Unemployment Increases

WASHINGTON (AP) - The nation's unemployment rate rose from 7.8 per cent to 7.9 per cent in October, the government reported today, providing fresh evidence that the economic slowdown is continuing.

The unemployment rate is one of the economic indicators President-elect Jimmy Carter is watching as he considers whether to propose a tax cut after taking office in January.

He told a news conference Thursday night that a tax cut for average wage earners "could be a strong possibility if there is no change in the rate of growth of the economy and if economic indicators should show a negative aspect."

Tax Cut Possible

WASHINGTON (AP) - President-elect Jimmy Carter says there is a strong possibility he will seek a tax cut for average wage earners as one way of stimulating the economy if it does not pickup by Jan. 20, when Carter will take the oath of office.

Such a tax cut, Carter said Thursday night, "could be a strong possibility if there is no change in the rate of growth of the economy and if economic indicators should show a negative aspect."

One of those economic indicators, the October unemployment rate, is due out

Annual Total Still Record

Building Permits Remain Low In October

By BOBBY TEMPLETON Brand News Editor

Hereford's economy shining light has not been as bright in the past few months according to one local indicator. City building permits skyrocketed during the first five months, but the past three months have recorded relatively low figures despite the good building weather.

However, the total in October of $339,350 was a little improvement over the lower August and September figures. A total of 23 permits were issued for new or additional construction consisting mostly of residential housing.

WITH THE OCTOBER total figured in, the total of 1976 amounts to $6,977,250. This still reflects a yearly record no matter what happens in the remaining two months. The previous annual total was in 1965 when the building of Sugarland Mall caused permits to shoot slightly over the $5 million mark.

A good portion of the construction this year resulted from commercial structures such as the new surgical wing on the hospital, the Hereford Grain Corporation elevator, the Hereford State Bank Building, and several other small structures.

A number of establishments catering to retail customers have been permitted such as the new McDonald's restaurant, soon to be open, and a new convenience 7-11 store on the corner of 25-Mile Avenue and Park Avenue.

THIS YEAR, THE HIGHEST total was reached in April when $1,295,340 in permits were issued. Other significantly igh figures were recorded as follows: February- $1,135,850; March- $958,200; and May- $1,145,500.

Other months totals are: January-$790,230; June-$313,600; July-$462,300; August: $282,080; and September-

At this time last year the total was $3,309,646. Obviously, this year has seen a much improved economy. The total for last year was $4,481,971.

If the 1976 total is to reflect the same trend as in 1975, the final two months will have to total over $1 million together. This of course would result in a yearly total far above expectations.

As is usual, the largest portion of the October permits resulted from new single-family residential dwellings. The most valued of these was a house being built by I.H. Willoughby for $55,000. Other houses are as follows: Gid Brownd- $47,600; James Clarke Construction Co. -$43,000; and Richard Burch-$30,000.

All houses combined for a total of $175,600.

THE LARGEST COMMERCIAL building is being erected by WAC Seed for a value of $60,000.

So far in November, the residential construction is off to a good start with a house being erected by Raymond Aguilar for a value of $50,000. Permits as of this week total $74,000 for the month.

Other permits issue in October are: -- $160- Roy Boyd, storage facility.

-- $100- Domingo Rena, utility room on -- $10,000- C.E. Leasure, addition to shop.

--$20,000- Dodie Ent Inc., mini storage

-- $20,000- Dodie Ent Inc., mini storage building. -- $10,000- Dodie Ent Inc., mini storage

President-Elect Contacts Key Demo Leaders

WASHINGTON (AP) - President-elect Jimmy Carter is contacting the Democratic leaders of Congress with overtures of partnership and cooperation, but none of them can say yet how easy that will be to achieve or what programs it will produce.

Democrats were keeping their 62-38 control of the Senate and possibly increasing their 290-145 House control closer to the 295-140 Democrat-controlled House that helped push through the late President Lyndon B. Johnson's Great Society and war-on-poverty programs in the mid-1960s.

But Democratic leaders brushed aside Wednesday the question of how expansive a program the Democratic President and Democartic Congress can enact, pointing out that they haven't even met on the subject yet.

An aide to O'Neill said Carter telephoned early Wednesday morning and told the House Democratic leader, "Tip, I'm six votes from being elected President ... and I'll be wanting to meet with you on working with Congress."

Fast-Paced Growth Here Increases Telephones

Earthworms and telephone cables have two things in common:" Both are safer underground, but both get dug up once in awhile.

A real difference, though is in the intent of the person doing the digging.

"Few people, if any, would knowlingly dig up a telephone cable," said Mike Patrick, Hereford manager for Southwestern Bell. "But cable breaks do happen here -- primarily because of construction going on.'

Patrick cited Hereford's growth rate as the reason for the fast-paced building activity. He said 90 per cent of telephone cable installed to meet growth is placed underground, "both for protection from the elements and for a more attractive

"By going underground, the cable isn't as susceptible to bad weather," the manager said. "Moisture in the wires can disrupt service, and burying the cable usually solves the problem.'

But when underground cable is cut, the result is always the same -- phones stop working. At best, that means real inconvenience for telephone users. At worst, it means a customer facing an emergency might not get help in time.

Patrick explained if a cable that carries Long Distance calls were to be served. entire communities could be isolated from the rest of the world.

Patrick also said a severed telephone can mean extra expense for those responsible. For example, when a contractor fails to notify the telephone company of exacavation plans and cuts a cable clearly indicated by a Southwestern Bell marker, the firm often is held financially company's toll-free Enterprise 9800 number -- before digging -- can prevent service interruptions." Patrick

After dialing the operator and asking for Enterprise 9800, a contractor or customer is connected with a telephone company employee. The calling party is either told where cable is buried in the area or a cable locator is dispatched to the site to map out cable routes.

Patrick added that the contractor or customer should call the company's toll-free number at least 24 hours before digging operations start if they notice any underground phone cable warning signs around the construction site. There is no charge for this service.

Laundry Theft, Vandalism Reported

A laundry theft and an incident of vandalism were the main items on the Hereford Police Department's blotter for Thursday.

June Callaway of 522 Blevins told officers that she hung some clothes out on her line in the back yard Thursday, and when she returned later to gather them in, a portion of her laundry was missing.

Value of the stolen laundry items was estimated at $50.

Dudley Arnett of 336 Douglas reported that he was checking a residence of 307 Elm Thursday when he discovered that a brick had been thrown through a window of the back bedroom.

No estimate of damages was available.

- We had our septic tank cleaned out six months ago. The cleaner said it would last two years. Now there is a seepage above ground between the house and the septic tank, closer to the house than the tank. There is no backup of sewage into the basement plumbing fixtures. Can you tell me what is causing the seepage?

- An on-the-spot analysis is the only way the exact cause can be determined and even that will depend on some probing and digging. But the fact that the seepage is occurring closer to the house than the tank - and presumably on the line where the house pipe to the tank is located - is a fair indication that there is a break in the underground pipe.

Proof of this is the concern that has been expressed in

For whatever reasons, a number of federal agencies, the Defense Department in particular, have been slow in commit-

Pruitt Selected President Of LCC

Dr. Harvie M. Pruitt was named the third president in the history of Lubbock Christian College Oct. 30 after receiving the unanimous nod from the school's board of trustees.

In taking the top job at LCC, Pruitt replaced Dr. W. Joe Hacker, Jr., whose resignation was accepted by the board in the same Saturday meeting.

Hacker cited "personal reasons, a need to spend more time with his family and a desire to invest more time in teaching God's word," as the chief factors for making a decision to leave. He served in the position for two and one-half years, moving to Lubbock in May, 1974 from his previous position as chairman of the Bible Department of Harding College. Searcy. Ark.

Lennis Baker, chairman of the board, issued the following statement after the Oct. 30 meeting:

"We are grateful to have found a man, Dr. Hacker, who was willing to take great responsibilities at LCC during a very critical time in the school's history. We thank him for his dedication to Christian education and the financial progress that LCC has made during his administration. At the same time we are fortunate to have a man of Dr. Pruitt's capabilities who was already a member of the LCC family and a lifelong resident of the city of Lubbock. Under his fine guidance, we feel the utmost confidence that LCC will continue to grow spiritually, numerically and academically."

The board of trustees unanimously passed the following resolution 'That Lubbock Christian College Board of Trustees by this resolution expresses deep appreciation to Dr. Joe Hacker for the direction he has given to the college during this tenure as president of the institution.

"Dr. Hacker came to Lubbock Christian College under very difficult circumstances. The school was in serious financial difficulties, and morale was somewhat low. Dr. Hacker has given himself tirelessly and with full dedication to the institution. His tireless work has placed the college in a much-improved condition. The most significant improvement, in the trustees' view, if reflected in the phenomenal increase in enrollment. The financial condition of the school has also shown significant improvement. An increase in net equity from $4,463,615 to $6,587,076.42 speaks strongly for Dr. Hacker's fiscal capability. His administration and capacity has made a very substantial contribution to the college,

"The pressures under which Dr. Hacker has worked have been immense, and the board feels that no person known to them could have done the job as well. We believe he has used his full talents and time to the accomplishments of the job.

"We are deeply indebted to Dr. Hacker, and want this resolution to be considered a strong endorsement of his work. an a permanent expression of his meaningful contribution to Lubbock Christian College."

In accepting the position. Pruitt said that he is proud of the vote of confidence placed in him by the board of trustees and the Pruitt named president the faculty and planned to use "every possible resource" to see that the confidence is well placed.

A native of Lubbock Pruitt joined LCC as a professor of education in 1966. He was selected by the students as teacher of the year in 1971 and was chairman of the Faculty Senate for three years.

In early 1975 Pruitt was named dean of the college and was elevated to executive vice-president in September of 1976

After graduating from Lubbock High School in 1947, Pruitt received a B.A. from Abilene Christian University in 1951 and masters and doctorate degrees from Texas Tech University.

Pruitt's first teaching position os vas at Lubbock High, where he ittaught speech and journalism. From there he was a teacher at Abilene Christian High School before moving to Frankfurt. ! Germany for three years as a minister and teacher.

In Lubbock, Pruitt has been educational minister at the Broadway Church of Christ, minister of the Greenlawn and Smithlawn Churches of Christ and director of the Smithlawn Maternity Home. He presently serves as an elder with the Smithlawn church.

Finally I met a man I wanted to settle down with. Although we hid our relationship from all but a small circle of friends, we had a wonderful life and were very happy together.

When he left me I felt as if my whole world had fallen apart. I was brought up in a Christian home and heard so much about the sinfulness of homosexuality that I stopped going to church.

Fortunately, I met a kind and understanding clergyman who spent many hours helping me see that God loves all his children-- gay, straight, what-accent denoting her German heritage, Margaret Simpkins tells of working with her husband, Donald, on their farm, 23 miles north of Hereford.

The former nurse shares farming responsibilities on an equal basis with her husband and is no stranger to a tractor or irrigation pipe. The couple came to this county in March from New Jersey, where he was raised on a farm.

Mrs. Simpkins was born and reared in Germany, where she received nursing training. The young RN was working in a hospital in Switzerland when she met her future husband, who was on a skiing vacation abroad.

The couple were married in 1973 and the New Jersey resident brought this bride to the United States, her new home. She admits that her first impression of this country was that she had landed in a "pretty confusing" place. However, Mrs. Simpkins has adjusted to the difference and plans on attaining her US citizenship.

Although she is a long way from her family, who live near Dusseldorf in West Germany, Mrs. Simpkins has returned to her native land twice since moving to America. Her father from Redbook magazine entitled 'How Divorce Really Affects Children". The article was a result of a Children of Divorce Project conducted by two women in California. The researchers were quite thorough in their study and offer suggestions for divorcing parents.

CHILDREN AND DIVORCE I read an article this week

First, parents should explain to their children that they are getting a divorce. The abstract term "divorce" doesn't mean much to a young child. Consequently, a parent might interpret in terms of 'mama and daddy will not live together

Second, flexible visitation should be arranged. Children who are able to see their fathers often do not feel as deprived as those who visit seldom.

Third, the remaining parent, which is usually the mother. should comfort the child when he seems most troubled (rather than when it's convenient for the mother).

The parent should also expect anger from their child. This will be expressed in many different ways and should be understood as the child's method of raging at a situation beyond his control. Anger must run its course.

In a divorce, a child always wonders, "What's going to happen to me?" This is the foremost answer that should be given to a child to protect his security and sense of well being. Divorce is a trauma that is affecting millions in our country today. I feel we need to continue to seek ways to help our children weather the storm-

GOD'S WONDERS ARE REVEALED, NOT HIDDEN, BY AN ECLIPSE

is an exciting celestial event to most people in the part of the world where it will be visible. No matter how many of them we have already seen, they always promise a spectacular new behind-the-scenes look at the mechanics of the universe, right from our terrestrial vantage point, free and available to all. Much of our knowledge of the heavens has come as a result of these alignments of the sun, moon and earth, and they provide an even greater insight into the magnitude of God's creation. So look to the sky, enjoy the show, and on your return to earth go to the Church of your choice, where you will learn how you and this magnificent world you live in came into being.

Ford's Furniture Selling Cheap After Losing Election

WASHINGTON (AP) - They'- find jobs and thinking about re selling the furniture at the President Ford Committee. Half price.

Handsome desks of chrome and walnut. Chairs with casters. Filing cabinets that once contained the plans for keeping the Ford lease on the White House.

The plans failed, of course, and the lease was not renewed. So Ford's campaign committee is shutting up shop, almost.

Until that moment early Wednesday when Mississippi and Wisconsin joined the Carter claque of states, the office was filled not just with furniture but also with optimism. The furniture remains.

In the next few days, the campaign staff of 700 paid workers and hundreds of volunteers will get a letter signed by Ford. "Although ours was not a victory in fact, it was a victory in spirit," it will say. "Together we brought to the American people a new enthusiasm and confidenc which had not been seen in the past few years."

A draft copy of the letter contained a heading that it was to be used "if defeated." Presumably there was another that would have been used if only two electoral vote-heavy states had gone the other way.

Only a few days ago, Bill Russo was one of the key strategists of President Ford's election campaign. Now he's helping some of his colleagues

At the end of the campaign, the Ford committee occupied floors 2, 5, 7 and 10 of a fancy downtown building, with an equally fancy $17,000 a month rent coming out of the $21.8 million in campaign funds the government gave to both the President and Carter.

With the new campaign finance law, the election is not the end of the committee. That red tapes Ford and Carter flayed during the campaign wraps up their election effort as well.

As a result, the Ford committee won't go out of existence until some time next year. The Federal Election Commission won't even audit the primary campaign expense sheets until January; the general election much later. A lot of bills aren't in yet.

The committee staff is busy shrinking its quarter from 25,000 feet of space to 2,000

"We foresee the accounting staff going strong until the end of March," Cochran said. By Nov. 15, however, only the legal and accounting staffs will be

Ford Remains Uncertain

WASHINGTON (AP)- For secretary, Ron Nessen. Jerry Ford, like Jimmy Carter, it is a time for readjustment.

But, while Carter and his aides begin a transitional period to set up the Democrat's White House tenure, the plans of the man who will move out of the Oval Office in January remain uncertain, according to his spokesman.

President Ford is planning to take a week-long vacation in Palm Springs, Calif., and will probably leave Washington on Sunday, according to his press

Ford conceded defeat at 11:04 a.m. EST Wednesday in a telephone call to Carter in Plains and also sent a telegram to the Democrat, pledging cooperation in the transition period.

Ford's hoars throat prevented him from carrying on much of a conversation, Nessen said, so White House chief of staff Richard Cheney, on an extension telephone, read the text of the telegram to the former Georgia governor, now president-elect.

The talk, the press secretary said, was "warm and friendly." Then, just after noon, the President and his family appeard in the White House press room where Ford, his voice hoarse from campaigning, turned over the microphone to his wife, whom he described as "the real spokesman for the family."

Mrs. Ford, teary-eyed, read a statement saying Ford "wants to thank all those thousands of people who worked so hard on behalf...The President urges all Americans to join him in giving your united support to President-elect Carter as he prepares to assume his new responsibilities."

Then she read the "Dear Jimmy" telegram.

"It is apparent now that you have won our long and intense struggle for the presidency. I congratulate you on your victory...," she read. "Although there will continue to be disagreements over the best means to use in pursuing our goals, I want to assure you that you will have my complete and whole-hearted support as you take the oath of office this

The Fords' daughter, Susan, and three sons stood in the background alongside the Pre-sident as Mrs. Ford read the statement. Susan appeared to be fighting back tears.

Wholesale Prices Show Increase In October

WASHINGTON (AP)- Higher costs for automobiles, fuel and other industrial goods boosted wholesale prices by six-tenths of a per cent in October, marking the second consecutive big monthly increase, the government said Thursday.

The rise was smaller than the nine-tenths of a per cent increase in September, but still was the third-sharpest monthly increase this year and by no means good news for the incoming Carter administration.

Only a decline in agricultural prices keep the wholesale price index from rising more sharply.

Carter To Appoint His Staff

Carter has two priority tasks facing him in the months nmediately before and after his inauguration. He must populate his administration, and he must put his imprint on the 1978 budget. How Carter goes about doing both jobs will go a long way toward showing the nation and the world how he plans specifically to effect the ideas he talked of during his campaign.

A young Atlanta attorney,
Jack Watson, has been working with a small staff since July on a transition plan for the new

Among other things, Watson has prepared lists of potential appointees to the top jobs among the more than 2,000 Carter will have to fill. No names have been publicly discussed by the Carter staff, but some critera have been.

Carter has said he intends to duce the size of the White House staff and give more freedom and policy responsibi-lity to Cabinet members.

Some key roles in the White House are expected to be filled by the small group of Georgians who were on Carter's guberna-torial staff and stuck with him through the campaign.

Herd Rated Low In Harris Poll

The Hereford Whitefaces, idle for the week, find themselves in 159th place according to the latest version of the Harris Rating System Poll.

The Whitefaces, 3-6 on the year, have a 128.3 power rating this week, which finds them rated the lowest of the five District 4-4A teams.

Monterey tops district clubs in the rating poll with a power rating of 151.9, good enough for 21st place. Coronado is ranked 89th this week with a 137.7 rating.

Plainview and Lubbock High 9. Pearsall round out the district members in the poll. The Bulldogs hold 20. Slaton down 91st position with a 137.6 25. Spearman rating, and the Westerners are 33. Floydada currently 134th at 132.4.

District matchups this week have Monterey and Lubbock clashing and Coronado taking on Plainview. By the poll, the Plainsmen are 19-point favorites over Lubbock, while the Mustangs are but a tenth of a point higher than Plainview.

The Canyon Eagles are 36th in the 3A poll this week with a 135.6 rating. Borger is 67th in the same poll at 128.5, while Dumas is 101st with a 119.1

Probe Refuted By Sooners

NORMAN, Okla. (AP) -National Collegiate Athletic Association is not conducting an official investigation of the University of Oklahoma football program, the university said

Dr. Paul F. Sharp, in a telegram Wednesday to Walter Byers, executive director of the NCAA, had asked that the NCAA state "in plain language whether or not the University of Otlahoma is under official investigation by NCAA as required by Section 3 of the official procedure governing the NCAA enforcement program."

A statement released by the university's media information office Thursday said that Byers sent a return telegram stating,

"As to your question pertaining to Section 3, the answer is no."

Byers had issued a statement earlier Wednesday saying he told Sharp on Oct. 25 the NCAA had received complaints against OU and "that we were in the process of investigating them to determine the reliability of the sources of the allegations and the extent of supporting details for the charges, and that the results of those initial interviews would determine whether there was cause for the formal notification procedures of the NCAA enforcement program."

That statement prompted Sharp's request for a statement "in plain language" whether the university was under official NCAA investigation.

The Hereford High School junior varsity, led by Randy Marrs' 194 yards rushing, and three touchdowns by quarterback Jackie Mercer, roared past the Plainview JV 28-18 Thursday night at Whiteface

Hereford came into the contest with a 2-4-2 record against the Bulldogs, who were on a six-game winning streak after dropping their first two games of the year.

Marrs was by far the most productive runner in the contest, yet failed to cross the goal line during his big effort. He picked up 78 yards in the first half to tie Mercer for the lead, but went wild in the final two stanzas, breaking free for 116 markers on 15 totes.

Mercer finished the night Graves added 90 yards to the effort, most of which came on a 74-yard flea flicker play in the third period.

Mercer gave the Longhotns a 20-0 lead as he scored three times in the first and second quarters. A nine-yard run by the Hereford quarterback gave the Longhorns as 6-0 margin with 3:26 left in the opening

The touchdown came following a 59-yard drive by the Longhorns. The big play in the drive was a 22-yard flea flicker play that saw Graves race to the Bulldog 24. Hereford made it 12-0 with 6:05 left in the half as Mercer raced through the right side of the Plainview defense for 21 vards and the score. Mercer hit Keith Finch on a pass for two on the conversion.

Mercer picked up his third touchdown just 1:57 later from the two as Hereford took advantage of a Bulldog fumble at the Plainview 41. Marrs' kick was wide, and the Longhorns led 20-0.

Plainview fought back to finally get on the board with just 18 seconds left in the half as they took the ensuing kickoff and drove 65 yards for the score.

Forty of those yards came on three passes by Bulldog quarterback Bruce Wesley. Steve Alexander picked up the six points for Plainview from the two. A pass for two was broken up as the Longhorns went into the dressing room with a

Dogies Turn Back Mavericks, 8-6

Flores picked off a La Plata screen pass and raced 45 yards to a second-quarter touchdown, and the Dogies tacked on a two-point conversion to go on and down the Mavericks 8-6 in their battle Thursday afternoon.

Flores smelled out the Maverick play, picked off a Randy Ellis pass, and raced untouched into the end zone for a 6-0 Stanton lead with 6:12 left in the half.

Keith Adams broke free for the two-point conversion to give the Dogies an 8-0 lead.

The Mavericks came back with a touchdown of their own as La Plata halfback Joe Walker blitzed the Dogie defense for a 62-yard score in the third period.

Walker's big run came after a Dogie punt to the Maverick 38, and pulled the Mays to within two with 2:14 left in the period.

Walker was stopped short of the goal line by a host of determined Dogie defenders on the PAT try, however, and Stanton rested on its 8-6 margin.

Munich Terror Recalled In Movie On ABC Sunday

By DAN BERGER Associated Press Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP)- Recreating history as drama is always risky business. Someone who was there or who has done better research is sure to shoot holes in your script.

But when the producers do extensive research, cast the drama splendidly and film it on location, and refuse to resort to melodrama, the result is not make-believe.

Such is ABC's "21 Hours at Munich," a well-paced, chillingly accurate account of the events at the 1972 Olympic Games when 11 Israeli team members were killed in a terrorist assault.

The two-hour program airs Sunday night. Its major competition: NBC's broadcast of the blockbuster hit movie, "Gone With The Wind," which NBC expects will draw 110 million viewers.

Some critics call this publicbe-damned programming. But the choice is yours- a romantic, 37-year-old Civil War epic or a taut, gripping recreation of a real and frightening moment in modern history.

Author Serge Groussard and screenwriters Edward Hume and Howard Fast have carefully researched the film made about the Munich tragedy, sorting their facts well, producing a solid, cohesive account.

The first-rate cast includes William Holden as Police Chief Manfred Schreiber, Franco Nero as a terrorist leader. Shirley Knight as a surprise contact between authorities and the terrorist, Richard Basehart as West German Chancellor Willy Brandt and Anthony Quayle as Gen. Zvi Zamir, head of Israeli security.

The show opens at 4 a.m. in Munich, where the terrorists scale a fence and enter the Olympic village so absurdly easily you wonder if the story line isn't too pat. Then you realize: that's how it happened. The confusion that followed- the false reports, the ultimatums and deadlines that were extended-- all appear to be drama. Perhaps. But it all happened that way.

Miss Knight's role appears at first just window dressing. Newsmen who covered the Munich massacre can't recall a woman negotiating with the Arab terrorists. But those who spent more than $2 million to make the film say that Annaliese Graes, an interpreter, was overlooked in Munich, yet she played a vital role, as depicted in the movie.

Midway in the account, Israeli Prime Minister Golda Meir is called and told the terrorists are demanding that 236 Arabs currently in prison be released. "If we should give in," she says, "No Israeli anywhere in the world can feel safe." A slight inaccuracy in the show: Israeli security chief with a team of commandoes and offered to take over the task of trying to resuce the Israeli hostages.

In the film, he mildly disapproves of the rescue plans of the German police chief Holden. In reality, the press at Munich was led to believe Zamir's disapproval was much stronger. And the film doesn't mention the Israeli commandoes he brought to Munich.

ABC sportscaster Jim Mc-Kay, who for exhausting hours in Munich reported the tragedy in 1972, now narrates the recreation of it, injecting yet another ring of truth to the program.

Some of the movie's dialogue may be contrived, but four years have passed. And who can remember just what was said during such tense moments during the terror at Munich.

"Linear tactics" evolved in the 18th century European army with the development of firearms. The line of battle consisted of two or three ranks, or lines of men, drawn up shoulder to shoulder. Casualties in the line were replaced by reserve ranks. With fixed bayonets the attackers moved forward, keeping their alignment, relatively safe from enemy musketry up to 100 years away.

The World Almanac notes that this was the drill for British troops in combat and that it was ineffective against guerrilla or Indian tactics.

'Not Listening' Results In Fights Among Married

MADISON, Wis. (AP)- Most married couples don't listen to each other, and many get into fights as a result, says a professor who helps couples learn to communicate better.

"The one thing that's real mportant in accuracy," said Jeff Edelson, a University of Wisconsin social scientist.

"Very often one person will say something to the other when the other is busy, they'll both assume something on that basis, and as a result nobody did the shopping when each of them thought the other would do it,"

Edelson, who overseas "couple communication" classes aimed at easing marital strife. said husbands and wives often misunderstand each other by trying to work out major decisions in piecemeal conversations. KIRKEMAL ELLICIBRE

Burns Stands As Problem For Carter

WASHINGTON (AP)- One of nevertheless true that money Jimmy Carter's biggest stumb- policies remained tight, which policy next year is likely to be the Federal Reserve Board and its strong- willed chairman, 72-year-old Arthur F. Burns.

Carter and Burns have sharply different views of inflation and unemployment, and which is worse for the country. Carter also wants changes in the Fed's operations and the status of its chairman.

Through its control of the American monetry system, the Fed influences interest rates and the money supply. Carter says he wants the Fed to yield that influence to speed up the economy and reduce unemloyment. This can be done vithout adding to inflation, the president-elect says.

But people who know Burns say he remains convinced that inflation is the chief threat to the nation's economy, and they say it is highly unlikely he would suddenly switch signals just to suit Carter.

Carter can't remove Burns, because Burns' term as chairman doesn't expire until Jan. 31, 1978. a source close to Burns said there is almost no chance Burns will step down

None of the terms of the other six members of the board will expire until 1978 either, so Carter will be unable to change the makeup of the Fed unless there is an early resignation.

Burns' first public reaction to the election and what it means for the Fed probably will come when he appears before the Senate Banking Committee on Nov. 11 to disclose the Fed's latest money supply growth

As of Thursday, there had not yet been any contact between Burns and the president-elect.

Carter announced Thursday night he may consider a tax cut to stimulate the economy when he takes office in January. Burns opposed President Ford's 1975 tax reductions and was accused by some members of Congress of offsetting the cuts by withdrawing money from the Burns denied to Congress he ad done that, but it was the tax cuts.

The Federal Reserve Board acts to influence the money supply and interest rates by putting money into the economy, or taking it out, through the purchase or sale of government securities. Actual targets for interest rates and the money supply are set by the Federal Open Market Committee, which is dominated by the board and its chairman.

People such as AFL-CIO President George Meany and Sen. Hubert Humphrey, D-Minn., say the unchallenged power over money and interest rates makes the Fed chairman the most powerful person in the Carter's best hope for winning ing changes appears to rest with the next Congress, which will consider new regulations for the Fed as part of the proposed Humphrey-Hawkins jobs bill.

The bill would change the term of the Fed chairman to the same four-year period as the occur with Burns and Carter.

Earp lies among the respectable

COLMA, Calif. - (NEA) -The legend of Wyatt Earp doesn't jibe with the simple letters notched in the dark marble stone, which is tilted slightly off the ground and encased in concrete so that nobody'll steal it.

Underneath it lie the ashes of the notorious gunslinger of the Old West - in a Jewish cemetery on a hillside in the fog belt just south of San Francisco.

"Wyatt Earp 1848-1929 Josephine Earp 1861-1944"

Wyatt Earp, who along with his brothers Morgan and Virgil and consumptive Doc Holliday shot it out with the Clanton gang at the O.K. Corral (Oct. 26, 1881), should to fit history — be buried in some place like Tombstone or Deadwood or Dodge City.

But here on this sunny Indian summer day - in the well-tended Hills of Eternity cemetery — you find out that Wyatt Earp lived to the ripe old age of 81 and died with his boots off, and that for the ages he reposes in the company of the Marcus family, his Jewish

Maury Fitzgerald, a pipe-smoking English professor at the College of San Mateo, led this pilgrimage to the grave of Wyatt Berry Stapp Earp, who was a buffalo hunter, rode shotgun on a stage, was an assistant marshal and blasted and gambled his way through the silver and gold camps of Arizona, Colorado and Alaska before finding sedateness and respectability with Josephine Sarah Marcus, whom he

The curious still wander by. A history teacher from southern California happens along, with his teenaged sons, and snaps a picture with an Instamatic.

"We get a few every week," says Don Kuczynski, the caretaker, a refugee from Poland and the only Jew in Cemetery Workers Local 265. Fitzgerald, who brought us here, has more than a pedantic interest in grave sites, too. He is executive secretarytreasurer of the union, which has 450 members stretched who lives in Hillsborough, a swank suburb where Bing Crosby is his near neighbor. But Maury's working domain is Colma, a unique community on the Peninsula ridge below San Francisco. Graves are its main business (there are no active cemeteries in the city). A hundred yards from Wyatt Earp's urn stands the crypt of William Randolph Hearst, the grandfather of Patty, the iminfluential mensely newspaper tycoon who was the model for "Citizen Kane." He lies in adjoining Cypress native, picked up spare cash graves as a 15-year-old high school kid.

"Grave digging isn't what it used to be." he admits. "Forty per cent of our business is now in cremation - except for the orthodox Jewish. Greek and Catholic cemeteries.

Those huge ornate headstones that have traditionally cluttered cemeteries are now out, too. Modest marble monuments with simple lines and simple designations are the fashion.

So Wyatt Earp in his final resting place, noted by a plain marker, fits right in with his neighbors. Little did they realize they'd achieve immortality of a sort by reposing near the man who won the Gunfight at the O.K. Corral.

Foreign Policy May Stagnate

But there will be no new initiatives taken and no new cials said, not only because limmy Carter would object, but because few if any foreign government will be willing to deal on crucial matters with an administration on its way

Kissinger himself is expected to stay in office until Carter takes over next Jan. 20, but many other State Department officials and ambassadors probably will be leaving.

Because of charges by conservatives Republicans as was not strong enough with the Russians, the Ford administration has been dormant since last spring in negotiating a second- phase strategic arms limitation treaty.

Kissinger also canceled meetings last summer of U.S.-Soviet commissions on trade and other matters when Ford was under strong challenge for the Republican nomination by conservative Ronald Reagan, who charged the administration with being soft on Moscow.

Another important issue on which the administration has been marking time is the Middle East. The administration was reluctant to move in such a touchy area pending the election.

U.S. officials laughed when asked if negotiations on a new Panama Canal treaty would be finished before Ford leaves. The canal issue would have been sensitive even if Ford had won.

Sewer System Okayed, But Water Bond Fails

By The Associated Press

Voters turned down a $400 million statewide water bond proposal Tuesday but approved a $1 million plan to improve sewer systems.

The water bond issue failed by a count of 1,190,583 to 908,642.

The sewer proposal, which passed 1,110,108 to 99,103, will provide loans to local governments to improve their systems.

In voting down the water amendment. Texans refused to allow the issuance of bonds for development of new waterrelated projects. The proposal would also have allowed the Texas Water Development Board to issue up to $35 million in bonds for such projects without legislative approval.

Texas House Speaker Bill Clayton, who endorsed the water amendment along with Gov. Dolph Briscoe, said voters may not have been well informed on the issue.

Briscoe Will Probably Seek Third Term In '78

AUSTIN (AP)- A source close to Gov. Dolph Briscoe said Thursday there is little doubt that Briscoe is planning a third term campaign.
