Around Town

Slim Wester invited me to go with him the other day to run his trot line at Buffalo Lake. On a warm, sunny afternoon, that really was tempting, but we had to decline. Slim stayed around long enough to tell us the proper way to set a trot line. both to catch fish and to keep others from running the line before he could. Apparently the technique on trot lines varies from lake to lake and we don't know of anyone who is more familiar with all the good fishing spots in the Southwest than Slim.

Wednesday was a busy day in Hereford, School enrollment was underway and school supplies were being bought like they were going out of style. Somehow, it doesn't seem like summer should be over, but guess that it is. As usual, there are a number of undone chores at our house that were supposed to have top priority during Urged To Vote the summer.

us. And waiting anxiously are the hunters. The season on mourning doves starts Saturday, Sept. 1. In the north zone of the state, including this area, the season is Sept. 1 through Oct. 30, Legal shooting hours are from noon until sunset and shotguns must be plugged to a three-shell capacity. The daily bag limit is 12 and the possession limit is 24.

The Monday night women's bowling league, the Sunset Keglers, will meet Thursday, Aug. 30, at 7:30 p. m. in the Community Room of the First National Bank to elect officers and make plans for the season. All women who bowled in the league last year or who would like to bowl in the league are invited to attend.

Spray Pilots Build, Fly Radio-Controlled Models

By Wain Miller Brand Staff Reporter Two Hereford men just can't get enough of their job. Their job is flying. After work, they go home and fly some more ... just for fun. And neither knows for sure which is the most fun - flying for work or flying for play. These two flying enthusiasts are aerial spray pilots who build and fly radio-controlled model airplanes in their spare

Martin's monoplane is styled n a more modern fashion. He used the same type of design as 'the model plane which currently holds the national model airplane stunt flying championship.

The "jet-styled" monoplane features a simple, but functional design. Powered by an engine which delivers up to 12,000 revolutions per minute, the model reaches speeds up to 60 miles per hour. Steele's biplane, although powered by a similar engine, flys at much slower speeds Both models can perform all of the "aerobatics" such as loops dives, rolls, and spins, which

ADMIRING THEIR MODEL PLANES, which they say will do practically everything except spray crops, are Don Steele, left, and Gerald Martin. The two flight enthusiasts build and fly radio-controlled model airplanes in their spare time. But flying is not just a hobby for them, since both are aerial spray pilots. The biplane was designed and built by Steele, while the sleek one-winger is flown by Martin. They are holding the radio transmitters which control the models in flight.

Radio equipment is the most expensive portion of the remote control model airplanes, men point out.

Both men use radio set-ups which enable them to have complete control over the aircraft. Through the use of the radios, they can control engine speed, and direct the movement of the airlerons, rudder, and eleva-

"Because of this we have as much control over the planes pilot in a real airplane have," Martin pointed out.

A radio transmitter and receiver with these features has a price tag of well over $150. "There are cheaper models, but these have fewer controls," Steele explained.

"Some radio control units are cheaper, but they give you less control over the airplane. Smaller kits control only the elevators and rudder.

There are also more expensive radios, which can control flaps and other model accessories," Steele added.

"The planes are expendable . or that is they're a lot cheaper. We crash a lot of them, but the radios can usually be used again," Steele pointed out.

"As far as the model planes Martin stated, "they are not really too expensive. It

Dear Hereford Brand:

Please run about a 1/4 page ad announcing that Streu's Resort will be taking reservations for cabins in September. We have one unit ready and will have others ready at four or five day intervals until we complete the five for this season. They are 16x22 ft., completely modern with automatic gas heat, hot and cold water and all the trimmings. Interior in varnished knotty pine, floors tiled, and beds comfortable. We furnish bedding, linens, cooking and eating utensils--everything but the food--and will have a stock of that handy.

Fishing in Sept. for the fly fisherman is the best of the whole year, and the aspens up here turn in early Sept. so the scenery will be spectacular. Our stream has plenty of German Brown and Brook trout--raised on the place--no hatchery fish--they are smart and fighters. Above and below us is forest land and the stream has been well stocked with Rainbow, so fishing will be good.

We have a swimming pool with water from our warm spring--nights in Sept. will be cool, but daytime temps. will be pleasantly warm for those who want to bath -- we used the pool till the 20th of Sept. last year and it was a very early fall.

Oliver (Streu) can show you on the map just how to get here--doubt you will have room in a 1/4 page ad to show that.

I have been really working this summer--have taken up my belt to the last notch, and my pants still slip a bit from time to time--but, with the beautiful scenery, the cool climate, and the feeling of really doing something, I am enjoying myself as never in many years.

Jean is fine and has completely re-done the old ranch house and, as usual, has it looking like a home.

Hoping that you and the family are in fine fettle, I remain,

As usual,

IN DEEP CONCENTRATION, these Hereford High School Band members practice in preparation for the coming band marching season. Directed by Ben Gollehon, the 90-piece band began rehearsals Monday evening. The band will make its first appearance Sept. 14 when the Hereford Whitefaces play in Canyon.

The Hereford High band hall ship Texas. throbs with the spirit of 90, yes, 90 enthusiastic musicians, ward to their trip to the Cotassistant high school director; happy. he's also going to be finishing up his work at W. T. this fall.

The Whiteface Band is concentrating its efforts on brand new drills and marches, such as the "March of the Olymplans" from the 1962 Olympic Games, as well as themes from television programs. And to maintain a familiar flavor, the band will play our ol' favorites.

Leading this big, new band onto the field will be Jim Grubbs, '62-'63 drum major; two feature twirlers, Jerre Bea Noland and Kathy Boston; and three line twirlers, Merle Carmichael, Lynn Sowell, and Beverly Roberts. Thursday night on the practice field near Shirley School. The directors and the band members deserve our utmost respect and support for the time and effort they spend in planning and rehearsing each halftime show presented for our enjoyment. Here's wishing a huge portion lehon and Clyde Wilson and last but not least, the Hereford High Big Domino Band!

Janis Higgins and Dick Plank returned on Aug. 18 from a week-long Talent Tour sponsored by Producer's Grain Corporation of Amarillo. This tour is an award for 4-H'ers who have done particularly outstanding work in the field of co-opera-

The group left by chartered bus on Sunday, Aug. 12. First they toured grain elevators and co-ops in Amarillo and Lubbock. From Lubbock the Talent Tour ook them to San Antonio where they visited the Alamo and other places of historical signi-

Then the cry was, "On to a real swingin' band camp at Corpus!" which is exactly Western State College in Gunniwhere they went. The highlight of this stopover was an excur-

> In recalling the trip, Janis remarked, "It was a really great experience, one I shall never forget."

The M.Y.F. of the First Methodist Church sponsored a rummage sale on Saturday, Aug. 25. It was conducted on the vacant lot-next to Sears; the proceeds went into a fund for the young people's next ski trip, an annual affair. And just in case you haven't noticed - Gloria and Sheri Damron are sporting a brand spankin' new bright red '62 Impala Sport Coupe!! It looks positively yummy! Congratulations, girls.

Speaking of red '62 Impalas, The Big Domino Band can be Deedee, Dan, and Deborah seen drilling each Tuesday and Thomas and John Bob Drake rode in Dan and Deedee's recently purchased one to a Thomas family reunion in Plainview last Sunday.

Jan Story just returned from Abilene and Roby. She spent three nights with Mr. and Mrs. Ron Downing in Abilene and two nights with Mr. and Mrs. Gaylon Patterson in Roby. Mrs. of success to directors Ben Gol- Patterson and Mrs. Downing are Jan's sisters. Since she came home, Jan has been working in sister Joy's place while Joy is visiting in Lubbock.

We can safely say that the Daniel community's loss is Hereford's gain since Suzanne Higgins, one of our '62-'63 cheerleaders, has moved from her home 30 miles northeast of Hereford into the city of Hereford. She reportedly likes "city life" and we, too, are glad about this convenient arbinsons, and the Jim Roberts were each kind enough to take a carload of these students to Western State where the Gunnison Music Camp was in progress from Aug. 15 until Aug.

Each participant was placed night the duration of the in either the cadet, concert, school. symphonic, or honors band. The twirlers in the group attended twirling classes in the morning and afternoon. Some of the musicians studied music theory and conducting.

Gunnison Music Camp, second in size only to the famed Interlochen, offers private lessons for those who wish to obtain private instruction. Marching bands are classed as cadet, intermediate, and best. Patty, Jerry, and Steve were placed in the intermediate band which performed on the football field during the first weekend and marched in a parade through downtown Gunnison during the second weekend.

You must realize by now that this music camp was not in any way a vacation! The musicians worked diligently all day long - but at night, they enjoyed the dances given in the hugh ballroom of the student union building. Stage bands, still another phase of the camp, played for the dances. And these bands were quite good,

Now, about the student union, or sub - in the basement of this new building there is a four lane bowling alley, snooker and pool tables, and ping-pong ta-

The students say it's really amazing how these camp bands could rehearse for only two sessions and then present a really successful performance. Each band presented a concert, so there were concerts every

As Kathy Boston says, "It was really a worthwhile and enjoyable experience."

Certainly the quality of the H.H.S. band will be imporved by these students who have attended such a fine music camp. Not that the band isn't already of good quality!! That is-

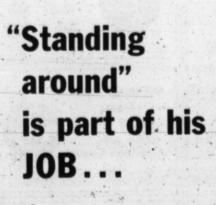

The football boys say that workouts are goin' great - and from the appearance of Charles Kelly's and Arnold Powell's noses, things are getting violent on the gridiron! The Whitefaces' first game is on the Canyon field with Canyon, So from now until Sept. 14, the good word is, "Beat the Eagles!" Here's wishing our mighty Herd the best of luck in the coming season.

AN OPEN LETTER TO BILLY WAYNE CLAYTON

There are many issues facing us which affect the future of our state and our nation. I believe it is our responsibility as candidates to make ourselves available for a joint discussion of these issues in each community of the district with each meeting open to all questions from the audience. In expressing my desire to do this, I leave the selection of times and places to you.

One question I would like to ask you: Do you or do you not concur in the resolution passed by the county conventions of the Democratic Party to support the current national administration? Although you supported it in 1960, you have told Republicans in this campaign that you would probably have supported Cox against Don Yarborough and that you could follow Barry Goldwater anywhere. I am sure you would like to clarify your position concerning this apparent inconsistency.

Sincerely, Frank Ford Republican Candidate for State Representative a | Two brothers preceded him

Hospital Opens Wing

1. A NEW FEATURE added to Deaf Smith County Hospital during the current remodeling program is the waiting room for families of surgical patients. The room, a converted office, is just off of hallway leading to operating rooms.

2. AS PART of the expansion program, a libary and con-ference room were added to the service facilities of Deaf Smith County Hospital. Cost of the $63,000 remodeling was shared by the hospital and the county.

3. A MEDICAL RECORDS office has been added to the new wing of the hospital. The office was originally part of the business office. But with the new wing added, medical records are now kept separately.

4. THE NEW ENTRANCE to the hospital forms a spacious lobby and waiting room. A canopy has been constructed at the entranceway for the unloading of patients during bad weather. Front of the new wing is glass and aluminum.

5. LARGE, SPACIOUS offices have been provided for administrator T. E. Siegler, top, and bookkeeping headed by H. V. Williamson at Deaf Smith County Hospital. The offices were so constructed that ample room is provided to administer a 100-bed hospital if future expansion is needed. A new emergency room was also included in the Hearings before various state agencies and legislative committees are forerunners of pitched battles over the proposed consolidation, under a separate agency, of overlapping services now being rendered by numerous departments.

For example, the Texas Highway Department carries on the tourism effort. State Parks Board attracts tourists by providing recreational facilities for them. And the Game and Fish Commission lures visitors to fields and streams. The Highway Department supervises pleasure-boating activities of a million people, while the Game and Fish Commission regulates and taxes shell used as road building material. At least six agencies lease state oil and gas rights, yet the Railroad Commission deals with oil production.

Suggested as possible solutions: expand and consolidate the Game and Fish Commission and the State Parks Board; or make it all a division of the Highway Department.

Political repercussions may surpass all previous legislative battles combined.

Three Tourneys Slated At Pitman

Dates of upcoming golf tour-naments slated at the John Pitman Municipal Golf Course were anounced this week by Bud Posey, course pro.

The first tourney scheduled is the West Texas Chapter, Texas PGA, pro-amateur set for Monday, Aug. 27. Approximately 15 professionals and 85 amateurs will compete, said Pos-

Men amateurs will receive one-half their handicaps up to 14 strokes with women golfers receiving full handicaps up to a maximum of 18 strokes in the low ball competition, he said.

Teams will be paired on arrival and begin teeing off at 8:30 a.m. Registration deadline has been set at 12:30 p.m. A national PGA Hole-In-One Contest will be held during Labor Day, Monday, Sept. 3, he continued.

Each-player will receive one shot on his first nine holes for a hole-in-one at number five hole. Distance on the hole is 150

If no hole-in-one is scored, the player hitting closest will be declared the course champion and his name will go to National PGA headquarters, Posey stat-

The winner will receive a silver ash tray.

There is no charge for the event, the golf pro commented, since it is a Professional Golf association promotion.

The 11th Annual Hereford Invitational Golf Tournament will get underway here on Sept. 7-9 with Bob Giese of Amarillo defending his title, acording to Posey.

Deadline for entering the tourney has been set at 6 p.m. on

Posey urged all golfers to enter the tournament early since the field will be limited to the first 112 signing up.

There will be 16 players in each flight and all will play match play. However, the four remaining in the championship flight on the last day of competition will complete 36 holes of medal play for the championship, he stated.

In the tournament last year, Giese edged out Bob Lindsey of Hereford and Dimmitt for the title.

Substantial Tax Revision Needed

All of the talk in recent days about taxes and the chance for a tax cut bring to my mind the need for some substantial tax revision. I feel that under the present tax laws many inequities could be erased by some quick amendments. Any tax law, like any other type of law, is subject to human errors. It is only after administration of the law begins that many of the unseen errors become obvious.

sisters and also his mother. The father had absented himself and completely failed in his responsibility to the family. Hence, the mother and the several sisters were directly dependent upon this young man for their sustenance.

Under the income tax laws as they presently stand, however, the young man could claim exemptions for his sisters as dependents, but none for As an example, let me cite his mother - the reason being the case of a young man who that since the mother had not been legally divorced from the father, she was charged with receiving one-half of his income under the community property laws. Actually, she did not re-ceive one dime from the errant husband and had no way to collect any money from him,

Certainly no one would contend that the law should place such a penalty on a young man who was assuming a moral but not a legal obligation in supporting his sisters and his mother. He should be rewarded for his fine Christian attitude. Nevertheless, the law so read. It was obviously an oversight at the time the tax law was written.

I have introduced a bill to correct this gross inequity. If we can get this amendment passed it will not only relieve this young man and others in his predicament of an unfair and burdensome penalty, but it may save many from criminal prosecution. There are undoubtedly a number of cases where the same situation exists, but where the taxpayer is unaware of the actual provisions of the law.

Technically, he is in viola tion of the law and could be prosecuted and would also be liable for the payment of a substantial claim by the government for back taxes. This would be unconscionable -an unexpected bill for a substantial amount of money would upset the budget of almost anyone, to say nothing of the amount of money that would be required should some arbitrary bureaucrat decide to push prosecution.

It is for this and similar reasons that any tax legislation should be carefully and exhaustively studied before it is passed. After it is passed, it should be very carefully administered by individuals with some of the milk of human kindness coursing through their veins.

There have been a number of glaring errors of like nature in the Social Security Act. Some of these we have been able to correct, while others still haunt the people. As each one of these flaws is brought to light by some fact situation not previously anticipated, correction should be made forthwith.

Hence, if any of you feel that you have suffered an injustice in any of these particulars, let me know the facts and the ruling that was made in your case so that some attention can be directed to bringing about cor-

Nizer writes well, without the over-long sentences and pompous verbosity you often expect from an attorney.

One portion of this book was ondensed by Reader's Digest, which whetted my appetite. Deaf Smith County Library got the book and it has been in constant demand for the past few

In detail, Nizer carries the reader through the tedious months of preparation, explaining what he aims to work on and how he aims to get the evidence admitted in court. Then he quotes testimony showing how the opposing attorneys try to get their points across and how long it takes to bring the matter to the proper point.

Nizer appoints the reader to is legal staff for seven major cases. "Reputation" is the story of the explosive libel case of attacking Reynolds with fury. It accused Reynolds of being a false war correspondent, a man of low moral, a war profiter, coward, a fellow-traveler with pro-communists and many o-

After consulting with Nizer, Reynolds sued Pegler, Hearst nd others for libel, one of the ardest charges to prove, Nizer warned that even if Reynolds won, he might get little or nothg in actual recompense.

Recalling this case from actual transcriptions, Nizer points out that the dramatic moment when a witness cracks on the stand and tells all, seldom comes in real life. Rather the witness will continue desperately to cling to his story in the face of repeated rebuffs.

In "Divorce;" Nizer recalls "War of the Roses" when Billy Rose sued his wife for divorce. He also goes into the expected bitterness of such litigation and its results.

Another hard-fought courtroom battle centered around the ong "Rum and Coca-Cola." Nizer's client contended he had written the song, while the other ide claimed it was public domain, taken from a folk song of the West Indies. In this trial, Nizer had to beat some of the world's best musical experts to gain a favorable verdict for his

Clyde Watts, a former Longview, Wash., boy and the Jun-ior All-Around Cowboy of the 1961 Boys Ranch Rodeo at Cal Farley's Boys Ranch, will be riding for the senior title when the rodeo is held over the Labor Day weekend, Sept. 2 and 3. Although Clyde had only been at the Ranch a few months last year, he came out of the rodeo with a total of 87 points out of a possible 100.

Contestants in the famed rodeo ride under R. C. A. rules on professional rodeo stock that is taken to the Ranch.

Boys entered in the senior dibroncs while the smaller steers and calves are reserved for the younger boys of the junior class.

All of the boys will have some part in the rodeo, including the little five to six year old youngsters who will appear in special feature attractions.
