School District Files Motion In Woodward Case

update wednesday

Carter Waits On Tax Cut

PLAINS, Ga. (AP) - President-elect Jimmy Carter, home for a quite Thanksgiving holiday, says he plans no immediate decision on whether a new tax cut is the best way to boost the economy. Carter, saying that there may have been "an excessive assumption" that he favors a tax cut, declared on Tuesday that he planned no major initiatives to stimulate the economy until he can review January's economic indicators, which will not be available until February.

Carter returned to the family home here Tuesday after spending two days in Washington, where he met with President Ford, outgoing members of the GOP administration and leaders of both parties in Congress.

Tricentennial Gift Made

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) - A woman who says she's grateful to Oklahoma City has invested a $1,000 so the city can reap a $2.3 million dividend for the nation's Tricentennial in 2076.

Esther Stuewe, who moved from Oklahoma to Slinger, Wis., with her husband in 1947, told the city council on Tuesday about the unusual gift.

"I've always wanted to do something as a memorial for John and Neacie Snider her parents," said Mrs. Stuewe, now a widow. "Maybe this is a good way."

Ultimate Death Wanted

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) - The latest lawyer fired by Gary Gilmore says the condemned killer, who hasn't eaten since Friday, told him he would seek death even if he were set free or allowed to live with his girlfriend in prison.

"I said, 'What if you were set free, would you want to live?'" attorney Dennis Braz said of a conversation with Gilmore at the Utah State Prison on Tuesday.

"He said, 'I want to leave this planet, I want to be free of this planet.'" Boaz said.

Rhodesian Black Rule Nearer

GENEVA, Switzerland (AP) - Negotiations to establish black rule in Rhodesia may move forward today following a British proposal to make March 1, 1978, the firm target date for the transfer of power in the African country.

A spokesman for black leader Joshua Nkomo said the new plan seemed to meet "to a large extent" the demand by Nkomo and his ally, guerrilla leader Robert Mugabe, that Britain set a definite date for the end of the transition from the present rule by the white minority to full control by the black majority.

In the latest development in the Wayne Woodward suit against the Hereford School Board of Trustees, school attorneys have filed a motion for amendment to the judgment or for a new trial with the United States District Court for the Northern District of Texas.

The motion was the next legal step in the school's appeal of the unfavorable judgment rendered against it by Federal District Judge Halbert O. Woodward. The motion was filed with the Amarillo division of the court as of Nov. 12.

The school attorneys Earnest Langley and Richard Green filed the motion following the official judgment given by Woodward at the first of this month. Originally, Judge Woodward gave his opinion of the case following the trial in September, but his judgement was not written until later. The school district had 10 days from the judgment to file a motion.

The motion asks the court to rule in any of several different ways. The defendants ask the court (a) to amend, or alter, the judgment entered on Nov. 3, 1976, (b) to amend, or alter, the findings of fact and conclusions of law set forth in the Court's Memorandum Opinion of Oct. 12, 1976, or (c) to grant a new trial for reasons and upon grounds shown within the motion.

The court could just deny the motion altogether thereby supporting the original judgment which gave Wayne Woodward, a former teacher at La Plata Junior High School, 6,000 attorneys fees, back pay totaling about $22,000, and the right of reinstatement. He filed the suit after his contract for the 1975-76 school year was not renewed for various reasons.

During the trial, and in the judge's opinion, the incident in which Woodward distributed American Civil Liberties Union Material in the school weighed heavily in the decision to award the teacher his suit. The suit was filed based on the freedom of speech guarantee in the First Amendment.

Defendants in the case include former superintendent Roy Hartman, La Plata principal Pat Hughes, and school board members James Gentry, Jim Conkwright, Danny Martin, Lynton Alfred, Ron Zimmerman, Clark Andrews, and Jim Arney.

Steer Gives Students Delight

WICHITA FALLS (AP) - A never-say-die steer that escaped from a slaughter house lineup and commandeered a nearby school to students and a concern for police.

After what amounted to a two hour standoff, the big brown steer, snorting in protest, finally clambered into a cattle trailer and was hauled off to slaughter. But not before children at the Austin Elementary School got a valuable lesson in animal behavior.

"We were just leading a class out to physical education when the teachers saw the bull and turned the lines back around into the building," said Principal Peggy McKenzie.

"The kids just seemed to love it. It's been a real learning experience. They didn't realize a bull could get so angry. I think it has taught them about danger and how to react in emergency situations."

Officers said the animal broke away from a packing house, ripped through a school-yard fence and decided to make a stand.

Afterward, Police Capt. Charles Tatum voiced the feelings of all officers and packing house employees involved in the roundup.

"You don't chase one of those," he sighed. "You just follow it."

Attorney General's Opinion

Texas Attorney General John Hill, left, talks over the gas pricing situation with members of the executive committee of the Plains Irrigations Gas

OPEC Nations Undecided On Increase of Oil Price

KUWAIT (AP) - Ten Arab oil ministers meeting here have been unable so far to agree on what increase in the price of crude oil the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries should set when it meets Dec. 15.

Iraq's oil minister said his government demands a 25 per cent boost in the present base price of $11.51 per barrel. Saudi Arabia, the world's largest exporter, has not made its position public but is thought to want the increase but is to about eight per cent for fear of further damaging the world economy.

The oil minister of Qatar, Abdulaziz bin Khalifa al-Thani, said his country would support an increase of 10-15 per cent. Many observers expect the hike to be in this range.

Iran, the second largest oil exporter, is not attending the meeting because it is not an Arab nation.

The Iraqi oil minister, Tayih Abdul-Karim, told reporters: "Oil prices should be adjusted to inflation. The OPEC must increase oil prices by at least 25 per cent."

But Mano Saed Oteiba, oil minister of the United Arab Emirates, recommended a "judicious attitude...so that we don't push the U.S. into supporting our enemy Israel.

"We should not hit the new American leader Carter with a hard line on oil prices," he said. "If we do, we would be doing exactly what the Zionists would like us to do."

Carter's oil adviser, James Akins, the former U.S. ambassador to Saudi Arabia, is on a tour of Arab governments for the president-elect and arrived in Kuwait Tuesday. He told Radio Kuwait Carter considers that the Middle East situation and the oil problem "have reached a perilous stage," the government station reported.

In Washington, Carter told the Senate Foreign Relations Committee he believes a large rise in oil prices would be a serious blow to the United States and to the developing nations.

Arab members of OPEC attending the Kuwait meeting are Saudi Arabia, Kuwait, Qatar, Algeria, Libya, Iraq and the United Arab Emirates. Also on hand are Syria, Egypt and Bahrain. The non-Arab members of OPEC are Iran, Venezuela, Indonesia, Nigeria, Gabon and Ecuador.

The last increase in the oil price was in October 1975.

Second Break In Reported At CAA

A second break-in at the Deaf Smith County Community Action Agency is currently being investigated by Hereford police.

Sometime over the weekend, the agency was entered and those responsible took pens and pencils and emptied a candy machine.

Then, sometime Monday, the agency was again entered, this time through a window.

The intruders broke several windows and scattered objects in the office in the second incident.

A damage estimate was not available, according to a police department spokesman.

Thanksgiving Means Offices Close Thursday

Most area businesses and governmental entities will be closed Thursday for Thanksgiving with just a few closing for Friday according to a spot check made by the Hereford Brand Wednesday.

Of course, the city, county, postal service and school offices will be shut down Thursday for turkey day but sheriff's office and the city police department will remain open for emergencies. All usual services offered by these offices will not be offered.

Both Hereford State Bank and First National Bank of Hereford will be closed Thursday but reopen on Friday for usual business. The county and city will remain closed Friday while the post office will open again on that day.

The post office will provide post office box deliveries as well as special delivery on Thursday, but that is all.

It is not known if all business will be closed Thursday, but most assuredly will. Some convenience stores may remain open.

PIGUA Charters Buses To Austin For Hearing

Four buses have been chartered by the Plains Irrigation Gas Users Association (PIGUA) for the Natural Resources Committee hearing on natural gas to be held in Austin on Nov. 30. Area residents are encouraged to lend their support for the control of natural gas by attending the hearing.

The buses will leave at 8 a.m. Monday, Nov. 29, from Hereford, Friona, Dumas, and Tulia for Austin. They will return Tuesday afternoon according to a PIGUA spokesman.

The Hereford bus will depart from the Deaf Smith Chamber of Commerce office at the scheduled time. Reservations are needed and they can be made by a call

By BOBBY TEMPLETON
Brand News Editor

Support for legislation to control natural gas production and distribution within the state was given here Tuesday afternoon by Texas Attorney General John Hill during a meeting with the executive committee of the Plains Irrigation Gas Users Association (PIGUA). It was conducted by PIGUA attorney John Aikin at the law offices of Witherspoon, Aikin and Langley.

THE STATE OFFICIAL met behind closed doors with the committee for about two hours before newsmen were allowed to interview Hill and hold discussions with the six members of the committee present. They included T.C. Mealses of Tulia, president; Jay Boston of Hereford, vice president; Carl King of Dimmitt; Ray Joe Riley of Sunnyside; Bruce Rigler of Plainview; and Charles Schlabs of Hereford, secretary-treasurer. Clayton Enger of Lubbock, a committee member, was the only one not present.

Hill gave full support of the PIGUA's proposal to limit or totally stop the 100 per cent pass-through used by Texas gas companies to pass on all increased costs of gas purchases to consumers and to put the Texas Public Utilities Commission (PUC) in full charge of the oil and gas industry.

"I feel the PIGUA is on the right track and I support and encourage their actions," the attorney general said.

WHILE TELEVISION CAMERA lights blazed in his face, Hill confirmed that he will represent Texas in about two weeks before the Federal Power Commission to argue against the control of interstate gas (that which is produced here and shipped across state lines). Also, he will testify against any attempts to exercise control over intrastate gas, which is now controlled by the Texas Railroad Commission.

The PIGUA called the meeting to discuss the plight of Panhandle and West Texas farmers whose only source of water is from irrigation and therefore the basis for the high producing agricultural area of the high plains. The members of the executive board and other interested individuals will be appearing Nov. 30 in Austin before the Natural Resources Committee of the Texas Senate to promote the elimination of the pass-through and the PUC control of the gas industry.

A representative of Pioneer Natural Gas was seen at the news conference but he apparently left before being approached. The company serves the Panhandle-West Texas region and has been involved in several controversies in Hereford and Austin over the limitation of pass-through.

"As this is the breadbasket of the world, we must remember that this (gas price problem) is important to all," Hill explained. "It's more than just a problem for farmers and the West Texas region, but it concerns everyone."

He emphasized the need for food again and noted that gas must be made economical enough for farmers to continue producing. Already in the Pecos, Texas area, farmers have gone out of business and the PIGUA officials concurred that it could soon happen here since costs are now above income from production.

"I HOPE THE ERA of accelerated prices will soon end," he said. "However, the time of cheap energy is over."

Based on a question asked by this reporter, Hill reiterated that he supports the PUC control but that it was largely an untested agency. "With the electrical and telephone control (at the state level), I think it is the logical level of control for gas."

With a new man going on the TRC board, John Newton, Hill described the situation with that agency as open to change. In the past, the TRC has exercised only limited action toward control.

Above all, Hill thinks the consumers and utility companies should receive due

Local Realtors To Attend Special Leader Meetings

The Hereford Board of Realtors will be represented in special leadership meetings in Austin Dec. 5-7, by Don Tardy, board president for 1977, Mark Andrews and Linda Warrick.

To be held in the Hilton Inn by the Texas Association of Realtors, the sessions will focus on a diversity of topics, including affirmative marketing, business outlook for 1977, and motivational and communication techniques for working with volunteers. TAR's legal counsel, Charles M. Babb of Austin, will review special problems facing Realtors, as well as giving a review of the 1975 Texas Real Estate License Act. The Act spells out some stiff new educational requirements for all real estate practitioners.

Reese Henry of San Antonio, next year's TAR president, is expected to detail his special plans for the coming year, and Joe Perrone of Austin, past president of TAR, will talk about legislative plans related to the housing industry and property owners. Sharing his discussion will be Hub Bechtol of Austin, 1976 Texas Realtor of the Year.

Mazie S. Hill of San Antonio, past president of the board there, and this coming year's TAR membership committee chairman will project membership needs and goals.

The man who is expected to attract the most attention is Dr. Don W. Zacharias of the University of Texas at Austin. He will address the group coming from all over the state Monday, Dec. 6, at 9:30 a.m. Dr. Zacharias has 12 years of teaching experience, as well as in research. He has conducted over a hundred seminars in business, education and government. He received the UT Teaching Excellence Award in 1971. He has written many articles, one book, and is currently working on another, in the area of communication.

Jeanne Coker said that this TAR meeting will attract several hundred newly-chosen board officers and secretaries. Our association has over 35,000 members. This meeting is designed to support all board and TAR programs by getting us acquainted with much basic information."

Minimum Radiation Found In Ionization Smoke Detectors

The National Fire Prevention & Control Administration and the National Bureau of Standards, both agencies of the U.S. Department of Commerce, support the Nuclear Regulatory Commission's determination that radiation from ionization smoke detectors represents a negligible exposure level.

According to the Nuclear Regulatory Commission (NRC), radiation exposure from the ionization detector is far below the normal radiation a person receives each day from the sun. The NRC cites a number of additional facts as evidence of the safety of smoke detectors. Among them are:

(1) If you stand within ten inches of an ionization detector for eight hours a day, every day of the year, the annual radiation exposure would be less than 0.5 millirems. For comparison purposes, normal background radiation exposure from natural sources is approximately 100 times greater per year.

(2) A person flying round-trip across the United States receives about 5 millirems because of the increased radiation at high altitudes. This is ten times greater than the exposure you would receive by holding the detector next to you eight hours a day for an entire year.

Consumer's Union, an independent testing laboratory, conducted a study of the radiation problem in ionization detectors. Its conclusion: "Radioactive! Don't worry... we checked the surface of each assembled unit with a Greiger counter and could not detect any radiation beyond ordinary background radiation."

Court Refuses Stay Of Two Executions

AUSTIN (AP) - Robert Excel White and James Owen Livingston have moved one step closer to the electric chair with the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals' refusal to stay their Dec. 10 execution date.

After the court's ruling Tuesday, White's lawyer, J.E. Abernathy, said he plans to file an application with the U.S. Supreme Court asking that the execution date be delayed so he can present his case before that court.

"To say the least, I was surprised by this," Abernathy said of the appellate ruling.

Despite White's request that he be executed on the "earliest possible" date, Abernathy said an appeal to Gov. Dolph Briscoe to stay the execution would be used "as a last resort."

White, who admitted publicly he has led a life of violence and crime, said in a recent interview, that "if any man deserves to die, I do for the crimes I've committed."

He asked also that his execution be televised. Television cameras were allowed the courtroom when his execution date was set.

The attorney said he had submitted the Texas appeal over White's objection because he felt it was his "duty and responsibility" to his client.

The two Waco men received their death sentence earlier this month after being convicted of the 1974 robbery-slaying of a 73-year-old grocery store attendant in McKinney, north-east of Dallas.

White and Livingston are the third and fourth men to have their execution dates set since the Texas death law was ruled constitutional earlier this year by the U.S. Supreme Court.

Obituaries

ROBERT B. TURNER

Funeral services for Robert B. Turner, 87, of Hereford will be held at 10 a.m. Friday in Rosewood Chapel of Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home in Big Spring. The Rev. Elza Phillips of Big Spring and Charles Jones of Ackerley will officiate.

Mr. Turner, who died Tuesday in High Plains Baptist Hospital in Amarillo, will be buried in the Trinity Memorial Cemetery in Big Spring.

Arrangements in Hereford were under the direction of Gilliland-Watson Funeral Home.

Mr. Turner was born in Mississippi and had been a resident of Hereford since 1970 when he moved here from Clovis, N.M. He was married to Effie Gaskins in 1916 in Big Spring.

He was a retired carpenter. Survivors are the widow; a daughter, Mrs. Mary Denton of Hereford; three sons, Bobby of Mena, Ark., Glen of Catoosa, Okla., and Thomas of Bend, Ore.; 11 grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Funeral services for Richard Lee Bull, 30, of Hereford, will be held this afternoon at 4 p.m. in the Rose Chapel of Gilliland-Watson Funeral Home. The Rev. John Johns, pastor of the Avenue Baptist Church, will officiate.

Burial will be in West Park Cemetery.

Mr. Bull, who was employed by the Sossaman Trucking Co. of Hereford, was killed at 2:40 p.m. Tuesday when the truck he was driving went out of control on a curve and overturned on U.S. Highway 70 about 30 miles west of Roswell, N.M.

Mr. Bull was born in Dimmitt. He was married to Beverly Noyes in 1965 at Clovis, and the couple moved to Hereford from Dimmitt in 1966. He was a veteran of Vietnam.

Survivors include the widow; a son, Kevin, and a daughter, Kandi both of the home; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Bull of Dimmitt, a sister Miss Patsy Bull of Dimmitt, and two brothers, David and Larry, both of Plainview.

BOYD KNOX

Funeral services for Boyd Knox, 77, of Hereford, will be held this afternoon at 2 p.m. at Gilliland-Watson Funeral Home Rose Chapel with the Rev. Mack McCarter, pastor of First Christian Church, officiating. Burial will be in West Park Cemetery.

Mr. Knox, who died Monday, was born in Locksburg, Ark. He was married to Ruth Dennis in 1919 in Lakeview. They moved to Hereford from Wellington in 1931.

The couple owned the Hereford Bakery for many years. Mr. Knox was a member of First Christian Church.

Survivors include the widow; a son, Jack of Portales, N.M.; a daughter, Mrs. Irene Marver of Longview; two brothers, Debbs of Hereford and Jack of McCamey; a sister, Mrs. Yolanda Roberson of Quitaque; eight grandchildren; and four great-grandchildren.

General

process hearings to determine whether the pass-throughs are justified or not. "Some of the pass-throughs may be right," Hill said. "I don't have the answers but a hearing could build incentives (for limitations) and restore judgment factors."

In an unqualified statement, he noted, "Automatically passed-through costs are not right."

ALTHOUGH HE SAID ON TV cameras that President-Elect Jimmy Carter's camp did not totally please him, he said. "He is our kind of people. He will be understanding."

This will be important when Texans try for help from Washington concerning gas problems as well as those affecting agriculture in general. "We all need to hang together with this new administration and...articulate our problems in Washington."

Turning to political subjects, Boston said he thought Hill would make a good governor for Texas in the near future. Hill remained silent on this point except to say he would not announce anything until after the next legislative session.

Although he was not directly supporting any candidates for Carter, Hill noted that State Secretary of Agriculture John White would be a good choice for the administration's secretary of Agriculture.

Gonzales In Charge Of Investigation

WASHINGTON (AP) - Rep. Henry D. Gonzalez was on the scene 13 years ago when John F. Kennedy was murdered. Now it's his job to investigate the assassination.

Gonzalez was a second-term

Democrat from San Antonio, Tex., riding in the motorcade through Dallas on Nov. 22, 1963, when he heard the shots that killed President Kennedy. Later, he was in the midst of the nightmare scene at Parkland Hospital where doctors tried to save Kennedy's life. And Gonzalez tried to comfort Jacqueline Kennedy.

Ever since, Gonzalez has written, he has asked questions about Kennedy's death—"why he died, who killed him and what directions had the bullets come from."

It was the revelation of government misdeeds in Watergate, he wrote, that made him decide that the Warren Commission's conclusion that Lee Harvey Oswald was the sole assassin should be re-examined.

In February 1975 he introduced a resolution to establish a committee to investigate the assassinations of Kennedy and others.

The resolution languished until last September when the House leadership, responding to pressure from the congressional black caucus for a renewed probe into the slaying of Dr. Martin Luther King, allowed it to come to the floor for a vote.

Gonzalez, 60, now is a 15-year veteran in Congress and is the second ranking Democrat on the House assassination committee. He is expected to become chairman of the investigating panel when the new Congress convenes in January.

Although careful not to endorse any of the popular conspiracy theories surrounding the assassination, Gonzalez has helped publicize one theory that government investigators and many independent researchers agree is without substance.

In May 1975, he wrote an introduction to a book called "Coup d'Etat in America." The book presents a circumstantial case that the CIA was involved in Kennedy's murder. The Rockefeller Commission found that theory to be without basis in fact and even long-standing critics of the Warren Commission have agreed it is far-fetched.

Gonzalez stated in the foreword that he has no way of knowing if the allegations in the book are true. But the book's cover, with its subtitle, "The CIA and the Assassination of John F. Kennedy," bears Gonzalez's name, giving an initial impression that a member of Congress endorsed its findings.

Exactly how much control Gonzalez will have over the House investigations remains to be seen.

Chief Counsel Richard A. Sprague says he has been freed to go where the facts take him. Sprague said Tuesday that the investigation will be thoroughly independent and will not rely either on FBI or CIA assistance. He said the investigation would become "the laughingstock of the world" if it depended on government agencies to do the detective work.

The Speaker Reports

by Bill Clayton

AUSTIN--In compliance with House Bill 1126 of the last legislative session, the Governor's Office of Educational Resources has compiled and released market value figures for all property in Texas, as well as legislative recommendations. The Governor's Office undertook this project over a year ago and has produced a product that will receive considerable attention for some time.

Included in the recommendation is proposed legislation. The bill which has been released contains two major elements: provisions for changes in the public school finance system and provisions for the establishment of uniform property assessment practices. These sections deserve careful thought by legislators and citizens alike so that the best possible plan can be developed.

A look at the proposed bill from the Governor's Office, which has a price tag of approximately $850 million, reflects a desire to reduce local property taxes while adding more State money to public education. The local fund assignment would be reduced, and at the same time, the value of property assessments would increase.

This increase would offset any dramatic decreases in property taxes. However, the tax rate would drop to about 9 cents per $100 from the 35 cents per $100 rate set by House Bill 1126. As a result, the local share of education funding would be reduced, and the State would contribute a greater share of the funds. An additional $640 million would be funneled into the foundation school program, and this change would create a State share of about 90 percent of the foundation program. In addition $50 million is budgeted for maintenance and operation expenses of the schools.

A more liberal equalization aid formula has also been proposed. The package would cost a total of about $100 million for the biennium. The philosophy behind this approach is to bring the less wealthy districts up to a more acceptable level without placing much spending constraint on wealthier districts.

Although tax limits have been proposed for both maintenance and operation and capital improvements, the caps do not seem to be stringent enough to really prohibit school districts from increasing their property taxes in view of their increased revenue-producing ability due to the rise in property values.

Other education issues are addressed in the proposed bill. An accountability and renewal system at a cost of $10 million has been included. This system would provide for a management information system, an improved accreditation process, and other such procedures. Transportation funding is revised and would cost $25 million. The "harmless" formula for districts under 1,000 students in average daily attendance would cost about $15 million.

The other major part of the proposal concerning assessment practices provides for several significant changes and new developments. This section would set up a School Tax Assessment Board with six members appointed by the Governor with the approval of the Senate.

To The Public

Believers Group Meets

Members of the Believers group of St. Thomas Episcopal Church held their monthly dinner meeting recently at the church. Host families were the Roy V. Smiths, Robert Betzens, Bruce Millers, V.O. Hennens and Rachel Himes.

Reports on the annual Diocesan Council held in Amarillo recently were given by Rose Ann Smith and Leon Pucket.

Also, plans for the coming Advent and Epiphany celebrations were discussed. Members attending the dinner were reminded that this was the day of the Every Member Canvass. Families, not attending the dinner, were visited by volunteers.

The short business meeting was brought to close by president Robert Stewart who also extended thanks to the hosting families.

Thanksgiving Meal Served To HD Club

Thanksgiving dinner was enjoyed by members of West Hereford Extension Club, who met Tuesday afternoon in the Pioneer Natural Gas Flame Room.

In keeping with the holiday season, Myrtle Allmon read the poem, "Gifts," and Alice Cox recited the poetry selection entitled "Thanksgiving." A Mrs. Hester and a Mrs. Penman were guests.

It was announced that the next meeting will be the club's Christmas party on Dec. 9 in the home of Carrie Mae Doak.

In attendance at the recent dinner were Mr. and Mrs. Roy Boyd, Mary Flowers, Mrs. Pierce, Opal Ellis, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Boyd, Mrs. Allmon, Mrs. Cox, Evelyn Bell and a Mrs. Gamby.

WHO'S NEW

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I've been reading your column for a long time and seen every imaginable kind of complaint against clerks and salespeople. Now it's time you heard from the other side of the counter.

I work in a grocery store -- the fruit and vegetable department, to be specific. May I make some suggestions to the public?

Please don't eat any food you haven't paid for. If we can't weigh it we can't charge you for it. The grapes, cherries, plums, apricots and bananas you see are not free samples. They cost US money and we cannot give them to you for nothing.

If the express lane has a limit, don't use it if you have even one item more than is allowed. This gets the checker into trouble and irritates other customers.

Don't try to sack your groceries yourself. Let the sacker or cashier have complete control. They know what they are doing and you don't.

Be polite. Remember discourtesy breeds discourtesy and it breeds best in tired employees. --Love My Job But The People Get On My Nerves

DEAR LOVE: Thanks for a good letter -- but I've got a question. How can you love your job if the people get on your nerves? Please answer soon. I'll sign myself --Dyin' To

Know

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I ride the bus to work. A very attractive man gets on at the stop after mine. Usually he sits next to me. He smiles, says "Good morning," then starts to read the paper. He glances at the front page, then turns right to your column. Sometimes he chuckles, other times he goes "tsk, tsk."

I don't know if he is married (no wedding ring) but I do know he is a neat dresser, has a marvelous smile and a very pleasant speaking voice.

How can I find out more without being too brazen? --Brown Eyes

DEAR EYES: Your letter may ignite thousands of romances all over the country. Every man who rides the bus will think the girls sitting next to him envisions him as her dreamboat.

The next time he smiles at you and starts to read the paper, simply say, "I see you're reading Ann Landers. What does your wife think of her advice?"

DEAR ANN LANDERS: As a reader who turns to your column every day right after the headlines, I am appalled by the abuse that certain readers throw at you. Time and again, someone with a minor complaint about you accent or you hairdo or your opinions comes on as though you have violated all Ten Commandments. They rage and shout and preach and call you terrible names. What is the matter with these people?

One suspects they are mousy creatures who wouldn't say boo to their boss or spouse but turn into tigers behind the wheel of a car or over the phone or in an anonymous letter -- anywhere where they feel safe from retribution.

We are all passengers together on this spaceship Earth. We need to be gentle with each other and not dump our troubles and disappointments on the nearest available head. "Love thy neighbor" is not the whole quote. There are two more words -- "as thyself."

--I Brake For People DEAR BRAKE: right on, Buddy. You've pinpointed the problem. Move to the head of the class.

Even if drinking is the "in" thing in your crowd, it need't crowd you out. Learn the fact from Ann Landers's booklet, "Booze And You -- For Teenagers Only." Send 50 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to Ann Landers, P.O. Box 1400, Elgin, Ill. 60120.

He said that 4-H has changed somewhat from a program for youths in rural areas to one that reaches young people from all walks of life. He stressed that 4-H demands involvement, and for this reason has produced outstanding citizens. He also emphasized a number of challenges that face 4-H'ers as they enter Century Three.

James Hull of Deaf Smith Cooperative, Inc., Hereford, welcomed the group. District 1 4-H council members directed the program.

Special guests included parents, adult leaders, Extension Service officials, representatives of electric cooperatives and other supporters of the 4-H program.

Sponsoring the Gold Star Banquet were five member-owned electric cooperatives serving District 1 of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, which directs the 4-H program in Texas. The cooperatives include Deaf Smith, Rita Blanca, North Plains, Hall County and Swisher County.

at the banquet were Rhonda Hagar and Joe Monroe of the Deaf Smith County 4-H and Karen Axe and Kenny Davis of the Oldham County 4-H.

Award ceremonies, which included a banquet in honor of the youths, were staged at the Hilton Inn in Amarillo. The snow storm, which had descended over the Texas Panhandle during the weekend, did little to dampen the spirits of the crowd as they looked on while the honorees received their plaques.

A boy and girl from each of the 20 counties in Extension Service District 1 are eligible to receive the Gold Star award each year. The award is based on outstanding achievement, leadership and contribution to the county 4-H program.

Speaker for the special occasion was Dr. John W. Pelham, state 4-H leader.

Pelham reviewed the history of 4-H club work in Texas, and listed many of the former Gold Star winners who have taken a place of leadership in society.

Gold Star Winners Honored

AMARILLO— About 250 parents, supporters and special guests braved snow and ice from an early winter storm Saturday, Nov. 13, to watch 37 outstanding 4-H'ers receive the Gold Star award, the highest county award offered in the 4-H Club program.

Among local youths honored

Wakan Ki Lo Discovery Club, sponsored by Marsh Cattle Company, began an eight-week project in order to obtain a Group Torch Bearer merit in interior decorating.

Jay Swayze, a local architect, gave a program concerning underground home of a residence which is left in its location and then buried by earth.

Swayze explained the system by showing slides depicting blueprints, decor and landscape of a Geobuilt home at Plainview. A Camp Fire pin was presented to Swayze in appreciation for the program.

Guests attending the recent meeting were Mmes. Reece Lawson, Alan Parson and Dave Perkins.

Members present included Romona Rhodes, Brenda Parson, Lori Parker, Jill Paschel, Tammy McCathern, Willa Lawson, Judy King, Rhonda Hollowell, Janet Burdine and Susan Brown. Group leaders are Mrs. Bill Thompson and Mrs. Floyd Eubanks.

Shoe orders keep dancer hopping to meet demand

By Ellie Grossman

NEW YORK — (NEA) — The phone hardly stops ringing in the shoe repair shop on West 62nd Street, off Central Park.

It's on Pat Gefke's desk, on the left as you enter, and the callers are either from the theater or "street people," because Ms. Gefke makes shoes for both.

"Hello, this is Pat Gefke. No, my shoes don't look like orthopedic shoes. I don't make orthopedic shoes. Yes, they're custom made, but they're actually dancer's shoes that women find comfortable and like to wear on the street.

"I make one stock style, a T-strap with a mid-high heel, that comes in black or beige. It costs $45 -- yes, it used to be $42.50, but it went up because of the leather. The shoe is all leather. If you want other colors and material, the price goes up $10.

"Why don't you come in Monday afternoon. Fine. Goodbye."

Ms. Gefke is, she says, a musical comedy dancer who's "not performing right now," and ... the phone rings again.

"Listen, I tried to reach you. Who gets the ballet slippers? All the boys get silver jazz oxfords, I know. We'll dye the shoes so I need a swatch ... 'bye." That was an industrial trade shoe, uh, show customer.

Quickly, now ... how did a dancing teacher from Madison, Wisc., get started making shoes?

"Dancers need good shoes and being one, I knew that. And I worked as a saleswoman for Capezio at one time and learned all different aspects of the shoe business. Eventually, I ended up as the manager of their theatrical shoe department.

The screech of the shoe machines on the other side of the store drowns her out and then, the phone ...

There came an unheralded stretch of silence when Pat said that the shoemaker and the repairman in the shop work with her and that she might be doing the shoes for "Hellzapoppin'" which will bring Jerry Lewis to Broadway this year.

And that business from her street people has been so good, she's going to add another style, an in-step strap shoe.

"My customers are women who are interested in comfort as well as style. I make sizes four to ten and one-half, in narrow and medium widths. I don't have combination lasts. And it takes four to five weeks to make the shoes because of the demand."

But the wait is worth it, she says, because the fit is good and "In Saks, say, you'd pay $60 for the shoes. One reason I don't charge a lot is that dancers don't have a lot of money." Their version of her T-strap comes with a slip-proof ribbed sole.

Yes, she does do mail order business, and what she uses to measure feet are a piece of yellow paper and a black pen. The bare foot stands on the yellow paper, the black pen outlines it and writes in the dimensions and that's that.

The trick, now, is to get the pen to answer the phone and take messages.

The term "cowboy" was first used during the Revolutionary War and referred to a band of American Tories who robbed patriots of their cattle.

Herd Dumps Dumas

Reaching High

Hereford's Kenneth Mercer outreaches his Dumas opponent to give the Herd the ball at the start of the second period Tuesday night. The Whitefaces raced to their second win of the season in the game, emerging 85-39 winners. Awaiting the tip are Hereford's Kelly Kitchens (30), James Mays (32), and David Schumacher (54). The Hereford Whitefaces upped their season mark to 2-1 Tuesday night with an 85-39 bombing of the Dumas Demons. Hereford's James Mays led the charge with 23 points on the night, 20 of which came in the first half.

The Demons made a ballgame of it for only one quarter, staying close to the Faces to trail only 16-12 after one stanza.

Both teams were relatively cold at the onset, but it took only a few seconds for the host Whitefaces to stoke their fire in the second quarter.

Kelly Kitchens, Kenneth Mercer, and David Schumacher hit consecutive baskets to give the Herd a 22-12 margin, and before anyone knew it the rout was on.

Before the second period mercifully ended the Herd had popped the nets for 31 points to the Demons' 11 to soar to a 47-23 margin.

Mays took over in the second stanza, hitting from all over the court for a total of 16 points to push his game-leading total to 20.

The third period was much of the same with Mercer,

Schumacher, and Mays combining for 12 points to offset a pair of buckets by Dumas' Bren McClintock as the lead was stretched to 59-27 with 3:26 left in the period.

Mike Oglesby closed out the third-period scoring with a pretty driving reverse layup with 44 seconds left, and Hereford led 63-33.

With most of the Herd starters resting comfortably on the bench by this point, the reserves continued to lay it on the Demons.

Jim Lawson and David Arney guided the Herd to a 22-6 advantage in the final period as the Whitefaces coasted to the 46-point win.

Kitchens did enter the contest in the final four minutes and had the crowd gasping on at least two occasions as he made clutch passes to teammates for buckets.

At one point last year's district sophomore of the year had the crowd on its feet as he took a high outlet pass, slapped it left handed to Arney on the fast break and watched his teammate lay it in for two points.

Mays' 23 points led both teams, and Schumacher and Arney added 12 and 11 point contributions respectively for the Herd.

Lawson pitched in nine, Mercer added eight, while Kitchens, Oglesby, and Larry Ritter each scored six. Mike O'Rand closed out the Hereford scoring with four points.

McClintock led the Demons with 12 points, and Tony Watson added 11 more.

The Herd will travel to Perryton to tangle with the Rangers Saturday night before returning home next Tuesday to meet Levelland.

Hereford's junior varsity continued its fine season prior to the varsity matchup Tuesday, winning its third game in-a-row in a 56-44 conquest of the Demons.

Brent Allen's 10 points led Hereford, while Ken Ellis added eight. Rick Logan led the Dumas JV with 10 points.

Cubs Fire Manager

CHICAGO (AP)—Jim Marshall has been fired as manager of the Chicago Cubs after piloting the team to a fourth-place finish this year in the National League East.

And E.R. "Salty" Saltwell will step down as general manager of the Cubs but remain with the club in an administrative job, the Chicago Sun Times reported.

There was no immediate indication of who would be chosen to succeed Marshall.

John Holland, executive vice president of the Cubs, scheduled a news conference today at which the dismissal of Marshall was expected to become official.

"Obviously, there are going to be changes made or we wouldn't be calling a press conference," Holland said. He refused to say specifically what moves would be made.

But Marshall said Tuesday night in a telephone interview from his Scottsdale, Ariz., home that "John Holland called me this afternoon and told me my contract would not be renewed."

"I was very surprised," Marshall said. "I called all the coaches and informed them of what happened."

Cubs owner Philip K. Wrigley has been wavering on Marshall's fate. The 81-year-old chewing-gum manufacturer said one week that Marshall would go and the next week that he would stay.

Marshall, 44, became manager on July 25, 1974, succeeding Whitey Lockman, who went to a front office job. The Cubs finished last in their division that year and fifth in 1975.

As a player, Marshall came up with the Baltimore Orioles in 1958 and played first base for five teams, including the Cubs and White Sox. The Danville, Ill., native also played several seasons in Japan.

Landry Confident

By DENNE H. FREEMAN
AP Sports Writer

DALLAS (AP)—Dallas Cowboy Coach Tom Landry compared football to the free enterprise system Tuesday, adding the Cowboys got what they deserved against the Atlanta just "sitting around."

"Football is a great game-like our free enterprise system," said Landry. "Neither rewards you for complacency or sitting around. You can't get something for nothing. It caught up with us."

Landry said he wasn't all that concerned over Atlanta's 17-10 upset going into the National Conference Eastern Division showdown with St. Louis Thanksgiving Day.

"When I get most concerned is when we play hard and get beat," said Landry.

Landry said "I'm very confident going into the Cardinal game. I think we will play well. But the Cardinals are actually in better shape than we are. We haven't won a big game since we played Washington. The Cardinals have."

He said Dallas' problems against Atlanta can be traced strictly to mental preparation. "It's been a long footba season and it's difficult to stay at a high pitch," said Landry. "Everything is at stake now. Our mental attitude is good."

Landry said wide receiver Golden Richards, who was sidelined for the Atlanta game with a pulled hamstring, had been working out and was a probable starter against the Cardinals.

"St. Louis should be favored," said Landry when told the oddsmakers favor Dallas. "until somebody proves they are not the champion."

Landry said he was encouraged by Dallas running performance against Atlanta after two dismal games on the ground.

"We will use a lot more backs against St. Louis because of the short week," said Landry. Dallas with a 9-2 record leads St. Louis by a full game.

Kramer Heads Coaches' All-American Grid Team

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—Tom Kramer of Rice, the nation's leading passer, and three premier running backs were named today to the 1976 All-America Team selected by the 2,100 members of the American Football Coaches Association.

Pittsburgh's Tony Dorsett, who led the balloting, Ricky Bell of Southern Cal and Michigan fullback Rob Lytle were in the offensive backfield along with Kramer. Dorsett, college football's all-time leading rusher and holder of numerous NCAA records, and Bell were the only repeaters from last year's team.

For the first time in six years, a kicker was added to the squad. Arkansas' Steve Little, who boomed a 61-yard field goal against Tulsa this year, is the first kicker named since Bill McClard, also, of Arkansas, was named to the 1970 squad.

Three colleges had two players each on the team. Notre Dame was represented by right end Ken MacAfee and defensive end Ross Browner, Ohio State was represented by offensive guard Chris Ward and defensive end Bob Brudzinski, and Pitt was honored with the selection of Dorsett and middle guard Al Romano.

MacAfee, Ward, Little and Browner are all juniors, while the remaining members of the squad are seniors.

Also named to the offensive team were split end Larry Seivers of Tennessee, tackles Warren Bryant of Kentucky and Mike Vaughn of Oklahoma, guard Joel Parrish of Georgia and center Derrel Gofourth of Oklahoma State.

Joining Brudzinski, Browner and Romano on the defensive team were tackles Joe Campbell of Maryland and Wilson Whitley of Houston, linebackers Bob Jackson of Texas A&M and Thomas Howard of Texas Tech, and defensive backs Bill Armstrong of Wake Forest, Oscar Edwards of UCLA, Dave Butterfield of Nebraska and Gary Green of Baylor.

Cowboys' White Reveals Injury

By DENNE H. FREEMAN
AP Sports Writer

DALLAS (AP)—One of the Dallas Cowboys' best kept secrets surfaced Tuesday: Their punter has been hurting since training camp.

Rookie Danny White of Arizona State, the backup quarterback who was a punting sensation in the World Football League, suffered a hyper-extended knee in a scrimmage against the San Diego Chargers. The injured left knee got worse as the season progressed. Now White has difficulty pushing off on the leg and his average has dipped to 38 yards per kick, including a costly 15-yarder against Atlanta last Sunday in a 17-10 loss.

"I've never averaged under 42 yards in my life and this really bugs me," said White. "I got hurt in camp then it began to get worse the fifth or sixth week of the season.

"I tape the knee real tight for the games and it's tough to follow through. I kind of punch at the ball because it jams my knee when I come down on it."

Dallas Coach Tom Landry said it's not an ideal situation coming into the Thanksgiving Day National Conference Eastern Division showdown against St. Louis.

"It's a problem," said Landry. "We don't know if Danny needs an operation but the left leg is the power leg. It's been sore a long time. He's just been plugging along."

White said "I never had this problem before and I took a beating in the World Football League."

Another item working against White is that he has trouble coming into a game cold.

"I'm a better punter when I'm in a game," said White. "I just don't have that adrenalin flowing like I should."

Dallas has been losing approximately yards in punt exchanges with the opposition. Dallas' foes have averaged 41.2 yards per kick while White has averaged 38.5.

Morgan Gets Second Consecutive MVP Title

NEW YORK (AP)- Second baseman Joe Morgan of the World Champion Cincinnati Reds today became only the second man in National League history to win Most Valuable Player honors two consecutive seasons.

Ernie Banks, former Chicago Cubs shortstop, was named MVP in 1958 and 1959.

In the American League, consecutive winners included Jimmy Foxx, 1932-33; Hal Newhouser, 1944-45; Yogi Berra, 1954-55; Mickey Mantle, 1956-57, and Roger Maris, 1960-61.

Morgan, who won convincingly over Greg Luzinski in 1975, was an equally impressive winner over his Cincinnati teammate George Foster this year in the balloting by the Baseball Writers Association of America. The 5-foot-7, 165-pound infielder collected 19 first-place votes from the 24-man committee. The other five voters placed him second.

"It's a real honor. I think of it as being unique," Morgan said when informed of his award. "Ernie Banks was the only other guy to win it two years in a row, but he did it on a team that finished in ninth and 10th place. Nowadays, if a team finished last you wouldn't win the MVP."

"Ernie was one of a kind and I think maybe this award is the same thing."

When first-place votes Morgan did not get went to Foster, who finished second. Philadelphia's Mike Schmidt was third. The first three were the only players named on all 24 ballots.

First-place votes counted 14 points, second place nine points, third place eight points etc.

Morgan finished with a total of 311 points. Foster garnered 221 and Schmidt 179.

The Reds placed three players in the top four, as third baseman Pete Rose finished fourth with 131 points. Cincinnati's Ken Griffey was tied for eighth.

Cy Young winner Randy Jones of San Diego was the only pitcher in the top 10, finishing 10th.

Morgan finished fifth in the batting race with a .320 average. He had 111 runs batted in, 10 fewer than Foster, the league leader. Morgan also hit

LSC Regains Spring Ball

DALLAS (AP) - After a one-year ban, the Lone Star Conference has reinstated football spring training for the loop's eight universities, it was announced Tuesday.

Spring training was eliminated in 1975 as an economy measure, but a review of the decision prompted reconsideration.

LSC football teams will be allowed 12 workout days in a 21-day period. Before the ban, LSC teams were permitted 20 workouts in 36 days.

No vote was taken concerning possible admission by the NCAA. The LSC will study the matter and the membership question will be on the agenda at the spring business meetings in April in Kingsville.

The LSC is affiliated with the NAIA.

TORONTO (AP) - John F. Bassett, owner of the Birmingham Bulls of the World Hockey Association, is resting comfortably at Toronto General Hospital after undergoing back surgery.

Bassett was operated on Tuesday.

A nursing supervisor said it was not known how long Bassett would remain in the hospital.

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP) - Bobby Allison has resigned his ride in the Roger Penske-prepared Mercury in NASCAR Grand National stock car racing for the 1977 season. The Associated Press has learned.

Allison, who has won $1 million in Grand National stocks, said he had no immediate plans for the future.

Sources close to the 38-year-old Hueytown, Ala., driver said Allison told Penske he was through after a disappointing showing in last Sunday's Los Angeles Times 500 at Ontario, Calif.

LANDOVER, Md. (AP) - the Washington Capitals have called up defenseman Jean Lemieux from the Springfield Indians of the American Hockey League.

Lemieux replaced Capitals captain Yvon Labre, who suffered a dislocated shoulder in Sunday night's National Hockey League game against Colorado.

Lemieux had six goals and 14 assists for the Caps last season, after being acquired from the Atlanta Flames. But he failed to make the team this season. He has had five goals and six assists in 18 games with Springfield.

27 home runs and stole 60 bases despite an injury-plagued season.

Cincinnati players have been named the National League MVP five of the last seven years. Johnny Bench and Morgan each have won the honor twice and Rose once. Interrupting the Reds' string were Joe Torre of St. Louis in 1971 and Steve Garvey of Los Angeles in 1974.

Local Rider Sets Record

Steve Kirkpatrick of Hereford, riding a Yamaha in the 125 A class, established a new track record at "The Coarse" last Sunday to highlight motorcycle racing action.

Kirkpatrick turned the track in a time of 1:22.8 to set the record as he roared to victory in his class.

Three other local riders won first placed in their respective classes also Sunday. John Jorde rode his Kawasaki to a win in the 125 B class, Carole Adams rode a Honda to a win in the Powder Puff class, while Denny Adams won the Open class on his Yamaha.

The races Sunday were the next to last to be held this season in the series of races sponsored by the Easter Lions Club. The final day of racing will be December 19, with the action scheduled to begin at 1 p.m.

Results of race Sunday were as follows:

Micro Mini class: 1. Casey Cole, Clovis; 2. Mark Paetzold, Hereford; 3. Chad Maupin, Hereford.

100 CC: 1 Gary Tuner, Clovis; 2. James Pacheco, Clovis; 3. Randy Ferguson, Clovis.

125 B: 1. John Jorde, Hereford; 2. Gary Pacheco, Clovis; 3. Roger Hamilton, Hereford.

AN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) - Tailback Rob Lytle has been voted the University of Michigan's Most Valuable Player by members of the football team.

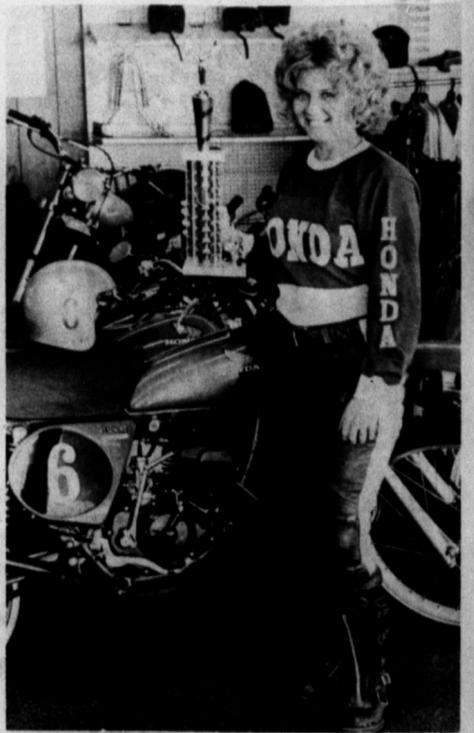

Lytle set a Michigan record 1,402 yards rushing this season, breaking the mark of 1,391 set by Ron Johnson in 1968. He also set a total career record of 3,250 yards, breaking the mark of 3,072 set by Billy Taylor in 1969-71.

The deadline for registering to play in the YMCA sponsored Floor Hockey League is Friday, November 26 at 5 p.m., Y director Claude Huard has announced.

"The league is designed for boys and girls in grades three through six, and all boys and girls, regardless of athletic ability are eligible," Huard said.

Floor Hockey is similar to ice hockey, but a plastic puck is used. The Y will provide all necessary equipment except shoes for all players.

Tennis type shoes only will be allowed for play in the league.

Bowl Bound Teams To Fight It Out

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON AP Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) - This is an important week for the post-season bowls, even though they are all filled. In fact, you might call much of the remaining regular-season schedule the Bowl Bowls.

Why? Well, this weekend sends Pitt Sugar Bowl against Penn State (Gator Bowl), Southern Cal (Rose Bowl) against Notre Dame (Gator Bowl) and Oklahoma (Fiesta Bowl) against Nebraska (Orange Bowl) if it wins, (Bluebonnet) if it loses.

Obviously, the Gator Bowl could come out smelling - pardon the expression - like a rose.

Then there is Georgia (Sugar Bowl) against Georgia Tech, Houston (probably the Cotton Bowl) against Rice, Texas Tech (Cotton or Bluebonnet) against Arkansas, Texas A&M (Sun) against Texas, Oklahoma State (Tangerine) against Texas-El Paso, Alabama (Liberty) against Auburn, Florida (Sun) against Miami, Fla.

Last week's score was 37 right - including Air Force's upset of Wyoming - 22 wrong and one tie for a .627 percentage. For the season, it is 518-218-12-.704.

Penn State at Pitt: The Johnny Majors-Tennessee rumers could hurt the Panthers and the Nittany Lions could hurt them worse, but let's take a chance on...Pitt 28-24.

Notre Dame at Southern California: Ordinarily you would expect the Trojans to have a letdown after beating UCLA in last week's Rose Bowl showdown. But they have a shot at the national championship if they beat Notre Dame and then Michigan while Pitt loses to either Penn State or Georgia...

Southern Cal 24-14.

Oklahoma at Nebraska: A victory sends the Cornhuskers to the Orange Bowl, which would love to have them. A loss, however, sends Colorado and, since this has not exactly been the Orange Bowl's year, how about...Oklahoma 28-21.

Georgia Tech at Georgia: This could make Tech's season and Georgia will have to guard against a lookahead to Pitt... Georgia 26-14.

Houston at Rice: Cinderella Cougars, the home team at Rice Stadium, must overcome Tommy Kramer's passes to get to the Cotton Bowl in their Southwest Conference debut... Houston 42-31.

Texas Tech at Arkansas: Tech's bubble burst against Houston last week and the Razorbacks are the only SWC team to beat Houston. Upset Special of the Week...Arkansas 27-20.

Texas A&M at Texas: The Longhorns are faced with the very real threat of their first losing season under Darrell Royal, and wouldn't the Aggies like to be a part of that...Texas A&M 30-16.

Colgate at Rutgers: Unbeaten, untied and uninvited, that's...Rutgers 31-7.

Alabama vs. Auburn at Birmingham: Remember when this used to be on national TV? Not any more...Alabama 35-14.

Army vs. Navy at Philadelphia: This one still is on national TV, and probably always will be...Army 17-15.

New Mexico at San Diego State: Did you know one of these teams has a 9-1 record? San Diego State 20-15.

Unwed Father Sues School For Suspension From Team

LAFAYETTE, Ind. (AP)—Sixteen-year-old Robert Petrie thinks his high school was wrong to suspend him from the swimming team because he is an unwed father. So he's suing the school for $10,001.

But principal Larry L. Pinkerton says he stands by the decision. He said it was based on an Indiana High School Athletic Association rule giving schools the right to disqualify athletes whose "habits, conduct or character in or out of school are such to reflect discredit upon their school or the association."

The suit filed Monday in U.S. district court claims the one-year suspension violates Petrie's civil rights and will hurt his chances of getting a college athletic scholarship. Petrie said such a scholarship would be worth more than $10,000.

Besides damages, Petrie is seeking a temporary restraining order and a permanent order to force Twin Lakes High School in Monticello to allow him to compete when the team opens its season Saturday.

According to the suit, the youth's mother, Mary Campbell of rural Burnettsville, received a letter Oct. 7 from the high school swimming coach saying her son had been suspended from competition because his child was born out of wedlock.

The suit alleged that Supt.

Robert Hanni and principal Pinkerton acknowledged that Petrie would not have been suspended had he married the child's mother.

But Hanni said "that statement wasn't made by me. That is an assumption made by the plaintiff's attorney."

Petrie and his girl friend, also 16, placed their three-month-old child up for adoption after deciding that their youth made marriage inadvisable, the suit said.

Pinkerton said the school planned to "stay with the policy until someone tells us otherwise." He said that aside from the suspension, "there's been no discrimination, no harassment" against Petrie.

Meanwhile, Petrie has continued to practice with the swim team and his coach says he is good enough to compete, the suit said.

Businessmen Try For Control After South Texas Bank Closes

RIO GRANDE CITY, (AP)—A group of local businessmen said it was trying to obtain control of the beleaguered First State Bank & Trust Co. which was closed Monday by the State Banking Commission.

Pete Diaz, owner of a Valley supermarket chain, said Tuesday he and nine other residents were attempting to purchase the only bank in Starr County.

"I feel the community should own the bank," said Diaz. "I don't think the people here will trust any outsiders anymore."

The State Banking Commission now controls the banks, previously owned by South Texas rancher-banker Clinton Manges.

Diaz said his lawyers were working out details of the bank purchase with representatives of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. FDIC and state banking officials. He said they hoped to reopen the bank "sometime next week."

Diaz also acknowledged competition from what he termed "other outside groups" which are also trying to purchase the bank.

"We feel that no one man in our group should have controlling interest in this bank," he said.

Manges, based in Duval County, owned 96 per cent of the Rio Grande City Bank stock.

Diaz said a purchase price had not been set by banking officials. He did say, however, the FDIC had recommended a minimum working capital of $2.5 million.

Diaz said he and his group had met with Rio Grande City merchants and Starr County ranchers late Monday night and said they supported his plans for obtaining the bank.

"The people of Starr County are desperate," said Diaz.

"They don't know what to do. People need gas, groceries and money to pay bills. Right now, all of their money is tied up in this bank and they can't touch it."

FDIC officials and state bank examiners continued meeting behind locked doors at the bank Tuesday, offering no comment as to when depositors would expect access to their accounts.

"Normally it takes three or four days before the FDIC can start paying depositors," said Deputy State Bank Commissioner Daniel A. Flynn of Austin.

Coalition Recommends $900 Million School Plan

AUSTIN (AP)—A coalition of seven associations of school officials Tuesday recommended a $900 million two-year school finance plan that would give teachers a 20 per cent raise and reduce mandatory local expenditures.

"This is a child-centered education bill," said Supt. Nolan Estes of the Dallas Independent School District, legislative chairman of the coalition, called the Texas School Administrators Council.

The council's proposal will give the legislature still another alternative to Gov. Dolph Briscoe's $850 million plan, which includes no raises for school teachers. The Texas State Teachers Association is expected to lay out a plan next week and the special House Committee on alternative sources of school funds has proposed full state funding of the Foundation School Program.

Key recommendations of the council are:

-Raise the state's share of the foundation program from 75 to 85 per cent, thereby cutting the total local share from $560 million to $396 million a year.

-Local shares would be based on market values of taxable property, as established by the 1977 legislature.

-This should result in three-fourths of Texas districts receiving aid.

-Continuation of the $1.50 per $100 limit on local property taxes, instead of Briscoe's $1 per $100 proposed limit.

-Such a position protects property owners... while providing local districts with the option to enrich local educational programs," the council said.

-Increase equalization funds from $100 million to $150 million a year for districts with high tax effort but low revenue due to impoverished tax bases.

-Full state funding for either half-day or full-day kindergarten.

-Increase salaries for beginning teachers from $8,000 to $8,500 next fall, raising the floor by $500 steps until it reaches $10,000 in the 1980-81 school year. Average teacher salary during the 1979-80 school year would be more than $12,000.

-Full state funding for driver education.

-Compensatory education funds $40 per educationally disadvantaged child—would be

Market Overstuffed With Turkey Birds

LANCASTER, Calif. (AP)—Folks who talk turkey here say they've produced so many of the big birds this year that the market is overstuffed and consumers have them by the neck.

"We have the largest crop in history in the United States," California Turkey Industry Board spokesman Henry Turner said Monday. "There's only one thing to do—we're going to have to eat them up."

The birds are selling for an average of 10 cents a pound less than last year, Turner reported. He said turkey growers underestimated the availability and low price of other kinds of meat, especially beef.

The slaughter is in full swing at Lancaster Farms Inc., where Victory Rykebosch, one of the world's largest turkey growers produces two million birds a year.

Rykebosch said even though distributed according to need. Funds now may be spent only on children in federally recognized disadvantaged schools.

the current crop is 11 per cent larger than last year and prices are down, "We've got to slaughter them all. It costs too much to keep them alive," he said.

Turner said one option for processors is the expanding market for "turkey hot dogs, turkey salami and turkey ham" found previously only in institutions like prisons and schools but now increasingly available in supermarkets.

Even the feathers have a use Turner said.

"They grind them up and ship them to Japan and the Orient for cattle feed. They're very rich in protein, you know." Feathers also make badminton shuttlecocks and pillows, he said.

Appeals Court Refuses Stay Of Executions

AUSTIN (AP)- The Texas Court of Criminal Appeals refused Tuesday to stay the Dec. 10 executions of Robert White and James Livingston, who could become the first persons to die in the state's electric chair since 1964.

The men were convicted several months ago of the shooting death of Preston Broyles, 73, a grocery store attendant, on May 10, 1974. They were also charged with the shooting deaths of Billy St. John and Gary Coker, both 18, during the $60 robbery.

White has said he wants to die before a national television audience.

White and Livingston are the third and fourth men to have execution dates set since the Texas death penalty law was ruled constitutional earlier this year.

There are 48 men on death row.

DA Calls For Commendation Of Hunter For Attempting To Save State Trooper's Life

RANKIN, Tex. (AP)- The district attorney of Upton County said Tuesday the man who shot and killed a gunman who had just slain a highway patrolman should be "commended" for his quick action and added he has no intention of filing charges against him.

"He was trying to prevent a capital murder offense," Dist. Atty. Aubrey Edwards said in a telephone interview. "A split second earlier he might have saved the patrolman's life."

Edwards declined to identify the man, saying only he was a hunter from San Angelo who was returning with his 20-year-old son from a New Mexico hunting trip.

The dead gunman was also unidentified. Edwards said he carried no identification "and all we know about him is that the pickup truck he was driving was stolen in San Francisco Friday."

The roadside slayings occurred Sunday in a flurry of gunfire near this West Texas town on U.S. 67.

Edwards led a group of county and area officials at the funeral Tuesday afternoon in McCamey for the dead patrolman, Carles Sammy Long, 39.

The shootings, according to authorities, occurred when officer Long stopped the pickup truck after a high-speed chase.

The hunter told Edwards the pickup truck had passed him several times for the past 200 miles.

He added saw the officer go after the man and stop him. The hunter said he saw the driver stand over the officer and shoot him several times.

The hunter then took out a hunting rifle and fired from about 150 yards away.

The gunman, shot once, died shortly after reaching a hospital.

"The man ought to be commended for what he did," Edwards said referring to the hunter. I have no intention of filing any charges against him. If a grand jury is convened I will recommend that he be no-billed.

This was justifiable homicide." The next Upton County grand jury is scheduled to convene in February.

"If you follow the facts, you will see that this man (the hunter) observed an offense being committed. He tried to prevent it. It took quick reflexes, a quick action." Edwards said he talked to the hunter "about two hours" after the shooting.

"As any man would be, he was still very apprehensive about what had happened. He said he only thought about saving the trooper's life."

First Black Named To Employment Commission

AUSTIN (AP)- A black lawyer was sworn in Tuesday as chairman of the Texas Employment Commission, the first member of his race ever to serve on the commission.

Nolan Felton Ward, 31, took the oath of office seven hours after Gov. Dolph Briscoe appointed him to the three-man commission and named him chairman.

Ward replaces Harold Dudley, whose term expired Sunday. Ward's term extends to Nov. 21, 1981.

Blacks have the highest unemployment ratio of any racial or ethnic group in Texas 8.7 per cent, compared with 5.4 per cent for the state as a whole, according to September statistics compiled by the TEC.

"I, of course, have never had trouble getting employment. But I worked for the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission in Austin, Dallas and Houston, and just being black does give you a lot of input into that unemployment and underemployment situation," Ward said.

He said he wanted to find out what remedies are available to the TEC and "if there are not any, then start looking at ways to" reduced joblessness among blacks.

"I don't plan on just being the black representative on the board. As the people's representative, I plan to be just that," Ward said.

Until Tuesday, Ward was a member of Briscoe's legal staff. Briscoe called him "dedicated and capable man...an outstanding lawyer."

Ward received bachelor's and master's degrees from Prairie View A&M and a law degree from the University of Texas in 1973.

He was editor of the school newspaper at Prairie View and taught in the Waller Independent School District from 1967 to 1969.

He served with the U.S. Equal Employment Opportunity Commission from 1969 to 1972 and has been a member of the staffs of Rep. Anthony Hall, D-Houston, and Harris County Judge Bill Elliott.

Ward and his wife, Hazel, have a daughter and are Episcopalians.

CURE Spokesman Warns Against Backward Step

AUSTIN (AP)- Oral confessions, mandatory sentencing and state appeals in criminal cases would be "a backwards step" in Texas law, the director of Citizens United for Rehabilitation of Errants (CURE) said Tuesday.

Charles Sullivar, of Austin testified before members of the Special House Task Force on Crime and its Control.

A meeting of the full task force was postponed until next Tuesday because a quorum could not be mustered. Chairman Joe Spurlock, D-Fort Worth, had hoped to take action on final recommendations for new state laws.

Among proposals made to the commission have been to allow the state to appeal decisions of any in criminal cases, to use oral mandatory prison sentences for certain crimes.

"These three proposals are over-reactions and especially oral confessions have unlimited potential for abuse," Sullivan said.

He urged repeal of laws against "moral crimes" and urged legislation against white collar crime.

Governor Appoints TEC Head

AUSTIN (AP)- Gov. Dolph Briscoe Tuesday appointed Nolan Felton Ward, a black member of his legal staff, as chairman of the Texas Employment Commission, effective at once.

Ward is the first black ever appointed to the commission. He replaces Harold Dudley, whose term expired Sunday. Ward's term extends to Nov. 21, 1981.

"Nolan Ward is a dedicated and capable man, and I am delighted he has accepted the appointment. He is an outstanding lawyer and has excellent qualifications for this position of responsibility. I have the utmost confidence he will meet his challenge in a superior manner," Briscoe said.

Ward, 31, received bachelor's and master's degrees from Prairie View A&M and his law degree from the University of Texas in 1973.

He was editor of the school newspaper at Prairie View and a classroom instructor at Waller Independent School District from 1967 to 1969.

He served with the U.S. Equal Employment Opportunity Commission from 1969 to 1972 and has been a member of the staff of Rep. Anthony Hall, D-Houston, and Harris County Judge Bill Elliott.
