High Water Reflections

Shimmering water filled the Tierra Blanca Creek to the brim this week from runoff of heavy rains in this county. It's not often that the usually dry creek could mirror the large Hereford Grain elevator as shown above. It was possible, however, with the downpours of up to four inches received in the western part of the county.

Next Thursday, Friday and Saturday will be "Old Fashioned Days" in Hereford as all retail areas join together to offer special sales bargains and sponsor ping-pong ball drops with prizes going to lucky winners. Ping-pong balls will be numbered and shoppers who retrieve a ball can take it to the stores and check for winning numbers.

The sales promotion, which includes sidewalk sales all over town, will be conducted three days. The ping-pong ball drops will be made at different times Saturday morning in four locations—Dameron Park for the downtown stores, the Gibson-Safeway area, Sugarland Mall, and the Park Plaza complex.

See Thursday's Brand for all the details, including a list of bargains to be offered by participating stores. Sample copies of The Brand will be distributed in a wide area to support the merchants' promotion.

their restrictions at presstime, following the confirmation of an outbreak of hog cholera in a local herd July 4.

IOWA, NORTH Carolina and Michigan are latest states to join Oklahoma and Missouri in bans.

Oklahoma has altered its ban to apply to all swine from Deaf Smith and Castro counties, with the exception of slaughter animals.

Animals being moved for slaughter will require a permit from the task force and producers in the area who have questions about moving swine into Oklahoma should contact the state-federal task force at 376-2291, according to Dr. Lawrence A. Hill, task force director.

Missouri is restricting the movement of Texas hogs unless they are being moved directly to slaughter. Producers in the quarantine area must obtain a permit to ship from the task force.

Michigan, North Carolina and Iowa have embargoed all swine from Texas.

A QUARANTINE prohibiting all shipment of hogs within a 10 square mile radius of Hereford also remains in effect.

Boundaries of the quarantine area are farm roads 1057 and 1962 on the north, farm road 1057 to the west, farm road 2397 and a two mile stretch of county road on the south, and the county road to Dawn along farm road 809 north and 1062 on the east.

A 50-member task force made up of state and federal officials is continuing work in taking blood samples and tracing the 157 movements involving swine connected with the originally infected herd, which was owned by Hereford Livestock Co.

Task force members report that the only hogs known to be infected are "dead and buried".

No other Texas hogs have died or been found to have cholera.

BLOOD SAMPLES from several Oklahoma herds have been sent to the USDA laboratory in Ames, Iowa. A task force spokesman indicated Wednesday that there is a possibility that some animals in Oklahoma may have been exposed to the virus. Officials believe that some of the animals from the originally infected herd may have been sent to Oklahoma City for slaughter.

Dr. Hill was unsure whether other states will place an embargo on Texas hogs.

"I think there's a possibility that some states may withdraw their embargoes on the entire state as the quarantine area is nailed down," he said.

USDA animal health officials are warning farmers throughout the nation, particularly in the southwest, to remain alert for signs of the costly and fatal virus, which has the potential for rapid spread.

The local outbreak of the disease is the first in the country in over a year.

School District Tax Hiked 23 Percent

By O.G. NIEMAN
Brand Editor—Publisher

Nobody really wanted to make the motion, but Hereford School Board members unanimously approved a tax increase during a regular meeting Thursday evening. The action will raise property taxes by 23.3 per cent this year.

Also during the session, the school board discussed the condemnation of the old Central School building, and voted to tear down the structure if some group does not make plans to bring the building up to minimum standards by Jan. 1, 1976.

*Heard complaints from retailer Bill Frazier on the tax increase, inequities in valuations, as well as a personal criticism of Supt. Roy Hartman for buying suits in Dallas.

*Approved bids on bread and dairy products for school cafeterias, and a depository contract with First National Bank of Hereford.

*Approved advertisement of bids for construction of tennis courts at high school—a joint project of the city, county and school.

*Heard two representatives of the Hereford Classroom Teachers Association report that the local unit was not supporting teacher Wayne Woodward's suit against the school, nor did they have knowledge that the Texas CTA had approved financial support.

*Heard several reports from administrators and teachers, accepted teacher resignations and elected some new teachers, and held an executive session to discuss personnel and school property matters. No action came out of the executive meeting.

THE TRUSTEES had previously raised the assessment rate from 45 to 60 per cent of market value to allow for the tax increase. The tax rate was at a maximum of $2 last year, with $1.50 going to local maintenance and 50 cents to bonded indebtedness.

The new rate was set at $1.85, with $1.50 tabbed for local maintenance and 35 cents for the interest and sinking fund.

School Board Decides Old Central School Use

The old Central School building, constructed in 1915, was officially condemned Thursday, and the Hereford School Board took action which may result in the structure being destroyed after the first of the year.

The City of Hereford took quick action in making the condemnation official after a minor fire alarm was answered at the building Wednesday. Fire Marshal Jay Spain and City Inspector Bill Phipps both expressed surprise to learn the building was in use and called for the building to be brought up to "minimum standards" for occupancy or be torn down.

The school board had given permission to the Hereford Child Migrant Development Center to use the building this summer, unaware that city officials felt there was a mutual understanding the building wouldn't be used after school closed in May.

Spain and Phipps were present at the school board meeting Thursday evening, along with workers of the migrant program, to discuss the situation. Supt. Roy Hartman told trustees he had nothing in writing that indicated the building had been condemned. Trustee Clark Andrews added the board would not have authorized its use if they had known it was to be condemned when school closed.

Andrews and Danny Martin had been appointed by the board to study possible uses of the building. Martin said he thought the Community Action group, which obtained use of the building for the migrant program, "should see if it was feasible to bring the building up to standards; if that fails, it seems the school's only choice is to destroy the building."

Phipps reported the building "qualifies for condemnation in 9 of 15 areas." He said the city hadn't put "red tags" on the building because he thought it would be closed when school was completed in May. He said the electrical system was very inadequate and posed a danger. A minor fire resulting from electrical wiring was the incident that brought the condemnation question before the board meeting.

After the discussion of the situation, the board voted to close the building and to destroy it after Jan. 1 unless the Community Action, or some other group, makes plans to bring the building up to minimum standards, at their own expense.

It was pointed out that the discussion concerned only the old Central building—not the gym or all-purpose room at that location. The school board also voted to allow the migrant center to complete its program by using two portable buildings on the campus—along with the gym and kitchen. The program ends the last week in August.

School architect Herb Brasher was present at the meeting and gave a report on his firm's examination of the building. The report generally agreed with the city inspector on the points for condemnation. It pointed out that electrical wiring was inadequate and that there was a danger of falling brick around the top of the north, east and west walls.

During the discussion it was learned that no cost estimates had been sought in bringing the building up to minimum building code standards. Several persons estimated it would cost around $20,000 just to re-wire the structure.

Roy Faubion, representing the Deaf Smith County and Panhandle Community Action Agencies, had appeared at a school board meeting in June to propose that the old school be used by the agencies as a Human Service Delivery Center. This would have included such programs as Planned Parenthood, day care, alcohol counseling, Meals-on-Wheels, the migrant program, skill classes, and Senior Citizens.

Faubion was at the school board meeting Thursday evening and stated that it was apparent that everyone wanted to do the right thing, and it appeared all those concerned were acting in a cooperative manner.

Cost of repairing and re-wiring the building may be too much for any group to undertake. If so, old Central may soon be missing from the scene.

Governing Bodies To Meet

Deaf Smith County Commissioner's Court and board of directors from Deaf Smith General Hospital District and the Chamber of Commerce will convene this week in separate morning sessions.

BEGINNING AT 10 a.m. Monday, County Commissioners will consider a request from Harold Wheeler, adult probation officer, concerning the acquisition of an assistant in the probation office. Also, Jim McMorries, financial consultant, and Vance Crume, county tax officer, will make a presentation dwelling on reappraisal of area property values, which are not based on values of about 15-year-old evaluation.

Also on the court agenda is an appearance by juvenile officer Larry Watson, who will outline the minibike program devised for delinquent youth. Ron Welty, hospital administrator, is scheduled to discuss the Public Health Clinic, which falls under the county's jurisdiction.

Commissioners will review requisitions for repairs in the basement of Deaf Smith

Handicap Hampers Search for Accounting Job

Working Intently

Pedro Lafuente concentrates on a difficult accounting problem. Lafuente is looking for a position as an accountant, although he's a quadriplegic and receives a social security check each month. He would rather have a job than be supported by the government.

By JOE LACKEY
Brand Staff Writer

In our age it seems that many avoid work but one resident of Hereford is currently looking for a job, although his handicap conceivably could provide him an excuse for not working.

Pedro Lafuente, 30, of 600 Avenue F, has been a quadriplegic since his neck was broken in an automobile accident April 18, 1972. Although he receives a check from Social Security each month which provides for the basic needs of himself and his family, he wants work in the worst way.

And he feels that he could be valuable to any local business in an accounting or bookkeeping capacity. He has had approximately 20 hours of college accounting from West Texas State University, and has studied payroll accounting, inventory, the law of depreciation, and some tax accounting.

He says his handicap "places me at the bottom of the ladder." He feels that some handicapped people can become valuable employees because they have quick and sharp minds as opposed to some people who aren't handicapped who wouldn't benefit employers due to a general fear of hard work.

He says that his search for meaningful work has been helped by Orrell Vise, Texas Rehabilitation Commission counselor at WTSU, and Paul Cato, who works for the Manpower office here in Hereford.

Lafuente expressed disappointment in a recent trip to Friona, where he was told that an accounting position there had just been filled.

He attended high school here, and got his GED high school diploma equivalent while in the Texas Institute for Rehabilitation and Research in Houston.

Lafuente was in the hospital in Houston from April through the middle of November in 1972, receiving rehabilitation for his injuries.

Before his injury, he was employed by Bryant Brothers Pipeline as a heavy equipment mechanic. He is proud of the work record he established before he became handicapped. "I was always there when they needed me," he says.

"I'm pretty knowledgeable about heavy machinery, but it would be pretty rough for me to work in, say, a parts store, because of my difficulty in getting around," he said.

Lafuente, who has lived in Hereford since 1959, has confidence that he could help a local business in an accounting capacity. "I have enough schooling to do the job," he said. The only ingredient needed now for a successful resolution of Lafuente's problem is for some enterprising local businessman to step forward and volunteer to hire Lafuente.

One factor which might make it desirable for such a businessman to hire Lafuente is that there is a possibility that the Manpower Program might be willing to pay half Lafuente's salary during a training period.

Businessmen interested in hiring Lafuente may check with the manpower office, or the Texas Employment Commission Office. Lafuente says he checks in with these offices frequently.

Lafuente and his wife, Dahlia have four children. He is willing to talk to interested employers at his residence.

Schools-- from Page 1

For the individual taxpayer, the change means a 23.3 per cent increase in school taxes. For example, a property owner would have paid $450 ad valorem tax last year on $50,000 market value. This year his tax will figure to be $555, an increase of $105 or 23.3 per cent. Tax amounts are also subject to discount if paid prior to Jan. 1.

Trustee Clark Andrews, who reluctantly made the motion to set the rate, pointed out that inflation and school finance reform were the big factors making the increase necessary. "The only alternative would be to cut out some programs," he said.

Trustee James Gentry was more vocal about the school finance bill passed by the legislature. "I believe a large part of the blame lies with Gov. Briscoe, who kept vowing there would be no new state taxes. Instead he caused us to raise school taxes." The board set Aug. 12 as the date for a public budget hearing.

BILL FRAZIER, OWNER and operator of Abbie's Mister Shop, told trustees he attended the board of equalization hearing Thursday morning and was not satisfied with the explanations given. He said he asked the board some questions that were not answered, adding that there was not a retail man on the board. He also criticized the board for not "equalizing" taxes as they are charged to do.

Frazier claimed farmland is on the tax rolls at the 1961 values, while his and other business inventories were on the rolls at 1975 values. He claimed that some businesses do not render all their property and "we that do are penalized for being honest."

Noting that he has been a strong advocate of "shopping at home" in order that local firms might prosper and pay their taxes, Frazier turned to Supt. Roy Hartman for a personal question.

"I hear from several sources that you buy your suits at a Dallas store and recommend that firm to local men. Is this true," asked Frazier. "That is not a true statement," replied Hartman. "I buy some clothes in Dallas but I do not recommend to anyone where to buy their clothes."

Addressing the board again, Frazier requested that he, as a taxpayer, "be provided with figures showing where the school district spends its money, and an itemized statement of the superintendent's expenses." Board president Jim Conkwright replied that figures on the district's expenditures were always available for study, but that "the superintendent was not required to file an itemized statement on that portion of his salary allotted for travel expense." All school officials, however, file itemized statements for out-of-town trips on school business.

Priscilla Jeffries, Dana Jolly, Gary Goodin, Lily Goodin, Daisy Huntsinger, Margaret Livingston, and Joe Tubb. Elected as new teachers were: Cindy Loerwald, Celia Johnson, and Marilyn Kerr at West Central; Judith Medley and Judy Stoy at La Plata; Guadalupe Villarreal at Aikman; Janice Wiley, Amy Cole and Joyce Hickman at Stanton; and Eleanor Goen and Carolyn King at high school.

The depositary contract with First National calls for interest on time deposits to be paid at one-fourth of one per cent above the prevailing U.S. treasury bill rate, or a minimum of five per cent. Loans would be at one per cent above the treasury bill rate, and no service charge will be made for school transactions.

RODNEY LAUBAN, Bluebonnet principal, presented a curriculum report on a pilot program for gifted children. Two programs were held at Bluebonnet through third grade and another for fourth through sixth grade.

Lauban pointed out that many programs are offered for the disadvantaged student, and the school decided to test one for gifted pupils. Students in the program prepared a slide presentation, along with tape-recorded comments, on the subject "This Is Our School." The results were shown to trustees and visitors at the meeting.

Wilma Braddy, high school counselor, also presented a report on how the 1974 graduating class performed as freshmen in college. (A separate feature in The Brand will be found on this report).

Larry Wartes, administrative assistant, reported on cafeteria and transportation matters. He suggested the board consider the possibility at the next meeting of increasing the price of student lunches by about 5 cents, and teacher meals by 20 or 25 cents. Present cost of meals is 50 cents in elementary schools and 60 cents in secondary school—for both students and teachers. The cafeteria account showed a loss of approximately $12,896 the past year. He also reported new buses were due for delivery in July, but might not arrive for several months.

Cholera-- from Page 1

Prior to last week's outbreak, the last previous cases of the disease were reported in Puerto Rico May 4, 1974, and in Mississippi Feb. 7, 1974. Before the start of the eradication program, the disease affected an estimated 5,000 to 6,000 swine herds annually, and cost swine producers around $50 million a year.

"Of course we are deeply disappointed at finding hog cholera when we are this close to eradication of the disease," said Dr. F.J. Mulhern, an administrator for the USDA's Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service.

"This does illustrate the difficulty in eliminating the last trace of a disease and the importance of remaining alert until the task of eradication is complete," he added.

communications. The condemnation of the old Central School building is a case in point. The condemnation "axe" has been hanging over the building for a long time, but not too many people were aware of the situation. City officials, striving to cooperate, didn't want to "red tag" the building until a new school was built.

School officials didn't realize when Central's doors closed in May that they were closed for good. Again in a community-minded spirit, the school board authorized use of the building for a children's migrant program. When the fire marshal and city inspector realized the building was housing pupils again, they called for some action.

All the agencies got together in the trustee meeting Thursday evening and cleared up the situation in an amiable discussion. Central is closed unless some group wants to spend a lot of money to make it safe for occupancy.

Under the new school finance bill, it is estimated the average classroom teacher salary in Texas will rise from the present $9,773 to approximately $11,173, according to the TSTA magazine.

The new bill deals with much more than teacher pay. Also included for funds for transportation and for maintenance and operations, as well as for other elements of the school program. It provides equalization funds for poorer districts, compensatory education funds for the disadvantaged for the first time, adds kindergarten to the bilingual education program, and increases funds for driver education.

Heavy Rains Inundate Road 2298 Wednesday

A heavy rainstorm struck west of Hereford Wednesday night, dumping more than three inches of rain in an isolated area west of the Westway community.

The massive downpour left a portion of Farm to Market Road 2298 under five feet of water as Tierra Blanca Creek rose from its banks and overflowed onto the roadway.

The flooded area covered between six and eight square miles between the Harrison Highway and Friona.

The Billy Wayne Sissons farm reported that about four inches of rain fell within an hour period.

Heavy rainfall was confined within a small area as the George Ritter farm on the opposite side of the road reported only about an inch.

Rainfall rapidly diminished to the east of the flooded area, with only minor rainfall reported near the city.

The Bruce Coleman farm near Walcott reported 1.30 inches of rainfall, with .30 inches recorded at the Walcott school Wednesday night.

Easter Grain reported .25 inches in the Wednesday storm, with .80 inches falling last Monday.

KPAN radio reported .20 inches for the City of Hereford.

County Historical Museum and a humidifier for that structure. Plus, a report of fire calls involving the Volunteer Fire Department will be heard. These numbered 18 blazes in the county area and 20 inside the city limits.

Final consideration will be given to the tennis court complex proposal which has already been approved by city and school officials. According to the plan, the 8-court complex will be laid adjacent to Hereford High School.

REPORTS FROM administrators and medical staff members at Deaf Smith General Hospital will be points of business during the board meeting Tuesday morning. The group will convene at 7 a.m. in the hospital conference room. Also included on the agenda will be a review of the financial statement for the previous month.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE Directors will meet at 6:30 a.m. Thursday in the Chamber board room.

Hereford Students Finish Upward Bound Program

For Hereford high school students Cynthia Hankins, Linda Mendez, Grace Valdes, Ida Zamora, Ramiro Alaniz, Rosemary Zepeda, Joe Gonzalez, Jean Brady, Marie Johnson, Robert Ortiz, Sofia Pena, Rocky Rodriguez, Herbie Del Toro, Alfonso Tamez, and Jesse Castaneda, as well as nineteen other area students, July 11 marked the completion of the summer Upward Bound course at West Texas State University.

If the students' own assessment of the summer program is correct, the benefits gained in the six weeks of concentrated study should be helpful in long range educational and vocational pursuits, as well as in next year's senior courses.

"The program has given us a feeling of more independence and self-confidence," says Linda. "They (instructors) expect more of us, and that makes us feel that we can do it." "The program has exposed everybody to what life on a college campus is really like," says Ramiro. "The time we've been here has helped us change our lives, to become more independent and able to do things on our own," observes Robert.

"Upward Bound helps you become your own man," agrees Rocky.

Roger Scott, director of Upward Bound at West Texas State University, calls the federally funded program "an investment in young people."

Upward Bound is another step forward by America in investing in its youth, especially those who otherwise would not have a chance for post-secondary education," Scott states.

Emphasis in the summer course is primarily on the communication skills of reading and writing, with instruction in mathematics and arts and crafts also included.

When the day's academic tasks have been completed, the recreational facilities of the Student Activities Center are available, including swimming, bowling, tennis and volleyball.

Among week-end activities for Upward Bound students have been a trip to Lubbock for the coaches' All-American game, picnics, movies, and performance of "Texas".

"I hope we'll have an impact on these students," says assistant director Jimmy Diaz. "I believe there's potential in each of them which can be built on."

"America is one of the few countries that invests in its young and reaps the rewards later."

"We're pleased that this university has people who are sensitive to the needs of students less fortunate, and that they took the initiative in joining this program, and committing themselves to the Upward Bound concept," Director Scott concludes.

Director Scott concludes.

By Bill Albright, Executive VP
Chamber of Commerce

It's my opinion that one of the biggest and most important events of the Chamber Year is a product of the Women's Division. And that event is the Miss Hereford Scholarship Pageant.

What makes it so great is its many-sided benefits. First, it provides an opportunity for some of our talented and attractive young ladies to gain some valuable experience and to develop self-confidence through participation. There are numerous other advantages that come to the individual contestant, but let's go on to the benefits to other elements of our community.

Secondly, there is an opportunity and of course a requirement for many people to contribute their resources of time, skill and money to the accomplishment of a worthwhile project. To be associated with the Miss Hereford Pageant is more than just a duty to be performed, or a committee task to be fulfilled—it is an honor and a privilege. Most of our ladies know and appreciate this.

Thirdly, the Miss Hereford Pageant provides the general public with a wonderful event which Hereford and Deaf Smith County can witness and enjoy. Our citizens can be associated or identify with one or more of the contestants and really be involved in a community-wide project. And it is a thrill and a wonderfully happy experience to see those girls do their very best to impress you and me with their talent and loveliness.

And finally, there is the publicity and good will that is a spin-off of all the work and time and worry and expense of producing this beautiful pageant. Ours is professionally done to the extent that even the judges comment on the high quality of our production and it has been recommended to others. "Go go to Hereford and see how it's done."

Proud? You bet, and our Women's Division has really accomplished a miracle in the short four years this event has been in being. And congratulations then and many compliments on a great contribution to this community.

But that's not the end of my story! I said proud—I wish you could all at some time visit the Miss Texas Pageant—your pride in Hereford and in the young lady who represents us would really be magnified. And this year with Monica Herring doing the honors for our town, we are especially well represented.

It's difficult, if not impossible, to capture the total reaction to the beautiful stage settings, the inspiring music, the atmosphere of elegance; not derived simply from family circumstances but from honest hard work and dedication.

The anticipation of the audience as each phase of competition occurs, and of course the ultimate announcement and crowning of the new Miss Texas, regardless of where one is from, one has to be proud of her and of all the girls who competed for the title and Monica was a part of all this. You'd think that in a group of 57 other beautiful gals on stage, it would be difficult to see a 5' 6" blonde.

It wasn't she stood out with a distinct radiance. And whether she was center stage spotlight, or answering questions at an interview or just visiting with people in casual conversation, she was a very special attraction with a very special pride in herself and her community.

Folks, you might let her know how proud you are—give her a call or drop a note in the mail. Monica is very wonderful Miss Hereford and she let all of Texas know that our community has loads of talent, beauty and lots of HUSTLE! HUSTLE! HUSTLE!

Coronary Film Set

A film program that shows how emergency coronary treatment can save up to 100,000 lives a year among heart victims will be presented in Amarillo by the Panhandle Emergency Medical Service System (PEMSS) on Tuesday, July 15, 1975 at their meeting at Psychiatric Pavilion Auditorium.

The meeting begins at 1:00 p.m.

Called "A LIFE ON THE LINE," the program is about a recent development in medical science that permits heart attack victims to receive emergency treatment at the place they suffer the attack and, if not fully stabilized, in the ambulance on the way to the hospital.

Almost 700,000 Americans die each year of heart attacks, the single greatest killer in the country.

The Abundant Life

Shun Morbidity

By BOB WEAR

Like it, or not; we must learn how to live in our world, with some reasonable degree of joy and hope; if we wish to do any good, or live with any sense of meaning. This is not as easy to accomplish as we would like for it to be, but it is not impossible. We will certainly not help ourselves, or make any of the indicated changes by permitting ourselves to be overcome with the spreading morbidity.

We must not be "abnormally susceptible to or characterized by gloomy or unwholesome feelings". This is a decision for each person to make. Although it is not an easy one, we can make it; if we will carefully consider all of the ramifications of the alternative.

There is not even one good reason why we are justified in allowing "gloomy or unwholesome feelings" to pervade our lives. If we do let this happen, we will have, for all practical purposes, forfeited the best of life.

WE CAN CONDITION our minds so that we are able to resist the perverse influences of the morbidity so prevalent in much of the "music"; the religious prognostications; the daily news; and in the general conversation. There is enough of such expressions as these to overwhelm us with melancholia and terror, but we must not let this happen.

Indifference is not a practical mental posture, but it is better than being submerged in the mire of misery.

The world may be collapsing, but if has not collapsed; we may starve to death, but we are not starving now; disaster may be near, but it has not arrived yet. If we are going to let ourselves live in the sickening bog of morbidity, we are, in a sense, causing what might not otherwise be. Even if the very worst forebodings are inevitable, we are foolish to think and act as if they are already with us.

MORBIDITY MARS every facet of our living experience. It detracts from everything that is desirable and pleasant in the current reality; it nullifies the joy and good cheer that we could realize; it impairs the quality and good effect of everything that is worthwhile. It spoils our life situation, and makes us useless; in trying to do anything to solve problems and face the challenges.

We cannot afford to permit ourselves to be susceptible to gloomy or unwholesome feelings. This is an area of our life over which we can exercise significant control. We must build up our defenses against all perverse and negative influences.

Positive and wholesome ideas, understandings, intentions, and responses will give us strength to "shun morbidity".

All expectations must be reasonable and sensible; and in complete accord with reality.

Mr. Bishop

H.N. "Joe" Bishop, a resident of this area since the early 1920's, was buried in his native state of Missouri after dying last Sunday morning in Harris Hospital at Fort Worth.

Survivors include his widow; a son, Joe O'Farrell Bishop of Poolville; three sisters and two grandchildren.

Mr. Roberts

Mr. Bishop, about 72, and his wife, Rosella O'Farrell, had moved to Eureka Springs, Ark. in May and was hospitalized at Harrison Hospital for two weeks before being transferred to Fort Worth.

Mrs. Ralph Hastings of 113 Douglas received word Saturday of the death of her brother, W.N. Roberts, at Liberal Kans., where he resided.

A longtime resident of Westway community, Mr. Bishop was an expert mechanic and was a salesman of automobiles and farm im-

Funeral services will be Monday at Liberal with graveside rites to be performed at Fairview Cemetery in Pampa. Survivors include his widow, Louise, a son, a brother and three sisters.

The Postal Rate Commission is the body which determines, for the most part, just what the cost of sending all mail will be, both for private citizens and publishers. The commission recently published a new schedule of postal rates which would cut first-class postage to 8 1/2 cents from the present 10 cents and would sharply increase rates for other classes of postage, including a 67 per cent jump for parcel post.

The Postal Service and several large publishers are violently opposed to the new rate schedule, fearing a drop in the quality of overall postal service. They fear a sharp drop in the volume of second, third and fourth class mailers would in turn force more of the operating cost of the Postal Service on the first class mail users.

The Postal Service is most anxious to get a rate increase, any rate increase, through as soon as possible because it is faced with massive deficits now and expects to lose even more when a new labor contract is signed with postal workers. About 85 per cent of the Postal Service budget is labor costs. An attorney for the Reader's Digest Association, Inc. estimates that Readers Digest, the nation's largest first-class mail user, will save over $4 million if the first class rate is reduced. However, the higher rates of postage for the other classes of mail could raise the postal costs of Reader's Digest as much as

$10 million annually. The Postal Commission's new rates would save the average family $4.32 a year in first-class postage but would cost an additional $5.86 in parcel-post fees, in addition to higher costs for subscriptions and merchandise delivered by mail. The National Association of Greeting Card Publishers is fully in favor of the first-class postage cut and advocates even cutting the first class rate back to 8 cents. However, the Magazine Publishers Association estimates that in order to get back the $3.95 in added postage costs resulting from the new rates, the average weekly magazine would have to boost subscription rates $11.85 a year and monthly magazines would have to go up $2.73 a year in subscription rates.

Local Men Complete Auctioneer School

Ted and Tiny Walling have just returned from Mason City, Iowa, where they attended a College of Auctioneering, recognized as tops in its field.

The school is noted for its extensive training, in which it uses top auctioneers as instructors.

Ted and Tiny Walling were trained in all phases of the field, including auction, car, livestock, real estate, and farm equipment auctions.

The school consists of the management and clerking of all sales from start to finish, and actual sales.

Ted Walling, who is a real estate broker in Hereford, and Tiny Walling, who farms and ranches in Bovina, will specialize in farm and farm equipment sales.

Also, they will do civic club benefits and church auctions free of charge.

$ 68,750.00

IN CASH PRIZES

3rd SERIES STARTS MONDAY JULY 14th.

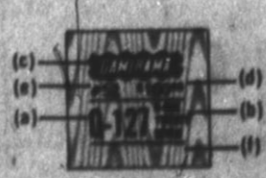

If you visit the participating stores 26 times during this promotion you have 1 chance in 4 of winning a cash prize!

Copyright 1969 Danisco Associates, Division of Mallory-Randall Corp.

Rules for Playing Gamerama Series #52

1. Get a FREE Gamerama Master Card on request at the end of the Checkout or at store office. Get one FREE Game Ticket every time you visit a participating Ideal Food Store. Game materials may also be obtained by mailing request to Gamerama, P.O. Box 69, Liberal, Kansas 67901 - one request per envelope. No purchase necessary to participate. Adults only eligible to play.
2. On each Game Ticket there are four Gamerama Markers. To reveal the Markers, simply punch out the perforated portions of the Game Tickets, then separate the punched out portions and you will have four Markers. Each Marker corresponds to a square in one of the Games on your Master Game Card.
3. When you have revealed the Gamerama Markers, carefully place them in their appropriate squares on your Master Game Card. EXAMPLE: If one of your Game Markers is a 4-Clubs in the $1000 Game, insert that Marker in the square numbered 4-Clubs in the $1000 Game. When you complete any row in a game, you may have a winner. In some games, you will find squares marked FREE and it is unnecessary to collect a Marker to be placed in such FREE squares. FREE squares are not transferable. Only one winner per card.
4. When you have a winning card which has been verified by authorized personnel, you will, after furnishing your name and address, be awarded your prize. A Federal Trade Commission rule requires that the names and addresses of all winners be posted in all participating stores. When turning in your winning card all your Gamerama Markers which are not part of the winning row may be removed and transferred to a new card. Only one prize will be awarded per game on any one Master Game Card. All Gamerama Markers in a winning row must be initialed on the back by the customer in the presence of authorized personnel. Tax liability on prizes is the responsibility of the prize winners.
5. All game materials will be rejected and judged void if not obtained from and verified by authorized personnel or if any part of any of the game pieces is illegible, altered, mutilated, defaced, tampered with, forged, contains printing or other errors, or is irregular in any way. Game material void where taxed or prohibited by law.

6. Game will end upon distribution of all Game Tickets. All prizes must be claimed within five (5) days after announcement of termination or they are forfeited. Notwithstanding anything herein to the contrary, at such times as the verified claims for prizes in any category equals the number of prizes advertised for that category shall immediately terminate without notice, and any unverified claims at or after that time shall be automatically rejected.
7. Game materials valid only for this game. All Game Tickets, Gamerama Markers and Game Cards must have the same series number. EXAMPLE: If you have Master Game Card Series #52, all of your game pieces must have Series #52.
8. Employees (and their I.R.S. listed dependents) of the Ideal Food Stores, Danisco Associates, their advertising agency and any other companies engaged in the development and production of these game materials are not eligible to win.
9. Gamerama Marker void if it does not have on it:
  - (a) - Bingo symbol or card and suit symbol
  - (b) - Bingo symbol or card and suit symbol spelled out
  - (c) - Gamerama spelled out
  - (d) - Value of game
  - (e) - Series #52
  - (f) - Safety Pattern Background

GAMERAMA MARKERS VOID IF ABOVE SIX ITEMS ARE NOT CLEARLY VISIBLE.

10. Gamerama Series #52 Marker must conform in size, shape and detail to the examples illustrated above, and must contain the six (6) items of authentication described in Rule No. 9.

Little Red Hen Updated

An update on the fable of "The Little Red Hen" is currently making the rounds in newspaper columns. Here it is:

Once upon a time there was a little red hen who scratched about and uncovered some grains of wheat. She called her neighbors and said, "If we plant this wheat, we will have bread to eat. Who will help me plant it?"

"Not I," said the cow. "Not I," said the goose. "Not I," said the duck. "Then I will," said the little red hen. And she did. The wheat grew tall and ripened into golden grain. "Who will help me reap my wheat?" said the hen.

"Out of my classification," said the pig. "I'd lose my seniority," said the cow. "I'd lose my unemployment insurance," said the goose. "Then I will," said the little red hen, and she did. At last it came time to bake the bread. "Who will help me bake the bread?" said the little red hen.

"That's overtime for me," said the cow. "I'm a dropout and never learned how," said the duck. "I'd lose my welfare payments," said the pig. "If I'm the only helper, that's discrimination," said the goose. "Then I will," said the little red hen. She baked five loaves and held them up for her neighbors to see. They all wanted some and demanded a share.

But the little red hen said, "No, I can eat the five loaves myself." This made the others mad. "Excess profits!" cried the cow. "Capitalist leech!" screamed the duck. "We want equal rights!" yelled the pig. And they painted unfair picket signs and marched around the little red hen shouting obscenities.

When the government agent came, he said, "You must not be greedy, little red hen." "But I earned the bread," said the hen. "Exactly," said the agent. "That's the free enterprise system. Anybody in the barnyard can earn as much as he wants. But under our modern government regulations, the productive workers must divide their products with the idle."

And they lived happily ever after, including the little red hen who smiled and chuckled. "I am grateful; I am grateful." But she never baked any more bread.

July, 1975

The linden, in the favors of July,
Hums with a louder concert.

-Bryant

July always ushers in the second half of the calendar year. It's the first month of the fiscal year and has more than ordinary importance in the business world.

July is named for Julius Caesar, a change from its former name of Quintilis, changed on the order of Mark Antony, and was the month in which Caesar was born.

For Americans July is an especially historic month. Our independence is celebrated on the Fourth, of course, and the Battle of Gettysburg was fought during the first three days of July in 1863.

Two of our Presidents were born in July, John Quincy Adams and Calvin Coolidge. The first admiral in the U.S. Navy, David G. Farragut, was born on July 5, 1801. The Republican Party was founded July 6, 1854, at Jackson, Michigan.

One largely forgotten, though relatively recent day, is July 10th. On that day in 1943 the Allies invaded Europe for the first time in World War II. General Dwight Eisenhower led an amphibious invasion of Sicily.

July, the first month of full-bloom summer, is the month of vacations, holidays, swimming, boating and outdoor pleasures.

The Brand Files

ONE YEAR AGO

County Judge H.C. Williams made a formal request for appointment of county auditor...Bank deposits in Hereford showed an increase of $10 million over the same reporting period in 1973. The total of deposits exceeded $58,000,000.

The totals were down the first of the year, which was described as the normal trend. The increase in total deposits over the previous year was attributed by Jim Sears, president of the First National Bank, to good prices the previous year for fine crops locally...14 Texas A&M graduate students, all working on their advanced degrees for feedlot management, toured Deaf Smith County and the surrounding area as part of their education. The tour was sponsored by the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce...It was reported that the lower speed limits had reduced traffic deaths across the country...Susie Hickman was representing Hereford in the Miss Texas Pageant...Plans were being made for Hereford night at a presentation of "Texas" in Palo Duro Canyon...

FIVE YEARS AGO

The Buena Vista low-income housing development had been remodeled and reportedly was no longer an "eyesore" to the community. The city had helped in renovating the development, particularly in hauling off trash...Liquor by the drink was a controversial issue locally and across the state...A sugar beet growers association honored Hereford banker Henry Sears for his efforts in attaining the local sugar beet processing plant. Sears had recently been honored as "Man of the Year" in Texas agriculture...Local residents were wondering about the possibility of Hereford losing its "mark" on letters mailed out of town. Other area towns had previously lost their postmark...Inflation was hurting the operation of Deaf Smith County hospital...

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Deaf Smith County Hospital was being reorganized and expenses were cut. Miss Pearl West was named supervisor of hospital personnel and operations. Miss West had previously been in charge of nurses in the hospital...An article was published which carried material explaining how veterans could obtain money for building homes under the GI Bill...The school board decided to ban parochial students from public school buses, because of the extreme expense involved in transporting so many extra students...Complaints were made to the police department about dogs roaming the city and keeping people awake at night with their barking...Dr. R.R. Willis warned the Lions Club of the dangers of the spread of communist tendencies and influences...

FIFTY YEARS AGO

Hereford was shocked to learn of the death of Jack Phillips, only six years old, who had been taken to Plainview for treatment following an accidental shooting...Hereford was planning to send a large delegation to hearings of the Interstate Commerce Commission and State Railroad Commission, held in Plainview, in connection with proposed rail routes across the Panhandle...A poultry culling demonstration was planned...A meeting was held of people interested in forming a city band.

Talk of Texas

By Jack Maguire

FOOTNOTE TO HISTORY—The last three call letters of Houston radio station KTRH stand for The Rice Hotel and well they should. Some of the great "firsts" in the history of radio originated in that hostelry.

In 1928, while Franklin D. Roosevelt was nominating Alfred E. Smith for president of the United States at the Democratic National Convention being held inside the Rice, a KTRH announcer decided to try a new approach to radio news. He took a microphone out on the street and began asking people what they thought of Smith's nomination.

The sidewalk interviews created a traffic-stopping sensation. As a result, the idea of "Man-on-the-Street" programs spread to hundreds of U.S. radio stations.

Later Parks Johnson, a KTRH announcer, began interviewing Rice Hotel guests about important issues. He called the show "Vox Pop" and it moved on to become a long-running network favorite.

Still another famous radio show that began at the Rice and KTRH was known as "Dr. I.Q." On this show, which also became a network hit, "Dr. I.Q." paid hard dollars for answers to questions his aides asked of volunteers chosen from the audience. It was the first of the quiz shows.

FAMILY AFFAIR—The five Neal sisters of Newcastle, Young County, set some kind of a record in the 1940's. Each graduated with honors from the same high school, each took bachelor's degrees from the same university (North Texas) and each became an elementary school teacher!

FACTS WORTH NOTING—The first hard surfaced road built by the Texas Highway Department was a 25-mile stretch across Hays County. The 15-foot-wide road, predecessor of what later became U.S. 91, was started in July, 1918, and completed the following March. It was surfaced with an asphalt coating two and half inches thick. Although this was the first hard surfaced road built by the Highway Department, it probably was not the oldest paved thoroughfare in Texas.

The Texas Good Roads Association says that some paved inter-city roads may have been built by counties before the Highway Department was created in 1917.

THE CHANGING TIMES—Texas A&M University, which likes to flaunt the fact that it has graduated more Army generals than has West Point, recently commissioned its first woman officer in regular ceremonies.

Collette Boyd of Denison was the only woman among 130 graduates who received their bars as second lieutenants.

Women first entered the Aggie Cadet Corps in 1973. Several have received direct commissions after attending special Army officer candidate schools. Lt. Boyd, however, was the first woman in history to receive her bars in a regular commissioning ceremony at the school.

TRAVELING TEXAS—Justin, Denton County, calls itself the "Salvage Center of the World."

It is the home of three companies specializing in the sale of merchandise damaged in train wrecks and fires. Customers travel to Justin (pop. 875) from all over to buy the salvaged products at greatly reduced prices.

The Voice of Business

BY RICHARD L. LESHER, President
United States Chamber of Commerce

Fed up with the armchair quarterbacking of other economists, Federal Reserve Board Chairman Arthur Burns dryly explained to a Senate Committee: "I know a little about the past and I know next to nothing about the future—in contrast with some other members of my profession."

Indeed, many economists will admit to having been caught with their parameters down by the recent behavior of our economy. And therein lies one of the most telling objections to the recurrently fashionable concept of national economic planning: We just aren't good enough to avoid botching the job.

Nevertheless, emboldened by the underwhelming success of our 1971-74 wage-price controls, and our 1973-present fuel allocation farce, a diabolical band of economic liberals is trying to drag us all one giant step backward into the future.

THE VEHICLE FOR this bad trip is "The Balanced Growth and Economic Planning Act of 1975," a bill to create a federal Economic Planning Board. The Board would draw up a national economic master plan, with the object of attaining "full employment, price stability, balanced economic growth, and equitable distribution of income, the efficient utilization of both private and public resources, balanced regional and urban development, stable international relations"...etc., etc.

Could the Board attain its ambitious goals? I don't think so. The reasons are many, but let me present three of the best:

First, central economic planning is incompatible with our political system. Economic planning is not "scientific." It is highly political. Questions of income distribution, or the tradeoffs between jobs and inflation, or between inflation and environmental protection, for example, are not susceptible to scientific solution. Science can clarify the choices, but each individual citizen will make those choices based on his own values. Identifying the changing consensus of such values and altering public policy accordingly is the essence of democratic politics.

Second, central economic planning would inhibit economic progress. Many of science's greatest discoveries—such as penicillin and vulcanized rubber—were the result of fortuitous accidents, not a planned search. And so it is with the operation of the free market. The market constantly identifies and brings forth the means to serve needs that have not even been recognized at the national policy level.

Third, when an individual company makes a mistake, the effects of that mistake are relatively limited. But when the national government makes a mistake, it is universal in scope. Therefore, it is entirely possible—even likely, I'd say—that a central economic planning agency would magnify the swings in the business cycle, rather than moderate them.

Playing A Better Game Of Politics

The spotlight has sure been shining on this community during the past two weeks as major news stories have occurred here and put Hereford into the forefront of television news casts and on the front page of daily newspapers. Even though Hereford has already established its place on the map, it's nice to be further recognized.

While these events such as the hog cholera outbreak, the torrential rains and a murder are not pleasant occurrences, it reminds city citizens that we still exist out here—problems and all. One news story of a happier nature was the visit this week of Speaker of the House Bill Clayton.

Of these news stories, the Clayton press conference and groundbreaking here probably has some of the most significance since he is the speaker of the Texas house of representatives. We carried the brunt of his visit here in the Thursday issue of the newspaper and his Lions Club talk follows in a short story appearing on one of the inside pages of today's paper.

It was not my first encounter with the man from Springdale as I interviewed him at a press conference in College Station deep in Aggie country where he was trying to garner further strength in his successful bid for the speakership. At that time, his name was not near as well known as it is now and his general presence then was admittedly less than stimulating.

He was in a hot campaign for his present position, and he provided very few answers then as to what he planned to do to solve the state's problems. It seems definite solutions to such issues as school financing reform, tax equalization and the new constitution would have been more impressive and appropriate for someone seeking one of the state's highest offices.

However, he came off a bit better at the press conference in Hereford apparently after a few more lessons in politicking as Speaker of the House. He showed more forcefulness in his talking and came through with a few more definite answers.

It is comforting to know that the large cities don't have all the political muscle in this state and that a rural West Texas legislator, especially one from this district, can reach the high political stature that Clayton has. However, it is the man's performance that counts.

One fairly critical question tossed at Clayton was whether he was bothered by criticisms that he displayed lack of leadership. He said it depended on the source of the attacks, which he indicated came more from those who didn't get their bills passed.

Another question posed by this reporter was his opinion of the recent Texas Monthly Magazine article which didn't list Clayton in either the ten best nor the ten worst legislator categories. He answered that an unauthorized article is not credible because it depends on the source of a criticism as to its foundation.

Clayton said, "I'm a conservative and I don't mind saying so. I'm proud of it."

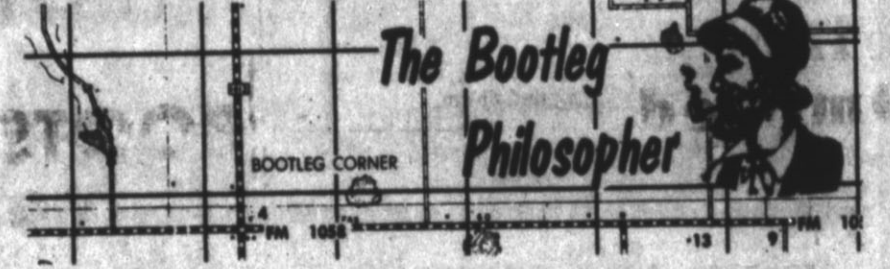

This is good, but no matter what political stance one has, he or she should show stronger action for their beliefs. Clayton in all fairness, should be given equal credit for some of the successes during the last legislative session, but he shouldn't take full credit. Generally, the last session was not as problem solving as it has been made out to be.

The school financing bill had only a few minor reforms and mostly hurt the school districts such as Hereford's who didn't deserve it and helped the others at the richer districts' expense. Other successes such as malpractice legislation and utility control were also weak and left the state in mid-air as to permanent solutions.

As one of the state's top officials, he might have worked not only harmoniously with the Lt. Governor and Governor, but independently enough to get the problems solved. Had he pulled the house members closer together, then they might have responded with better bills.

He did have a tough job with as many legislators as there were who were trying hard to make the worse ten list. I have sympathy for Clayton on this score.

Since he is no doubt going to be speaker again, more vigor and straight forward action could easily catapult him into the top ten legislators of Texas Monthly's next poll and show the city dudes (or should it be dudess) how to get the job done.

Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher on his Deaf Smith grass farm on Bootleg Corner examines invasion of privacy this week, more or less.

As you know, there's a great stir these days over bugging, but as usual the high-powered columnists are talking more about the problem than the solution.

As I understand it, bugging and wire-tapping have been developed to such a fine stage for example that microphone no bigger than an aspirin tablet can pick up all the voices in a room and broadcast them to a receiver a mile away.

Furthermore, since about three-fourths of all long-distance calls now go over microwave circuits, no wires required, some smart people have developed a method of picking telephone calls right out of the air, and the Russian Embassy in Washington has been suspected of doing just that, enabling it to listen in on all sorts of important governmental conversations, like who's going on the next junket to the Bahamas.

Also, the wire-tapping of telephones, as against the law and as unpunishable as corporate contributions to a campaign, has been on the increase.

As a result, the columnists have had something to write about for weeks now, denouncing this invasion of privacy, and rightly so.

But I haven't read anything about the plight of the people who have to listen in to all that telephone talk.

I have never talked to a Congressman on the telephone, but if they don't say any more on the phone than they do in a letter when you ask them something they don't want to answer or take sides on, the wire-tappers are in for some dreary listening. Imagine having to listen to a tape recording of everything a Congressman says on the telephone 24 hours a day for 30 days. You'd have to pan a mighty long time before you got any gold out of that undertaking, particularly with a Congress that didn't know any more than you and me about what the CIA has been up to; in fact, a Congress that went a year without knowing we had a war going in Cambodia.

Of course the answer to all that wire-tapping, like the answer to most problems, is simple: put everybody in Washington on an 8-party line. Best way I know to keep a secret, juicy information from getting around. In three weeks time every telephone conversation in Washington would be painstakingly guarded

Yours faithfully, J.A.

AAA Action Ends First Half

Hereford AAA softball action closes out its first half today with Tal Pro meeting Caviness at 12:30 p.m.
Armour then meets Meads at 12:45 p.m.; Hereford Brand vs Pioneer, 3 p.m.; McCracken vs Arrowhead, 4:15 p.m.; K Bobs vs Music Stand at 5:30 p.m.
Standings in the North Zone are K Bobs, 7-0; Armour, 7-1; Caviness, 5-3; Pioneer, 2-5 and Arrowhead, 0-4.

Standings in the South Zone are Hereford Brand, 6-2; Meads, 5-3; Tal Pro, 4-4; Music Stand, 3-5; and McCracken, 1-7.
The members of the AAA wish to express their appreciation to St. Anthony's Catholic Church for the use of their field for the first half of play.

Football Players Need Physicals

All boys who plan to participate in football programs in the Hereford school system during the upcoming year, from seventh through 12th grades, should begin getting physicals. This is necessary so that area clinics will not be overcrowded later on. The necessary forms are available at the clinics.

Lifesaving Course Scheduled

Modifications of old procedures and new techniques in advanced lifesaving will be the content of a course in advanced lifesaving to be taught at the city pool beginning at 6:30 p.m. Monday.

Tennis Winners Omitted

The July 7, 1975 sports page of The Brand omitted the names of Norman Hill, who finished first in the boys 12 and under singles event of the Deaf Smith County Tennis Tournament, and Wayne Berry, who finished second. Both boys are talented players and will no doubt feature prominently in local tennis events in the future.

WTSU Coaches Plan Trip Here

Nine members of the West Texas State University athletic department will hit 23 Panhandle cities July 14-18 as the season ticket drive for 1975 Buffalo Football hits high gear.
The members of the WTSU athletic department will visit Hereford Wednesday morning in an attempt to sell tickets here.
Athletic director and head football coach Gene Mayfield, business manager Jim Campbell, and sports information director Bill Cousins will head each trip, joined by assistant football coaches Jerry Behrens, Jim Crossland, Jim Dawson, Ronnie Mankin, Bill McKinney, and Earl Wood.

"Our main purpose, of course, is to sell season tickets," said Campbell who is in charge of the ticket drive.
"We feel that the personal contact we get with people is the best way to do that."

Each day, members of the Buffalo staff will spend the morning talking to WTSU supporters in one of the larger Panhandle cities, and they will scatter in the afternoon to talk to fans in the smaller communities.
West Texas State will play one of its more attractive home schedules in many years in 1975. The Buffs meet Missouri Valley Conference foes Tulsa, Drake, and New Mexico State in beautiful Frank Kimbrough Memorial Stadium, as well as non-league foes Texas-Arlington and Louisville.

Mayfield hopes to field his best team ever at WT. Most preseason football magazines have tabbed the Buffs to challenge for the MVC championship.

Bass Seminar Slated Tuesday

A seminar on topwater bass fishing will be held Tuesday at 8 p.m. at the Bull Barn.
Ewell Parker, award-winning Panhandle fisherman will present the seminar on the exciting sport.
The seminar will consist of two hours of fishing information including a 45 minute color and sound film on topwater fishing.

Tickets for the seminar are $2.50 for adults, and $1 for children to age 16.
Proceeds from the seminar will go to the Deaf Smith County teen leaders.
Seminar tickets may be purchased at KPAN radio, from 4H members, or at the door.

An experienced angler, Parker has been fishing Panhandle waters for 31 years.
He won his first prize in a fishing contest at the age of 12 during a fishing tournament at Buffalo Lake in 1947.
He was the winner of 12 out of 25 Amarillo Bass Club tournaments from 1971-75, and is the Panhandle singles champion for 1975.

He was the New Mexico Bicentennial champion in 1974 and the Panhandle Pro Champion in 1973. Parker also took the Governor Bass Championship in 1969.
During the seminar, Parker will explain the basic techniques of fishing for bass with topwater lures, and will also conduct a question and answer session.

Turkey Hatch Is Reported As Good

Reports from Texas Parks and Wildlife Department biologists in the Hill Country indicate that 1975 is shaping up to one of the best years for turkeys in the past five years.

The Texas Hill Country historically has had a high Rio Grande turkey population but low hatches during the past few years have suppressed turkey numbers and hunting has suffered.
Horace Gore, TP&W statewide turkey project leader, said that large clutches of eggs have been found in nests and already unusual numbers of poults are following hens.

"It's been common to see three hens with as many as 30 young birds following," said Gore.
Present range conditions are excellent but Gore cautioned that it is inevitable some of the poults will be lost during the hot summer months.
"It's been so long since we have had a good turkey hatch in the Hill Country," he said, "that most landowners are hesitant in their optimism."

HUMUS ORGANIC PRODUCTS OF TEXAS

Hereford, Texas

Supplement with Humic Acids now for better soil fertility.
PREPARE FOR YOUR WHEAT CROP EARLY!

What is Humus Organic Products?
Humus is defined in the Webster Dictionary as; Decayed vegetable matter, important to the fertility of soil.
Organic is defined as to or derived from plant and animal matter, containing carbon.
Humus is more of a soil conditioner than a fertilizer. It is as important to soil as nitrogen, Phors., potash. Soil with a good content of Humus of 4 to 5% is usually good fertile soil.

The following is why the soil needs Humus:

1. Natural Organic Chelating. Humus releases elements "locked up" in the soil and forms biological complexes with minerals and traces elements so plants can pick them up.
2. "Crumblies" Soil. Humus flocculates and opens heavy soil to give better penetration of water and oxygen. It offsets the packing of soil caused by running heavy equipment in the field.
3. Decomposes Stalks. Stalks, leaves, or manures which have been spread in the field, will break down more rapidly when Humus is applied.
4. Develops Roots. Provides greater, healthier and cleaner root structure than "Commercial" alone.
5. Conserves Water. Soil improved with Humus holds water better and longer. It activates the bacteria of sponges.
6. Improves Crop Quality. Humus improves the firmness, color and sheen of crops. Vegetables will ship and "carry" better.
7. Tree Crops. Trees respond rapidly with better color and growth to produce larger yields of better fruit.
8. Easily Applied. Humus is applied with a dry spreader like the dry commercial fertilizer.

"But never forget, chemical fertilizers can neither add to the Humus content nor replace it."
We have had 4 year programs with Humic Acid

Potato Processing Begins Locally

Washing

Potatoes grown by Frank Barreft near Springlake are unloaded from a truck, into a bin where they are washed down at Dick Barreft Produce Inc. in Hereford. Harvesting of the local potato crop is expected to begin this week.

Conveyor Movement

After washing, potatoes are picked up by conveyor system at right, which moves the potatoes into the shed and onto various conveyor systems for sorting and grading. Machinery helps speed up processing of potatoes, which are vulnerable to summer heat.

Research Reveals Borer Control

The Southwestern corn borer has plagued growers in the Texas Panhandle for a long time. Unfortunately crop rotation has been the only defense against the pest. Recent research by N.E. Daniels, Texas Agricultural Experiment Station entomologist at Bushland has changed the situation. Experiments at the USDA Research Center at Bushland and on the F.W. Thomas farm at Spearman showed that two spray applications of azodrin and carbofuran at the middle and end of July reduced borer populations and increased yield. Azodrin reduced corn ear worm populations only 29 per cent. Daniels stated that the first record of the Southwestern corn borer in the Panhandle was 1922. In 1929 scientists observed five fields in Lamb county that were 96 to 100 per cent infested. He noted that the Southwestern corn borer was first observed in the United States in 1913.

The entomologist and his technician Louis Chedester, started experiments in 1971 and 1972 and results were promising enough with azodrin and carbofuran at one pound per acre to continue in 1974. At Bushland, sprays were applied June 27, July 9 and July 25 on corn planted May 1. Corn was planted April 20 at Spearman and insecticides applied July 3, 16 and 30. At each location corn was treated one, two or three times to determine the optimum number of applications. Two treatments applied on July 9 and 25 at

Sunflower Field Day Is Slated

The Texas Agricultural Experiment Station in cooperation with the High Plains Research Foundation at Halfway will hold a sunflower field day Thursday from 2-5 p.m. Location of the research station is 14 miles west of Plainview on Highway 70. Research and test plots on sunflowers, a new crop which has become quite popular in the Panhandle this year, will be reviewed.

AUSTIN—The first bale of the 1975-76 United States cotton crop was classed June 23 at the Harlingen Cotton Classing Office, Agriculture Commissioner John C. White has reported. Last year's first bale was classed on June 11, 1974.

Workers at Dick Barrett Produce Inc. sort through potatoes as they move past on a conveyor, eliminating "culls." Potatoes move past in a constant stream, calling for quick decisions.

Sacking

After the potatoes are washed and culled, they are conveyed to various sacking chutes according to grade. Here, workers fill 100 lb. sacks with U.S. No. 1 reds, tie them off, and place them onto another conveyor. The sacks are then loaded out for shipment.

On The Turnrow

By Jim Stolert

There seems to be some debate as to the size of the country's wheat crop this year. Some news reports haven't clarified the matter all that much either.

A TV news report aired Thursday night indicated that the wheat crop is only "so so", yet another network report Friday morning stated that the country has a bumper wheat crop.

Rumors of a possible wheat sale to Russia have really sparked interest among wheat producers over the past few days, with grain futures shooting up.

It has now been confirmed that negotiations are under way for selling the Soviet Union several million tons of U.S. grain.

The majority of wheat farmers seem to be holding their crops, waiting for the improved price on the golden grain they must have in order to even come out on this year's crop.

SOMEHOW, ON all the television news reports concerning the wheat crop and the possibility of exports to Russia, the conversation always turns toward how grain sales will trigger inflation.

Everytime the grain market edges upward a bit toward the level which the farmer must have to break even, network TV newscasters seem to sound the inflation alarm, making a big deal about how unhappy consumers are that the price of wheat is going up.

Let the price of gasoline or manufactured goods go up and there is all kinds of T.V. talk about the price hikes being justified, in light of rising production costs.

When farm commodity prices go up, the reaction seems to be a negative one, with the finger being pointed at the farmer as the individual responsible for inflation.

AFTER ONE HEARS about so much of this hysteria, it gets to be too much.

The public in general doesn't realize the tremendous expense involved in farming.

During a Thursday night newscast, a network reporter asked a midwestern farmer just what he had wrapped up in this year's crop.

The farmer made a quick estimate of $85,000 and the reporter was incredulous, just couldn't believe it takes that kind of money.

oOo

AGRICULTURALISTS have always been at the mercy of the market, forced to take what they can get for what they produce while they must pay what other industries demand for goods and services.

The days of massive surpluses are behind the American farmer, for the first time he is developing his own markets and having a say, however slight, in what his products will bring.

If it means sitting on this year's wheat crop for months, holding it until the price reaches a level at which he can afford to sell then I say power to him. He has taken all the risks, paid exorbitant prices for fuel, machinery and fertilizer, and been kicked around by the government in the meantime.

A big grain sale to Russia could be just the thing to help the American farmer over his latest rough spot, if the bureaucrats allow the free enterprise system to function and don't go slapping a lid on export sales.

IN THE MEANTIME, I say "consumers" and networks are barking up the wrong tree when they go blaming the farmer as the source of inflation.

Last Friday's outbreak of hog cholera in the area was unfortunate, but goes to show just how difficult it is to completely eradicate such a dreaded livestock disease.

It is encouraging that state and federal agencies were alert and ready to move when an outbreak was discovered, and acted quickly to confine the outbreak to a small area.

Heirloom Ring Worn By Ken Gearn's Bride

Wearing her grandmother's wedding band, Miss Francie Lupton was the bride of Ken Gearn Jr. in an afternoon ceremony Saturday at St. Anthony's Catholic Church. The Rev. Celestine, minister, was officiant.

Parents of the couple include Mr. and Mrs. Richard Lupton of Hereford and Mr. and Mrs. Ken Gearn of 124 Kingwood.

Flanking the marriage altar were white chrysanthemum potted plants skirted by coral and yellow gladiolas.

Attending the bride were her sisters, Miss Shelly Lupton and Mrs. Fred Maddux. Gordon Gearn served his brother as best man with Royce Riggins assisting as a groomsman.

Leading the processional were two flower girls and their young escorts, who carried the wedding rings. They were Stephanie and Sha Gearn, who are children of Mr. and Mrs. Geary Gearn; Monique Maddux, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Maddux; and Rick Alley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Alley.

Gift bearers were sisters and sisters-in-law of the couple, including Mmes. Larry Alley, Tim Gearn and Geary Gearn.

Miss Analeen Venhouse and Miss Noreen Kiegan of Nazareth provided guitar accompaniment for vocalists, Miss Lynda Dones and Miss Patricia Gerber of Nazareth. Wedding music included "The Twelfth of Never," "Wedding Song," "If," "Our Father" and "Let There Be Peace."

Given in marriage by her parents, the bride wore a formal gown of candlelight crepe and embroidered lace, patterned with a natural waistline and victorian cape. Sculptured imported lace formed the long petal-point sleeves and edged the cameo neckline on a fitted bodice. Large satin bows attached at the shoulder of her cape, which cascaded into a cathedral train.

Her fingertip veil of bridal illusion fell from a headpiece covered in lace. With her grandmother's prayer book, she carried a Windsor cascade of yellow sweetheart roses, white carnations interspersed with babybreath.

Floor-length gowns of yellow fabric were worn by bridal attendants. Each dress was designed with a long sash which marked the empire waistline, a ruffled yoke and short sleeves. They carried yellow chrysanthemum on lace backings surrounded by babybreath and streamers. Flower girls carried smaller reproductions of these.

Clad in a beige dress, the bride's mother wore a yellow cymbidium orchid corsage. Mrs. Gearn Sr. complemented her gold ensemble with a yellow orchid with moss green trim.

The newlyweds were honored following the ceremony at a reception in the parochial school auditorium. Four heart-shaped cakes connected by white doves formed the base for the three-tiered wedding cake which featured a cascade of yellow icing roses and was crowned by two doves nestled in a heart silhouette. Presiding at the refreshment table, which was covered by a lace tablecloth accented with yellow bows, were Misses Shawn Frye, Renee King and Loreta Pertzold.

Numerous out-of-town guests were met at the registry by Miss Janie Shaffy.

For a wedding trip to points in Colorado, Mrs. Gearn wore a slipper-length dress of navy fabric with small white polkadots. It was fashioned with long butterfly sleeves and empire waistline accented by a sash which tied at back.

Completing her going-away ensemble was a yellow cymbidium orchid corsage.

After July 19, the couple will be residing five miles west of Hereford.

The recent bride attended Nazareth High School and is currently employed by Moba-phone of Hereford. Her husband attended West Texas State University after graduation from Hereford High School. He is employed by Tagco Industries.

Bridal Courtesy Given Saturday

Miss Rhea Ann Wesson was honored with a bridal courtesy Saturday morning in the home of Mrs. Benny Womble, 246 Ranger Dr., which was decorated with hues of white and blue.

The honoree will be the bride of Billy Gage, a former resident, in First Baptist Church on August 2.

Welcoming shower guests were the bride-elect, her mother, Mrs. T.E. Seigler, her fiance's mother, Mrs. Bob Gage of Muleshoe, and Mrs. Womble.

Miss Lajuana Matchett and Miss Lisa Rudder presided at the refreshment table which was centered with a bouquet of white daisies around blue candles on an organdy cloth over a blue liner.

Special guests were the prospective bridegroom's grandmother, Mrs. Willie Wood of Muleshoe, and his sister-in-law, Mrs. Eddie Gage of Amarillo.

Hostesses assisting Mrs. Womble included Mmes. Henry

Solomon, W.W. Gilbreath, Fritz Christman, Paul R. Scott, Bob Hardin, S.T. Loerwald and O.R. Brooks.

Also, Mmes. Don Johnson, Guy Cornelius Jr., Arthur Clark, Albert Cherry, Merlin Kaul, Earnest Langley, Delbert Kinsey, Lewis Lea, Bill Miller and Sam Long.

Robin Hood Movie Is Thursday

Medieval adventures of "Robin Hood" will be colorfully recounted in a feature movie at 7:30 p.m. Thursday on family film night at Deaf Smith County Library.

Designed for general fare, there is no charge to see the presentation, which will be shown in the library's Heritage Room. Sponsored by Friends of the Library, it is requested that small children be accompanied by an adult.

Winter Project Results In Family Keepsake Rug

By KERRIE WOMBLE
Women's Editor

Oblivious to the falling autumn leaves and eventual snowstorms outside, Mrs. J.D. "Pete" Nash has been secluded in a self-made blizzard of imported English wool and emerged this spring with a hooked rug of 18,000 stitches.

Threaded into a finely-meshed canvas sized 28 by 30 inches, the hand-made rug depicts the authentic coat of arms which represented the Nash family during the 16th century. The intricate crest, which is exact in color- and minute detail, portrays four greyhounds on a sable chevron framed by sprigs of ash.

ASSISTED BY her husband and son Paul, Mrs. Nash sketched the family seal onto the coarse cloth with a special projector which enlarged the small signet. They had obtained several examples of the Nash coat of arms from a specialty firm which researched their genealogy through Burkes's—General Armory.

After carefully marking each color trait for the projected wall hanging, the couple traveled to a fabric firm at Canyon and ordered 55 parcels of pre-cut English wool from the same dye lot. Each parcel contains 350 strands which are about two inches in length.

The local woman who resides at 118 Mimosa, began the actual handwork this past fall and worked on it throughout the winter. "I suppose that if I'd worked on it something like six hours each day, I could have finished it sooner, but I just set a comfortable pace, usually working on it in the evenings while watching TV," she commented.

The closely-woven reproduction hangs in a place of honor above the fireplace and is complemented by various plaques and ashtrays bearing the Nash emblem. Also on the mantel is a genuine bugle used by the U.S. Cavalry and was found on a "Pilgrimage Tour" of heritage homes in Waco.

HEIRLOOM PIECES occupy shelves and tables throughout the Nash home, which is furnished predominantly in early American design. A mural in dark hues is etched on the north wall of the living room and numerous collector's plates garnish a hutch in the entryway.

A four-poster bed which was painstakingly sanded and restored by the Nash couple revealed a solid oak frame, and is coordinated with Renaissance prints which hang above it.

A NATIVE OF THE Dallas area, Mrs. Nash admitted that since moving here from Floydada in 1967, she has had time to develop several interests, particularly in needlework. She invests time in needlepoint, embroidery and working on hooked rugs. The latter hobby which she first pursued two or three years ago, is her favorite she said.

With her three older children now off on their own (Martha, a senior at Hereford High School lives at home), Mrs. Nash discovered extratime for her craft projects.

"For years, I kept up with the kids' activities, such as Boy Scouts and Camp Fire, and after they left for college, I realized that I needed to involve myself in new interests, the local homemaker stated. "So I learned to knit and took up some of the pastimes that were available."

The three older Nash offspring, who all attended Texas Tech University at Lubbock, include Mrs. Larry Irby of Dumas, who taught in the local school district for a year; Mrs. Spike Wideman of Lubbock, who recently added a new grandson to the Nash clan; and Paul Nash of San Antonio, a professional landscaper.

Pauline Jarrett before her marriage in 1942, Mrs. Nash and her husband, who is manager of Gifford-Hill, attend First Baptist Church.

Vows Voiced At Friona

Colors of red, white and blue formed the setting for the marriage of Miss Mary Rando of 222 Hickory and Earl A. Baca of Amarillo Saturday morning in First Baptist Church, Friona. Officiating at the ceremony was the Rev. Lupe Rando, pastor of Mission Bautista Mexicana at Hollis, Okla.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Santos Rando of Friona and Mr. and Mrs. Louis A. Baca of Amarillo.

wedding tapers decorated the altar where vows were repeated. Helen Reed served as honor attendant for the bride, who was also served by Betty Rando, Jackie Rando, Lisa R. Sanchez, Virginia R. Coronado and Leonora R. Bengoa.

Ray Robinson of Amarillo appeared as best man. Other groomsmen included Hector Zevera, Jerry Anzira, Amador Sanchez, Amado Coronado and Indalecio Bengoa.

Michelle Coronado, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Amado Coronado was flower girl. She was escorted by her brother Mark, who served as ring bearer.

"Spanish Eyes," "Top Of The World" and "Ciento Lindo" were rendered by Mrs. Janie S. Rando, who was accompanied by Mrs. Roy V. Miller.

Given in marriage by Mrs. M.J. Rando, the bride wore a slipper-length gown of angle skin with empire styling and A-line skirt. Closely fitted sleeves of lace were patterned beneath three-quarter length cutwork sleeves. Imported lace scallops bordered her chapel veil which fell in two tiers from a lace headpiece.

Her bridal bouquet of red and white carnations was clasped with blue streamers.

Similar nosegays were carried by bridal attendants, who wore long dresses.

The couple received guests at a reception following the ceremony in the church Fellowship Hall. For her wedding trip to point in New Mexico, Mrs. Baca wore western attire. The couple will be at home at 222 Hickory.

A 1969 graduate of Friona High School, the recent bride attended West Texas State University at Canyon and New Mexico State University at Alamogordo Beach, N.M. She was formerly employed by U.S. Congressman Bob Price at his offices in Washington D.C. and Amarillo. She is presently curator of the National Cowgirl Hall of Fame here.

Baca graduated from Palo Duro High School at Amarillo and is employed by Pantex in that city.

Engagement Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Sims of 112 Ave. 1 have announced the engagement of their daughter, Sina Marie, to Ronald Stuart Rowan, son of Mr. and Mrs. M.S. Rowan of 314 Star. The couple will exchange nuptial vows at 7 p.m. August 15 in Avenue Baptist Church with friends invited to attend. A May graduate of Hereford High School, Miss Sims is currently employed by Deaf Smith County Library. Her fiance is a graduate of Vega High School and is employed by Boyd's Machine Shop.

Dance Students Attend Social

Square dance students were guests of Merry Mixers Square Dance Club recently for an ice cream social in Community Center.

They included Messrs. and Mmes. John Pindexter, Bill Walden and Hugh Clearman and the Rev. C. Leahy and D.D. Harrison. The latter man is from Weslaco and serves as president of the South Texas Square Dance Association.

After a slide presentation, Ed McCreary reminded members that they are invited to dance with student dancers at 8:30 p.m. Monday in Community Center.

The next regularly scheduled Merry Mixers meeting will be a dance July 18 with Bill Campbell of Amarillo calling the squares.

BIRTH ANNOUNCED

Mr. and Mrs. Joaquin Gamez of 120 Higgins are the parents of a daughter, Melinda Ann, born July 3 at Palo Duro Hospital in Canyon. She weighed 7 lbs. 12 1/2 oz.

Grandparents include Mrs. Horace Gamez of 116 Higgins and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hoffman of 235 Ave. B.

Former Resident Married In Candlelight Service

Arch candelabra framed the altar area of Grace Baptist Church in Canyon Saturday evening for the marriage of Miss Virginia Lee Kerr, a former resident now of Canyon, and William Robert Bell of Hart. The candlelight ceremony was performed by the Rev. Ray Custer, former pastor.

Mint green tapers and greenery embellished the archway which was flanked by bouquets of large white chrysanthemums and mint green daisies. A unity candle, which was lit by the couple at the conclusion of the ceremony, centered the kneeling bench which was skirted by three-branch candelabra.

Reavis Kerr of Canyon is the father of the bride. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William D. Bell of Hart.

The bride's sisters, Miss Catherine Kerr and Miss Marilyn Kerr, served as bridesmaids while Ralph Ed Bell attended his brother as best man. The other groomsmen was the bride's brother, David Kerr.

Escorting guests to their seats were Tim Kerr, brother of the bride, and Elgin Brooks of Clovis, N.M.

Miss Karen Foster of Hart sang "Always," "Whither Thou Goest" and "Wedding Prayer" with accompaniment provided by Miss Jean Foster of Hart.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of crystal silk fashioned with an empire bodice, lace cameo-yoke and A-line skirt contoured to the back. Ruffles formed the stand-up collar and edged deep cuffs on the bishop sleeves.

Lace and ruching banded the upper tier of her skirt, which was layered over a deep lace flounce, forming a chapel sweep. Bordered entirely in galloon lace, the cathedral veil attached to a bridal bandeau sheathed in lace.

She carried a white testament beneath a cascading bridal bouquet of white cymbidium orchids, sweetheart roses, feathered carnations, baby-breath and a shower of streamers.

Formal gowns of polished organza over green bombazine were worn by bridal attendants. Each dress was styled with a fitted bodice, long, full sheer sleeves with a controlled skirt front which swept to full side and back lines with a ruffled flounce. Each bridesmaid carried a nosegay of white daisies and mint green carnations accented by babybreath and ribbons.

These nosegays were combined to form the centerpiece on the refreshment table at a reception in the church Fellowship Hall after the wedding. The three-tiered wedding cake was served by the bridegroom's cousin, Mrs. Ronnie Dennis of Kress, while the bridegroom's aunt, Mrs. Darwin Crockett of Lubbock, poured coffee.

Mrs. Rickey Summar of Amarillo presided at the guest registry. Other members of the house party included Mmes. Nick Dodson, James Risner, Debres Korsmo and Bob Hudson.

For a honeymoon trip to points in Colorado, Mrs. Bell wore white accessories with a polyester knit dress of mint green. The newlyweds will be at home after July 21 at 2610 5th Ave., Apartment 3, Canyon.

After attending Hereford High School for two years, Mrs. Bell graduated from Canyon High School and West Texas State University. She is employed as a fourth grade teacher in the Olton School System.

Bell is currently attending WTSU and employed by Taylor and Sons Lumber at Canyon. After graduation from Hart High School, he served four years in the U.S. Navy.

Baptists Schedule Bible Conference

"An Old Favorite Reshaped for Our Times," theme of the 1975 Bible-Preaching Conference at Glorieta Baptist Conference Center, illustrates the attempt to blend the "old and the new" in this summer's conferences.

Designed for pastors, staff members, deacons, laymen and their family members, the Bible-Preaching Conference at Glorieta is slated for Aug. 16-22.

Grady C. Cothen, president of the Southern Baptist Sunday School Board, will be the featured speaker for the evening services. According to Howard B. Foshee, secretary of the board's church administration department, "This is an attempt to revive the enthusiasm of the old Bible weeks and couple the enthusiasm with the new concepts and approaches in Bible study. Participants will be exposed to a week of warmhearted preaching, Bible study and music."

Skill-development sessions will be held concerning church administration, pastoral ministries, family ministry, vocational guidance, deacon ministries, Day Care-Kindergarten, Baptist Heritage, associational clerk work, church secretarial work and youth ministry leadership.

Persons interested in attending the Bible-Preaching Conference this summer should contact Larry Haslam, manager of Glorieta Baptist Conference Center, Glorieta, N.M., 87535.

George Wallace, Alabama Governor: "My intention at this time is that I am going to be involved in the 1976 campaign."

Progressive Reunion Is Next Sunday

Progressive Community, six miles north of Hereford, has extended an invitation to all interested individuals to attend the 16th Annual Reunion next Sunday at Hereford Community Center.

According to Forrest Ricketts, president of the planning delegation, the center will open at 10:30 a.m. and persons attending are asked to bring basket dinners. Cold drinks and paper plants will be furnished.

Secretary for the reunion is Mrs. Dywane Fry.

Project Slated To Raise Funds At St. Joseph's

Proceeds from the St. Joseph's Catholic Church "Jamaica" (meaning bazaar) will be contributed to the building fund for a new church building.

The small fair, which will feature a general store, games, Mexican and American foods and various booths, is scheduled from 9 a.m.-8:30 p.m. at the church next Sunday.

Numerous hand-made articles will be offered for sale at the Jamaica and the public is urged to attend.

Free Movie To Be Shown At Church

"Time To Run," a full-length motion picture in Eastmancolor, will be shown free to the public beginning at 7 p.m. tonight at Westway Baptist Church, 8 miles west of Hereford.

The drama, which stars a local native, Randall Carver, centers on the inspirational story of today's youth faced with emotional crisis conquered by Christian strength. The movie is released by World Wide Pictures.

The Rev. Larry Levick, pastor, urges the public to attend this presentation, which will be followed by a brief fellowship period.

The news isn't to be confused with opinions about the news.

Local Alumnus Marries Dallas Girl

Miss Doris Elaine Wilson of Dallas and David Moya, a former resident now of Huntsville, were married Saturday evening in First Christian Church of Lubbock. Performing the candlelight service was Dr. Dudley Strain, pastor.

The bride, who is employed by a Dallas chemical company, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C.W. Wilson of Amarillo. Moya, a member of the Texas Department of Corrections, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A.C. Cerda of 214 Ave. H.

Chapel decorations for the wedding included twin candelabra and lighted pew markers surrounded by greenery and mint green and yellow bows. Before the altar stood a cross with praying hands above the unity candle, which was encircled by greenery.

Miss Sylvia Mathus of Dallas was the bride's solitary attendant while John Moya of Dumas served his brother as best man. Escorting guests to their seats were Darrell Sparks and Rick Roberts.

Nancy Elaine Wilson, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William R. Wilson, appeared as flower girl. Danny L. Mathus, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Don L. Mathus, was ring bearer.

"If" and "Wedding Song" were rendered by Miss Leslie Euler with accompaniment provided by Miss Ann Ayres.

Given in marriage by Mr. and Mrs. R. Clyde Mathus, the bride wore a floor-length gown of white bridal satin embellished by imported French lace and seed pearls. Sleeves on the empire style costume were of sheer organza which gathered at mid-arm, forming a flare which was bordered with lace and pearls. The A-line skirt swept to back fullness, creating a circular chapel train.

Her tiered veil of bridal illusion draped over her train and was edged in lace. It was attached to an imported headpiece of lace orange blossoms.

White sweetheart roses and babybreath formed her nosegay. Her accessories included pearl and diamond earrings, and pearls on a gold choker, all borrowed from a friend.

Her bridesmaid was attired in a long, empire gown of mint green fabric with a coordinating white jacket. Complementing her dress was a nosegay of white daisies, yellow and green carnations and babybreath, plus a picture hat of mint green horsehair trimmed with a yellow ribbon.

The three-tiered wedding cake, frosted in yellow and green, was served by Miss Pat Finley of Lubbock during a reception in the Green Room of the church. An epergne holding white daisies and yellow and green carnations centered the serving table, which was draped with a white silk cloth. Miss Helen Wistowski of Lubbock ladled punch.

Reception guests were registered by Miss Barbara Trammel, also of Lubbock.

For her honeymoon, Mrs. Moya wore matching slacks and blazer of yellow and white with a white shell. Accessories of yellow and a corsage lifted from her bridal bouquet, completed the outfit.

The couple will live at 2516 Montgomery Road, No. 9 in Huntsville, where he is doing post-graduate work in criminal justice at Sam Houston State University. He graduated from Hereford High School and West Texas State University.

Mrs. Moya graduated from Palo Duro High School at Amarillo and is employed by Chemagro at Dallas.

Couple Home After Ceremony

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Mulkey Jr. are at home at 440-B Ave. B after their marriage in Ward Parlor of First United Methodist Church on July 4. The Rev. Dewitt H. Seago, chaplain of King's Manor Retirement Home, officiated.

The bride was Miss Belinda Wheeler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Lewis of Blair Okla. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Fred Mulkey Sr. of 117 Ave. C.

Attending the couple, who spoke nuptial vows beneath an archway of daisies and doves, were the bride's sister, Mrs. Ben Sirmons, and the bridegroom's father. Twin candelabra with white tapers flanked the altar.

Candles were lighted by Lets and Dennis Nunley.

Principal selections which were presented at the piano by Mrs. T.J. Parsons were "Twelfth of Never," "More" and "To A Wild Rose."

The bride was given in marriage by her stepfather. She wore a white satin gown designed with Juliet sleeves and A-line skirt which swept into a chapel train. Panels of imported lace adorned the fitted bodice. She carried a cascading bouquet of sweetheart roses, white daisies and blue carnations.

Following the ceremony, the bride's sisters, Mrs. J.C. Brooks and Mrs. Darrell Hokett, served refreshments during a reception in Ward Parlor. Fresh flowers nestling around white doves and wedding bands crowned the three-tiered wedding cake on the table, which was draped with white imported organdy and linen cloth over blue.

Miss Letta Nunley registered guests.

Other members of the house party included Mmes. Rodger Ruland, Gerald Nunley and Jack Nunley.

Mrs. Mulkey, a graduate of Blair High School, was employed by Owl's Photo Corporation at Weatherford, Okla. She attended West Oklahoma State College at Altus, Okla.

The recent bridegroom is currently the manager of the automotive department of Montgomery Ward and Company at Blair. After graduation from Hereford High School, he served four years in the U.S. Air Force.

Economists differ on outlook for upturn.

VACATION TIME. Many are ready to depart, others are returning and many are wishing, hoping and planning where they can go. The objectives of National Travel Clubs are good reading. In one of my Travel magazines, I read the following: "Our objectives are to create and promote interest in travel and exploration, to furnish members with information on travel and sight seeing."

"We strive to work for the betterment of transportation, for adequate concessions and to arouse public interest in our natural resources; to strive to preserve the historic sites, and to become more interested in the development of our natural Parks and playgrounds; to protect our forests, wildlife, (both the animals and the birds); to have a just appreciation of our waterways, and highways; to become definitely interested in travel safety measures, and to establish closer relationships between all peoples...which would be a large step towards the securing of a lasting peace."

There are three big E's in our life. These are ecology, economy and energy. As we travel, it would be good for us to be mindful of these. All are embraced in the various avenues of study and service of The National Garden Clubs of America, and other lands.

There are many wonderful scenic places to visit, also beautiful gardens which are open to the public, and lovely landscaped parks and vacation spots to see. In a recent magazine, the following are some of the places to see roses growing, some of which are testing gardens—Texas-Fort Worth Botanic Garden, 3220 Botanic Garden Drive, Fort Worth. The State Headquarters Building of The Texas Garden Clubs Inc. is also located in the area. Tyler Municipal Rose Garden at Tyler is one of the show places in Texas. Many of the World Famous roses are grown in this garden.

The Denver Botanic Gardens, Denver, Colo., is a wonderful show place for beautifully grown roses and other flowers. Kansas Rose Garden is listed as The Reinisch Rose Garden, Gage Park, Topeka, Kans., the Municipal Rose Garden is in Forest Park St. Louis, Mo. The National Council of State Garden Clubs, Inc., Headquarters is also located in St. Louis, Mo, 4401 Magnolia Ave., this is a wonderful place to see landscaping and other attractions. In Tulsa, Okla., The Municipal Rose Garden is located at 22nd St. and South Peoria. It is a noted Rose Garden for Garden Clubbers and others to visit. (Have names and addresses of other noted gardens of other states, which I would be glad to share with you.)

One of the newest recreation gardens has been opened by the Busch Co., near Colonial Williamsburg, Va. It is called "The Old Country" and features landscapes and plantings of great variety. The world's largest hanging floral clock is in a large amusement park on King's Island on I-71 North of Cincinnati, Ohio. The one in Virginia was being worked on when I was there a year ago...some day I hope to return and visit the garden and others.

GARDEN CHORES. When transplanting old plants and making room for a last planting of zinnias, remember that gladioli can be planted as late as the 15th of July. Preparation of soil is important and selection of corns important.

Many of the early planted glads are now blooming. I saw a lovely white spike in Mrs. Fluit's room at the hospital. A young man brought it to her...makes me GLAD when I learn of young folk being interested in gardening.

For satisfaction and beauty, gardeners must still work and be alert for garden enemies and diseases. One of the best methods to ward off these is to keep plants vigorous and

High Country Camping

Deaf Smith county 4-Hers and leaders are enjoying the high country this week while attending the 4-H Electric Camp, (sponsored by Southwestern Public Service Company), located in the Sacramento mountains, 28 miles southeast of Cloudfroff, N.M. Those from Deaf Smith county are, (front row, L-R) Mark Betzen, Rudy healthy. This can be done by frequent cultivations and with moderate applications of nutrients not higher than 5-10-5. If some organic agencies are used, 1-2-1 (nitrogen, phosphorus and potash in that order) is best. After cultivating, feeding, and giving sufficient moisture, it is good to add a porous mulch to protect the soil from being sun baked, also it aids in protecting plants from the wind.

Consistency pays off. Remember a combination of cultivation, feeding, watering and mulching brings almost any vigorous plant through the "Summer Stress" days.

In the meantime, enjoy your garden. Take an early morning walk among your plants and you will be pleased with growth and beauty shown.

Cavazos Assigned To Army Post

Ricardo H. Cavazos, drill corporal in the U.S. Army, has reported for duty at Fort Polk, La., where he will be stationed before transferring to Ft. Sill, Okla. in two months.

The youth, a 1974 graduate of Hereford High School, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Felix Cavazos of 315 Ave. B. He is the grandson of Mrs. Gregoria Herrera of Hereford and Mrs. Martina Cavazos of McAllen.

After enlisting in February, Cavazos completed basic training at Ft. Leonard, Mo., and graduated from specialized Army courses.

He was formerly employed by Ulysses Irrigation Company.

Act Establishes Pension Programs For Workers

North Texas workers not covered by pension programs may now be able to set up their own individual savings programs and gain significant tax advantages as a result of the Employee's Retirement Income Security Act of 1974.

A.W. McCannless, district director of Internal Revenue Service (IRS) operations in North Texas, said recently that any employee under age 70 who has not participated in a retirement program during the year can set up a retirement program. Husbands and wives who are both wage earners may each qualify for their own individual program.

Mr. McCannless said that those who are eligible can contribute 15 per cent of their major advantage of the program, he added, is that no tax is due on the contributions or interest or other income earned by the contributions until the money is actually withdrawn.

Because this retirement program, withdrawals usually would not begin until the individual was 59 1/2 or older. At that point, the individual would presumably be in a lower tax bracket than during his or her earning years.

North Texas residents who would like additional information can contact their nearest IRS office, or call 800-492-4830 toll free.

Comings And Goings At King's Manor

By FAY GAUGEL

Robert Seago and wife and two children, Melissa and Kelly, of Arlington, visited his parents, the Dewitt Seagos on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. D.E. Sumrow spent last week in Amarillo with their son and family.

Waylan Evans of Colorado Springs, Colo. visited his parents, the Joe Evans, at the Manor Monday.

Mrs. Lois Greer visited her daughter, Mrs. Mary Jo Martin of Amarillo, for five weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Neal Duke of Lubbock visited their parents, the D.E. Sumrows, last Sunday.

Manorites wish to thank Hereford Chamber of Commerce again for the chartered bus and driver who came and spirited us down to the courthouse lawn, where we sat in comfort and enjoyed the Fourth of July ceremony of songs, speeches, etc. So we continue to be indebted to the Chamber of Commerce.

On Wednesday, July 2, 22 King's Manor residents drove to the United Methodist Church in Dimmitt where they were guests of the women of the church for a program and dinner.

The theme of the program was "Retirement" so the Manor folks were able to contribute many helpful suggestions on this topic. Fellowship and a good dinner made this a most pleasant occasion. The food was bountiful and our hostesses were gracious.

As we returned home we counted ten different crops growing between Dimmitt and Hereford. What a wonderful part of the world in which to live!

Our own Mrs. Don Davidson had a birthday Sunday, July 7. Her Sunday School Class at First United Methodist Church, the Seekers Class, had arranged for her to be honored at the Sunday School hour in the Fellowship Hall, where all the Sunday School attendants were assembled and ready to sing "Happy Birthday" as she entered.

This done, Dr. Jordan Grooms tied in the situation by saying when we honor our country (Bicentennial-wise) we actually are dependent on citizens individually who have made our country great.

He cited Mrs. Davidson's service back when she and Brother Don served the Methodist Church as pastor and wife. All through the years there has not been a facet of church activities where she has not been interested and active. She added her outstanding continued service to the residents of the entire King's Manor complex, which is one of loving concern and deep sympathy.

We once knew a man who was called "Religion in Shoes." We think of Oneita's feet and their constant brisk action as she is about Our Father's business. We are reminded of those feet spoken of as being "beautiful on the mountain tops because they bring peace and good news."

She conquered her briny eyes and choked voice with her native fish wit, by saying she was glad she wasn't 200 years old and then she asked, "Now what on earth are we going to do in here?"

Next she was led to a birthday cake forming an open Bible embossed in white icing and decorated with a red book mark, two sprays of red and pink roses and red letters spelling "Happy Birthday, Mrs. Don."

Coffee was served to about 150 persons who then repaired to the auditorium for church service.

All my life, long doors have intrigued me. What goes on within or what new vista might it open up? So when mama took me calling with her as a very young child, I always tugged at her sleeve and whispered, "Mama, may I look over Mrs. So and so's house?"

Sometimes the answer was a stern stare of rebuke; sometimes the answer was a gracious, "Yes, if Mrs. So and so doesn't mind." But this column concerns King's Manor only. Well, what is on the outside of our doors here to indicate the nature or the character of the occupant?

A door may indicate what goes on inside. A pestle and a mixing mortar bowl may indicate a druggist inside or the balanced scale of Justice may say it's a lawyer's office. A door may refer to a new way of life or a new opportunity in the future. An attractive fourth grade book is called "The Open Door." A large seaport town may be called the door to a certain area as "New Orleans, the door to the Deep South."

Is there any more fascinating suggestion or hopeful prospect than an unopened door? Well, for years here at King's Manor about four individuals had a message on doors. One was the "Lord's Prayer." On our guest room door is a tribute paid to our Unseen Heavenly Guest. Other sayings were "Today is the tomorrow I dreaded yesterday" 2. "Make new friends; keep the old. One is silver the other is Gold." 3. "I wuv ya." 4. "The easiest way to be wrong is to always think you're right."

That's all very fine but we've all been given a door decoration which is useful and attractive. It is an owl cut from colored felt with huge eyes pasted on; attached is a bad saying "Notes" and a pencil is inserted below. No one who visits now need wonder where we are or when we'll be at home. Any message may be written on it.

These cute do-dads were made and given to us by the King's Manor Arts and Crafts department whose head person is Vena Hudson. Vena's fertile brain fairly buzzes with ideas to try in making attractive articles to sell.

I call her "Inventive Vena" and she's as busy as any person at the Manor. She's efficient, always pleasant and accommodating. She has an excellent helper in Emma Jean Smith, who is bookkeeper and business manager for the Arts and Crafts Ladies.

Vena doesn't care for praise or attention, so I may be reprimanded by her for this publicity. But we've had our say and now we repeat "Long live our Inventive Vena and all her cohorts, the Arts and Crafts Ladies." We thank you.

Mrs. Virgil Toles had a birthday on Friday. Mr. and Mrs. John Toles and son came Thursday from Happy and Mr. and Mrs. Hal Toles and daughter Tanya and friend from Tulia came to help her celebrate it on Friday.

The residents of Westgate took part in an early 4th of July celebration on Thursday July 3.

A picnic in the courtyard was held with fried chicken and all the trimmings. The rains came and dampened things a bit, however spirits were not dampened as the picnic was moved indoors where it was continued. The Frio church ladies treated all to homemade ice cream which was followed by patriotic selections of local barbershop quartet (the same group which sang at the courthouse on Friday.)

Hereford Country Club. She is the bride-elect of John Douglas Kimbley.

Composing the receiving line were the honoree, her mother, Mrs. James Pat Malone, and her fiancé's mother, Mrs. Bill Kimbley of Dumas.

Mrs. James Porter Malone of Amarillo, the prospective bride's grandmother, was among guests, who were registered by the honoree's sister, Miss Colleen Malone. Miss Crissy Criswell and Miss Laurie Young offered sweet rolls, assorted fruit and punch from a table centered with tall hurricane lamps amidst ivy and daisies. Also on the serving table, which was set with gold appointments, was a bridal doll clasping a nosegay of fresh flowers. Hanging baskets of ivy and daisies were suspended throughout the room, which also included small tables featuring amber wine goblets containing candles encircled with flowers and greenery.

Hostesses for the recent courtesy were Mmes. Clint Formby, Kenneth Halbert, Wayne Thomas, Bob Word, Art Stoy, W.H. Bill Griffin, Shepard Townsend, Henry Sears, Aaron Hutto and D.C. Mc-

How To Freeze Foods

Freezing is a simple and fast method of preserving foods at home. It keeps the natural color, fresh flavor and food value of most fruits, vegetables and meats better than other methods of food preservation. Freezing provides the convenience of having food products that can be prepared quickly and easily for serving daily meals and for emergencies. Costs of owning and operating a home freezer may range from 10 to 12 cents a pound of food frozen, depending on rate of turnover. On a pound basis, freezing costs decrease as the quantity of food frozen is increased. Cost estimates are based on electricity used, costs of packaging materials, repairs and average freezer costs for one year. Good Quality Food-Careful selection of foods to be frozen is important. The food coming out of the home freezer or the freezer locker is no better than it was before it was frozen and stored. Careful Preparation-Speed in preparation is necessary. Promptness in handling, chilling and freezing any product helps retain quality. It is necessary to control the growth of bacteria, yeasts and molds and to stop the chemical action of enzymes. Follow the instructions carefully in the preparation of any food for freezing. Proper Packaging-The purpose of packaging or wrapping food is to keep it from drying out and to preserve food value, flavor, color and pleasing texture. The selection of containers depends upon the type of food to be frozen and personal preference. Packaging materials should be moisture-vapor-proof to prevent evaporation and to retain the highest quality in frozen foods. Many packaging materials for frozen food are not moisture-vapor-proof, but are sufficiently moisture-vapor-resistant to retain satisfactory quality of fruits and vegetables during storage. Glass, metal and rigid plastics are examples of moisture-vapor-proof packaging materials. Most bags, sheets of freezer wrapping materials and waxed cartons made especially for freezing are moisture-vapor-resistant. Ordinary waxed papers, household aluminum foil and cartons for cottage cheese and ice cream should not be used to package home-frozen foods, because they are not moisture-vapor-proof or resistant. Rigid Containers made of aluminum, glass, plastic, tin or moisture-vapor-resistant cardboard are suitable for all packs, and are especially good for liquid packs. Plain tin or R-enamel cans may be used for all foods, but some foods may be better packed in cans with special enamel linings: C-enamel for foods containing considerable sulfur-corn, lima beans, carrots; R-enamel for highly-colored foods-beets, berries, red cherries, fruit juices, plums, pumpkin, rhubarb, squash, sweet potatoes. Food packed in rigid containers should have an air-tight seal. Be sure the lid is on straight and, if needed, use freezer tape to insure an air-tight seal where lid and container come together. Nonrigid Containers-Bags and sheets of moisture-vapor-resistant, extra heavy aluminum foil, p/lofilm or polyethylene-lined papers are suitable for dry-packed vegetables, fruits and meats. Bags can be used for liquid packs, but are less convenient than rigid containers. Plastic bags should have an air-tight seal. Fill bags, leaving enough head space to make a "goose neck" twist. To make the goose neck twist, squeeze air from filled bag, twist top, turn over about half way, and tie with freezer wire or rubber band. Bags and sheets are used with or without outer cardboard cartons to protect against tearing. Bags without a protective carton are difficult to stack. Sheet wrap may be used for packaging such foods as corn-on-the-cob or asparagus. Size-Select a size that will hold enough of a fruit or vegetable for one meal. Reuse-Tin cans, glass and rigid plastic and aluminum containers can be reused indefinitely.

Patriotic Poem
Read At Meeting
 Patriotism was reflected in a poem "Faith, Charity and Hope" read by worthy matron Mrs. Charlie Brown to members of Order of the Eastern Star during a stated meeting Tuesday night in Masonic Hall. During the business session, an invitation was extended from the Friona chapter to their salad supper at 7:30 p.m. Monday. During this meeting, recognition will be given to a 50-year member. Host and hostesses to 24 members present were Mr. and Mrs. J.B. Noland, Marie Cline and Mrs. Art Lewis.

Hereford Specialists Participating In VITE

Three vocational specialists from Hereford are participating this summer in a vocational industrial teacher education program through Texas A&M University.

They are among 184 teachers in training at College Station and at the Texas Engineering Extension Service's South Texas Center at Weslaco. Hereford participants are Raymond R. Barber, industrial cooperative training and Jackie Cabbiness, cosmetology, Hereford High School; and Loyce F. Keyser, cosmetology, Texas State Technical Institute in Amarillo.

Already specialized in a trade area, they are completing certification courses that will qualify them to teach vocational industrial subjects in Texas schools.

The Engineering Extension Service, part of the Texas A&M University System, and the Texas Education Agency are cooperating in the program.

Courses in which participants are enrolled help develop teaching abilities. E.C. Fisher, head of the EES Vocational Industrial Teacher Education Division, said the summer work adheres to the Texas State Plan for Vocational Industrial Education.

Fisher noted that many of the men and women in the program gave up a profitable trade or business, in building or automotive trades, welding and cosmetology, to enter teaching. A recent survey of the group shows the majority have eight to 12 years trade experience, an average 14 years education and want to teach because they feel they can help young people.

BIBLE VERSE

"Except a man be born of water and of the Spirit, he cannot enter into the kingdom of God."

1. Who made the above statement?
2. To whom was it made?
3. What was this man's standing in the community?
4. Where may this statement be found?

Answers to Bible Verse

1. Jesus, as recorded by John.
2. Nicodemus.
3. A ruler of the Jews.
4. John 3:5.

Most Europeans find Ford agreeably direct.

Along The Frio

By MRS. OWEN ANDREWS
Brand Correspondent

Mr. and Mrs. Godfrey Baldwin and sons of Temple Hills, Md., came the first of the week to visit a few days with their parents, the W.H. Andrews and Mrs. B.H. Baldwin, and other relatives.

The Andrews and Baldwin clans and others related and friends plan a gathering Sunday afternoon at Frio Church Fellowship Room.

The Baldwins had a family gathering at the lakeside home of the Ben Deans at Lake Texhoma last weekend. Mrs. B.H. Baldwin returned home the first of the week from a month-long visit with her children, including the Homer Wests, at McAllen, the Robert Baldwins at San Antonio and the Wes Earps at Denton, and others of the family who came to the reunion.

Mrs. Homer West and Donna are here for several days visit with Mrs. Baldwin and the Eugene Baldwins. Homer is in and out as he goes about his business here and in the Valley with the vegetable industry.

Linda West is to arrive during the weekend from a month-long tour of Europe. She had joined a group from here which was a part of an organized "teen tour" planned several months ago. The group left Dallas June 14 and after much bus touring was in London this week to leave there for a trip home.

Odessa came for the family gathering.

Several G.A.'s from Frio Baptist Church were attending church camp at High Plains Assembly this week. They were accompanied by Rhonda Stephan and Beverly Cole.

Mrs. Buck Stringer and daughter, Debbie, of Ojal, Calif. have visited the past week with several in this area, spending most of the time with the Charles Seifs, northwest of Hereford. The Stringers lived in the community for several years, going to California during the early 60's. She is the former Willa Mae Betts.

They had also visited her brother, Arthur Betts, and family at Keys, Okla. and report that Arthur's son, Jimmy, who has lived in Tucson with his mother was graduated from high school there this spring and has now gone into the Navy.

The Stringers were leaving here the first of the week to visit in Louisiana and Arkansas. The Stringer's son, Mike, is married and also lives in Ojal. Buck Stringer works in the construction business, since being in California.

Mrs. G.W. Parker went to Tahoka Saturday to visit her sister, Mrs. Dovie Shell as few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Barber were returning home the last of the week from an eight-day tour of Germany as a part of a Texas Ex's and guests group. They left Dallas on Thursday and flew from Bangor, Maine to arrive in Munich for the beginning of the tour.

Visiting the Lloyd Shultzes the past weekend were his brother, Alvin Shultz and his wife from Roscoe.

Tech Summer Term Begins Monday

Final examinations Thursday and Friday (July 10 and 11) ended the first term of the summer session at Texas Tech University.

Residence halls closed July 12 at 10 a.m. for students not holding reservations for the second summer term. The halls will open at 10 a.m. July 13 for new residents.

The second summer term will begin with registration Monday, July 14, from 7:30 a.m. to 6 p.m. in the Municipal Coliseum. Classes will start at 7:30 a.m. July 15.

"A record enrollment of 8,116 was set during the first summer week with relatives at Marlow, Okla., meeting the Godfrey Baldwins there for a family gathering.

Finals for the second summer term will be conducted August 19 and 20. The fall semester will start August 26 with registration beginning Aug. 27. Classes will begin September 2 term." said D.N. Peterson, registrar. "From 1,500 to 2,000 fewer students are expected to register for the second term, based on previous enrollment figures."

ZIMMATIC

The one time you expect to see a Zimmatic broken down.

About the only time you expect to see a Zimmatic broken down is when it leaves one of Lindsay's plants. Once assembled in your field, it seldom causes a problem. Those big, sure-footed towers power their way around the field, carrying water to crops.

Hour after hour, day after day. Until you decide to shut down. That kind of performance doesn't just happen. It's the result of constant testing — both in the plant and in the field. Lindsay puts these rigs through the most punishing conditions — loads on more stress in a week, usually, than they're likely to see in a lifetime of normal use.

But we know that no system is 100% perfect all the time. That's why we're ready to help with an extensive parts inventory and factory trained servicemen if you ever have a problem. Before you buy any center pivot irrigation system, be sure to let us tell you about all the advantages of owning a Lindsay Zimmatic.

CARD OF THANKS We want to thank our friends in Hereford for the love shown to us when Aaron died. I know all of you, along with the girls and I can trust him to God and to the resurrection. May God Bless You. The Aaron Huddleston Family

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS

Sealed bids addressed to the Hereford Independent School District will be received at the School Administration Office, Hereford, until 4:00 PM, July 29, 1975, and then publicly opened and read for furnishing all plant, labor, material and equipment, and performing all work required for constructing tennis courts for the Hereford Independent School District.

Bids shall be submitted in sealed envelopes upon the blank form of the proposal attached hereto and marked in the upper left hand corner. All proposals shall be accompanied by a cashier's check or certified check upon a national or state bank in the amount of five (5) per cent per cent a bid bond in the same amount from a reliable surety company, as a guarantee that bidder will enter into a contract and execute performance bond within ten days after notice of award of contract to him. The bid security must be enclosed in the same envelop with the bid. Bids without check or bid bond will not be considered.

The successful bidder must furnish performance and payment bonds upon the forms which are attached hereto in the amount of 100 per cent of the contract price from an approved surety company holding a permit from the State of Texas to act as surety or other surety or sureties acceptable to the Owner.

The right is reserved to reject any and all bids and to waive any informality in bids received. Plans, specifications and bidding documents may be secured from the office of the School Superintendent, 700 Union, Hereford; or at the office of Bill R. McMorries & Associates, Inc., 6300 Canyon Dr., Amarillo, TX 79109, on deposit of Twenty-five ($25.00) dollars per set which sum so deposited will be refunded, provided: (1) All documents are returned in good condition to Bill R. McMorries & Associates, Inc., not later than 48 hours prior to the time for receiving bids; or (2) The Contractor submits a bid and all documents are returned in good condition to Bill R. McMorries & Associates, Inc., not later than five days after the time that bids are received.

Texas P&W Officials Warn Against Deer As Pets

Pet deer recently confiscated by New York Conservation Officers have prompted a warning from officials at the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

"Texas, like New York and most other states," said the TP&W officials, "has laws which prohibit the capture of wild deer."

Each year, hundreds of people in the U.S. pick up and take home newborn deer or 'Bambis' as they often are named."

The annual "Bambi" roundup is one of the most unpleasant tasks of any state conservation agent or game warden.

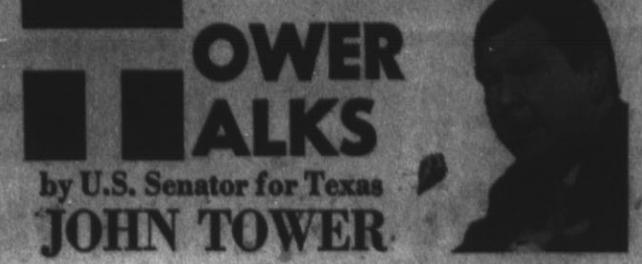

Such action by New York officials received nationwide publicity. In one case a pet deer was accidentally killed and in another the fawn was humanely destroyed because local zoos were already filled with deer.

In most cases, picking up a fawn means a confrontation at a family's home. Members of the family are always emotionally involved with the fawn and charges are often filed against the head of the family.

Enforcement is necessary since fawns will grow more than 100 pounds with razor-sharp hooves. Buck fawns develop antlers which they often use against their masters during the fall rutting season.

As one seasoned Texas Parks and Wildlife Department game warden put it: "Most people who pick up fawns mean well, but they make a cripple of the deer when they take it home."

A deer held in captivity is almost assured death resulting from conflicts with either man's or nature's rules.

LOWER RATES

by U.S. Senator for Texas JOHN TOWER

Crowding Out

Goliath is pushing all the little Davids out of America's capital market. You and I will be poorer because of it.

The capital market is the pool of savings from which our economy obtains the funds needed to increase productive capacity, create new jobs, and raise our standard of living.

Feeding the pool are the individuals and institutions—banks, savings and loan associations, insurance companies, etc.—who have money to lend or invest.

Drawing from the pool are businesses whose earnings alone will not cover the cost of replacing worn-out equipment or building a new plant, and consumers who want to buy a new house or automobile.

Both private businesses and consumers have to compete with federal, state and local governments for the limited funds available in the capital market, because whenever government runs a deficit, it has to borrow money to make it up.

The capital market is the portion of our economy most responsive to the law of supply and demand. When there is a lot of money to lend, and borrowing by government, business and consumers is low, interest rates will also be low.

But when we are in a situation such as we are in today, when total public and private debt is estimated at $2.5 trillion, interest rates threaten to go sky-high.

Most of the pressure on the capital market comes from the federal government. During the next fiscal year, the federal government, in order to cover its mounting deficits, is expected to borrow 68 per cent of all the funds that will be available to lend.

If this happens, interest rates could go through the ceiling. Some economists estimate they could go to over 20 per cent. This would be a "price of money" too high for many businesses and most consumers to pay. Production, employment and consumer spending likely would drop, thus deepening the recession.

The government could avert this calamity by "monetizing the debt," that is, by printing more dollars so that there would be more dollars to lend. But this cure could be worse than the disease. It would set off a roaring inflation that would make what we have experienced in the past seem mild by comparison.

There are only two solutions to this problem. Neither is quick or easy. We have to reduce the federal government's pressure on the money market by cutting government spending. And we have to increase the money supply in the capital market by providing incentives for people to save. Any other course leads to economic catastrophe.

L'Allegra Convenes For Social

Congregating for a salad luncheon and bridge party, members of L'Allegra Study Club assembled Thursday in Pioneer Natural Gas Flame Room.

Mrs. Tom LeGate was welcomed as a new member during a brief business session, moderated by club president Mrs. Gerald Parker. Mrs. Cameron Gault reported tentative plans for the antique show which is scheduled November 14-16.

Mrs. Parker announced that committee duties for the coming year had been divided among the club enrollment. Chairmen of standing committees will be: Mrs. Jim Conkwright, year-book; Mrs. Gault, finance; Mrs. Parker, initiation; Mrs. John Smith, telephone; Mrs. Bill Lyles, cheer. Members in attendance included Mrs. Tommy Carnahan, Terry Caviness, Conkwright, Lyles, Rudy Metz, Parker, Gerald Payne, Alex Schroeter, Eddie Reinauer, Bill Warrick and Cliff Skiles.

We wonder if school children appreciate summer as much as we did.
