Hearing On Grand Avenue Paving Monday

A public hearing on the proposed Grand Avenue paving project has been set for the regular session of Hereford City Commission to be held Monday. The meeting will be held in the City Manager's office with the session beginning promptly at 7:30 p. m.

BEING CONGRATULATED by his wife is Glenn Freeman Dye, 23, Plainview, as the jury returned a verdict of not-guilty Thursday to end the two-day trial. Dye had been charged with the rape of a 17-year-old girl. To the right of Dye is his court-appointed defense attorney, Jimmy Ivey. The man's mother is in the foreground. Trial was held in 59th District Court, Judge Harry Schultz presiding. (Staff Photo)

Dye Acquitted Of Rape In District Court Trial Here

A nine-man, three-woman jury deliberated for only an hour before returning a "not guilty" verdict in the trial of Glenn Freeman Dye. The 23-year-old Plainview man was on trial in 59th District Court, Judge Harry Schultz presiding, for the alleged rape of a 17-year-old girl on June 16, 1962, near Hereford.

As evidence the previous day, The District Attorney officially read the statement into the court record, then rested his case for the state. Dye was then called to the stand by Ivey to testify in his own defense. A statement by the man to law enforcement officers was also read and entered as evidence in the case.

3 Whitefaces On All-District Lists

Hereford placed one player on the first team and two more on the second team as District 1-AAA released its 1963 All-District basketball choices. Coaches voted on all players other than their own. The announcement was made by Paul Stevens of Hereford, chairman of the district athletic committee.

Rebs Blow Past Herd, 24-1; Four Games Set This Week

Wind out of the southwest at 40 miles an hour combined with equally strong breezes from the powerful Tascosa bats knocked the Whitefaces off their feet here Friday. The Rebels piled it on for a 24-1 victory.

here Saturday but the same was cancelled by winds. On Tuesday the Whitefaces will go to Pampa for a game at 4 p. m. Friday, Hereford will be host to Pampa at 4 p. m. On Saturday, the team will be in Plainview for a double-header with the first game starting at 1 p. m.

On three hits, walked none and struck out three. Hereford used a whole parade of pitchers, only one of whom has any experience. Mike Ransport, a sophomore, started and was charged with the loss. He pitched two innings, allowed seven runs on five hits, walked one and hit one. Mike Watts, another sophomore, worked one-third of an inning. He was tagged for five runs on four hits, walked four, struck out one and made one wild pitch.

Around Town

BY H. A. TUCK

It seems that we are in the midst of our annual windy season. Somehow, we never think it will arrive but it most always does. If this country doesn't get a few rains this spring, it will be drier than usual.

A fielder's choice and a single put two runners on. These were knocked in by a single. Stan Robinson then poled a homer to make it 4-0.

Little Interest May Force End Of Pony Baseball

There may not be a Pony League baseball organization in Hereford this summer... that is unless more interest is shown in the activity than was exhibited at the league's organizational meeting Friday night.

American Legion members of Hereford will celebrate the organization's 44th birthday on Tuesday, March 19, at the Legion Hall. The Legion Auxiliary will host a salad supper at 7 p. m. in honor of the occasion.

The Rebels tacked on six more runs in the third on three singles, four walks, two errors and a wild pitch. Hereford got its first base runner in the third on catcher's interference but stranded him there on a line shot caught at the fence in center field and two strike-outs.

Only five adults turned out for the meeting which had been slated in order to get the Pony League organized and underway.

Walcott Common School District is planning an expansion to its facilities. A meeting to explain the project is slated for 8 p. m. Thursday, March 21, at Walcott School. A bond advisor and an architect will be on hand to discuss the proposals and answer questions.

An error and a home run by Bill Bogan gave the Rebels two more runs in the fifth while Hereford went down one-two-three in its part of the inning.

"Last year we had four teams consisting of 60 boys, and there were many boys in that age group who could not play because there was not room. This worthwhile program will die in Hereford if the parents of the boys concerned do not show more interest."

Hereford Lions Club, successful for many years with its annual Pancake Supper, is going overboard this year. They will sponsor a "Pancake Day" on Saturday, March 23, in the High School cafeteria.

Hereford, finally scored its lone run in the bottom of the sixth. With one out, Ronny Duncan doubled and Willoughby got his second double of the game.

"It takes at least 12 adults working actively in order to keep the league in operation... and it takes the support of everyone to have a successful league," Owen declared.

THE SOUTH SHALL RISE AGAIN

First CAF Fighter Lands

By Gardner Collins, Brand Staff Reporter

The first contingent of the Confederate Air Force in the Texas Panhandle is now based at Hereford Municipal Airport. Officially it arrived here Thursday as Colonel Gerald Martin landed at the airport in his sleek Grumman FM-2 Wildcat, one of the most famous Navy fighter planes during World War II.

F4F of Wake Island, the Coral Sea, Midway and Guadalcanal fame, he pointed out that it is powered by a Pratt and Whitney 1350 horsepower engine. The plane, he said, will easily climb at 4000 feet per minute. It cruises about at between 200 to 250 miles an hour but can top 300 mph at sea level or 350 at 28,000 feet.

The fighter plane was purchased by the Confederate Air Force which is an organization dedicated to the preservation of the world's greatest fighter aircraft.

The unit lists as its objectives the preservation of as many first line military aircraft as possible, particularly those types which played important roles in World War II, and to perpetuate in the minds and hearts of all Americans the spirit and memory of the accomplishments of these great airplanes.

The title of "Colonel" was bestowed on Martin as he joined. In fact, every one in the unit is a "colonel" so no one is "out-ranked."

At a distance, the FM-2 Wildcat is stubby and squat, but up close its size is overwhelming. Even though it was one of the smallest fighters of World War II, it is a large airplane even by modern day standards.

It is, in effect, a flying museum with all of its aircraft — F-51 Mustang, F61-D Corsair, FM-2 Wildcat, F8F Bearcat, P-63 King Cobra, P-47 Thunderbolt, P-40 Warhawk, P-38 Lightning, F6F Hellcat, and B-25 Mitchell — in excellent flying condition.

It is also dedicated to preserve the customs and traditions of the Deep South — good Southern cooking; leisurely drinkin'; cat fishin'; pocket knife whittlin'; rockin' chair rockin'; and plain old

Commander of the unit is the "fictitious" Colonel Throckmorton T. Beauregard. (Members of the unit know he exists because he signs all of the orders but he has never actually been seen.)

During World War II, the Wildcat was one of the standard carrier airplanes. If first gained fame in the defense of Wake Island and saw action in the Battle of Midway and the Coral Sea where the advances of the Japanese Navy were halted.

All are painted white with red and blue stripes on the tip of the wings, elevators and stabilizer and a small Confederate flag painted on the tail.

Golfers Take Third In Hale Center Tourney

Hereford High School's golf team ranked third in the Hale Center Invitational High School Tournament Friday at Hale Center. It was the first outing of the year for the squad.

Its important roll in the struggle was to help secure Marine victories on the island. In the air, the warplane accounted for many Navy victories over the Japanese Zero as it became the standard front-line Navy carrier fighter.

The Wildcat played an important part in the first amphibious operation in the Pacific when the Marines landed at Guadalcanal.

Its service continued throughout the war in the Bismark Sea, the Philippines, the Marshalls, the Solomons, until it was phased out of military service or replaced by the Grumman Hellcat and Bearcat in 1945.

Next tourney on slate for the team will be March 28 at the Amarillo Relays. Hereford will host the District 1-AAA golf tourney here April 3.

Comprising the quintet are Dick Combs, Jim Owens, Andy Channer, Bruce Miller, and Bob Reinauer.

The plane which Martin owns half-interest in is still in excellent flying condition and is exactly the same as it was when it came off the production line.

Plans for possible expansion of Walcott School will be discussed Thursday evening, March 21. The meeting will be held at Walcott School, starting at

Four Accidents Cause $1240 In Property Loss

Four rural traffic accidents were investigated during February by Texas Highway Patrol units here, according to Sergeant Bill Wells, patrol supervisor for this area.

Estimated property damage resulting from the accidents was placed at $1240. There were no injuries reported. The rural traffic accident summary for Deaf Smith County for the first two months of 1963 showed a total of 11 crashes resulting in property damages estimated at $4040.

Sergeant Wells commented that a new hazard has been added to the traffic picture along the state's highways.

"You may not realize it," remarked the veteran patrol supervisor, "but the current hiking fad has added an element of danger to driving."

The sergeant added that every one who decides to make one of these 50-mile hike or 25-mile hikes should be aware of the traffic dangers that are involved and also that all Texas drivers should be alerted to the fact that these pedestrians may cause a certain amount of danger.

He continued saying: "Hiking today is a great deal different from what it was 25 years ago."

With spring just around the corner, more pedestrians will be seen on streets and highways, Sgt. Wells warned. It is important that all drivers recognize this hazard and be prepared for any emergency.

"Our records reveal that approximately 10 per cent of all rural fatal motor vehicle accidents involved pedestrians during the last few years," he concluded.

By Melvin Young. We have heard a great deal about diversification in agriculture, but J. L. Marcum is one of the few who have applied the principal to the business world.

Jay is in the automobile business here, and fills in as a mortician in his spare time. Last year he purchased a funeral parlor at Hale Center, continuing to operate the local automobile business. More recently Mr. Marcum has added a furniture store to the Hale Center operation and we understand the business is doing quite well.

Jay apparently has this deal all figured out. If he can't sell you while you're living, he still has a shot at your business in the end.

J. L. is a busy man, but he still has time for his favorite sport... hunting. However, unlike other hunters, Jay doesn't spend a lot of money for hunting attire. He goes to the field clad in a white shirt and he just like he was going to the office. "Bunky" Daniel, who went pheasant hunting with Mr. Marcum last fall says Jay was the "best dressed hunter in the state."

Speaking of sports, we often wonder why people are attracted to different sports.

Now Joe Kerr and "Chick" Hicks are avid basketballers, while Otis Hall, Luther Lesly and R. J. Cramer are more interested in bird hunting.

Others, such as Gaylord Newell and Pick Harman are inclined to be interested in "sports cars", while Jack Brown and Charlie Holt are horse racing fans.

Ray Cowser's chief hobby, other than politics, is taking his grandchildren to the Lion's Club Carnival.

Me? My chief sport is snoozing in the big overstuffed rocker that we have at home.

But be it what it may, most all men have a hobby or sport of some sort that they especially enjoy.

Johnny Sims was telling us recently about a flight he made with Tommy Bryant in Tommy's Beach Bonanza. They left the local airport and started towards Plainview when it suddenly occurred to John that he didn't even know the purpose of their trip.

Tommy's reply really shook him up. "I need to have this plane worked on," said Tommy, "and this fellow at Plainview is an excellent mechanic."

Of course, they arrived safe and sound but Johnny figures the next time he'll ask questions before they get off the ground... or not at all.

Bill McCarver, who recently suffered a light stroke, seems to be getting along real fine. Bill has partially regained the use of his right arm, and he is improving daily. We're looking forward to seeing Bill back

The Hereford Lions are roaring again, and this time it's about the annual Pancake supper that they sponsor. But this year will be a little different... it will be a Pancake Day rather than the usual evening affair. The boys will start serving pancakes at 6:30 a. m. Saturday, March 23, at the High School Cafeteria. They will continue serving throughout the day and until 8 p. m. in the evening. An added attraction this year will be Aunt Jemima in person.

And then there's the story about the old boys who crossed a parrot with a panther. He wasn't sure what he got, but when that critter started talking, you'd sure better listen.

County Home Demonstration Agent Argen Draper informed us this week that the Deaf Smith County Committee on Family Economics (family money management) has received state-wide recognition through an article recently published in the Texas Agricultural Progress magazine. The magazine is published bi-monthly at College Station, Texas by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station and the Texas Agricultural Extension Service of the Agricultural and Mechanical College of Texas. It has state-wide distribution.

Meanwhile, the local farmers are apparently back in the fields getting potatoes and onions planted and getting their ground ready for other crops that will need to be in the ground soon. Their absence from the local coffee shops would indicate that things are really beginning to roll on the area farms.

We haven't seen much activity around the site of the new sugar beet mill, but have noticed that Santa Fe Railway is doing some work on the spur. At least they have a few stakes in the ground, and it shouldn't be long before things really start rolling.

Sanders Tours Navy Flat-Top With His Son

O. R. Sanders of Hereford returned home late Thursday night from a brief trip aboard the USS Lexington, an aircraft carrier currently in the Gulf of Mexico.

He joined a group from the Navy League in Lubbock Wednesday morning, flying aboard a Navy plane to Corpus Christi. Sanders was joined there by his son, Lt. Kit C. Sanders, USN, currently serving as public information officer for the staff of Admiral Brandley.

The tour was flown about 30 miles offshore to the Lexington, where they spent the rest of the day, that night and part of the next day before returning home. Sanders is interested in forming a Navy League in Hereford and asks anyone interested to contact him for further information.

NEEDED NEW EXCUSE
 GAINESVILLE, Fla. — A campus bus system has been started at the sprawling University of Florida to help students make their classes on time. Students complained that dormitories, fraternity and sorority houses were so far from classroom buildings it was impossible to get to class without being tardy. Student government leaders set up the new campus bus system to provide express service for the first three class changes each morning and the lunch break.

POLICE PREVENT A THEFT
 LINCOLN, Neb. — Not everyday does someone drop in at the Lincoln Police Station to borrow a pair of handcuffs. But Asst. Chief W. H. Manchester was understanding when the request came from a pair of newlyweds. "They're trying to steal me," the bride explained. College friends planned to separate the bride and groom as a prank. The honeymooners left the station happily handcuffed.

OFF THE Shelf

BY H. A. TUCK
 Americans in Mexico City are a strange lot... but so are some of the natives. Mix them all together in a zany plot, stir well with the style of Patrick Dennis and you can come up with a novel known as Genius. Dennis, who gained fame as the author-creator of Auntie Mame, has switched his setting from New York to Mexico City and come up with a delightfully funny book.

The hero, if you can use the word loosely, is Leander Starr, one of the world's most famous directors and the world's most famous deadbeat. Starr is living, temporarily at least, in Casa de Ximinez. The same huge place houses an assortment of humanity such is seldom seen under one roof. Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Dennis are there; he's trying to whip out a short story or two and has visions of another book. Dr. Friddy is there, along with his wife. Friddy has collected degrees from all over the world and currently is studying at the University of Mexico while searching for his life's work. His wife makes a fetish of collecting bric-a-brac and odd customs from little-known parts of the globe.

Alistair St. Regis serves Starr as butler, chauffeur, cook and handy-man.

Add to this the proprietor of Casa de Ximinez, Catalina Ximinez. Starr picked her up and made her a star in his great film, Yucatan Girl. Catalina had invested fairly well and managed, with the income from her apartments, to support not only herself but her entire clam. Outstanding of the bunch is Mamacia, whose toothless gums proudly proclaim her only English words, "Ma... dotter... beeg... star."

Entering from various wings are Mrs. Worthington Pomeroy, a gal between 50 and death with millions and desires (equally strong) to marry Leander Starr and to get into real high society. Plus the lovely Lady Joyce, who is lively, rich and one Mr. Guber of Teaneck, N. J., an intensely devoted employee of the Department of Internal Revenue; Emily Starr, the great man's beautiful and (almost) grown-up daughter; an energetic young American con man and many, many others.

Most of these become more or less involved as Starr decides to make a dramatic, tragic film, "Valley of the Vultures". This leads to still more complications.

More than anything else, this is refreshingly humorous. Patrick Dennis has a knack for putting the most implausible characters into the same book and then almost standing back to watch how they'll react.

But the main thing is that the reader of Genius should react quite favorably. The book is available in the Deaf Smith County library.

Your Red Cross In Action

By Ramona Noel

In cooperation with the National offices of the American Red Cross, the local Red Cross Chapter will recognize the week of March 17 - 23 as NATIONAL POISON PREVENTION WEEK. This month we have John Gilliland as our guest writer for this column.

In connection with poison prevention, I wonder just how many people in Hereford and the surrounding area realize what dangers lie around their home, and in case of "home poisoning," just how many people would know what to do.

Of course the possibilities of accidental poisoning in a home where there are no small children is not as likely as it is in homes that have several babies. But in any case, the danger is present in any home, and we should recognize it and prepare ourselves to handle any emergency that might arise.

As you read the paper this morning, make a check - list and see just exactly how many of the following "poison traps" might be present in your home: (1) paint and cleaning solutions in open places or on low shelves within the reach of children (2) Ant, roach and rat poisons within the reach of children or in a place where it might be mistaken for something not poisonous (3) Unlabeled medicine or unlabeled animal poison.

These, of course, are things that most of us realize are dangerous, and are usually careful to avoid having happen. But do we all realize that children, and adults for that matter, have been known to mistake such things as cleaning fluids for apple juice or other drinks that might be kept in the same storage place? And many children here. However, with the wind blowing as much as it is there shouldn't be a question.

Mrs. E. C. Eubanks called the office and asked if some of you might have records to be used in teaching singing to some Latin American children. If you have records call Mrs. Eubanks at EM 4-0088. She says she is always home at night.

The Family Economics Committee would like to thank all of you folks who helped in starting this program. The article in the current Texas Agricultural Progress mentions that the Toastmasters Club helped in launching the program.

In looking over the entries for the County Contests to be held next Saturday I see there are 87 4-H members who have entered contests. This is excellent, considering we have already had 32 4-H'ers enter the Food and Nutrition Activity and 11 clubs entered in the Share-the-Fun. In the 11 clubs almost every member entered. Congratulations to the leaders and parents who have helped in organizing this work.

A letter came from Doris Mahaffey Starkey, saying they have moved from Perryton to Norman, Okla. Her address is 810 Dakota, Norman.

The pins showing 25 years of club membership have been received. These will be given at the luncheon on March 25.

Every day there is something interesting in this work. The last three days I've been making slides to be used in the club programs in April.

SHOE'S ON OTHER FOOT
DES MOINES, Iowa — It was storming when a Des Moines doctor got a call from a man who said his wife needed medical attention.

"I'd be glad to come, but I have no transportation," the physician replied. "You'd have to come and get me."

"What?" exploded the caller, "In this weather?"

ALL BURNED UP

POWAY, Calif. — Clothesline thefts are old stuff to law officers, but clothesline arson that's different.

That is what Sheriff's deputies said when Mrs. James W. Brown reported someone had set fire to her daughter's skirt hanging on the line. Even the clothespins were burned.

HAPPY COINCIDENCE

SAN DIEGO — In answering a help-wanted ad, Val McCashen dialed the wrong number. He got Bill Sharp's Hillcrest Auto Supply. Turned out that Sharp did happen to need a man, though. McCashen was hired.

THE IMPORTANT THINGS

DES MOINES, Iowa — A 7-year-old Des Moines boy handed his mother a list of telephone numbers and asked her to keep it for him "so the other kids won't get them."

The mother checked on the numbers and found that they were for a priest, a bank, a cab company and a television repairman.

representatives of various interested organizations agreed that the annual Hereford Harvest Festival should be held the last week in July again this year. Members also are to promote good fellowship among members of the organization in flying and supporting these great aircraft.

"I joined the organization," commented Martin, "because I have always wanted to fly this type of aircraft."

He pointed out that on his flight to Hereford from Lubbock, he was over Olton before he really settled down to flying. The wheels and flaps had to be hand cranked up and cow flaps set, also by hand.

He pointed out that the flight in the World War II fighter took only about 20 minutes.

"A person has to really love flying to get into this sort of thing," Martin explained. "If a person doesn't fly, he really doesn't understand."

Martin brought the plane to Hereford following an air show at Rebel Field near Mercedes, Tex., the home base of the organization.

He pointed out that interest in the show was high with some 15,000 spectators attending.

defense attorney then rested his case as the court adjourned at noon.

In his charge to the jury, Judge Schultz instructed jurors in the elements of the case and possible sentences if found guilty.

He told members of the panel the state's contention must be proved beyond a reasonable doubt. If that had not been proved, they were instructed to bring in a not-guilty verdict.

Before the jury retired at about 2:15 p. m., both attorneys made their closing arguments to the jury with Hunter giving a rebuttal to the defense attorney's statement.

The jury discussed the case for only an hour returning the not-guilty decision at 3:15 p. m.

Members of the jury were Mrs. Leroy Aven, Delbert Bainum, George M. Suggs, Glen Wilson, H. H. Rowland, Mrs. Nadine Wade, Charles R. Hoover, Gene King, Donald Kimball, Mrs. J. V. Campbell, E. W. Kendrick, and Billy W. Moore.

Discussion on the proposed paving project began late in 1962. Cost of the project was originally estimated at $32,220.94. In mid-January an informational meeting for Grand Ave. property owners was held in which the Commission outlined its plans for the project.

No strong objections were raised by the eight residents attending.

During the meeting, Mayor Ray Cowser told residents that the condition of the street between 25 Mile Ave. and Avenue 1 "is getting to the point where something has to be done."

He also stated: "We will try to build you a good street but it is going to cost you and us (the city). Some of your tax money will also be involved. But, we believe the paving program is a 'must' and cannot be put off any longer."

No bond issue will be required to finance the city's share of the cost for the paving program.

Property owners along Grand Avenue may also use several ways of financing payment of their assessment for paving and curb and gutter work.

Still Time For Water Conservation Measures

Irrigation farmers still have time enough before planting crops to make provisions for retaining irrigation "tailwater" on their farms.

A spokesman for the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District says that literally hundreds of systems have been installed throughout the area this winter for recirculating irrigation "tailwater" from the bottom of the farm fields to higher points where the water can be used.

Tom McFarland, Manager of the Water District, stated that the District's staff, in cooperation with Texas Water Commission personnel, has just recently completed measuring water levels in hundreds of observation wells throughout the District.

He pointed out that water levels have again declined from where they stood at this time last year. In fact, according to McFarland, one county in the northwest portion of the District had an average annual decline in 38 wells of about 7 feet.

He mentioned the water level decline to point out the urgent need to conserve ground water.

For practical purposes, the area has only the quantity of water that is in storage underground today to fulfill the ground water requirements for all time to come.

Aside from the hundreds of recirculation systems installed this winter to salvage runoff water, McFarland says that other farmers have partially or completely leveled their land, or contoured their rows, or accomplished one or more of a combination of land management measures designed to keep water on the land where it can be used to grow crops that in turn can be sold to produce income.

Also, there have been hundreds of pumps installed at wet-weather lakes for use in salvaging both irrigation water and rain water that runs from the cropland.

Farmers who are interested in seeing some of these waste-preventing installations should call the local water conservation office. Personnel there will be more than happy to show what some irrigators are doing to help conserve water, McFarland stated.

McFarland said that all should keep in mind that water is probably the most precious natural resource, and as such it should be used as wisely as possible.

Paper Launches Safety Campaign

"Can you stop in time?" "It isn't the right of way but the right way." "Slow Down and Live."

These are only a few of the slogans that ring out the time of Safety Week, which will begin Monday, March 18, on and around the campus of Hereford High School.

The safety campaign is being launched by staff members of the Whiteface, official newspaper of Hereford High School.

Journalism class members, with the consent of school officials, will launch a crack-down on minor traffic violations occurring around the school campus.

Acting as a traffic police force, Whiteface staff members will issue student traffic citations to those seen speeding, parking improperly, disregarding pedestrian crosswalks, and other offenses.

be issued to students who do not heed school zone speed and parking laws.

In order to clear up congested parking areas near the school, a map outlining student parking zones will be posted. Students will be requested to park only in the designated areas. Those who park elsewhere will be ticketed by Whiteface staff members.

"We, of the Whiteface staff, hope that this campaign will encourage safe driving not only on the H. H. S. campus," states the paper's editor, Linda Higgins, "but also throughout the entire community."

During the War of 1812, Stephen Girard, Philadelphia banker, assumed an entire Government loan of $5,000,000.

Jeanette Rankin was the first woman member of the U. S. House of Representatives in 1916.

Thus Saith the Lord

"What is truth?" John 18, 38

Pilate asked this question sarcastically and rhetorically. He was sarcastic because he did not imagine that this lonely Galilean could know what he was talking about when he said that those of the truth, heard his voice. He asked it rhetorically (that is, expecting no answer) as he knew men had wrestled throughout all ages with this question, in trying to find its answer.

How blind can you get? The truth was standing right in front of him. Jesus Christ was and is the truth. What does that mean? It means that the truth about man is that he is a sinner and needs to be saved by God's grace and power alone as he can in no way save himself. Jesus had to become a man and die on the cross and rise again that man might be able by faith in Him to again become a child of God. Yes, that is the full unadulterated truth. There is no other way to be saved except thru Him.

Jesus further said that God's word was the truth. Have you ever found it to lie? No man has. Many artists have tried to make it look like it lied, but it hasn't. The artists are dead. The Bible is still here and speaking to any who will listen. Let it speak to you and show you YOUR Savior. Come and hear it preached in our church. We welcome you.

THUS SAITH THE LORD!

Mrs. Clara McLean was the librarian from 1940 - 1949, when Mrs. Boydston was appointed to fill the vacancy left by her resignation.

Mrs. Boydston reported that the library now has 28,000 books, 3,000 registered readers, and had a circulation of 49,314 books during 1962.

She stated that the Memorial Shelf, which was begun with a book in memory of Mrs. Rosolow, now numbers 100 volumes. Books are selected for this shelf with special regard to the interests of the persons honored. She told the Pioneer club members that I Believe in Miracles, by Katherine Kuhlman, has been selected as their memorial to the late Mrs. Nancy McCaslin.

Mrs. Hill continued the program on education with an explanation and demonstration of teaching literacy.

"A functional illiterate is an adult 25 years of age with less than a fifth - grade education," she defined. "It is an astonishing fact that there are more than 700,000,000 illiterates in the world today, with more than ten million functional illiterates in the United States. Texas ranks 49th in literacy rate among the states, with 13.38 per cent illiterate population."

Mrs. Hill explained that Dr. Laubach has developed his simple chart to teach literacy in 202 different languages.

"Considering himself unsuccessful as a missionary, Dr. Laubach felt compelled to teach people to read in order that they might read the Bible for themselves. It soon became evident that the influence of his work was far more widespread than its original purpose, reaching into every area of the lives of the people who were taught to read," she asserted.

Mrs. Hill described the work done locally in the field of literacy, and displayed the books that were used in teaching. She conducted a demonstration lesson with the club members participating as a group, although in actual teaching situations, it is better to teach one person at a time. She extended an invitation for all to attend the course to be taught in Hereford and to visit the local Goodwill Center to observe the practical application of "Each One Teach One."

Mrs. Hill is the Literacy Chairman of the Education Department of the Top of Texas District, Texas Federation of Women's Clubs.

Mrs. L. H. Lookingbill Sr. gave the opening prayer and Mrs. H. E. Miller led the Pledge of Allegiance to the flag of the United States.

of the United States.

Mrs. Ralph McCullough, president, presided over the business session. She announced the District Convention to be held in Amarillo April 2-3, and urged all members to attend as many sessions as possible.

Committees in charge of arrangements for the Guest Day Tea were named by Mrs. Lookingbill, general chairman. The tea will be held in the ballroom of the Hereford Community Center at 2:30 p. m. on April 9, with district officers as special guests of the club.

The luncheon tables were decorated with a springtime motif. The centerpiece was an arrangement of jonquils, and flowerpots containing blue and white hyacinths further accented the theme. Miniature spring baskets marked each place.

Hostesses included Mesdames H. E. Miller, Mary Seigler, P. B. Sowell, and C. R. Waiser. Also attending were Mesdames J. J. Boydston and R. J. Smith, guests; and the following members: Mmes. Fred Barrett, Allen Bell, Burl France, J. M. Gilliland, Henry Hastings, O. G. Hill Sr., W. C. Thomas, E. S. Ireland, Ray L. Johnson, L. H. Lookingbill Sr., A. L. Manjeet, C. N. WEED THOSE BEETS LOCKWOOD Way...

The LOCKWOOD WEEDER - THINNER
10 Reasons Why It Will Make YOU a Good Investment

Efficient, accurate, mechanical down-the-row thinning and weeding of sugar beets and vegetable crops!

Individual units mount on standard front or rear mounted tool bars—work any number of rows desired, adjust to fit any row spacing!

Two counter rotating heads thin and weed accurately, without disturbing row alignment—rear head is adjustable to leave stand spaced like you want it!

Faster thinning—faster field speeds are possible because counter-rotating heads do not disturb row alignment!

Each unit is self-driven by its own integral drive wheel; drive wheel also serves as a depth gauge and provides flotation for easier operation!

Blades slice through row without dragging or pushing!

Weeding heads have 8 spring teeth per head, 16 per unit; to eliminate small weeds, mulch young plants. Teeth "flex" around sugar beet taproots without damage, spring off rocks, etc., to prevent breakage!

Heads mount on output shaft of 2:1 ratio gear box; thinning and weeding heads can be adjusted or changed in a matter of minutes!

Adjustments are few and easy to make. Row spacing and depth are adjusted in minutes. Compression springs keep units level, torsion springs maintain downward pressure!

Minimum maintenance—no lubrication points. Gear box runs in grease for long life—check lubricant level periodically and keep thinning knives sharp!

Up In the AIR

Activity at the airport has again slowed down due to the high winds and rather bad weather.
 However, there have been a lot of transient aircraft here from out-of-state. Iowa, Colorado, Oklahoma and Utah cattle buyers have been in and out the past two weeks.
 The 6666 Ranch Lockheed Lodestar was in from Guthrie looking for cattle. Also Stallings Farms Aero Commander was in from New Mexico getting information as to methods and high-yielding seed. Apparently they are interested in getting into the maize business. Stallings was very impressed with the high yields local farmers are making.
 The CAP had a meeting at the airport recently with a good turnout. The CAP plane made a trip recently with Benny Womble as pilot and Bill Thompson as observer. They reported winds were brisk both ways.
 The Tyler Pipe Company's Aztec was in again with Joe Demmer as pilot.

 Ground school for private pilots is starting this week on navigation. Anyone interested can get more information at the airport.
 The Chamber of Commerce chartered a flight to Brownwood last week for a meeting. Neil Cooper, John Sims, Cleo Meharg, Melvin Young, chamber manager Bill Thompson and pilot Bob Doughman.
 American Flyers of Fort Worth came in Friday in a DC-3, picking up a group from Hereford and Dimmitt for a week-end trip to Las Vegas, Nev.
 Matt Brown is still busy running 100-hour and annual inspections on local and transient aircraft. The shop is doing well and word is beginning to spread about Matt's work.
 Benny Womble just brought in his T-Craft for some painting. Those working on their different ratings and licenses have been slowed down some by weather, but are still flying whenever they can.
 Three new aircraft stopped here on their way to El Paso from the Cessna factory in Wichita, Kan. A new 210 was left here and perhaps it will find a home in Hereford.

NEW ARRIVAL
 Dr. and Mrs. Howard Scott, former residents of Hereford, announce the arrival of a grandson, Howard Lee (Scotty), on March 8. The parents are Brother and Mrs. Kenneth Goad, the former Beth Scott.

ASSIGNED TO FLORIDA
 Airman First Class Esteban C. Briones is being reassigned to Orlando AFB, Fla., following his graduation from the United States Air Force technical training course for missile mechanics here. Airman Briones, son of Mr. and Mrs. Isaias Briones of 114 Bradley St., learned to maintain and operate test equipment associated with the Mace missile weapon system.

CUT THE COMEDY
 MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The name of a barbershop on Miami's northeast side is Joe's Clip Joint.

The Chamber of Commerce aviation committee is trying to have the Texas Aeronautics Commission's flight clinic held in Hereford in the near future. This is a good program for both flyers and non-flyers.
 Coffee and hanger flying are still going strong at the airport and you are welcome to join in.

If you want a truck that does its work without yelling for attention all the time, buy a "new reliable" Chevrolet.

You have to take care of it; it's a machine. But this isn't a full-time activity. The clear idea is that the truck works for you, not vice versa.

The way to build such a truck is to put more quality into it. For example, Chevrolet doesn't build one type of suspension system for all sizes of trucks. Chevrolet designs suspension systems to fit your need. The light-duty type is strong on comfort. Another kind for heavier trucks stiffens up as you increase your load and vice versa. Make sense? Conventional pickups have double-wall construction in cabs, doors, lower side panels. Roofs are insulated. Body floors are select wood, not metal. Tailgate chains are wrapped in rubber. If you'd like to examine or drive a new '63 Chevrolet truck, just call us. We'll be right over.
