Some Bills Higher

New Phone Rates Now Effective Here

By BOBBY TEMPLETON
Brand News Editor

While mainline customers with regular style phones will be paying less for monthly service from the southwestern

Bell Telephone Company, Hereford residents with the special package telephones will be experiencing a significant increase in rates as a result of the recent Texas Public Utilities Commission (PUC) decision to set new phone rates.

All new charges except those relating Directory Assistance calls went into effect Tuesday, Dec. 21 based on the Dec. 14 ruling on a request from Bell to increase revenue by $298 million. Actually, the PUC authorized the company to increase its total revenue by only $57.8 million which means customers will be generally paying higher rates for some services offered cheaper previously but lower rates on some categories of phone use.

MIKE PATRICK, Hereford-Canyon Bell manager, said this morning that previous publicity may unjustly implant the thought that lower monthly bills will result to local residents. However, those with the special package of three trimline phones (which was cheaper than two regular phones under old rates) will now pay more for installation and monthly bills.

He figures that the new installation charge would cost $42 and the base monthly bill would run $13.65. Before, these were $8 and $10.75 respectively. Of course this does not include long distance calls.

Hereford is the only Texas city now offering the three phone package and therefore means a good number of local residents will pay the higher rate.

The charges for mainline phone use will now be a $5 a month for one-party residences and $10.50 for one-party businesses. Previously, they were $5.75 and $11 respectively.

ALSO INCLUDED in the new rates are: a plan to charge for emergency calls to Directory Assistance; a new method of charging for installation, moves and changes of telephone service; a statewide 20-cent rate for coin telephone calls; a uniform extension telephone rate; and higher charges on most intrastate long distance calls must result in the higher revenue for Bell.

Under the Directory Assistance Charging Plan, customers will pay 20 cents for each call to Directory Assistance—after the first 10 calls per month. Visually or physically handicapped customers will be exempt from the charge, as will calls from coin telephones and hospitals.

The Directory Assistance charging plan, however, does not go into effect until Jan. 7, 1977. (See related story in this issue).

In the Dec. 14 order on new rates for Southwestern Bell, the PUC established 10 rate bands, with uniform monthly charges for residential and business telephones within each band.

Local monthly rates established by the Commission range from $4.75 for one party residence service in the smallest Southwestern Bell location to $8 in the largest city served by the company. Monthly one party business rates will range from $9.75 in the smallest location to $25 in the largest.

Hereford falls into the number 2 band which is for 3,201 - 8,000 access arrangement range. This means about the total amount of telephone numbers in service within the local calling area.

CHARGES FOR MOVING, rearranging and installing telephones will be based on a five-element charging plan. The maximum charge for installation of one new residential telephone under the plan would be $30; the maximum charge for the installation of one new business phone would be $48.25.

Changes in Long Distance rates include:

--Lower rates for the initial minutes on many customer-dialed Long Distance calls.

--A reduced number of applicable rate steps from 18-10.

--Increased rates for additional minutes on some Long Distance calls.

THE MOST NOTABLE REDUCTIONS are on the initial minute rates for short distance toll calls, those from 1-51 miles, and on intrastate toll calls of more than 133 miles.

Charges are also reduced for additional minutes on intrastate Long Distance calls of less than 22 miles.

The reductions will allow some Texas customers to save money, since 25 percent of all Texas intrastate Long Distance calls last less than one minute, and about two thirds of all intrastate Long Distance calls will experience reduced initial minute rates.

Charges are increased for the initial three-minute period for intrastate operator-handled Long Distance calls, reflecting the greater expense to the company of providing this service, and for additional minutes on all intrastate Long Distance calls of more than 28 miles.

Early Visit

Santa Claus made a visit to the Hereford Jaycees sponsored free shopping spree for underprivileged children in this area. Charlie Ruiz, Santa, was chairman of the annual project which allows the children to shop in local stores for Christmas gifts. This young buyer made her requests to Santa while stores in Sugarland Mall were being visited.

Egypt, Syria Engaged Again

CAIRO (AP)—Two months ago Egypt and Syria weren't speaking. Now they're engaged again.

Egyptian Foreign Minister Ismail Fahmy announced Tuesday that President Anwar Sadat of Egypt and Syrian President Hafez Assad agreed in talks here Sunday and Monday to make another attempt at a political union of Israel's two chief adversaries.

The late Gamal Abdel Nasser organized the first Egyptian-Syrian union in 1958 and called it the United Arab Republic. The Syrians pulled out three years later because they were fed up with Nasser's domination. A 1972 agreement to join Egypt, Syria and Libya into a Federation of Arab Republics was never implemented.

Sinking Efforts Hampered

NANTUCKET, Mass. (AP)—Thrasing winter seas and 50-mile-per-hour winds today threatened Coast Guard efforts to sink the front half of a Liberian oil tanker that broke apart, unleashing one of history's worst oil spills.

Fifteen-foot waves crashed over the broken Argo Merchant, carrying oil into the rich Georges Bank commercial fishing grounds since the tanker split Tuesday morning.

Massachusetts waited for word from officials in Washington, D.C., on the state's request for federal aid for businessmen whose livelihoods might be damaged by the spreading oil.

Conviction Appeals Decided

PATERSON, N.J. (AP)—Attorneys say they'll appeal the second murder convictions of former middleweight boxer Rubin "Hurricane" Carter and John Artis, who face mandatory life prison sentences next Feb. 2.

Carter, 39, and Artis, 30, had their bail revoked and were sent to Passaic County Jail after a jury of eight men and four women returned the guilty verdicts Tuesday night.

Twenty-two sheriff's officers ringed the courtroom as forewomen Helen LaRocco announced in a barely audible voice that the jury had reached a decision after just over nine hours of deliberations.

Deepwater Port Still Planned

HOUSTON (AP)—A Seadock, Inc. spokesman says restrictions imposed on the construction of a deepwater port 26 miles off the coast of Freeport has not dampened the company's enthusiasm for the project.

However, Dave Coslett said there "concerns in several areas affecting the financing of the project and areas where many people, at first glance anyway, feel the license represents some over-regulation."

Airline Mechanic Attempts Marathon Hijack Of Jetliner

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A disgruntled airline mechanic surrendered today after taking two persons hostage and commandeering a DC8 jetliner almost 15 hours before, authorities said.

Palm J. Hinnant, 37, was quietly removed from the plane shortly after 6:30 a.m., bringing to an end the tense drama that began Tuesday afternoon.

One of the hostages, Richard Funk, was rushed to Peninsula Hospital. The 38-year-old United Airlines shop manager earlier told authorities over the airplane radio that Hinnant had slashed him several times after forcing the two hostages to board the empty airliner.

The other hostage, United Airlines mechanic Jerry Dusenberry, 42, was released unharmed by Hinnant about an hour earlier after two of the hijacker's friends boarded the aircraft.

"Everybody's coming off and we got the gun," Lincoln Jones, one of Hinnant's friends, told authorities shortly before the disturbed hijacker surrendered.

"Please give us some kind of help, any kind of help," Funk pleaded while officials discussed the demand for the ground unit.

His fellow captive, mechanic Jerry Dusenberry, then took the microphone to add: "Get the damn thing started out here. You're going to get this man cut up worse and worse."

Without being specific, Hinnant indicated at one point that he was displeased by United. "There was a time I was quite faithful to United. But now, I'm sort of striking back at United Airlines in a way," he said.

The drama began at 4:20 p.m., PST, when Hinnant, a divorced father of two, forced his captives aboard the empty aircraft at gunpoint, according to officials, and began issuing a series of demands, including fuel, food, clothing, brandy, and the flight crew.

Hinnant, said to be on sick leave from United since April 1975, quickly swapped Hector Spencer, a United mechanic, for Jerry Dusenberry, 42, another mechanic, because Spencer was unable to operate the plane's radio. The second hostage was 38-year-old United shop manager Richard Funk, a father of three.

"Palm is going to take action very damn shortly," Funk warned as the siege entered its 10th hour at the foggy airport south of the city. He had issued similar

Charges For Directory Assistance Go Into Effect On January 7

The new rates for Directory Assistance calls goes into effect Jan. 7, 1977 according to Mike Patrick, Hereford-Canyon Bell Telephone manager. The change is based on the Texas Public Utilities Commission (PUC) ruling.

Under the plan, customers will be charged 20 cents for each call to Directory Assistance after the first 10 calls each month. Customers will not be charged for Directory Assistance calls for long distance numbers in their Home Area Code if there is a corresponding long distance call in the same billing period, according to Patrick.

Directory Assistance service as other operator services was switched last week from Hereford to Amarillo as the result of a Bell economy move to improve efficiency. The last operators here transferred Saturday.

Customers now dial or punch out 1 plus 411 for assistance.

"I'm sure it will take people awhile before they get used to paying the 20 cents," Patrick said. "Our operators used to tell how much was being put in by the tone but they will now probably have to ask customers to put in two dimes before making calls."

Patrick said the Directory Assistance calls charge was designed to cut down on the number of them. "It's cost reduction if fewer persons in the future make less calls."

Customers with visual or physical handicaps will be exempt from the charging plan with certification from a physician, or a recognized state agency. Application for the exemption should be made to Southwestern Bell through a coupon which is being published in several telephone company advertisements this month. The coupon is also included in a statement with current telephone bills.

According to Patrick, the company will make every effort to expedite handling of exemption requests. In the meantime, should a customer be charged for excessive calls, and subsequently qualify for a handicapped exemption, the company will make an adjustment for the charges on a future bill.

After certification, exempt customers will receive a credit card for use in making Directory Assistance calls. Patrick added.

Also exempt from the charging plan are calls placed from coin telephones and from hospitals.

According to Patrick, a maximum of two numbers may be requested during each call to Directory Assistance.

Directory Assistance charging plans are already in effect in several other states, and in the Texas cities of Dallas, Fort Worth, El Paso and Wichita Falls. While not quite as liberal in the number of calls allowed as the new Texas plan, all

CLEAR

Daley Possessed Wide Range Of Characteristics While In Office

By MIKE ROBINSON
Associated Press Writer
CHICAGO (AP)—A tough, shrewd man and a sentimental man who burst into tears in public. An angry man and a loyal man, devoted to the Democratic party even when it rejected him. A family man. A stern, moralistic man. At times a clown, at times a brilliant political leader.

Richard Joseph Daley was all these, and for a whole generation of Chicagoans, he was the only mayor they could remember.

Daley, 74, had held the office for 22 years—longer than anyone else—when he died Monday in his doctor's office of a heart attack.

Daley was a booster for a great city that sometimes behaved like the biggest small town in America. When the White Sox won the pennant in 1959, Daley turned on the air raid sirens. One St. Patrick's Day, he celebrated by pouring thousands of gallons of green dye into the Chicago River.

He was a man who would not tolerate dissent—a squat, florid man who shook his fist angrily at Connecticut Sen. Abraham Ribicoff from the floor of the 1968 Democratic National Convention while his policemen pounded the heads of antiwar demonstrators in Grant Park across from the Conrad Hilton Hotel.

Nor did he tolerate failure easily. His lips pursed disapprovingly, his eyeglasses glaring, he decided for the most part who would live and who would die politically in Illinois for 20 years. He called his committeemen into party headquarters on the day after elections and made them account for the turnout in their wards. Some emerged white and shaking, stripped of the patronage that gave them their identity.

Boss Daley nominated rogues to the legislature. Protected thieves in the City Council. A federal judge, former Gov. Otto Kerner, whose political career was made by Daley, was convicted of bribery. The mayor's own press secretary was convicted in a shakedown scheme.

Daley was America's pre-eminent law-and-order mayor. When a riot erupted in the city's sprawling black ghetto in the 1960s, Daley told the city's police superintendent "to issue an order to police to shoot to maim or cripple anyone looting any stores in our city."

Daley was a devout Catholic and a great family man. Born the son of a sheet metal worker from County Wexford, Ireland, he grew up in Bridgeport on the Southwest Side. "back o' the yards," where the stink of the slaughter of animals would sometimes drift through the neighborhood.

When he married, it was to a Bridgeport girl he had known all his life, Eleanor Guilfoyle, whom he always called "Sis." They lived in a bungalow a block from his birthplace, although they also had a luxurious summer estate in Michigan. They had seven children, all of them baptized, like Daley, in the Church of the Nativity of Our Lord, Bridgeport. One of them—Richard M. Daley—now sits in the state Senate seat his father once held.

Faster Speed Limit

Means Higher Insurance

AUSTIN (AP)—Seventy miles per hour may sound like the good old days to many Texans.

But before nostalgia overwhelms them, they should think about their car insurance rates, says an insurance industry spokesman.

A bill placing the top speed limit where it was before January 1974 will be introduced in the 1977 legislature.

"It has been proven time and time again that auto accidents have been reduced as a result of the 55 m.p.h. speed limit," said Jerry Johns, president of the Southwestern Insurance Information Service.

He credited the 55 m.p.h.

limit with the 5 per cent reduction this year in traffic deaths on state highways.

"It has been clearly established that the faster people drive the more severe the accidents and the more frequently they occur... When this happens, insurance companies will have no alternative other than to seek additional rate hikes," Johns said.

In 1487 the Scottish parliament passed a law prohibiting both golf and football, which were interfering with the militarily necessary practice of archery.

Rule-of-Thumb On House Expense No Longer Applies In Hereford

For Deaf Smith County families who are in the market for new homes, how much can they afford to spend for them, taking into consideration both purchase price and carrying costs?

As recently as two years ago, the American Bankers Association was adhering to the old rule-of-thumb, that the price should not be more than 2½ times yearly income.

Today, that limitation seems to be no longer realistic. Because of the small amount of construction in the last few years there is not enough housing available to meet the pent-up demand.

As a result, the price of homes has been zooming. The Federal Home Loan Bank Board reports that the average price of new homes bought with conventional mortgages is now $50,500 nationally, or 34 per cent more than three years ago. It ranges above and below that price in various parts of the country.

For a large part of the population, especially young couples who are at the home-buying stage, that is too big a load for them to handle.

In Deaf Smith County, however, where incomes have been on the rise, many families are in position to spend more for homes than they could in previous years.

As it works out, the $50,500 costs represents, for local families with average incomes, close to 3.6 times their annual net earnings. In many other communities, where incomes are lower, the investment would be greater than this, in terms of years of income.

In general, throughout the West South Central States, the cost would call for 3.9 years of income.

More surprising, to some housing experts, is the rapid rise in the cost of used homes. They are at the record high, nationally, of $43,300.

Added to the initial investment are the taxes, mortgage payments and maintenance costs that have to be met. They average 29 per cent of take-home pay, according to the National Association of Home Builders. The result is that more and more people are being priced out of the market.

Nevertheless, most Americans are committed to the goal of home ownership. In Deaf Smith County no less than 63.6 per cent of the dwellings are now owned by their occupants, the latest figures show.

Hereford State Gives Promotion

Mrs. Madeline Rosson was recently promoted at Hereford State bank from a floating teller-clerk to assistant cashier according to banking officials.

In announcing the promotion this week, Harlan VanderZee, bank president, and Jeff Carillo, vice president, expressed pleasure in being able to award the promotion to Mrs. Rosson. "She is an integral part of our banking team," VanderZee said.

The promotion comes after seven years of service to the institution in almost every capacity the bank has to offer. She previously worked at the First State Bank in Morton from 1964-69.

She is married to Tommy Rosson, a Hereford High School teacher. They live at 608 Ave. F with their one daughter, Daphne, 8.

Mrs. Rosson is involved in the local Blue Bird organization and is a member of the First Baptist Church of Hereford. She graduated from Sudan, Tex., High School and attended Wayland Baptist College in Plainview.

Romantic Comedy Billed By Theatre

"Play It Again, Sam"--a wistful, romantic comedy by Woody Allen--is now on stage at Country Squire Dinner Theatre and will continue to run Tuesday through Saturday evenings at Amarillo's Hilton Inn, 1-40 at Lakeside, until mid-January. Final performance is set for January 15.

"A show that makes you glad all over," wrote one dramatic critic about "Play It Again, Sam."

The fun and frolic of the comedy hinges on a homely hero's great admiration for a certain Humphrey Bogart. He wishes for a touch of Bogart technique. To his rescue comes the great one, Bogey himself--who brings with him a bevy of beauties. But even then-- the hero has his problems.

"Play It Again, Sam" is directed by Larry Randolph, a playwright as well as an actor, designer and director. Included in the cast are six widely-experienced performers-- Joe Barone, Kent Hageman, Dana Scott Galloway, Toni Cobb, Rebecca Galloway and Rosemary Parks.

Buffet food service is available 6:30-8 p.m., followed by pre-show music and merriment by the Country Rouges. Show time for "Play It Again, Sam" is 8:30 p.m.

Prices are $8.50 Tuesday through Thursday; $9.50 Friday and Saturday. Country Squire Dinner Theatre reservations are advised since seating is limited.

Senior Citizens Bus Tour Tonight

Local senior citizens are invited to tour Christmas decorations throughout the city tonight on a bus being provided by the Chamber of Commerce Women's Division.

Highlights on the tour will be the winning residences in the Christmas Home Lighting Contest, also sponsored by the Women's Division. There will be no charge to take the tour, which will last approximately an hour.

All senior citizens are welcome and are asked to assemble at the Chamber office at 6:45 p.m. tonight. The bus will depart at 7 o'clock.

Those individuals needing transportation to the Chamber can obtain a ride by calling the Senior Citizens headquarters, 364-5681.

Grady Cites Example Of Girlstown Needs

An appeal for more contributions to the Girlstown Coat & Shoe Fund was made today by Nolan Grady of Hereford, district chairman of the annual Christmas project.

The district committee authorized an emergency expenditure this week for two girls who are not yet residents of Girlstown. An interested citizen took the girls--ages 4 and 9--to Girlstown Tuesday under the following circumstances:

A mother and her two daughters lived in a mobile home in an area town. She has been ill recently and unable to work; her husband is in prison. Last Sunday night the mobile home caught fire and was almost destroyed. After spending the night with a neighbor, the family returned to the mobile home Monday morning to find that almost everything that wasn't burned had been stolen over the night.

The girls were taken to Girlstown to apply for admittance. They had no shoes--the mother had put several pair of socks on them and tied a string around the tops. Their clothes were ragged, but clean. The mother wants to place them in Girlstown for at least six months, hoping to regain her health and find a job that will provide for her family. The girls were placed in a private home until Girlstown can obtain legal custody.

This is just one example of the help provided by contributions to the annual Girlstown project. Checks can be made to the Girlstown Christmas Fund and mailed to Box 414, Hereford, TX. 79045.

Ann Landers Home Disrupted

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Our daughter Sheila is 18 years old. Her steady boyfriend is 17. They've been dating since January, 1976 and plan on getting married when Earl turns 18.

The situation is this: Earl left home four months ago after an argument with his father. We took him in because he had no other place that was decent. He's been sleeping on our couch in the living room.

Since Earl quit his job, he spends all his time watching TV. Sheila doesn't work either so they both do nothing. (Incidentally, she has colitis and finds it hard to hold a job but she plans on entering college in February.)

Earl needs two more years of high school before he graduates, and he says he isn't going back.

He feels that because Sheila is 18, she should decide for herself whether or not to have pre-marital sex. I'm sure he is pressuring her and even though she has sent for your booklet, "Ten Ways To Cool It," HE claims you're a square old bat and says the booklet is lousy.

Please comment on this whole mind-boggling situation. It's too much for me.-- Sheila's Mother
DEAR MOTHER: Sorry, dear, I couldn't begin to respond to such a multi-faceted mess in one column.

(A) You have an unemployed high-school dropout sleeping on your couch, pressuring your daughter to have sex. (B) The girl has colitis, can't hold a job but wants to go to college. (C) The boys thinks my booklet is lousy.

In my opinion, that boy has turned your home into a squirrel cage. I recommend counseling for the whole family. Good night, Mary Hartman.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: One might think our readership is exclusively women, but I assure you very few men skip your feature in the newspaper. So-I wonder if you would do us golfers a big, big favor and print this letter.

Every foursome has one member who takes much too long preparing to make his shot. The bad part of this is that he or she holds up the game. If you're a good sport, you let the foursome behind you play through.

This makes the other three players mad and it affects their game. You can't call attention to a player's pokiness because, although old buddies often accuse each other jokingly of heinous crimes, they never say anything critical that could be taken seriously.

Ann, if you print this letter, thousands of slow golfers will suspect this complaint was registered by one of their foursome but millions of golfers throughout the land will bless your name.-- Big Handicap

DEAR HANDI: Here's your letter and I'll never tell where it came from-- so help, Bobby Jones-- and if THAT doesn't date me, nothing will!

DEAR ANN: It seems to me, in view of the muggings and rapes that go on inside and outside of apartment buildings these days, women should be told to stop trekking to the basement laundry rooms in their nightgowns.

I work in a fairly respectable high-rise and almost every time I get on the service elevator some broad-beamed dolly is in there wearing a sheer, above-the-knee negligee (not a cotton house coat), toting her laundry basket.

Sometimes I think these women are looking for trouble. What do you think?-- Yonkers

DEAR YONK: Could be. In any event, be a good neighbor and tell them what you told me. Some of those dollys may just be stupid.

Are you, or is someone you care about messing around with drugs-- or considering it? Are all drugs bad? What about pot--in moderation? Ann Landers' new booklet, "Straight Dope on Drugs," separates the facts from the fiction. For each booklet ordered, send a dollar bill, plus a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope (24 cents postage) to Ann Landers, P.O. Box 1400, Elgin, Ill. 60120.

Holiday Made Brighter

These children would probably have had a bleak Christmas without the efforts of Hereford Jaycees, who held a Shopping Spree for underprivileged youngsters here Monday night. The tykes were given money to buy gifts for themselves or their families from a selection of items at Civic Club Center and M.E. Moses. The Jaycees expressed appreciation to all local citizens and merchants who gave contributions so that the annual shopping spree could again be held.

Only 52 per cent of eligible voters cast their ballots in the 1972 presidential election.

Santa Project In Last Days

A photographer will be stationed in Sugarland Mall this week to take color pictures of children with Santa Claus as a fund-raising project of Young Homemakers of Texas.

Co-chairman of the YHT project are Mrs. Bill Abbott and Mrs. Jim Culpepper.

The photo sessions will be from 5-8 today and tomorrow at the mall. Each color print will cost $2.50 and there is no wait for film processing. Proceeds will benefit various community concerns, including Project Christmas Card, Hereford Family Service Center and others.

Current Kennedy Investigation Claimed "A Waste of Time"

DALLAS (AP) - Robert P. Gemberling, who directed the FBI investigation of the 1963 John F. Kennedy assassination, says the current U.S. House investigation into the killing is "a waste of time and money."

Gemberling is scheduled to retire in two weeks and will embark on a series of lecture tours to try to convince people that Lee Harvey Oswald acted alone and there was no conspiracy.

The 33-year FBI veteran said in Dallas this week he is convinced that Oswald, the man the Warren Commission said fired the shots that killed President Kennedy, acted alone.

"I am so convinced and I feel that any other person, anybody with average intelligence, if he's seen as much of the investigation as I have, there is no other way he can reach any other conclusion," he said.

Gemberling said he has some qualms about the new investigation to be carried out by the House Select Committee on Assassinations, and added he sees more problems for the FBI during the investigation.

"I hope they do it completely independently," he said. "If there is to be an investigation, I hope they don't come to the bureau and say, 'what do you have on this?' because somebody searching the files may miss something. And when it comes out later, they may say 'we asked you for everything and you didn't give it to us.'"

Gemberling, who was in charge of the investigation in Dallas, says he has written 31 different reports, some of them as long as 500 pages, and hundreds of memos about different aspects of the case.

Gemberling says he intends to lecture on his conviction that there was no conspiracy involved although he is aware he will have trouble getting people to believe him because of "the way our society reacts to the FBI today."

But, he adds, "I can't believe that anybody could sit with me for long without me being able to refute a lot of things they might say. If you extract the politics out of it and you use common sense, you're gonna come up with a lot of the same answers that I did."

Gemberling admits that there were some things that should not have been done by the investigators in the Dallas bureau. He referred to a note that Oswald left in the FBI bureau in Dallas two weeks before the assassination threatening the agents.

He said Oswald's presence in the FBI office in Dallas was a rebuttal to rumors that Oswald was a paid informant.

"Do you suppose we're gonna have some guy come in threatening our agents if he is a paid informant?" he asked.

SMU ACQUIRES YANEZ WORK

DALLAS (AP) - The Meadows Museum of Southern Methodist University has acquired a painting by 16th-century Spanish artist Fernando Yanez de la Almedina. The painting of St. Sebastian is "one of the museum's most important acquisitions to date in terms of rarity and quality," said Museum Director William B. Jordan.

The work is a gift of Mr. and Mrs. Algur H. Meadows and the Meadows Foundation, Inc.

INNER CITY

DETROIT (AP) - This municipality will soon have a city within a city that is larger than many towns, villages and suburbs around the nation.

When Renaissance Center, Detroit's new $337-million waterfront complex in the downtown area here, begins full operation in early 1977, it will have up to 24,000 persons as employees, guests and diners in the four 39-story office towers, the 70-story Detroit Plaza Hotel and the three-level shopping mall.

'I'm in love with acting again'

Jack Klugman finds a great gimmick

By DAN LEWIS This was the season that Jack Klugman thought he might take it leisurely, a movie, an occasional guest shot, perhaps some summer theater.

He had enjoyed five good seasons on The Odd Couple with Tony Randall. The enormous fringe benefit was five simultaneous years on the road with Randall in Odd Couple in theaters.

He says he didn't want to do another situation comedy series, and he also wasn't interested in cops or doctors shows, either. "They're gimmicks I don't particularly care for," Klugman declared.

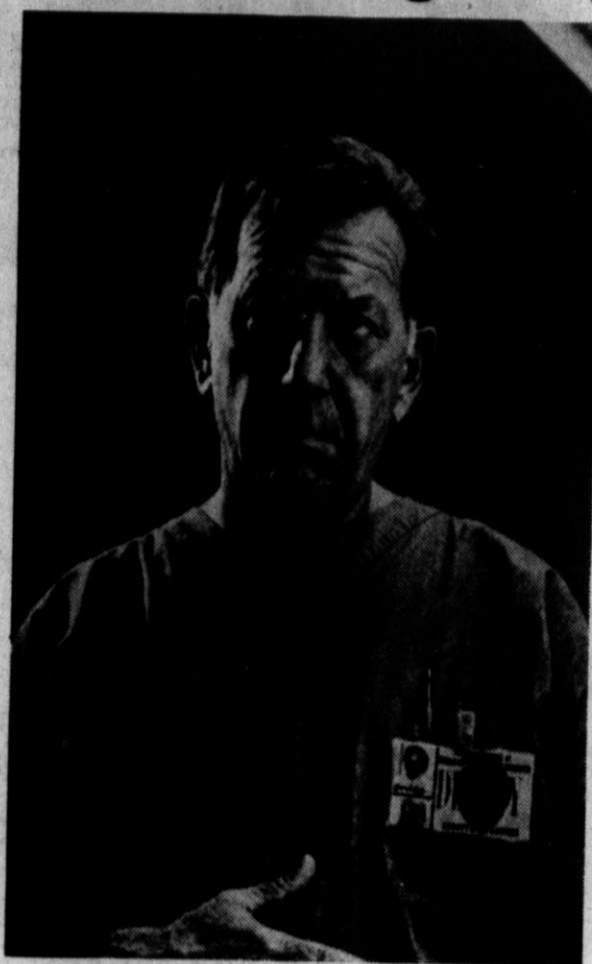

Then along came NBC with a project. The show was Quincey, and it cast Klugman as a coronor in Los Angeles.

"It was sort of a cop and doctor show. I liked this gimmick," Klugman explained. "Quincey is a medical examiner, which automatically puts him on the police department. But he also goes out and investigates. He's cheating when he does that, but that's the gimmick I like."

Quincey is very much like Jack Klugman -- according to Jack Klugman. He's not a fashion plate. He's as delicate as a blackjack, but he has compassion.

NBC scheduled the show as one of its Sunday Night Movie rotation segments. Six episodes are scheduled, and three already have been shown. There has been talk, too, based on good ratings the first two times out, to convert Quincey into a regular weekly series. That would be a tough grind for a guy who planned to take it easy this year.

But Klugman talks like a man who wouldn't mind. "I love doing this show," he said. "I have a feeling that I'm in love with acting again."

JACK KLUGMAN: "After five years of the Odd Couple -- the series and touring with Tony (Randall) -- we had a money tree but I reached the conclusion that it was time to move on."

"I find that we can make statements in this show and not get railed by the AMA (American Medical Association). And, in a sense, we are a cop show, too -- widening the appeal."

As Quincey, he lives on a yacht, has a sometimes sleep-in girlfriend, and plays tennis. "All the genteel sports," Klugman joked.

"After five years of the Odd Couple money tree -- the series and touring with Tony (Randall) -- we had a money tree but I reached the conclusion it was time to move on. I loved Odd Couple and I believe everyone got their money's worth."

"You know, stars go out with stage shows, capitalizing on their TV popularity, and so many bomb out. People come to see these stars, and come away disappointed. I don't think Tony and I disappointed audiences, either on TV or on stage."

Klugman enjoyed going on the road. It took him away from Hollywood, he confided. "I don't enjoy it here (Hollywood)."

He might have considered doing some variety, but emphasized only if he could work with Carol Burnett. "You can grow (in the career) only when you work with people who can help you grow."

Carol Burnett was in that class, Klugman said. There is a CBS special in the works that would reteam him with Randall, but any thought of a regular thing is not being considered. Although he had good years, he says, "It's in the past. It's over, and you push it too far and it becomes stale."

Odd Couple made Klugman a wealthy man and its biggest benefit was that he could afford to lose at gambling.

Klugman is a gambler. He loves the track, and he loves to go to Las Vegas. He spends the entire day at the betting parlors where he can legally wager on horses at tracks all over the country.

"I never was lucky at gambling," he admits. "I'm a lousy gambler. That's the worst combination. But I've been lucky in life -- very lucky. Until the Odd Couple, however, all my life I could never afford to lose. Now I can. That's wonderful."

He remembers his early training in theater, struggling in New York. With a hearty laugh he recalls that during those years, he once lived with Charles Bronson.

"We lived together for two and a half years in one room, without a toilet or a bathroom. He was a most private human being, and I believed he opened up more to me than to anyone else."

As Bronson's star ascended, they drifted apart. For years they didn't see each other.

"Then, a couple of years ago, I was invited to a sit-down dinner, just a social function, and Charley was there, along with 150 others. We said 'hello,' and 'how are you' and 'what's new.' And we haven't seen each other since. But I know we're still friends."

Duncan Named Deputy Sec. Of Defense

HOUSTON (AP)— The man President-elect Jimmy Carter has selected to be deputy secretary of defense is a former Air Force captain and president of the Coca-Cola Co. Charles W. Duncan Jr., 50, now is chairman of a Houston investments firm, Rotan Mosle Financial Corp. Duncan rose rapidly within the Coca-Cola organization after it acquired in 1964 the Houston-based Duncan Foods Co., which had been founded in 1918 by an uncle, Herschel M. Duncan, as Duncan Coffee Co. A chemical engineering graduate of Rice University in 1947, Duncan also took two years of post-graduate studies in management at the University of Texas in Austin. After having served as an aviation cadet in the Air Force in 1944-46, Duncan continued in the Air Force reserve until 1957. Duncan joined the Duncan Coffee Co. in 1948 and became president in 1958 after its name had been changed to Duncan Foods. After the 1964 merger, Duncan became a director of Coca-Cola, a vice president in 1965, executive vice president of Coca-Cola Export Corp. and chairman and chief executive officer of Coca-Cola Europe in 1967, executive vice president of Coca-Cola in 1970, and president in 1971. He has remained a director since resigning as a company executive in 1974. Duncan and his wife have two children. Duncan was in Atlanta, Ga., at the time Carter announced the Tuesday selection in Plains, Ga. Forty-two gallons make up one barrel of oil. This measurement standard originated in the 19th century when the wooden 50-gallon barrels used to transport oil leaked an average of eight gallons before reaching their destination.

Marquette Loses Second Straight

By KEN RAPPOPORT
AP Sports Writer

At Marquette, they are not used to getting booed. But it is happening there.

They are not used to losing two games in a row at home, either. But that has happened, too.

The sixth-ranked Warriors found themselves in that unaccustomed position after a 66-59 loss to No. 20 Minnesota Tuesday night.

The defeat, following Saturday night's 78-74 loss to Louisville, marked the first time since the 1966-67 season that Marquette lost two in a row at home. At that time, the Warriors were beaten in succession by Toledo and South Carolina.

Tuesday night, the Warriors helped beat themselves with a poor 29 per cent shooting average from the field and an unimpressive defense. Marquette's not used to that, either.

"The first half was a complete embarrassment," said Coach Al

McGuire, pointing to a 37-18 halftime deficit. "Sometimes the shots don't go in for you. But it's not so much how you do on offense. It's letting the other team score. That was our problem."

In other college basketball games, top-ranked Michigan routed Central Michigan 104-63; No. 2 Notre Dame demolished Vermont 89-48; No. 3 San Francisco trimmed Oral Roberts 86-76; No. 9 Wake Forest romped over Fairleigh Dickinson 99-63, and Nol 19 Tennessee tripped Xavier 97-73.

In tournament play, No. 12 Nevada-Las Vegas blitzed Murray State 104-77 and Oklahoma stopped Bradley 90-70 in the Rebel Roudup Tournament at Las Vegas, and Indiana whipped Miami of Ohio 76-55 in the championship game of the Indiana Classic at Bloomington, Ind.

Sparked by Mike Thompson, who scored 23 points, Minnesota opened a 24-point lead and withstood Marquette's late charge. The Warriors cut the deficit to 59-57 on a basket by Jim Boylan. But a field goal and two free throws by Osborne Lockhart in the last 1:58 clinched it for the Gophers.

Olympic gold medalist Phil Hubbard scored a career-high 26 points and collected 15 rebounds as Michigan blasted Central Michigan. Don Williams scored 20 points and Bill Paterno added 15 as Notre Dame trounced Vermont.

Winford Boynes and Rod Williams combined for 46 points, lifting San Francisco over Oral Roberts. Led by Skip Brown's 18 points, six Wake Forest players scored in double figures as the Demon Deacons defeated Fairleigh Dickinson. Bernard King's 32 points led Tennessee's victory.

Lewis Brown fired in 17 points, leading Nevada-Las Vegas past Murray State, and Clifford Johnson scored 31 as Oklahoma defeated Bradley. Kent Benson's 26 points powered Indiana past Miami of Ohio.

Speed Freak

Kevin Cardinal shows off the first place trophy he won in motocross racing last weekend in Easter. Cardinal rode his 250 Kawasaki to a new track record enroute to his top finish. (Brand Photo).

Hereford Rider Sets Track Mark

Hereford's 'Team Kawasaki' took ten trophies and three other Hereford riders grabbed some of the brass to highlight action in motocross racing sponsored by the Eastern Lions Club Sunday.

Kevin Cardinal of Hereford capped the day with a record-breaking performance enroute to the 250B class championship. Cardinal zipped around the course in 1:21.3, breaking the old mark by one-and-a-half seconds.

Totally, local riders swept to five first places, three seconds, and five thirds.

Top finishes were garnered by Don Scott, Maxi Man Class; Kenneth Hick, 125B; Roger Hamilton, Open A; Gena Welty, Powder Puff; and Cardinal.

Hereford riders finishing second were Pat Maupin, Maxi Man, Mark Paetzold, Micro Mini, and John Jorde, 125 A.

Proceeds from the racing go to charitable projects of the Easter Lions. The event Sunday was the final one of the year.

with racing to resume around the first of March next year. Patty Johnson, Hereford, was on hand to present trophies to winners Sunday.

The top three winners by class were: Maxi Man Class: Scott, 1st; Maupin, 2nd; Kelly, 3rd.

Micro Mini Class: Casey Cole, Clovis, 1st; Paetzold, 2nd; Welty, 3rd.

100CC: Gary Turner, Clovis, 1st; Cole, 2nd; Randy Ferguson, Clovis, 3rd.

125A: Don Bevers, Clovis, 1st; Jorde, 2nd.

125B: Hick, 1st; Kenny Williams, Littlefield, 2nd; Paetzold, 3rd.

250A: Randy Pritchard, Plainview, 1st; Clinton Bevers, Clovis, 2nd; Marshall Mull, Plainview, 3rd.

College All-Star Game Cancelled

CHICAGO (AP) - High costs and uncertainties about recruiting players have brought an end to the annual midsummer football game between a team of college all-stars and the champions of the National Football League.

The Chicago Tribune Charities Inc., sponsors of the game which had been played in Soldier Field since 1934, announced Tuesday that the contest was being discontinued.

"Problems which make continuation impossible have been created by uncertainties in recruiting player personnel and increasing expenses reflected in insurance costs that doubled last year alone because of high player salaries," said Robert Hunt, president of the Chicago Tribune and its Charities.

"We regret the end of a traditional sports classic which has contributed substantial assistance to the needy in Chicagoland," he added.

A spokesman for the sponsors commented, "The game simply has priced itself out of existence." He also said 26 of the 55 college players reporting to All-Star camp last year had not signed with an NFL team.

An NFL spokesman in New York said the future of the game may be discussed at a meeting in Seattle on Jan. 17.

Pittsburgh Best In Hostile Environment

By The Associated Press

The home field advantage in sports has been well publicized. But what about the "away-field" advantage?

That is what the Pittsburgh Steelers think they have in Sunday's American Football Conference playoff game against the Oakland Raiders.

"There's nothing we like better than going against a team that's biting a bit, with the crowd hollering obscene things at you," says Pittsburgh quarterback Terry Bradshaw. "Then you go down and score, win the football game and get out of there."

Coach Chuck Noll agrees with Bradshaw. "Our team reacts to the crowd noise, whether it's for or against us," noted Noll. "That kind of thing excites our football team. Our history shows it."

The most recent example, of course, is Pittsburgh's 40-14 humiliation of the Baltimore Colts in last week's American Football Conference playoff opener at Baltimore. The Steelers have won more than one National Football League game in intensely hostile territory en route to the two straight Super Bowl titles.

The Steelers could be exactly in their element, then, because the crowd in Oakland figures to be very hostile. The fans have been waiting impatiently for a Super Bowl participant ever since the world series of football began 11 years ago.

The winner of Sunday's AFC title game will advance to Super Bowl XI at Pasadena, Calif., Jan. 9 against the survivor of Sunday's National Conference playoff game between the Minnesota Vikings and Los Angeles Rams.

The Steelers, with their offensive and defensive lines playing extremely well, are slight favorites over the Raiders - despite being ridden by injuries. First-string running backs Franco Harris and Rocky Bleier were hurt in the Baltimore game and both are listed as "questionable" for Sunday's game. Another Pittsburgh regular, kicker Roy Gerela, has a groin injury.

The Raiders, who beat New England 24-21 last weekend, are in better shape physically and offer one of the most explosive passing games in the NFL behind quarterback Ken Stabler. The southpaw passer could come out throwing at the start to upset the Steeler's equilibrium.

Unlike Pittsburgh, Los Angeles and Minnesota are in relatively good shape for their game at Bloomington, Minn.

The Rams have only two minor injuries after their 14-12 decision over Dallas last weekend. Minnesota, which beat Washington 35-20 last weekend in advancing to the NFC championship game, also has two players on the injured list, but both middle linebacker Jeff Siemon and quarterback Frank Tarkenton are expected to play.

The Rams and Vikings have been the most successful teams in the NFC for several years. Yet, neither has won a Super Bowl. In the last four years, the Rams have a 44-11-1 record while Minnesota is 45-10-1. The tie occurred when the two played a 10-10 game three months ago.

The Vikings are unanimous in their agreement that the game will be a brutally physical battle, decided in the trenches.

"It's a do-or-die situation," said Minnesota tackle Alan Page. "If you don't do it, it's all over."

Faces Dump Dumas, 77-63

The Hereford Whitefaces upped their season mark to 9-5 Tuesday night as they swept to a 77-63 win over the Dumas Demons in Dumas.

Kenneth Mercer posted a personal best of 26 points as he led the visiting Herd to the win. Kelly Kitchens contributed 18 points, while David Schumacher added some more help with 10.

Season-long scoring leader James Mays managed only four points as he saw limited action. The action was the first in three contests for the speedy senior after he suffered a sprained ankle in the Amarillo Tournament.

Bret McClintock led the losers with 16 points, but it was too little to prevent the Demons from losing their 13th game against one victory.

In junior varsity action Hereford came away with a 46-42 win. The Herd JV is now 8-2 on the year.

The cagers will rest until Monday, when they will travel to Clovis to participate in the Clovis Tournament. The tournament continues through Wednesday of next week.

The JV's next action will be against Caprock when the Longhorns visit Hereford January 4.

Landry Down On Officials

DALLAS (AP) - The Dallas Cowboys have asked National Football League supervisor of officials, Art McNally, for an explanation of a crucial pass reception in Sunday's 14-12 loss to Los Angeles.

Cowboy Coach Tom Landry said "There is no doubt whatsoever" that tight end Billy Joe DuPress made a first down on a fourth and 10 pass at the Los Angeles seven-yard line with less than two minutes to play.

Landry said Tuesday game films show officials marked the ball where DuPress was driven back - not where he caught the ball and was grabbed by two Ram tacklers.

"It (the film) showed he made the first down," said Landry. "He caught the ball at the five and got hit on the six. They marked the ball where he came down which cost us a first down. They just missed it."

The ball went over on downs to Los Angeles which ran out the clock.

Landry called McNally because "I just wanted to check on their interpretation of Billy Joe's play because it was the most critical one of the game. The game had to be won by a big play and we made it on the blocked punt. Then we lose it on a controversial play even though it wasn't a touchdown.

"It would have been nice to have four shots at it from the six-yard line."

The Cowboys also claimed that Lawrence McCutcheon's 12-inch touchdown run early in the fourth period shouldn't have counted. "Every indication was he didn't score," said Landry. "When I talked to the league office they said he made a second surge. When the officials got in there they marked him for a touchdown. Neither official made a decision right away."

"I think some TV camera went at it from the side. He didn't look like he scored...our game film didn't show it."

Landry said he was not sure if McNally's interpretation of the play was correct. "I don't know if it was a touchdown or not," he said.

Royal's Resignation Due To Variety Of Reasons

By ROBERT HEARD
Associated Press Writer
AUSTIN (AP)—A lot of Monday morning quarterbacks know the real reason Darrell Royal quit.

He couldn't beat Oklahoma. Or, he hated recruiting. Or, he couldn't attract the ghetto blacks. Or, he became paranoid about spying and lie detector tests.

Or, the Wishbone was dead and he couldn't accept that. Or, his 5-5-1 season was the worst in his 20 years at Texas.

With all of these possibilities, it's hard to accept the truth: there is no real reason. A clock inside Royal told him the time had come. As surely as the instinct in a migratory bird turns the bird south at a precise hint of chill, Royal simply knew the time had come.

"That's the way I've always done things—followed gut instincts and followed hunches," he told The AP.

Royal's reputation as an outstanding administrator and meticulous planner obscures the most interesting side of him—he has always been a hunch player. Few people trust their impulses they way Royal trusts his.

The best illustration of this occurred at what has to be viewed as the supreme moment of Royal's career, when quarterback James Street stood in front of him on the sidelines with 4:47 to play in the fourth quarter of the 1969 Texas-Arkansas game.

Each team carried a 9-0 record. Texas ranked No. 1 in the nation, Arkansas No. 2. The winner would play Notre Dame in the Cotton Bowl—the first bowl game for the Irish in 45 years, since the Four Horsemen defeated Stanford and Ernie Nevers, 27-10, in the 1925 Rose Bowl.

It was Royal who had labeled the game The Big Shootout.

In the gloom of that late December afternoon in Fayetteville, Street waited for Royal to tell him what play to call on fourth down and 2½ yards to go on the Texas 43, with the Razorbacks leading, 14-8. Everyone figured he would call the still-new triple option off the Wishbone, either left or right.

If a pass, a short one to get the first down.

Royal called for a bomb to the only receiver sent down field. Street blinked and asked him to repeat it. Defensive coach Mike Campbell turned away and told his troops to get ready to go back in. The offensive linemen cursed when they heard the play.

Street threw the ball as far as he could and hit tight end Randy Peschel with a pass as perfect as a mortar round dropping down a chimney—a 44-yard gain to the Arkansas 13.

Texas went on to win, 15-14, then beat Notre Dame, 21-17, and was the unanimous selection as national champion in college football's centennial year.

"You can't always use logic or reason," Royal said after the game. "I really can't explain it. It was a hunch. Sometimes you just have to suck it up and pick a number."

What feels right in his gut, he does. Before his last game, he did two things on impulse—he had never done before: he ran out on the field at the head of the team, and he gave the hook 'em horns sign while the band played "The Eyes of Texas."

Yes, recruiting bothered him—being lied to by some recruits—and some of the other things. They got heavier every year.

"I've always said I didn't want to stay with any situation that's been good to me and I've had so many fond memories—I didn't want to stay with it and lose those fond memories and become bitter," he said.

"Whenever a little hint of that, a little trace of that, starts coming in, I think it is time for me to get out of it."

"There's no way I could say that I woke up today and said, 'Umm, boy, it tastes good. I've come to a decision and it tastes just right.' But over a steady buildup, I kept thinking about it and thinking about it, and I talked with my wife Edith about it, and I haven't second-guessed it since I did it."

Edith says Royal wanted to quit after Texas' 38-21 victory over Colorado in the Astro-Bluebonnet Bowl last year. "But I talked him out of it," she said. "He wasn't ready to retire then. He is now."

Oklahoma fans booed him in the Cotton Bowl Oct. 9. They chanted at him the phrase he used about Oklahoma coaches when he learned of the spying incident: "Sorry bastards."

It got heavier and heavier. Before the Texas Tech game Oct. 30, he said to himself, "Boy, I've done this a long time."

"I hadn't slept well and I was nervous. That wasn't new, of course. Every coach is excited and every coach is nervous, but now there wasn't the same old zing."

Losing a 31-28 thriller to Tech, with Earl Campbell playing only a quarter, made it worse.

"I don't ever remember losing a ball game where I could sleep for two or three days," he said.

"When you wake up at night hot as a match and you hurt... you think about quitting. And I just don't want to hurt anymore, so get out of what it is that's hurting him." Yes, the five straight losses to Oklahoma bothered him, but his record against the Sooners is 12-7-1.

Royal still wants to coach, just not as much as he used to. "I think you should leave a little ham on the bone."
