Amarillo psychiatric hospital raided by FBI

DALLAS (AP) - In 1991, the Texas attorney general's office launched a sweeping investigation into the operations of psychiatric hospitals across the state.

Two years later, supporters of that probe say the inquiry has finally come full circle.

On Thursday, FBI agents raided psychiatric hospitals in four Texas cities as part of a nationwide search of facilities owned by National Medical Enterprises Inc.

Agents executed search warrants at six locations in Dallas, Fort Worth, Amarillo, and Houston as part of an "ongoing investigation into possible criminal misconduct" on the part of the psychiatric hospital chain, said

Marjorie Poche, spokeswoman for the FBI's Dallas office.

Additional search warrants were executed at the company's headquarters in Santa Monica, Calif., and in Denver, Indianapolis, Los Angeles, Phoenix, St. Louis, San Diego, Atlanta, Milwaukee and Minneapolis, the FBI said.

Insurers are suing National Medical for allegedly overbilling them for hundreds of millions of dollars. The federal government has been investigating the matter for two years.

Texas officials say Thursday's raids bring to a head an ongoing effort to clean up the mental health care industry.

"It was an organized effort and one that was obviously well organized," said Sen. Mike Moncrief, D-Fort Worth. Moncrief headed a special legislative committee that conducted its own investigation into psychiatric care in Texas.

"(The raid) was designed to let the providers know we're not playing games here, not with peoples lives not with the quality of care," he said. "It was obvious that many people were being taken advantage of by a greedy system of health care, and this is what it took to correct it."

The Texas attorney general's office began its investigation in 1991 into for-profit psychiatric hospitals in Texas following reports of abuse at a facility owned by National Medical Enterprises.

The Colonial Hills Hospital in San Antonio came under fire after a man alleged he was apprehended by private security officers and held against his will at the facility.

Attorney General Dan Morales expanded the probe following reports of further abuse, including fraudulent billing of state and federal dollars.

The Texas Legislature followed by passing a reform package earlier this year that includes stricter statewide standards. Several hospitals were slated for closure under the bill.

One facility owned by National Medical Enterprises, the Psychiatric Institute of Fort Worth, was a target of the state investigation and was among the facilities searched Thursday.

"At this time we are cooperating with the Federal Bureau of Investigation fully," said Fran Sauvageau, a spokesman for the hospital said Thursday.

Other Texas hospitals searched were Cedar Creek Hospital in Amarillo and Baywood Hospital in Houston. FBI officials in Dallas would not say what facilities were searched in that city.

National Medical Enterprises said in a statement that the FBI requested records and documents at several locations. The company "has been fully cooperating" with the inquiry, the release said.

The company owns or operates about 130 acute-care, rehabilitation and psychiatric hospitals across the country.

Three Texas insurers have sued the company, and 13 other insurers have sued National Medical in federal court in Washington, D.C., accusing it of submitting more than $750 million in phony bills.

The lawsuits say the company billed the insurers for psychiatric procedures and services that were unnecessary or simply not performed.

In addition, more than 100 lawsuits allege that patients were abused and mistreated at company-owned facilities.

Workers' comp rates from state company drop

AUSTIN (AP) - State insurance officials say companies selling workers' compensation coverage should follow the lead of Texas' second-largest writer of the coverage.

On Thursday, the Texas Workers' Compensation Insurance Fund announced it will cut its rates between 11.5 percent and 17.5 percent.

"The costs to insurance companies are coming down," said Claire Koriath, chairwoman of the State Board of Insurance. "These companies need to act responsibly and follow the lead of the Fund by lowering their rates," she said.

She warned that the Insurance Board "stands ready to shine a spotlight on those who do not" reduce premiums.

The Texas Workers' Compensation Insurance Fund is a state created insurance company that was started with a $300 million state bond issue.

With nearly 14,000 policyholders paying premiums of $325 million per year, the Fund is the second largest workers' comp insurer in the state, and will probably be the top seller next year.

Jack Floyd, president and chief executive officer of the Fund, said the insurer was able to reduce rates because of decreasing losses that resulted from workers' comp reforms passed in 1991.

Earlier this month, an appellate court declared the law unconstitutional because it reduced the ability of an injured worker to settle disputes over benefits in court. The state has said it will appeal that decision to the Texas Supreme Court.

Floyd said he hoped the law would (See WORKERS COMP, Page 2)

High school phones are plugging along

A serious technical problem surfaced in the Hereford High School phone system on Thursday, requiring the assistance of Assistant Superintendent for Support Services Don Cumpston.

Nobody knew the reason why, but telephones at the high school were not ringing and lights were not flashing when calls came in, even though administrators, secretaries and teachers could call out.

As a result, many callers left messages with the Central Office secretary, who would relay them to the high school when someone called each hour.

Cumpston was notified of the situation late Thursday afternoon and went over to take a look.

An assessment of the situation revealed the problem -- and its solution. "Electricians were working in the boiler room and inadvertently unplugged the phones," Cumpston said Friday.

Once the main system was plugged back in, the phones began working perfectly.

"It took about three seconds to fix it," Cumpston said.

Breast cancer death rate dropping, statistics show

By DANIEL Q. HANEY

AP Science Writer
BOSTON (AP) - Federal statistics suggest that the death rate from breast cancer may be starting to fall for the first time since the 1930s, probably because mammograms are saving lives, a health expert said.

Doubt remains whether the apparent turnaround is real or only a statistical blip. But if it is a true change, it represents an encouraging contrast to the grim figures usually cited for this disease, the second leading cancer killer among women after lung cancer.

"We would expect to see a decrease in breast cancer mortality by the late 1990s," said Lawrence Garfinkel, a statistical consultant to the American Cancer Society. He spoke Thursday at a society-sponsored national conference on breast cancer.

The incidence of breast cancer has risen dramatically, especially during the 1980s. However, the death rate has remained virtually unchanged for 60 years.

Garfinkel cited statistics gathered by the National Center for Health Statistics that show a drop in breast cancer mortality in 1991 for white women between the ages of 45 and 74.

During the first six months of 1991, the death rate fell 3 percent from the previous year, and during the second six months it declined 5 percent.

"It may be a harbinger of things to come," Garfinkel said. "Maybe we are starting to see a drop in breast cancer mortality."

Clearly establishing a trend will require waiting for several years of data to accumulate. Figures can fluctuate up and down from year to year.

Garfinkel predicted that breast cancer mortality will decline 5 percent to 10 percent by the end of the decade. But he said this will depend on the success of public health campaigns in convincing women to get regular mammograms.

Garfinkel retired in 1990 as vice president for epidemiology at the cancer society. His successor, Dr. Clark Heath, was less certain the 1991 drop will continue.

Dr. I. Craig Henderson of the University of California, San Francisco, said the increasing numbers of older women are likely to make breast cancer an even more common cause of death.

"The most important risk factor for breast cancer is age," he said. "And if you have an aging population, as we do, you are going to have an increase in the risk of breast cancer."

Chamber board to meet with city to coordinate economic development

BY SPEEDY NIEMAN
Editor-Publisher

Directors of Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce discussed economic development, appointed nominating and budget committee members, and heard progress reports during a regular monthly meeting Thursday evening.

Lewis McDaniel, president, announced that the board will meet with Hereford City Commission Sept. 8 to discuss coordination of economic development activities.

Named to a nominating committee for new directors were McDaniel, Rosendo Gonzalez, Temple Abney, Don Graham and LuJean Henry. Members of the budget committee will be Bill Lyles, John Sherrod, Dennis Printz and McDaniel.

Mike Carr, executive vice president, announced that the next Chamber Fun Breakfast has been scheduled for Sept. 16. Co-sponsors of the event will be the United Way of Deaf Smith County and Southwestern Bell Telephone.

During the economic development discussion, Carr reported that Baylor University had completed a study on the utilization of crop residue, and that "the feasibility study looks very positive." Several meetings have been held here to discuss the possibility of making paper pulp from crop stubble. Consideration of the project is still being considered.

Carr also noted that there has been much activity on the local retail trade scene this year. He said 21 new businesses have opened this year; 6 have closed; 9 have expanded, and there are currently 4 new prospects looking at Hereford.

Plans are currently being made for constructing a 28-unit apartment complex near the Hereford Senior Citizen Center, Carr reported. More information is expected soon.

The chamber is studying a proposal from a Christmas lighting company on a pilot project to install new lighting in the community. The company would provide a pilot project to light up several businesses as an example of what could be accomplished.

Directors discussed the recent Town & Country Jubilee celebration and expressed appreciation to all those who helped make it such a success, said McDaniel. The Jubilee has tentatively been set for the second weekend in August next year.

Teens adjudicated for bringing guns into classrooms

Two youths accused of taking weapons onto school premises were given five-year deferred adjudication probation terms Thursday when they entered guilty pleas to the charges in 222nd District Court.

T.J. McGee, 18, allegedly took a gun into Hereford High School last January. He was charged with taking a weapon into a prohibited place.

Esteban Galindo, 18, was charged with taking a gun into a prohibited place in October 1992. He allegedly carried the weapon into HHS, also.

Charges were filed against another youth in connection with the October incident. That case is expected to be on the court docket in September.

In another case heard by Judge David Wesley Gulley this week, Darrell D. Short entered a plea of guilty Wednesday to indecency with a child. He was sentenced to seven years probation and fined $500.

Elections set in several districts proposing to send funds to state

AUSTIN (AP) - More Texans in property-rich school districts will vote Saturday on whether to approve a way of sharing some wealth and avoid the possibility of state-ordered property transfers or consolidation.

Elections are scheduled in 17 districts on sending a check to the state.

Voters in one district will decide whether to arrange to educate some students from another district. And in two districts, both options are on the ballot.

Those options are the most popular of five wealth-sharing alternatives that a new education funding law gives to Texas' 99 school districts that are richest in property.

One or both were chosen by 97 of the school boards and have won voter approval in 31 districts so far. Other elections are planned later, including the 20 on Saturday.

If the districts don't make a choice, the law requires the state education commissioner to either shift some of their commercial property to another district's tax rolls or force them to consolidate with another district.

Dan Casey of the Texas Association of School Boards said the options may be winning voter approval because they're viewed as preferable to state intervention.

"I don't sense they're passing because voters are ecstatic about the choices before them," Casey said. But school district officials are explaining the consequences to residents if they don't act.

"In most cases, what it amounts to is potentially a higher tax rate, coupled with less money for your school district," Casey said, citing a phase-in provision in the new law.

Under that provision, wealthy school districts initially get to keep more per-student wealth in order to maintain their 1992-93 revenue levels. But if the state education commissioner has to shift the wealth, that "hold-harmless" provision doesn't take effect, Casey said.

The two options also are the ones that could be most easily abandoned, which may be important to school officials who have seen several finance plans tossed out by state courts. The current plan is under court challenge.

Not all the options given to school districts in the new law require voter

All board members except Paul Abalos were present for the special meeting Thursday afternoon.

DSGH to buy EMS a building

Deaf Smith County Hospital District directors Thursday approved plans to purchase property which would house the Emergency Medical System.

The EMS will proceed with plans to purchase property owned by Southwestern Bell Telephone on Bradley Street. The property, with a price quoted at $35,000, includes a warehouse building, with approximately 8,500 square feet of floor space, and a parking area of about 29,000 square feet.

Ron Rives, CEO of Deaf Smith General Hospital, said the EMS had been looking for more than a year for a location for that would have garage space for vehicles and office and training room space.

He added that the warehouse building provides "plenty of space" for housing the EMS vehicles, as well as office and classroom facilities. Rives said the EMS director feels that the location also provides good access to nursing homes, residential areas and the hospital.

Racial equality improves in 30 years

Poll shows Americans think equal justice still difficult

NEW YORK (AP) - Six in 10 Americans believe the nation has made substantial progress toward the dream of racial equality the Rev. Martin Luther King Jr. invoked 30 years ago, according to an Associated Press poll.

But a majority also agrees with organizers of Saturday's 30th anniversary March on Washington that getting equal justice is still a major problem for minorities.

The march planned for Saturday by a broad coalition of civil rights activists is intended to push demands for "Jobs, Justice and Peace." It may also serve to refresh what the poll found to be hazy memories of one of the greatest moments of the civil rights movement.

Nine percent of Americans are not at all familiar and an additional 27 percent are not too familiar with the Aug. 28, 1963, civil rights gathering of more than 200,000 people.

Those who were young adults during the '60s are most likely to have clear memories of the march, the poll indicates. But older Americans are almost as likely to draw a blank as young adults, whose schooling generally includes black history.

The poll taken Friday through Tuesday by ICR Survey Research Group of Media, Pa., part of AUS Consultants, found:

- 59 percent say there's been "a great deal" or "quite a lot" of progress toward King's dream. The third who see little or no progress include 31 percent of whites and 47 percent of blacks in the poll.
- 54 percent say getting equal justice is still a major problem for minorities. Women are more likely to have this view, at 59 percent, than men, at 49 percent. Blacks, at 86 percent, are more likely to see injustice than whites, at 50 percent.

- Three in four blacks say the nation has done too little to help racial minorities, but only 39 percent of whites agree. Overall, 43 percent think the country has done too little, a view also held by majorities of those ages 18-34, Democrats, residents of the West and those with family incomes under $15,000.

Results based on the whole sample of 1,003 adults have a margin of error of plus or minus 3 percentage points. The margin is up to several points higher for subgroups, but the 111 blacks in the poll clearly had different views from the whites.

Whites see equal justice as a problem by a 4-3 margin, but among blacks the ratio is 12-1. Forty-seven percent of blacks think there has not been much progress toward King's dream, compared with 30 percent of whites.

The negative feelings seem linked to economics.

In the two years after the 1963 march, federal legislation removed many barriers to black political participation. But blacks still lag far behind whites in numerous economic measures such as income, net worth and home ownership and they are more likely to be trapped by poverty and unemployment.

In the poll, more Americans think the economic situation of minorities is getting better (33 percent) than getting worse (23 percent). But those who say there has not been much progress over the years also think by a 3-2 margin that the economic situation of minorities is getting worse today.

While 73 percent of whites think minorities are doing better or staying the same financially, only 54 percent of blacks say that.

World issues get attention in program

Conflicts in Eastern Europe. President Clinton's budget plan. The environment. Peace in the Middle East. These are just a few of the important issues The Hereford Brand helps Hereford area students explore and understand through its NewsCurrents Newspaper In Education program.

Through this program, the Brand brings today's headlines into the classroom.

The Brand is one of hundreds of newspapers across the country that offers a Newspapers In Education program designed to give students the skills and knowledge needed to read the newspaper intelligently.

Numerous studies have shown that students who study newspapers in school become better readers and are more informed about current issues in the news.

Currently, the Brand provides the NewsCurrents Newspaper In Education Program to three schools in Hereford.

Each week, participating schools receive a news filmstrip containing news photographs, maps, graphs and editorial cartoons that highlight the week's most important and educational news stories.

An accompanying teacher's guide is used to promote interactive discussions and give additional ideas for using newspapers in the classroom. The teacher's guide is written on three different levels of difficulty, enabling students in grades three through 12 to participate in informed discussions about the news.

NewsCurrents is a publication of Knowledge Unlimited, Madison, Wis. For more information about our Newspaper In Education Program, contact Managing Editor Garry Wesner or Advertising Director Mauri Montgomery at the Brand, 364-2030.

Exporting to be topic of seminar

AUSTIN - Companies interested in getting involved in exporting will have the opportunity to get information on the subject next month in Lubbock.

The State Comptroller's Office, in conjunction with Southwestern Public Service Co., the Northwest Texas Small Business Development Center, the Panhandle Regional Planning Commission and the South Plains Association of Governments will host an export seminar from 9:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. Sept. 14.

The session will be held in the Lubbock Plaza Hotel, 3201 S. Loop 289.

It will include information on export opportunities, international banking, freight forwarding and costs of exporting, as well as discussions of all potential foreign markets, with emphasis on opportunities for Mexico.

"Exporting plays a major role in promoting economic growth in our state," said State Comptroller John Sharp, who will be in Lubbock for the seminar.

In addition to Sharp, scheduled speakers include Delbert Henry of the ICE Company Inc.; Terry Meyrat, director of the World Trade Center; Ed Sosa, export finance coordinator of the Texas Department of Finance; and Pat Helton of Omni Export Management Group Inc.

Due to limited seating, registration is required.

There is a fee of $15 to cover costs for lunch and seminar materials.

Youths join in Washington tour

REBECCA RUSHING AND DON METCALF ... During visit to Washington D.C.

Don Metcalf, son of Stan and Jan Metcalf of Hereford, recently represented Deaf Smith Electric Cooperative during the 1993 Government-in-Action Youth Tour to Washington D.C.

The tour, which is sponsored by electric cooperatives of Texas and is coordinated by Texas Electric Cooperatives Inc., was held June 10-22.

Joining Metcalf as a representative of the coop was Rebecca Rushing, daughter of Eric and Linda Rushing of Friona.

While in Washington, the Texas teens visited with their congressmen and observed the legislative process in action.

Other highlights included visits to monuments, memorials and other attractions of the nation's capitol, including the White House, Arlington National Cemetery, the Smithsonian Institution, the National Archives, Ford's Theater, Mount Vernon, the Supreme Court and the Vietnam Veterans Memorial.

Special activities included Rural Youth Day, participating in the wreath-laying ceremony at the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier in Arlington National Cemetery, viewing the sunset parade at the Iwo Jima Memorial and attending the U.S. Army's production of "The Spirit of America."

The youth tour was conceived of and promoted by Lyndon Johnson during the 1950s, when, as a senator, he selected outstanding young people and offered them the opportunity to observe their national government at work.

Wind-driven turbines could be energy source in years to come

By MIKE FFINSILBER Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) - Wind power has been turning windmills for 1,300 years, but some people say it is just getting its second wind.

The visionaries of the American Wind Energy Association say the wind could provide enough power by the end of this decade to supply the households of more than five million people. That's eight times today's levels.

In 20 to 30 years, they claim, wind-driven turbines - today's equivalent of the windmills - could provide 10 percent of the nation's power.

The Edison Electric Institute, which represents the traditional generators of power, takes a more skeptical view of wind's prospects.

Still, Chuck Linderman, director of fossil fuels and renewable programs at the institute, says it is not unreasonable to look to the wind to provide half that amount.

"Last month saw a slew of wind power project announcements," says Energy Daily, a trade newsletter, "and wind's low costs - though still not as low as fossil fuels in most cases - have many utilities taking a second look."

Wind turbines are cheaper to build than traditional power plants. The electric industry would welcome a supplemental source of power. No one suggests wind is likely to be more than that.

In the early 1980s, shovied by two environmentally minded politicians, President Jimmy Carter and Gov. Jerry Brown of California, wind power appeared on the verge of taking off, at least in California.

Spurred by soaring energy costs, Carter pushed through research money and tax credits. Brown pushed California utilities to buy power generated from wind turbines. The wind now provides 1.5 percent of California's power.

The wind boom fizzled in the Reagan years. After a tax credit expired in 1985, most turbine makers went out of business. A new 10-year, 1.5-cent per kilowatt hour production tax credit takes effect next year.

Wind, says Randall Swisher, executive director of the Wind Power Association, is on the verge of going bigtime, and not only in California.

"The technical problems that were typical in the early '80s have disappeared," Swisher said. "Turbines were broken more than they were functioning in 1981 when the first wind farm went into operation."

"It is very challenging to harness the power of the wind. You are talking about putting up machinery that is commonly buffeted by 40 to 50 mile per hour winds. The first time they put these turbines up, they clearly needed to know more about the kind of stress these machines were subjected to."

In the lean years, Swisher said, the turbines were made larger and far more efficient. Costs were driven down. The first plants produced power at a cost of 25 to 50 cents a kilowatt hour - far above the 7 or 8 cents a typical householder may now pay for electricity.

Now power can be produced at 6 to 9 cents a kilowatt hour and, Swisher said, projects on the drawing boards are contracting to sell power to utilities at 4 to 7 cents a kilowatt hour.

Northern States Power Co. in Minnesota is planning to erect 300 to 400 wind turbines, with the first 25 scheduled to come into production next year.

The biggest worry about the wind, said Linderman of the Electric Institute, is that it may be available mostly in the spring and fall, when demand for power is at its lowest points.

Obituaries

WILLIAM P. McMINN
 Aug. 26, 1993

William Perry McMinn, 85, of Summerfield, died early Thursday in Friona.

Services will be held at 10 a.m. Saturday in Summerfield Baptist Church with the Rev. Ellis Parson, pastor, officiating. Burial will be in West Park Cemetery in Hereford, by Gilliland-Watson Funeral Home.

Mr. McMinn was a native of Summerfield and spent his entire life in the community. He was a retired farmer. He belonged to First United Methodist Church and was a veteran of World War II, serving in the U.S. Navy. He married Laverne Posey Longbottom on April 17, 1949, in Clovis, N.M.

Survivors are his wife; five daughters, Cynthia Streun, Marian Goodin and Abbie Frazier, all of Hereford, Nan Walker of Houston and Pat Barrett of Amarillo; a son, Bill McMinn of Arlington; a sister, Thelma McMinn of Hereford, 12 grandchildren and 14 great-grandchildren.

ONNIE MAE BRADY
 Aug. 25, 1993

Onnie Mae Brady, 63, of Friona died Wednesday in Friona. She was the mother of Anthony Ray Brady of Hereford.

Services will be held at 11 a.m. Saturday in Mount Sinai Baptist Church in Hereford with the Rev. William Johnson, pastor, officiating. Burial will be in Friona Cemetery, under direction of Ellis-Blackwell Funeral Home.

A native of Falls County, Mrs. Brady moved to Friona in 1966 from Petersburg. She worked as a nurse aide in Prairie Acres Nursing Home in Friona and belonged to Mount Sinai Baptist Church and Order of the Eastern Star. She married Charlie Brady in 1949.

Survivors are her husband, another son, Curtis Brady with the U.S. Marine Corps in Tokyo; two brothers, two sisters and three grandchildren.

Of the 300 to 400 wind turbines scheduled to be built in Minnesota, about 25 are expected to be in production next year.

The biggest worry about the wind, said Linderman of the Electric Institute, is that it may be available mostly in the spring and fall, when demand for power is at its lowest points.

Sunday school and Bible study begin at 9:45 a.m. with the morning worship service starting at 11. Following the morning service, the Fifth Sunday Dinner will be held at noon. If you are attending, please bring enough food for your family and guests. The church will furnish bread, tea and coffee.

Pastor Bartlett will preach at the morning and 7 p.m. Sunday services and John Curtis will lead the music.

The W.M.U. is sponsoring a Texas country supper of red beans and cornbread at 6:30 p.m. Wednesday. If you plan to attend, please contact the church office by noon Tuesday. A prayer meeting will follow at 7 p.m. and the choir will meet at 7:45 p.m.

ST. ANTHONY'S CATHOLIC CHURCH

All clowns commissioned for ministry and anyone now interested are asked to meet at 7 p.m. Thursday, Sept. 2, in the Antonian Room.

A special event for parishioners, ages 50 and over, will be held Saturday in the cafeteria. For additional information, call 364-8604 or 364-2800.

Flowers donated for the altar this weekend are in memory of Walt Warren by Velma Warren and family. The greeters schedule for September through November is available at the back of the church.

The JOY and CYO will receive their 1993-94 service commitment sheet in the mail. Parents and members are asked to fill them out and return them to the rectory as soon as possible. Sept. 1 is the deadline. Attention CYO members: Kim need to know which football game you prefer to attend as a group. Call her before Sept. 1 at 364-1070 or 364-8760.

Christian Formation Classes will be held for 7-12th grade students at 7 p.m. each Wednesday. For younger youth, the classes will be held each Saturday from 1-4 p.m. Registration for Saturday classes will be taken following liturgies next weekend. Wednesday night CFC registrations will be done Sept. 15 at 7 p.m. for all junior and senior high students.

Catechists: You are invited to attend a social after registration.

A medical fund has been established for Raymond Flores at Hereford Texas Federal Credit Union.

Congratulations to parishioners Ann Lueb and Sara Gallagher. They graduated this week with master degrees in education from West Texas A&M University. Sister Cris Vela earned a bachelors degree in general studies.

ST. THOMAS EPISCOPAL CHURCH

"Therefore..." is the title of the sermon by the Rev. Charles A. Wilson on the Thirteenth Sunday after Pentecost and is based on the reading from Romans 12. The Holy Eucharist is celebrated at 11 a.m. and there is a coffee hour in the parish hall following the service.

The regular Wednesday Public Service of Healing is at 7 p.m. with the Litany of Healing, the Laying-on-of-Hands with Holy Union and Holy Communion. The Lesser Feast of David Pendleton Oakerhater, Cheyenne Episcopal Deacon, will be observed.

On Sunday, Sept. 12, St. Thomas will begin an Inquirers' Class during the Adult Christian Education hour at 9:30 a.m. This class is intended for all who wish to now more about the Episcopal Church and the Anglican Communion; for those who are preparing for the sacrament of confirmation; and for those who want to have a refresher course on the faith and practice of the Episcopal Church. All interested persons are invited to attend.

On Sunday, Sept. 19, the Rt. Rev. Sam B. Hulsey, Bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of Northwest Texas, will make his annual visitation to St. Thomas. For this Sunday only, the principal service will be at 4 p.m. with Bishop Hulsey as the presiding celebrant at the Holy Eucharist, at which time he will administer the Sacrament of Confirmation. A reception in the parish hall will follow the service.

THE TOM ESTES FAMILY

FRIO BAPTIST CHURCH

The people of Frio Baptist Church wishes to invite everyone to a week of revival beginning Sunday and concluding Thursday. Services will begin at 11 a.m. Sunday and at 7 p.m. each day. We will also have a noon meal and services Monday through Thursday.

Dr. Darold Baldwin, director of missions for the Sweetwater, Mitchell-Scurry Baptist area, will be preaching. He pastored for 14 years and served as associate pastor approximately the same length of time. During his ministry, he served churches in Oklahoma, Colorado and Texas. He currently resides in Snyder.

Tom, Patty and Justin Estes of Bishop will be leading the music and performing special selections. Tom and Patty both have received degrees in music education from Texas A&I University. Patty taught public school for five years and Tom has experience as a police officer, insurance agent and 18-wheel driver. Justin, 13, has been singing publicly in churches since he was four. He is home-schooled and is in the seventh grade. The couple has been in music evangelism since 1979.

A nursery will be provided during all services.

Frio Baptist Church is located seven miles south of Hereford on FM 1055.

DR. DAROLD BALDWIN

President Grover Cleveland was best known by his middle name; his first name was actually Stephen. Likewise President Woodrow Wilson, whose first name was Thomas.

FIRST UNITED METHODIST CHURCH

Sunday's activities will begin with the youth breakfast at 8:45 a.m. at Troy's Sweet Shop followed by Sunday school at 9:30 a.m. and the morning worship service at 10:45. The anthem will be "God, Whose Giving Knows No Ending." The sanctuary choir will sing and Jan Wilkes will play the oboe.

The Youth Council elections will be held at 6 p.m. Sunday in Ward Parlor followed by UMYF in the fellowship hall.

Members of the Stewardship Committee, along with other committee members, will travel to St. Paul UMC, Amarillo, for a one-day stewardship workshop conducted by Herb Miller from 2-8 p.m.

On Saturday, San Pablo United Methodist Church will host a Christian concert from 7-10 p.m. in the church sanctuary. A variety of gospel, traditional and Christian rock music will be performed. Groups from Waco and Plainview, as well as Hereford, will take part in the concert.

Registration for the children's choirs will take place at 4 p.m. Monday in the children's choir room. There is a choir for all children, five years of age through the sixth grade, as well as a bell choir for children in the fourth through sixth grades.

Help is being asked to aid families who live south of town and are the flood victims of the recent rains. Donations of household furnishings and goods are needed. Contact Ruby Stevenson at 364-3910 if you can help.

The Boy Scout and Girl Scout programming at FUMC is starting up Aug. 30 for the fall. To find a place for your child in a den or troop, contact Mrs. Kenny (Melinda) Henson or Jeff Milam.

CHURCH

San Jose Catholic Church
San Jose Pre-School is held Monday to Friday with a 3-year-old session from 8:30-11:30 a.m. and a 4-year-old session from 1:30-4:30 p.m. each day of the week. There are still some openings in both sessions for additional children. Interested parents may contact Maria Garcia at the parish office (364-5053) for information and registration.

Adult Formation Sessions had a great beginning last year. Over 100 parents and adults came one Tuesday evening each month to receive excellent formation on the seven sacraments. This enabled parents to truly be the primary teachers of their children's faith. When we are well formed as adult Catholics, we can pass on the faith to our families. This year, our parish adult education is focus on a different topic that last year. After learning about the sacraments, now it is time to go deeper. This year's topic will be: the Spiritual Life: Our Journey with God. All sessions will begin at 7:30 p.m. on one Tuesday evening each month. For a schedule of topics, call the parish office.

Next weekend, Sept. 4th & 5th a Maryknoll missionary, father Rafael Davila, will be here at San Jose Church to preside at the Sunday liturgies and to preach about the evangelization and missionary efforts carried on all over the world by Maryknoll. The following weekend, Sept. 11th & 12th, there will be a second collection taken up for the support of the Maryknoll Society. Please extend a warm welcome to our missionary brother.

The T.Y.M. will be celebrating mass with the youth from St. Anthony's at St. Anthony's Church Sat. Sept. 4th, at 6 p.m. All youth who participated in Denver at W.Y.D. are encouraged to come & bring a friend. All T.Y.M. is invited. There will be pizza for everybody and time to share the W.Y.D. experience. A table will be set up with paraphernalia from the trip.

The T.Y.M. (music ministry) will also participate in the San Pablo U.M.C. concert which will be held this Saturday August 28th, at 7 p.m. 220 Kibbe St. All T.Y.M. is invited.

The Guadalupe C.Y.O. from Amarillo will be here Sunday, Sept. 29th to challenge our T.Y.M. on some volleyball games at Dameron Park at 4 p.m. have your teams ready T.Y.M. We want the rest of you to come and share in the fun & support for all teams.

T.Y.M. mini-courses registration and fun night will be held Wed. Sept. 15th, at 7 p.m. in hall, we will have our kickoff mini-courses with a youth worship on Sept. 22nd at the Church from 7-9 p.m.

CHRIST'S CHURCH FELLOWSHIP

Dr. Alton Tomlin and the congregation welcome you to all CCF services and activities.

Sunday school begins at 9:30 a.m. followed by the worship service at 10:45 a.m.

The youth meet at 6 p.m. each Sunday and a men's Bible study is held at 7:30 p.m. The women's Bible studies are conducted at 7 p.m. each Monday and 9:30 a.m. each Wednesday.

The new adult Sunday school classes this fall are "More communication Keys For Your Marriage" taught by Raul Valdez, and "Finding A Church You Can Call Home" led by Oscar Williams.

This Sunday, prospective pastor, Doug Frank, will be ministering during the morning service. There will be a hamburger cookout following the service. Each family is asked to bring two of the following: relish, beans, potato salad, chips and dip, or dessert.

CCF is a new fellowship of churches established in 1989 to reach out to hurting pastors and churches. It has grown worldwide and includes fast-growing churches in Russia and Africa, as well as other nations. CCF believes in teaching the wholeness of the Bible, and that all of the gifts available to the first century church are still available today. CCF holds fast to the belief that we must reach out and welcome all people just as Christ has welcomed us.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

The Rev. Beverly Cook, pastor of the First Presbyterian and the Faith Lutheran Churches at Spearman, will be the guest speaker in the annual pulpit exchange sponsored by the Panhandle Presbyterian Community. Her sermon during the 10:30 a.m. Sunday service is titled "Known in the Breaking", based on Exodus 12:1-14, Romans 8:31-39 and Matthew 14:13-21.

Youth sponsors and all junior and senior high parents are asked to meet at 4:30 p.m. Sunday at the church to discuss this year's youth activities.

The annual Deacons' Cookout will be held at 6:30 p.m. Sunday. Those whose names begin from A-L are requested to bring salads or vegetables and those from M-Z are asked to bring desserts.

The adult choir will begin practice at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday.

A junior high dance will be held from 10 p.m. until midnight Friday, Sept. 3.

SAN PABLO UNITED METHODIST CHURCH

The church will host a Christian concert, with representatives from Hereford and others churches outside of the community, from 7-10 p.m. Saturday in the church sanctuary. A variety of gospel, traditional and rock Christian music will be performed.

The public is invited to attend the concert at the church located at 220 Kibbe. Church members performing include Rick Sanchez, children's ministries and concert director, Mona Romero, and the San Pablo U.M.C. band. Churches and cities represented at the concert will be Templo Calvario, Mision Bautista, San Jose Catholic Church, Nueva Esperanza Iglesia del Nazareno, all of Hereford, and San Juan U.M.C. in Plainview and the Catholic church in Waco.

FELLOWSHIP OF BELIEVERS

Hints from Heloise

Dear Heloise: I recently bought a cake mix. As I was preparing it, I beat the mix longer than the package recommended.

My friend said I should follow the directions exactly. Is this true? If so, why? — Gloria Smith, San Antonio, Texas

Yes, it's true that you shouldn't overbeat a cake mix. It could cause the cake to not rise or even fall, according to a major cake-mix manufacturer.

They also told us that underbeating the ingredients can result in the ingredients not being well mixed and the cake may cook unevenly.

So, you should always follow the beating instructions of a mix or recipe closely. — Heloise

FREEZING SAUCE

Dear Heloise: Conserve the use of 8-ounce containers of tomato sauce by pouring it ice-cube trays and freezing. Store in freezer container and use as needed.

I divide 16-ounce cans of whole tomatoes into freezer containers and freeze the leftovers for future use. This eliminates wastefulness. — J. R. Vasquez, San Antonio, Texas

One play could run you clear of home buying interference.

Financing, Down Payments, Price negotiations, Inspections. All obstacles that could block you from buying a home.

But one move could get you right through that red tape. A call to an experienced real estate agent.

An expert agent can coach you smoothly through the entire home buying process. From using the sophisticated multiple listing service to find the home that fits your needs and your budget. To tackling financing options. Setting up and monitoring inspections. Negotiating price. And even maneuvering you through closing. So when you need a skilled teammate, get someone who really knows the housing field—a real estate agent.

Read The Hereford Brand for more information about qualified agents. Every day, the real estate classifieds list many properties and agents. And on Sundays the housing section examines the latest market trends and home buying opportunities.

Getting the right coaching now could mean the difference between confusion and closing.

Ann Landers

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I don't believe in trying to control adolescents because of the following:

Adolescents are going to do whatever they want to do. If they want to have sex, take drugs, drink, fail in school, get fat, get married, you-name-it, they will do it. They may try to hide it from you, or they may throw it in your face, but if they are hell-bent on doing something, they will do it.

There is something about being told you can't do something that makes it very appealing. It's the old forbidden fruit syndrome. Your daughter may be intrigued with "Butch", but if you openly disapprove of him, she will continue to see him just to show you. If you say she CAN'T see him anymore, she may marry him.

Your only hope is to turn over the responsibility of their lives to THEM. If teen-agers know they are responsible for their decisions—that they will reap the benefits of the ones that are good and suffer the consequences of the ones that are bad—they will have the best incentive to do what is right. Sign me—A Parent Who Knows (Charlotte, N.C.)

DEAR CHARLOTTE: Well said. Children often rebel and behave in a self-destructive manner just to demonstrate their independence, but they DO need guidance. Parents who fail to provide it are abdicating their responsibilities.

Failing to set guidelines can be disastrous. Children who are permitted to do as they please get the impression that their parents don't care about them. This is at the root of much teenage rebellion and anti-social behavior.

DEAR READERS: As you already know, "No Bull" gave me a bum steer. Remember the letter from "an authority raised on a farm," who said cows do not lie down? Well, since I am not an authority on livestock and was raised in the city, I took her word for it. That was a big mistake.

I am still being inundated with letters from all over the United States and Canada telling me how stupid I am. Here's one of the more polite letters I've received:

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Your so-called authority on cows needs to get out in some pasture and look around. She will see cows lying down all over the place. That is how we in Illinois predict the possibility of rain. For instance, take a 30-cow herd. If 10 cows are lying down, that means a 33 1/3 percent chance of rain.

I believe horses do not lie down unless they are sick or dying—Bradley, Ill.

DEAR BRADLEY: I've already shown my ignorance about cows and do not intend to risk additional humiliation by making statements about horses.

Thanks to all who wrote and sent photos. From now on, I clear all animal letters with a vet.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: When you printed the suggestions for getting rid of warts, it wasn't clear which side of the banana skin to use. Is it the inside of the skin you rub directly on the warts or the outside?

After I read your column, I did it three times a day (I used the inside), and my warts are slowly disappearing. I can't tell you how delighted I am. Thanks a million.—Happy in El Paso

DEAR EL PASO: You would not believe the number of people who wrote to ask this same question. It never occurred to me that there could be any confusion. OF COURSE, it is the inside of the skin you rub on the warts. Hundreds of readers have already written to tell me it worked for them and they are thrilled.

Ann Landers' latest booklet, "Nuggets and Doozies," has everything from the outrageously funny to the poignantly insightful. Send a self-addressed, long, business-size envelope and a check or money order for $5 (this includes postage and handling) to: Nuggets, c/o Ann Landers, P.O. Box 11562, Chicago, Ill. 50611-0562.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: A friend sent this to me in the mail. She wrote it because she had made mistakes with her own children and recognized it too late. Will you run it in your column at her request? She asked that I send it anonymously. Thanks, Ann.—Also

Anonymous (I've made mistakes with mine, too.)

DEAR ALSO: Who hasn't? Here's the piece. It's excellent.

How To Be A Stupid Parent
1. Discipline your children only when you lose your temper. Let them get away with anything until you get fed up. Then, let 'em have it! Blow your top! Holler! Get wild! Clobber them!

2. Don't give your kids the impression that you are approachable. Remain aloof. If you get too chummy, they'll want to talk things over and waste your time. You have more important things to do.

3. If your children do something wrong, never let them forget it. Keep rubbing it in. They'll loathe you for it. (A father was telling me in front of his son about the trouble the boy had gotten into five years before, when he was 13. When the father went to answer the phone, his son muttered, "He makes me sick." I felt like saying, "Me, too.")

4. Give your child all the spending money he wants. Don't make him earn it. After a while, he'll want only your money and couldn't care less about you.

5. Compare your child with someone else to make him smarten up. Use that beautiful expression, "Why can't you be like your brother Johnny?" Before long he'll despise both you AND Johnny.

6. Parents should always argue in front of their kids as to what they should and shouldn't be allowed to do. This will encourage the kids to play one parent against the other. Before long, your marriage will be in trouble, and so will the kids.

7. Never assume that children can think for themselves. Make all decisions for them. When they are adults, they will be incapable of handling their lives.

8. Treat your children with suspicion. Never trust the little sneaks. If they turn out well, it won't be your fault. It will be a miracle.

Residents' granddaughter wins title

Crisanna Sheree Snow of Borger, 9, granddaughter of Jelly and Rosalee McGowen of Hereford, was recently named First Princess during the Sixth Annual Texas' Favorite Pageants in Austin.

The youth, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard R. Snow of Borger and is a fourth grader at Gateway Elementary School, was also awarded the scholastic achievement award for the highest grade point average of the contestants.

Other awards Crisanna received at the state pageant were the official princess trophy, an especially designed tiara, flowers, $400 scholarship for John Robert Powers Modeling School, a specially designed America's Favorite watch with logo, state finalist trophy and a trophy for her participation in the program book. She also has won acceptance into America's Favorite Princess Pageant National Competition to be held in December in Orlando, Fla.

Crisanna entered the talent competition by playing "I Have the Joy Down In My Heart" arranged by Robert D. Vandall. She takes piano from Billie Forney of Borger. The youth is also an active member of the University Heights Christian Church and Girl Scouts.

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. (AP) - Kathleen Turner built a career playing throaty, sultry vixens, but she's still a Girl Scout at heart.

And she did her duty by arranging the world premiere of her latest movie, "Undercover Blues," in her hometown to benefit a Girl Scout summer camp.

Tickets for the screening on Sept. 2 cost $10. Proceeds will go to rebuild the lodge and dining hall at Camp Finbrooke, which were destroyed by fire in March.

Turner's mother, Pat Turner, is on the board of the Dogwood Trails Girl Scout Council.

"Undercover Blues," a romantic comedy co-starring Dennis Quaid, opens nationally Sept. 10.

NEW YORK (AP) - Woody Allen says he kept his sanity during his custody battle with Mia Farrow by throwing himself into his latest film, "Manhattan Murder Mystery."

"I was determined not to let all that nonsense become the focus of my entire life," he told Rolling Stone magazine in the issue that hits newsstands next week.

"To suddenly find myself not working and obsessing over... a court date or something would seem to me the height of self-destructiveness. So I worked. I increased my physical exercise."

On another topic, Allen said contemporary culture passed him by when it comes to rock 'n' roll and drugs.

"After like 1950, somehow I tuned out," he said. "I have no appreciation whatsoever, zero, for stuff that came after that. ... I mean, the thing of Elvis escapes me 100 percent. ... The whole drug thing completely eluded me; I've never taken a puff of marijuana in my life. I have no idea what it's like and not the slightest curiosity."

One third of burglaries take place by gaining entrance through open or unlocked doors or windows. Install good quality locks on all entry doors and windows--and use them.

Herd to host AHS tonight

The Hereford High school varsity football team will host Amarillo High for a scrimmage at 7 p.m. Friday in Whiteface Stadium.

Each team will get three sets of 24 plays on offense and on defense, starting from the 30-yard line, to start the scrimmage. After that, they'll move on to a two-minute offense drill (six plays for each offense) and a goal line drill (10 plays for each offense).

The scrimmage will finish with the teams playing one regulation quarter of football, with everything except kickoffs.

Mets don't want Coleman back

NEW YORK (AP) - The New York Mets wanted fast motion. Instead, all they ever got from Vince Coleman was commotion.

He verbally attacked coach Mike Cubbage on the field in 1991. He shoved manager Jeff Torborg and was suspended last year. He inadvertently hit Dwight Gooden with a golf club this year.

But when Coleman threw a powerful firecracker at fans last month and was charged with a felony, the Mets had seen enough. On Thursday, they said Coleman will not return to the troubled team this season, and co-owner Fred Wilpon vowed the 31-year-old outfielder would never play for them again.

"We have been plagued by embarrassing problems," Wilpon said. "It is ownership's resolve to bring an end to any further nonsense on and off the field."

Arrowhead II defeated Players Club 15-6, 1-14, 8-6 for the championship of the Hereford YMCA's summer co-ed volleyball league. Playing for Arrowhead II were (front row to right) Kathy Hernandez, Nancy Gonzales, Raquel Martinez, Rachel Walser, (back row) Manuel Longoria, James Hernandez, Edward Martinez and Henry Ruiz.

Kansas goes for upset of Florida St.

By The Associated Press

For months, college football fans have been reading that Florida State is the best team in the country. On Saturday, the Seminoles get their first chance to prove it.

Top-ranked Florida State will try to back up its preseason billing when it plays Kansas in the Kickoff Classic at East Rutherford, N.J.

"We are taking Kansas seriously," linebacker Derrick Brooks said. "We need to show that we deserve the No. 1 spot."

The Seminoles are 26-point favorites over Kansas, which went to a bowl last season for the first time since 1981.

Cowboys to face Bears in final preseason game

By JOE MOOSHIL

AP Sports Writer CHICAGO (AP) - With virtually no time to prepare, the Chicago Bears will go up against the Super Bowl champion Dallas Cowboys tonight in the final preseason game.

The Bears are looking for their first victory.

"It is and it isn't," said coach Dave Wannstedt about the importance of not going winless in the preseason. The Bears are 0-3, having lost at New Orleans Monday night. Dallas is 1-2-1.

"My total focus is getting our team better," he said. "We've only had two days to prepare. It would be nice to win, but the important thing is that we play well."

Both teams will emphasize the first half, going with their starting quarterbacks for the first two quarters, and neither team will have its No. 1 tailback for the game.

Emmitt Smith, who led the NFL in rushing last season, has been in a contract dispute with the Cowboys. Neal Anderson has not played a down for the Bears because of a hamstring injury. It is doubtful he will be ready for the Sept. 5 season opener against the New York Giants, although Wannstedt expressed some hope about that.

"I talked to Neal and he's doing everything possible to get himself ready," Wannstedt said. "Other than that, there's nothing I can do about it."

Wannstedt said the Dallas game is the final exam for his team.

"There are certain groups we are expecting to make improvements and others will be evaluated on whether they make the team."

The final cuts will be made Monday to get the roster to 47 players.

Wannstedt is looking for improvement in the passing game, especially from quarterback Jim Harbaugh, who has completed 23 of 44 passes for 227 yards and one touchdown in a total of seven quarters.

"We've had some shaky moments, we haven't played flawlessly," said Harbaugh. "We want to play well and beat the world champions."

Quarterback Troy Aikman, who had back surgery last June, will make his second start for the Cowboys. He made his debut against Houston in a 23-20 loss last week and completed 12 of 17 passes for 141 yards in two quarters.

"I don't feel any restrictions from the surgery," said Aikman. "I feel like I'm able to move like I did before the surgery and I haven't been limited in any of my throws. I don't think it's going to alter the way I play the game."

But Dallas coach Jimmy Johnson will alter his routine.

"Normally, we would pull back our first team on offense in the last preseason game," Johnson said. "But because of Aikman's lack of playing time, we'll play the first unit the first half."

It will be the first meeting of Johnson and Wannstedt as opposing coaches. Wannstedt was Johnson's defensive coordinator last year before replacing Mike Ditka with the Bears.

"I don't think we'll be paying attention to each other," said Wannstedt, "we'll have too much to do handling our teams."

Yanks, Royals get good work from recent call-ups

By The Associated Press
No one could fault Sterling Hitchcock and Mike Magnante if they were a little overwhelmed by their new surroundings.

After all, the two rookie left-handers toiled through unspectacular seasons at Triple-A Columbus and Omaha before finding themselves called up to big-league clubs in the thick of the AL divisional races.

If either one was nervous Thursday night, it didn't show.

Hitchcock, of the New York Yankees, and Magnante, of the Kansas City Royals, each tossed seven scoreless innings to help their teams gain ground.

New York beat Cleveland 4-0 and moved into a first-place tie in the East with the Toronto Blue Jays, and Kansas City blanked Minnesota 3-0 to move into second place in the West.

The 22-year-old Hitchcock (1-0), promoted for a spot start in place of injured Scott Kamieniecki, gave up seven hits, walked three and struck out three.

"It's a lot of fun to look around, see the guys excited, and know the importance of what's going on here," Hitchcock said. "A win is a win, but a win in the middle of a pennant race - it's a great way to get your first one."

Cleveland's Bob Ojeda, in the most effective outing of his comeback, matched zeroes with Hitchcock for six innings, but the Yankees quickly went ahead after Ojeda was replaced in the seventh.

Mike Stanley hit a two-run homer off Bill Wertz (2-2) in the seventh, and the Yankees added two in the ninth on Danny Tartabull's bases-loaded single.

Did Hitchcock pitch himself into the Yankees' rotation?

"Let us sit down and think about it," manager Buck Showalter said.

Magnante (1-1), making only his second start since being recalled Aug. 17, allowed six hits, struck out two and walked none as the Royals moved into second place in the West, 3 1/2 games behind the White Sox.

"I was able to throw my fastball on the inside and got all four of my pitches for strikes," said Magnante, who threw just 70 pitches, 52 for strikes.

The 28-year-old left-hander's seven shutout innings lowered his earned run average against the Twins to 0.32. He's given up just one earned run on 21 hits in 28 innings against Minnesota.

Kevin McReynolds and Greg Gagne provided the offensive support with four of the five Royals' hits off Willie Banks (8-9).

Red Sox 3, Rangers 1

At Arlington, Boston's six-game losing streak and Texas' four-game victory string both came to an end.

Frank Viola (9-8) allowed only four hits in 7 1-3 innings as he cooled off hot-hitting Texas.

The Red Sox took a 2-0 lead in the first against Kevin Brown (10-10), and John Valentin led off the seventh with a homer.

Mariners 6, Blue Jays 3

At the Kingdome, Ken Griffey Jr. took over the major-league lead with his 38th and 39th home runs and Mike Blowers also hit a pair. It was Griffey's second straight two-homer game, his 10th career two-homer game and his fifth this year.

Randy Johnson (14-8) improved his record against Toronto to 3-0 this year, allowing nine hits, striking out eight and walking one in eight innings.

Orioles 9, Angels 4

At Camden Yards, Harold Baines tied the game with a two-run homer in the seventh, and the Orioles scored five more runs in the eighth.

Mark Williamson (7-3) got the win and Gene Nelson (0-4) took the loss.

Brewers 5, Athletics 3

At County Stadium, Angel Miranda (3-3) pitched eight shutout innings and Juan Bell and Kevin Seitzer homered.

Mike Mohler (1-5) held the Brewers hitless for 4 2-3 innings before Pat Listach doubled and Bell followed with a two-run homer.

Pitcher's hit beats Astros in 13th

By The Associated Press

Pitcher Chris Hammond became a pinch hitter. Catcher Benito Santiago became a left fielder. And reliever Richie Lewis became a hero with his bat.

It took extreme measures for the Florida Marlins to beat the Houston Astros 5-4 in 13 innings Thursday. In the only other NL game, New York beat Colorado 7-1.

Lewis, batting for only the second time in his major league career, pulled a two-out single down the left field line to score Rich Renteria from second base with the winning run.

"I don't know if I was more stunned or elated that he hit the ball," Renteria said. "When I was rounding third, I was thinking, 'Thank God this is over.'"

At 4 hours and 27 minutes, the game was the Marlins' longest of the year.

Florida manager Rene Lachemann won with some unusual strategy. Closer Bryan Harvey made a rare appearance in a tie game, pitching a scoreless ninth and 10th. Hammond, a .222 lifetime hitter, pinch-hit in the 10th and struck out. Santiago entered the game as an outfielder in the 12th.

"It's good to be out there; I don't have all the equipment on me," Santiago said. Playing his second game in the outfield in seven major-league seasons, he cleanly handled the only ball hit his way - a single.

Lewis was also put in an unfamiliar situation. He batted with runners at first and second in the 13th because Lachemann had no position players left on the bench.

Walt Weiss walked to start the inning against Doug Jones (4-10). After two forceouts, Orestes Destrade walked.

Lewis connected on an 0-1 fastball for his first major-league hit.

The single snapped Houston's seven-game winning streak against the Marlins.

Lewis (6-1) also pitched 1 2-3 scoreless innings.

"I know it may sound a trifle trivial - a pitcher wanting to hit and everything - but I've been a three-sport athlete all my life," Lewis said. "If you're going to be out there and have to hit, you might as well get out there and get the most out of it."

Mets 7, Rockies 1

At New York, Dwight Gooden (12-14), pitching on two days rest for the first time in his career, scattered four hits in eight innings and snapped a career-high four-game losing streak.

Eddie Murray doubled and hit his 20th homer, a two-run shot, and Jeff Kent and Todd Hundley each drove in a pair of runs.

Loser Greg Harris (11-13) allowed six runs on eight hits in seven innings.

Players fight for roster space in last NFL exhibition games

By The Associated Press

Finally, the last weekend of NFL exhibition games is here.

Games that mean something begin next week, although the last of the preseason games will go a long way toward deciding who is on what roster when the regular season gets under way.

"We have ideas in our mind about players right now," Green Bay coach Mike Holmgren said. "But I do believe an outstanding performance by a player in the final preseason game will allow a player to make the team."

That's a quote quite a few players are taking to heart. There are a limited number of spots open for fourth-string running backs, three-deep linemen and situational receivers. All the 47-man rosters must be set by Monday.

"There's going to be more maneuvering this year than at any time in the history of the National Football League," said England coach Bill Parcells said. "The traditional way rosters were done is not the way it's going to be done this year."

The Patriots did some major juggling Thursday, trading Jon Vaughn, their leading rusher last season, to Seattle for an undisclosed draft choice and claiming linebacker Keith McCants, offensive lineman John Earle and linebacker Jason Carthen off the waiver wire. To make room for them, the Patriots released offensive lineman Steve Trapilo, defensive end Tim Edwards and linebacker Arnold Ale.

The 6-foot-3, 265-pound McCants, the fourth player selected in the 1990 draft out of Alabama, was released by Tampa Bay earlier this week. New England offensive coordinator Ray Perkins was the Buccaneers coach when McCants was drafted, and he recruited McCants out of high school to play for the Crimson Tide.

The final exhibition games started Thursday night when Minnesota beat Pittsburgh 30-13. Tonight's schedule has Kansas City at New England, Atlanta at Buffalo, Philadelphia at Cincinnati, Cleveland at Tampa Bay, Detroit at New Orleans, Indianapolis at Green Bay, the New York Jets at Washington, Dallas at Chicago and Denver at Phoenix.

On Saturday night, the New York Giants are at Miami, Seattle is at Houston, San Diego is at San Francisco and the Raiders and Rams meet in an intra-Los Angeles game.

In other news around the NFL:

Oilers
Wide receiver Haywood Jeffries will sit out Saturday's game because of an irregular heart beat, but expects to return for the season-opener. Jeffries' heart rate rose to about 170 beats per minute during Wednesday's workout and led to a series of tests that revealed an atrial fibrillation. Oilers trainer Brad Brown said the condition was not career-threatening and could be controlled with medication.

Dolphins

Guard Eddie Blake, competing for the starting right guard spot with Bert Weidner, returned to practice after missing three days this week to attend a mandatory drug evaluation program at the NFL headquarters in New York.

Prior to the 1992 draft, Blake tested positive for cocaine. He described the visit to New York as procedural involving a lot of paperwork. He missed all last season with foot and knee injuries and was bothered by a knee injury at the start of this camp.

Bills

Quarterback Jim Kelly had his contract restructured so he will receive more money this year. The move was designed to help the Bills deal with the salary cap that takes effect next season. General manager John Butler said Kelly will not receive any extra money, only cash the team already had committed to paying him under his contract. Kelly signed a seven-year deal with the Bills in 1990.

Kansas, but they are an obstacle in our way to a national championship," receiver Kevin Knox said. "We can't be dethroned."

The Seminoles lost Butkus Award winner Marvin Jones and five other defensive starters from last year's 11-1 team, but their high-powered offense should make up for any defensive weaknesses.

Their shotgun attack is triggered by senior quarterback Charlie Ward, a dangerous scrambler who set a school record for total offense (3,151 yards) last season.

"Charlie is like a vapor," said coach Bobby Bowden, who has never won a national title despite six consecutive finishes in the top four. "Just when you think you can reach out and grab him, he's gone."

Kansas has 12 starters back from last year's 8-4 team, which beat BYU in the Aloha Bowl. But the Jayhawks know almost everyone expects them to lose to Florida State.

"This game is an opportunity," coach Glen Mason said. "All you ever ask for is a chance - that's the American way."

Kansas has lost its last six games against No. 1 teams by an average score of 47-10. That sounds about right against the Seminoles. ... FLORIDA STATE 48-17.

The second game of the season takes place Sunday in Anaheim, Calif., where No. 18 Southern Cal meets No. 20 North Carolina in the Pigskin Classic.

Much of the focus has been on Southern Cal coach John Robinson, who has returned to the school that he left a decade ago. Robinson, who won 82 percent of his games at Southern Cal from 1976-82, has 17 starters back from a team that went 6-5-1 last season under Larry Smith.

"We have lots of experience," he said. "I like our team. It's going to be good."

North Carolina went 9-3 last year, including a Peach Bowl victory over Mississippi State. Coach Mack Brown will once again go with a two-quarterback rotation, using both Mike Thomas and Jason Stanicke.

"I know people say you can't win with a two-quarterback system, but we did it last year," Brown said. "Sure, I'd rather have a clear-cut starter. However, we're fortunate to have two of the best quarterbacks in the country and we're going to use them."

The Tar Heels are 8 1/2-point underdogs against the Trojans, who return to the site of their humiliating Freedom Bowl loss to Fresno State last December. ... SOUTHERN CAL 24-21.

Last season: 182-55 (straight); 112-104 (spread).

The results of the Aug. 7 Fun Fishing Tournament at Lake White River (40 miles east of Lubbock) showed the fishing is much improved over the past two years, when the lake level was down nearly 10 feet. Improved water levels almost always translate into improved bass fishing.

David Tuter of Amarillo took top honors with a three-bass limit of 7.49 pounds. His secret weapon was a silver spoon in the moss beds, and although he lost several big fish, the ones he did land were enough for a victory.

Tom Hollis, president of the Mini Boat Bass Club, claimed second place with 5.99 pounds. Tom found feeding bass by slow-rolling a white single blade spinnerbait on the outside edge of the moss.

Terry Smith of Lubbock finished third and used a Berkley powerbait to catch his bass. Other top finishers included Bob Haynie, Kent Miller and David Mansell, all from Lubbock, and Joe Holland and Chad Brooks from Amarillo. Jimmy Simpson, a 15-year-old from Canyon, held his own against the men and finished in ninth place.

Hunt '93, the first major hunting show ever to come to the Texas Panhandle, runs Saturday from 9 a.m. until 6 p.m. and Sunday from 10 a.m.-6 p.m.

When you arrive at the Tri-State Fairgrounds in Amarillo, just look for the crowds and the 35-inch tall deer blind outside the Rex Baxter Building. If you miss the deer blind, look for the Hummer—the vehicle the Army used to replace the jeep. It's called "the hero of Desert Storm." Two Hummers await your close inspection.

One of the best parts of a good outdoors show is the free entertainment. Hunt '93 features outstanding experts every hour on the hour. Included on the seminar schedule are radio's dog training expert Jay Rapp, hunting consultant and guide Rick McDowell and legendary white-tailed deer rattler and varmint caller Gary Roberson of the famous Burnham Brothers Gamecall Company. One of my favorite storytellers, Marty Malin, will keep you in stitches with his hilarious yarns about the good old boys and girls.

The beautiful Budweiser Girls will make guest appearances at 1 and at 5 near the seminar center.

A copy of this column will save you a dollar off the regular adult $4 ticket price (limit one discount per adult). Kids aged 6-12-years old are admitted for $1, and all kids under six are admitted free.

Stop by the nearest Southwest Outdoors fishing trailer. I look forward to meeting you.

COLEMAN

The Mets, picked by some to win the NL East, have the worst record in the majors at 44-83. There have been lots of lowlights, including Anthony Young's 27-game losing streak, Torborg's firing and numerous injuries.

It's been just as bad in the clubhouse during the worst season in the team's 32-year history. Bret Saberhagen admitted putting a firecracker under a table where reporters were interviewing Young; in a separate incident, Saberhagen admitted he sprayed bleach on writers. Before that, Bobby Bonilla threatened a reporter who co-wrote a book on the 1992 Mets.

Coleman contributed to the disarray when he swung a golf club and hit Gooden in the shoulder, knocking him out of a start.

His latest antics, however, landed him in court. Prosecutors in Los Angeles said he threw an M-100, which has the equivalent power of a quarter-stick of dynamite, from a car as he left the Dodger Stadium parking lot on July 24. A 2-year-old girl was among three people injured.

Coleman eventually said he was sorry during a carefully staged press conference with his family. He has said he will not contest the criminal charge, which carries a penalty ranging from probation to three years in prison.

"Obviously, Coleman was a big part of the mix with all the problems," Mets manager Dallas Green said. "To put a team together, you have to have 'we' guys. That wasn't Vince's first goal."

Wilson said Coleman will remain on "administrative leave" with pay until his arraignment Oct. 8 in Los Angeles on a felony charge of possession of an explosive device. Coleman played three games after the incident, then left the team with permission Aug. 3.

Coleman still has one year left on a four-year, $11.95 million contract.

Facts About The BIBLE BY JOHN LEHTI

WHEN KINGS DIFFER!

AMAZIAH, KING OF JUDAH, (II CHRON. 25) IN THE TWELFTH YEAR OF HIS REIGN, WENT TO WAR WITH THE EDMOMITES! NOT SATISFIED WITH HIS OWN ARMY'S STRENGTH, HE HIRED A HUNDRED THOUSAND SOLDIERS FROM THE KINGDOM OF ISRAEL, BUT THEN HE SENT THEM BACK TO THEIR OWN COUNTRY BECAUSE SOME OF THE PEOPLE OF THE NORTHERN KINGDOM (ISRAEL) WERE TAINTED BY IDOLATRY. NOW, WHILE AMAZIAH WAS CONQUERING THE EDMOMITES, THESE ISRAELITES, WHO HAD BEEN DISMISSED IN RESENTMENT, PLUNDERED SEVERAL OF THE TOWNS OF JUDAH ON THE HOMEWARD MARCH. THE VICTORY OVER THE EDMOMITES ACTUALLY WAS THE RUIN OF AMAZIAH! HAVING JUST WAGED A SUCCESSFUL WAR, AMAZIAH DECIDED TO CHASTISE HIS BROTHERS IN ISRAEL FOR THEIR BEHAVIOR ON THEIR HOMEWARD MARCH!

HE SENT A MESSENGER TO THE KING OF ISRAEL (JOASH) CHALLENGING HIM TO WAR. BUT JOASH CAUTIONED AMAZIAH TO LEAVE WELL ENOUGH ALONE OR A CATASTROPHE MIGHT OCCUR IF HE EVER MET THE ISRAELITE ARMY ON THE FIELD OF BATTLE!!

Sheik's followers warn of retaliation if he is harmed

NEW YORK (AP) - Followers of a radical Muslim sheik accused of masterminding a campaign of terror against the United States threatened revenge in this country and abroad if harm befalls him.

The warning Thursday came as Sheik Omar Abdel-Rahman pleaded innocent to federal charges he planned bombings, kidnappings and assassinations in a "war of urban terrorism."

Fourteen co-defendants also pleaded innocent during a hearing at federal court in Manhattan exactly six months after the Feb. 26 World Trade Center bombing. The appearance was the blind Egyptian cleric's first as a defendant in the alleged conspiracy.

In Egypt, the sheik's followers said they were prepared to strike back.

"We will take revenge on all U.S. interests and citizens, either in Egypt or outside, if any harm occurs to Sheik Omar," said a statement from three main Egyptian radical groups - al-Gamaa al-Islamiya, or the Islamic group; the Vanguard of Conquest; and the Jihad, or Holy War.

The State Department, meanwhile, advised Americans to be careful in their travels, especially with their luggage, and not to accept packages from strangers. But spokesman Michael McCurry said he knew of no specific threat.

In the Manhattan courtroom, plainclothes officers outfitted with earphones and hidden weapons stood wall-to-wall. Streets outside were lined with police and a police helicopter buzzed over the courthouse, in an indication of the fear that other members of the terrorist cell remain free.

"Whether or not we've identified the major players, obviously there's a concern that there may be others out there that we don't know about," said Matthew Fishbein, chief assistant U.S. attorney.

Police Commissioner Raymond Kelly wouldn't discuss any of his department's extra security measures, but said that since the sheik's indictment, "I think the potential for violence has increased."

The sheik, fighting deportation, has been in jail since surrendering to federal authorities on July 2. He has repeatedly denied any involvement in the terrorism.

He was charged Wednesday with orchestrating a terror network that bombed the World Trade Center, killed militant Rabbi Meir Kahane and plotted other bombings, kidnappings and assassinations, including that of Egyptian President Hosni Mubarak.

U.S. District Court Judge Michael B. Mukasey said there might have to be at least two separate trials because of the number of defendants and the length of testimony, expected to be more than four months.

Defense lawyer Ron Kuby told the judge the evidence will prove "this conspiracy" was a government informant who even taped his conversations with investigators.

The indictment, returned Wednesday, also charged co-defendant El Sayyid Nosair with the murder of Kahane, although Nosair was acquitted of state charges in the Nov. 5, 1990, slaying. It also detailed the suspects' alleged plans to attack U.S. military installations, murder FBI agents and seize hostages as bargaining chips to gain the release of jailed conspirators.

It marked the first time prosecutors had tied the whole package together, laying out the workings of a terror group that operated for at least four years prior to the Trade Center blast that killed six and injured more than 1,000.

The United Nations, a federal office building, and the Holland and Lincoln tunnels also were targeted by the group, the indictment said.

Abdel-Rahman, 55, an outspoken foe of Egypt's secular government, has lived in self-imposed exile here since 1990. He is currently facing charges in Egypt for his role in 1989 anti-government riots in his homeland, and authorities there are still pressing for his return.

LOS ANGELES (AP) - Melissa Gilbert, who grew up on television's "Little House on the Prairie," has filed for divorce after five years of marriage.

The 29-year-old actress cited irreconcilable differences with husband Bo Brinkman. They've been separated for almost a year and have a 4-year-old son.

DENVER (AP) - Martina Navratilova says she has no qualms about playing an exhibition match in Denver despite the state's anti-gay rights amendment.

"I've always been against the Colorado boycott," is the tennis star, who is a lesbian and has a home in Aspen, said Wednesday.

Navratilova said she is confident the amendment, which prompted a tourism boycott by some gay-rights activists, will be ruled unconstitutional.

And if it's not, she vowed to "move out of a state that doesn't consider me a full-fledged citizen."

She plays an exhibition match against Mary Joe Fernandez on Sept. 18.

Navratilova, at 36, is the No. 4 women's tennis player in the world.
