

Another British Freighter Sunk In New Force To Be Used On Piracy

Fresh Warning From Japan Emphasizes War Threats

By The Associated Press
Spanish insurgent bombs that sent another British freighter to the bottom of the Mediterranean and a parliamentary speech by the foreign minister of Japan today emphasized the threat of war on two sides of the earth.

All aboard saved

All aboard were rescued when two airplanes bombed and sank the 1,257-ton steamer Alcira off Barcelona. The Alcira was trying to get through the insurgent blockade with a load of coal.

Ten persons were killed Monday when a torpedo sank the British freighter Endymion off Cartagena, It, too, carried coal.

In Tokyo, Foreign Minister Kohji Hirota informed parliament that Japan had "warned other powers strictly to supervise shipments of arms and munitions to China."

He did not name the nations cautioned but said neither Italy nor Germany— allied with Japan against international communism— were materially aiding China.

70 Destroyers On Duty

Arranged by the sinking of the Alcira and Endymion, Britain today intensified her leadership of forceful efforts to clear the Mediterranean of marauding planes and submarines.

France joined Britain in a renewed policy of force to protect neutral shipping and together they were reliably reported to have massed 70 destroyers to patrol the lanes of commerce. British planes that had been called home from the anti-piracy patrol were expected to be sent back.

Authoritative sources indicated Britain, if necessary, would carry out her anti-piracy program lone-handed, Italy, within both the non-intervention and anti-piracy systems, has been formally charged by the Barcelona government with assigning four destroyers and two submarines to the Spanish insurgents. Barcelona said the sinking of the Endymion to an Italian submarine.

AGED INMATE OF INFIRMARY KILLS THREE OTHERS

Runs Amuck In Massachusetts Institution, Terrorizes Ward

TEWKSBURY, Mass., Feb. 4 (AP)—A 79-year old muscular giant ran amuck with a bludgeon early today, police charged, and slew three fellow inmates in a state infirmary because they called him "bad names."

Two other inmates lay in a critical condition with bullet wounds, victims of a sudden attack in a darkened ward where 80 elderly men cringed in terror.

John Mack, bald-headed and six feet three inches tall, was arrested in Lowell, three miles from the institution, and charged with murder. He admitted, Police Captain James J. Kennedy said, he shot the men as they slept.

The weapon, Kennedy quoted Mack as saying, had been purchased two years ago from a mail order house and kept buried in a tin can on the infirmary grounds.

Mack discarded the weapon, officials asserted, while walking toward Lowell because "it was too heavy." Asked where he was going, Mack assertedly replied, "to Alaska."

The dead inmates were Michael O'Keefe, 70; Edward Mercier, 70; and James Magee, 78. The wounded were Joseph O'Donnell, 55, and John Lewis, 76.

The shooting capped a dramatic investigation of a mounting total of violent deaths in Massachusetts mental hospitals. Police discovered last week that violent deaths since 1928 totalled more than 500, including eight slayings of patients by other inmates.

Aides of State Auditor Thomas H. Buckley, who uncovered the killings during a check of hospital records, said weapons ranged from pickaxes to flint.

Housing Bill Is Signed By Roosevelt

Liberalized Financing Designed To Spur Building

(AP)— President Roosevelt last night signed legislation designed to stimulate a vast private home building program through liberalization of federal mortgage insurance.

First Major Act

The legislation, in the form of amendments to the existing federal housing act, is the first major administration recommendation to be enacted this session.

The housing amendments were proposed during the special session that began November 15, but the senate did not complete legislative action until last Tuesday.

One of the first steps taken by the administration to turn the tide of the recession, the legislation is designed to put the construction industry to work by reducing the cost of financing private building of homes.

The bill provides:

1. Federal Housing Administration insurance of mortgages amounting to 90 per cent of the value of homes costing up to $6,000; 80 per cent insurance on the portion of the cost exceeding $6,000.
2. A maximum interest charge of five per cent on all loans.
3. Elimination of FHA "service" charges and substitution of a premium charge of one-fourth of one per cent on larger loans. The latter premium charge will be fixed at the option of the FHA.
4. A $2,000,000,000 limitation on the amount of FHA mortgage insurance that may be in effect at any time. (The president is authorized to increase this to $3,000,000,000.)
5. Amortization of 90 per cent loans insured before July 1, 1938, on a 25-year basis and 80 per cent loans on a 20-year basis.

'LITTLE FELLOWS' GIVE THEIR IDEAS ON BEATING RECESSION

SMALL BUSINESS MEN ROAR AND YELL

The opening session of the conference of the nation's small businessmen was a hectic one—and so was the last. A goodly portion of those on hand tried to get the floor to give their own views. Here are some of the men, yelling and roaring, as they attempt to get up to the platform and be heard above the din.

FDR Asserts Many Of Them Good Ones

Tax Repeal, Reduced Expenses, Loans To Business Included

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4 (AP)—Twenty-three recommendations to combat the recession were placed before President Roosevelt today by a committee representing the small businessmen's conference. White House officials declared afterward the president thought a large majority of them were constructive and possible of fulfillment.

Permanent Council

The recommendations, which included repeal of the undistributed profits tax, private and federal loans to small business, curtailment of government expenditures, and a campaign to stimulate business, were read to the president at an hour and a half conference by Chairman Fred Roth of Cleveland, chairman of the turbulent two-day session of "little fellows' business."

One of the recommendations was for a permanent advisory council of small businessmen to consult with the government.

Secretary Early told newspapermen after the White House meeting that the president personally did not want to name such a committee, but had asked Roth and his colleagues to advise with Secretary Roper with a view to setting up such an organization.

"Floor" for Wages

Earlier at his press conference, the president said he was trying to put a floor under wages in the same manner that he was endeavoring to establish a minimum for agricultural prices.

Price-fixing or wage-fixing, he added, was not contemplated.

The president's remarks on wages and farm prices were made in response to a question of whether he agreed with the "Wage Floor" (D.N.Y.) who recently contended, in opposing the prevailing wage amendment to the housing bill, that collective bargaining would be eliminated and the country put on the road to fascism if the government ever attempted to say how much a carpenter or bricklayer and all other workers should receive.

The president said that that argument was in line with what he had always said. But he warned reporters against misinterpreting that, pointing out that in the pending farm bill he was attempting to put a floor under farm prices rather than to set prices. The same analogy could be applied to wages in industry, he said.

The committee members consolidated the "little fellows' resolutions, which had been thicker than a New Year's morning, after the general session ended yesterday in characteristic uproar.

One of the committees disclosed that the president had been "touted down" so that criticism of several administration policies would be "less offensive."

QUITS CABINET

Field Marshal Werner von Blomberg (above), German war minister, resigned before going to Capri on his honeymoon, because, it was said in official circles, his marriage to Erika Grohn on January 12 had displeased the officers' corps of the army. Von Blomberg is 58, his bride 28.

Senate Refuses To Shelve Lynch Bill

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4 (AP)—The senate refused today to shelve the anti-lynching bill, against which southern senators have filibustered for a month.

The vote 52 to 34 came on a motion by Chairman Glass (D-Va.) of the senate appropriations committee to pigeonhole the anti-lynching measure and take up the $1,400,000,000 independent offices appropriation bill.

Despite today's vote, opponents of the anti-lynching measure expressed confidence a move to sidetrack it would be successful next week.

Some informed persons said privately many senators probably took advantage of today's vote to get themselves on record as favoring the anti-lynching bill. This group, might be willing to drop the anti-lynching fight if the filibuster continues.

Plane Crash Is Probed

Naval Authorities Seek New Safety Measures

SAN PEDRO, Calif., Feb. 4 (AP)—The United States fleet, shocked by the death of eleven flyers in the worst airplane disaster of its history, convened a board of inquiry today to find new safety for the navy's fighting birdmen.

Rear Admiral Charles A. Blakey, commander of the aircraft scouting force, said the inquiry board will seek information that "will make it impossible for such tragedies to occur again."

Two four-engine bombers, the 11-P-3 and 11-P-2 of Squadron VF-11 at San Diego, collided in a swirl Wednesday night 70 miles off the coast, and plunged into the sea with ten of the fourteen crewmen.

Four by an order from their heroic commander, Lieut. Carleton B. Hutchins, parachuted from the 11-P-4 before it fell to destruction.

None of the 11-P-3's seven men had a chance as roaring flames enveloped it immediately after its high wing struck that of the 11-P-2.

Of the four survivors, picked up by a crash launch from the flagship Pennsylvania, J. H. Hester, radioman, died a few hours later aboard the hospital ship Relief while the fleet vainly searched for the missing bodies of his ten comrades in service.

MORE EVIDENCE HEARD ON 'PULL' IN LAND CLAIMS

Witness Says He Was Offered Propositions

AUSTIN, Feb. 4 (AP)—A senate committee investigating Land Commissioner William H. McDonald heard more today about persons allegedly going over the state and expressing confidence they could obtain land office approval of vacancy claims.

Everett Hughes, abstractor of Wichita Falls was a witness. He said he had sought to obtain eight vacancies from the land commissioner's office and so far had not received any.

Various persons came to him with propositions whereby they would seek to obtain favorable action on his claims in return for an interest on the mineral leases or a cash consideration, he said. These persons, he added, maintained they were in better position than he to affect approval of the applications.

One Admits Lie

It was the second time during the nine-day hearing that testimony of this character had been presented. The previous testimony concerned B. A. "Jerry" Adams of Tyler.

Adams admitted he lied to M. H. Hackney of Longview concerning his claimed influence with the land office. He told the committee he had no "pull" whatsoever.

Hughes said one of the persons mentioned in Hughes' testimony, The Tyler man and a companion, came to him, Hughes said, and offered to press some of his vacancy claims in return for an interest in them. They said they believed they could get action on the matter within 60 days, he testified.

Hughes said representations were made to him that an organization had been perfected to speed up vacancy claims and quick action could not be obtained except through that organization.

On cross examination by Grady Owen, legal examiner in the land office, Hughes stated he had rejected any suggestion that other persons might influence securing of vacancy claims and that he was aware none of his rights had been finally affected by any action of the land office.

IF JOHNSON WERE PRESIDENT—

NEW YORK, Feb. 4 (AP)—If Hugh S. Johnson were president of the United States, he would:

- "Take all the cockeyed nitwits in the administration and give 'em 24 hours notice."
- "Insist that all taxes not primarily for revenue be repealed."
- "Stop punitive taxes."
- "Return relief to the states."
- "Take one billion dollars off the regular government expenditures."
- "Return to congress the power to fix the value of money."
- "Ask simple legislation for wages and hours."

That's what Johnson, who was President Roosevelt's first NRA administrator, told a questioner last night after he'd finished a speech before the National Retail Dry Goods association.

Naval Talks With Britain?

Conversations Hinted In Official's Testimony

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4 (AP)—Admiral William D. Leahy indicated before the house naval committee today the chief of the navy's war plans division had held recent conversations with British naval authorities in London.

The navy's chief of operations implied such conversations had been held when he flatly refused to answer in public a question by Representative Church (R-Ill.) as to whether he had reports from Captain Royal E. Ingersoll, chief of the war plans division, on the latter's recent visit to the British capital.

"I will make no statement in reply to that question in public," Leahy said, "because it involves vital information concerning the defense of our country."

He said however, he would make a "very frank statement" to the committee in executive session and "tell all about it."

Leahy previously had told the committee that the United States navy is incapable of defending both the Atlantic and Pacific seacoasts at the same time.

The chief of naval operations asserted "adequate" defense of both coastlines would require a "very much larger increase" than the proposed $800,000,000 expansion program.

Congressional opposition to the $800,000,000 program, meanwhile, threatened to upset the naval committee's calculations for quick approval.

Committee members said indications were that, due partly to opposition requests to be heard, the hearings on legislation to authorize 47 new warships and 22 auxiliaries would last two weeks.

POLAR SCIENTISTS GLIMPSE DAYLIGHT

MOSCOW, Feb. 4 (AP)—A brief glimpse of a Polar dawn after four months of night cheered four Soviet scientists riding a 100 by 160-foot ice floe and awaiting the arrival of rescue ships.

Retractions of the sun's rays from below the icy horizon, the drifting campers reported today, gave them a bit of daylight.

To the two Soviet ships picking their way through perilous seas to rescue them, the scientists reported their position Thursday night as 74.03 north latitude and 18.30 west longitude.

Foresees Political Crisis In Mexico

SAN ANTONIO, Feb. 4 (AP)—Grave political crises in northern Mexico in the near future today were envisioned by the most Rev. Arthur J. Drossiers, archbishop of the diocese of San Antonio.

"This trouble is far graver than it has appeared in the public press," the archbishop declared. He revealed he had been in touch recently with Gen. Nicholas Rodriguez, exiled leader of Mexico's "Golden Shirt" fascist organization. He said Rodriguez claimed more than 800,000 followers in northern Mexico.

Rodriguez, the archbishop said, was believed to be somewhere in South Texas, possibly in San Antonio.

City Meets Its WTCC Quota

Big Spring's quota of $500 in West Texas chamber of commerce memberships virtually was raised Friday, B. Reagan, district director, announced.

Reagan, a veteran director of the organization, has been assisting J. A. Rix, assistant manager of the regional unit, in raising the local quota.

In addition to the regular local firms contributing to WTCC, Reagan said that several corporations operating in this area had allocated parts of their subscriptions to Big Spring in assisting it in reaching the quota.

Southwestern Bell Telephone allocated $20, and H. O. Wooten Grocery company, Texas company, and Coca Cola company allocated $10 each.

Teachers Assn. To Convene Here On March 11-12

LUBBOCK, Feb. 4 (AP)—Date of the West Texas Teachers' association meeting in Big Spring has been changed to March 11-12, according to Dr. R. E. Garlin, education professor at Texas Technological college and association president.

Theme of the meeting, originally scheduled for March 4-5, will be "Teachers and Their Relationship to the New Curriculum." The earlier date conflicted with a national educational meeting.

Dr. W. E. Evans, head professor of education at Tech, will lead a symposium on the new curriculum in prospect and retrospect, at the Big Spring meeting. Assisting him are Superintendents W. E. Irvin, Lubbock; W. C. Blankenship, Big Spring; J. E. Watson, Colorado, and County Superintendent J. E. Griggs, Lubbock.

Two of the main speakers at the session are Dr. J. Paul Leonard of Stanford university, and Dean V. F. Pittenger of Texas university.

Want Larger Relief Fund

Suggestion Made For Over Billion Next Year

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4 (AP)—Works Progress administration officials, it was learned today, have suggested informally to congressional leaders a $1,100,000,000 relief appropriation for the year starting July 1.

Administration lieutenants at the capitol have advised them to ask for only $1,000,000,000, a reduction of one-third from the $1,500,000,000 appropriated for the current fiscal year.

Legislators do not expect a definite relief recommendation from the president until spring. They said it had not been determined whether a supplementary fund would be needed for the present year.

With five months to go, some $450,000,000 remains. Congressmen noted, however, that February and March usually put the heaviest strain on relief funds.

A pick-up in business, they said, would lighten the relief burden and might make it unnecessary for WPA to ask for additional money for this year.

Secretary Morgenthau said yesterday that no additional WPA funds would be needed before July, but a special appropriation might be required for needy farmers.

VIEWS LOCATIONS FOR BALL PARK

Jack Hutchinson, who has been granted permission to move the Monarchs franchise in the West Texas-New Mexico baseball league to Big Spring, was here Friday looking over possible locations for a park.

He said negotiations were underway for a park site, possibly on the west side. The sole owner of the Monarchs franchise, Hutchinson planned to move his plant here, lock, stock and barrel. He left Friday afternoon for Dallas where he intended to sit in on the spring meeting of the Texas league. Hutchinson will be back here Sunday.

POWER INCREASED

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4 (AP)—communications commission examiner recommended today that K. T. A. F. Broadcasting company (WACO) Waco, Tex., be allowed to increase its daytime operating power from 100 watts to 250 watts. The station would continue to operate on 100 watts power at night.

Each question counts 20; each part of a two-part question, 10. A score of 60 is fair; 80 good. Answers on page 4.

1. Who is this governor? What business does he want the government to enter?
2. Camille Chauveteau, who recently formed a French cabinet without communist support, is campaigning to have communists ejected from France. True or false?
3. Was John Milton appointed (a) solicitor general succeeding Stanley Reed, or (b) senator from New Jersey?
4. With what weapons have the Spanish insurgents attacked Valencia?
5. Of what were 16 big mid-west oil companies recently convicted?

A MIGHTY BLOW SEVERED THE MARRIAGE TIES

It must have been the blow that rendered their marital bonds in tatters.

At any rate, Mabel Scott, nee-agress, testified Friday that her love for Nat Scott, her husband, cooled when "he hit me on the head so hard it knocked fire out of my eyes."

Judge Charles L. Klapproth, judge presiding at the 76th district court, appeared intrigued by the power of the punch. Asked again by the court about the lethal blow, Mabel insisted it "knocked fire out of my eyes."

The court snused on this point, presently granted the divorce.

HOME BURGLARIZED

Police puzzled over the latest of a series of minor residential burglaries Thursday night when the home of Nell Hilliard, 710 Park street, was entered.

Three watches and other jewelry were taken, according to reports. Police said there had been a wave of similar offenses here recently. They were investigating the cases.

NO RUNS, TWO ERRORS

The fire department scored its activities Thursday night as "no runs, two errors."

One call to a nearby auto parts shop proved to be mechanics working on a motor with hot oil. Someone in the neighborhood had mistaken the oil smoke for a fire.

A second call proved "the wrong number." The party on the other end of the line had no business for the department and was trying to get Mrs. So-and-so.

'SODA ASH' DEAD

MILWAUKEE, Feb. 4 (AP)—John "Soda Ash" Michael Horan, who celebrated his 100th birthday Jan. 23, died at his home today from ailments caused by old age.

"Soda Ash" Johnny—who got the nickname because he originated a process for using soda ash in the treatment of locomotive boilers—was feted by Milwaukee businessmen and officials of the Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul & Pacific railroad Jan. 22 in honor of his approaching birthday and his 83 years of continuous service with the railroad.

MRS. PENNYBACKER IS DEATH VICTIM

AUSTIN, Feb. 4 (AP)—Mrs. Percy V. Pennybacker, internationally known woman leader, died at her home here today.

She had long been in failing health.

She was former president of the General Federation of Women's clubs, a leader in the woman's suffrage movement and at her death was president of the Chautauqua Woman's Club of Chautauqua Assembly, New York.

Safety Items For Schools Received

Two shipments received this week mean safety for the schools.

One was a lot of 24 large fire extinguishers to be placed in the various school buildings of the city. They were bought out of the stock left from the Texas centennial exposition at Dallas.

Friday the city received six road markers, purchased in conjunction with the schools, to caution motorists to drive slowly near schools. The markers are life size reproductions of a schoolboy safety patrolman, holding up his hand to caution slow driving.

COLONEL SHEPPARD

SAN ANTONIO, Feb. 4 (AP)—It's Colonel Morris Sheppard now—in addition, of course, to the fifth already held of United States senator from Texas.

Lieut. Col. Homer E. Carries, commanding officer of the three hundred and eleventh cavalry reserve, announced today that Sheppard had accepted an appointment as honorary colonel of the regiment.

THE SPORTS PARADE

By HANK HART

The Golden Gloves boxing champions of this district may meet the city champions of San Angelo next Friday night in the Concho capital...

The exhibitions, although nothing will be at stake, will be good practice for the locals in preparations for their trip to Fort Worth and the Golden Glove finals.

Opponents for the local boys have already been lined up by Lege, Womack is slated to oppose Cecil Knox, Charles Carter is due to go with Read and Jim Beam will battle Wallace. Others will be announced later.

How will the winners here stack up against the titlists of 15 other divisions in Fort Worth Feb. 17? Well, that's a hard one. Many local enthusiasts are of the opinion that some of the battlers will get beyond the first round.

Baylor Clashes With Texas In Important Game Tonight

Steers Must Win To Stay In Running

Have Three Sophs To Bolster Lineup, Waco Depends On Center

By FELIX R. MCKNIGHT Associated Press Sports Writer

Unbeaten Baylor braces in an old brick chapel at Waco tonight for the invasion of the University of Texas—a game that will measure chances of both teams for the Southwest conference title.

Relatively equipped with potent basketballers, Texas, six-point loser to Baylor in a wild game two weeks ago, can't lose this game and retain hopes for a championship. Standing now at its 500 percentage win after two wins and two losses, the Longhorns, bluntly speaking, can't lose any more.

Mid-term semester switches made three great sophomores, Elmer Finley, Oran Spears and Jimmy Britt, eligible. Coincidentally, Capt. Don White, guard, shook off his knee injury and came back into the lineup. All teamed up together.

Forsan To Play Crews In Tourney Opener

Charges Of Brady Nix Favored To Advance; Fems Meet Big Lake

BIG LAKE, Feb. 4.—Sixteen boys' and eight girls' teams made ready to open hostilities in the annual Big Lake invitational basketball tournament here today.

McCahey's and Garden City's girls opened the tournament this morning at 10 o'clock and all of the games but one were due to be played today.

Listed as one of the outstanding boys' favorites was Forsan's entry, which has gone into the finals of two successive tournaments. The Howard county team's first round opponent was Crew and the charges of Brady Nix were the choices to slip into the second round of play.

Should the Buffs cop their opener, they will take the courts Saturday morning against the winner of the Marton-Barnhart battle. The Forsan team were scheduled to open their play this evening at 7:30 o'clock against the powerful Big Lake cagerettes. The entire Forsan team is on hand in an attempt to wrest laurels in that division, including Grissom and Jordan, who did not play against Lamasa Tuesday.

Other first round games in the boys' division brings together Oona and Garden City, Mertins and Barnhart, Lakeview and Midland, Iran and Rankin, Odessa and Brady, Crane and Pear Valley and Ft. Stockton and Big Lake.

Girls' play in the first round will find Barnhart opposing Iran and Rankin battling Novice besides the McCahey-Garden City, Forsan-Big Lake encounters.

Semifinals were due to begin at 2 p. m. Saturday with consolation hooked for 6 p. m. and 7 p. m. Girls' championship game is set for 8 p. m. with the finalists in the boys' division booked for 9 o'clock.

Trojans Go To Odessa For Two Games

Will Meet One Of Best Teams In West In Opener

A strong team representing Big Spring will leave this afternoon for Odessa where they will take the courts tonight against two strong cage quintets of that city's municipal league.

The local crew, known as the Trojans, will open their engagement against the L&H Druggists at 7:30 o'clock and then oppose the strong Odessa Independents in a second game.

The locals will be meeting their strongest opposition of the season in tonight's first battle. The Druggists are one of the most powerful teams of its kind in this sector.

Manager Squeaky Thompson will have ample material on hand to give the Odessans an argument, however. He will probably open with Jake Morgan and Weldon Bigony at forwards, Doyle Vaughn at center and Jack Wilson and Smitty Smith at guards.

J. W. Forrester, George Neel, Durwood McWright and Chuck Smith will also make the trip.

Schacht Due To Cash In This Year

Could Make $100,000 If He Could Accept All Bids

NEW YORK, Feb. 4 (AP)—Al Schacht is moinin' low... Figures he could make $100,000 this year if he had time for all the bids pouring in... As it is, he'll have to be satisfied with a mere 40 or 50 games... Which is really putting clowning on a paying basis...

Waner Thinks Golf Is Help

Says It Improves His Batting Eye, Others Share Opinion

SARASOTA, Fla., Feb. 4 (AP)—Driving a little golf will down the fairway may not enable a batter to slam a baseball out of a big league park, but diamond stars wintering in Florida believe playing golf will help fatten the old batting average.

Take Paul Waner, former south-paw links champion who already has played in at least three tournaments while waiting for the spring training season to roll around. He's convinced the ancient Scottish game has improved his batting.

"I don't get to play in the baseball season—it's a $100 fine if you do—but I think it aids, instead of injures a batter," declared the Pittsburgh Pirate outfielder.

"Rhythm in swinging is the secret of both golf and baseball, and golf has helped me tremendously," he explained.

Lloyd, Paul's younger brother, shared the opinion and said he noticed a big difference last spring after spending his first winter on Florida courses.

Over at nearby Lakeland, Gerald Walker, Chicago White Sox outfielder, often plays 26 holes a day. "Golf doesn't harm your batting eye in any way and the walking helps your legs a lot," observed Walker as he paused before blasting another shot down the fairway.

Riggs To Meet Elwood Cooke

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Feb. 4 (AP)—The spotlight was on 18-year-old Frank Kovacs of Oakland, Calif., in the semi-finals of the Surf club tennis tournament today. He met Wilmer Hines of Hollywood, Calif.

Bryan Grant of Atlanta, deserted by his usual steadiness, was no match for the Oakland junior star yesterday and bowed out 6-3, 3-6, 6-4.

Hines paced through his match with George Reed of Miami, 6-2, 6-2. Bobby Riggs of Chicago will meet Elwood Cooke of Portland, Ore., in the other semi-final tomorrow and the final will be played Sunday.

Riggs subdued Charles Harris of West Palm Beach, Fla., 6-3, 6-1 yesterday while Cooke was disposing of Gardner Mulloy of Miami, 7-5, 4-6, 6-0.

Dates Are Set For County Basketball Tournaments

Lee May Be Suprise In Bout With Apostoli

Nebraska Wildcat Has Been Tough To Handle; Has Beaten Balsamo

By GAYLE TALBOT NEW YORK, Feb. 4 (AP)—The middleweight situation, already complicated, has a chance to get completely out of control tonight when Glen Lee, a tough little slug from the mid-west, tackles Fred Apostoli, the "uncrowned champ," in a 12-rounder at the Garden.

It's reported, though not confirmed, that Apostoli, who recently bashed out the champion, Eddie Steele, in an overweight affair, has refused to lay his share of the "title" on the line. That is, the San Francisco thumper insists upon remaining the "uncrowned champ," whatever happens tonight.

Though it doesn't make much sense, Apostoli's stand is fully as logical as anything connected with the middleweights lately. If Lee wins, as he stands a good chance of doing, then it's up to him to think up another title. He could sell himself assistant champion to Steele, for instance, and he and Apostoli could take turns challenging the champion.

Lee is something of a newcomer around here, but he made a powerful impression in beating Walter Woods, a local favorite, and knocking out Harry Balsamo. He's a busy little guy, a hard puncher and untried. Like Apostoli, he likes to stand up there and punch it out, so it looks like a good scrap. The betting has been 3 to 1 on Apostoli, which is natural considering the fact he has stopped seven of his last eight opponents, including the champion. But Lee's followers think he has a big chance of winning.

Berg To Finals For 3rd Time

To Oppose Mrs. Jane Jameson In Miami Biltmore Finals

CORAL GABLES, Fla., Feb. 4 (AP)—Patty Berg, Minneapolis' gift to feminine golf, bid for her third winter title today in her match with Mrs. Jane Cothran Jameson of West Palm Beach, Fla., in the 36-hole final of the Miami Biltmore tournament.

Winner of the recent Augusta and Punta Gorda tournaments, the freckled Patty was seeking her third victory in the Biltmore event, which she won in 1936 and 1937.

Patty won her semi-final match from Dorothy Kirby of Atlanta, the Southern champion, 4 and 3, with deadly chip shots and accurate putting.

Mrs. Jameson had to put on pressure to win her semi-final engagement from Kathryn Hemphill of Columbia, S. C., 1 up.

Dudley Not To Defend Title

SACRAMENTO, Calif., Feb. 4 (AP)—Most of the country's leading professionals were listed to tramp the rain-soaked municipal links today in the first round of the 72-hole 43,000 Sacramento open.

Low scorers in today's 18 holes will play another 18 tomorrow, with 36-hole finals Sunday.

The 72-par Sacramento course is nearly 1,000 yards longer than the Sequoyah layout where the Oakland open was held, and with the turf in soggy condition there was little likelihood any of the shot-makers could approach the winning 27, 13 under par, made last year by Ed Dudley, who will not defend his title.

Length of the course was expected to favor such long drivers as Jimmy Thomson of Shawnee-on-the-Delaware, Pa., Jimmy Hines of Garden City, N. Y., Sam Snead of White Sulphur Springs, W. Va. and Lawson Little, San Francisco, the former amateur king.

Says Women Should Share In Church Leadership

CHICAGO, Feb. 4 (AP)—A larger share of responsibility in church leadership was demanded for women today at Methodism's largest gathering in American history.

The demand came from the only woman speaker at the denomination's meeting, Miss Georgia Harkness, professor of religion at Mount Holyoke college.

In a prepared address to the United Methodist Council on the future and faith and service, Miss Harkness termed the church the "last stronghold of male dominance" and charged it was being drained of capable leadership by discrimination against women.

The gathering to which have come 5,000 clergymen and laymen representing 20,000,000 communicants and adherents was held by Senior Bishop Edwin Mott Hughes of Washington as "one of the greatest Protestant religious movements of the decade."

Jolson, Mead Clash Over Fighter

Singer Claims That He Should Share In Armstrong's Profits

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 4 (AP)—Singer Al Jolson and Fight Manager Eddie Mead sparred verbally today over the ring earnings of Henry Armstrong, featherweight champion of the world.

Jolson claimed he put up $5,000 for the purchase of Armstrong's contract 18 months ago, and expected to share in whatever purse Hustlin' Hank collected. But he hadn't, he added.

Mead countered that Jolson merely "loaned" him $5,000, that he had paid $4,000 of it back, and that he was the sole owner of Armstrong. The remaining $1,000, he added, was in the hands of Jolson's attorneys today.

He also revealed that when Armstrong's original purchase price of $5,000 was doubled, Screen Star George Raft stepped in and loaned him the remaining $5,000.

Armstrong was bought from Wirt Ross and Harry Armstrong, his brother, Ross getting $7,500, Harry $2,500.

"Both Armstrong and Ross heard Al tell me that all he wanted was his money back," Mead asserted. Jolson, placing the matter in the hands of an attorney, denied the deal was a "loan."

County Seat Fight To Be Continued

Barstow Challenging Election In Which Monahans Won

BARSTOW, Tex., Feb. 4 (AP)—With a temporary restraining order helping county records here, Barstow's fight to remain the county seat will be continued at the next term of 109th district court.

Barstow citizens are contesting the election which, by a vote of 1,149 to 467, favored the removal of the Ward county seat to Monahans. Counsel for Barstow has attacked the validity of 452 votes. Successful challenge of 216 votes would be sufficient to change the results of the election.

Plaintiffs also are attacking the validity of the election on the grounds it violated a state statute requiring the lapse of 10 years between elections for the removal of county seats.

Judge J. A. Drane, hearing the suit, probably will rule on the latter angle of the controversy at this term of court. A decision on the validity of the challenged ballots is not contemplated until the next term of court, after other witnesses have been heard. Most of the 452 voters have been summoned to describe the conditions under which poll tax receipts were obtained and their qualifications to cast ballots in the election.

PACKARD CUTS PRICE

DETROIT, Feb. 4 (AP)—The Packard Motor Car company announced today a reduction of $100 in the price of its six-cylinder model.

M. G. Gilman, vice-president and general manager of the company said the reduction was "actuated by our desire to stimulate public buying and restore consumer confidence generally."

Great Britain Netters To Play Rumania In Davis Cup 1st Round

NEW YORK, Feb. 4 (AP)—Great Britain's tennis forces, two years ago the all conquering holders of the Davis Cup, face a stern fight this year if they are to stem the challenge round against the United States.

Germany's strong team, the United States' most effective opponents last year, and France and Czechoslovakia, the latter two nations boasting young and eager players, are all in the European zone pairings with the British team.

The German team, which apparently will be headed by Baron Gottfried von Cramm and Henner Henkel, drew a bye for the first round in the schedules drawn yesterday at Washington by Secretary of State Hull. The Germans will meet Norway in their first match while Great Britain must beat Rumania to get into the second round.

Garner Plays Forsan Next Tuesday

Conhoma Draws Bye For Four Girls' Teams To Compete

The Howard County Interscholastic league executive committee met Thursday night at the Crawford hotel to arrange for places and dates of the county basketball tournament.

It was decided that the first game of the senior boys' tourney would be played in the Forsan gym between the Forsan Buffaloes and the Garner Hill Billies Tuesday evening, February 6.

The winner of that game will oppose Conhoma in the Conhoma gym Friday evening, February 11, for the championship.

The junior boys' team of Forsan and Midway will meet at Forsan Tuesday in a game preceding the senior boys' game.

The senior girls' tournament will start with games between Garner and Forsan and Moore and Conhoma. B.C.I. battles will take place in the Conhoma gym Tuesday, February 15. The winners of those two games will meet in the final February 17 at Forsan.

All games will begin at 7 p. m. Athletic Director Floyd Burnett announced. Prices of 10c and 15c will prevail.

Morris Due To Be Connected With Sports

Texas League Meet Convened In Fort Worth Saturday

FORT WORTH, Feb. 4 (AP)—Walter Morris, who has been everything in baseball from bat boy to president of three leagues at the same time, is likely to be general manager of the Shreveport Sports if and when they come back into the Texas League this year.

That was the note that sounded through the hotel corridors today as the advance guard of club representatives began gathering here for the annual league meeting.

It was considered reasonably certain that Shreveport will be officially voted into the circuit in Galveston's place at the first session of the representatives tomorrow.

Major E. A. Hardy, who has been most prominent in regaining the berth for the northern Louisiana metropolis, was expected to announce Morris as his choice as general manager of the sports.

Final settlement of the location of the one unanchored franchise was scheduled to be the first item of business called to attention of the club bosses.

The meeting, which is expected to extend into Sunday, will be held at the Worth hotel.

Adoption of a 1938 schedule will be the most important business before the meeting, but more excitement is expected to revolve around the adoption of an official ball; determination of a radio policy; and discussion of raising the monthly salary limit of the clubs from $4,600 to $5,200.

that they're going for the trip. It's all according to whom they draw as first round opponents. They certainly are not seasoned enough to be stamped as serious threats for the state crown but there's one or two prospects who demand respect.

J. C. Wallace, of course, is Big Spring's best bet to snag the spot that the middleweight failed to take. Joe Henderson in customary fashion in Wednesday evening's final, he has what it takes. He was pummeled with Henderson's unorthodox style of fighting but, take Trainer Earl Scott's word for it, he can hit harder than anything around here.

Too, he's learned how to box since he went into training. Hereafter, he won't be to slug it out and either win his fight by knockouts and didn't win at all but he uses both those hands to a good advantage and watches his footwork.

Red Cunningham, whom everyone thought would be waking up about this time, is a mystery. He admits that the blow that knocked Kenneth Jones for the heavyweight championship Wednesday was a lucky punch but one seems to be all he needs. He's hard to put down and harder to keep there. He can bear watching, especially if he works hard between now and the time to leave.

Don Beck, Monahan, can be counted on to come through. He is in the toughest division of them all—the welterweight—but he has the guns to go along if he uses them. He threw a nice right hand in his final two bouts here, surprising those opponents who were looking for a left, excelsivity. He dances nicely and gave most exhibitions in all three of his local fights. He beat Alton Basticks, as willing as they come, with his left and Alton didn't realize he was scoring until after the battle was over. Beck returned to favor his right in the finale with Ernest Robinson.

Red Womack, bantam, is a busy little fighter, but inexperience may handicap him. The same goes for James Skalkley who is as game as they come. Willie Gray seems too fragile to go anywhere while Midland's E. P. Lawson, the lightweight, should gain about six or seven pounds if he hopes to advance. He headed Hugh Brown a nice lacing Wednesday despite the fact that he was outweighed 10 pounds but that disadvantage may be too much in the state meeting.

The lightweight king, Ellis Reed, is heavy and is the best boxer of the whole local crew. He carried the fight to Frank Barnes, Lamesa, in that little bout before Barnes had to quit due to injury and, although the Lamesan was scoring over him, it is believed that Reed would have ended matters in the second or third with a knockout.

Trainer Scott says he wants to start the boys early next season and have them ready in plenty of time for the '39 meeting which isn't a bad idea. The local team had only three weeks in which to work for the opening battles this year.

Baylor, too, has new power to inject into its lineup. Wilson White, last season one of the league's outstanding players, will be on the floor for his first conference game. Injured in an early-season tilt, he is ready again. He was ready for the T. C. U. game Tuesday night but Coach Ralph Wolf took no chances.

Baylor probably will rely on White and Cressy at forwards; Kirkpatrick at center and Bubba Germand, high-scoring, and Shahan, at guards. Coach Jack Gray has Vinley and Moers, forwards; Tate, center; and White and Spears, guards, ready.

Fans will be turned away from the Waco clash. The old school

Game Refuges Provide New Wildlife Area

Millions Of Acres Set Aside Under Big Program

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3 (UP)—America is being restored to the hunters' paradise of a hundred years ago under an expanded Federal wildlife conservation program, according to Department of Agriculture officials.

The program was begun on an expanded scale in 1933 and is not yet half complete. Hundreds of new game and fish refuges have been established in every part of the country. The Biological Survey and the Soil Conservation Service are operating in the program.

Since July, 1931, the Biological Survey has purchased 1,500,000 acres to be converted into wildlife sanctuaries. In the same period, the 4,000,000 acres of public land were reserved by executive orders as refuges.

The Survey has established about 250 refuges comprising 11,500,000 acres. Of that amount, 7,000,000 acres are in the United States and 4,500,000 acres in Alaska, Hawaii and Puerto Rico. When completed the program will include about 20,000,000 acres.

Public cooperation and more stringent game laws are necessary if the wildlife restoration program is to succeed, Dr. Ira N. Gabrielson, chief of the survey, said. Private as well as public lands must be made attractive for wildlife, he believes.

"There is no magic way," Gabrielson said, "to restore the new and former breeding grounds for waterfowl. Either an increasing number of birds must be allowed to return each spring or the sport of duck hunting will vanish. The necessity for severe restrictions on hunting has not passed."

The Soil Conservation Service is cooperating by providing additional cover and feeding grounds. Under the service's program 83,970 acres of land were planted to trees and protected by fencing, providing a haven for wildlife.

Feeding Stations Set Up The Civilian Conservation Corps has established 10,813 feeding stations in areas where winter makes wildlife survival difficult. Hundreds of water-conserving and controlling structures also have been built, and trails and buildings improved.

State agricultural conservation officials, in cooperation with the Biological Survey, distribute thousands of bushels of cracked corn each winter in areas where snow makes feeding difficult. Rural mail carriers distribute much of the corn during regular mail delivery trips.

Department of Agriculture officials attribute much of the increased interest in wildlife conservation to the work of J. N. "Ding" Darling, the cartoonist, as chief of the Bureau of Biological Survey in 1934 and 1935.

Others have carried on the fight begun by Darling. He urged broader state-federal cooperation and the 1930 agriculture budget provides $1,000,000 added Federal aid to states for wildlife restoration.

Stress Recreational Literacy NEW ORLEANS (UP)—"Recreational literacy" is more dangerous than intellectual illiteracy, John Zimmerman, director of the WPA recreational division for Louisiana, said in a talk here. WPA clients are taught to dance, as well as to paint, sing and participate in athletics.

chapel, site of the gym, will not accommodate a crowd certain to see one of the season's best games. Workmen are toiling now on a new gymnasium—but it won't be ready until next season.

Arkansas, the team they're trying to beat for the title, should have little trouble in retaining its undefeated status in a two-game series Friday and Saturday nights at Fayetteville against luckless Texas Christian, cellarites the past three seasons.

The largest crowd in Parker basketball history—and there have been countless capacity crowds in the last decade—will see the new $150,000 Razorback field house for the slaughter of the Christians Friday night. The structure will be dedicated.

Sudden illness of Hugo Bazdek, Razorback coach from 1908 to 1912, will prevent him from making the dedicatory address.

To the already crowded roster of sharpshooters will be added Bob Johnston, high scoring Arkansas freshman of last year who became eligible at mid-term. He joins Don Lockard and Jack Robbins, now ranking second and third in the league scoring race.

The Christians, weak at their strongest, have added worries. Ed Mabry, center, is limping on an injured ankle.

TO GIVE A SERIES OF SPECIAL SERMONS

"In this age of doubt and skepticism there arises a great need for some practical sermons which are conducive to increase our faith in the sacred scriptures, and fortify us against infidelity, atheism, and agnosticism. We are looking, not for theory, but for that which is practical and consistent," says Melvin J. Wise, minister of the Church of Christ, during the month of February, Mr. Wise announces a series of four sermons on Christian Evidences to be delivered at the Sunday evening services of the Church of Christ, Fourteenth and Main streets. The sermon topics in order as they shall be delivered are: "I Believe in God"; "I Believe in God's Son"; "I Believe in God's Word"; and "I Believe in God's Church". You are most cordially invited to hear all of this series.

Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "God is a Spirit; and they that worship Him must worship Him in spirit and in truth" (John 4:24).

The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Belief and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Spirit being God, there is but one Spirit, for there can be but one infinite and therefore one God.... Spirit is the only substance, the invisible and indivisible infinite God" (pages 304 and 305).

Serve A Batch Of Cookies For A Very Heart-y Valentine Gift

Heart-shaped cookies arranged in holiday boxes lined with paper dollies catch the gay spirit of St. Valentine's day.

By MRS. ALEXANDER GEORGE AP Feature Service Writer

Express your Valentine sentiment with heart-shaped cookies. Serve them at your Valentine bridge. Or do them up in fluffy packages to send to your daughter away at school or the gentle little lady down the street.

One basic recipe will do for a whole batch, but you will need all the cutters you have. You might even make patterns of your own to add to the variety.

The cookies will be a lot better if you roll the dough thin and then chill it an hour or so—outdoors or in the refrigerator—before you start cutting. As fast as you cut out dough shapes transfer them to a greased baking sheet with a spatula. Be sure to watch the baking closely so that the edges of the cookies don't get too brown.

Put hearts of contrasting flavor and color on square cookies. Sprinkle granulated sugar, mixed with candied orange peel, over the tops of cookie dough. Vary the mixture with chopped nuts candied cherries and coconut. Here's a simple basic cookie recipe:

Valentine Cookie Recipe 2 1/2 cup butter 2 cups granulated sugar 2 eggs 1-3 cup cream 1 teaspoon vanilla 1-4 teaspoon salt 4 cups flour 3 teaspoons baking powder Cream butter and sugar until very soft. Add eggs, cream, vanilla and salt. Beat together for one minute. Add the rest of the ingredients. Chill. Roll out dough until it is very thin and cut out the cookies. Bake for about eight minutes on a greased baking sheet in a moderate oven.

FIRM WON'T COMPLY WITH LABOR RULING DALLAS, Feb. 4 (AP)—Emil Corenblieth, attorney, said today he would advise the national labor relations board in a few days that his client, Sheba Ann Frocks, Inc., cannot comply with the board's ruling. The board has ruled that the garment manufacturing concern must bargain collectively with the workers union.

Service at Coahoma Church of Christ Melvin J. Wise, minister of the local Church of Christ, will preach tonight at the Coahoma Church of Christ at 7:30 p. m. These services are conducted each Friday night, and a most cordial invitation is extended to all to attend.

PIONEER RANCHER TAKEN BY DEATH

WICHITA FALLS, Feb. 4 (AP)—A. A. Spring, 79, pioneer rancher of the Southwest and resident of Ryan, Okla., for more than 50 years, died in a Wichita Falls hospital Thursday night after a long illness. His wife died in the same hospital Dec. 14, 1937. Spring and his wife moved to Merkel, Texas, from Louisiana in 1882, and pioneered in West Texas in the ranching business. They moved to Ryan, Okla., before statehood and were identified with the cattle business there for more than half a century. The Springs celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary six years ago.

CHRONIC RUNAWAY IS PLEKED UP FOR THE FOURTH TIME

NEW YORK, Feb. 4 (AP)—Howard Frankel's fourth runaway in 18 days from his unwanted home in Brooklyn ended early today when a newspaper employe, on his way home from work, found him at the Manhattan end of the Brooklyn bridge. The 13-year-old youngster, who remains his father's boy in spite of a court order giving him to his mother, has disappeared so often that a special detective has been assigned to conduct all searches for him.

He did not return home from school yesterday and his description, now familiar to thousands in New York and in New Jersey towns across the Hudson, went out over police wires again. Desperate in his attempts to return to his father, Julius Frankel, in Linden, N. J., the boy has threatened to kill himself. He fled for the fourth time while his father and interested outsiders were seeking a way to modify the chancery court order which placed him in the sole custody of his mother, Mrs. Rose Frankel, two weeks ago.

NEGRO ELECTROCUTED TUCKER PRISON FARM, Ark. Feb. 4 (AP)—Duncan Pigue, 24-year-old negro, was electrocuted here shortly after dawn today for the Sept. 12, 1937, slaying of Lonoke City Marshal J. Robert Bennett. The negro denied his guilt to the last.

GOODWILL TRIPS TO ADVERTISE STOCK SHOW AT FT. WORTH

FORT WORTH, Feb. 4—The Roundup club here has announced a schedule of stops to be made in 24 West Texas towns Feb. 4 and 5 during the first of five goodwill trips to invite Texans to the Southwestern exposition and Fair March show, March 11 to 20. Lieut. Gov. Walter Woodall of Houston will be aboard the special train that pulls out of Fort Worth at 7:45 a. m. Feb. 5. An overnight stop will be made in Amarillo, arriving there at 7:45 p. m. in time for a banquet in which Kiwanis clubs from Texas Panhandle cities will join the two Amarillo clubs. The two Kiwanis clubs of Fort Worth will sponsor the trip. Woodall will be the speaker at an inter-club Kiwanis luncheon on the second day at Lubbock.

CHERRY PITS IRK U. S. BOISE CITY, Ida. (UP)—Because more than one cherry pit for every 20 ounces of cherries was found in a shipment of 100 cases here labeled "Fitted Sour Cherries," federal authorities attached the entire lot as misbranded in violation of the drug and food act.

CHANGING AS THE WORLD CHANGES

Told as a humorous story, but carrying a large grain of truth, was an illustration offered of a man doing something else if he could not find employment at his trade or profession.

There you are. When the business he had learned did not offer or provide employment, he took the next best thing and got along.

But new lines of employment are usually created when old ones diminish or cease, and the admonition to the shoemaker to stick to his last is out of date.

This is a changing world and some men must change with it or become charges on society.

Washington Daybook

This is the first of two articles in which Preston Grover, Washington columnist for The Herald, examines British labor legislation and policy with an eye on American labor problems.

WASHINGTON—When the president recommended at a press conference that it would be worthwhile for the nation to study the British labor act he emphasized that he was not sponsoring adoption of a similar system in the United States.

It is likely enough that neither labor nor employer, in their present state of mind, would sleep quietly at night with such legislation on the books.

Mass Picketing Banned. Again, the British act outlaws strikes intended to influence the government. Yet it will be recalled that in the United States it was a threat of a possible coal strike which prompted the first Guffey coal control act through congress two years ago.

However, that section of the measure apparently has proved too drastic even for the British, for in a summary of the act prepared by the U. S. labor department it is explained that "the very breadth of the limitations imposed by this section apparently explains the fact that this part of the act has almost never been invoked."

Some Possibilities. The British act further restricts use of union funds in support of political parties. Reduced contributions to the British labor party perhaps half.

The British act provides for publication of union funds, a provision which the president seemed to favor, and it is very possible too he wanted a special examination of the registration provision and the sections making unions responsible for illegal acts during labor disputes.

As the president may have intended to suggest, there are some "possibilities" in the British act—and some "impossibilities."

Sunday: The British treat labor as a social class.

Man About Manhattan

NEW YORK—The man who came out of Frisco hobo camps and used pugilism and the hard knocks of circus life as stepping stones to a successful literary career still possesses the mop of unruly hair that startles people whenever he strolls down a street bareheaded.

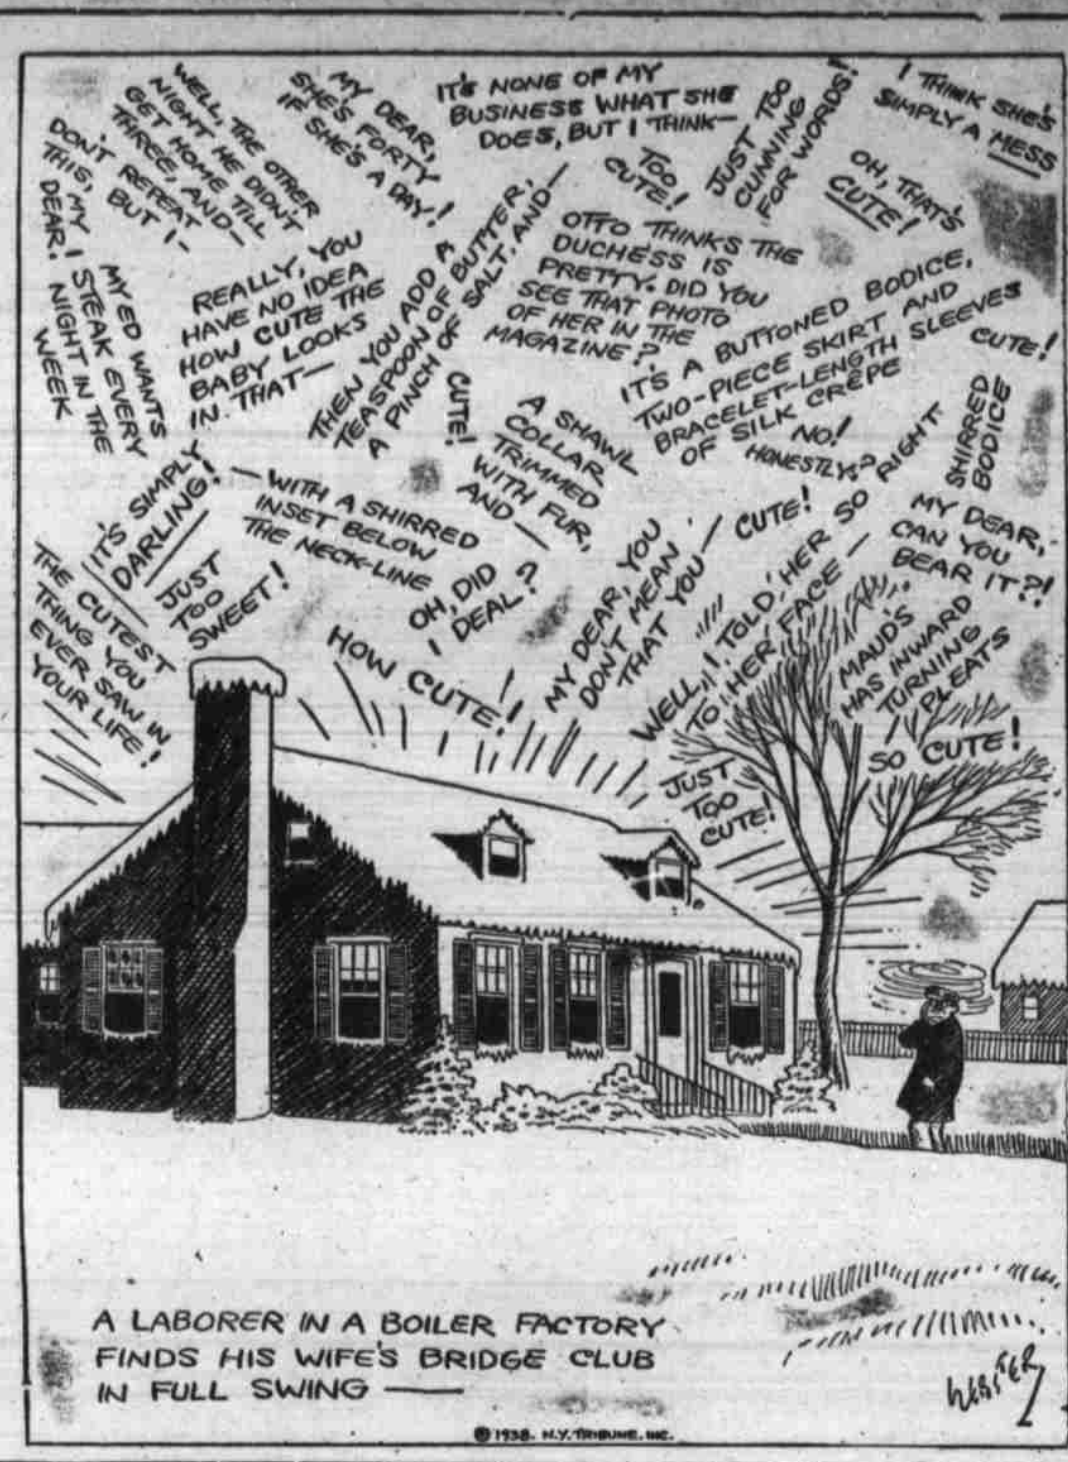

But it no longer flames like a bonfire a night during the dark of the moon. There is gray in the beard of Jim Tully's mane, and outwardly, at least, he is quieter and softer spoken than the Tully of old who once stood in a Paris street and entered into a highly entertaining if not very complimentary discussion of French book sellers whose displays did not contain his novels.

"The road, the jungle, the old days of the yeggs have largely disappeared," said Tully, adjusting himself comfortably in a low under-slung chair in his suite at the Algonquin.

"You know how the yeggs got their names, don't you? The coast road, the jungle camps, looked upon them in terror. They wanted to call them bad eggs. But they couldn't say eggs—they said yeggs. That is the origin of the term now so frequently misapplied to thugs by the newspapers."

"Yeggs never wrote letters. They never betrayed a trust. I've had them come to my home and sit at the old days or allude to them in any way. There was a time when an old companion of the road and the circus lots came by and I asked him plenty of questions about the various aspects of the jungle. But he was uncommittal, even to me, and

Finally I chided him with, 'You don't even know how far it is from Springfield to Columbus.'

"If you traveled at night, the way I do, you wouldn't know either," he sold me, and he was right. It was a hard school. With price on every man's head.

"What about other countries?" I asked this ponderous-shouldered Irishman. "What about foreign tramps?"

"Europe has no jungle, no real jungle," he replied. "All the bums and tramps of England were sent there. They ran away to sea. But in this big country it's different. I'm from Ohio, and my ship was a box car. Jack London was noted for his hobnobing, but he was on the road only a couple of months. He lived on the coast and he did his kicking around at sea."

Tully, who was a fighter and who has written one novel about the history of pugilism, but refused. His book on fighting was the only failure he has ever had. He thinks prize-fighters are taboo as material for a novel, "because wo-

MICKEY ROONEY

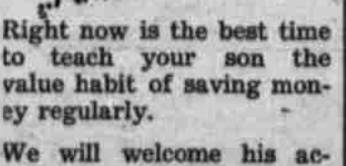

HOLLYWOOD—Today's pictorial drama is entitled "It's a Nice Lunch If You Can Eat It," or "The Conquest of Spaghetti in Three Easy Lessons."

Spaghetti plays an important role in the film ditty "Everybody Sing," but it also has its place as a social problem in everyday life. To aid others in future crises of the sort, our helpful candid cameraman visited the set to observe the spaghetti-conquering techniques of Judy Garland, Fanny Brice and others.

Miss Garland, it would appear, is about to smother a hot note with a semi-writhed forkful of the dripping Italian serpentine. Her innate caution is revealed by her worried watchfulness in piloting the cargo to its destination, and her method suggests that in golf she would at least keep her eye on the ball.

Miss Brice exemplifies the "hanging garden of Babylon" system, designed to let the slips fall where they may without danger to one's vest or apron.

The aim of every spaghetti-eater should be the practical nonchalance displayed by Mickey Rooney, who found his lunch on location for another picture. Mr. Rooney is so adept at lunching that he wastes not a glance on his tray but dispatches everything in easy walk time. But how Mr. Rooney, it must be observed, is not confronted with spaghetti.

EMPIRE FOR A LADY

Chapter 16 TENYALANG

"I admit that the tribes themselves cannot be organized or controlled," Christine continued. "But those few hundred riflemen are more than enough. All the rest of the tribes merely add weight and mass; they protect the snipers and serve as clean-up troops. Do you think 300 sharpshooters can't open Balingong to the tribes? I tell you they could take Sarembla!"

It was too complete a thing to believe, and too suddenly heard of. And yet there wasn't any reason why what she said could not be true. We already knew that Anthony Forrester had been poking around Sumantang for years, forever pestering Mantusen for permission to go up rivers, and then going in anyway, whether he got permission or not. Mantusen knew him well as a pest.

There was not a really basic flaw in her whole story; indeed, much that was circumstantial seemed to support it. Yet I still could not bring myself to put any importance in it. It was too elaborate, and, by her account, too thoroughly successful. I still was not ready to acknowledge what long, patient labor might be possible to a scholarly and visionary man concentrating on a single purpose.

I started some ill-natured objection. "But how—" Then suddenly I saw a thing that stopped me. It hit me between the eyes with the smacking shock of a spent bullet, so that what I was saying was knocked out of me in mid-word.

The Sacred Symbol. I was looking at her hands; she had beautiful hands, slender and sensitive, but browned by the sun, and very strong and capable. She had dropped the metallic handle that she had been playing with. It was dangling from her wrist by its string. And I saw now that the thing was a Dyak jimat, or charm token, cut out of thin gold in an intricate fret-work. It represented the formalized figure of a bird; and instantly I knew where I had last seen one exactly like it.

The gold hornbill cut-out was the same as the brass jimat which had hung from the rifle Mantusen had captured; so closely the same that one must surely have been traced from the other. "In heaven's name, what's that?" She slipped the thong off her wrist, and gave me the token to look at. "It's what I've been trying to tell you about. That is a Tenyalang. It represents the sacred symbol of the rifle societies. Every gun and so has every rifleman. The societies themselves are called Tenyalang; it's both a symbol and a name."

Curious how a little piece of cut metal could suddenly make the whole fantastic story seem real, simply because I had seen the thing before, exactly where it would be if her story was true. Mechanically, I handed back the gold jimat, trying to conceive what this might mean to James Clyde.

"I saw one of those things last night," I said after a while. "It was on the gun Mantusen took from the Dyaks." "You see? Doesn't that prove what I've been telling you?" "I saw it another place, too," I went on. "I saw it scratched in the bones of a freshly taken skull."

MR. AND MRS. A-H-H-H-H! THIS IS THE STUFF TO BRING YOU BACK TO LIFE! PUT THE WHOLE BACK IN IT! WOW! DON'T YOU THINK YOU'RE OVERDOING IT, JOE? YOU'RE NOT A KID ANY MORE. S'NSSENSE. (TIME: NEXT MORNING) OUCH! EASY! THAT'S WHERE IT HURTS. I DON'T HAVE TO BUY ANY MACHINES TO GET EXERCISE IN THIS HOUSE.

PA'S SON-IN-LAW YES, CEDRIC SAYS THAT AS SOON AS THE STOCK MARKET BOUGHT YIELD'S UP FOUR HUNDRED PER CENT PROFIT, HE WILL SELL IT AND BUY SOMETHING ELSE! YEAH! WELL—SPOSE TH' STOCK GOES DOWN INSTEAD OF UP? DON'T BE ASSURED, PA. CEDRIC SAYS THERE'S NOT THE SLIGHTEST POSSIBILITY OF THAT! NO! WELL—TH' S'AP DIDN'T LOOK ANY TOO HAPPY WHEN I SAW HIM READIN' THE TICKER A MINUTE AGO!

Disappointing CEDRIC—IS ANYTHING THE MATTER? ISN'T THE STOCK ACTING AS YOU EXPECTED? NOT AT ALL, MOYAW! I SURELY EXPECTED A RISE OF AT LEAST TEN POINTS, TODAY, AND— HEW! THE BALLY STUFF HAS CLOSED ONLY FOUR POINTS UP!

Safety First I GUESS I GOT RESULTS, TOO. I NOTICE TH' HELP-WANTED SECTION IS GONE OUTA TH' PAPER, TONIGHT. UH-HUH—THAT MUST HAVE BEEN THE PARTY I SAW HIM DUEANING IN THE BACK YARD.
