Now God speaks to us in Navajo," said an Indian turning a finger operated phonograph. The American Bible Society conceived the idea from a toy phonograph and developed it with the Radio Corporation of America into an instrument of faith inspiring people in India, Africa, Latin America and the U.S. People hear the "talking Bible" in the friendly tones of their own tongue: "Taa ni 'adiini'ninigi 'at'eego bil keehot 'iinii 'ayoo'lini'ni (Navajo) Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself."

The self-operated gadgets are distributed at cost or less, or given away to those who cannot afford them. The recordings strengthen spirits and promote literacy, when passages are memorized by those who cannot read or write and are then traced in a Bible. An Indian in Mexico prayed, after making a recording for his people, that other Indians might "receive the Word and come to know the 'coolness in the heart'."

Thousands of these phonographs have been distributed among the Navajos and requests have come from the Papago, Hopi and Apache tribes. The Bible Society plans to make recordings in 100 additional world languages.

45 YEARS AGO:

Local Residents Enjoy Roosevelt Excitement

25 YEARS AGO

Insurance firms in Hereford did a land office business Wednesday. It was because of the severe hail storm Tuesday evening. More than 60 claims were filed Wednesday. Chief damage was to windows, screens, and roofs. As a result every carpenter in town was busy all day Wednesday.

The hail came suddenly Tuesday evening between 8:30 and 9 o'clock. It lasted perhaps 20 minutes but the brevity was more than offset by the severity. Stones as large as golf balls fell during the downpour.

45 YEARS AGO

While out reconitering for life insurance, Robert Elliott and others, one day recently enjoyed a bit of Roosevelt excitement when they accompanied a young lobo wolf. They were driving near the Flag Ranch in Castro County, the 45 section ranch, the property of Col. C. T. Herring, president of the Amarillo Life Insurance Company. On seeing the young animal, the Ford was pushed up to a good speed and soon the party was in close chase. The young wolf, from instinct, knew that his natural enemies were present and he spent his usual and accustomed efforts in trying to make his escape. Dashing off across the wide expanse of mirage plains, turning his head from one side to the other, watching with flashing eyes the approach of men in the Ford, he made a long run for his freedom and life. After a run of several miles, switching back and forth a number of times, the speed of the young lobo, apparently about six months old, began to slacken. With rain coat in hand and standing on the running board, Mr. Elliott urged his friend, Guy Nesbitt, at the wheel to give close and fast chase. Time and time again, they tried to pick up the then almost tired out animal, but each time he would fox turn them and a new start would have to be taken. Finally, however, just as the machine ran along side the wolf and as he attempted to dash under the machine, Mr. Elliott caught him by the nap of the neck and threw him bodily into the car, covering him with a rain coat, holding him secure, until Mr. Nesbitt could tie the coat around his head and hog tie the wolf. This done, they turned their way toward Hereford, their home. After keeping the animal a few days, allowing his coat of beautiful fur to straighten out, he proved to be quite a prize. His beautiful coat of fine fur is a soft gray color next to the skin, but ends at the tips in a brilliant shiny black. Mr. Elliott is taming the young lobo and after a few days is able to handle him without danger.

Times Keep On Changing

Truly, we live in an era of changing times.

These changes, seldom sudden, creep upon us so consistently that few of us actually recognize them, but when you stop and compare life today with that of 10 years ago, there are many changes we must recognize.

Building plans and methods, for instance, provide an excellent example. Plastics, nylons and orlons play such important roles in our lives today that we would be completely lost without these so-called miracle materials. A few years ago, we broke the sound barrier; today it is no longer news. Food stores, banks and many other retail firms of 10 years back would today be obsolete indeed.

This year another innovation was made in transportation with introduction of the small cars to go along with frozen dinners and new miracle cleaners in the average household.

A 70-year-old man or woman today has probably seen more transition in our way of life than has any previous generation in the history of the world, especially in the shift from home-made lye soap to present day detergents, and you can say the same thing about most other phases of modern living. This holds true all of the way from transportation and communications, right down to plumbing, air conditioning and adhesive tapes.

Like a child, around his parents from day to day, it is hard to recognize the ever-present changes, but a visitor who sees the youngster after a year or so of absence can spot many developments.

What the future holds, none of us know. However, we do know that our nation was created and developed upon expansion of the church, the school and the home and, despite continuous advancement even in these lines, the same three factors should continue to play an important roll in our lives. Without any one of the three, we will immediately face an unbalanced situation.

AQUATICS TOP YMCA POLLS

Swimming and other aquatic sports head a long list of activities which Moore County high school and junior high school students have recommended for the YMCA program now being developed. The "Y" program committee this week completed tabulation of 516 survey cards and found that four proposed YMCA functions each received more than 200 votes. In other preparations for the YMCA organization here, a sub-committee is being organized to assist with operation of the Sunray Youth program and two "Y" representatives have slated talks before civic and business groups. Almost half of the youths participating in the poll indicated a desire for an aquatic program. Camping was requested by 216 and 211 marked hiking and fishing on their survey cards. An extensive arts and crafts program attracted 208 votes. An unexpectedly popular item on the proposed recreational program was formation of a "hot rod" club. More than 180 youths indicated an interest in this sometimes controversial activity. Of the 516 queried; committee members revealed that 416 were members of Sunday School Classes, 261 belonged to church youth groups, 175 are already members of the Dumas Youth Center, and 131 are actively involved in school athletics. Speaking at a program committee meeting Saturday morning, the Rev. Curtis Lee, pastor of the Sunray Methodist Church, indicated that directors of the youth program there would formally request the "Y" to assume operation of their facilities. —MOORE COUNTY NEWS (DUMAS)

DALHART HEADLINED OVER CBS-TV

A CBS-TV 20th Century Unit director and crew are in Dalhart making a special 20th Century TV program about the come-back of the area that was known as the dust bowl in the 1930s. The interviews with farmers and ranchers, and the pictures being taken for use on the 20th century program are under direction of the CBS director, Mel Stewart. Stewart arrived in Dalhart last Friday afternoon. His camera and sound crew came during the weekend. They comprise of Ken Snelson, cameraman; Lou Barlla, cameraman assistant; and Jim Shields, soundman. All four men are of New York City. Stewart said they hope to wind up their work in the Dalhart area Thursday. The program, tentatively called "The Dust Bowl," is now being written and edited and probably will be ready for presentation nationwide next February or March. Stewart and his crew have been interviewing farmers and ranchers and taking TV pictures since Monday. —THE DALHART TEXAN

The BOOTLEG Philosopher

Editors' note: The Bootleg Philosopher on his birdweed farm believes he has discovered a fatal error by the Russians, his letter this week indicates. Dear editor:

I've got other things to worry about which I haven't gotten around to worrying about yet, without spending too much time worrying about the Russians, but since everybody else seems to be concerned about them and what they're up to, I think I will do the public service to point out anything we can find that indicates the Russians aren't perfect and a race of supermen. Well, I have now found a chink in the Russian armor, or a break in their bobwire fence, if you want to put it in modern terms.

According to a small item on an inside page of a newspaper I read last night, sort of one of those items a newspaper fills up with to have something to go around the advertisements, the Russians have now inaugurated installment buying. They can now go into a store and pay 10 per cent down and come out with a refrigerator. As far as I'm concerned, this is one of the most satisfying news items to come out of Russia in years, and a smarter editor would have put it on the front page.

I figure installment buying will slow down the Russian outer-space work and the Russian war maneuvering by years, as one of the hardest things on earth to do is to get excited about what's on the other side of the moon when the finance company is hounding you for a payment on your washing machine.

If the United States is smart about this, it'll rush a squadron of credit managers and super-salesmen over to Russia right away and get everybody over there trying to out-buy and out-install everybody else.

You let two-thirds of the Russians get saddled down with a long series of installment payments, and we'll be on even terms with them when it comes to conquering space.

It's almost impossible to keep your head in the clouds when you've got your nose to the grindstone. Yours Faithfully J. A.

Committee For World Peace Sponsors Film

A 26-minute black and white sound film, sponsored by the Committee of World Peace, will be shown in the First Methodist Church Oct. 25 at 7:30 p.m., showing the Communist's attempts to conquer the untoured countries of Asia and Africa.

The movie, "Wake Up Or Blow Up," frankly discusses the problem of international Communism as it exploits the desperate needs of the newly developing nations in the drive toward world domination.

The picture shows films taken in India and the Philippines, discussing their battle against disaster and their struggle for survival.

The movie observes the World Neighbors as they work to understand freedom in the World's critical areas.

Mrs. R. A. Higginbotham, chairman of the local Committee of World Peace, is sponsoring the film. It is available to all service clubs in Hereford.

Why Not Restore New Testament Christianity?

DEPARTURE WAS TOLD
Through the centuries since the time of Christ and His apostles, there have been departures from the teaching and practice of the Lord's Church in the first century. This, however, was foretold in Paul's letter to Timothy, who he said, "Now the spirit speaketh expressly, that in the latter times some shall depart from the faith, giving heed to seducing spirits, and doctrines of devils."—(1 Tim. 4:1). This can be clearly seen in comparing the teaching and practice of many present day religions with the New Testament.

COUNCILS OF UNINSPIRED MEN HAVE MADE:
• Additions to God's Words!
• Subtractions From God's Word!
• Substitutes for God's Word!

Such changes were condemned by the Lord in these words: "But in vain do they worship me, teaching for doctrine the commandments of men."—(Matt. 15:9).

RESULTS OF MAN'S REJECTING GOD'S WORD
These perversions have resulted in many departures from the practice and teachings of the first century. Man-made commandments have:
1. Led many away from the purity and simplicity of divine teaching.
2. Brought division and confusion in religion.
3. Dishonored the wishes and arrangements of Christ.
4. Obscured the Bible as the rule of faith and practice.

THE WORLD'S GREATEST NEED TODAY:
• To restore respect for obedience to the Word of God, the Bible!
• To restore the church of the Lord as He established it!
• To restore the same conditions of membership in God's Kingdom!
• To restore the unity and oneness of God's people!
• To restore the same spirit of fellowship and love found in New Testament times!

CONCLUSION: We individually are committed to the task of restoring, and obeying New Testament teaching as made know by the Lord, and as set forth in the Bible.

THE CHURCHES OF CHRIST make this plea even at the risk of incurring disfavor of other religionists. We are of the conviction that the matter of pleasing God is infinitely more important than pleasing man. This conviction is based upon the following scriptures:

"For do I now persuade men or God? Or do I seek to please men, for if I yet pleased men, I should not be the servant of Christ."—(Gal. 1:10).

"But as we were allowed of God to be put in trust with the gospel, even so we speak; not as pleasing men, but God which trieth our hearts."—(1 Thess. 2:4)

Cleaner Air Week Is Slated By Department

By VERN SANFORD
AUSTIN, Though it hasn't any Los Angeles-type smog or London "pea soupers," Texas, in common with most of the civilized world, has "dirty air" problems.
Industrial smoke, automobile exhaust, incinerators — even small town cotton gins — are among the factors that pollute Texas air.
State Health Department is using the approach of Cleaner Air Week, October 25-31, to remind Texans of the importance of the air they breathe. During one day, says the Department's October bulletin, a person must breathe 30 to 35 pounds — or a whole roomful — of fresh air.
Texas by no means has the problems of cities like London where in 1952 several thousand died during a period of excessive air pollution. But, says the Department, "the problem is already present and growing in areas where no action is being taken."
Every citizen can help, says the Bulletin. Improper heating appliances in homes give off tons of uncombusted material and burning of leaves and trash in the back yard adds irritating agents to the air.
If you are especially interested in the problem, the Bulletin suggests you contact your local health department which will advise you where the air pollution abatement group in your area meets.

Texans now await a decision by the U. S. Supreme Court on how much of its tidelands the state owns. U. S. attorney general claims the state owns a strip only three miles out from the coast. Texas officials say it is three leagues, or 10½ miles.
That Texas owns some tidelands was established by a 1953 act of Congress giving states control of their submerged lands to their "historic boundaries."
Gov. Price Daniel and Texas Atty. Gen. Will Wilson argued before the high court that a historic boundary of three leagues had been established in the days of the Texas Republic and was agreed to by the U. S.
Opposing federal argument is that the U. S. has insisted on a three-mile limit for all countries for many years as a matter of "national policy."
Texas' oil-bearing tidelands, particularly those further out, are believed to be worth millions in revenue for the state public school fund.
Indications keep piling up that a special Legislative session to raise teacher pay and a third-term race by Governor Daniel are strong possibilities.
Letters favoring the teacher pay session are greatly increasing, according to the governor's office. A representative of the Texas State Teachers Association said teachers are not "cooling off" in their drive and are not planning to wait until 1961. Several union labor groups have endorsed teacher raises and offered to help in the drive.

A recent State Democratic Executive Committee newsletter notes Daniel's popularity in polls and quoted him as planning "to keep the door open."
Which probably means the governor will keep the political pot in simmering suspense until very near the Feb. 1 filing deadline.
Texas Water Development Board has made its first loan under the $200,000,000 program passed by the Legislature in 1957.
Lower Nueces River Water Supply District received $3,000,000 which will be used to complete the $21,000,000 Wesley Seale Dam.
Under the program, the Development Board sells bonds and loans money to local governments to pay part of the cost of water conservation projects. Program is self-liquidating. Board is presently paying 3.56 per cent interest on the bonds and charging 4.06 per cent on loans.
White River Municipal Water District in West Texas is expected to receive the next loan. It is seeking aid for a $4,000,000 project to supply water to Crosbyton, Post, Ralls and Spur.
Gaining public support for schools will hinge on how well schools adapt to new demands. State Commissioner of Education J. W. Edgar warned school leaders.
Dr. Edgar told the Texas Association of School Boards of new curriculum changes, including beefed-up high school mathematics courses, now being tested in Texas schools.
School board members noted that, despite the hue and cry for better schools, a winning football team still gets more public support than anything else.
Whether the University of Houston should be brought into the University of Texas system is under state study.
Texas' Commission on Higher Education ordered staff study of the question directed to it by a resolution passed this year by the Legislature. At present the University of Houston is a private institution that receives state aid only for the first two years of its four-year program.
Houston proponents of the plan claim there is an increasing need for making college education available in Houston for that city's ever growing numbers of high school graduates. It is estimated Houston high schools will be graduating 15,000 students a year by 1975.
Commission Director Ralph Green has noted, however, that there is some "public alarm" over the expansion of public education and the shrinking of private education. He said the staff study would be completed by the latter part of 1960.
San Angelo citizens, meanwhile, have started activity toward getting San Angelo Col-

Optimists Hear Talk On Alcoholism

Herb Boardman, chairman of the newly-formed Hereford Commission on Alcoholism, outlined the commission's plans at the noon meeting of Hereford Optimist Club Tuesday.

Guests at the meeting included Noel Clemons and John Anders, both of Hereford. Boardman explained that since 1876, it has been required that studies be made on alcohol in all public schools in Texas. However, until 1951, the requirement was ignored.

In 1957, he said, the State Commission on Alcoholism was organized. Alcoholism today, he added, is the nation's number one health problem. Eighteen months ago, it was the number three problem but has become more serious since that time.

One out of every 10 alcoholics, he explained, can be found on "skid rows". The others are hard to find, he said.

Boardman explained that the main goal of the local commission is prevention of alcoholism, although he said the commission was neither "wet" nor "dry."

She pointed out ways that Rotarians could form their own paths of peace. "You must remember you have power and purity when you outline your path," she said in concluding her talk.

Texas' 18 state-supported colleges are paying an average of $433 a year more to its teachers this year than last. Their salaries for teachers now average $6,320 according to the Commission on Higher Education.

Commission Director Ralph Green said the pay levels are now 30.5 per cent higher than the average five years ago. Widest range of salaries is at the University of Texas. Top pay there is $16,000 for nine months, $10,392 average for full professors, $4,551 average for instructors.

YOUR RED CROSS ON THE JOB

By CORINNE J. NEELY

Coriane J. Neely

"GOOD THINGS HAPPEN WHEN YOU GIVE" is the Red Cross slogan for the year. Your chapter is included in the United Fund. We keep hearing otherwise or being asked if we are. We came into this organization when it was first organized three years ago and work closely with its personnel. In fact many of them are in Red Cross work as board of directors and other capacities. For instance, George McLean the Fund Drive chairman this year, is on our board. Bill Decker now a United Fund director represents the chapter in that group and is a past board member and chairman of Red Cross. The present publicity man for the drive is our present chairman of the board, Bill Hardwick. We hope this does not confuse you but let you know that we do belong though chapters elsewhere have withdrawn because of policy, which does not affect this chapter.

ELECTRIC CLOTHES DRYERS
COST LESS TO BUY - LESS TO INSTALL - LESS TO MAINTAIN

That's right, you can buy an electric clothes dryer for much less money than any other type.

You can install it for less, too, because it need not be vented and needs only a three-wire electrical connection. And remember, even the lowest cost electric dryer is completely automatic.

Finally, it takes only five moving parts to provide electric heat, while other dryers require more than three times as many — cutting down your maintenance cost.

Don't be penny-wise, but dollar-foolish. Buy the economical clothes dryer. Of course, it's electric.
