Controversial Song Recorded

NEW YORK (AP) - Ex-Beatle George Harrison, here to tape "Saturday Night" at NBC-TV, brought along a video tape of himself performing a song he wrote about the plagiarism suit he lost recently.

The song is entitled "This Song" and the gist of it is, "I hope this song is mine."
U.S. District Court Judge Richard Owen found Harrison guilty of plagiarism in September. The judge said that "My Sweet Lord," the biggest hit Harrison has had in seven years of solo performing and song-writing, is "virtually identical except for one phrase"

Inflation Said Slowing

WASHINGTON (AP) - Despite signs that inflation may be picking up again, President Ford's Chief economist says the nation's long-term inflation rate is slowing down.

The October inflation rate, as measured by the consumer price index, was to be released today by the Labor Department. Consumer prices this year have been running about 6 per cent higher than last year.

Grand Jury Surprises Sheriff

BROWNSVILLE, Tex. (AP) - The Cameron County sheriff says he's not to blame for the conditions in his jail discovered when a grand jury made an "unscheduled tour" of the facility.

The grand jury issued a two-page report Thursday saying it found "potential weapons readily accessible and unsafe and unsanitary conditions" in the county jail plus "non-adherence to rules and regulations that common sense would indicate should be followed."

Patty Hearst Near Release

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) - With $500,000 bond posted by the family she once renounced, Patricia Hearst needed only the approval of a judge to go free for the time in more than a year while appealing her bank robbery conviction.

U.S. District Court Judge William Orrick, who in September sentenced Miss Hearst to seven years in prison, was expected to rule today on a request that the 22-year-old newspaper heiress be released in her parents' custody under a secret security plan.
Orrick must decide whether she is still a flight risk.

Economics Class Tours Local Facilities

Wide Open Spaces, Cattle Amaze Foreign Students

By BOBBY TEMPLETON
Brand News Editor

The wide expanse of the High Plains and the concentrated Hereford agriculture industry widened the eyes of the eight foreign students in a West Texas State University business class which toured the area Thursday afternoon.

The class, composed of about 20 students, came here through the sponsorship of the Deaf Smith Chamber of Commerce. Bill Albright, C of C executive vice president, conducted the tour.

THE STUDENTS, under the supervision of teacher Allen Early, first went through the Southwest Feedyards located northeast of Hereford.

Five of the Chinese students expressed surprised looks when they viewed the numbers of cattle kept in the feedyards here. Early said several of his foreign pupils could not believe that a ratio of only one employe per 1,000 head could maintain the cattle.

"Over there (China) they are used to only one cow per family," Early said. "They can't believe that a few people can manage that many cattle."

Another unusual fact for the students to accept was the wide open spaces that exist in the Panhandle the most of West Texas. In China and India, the numbers of citizens make the land area seem much smaller.

EARLY INSTRUCTS five Chinese, one Korean and two India students. Most of them are here on two-year visas to obtain a master of business administration degree.

The graduate level course concentrates on the price theories of marketing different products. Officially, it is known as micro-economics.

When the tour reached the Holly Sugar plant, west of town, the Chinese especially went straight to the huge piles of sugar beets to inspect the crop which they had never before seen. Bob Ginn, plant manager, gave a quick tour of the facility and explained the process for refining sugar. Once Early sliced open a beet, some of the students sniffed and tasted the sweet crop.

Following the visit, the students toured the Raymond Schlabs farm and visited Arrowhead Mills, where grain is manufactured into health foods.

FOREIGN AS THEY were to the local agriculture facilities, the students listened intently including Mon-Sik Kim of Korea, and Ameeta Mittal and Arun Pande of India. The five Chinese remained close together and actively conversed in their native language on the new experiences they were enjoying.

After the day long visitations, the two vans carrying the entourage left "The Town Without A Toothache" with memories that will no doubt stick in their minds for some time to come. First sights often leave impressionable imprints in the mind above other experiences.

Thanks to you it works...

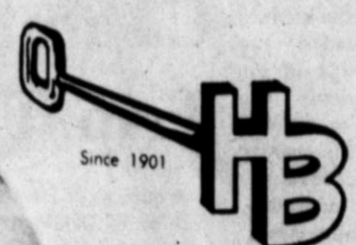

Bob Ginn, manager of the Holly Sugar plant here, talks with foreign students in a business class from West Texas State University about the process for refining sugar beets into marketable sweeteners. The students were amazed at the locally grown crop, piled up in the background, since they had never before seen it. The students were from China, Korea and India.

"THAT'S A FACT!" That oft-used phrase is becoming as obsolete as the Edsel. We're finding that what used to be regarded as fact, in many cases, is not necessarily so. Truths that we once regarded as facts are proving under the scrutiny of new knowledge, new technology, and new discoveries to be as fickle and as lasting as last week's snowfall. # Mahon Meets With President-Elect

WASHINGTON (AP) - Congressional leaders who met with President-elect Jimmy Carter did not team up to urge an economy-boosting tax cut and Carter gave no indication of a decision, one of the participants says. Rep. George H. Mahon, D-Tex., said the problem of stimulating business and reducing unemployment was extensively discussed during the three-hour session Wednesday in Lovejoy, Ga., where Carter met with Democratic leaders.

"I did not detect a unanimity of the leadership concerning a tax cut," Mahon said.

Carter has said that if the economy does not begin improving by January, there is a "strong possibility" that he would ask for a tax cut to stimulate it.

Mahon, chairman of the House Appropriations Committee and a fiscal conservative, said he and others told Carter that a major consideration should be restoring business confidence and that Carter appointments would be important in this regard.

"The business community and people generally are uneasy, wondering, apprehensive," Mahon said in an interview Thursday. "If he could get some good strong people for secretary of Treasury, director of management and budget and secretary of commerce, it would have a stabilizing influence..."

Carter has been receiving conflicting advice as to whether he should support a tax cut or a boost in government spending, or neither.

"He didn't talk like a free-wheeling big spender," Mahon said of the Carter meeting. "He talked of a balanced budget over the long range and his desire to eliminate waste, and generally I thought it was a good down-to-earth discussion."

Mahon said Carter gave the congressional visitors his private telephone number and promised that calls at any time would be put through or promptly returned.

"The country is weary of the controversy between the president and Congress," he said. "For the White House and Congress to be of the same party imposes an awesome responsibility on the Democratic leadership. The buck stops with the Democrats."

Texas Leads In Tourism

AUSTIN (AP) - Texas shot ahead of New York last year for third place in the state's competition for the $75 billion United States travel market, the Texas Tourist Development Agency said Thursday.

The tourist agency said Texas' share of the 1975 travel market was $5 billion, according to the U.S. Travel Data Center.

Monthly Sales Tax Check Mailed To Area Towns

The City of Hereford received a sales tax check for $19,339.89 for its allocation in November from State Comptroller Bob Bullock. It was mailed early this week.

It is one of $13.2 million in checks mailed to 640 Texas cities as part of the state collected one-cent city sales tax.

The total collection for Hereford during the allocation period through the end of October amounted to $20,720.90. From this is subtracted other state service fees and processing costs.

For instance Hereford recorded a $50.19 audit fee and $966.59 in the 4.76 per cent retained amount by the state for coverage of hot checks and the like. The state service fee of two per cent amounted to $414.42.

Amounts received by other area towns are as follows: Canyon, $7,374.09; Dimmitt, $15,563.20; and Frona, $4,188.79.

Vega and Adrian each had collections below $500, which means that the cities receive payments every third month for the amount collected. The minimum monthly payment must be larger than $500.

Vega had $171.79 in collection for the period allocation and Adrian had $105.69.

Bullock said the recent mailing raises to $252.2 million the amount that the cities have received in rebates this calendar year, an increase of $28.5 million-or nearly 13 per cent-over the same period a year ago.

"This increase in consumer spending is a good sign that the Texas economy is on the right track," Bullock said.

The rebate checks ranged from $2,532,776 for the City of Houston to $501.38 to Springtown.

The city sales tax is collected along with the state sales tax by retailers. The Comptroller's Office rebates to the cities their share on a monthly basis.

KIXZ Slates Free Dance For Students

Hereford High School students can look forward to Friday night, Dec. 17 thanks to the efforts of student council president Horace Gamez and several students who worked together to prove that HHS has a lot of spirit.

Hereford students will enjoy a free dance, complete with the sounds of the Boss Tweed dance band and disc jockeys from Amarillo radio station KIXZ that night. The free dance is the result of a drive headed by Gamez to secure the signatures of Hereford boosters in a contest sponsored by the radio station.

The band will play from 8 p.m. to midnight, with the disc jockeys taking over during the band's breaks to play records and to give away an album or two.

In the end, some 3,460 names were entered on the Whiteface sheet, which was turned in to the radio station on the deadline date of October 29.

Gamez got the whole thing started after hearing about the contest while listening to the station and following up on it by writing to the station for details.

The "KIXZ Spirit Contest" included all towns in the station's listening area. Schools which entered lists included Amarillo High, Tascosa, Caprock, Palo Duro, Perryton, Alamo, Stinett, Canyon, Dumas, Guymon Oklahoma High School and Junior High, Davey Crockett Junior High, and Sanford Fritch Junior High, in addition to Hereford.

Schools were allowed to secure signatures from all their respective boosters, including students, teachers, parents, children, and friends.

During the dance the radio station will award Hereford High School a trophy that proclaims it the "Most Spirited School."

The dance will be held at the Hereford Community Center.

The Yellow Daisy

Hereford Hustlers welcome the Yellow Daisy to Hereford as it began business this week at the old E-Z Way store on highway 385 North. The representatives of the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce held the ribbon cutting Thursday. The new local firm features a variety of plants and cut flowers for sale and welcomes any and all local patrons.

Whooping Crane Mistake Cousin Cranes In West Texas For His Own

BIG SPRING (AP)—Out in the desolate West Texas countryside where the coyotes roam there may also be a maverick whooping crane.

And the probable presence of that rare bird near here greatly worries U.S. Fish and Wildlife officials, who fear the out-of-place crane might be shot by sandhill crane hunters.

Barbara Ely, a spokesman for the federal agency's Southwest Regional office in Albuquerque, N.M., said Thursday the whooping crane apparently is hanging out with a flock of relatively common sandhill cranes around West Texas lakes.

A flock of 66 cranes is wintered near Port Aransas on the Texas coast, while four "foster" cranes are living with another species of sandhill cranes south of Albuquerque, N.M.

Officials speculate the wandering whooper, which is larger and lighter in color than the sandhill cranes, probably came from one of those flocks—but they can't be sure.

"We're missing three birds from the flock on the Coast and one from the New Mexico flock, so it could be one of those," said Ely. "We really don't know for sure."

"The bird has been sighted with the Texas sandhill cranes around area lakes at least five times," she added. "Two of those sightings we consider very reliable."

It is legal for Texas hunters to kill the relatively common sandhill crane, described as a gray bird, about three and a half to four feet tall with about a five and a half foot wingspan.

Ely said the whooping crane is white, is about four to four and a half feet tall and has a seven foot wingspan. She added that the difference was "very noticeable."

Any unfortunate hunter, however, who fails to discern that difference and shoots the rare bird could face up to two years to prison and a $5,000 fine. The whooping cranes are protected under federal law.

"There is a possibility that more than one whooper is in the area, but we are thinking in terms of one," said Ely. "We want to locate it and see how it is faring before we decide what to do with it."

The whooping cranes wintering near Port Aransas migrate each year from Canada, while the four living with the New Mexico sandhill flock migrate from Idaho.

Five whooping cranes were hatched in New Mexico last year by foster parents—the sandhill cranes—after officials placed the eggs with them in an experiment.

Candy Sales For Campfire Girls Starts

Hereford Campfire girls will begin their annual candy sale Nov. 19, with the drive to continue through Dec. 4.

Although the candy is to be issued to the leaders on Friday, the official "kickoff" will be on Saturday, Nov. 20, at Helen's Youth Shop, local supply headquarters for the organization.

The candy sale is the fund-raising activity approved and authorized by United Way of Deaf Smith County, as Campfire's only council-wide fund-raiser for the year.

The Hereford council's operating budget is provided through the United Way, and the candy sale proceeds go into the camping budget.

Girls who sell the required number of boxes of candy receive camperships, or partial camperships, to summer camp activities, and are recognized at the annual father-daughter banquet.

A percentage of each sale is also returned to the individual campfire group to help provide funds for that particular group during the year.

The items being offered are the same as last year: pecana prides... assorted chocolates, and mints (all boxed); and peanut crunch or mixed nuts, (packed in vacuum tins) each is priced at $1.50.

Campfire girls are asked to be in uniform when selling door-to-door.

Mrs. Lois Turpen is candy sale chairman.

Campfire Girls Plan Trip To Oklahoma

A number of Hereford people will be in Oklahoma City this weekend, representing the Hereford Council of Campfire Girls, Inc., for a zone meeting workshop, and a module 2 training session.

The zone meeting is for a three-state area (Texas, Oklahoma, and New Mexico). It will be presided over by temporary zone chairman Helen Langley of Hereford.

Senior Horizon Club members Laurie Higgins, Susan Hamby, Sonya Hacker, and Stacy Lea, all of whom are associate members of the Hereford Council's board of directors, will introduce to zone workshop participant. The "new day" structure of Campfire ratified by quadrennial conference delegates last year in Houston.

Charlotte Clark, who has been appointed by national headquarters as a staff volunteer for the area, will also have a part on the program.

New officers for zone 12, which involves 33 Campfire councils in the 3-state area, will be elected.

The module two training is related to changes that will affect the Hereford Council, when the "new day" structure is implemented in 1977.

Others attending the 3-day meeting from Hereford include Campfire staff members, Nita Lea and Cindy Novell, as well as several voting delegates from the local council.

Bullock Wants Inheritance Tax Change

AUSTIN (AP)—Comptroller Bob Bullock wants a change in state inheritance tax laws that he says would exempt 77.7 per cent of the all beneficiaries from the state tax.

Bullock proposed Thursday that the current $25,000 exemption for surviving spouses be increased to $100,000. He would raise the exemption for children, grandchildren or parents to $50,000 each, instead of $25,000.

"That law was written in 1923 and hasn't been changed since," he said in a statement. "A $25,000 estate then would have been sizable. Today it would be considered modest.... The state inheritance tax has become particularly burdensome to farmers and ranchers."

digit into your mouth or under cold water? But you were warned that anything cold would drive the heat inward and prolong the agony.

Nowadays the reverse is true. Doctors and first aid bulletins urge victims to apply cold water and even ice to burned areas of the body...and another fact went astray.

We can remember studying with awe and fascination the fact that the whole world was composed of matter, the smallest of which was the atom. And then they proved at Hiroshima and Nagasaki that the atom was only the beginning of smaller components.

You believe the old "fact" that medicine gets weaker with age? Some medicines do lose their curative powers with age, but some don't. Some medicines like tincture of iodine get stronger as time passes.

Now comes the latest destruction of still another "fact." This newspaper traditionally publishes, annually, stories outlining precautions people should take in case of a tornado. The stories were well researched by the Texas Safety Association and others. One of the precautions to occupants of a house in the path of a tornado was to go to the corner of the house closest to the tornado—usually to the southwest corner.

Now comes a report from the University of Kansas geography and meteorology professor Joe Eagleman who has investigated actual tornadoes and conducted extensive wind tunnel tests. He concluded that the southwest corner of the house was the first part of the house to be damaged. Debris from the ruined walls and roof is apt to drop straight down.

The corner of the house farthest away from the approaching tornado appears to suffer the least amount of damage and is likely to be the safest part of the home...and another so-called "fact" disappears. It appears that education nowadays is often "unlearning" process rather than a learning process.

Man Involved In Sharpstown Schandal Given Early Release

ABILENE (AP)—For the second time in four months a former Texas legislator convicted in connection with the Sharpstown from the remainder his probation by a district judge.

A district judge here said Thursday he has released former State Rep. Tommy Shannon of Fort Worth, convicted of conspiracy to accept a bribe in 1972 as part of the scandal, from the remainder of his five-year probation and dismissed the indictment.

Former House Speaker Gus Mutscher was also cleared and released from his probation in July under the same legal procedure. He is now Washington County judge.

District Court Judge J. Neal Daniel said Thursday he issued the order Nov. 3 releasing Shannon from the remainder of his five-year probationary term and dismissing his indictment.

"It was a simple legal procedure," the judge said. "There was a motion made and I granted it."

The action restores to Shannon his rights as a citizen.

Shannon, who continued to maintain his innocence, said he was glad the situation had been corrected.

"I am grateful the judge took this action," he said. "It was unfortunate that an injustice like that could occur in our judicial system, but it has been corrected by the same judicial system."

The former lawmaker said he was prepared to go into the federal courts "if we did not get consideration in state courts. Fortunately we did and that removed the need for going on into a federal court."

Shannon declined to say if he intended to enter politics again, but said, "I've always been, will always be interested in politics and public affairs."

Art Helps Teach Deaf Students

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (AP)—Too much emphasis has been placed on deaf learners' disabilities instead of on their abilities, says Dr. Betty Miller, who studied the potential of "Deaf Students as Artists" for her doctoral thesis in art education at Pennsylvania State University.

The researcher, an associate professor of art at Gallaudet College in Washington, D.C., is herself a deaf learner who credits art with enhancing her self-image and ability to communicate. She enlisted the help of four deaf Gallaudet students and two deaf assistants for her study, which she says has determined that a combination of art and sign language can help deaf students express themselves — both artistically and psychologically.

Telling the students to express themselves through drawing, she videotaped them at work. Later, through the use of Ameslan — American Sign Language — the students and teacher discussed the implications of the works.

The students' images of themselves came through graphically in the drawings, says Dr. Miller, a faculty member at Gallaudet since 1959. Their perceptions about deafness particularly were revealed.

For example, one student did a drawing which included a packaged ear, carrying a $7,000 price tag.

Ann Landers

Speak To Someone

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am 16, my brother is 15 and we have an 1-year-old sister. The problem is our parents. They act like four-year-olds.

Dad is Italian and Mom is Irish. Grandma says the combination is like gasoline and a blowtorch. Whenever they have an argument the neighbors upstairs start banging on the pipes with a hammer and the people downstairs knock on our floor (their ceiling) with a broom handle.

A boy I like at school is best friends with the kid who lives upstairs. I just die when Mom and Dad fight because I think maybe Rick is up there listening to them cuss each other out.

Do you think it is fair for parents to put their kids in the middle of fights? This is the question we need you to answer, Ann. We three kids have to sit down and pretend we are the jury. Mom and Dad take turns "presenting their cases" and we have to vote. Whichever one we vote against gets mad and then we catch it.

Please say something in this about this in the paper because Mom and Dad read your column and we need a grownup to speak our piece. P.S. Divorce is out. We are strong Catholics. -- Children of Childish Parents.

DEAR CHILDREN: Someone on the scene should speak for you. How about a favorite teacher, a school counselor, your family doctor or your priest? Maybe an aunt or uncle or a close friend?

Your parents must be made to understand how unfair they are being to you kids. Go through the list I've suggested and surely SOMEONE can intervene in your behalf and get those two into counseling. They certainly need it--for your sake as well as theirs. Good luck to all of you.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am a retired funeral director who would like to comment on the letter from the 18-year-old boy who couldn't shed a tear at his grandmother's funeral but cried his eyes out when his cat, Daisy, died.

My entire working life was spent with people who were dealing with death and grieving. Unfortunately, our society denies death and suppresses the open show of grief. (Tears are thought to be "unmanly.") Young people in particular do not share the final days or the planning of funeral rites.

The death of a pet is usually quite different. It is immediate, visible, often violent and sudden. The feeling of loss and separation is absolute and final.

I hope "Crossed Wires" will see this and not feel guilty. His reaction was normal. Sometimes those who weep the loudest in public do so out of guilt.

When my wife died I didn't cry until months later, when the Christmas holidays were upon me--then all the old memories closed in at once. This is the way it is with many people, Ann-- Older and Wiser.

DEAR O. AND W.: Your explanation makes a great deal of sense. Many thanks for sharing your wisdom and all those years of professional experience.

DEAR ANN: A woman I considered a good friend told my sister some very unkind things about me. She is a terrible liar and very destructive. Whenever we're together she is sweet as pie. What should I say to her the next time we meet and she falls all over me?-- Maligned.

DEAR MAL: Tell her there are two things you don't like about her-- her face. She'll understand.

*** Got those wedding bell blues over costs... guest list... what to wear... and other details? Ann Landers' completely new "The Bride's Guide" will help. For a copy, send a dollar bill, plus a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope (13 cents postage) to Ann Landers, P.O. Box 1400, Elgin, Ill. 60120.

Gift Ideas Is Topic Of Program

Joyce Shipp, county extension agent, presented a program to members of Bippus Home Demonstration Wednesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Wayne Sifford.

During her program on "Holiday Gift Ideas", Mrs. Shipp showed members the various ways holiday materials and foods can be displayed. She also distributed apple bread, fruit cake, muffins and cheese rolls.

During the business meeting, members discussed their money-making project. They are currently selling pecans at $2.75 per pound. Anyone interested in purchasing them may contact a club member.

Those present included Mmes. Jimmy Bradley, C.F. Homfeld, Jerry Homfeld, Kenneth Homfeld, G.V. Hall and Sifford.

The next meeting was planned as a Christmas party at 2 p.m. Dec. 8 in the home of Mrs. C.F. Homfeld.

Bacon

Cook sprouts according to package directions; drain. Wrap a piece of bacon (1/2 of a slice cut crosswise) around each sprout; fasten each with a toothpick. Arrange on a rack in a broiler pan and broil about 4 inches from high heat, turning once, until bacon is cooked--about 4 minutes on each side. Remove picks. (Cut any very large sprouts in half lengthwise before wrapping). Makes 1 dozen or more.

PROBLEMS CAN WORK FOR US

Webster defines "problem" as "a question proposed for solution; hence, a perplexing question, situation or person".

Though the word "problem" suggests a negative connotation to most of us, it actually refers to any situation that needs a solution.

One positive thing about a problem is that it forces us to draw on inner strengths that we probably have not tapped before. As a result of handling problems, we remain strong or grow in strength.

Another asset to problems is that they make us think. In order to find a workable solution to any perplexing situation, we must enter into logical thought processes and discard emotional interference.

Skins Picked In Upset

By HAL BOCK
AP Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) - Go figure those nice old men who play football for the Washington Redskins.

Back in October, they were beaten on a flea-flicker play by previously winless Kansas City and everybody was saying they were done in the National Conference East.

But the Redskins picked themselves up off the deck and climbed right back in contention with a muddy Monday night victory over St. Louis.

Then three weeks ago, everyone was writing them off again when they lost to Dallas.

So the Redskins, 6-4, promptly stepped right back in the playoff picture by ambush in San Francisco.

Then last week, they stumbled again, losing to the previously winless New York Giants and again they were written off.

So the Pro kicker steps out on a shaky limb and sees the Redskins returning to life once more, this time with an upset against St. Louis.

Last week's 8-6 record left the season log at 94-45-1 for .676.

The picks:

Washington 19, St. Louis 17

The grizzled Redskins know it's do-or-die now. A loss eliminates them in the NFC East and makes a wild card playoff berth an awfully long shot. Under the circumstances, they will do, not die.

Los Angeles 27, San Francisco 20

Isn't it about time the talented Rams put things together? There's no better time than this game against the 49ers with the NFC West lead on the line.

Oakland 38, Philadelphia 7

It's wrapup time again for the Raiders who could clinch their fifth straight AFC West crown. Eagles will go with old pro Roman Gabriel at quarterback after Mike Boryla threw four interceptions and was sacked six times by Cleveland last week.

Minnesota 21, Green Bay 6

With a chance to wrap up an eighth NFC Central title in five years, the Vikings won't let the Packers stand in their way. Green Bay will be without injured Lynn Dickey so backup Carlow Brown will do the quarterbacking.

Cincinnati 30, Kansas City 10

This should be a laugher for the Bengals, who need one after last week's scare against Houston and the toughie against Los Angeles the week before.

Dallas 24, Atlanta 10

The Cowboys just can't seem to get up for the NFL havenots. The Falcons certainly qualify for that role. For them, Dallas won't have to get up.

Pittsburgh 27, Houston 7

Two teams headed in opposite directions. The Steelers have won five straight and haven't given up a touchdown over that stretch. Houston has lost five in a row. They may score a TD but that's about all.

Seattle 17, New Orleans 14

With two victories so far, the Seahawks need one more to equal the record for wins by an expansion team in its first year. The Saints are perfect candidates to provide it.

Cleveland 31, Tampa Bay 14

Everybody talks about New England and Pittsburgh battling for the AFC wild card berth. Don't forget the 6-4 Browns, who have a shot of their own.

Chicago 20, Detroit 7

The Bears are the best 5-5 team you'll ever see. Consider that two of their losses to Minnesota and Oakland were by a single point. The Lions won't get that close.

New England 21, NY Jets 17

The Patriots are hurting and the Jets are getting better. But the twain won't meet this week.

Denver 16, NY Giants 13

The Giants were walking on air last week after winning their first game. But the air's a lot thinner in Denver and the Broncos should bring them back down to earth.

San Diego 17, Buffalo 14

Something's got to give. The Chargers have dropped four straight and the Bills have lost six in a row. The guess here is that Buffalo will fall flat after being so high against Dallas Monday night.

Miami 21, Baltimore 17

The Dolphins are playing for pride and that's tough to beat in the Orange Bowl, even for the talented Colts.

Ricky Bell of Southern California averaged 172.6 yards per game last season through all-purpose running.

John David Crow of Alabama won the 1958 Heisman Award. His son John is a junior running back at Alabama this season.

Hereford Cagers

Opening up the regular season tonight is the Hereford Whiteface basketball team. Coaches Barry Arnwine [kneeling right] and David Ashby are surrounded by the Herd cagers, which include

Cagers Open In Amarillo

The Hereford Whitefaces embark on the 1976-77 basketball season tonight as they travel to Amarillo to take on the Amarillo High Sandies.

Coach Barry Arnwine's cagers are fresh off of a pair of scrimmages this week, and the coach has been pleased with the team's performance so far.

"We have done well on the boards, which was one of our main concerns heading into the season," the coach said.

Hereford sports four returning lettermen this year, including sophomore of the year in the district a year ago, Kelly Kitchens. Also returning to enhance the Herd's chances are seniors James Mays, Jim Lawson, and Mike O'Rand.

Mays and O'Rand will start against the Sandies along with seniors Mike Oglesby and Kenneth Mercer, and junior David Schumacher.

Kitchens, hampered by a late start due to the football season and a freak injury to an eye, will not start but is expected to see some action.

The rest of the squad includes seniors Blake Autry, a transfer from Amarillo High, and Larry Ritter, and junior, David Arney.

The Whitefaces return home the next night to open their home schedule against the Canyon Eagles. They will perform before the home folks again Tuesday night when the Harness driver Jim Tallman, a native of Pennsylvania's Scranton area, started 1976 with 1,041 winners of purses earning close to $5 million.

The American Bowling Congress says more than 4,504,000 men competed in ABC-sanctioned competition in the past fiscal year.

Tony Dundy of Minnesota registered 20 touchdowns last season, 15 of them on forward passes.

Dumas Demons come to town. Also tonight the Hereford girls basketball team opens its schedule as they travel to Pampa in a game scheduled to begin at 6 p.m.

It's Showdown Time In Race For Roses

By The Associated Press

It's showdown Saturday in Columbus, Ohio, and Los Angeles.

The Minnesota, Iowa, California and Stanfords have all fallen by the wayside again. As usual, it will be Michigan against Ohio State to decide who wins the Big Ten and a spot in the Rose Bowl. And UCLA against Southern California for the Pacific-8 championship and the other berth in the Rose Bowl.

No. 4 Michigan, 9-1 after its untimely loss to Purdue a couple of weeks ago, needs a victory to get a share of the title and a probably trip to Pasadena, Calif., New Year's Day. No. 8 Ohio State, 8-1-1, is unbeaten in the Big Ten and can wrap up first place with a tie Saturday.

Michigan mixes its versatile running game with a passing of quarterback Rick Leach, to provide a more balanced attack, but the Buckeyes have a strong one-two ground attack with massive fullback Pete Johnson and tailback Jeff Logan.

Both No. 2 UCLA, 9-0-1, and No. 3 Southern Cal, 8-1, are undefeated in the Pac-8. Both boast exceptional running backs who have been slowed by injuries. Southern Cal's Ricky Bell will play but UCLA's Wendell Tyler, who has a shoulder injury may not.

Among other ranked teams, No. 1 Pittsburgh takes the week off to prepare for its showdown with No. 17 Penn State Nov. 26. The Panthers are apparently bound for the Sugar Bowl against Southeast Conference champ Georgia.

No. 5 Texas Tech faces No. 9 Houston in a Southwest Conference showdown with a possible trip to the Cotton Bowl bid in the offing. Maryland, co-ranked No. 6 with Georgia, puts its unbeaten record on the line at Virginia. The Terrapins have been promised a Cotton Bowl invitation if they win.

No. 11 Texas A&M hosts Texas Christian, No. 13 Notre Dame entertains Miami, Fla., and No. 14 Iowa State visits No. 16 Oklahoma State. Both teams are among the five-way tie for first place in the Big Eight, as is No. 15 Colorado, which visits Kansas State. No. 19 Missouri hosts Kansas.

Along with Pittsburgh and Penn State, Georgia, No. 10 Oklahoma, No. 12 Nebraska, No. 18 Alabama and Rutgers, tied for No. 19, are idle.

Most of the top 20 teams are involved in speculation surrounding one bowl or another and the scramble will be on Saturday. Notre Dame is rumored interested in the Gator Bowl, Alabama in the Liberty Bowl, Texas A&M in the Sun Bowl and Oklahoma in the Fiesta, if the Sooners don't make it into the Orange as the eventual Big Eight champs.

DETROIT (AP) - Marvin Barnes, the Detroit Pistons' problem forward, pulled another disappearing act Thursday - this time failing to show up in court and answering a gun charge. But his lawyer succeeded in getting the case adjourned until Dec. 2.

Barnes, serving his third suspension by the National Basketball Association team showed up later Thursday for a consultation with team physician Dr. Benjamin Paolucci, who checked his injured ankle.

Attorney Neil Fink represented Barnes before Wayne County Circuit Judge James Canham in Romulus, Mich.

Barnes is charged with having an unloaded revolver in his briefcase as he was about to board an airliner at Detroit Metro Airport Oct. 9.

Fink asked for more time, and said he planned to go to Providence, R.I. and consult with law officers about a warrant issued there Monday for Barnes.

BALTIMORE (AP) - The Baltimore Orioles hope they have picked up some left-handed hitting punch in a deal that brings outfielder Pat Kelly from the Chicago White Sox in exchange for catcher Dave Duncan.

Shown in an early photo is gigantic wrestler Andre the Giant, who will perform for fans Saturday night as part of the Lions Club card. Andre is said to weigh 470 pounds at the present.

Wrestling Features Andre The Giant

The Hereford Lions Club brings the world's greatest sports attraction to the Bull Barn next Saturday night, as Andre the Giant appears on the wrestling card for the first time ever. Seven feet, four inches tall, and 460 pounds. This great athlete turned down an offer from the Washington Redskins last year, and has since appeared as big foot in the two episodes of The Six Million Dollar Man.

A former rugby, soccer, and basketball player as a youth, he is unusually skilled and agile man for a natural giant. He will join Ricky Romero and Scott Casey against one of the most vicious combinations in six man tag team action, Black Gord-man, Goliath, and Alex Perez.

Romero lost a questionable decision to Perez in a Mexican Death Match last week, but demolished his opponent in the referee-free minute after the match. Perez enlisted Gordman and Goliath, a pair of perpetual motion whirlwinds, to aid in his feud with the speedster from old Mexico.

Romero in turn obtained the services of his good friend Casey, and Andre the Giant.

Teddy Dibaise, who wrestled a ten minute draw with Japanese sumo champion Tennyu last week, will meet big Nick Roberts in semi-final action. Roberts and Cowboy Don Wayt were to have wrestled against Jerry Kozak and Scott Casey last week, but were grounded by the storm and unable to appear.

Since the lions Club did not wish to disappoint the fans who had braved the weather. Casey and Kozak agreed to wrestle each other. Professionals who contest for money, the erstwhile partners had a violent contest before both were counted out of the ring after over thirty minutes which started in a sportsmanlike manner and ended in some bitterness.

One other contest will start wrestling activity Saturday night.

Andre the Giant has relatives all through Europe, and has Polish and Bulgarian blood as well as French. He had a grandfather who was 7'8" tall, and has a cousin in Yugoslavia, a beautiful girl, who is 6'3" tall and weighs over 200 pounds. Andre's turn-down of the Washington Redskins offer was based on one simple element: money. The football team simply could not meet his wrestling income.

Hereford Lions Club officials expect a large turn-out for Saturday night and urge all fans to come early for good seating. The matches start at 8:00 p.m.

Steelers Playing With Backs To Wall

By BRUCE LOWITT
AP Sports Writer

It was a year in which Pittsburgh was supposed to set National Football League history. The team with the impenetrable Steel Curtain defense last year and the year before, was going to succeed where Green Bay and Miami had failed.

The Steelers, it was expected, would win a third straight Super Bowl.

Now, they may not even get into it. They may not surpass that first hurdle to greatness. They may not even make the playoffs.

Not that the Steelers are to be written off yet, mind you. But time is growing short for this once-invincible band of behemoths. Naturally, the Steelers, who face the Houston Oilers Sunday, are not writing themselves off.

"We're playing like it's the last game—because every game is the last game for us," says defensive back J.T. Thomas.

Sunday's other NFL games are Cincinnati at Kansas City, Cleveland at Tampa Bay, Washington at St. Louis, Dallas at Atlanta, Oakland at Philadelphia, Minnesota vs. Green Bay at Milwaukee, Los Angeles at San Francisco, San Diego at Buffalo, Chicago at Detroit, New Orleans at Seattle, New England at the New York Jets and the New York Giants at Denver. Monday night, it will be Baltimore at Miami.

If the Steelers are to get back to the Super Bowl, they will either have to overtake Cincinnati, which owns a two-game lead in the American Conference's Central Division, or come away with the AFC's wildcard playoff berth. Even that looms as a difficult task. Pittsburgh is 6-4, tied among AFC runner-up candidates with Cleveland and Denver. But all three trail New England, second-best in the East at 7-2.

Coach Bum Phillips, whose Oilers have lost their last five games to wreck what was such a promising season, does not relish the idea of playing against a team which has permitted only nine points three field goals in five games, three of which were won by shutouts.

"Against their defense, a man ought to be able to carry a weapon," Phillips said, not altogether jokingly.

The Oilers nearly pulled off a shocker last Sunday before the Bengals, on Ken Anderson's 47-yard touchdown pass to Isaac Curtis with 42 seconds left, pulled out a 31-27 triumph.

The Bengals' biggest problem this week will not be the Kansas City Chiefs themselves. It will be trying to avoid looking past the Chiefs to next Sunday's showdown against Pittsburgh, which beat Cincinnati to start its five-game streak.

DETROIT (AP) - The Detroit Pistons have sent guard John Mengelt to the Chicago Bulls on a conditional basis depending on his ability to pass a physical exam.

Mengelt, a five-year veteran in the National Basketball Association, has been on the injured list with a pinched nerve in the right side of his neck.

CHICAGO (AP) - Chicago White Sox President Bill Veck is reported resting comfortably at Illinois Masonic Medical Center after undergoing spinal surgery.

One ton of flowers yields only two pounds of essence used in making fine perfumes.

Dimmitt Takes On Floydada

Bi-District Grid Playoff Here Tonight

The Dimmitt Bobcats and Floydada Whirlwinds face off tonight at Hereford's Whiteface Field in a class 2A bi-district contest, with the winner to face the Childress-Spearman victor next week.

The Bobcats have entered the playoffs for the first time in 16 years, and posted a 6-2-2 record on the year and a 3-0-2 mark in taking the District 3-2A crown.

The Whirlwinds, 6-3-1 on the year and 3-0-1 enroute to the 4-2A title, have the edge in playoff experience over Dimmitt.

"I don't think their playoff experience will have been too much of a factor," Bobcat coach Bruce Bush said earlier this week. "They've been beaten in bi-district the last two or three times they've gone, so they may have a revenge motive," he added.

The Bobcats claimed the district crown and playoff berth on the last Friday of the season in a 27-14 win over Littlefield in the snow.

Junior quarterback Thompson Mayberry has been the charge in the Dimmitt battery this season, and tallied three touchdowns in last week's title-clincher.

The 170-pound signal caller is complemented by backs Eddie Chavers, Tony Washington, and Tommy Kenworthy as well as kicker Matt Howell.

Floydada is led by senior quarterback Jay Womack and halfback Mickey Minnitt. "They can come at you two ways,"

Bush says. "They can be real powerful with the straight Wishbone, or they can be all over the place."

Bobcat fans hope the Whirlwinds won't be all over the Dimmitt endzone tonight. It's been 25 years since a Dimmitt team won a playoff contest.

Bush, in his first year at the Bobcat helm, hopes to reverse that statistic and make it 25 years before his 'Cats lose one.

The two teams will line up for the kickoff at 7:30 tonight, with the Bobcats designated as the home team. Tickets for the game are $3 for adults and $1.50 for students, including college students with ID.

Yanks Sign Gullett, Braves Get Matthews

By FRED ROTHENBERG
AP Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) - The New York Yankees and the Atlanta Braves, who took home the prizes in past free-agent sweepstakes, are still playing the game.

The Yankees signed Catfish Hunter, the first free agent in modern times, on New Year's Eve, 1974. On Thursday, they became the first team with matching free-agent pitchers, adding left-handed Don Gullett to the right-handed Hunter.

When Hunter's auction was held, he was the only player eligible. The law of supply and demand escalated his value to a five-year package worth $3.5 million. With 24 free agents available this time, money isn't being thrown around as readily. Gullett signed a six-year contract worth in the neighborhood of $2 million.

That's a little more than Gary Matthews got for moving south to Atlanta to join the 1975 free-agent, pitcher Andy Messersmith. Matthews, a strong offensive and defensive outfielder, will receive $1.75 million over five years to play with the Braves.

That's not a bad pay raise considering the fact that Matthews made $46,000 with San Francisco in 1975, asked for $65,000 in 1976 but was only offered $60,000 by the Giants.

Matthews 26, turned down a higher offer of more than $2 million from the Montreal Expos. Higher income taxes in Canada and the cold weather were factors in that decision.

Matthews, a lifetime .285 hitter with the Giants, said Thursday at the press conference announcing his signing that he was happy "to get out of the cold on the West Coast."

Gullett is changing leagues, moving from the biggest winner in baseball, the Cincinnati Reds, to the American League champion Yankees.

"I'm coming to a winning baseball team," said Gullett. "I can't wait to get started."

Gullett won the opening game of the World Series against the Yankees, but left the game early because of a dislocated tendon in his ankle. He says the ankle is fine.

"Don Gullett was one of the premier guys we wanted," said Yankee owner George Steinbrenner. "You can't argue with his won-loss record." The 25-year-old Gullett was 11-3 with a 3.00 earned run average in 1976. Lifetime, he's 91-44 in seven NL seasons.

Also hot on the trail of Gullett were the Los Angeles Dodgers, who considered Gullett a modern-day Sandy Koufax. The Dodgers haven't had a power-pitching left-hander since Koufax retired in 1966.

The completed Declaration of Independence was formally adopted July 4, 1776.

Former Herd Coach Honored

Former Hereford football mentor Larry Dippel, named Wednesday as District 3-4A's coach of the year, leads his Amarillo High Sandies into the fray against the Monterey Plainsmen Saturday.

The two teams will knock heads beginning at 1 p.m. at Amarillo's Dick Blevins Stadium. A previously announced starting time of 2 p.m. had to be changed to accommodate Tech fans a chance to see the Raiders on television.

Dippel was tabbed the coach of the year by his fellow mentors Wednesday after directing his Sandies to the district crown and an 8-2 record. The Sandies overcame an 0-2 start to come through the rest of the way unbeaten.

The district champs also landed 10 players on the all-district first teams, with Sandie running back Perry Williams named the offensive player of the year, and Sandie end Rick Knapp the defensive award winner.

Dippel was head coach at Hereford High for four years from 1971-1974, forging a 29-16 overall mark during that time. An assistant for several years in time to lead the Faces to the state quarterfinals in 1971.

His best year at Hereford was 1973 when his team racked up a 10-2 mark, losing to El Paso Coronado in the regional game on penetrations after the two squads fought to a 7-7 tie.

Now begins the count down on shopping daze til Christmas.

B. L. "Lynn" Jones

The Department of Housing and Urban Development reports an average home is rising in price at 7% per year. An average new home today costs $35,000.00. This means during the first year of ownership, you would realize a value increase of $2450.00. The mortgage payment for 1 year would be approx. $3780.00; or a cost of $1330.00 after deducting equity build up at 7%. However, the net cost would be considerably less, as over $2800.00 interest is tax deductible, less deductions for taxes and insurance. This tax savings would amount to over $500.00, reducing the net cost to you of near $800.00. That's only $66.00/mo. DON'T WAIT TO BUY, BUY & WAIT.

Marshal Convicted, But Murder Case Considered Concluded

CASTROVILLE, Tex. (AP) - It has been 14 months since Castroville construction worker Richard Morales was gunned down beside a desolate road near this tiny Central Texas town.

A state jury convicted Former Castroville city marshal Frank Hayes of aggravated assault in Morales' death and sentenced him to two to 10 years.

But few persons - from Morales' family to Gov. Dolph Briscoe - consider the case closed.

The death of Morales, who was killed by a shotgun blast Sept. 14, 1975, touched off demands by Morales' family, Mexican-American groups and state officials for federal investigation - all of whom still await word from the Justice Department.

In Washington, Justice Department spokesman John Russel said the matter is "a high priority in the civil rights division and is still pending."

But Texas Asst. Atty. Gen. Ed Idar Jr., named by Atty.

Gen. John Hill to investigate the slaying, said Wednesday. "We've been hoping to hear something any day but as of today we have heard nothing."

The Justice Department first announced it was considering the case July 27.

Court testimony showed that Morales 27, was picked up at his home by Hayes and another marshal on a theft arrest warrant. He was taken to an isolated area where Hayes was left along with him.

His body was discovered two days later buried in a shallow grave 400 miles away on an East Texas farm owned by Hayes' wife's family.

Liato.

He later found the shotgun in Hayes' bedroom in his Castroville trailer home.

Hayes, 53, claimed the gun discharged accidentally. He had originally been indicted for murder, but was convicted of aggravated assault.

The demands for a federal investigation to determine if Hayes had violated Morales' civil rights became even louder when jurors in the Hayes trial in San Angelo admitted they had made a mistake and had signed the wrong charge when they convicted the former marshal.

Jury foreman Luther Sheldon said the jury had meant to find Hayes guilty of murder by aggravated assault, but misunderstood the instruction from the judge.

U.S. Rep. Henry B. Gonzales, D-Tex., U.S. Sen. Lloyd Bentsen, D-Tex., Briscoe and Hill asked for a federal investigation.

The request for prosecution of "certain persons" involved in the case was made to U.S. Atty. Gen. Edward Levi by Hill after he reviewed a report prepared by his office.

Briscoe said in July, "The man Morales was arrested and taken out on a lonely road. That's in violation of anyone's civil rights."

Hayes' wife, Dorothy, pleaded guilty to a misdemeanor charge of concealing evidence in connection with the case and received a one-year probated sentence.

Mrs. Hayes' sister, Alice Baldwin, who, prosecutors said, drove the car in which Morales' body was transported to East Texas, was not charged.

TRC Cuts Allowable Oil Drilling

AUSTIN (AP) - The Texas Railroad Commission cut the statewide oil allowable from 100 to 99 per cent Thursday saying it wanted to put Washington on notice and alert the people that the nation is running out of oil.

Texas' wells, with some exceptions, have been running wide-open for 56 months.

Commissioner Jim Langdon said the change in the allowable will have the effect of reducing estimated production by 7,500 barrels of crude oil a day, which is "insignificant."

This "will get the attention of the people in Washington," Langdon told a statewide hearing. "Whether the reaction is good, bad or indifferent," Langdon said, "it is time" people recognize that oil supplies are dwindling.

Commissioner Mack Wallace said, "We are telling the rest of the country we are saving 7,500 barrels a day of Texas oil to use in emergencies."

The 99 per cent allowable is effective Dec. 1.

Carter Plans Deliberate Reorganization

PLAINS, Ga. (AP) - President-elect Jimmy Carter's promised reorganization of the federal government will be carried out in a "very careful, deliberate process" over the next two to three years, a key Carter staff member says.

Carter discussed that proposed reorganization, the economy, and his dealing with the House and Senate in a three-hour meeting with Democratic congressional leaders Wednesday at Sen. Herman Talmadge's home of Lovejoy, Ga., about 40 miles south of Atlanta. He later received expressions of support from some of the legislators present.

Carter, who was repeatedly referred to as "Mr. President" at the meeting, said later he had asked the legislators to "direct me to make the executive branch more efficient."

Another topic was Carter's expressed desire to forge a bipartisan foreign policy. A Carter aide later said Carter will seek a meeting with Republican leaders to ask advice and "give them a feeling of participation without their feeling that they were being co-opted."

Carter told the Democratic legislators he wants Congress to re-enact the Hoover Reorganization Act which, before it expired last year, gave the president the authority to reorganize the federal government subject only to congressional veto.

this country...the omens are all good."

Graduate Mortgage Payments Backed

HOUSTON (AP) - Secretary of Housing and Urban Development Carla A. Hills says she would like to see graduated mortgage payments offered as an option for anyone buying a home through the Federal Housing Administration.

Mrs. Hills told newsmen Wednesday the change in the FHA program will be proposed to Congress Jan. 3.

building for the lower price range. But the young family is looking for more house with more amenities nowadays. And the median size of a house is up from 780 to 1,600 square feet since the 1950s."

She said a credit crunch is created by inflation of interest rates, property taxes and maintenance costs, "and the cure lies in curbing inflation."

In her address to the nation's realtors, Mrs. Hills said the most important lesson people in this country have learned in the past decade is that state and local problems are not automatically solved by shunting them off to Washington.

"People have rediscovered the truth that our cities and states very often can devise better solutions for their individual problems than Congress, which deals in broad national statistics and depends on grand national plans that too frequently miss the mark," she said.

The secretary talked with newsmen and addressed the National Association of Realtors Convention.

She said HUD now has congressional authority to offer the graduated payment feature for 1 per cent of 260,000 home loans being underwritten by the FHA during the fiscal year that ends in September 1977.

She said the option on starting at a low monthly payment increasing later in the life of the loan is an important advantage to a young couple lacking enough equity for a big down payment on a new home.

"The median price for a house is up from $22,500 to $45,000 since 1967," she said. "Yet median income is also up from $7,000 to $14,000. So the ratio is the same."

"The government can encourage the industry to do more

She said one of the healthiest things to happen in this country in the past 10 years has been the growing awareness of the cost and consequences of government solutions.

His aide said specific legislative proposals were not brought up.

Rep. Thomas P. O'Neill, D-Mass., expected to be the next House speaker, said Carter "will have 100 per cent cooperation from me."

Sen. Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., retiring as the Senate Democratic leader, said, "If the meeting this afternoon is any indication of what lies ahead for the constitution in 1879 that "livestock and poultry were taxed and that the practice has never ceased."

Hill cited two court cases in 1886 and 1889 about taxation of cattle. "We conclude therefore that livestock and poultry are not considered to be included within the definition of 'farm products' as that term is used" in the constitution.

Hill said that "family supplies for home and farm use" meant consumable articles reasonably necessary for day-to-day use in operating or maintaining a farm or home.

In another opinion the attorney general said the Department of Labor and Standards had no authority under state law to make "shop surveys" of boiler manufacturers and to charge a fee.

The opinion was asked by Jackie W. St. Clair, commissioner, who said his department had, since 1969, been conducting "shop surveys" for boiler manufacturers to be certified by the American Society of Mechanical Engineers.

Hill said the state law authorizes inspections of certain steam boilers but not of the plant and machinery of a boiler manufacturer.

Women will continue to account for most of this country's new workers during the next decade, according to The Conference Board. Women accounted for 60 per cent of the jump in the U.S. work force during the last 10 years and will comprise an even larger share between now and 1985.

Religious Tought Occurs After Man Buried Alive

VANCOUVER, Wash. (AP) - Daniel Durham says he looks at life differently now that he has the chips off his shoulders - some 30,000 pounds of them that entombed him alive for 90 minutes.

Durham was dumped into a truck, buried under six feet of wood chips and carried 40 miles while his screams went unheard. Someone even walked over the chips, unaware that Durham was buried beneath.

"All of a sudden I was falling, and then I was buried," Durham said Wednesday. "I may have blacked out a couple times from suffocation. I knew I couldn't last more than five minutes more."

Durham was leveling chips in an elevated bin last Friday when he was dumped accidentally into the truck, which then headed for a fiber company 40 miles away.

Jerry Thorp, supervisor at Lumber Specialty Industries Inc., said Durham had neglected to block the driveway with a board that keeps trucks from backing under the bin while somebody is working in it. Better safety precautions since have been instituted, Thorp said.

"I knew I was going to die," Durham said. "I struggled, I yelled, but nobody heard me. Then I realized I had better save my energy."

Durham said he was nearly trampled and suffocated when the truck stopped at a weigh station. "I could feel somebody walking right on top of me there, but no one heard me yelling," he said.

Unknown to Durham, back at the lumber company Thorp had noticed him gone about 15 minutes after the truck pulled away. Realizing he might be in the truck, Thorp phoned fiber company officials, who contacted the driver by radio.

An ambulance awaited the truck at Longview, and workers dug and clawed Durham free. He escaped with only three cracked ribs and internal bleeding which has cleared up.

"I'm not religious, but I have second thoughts now," he said. "I know God had something to do with me making it."

Bell Telephone Needs Only $29 Million For Revenue

AUSTIN (AP) - A watchdog accountant for the federal government says Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. needs no more than $29 million in additional annual revenue to earn a 7.62 per cent rate of return on its investment of $3.9

billion in Texas.

But Bell attorneys said accountant Woodrow Dooley later revised his figures during a break in the Public Utilities Commission hearing on Bell's rate increase request and acknowledged some mistakes during subsequent cross examination.

Bell is asking the Public Utilities Commission for $298 million in rate increases.

Accountant Dooley said Wednesday the 7.62 per cent rate of return is the mid-point of the range recommended by Mark Langsam of the General Services Commission.

Dooley also testified that Bell's end-of-period financial adjustment "understates revenues and overstates expenses."

According to Bell attorney Jon D. Lawrence, Dooley later said he had understated the telephone company's expenses by $40 million and had failed to include in an income tax calculation $72 million in additional revenue and $32 million in expenses.

Dooley testified that he was abandoning his previous testimony, according to Lawrence.

Lawrence said his accountants refigured the calculations using Dooley's method and came with a $113 million recommendation instead of the original $29 million recommended by the GSA.

Carter Flooded With Job Seekers

WASHINGTON (AP)— Job applications are pouring into President-elect Jimmy Carter's office here at the rate of more than a thousand a day, but most of the applicants are going to be disappointed.

Matthew B. Coffey, 35, director of Carter's personnel office here, said Thursday his office is overwhelmed by mail and a "steady stream of walk-ins, modestly and immediately offering their services" to the new administration.

Many other Carter staffers report receiving dozens of phone calls a day from friends and friends-of-friends wanting to find out how to find work with the Carter administration.

Those who show up at one of the reception desks outside transition headquarters in Washington are given a standard government application form and a questionnaire asking for name, date of birth, race, education and political affiliation, if any.

Coffey and his staff of 38, with the help of Carter's political advisers, are concentrating now on the 32 key jobs the President-elect must fill such as the Cabinet secretaries, undersecretaries, heads of independent agencies and a few regulatory commission posts. They have identified a total of 300 jobs they expect Carter to fill in time.

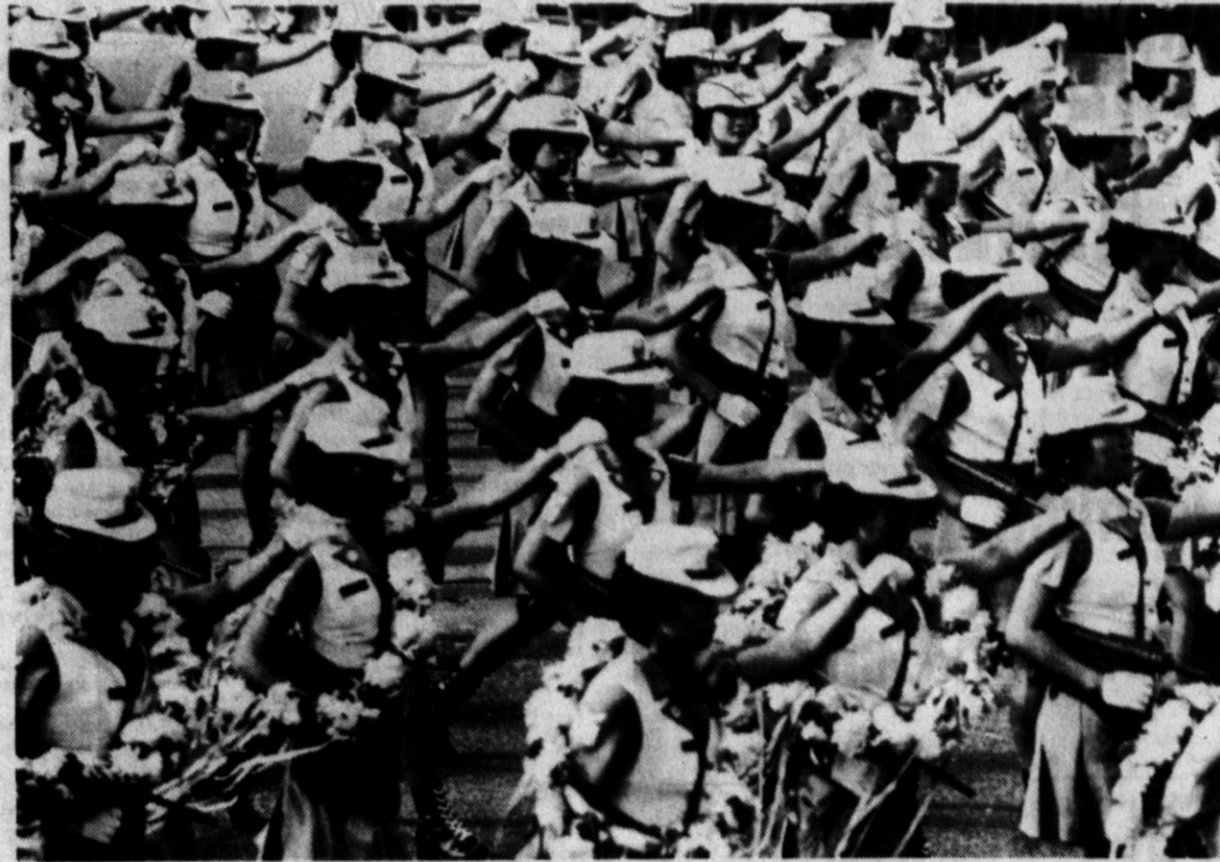

In addition, there are about 3,000 part-time posts on presidential commissions and the boards of quasi-governmental units like ConRail, the U.S. Postal Service and the National Endowment for the Arts.

About 1,800 policy-making slots in the various government agencies are expected to be filled by the agency heads.

Richard C.D. Fleming, 31, who headed the Carter personnel program before the election and recruited Coffey, now his boss, said the office received more than 10,000 job applications even before the election.

When people phone or come in asking how to apply for jobs, they are told to send their resumes to P.O. Box 2600, Washington, D.C., 20013.

Coffey suggested that the route most job seekers should follow is to do what he did: take the competitive Civil Service examination.

Misunderstandings Threaten Millionaire Bank Owner

RIO GRANDE CITY, Tex. (AP)— A "misunderstanding among friends" almost cost South Texas rancher-banker Clinton Manges controlling interest in the First State Bank and Trust Co. of Rio Grande

City, the banker says. Manges, already involved in a fight with the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. FDIC, was forced to flex his monetary muscles on another front Wednesday after a Hartlingen bank filed suit in state court asking to take over the only bank in Starr County in lieu of payment for past due promissory notes.

The suit, filed in Brownsville, claims Manges and his Duval County Ranch Co. owe the Hartlingen National Bank $449,000.

The petition states Manges borrowed $400,000 in the name of his 100,000-acre ranch near Freer and secured that loan with 96 per cent of the stock of the First State Bank of Rio Grande City.

The remaining $49,000 was a personal loan to Manges, says the suit, secured by 3,000 shares of the Manges-owned Gross National Bank of San Antonio.

Dial Dunkin, board chairman of the Hartlingen bank, said he was an "observer" at the Rio Grande City bank Wednesday which severed ties with the FDIC last week after Manges claimed the federal agency was "trying to destroy me" because of his political alignment with the Democratic party.

While Dunkin would acknowledge the pending lawsuit, he would only comment, "It would be improper for me to comment on Clinton Manges' personal business."

Manges, however, said the law suit was a "disagreement between old friends" caused by "a personality conflict."

Manges said he had negotiated with Dunkin Wednesday and offered more collateral to secure the loans.

State District Court Judge Darrell Hester, in whose 197th District Court the petition was filed, asked to be excused from hearing the suit because he said he owns stock in the Hartlingen National Bank. District Court Judge J.R. Alamia, administrative judge of the Fifth Administrative District, accepted the suit.

One-Stop Flight To France Possible

DALLAS (AP)— Braniff International announced Thursday it is negotiating with Air France for an interchange agreement which would provide one-stop Concorde jet flights between Dallas-Fort Worth Regional Airport and Paris.

The announcement came a day after Braniff has revealed it was conducting similar negotiations with British Airways to provide interchange flights between D-FW and London by way of Washington's Dulles International Airport.

A joint statement by Braniff and Air France said the two firms had concluded that "an interchange operation would be feasible," and were optimistic that a final agreement can be reached.

The proposed interchange would be an extension of the current Concorde flights between Paris and Washington. Braniff would operate the Air France Concorde between Washington and Dallas-Fort Worth at 95 per cent of the speed of sound which is more than 15 per cent faster than conventional jets.

Flying time between Dallas-Fort Worth and Paris would be seven hours and 10 minutes, about half the time of the current connecting schedules with conventional aircraft.

President Ford Returns To Prepare 1978 Budget

WASHINGTON (AP)— Back from a California holiday, President Ford is rejoining the working world by devoting time to one of the last major tasks of his presidency: preparing the federal budget for 1978.

The three-hour conference on the budget that Ford planned today was his longest work session since Nov. when he lost the election to Jimmy Carter. Ford, wife Betty, daughter Susan and son Jack returned to Washington on Monday evening from Palm Springs, Calif., where the President spent eight days unwinding from the campaign.

James T. Lynn, director of the Office of Management and Budget, met with Ford twice in Palm Springs and returned with him for today's meeting on preliminary outlines for the federal budget for fiscal 1978, due for presentation to Congress in January.

Lynn said last week that Ford's 1978 budget will exceed the $429.5 billion in outlays that were tentatively projected a year ago. Spending in fiscal 1977, which began Oct. 1, is expected to top $413 billion, including a $50 billion deficit.

Carter can submit his own budget proposals for fiscal 1978 after he takes office Jan. 20.

Ford's vacation routine in Palm Springs consisted mainly of swimming and golf, but he also went house hunting.

The Fords on Sunday viewed several houses and lots in the posh desert resort where they stayed, but made no decision on whether to move to the area permanently, White House Press Secretary Ron Nessen said Monday.

Mrs. Ford's press secretary, Sheila Weidenfeld, said, "Weatherwise, it is her favorite choice."

She also said she felt the Fords would not return to the Alexandria, Va., home the family occupied during Ford's years in Congress.

"The kids are grown now and I don't think they will be going back" to Alexandria, she said. Nessen said the next month would be "normal, busy routine," after which Ford will take his family to Vail, Colo., for their annual Christmas skiing vacation. The Fords own a condominium there.

The press secretary said Ford has accepted an invitation from Vice President Nelson A. Rockefeller to spend this weekend at Pocantico Hills, Rockefeller's country estate near Tarrytown, N.Y.

Burns Recommends No Tax Cut

WASHINGTON (AP)— Chairman Arthur Burns of the Federal Reserve Board Thursday recommended against a tax cut at the present time, but did not rule one out if the economy fails to recover from its current slowdown.

"I see no advantage in a tax cut at the present time," Burns said. "My mind on the subject, however, is by no means closed."

President-elect Jimmy Carter has said he will consider a tax reduction next year if the economic slowdown continues. Some of Carter's advisers have expressed concern that the Federal Reserve Board could offset the benefits by tightening the nation's money supply.

Burns has been trying to head off a possible conflict with Carter on the matter.

The chairman made his statements in a speech prepared for the United States League of Savings Associations in New York. His remarks came as the government reduced its estimate of growth in the nation's economic output to 3.8 per cent during the fall quarter.

That rate is just below the level generally considered necessary to whittle down unemployment.

Referring to a tax cut, Burns said he "will weigh the issue carefully" if the economy appears to need such a stimulus and if there are "economies" in federal spending.

While some of Carter's advisers have said they would prefer a one-time tax rebate, Burns said he would prefer a broad-based permanent tax reduction for both business and individuals, similar to a tax cut enacted in the early 1960s.

"Such a measure, on a responsible scale, would minimize social conflict and have the best chance of producing lasting economic benefits for our country," he said.

Carter, on the other hand, has said he will consider tax cuts aimed at benefitting low and middle-income workers and has said nothing about cutting taxes to benefit business.

In any case, Burns said there is no need for a tax cut at the present time, partly because it could add to inflationary pressures and partly because he expects the economy to resume solid growth without one.

But in keeping the door slightly ajar, as he has in the past, Burns continued to send out what appear to be conflicting signals on the money and interest-rate policies which the Federal Reserve Board will follow after Carter takes office.

On one hand, Burns has said privately that he would be willing to support a tax cut next year if the economy needs it. On the other hand, the 72-year-old chairman was warned that new fiscal stimulus adding to budget deficits would only make matters worse.

Family Retraces Route Of Megamouth Shark Found Early American Explorers Near Oahu In Depths Of Ocean

HISTORY RELIVED—Setting off in their canoe on the Missouri River, near Great Falls, Mont., Barry, Clark camped and built canoes on the island during their historic journey.

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — On July 25, 1806, explorer William Clark carved his name and the date into a rock beside the Yellowstone River in what is now Yellowstone County, Wyoming.

The carving, the only physical evidence of the Lewis and Clark expedition, was still there this summer when modern traveler Dr. Steven Ambrose retraced the 8,000-mile route.

But the rock is now locked inside a glass case and marked on tourist maps of territories that were once wilderness.

Ambrose, a New Orleans author and outdoorsman, said he was sometimes thrilled, sometimes dismayed by the changes that have occurred since the two explorers and an Indian guide journeyed at the behest of then-President Thomas Jefferson.

Fertile farms line the Missouri River in Midwestern states that Lewis and Clark, in their copious journals, predicted would become "prime farm land."

But the Columbia River, which the expedition followed to the Pacific, "is a disaster. All its rapids and waterfalls are gone."

"We canoed where Lewis and Clark did, we backpacked over the mountains and spent Fourth of July on the Continental Divide at the spot where Lewis first crossed it," Ambrose said.

"We hiked through the Bitterroot Mountains and visited their winter quarters at Fort Clatsop on the Pacific."

The Ambroses set out from St. Louis May 14, exactly 172 years after the expedition, and quickly learned respect for the hearty frontiersmen.

"We didn't expect to find the Missouri River current so strong. . . . With two of us in a small canoe, we could make only a mile an hour upriver and that was hard work. And the hiking! They made as many as 28 miles a day — the best we could manage was 14."

The Ambroses resorted to their van and pickup truck periodically. But they were on the trail long enough to spot 250 species of birds, several Rocky Mountain goats and bighorn sheep, a bear, a moose, "more deer than we could count," and more snakes than they care to remember.

They took along the Lewis and Clark journals to compare notes, and made notes of their own for a planned book.

"It deepened my respect for Lewis and his men," said Ambrose, a University of New Orleans history professor and editor of President Eisenhower's wartime papers.

"We have fallen in love with America all over again."

HONOLULU (AP) — "Megamouth," a huge deep-sea shark caught by accident and thought to be a new species, has the jaws of a movie star. But scientists say his feeding habits probably would make him less than fearsome.

The 12-foot, 1,500-pound shark was hauled in from the Pacific Ocean depths—500 to 1,000 feet down—just off Oahu this week. He had become entangled in the anchor lines of a Navy research vessel and apparently suffocated because he could not move enough to provide respiration.

"It was just a fortunate circumstance for us," said Leighton Taylor, director of the Waikiki Aquarium of the University of Hawaii. "An unfortunate one for the shark, however."

Taylor and another ichthyologist, Paul J. Struhsaker of the National Marine Fisheries Service, are studying the fish, which has been placed on ice at a local tuna cannery for preservation until a container his size can be built.

"We think it's a new species, a new genus and a new family of shark," Taylor said. Scientists at the Scripps Institute in La Jolla, Calif., after hearing a description by telephone, agreed that the shark probably had not been identified previously, he said.

Taylor said he gave the shark the nickname "Megamouth" because its mouth is "huge." But he said that judging from its tiny teeth, the fish fed on small sea life and wouldn't even have been tempted by a baited hook.

"We'll know more about what he eats when we cut him open, but we don't want to do that now because it would make things kind of messy down at the cannery," he said.

The shark was identified as a male. Taylor said there was some calcification of the bones, showing that the fish was mature.

He also said the shark may have been equipped with a headlight.

"There is some evidence he can produce bioluminescence because there appear to be photophores in the mouth area," said Taylor. He said many fish living at the shark's depth can produce light.

Schools In Danger of Collapse Without Added Help, Supers Say

CHICAGO (AP) — Voter resistance to school tax hikes has grown so strong that schools face severe curtailment of services they get more federal and state assistance, big-city school superintendents say.

"Don't think you can get the cities straightened out if you don't get the schools straightened out," Vincent Reed, superintendent of Washington, D.C., public schools told a meeting of heads of 27 major city school systems here.

The three-day conference of the Council of the Great City Schools, which opened Thursday, was called to develop urban educational priorities that the superintendents hope President-elect Jimmy Carter will adopt.

Sam Husk, council executive vice president, said he would like the federal government to add $3 billion to $4 billion to the nearly $5 billion it now pays of the $60-billion annual tab for public education.

Carter has said he favors bolstering federal educational aid by eliminating the ban on using revenue-sharing funds for schools. He also proposed creation of a separate Department on Education.

Speakers at the meeting cited the recent shutdown of several small districts in Ohio and Oregon after voters refused to pass higher tax levies. They also pointed to the struggle of many larger districts to remain solvent.

"It's created a situation in Detroit whereby we have to constantly battle just to keep our heads above water," said that city's school chief, Arthur Jefferson.

He said Detroit voters this month rejected for the second time this year a tax increase that would have brought in an estimated $38 million to the schools.

Restaurant Program for Retarded Students Gives On Job Training

By PETER MAITIAE
Associated Press Writer

WESTVILLE GROVE, N.J. (AP) — If you stop at the Harp Room here, ask Becky for a cheese steak, french fries and coffee.

At the next door down, Bill can sell you raisin bread or a pepperoni and cheese loaf. It's good. On your way out, ask Lenny for a pound of imported ham or some swiss cheese.

Becky, Bill and Lenny are mentally retarded.

But their boss, John Misci, says they're ready to go to work and he'd hire them himself if he wasn't phasing out his Turnersville restaurant to instruct them at the St. John of God Community Services center here.

The center, run by the Irish Brothers of St. John of God, is offering its 12-most advanced retarded students a chance at learning the food business as part of its vocational training program.

And any weekday lunchtime, the public is invited to drop in to their school in this Gloucester County community to see what they can do — and to have lunch, too.

"I had a good business before I came here," said Misci, who had three restaurants when he found out four years ago that his daughter was mentally retarded.

Now, he's teaching other mentally retarded students how to bake doughnuts, rolls, danish pastry and specialty loaves. They're also learning how to slice cold cuts, make salads, bus tables and wash dishes with commercial equipment.

Misci believes his students, most of whom are in their 20s, can one day become food specialists in hotel kitchens.

"It's gratifying to motivate students who once only watched television. If I still had a place of my own, those kids would be my employees," Misci said.

There are some things his retarded students can't do, Misci explained.

For that reason, the menu at the Harp Room is simple. Patrons circle their selections from a long list ranging from soup du jour to cheeseburgers to honey dipped chicken.

Students, serving as waitresses, set tables, take orders and pass them to the cooks.

Misci's professional aides — who work the grill.

Waitresses fill the simpler parts of the orders and do the serving. Later, others bus the dirty dishes and clean the tables.

In an adjoining bakery, rich with the sweet smell of fresh bread, Misci's students work from scratch. Their fare includes french bread, raisin bread, rolls, buns and ham and cheese or pepperoni and cheese loaves.

Independence of Baptist Churches Endangered

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
AB Religion Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Independence is a watchword of the Southern Baptist churches, a principle that was behind the struggle over admission of blacks at President-elect Jimmy Carter's home church in Plains, Ga.

Although the denomination's national convention repeatedly has condemned racial discrimination and segregation, the national body has no authority over its local churches 34,901 of them throughout the country.

They're completely autonomous, setting their own rules and policies, picking their own ministers, deciding on who is eligible for membership, admitting them by a congregational show of hands.

Just as many of those individual congregations have modified their positions in recent years to allow blacks to become members, the church in Plains last Sunday took that step.

It had long been advocated by Carter and his family, who 12 years ago had been virtually alone in taking that stand. Most members, however, held out against it until the change came under the spotlight of national attention.

Although a big proportion of Southern Baptist congregations now have open-door policies, most of them remain solidly white, as do many congregations in other major, predominantly white denominations.

In the recent past, the common worship time of 11 o'clock Sunday morning had been called the "most segregated hour" in America, and it still is extensively that way in fact but not policy, despite continuing efforts to rectify the pattern.

Some Southern Baptist congregations "regrettably follow a closed-door policy," says the denomination's president, the Rev. Dr. James L. Sullivain of Nashville, Tenn., but many others are "completely integrated."

Church historian Leon McBeth says statements by Southern Baptist leaders indicate a "new day" and "new attitude" in accepting minority races, but "our actions have never matched our rhetoric."

McBeth, of Southern Baptist Theological Seminary in Fort

Worth, TEACHES the denomination has made "significant progress in race relations," but "racism still is prevalent among us."

Since the national convention and agencies are "officially committed to equality," he says, "it gives some hope that we may gradually begin to practice what we have in the past quarter century at least begun to preach."

Nevertheless, under the Baptist system, no denominational authority can prescribe congregational conduct, nor do

Firm Works With Colleges To Patent and Sell Ideas

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) — University campuses have given birth to many of the world's greatest inventions but too often the schools never see a cent for what their labs have produced, says a patent consultant.

Universities have traditionally been caught short on ideas created in their laboratories, according to L. William Miles, a former IBM executive who operates a company trying to ensure that colleges receive money that's due them for good inventions.

His company, University Patents Inc. of Stamford, Conn., reviews discoveries made at client schools, tries to patent the ideas and then finds businesses to market them.

The firm has exclusive rights to five universities, including the University of Illinois which originally set up the company as its own patent operation.

The typical arrangement calls for the firm getting 40 per cent and the client getting 60 per cent of the royalties coming from successful ideas.

Miles said that while none of his firm's patent ideas have "taken off" yet, several are regarded as having tremendous potential.

They include a milk-like beverage made from soybeans which may soon be introduced by Beatrice Foods Co., a biodegradable DDT handled through Abbot Laboratories, a computer-based teaching system introduced earlier this year by Control Data Corp.

the denomination, a congregation or pastor, have authority over the religious views of an individual member.

Self-determination is the distinctive tenet, with each person free to interpret Scripture according to his own mind and conscience. Baptists insist on individual independence in beliefs.

While this makes for many differences, the common bond is acknowledgement of Jesus as Lord and the New Testament as the guide to faith and practice.

BIRTHDAY ANNOUNCED SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Tom Arden, a columnist for a Sacramento newspaper, wished a happy 40th birthday to Anita Heinz in his column recently and went on to explain why. "Remember eight years ago?" he wrote, addressing himself to the birthday woman. "When Yvonne Goodenow became 40 years old, you plastered a big sign at her house, reading, 'Life Begins at 40. Happy Birthday.' "You did it in the stealth of night, according to Mrs. Goodenow, and she says she has been waiting all these years to get even. Mrs. Goodenow understands you expect her to put up a similar sign at your place by tonight. Instead, as you are a faithful reader of this paper, she requested that an item be used in the paper to welcome you to the 'Life Begins at 40 Club.' Surprise, surprise!"

out of America's past actually is part of the booming present. Yukon Territory, right, recreating the 1890's Gold Rush days is one of five "theme" areas at Marriott's Great America in Santa Clara, Calif. Theme parks, starting with Disneyland at Anaheim, Calif., in 1955, have turned the old-fashioned recreation park into one of the nation's major growth industries. This year, 22 theme parks nationwide are expected to attract 70 million visitors, an attendance increase of some 500 per cent in 10 years.

Theme parks also feature stage shows — left, starring Bugs Bunny — and the traditional thrill rides, but in updated versions. A triple Ferris wheel, right, the 110-foot Sky Whirl towers over the County Fair section at Santa Clara. A second Marriott's Great America is located at Gurnee, Ill., between Chicago and Milwaukee.

Dr. Lamb

When a woman's fertility ends

By Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB — Could you tell me at what age a woman quits bearing children? Can she become pregnant when she is going through the change of life and more than 51 years old? Can a woman at this age get pregnant when she hasn't had a monthly period for two months or more? I'll be waiting to hear from you real soon.

DEAR READER — This is a frequent question. To start with there is no record of any woman ever having a baby after age 56. Change of life babies are frequent because women wrongly think they can no longer get pregnant. Your doctor can give you a better idea in your own individual case. You shouldn't assume on your own that you cannot get pregnant unless you are through the menopause and have not had a period for two years. Some doctors think one year without periods is sufficient, but if you don't want to follow the two year interval I would suggest you ask your doctor in regard to your own particular case. He may be able to tell you more on the basis of an examination.

To give you more information I am sending you The Health Letter number 5-12, Menopause. Others who want this issue can send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with 50 cents for it. Just address obstruction of the pulmonary artery that carries blood to the lungs and an opening between the right and left side of the heart (ventricular septal defect). This, with some other variations, causes oxygenated blood to be shunted to the left side of the heart and causes the blue discoloration called cyanosis.

Now it is nice to be able to wait until the child is optimal in size but the degree of the defect makes a lot of difference on the decision the doctors have to make. I presume the obstruction to the pulmonary artery is from an overgrowth of tissue just beneath the valve, and the progression of this overgrowth is increasing the obstruction. To make the point clear, if the obstruction were total, there would be no way circulation could be continued. So naturally the doctors are concerned with the degree of obstruction. The more severe the obstruction the more oxygenated blood is shunted to the left side of the heart.

The location and severity determine the course and time for treatment. I would suggest you trust the doctors' judgment as they have a lot of complex information that has suggested the best course of action to them. In some types of defects it is necessary to operate at once, soon after birth, so there is no hard and fast rule on age or size as you have read.

Just when you think you know the score, someone says the game's going into extra innings.

Here's the Answer

By ANDY LANG AP Newsfeatures

Q. — I would like to know if I am eligible to get a Veterans Administration loan for the purchase of a mobile home. Some people tell me I am. Others say I am not because I did not serve in the army while a war was on. The mobile home I am interested in costs $18,000. It is one of those doublewide types. I own my own lot. I served in the army during peacetime and got out just before the Korean war started.

A. — On the basis of those facts, you are eligible, assuming that you served for at least 90 days. Also, it is a VA guarantee rather than a loan. The VA guarantees up to 50 per cent of such a loan, which is made by a lending institution. Some lenders are interested in giving VA-guaranteed loans on mobile homes; some are not. You'll have to shop around. Under the program, veterans can borrow up to $12,500 for a period up to 12 years for singlewide homes, and up to $20,000 for up to 20 years for doublewides. The singlewides are 12 feet wide, the doublewides 24 feet. The maximum interest permitted by the Veterans Administration is 12 1/2 per cent. I recommend that you go to a VA office and get all the details that pertain to your situation before proceeding any further.

put a tablespoon or so of vinegar in each batch you mix. The vinegar will delay the setting time. Another possibility is to add water to a half-and-half mixture of plaster of paris and spackling compound.

Q. — Over the years I have several times replaced wall outlets. They have all been the type that has openings for a single plug. Now I have to replace an outlet with openings for two plugs. Anything I should know? Both openings take the regular two-pronged plugs.

A. — After disconnecting the main electric switch, proceed the same as you did in the past. This time you will find four wires — two black and two white. Connect the two black wires to the brass terminal screws, the two white wires to the chrome terminal screws.

County Favors Ford, Dole

Carter, Mondale Win Election

By BOBBY TEMPLETON
Brand News Editor

It was a back and forth battle all night long but Deaf Smith County voters went against the grain of the national electorate by favoring President Gerald Ford with 2,776 votes compared with Democrat Jimmy Carter's 2,613 votes. Of course, the nation's ballots showed that Carter narrowly defeated Ford for the presidency on the popular vote.

LIKE MUCH OF TEXAS and the nation, voter turnout for Tuesday's election here was significantly higher than expected with some 5,561 appearing at the polls. This represents about 71.6 per cent of the 7,765 voters registered to vote in the county. It beats out the 1972 voter turnout of about 5,060 voters which composed about 70 per cent of the registered voters then.

Even with the record turnout both in percentages and number, contested races were close.

The local voters gave Carter a commanding win in the May Texas Democrat Primary but he lost ground as the election approached. But the decision has been made and Carter and his vice-presidential running mate Walter Mondale of Minnesota are the next White House occupants.

Ford, after two years in office following the resignation of Richard Nixon will leave office in January. The hopes of his running mate Robert Dole of Kansas also went down the drain.

Other candidates for president receiving votes were Thomas J. Anderson and his running mate Rufus Shackelford, 16 votes; Peter Camejo and his running mate Willie Mae Reid, no votes; and Eugene McCarthy, 21 votes.

CONGRESSMAN GEORGE MAHON of the 19th Congressional District retained his post by defeating Republican challenger Jim Reese, Odessa, by the latest vote count. It was 80,470 for Mahon and 67,402 for Reese across the district with 255 of 262 precincts reporting according to the Associated Press.

Locally, the race was much tighter much to the delight of Wes Fisher, county Republican party chairman. Voters here gave Mahon 2,698 ballots compared with Reese's 2,567 votes. Of course, Democrat party chairman Robert Strain was happy that Mahon actually won here even though narrowly.

Three of the local precincts reported identical vote totals for both Mahon and Reese. They were precinct one at the courthouse with 688 votes for the candidates; precinct four, Simms, with 24 votes each; and precinct eight, Walcott, with 10 votes each.

The most hotly contested of the statewide races was between incumbent Democrat Lloyd Bentsen and Republican Alan Steelman, a congressman from Dallas. Texas gave Bentsen the election by a wide margin, but again Deaf Smith County voters were not so wide split. The county was 2,994 for Bentsen and 2,146 for Steelman.

Candidates getting votes for U.S. Senator besides Steelman and Bentsen were Majorie P. Gallion and 15 ballots and Pedro Vasquez with 25 votes.

Refer to other stories and the vote tabulations in this issue for a detailed look at results.

THE WRITE-IN ATTEMPT to oust Don Yarborough from his uncontested race for associate justice on the Texas Supreme Court, place 2, was not successful. He won it statewide by a handsome margin mostly due to name identification of former Senator Ralph Yarborough and former candidate for Governor Don Yarborough.

Voters here were a little more aware of the situation by giving write-in candidate Sam Houston 1,428 votes and Tom Lorance 174 votes. Yarborough polled 2,299 ballots.

Locally, candidates were uncontested except for a few small vote write-ins, which for the most part could be considered jokes such as the votes for

Newton Wins TRC Seat

By The Associated Press

Democratic state legislator Jon Newton, surrounded by a busload of his hometown friends, was "loving every minute of it" Tuesday night as he watched returns showing him to be an easy winner of a seat on the powerful Texas Railroad Commission.

Newton, a 34-year-old three-term lawmaker from Beeville, drubbed Republican challenger Walter Wendlandt, an Austin attorney and former Commission engineer, by a two to one margin Tuesday.

Here is how it looked, according to the latest returns from the Texas Election Bureau:

Railroad Commission
Newton 1,940,250, Wendlandt 982,099

Democrats Control Senate

WASHINGTON (AP)- The Democrats will have exactly the same U.S. Senate majority in next year's Congress, despite a party turnover in 14 seats and the election of 17 new senators in Tuesday's elections.

The present party lineup, 62 Democrats to 38 Republicans, was left unchanged after the counting of ballots in the 33 seats at stake.

The last race decided was in California, where incumbent Democrat John V. Tunney lost a seesaw battle to his 70-year-old GOP opponent, former San Francisco State College president S.I. Hasakawa.

Returns from other states showed Democrats winning seven seats from Republicans while GOP candidates took six seats from the Democrats.

Among the election day casualties were four veteran Senate Democrats-Vance Hartke of Indiana, Joseph M. Montoya of New Mexico, Gale W. McGee of Wyoming and Frank E. Moss of Utah.

Why Did Carter Win?

NEW YORK (AP)- Voters' desires for a change in Washington overcame their qualms about Jimmy Carter and their respect for Gerald Ford's experience in office, an Associated Press Poll shows.

Carter won by coaxing support from the traditional Democratic bloc, despite their feelings that he has promised more than he can deliver and that he will be a less than excellent president, the survey showed.

The former Georgia governor drew strong support from the lower income groups, labor union members, blacks and the less educated, all the traditional bases of Democratic strength.

Carter's pattern of lukewarm support proved too much for Ford to top with votes from independents and disaffected Democrats, even though the President's backers expressed somewhat greater enthusiasm for their choice.

FAITH MUST REMAIN FIRM IN THE FACE OF MISFORTUNE

All have times when things go wrong,
 And Fortune's in reverse;
 Yet we're expected to be strong,
 Though things could not get worse...
 A strength of which the Scriptures name
 Examples plain to see:
 Like Job, whose faith remained the same
 Throughout adversity.
 So why not go to Church this week,
 Whichever one you choose,
 And listen to the Bible speak;
 There's not a thing to lose!
 Then, what those passages command
 You'll follow to the letter;
 And let God take your life in hand,
 To change it for the better! —Gloria Nowak

I show you doubt, to prove that faith exists.

Soap Opera Merges With Thriller

THE BARBOZA CREDENTIALS. By Peter Driscoll. Lippincott. 334 Pages. $8.95.

Well, it seems the soap opera has merged with the thriller. At least that's the best way to describe "The Barboza Credentials," a book that bogs down in plot, subplot, and sub-subplot, and becomes subpar.

A shame, because it is written by a man who apparently possesses a lot of the necessary qualities that make up writing skill. Unfortunately, one of those qualities — imagination — gets too much usage and the result is a book that makes it tedious for the reader to keep up with who did what, when, how and where.

The novel is set in Africa and concerns conflicts that grew out of a revolutionary movement, particularly the destruction of a group of villagers.

The main character around which the plots revolve, or stumble, is a former policeman who had a clandestine international business getting things in and out of South Africa.
