NECESSITY DOES IT AGAIN

Local Men Design, Build 20-Passenger 'Party Boat'

Four months and countless hours of labor have combined

Around Town

BY H. A. TUCK
I really hadn't planned on saying anything this week, but so many people have asked that I'll go ahead: My family and I are leaving very soon to live in Denver City, where I will be managing editor of the Denver City Press. Briefly summarized: All of us really do hate to leave Hereford, but the opportunity is too good to pass up.

Football is in the air, rapidly replacing baseball as the chief topic of the sports conversations. In keeping with this, the Whiteface Booster Club will meet at 8 p.m. Monday, Aug. 26, in the Hereford Community Center. President Earl Stagner said that, following routine business, members will get acquainted with the high school and junior high coaching staffs and will begin a membership drive. All persons interested in backing high school and junior high sports programs are urged to be present.

to give James O. "Sug" Lee and C. N. McClure an 8 by 20 foot party boat that will easily accommodate 20 adults.

The boat is built of fir lumber and is water repellent. It is decked with three-quarter inch plywood and painted with water repellent enamel. "The canvas which tops the party boat is bright colored with broad yellow, brown and green stripes," said McClure. "When it is completely finished, the canvas will be split and will raise and lower in sections to allow fishing from the sides and back of the boat. There will also be a mosquito net which can be placed on the sides and the back."

"You might say in one way that the United States Navy solved the only problem we had while building the boat," said Lee. "We could not think of anything other than regular pontoons to float the raft and they were unsatisfactory because their life expectancy was so short. I was talking to a friend of mine who is in the Navy and he suggested that we look into the material that the Navy floats docks with."

Lee did look into it and he was so impressed with this material that he bought enough to float his raft with, from DOW Chemical Company. The life expectancy of this "Styrofoam" is not known as yet because none of it has ever worn out. It was first used by the Navy in World War II.

The "Party Boat" has a floatation of over 4,000 pounds and weighs only 1,680 pounds. This means that it can carry up to 20 passengers.

"To me the greatest feature of this boat is that it will not sink unless too much weight is placed on it," continued Lee. "and the minute the weight is removed, the boat will again float to the surface. This is because the styrofoam is made up of millions of tiny pontoons." The boat has been taken to Buffalo Lake three times on trial runs and each time it has aroused many comments. "One man could not figure out how the boat floated. He said he knew it must have something to do with the wooden boxes under the boat but he couldn't see why it didn't sink because the boxes had holes in them," chuckled Lee.

Guest Really Made Self At Home In Motel

A non-paying guest at a local motel added injury to insult as he packed up and left early Thursday.

In packing, the manager of Elm Courts Motel told Hereford Police Department that the guest not only took his own belongings, but some motel property.

Included in the list of missing articles are a 21-inch television set, bed spreads, bath and hand towels, sheets, pillow cases, and wash rags.

The man was described as being about 30-years-old and from Wichita Falls.

"Operation Motorcade" will go into effect at 12:01 a.m. Saturday as area residents begin summer's last holiday and continue through the long Labor Day weekend, according to Sgt. Bill Wells, area Texas Highway Patrol supervisor.

Three Break-Ins Reported Here Thursday, Friday

Burglaries are again plaguing Hereford Police Department as three city firms were hit here during Thursday and Friday. Firms burglarized were Hereford Chiropractic Clinic, Park Avenue Cleaners, and E. B. Black Furniture Co.

Burglaries at the clinic and the cleaning firm were reported to have occurred during Thursday night. The furniture store was burglarized Friday night. Officers investigating the break-ins reported that the chiropractic clinic was entered through a rear door after the glass had been broken out.

A typewriter and checkwriter were reported missing from the office. The office also had been ransacked.

At the dry cleaners, glass was broken out of the rear door as the firm was entered. Some clothing and the cash register were reported missing.

The third burglary was discovered Saturday as the Main Street business firm was opened for business. Entry into the building was gained through a window at the rear of the store.

A cash drawer was removed from the cash register. A safe was also opened with $183.10 in change reported missing.

Hereford Police Department officers are investigating the break-ins.

Teenager Saved From Drowning

"The first thing I remember was when I regained consciousness and there were a lot of people standing around me—I'm glad they got me out when they did" was the comment of James Bentley, the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Bentley, after being saved from drowning in the Hereford Municipal Swimming Pool Thursday afternoon.

The incident occurred about 3:20 p.m. as Bentley, a student at Hereford High School, was in the water in the deep end of the pool. After going away from the edge of the pool, his leg became severely cramped. Being unable to swim, he could not make it back to the edge of the pool.

The lifeguard, 17-year-old Barbara Barrett, saw him doubled up in the water well below the surface. She jumped into the water and brought him up to the surface of the water, and with the help of two boys, Bentley was pulled out of the bank. His face had turned purple by the time he was rescued, Miss Barrett commented.

Bentley was given artificial respiration by James Balch, the pool manager. It took longer than usual to restore his breathing. An ambulance arrived with a resuscitator, but it was not used.

Bentley rested a short while at the pool before being taken home by Balch.

Hereford's population is growing with the latest estimate by Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce placing the population figure of the city within sight of the 10,000 mark.

Official estimates, according to Bill Thompson, chamber manager, place the population of the city at 9,470. In making the estimate, light, water, gas, and telephone connections were gathered from public utility companies and city offices.

All were added together; then averaged with the total being multiplied by average number of persons per utility connection.

The estimated population of the city shows an increase of 2000 over the 1960 census figure. According to Census Bureau figures, population of the city then was 7,652.

With the increased growth, problems are being created as developers are opening new subdivisions in the north and northwestern sections of Hereford.

According to Dudley Bayne, city manager, the city has experienced its biggest year as far as paving projects are concerned.

During the spring and summer months were let by the city for the paving of Grand Ave., Plains Ave., and Thirteenth Street by the city.

Developers have extended and added new streets in northern and western sections of the city as additional areas were brought within the city limits.

In commenting on both the growth in population and area of city, Bayne commented that water lines have been extended approximately 27,000 feet with sewer line extensions of approximately 31,300 feet.

He added that the cost of these extensions are well over budgeted figures. Cost of water extensions is $51,566.72; sewer extensions, $67,481.99.

In the budget for the fiscal year 1963-64 estimated cost of expansion was $38,000.

As the building boom has continued and the population of the city continued its unprecedented growth, public utility companies have continued to expand facilities.

With the continued building boom and continuing increase in population, public utility companies have noted a sharp increase in the number of new utility installations during the year.

One of the greatest was noted by Southwestern Public Service Co. manager Melvin Jayroe. He stated that in January, 1962, residential and commercial connections totaled 3206. By January, of this year number of connections had risen to 3373 and on July 31 were 3548.

During last month, he added, the company reported 190 new customers.

Increase in the number of meters installed by Pioneer Natural Gas Co. was reported to be 163 for the past year. The number of new installations had (Continued on page 3)

Wrecks Continue Within Hereford; Three Reported

A series of major accidents continued here as three more collisions were reported on Hereford streets. During the period which began Sunday, a total of eleven accidents has occurred within the Hereford area.

The most serious of the three accidents occurred about 3:45 p.m. Wednesday at the intersection of First and Main Streets as a 1963 model sedan driven by Mrs. J. A. Fytnan, 65, and a 1960 model convertible, driven by Robert E. Finley, 23, Blackwell, Okla., collided at the intersection.

BUILT WITH PENNIES AND NICKELS

St. Joseph's Completes School

By H. A. Tuck
Brand News Editor

More than 250 students will start classes in a new building at St. Joseph's Mission in the Hereford Labor Camp next month. Final touches are being put on the three-story building now as workmen and volunteers rush to complete the structure before Sept. 3.

St. Joseph's started a parochial school in 1950 with classes held in a converted barracks building. Other barracks have been added through the years as the school grew in size.

But the classrooms were bulging when ground was broken on Dec. 12, 1962, for a new school building. Construction actually started in February of this year.

The building is located between St. Joseph's Catholic Church and St. Joseph's Maternity Clinic on the main street of the camp southwest of Hereford. It is 135 by 37 feet and has been built at a cost of about $50,000.

"We have financed this building with pennies and nickels and dimes," Father Raymond Gillis, pastor, commented. "We have gotten since donations, but most of the money has come from the parishioners in small change and dollar bills."

The Haydick block building includes eight classrooms, library and restrooms on two floors. The full basement will be used for auditorium and cafeteria. It includes a complete kitchen and storage space.

The building has been painted white with pastel colors in the classrooms and also includes aluminum window frames.

Five classes will be taught if a teacher can be found. Registration began on Saturday, Aug. 24. Registration will continue Sunday after the 8 a.m. and 10 a.m. Masses and from 3-6 p.m. Registration will conclude on Monday, Aug. 26, from 9-12 a.m. and 3-6 p.m. As many as 300 students may enroll, Father Raymond estimated.

Almost half of the students live outside the Labor Camp and are brought to school by bus. The Parish operates 54-passenger and a 36-passenger buses.

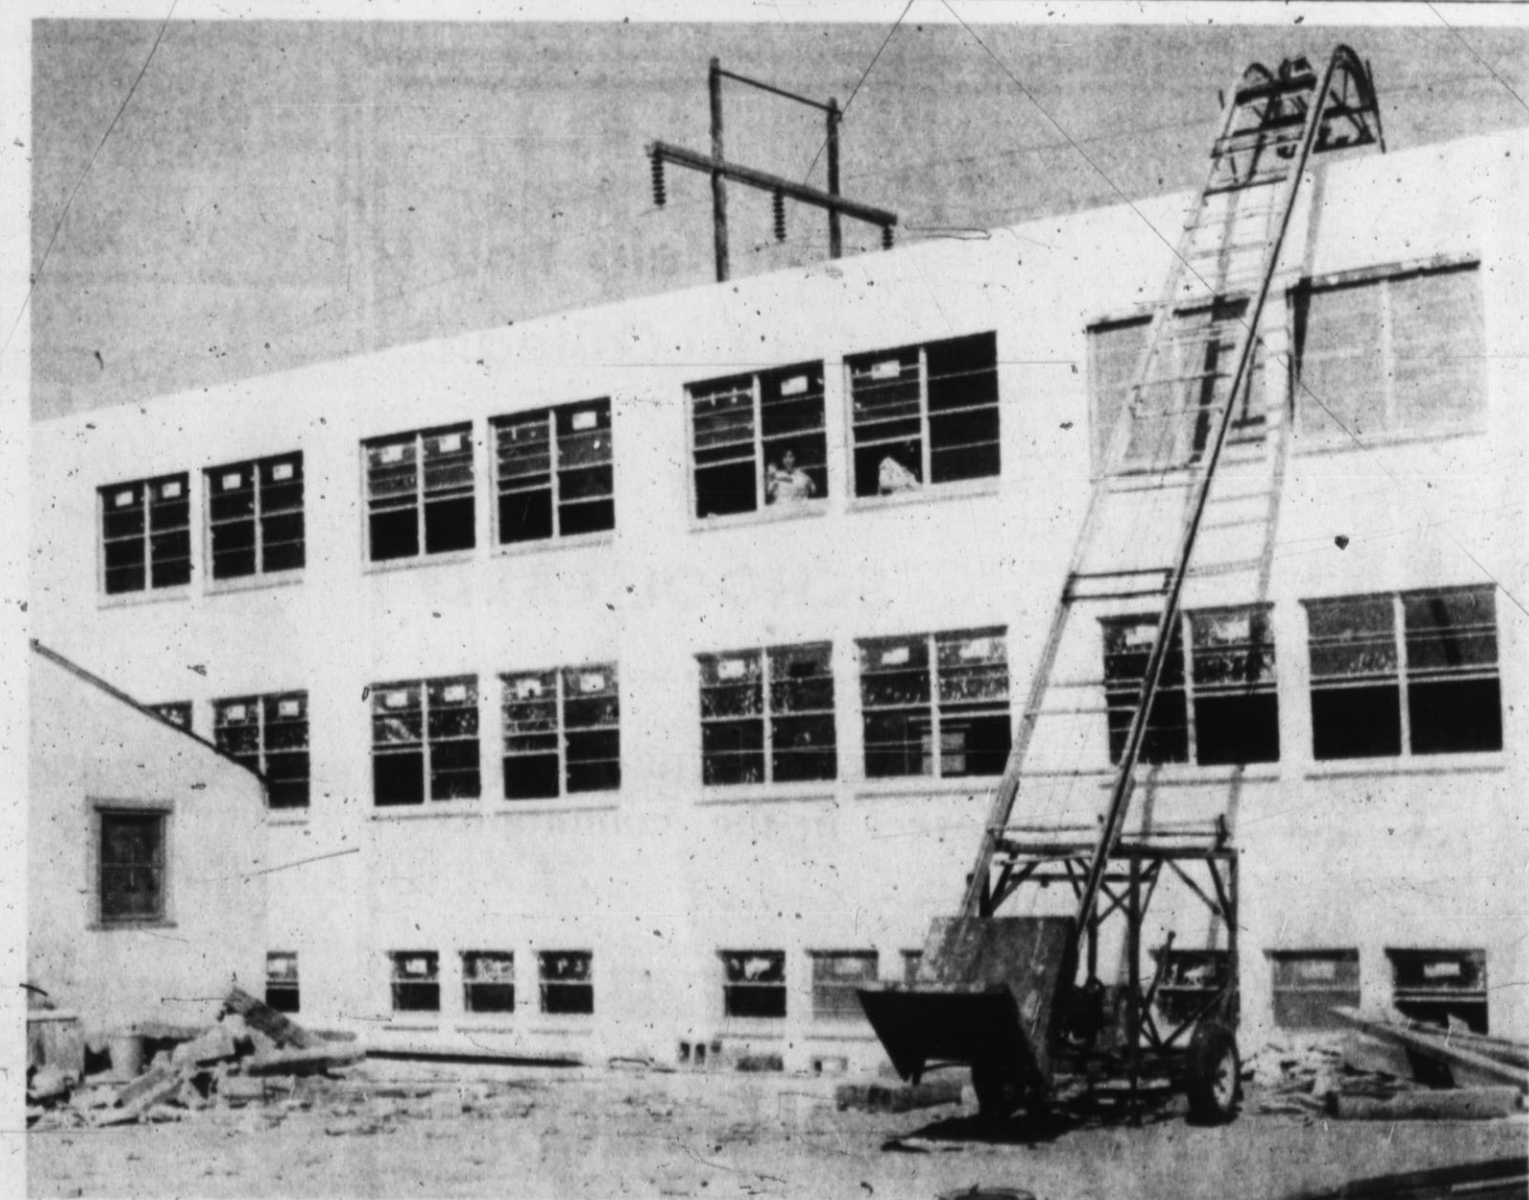

Faculty will include: Sister Arcadia, first grade, assisted by Elaine Erena Tijerina; Miss Canning, New York City, second grade; Mrs. Pauline Mouser, Hereford, third grade; Miss Joanne Weber, New York City, fourth grade; and Sister Anne Mary, fifth grade. Sister Anne Mary also serves as principal. Miss Dorothy Prinzi is head of the day apostles who will teach in the school this year.

Sister Anne Mary said that sandwiches and milk would be served for lunch each day.

Parker Brothers Construction Company is general contractor for the building. Joe Solis did the masonry work, Delino Gonzales was plumbing contractor, Charlie Galan is painting the interior and Hugh Dryer of Lubbock was the architect.

All of the teachers and many of the students are pitching in right now on the finish work. Little ones are sweeping the floors and sweeping while the older ones are moving in desks, chairs and teaching equipment, as well as cleaning windows and handling other chores.

Classes will start in the new building on Tuesday, Sept. 3. Father Gillis said that plans are for the school eventually to include eight grades.

EIGHT-ROOM SCHOOL for St. Joseph's Mission at the Hereford Labor Camp is nearing completion and will be finished when students arrive Sept. 3. The $50,000 structure includes the eight classrooms, library and combination cafeteria-auditorium in the basement and two other floors. (Staff Photo) for 2:30 p.m. On Tuesday, Aug. 27, teachers will meet in their own buildings in preparation for registration.

All students are to register on Wednesday, Aug. 28. Elementary grade students may register between 8:30 a.m. and 3:30 p.m. All high school students are to register between 8:30 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. Seventh grade students are to register at Stanton Junior High School between 8:30 a.m. and 12 noon. Eighth graders are to register at Stanton between 1:30 p.m. and 4:30 p.m.

There will be a library display for all teachers Monday and Tuesday in the high school cafeteria.

Classes will begin Thursday and continue Friday. Buses will run and cafeterias will be open both days. Students then will be dismissed until Tuesday, Sept. 3.

Stevens said that he really didn't know how many students to expect the first few days, since the area has boomed in population during the summer months. However, he said he was planning on more than 3,000 to be present. The high enrollment for the school, slightly more than 3,000, was reached last fall in November. Peak enrollment this year could be as high as 3,200 to 3,400 students.

St. Anthony's Parochial School will finish its registration this week. Classes for eight grades will begin on Tuesday, Sept. 3. St. Anthony's is expecting about 350 students, a slight increase from last year.

An additional 250 to 300 students are expected to attend classes in the new building at St. Joseph's Parochial School in the Hereford Labor Camp. Enrollment at that school last year hit a peak of about 250.

boat is loaded on the trailer. Although the boat was not built primarily for speed, it will run from 12 to 14 miles per hour with a minimum load and will cruise at 7 miles an hour with 20 people aboard. The boat is powered with a 75 horse-power motor furnished by Kinsey-Orborn Motor Company as a demonstration model. The motor is equipped with its own generator so that lights and other accessories can be run from it. It works in somewhat the same way as the battery on a car.

The two men first decided to build the boat themselves after they priced boats which were made on the same order. They decided that they could build a boat much cheaper than they could buy one.

They built the boat from the first to the last nail including the design and the trailer. This is the first time that either of the men had any experience in building boats. Lee also designed the self-loading trailer for the boat which can be loaded or unloaded by one man.

The trailer is backed into the water until the rear wheels of the pickup are at the edge of the water. The boat is then driven at an angle until it slides by itself onto the trailer. The motor then pushes it all the way up and it is then fastened to a hook on the front.

"We have had such good luck with this boat that we intend to start building them to specifications and selling them," continued Lee. "We feel that we can give the public the same boat that a commercial company can give for the same price. The difference will be that we will furnish the motor and trailer, where the other company will only give the boat."

The two men feel that most of their business will come from companies which will purchase a boat and leave it on a lake for the use of their employees.

The party boat was officially launched at Buffalo Lake on Thursday night, Aug. 22, and although there are still some minor adjustments and painting to be done the two men reported that the launching was quite a success and everyone that went was well satisfied with the performance of the boat.

ways throughout the state will be tabulated and released three times daily to the public through new media.

In addition, the Department of Public Safety will do everything possible with the limited manpower available to stop reckless and illegal driving on highways, Garrison said.

The DPS director pointed out that the long Labor Day holiday comes at a time when traffic deaths for 1963 appear to be heading for an all-time high.

He reported that more than 1,400 persons have already been killed this year for an increase of some eight per cent. He added that if the trend continues, the traffic death toll will exceed the record high of 2611 deaths set in 1956.

Garrison also noted that other organizations are also carrying out safety campaigns emphasizing safety over the long holiday.

risen from 244 in July, 1962, to 3007 at the end of July this year.

A similar increase in the number of new installations has been noted by Southwestern Bell Telephone Co.

Also pointing to increased population is the scarcity of rental property and the number of new homes and apartments being built.

A contractor reported recently that he had built a small show home in one of his developments and before the house was completed there were three prospective buyers.

Building permits have shown a sharp increase during the year and are expected to set a new all-time high record within the next week to 10 days.

The all-time high record set at the end of 1962 was $2.69 million. Permits for the year to Aug. 22, 1963, were reported at $2,567,380 by the City Clerk's office.

Building is continuing in spite of some predictions that the boom would end with developers still opening up new subdivisions.

conducting a public information program stressing the need for courtesy and caution. Texas Association of Broadcasters is co-operating with DPS efforts with a statewide "Drive Lighted and Live" program.

Appeals will be issued to motorists to drive with their headlights on dim during daylight hours to focus attention on the need for legal and safe driving.

Texas Council of Safety Supervisors and the Texas Motor Transportation Association will sponsor a fleet of 35 to 40 automobiles which will be used to assist stranded motorists over the state.

The Holiday Road Patrol will be manned with safety directors, supervisors and engineers of the trucking industry who comprise council membership. Its primary purpose is to help relieve highway patrolmen for enforcement work by aiding motorists in distress.

As the two vehicles collided, the Pitman automobile was spun around in mid-intersection. Damages to the 1963 sedan were listed at $250 with damages to the convertible reported at $550.

Finley was ticketed for the collision.

There were no injuries reported in the accident. None of the occupants of either vehicle were wearing seat belts.

Another accident occurred an hour earlier as a 1955 model sedan, driven by Juanita Segura, 26, Route 2, and a 1957 model Mack truck, driven by Eddie Lee Atkinson, 37, Lamesa, collided.

Both vehicles were headed north on 25 Mile Ave. Mrs. Segura attempted a right turn in front of the truck as the collision occurred. She was ticketed. Damages to the automobile was listed at $150 with damage to the truck at $25.

A third accident occurred Thursday at 7 a.m. as a county-owned pickup truck, driven by Virgil W. Merrill, 67, 511 West Third, and a late model sedan driven by Rowell Ryan Stewart, 42, 120 Ave. D, collided at the intersection of Lee St. and West First.

According to Hereford Police Department, Merrill was headed south on Lee and failed to stop at a sign as the two vehicles collided.

Facts—not "chin music"...

2,193 cattle furnish

"Built-in Roughage" facts!

An average of 47 actual field demonstrations show the kind of results the average feeder should expect on Purina's revolutionary "Built-in Roughage" Program with milo and cottonseed hulls, barley or ground ear corn. Cattle (both heifers and steers) in these demonstrations were fed an average of 123 days. They went into the feedlot at an average weight of 593.3 lbs. and finished at an average of 935 lbs.

Their average daily gain for the period was 2.70 lbs. A pound of beef was produced on only 7.99 lbs. of total feed. These are facts—not "chin music".

Regardless of your feeding program—remember the supplement holds the key! Others have tried to duplicate our results—but only Purina Dealers have Special Steer Fatena, designed especially for "Built-in Roughage" feeding.

Purina Special Steer Fatena is the original "Built-in Roughage" supplement. Ask for it at our store with the Checkerboard Sign.

Non-Speeders
Also May Get
Traffic Tickets

Driving too fast has often resulted in a traffic ticket, but none were issued to those who crept down highways at a snail's pace.

However, under the new speed limit laws, drivers who operate "a vehicle so slow as to impede traffic" can be ticketed.

Before enactment of the new law, it was necessary for a police officer to warn a driver slowing down traffic to either speed up or pull off the road.

If the driver did not comply with the officer's direction, a charge could then be filed.

However, under the new speed law, which raised speed limits an additional 10 mph, a driver may be charged with impeding traffic.

"Under the new statute, as we interpret it, whenever a driver is driving slower than the normal and reasonable movement of traffic and thereby impeding that traffic, he will be committing a violation for which he may be charged in court," stated Col. Homer Garrison Jr., director, Department of Public Safety. The DPS director also pointed out that official bodies having jurisdiction over highways are authorized to zone roads for minimum speeds.

Failure to comply with such speed limits will be regarded as a violation, he added.

"It will be the policy of the Texas Department of Public Safety to stop and take enforcement action against any driver observed committing clear-cut and substantial violations of these two provisions," he warned.

Her bouffant veil was attached to a tiara of rhinestones and pearls. She carried a prayer book topped with a lavender orchid and streamers of stephanotis.

Miss Lin Kastner of Sioux City was maid of honor, and Miss Julie Salem of Omaha, Neb., was bridesmaid. They wore sheath dresses of orchid nylon taffeta. Overskirts of matching fabric were adorned with inserts of Chantilly lace. They wore open pillbox crowns with circular veils and carried bouquets of gladioli.

Edward Dunn of Sioux City was best man. Tom Green of Hereford was groom's man. Guests were seated by Francis Powell and Don Earl, both of Sioux City.

Miss Berry, James Conkwright Wed In Candlelight Ceremony

Whaley Memorial Methodist Church, Gainesville, was the scene of the candlelight wedding of Miss Janice Berry and James Colby Conkwright on Aug. 17.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Glenn Berry of Rosston, and the parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Colby Clark Conkwright of Hereford.

The Rev. W. D. Craig, N. C. read the double ring ceremony before an altar containing cathedral candelabra, ferns, and greenery. On each side of the altar were spiral candelabra decorated with white chrysanthemums and greenery. Family pews were marked with white chrysanthemums tied with bows and streamers.

Mrs. Guy Rosson, organist, provided traditional wedding music and chimes. She accompanied Miss Joybelle Dyer, who sang "The Wedding Prayer" and "O Perfect Love."

A gown of candlelight peau de sole appliqued with Alencon lace was chosen by the bride. Fashioned with a decollete neckline and long petal-point sleeves, the tightly moulded bodice was fastened with tiny covered buttons and accented by a flat, shaped bow at the waistline. The bouffant skirt was enhanced with side and back pleat fullness extending to a wide chapel train.

Her bouffant face veil of tiered candlelight imported silk illusion was attached to a double satin ring. At the bottom of each tier was a tiny rolled hem. Her only jewelry was a string of pearls, a gift from the bridegroom. She carried a bouquet of three white gardenias encircled with white rosebuds and stephanotis entwined with English ivy. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

Maid of honor was Miss Phyllis Duncan of Ardmore, Okla. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Orby Brooks, Paris, and Mrs. Erwin Meier, Lubbock. They wore identical dresses of silk organza over taffeta in the bride's chosen color of azalea rose. Fashioned with scooped necklines and elbow-length sleeves, the dresses featured "V" interest in the back, cabbage roses of silk organza in the center back at the waistline, and bouffant skirts.

Their headpieces were half-circle face veils of tulle held in place by silk organza cabbage roses. They carried cascades of miniature pink variegated carnations entwined with English ivy and azalea and white satin streamers and tulle.

James Pipkin of Odessa was best man. Ushers were the bride's brother, Capt. Joe F. Berry of Olathia, Kan., Jody Bezner of Hereford, Clint Conaway of Hereford, and Erwin Meier of Lubbock. Groomsmen were Bill Colston of Floydada and Ted Perkins of Graham.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Berry wore a mauve lace sheath dress with a scoop neckline. The waistline was accented with a matching velvet string tie. Her accessories were a pillbox of matching lace, mauve shoes, white princess-length pearls, and white satin gloves of formal length.

Mrs. Conkwright wore a dress of sky blue lace over cotton satin with a straight skirt, portrait neckline, and elbow-length sleeves. She chose matching sky blue accessories and white gloves.

The arched path from the church to Fellowship Hall, scene of the reception, was lighted with hurricane lamps decorated with white bows and streamers. White tulle over satin covered the table holding the bride's book. On the table was a burning wedding candle circled at the base with smilax. Guests were registered with an azalea plume, pen by Miss Orene Brandon of Borger. While, satin caught at the corners by small bridal bouquets covered the bride's table, which was enhanced with silver appointments and the bride's bouquet. The colonaded cake in three tiers was decorated with tiny wedding bells and clusters of white roses. The miniature bride and groom atop the cake had been used on the golden wedding cake of the bride's maternal grandparents (the late Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Elkins) 24 years ago. Other decorations included spiral candelabra with long white tapers, white flowers, and greenery.

Mrs. Morris Dill furnished background music at the reception. Mrs. Dumps Knight of Ft. Worth, Miss Nancy Knight of Era, and Mrs. Dan Flint Jr. of Gainesville served. They were assisted by Miss Kay Inglish, Mrs. W. B. Inglish, Mrs. C. W. Lee, and Mrs. Norris Boyd.

Byron and Brenda Berry, nephew and niece of the bride, distributed bags of rice wrapped in the bride's chosen color from white baskets as the bride and groom prepared for their wedding trip to Hot Springs, Ark. For the trip, Mrs. Conkwright chose a two-piece cranberry red knit suit. The jacket featured a portrait neckline with a tailored flat bow in the center. She wore black kid gloves, black pearl accessories, and a cranberry hat of beaver cloth. Her corsage was the gardenias lifted from her bridal bouquet.

Among the pre-nuptial parties honoring the couple were the attendants' luncheon, given by Mrs. E. D. Knight of Ft. Worth and Miss Jo Ann Inglish of Rosston at the Petroleum Clubroom of the Turner Hotel in Gainesville, and the rehearsal dinner, given by Mr. and Mrs. Colby Conkwright at the Curtwood Inn in Gainesville.

Guests were registered from Brooklyn, N. Y. Garden Grove, Calif., Oklahoma City Okla., Ardmore, Okla., Hereford, Amarillo, Borger, Lubbock, Forestburg, Odessa, Crowell, Whitesboro Argyle, Ft. Worth, San Angelo, Dallas, Abilene, Nocona, Denton, Sildell, Floydada, Paris, Sherman, and Dorchester.

Following their wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Conkwright will be at home at 2902 Third Place, Lubbock. Mrs. Conkwright, who received her degree from Texas Technological College and has done graduate work at Texas Women's University, will teach in Jackson Elementary School, Lubbock. Her husband is a senior at Texas Tech.

West Texas Students Married In Stratford

An archway entwined with greenery, seven-branched cathedral candelabra, and tall baskets of white gladioli and chrysanthemums formed the setting for the wedding of Miss Laura Ann Caraway and Joe Don Cunnings on Aug. 18 in the Stratford Church of Christ. Minister Arthur Golden read the double ring ceremony.

Traditional selections for the afternoon wedding were sung by Ronnie and Judy Throneberry of Tulla, Mrs. Joe Godfrey, Glen Reeves of Hereford, and Linda Hammel of Amarillo. Soloists were Ronnie Throneberry, who sang "Whither Thou Goest", and the bride, who dedicated "I Love You Truly" to her groom.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Hartland Caraway of Stratford and Mr. and Mrs. Curlee Cummings of Austin. Grandmother of the bride is Mrs. W. P. Caraway, 118 Lake, Hereford.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a formal gown of silk organza fashioned with a Chantilly lace bodice, Sabrina neckline, and petal point sleeves. Wide bands of Chantilly lace decorated the bouffant skirt, which terminated in a chapel train. Her fingertip veil of illusion was attached to a tiara of seed pearls. She carried a cascade arrangement of pink sweetheart roses and stephanotis atop the lace-covered Bible carried by her mother at her wedding.

Miss Kay Caraway served her sister as maid of honor, and Mrs. Homer Walker of Lubbock was matron of honor. Miss Cynthia Kromer, Adrian, was bridesmaid, Miss Mary Frances Caraway, sister of the bride, was junior bridesmaid, and Miss Valerie Knight was flower girl.

The attendants wore dresses identical in style but different in color. Of silk organza over whisper taffeta, they were made with fitted bodices and semi-bellied skirts. They wore taffeta bow and maine headpieces and shoes dyed to match their costumes and carried colonial nose gays of chrysanthemums matching their costumes. Colors of the ensembles were lace blue, blush pink, aquatone hyacinth, and melody yellow.

James McNabb, Lubbock, was best man. Groomsmen were H. P. Clifton Jr., Lubbock, and Bill Tiley, Happy. Serving as ushers were Roy Miers, Dumas, and the bride's cousin, Bob Caraway, Hereford. A nephew of the groom, Laurence Glasgow of Hobbs, N. M., was ring-bearer.

At the reception in Fellowship Hall the bride's table was covered with a bouffant net cloth over white taffeta. An arrangement of white gladioli and chrysanthemums in a crystal bowl centered the table. Miss Dorothy Moore of Memphis served the punch and Mrs. Jerry Franklin served the bride's cake. The groom's table was covered with a crocheted cloth made by the bride's grandmother, Mrs. W. P. Caraway. Attendants' nosegays served as the centerpiece. Miss Virginia Leake and Mrs. Ed Leake, Canyon, presided at the silver coffee service, and the groom's sister, Mrs. Larry Glasgow of Hobbs, N. M., served the cake. Guests were registered by Miss Linda Riffe of Stratford. Assisting with the reception were Misses Kathy Sneed, Wynette Morris, Meloyde K. Caraway, Sharilyn Wisdom, and Alice Ann Caraway of Hereford.

Mrs. Cummings wore a beige suit with brown accessories and a rose corsage lifted from her bouquet as the couple left on a wedding trip through south and east Texas. After Aug. 27 they will be at home in the Coleman Apartments in Canyon. Both are students at West Texas State University. The bride is a graduate of Stratford High School and Lubbock Christian College and is a senior elementary education major at West Texas. Her husband is a graduate of Monterey High School, Lubbock, and Lubbock Christian College and is a senior marketing major at West Texas. His fraternity is Sigma Nu.

Guests at the wedding from Hereford were the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Caraway, Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie B. Caraway, Bob, Alice, Ann, and Bill, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Axe, Miss Louise Axe, and Glen Reeves.

Buck-Marshall Vows Are Read At St. Anthony's

Miss Dee Buck became the bride of Charles L. Marshall Jr. in a late afternoon ceremony in Saint Anthony's Catholic Church on Saturday, Aug. 24. Father Cletus McGorrey officiated at the double ring service.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Maynard R. Buck, 116 Ranger Drive, Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Marshall Sr. of Prairie Village, Kan., are the parents of the bridegroom.

Altar vases were filled with white stock and white chrysanthemums. White and gold Florentine columns and urns filled with stock and chrysanthemums were placed beside the main altar. The center aisle of the church was decorated with white candelabra, a white satin bow, flowers, and greenery.

Traditional Rossini marches were played by Mrs. Kenneth Diller, organist. Accompanied by Mrs. Diller, Brent Flenniken sang "Ave Maria" and "Mother at Thy Feet."

Her father gave the bride in marriage. She wore a floor-length satin gown with a chapel train. Accented with bugle beads, the basque bodice was fashioned with a portrait neckline and long, tapered sleeves. It was bustled at back with a large self bow. Her bouffant veil was attached to a satin rose. Her bouquet was a cascade of stephanotis and Phalaenopsis orchids.

Bridal attendants were Miss Janet Foster of Kansas City, Kan., Mrs. Don Davis of Oklahoma City, Okla., Miss Ann Smith of Hereford, and Miss Pat Kelly of Hyattsville, Md.

Of royal blue satin, their short dresses featured floor-length overskirts enhanced with self bows. The bodices were designed with fitted cummerbunds, scooped necklines, and elbow sleeves. They wore bouffant veils attached to royal blue satin roses and carried cascading bouquets of white French roses accented with miniature English ivy.

Miss Jeanie Matzold, the flower girl, wore a floor-length dress of royal blue satin with short sleeves, high rounded neckline, and a bow in back similar to the bustle effect of the bride's gown. Her headpiece matched those of the attendants.

Best man was John Ward of Kansas City, Kan. Ushers and groomsmen were John Buck, brother of the bride, Steve Chambers of Kansas City, and Les Colburn of Checotah, Okla.

The bride's mother wore a dress of beige satin-back peau. The straight sheath was topped with a full-length cutaway coat lined with contrasting coffee-colored. The bracelet-length sleeves were bell-shaped. Her beige hat was trimmed with feathers of café au lait color. Her accessories were of the same color. The groom's mother chose a cranberry sheath dress of hand-run Alencon lace over soft rose tulle and matching accessories. Each wore a corsage of white French roses.

A reception at the Hereford Country Club followed the ceremony. Guests were registered by Miss Judy Fowlkes. Florentine columns and urns filled with white stock and chrysanthemums accented the reception room.

Centering the bride's table was a large arrangement of white stock and white carnations in a cupid epergne. The colonaded wedding cake in four tiers was decorated with light blue roses and topped with a miniature bride and groom. Those assisting at the bride's table were Miss Gwen Burke, Miss Dianne Embry, and Mrs. Les Colburn, all of Oklahoma City, Okla.

When the couple left for their wedding trip to Colorado, Mrs. Marshall wore a gray suit of light wool and matching accessories. After their return, they will live in Stillwater, Okla., where he is a senior at Oklahoma State University. His major is hotel and restaurant administration. The bride was graduated last May from Oklahoma State University with a degree in secondary education.

Thomas Coffman, Bride Honeymoon In Colorado

In a double ring ceremony read by Dr. L. L. Morris in the First Baptist Church, Midland, Miss Barbara Elaine Gunter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William S. Gunter of Midland, became the bride of Thomas Dale Coffman, son of Mrs. Charles Walter Coffman and the late Mr. Coffman of Hereford, on Friday, Aug. 23.

The formal candlelight ceremony was performed against a background of a central seven-branched candelabra decorated with a sunburst of white gladioli. At each side were seven-branched candelabra with sunburst arrangements of comador ferns. The family pews were marked with bows of white satin ribbon.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a formal gown of candlelight silk-faced satin molded in princess silhouette. Designed with high rise waist, the fitted bodice was defined by inserted bands. The portrait neckline was outlined with hand run re-embroidered Alencon lace. Small satin-covered buttons fastened the back to below waist fullness which swept into a chapel train. Bands of Alencon lace also decorated the elbow-length sleeves.

She wore a fingertip veil of imported illusion attached to a tiara of seed pearls. Her only jewelry was a gold locket which has been traditional in her mother's family for five generations. She carried a colonial bouquet of white gladioli and delphinium, with love knots of lilies of the valley tied into a ribbon. Bridesmaids were Miss Sammy Read of Amarillo, Miss Brenda Morris of De Ridder, La., and Miss Kay Coffman of Hereford. Matron of honor was Mrs. Michael R. Southern of Midland. Miss Suzanne Gunter of Midland was maid of honor.

The attendants wore dresses of royal blue delustered satin styled with portrait necklines and elbow-length sleeves to complement the bride's gown. The street-length dresses were accented at the waist by small bows, and soft inverted pleats gave fullness to the skirts. They wore ring hats of blue satin with small black bows and nose-tip veils of illusion. Their bouquets were of white gladioli.

A reception in the banquet room of the church followed the ceremony. The bride's table was centered with a white arrangement of miniature carnations, spider chrysanthemums, and pompom chrysanthemums around a silver candelabra. Silver and crystal appointments were used. Guests were registered at a table centered with a small cupid compote holding an arrangement of white roses.

Serving in the house party were Mr. and Mrs. DeLo Douglas, Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Dooley, Mr. and Mrs. Ken Johnson, Miss Jane Hatchell, Miss Donna Mogle, Miss Carole Douglas, and Miss Marilyn Conger.

For the wedding trip to Colorado, Mrs. Coffman wore a two-piece blue and white knit suit with white patent accessories, white kid gloves, and a blue straw hat. Her only jewelry was a strand of pearls given her by the bridegroom. Her corsage was double orchids.

Mrs. Coffman is a 1960 graduate of Midland High School and has been a student in elementary education at Hardin-Simmons University. She is a member of Kappa Pi, Kappa Epsilon Mu, and Chi Omega. She was freshman class beauty. Her husband is a 1961 graduate of Hereford High School and has been attending Hardin-Simmons, where he was a member of the Student Senate and sophomore class officer. Both will enroll at Texas Technological College this fall. She will be a senior.

Recall Schools' Purpose When Budget Is Finished

Schools are for education. That one simple fact seems to be foremost in the minds of our school officials and trustees right now. As they finally determined it, the 1963-64 budget continues the trend to spend more money for actual educational purposes and not quite so much for administration.

We feel that it is a proper move. Of course, schools must have administration personnel and facilities. But not for one moment can we lose sight of the goal of good education for our young people.

Of the approximate $100,000 increase in the budget for the coming year, almost 90 per cent of it can be attributed to additional teachers, salary increments for faculty members and more money allocated for teaching supplies and materials.

Only a tiny portion of the increase is found in the cost of administering and maintaining facilities. And even in this year, the largest increases are because of increased costs of larger physical facilities, such as the addition of Northwest School and the high school.

And this careful management has borne other fruit. Earlier in the summer, the trustees announced a two-cent reduction in school taxes for the year. This isn't much, of course, but it is much preferred to an increase or even to maintaining the same rate for another year.

Naturally, close examination might find some areas where too much has been spent on one certain aspect of school functions or where the strictest economy isn't practiced, but these cases are small. Trustees examine and usually question all routine expenditures for the past month as they look at the bills. They carefully weigh all sides on major purchases and expenditures before making a decision.

In any operation with a budget of $1 million-plus, there are bound to be some instances of waste or carelessness, but we would vastly prefer that it be in the area of teachers' salaries, teaching supplies and other aid to first-class education. And we aren't ready to scream yet about the high salaries the teachers are drawing.

All things considered, we think the school is being well-managed and carefully watched with two goals in mind: first, a first-class education for our children; second, best use of our school-tax investments.

Negro Problem Invades Church

The integration question has reached deep into the various phases of American life, especially in the South, where we note that numerous pastors have been physically attacked or moved under the intense pressure because of their stand on the question.

Most of the preachers appear to believe that Christian salvation should not be determined on a basis of color, whereas numerous congregations are complaining when integration comes into their own churches. All in all, it is a pretty fair sized question, especially in a community predominated by Negro populations.

Without a doubt, the pastors under fire are correct in their assumption, based on Bible interpretation, according to the way most of us see things. These very same churches, in fact, often maintain and contribute to missionary programs which operate in Africa and other Negro populated countries. Consequently, we cannot feel that any sincere church member would deny salvation to our Negro population. Instead, it seems to us that they have created and financed their own churches -- and they resent interference from other circles.

Whether this attitude is one of true Christianity or not, provides a question which each individual will no doubt have to answer for himself and, consequently, one which each congregation will in turn be called upon to answer. It is a question which may soon invade the Panhandle, and individual churches in our own community, though we know of no immediate problems along the line.

All in all, this new problem can become far greater than that in universities and public schools, since churches are not state controlled but -- at the same time -- afford the intangible interpretation of scriptures, and are bound to emerge with as many or more answers as the nation now provides different dominations resulting from varied interpretations of the Bible.

New Speed Limit Faces Road Test

We have been operating on Texas' new speed regulations for the past 36 hours and, particularly in this part of the country, we doubt if many people have noticed much difference.

In the first place, more people in the wide-open Plains country probably drove at a 70-mile-per-hour clip than at the old legal rate of 60 miles. This was due in large measure to the fact that visibility and driving conditions on good roads permitted and indicated such a rate. Some people even voiced suspicions that patrolmen might accept a 10 per cent coverage on the 60-mile regulation without qualms. To say the least, it is safe to accept the fact that the new speed limits will make less difference on the High Plains than perhaps anywhere else in the state.

There is also the school which predicts that the new 70-mile regulation will actually slow down many West Texas drivers. The idea is based upon the theory that a man who broke the 60-mile limit knew he would get a ticket if apprehended so, once out of compliance, he went ahead and drove 80, 85 and 90 miles per hour. These people predict that many violators in the past may well slow down and live within the new limits, chiefly because they will consider the 70-mile speed practical and sensible.

Recently Brad Smith, former Highway Safety chief under Gov. Daniel, predicted the exact opposite; however, Smith says that accidents and death tolls -- once the increased rate is established -- will soar to highs greater than any of us can anticipate. He talked of increases as high as 20 and 25 per cent, and said that his projections can be supported by figures in areas such as the Ft. Worth - Dallas toll road.

All of this indicates that Texas' new traffic regulations may well be short-lived. Since the highway safety department for the first time will have power to establish speed rates in towns and other restricted areas, it is entirely possible that they may see fit to vary speed regulations in ratio with accidents on specific roads and in specific areas. All of us will agree that some highways may provide safer driving conditions as 70 m.p.h. than others afford at 50 m.p.h. due to traffic, topography, and other circumstances. This pretty well has been the pattern in New Mexico, Oregon, Washington and several other states with a 70-mile limit, and it is only logical that a similar condition will sooner or later result in Texas.

No one, including a old boy who consistently drives 100-miles-an-hour, wants wholesale slaughter on Texas highways. If future developments honestly require that we drop our speed limits to 50 m.p.h. instead of 70 m.p.h., most of us will be happy to comply, and will cooperate more fully than ever before.

Most people in this particular territory seem to want and appreciate the opportunity to try the new 70-mile speed limit. If we stay within those limits, it is logical that they will continue throughout the Plains country. Basically, we are fortunate in having excellent driving conditions and, for us at least, the new schedules may well become both popular and practical.

Management Bureau Outlines Land Laws

With the upsurge of directorates advertising the location of so-called "free land", the National Better Business Bureau has published further details on public lands from the Bureau of Land Management, Department of Interior, according to Bill Thompson, manager, Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce.

Information supplied was published in a service bulletin of NBBB to member Chambers of Commerce.

According to acting director of the land management bureau,

H. R. Hochmuth: "There are basically three ways in which an individual may legally acquire land from the Federal Government. Each of the three lends itself to a variety of ways of profiteering."

According to the bulletin, Hochmuth pointed out that a citizen may buy or lease a small tract of public land for a home, business, or recreation sites; meet cultivation and residence requirements of Homestead and Desert Land Acts, or meet discovery and development requirements of Mining Laws.

"There are a few other ways of acquiring public lands," he noted, "but they are less applicable to most individuals, and are not so fraught with potential loopholes and shady dealings."

The government has managed to fill a few of the loopholes in the law by the new regulations and requirements. However, other means do require new legislation.

"As with many things," the acting director commented, "one of the most powerful tools we can use is public education."

For instance, he continued, many people do not understand the application procedure, and thus turn to filing services, or "land locators". Some perform very useful functions, but others are unscrupulous and profit from their clients' ignorance of land laws.

He pointed out that before the bureau can dispose of any land under either the Small Tract Act, Homestead or Desert Land Acts, the land must first be classified as most suitable for that purpose. This, however, does not apply in Alaska.

"Only after the land is so classified can an individual's application be considered," Hochmuth commented.

Land locating services do not have "inside" information and are not necessary to a citizen dealing with the government. Many of the so-called "services" charge an exorbitant amount for locating a tract of public land and completing the application for an individual, states, the bulletin.

A contract is concluded and a fee collected. The individual is left with the impression he will receive a patent to the land. But actually, the NBBB bulletin and the acting director warned, "the land may not be classified as suitable for his desired use and the Bureau will not consider the application."

"So far as small tracts are concerned, we have recently gone a long way toward solving this problem," stated Hochmuth. "Under new regulations, the Bureau is not accepting applications until the land is already classified for small tracts. In fact, almost all small tracts are sold by competitive bidding, so no application is necessary."

He added, that the "pre-classification" system has not, however, been extended to include Homestead and other land acts since the Secretary of Interior does not have specific discretionary authority.

JUDGE'S RAISE TURNED DOWN

Randall County Commissioners Monday turned a cold shoulder toward an effort to secure a $3500 raise for Judge Gene Jordan, presiding judge of 47th District Court. Canyon Bar Association petitioned the court to go 25 per cent on the proposed raise with Potter County to put up the other 75 per cent. The Bar Association's plea came in the form of a copy of a resolution passed by the association membership and signed by the association secretary, Elton Cox.

SPRAY PLANE SHOOTING CHARGE FILED

A case involving the shooting of a crop dusting plane not far from an Olton residential area last Friday afternoon will be taken before Lamb County Grand Jury at its next session, District Attorney Jack Young told the Enterprise on Wednesday. Defendant in the incident is Olton farmer Frank "Curly" Daugherty, about 55, who has been charged with assault with intent to murder. Daugherty waived examining trial and a free on $5000 bond. District Attorney Young began a full scale investigation of the shooting Monday, questioning six persons in an attempt to shed more light on the incident. He planned further investigation this week, seeking to talk with another witness or two. A bullet ripped through the wing of a light spray plane of pilot Harold Harbour, 29, of Amarillo, banked at low altitude in spraying a cucumber field. The complaint against Daugherty was signed by Harbour.

MIDGE SITUATION TERMED "DANGEROUS"

County Agent Deryl Coker this week sounded a warning to grain farmers as to the presence of sorghum midge in Farmer County. "Sorghum midge populations have built up at a tremendous rate during the past 10 days and we have reached the point in most locations in the county where it could be dangerous or costly not to spray grain sorghum that blooms from now on," Coker stated. "Heavy midge populations have been found south of Farwell, and in the Friona-Black area, in some fields. Also midge has been found in the Oklahoma Lane community," he said.

WATER DISTRICT MEMBERSHIP ENDORSED

For its own good, Swisher County should be a member of the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District. This is the opinion of many county farmers and businessmen. The number of wells drilled within the present district during 1962 increased over the number drilled during 1961. This has been the trend. All competent authority is aware of the lowering of the water level and the necessity for conserving underground water.

LOVELADY'S LICENSE SUSPENDED

Karl L. Lovelady, former county attorney here, has been barred from the practice of law for three months in a judgment filed in district court minutes here Tuesday by the Grievance Committee of the State Bar of Texas for District 19. The suspension starts Aug. 15 and will end Nov. 15. The committee found "that the defendant is guilty of professional misconduct as an attorney at law," citing three instances in particular in its four page judgment. Lovelady resigned as county attorney after being indicted by a district court grand jury last year on four counts. He was tried in February on a charge of theft, but the trial ended in a mistrial when a jury failed to agree. Since then he has been engaged in private law practice.

THE MULESHOE JOURNAL

THE BOOTLEG —Philosopher

Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher on his bindweed farm discovers a new idea on increasing farm income, his letter this week indicates.

Dear Editor:

With so many other grave problems facing the thinkers of the nation the farm problem has generally been ignored lately and it was therefore a pleasure to find an article in a newspaper last night getting back to the subject.

According to it, one way for a farmer to increase his dwindling income is to sell farm vacations to over-worked, wound-up people. Instead of going to the beach or the mountains, a city family relaxes on a farm.

The way it works is, a wound-up city man comes out and spends a week or two in your home, away from the noise of the metropolis, where he can get close to nature, study your folkways, view the scenery, enjoy a simple life, help with the fascinating chores, watch the sun go down, eat three solid meals a day, walk through the countryside, sleep soundly, and awake to the sweet lowing of cows, which generally takes place around daybreak.

Then he pays you for all this, and you take the money and light out on a vacation of your own.

Now I don't know whether all this will work or not, but I can testify that I have tried it on a limited basis and my advice to any farmer planning on making money off of city visitors is to watch his prospective clientele pretty close.

I mean, the first thing you want to do is steer clear of relatives and in-laws. You can lose lots of business with them, but the financial gains are awfully meager. It's sort of like the foreign aid business, all you get is goodwill and that stops when the aid does.

If there are any city people who want to vacation on on this bindweed farm, I want it understood it's cash in advance. I wouldn't be interested in a swap where I'd have to spend a week in the city. I don't need to unwind. I never have wound up.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Lewis Will Live In Louisville Kentucky

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Lewis will live in Louisville, Ky., after Aug. 25. Mrs. Lewis, the former Miss Linda Hair, will teach in the Louisville Public Schools, and her husband will attend Southern Baptist Theological Seminary.

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Hair, 209 Star, are the parents of the bride. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Lewis of Houston.

The couple pledged marriage vows on Thursday, Aug. 22, at 7:30 p.m. in the First Baptist Church. The Rev. B. L. Davis, pastor, read the double ring ceremony.

A central large sunburst of greenery was joined with wedding rope to two 15-branch spiral candelabra, which held large sunbursts of greenery and flowers.

Traditional wedding music was played by Miss Joy Wiman, organist. Songs by Miss Donna Rogers were "Whither Thou Goest," "O Love That Will Not Let Me Go," and "The wedding Prayer."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a formal gown of peau de soie with a scooped neckline and long pointed sleeves. Clusters of pearls enhanced the fitted bodice. The pleated skirt extended into a chapel train.

A crown tiara of seed pearls held her bouffant veil of illusion.

She carried a cascade of white French carnations and a white Cattleya orchid. Her jewelry was a diamond and pearl drop, a gift from the bridegroom.

Miss Joyce Reeve of Dallas was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Christy Hair, sister of the bride, Miss Gail Webb, and Miss Barbara Ledwell of Lubbock. They wore dresses of orchid taffeta with bell skirts and fitted bodices, with fabric roses down the sides. They wore matching pillbox hats with veils or orchid tulle. Each wore a single strand of pearls, a gift from the bride, and short white gloves and carried a cascading bouquet of orchid and white French carnations.

Flower girl was Miss Jeanne Hair, sister of the bride. She wore an orchid taffeta dress with a fabric rose at the center waist and a similar fabric rose and orchid tulle headpiece.

Best man was Bill Legg, Ushers and groomsmen were brothers of the bride, Larry Hair and Don Hair, brother of the groom, Joe Lewis of Houston, and Douglas Walraven of Houston.

Mrs. Hair wore for her daughter's wedding dress of Capri blue voile and white accessories. The groom's mother chose a dress of pink silk linen and lace and accessories in pink and white. Each wore a purple Cattleya orchid.

Following the ceremony there was a reception in the church's reception hall. The refreshment table was covered with white satin and net and contained the bouquets of the bride and her attendants. A miniature bride and groom topped the three-tiered wedding cake. The cake was cut by Miss Avie Justice and the orchid punch was served by Miss Nona Strange of Amarillo. They were assisted by Mesdames Joe Story, A. N. McRight, Cecil Boyer, Fritz Christman, Delbert Kinsey, and J. B. Snead.

Among the out of town guests registered by Miss Sara Gillentine and Miss Joan Rogers were Mr. and Mrs. Winston Bley and family, Olton; Mrs. Grace Lloyd, Dimmitt; Mr. and Mrs. Olen Hair, Levelland; Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Lloyd and family, Borger; Mr. and Mrs. Bailey Hair, deeds, which are worthless unless there is discovery of valuable minerals and certain development work is done, commented Hochmuth.

"Unfortunately there is no way for this Bureau to police mining claims because they are recorded with the county, not with the Bureau," he said.

"We have asked for legislation, which would provide for the recordation of claims with the bureau. But even that would not solve all the problems because the law is so badly outdated in many other ways."

For instance, he pointed out, a person can hold a mining claim indefinitely without ever applying for patent to the land and there is little the Bureau can do to dislodge the person.

"All of these abuses of existing laws indicate tremendous pressure on land and need for new laws," the acting director concluded. "The Bureau has asked for legislation which would permit sale of land for commercial and industrial use, and the possibility of new agricultural land laws is also being considered."

Olton; Mr. and Mrs. Ray Lewis and Joe, Houston, and Mrs. George Reeve, Dallas.

For the trip to Louisville the bride chose a two-piece suit of sheer pink wool with a pastel mink collar, brown alligator accessories, and a pastel mink hat.

Mrs. Lewis was graduated from Hereford High School and received her degree in elementary education from Hardin-Simmons University. She was listed in Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities, was treasurer of Delta Social Club, Hunter Hall vice-president of Alpha Chi, and secretary of the House of Representatives, and was a member of Pi Kappa Delta, a national forensic fraternity.

Her husband was graduated from Jefferson Davis High School in Houston and received his Bachelor of Arts Degree from Hardin-Simmons University. He too was listed in Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities. He was a member of Pi Kappa Delta, president of Sigma Delta, Sigma Social Club, senior senator on the Student Senate, and a distinguished military graduate. A luncheon was given for the bridal party at Raney's Restaurant on Thursday by Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Lewis.

Laws...

In pointing out that public education campaigns by the Bureau are necessary, the acting director stated that regulations have been adopted to clarify the difference between petition for classification and application for entry.

A clearer understanding on the part of the public of the two stages might help to make the public more careful in contracting locating services, he added.

"Under the Small Tract Act a citizen may lease or buy at far market value up to five acres of land for a homestead, business or recreation site," he continued. "An individual may buy only one such tract."

Prices of these usually runs between $800 to $1500 and sometimes more. Even though the price could conceivably be $5 an acre, such a tract would be rare. Most are located near growing urban areas where land values are high, and in no circumstances would it be free or priced less than appraised value.

"Homesteading is probably the means of acquiring land from the government that has given rise to the 'free land' myth," commented Hochmuth.

"It is true that the land costs nothing except the filing fee, but there are many requirements to be met, including residence on land and cultivation. It often costs between $25,000 and $50,000 to develop a paying farm from virgin land."

He added that almost no land remains in the public domain which is suitable for farming under Homestead laws.

Mining laws are the third way 'free land' may be obtained, but not if used legally. The only legal use of such a claim is for development of a valuable mineral.

"Unfortunately, the possibilities for illegal use of mining claims are almost endless," said the acting director. "People use them for service stations, roadhouses, vacation cabins, and many other things."

Land is often claimed illegally under this law for subsequent subdivisions. Many western "rancheros" have a mining claim as their basis. They are divided and sold to unsuspecting persons on 'quit-claim'

Interested Men Asked To Meet At Patrol Office

Texas Highway Patrol area supervisor, Sgt. Bill Wells, invited men in the Hereford area who feel they are "just a little better than the average" to meet him at Deaf Smith County Sheriff's Office in Hereford between 8 p.m. and 10 p.m. on Monday, Aug. 26, to try out for a job in the Patrol Service of the Texas Department of Public Safety.

"There are good jobs open for young men between 21 and 35 who can qualify," said Sgt. Wells, "and while we want men who are much better than average to fill them, we will go along with those who are just a little bit better."

These are career positions which offer much in the way of security in benefits, but they are gained only after a period of 16 weeks of rugged training at one of the outstanding police academies in the nation, he said.

Upon completion of this training men will be assigned wherever possible within 100 miles of their home town at a basic salary of $453 per month, the sergeant added.

"In other words, these positions are for men who are willing to accept a challenge at any time, now or in the future. The job of protecting the lives and property of the people of Texas is not always easy. Sgt. Wells said men who can meet these basic requirements are welcome to meet him on Monday.

Application requirements include: Texas citizen for at least one year; 21 to 35 years of age; 5' 8" or more in height; Not less than 2 pounds or more than 3 pounds per inch of height; 20-30 vision without glasses; High School education or the equivalent.

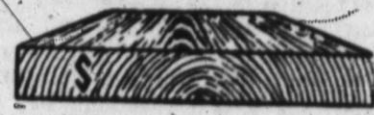

FROM LAMESA

While Leon Coburn was at Fort Walters, Tex., for two weeks' training, Mrs. Coburn and daughter, Lisa, of Lamesa visited with Mrs. Coburn's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Paul.

Hereford Garden Club Has Flower Arranging Workshop

Meeting at the Community Center from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. on Aug. 16, members of the Hereford Garden Club participated in a flower arranging workshop, business meeting, and a ceremony of installation.

Mrs. Q. G. Hill Sr., chairman of the yearbook committee, presented plans for the year. The subject for study will be "What Hath the Soil Wrought?" Horticulture study will be the larkspur. The basis for artistic study will be Depth in Flower Arranging, by Cyphers.

Projects listed for the year are the sale of subscriptions to "Horticulture," the sale of stationery representing Texas Garden Club Headquarters and gift wrap materials for the benefit of the blind, the promotion of litterbug campaigns, the sale of the National Council calendars, and the continued landscaping of Northwest Elementary and the Memorial Peace Rose Garden.

The president, Mrs. R. L. Wilson, gave her annual report, which showed that the 25th anniversary year had been successful. Among the accomplishments were the addition of five new members, the winning of four state awards, the organization of Junior Garden Club, the addition of two nationally accredited life judges, and the completion of courses by two student judges. Also listed among the major things done by club members during the past year were the beautification of areas around King's Manor and the establishment of a planter box there.

Using the peace rose as her motif, Mrs. Wilson then conducted the impressive installation service. Officers installed were Mrs. S. S. Williams, president; Mrs. O. G. Hill Sr., first vice-president; Mrs. John N. Jacobsen Jr., second vice-president; Mrs. G. W. Newsom, third vice-president; Mrs. Colby Conkright, secretary; Mrs. M. T. Rutter, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Roy Calvert, treasurer; Mrs. A. L. Manjeot, reporter; Mrs. R. L. Wilson, parliamentarian, and Mrs. Emmet Hale, federation council member.

The program, "Flower Arranging Reflects Study," was led by Mrs. Manjeot, whose topic was "Let's Practice What We Have Learned." She quoted Mrs. Rutt, the author of The Art of Foliage and Flower Arrangement: "The arranging of flowers and foliage has come to be one of the most widely practiced of the visual arts. Because there are established principles and elements to understand, those who do flower arranging need to study. The arranger should know the fundamentals of design; principles and elements of the art are important."

The preparation of materials was discussed by Mrs. R. W. Mitchell. All materials used, she stated, should be carefully selected, groomed, and hardened, since the keeping quality of materials used is largely determined by the preparation. Many methods of such preparation were suggested and discussed.

Containers were discussed by Mr. J. V. Pickens, who said, "The beauty of a flower arrangement depends no small part on the container." It sets the design of the arrangement, she continued, and each arranger should carefully select her container. A good collection should have at least six basic containers. Before purchasing containers, she concluded, each person should consider texture, color, form and useability.

The most important tools of flower arranging, said Mrs. S. S. Williams, whose topic was "The Mechanics of Flower Arranging," are the container and the stem holder. Every arranger, she continued, should have a kit of the necessary equipment and learn to use it properly and expertly.

Mrs. M. T. Rutter conducted a three-hour arrangement demonstration, using Mrs. Rutt's book as the basis of her demonstration. After making six arrangements of fresh-cut materials, she concluded the session with the statement that "whether using garden flowers, fruits, vegetables, foliage, or dried materials, one should employ always the principles and elements of good design."

Hostesses for the luncheon at 12:30 were Mesdames W. C. Hromas, Roy Calvert, Dennis Williams, Jeff Gilbreath, and C. D. Kelton. Luncheon tables featured cut hibiscus. During the luncheon period members who had grown tuberous begonias showed and discussed specimens. The horticulture topic for the anniversary year was tuberous begonias.
